BANDIT WINKS AND GRINS AS TRAP AWAITS

NO WORD IS SAID BY OKLAHOMA ON GALLOWES

BY FRANCIS E. BARDEN, Associated Press Staff Writer. McALESTER, Okla., June 19 (AP)—Arthur Gooch, 27-year-old Oklahoma gunman, was hanged at day-break today for the kidnaping of two Paris, Texas, officers—the first man to die under the federal Lindbergh law. He did not utter a word on the gallows.

President Roosevelt, who declined executive clemency, shattered Gooch's hopes of escaping the noose with a precedent-breaking statement that modification of the sentence would "render negatory a law carefully considered by the Congress and designed to meet a national need."

A crowd of about 350 persons, including eight women, pressed forward as the trap was sprung by Rich Owen, veteran Oklahoma penitentiary executioner.

Nothing to Say. Gooch, who had been nervously garrulous up to the time he was taken from the death cell at the state prison here, shook his head when U. S. Deputy Marshal George Hall of Muskogee asked: "Do you have anything to say, Arthur?"

The gallows trap was sprung at 5:04 a. m. (CST) and 15 minutes later the prison physician, signalled with a wave of his hand, that the abductor of Officers R. N. Baker and H. R. Marks was dead.

Until Mr. Roosevelt's statement was read to him, the one-time bullying gangster, who made a practice of binding his holdup victims and leaving them to free themselves, clung to his hope for clemency.

He called a newspaper man to his hot, stuffy death cell, even after he had donned the black, somber pocketless hanging suit and said: "Make sure the President hasn't changed his mind. I'd like to know right away if he has. I don't want to be kept in suspense a minute longer than necessary. This isn't much fun."

Promptly at 5 o'clock, handcuffs were snapped upon Gooch's wrists and he was led between two guards out of the west gate of the penitentiary to the gallows.

As Gooch walked down the road he smiled at the crowd. At the head of the short procession were Chairman L. M. Nichols of the state board of affairs, Deputy Warden Jess Dunn of McAlester prison, and U. S. deputy state board of affairs member, and the Rev. E. S. Priest, prison chaplain.

Gooch grasped the hands of the chaplain. The group wended its way through the witnesses, many of whom were crowded on the road, leading from the gate to the gallows.

Gooch, two guards, and the hangman ranged themselves atop the rough pine scaffold. Forces Smile. One guard stepped forward and briskly removed the handcuffs. Hall then stepped out to ask the bushy-

Fort Worth Man Dies of Heart Attack in City

H. N. Lassiter, 50, of Fort Worth, tank salesman for the Drane Tank Co., died of an acute heart attack today in his room at a local hotel.

Mr. Lassiter, who is survived by his widow and one child in Fort Worth, checked in at the hotel last evening. He became ill about 10:30 p. m. and a physician was summoned.

When he did not appear this forenoon for a conference with C. J. Dennis, local representative of the company, his death was discovered. The body was taken to the Malone funeral home, pending word from company officials and relatives.

Tax Deadline to Fall on June 30

Deadline for second half tax payments in Gray county will fall June 30, according to F. E. Leech, county tax collector.

Mr. Leech said today that if payments are equally as good as the first half collections, it is expected that slightly more than 95 per cent of the 1935 duplicate will be paid up by deadline time.

CONVICTS KILL GUARD

THREE TEXAS INMATES FLEE FROM FIELDS

GUARD IS KILLED WITH OWN PISTOL AT RETRIEVE

RETRIEVE PRISON FARM, Brazoria County, June 19 (AP)—Three desperate convicts who killed Guard Felix Smith with his own pistols and escaped on a horse and two mules this morning remained at large in the dense underbrush of this swampy section of South Texas at noon. A posse and bloodhounds, under direction of Captain Rube Conner, were able to trail the desperadoes only a short distance. It was believed the convicts headed toward Houston.

RETRIEVE PRISON FARM, Brazoria County, June 19 (AP)—Three long-term convicts "jumped" Prison Guard Felix Smith on the state prison farm here today, killed him with his own pistol and fled into dense underbrush on Smith's horse and two mules.

T. N. Atkinson, an habitual criminal sent up for life from Hidalgo county; Luke Trammell, serving 25 years for murder, robbery and other major offenses, and Forrest Gibson, serving 10 years for theft in Limestone county were the desperadoes who escaped.

They attacked Smith just as a plowing squad was being taken to the fields for work. The guard was riding behind the convicts, who were mounted on mules.

Trammell, Atkinson, and Gibson were riding near the guard. Without warning, they slipped from their mules and threw him from his saddle. Quickly disarming Smith, they shot him to death with his two pistols.

One of them swung into Smith's saddle and, with the other fugitives, lashed the horse into the woods.

Another guard, riding slightly ahead of the main squad, tried to aid Smith but arrived too late to save his life or halt the fleeing convicts. He gave the alarm and Capt. Rube Conner, in charge of the Brazoria county farm, organized a posse and took the trail of the escaped men with bloodhounds.

Gibson made several previous escapes. He was among those who fled from Eastham farm a few years ago when a guard was killed.

Jack Ellington, general manager of the prison system, hurried to the farm to supervise the hunt. He said at times Gibson's work had been so good he had been made a trustee. Once Gibson was sent to the honor farm.

"I don't know why they do it," Ellington commented. "This escape business seems to strike them all of a sudden. They work all right for months and suddenly go crazy and make a break."

Retrieve farm is used to confine prisoners who the prison system officials believe may be reclaimed for society. There is another farm, Eastham, which is used for men regarded as incorrigibles.

Counties' Assets To Be Displayed

Assets of six Panhandle counties—Gray, Wheeler, Carson, Hutchinson, Moore and Potter—will be displayed in a pictorial exhibit at the Fort Worth Centennial. Plans, after a few changes, were approved at a meeting in Amarillo late yesterday afternoon.

The exhibit, in the form of maps, photos and moving pictures depicting the oil and gas field and its various resources together with the agricultural and stock raising assets, is to be displayed in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce building at the centennial.

A space six by eight feet will be located in the booth set aside for district 1, the Panhandle.

The display is being prepared by the McCormick Company. Representatives present at yesterday's meeting were:

Wheeler County: County Judge W. O. Fruetz of Wheeler, Jake Tarter, county agent, and Clayton Heare of Shamrock.

Moore: L. J. Daugherty of Dumas.

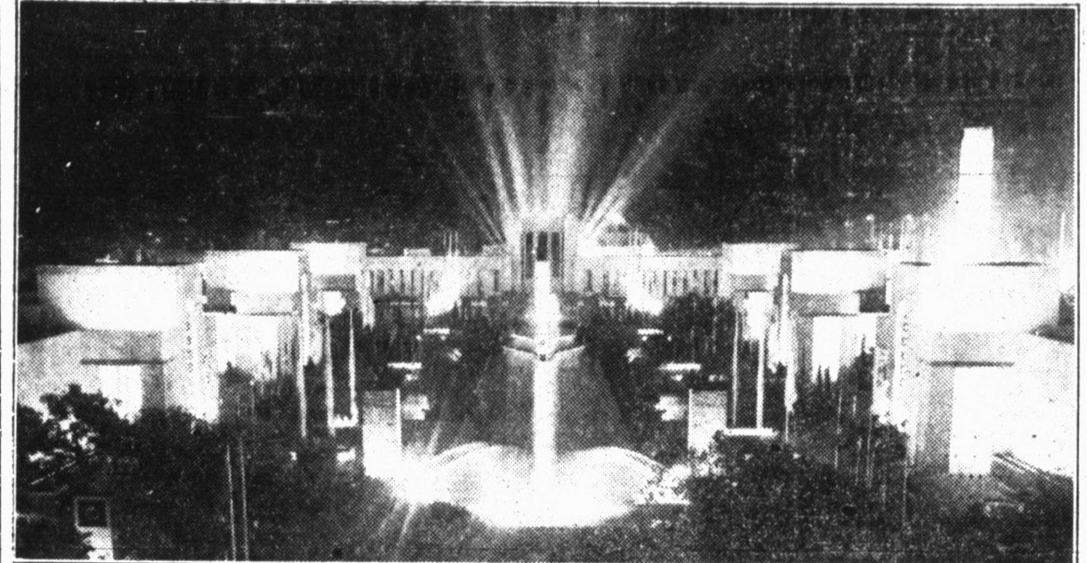

Gray—Garnett Reeves of Pampa, C. Greene and Wits Springer of McLennan.

Hutchinson—Mr. Stahl and K. L. Kone.

Potter: Lawrence Hagy and T. E. Johnson.

Mrs. Mary Aycock of Tahoka is visiting in the home of Clyde Gray of the Laketon community.

NIGHT LIGHTS OVER TEXAS EXPOSITION

One of the most impressive sights at the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas is the night scene down the Esplanade of State with searchlights from behind the $1,200,000 Hall of State and the lights along the 700-foot Reflecting Basin bathing the Halls of Varied Industries and Transportation.

Dr. Mitchell, Prominent As Merchant In Pampa, Is Dead

HARVARD CREW AND FDR, JR. BEATEN AGAIN

Third Time He Has Rowed on Losing Team

NEW LONDON, June 19 (AP)—Yale and Harvard split the morning races of the 74th annual regatta between the two old universities on the Thames today.

After Harvard freshmen had taken the opening race by a length and a half, Yale's junior varsity trounced the Crimson juniors by five lengths.

Harvard's defeat in the junior varsity marked the third time in as many years that young Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., No. 6 in the Harvard shell, had rowed on a losing crew in Yale-Harvard regattas.

In accordance with the usual custom, the losing oarsmen were forced to give up their shirts to the winners.

The big race of the regatta, the four-mile grind for the victories, will start at 4:30 P. M. C. S. F.

Chauffeur's Badges Are Now Available

Chauffeur's badges were available at the tax office in the county courthouse today to persons who present receipts showing they have paid fees for 1936 licenses.

A shipment of 500 badges arrived yesterday, after a long delay because of confusion in the mail.

DEFIANCE BELLOWED

PARIS, June 19 (AP)—Bel lows of defiance greeted a dissolution order against armed rightists leagues today as lawmakers completed action on France's labor reform program. Chiefs of four armed leagues refused to accept an official command to disband their organizations—the Croix de Feu (Fiery Cross), the league for French solidarity, the young patriots, and the Francaistes.

People You Know

Did you know Dr. Mitchell? If you did, you liked him. Say he was a good citizen; say he was a good father, and husband; say he was kind and generous; say he was an honest man, a loyal friend, (and all that is true) and still you will not have touched upon the thing that made him personally beloved in Pampa. There was something in his whimsical smile that won you, Dr. Mitchell liked people and you knew at once that he liked you. He knew that beauty dwelt in sound and color and in the faces of friends. He was a good friend, and let us salute him for all that he has meant to us these ten short years.

Meat Market Fire Is Extinguished

A quick run by the fire department probably averted serious damage at the A. R. Akin Meat Market, 326 South Cuyler street, at 3:45 o'clock this morning. The fire was discovered by T. T. Butler, night watchman.

