'People Sniffers' Kill 124

Troops Capture N. Viet Rockets

By JACK WALSH
SAIGON (UPI)—Allied troops attempting to head off a new attack on Saigon captured a record 417 Communist rockets today, and used electronic "people sniffers" which pickup body odors to kill at least 124 guerrillas in the past three days, U.S. spokesmen reported. U.S. Marines who suffered more than 2,000 casualties in defending their bastion at Khe Sanh just below the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) were abandoning their fortress that withstood a 77-day North Vietnamese siege earlier this year. Khe Sanh was still under heavy pressure by 10,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops in the area. Marines who had seen their buddies die in the long fight for Khe Sanh were bitter. But American commanders said increased U.S. mobility and firepower no longer made the plateau, stronghold necessary against what a spokesman called increased Communist forces in the area.

Heavy fighting which cost the lives of 171 North Vietnamese was reported in two areas below the DMZ. The zone was taking on importance once more as Hanoi rushed more anti-aircraft defenses southward and began sending up more MIGs to fight against one of the most relentless bombing offensives of the war. The intensified activity along the border was reflected in disclosure a U.S. Navy pilot Wednesday shot down the 106th MIG interceptor destroyed over North Vietnam by American jets. Just below the Demilitarized Zone South Vietnamese killed 107 North Vietnamese infiltrators and captured seven others Wednesday in a clash east of Quang Tri. U.S. Marines said their air strikes and artillery killed another 64 near Ho An on the coast. The U.S. Command reported 299 Americans killed and 2,220 wounded in combat last week, reflecting the somewhat slowed tempo of the ground war as the Communists massed upwards of 8,000 troops for another assault on Saigon. It was the lowest figure in weeks. The Commu-

Soviets Offer To Talk On Limiting Missile System

Gromyko Speaks To Russian 'Parliament'

BY HENRY SHAPIRO
MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union today offered to open talks with the United States on limiting antimissile missile systems.

Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko announced the offer in a speech to the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet parliament. President Johnson's administration has been seeking in recent years just such Soviet-American cooperation in limiting the missile defense systems that could cost up to $40 billion or more.

In a 90-minute speech, Gromyko said the Soviet Union wants "to add realism and scope" to the new U.S.-Soviet-British agreement on limiting the spread of nuclear weapons.

"One of the untouched problems in this field is the mutual limitation and later reduction of strategic weapons, both offensive and defensive, including antimissile missiles.

"The Soviet Union is ready to enter an exchange of opinions on this subject," with the United States, he said.

Diplomatic observers said Gromyko's offer was the Kremlin's reply to President Johnson's most recent proposals for better cooperation on preserving peace.

The veteran foreign minister told the 1,517 Supreme Soviet delegates that "we see no reason for conflict" with America.

President Johnson had made his proposals for U.S.-Soviet peace cooperation on the first anniversary of his Glassboro, N.J., summit meeting with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Gromyko said U.S. war production is rising. He cited the United States as an example of imperialism not paying.

Gromyko advised the United States to take advantage of its preliminary peace talks in Paris with North Vietnam to halt its "aggression" in Vietnam.

But, clearly, Gromyko still held out the olive branch.

"The Soviet Union is ready to seek an agreement to forbid the use of nuclear rockets both of offensive and defensive character, of strategic and technical character," Gromyko said.

"Today we say there is no reason for collision with the United States if the United States respects our security and the security of our friends and neighbors."

Gromyko disclosed the Soviets this year had attempted to improve relations with Communist China by making concrete proposals on trade, regulation of the border situation, and common use of rivers.

"These proposals fell on deaf ears," he said.

"No, sir," Frisby asked. "No, sir," Ray said, he spoke quickly and clearly and betrayed little emotion.

Then Frisby asked: "Did you kill Dr. Martin Luther King?" And with no change of expression...

"I call my client," Ray, flanked by two Scotland Yard detectives, marched to the witness stand.

One of the Scotland Yard detectives guarding him against possible assassination attempts shifted between him and the main body of the court.

"I think you should sit here and take the oath seated," Magistrate Frank Milton said.

The attorneys and the magistrate then discussed under what name Ray should be sworn in. He was arrested as Ramon George Sneyd. It was decided not to swear him in at all but merely to have him answer his counsel's questions.

"Are you the man arrested at London Airport June 8?" his attorney Roger Frisby asked. "Yes, sir," replied Ray. "Did you know Martin Luther King personally?" "No, sir."

"Did you have a grudge against him?" Frisby asked. "No, sir," Ray said, he spoke quickly and clearly and betrayed little emotion.

Then Frisby asked: "Did you kill Dr. Martin Luther King?" And with no change of expression...

State Senate Turns Down New Taxes

By DAVID ANDERSON
AUSTIN (UPI)—The Texas Senate, which Wednesday refused to vote any new taxes, must decide today whether to reconsider, turn its attention to liquor by the drink, or give up and wait for another special 30-day session.

In the legislative surprise of the year, senators voted 13-18 Wednesday against the tax bill they themselves had devised after a six-hour debate. Liberals who opposed any sales tax increase were joined by moderates who voted "no" for a variety of reasons.

Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso, floor manager of Gov. John Connally's liquor bill, said he was ready to take his chances today even though he was not sure he had enough votes to pass it. He said the liquor bill's chances were 50-50.

Unless the senate reconsiders today, the tax bill is dead. The legislature must pass some kind of tax bill by Sept. 1, because the 1969 state budget which goes into effect on that date creates a deficit of at least $125 million, and the state constitution prohibits deficit financing.

Unless the senate reconsiders, another special session would be assured because the current session expires next Wednesday. The tax bill put together by the Senate was basically the general sales tax increase already passed by the House, with a corporate franchise tax increase added.

It raised the state sales tax from 2 to 3 per cent without affecting the city sales tax, and raised the corporate franchise tax from $2.25 per $1,000 to $2.75.

The effective date of the franchise tax was set at Oct. 1, with the sales tax hike effective Jan. 1.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert said it would raise about $116 million next year. Those effective dates were later than those agreed upon earlier by the Senate finance committee, and reduced the bills revenue-raising potential considerably.

Sen. William Patman of Galveston saw this tampering with effective dates as an attempt to help pass liquor by the drink by making it a necessary part of the tax bill.

"I'm not going to have that," he said. (See SENATE, Page 3)

Heavy Rain Hits Texas Gulf Coast

By United Press International
Rain measuring nearly 13 inches swamped Port Mansfield at the tip of the Texas Gulf Coast today and sank some small boats. Tornado warnings had covered the area in the pre-dawn storm.

Hundreds of miles away, near Houston, families chased by floods hoped to get back into their homes in a few days.

Marvin Biggs, manager of Marlin marina, at Port Mansfield, said he clocked winds up to 55 miles an hour in the storm, a squally thundershower line that swept across the coastline.

He said the Coast Guard found many small vessels filling with water and some partially sunk. Elsewhere in the area, some small vessels had been sunk altogether.

Rodeo Directors Will Plan Ticket Sales Drive Tonight

Directors of the Top O' Texas Rodeo Assn. will meet at 8 p.m. today to prepare to kick off a ticket-selling campaign for the rodeo slated here July 24-27.

The four-day R.C.A. (Rodeo Corporation of America) rodeo will begin at 4 p.m. the 24th with a downtown parade.

Judy Lynn, western singer and entertainer, will be featured in nightly performances at the annual affair.

Events will include saddle bronc riding, bareback riding, bull riding, steer wrestling and calf roping for rodeo professionals. Also slated are amateur barrel racing and a pony show and miniature rodeo for youngsters.

The rodeo this year is being produced by Beutler & Son of Elk City, Okla. Clem McSpadden will be the announcer.

Top O' Texas Rodeo Assn. officers are Rex McAnelly, president; Holly Gray, 1st vice president; Lee Fraser, 2nd vice president; Warren Hasse, treasurer; and E. O. Wedgeworth, secretary.

Foreign Students Enjoy Tour Of Local Area, Learn Cow-Calling

Yip-yi-ya sounds of amateur cattle calls by 34 American Field Service students echoed across the grassland and mini-canyon near Coronado Inn Wednesday as Miami cattle call experts awarded the AFS students two first place trophies for cattle calling.

Charles Woodfin, contest chairman, and William Clark, international cattle calling champion, awarded the two trophies to Carolina Jaramilo of Colombia and Ernst Fahrenkrog of Chile.

The cattle calling contest has become a traditional part of the program for AFS bus tours which stop in Pampa. The first bus tour stopped here in 1962 and one originated from here three years ago.

The students left this morning after spending two days and two nights as guests of the Pampa AFS chapter and 34 host families.

