US Warns Its Patience Is Wearing Thin In Talks

US Takes First Steps To Extradite James Ray

By JOHN J. MEEHAN
LONDON (UPI)—The United States today took the first legal steps to secure the extradition of James Earl Ray, accused assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The senior counsel of the K.S. Embassy delivered a file of documents to the foreign office at a brief meeting. Sources said the file would seek to satisfy British law that there is a prima facie case against Ray on the murder charges.

The foreign office must first be satisfied that the case complies with the terms of the extradition treaty between the United States and Britain. It will then pass the documents on to the Home Office where they will be studied to make sure that all legal requirements will be met according to British law.

The move came as the FBI and Scotland Yard tried to uncover the mysterious weeks in the life of the man accused of shooting King in Memphis, Tenn., on May 4.

A 24-hour police guard was being maintained on Ray in a cell in the top security Wandsworth prison.

In Pimlico, a district which lies next to the glittering London West End but has not seen major development since Charles Dickens wrote of its past houses, Mrs. Anna Thomas talked of the boarder in May who may have been Ray on the loose.

"He kept the door of his room locked at all times and when I brought his breakfast up he told me to leave it outside," the hotel keeper said.

Her boarder paid Mrs. Thomas $10.80 for three days' stay. His luggage was an airline bag. He refused to sign the smudgy register in Mrs. Thomas' hotel.

In Lisbon, where police said an FBI agent was working along with other investigators, a plump, red-haired bar girl—just call me Gloria"—remembered the face in the newspaper but not the name.

Gloria said she shared drinks with the man in the Galo bar. Other girls in other bars, such as the Vienna bar and the Diana bar, remembered the face.

Scotland Yard and the U.S. lawyers and diplomats here were keeping mostly silent about their hunt for the missing days in Ray's life since the April 4 assassination in Memphis, Tenn. They do not want to offend British judges.

The judges of Britain rule heavily against those who talk out of court before trial or hearing, and U.S. officials wanted nothing to interfere with their declared intention of getting Ray, 40, back to America as soon as possible.

A British deportation order could come anytime. More likely, a legal fight with his court-provided lawyers could stretch until August the time before Ray is bundled aboard a New York-bound plane.

Continued Attacks By Terrorists Are Blasted

By GEORGE SIBERA
PARIS (UPI)—The United States warned Hanoi today its patience may wear thin if the Communists continue to increase their military and terrorist attacks in South Vietnam. Diplomats saw the statement as a veiled warning of resumed bombing of the Hanoi area.

"We are patient but we must be firm when the lives of our troops and of our allies are at stake," U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman told North Vietnamese chief delegate Xuan Thuy.

Harriman did not say what would happen if the Communists continue their attacks. But diplomats noted that even before he entered today's session Harriman wore a worried expression as he told newsmen of the United States' grave concern.

The Viet Cong attacked Saigon today for the 12th consecutive day, killing four Vietnamese children and a U.S. airman in rocket attacks against Tan Son Nhut airport on the city's outskirts. The airman was the first American victim. The rest have been chiefly Vietnamese civilians.

"We are gravely concerned by the Communist terrorist campaign," Harriman told newsmen. "We are concerned—as I am sure are all Americans. The North Vietnamese Communist party is pursuing terrorist actions and is killing civilians without any military objective."

Newsmen asked him directly if the United States might retaliate.

"This is not a matter to be discussed at this conference," the 77-year-old negotiator said. "But we nevertheless must take up this problem with the North Vietnamese."

The eighth session of the slow-moving talks lasted three hours and 50 minutes and the two sides agreed to meet again one week from today.

After the meeting Harriman told newsmen he gave a full account of stepped up Communist attacks in the South, particularly those in Saigon Tuesday. He said the attacks against the southern capital are "acts of terrorism and have nothing to do with war."

"I made it plain this was not conducive to progress at this meeting," Harriman said. "It is quite a different spirit than that which motivated President Johnson in de-escalating Hanoi and the Viet Cong are escalating."