When fire trucks arrived, smoke was pouring from the rear door. Two lines of hose were strung and water poured on the blaze, which was confined to the rear of the building. A. Holmes is owner of the property.

Damage to property was not great. Little merchandise was in the building at the time.

WEATHER

WEST TEXAS: Fair tonight and Saturday; not quite so warm in the Panhandle Saturday.

PUBLIC URGED TO LISTEN IN AT SING-SONG

SONGS WITH 'SWING' TO BE LED BY SINGERS

Those who have never attended an old-fashioned singing convention are especially invited to visit the week-end sessions of the Plateau Singing convention in the high school gymnasium tomorrow and Sunday, and to join in the lusty four-part singing that features such meetings.

No matter how many special numbers, solos, and quartets, on the program, the most important part of a singing convention is the assembly singing. Each song has a different leader. Being asked to lead a song is a compliment to the convention member or visitor, and some of the leaders will be representatives of other singing conventions or of music publishing houses.

The songs will be of the old-fashioned gospel type, old-fashioned in style even though words and music are new. The favorites will have two-part choruses in which sopranos and tenors hold the top notes while altos and basses roll out the swinging refrains.

Carrying out the popular idea of an "all-day singing," there will be "dinner on the ground" at noon the two days. Arrangements have been made for the use of General park, only two blocks north of the gym, as a place to spread basket lunches.

Hundreds of singers from the Texas Panhandle and nearby counties in New Mexico and Oklahoma are expected for the convention. John F. Taylor, president since the organization was formed in 1920, will be in charge. Opening songs are to be led by W. H. Blakney of Alameda, Gray county chairman of the Plateau convention, and C. E. Ward, president of the Gray County Singing convention, at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Morning, afternoon, and evening sessions are scheduled for the two days.

WPA Staff and Harry Hopkins Will Broadcast

There will be a nation-wide staff meeting of the Works Progress Administration over the National Broadcasting company network from 3 to 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Every WPA official and worker in this section should hear the program, which will be featured by an address by Harry L. Hopkins, administrator.

County Judge C. E. Cary and the commissioners court have lent the county courtroom for the local gathering place. Tarpley Music company will install a large radio over which the program will be received. Texas radio stations broadcasting the program will be KGNC, Amarillo; WFAP, Dallas; WOAI, San Antonio; KPCR, Houston.

The meeting will be of interest to citizens as well as WPA workers. W. L. Heskew, assistant field supervisor, and project supervisors urge all workers to attend the meeting in the county courtroom.

Special invitations have been extended county and city officials, school officials and political leaders.

Other prominent speakers on the program will be Governor Earle of Pennsylvania, Mayor Rosi of San Francisco, and Aubrey Williams, director of the National Youth Administration.

Price of Cotton Soars to 12 Cents

NEW YORK, June 19 (AP)—Twelve-cent cotton appeared in the market today for the first time since November as trade circles heard rumors that the government's producers' pool had completed its liquidation.

A week ago it was announced that the government still held 244,000 bales of July for delivery in the local market. This cotton has been coming out steadily and rapidly during the past week with an urgent demand for trade shorts.

During the process the July price advanced over $1.50 a bale, selling this morning at 12.04 cents a pound compared with 11.70 cents on Friday of last week.

Only Cloudburst Can Halt Fight

NEW YORK, June 19 (AP)—Despite heavily overcast skies, threatening further rain, Promoter Mike Jacobs declared this afternoon only a cloudburst would halt the 15-round heavyweight match slated tonight between Joe Louis and Max Schmeling, at the Yankee stadium.

Jacobs planned to hold off any consideration of further postponement until tonight.

At the same time the promoter said if the weather proved bad enough to compel a second postponement the fight will be put over to next Monday night.

Fight fans, as well as Jacobs, were encouraged by the weather man's forecast of clearing skies later in the day.

There was a slight flurry in ticket sales early today but it didn't last. There was little basis for expectation the crowd would exceed 60,000 or the gates receipts $700,000.

Hundreds of Pampans mourning the passing of Dr. W. C. Mitchell this morning. This corner today is dedicated to Dr. Mitchell who was a real friend. He always had a cheery word wherever we met. Pampa has lost a citizen who can never be replaced.

TEX'S TOPICS

BY TEX DE WESE

Siler Faulkner, Jr., now on a tour of England, sends a letter to his father here, breaking the news that he has just bought a right-hand drive English car in order to get from place to place, do more things and see more places.

The senior Faulkner relates that the letter says nothing about the vintage of the car, but explains that the method decided upon proves a much more economical way to see the country than to pay the cost of English rail and bus transportation—even though the car will be sold at a loss when Faulkner leaves England.

Which brings to mind that the way we get around this country of ours nowadays—although accepted as commonplace by most of us—is little short of astounding.

For instance, if you were in Los Angeles and wished to make a hurry-up business call in Berlin, you could be in the German capital within five days via plane to the East and the available Hindenburg crossing of the Atlantic.

Truly, we moderns live with a zip and a zoom, when you consider that pioneers of our country blazed the trails in covered wagons, cutting their way through in tedious journeys which took weeks and months to cover a comparatively few miles.

Modern means of transportation have dwarfed time. Our means of communication, too, bring nations and continents into neighborly conference.

There is the radio. A child of the modern generation flips a dial and hears music or entertainment from places thousands of miles away. The child thinks nothing of it.

Likewise, we think nothing of our countless modern conveniences. To mention only a scant few—telephone, automatic refrigerator, scores of automatic devices to lighten the tasks of housewives, air-cooled homes, the airplane, automobile, gas, electricity, etc., etc., etc.

Around the corner are television and rocket ships which will make modern air-liners look like the old stage-coach as far as getting places is concerned.

Television will not be ready for the public for several years to come, but provision is now being made for its growth. Sound radio and television, they say, will not be competitors.

Sound radio, as the popular conception goes, is used not only as a primary source of entertainment and education, but also as a background while reading, resting, or playing bridge.

Looking at television requires concentration. Of course, everybody is interested in what it's going to cost. While it is not possible at present to determine precisely what the selling price of a television receiver will be, it most likely will cost less than the average motor car.

So, the fact that the American people have found ways and means of financing the purchase of more than 20 million motor cars, indicates that there will be a wide market for television.

Yes, zipping and zooming we go on our way. Experimental work in television has reached a "promising stage," as witness the broadcasts which have been on the air some time from laboratories in Philadelphia and Camden.

The experimenters in this channel have in mind to lay the groundwork for future television developments, all pointing to the same goal—a single television system for the United States, with every receiver capable of receiving every broadcast reaching its locality.

Newspapermen in The Texas Press association have an opportunity for a $100 a month income increase in July. The sum is being offered for the best feature story of 300 to 2,000 words written and published by any association member about the Texas Rose Festival, Oct. 2-6 at Tyler.

Threats were being oiled up today for the 18th annual Plateau Singing convention which Pampa has the honor of entertaining tomorrow and Sunday.

Hundreds are expected to attend the two-day songfest which gets under way at 10 a. m. tomorrow. Sessions will run morning, afternoon and evening on both days. If you like old-time singing, you'll not want to miss

Shamrock Oil And Gas Employees to Picnic Saturday

Employees of the Shamrock Oil and Gas corporation and their families will picnic on the Saunders lease northeast of LeFors tomorrow afternoon.

Safety first will be featured when the company's eight first aid teams will compete for two sets of medals, one for members of the team placing first and the other for the second ranking team.

Following the first aid contest, a playground ball game between employees in Gray and Moore counties will be played.

The Shamrock corporation has 125 employees in the Panhandle field. Of that number, 48 are on safety first teams.

Children of Pampa and surrounding communities today were offered an opportunity to be the guests of grocers at the showing of Joe E. Brown's "Sons 'O Guns" at the La Nora theater Sunday.

A free ticket to the theatre will be given to each child 12 years of age and under with a purchase of any two packages of Post cereals at any grocery store or market in Pampa, LeFors, White Deer, Kingsmill, and Skellytown.

W. W. McDonald, Bob Sanford, and Vernon Lawrence left yesterday afternoon for Eagle Nest and Red River, N. M. for a fishing trip.

FAIR WEATHER IS PREDICTED FOR LOUIS-SCHMELING FIGHT THIS EVENING

NEGRO DUE TO WHIP NAZI IN FEW MINUTES

LOUIS SCALES 6 MORE POUNDS THAN MAX ON THURSDAY

BY ALAN GOULD.
NEW YORK, June 19 (AP)—Washed out in more ways than one, what's left of the heavyweight fist argument between Joe Louis and Max Schmeling is due to be settled tonight in the Yankee stadium.

Weather permitting, and it's even money the skies will be clear this evening, the 22-year-old American negro will tee off on the German veteran a few minutes after 8 p. m. (CST). If you believe all you have been reading about the affair, it will be all over with a drive and a pitch.

The one-day postponement, first in years for a major heavyweight match, failed either to rally any backing for the German's chances, already so minimized as to be scarcely discernible, or prompt a belated rush for the lonesome ticket sellers.

The only mob scene so far connected with the enterprise occurred yesterday at the old Hippodrome, on Sixth avenue, where the police scored a decision over the working press in connection with the weighing-in. The experts didn't exactly take it on the chin but they were making no gains in the clinches before finally getting the momentous information that Louis scaled 198 pounds, Schmeling 192, and that both fighters were in absolutely perfect fighting condition.

The situation got so far out of hand that one bluecoat tried to chase Promoter Mike Jacobs, already considerably harassed, clear off the premises. Mike got back into the thick of things just in time to save his dignity and then, with a final glance at the dripping skies, announced the 24-hour postponement.

Louis, who figures to dominate the proceedings inside the ring, also was the life of the postponement party. The young negro took delight in the formal examination, ginned at Schmeling when the German put in a belated appearance, and joshed with Promoter Jacobs. "Oughter stayed home today," commented the chocolate soldier. "I like to play golf in the rain and you can see plain for yourself there ain't gonna be no fight. It might be fun to fight in the rain, anyway. How about it Uncle Mike? Let's have it anyway. Or does you care about folks coming?"

He bustled around, giving orders, and taking steps to conduct an extra day's drive for customers. He flatly rejected any suggestions further to mark down ticket prices, however. The promoter has decided to sink or swim on the $345-840 scale he started out with, subject to a few revisions he made earlier in the week. He was sunk but neither will he swim in the profits.

The payoff probably will be on a $800,000 "gate." This will mean somewhat less than $200,000 for each of the gladiators. In fistie parlance the bout is "off the nut" but no such margin as all concerned had hoped, including the income tax collectors.

DISTANCE HIS DISH

THE GALLANT SON OF GALLANT FOX HAS CONVINCED BRITISH SKIPPERS THAT AMERICAN HORSES CAN RUN A DISTANCE... MY WORD!

SPORT SLANTS

by Pap

Billy Sullivan of Cleveland isn't exactly the type of ball player you would call temperamental. And yet the son of the former White Sox catching star is one of those fellows who must be satisfied and happy to perform at their best on the diamond. He's happy to be working with Steve O'Neill and the Cleveland Indians and it is reflected in his work.