After they arrived here Tuesday the students visited with their host families Tuesday night. Wednesday they were taken on a feed lot tour, a picnic at the Joe Franklin ranch, and were given a barbecue dinner on the west side of Coronado Inn. After the barbecue and cattle calling contest, they were entertained with a dance and party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Donaldson.

The barbecue, served chuck wagon style by the Pampa Shrine Club, had most of the flavor of The Old West as AFS students and their hosts ate and visited on bales of hay, and watched or rode horses the Shriners had brought for the AFS'ers to ride. Billy Davis, tour chairman, was assisted with locating host families by Mrs. Alice Warner. After spending a year living with Americans and studying in schools in the western United States, the tour students are en route to Washington, D.C. and New York, where they will embark for their home countries in July. Except for the AFS identification tags and ever-present cameras for memento photos, the visiting AFS students seemed little different from Pampa teenagers in dress and manners. They all agreed the feed lot "smelled," but said their hosts and activities here "made Pampa a stop to remember well."

In the words of Ernst Fahrenkrog, boy winner in the cattle calling, "Pampa has been a pleasant experience for us, and someday we want to come back."

If Fortas Is Confirmed By Senate

Continued Liberal Leadership In Court Seen

By CHARLOTTE G. MOULTON
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The promotion of Abe Fortas to chief justice would assure continued liberal leadership on the Supreme Court. His ability to rally a solid voting bloc remains to be determined.

Thornberry voted for the hardest line yet taken against foot-dragging in school desegregation. His vote could be very important to Fortas. President Johnson's appointment of the two men Wednesday raised immediate objections from some Republicans in the Senate, which must confirm both before they can take office. The threat of a filibuster was raised.

Foresee No Difficulty
But Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield and GOP counterpart Everett M. Dirksen said they anticipated no great difficulty in getting the nominations through. During the last term of the "Warren court," which ended June 17, the chief justice usually could count on the votes in individual liberties cases of Justices Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr., Thurgood Marshall, and Fortas. But for some time, Black's literal reading of the Constitution occasionally has taken him out of this group, notably in civil rights demonstration cases. Without the Warren and Black votes, the remaining four would need Thornberry for a majority. Fortas' scholarship, personal-ty and tough-mindedness would play no small part in molding the court's views in the days ahead. The balding, soft-spoken 58-year-old Tennesseean is an intensely serious individual who constantly strives for perfection. He would assign the opinions—if in the majority—and oversee general administration of the court's work. Since he took his seat Oct. 4, 1965, Fortas generally has gone along with the majority even when the court turned somewhat conservative as it did this last term. He voted for controlled eavesdropping, to uphold the law against burning draft cards, and to permit on-the-street searches of suspects for weapons. On Dissenting Side Two issues did provoke vigorous Fortas dissent—approval of use of public funds for parochial school textbooks and the upholding of obscenity laws intended to protect children. Of the first, he said: "This (New York) statute calls for furnishing special, separate, and particular books, specially, separately, and particularly chosen by religious sects or their representatives for use in their sectarian schools. That

THE LIGHTER SIDE

Disaster Strikes Fast

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Disaster usually strikes with terrible swift suddenness. One minute the sun is shining, the birds are singing and there is peace in the valley. The next minute, calamity.
It was a telephone call that shattered the serenity of my life, tore the stars down from the sky and stripped the petals from the rose.
I was snugly ensconced in my four-poster, enjoying my favorite book, "The Five Little Peppers and How They Grew," when it rang.
World Upset
And when, pale and shaken, I returned the receiver to its cradle a couple of minutes later, the world had turned upside down. I had become a grandfather.
I cannot truly say that the news came as a complete surprise. My daughter-in-law had warned me several months ago that I was an expectant grandparent. But I refused to face reality.
"Maybe you've only got a mild case," I said.
"It's serious," she replied.
"Listen," I said, "there's an organization called the life extension society which believes that people can be safely frozen and kept in cold storage. Maybe we could get them to freeze you for about 20 years. By that time I'll be so old I won't mind being a grandfather."

Nevertheless, the human brain is a marvelous insulator. We can tell ourselves that something like this only happens to other people. And we can make ourselves believe it.
But if it does happen, the brain is of no help at all.
Fights Panic
After the call came informing me that I had been plunged into grandfatherhood, I slumped to the floor and tried to fight off panic.
"Keep calm," I kept saying to myself. "Maybe you can think of a way out of this."
My first impulse was to run off somewhere and change my name.
"If I grow a beard, buy myself some turtle necks and a Nehru jacket and learn to dance the bugaloo, maybe I can build a new life," I thought.
But deep down I knew I was only deluding myself. Sooner or later, my past would catch up with me and I would be exposed. Once one becomes a grandfather, there is no place to hide.

mini-bottle bill crammed down my throat." Patman said as he cast his vote against the tax bill.

All of the Senate's liberal minority, as well as the two Republicans, voted against the tax bill. They had been unsuccessful in their attempts to replace the sales tax increase with a package of smaller tax increases.

They were able to add the franchise tax increase, but failed in their attempts to raise taxes on natural gas production, advertising, beer and liquor, cigarettes, amusements, telephone service and soft drinks.

The liberals, led by Sen. Charles Wilson of Lufkin and A. R. Schwartz of Galveston, got at least 12 votes for all their proposals.

Ad Tax Defeated
On some issues the majority shifted back and forth. The advertising tax, for example, was approved 17-14, then defeated 18-13, then revived and defeated 18-12.

some Leathernecks who have served in the Sanh said the action angered them. "I can't see losing all those people for nothing and then pulling out," said Sgt. Joseph W. Thomas of Dallas, Tex. The Marines suffered more than 2,000 casualties during the Jan. 21 to April 6 siege that was lifted by an allied ground drive.

"I don't dig it all. Too many guys got killed up there for us to pull out," said Lance Cpl. Donald E. Lacy, 19, of Omaha, Neb.

U.S. spokesmen said two things caused the abandonment. One was increased American manpower, mobility and firepower in the area, a key Communist infiltration sector. The second reason was the increase in North Vietnamese manpower and new Communist tactics.

Informed sources said the Marines are moving their gear as fast as possible from the fort, which sits on a plateau surrounded by Communist-infested mountains. The sources said the Leathernecks were blowing up what they had to leave behind.

At one time, critics of U.S. strategy said the Sanh might develop into an American Dien Bien Phu, the 1954 battle in which the Reds crushed French fighting spirit in the Indochina War. But the U.S. forces had the airpower, supplies and firepower the French lacked.

Near Saigon, the "people sniffers"—they literally smell out body odors in the jungle growth below—and the GIs using them chased the guerrillas through marshes, swamps and rice paddies.

"We are still tracking them but the Viet Cong have broken into small groups now and it looks like we won't have much luck," said a 9th Infantry Division spokesman.

The U.F. troops had caught some 400 guerrillas, part of what intelligence sources said may be 8,000 Reds massing for a third major Saigon assault.

expression and almost matter-of-factly came the denial.

"No, sir," Ray said.

Frisby had told the court: "The whole burden of my case is that Dr. King is a political figure." The extradition agreement between the United States and Britain does not cover political crimes.

Squeaky Voice
During his entire brief testimony Ray sat back in his chair in the witness box, resting his left arm on the railing. He appeared in full control of himself and only the squeaky tone of his voice in his first answers betrayed his inner turmoil.

The court clerk, using a fountain pen, took the procedure down in short hand and then read it back to Ray. He asked if it were correct and Ray said, "Yes, that's correct."

The clerk then asked Ray if he would like to sign his statement.

Ray suddenly leaned forward in the chair, looked slightly surprised and said, "Well, how would I sign it?"

The comment uttered with a trace of Southern accent drew mild titters from the courtroom.

There was more consultation between the magistrate and Frisby. Frisby then said Ray should not sign the document. Ray then resumed his seat in front of the iron-railed prisoner's dock.

Calcutt had begun his testimony today by accusing Ray of executing the "Calculated, brutal and senseless murder" of King April 4, in Memphis, Tenn., with a rifle which bore his fingerprints.

"In my mind this was the single-handed work of this defendant," Calcutt said.

He said a witness saw him enter a Memphis boarding house bathroom and heard him fire the fatal shots.

Roger Frisby, the British attorney representing Ray, indicated by his cross questioning that he would try to establish the King assassination was a political crime.

Political crimes are not covered by the extradition treaty between Britain and the United States.

The testimony today was so lengthy the British magistrate said there would have to be another hearing next week, probably at the end of the week.

The Chief Scotland Yard Superintendent Thomas Butler, said the accused slumped to a seat when told during an interview that he was suspected of being Ray, wanted for murder with a gun and other crimes in the United States.