But they appeared to have been unmoved by Harriman's angry statement. He called again on Harriman to say when the United States plans to stop bombing and "all other actions of war" against the North.

"What moment, what circumstances are more appropriate than now when the official conversations between the governments of the Democratic

State Treasury Deficit Cut By Tax Receipts

By ANN WATSON
AUSTIN (UPI)—Sales tax receipts last month lopped $63 million off the state's deficit and state officials said they're "pretty sure" the government ledger will be back in the black by Sept. 1.

No one is calling it a sure bet, however. The state treasury is still $10 million in the red. Inheritance tax receipts are down $3 million. Revenue from sulphur production, cement taxes, sand, shell and gravel sales, and several miscellaneous funds are also behind last year's levels.

None is crucial, but combined the declines could make the difference between a deficit and a surplus on the state's books at the end of the fiscal year Sept. 1.

"I don't think we'll have a very big balance at the end of the year—maybe $5 to $10 million," said Kenneth L. Kimbro, chief clerk and tax administrator.

Kimbro said revenue so far is "running pretty close" to predictions.

We forecast a decline in the inheritance tax because last year the revenue from that was the second largest the state has every had," Kimbro said. "All the decline means is that the people who died at this time are not as wealthy as the ones who died last year."

Kimbro said construction and mineral production could pick up enough before the end of summer to bring other revenue up to 1967 levels.

Robert S. Calvert, comptroller of public accounts, said the next quarterly payment on sales taxes could put the state books back in the black.

"This thing fluctuates a lot during the year because our taxes don't come in 12 equal payments," Calvert said.

He noted that receipts on the annual franchise tax and one of the quarterly sales tax payments came in May, reducing the deficit from $73 to $10 million.

Calvert said the present deficit is $10 million.

Viet Cong Shell Base Near Saigon; Kill Five

By JACK WALSH
SAIGON (UPI)—The Viet Cong shelled the Tan Son Nhut air base today and killed four Vietnamese children and a U.S. airman first American victim of 12 days of terror attacks. The United States stepped up its air attacks against the North.

The terror attacks became the subject of the Vietnam talks in Paris today when U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman said he would deliver a strong protest. There was an implication of U.S. reprisal attacks against the North.

A military spokesman said U.S. fighter-bombers took advantage of improved weather and launched 137 missions against the southern panhandle Tuesday in one of the heaviest raids of the year. One pilot fired a rocket with deadly accuracy into the mouth of a storage cave, another snapped a bridge in the middle with a single missile.

In today's attacks on Saigon the guerrillas fired 14 six-foot rockets into the suburban airbase, hitting military areas and the houses of South Vietnamese soldier families. They wounded 24 Vietnamese

GOP, Demos Pampanos Will Go To National Conventions

Texas Democrats will likely make Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey heir to their 104 votes but state Republicans appear headed for a split of their 56 votes between California Gov. Ronald Reagan and former Vice President Richard Nixon.

Those were the assessments made yesterday by veteran political observers as the Texas Republican and Democratic parties ended their state conventions.

Texas Democrats designated Gov. John Connally their favorite son candidate for president Tuesday after agreeing to cast the state's national convention votes in a bloc.

The adoption of the so-called unit rule, over the protests of a minority liberal faction, means all 104 votes will go to whichever candidate a majority of the delegates favor when they are released by Connally.

The governor has no presidential aspiration, but has left the door open to considering second spot on the party ticket.

Before the Texans acted Tuesday, Humphrey had 66 2/3 delegate votes, based on commitments or preferences of state delegations. He needs 1,312 to secure the nomination.

CORPUS CHRISTI (UPI)—Texas Republican delegation to the national party convention will support Sen. John Tower as a favorite son. Put it will likely wind up splitting its 56 votes between California Gov. Ronald Reagan and former Vice President Richard Nixon.

Tower won the favorite son designation with little opposition and then avoided a possible Nixon-Reagan split by supporting a resolution commending the California governor and urging him to be more active in national politics.