Since donning the Cleveland uniform Sullivan has been pounding the cover off the ball. He isn't likely to continue his 400 pace at the plate for long, but there is no denying that his amazing batting has been one of the features of the first half of the current pennant chase.

There is an interesting story in just how Sullivan happens to be wearing a Cleveland uniform. It seems that Billy decided that there was little opportunity for him as a regular first baseman in Cincinnati, so he approached Larry MacPhail on the subject of making a deal for himself.

Naturally, MacPhail was cold to the idea at first. The Reds had paid $12,500 for Sullivan and were not going to let him go unless they could at least get back their investment. The business manager of Cincinnati had a couple of trades in the making, one of which was to have sent Sullivan to the Boston Bees. Billy managed to talk MacPhail out of them and had him do business with the Cleveland management.

The Indians were willing to give $7,500 for Sullivan but that was not enough. Cleveland finally raised the ante to $10,000 and the deal was closed. Cleveland's manager Steve O'Neill, long a friend of Sullivan, induced the youngster to don the catcher's mask and pads. Billy's great batting earned him the call over Frankie Pytlak, rated as one of the most likely looking mittmen in the majors. It was not entirely on the strength of his hitting that Sullivan was used regularly behind the plate, although that by itself made him vital to the success of the Indians. Sullivan is no slouch as a catcher—in fact, O'Neill thinks he may wind up as one of the best in the game. He is smart, quick, eager to learn and willing to take advice.

SHIPPERERS ARE NOW LEADING TEXAS LEAGUE

STEEERS LOSE SIXTH STRAIGHT; CATS WIN AGAIN

(By The Associated Press)
TODAY'S GAMES.
Beaumont at Dallas (night).
San Antonio at Fort Worth (night).
(Only games scheduled.)

The Beaumont Shippers came out of the south today with a good chance of discovering whether their rapid rise to the throne of the Texas league was merely a flash in the pan as they met Dallas in a three-game series.

The Dallas club abdicated its league leadership at the Redkins from Oklahoma City again applied the Indian sign in a game at Dallas last night. The score was 3 to 2. Dick Whitworth for the Oklahomaans and AT Baker for Dallas went the route and allowed five hits, but the visitors managed to turn a walk into a run and take the game. The Dallas loss was the club's sixth straight.

Leo Twardy's sturdy right arm lifted the Beaumont club into the league leadership. He bested Cope-land and the Houstonians, 4 to 2, and allowed only five hits. Cope-land pitched well but his mates contributed five errors.

Another close one was dropped by San Antonio to Galveston's Pirates, 2 to 1, with Jakucki having the edge over Abe Miller in a mound setto.

Fort Worth stretched its winning streak to five games, soundly spanking Tulsa, 11 to 0. Newell Kimball, the Tulsa team's sensational flinger, suffered his first loss in six at-tempts, and was pounded for 16 hits.

KITTY! KITTY!
CHICAGO (AP)—Emerging from a fur store with a fuzzy bundle under his arm, Nathan Sennenschne told a policeman:
"My cat ran in through that broken window, so I went after him."
Sennenschne was hauled off to jail. The fuzzy bundle was no cat. It was a fox fur neckpiece.

SCHMELING PERFECTS MARKSMANSHIP AND THEN HIS TRAINER POLISHES HIS 'LEFT'

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
NAPANCOH, N. Y., June 13 (AP)—Whether Max Schmeling likes Joe Louis in the Yankee stadium, June 18, is something else again. But this much is certain:
Joe Louis is going to get hit.
"Nobody has ever hit Joe Louis a real hard punch," the German said today. "Maybe that's why they call him a super-fighter. But I will hit him. Let me tell you."
"Ever since I came here I have been practicing at finding a target with my right. For two weeks it was no good. I would aim at the jaw, but the blow would land high upon the face or on my sparring partner's head or shoulder."
"Now I kept practicing every day. Now it is different. I hit what I aim at."
Schmeling proved it, too. He went into the ring with three different sparring partners and hit each where and when he pleased.
Swings to Left.
The job now is to perfect his left and Max will concentrate on that until he breaks camp the day before the fight.
"That is the important hand in this fight," said Trainer Max Machon. "So we go right to work on it."
Machon didn't explain why he regarded Schmeling's left as his

Deciding Game of Series To Be Played At Park Tonight

Blow-by-Blow Story Of Fight To Be Heard

Baseball, between two great teams, will be the attraction at Road Runner park tonight when the Eason Oilers of Enid, Okla., return for the deciding game of a series with the Pampa-Danger Road Runners. Game time will be 8:30 o'clock with admission 40 cents for men and 25 cents for women.

The gates at Road Runner park will be open early tonight so that fight fans will be able to hear the blow by blow account of the Louis-Schmeling battle direct from the ringside over a special hook-up. The fight is scheduled to begin about 8 o'clock.

The Oilers have been "pointing" at the Road Runners all season. So set have the Oklahomaans been on beating the birds tonight that they overlooked Huber of Berger last night and dropped a 12 to 4 game. The Oilers have been secure 10 hits in seven innings and Ryba allowed four bingles the rest of the game. Patton hit a home run for the Oilers. Byron Chody allowed 10 hits, but kept them scattered enough to win his ball game.

A blow by blow account of the Louis-Schmeling fight will be available tonight at Road Runner park where fight and baseball fans will gather for an evening of real entertainment. The fight is scheduled to begin about 8 o'clock.

Fans will be able to sit in the cool breeze and enjoy the fight direct from the ringside over a specially constructed speaker system. A large radio has been secured to pick up the fight. It will be connected with a special loud speaker system. A radio aerial will be strung between light poles, 70 feet above the ground, to get best pick-up results.

Sponsors of the fight party will be Schmeling Club, Courthouse Cafe, La Nora and Rex theaters, and Pampa Hardware and Implement company.

Manager Nick Urban was big chief at a pow-wow this morning and laid out a tentative program for the exhibition tomorrow. The field with blood in their eyes and misery in their bats. Andy Bednar, who has lost one and won one against the Road Runners, will be on the mound. Bednar is a night ball pitcher with a fast ball and some fling.

Big Gene Lefford will probably be Manager Sam Hale's choice to oppose Bednar. However, Carl Stewart, Sam Gray and George Bulla will be available and Hale may cross up the dope by sending one of them to the mound.

Determined to get a homer in his pet park, Gordon Nell will be swinging from the ground tonight. The former Road Runner first baseman went hitless here Monday night when Lee Daney fed him the wrong type of fodder. Dallas Patton, another former Road Runner, hit well on his previous two appearances. Tank Horton, still another Road Runner who is wearing the Enid colors, got one bingle in two games. It came at a time when needed most to give his team a win.

Road Runner hits have been scarce against the Oilers in the four games already played. The birds collected 7 bingles in three games and six in another for a total of 27 base hits. Enid hasn't done so well against the Pampans, the big slick wielding Oklahomaans having only three hits more than the Halermen to date.

Plans are under way to handle a record crowd tonight at the combination ball game and fight party which will be given for the single admission price.

The railroad from Seward to Fairbanks, Alaska, was built and is operated by the federal government.

Not even Manager Joe Jacobs, quartered with the reporters down the big road, knows what goes on at the house in the woods. There are reports that Machon, one of the smartest handlers of fighters in Europe, daily dons ring tops and gives Max a few pointers in private.

Lashing Out For Record

Here is the sensational, whirlwind finish that carried Don Lash of Indiana University to a new world's record in the two-mile run at Palmer Stadium, Princeton, N. J. His mark of 8:58.3, made in the face of a soft track and a bitter wind that pelted him with rain, wiped off the books Paavo Nurmi's outdoor mark and gave the U. S. Olympic team new hope for distance runs.

CHAMP BASS FISHERMAN DID NOT MISS DAY FOR 17 YEARS

BY FELIX R. MCKNIGHT, Associated Press Sports Writer.
DALLAS, June 19 (AP)—Bald, good-natured Jack Lamb, the world's champion bass fisherman who tossed a line in some creek or lake every day for 7 consecutive years for some sort of a record is still catching 'em. . . He shyly admits having snagged more than 46,000 black bass during his career.

The Fort Worth native, here to show the anglers how to cast with fly and bait rods in a continental exposition exhibition tomorrow, is the most ardent, as well as successful, fisherman of all. . . It's a sport with him. . . He hasn't tasted a bite of fish in seven years. . . After hooking them and inspecting their size, he throws them back in the water.

If you doubt his stories, he'll show you. . . He took a certain doubtful sports editor of San Antonio to a nearby creek and hauled in 208 bass in four hours. . . His largest bass weighed 15 pounds and he guesses he gets but one out of every 1,000 that weighs over seven pounds. . . He gets better every year, explaining he becomes more adroit and adept at casting. . . Last year was his best. . . He pulled out 4,600 bass in different states of the south-land. . . He ranks Louisiana as the best bass fishing paradise, with Arkansas second and Texas third. . . He tried 1,600 kinds of bait before finally deciding that only four plugs and three flies are good to lure Mr. John Bass.

He's been at it 27 years and now can't miss a single day. . . He failed to miss a single day on some bank between 1910 and 1927.

EL ROJO POLO TEAM TO BE IN CLASS OF ROUGH RIDERS

Pampa's polo team will meet an opponent nearly in its own class tomorrow and Sunday evenings when El Rojo of Plainview will come here with its original four. In past games, the Pampa Rough Riders have been playing veteran teams, some of them strengthened by players from other outfits.

Game time has been set back to 5:15 o'clock to get away from the heat of early afternoon. The late hour will be easier on mounts also. Admission to games will be 35 cents for adults.

Dr. M. C. Overton, captain of the Pampa team, put his charges thru the stiffest practice session of the year yesterday afternoon. The field has been mowed and rolled since the last game. Play during yesterday's practice was much faster because of the smooth playing surface. More accuracy in hitting the ball was noticeable.

Joe Bowers and Bill Harwell staged a bitter battle for the starting assignment at No. 1 position and after the practice, the issue was still unsettled. Both will play the position but the starter may have to be settled by the toss of a coin. Dr. M. C. Overton will start at No. 2, with George Garrett and H. Otto Studer in reserve. Hub Burrow will be No. 3 and Jack Cooper No. 4.

Plainview will line up with the veteran Bub Humphreys at No. 1, Blackie Norris at No. 2, J. B. Wheeler at No. 3, and Jiggers Wheeler at No. 4.

The umpire for the games will be Verne Bradley who played many years past polo in the east.

TIGERS LOSE 6TH STRAIGHT TO SENATORS

YANKERS BOOST LEAD OVER BOSTON RED SOX

BY SID FEDER, Associated Press Sports Writer.
They're tuning up the swan song of the Tiger reign in the big league June.

The experts are pretty much agreed now, that even if, as and when Mickey Cochrane's glands and Hank Greenberg's wrist are once in working order, only the slightest kind of putsch can save either the American league pennant or the world's title for the badly-battered Detroit clan.