But Butler said Ray made no admission of guilt.

"The accused had been standing up, but at this he suddenly slumped down in the seat behind him, put his head in his hands and said, 'Oh, God!'" Butler said. "After a moment or so he added, 'I feel so trapped.'"

Calcutt said U.S. authorities had a witness who saw Ray enter a rooming house bathroom overlooking the motel where King died, heard a shot fired from the bathroom and watched Ray come out of the room a minute later.

He identified the witness only as "Mr. Stevens." A resident of the rooming house in Memphis at the time of the slaying was Charles Stevens.

Calcutt quoted Stevens as saying he was certain a shot had been fired from the bathroom window "because a partition between my kitchen and the bathroom was very thin."

"I looked through a broken pane of glass and heard voices coming from across the street in the direction of the Lorraine Hotel," the lawyer quoted Stevens. "I opened my door and I looked toward the bathroom. The door was open. I saw a man running. He was carrying a bundle which looked to be about three to four feet long and six to eight inches wide. It was wrapped in newspapers."

"I think it was the same man I had seen earlier with Mrs. Brewer (the landlady) in room 5B. I went back to the window and looked toward the Lorraine Hotel. I saw a lot of men and policemen."

The barrister charged the bundle the man carried contained the murder rifle, with telescopic sight, and binoculars. Calcutt said there was strong evidence the bullet that killed King came from the rifle. He said the United States also had evidence Ray purchased the rifle. The rifle was found in a doorway on the street.

Calcutt quoted a deposition from George Bonebrake, U.S. Department of Justice fingerprint expert, that three fingerprints of Ray on file with the rifle, its telescopic sight and a pair of binoculars found outside the rooming house matched prints of Ray on file with the FBI.

A Scotland Yard detective testified that Ray admitted he was an American although he carried two Canadian passports in the name of Sneyd when he was picked up.

PETTY OFFICER FORD

New Navy Recruiter For Area

Interior Communications Electrician First Class Leonel Ford, USN, reported today as a Navy Recruiter for this area.

Petty Officer First Class Ford enlisted in the Navy through Denver, Colo., in March, 1956. He is a veteran of the Vietnam conflict. He has just returned from duty aboard the USS Purdy, a reserve destroyer operating out of Fall River, Mass. Among his many decorations and awards are the Good Conduct, National Defense, Vietnamese Service, and Republic of South Viet Nam Medals.

Accompanying Petty Officer Ford to Pampa is his wife, the former Alice M. Madril, and their sons, Mark, 7, Matthew, 5, Martin, 4, Michael, 2, and daughter Maxine, 8 months.

As a sports enthusiast and former little league coach, Petty Officer Ford wishes to make his services available at any time to interested youth organizations, Navy officials said.

Petty Officer Ford stated "The Navy is presently stressing the High School Graduate Training program where by qualified high school graduates may enlist and be guaranteed the chance to attend one of the Navy's many and varied technical schools. These schools confer training in the fields of Nucleonics, Electronics, Aviation, Medicine, and many others."

DANGEROUS WOMEN
VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Msgr. Ferdinando Lambruschini, a prominent Roman Catholic theologian, said Wednesday that proposals that women be allowed to become priests was "pure fantasy and extremely hazardous."

Oklahoma Representatives Leave 'Open' TRC Meet Here Yesterday

Members of the Oil and Gas Division of the Oklahoma Corporation Commission came to Pampa yesterday afternoon for a meeting at City Hall with their counterparts from the Texas Railroad Commission but decided to leave the meeting when they learned it was public.

The Oklahoma officials had requested the meeting to discuss salt water disposal problems in connection with oil drilling. The session lasted about 30 minutes.

The OCC group left the meeting after Jack O. Miller, the Railroad Commission's district director here, ruled that Texas representatives of the TRC could only discuss problems common to both and not just problems relating specifically to Oklahoma.

William Christian, counsel for the Oklahoma group, said his delegation felt that items on the agenda were not of such a nature they should be discussed at a public meeting.

Also in attendance at the meeting were L. W. Elderkin, manager of the northwest district for the Oklahoma's Commission of Oil and Gas, and Samuel Shakely, pollution abatement manager for the OCC.

After the Oklahoma's left the meeting, two representatives of the Texas County Irrigation and Water Resources Association spoke briefly and thanked local railroad commission officials for opening the meeting to them.

Here's A Real 'Honest Injun'

"HONEST INJUN"
A Pampa man gave some indication of what it means this morning.

Mariand Hays, sub-chief of the Southwest Indian Organization, was parking his car in front of a local cafe in the 100 block of S. Cuyler early this morning. He accidentally scraped another car.

His attempts to locate the owner of the car were unsuccessful, and when he returned outside the car was gone. Hays telephoned police, told them what had happened, and left a number where he could be located.

Woman Reports 'Harrassment' To City Police

A Lefors woman reported to police last night that a carload of men harassed her and a young girl in the car with her as they were leaving a local drive-in theater to return to Lefors. The harassment continued until she was about three miles outside the city limits, the woman told police.

A Pampa minister, Rev. L.V. Grace of 1133 Duncan, was harassed in a different way; someone threw a firecracker or smoke bomb in his auto while it was parked near his residence, causing slight damage to the seat covers.

Strawberry shortcake to celebrate the Fourth.

Strawberry Shortcake Is Perfect Way to Celebrate Fourth of July

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

In old New England, the traditional Fourth of July menu always included fresh boiled salmon, new potatoes, garden peas and fresh strawberries.

Right now, California is lush with strawberries for everyone to enjoy. So let's make a strawberry shortcake to celebrate the Fourth — a slightly new type of shortcake made with fresh orange juice and orange peel, plus orange juice and peel in the whipped cream.

STRAWBERRY

SHORTCAKE FOR THE FOURTH OF JULY

2 pints fresh strawberries
1-3 cup sugar
2 cups (1 pint) heavy cream
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon grated orange peel
¼ cup orange juice
Orange Sponge Cake Layers (Given below) . . .

Reserve a few strawberries for garnish; slice remainder, mix with 1-3 cup sugar and chill 30 minutes. Whip cream with 2 tablespoons sugar, orange peel and juice until stiff. Layer sponge cakes, sliced strawberries and whipped cream. Garnish with reserved strawberries.

Orange Sponge Cake Layers (Makes two 8-inch layers): Beat 5 egg yolks with ¼-cup sugar, 1 tablespoon grated orange peel and ¼-teaspoon salt. Beat in 1-3 - cup orange juice until light and fluffy. Blend in 1 cup sifted cake flour. Beat 5 egg whites with ¼-teaspoon cream of tartar until soft peaks form. Add ½-cup sugar, beating until stiff but not dry. Fold in egg-yolk mixture. Pour into 2 ungreased 8x2-inch layer cake pans. Bake in 350-degree (moderate) oven 25 minutes until cake tests done. Cool in inverted cake pans on wire rack.

The ultimate: Blueberry crumb cake.

Include Blueberries For July 4th Menu

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

Enjoy the Fourth of July as a day of relaxation and a day of celebration, both. Have a leisurely outdoor brunch with neighbors, friends, or relatives first. Then later on to the beach or ball game or any other holiday activity. Don't rush to enjoy yourself. Leisure can be a wonderful change of pace.

Except for hot biscuits, this brunch menu can all be made ready the day before — clove-dotted ham, hard-cooked eggs and even the fresh blueberry crumb cake. So it's a holiday, too, for the family cook.

GERMAN-STYLE BLUEBERRY CRUMB CAKE

1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
¾ cup sugar
Dash of salt
½ cup soft butter
4 cups fresh blueberries
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup sugar

3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cinnamon

Combine flour, ½-cup sugar, dash of salt, and the butter. Mix with pastry blender or fork until crumbs are formed; measure ¾-cup and set aside. Press remaining crumbs over bottom and about ¼-inch up the sides of a 9-inch springform pan.

Combine blueberries, lemon juice, ¼-cup sugar, the tapioca, ¼-teaspoon salt, and the cinnamon; let stand 15 minutes. Spoon blueberry mixture into the crumb-lined pan. Bake at 425 degrees for 20 minutes. Then sprinkle with ¾-cup reserved crumbs. Bake 20 to 25 minutes longer, or until crumbs are golden brown. Serve warm or cold, with cream.

Food Buying Guide

The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the Department of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — USDA's Consumer and Marketing service reports that meat and poultry, a growing list of fresh vegetables, and some fresh fruit are in good supply in food

Cold Cuts Ideal At July 4 Buffet

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

Use cold sliced roast beef, ham, turkey and tongue as the base of your Fourth of July leisurely buffet supper party. They can all be cooked in advance and everyone likes them. Arrange attractively on a large platter, garnished with radishes, tomato sections, scallions and salad greens.