State GOP chairman Peter O'Donnell said the 56-member Texas delegation to the Miami Beach convention in August will include "12 to 16" Reagan backers.

O'Donnell was named chairman of the delegation, and Tower was appointed honorary chairman.

A unity move by Tower at Tuesday's convention also avoided a potential fight between Nixon and Reagan supporters.

The Reagan backers had been expected to wage a battle to limit the state's support of Tower as a favorite son to one ballot at the national convention. However, the Tower resolution pledging the 56 votes to him "until released" won on a voice vote.

Jim Chenoweth of Harris County a resolutions committee member, submitted the Reagan resolution as a minority committee report.

The resolution was drawn up by Jim Campbell of Pampa, committeeman from the 18th (See CONVENTIONS, Page 3)

Convicts Release Hostages, Drop Guns

By RABUN MATTHEWS
ATLANTA (UPI)—For convicts released their 21 hostages after a 27-hour ordeal today and dropped their pistols out a window at the Atlanta Federal Prison, while other inmates screamed and smashed windows.

A guard said the hostages—16 men and five women—were released unharmed. The convicts were taken into custody, honoring their agreement to surrender after their grievances were published by the Atlanta Journal.

Prison officials called a news conference to release details of the drama.

The convicts—a murderer and three robbers—grabbed 25 hostages in a daring escape which was foiled in a gunfight—in which a guard was slightly wounded—and they barricaded themselves in the administration building. They said they were "willing to die" to bring to light faults in the prison system.

Two women were released when they became ill Tuesday; another hostage was freed late Tuesday night to bring the list of nine grievances to officials, and a fourth was freed this morning.

The Journal's story, written by reporters William B. Williams and David Norden, said Warden Olin Blackwell had agreed to meet all but one of the convicts' nine demands.

Williams was rushed to the prison Tuesday when the convicts demanded to talk to him. He discussed the grievances with the convicts over an intercom to their stronghold.

The convicts demanded better food, social workers, that the press be allowed to tour the prison occasionally, a promise that no other inmates would be retaliated against, and that the four themselves would not be prosecuted.

Two of the convicts demanded transfers to other prisons and guarantees that their visiting privileges not be revoked.

"The four of us also want assurance, spoken publicly, that none of us will be taken to the assurance, spoken publicly, that beaten by Captain Bradley, Lieutenant Welch or any other members of the so-called 'goon squad.'"

Warden Blackwell, the Journal said, called his cabinet into session today to consider the new threat to his Fifth Republic. Information Minister Yves Guena announced the new measures and said the ban would extend through the parliamentary election campaign ending June 30.

Guena said the ban covers two student demonstrations planned this afternoon in Paris. One of these was scheduled at the building of the partially strikebound French radio and television services. Guena said if the meetings are held they "will be dispersed."

Guena said anyone defying the ban will be prosecuted in courts of law and that this includes not only the organizers of demonstrations but anyone taking part.

The banned organizations were mainly extreme leftist student groups.

Those listed by Guena were the Communist Workers Youth, the Workers Voice Movement, the "Revolt" Group, the Federation of Revolutionary Students, the Liaison Committee of Revolutionary Students, the March 22 Movement and the Union of Marxist-Leninist Communist youth.

The government also ordered that any foreigners caught taking part in demonstrations will be expelled immediately from France.

Pampa School trustees will consider school personnel resignations, reassignment and employment in the first summer board meeting this year at 9:30 a.m. Thursday in Pampa Junior High School Library.

Miami Men Are Honored For Work in Tornado

MIAMI (UPI)—Two Miami men, an Amarillo newsman and the Department of Public Safety were given Public Service Awards by the U. S. Weather Bureau for action on May 6 which prevented loss of life when a tornado went through Miami, in Roberts County.

The Public Service Awards went to Roberts County Sheriff W. H. (Cy) Carr, Miami School Superintendent, Glen Sanders, Amarillo television newsman Roy McCoy, and the Department of Public Safety. Representing that office was Captain J. W. Blackwell of Amarillo.