The Tigers are at a low ebb for the year. They've just lost their sixth-straight start, equalling their longest losing streak in three seasons, and with the Yankees' pounding power and the Red Sox' million dollar lineup hitting their strife, as July 4 approaches, it seems a miracle is necessary to bring the Detroitians in.

The surprising Washington Senators made it three straight over Detroit yesterday with a 12-4 win, to put the Tigers 11 games off the pace of the New York Yankees.

The Yankees are in Detroit starting today, with three fresh wins over the Cleveland Indians in their bag. The last was chalked up yesterday by a 6-5 count, as Shugger Lou Gehrig hammered a homer, two doubles, and a single to go by the head of the big-league batting parade with a 390 average.

The Yanks' victory boosted their league lead to 4½ games over the Red Sox, who were handed a 1-0 trouncing by Johnny Whitehead's three-hit hurling in third place, but sank the Tigers to just one percentage point above the fifth place deadlock between the Indians and White Sox. The St. Louis Browns drew near to their exit from the league center by outclubbing the Athletics 7-2.

Meanwhile, the St. Louis Cardinals' lead in the National league was put on the fire. The Boston Bees, who have had their stringer working this week, made it three out of four over the Cards with a 4-0 win.

With the second-place Chicago Cubs rained out in Philadelphia, the Cards' edge was sliced to a mere game and a half. Wet weather also caught up with the Pirates in Brooklyn and the Reds in New York.

Sports Roundup

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
NEW YORK, June 19 (AP)—Very latest fight dope: Odds on Joe Louis probably will shoot to 15 to 1 by post time tonight. . . Louis was a 10 to 1 shot at Puzlitz, with few takers. . . Puzzle: Find an experienced fight critic who likes Schmeling's chances. . . On the other hand, did any experienced fight critic (your own Eddie Brietz excepted) pick Braddock to lick Max Baer? . . . All the experts are agreed Max's only chance to win is to get in a "lucky" with a single punch right at the start.

Looks now like the fight will do the old flopper. . . Spectators are in a rush to unload "cherry" seats at bargain prices. . . Those who were told two weeks ago there were no $27.50 seats left will be interested to know there are seats of them. . . Bill Garder, former president of the Garden, who bought 1,200 ringsides, has turned back three-fourths of them. . . Ouch! . . . Hype goes, veteran fight writer of the Evening Journal, says the difference between the two men is that where Schmeling has one good hand, Louis has two, either as dead as Max's best.

Francis Wallace, author of "Kid Galahad" describes the fight as follows: "The big fight, a twentieth century milk fund production at the Yankee Stadium. . . Associate producer, Mike Jacobs. . . Original story by Tex Rickard. . . Screen play by Francis Albertant and Walter St. Denis. . . Additional dialogue by Joe Jacobs. . . Technicolor effects by General Phelan of the State Boxing Commission. . . leading man, Joe Louis."

his support cost him. Covington was behind the plate. . . Twitter made his first appearance on the mound for Skelly and allowed only four hits. Ray was behind the plate. Hays, Skelly's regular hurler, had already pitched three games this week and Hays, his relief, was on vacation.

Beaupre Knocks Out Virginian

DALLAS, June 19 (AP)—Butcher Boy Tom Beaupre of Dallas, whose right hand punches remind one of Jack Dempsey's, stood alone as the southwest's ranking heavyweight prospect today after draping a one-round knockout on Bob Tow of Alexandria, Va., here last night.

Beaupre Knocks Out Virginian

The victory avenged the only blemish on Beaupre's record—a five round technical knockout he received from Tow last fall. Tow scaled 193 and Beaupre 190.

OIL PROBERS THINKING UP NEW QUERIES

COMMITTEE OF LEGISLATORS MAY MEET AGAIN SOON

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL, Associated Press Staff Writer
AUSTIN, June 19. (AP)—Legislative committees appointed to investigate Texas oil field conditions, including the enforcement of conservation laws, may meet again soon.

Senator Joe Hill of Henderson, chairman of a sub-committee designated by a general senate investigating committee to deal with oil questions, said he planned to resume interrogations temporarily interrupted last spring, but a date was uncertain.

Rep. Augustin Celaya of Brownsville, chairman of a house of representatives committee which investigated conditions in oil fields, especially in East Texas, indicated he would meet with other members to draft a report. A meeting has been delayed by illness of Rep. Walter E. Jones of Jourdanton.

Hill declined to reveal the nature of his proposed new investigations, asserting they would be made public at the proper time.

"As far as proration is concerned," he said, "I will state that it is certainly working out so that the little operator is being choked and the public is paying a tremendous price."

Celaya, reticent as to details, said his committee's report probably would be voluminous and would discuss conditions in all Texas fields. It would be submitted to the next session of the legislature.

"The committee will have a report when the legislature meets again," he said, "even if Governor Allred calls a special session next fall. The whole committee will determine the contents."

Members in addition to Celaya and Jones are Sidney Latham of Longview, Harry Graves of Georgetown and Hugh E. Steward of Fairfield.

Celaya intimated one section of the report would deal with tax payments through "ghost" companies to evade penalties for violations of conservation laws. By cooperation with the comptroller's department, he said, the practice had been curbed.

"There may be recommendations for remedial legislation, on this and other matters," he said, "but details remain to be worked out."

He reiterated that conservation enforcement methods had improved since the committee made a report sharply criticizing the railroad commission about a year ago.

"I think hot oil running is about as low as it ever has been," he said. "Probably in a field as big as East Texas it never can be eliminated entirely."

Under legislative resolution, the committee's authority to conduct

Dallas Entertains First Lady

When President Roosevelt attended the $25,000,000 Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas, his wife was entertained at a ladies' luncheon at the Baker Hotel. Left to right are Mrs. Morris Sheppard, wife of the Texas U. S. Senator; Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Fred F. Florence, wife of the Dallas banker who is president of the Exposition corporation.

TEXAN MAY LOSE BERTH ON WALKER CUP TEAM THIS YEAR

By FELIX R. M'KNIGHT, Associated Press Staff Writer
DALLAS, June 19. (AP)—Two hot golf rumors going the rounds today: That Ed White, 1935 National Intercollegiate champion and senior University of Texas student, may lose a regular berth on the United States Walker cup team. . . lack of tournament play during the '36 season is the rumored cause.

Amos Melton, Fort Worth Star-Telegram golf expert, adds to the rumor by pointing out that Francis Outin, team captain, was understood to be "greatly concerned over White's absence from tournament play." Two alternates have been named as the Yankee team and "the rumor has it that one may be stepped up to White's place. . . The quiet expert shotmaker has not competed in a tournament since he lost the Houston Country club invitation in the finals in February.

However, White is reported to have stated Wednesday night that he would enter the Trans-Mississippi tournament at Wichita, Kan., starting Monday. . . He cancelled previous plans to compete in the Fort Worth Rivercrest to play in the Trans.

Johnny Dawson, Chicago amateur now at Fort Worth, who should know, discredits the rumor with: "I don't believe he is in any danger of losing his place on the team. Knowing Francis Outin as I do, I don't believe he'd take any such action. I know for certain that several other members of the team have hardly touched a club for several weeks."

Rumor No. 2: That negotiations for an star golf attraction for the Texas Centennial are still simmering despite the polite refusal of the British Walker cup team to fly here for a match with a Texas cup team. . . The latest is that efforts will be made to match the Texans against an all-American team. . . The first national mythical team would be selected by prominent golf writers the nation over.

At least eight of the state's best college track and field performers will compete in the national collegiate meet at Chicago Friday and Saturday. . . Rice Institute is sending its four stars—Jess Pett

STATE LEADER WILL CONDUCT ONE COURSE NEXT WEEK IN CHURCH'S TRAINING SCHOOL

DAILY CLASSES FOR DIFFERENT AGES PLANNED

Miss Helen Gardner of Dallas arrived here today for a week of training with young people of the Baptist churches. Beginning Monday evening at 7 o'clock, she will teach a course based on the new book, Christian Leadership, by Mary Frances Weston.

While the training department of First Baptist church is presenting the course, it is open to all who are interested in any phase of Christian work. All Baptist churches of the city will cooperate, and a week of classes for all ages has been planned.

Mrs. John O. Scott, wife of the pastor of Central Baptist church, will lead juniors in a study of the book, Studying for Service, by J. E. Black. The Rev. C. E. Lancaster will use L. P. Lennell's Training in Christian Service as the text for intermediates.

Bible Pictures and Their Stories, by Susanna C. Fisher, has been chosen by Mrs. A. L. Lee to entertain and instruct the primary-beginner group. Mrs. H. G. Govington will be in charge of the nursery to care for small children.

Basement rooms of First Baptist church, always cool, will be arranged for the classes. The program will begin with a surprise period, and students are reminded to be on time Monday so they will not miss it.

The schedule follows: Surprise program, 7 to 7:10; classes, 7:10 to 7:55; general assembly and brief inspirational address by Baptist pastors of Pampa, 7:55 to 8:15; classes, 8:15 to 9.

Miss Gardner is an experienced teacher. She is the sister of Dr. T. C. Gardner, state D. T. U. director and head of Texas Baptist Centennial activities.

Skellytown W.M.S. Meets for Social

SKELLYTOWN, June 19.—The Baptist W.M.S. met in the home of Mrs. C. L. Gerry at the Cabot camp. Sixteen members and two visitors were present.

Mrs. Tiffany was in charge of the lesson on missions, assisted by Mrs. Bull, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Hayes, Mrs. Schaefer. A grab-bag furnished entertainment. After the program, delicious refreshments were served.

Joseph Calleia is one of the few actors in town who can play a saxophone. But he never does in public.

Duce's Daughter Birthday Package Comes Long Way To Girl's Party

Jackie Cross was honored on her fifth birthday Wednesday at her home near McLean. Decorations were in pink and white, and the pink and white birthday cake was lighted with five candles.

Cake, ice cream, soda pop, and lollipops were served after an hour of games. Rubber balls were given as favors. Jackie received many gifts, and enjoyed opening a package from her grandmother, Mrs. J. Wilson of New Jersey.

Guests were Jimmie Lee Davis, Mary Ruth and Mildred Hollaway, Elsie Mae Holloway, Doris Back, Pauline and Marlene Masterson, Jane Rippey, Laura Epply, Barbara Jean Winters, Doris and Jeanette Rigdon, Katherine and Betty Bronner, LaJuana Roberts.

Planks Taking Profits Out of War, Are Urged

WASHINGTON, June 19. (AP)—Senator Bone (D-Wash.), a member of the senate munitions committee, announced today he would fight to have the democratic platform include planks advocating nationalization of warship building and some arms manufacture and the enactment of permanent neutrality legislation.

He declared his action had the approval of Chairman Nye (R-ND) and Senator Clark (D-Mo).

His munitions plank, tentatively worded, calls for "such nationalization as will give the government a monopoly in fabricating war munitions and instrumentalities into their final form for combat purposes."

He made clear this would include naval vessels, arms and ammunition used by the army and navy and would apply during peace as well as war.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE, NEA Service Staff Writer.