What else? Well, how about a large casserole of spaghetti and cheese, or one of kidney beans, or even of scalloped potatoes (if possible, keep hot dish on an electric tray or warmer). Or else, serve a bowl of potato salad, if you prefer an all cold buffet.

Here's a pleasant sauce for tongue or any other cold meat.

COLD TONGUE WITH LATINO SAUCE
1 (2 to 3 lb.) fresh or smoked beef tongue
2 tablespoons whole pickling spice

¼ cup olive oil
1 small red onion, chopped
1 clove garlic, chopped
4 peeled and chopped ripe tomatoes
1-3 cup sherry
1 tablespoon guava jelly
4 teaspoons Angostura aromatic bitters
Salt and black pepper to taste . . .

Simmer tongue in water to cover until tender (2 to 3 hrs.) Fresh tongue should be cooked in water to cover with pickling spices added until tongue is tender (2 to 3 hours). Heat olive oil and saute onion and garlic until soft. Add tomatoes, sherry, jelly and aromatic bitters. Simmer for 5 minutes. Add salt and pepper to taste. Remove skin and gristle from tongue and slice thinly. Serve with sauce spooned over tongue. Six servings.

stores and supermarkets for weekend shoppers. Broiler-fryer chickens and turkeys head the list as being the most abundant meats. Beef roasts and steaks and ground beef are all in the abundant class in most areas. Pork items in best supply are pork roasts and smoked picnics, followed by bacon, chops, and ham. Fish fillets and steaks and fish sticks and portions are fish buys to watch for, according to the U.S. Department of the Interior. Green beans, cabbage, corn, cucumbers, lettuce, onions, and potatoes should be abundantly available in all areas.

DEAR ABBY: I am in the service and have a little problem. The night before I left the States I surprised my girl with a diamond engagement ring. She acted like she was thrilled to pieces, and of course I was happy, too. Her mother took me aside and asked me if I could get a refund on the ring—well, I couldn't.

Now I get a letter from my girl telling me that she and her mother "traded" in the engagement ring on another one which is bigger and much "nicer." She said her mother paid the difference and I can pay her back when I get home, but for me not to worry about it.

I am not exactly "worried" about it, but I don't think it was a very nice thing for them to do. If you were in my place, what would you do?

G.I.
DEAR G. I.: Nothing for the moment. But when you get state-side, size up the situation and make sure your girl and her mother don't have a WEDDING ring waiting for you that's big enough for you to jump through.

DEAR ABBY: I know you aren't a lawyer, so I don't expect you to tell me what the law would rule in a case like this. All I want is a common sense opinion.

We have a friend (a widow) who started taking dancing lessons last September at a well-known studio. Since September she spent $18,000 on dancing lessons! (Yes, I said Eighteen thousand dollars.)

This woman is not poor, Abby. She has had a lot of fun and met a lot of people, and she probably got more pleasure in the last six months from those dancing lessons than she got from that deadhead she was married to for 30 years. Yet she is crying that she was had and she took them to court.

I say, nobody twisted her arm to take those lessons, and if she wants to spend her money that way she shouldn't go crying to anybody. My husband says she is out of her mind, and people who are batty have to be protected by law. What is your opinion?

ARGUING WITH HARRY
DEAR ARGUING: I'm with Harry.

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 years old and my scout troop recently made a visit to a nursing home to cheer up the old folks there. We made some colorful flowers beforehand and

First Lady for Australia Tries, Finds 'You Can Go Home Again'

By PATRICIA E. DAVIS
BANGOR, Maine (UPI) — You CAN go home again. Ask Mrs. John Gorton, wife of the Australian prime minister. She recently visited her hometown of Bangor and commented that the trip, after almost 35 years away "brought a lump to my throat."

"It's marvelous coming back," Mrs. Gorton said. "I still feel at home here. There have been many changes, but there are still lots of places I recognize. I suddenly began to recollect things that happened long ago."

Bettina Gorton, an attractive, gray-haired mother of three, left Bangor in 1934 to study in Europe. She met John Grev Gorton, then a student at Oxford University in England, while on vacation in Spain. They were married a few months later and moved to Australia.

Gorton, who succeeded the late Harold Holt as prime minister late last year, recently paid a state visit to the United States, and his wife decided to take advantage of the trip and visit her hometown.

This UPI reporter accompanied her on the trip.

Mrs. Gorton visited the house in which she spent 10 years of her life. The condition of the house, she said, was her one big disappointment. Once a "neat and tidy" gray-frame building, the structure has fallen into disrepair, with peeling paint and splintered woodwork.

"It is sad to see how the street I grew up on has deteriorated," Mrs. Gorton said. "It doesn't look as fresh as it once did. And you know," she smiled, "in my recollection the street was a lot wider."

Mrs. Gorton is a specialist in Far Eastern studies and currently is compiling an English-Malay dictionary. She saw several of her high school classmates during her visit. Her friends, she said, "haven't really changed, but we're all a bit older."

Several friends commented on Mrs. Gorton's clipped accent, a far cry from the New England accent she once had. "No Australian would take me for a native," she explained. "I don't really know how to explain my accent. I was told I have a British accent. When I was in England, that raised the eyebrows of the British—they think I sound like a Canadian. I don't know what I sound like."

The former Bettina Brown, was born in Great Barrington, Mass., but moved to Bangor with her mother and brother after the death of her father, a banker. She became Australia's First Lady last December when Harold Holt disappeared while swimming.

She describes herself as an omnivorous reader—"everything from philosophy and history to thrillers and science fiction"—and delights in gardening, painting, theater and music.

"Once I thought of becoming a professional pianist, but realized I was second-rate," she said.

During interviews, Mrs. Gorton deftly sidesteps questions about politics and the war in Vietnam. "I leave all that to my husband," she said.

Would she like to go back to Bangor again? "Of course I'd like to come back for a longer

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

(FOR FRIDAY, JUNE 28)
GENERAL TENDENCIES: The time is good now for doing a necessary task in a manner that brings praise and encouragement from those you admire. Make a point to show you are the one who is heroic in thought and stature. Do things that truly impress others. You also can have many happy romantic events follow.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Those business affairs you have to handle in a.m. can prove to be very entertaining as well, so stop being so reticent about going out. Being aloof with male in p.m. could bring trouble. Come out of it.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Why hesitate about fitting in those charming persons who like you so much? This is a good start to a series of favors and fun in the days ahead. Be encouraging to him and don't forget to buy that faithful servant a gift.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Show you are wise and will gladly cooperate with partners on a grand scale in the future instead of getting cold feet and pulling out. Make some calls that bring in the business that has been lagging recently. Pop up.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Don't try to get those important business affairs handled today, that require more thought and analysis. Be more concerned with some important civic matter. Once that is out of the way, all else improves.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — The ideal day to get that new prominent project on the road and make the world around you much brighter. Forget that comfortable rut. Look to correspondence you get for the answers to many of your problems.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Keep busy collecting money, paying bills, handling others matters that are practical and worthwhile. Do you have all accessories in good order? Ask your mate to give you a hand tonight and reach better rapport.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Do whatever will make persons in high places understand you better, and you get ahead with real alacrity. Your associates are in a fine mood and will show generosity today. Get that feeling of well being.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — You have to do your work with a real flare and dynamism today, since others are expecting much from you. Get out and buy those clothes that make you look infinitely more charming. Avoid the overly dramatic.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY...
He, or she, will be a stickler for neatness and charm around the house so wherever your project may be, he or she would make a fine decorator, expeditor, psychiatrist. The desire here is to improve present conditions. Be very encouraging with this child.

FOR FEMINE FLATTERY
To activate the romantic mood, a confection of chiffon, ostrich and silk organza flowers all intermingle into a wrap-around of feminine flattery. One extravagantly romantic creation is a satin capelet with tiers of ostrich feathers.

EVERYBODY HAS A PROBLEM. What is yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069 and inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

EVENING WEAR 'GLOWS'
This summer's night lights will owe nothing to Thomas Edison and his electric illumination. The glow that will be lighting up evening wear will be coming from metallic beads, threads, glittering sequins, jewels or the built-in shine that comes with fabrics like lame and the glittery knits. For the mod, glitter comes from silver nailheads studded against a background of black satin.

A PRACTICAL APPROACH TO PALMISTRY. Your hands will tell the nicest of tales if you keep your nails sleekly polished in a soft, light tone and use handy cotton swabs to push back your cuticles and wipe away polish smears.