Presenting the awards was C. M. Crouch, meteorologist in charge of the Amarillo weather station.

McCoy received a tip that tornadoes were in the Miami area, and notified the Weather Bureau. The Department of Public Safety office confirmed this report. Sheriff Carr set up storm observers and radio communications. Superintendent Sanders, when notified of the approaching storm, kept the teachers and pupils in the building. They took shelter in the basement until the tornado passed over.

More than $500,000 worth of damage was done, but due to the warnings, no lives were lost.

Law Asks Registration Of Firearms

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Joseph Tydings introduced legislation today to require registration and licensing of all firearms in the United States.

The Maryland Democrat proposed to outlaw possession of any type of gun by persons under 21, aliens, anyone convicted of a felony or misdemeanor involving violence, or anyone ever committed as an alcoholic, narcotics addict or mental incompetent.

Tydings, predicting his bill would trigger a "campaign of misrepresentation," told newsmen he had asked the Internal Revenue Service to review the National Rifle Association's tax-exempt status.

The French government, caught up in its second major crisis in a month, today banned all demonstrations throughout France and ordered the immediate dissolution of a number of leftist organizations and private militia groups.

The drastic steps were announced as new fights broke out between police using tear gas and students who hurled Molotov cocktails in a new wave of violence that swept 2,000 demonstrators into jails in Paris alone. Hundreds were injured and arrested in other cities. Five persons have died.

Heart Patient Blaiberg Said Showing Slight Improvement

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (UPI)—Dr. Philip Blaiberg, the world's longest surviving heart transplant patient, showed slight improvement today. Surgeon Christiaan Barnard flew back to Blaiberg's bedside to help treat him for a liver "dysfunction."

A morning medical bulletin said Blaiberg was conscious as he lay in his sterile bed and that his "blood and circulation are satisfactory." Barnard was in London when he received word of Blaiberg's relapse and he said he was "very worried."

Barnard, who led the medical team that gave Blaiberg a new heart five months and 10 days ago, said the condition of the retired Cape Town dentist was "not critical."

"I am very worried," the doctor said as he left London. But Barnard, who led the medical team that gave Blaiberg

Highlights and Sidelights From the State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press - Association
AUSTIN, Tex.—Sitting in special session to approve appropriations and tax bills for the fiscal year beginning September 1, the House and Senate began deliberations on how to distribute some $2,500,000,000 in appropriations.

When that little problem is taken care of, the Legislature will worry about one that's potentially more disastrous politically. Raising taxes or passing new ones comes next. They must raise the $125-130,000,000 difference between what the state will have and what it will need.

Gov. John Connally's special session opened on schedule June 4 in a story-book setting: The newly-elected Democratic nominee for governor, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, presided over the Senate, and the newly-elected Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, Speaker Ben Barnes, held the House controls.

Governor Connally spelled out basically this tax program: A one-per-cent raise in the state sales tax rate to three per cent with the bulk of the increase going to cities.

Sales tax base would be extended to cover cigarettes, other tobacco products, and such services as haircuts and beauty treatments, laundry and dry cleaning, repairs, telephone and telegraph, and auto parking ($76,800,000).

A $3,200,000 cut in taxes on the gross receipts of telephone companies was incorporated in his recommendations, same being more than offset by the inclusion of telephone service in the three per cent sales tax.

A boost in the auto sales tax rate to three per cent ($30,600,000).

Legalization of liquor-by-the-drink in small bottles, with each bottle individually taxed, and private clubs assessed a 10 per cent gross receipts tax ($14,500,000).

Transfer of $7,500,000 from the operators and chauffeurs license fund to the general fund spending pocket.

A really transfer stamp tax ($1,000,000).

Initial reaction to the $127,200,000 package was generally cool or downright unfriendly, although many legislators were plainly waiting to see what the folks back home thought of it. Outlook was dimmest of all for the mini-bottle bill. Even many liquor-by-the-drink advocates didn't like it but they admitted that from their standpoint it was better than nothing.