On a warm, sultry day a cooling mold of jellied meat or fish is one of the most pleasing surprises you can bring forth from the refrigerator! If you made it yourself, you'll enjoy it the more because several hours have elapsed between the making and serving.

These jellied meat loaves and chilled timbales and mousses are particularly delicious to serve when you are entertaining guests on the porch or in the garden instead of having your luncheon in the usual fashion in the dining room. The molds keep their shapes beautifully on a route from the ice-box to the dining table.

In planning menus around jellied meats, don't repeat a jellied dish in the dessert or in the salad. Gelatin itself is a protein food with distinctive growth-promoting qualities and is beneficial in making other foods more easily assimilable.

Because during the summer months we often must serve a large number of persons, I give you a recipe calculated to serve 20 persons. Flank the mousse on either side with bowls of salad materials and serve two or three kinds of salad dressings, too. This permits each person to choose his own salad combination and dressing.

Chilled Mousse of Ham for Twenty Persons.
Two quarts of beef broth, 4 tablespoons granulated gelatin, 4 cups thick cream sauce, 1 1/2 quarts heavy cream, 2 pounds baked ham, 1 cup sherry wine, 1 teaspoon coffee.

LUNCHEON: Open sandwiches of cottage cheese-ripe olives and nuts, fresh fruit salad, hot cocoa.

DINNER: Fruit cup supreme, ham mousse, shadow potatoes, buttered new peas in timbale shells, mixed vegetable salad, frozen pudding, macarons and sponge drops, coffee.

gelatine in cold water and stir into boiling broth. Stir until dissolved and let stand until cool and beginning to set.

Make the cream sauce as usual using 4 tablespoons flour to one cup of rich milk and 4 tablespoons butter.

Line a three quart mold with a thin coating of the beef jelly and decorate with the truffles and vegetables cut in attractive shapes. The decorations will become firm in the jelly and stay put when you fill the mold.

Let Jell for Four Hours.
Chop ham very fine and rub through a fine sieve. Put into an aluminum mixing bowl and place in a larger pan of ice. Add cream sauce and stir well and then add half the cream, a few tablespoonsful at a time, stirring constantly. Whip remaining cream until firm and fold into mixture. Add jelly, cherry, pepper, tabasco and, if the ham was not salty, a little salt. However, if you seasoned the cream sauce well and also the beef stock you'd better taste it before you add salt.

Pour the preparation into the prepared mold and put in the refrigerator for four hours or overnight. Serve very cold.

Then and Now

son said they are following a triple theory.

Charles F. Young, owner of the spacious colonial home and occupant of the second floor, discovered the bodies about 11:30 p. m. last night. His wife said she last had seen Mrs. Feely about 1 a. m. Tuesday.

Police, who got into the apartment by cutting a hole in a screen door, said they found one window screen in the home was open.

KINSTON, N. C. (AP)—Recorder Joseph Dawson would not give the woman's name but gave her reasons for a divorce suit. She said her husband:

Poured salt on her bed.
Threw liquor in her face.
Burned her legs with a cigarette.
Beat her with a suit of padded pajamas.

Mother and Two Children Slain; Murder Charged

PITTSBURGH, June 19 (AP)—The discovery of the bodies of a university of Pittsburgh instructor's wife and their two small children in their east end home led to conflicting theories today by authorities regarding their deaths.

Martin J. Feely, the husband and assistant professor of physical education at Pitt, was away at a summer camp for undernourished children in Pottersville, N. J.

The children, Robert, 5, and Janice, 3, had been stabbed in the head and strangled. Mrs. Eleanor had been stabbed in the heart, apparently after a rope was tightly drawn around her neck.

Police Lieut. George Schmotzer said he believed the mother killed her children and her self. But Investigator John Artz and Chief Deputy Coroner James L. David-

Gay Cotton Print Frock Leads a Double Life—You'll Wear It for Active or for Spectator Sports

By ELLEN WORTH

This captivating cotton shantung print frock that buttons up to the neck at front will give loads of dash to your summer wardrobe. It tubs like a handkerchief!

It is such an easy frock to make, too. The yoke and sleeves cut in one-piece are easily handled, even by one who hasn't had any experience in sewing. The two large plaits at the front of the skirt allow for plenty of action. The panel front is certain to make you look taller and slimmer.

Dotted swiss will be grand for this model for a person who goes to town and back for warm afternoons in the country.

Cotton challis is fashion's pet and is very effective and smart for active or for spectator sports. You can also choose from the pastel tub silks, linens, etc.

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 21.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord by wisdom hath founded the earth; by understanding hath he established the heavens" (Ecclesiastes 1:5).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "He that sat upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. . . . And he said unto me, It is done, I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end" (Revelation 21:5, 6).

The lesson-sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is infinite, therefore ever present, and there is no other power nor presence. Hence the spirituality of the universe is the only fact of creation" (page 471).

SANCTIONISTS SEEK PROTEST FROM PUBLIC

'GREAT BETRAYAL' IS SCORED BY FOUR LABORITES

LONDON, June 19. (AP)—Embittered sanctionists sought today to lose a storm of public protest against the government's decision to back suspension of Italian sanctions.

Four labor leaders, who called the cabinet's recommendation "the great betrayal" of the League of Nations, led a movement for a nationwide series of campaign meetings.

Their plan of opposition, pointing toward a parliamentary censure debate Tuesday, followed the same lines as the public storm created against the stillborn Hoare-Laval proposal to end the Italo-Ethiopian war.

At the head of the parade of protesters was Clement R. Attlee, house of commons labor leader who has signified his intention to ask a vote of criticism against Prime Minister Baldwin's government.

Other sponsors of the week-end campaign were Herbert Stanley Morrison, secretary of the London labor party, Hugh Dalton, labor member, and Arthur Greenwood, labor's research secretary.

They took their cues from the fiery David Lloyd George, war time minister who led the attack against Baldwin and his ministers yesterday with the ringing pronouncement: "there they sit—the cowards!" as he pointed scornfully at the ministerial benches.

Already national labor and national liberal members were threatening to break away from the government over the sanctions issue. Their warnings handed to their respective leaders—Ramsay MacDonald and Sir John Simon—the delicate task of attempting to rally supporters to a united front before Tuesday.

A further deflection came with announcement from a group of sanctionist conservatives, ordinarily favoring the government's policies, they had not been converted by the speech of Anthony Eden, foreign secretary who disclosed the cabinet decision on the sanctions question.

London newspapers, formerly lyrical in praise of "brilliant young Eden," showed a marked change in tone.

Middle Western States Hit by Hoppers, Drought

(By The Associated Press)

The Pacific northwest and the drought suffering south-eastern states were relieved by rain today but the showers dodged a domain of heat over the middle plains.

New records for high June temperatures were marked up in scattered hot spots of the central states where the mercury rose past the 100-degree level at a midsummer clip.

Farmers turned more seriously to the problems of drought and grasshoppers, and some officials pressed for government aid.

Governor Thomas Berry of South Dakota listened to drought reports from over his state yesterday and concluded: "throughout a large portion of the state, people are going to need more help from the federal government this summer and winter than ever before."

The southeastern portion of South Dakota was an exception. In Washington Senator Murphy (D-Ia) after a talk with President Roosevelt, said he felt sure funds to combat the damage of a dry season would be available from the resettlement administration.

In Kansas, where the mercury reached a top of 110 degrees, poison work against grasshoppers has been started in several counties. Farmers in the eastern and central portions reported the infestation was worst of recent years. At McPherson, Kas., merchants swept hoppers out of their doorways.

TRADE BRISK

NEW YORK, June 19. (AP)—Trade movements bore more heavily to the brisk side this week as preparations proceeded for broadening activities during the summer months, the weekly review of Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., said today. Retail business widened the rate of gains over 1935, with most seasonal lines expanding. In wholesale lines fall buying progressed well, with difficulties reported in securing immediate delivery on some items, although the total turnover in this division held close to the levels of the preceding week.

A giant panther which has been preying on livestock in Cate, state of Minas Geraes, Brazil, terrified the village the other days. It leaped from behind on Sebastiao, an old itinerant peddler, and decapitated him.

Eskridge Wants To Ride Horse On Prison Farm

HUNTSVILLE, June 19. (AP)—The year-long trail from the pulpit of his Baptist church at Orange to the old state penitentiary here was ended today for the Rev. Edgar Eskridge.

Late yesterday the strapping preacher, fond of his big hat, boots and six guns, heard the four iron gates that separate Texas convicts from the outer world close behind him. Thus he began a five-year term assessed him for the shotgun slaying last year of Chief of Police Ed O'Reilly of Orange.

Divested of his cowboy regalia and guns, the preacher told prison authorities he hoped they would give him a job riding a horse. Horsemen are used to hot cattle on the prison system's lands.

Under prison routine Eskridge will be assigned a job within a few days.

Last year Eskridge was in the midst of a vigorous pulpit campaign against vice and crime. He led parties of officers on vice hunts. On May 28, his friend Ed O'Reilly disarmed him after the preacher protested his life had been threatened.

The next day O'Reilly was shot down on a street corner. Eskridge was arrested. His trial was transferred to Houston. It lasted two weeks and last Saturday a jury returned a verdict of murder without malice. The preacher's counsel pleaded he was temporarily insane.

Seven Negroes Safe From Mob

CORPUS CHRISTI, June 19. (AP)—Juneteenth found seven El Campo, Texas negroes apparently safe from the threat of a mob which sought to lynch them and two others for the slaying of Tip Simmons, El Campo white man.

Whereabouts of the other two negroes was not disclosed. Sheriff E. J. Koehl of Wharton county brought the seven here yesterday for safekeeping. He said four of the prisoners, but officers already had spirited them away. The howling mob next appeared at Bay City but the quarry had been removed again.

When the mob appeared convinced officers had outsmarted them, it returned to El Campo and set fire to the cafe in which Simmons was slain.

The ministry of communications of Brazil has divided the country into seven zones and limited the number of radio stations and permissible for each zone so that Rio de Janeiro can have but seven stations, Sao Paulo five, Porto Alegre, Recife, Belo Horizonte and Sao Salvador, two each. Other state capitals may have one apiece.

Miss Lena Jane Butcher left recently for Amarillo, where she will teach and study in a business college this summer.

It. All session will be open to the public.

There's nothing like a good old-fashioned get-together for a real, throaty workout on old-time favorites. The soul is a bit empty if there isn't a touch of music in it.

Max Schmeling, barring rain again, will walk onto the gallows tonight. Joe Louis will spring the trap. We saw Schmeling wrestle the title from the late Young Stribling in Cleveland several years ago. But, Louis is not Stribling and Max is not the same Schmeling any more.

Which brings up a news story telling about Jack Dempsey going completely society-minded. He was an honor guest at a banquet given by the Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Belmonts, as a testimonial to the champion's success in raising hospital funds.

RELIEF BILL AWAITS NAME OF PRESIDENT

THREE BILLION WILL PROVIDE JOBS FOR THREE MILLION

WASHINGTON, June 19. (AP)—President Roosevelt and his aides will have $3,271,000,000 for relief and public works in the next fiscal year beginning July 1. The sum is estimated as sufficient to provide jobs for more than 3,000,000 on the basis of present costs of relief.