Dubbs Marker Is Due Soon At Mobeetie

MOBEETIE (Sp) — The Official Texas Historical Marker for Emanuel Dubbs, first county judge in the Texas Panhandle, will be erected soon in Old Mobeetie, it was announced today by Mrs. Grady Harris of Wheeler. Mrs. Harris is chairman of the Wheeler County Historical Survey Committee.

The marker will be placed at the old jailhouse in Old Mobeetie. Dedication plans will be announced later by Mrs. Harris.

The cast aluminum marker with Swedish steel effect measures 14x24 inches and is sponsored by the Wheeler County Historical Survey Committee.

The inscription on the marker reads:

EMANUEL DUBBS
(1843-1929)

First County Judge in Texas Panhandle and in Wheeler County. Dubbs was born in Ohio. Came to know Texas as a buffalo hunter, and was in famous Indian Battle of Adobe Walls, 1874. Gained wide respect when, as judge, he had a lawless U.S. marshal arrested. He served 1879-1880; 1885-1890.

The marking of local historic sites and landmarks is part of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee's 5-year RAMPs Program to Record, Appreciate, Mark, Preserve and Survey Texas history. More than 3,300 Official Texas Historical Markers have been awarded throughout Texas since

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Good news, good news today from the wonderful world of television. Tiny Tim will be back next season on NBC-TV's "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-in." And unless you sit here each day receiving network press releases, you can't realize what good news that really is.

I mean, suppose you sit here and the mail brings a statement from Lorne Greene, the big daddy of "Bonanza," saying: "Love is like a warm blanket which covers and protects a child from hurt and even hunger."

All right, it sounds like Lorne Greene—right? You start looking around desperately for a chaser. And there is good old Tiny Tim to the rescue, because he is also quoted in a press release. He says:

"What do I feel I'm trying to do today in my music? Well, I'm trying to bring back the happiness that was part of the beautiful tunes that were sung in the days of the past—the lovely days of vaudeville! Those songs even chill me today when I hear them."

Back In Perspective

Well, that, of course, puts the world in perspective for a while. But then you look at a press release which explains that Ed Ames never learned to ice skate and quotes him as saying: "I came from a large family. And it pretty well boiled down to skating or eating. We are well. What does Ames mean by that? I mean, what in the world is he

Prairie Trails & Pioneer Tales

By TRACY D. CARY
Chairman, Gray County Historical Survey Committee

In spite of showers in the early morning a large group of Gray County's best citizens turned out for the annual Alanreed homecoming held Sunday June 9 at the school gymnasium there. Many of those attending came from hundreds of miles away back to their home community to enjoy exchanging news and discussing personalities with the area residents.

Four members of the Gray County Historical Survey Committee, Mrs. J. C. Pattillo, Mrs. C. E. Cary, Mrs. Rose Hall and I were in attendance to urge all pioneers and descendants of pioneer families who came to the area by January of 1926 to compile their family stories for the Gray County History, and approximately 125 addresses sheets were passed out to the assembly on which present day names and addresses of friends and relatives who have moved away may be compiled and sent in to the committee at Box 676, Pampa. Officers of the 1968 homecoming were Granville Simmons, president; Mrs. H. H. Worsham, vice president; Mrs. O. W. Stapp, secretary-treasurer; and Stewards are Marvin Hall, Robert Bruce, W. H. Davis and Elmer Daniels. The welcome address was given by L. H. Earhman, a reading was presented by Billy Sherrod and songs were led by Rev. M. E. Smith, pastor of the Alanreed Baptist Church.

W. O. Hommel presented the cemetery report and a memorial service was conducted in memory of the following who had passed away since the 1967 Homecoming: W. W. Formwalt 6-67; Hugh Castleberry 7-12-67; Harry Prock 7-31-67; Joel E. Scott 9-17-67; Clovis Bible 10-25-67; Aunt Sally Palmer 12-24-67; Mrs. Ed (Grace) Hessey 1-19-68; Mrs. Willie Barnes 1-18-68; Mr. Lee Kennedy 2-5-68; Raymond Cantrell 3-3-68; Mrs. Daisy Slaughter

3-24-68; Mrs. A. L. (Alice) Hill 10-31-67; Mrs. W. W. Whissett 4-6-68; Mrs. F. S. (Amanda) Carter 5-2-68; Mr. Arvil D. Dugas 6-22-67; Mr. Clyde Cox 7-17-67; Mrs. Addie McKnight 8-7-67; Mr. W. H. Miller 11-2-67; Mr. Haskell Milligan 12-67; E. J. Windom 1-29-68; Amos Thacker 2-21-68; Mrs. Victoria Barnes 3-13-68; Bird Jones 4-68; Josh Cox 5-22-68; W. P. Sherrod 5-25-68.

Among those we enjoyed visiting with were W. T. Gibson of Dallas whose family came to Alanreed in 1913. There is to be a reunion of the Gibson family in Dallas on June 29-30 and they intend to assemble their family records for the history at that time.

Mrs. C. E. Greenwood (nee Callie Sherrod) was home from Wichita Falls and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Elms (sister to Mrs. Willie B. Guill of Pampa) were there from Lubbock. Also attending from Pampa were Mrs. Claude Sybil Williams, congenial attendant at Lovett Memorial Library and Rev. Max Browning, pastor of St. Paul Methodist Church and his family.

After leaving Alanreed, the members of the GCHS Committee drove over to McLean for a look at the new location for the Alanreed-McLean area museum which will be located in the Bobby Jack Massey building on the north side of the north lane of Highway 66. Miss Ruby Cook is chairman and Farris Hess is serving as advisory chairman.

MUNCIE, Ind. (UPI)—The justice is swift in the courtroom of City Judge Thomas Raisor. Wednesday Raisor had just set a trial date on a traffic charge for Jimmy Isom, 27, when Isom bolted from the courtroom and slammed the door.

The judge ran after Isom, caught him, pulled him back to the courtroom and gave him two days in jail for contempt of court.

Increase Is Marked In City Program

A substantial increase in the boys and girls participating in the summer recreation program has been reported by Bill Brown, new director of the city-sponsored program in Pampa.

The six week recreation program for boys and girls began June 17 and will end July 26.

Comparing the increase over the past two years, Brown said that an average of 250 students—125 boys and 125 girls—participate daily in the program at Robert E. Lee school. "That's an attendance increase of 50 students over the past two years."

At Carver elementary school, over 120 boys and girls participate daily.

"The main objective of the program is to provide kids, ages 6-13, with an opportunity to participate in group recreation.

Activities include swimming, volleyball, arts and crafts, basketball, softball, kick ball and many playground activities.

The boys and girls participate in activities from 9 a.m. to 12 noon with 45 minutes scheduled for swimming at Pampa's city pool.

The girls are being offered a program of physical fitness with the use of records, a new type of recreation program.

Brown said, "We are grateful to the city of Pampa for the time and money invested in the program. We feel that it is one of the better types of programs that a city this size can have and the program owes its success to the city of Pampa."

Employed in the recreation program are Bill Potts, teacher at Pampa junior high, Kay Judkins, a physical education teacher at Pampa junior high and Mrs. Lili Hall, arts and crafts teacher.

At Carver elementary school, Henry Spencer and Mrs. K. D. Moore, arts and crafts teacher, supervise activities.

Brown replaced Terry Culley as director of the program this year. Coach Culley has worked with the program the past 17 years and is one of the originators of the program.

Brown added, "This is only one of the many fine accomplishments of coach Culley for the boys and girls of the city of Pampa."

Foster May Never Fight In Home State

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — (UPI)—Light heavyweight boxing champion Bobby Foster is the first New Mexico fighter to ever win a world title, but chances are he will never defend the crown in his home state.

New Mexico, like so many other states, does not have a regularly scheduled boxing program and in the 1960s has suffered a drastic drop in boxing enthusiasm.

"We haven't had a professional fight here in over two years and I don't think Bob Foster would defend his title here," said Jack Rushing, a member of the Albuquerque Boxing Board. The board governs the almost non-existing boxing activity in the state's largest city.

Rushing, along with other members of the board, blamed the loss of boxing prestige and the cost of promoting for the drop of boxing cards in New Mexico.

"The cost of bringing in good fighters and guarantees has made promoting almost prohibitive," said Tim Keleher, an Albuquerque attorney and member of the boxing board.

Keleher said it now takes about $6,000 to promote a top-rate fight and said he could not see any alleviation of the problem in the near future.

Boxing in New Mexico was prominent during the 1950's and early 60's but in the last five years, no less than 10 promoters as well as several private clubs have made attempts at regular boxing cards and failed.

While Albuquerque is currently without any licensed promoters, at least two men have filed for a license and one of them, Paul Chavez, feels the problem lies in the quality of boxers.

"I feel Albuquerque is a good fight town, but promoters in the past just haven't given the fans top drawing cards," said Chavez.