Hearings on it were started this week by Committees of both the House and the Senate.

House revenue and tax committee is considering Connally's omnibus tax bill. Speaker Barnes, who is not committed to the Connally proposals, apparently will put them to a floor vote in the House next week unless something better is substituted.

Barnes warned that $15,000,000 in new revenue may be needed if a federal income tax surcharge is passed by congress, slashing state purchasing power and thereby cutting the state's sales tax take.

After all tax items are taken care of, Connally has promised to open the legislative hopper to such other issues as the lawmakers desire—if there's time left in the 30-day special session LIQUOR-LAW REVISION—Cory of the Legislature's revision of the Liquor Control Act probably will be the recommendations of the liquor-law-revision sub-committee of the House State Affairs Committee. Speaker Barnes turned over to the sub-committee during the LCB controversy.

Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria.

chairman of the sub-committee and the full committee, reported to the committee on the first day of the session, and the reaction indicated that one major problem could be whether to allow possession of alcoholic beverages in private clubs in dry areas.

Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio, a supporter of liquor-by-the-drink, asked the committee to reject the sub-committee's report because it did not include prohibitions, which he thinks would provide incentive or liquor-by-the-drink.

Cory however, closed the meeting before Johnson could get the record vote he sought. Committee report included 31 points, many of them recommendations to change the law. Main recommendations include: prohibiting legislators from practicing before the LCB; opened all LCB records on violation and complaints to the public; a minimum of 50 members for a private club; a fine for parents whose children are convicted on liquor violations twice; immediate sale of confiscated liquor; increasing license and permit fees; increasing LCB agents' salaries; and providing graduated penalties for repeated liquor violations.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED—Gov. Connally named and the Senate confirmed Calvin Wesch of Kermit as 109th district attorney for Andrews, Winkler and Crane Counties. He succeeds the late Don Nugent.

Governor also appointed Judge Thomas A. Curtis as district attorney at Amarillo for Armstrong and Potter Counties.

He designated Jerry L. Brownlee of Fort Worth and Publisher Gordon Fulcher of Atlanta to the Texas Water Quality Board.

Dr. L. Harland Ford, executive director of the Region XX Education Service at El Paso, was named assistant commissioner of the Texas Education Agency for teacher education and instructional services, effective Aug. 1.

Senate confirmed Connally's selection of San Antonio attorney Roy Barreta as Secretary of State. Barreta has been serving since March.

C. M. (Hank) Hugspeth of Denton is new vice-president of the State Bar of Texas. He will take office July 7.

NEW LIFE ON DEATH ROW—The 26 men on death row in Huntsville, and others around the state, now have a new chance at life.

U.S. Supreme Court has ruled that the death penalty can not be imposed by a jury from which persons opposed to capital punishment have been excluded. Under the Texas system a potential juror may be excused if he states that he is opposed to the death sentence in a capital crime. Under this new ruling, however, such persons can't be excluded, and according to State Attorney General Crawford Martin, it will probably do away with the death penalty. A jury must unanimously agree on capital punishment in a case for it to be imposed.

It's presumed that the court's decision also will permit those people now under sentence of death to appeal in federal court. Ruling, however, did not specify whether the decision would cover persons already sentenced. "I seriously doubt," Attorney General Martin commented, "if the courts will let a man be executed until the question is decided."

COURTS SPEAK—State Supreme Court agreed with the lower court on dismissal of a suit filed by a woman who claimed she was given a contaminated drug at Good Shepherd Hospital in Gregg County.

Controversy over whether Texas or Louisiana law controls a $150,000 damage suit filed in Texas after a Louisiana man was killed in a traffic accident near Eunice, La., will be reviewed by the Texas Supreme Court.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES—Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held constitutional a bill granting tax exemption for fraternal organizations on property used for charitable, benevolent, religious and educational purposes as defined by the constitution.

Purchaser who has paid sales or use taxes on a motor vehicle to another state is entitled to a credit on use tax due Texas.