With a $2,375,000,000 deficiency-relief bill awaiting only President Roosevelt's signature before the new program is thrown into high gear, legislative steps also are being taken to study long range relief problems.

After legislative action was completed yesterday on the big appropriation measure, the senate passed and sent to the house a resolution calling for a national commission to recommend future policies on unemployment.

Administration is expected to furnish pay envelopes for 2,000,000 persons in the next year. This money will be spent under the direction of the President, as provided in the bill, instead of by Administrator Harry L. Hopkins.

The $300,000,000 fund for secretary Ickes' Public Works administration is expected to finance a half billion dollars worth of non-federal Public Works projects. The actual amount is dependent upon the number of cities which accept Ickes' suggestion that they take grants of only 45 per cent and themselves put up the rest instead of borrowing from FWA.

During the year also $246,000,000 will be spent for the 318,500 members of the Civilian Conservation Corps, and about $300,000,000 for reclamation and other heavy engineering projects expected to put 100,000 to work.

Another 400,000 can be employed with the $1,000,000,000 in relief cash which remains unspent from the previous appropriation.

Eclipse of Sun Seen in Russia

MOSCOW, June 19. (AP)—Instruments of scientists held secrets of the sun today after a brief eclipse which threw a shadow from the Mediterranean to the Sea of Japan.

The results, when tabulated and coordinated, may add materially to man's knowledge in several important scientific fields.

Racing across the Soviet union at 2,000 miles an hour, the phenomnon obliterated the sun long enough at various points in the 50-mile wide totality zone to allow many expeditions to make observations.

Some took pictures, others made spectrographic studies, radio tests occupied still others and members of several expeditions sought new evidence in support of the Einstein theory.

The last of the lengthy shadow was observed at Khabarovsk at 9:07 a. m. (12:07 A. M., Central Standard time today). Then it passed out over the sea of Japan.

Cardui Helped Three Times

At three different times, Cardui has helped Mrs. Ike Wright of Seely, Texas. "I used Cardui, when a girl, for cramps, and it helped then," she writes. Next, after marriage, she reports having taken Cardui when she felt weak, nervous and restless before her children were born.

And during middle life, it helped her again. "I was miserable," she explains. "I did not have an appetite. I was very blue and upset. I remembered Cardui had helped me, so I took it again and soon began to pick up. I ate and had more strength. I kept up the Cardui and did not have any more trouble. Is it any wonder that I recommend Cardui to all my friends?"

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician. (Adv.)

The Negro in Texas Folklore
The negro is generally alike, the south over; but the early Texas negro has a culture belonging particularly to him. He has many songs—work songs, play songs, dance songs, and some that defy classification, apparently having been composed for the sheer joy of putting incongruous words together—but where the negro excels is in his ghost tales. The negro brings his children up on gruesome tales of "Raw Head" and "Bloody Bones." No wonder he is a timorous and fearful creature, in perpetual terror of "haunts" and "graveyards." One story states that two negroes who had stolen some sweet potatoes from their master decided that the graveyard would be the best place to divide the spoils without fear of molestation. They counted them, not by twos and threes, but by "You take dis'n and I'll take dat'n." A passing negro heard the sound and crept up close to listen. The curious monotone almost scared him out of his wits, and he tore off to his master's house with a strange tale: "Oh, my Gawd, de debble and de Lawd is down at de graveyard dividin' up de folkies." The master went back with the negro to investigate. The two crept close and heard, "You take dis'n an' I'll take dat'n." Then came the concluding and devastating words, "You take dese las' two an' I'll take dem two on de outside when we goes out!" The two listeners stood not upon the order of their going; to be strictly truthful, the master probably ran faster than the negro.

The negro's active imagination is never more clearly shown than in the creation of his remedies. Here is what is said to be an unfailing cure for rheumatism: "Take an empty whisky bottle about half full of vinegar and put in a handful of large red ants. Shake well and apply internally and externally."

You either will like James McConnaughey's "Village Chronicle" (Farrar & Rinhart) very much, or you will be bored to tears. It seems to us that as a novel of small-town life it ranks pretty high. But perhaps you don't like novels of small-town life.

Mr. McConnaughey's book is the second first novel issued for "The Discoverers," which is a one-publisher book club designed to serve 1,500 to 2,500 persons willing to take a chance on eight or ten first novels a year. The first book so issued was Felipe Alfau's "Locos: An Author at the Mercy of His Characters," which was a little mad but amusing if you are amused by that sort of thing.

"Village Chronicle" is a horse of quite another color. There is a plot of sorts, or at any rate there is a story. But the story is quite unimportant; like Victoria Lincoln's "February Hill," the newer novel is to be read for its characterization and for its sense of the interrelation of lives as they are lived in the villages of the land.

The town in this case is called Churchill and is supposed to be the seat of the University of North Carolina. Because "Churchill" is smaller than the average college town, its frictions begin to throw off sparks sooner. A dictum from the sacred presidential office at the university reaches the lowliest laundress within an hour or so, and when Dean Burton's wild son smashes into the car of kindly George Adams the editor, one can imagine the reverberations.

Mr. McConnaughey has kept the

NEW WESTERN LEADERS PUT REVERSE ENGLISH ON G. O. P.

Thumbnail Reviews.

"My First Ten Years With the Leica," by Dr. Paul Wolff (Westermann): the experience of one of the earliest "dandy" camera" fans in practical and helpful terms, plus a magnificent collection of photographs beautifully reproduced.

"So Fair a House," by Welbourn Kelley (Morrow): southern novel in which a man who writes serials for the slicks at $30,000 a shot is involved with his family in the class struggle centering about the cotton mills; rather overburdened with emotional and other complications. "Gentlemen's Agreement," by the Baroness von Hutten (Dutton): the good baroness' stock novel, repeated in the good baroness' standard manner.

"Lis Sails the Atlantic," by Lis Anderson (Dutton): young Danish girl does a huge figure eight on the Atlantic in her father's ship; she writes the story neatly, amusingly.

"Friedrichsberg, or Music and the Future," by Cecil Grey (Oxford): a just too, too destructive Englishman tears down most of our revered conceptions, and puts nothing but his own egoism in their place.

"Men Are So Ardent," by Gerald Karch (Morrow): like title, like text; novel for hot days.

"The Mouthpiece," by Edgar Wallace and Robert Curtis (Dodge): this piece of Wallaceana was left unfinished at the death of its author, and finished by Mr. Curtis; love's labor lost.

"A Long Prospect," by F. Anstey (Oxford): more than half a century reviewed by an Englishman nobody remembers much about; grade "A," example of English memoir writing.

BY BYRON PRICE
(Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press)

The one lingering impression of the Lig Republican show at Cleveland has to do with the constant, insistent pressure of the west, seeking to turn eastern party leaders away from traditions they have cherished for years.

In terms of the drama, the play could well be entitled "The Wooing of the East." Its action reversed completely the picture which had become more or less standard over a period of a generation.

At a long succession of such gatherings, the big question had been how to propitiate the west. Eastern organization men, in firm control of the conventions but fearful of election repercussions in the plains states, had figured what concessions must be made to the Dollivers, the LaFollettes, the Norrises.

This time, the westerners, who marched on the convention under the banner of Alf M. Landon, had a similar problem about the east.

no intention of being bull-headed about it. They asked what it was necessary to do so that a western nominee might have the best possible chance to carry the east in November.

They found the easterners receptive. For months it had been agreed among the top men of the party that a western man must be the candidate. The way they put it was this:

First of all you must give us convincing evidence what candidate from its own section the west prefers. Then you must give us assurances, written in the party platform, that western leadership will not run wild if it is put at the party throttle.

At Cleveland the Landonites set out definitely to meet both of these requests. They pressed the case for their candidate on the ground that he suited the west, as shown by the character of his western support. They undertook to write a platform which would neither alienate that support nor offend the east.

LITTLE MAN'S BUSY DAY
DALLAS (AP)—All in one day, the following things happened to 9-year-old Bryan Garrett: He wrestled his toes in a bicycle wheel. Pretty soon his playful brother hit him with a brick. A wasp stung him. He scratched his leg on some briars and, winding up the day, he fell off a barn and received a cut that required seven stitches.

PREDICT NEW TAX ACT WILL BE APPROVED

BILL TO PASS SATURDAY NIGHT, SAY LEADERS

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL, Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, June 19. (AP)—A newly shaped tax plan designed to raise $800,000,000 through penalty taxes on undivided corporation profits and other major revisions of the revenue structure aroused emphatic dissent among some senators today but administration leaders said it would go through congress Saturday night.

They expected that President Roosevelt would welcome the plan, which was agreed upon in a senate-house conference committee last night. It goes far to meet his demands for stiff taxes to induce corporations to distribute more income to stockholders and for additional taxation on dividends.

The conference agreement must now be ratified by both chambers. It is generally expected to counter no serious trouble in the house, but some senate foes of the bill went so far today as to say privately that nearly half of the membership of the body already had determined to vote against it.

No filibuster was predicted, however, and administration leaders hoped to pass the bill in time to adjourn congress late Saturday night. The bill, which represents a compromise between measures previously passed by senate and house, includes:

"Normal" taxes on all corporation net income, ranging from 8 per cent on the first $2,000 to 15 per cent on all over $40,000. (At present such taxes range from 12 1/2 to 15 per cent);

New graduated taxes on undistributed corporation earnings, ranging from 7 per cent on the first 10 per cent of earnings retained, to 27 per cent on all earnings retained in excess of 60 per cent.

A provision giving special treatment to small corporations by applying the 7 per cent tax either to the first 10 per cent of undistributed earnings, or to $5,000 of such earnings, whichever is the larger.

A provision applying the normal individual income tax of 4 per cent, as well as income surtaxes, to dividends received by corporation stockholders. At present dividends are exempt from the 4 per cent tax.

A clause cutting the capital stock tax from $1.40 to $1 per $1,000 of stock, but continuing existing excess profits taxes.

A temporary $2,000,000 "windfall" levy on persons described as "unjustly enriched" because they escaped paying the invalidated AAA's processing levies.

TAKES IT AND LIKES IT
NEW HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Robert Carpenter of Pine Meadow was spanked by an unidentified motorist and liked it. Carpenter was strolling when an automobile stopped just ahead of him. The driver leaped out and began whacking him about the hip pockets. Carpenter's trousers were on fire, matches he carried having become ignited in some unexplained manner.

Sixteen murders in Cincinnati during the first 137 days of 1936 were 14 less than for the corresponding period in 1935.

Brazil's exports of wood last year totaled 167,177 metric tons and about $2,064,000, compared with 30,989 tons and 389,040 in 1934.

THE OLD STORY: SOLDIERS TAKE POLITICAL FRONT

Years of Veterans at Last Here, Names Indicate

BY PRESTON GROVER, CLEVELAND—The years of the veterans have arrived. Historically it is 15 to 20 years after each war that the warrior lads of the rank and file who fought in their twenties come into the prominent places in party affairs.