Chavez blames the lack of fighting interest for the decline in national ratings of Joe Olguin, an Albuquerque lightweight who was tenth ranked when he fought his last fight two years ago in Albuquerque.

"We couldn't find a promoter in Albuquerque who could bring in good fighters to fight Olguin," said Chavez. "And unless you fight, the World Boxing Association won't rank you."

Chavez agreed with Keleher and Rushing that facilities were not a problem in Albuquerque since the city boasts a 15,000 seating capacity arena and a coliseum which is capable of holding up to 16,000 persons.

For the present, however, all agreed that only in the largest cities in the country was boxing a prosperous business.

"In New York, Los Angeles, Miami and maybe Chicago the story is different, but in the rest of cities everyone is crying out the same tune," said Keleher.

Haz Benz Defeats Sonics By 16-13

Winners in the Opti-Mrs. girl softball games this week were Haz Benz, the Blue Jays, the Barons and the Knockouts.

Haz Benz edged the Sonics, 16-13, on Monday. Jody Parsley was the winning pitcher while Viola Parsley was the losing hurler.

The Blue Jays nipped the Knockouts, 15-13. JoAnn Martin was the winning hurler. Ruby Moultrie was the loser on Monday.

On Wednesday, the Barons defeated the Blue Jays, 12-7, as Angie Allison hurled the win. Losing pitcher was JoAnn Martin.

The Knockouts blasted the Sonics, 21-8 on the pitching arm of Becky Anderson. Losing pitcher was Debra McKinney.

Gibson May Erase Drysdale's Record

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Don Drysdale's major league records of six straight shutouts and 58 2-3 consecutive scoreless innings, which topped 50-year-old performances of ancient aces, may be wiped off the books by Bob Gibson in less than 30 days.

Drysdale broke a 63-year old record held by Doc White when he pitched his sixth shutout in a row on June 4 and surpassed a 54-year old mark of Walter Johnson when he extended his string of scoreless innings to 58 2-3 on June 8.

The Los Angeles star had every right to think both records would last a quarter of a century but now both are in jeopardy and one may be equalled next Monday when Gibson faces the Dodgers—and possibly Drysdale.

Gibson, the St. Louis Cardinals' 1967 World Series hero who got off to a slow start this season, zeroed in on the two records Wednesday night when he beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-0 in the first game of a doubleheader. The Pirates won the second game 3-1.

Fifth Straight Shutout
Gibson, who yielded four hits enroute to his ninth victory against five losses, has now pitched five straight shutouts and 48 consecutive scoreless innings. His performance Wednesday came only a few hours after Drysdale pitched a two-hitter to beat the San Francisco Giants 2-1 for the 200th victory of his major league career.

The Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Atlanta Braves 3-2 in 11 innings, the Cincinnati Reds beat the New York Mets 7-4 and the Houston Astros topped the Chicago Cubs 2-1 in other National League games.

In the American League, the Baltimore Orioles downed the Boston Red Sox 6-2, the Washington Senators whipped the Cleveland Indians 8-2 and the Oakland Athletics blanked the California Angels 3-0.

Gibson doubled in the fourth inning and scored the Cardinals' second run on a double by Lou Brock. Matty Alou's two-run scoring singled led the Pirates in the nightcap.

Drysdale pitched 7 2-3 hitless innings before the Giants ruined his no-hitter and shutout on pinch-hitter Dave Marshall's single. The Giants had two on and two out as a result of a walk and an error by Drysdale. Wes Parker doubled home one of the Dodgers' runs in the seventh and scored the other on a fielder's choice by Drysdale.

Gibson Advancing
Gibson has pitched six shutouts and compiled a 1.15 earned run average this season while Drysdale has pitched seven shutouts and has a 1.21 ERA. Juan Marichal of the Giants, who leads the league with 14 victories, ranks 41st in ERA with 2.48.

Clay Dalrymple led off the 11th inning with a double and scored the winning run for the Phillies one out later on Tony Gonzalez' single. Bob Boozer, who pitched three innings of shutout relief, received credit for the victory.

Tony Perez' three-run triple highlighted a four-run fifth inning which gave the Reds a 6-1 lead and they held on for the win despite a three-run ninth-inning rally by the Mets. Jim Maloney received credit for his eighth win.

Dave Giusti pitched no-hit ball after Don Kessinger and Glenn Beckert started the game with singles to win his fifth game for the Astros. Jim Wynn homered for the Astros' first run in the second inning and Giusti singled home the other run in the fifth.

Big Don Wins No. 200 Over Giants, 2-1

By JOE SARGIS
UPI Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—For a while there everyone was beginning to think Don Drysdale wasn't human.

That was while he was putting together a string of six shutouts and 58 2-3 innings of runless pitching to set a major league record.

Then, the bubble burst, as it inevitably had to, and the man they call "Big D" came back to earth.

"Now that the record is out of the way," said Don, shortly after suffering his first loss in nearly a month, "all I want to win is 10 games to reach 200."

He was talking about 200 career victories, a plateau heretofore reached by 62 pitchers.

"If I get there," said Drysdale, "I'll be satisfied."

Don got there on Wednesday afternoon, in windswept Candlestick Park, and for a while it seemed he might really put frosting on the cake by doing it with a no-hitter.

Drysdale, now in his 13th big league season and all with the Dodgers, was just four outs away from a no-hitter when rookie outfielder Dave Marshall came off the bench in the eighth to line a single to center.

The blow not only ruined the no-hitter but scored San Francisco's only run in a 2-1 loss.

"He hit a good pitch," said Drysdale of Marshall's blow. "It was a fastball low and away."

"This may sound surprising, but I wasn't concerned with the no-hitter as I was with winning the game. Heck, what's a 2-0 lead anyway against a team with the hitters the Giants have. I wanted that victory more than any no-hitter."

What lies ahead this season now that Don has tacked away his 200th career victory.

"I really don't know," he said, "but it would be nice to win 20."

That sounds like a pretty modest second goal.

The Bucks acquired Reid from the Philadelphia 76ers in a recent stock draft. The 6-6 Reid was a teammate of Baltimore's Earl Monroe at Winston Salem State College.

Powell Powers Orioles Into Second Place

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer

Boog Powell is a loser at the ballot box but he's a winner in the batter's box.

Powell, who lost the starting first base job for the American League in the All-Star game by 10 votes to Minnesota's Harmon Killebrew, continued to lead Killebrew in most of the statistical departments Wednesday night when he powered the Baltimore Orioles into second place.

Powell collected two hits including a homer and knocked in two runs as the Orioles topped the Boston Red Sox 6-2.

The 2-for-3 game boosted Powell's average to .264 with 47 RBIs and 12 homers. Killebrew has the same number of homers but he has only 32 RBIs and a .216 average.

In Fifth Straight
Killebrew was probably selected almost from habit since he's played in seven All Star games and appeared in the classic for the last five straight years while Powell, who's usually a slow starter, has never played in the classic.

Powell and Frank Robinson hit back-to-back homers in the sixth inning for the Orioles to give Baltimore a 4-0 lead after Brooks Robinson hit a two-run homer in the fourth inning.

Powell then singled in one of the Orioles' two runs in the seventh inning. Dave McNally who pitched a six-hitter, picked up the victory to boost his record to 8-6.

Palmer, Trevino Rated As People's Choices

By ROBERT GRIMM
UPI Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Arnold Palmer, who may be back in the groove following a couple of disasters, and U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino were the people's choices today at the opening round of the $10,000 Cleveland Open golf tournament.

Although the weather could have a big say in who walks off with the $2,900 first prize, it was the veteran Palmer and relative newcomer Trevino who attracted the most attention in a rain-soaked Lakewood Country Club course.

The weatherman gave a 40 per cent chance of more showers today, but that should not bother Palmer and Trevino, who proved good "mudders" in their "play for fun round."

Palmer collected six birdies against two bogeys in his round for a four-under-par 67 over the 6,742-yard Lakewood course which was admittedly "toughened up" for the pros. Arnie's army of supporters was in nearly top strength as he tied with Dan Sikes for first place among the pros, collecting $462.50 each.

Despite offering free golf instructions to his three amateur playing partners, Trevino served notice his game was topped Cleveland 8-2 and Oakland blanked California 3-0. The Detroit-New York game was rained out but the Tigers still gained a half-game lead since Cleveland lost and fell to third place, eight games back. Baltimore is also eight games back but two percentage points ahead of the Indians.

Cards, Pirates Split
In the National League, Los Angeles edged San Francisco 2-1. St. Louis blanked Pittsburgh 3-0, in the first game but Pittsburgh won the nightcap 3-1. Philadelphia edged Atlanta 3-2 in 11 innings, Cincinnati edged New York 7-6 and Houston topped Chicago 2-1.