EDUCATIONAL SPENDING BELOW AVERAGE—Texans spent, on the average, $127 less per child in its public schools last year than did the rest of the nation. That, according to Texas State Teachers Association, is the size of the state's "education gap".

TEXAS SPENT $492 on the average for each public school child while the national average stood at $619.

State's spending has increased 61 per cent in this area over the last ten years, but across the nation it has increased 91 per cent, says TSTA, yet Texas' population has grown one-third faster than the rest of the country.

HUNTING PROSPECTS GOOD—Parks and Wildlife Department biologists and game management officers report "exceptionally good prospects" for an excellent hunting season this year.

Heavy rainfall has greened up the countryside and insured good food and cover for wildlife. Most reporting stations said rainfall was the best in years. A few said "best since 1941".

SHORT SNORTS—Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall, president pro tempore of the State Senate, served as "governor for a day" on June 3, during absences of Gov. Connally and Lt. Gov. Smith.

Sen. Jim Bates of Edinburg succeeded Hall as president pro tempore on opening day of the legislative session.

Youth Center Officers Are Re-Elected

Officers and directors of the Pampa Youth and Community Center Board were elected for new terms Monday.

All officers were re-elected to serve during the next year. Fred Neslage was re-elected as president. Other officers are Joe Tooley, vice-president; Bill Atkinson, secretary; and Mack Hilt, treasurer.

Board members elected for three-year terms were Ed Myatt, Joe Fischer, E. L. Green, Don Lane, Glenn Cox, Bob Curry and Bill Power.

In other business, the board voted to resume dances for teenagers. A junior high dance will be held on Tuesday nights and a senior high dance on Friday nights. The first junior high dance will be held next Tuesday. Plans are being made for the senior high dance.

The board also met with the Pampa Youth Council and considered their ideas. The board voted to give its moral support to the PYC's project.

The purpose of the youth group is to establish a "teen-gathering center." The group plans a coffee house type of establishment to offer folk-singing and dances on weekends and other special activities. John Karr serves as president of the group.

French

The nightlong street fighting left about 1,500 persons in jail following a second day of rioting by students who have stretched their demands from education reform to the ousting of De Gaulle's regime.

Other French cities suffered rioting with blood, the cobblestones and tear gas in the air. Police said at least 75 persons were hurt during the night in Paris alone and damage was widespread. About 75 automobiles were damaged, 10 police vehicles were destroyed, firemen responded to about 300 alarms involving fires set by rioters, dozens of traffic lights were smashed and 25 trees were chopped down.

Some observers said the students may be defeating themselves. Their very violence may swell support for De Gaulle among other sectors of a people who have suffered a month of disorder, rioting and national strikes.

Officials said the violence was aimed at disrupting a parliamentary election, scheduled in two weeks, that will be a test of strength for President Charles de Gaulle.

Documentation On James Earl Ray Going to Britain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department said Tuesday it will send documentation to Great Britain shortly in support of its request for extradition of the accused slayer of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

A State Department spokesman said documentation has arrived at the Justice Department from both Tennessee and Missouri for the proceedings involving James Earl Ray.

Salesmen Told Professionalism Should Be Goal

The need for continuing development of professionalism in the insurance industry was stressed yesterday by Herman Ford, retired vice president and training director for Southland Life Insurance Co. of Dallas, at the district luncheon meeting of the Top O' Texas Association of Life Underwriters here yesterday.

Ford said to reach professional status, a salesman must develop scientific attitude, intellectual skills, acquire knowledge sufficient to be of real service to others and realize that financial return is not the chief test.

"For insurance salesmen to achieve professional status," Ford said, "they must have public and legal recognition as such."

Frank Smith of Borger was named delegate and Joe Cree, association president, and John McCausland were named alternates to represent the association at the annual convention of the Texas ALU in San Antonio June 20-22.

Medal Goes To 'Liberty' Skipper

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy presented the Medal of Honor Tuesday to the skipper of the USS Liberty, nearly destroyed by Israeli warplanes and torpedo boats in the Mediterranean Sea last year.