Not by any means is full control always taken over by former soldiers, but it is notable that two of the outstanding figures connected with the Cleveland convention, Gov. Landon of Kansas and Senator Steiwer of Oregon, are war veterans.

Political history since the World war has not run exactly parallel to the next previous war of really major importance, the Civil war. After the war between the states, the country turned at once to its fighters for leadership, beginning with General Ulysses S. Grant.

Thereafter both parties drew lavishly on veterans' ranks for their presidential nominees. The last Civil war soldier to sit in the White House was William McKinley, who rounded the turn of the century as President. He had straddled the streets of his Ohio home town as a brilliant major in the armies at 22.

Wood the First. No World war soldier has served in the White House, although Gen. Leonard Wood was the leading candidate for the republican nomination (he lost by deadlock) in 1920, and Gen. Pershing was prominently mentioned.

Instead of warriors, the country has had a long time of civil official ranks for post-war leadership. Harding came from the senatorship, Coolidge from the governorship, Hoover from war-time food administration and Roosevelt from assistant naval secretaryship.

So large a portion of the country's young manhood were World war khaki that it seems inevitable that the next 20 or 25 years will see the race for the White House dotted with warrior names.

It also may be significant that in this year the soldier bonus is being paid.

Convention scene: Senator Borah on a chair in a large hotel ball room, nearly 300 news writers packed around. Directly in front is a pink-clad woman reporter. A momentarily lull comes in the almost steady stream of questions.

"Senator," asks the pink lady something to this effect: "Isn't it your belief that, if all the hindrances in the way of agriculture were removed, the condition of the farmer would improve?"

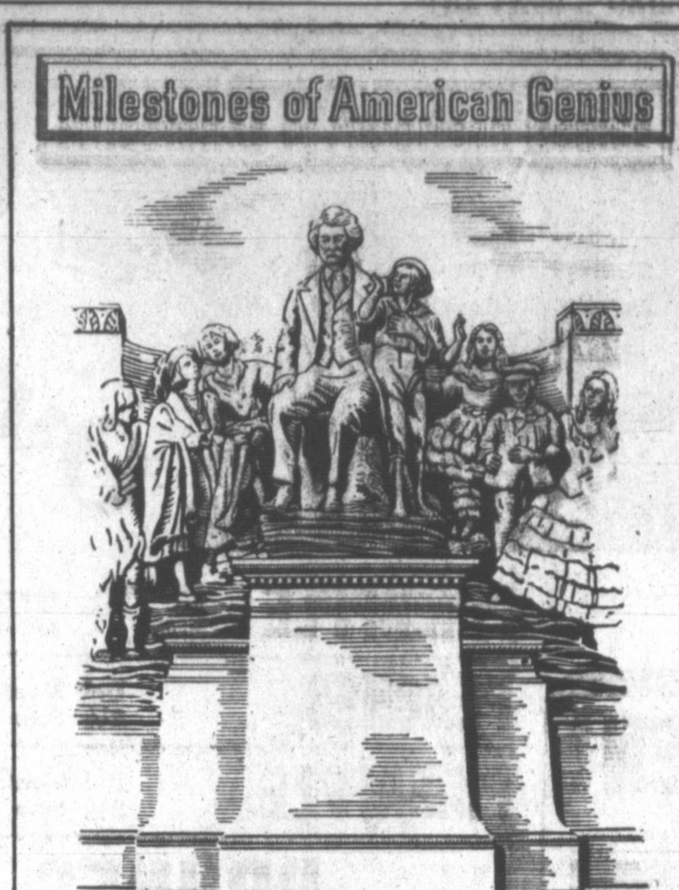

To the sharp-shooters who had been grilling the senator on constitutional and platform issues it seems a pretty useless question. There is an amazed hush.

Borah, kindly visaged as a Sunday school teacher, replies something about monopoly. She writes it down, nodding her head.

Shades of 1932 and the years before: The back cover of the republican convention book bears an advertisement for whisky. It is reported the democratic convention book will have something like it.

Sales Tax Produces
COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Ohio's 3 per cent retail sales tax produced $12,879,273.58 in the first three months of 1936. Schools and local governments receive the bulk of the income.

MARK TWAIN

WHEN Samuel L. Clemens, Mississippi pilot, printer and publisher, died on April 21, 1910, he left Mark Twain, writer and humorist, behind him as a perpetual legacy to America and to world literature. His pen-name is so closely associated with beloved classics like "Huckleberry Finn" and "Tom Sawyer" that his original name is often forgotten even by those to whom his writings are most familiar and dear.

Mark Twain was born on November 30, 1835, at Florida, Missouri, but his family moved to Hannibal in the same state when he was four years old. It is the latter town that is best remembered as his home and it is there that the centenary of his birth was observed in November, 1935. Part of the celebration was the erection of a beautiful memorial statue, showing (Copyrighted by Memorial Extension Commission.)

EIGHTEEN NEW CONVICTS ARRIVE AT PENITENTIARY IN HUNTSVILLE

HUNTSVILLE, June 19 (AP)—In they came—eighteen more to swell the prison population. As they unloaded from the steel-bodied prison truck some glanced with curiosity at the gray stone walls which they had held in dread for months past, to others this was no new thing.

Clink, clink, clink, sounded the chain that yoked each man to the one ahead and made them one compact, helpless body as they started for the bull-pen. Only the shuffle of their shoes deadened the sound.

For the most part they were lads, bushy-headed Mexican boys leaving home for perhaps the first time. One was fat with loosely spaced spines of a beard breaking the tan of his face; another was a round headed negro. A red-headed white boy was midway in the square and two glowering whites brought up the rear.

The last of these, a tall, hard-eyed fellow coming back for perhaps his third term, held against the pull of the chain, occasionally jerking it. A shock of spreading chestnut hair helped to single him out.

"That's one of the toughest boys I know of," whispered the driver of the truck. Guards unlocked the chains from around their necks after they had marched into the bull-pen.

"All you white boys get over there," said a guard, and three groups drew together—bringing him attention. Then each gave his name to a convict clerk who sat smiling at their discomfiture, pencil racing as he barked question after question at them.

A convict examining several packages the convict had left outside the caged pen pushed his face to the bars and called: "Whose four dollars is this?" One of the Mexicans claimed, identifying it as his by telling what it had been in. Then he asked: "Can I have my picture?"

The convict on the outside poked it through to the guard. "Who is it—your girl?" the guard asked. "No, she was my wife."

"Oke," the guard said, passing the picture to him, "but you oughta stayed with her while you could. As soon as they had given their

WEEK-SALE TO HONOR FOUNDER IS ANNOUNCED BY FURR STORES

The Furr Food Stores announce a store-wide sale for an entire week from Friday, June 19 through Thursday, June 25. The occasion is a founder's sale to honor the veteran president of the company, C. W. Furr, who this year completes 30 years of food retailing activity.

C. W. FURR.

Mr. Furr first entered the grocery business at Kirklind in 1906, where he operated a small grocery store and mercantile business. From this beginning his business gradually grew and expanded. In 1924 he opened a store at Amarillo. Others were established from time to time in Amarillo and other Panhandle-Plains cities until today there are 17 stores located in Amarillo, Pampa, Borger, Hereford, Dalhart, Panhandle, Clovis, and Tucumcari.

Several years ago, Mr. Furr inaugurated a policy of large food markets instead of the smaller type of store then customary. The result is that today practically every Furr Food Store is in a building with a 50 to 80-foot frontage. This means a much larger variety and selection, and enables the housewife to choose everything for her table under one big roof. Latest refrigeration methods and modern facilities for handling meat and produce are integral parts of every Furr Food Store today.

In the company's founder's sale which starts Friday, E. J. McCarth, general manager of the stores, announces that exceptional selections will be offered in every department. This is being done to show in a very tangible way Mr. Furr's appreciation of the patronage and goodwill he has received through the years from Furr Food Stores patrons.

Every Furr Food Store is holding open house all during the founder's sale week.

"biographies," off came their shoes and belts. A very close shakedown—search—wherein their clothes were examined, shoes looked into and bodies patted and inspected for guns, dope, or backstays. Then their trip to the yard, on to the fingerprint department, the photographic bureau and Bertillon measurements. This routine completed, the criminal recording clerk wrote in his book: "Eighteen new men today. Total 6,082."

2 Great Negro Track Stars to Race at Dallas

DALLAS, June 19. (AP)—Emancipation Day—June 19th in Texas—brought two of the world's greatest negro dash stars here to take part in a track and field meet at the Texas Centennial Exposition tonight.

Ralph Metcalfe, former Marquette university star, was entered in the 100 and 200 meter dashes. Eddie Toian, bespectacled specialist who once ran under the University of Michigan's colors, also was here to show his wares. Since his status as an amateur was under question, his performance may be limited to an exhibition dash.

In some of the events white stars were to compete against the negroes. Entered were Jack Torrance, Louisiana's world champion shot putter; Billy Roy, Loyola pole vaulter, and Doc O'Neill, Southern Methodist university's great javelin thrower.

Negro entrants were expected from Tuckey Institute of Alabama, Xavier of New Orleans, and Wiley, Prairie View and Bishop colleges in Texas.

FHA Report for County Is Made

Federal Housing Administration had insured 561 modernization notes, valued at $126,815 in Gray county through April 30, 1936. It was announced today by H. P. Drought, state director of the National Emergency council for Texas. For the entire state, 33,829 modernization notes valued at $11,103,321.16 had been insured.

The agency had accepted three mortgages, valued at $9,720, for insurance in this county as of March 31, 1936, Drought reported. For the state, Federal Housing administration had accepted for insurance 2,353 mortgages amounting to $8,691,815.

It was estimated that through the Federal Housing administration some 30,000 Texas property owners have been enabled to obtain loans required to repair, improve or modernize their property while more than 2,000 families have been enabled to finance the building or purchase of homes.

MID-CONTINENT
SOLD OUT OF
'SOFT CRUDE'

GREAT YEAR FOR OIL INDUSTRY SEEN
BY OBSERVERS

By ALFRED WALL, Associated Press Staff Writer
TULSA, Okla., June 19 (AP) —
"There is not a bit of soft crude in the Mid-Continent at the present time," was the word that went out today from the oil capital.
And that was cause for rejoicing among the men who produce the raw product and those who refine it into lubricants and motor fuel. "Soft crude," is oil men's parlance for oil that lies heavy on the market, oil that a pipeline company has on its hands and wishes it didn't. It is not to be confused with "hot oil" surreptitiously produced in defiance of proration orders.
The "no soft crude" determination was arrived at through independent analyses by three of the major companies of the Mid-Continent. It bespoke a mighty healthy condition in the industry—showing that producers have a ready outlet for their crude and refiners are busy, as they like to be. It caused one old-time observer to gloat:
"Never have I seen things so promising in this business. Man, how folks in this country are using gasoline and oil."
"May set a consumption record. June bids fair to show a five-year peak in crude runs to stills. Every way you look at it, this summer will be a world beater."
"Think of the extra motor traveling the folks are doing. The big political conventions. The campaigning. The Texas Centennial and other attractions. The New Mexico City highway."
"The veterans have their bonus. Many will spend some of it for new cars or for motor vacations long deferred."
"I predict a record year for consumption of oil and gasoline. And that's fine business for the oil business."
He seemed to have about the right slant on things. It was noticeable during the week that demand for crude and refined products continued strong and the price structure in both divisions continued steady.
The rub was this: The Oil and Gas Journal noted the industry started the period of heavy consumption with 10,000,000 barrels of gasoline in stock above the total of a year ago.
Far seeing authorities warned that if current refinery operations continue to be based on maximum current demand the industry may enter the fall season with that 10,000,000 barrel excess still on its hands. There were warnings that refinery operations and crude production might well be curtailed despite the factors indicating an immense consumption.
Exploration work in the field had quieted down to a steady pace. The "mansion" area of the Oklahoma City field grew more closely defined and future development there seemed limited sharply.
The state population department at Rio de Janeiro released figures showing that of 274,749 rural properties in Sao Paulo state, 23,590 are owned by Italians, 14,810 by Spaniards and 13,948 by Japanese.