Bernie Allen's two-run triple highlighted a six-run second inning that carried Washington past Cleveland. Camilo Pascual pitched a four-hitter to gain the victory.

Chuck Dobson pitched a three-hitter to lead the Oakland A's past California. The game was decided in the first inning when Oakland picked up two runs off starter and loser, George Brunel, 6-8. John Donaldson walked and scored on Mike Hershberger's double. Hershberger then scored when Danny Cater hit into a forceout.

still sharp after a week's layoff to celebrate his U.S. Open victory.

The jovial Texan fired a two-under 69 to tie with Homero Blancas for fourth place in the pro game behind third-place Bert Waver.

It was Trevino's accurate driving that established him as the tournament favorite. The relatively short course also could favor several other players, including Julius Boros and defending champion Gardner Dickinson.

Palmer, Trevino and other top contenders will not have to battle several of the top money winners who are skipping the tournament. They included Billy Casper and Jack Nicklaus along with Bob Goulby, Bobby Nichols and Lou Graham.

Chavez agreed with Keleher and Rushing that facilities were not a problem in Albuquerque since the city boasts a 15,000 seating capacity arena and a coliseum which is capable of holding up to 16,000 persons.

For the present, however, all agreed that only in the largest cities in the country was boxing a prosperous business.

"In New York, Los Angeles, Miami and maybe Chicago the story is different, but in the rest of cities everyone is crying out the same tune," said Keleher.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Truth in Government

Having wrestled mightily, and to great fanfare, with the problems of "Truth in Packaging, and "Truth in Lending," it would be a great service if the Congress would take half-an-hour to inform the public on "Truth in Government Aid."

Perhaps it could authorize a memorandum to be endorsed with all Federal Government benefit checks, income tax form census reports and all other mailings to taxpayers, which would read something like this: "It is essential that all taxpayers understand the aid programs which the Federal Government has undertaken. So that there may be no misconceptions, we are here outlining the basic programs and their meaning:

"Federal Aid: This term is perhaps the most misunderstood of all Federal programs. Federal Aid actually means "free."

Federal Aid does not cost your government anything. The only cost is to you. Federal Aid means that Congress has authorized the Executive Branch to take money from you, and give it, free, to someone else.

"Social Security: Under this program, the Congress authori- zes the Executive Branch to compel those of you who are employed to pay benefits to those now receiving them. The program presumes that future Congresses will eventually compel persons who work to pay you benefits.

"Guaranteed Annual Income: Under this proposed program, the Congress will be asked to authorize the Executive Branch to take income earned by those who work, and give it to persons who do not work. The program will be sufficiently broad to provide benefits to those who cannot work, as well as those who prefer not to work.

"Under these programs it is possible for our citizenry to enjoy the rewards of planning that would have seemed impossible a generation ago. This planning has made old-fashioned concepts of hard work and thrift outmoded. It costs the cooperative citizen nothing to participate in these programs, since the Federal Government takes money only from those uncooperative citizens who persist in working and saving, and gives it to those who are willing to refrain from these practices."

'Hot Pursuit?' Cool It

Two doctors, in a report to the American Medical Association, have come out against a familiar and well-accepted police institution — "Hot pursuit" of speeders and other criminals.

The doctors are members of the Physicians for Automotive Safety Committee of the AMA. The argue that most pursuit is of minor traffic offenders—but the results are massively destructive.

At least 25 per cent of such chases, they reported, end in death and 70 per cent in an accident, often serious.

"The police are really making something major out of something minor," said Dr. Seymour Charles of Newark, N.J. To anyone using highways and streets, the sight of a police car careening in chase, with siren screaming and spotlight flashing, has become almost commonplace. So, unfortunately, have become the wrecked cars, the strewn bodies and the crippling after-effects.

The doctors may have a point there. The game may just not be worth the scandal.

PAUL HARVEY NEWS

Communists Are Just One Of Many Problems We Face

By PAUL HARVEY They're slurringly called "professional anti-Communists" if that's all they know what to talk about. That's a shame. The Communist conspiracy worldwide is a very real conspiracy. Home-grown Communists are doing their worst to disrupt our society and our economy. They are a very real menace.

But what the more myopic crusaders refuse to recognize is that every Communist in the world could drop dead at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and we'd still have most of our problems.

We'd still have almost 8 million Americans on welfare. We would still have had women living with worthless men because our government pays them with your money for producing illegitimate babies. We might still be fighting winless wars against other isms. Our streets and our parks would still be unsafe for the people who pay for them. So just being "against communism" is not enough.

The men generally recognized as the assassins of both President John Kennedy and Sen. Robert Kennedy embraced, espoused and endorsed communism. Lee Harvey Oswald was a Marxist who had rejected the United States and sought asylum in Russia. Sirhan Sirhan was a devoted disciple of the Communist ideology.

Hopefully, in the deeds of these men more Americans will be able to recognize the bitter fruits of their godless religion. But let's not repeat at home our grotesque blunder in Vietnam where we assumed that aggressive Communists were our only problem. They were not. OUR LARGER PROBLEM OV-ER THERE HAS BEEN OUR ALLIES.

Being "against communism," over there or over here, is not enough; we must be "for" something. And what we are "for" must be worthy of our dedication.

Hitler and Mussolini were "against communism," but what they were "for" was perhaps worse. So while it is well and good to remain alert to the party-line Reds in our country, let's be careful that we don't vote ourselves into some other brand of superstite.

There are politicians running for public office this year who are not Communists but who nonetheless insist that big government is more competent than we, the people. If we continue to vote for more and more big government, what difference does it make whether that government has direct ties with Moscow or Peking?

A dictatorship, by any name, is a national jail.

J. Edgar Hoover writes, "The danger of indiscriminately alleging that someone is a Communist, merely because his views on a particular issue happen to parallel the official party position, is obvious. The confusion which is thereby created helps the Communists by diffusing the forces of their opponents. Unfortunately, there are those who make the very mistake the Communists themselves are so careful to avoid. These individuals concentrate on the negative rather than on the positive. They are merely a gainst communism without being for any positive measure."

This is the year to listen carefully to what the candidates is for.

Our Young: Don't Sell 'Em Short!

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) —We are not living in a sick society. We are not losing our sense of morality or our belief in law. We are not raising a generation of irresponsibles.

The majority of our young people are sincere, conscientious believers in God, the rights of other men and in reason. They have faith in their parents and in this country's institutions. So do the majority of our adults, whether they live in the suburbs or the slums.

While a few young men and women ape the Adolf Hitler Youth, the vast majority in college are there to get the best education they can. They know their college administrators and their teachers are not perfect. But they know that when they are adults they will not be perfect either.

Recent surveys have shown that, in the majority of cases, student private beliefs in morality and in the old-fashioned virtues are as great as those of their parents and their grandparents. These, of course, are not the students publicly abusing the rights of others.

A student vote at Stanford University censured the student body president for his part in demonstrations which they felt went beyond the point of reason. Groups of students at other universities have organized for their right to go to classes undisturbed.

This reporter teaches two high-school age Sunday School classes. These young people think as calmly and as deeply as young people did so, 30 and 40 years ago. They have the same belief in democracy, in law, in respect for the rights of those who disagree and in their willingness to obey the vote of the majority as did their parents and grandparents.

This reporter has also worked the last several years with groups of young people who hang around at corner drugstores, with young men who belong to gangs and with some hippies. These are not daring young men and women full of revolutionary change. They are unhappy and troubled. They want help. They know they're off base. They say so in private, when their peers aren't watching them. They're like the young man who wrote on the walls of a hotel room, "Catch me and stop me from what I am doing," or words to that effect.

Most of the young people this reporter has met, and most of the adults, wherever they came from, have the same high ideals that carried us through the depression, two world wars and Korea.

If you can't believe this, get a list from any high school or college of what their young people are doing—the majority, that is, not the sick minority. For every bully who makes the headlines, there are 10, 15 or 20 seriously going about the business of getting an education and in their spare time doing practical, constructive work—teaching retarded children, helping slum dwellers build a recreation center, working at a summer camp for the poor, donating time in hospitals or at Red Cross centers.

We can be proud of the bravery and discipline of the young men serving in Vietnam and the hundreds of thousands of hours of off-duty personal aid they give the unfortunate men, women and children of that country.

There is no doubt that we must do something about our minority of Nazis of the right and left—and our hoods—whether they're on college campuses or in the streets. There is no doubt there are many improvements we must make in our society.

But let us not take on mass guilt for our freaks.

We can be immensely proud of the vast majority of our people—young and old. We can stand up straight and look any nation and any age of the past in the face.

Congress, Cohen in Show-down over Pressuring States to Furnish Birth Control Service to Unmarried Women

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Wilbur J. Cohen is headed for a confrontation with Congress on a state's rights issue that has explosive moral overtones. The smoldering dispute concerns whether the federal government can force states to distribute contraceptive devices and birth control information to unmarried women, including teenagers.

The controversial Cohen triggered the showdown by notifying Massachusetts and Wisconsin authorities they must comply by July 1 with his department's directive that birth control help must be made available to all women.

If there is no compliance by that deadline, Cohen warned those states they face a cutoff of federal funds to programs for aid to families with dependent children.

Since current laws in the two states limit the distribution of contraceptives to married women, authorities have notified Cohen they couldn't legally carry out his directive even if they wanted to.

Backing the stand taken by these states, House-Senate conferees recently wrote in the report accompanying the new tax law a warning to the HEW secretary not to go through with his threatened cutoff of funds.

The lawmakers' report stressed, "No existing federal law requires any state to take action contrary to state statute" in administering welfare or birth control programs financed by the legislators as follows: Cohen was then admonished: "The conference committee... expects the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare to so interpret and administer the provisions of the aid to families with dependent children (AFDC) programs."

THE BIG DECISION — Still undetermined is whether Cohen will heed the report of the conferees or go ahead with his plans to try to force all the states to adopt a federally dictated policy on birth control. Whatever decision Cohen makes he reportedly has the backing of the White House.

As part of his scare campaign, Cohen told congressional lawmakers, "We hope the states will comply, because thousands of innocent women and children will be affected by withdrawal of funds."

HEW officials estimate that between $30 million and $40 million will be withdrawn from each of the states' programs for welfare families if they balk at carrying out Cohen's directive. The House-Senate tax conferees drafted their warning to Cohen after Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., and the other members of the Massachusetts delegation objected to Cohen's edict.

Earlier this year, the Massachusetts legislature rejected a birth control bill that would have permitted such help to unmarried women in that predominantly Catholic state.

Typical of the opposition was the statement of State Rep. Joseph Brett, D., of Quincy: "I am opposed to the principle of giving birth control information to unmarried women. I do not think the state should become a part of what I consider an immoral situation. The federal government has no right to try to force a state to change its policy."

ATTACKING SAIGON — Hanoi is linking the missile and stone ages to keep up their harassing rocket attacks on Saigon.

To make detection almost impossible, North Vietnamese rocketeers are now using improvised launching sites to shell the South Vietnamese capital.

Captured Communist officers have revealed that most of the rockets are now being fired from mud-hardened holes dug in rice-paddy hideaways surrounding the city.

Instead of using the regular launching tubes and tripods which could be more easily spotted, the North Vietnamese now just dig a hole several feet deep and the circumference of the rocket. Under the hot sun the mud dries and hardens into a homemade rocket launcher.

Rockets up to 122-mm, with a range of 6 miles, have been fired successfully from these improvised launching sites, according to information furnished by the Red prisoners.

In most instances, they reported, five to six rockets are fired from one site at a time. The rockets are wired together and ignited by a small battery.

After their night-time launches their "phantom" rocketeers, consisting of two-man teams, just fade away. The launching holes are usually filled in so the sites can be used again if not detected.

U.S. military authorities admit that this combination of Russian Technology and destructive Vietnamese ingenuity makes it almost impossible to prevent these attacks.

ANOTHER NEW THREAT — An even more ominous military threat is developing just north of the demilitarized zone, which marks the border between North and South Vietnam at the 17th parallel.

U.S. reconnaissance planes have spotted the North Vietnamese digging larger holes and filling them with cement. The installations were to be used to store Soviet-built ground-to-air anti-aircraft rockets.

The latest photographs, however, show these cement holes filled with rockets estimated to have a 100-mile ground-to-ground range.

A number of these new rockets have been unloaded from Soviet ships docking at Haiphong since President Johnson halted all U.S. bombing above the 19th parallel.

Other Soviet arms unloaded during the self-enforced bombing lull included 30 crated Mig-21s, hundreds of ground-to-air anti-aircraft missiles, tanks, armored personnel carriers, helicop-

The American Way

By D. R. SEGAL

I have received a letter from Barbara W. Tuchman and Henry Steel Commager soliciting for the NCEC. Before giving of myself for anything these days, I look at the list of sponsors, and generally this is a pretty good tip-off on the kind of ship they're running.

Well, there's quite a bunch of cats at the helm of the NCEC (which translates into National Committee for an Effective Congress). Like Harry Ashmore, one of the gurus at the Institute for Democratic Studies, for example. What they have set up is a money operation which hangs loose to help congressmen who think good.

The recent good-thinkers include Clinton P. Anderson, Claiborne Pell, John Sparkman, William B. Spong, Edward Brooke, John Sherman Cooper and Margaret Chase Smith.

What these have in common is not altogether clear except they are considered to be liberals and doves. Indeed, the letter from Commager says: "The defeat of any one of these men (Sens. Church, Clark, Fulbright, Gruening, McGovern, Morton, Morse) would greatly strengthen the Right Wing and the War Hawk elements of both parties." Get that: Right Wing and War Hawk. One must conclude that the opposite is Left Wing and Dove. But the NCEC says it is against "extremists." If they are, as they say, the opposite of the extreme right, then they must be the extreme left; and how can they be extreme leftists if they are against extremists? I do not think even Professor Commager can explain this to my satisfaction, so I am not going to send along my dollar.

I do, though, admire the marvelously (almost said "extremely") cavalier manner in which they solicit. The literature plainly states the money collected will be used without your knowledge or consent, except no extremists will get any—unless of course they are moderates who are extremely opposed to the Right Wing extremists. If you can't dig stuff like this, Dad, you're not the kind of tiger for the NCEC.

Do you suppose there is a place in the picture for a CEAE? That is, a Committee for Extremists of All Extremes? Just about everybody is against extremists of all sorts and that makes us the most abused and unrepresented minority group in the country. I can't quite see the Fair Employment Practices Commission mounting a Hire An Extremist Week. They have said atheists don't hold meetings, which no longer is true. They hold 'em in churches now. But extremists have nothing going for them. Nothing. Not a kind word, not a free buck. Almost everyone claims to be a milder. Extremism has gotten an undeservedly bad name, considering this country was founded by some guys who did not find much middle ground at Lexington or Concord. Wonder who the NCEC of that day would have supported!

Oh, well, I suppose a few rotten extremists have given the rest of us a bad name. It's Leo Durocher said after he pulled his third baseman who'd made six errors in a row: "That guy's got third base so screwed up nobody can play it." Same way with the extreme positions on the political ball field.

When I was a reporter, I spent a lot of time in the company of that fine old newspaperman, William Allen White. Now that I am approaching the serene and yellow, I am forced to remember his comments on his 70th birthday. "Now," he said, "the girls come and sit on the side of my chair and pat me on the head and look down at me with reverence, because they are not afraid of me anymore. And that's the hell of it!" He never did a more accurate piece of reporting.

From the way young people are acting up this year, they must think hell has been air-conditioned.

A guy can't marry a girl for fifty dollars a week any more. She has to be earning at least twice that these days.

You've got to admit one thing

Oh, well, I suppose a few rotten extremists have given the rest of us a bad name. It's Leo Durocher said after he pulled his third baseman who'd made six errors in a row: "That guy's got third base so screwed up nobody can play it." Same way with the extreme positions on the political ball field.

Before you decide to marry a genius, remember that the wife of Leo Tolstoy copied his immense novel, "War and Peace in long-hand SEVEN TIMES.

I don't know who'll succeed Lyndon, but I'm sure of one thing—nothing succeeds like successors.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Time for Americans, a six-part series about the nation's race problem, arrives on ABC-TV tonight with the highly provocative subject "Bias and the Mass Media."

This subject, in fact, will take up the first two programs of the series, with the second scheduled for July 11, also in prime time.

According to ABC-TV, tonight's broadcast will present four prominent Negroes joining in "an indictment of racism as it exists in the media in America—radio and television, advertising, newspapers and magazines."

The Negroes are entertainers Harry Belafonte and Lena Horne, essayist-poet-critic Laurence Neal and Dr. Alvin Poussaint, assistant professor of psychiatry at Tufts University Medical School in Boston.

Suggest improvements They will focus, says the network, "on the image of the Negro presented by the media and suggest ways minority groups could be portrayed more fairly."

The July 11 broadcast, meanwhile, will present representatives of the various media offering "their views on the image of the Negro in mass communication."

Curiously, no mention is made of the movie industry, which—until television came along—was perhaps the most decisive force in America in creating an image of Negroes.