U. S. STARS TO HAVE PLENTY OF DIFFICULTY

EUROPE, CONTINENTAL THREATS SEEN AT BERLIN

BERLIN (AP)—While America's phenomenal collection of negro sprinters has every reason to feel confident of sweeping both the 100- and 200-meter events at Berlin this summer, it might pay not to become over-confident.

There are some better-than-fair dash men here and there in Europe who would be delighted to "sneak up" on the Yanks, just as Percy Williams of Canada did in 1928. On their best days, some are good. Any of them might hit one of those days in the Olympics.

Probably the best of the lot is Christian Berger of Holland, who has been officially clocked in 10.3 seconds for the 100, matching the Olympic record set by Eddie Tolan in the 1932 games. He beat Eulace Peacock at Amsterdam two summers ago, and the Dutch claim he is an improved runner now.

Then there are three others—Paul Haenni of Switzerland, Erich Borchemeyer of Germany, and C. B. Holmes of England—who have official times of .104 to their credit. Tinus Osendarp of Holland has consistently done the 100 in 10.5 during the last year, beating Berger several times.

Austria's Dark Horse

In the 200, Haenni, the swift Swiss, has twice been caught in 21.2 by the timers, equalling Tolan's second 1934 Olympic triumph, and Osendarp has hit 21.2 several times. The real dark "horse horse," though, is one Felix Rinner of Austria, who is credited with having set an Austrian record of 21 seconds flat! If the watches were right, he is not to be taken lightly.

America, from all a survey of Europe by The Associated Press bring to light, should have slight difficulty retaining the 400-meter laurels won by Bill Carr at Los Angeles. The best time set in Europe during the past year appears to have been 48.2 seconds, by the same Austrian star, Rinner. That is two seconds outside Carr's winning time.

From 800 meters on out the American competitors are going to have their hands full, and may draw a total blank, as they did in the last games. Glenn Cunningham possibly is the best bet to break through, in the 1,500.

OHIO COUNTY FINDS STONE, HARD ROADS SOON LAID

IRONTOWN, O. (AP)—An almost inexhaustible supply of limestone discovered on a nearby farm is slowly but surely lifting this part of Ohio out of the mud.

Since the stone was discovered two years ago a quarry has been established by the county, of which Irontown is the county seat, and from 200 to 250 cubic yards of crushed stone are being produced daily.

There are 40 acres of the stone and although it is being hauled away daily to provide country roads with a hard surface, less than a quarter of an acre of the tract has been worked.

SPLITTING SECONDS

NEW YORK (AP)—A timing device accurate to one-thousandth of a second is being used in auto racing here. The apparatus consists of a thin wire, one-sixteenth of an inch above the ground, stretched across the track at the finish line. When a car hits the wire, an automatic check is made on a revolving tape in the timer's stand.

It's Her Lucky Number

CHILLICOTHE, O. (AP)—Hazel Temple has 11 letters in her name. She was born April 11 to Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Temple. She weighed 11 pounds, her first child was born December 11. Hazel was their 11th.

POLAND'S FOURTH PARTITION TO GUIDE DESTINIES OF RICH, POOR

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 19.—Poland once was the mightiest kingdom in Europe. Its borders extended from the Baltic to the Black Sea, and from the Rhine far into what now is Russia. The Cossacks were vassals of the Poles. Then came long periods of disintegration, interspersed with spasmodic resurgences. Mazed in the cauldron of European politics and warfare, Poland suffered three separate partitions, Russia, Prussia, and Austria dividing the territory as one would cut cheese. There were reconstitutions of the kingdom but the last and, final partition came more than a century ago. But nothing in history is final and, at the Versailles Peace Conference and, largely at the insistence of President Woodrow Wilson, the Republic of Poland rose again as an independent nation.

Now there is taking place what might properly be called the Fourth Partition of Poland.

Partition Within State
It is a partition within the state, a partition of the rich and the poor, the rich supported by a semi-fascist dictatorship, the poor kept in their places by the direct destitution in all Europe. This may not appear a geographical partition, but actually there is, within Poland, a geographical partition. An area extending along a strip varying from 1000 miles long, reaching from the border of Soviet Russia, and 1000 miles long, reaching from the southern boundary of Lithuania to the northern boundary of Czechoslovakia, has been designated as the Pacification Area. It is in this area that the greatest poverty and the greatest unrest among the very poor exists.

Although the communist party in Poland has only some 16,000 members, with half of them in jails or concentration camps, there are estimated to be some 2,000,000 sympathizers. The Polish police are tireless in ferreting them out. Because of the sympathy of so many for the active communists, they are difficult to apprehend. When police descend on a village to arrest a suspected communist, he is hidden or his presence denied. To combat this, the police have adopted the system of common responsibility. If the communist agitator is not delivered, the whole village is lined up and every fifth person, man, woman, or child, is severely beaten and then imprisoned. On one known occasion, soldiers fired machine guns into a village delegation consisting chiefly of children, led by a woman teacher, which was seeking free schools. Twelve children and the teacher were killed and many were wounded. The people were not permitted to bury their dead. Thus the pacification proceeds.

Deeply Disturbed Country
Such and many other kindred incidents and facts are revealed by John L. Spivak, American reporter, in his book, Europe Under the Terror. In explaining his mission to one from whom he sought information on Polish conditions, he said that what happens in Poland will influence what happens in Europe, and what happens in Europe will have a profound effect on what happens in the United States—politically and economically.

While Mr. Spivak was investigating conditions in other European countries, especially in those under dictatorship, he found the most abysmal distress in Poland. Brzeziny is a city given over almost completely to the manufacture of garments, largely for the export trade. When, as the workers say, God blesses them, they have work. The work is piecework and done in their homes. The blessed work means an 19-hour day and the pay will run as high as one zloty or 30 cents for that day. Every member of the family works, the children beginning at 5 to 7 years. A 15-year old lad will sometimes have the stature of one of 6 or 7 years, so confined has he been to his task.

It must be understood that this is not the independent recital of this newspaper or of this writer. It is a report upon the findings of Mr. Spivak who armed himself with a trunkful of documentary evidence. That there is another side to every picture must always be borne in mind. Mr. Spivak did not confine his investigations and interviews to the poor. He had as many interviews, if not more, with highly placed government officials, owners of mines and mills and factories. One important factory owner told him of his sorrow at seeing his country in so lowly a state but, he explained, it was a question of who should starve, the employers or the employees and, as he said, the law of self-preservation has not ceased to function. All agreed that they wished for better conditions, but how to obtain them was a problem they had been unable to solve. Mr. Spivak was told that it was believed by Polish rulers and employers that when Great Britain and America emerged from depression, Poland would recover.

Case Reflects Despair
Meantime, Mr. Spivak learned of a case at Brzeziny which reflects the despair. A man, working at his sewing machine, suddenly had a hemorrhage from the lung disease, an occupational disease of the industry, falling forward on his machine, dead. It cost his wife three days' wages to make good the cloth the blood had damaged.

The peasants are not better off. Mr. Spivak found one engaged in splitting matches. With remarkable skill, he took an ordinary match, split it in two with a sharp knife and then split each half. He explained that matches were a government monopoly and so high priced the peasants could not buy them. They resort to primitive flint and stone. This becoming known, a government decree was issued making it an offense to use flint and stone to make fire. So the peasants had to buy the matches, but they learned to make four out of one. If caught at that, they are punished.

Salt Considered Luxury
Another peasant, asked by Mr. Spivak what he would like above all other things as a splendid luxury, answered yearningly that if he could have salt with his potatoes he would be well pleased. Potatoes constitute the chief diet. Bread is a luxury. There are peasants in Poland who have not tasted meat in a year.

While in Italy and Germany there are few strikes, strikes having been made illegal in Poland there are constant strikes. There were 14 major strikes in one city in a year. The Poles have invented a new kind of strike. It is called the occupation strike. Instead of quitting the factory, mill, or mine, the strikers remain on the premises and their wives bring them food. This prevents strike-breakers from taking their places. The scheme has been fairly successful, the authorities fearing that failure of a settlement would precipitate revolution. American newspaper readers probably recall the strike in the Kilmontow mine in which some 2000 miners refused to return to the surface until their demands were met.

There is not the persecution of Jews in Poland that exists in Germany, but there is some persecution. It is not confined to Jews, Ukrainians and White Russians, within Polish borders, are included in oppressive measures.

Mr. Spivak was told that the ruling class in Poland, which numbers 100,000 or so out of the 33,000,000 population, is friendly to Nazi Germany and friendly to the idea of the treaty between Germany and Japan, the terms of which envisage a joint attack up on Soviet Russia.

For the most part, outwardly at least, Poland is quiet. Mr. Spivak feels that, underneath the surface, it is unquiet and that conditions may not long persist. It is regarded by him as altogether possible that the first flare of the new European war may appear against the Polish sky in a revolt against this fourth partition of Poland.

A philosophical analyst might believe that the unrest existing all over Europe is a result of the new forms of government and new experiments in government, which have been such conspicuous post-war manifestations. Americans, watching the arena from a distance, might well consider that, under the guidance of alien forms of rule, their own lot might be no better.

CONSTIPATION* MAY BE MORE SERIOUS THAN YOU THINK

It Causes Discomfort, May Even Lead to Disease

Constipation* is not a condition to be treated lightly. Continued neglect of regular habits of elimination tend to lower your resistance. Then there is the actual discomfort. For constipation* is one cause of headaches, poor appetite, listlessness.

Common constipation usually develops when you eat meals that lack sufficient "bulk." Your system fails to get needed internal exercise. Fortunately, today, you have a generous source of effective "bulk" in Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Within the body, the "bulk" in ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass, which gently cleanses the system. This natural laxative food also supplies vitamin B and contains iron.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal, with milk or cream, or cook into muffins, breads, etc. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Stubborn cases may require ALL-BRAN often. If not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed by the Kellogg Company as an effective laxative food for constipation.* Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk"