The nation's highest award for valor went to Capt. William L. McGonagle, 43, of Cohasset, Mass., who was cited for keeping the heavily damaged communications ship under control for 17 hours despite his own serious wounds.

Navy Secretary Paul R. Ignatius, who presented the medal, said McGonagle "was responsible for saving the lives of many when ship was attacked last June 8-9 during the Arab-Israeli war." Israel later apologized and said it was a case of mistaken identity.

Major battling flashed just below the North Vietnam border Tuesday where Leatherneck outposts near the Marine fort of Khe Sanh came under heavy attack.

North Vietnamese troops hurling satchel charges and grenades stormed the Marine positions in a two-hour battle that killed 14 Leathernecks and wounded 115, spokesmen said. The Marines killed at least 28 of the attackers.

Farther east along the border line, South Vietnamese troops Tuesday battled North Vietnamese units and killed at least 93 Communists.

Guard Unit Sets Meeting

The Pampa Security Unit of the Texas State Guard will hold its monthly meeting Friday at the National Guard Armory. The history and purpose of the unit will be discussed.

The State Guard Unit is an important part of any community, said Captain John Radcliff, commander of the local unit. The unit may assume the responsibilities of the National Guard in the event the local Guard is called into federal service.

"This is especially important because of the present world crises," Capt. Radcliff said. The Adjutant General's department in Austin has stressed this importance and has called upon all Texas Guard units to become more active.

The meeting of the local unit will be open to all interested persons with or without prior military service.

Nurse Tells Of Threat By Man

Miss Vermell Meador, chief nurse at Highland General Hospital, reported to Pampa police yesterday that a man apparently thwarted by admittal procedures at the hospital had made a threat.

The man reportedly telephoned the hospital and said he wanted his wife admitted.

Told that admission ordinarily required the request of a doctor, the man then called for a specific doctor. When informed that the doctor was in surgery, the man reportedly said: "I'll come in with my shotgun and get her admitted."

The man refused to give his name and was not identified. He failed to appear at the hospital after the telephone call.

Wallet Stolen

Mrs. Lottie Turcotte of 1020 Mary Ellen St. reported to Pampa police yesterday that her wallet containing important papers and approximately $17 in cash was stolen yesterday. She said she thought the wallet was taken from her home while she was working in the back yard.

SALAMANCA, Spain (UPI)—History professor Norberto Cuesta Dutari was sentenced to a month in jail and a $71 fine Tuesday for writing a newspaper article that protested a Roman Catholic bishop's order for the destruction of an ancient local monastery, the Palace of Monteitano.

Son Of Pampans Will Tour Europe With Musical Group

Richard L. Tarrant, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Tarrant, 1000 Huff Road, left today to participate in the 1968 European Study Program of the All-Student Band, U.S.A. Orchestra, Chorus and Jazz Group.

Tarrant will perform in the All-Student Band, U.S.A. He will sit first chair and play first part baritone.

A sophomore at West Texas State University in Canyon, Tarrant was selected on his musical performing ability. He is a music major.

Tarrant's first stop will be at Winchester, Va., where he will join the other members for practice sessions. The group will leave New York June 18 for a month-long tour of Europe. They will perform in a concert at each stopover.

Countries included in the tour are England, Scotland, France, Italy, Switzerland, Denmark, Monaco, Netherlands, Germany and Austria. In the latter three countries they will stay in various homes; in the others, they will stay in hotels.

The Paris concert, slated for July 13, is scheduled to be televised by an English television station.

The members of the tour will arrive back in the United States on July 18.

Tarrant became interested in music in the sixth grade. While in high school, he performed in the All-State Band.

Harriman replied by accusing Hanoi of intensifying the war and saying it should "recognize that the prospects for progress in the talks now lie largely in its hands."

Blackwell told the Journal he had no authority to prevent prosecution.

The prisoners also demanded that "someone from Washington" look into the case of Robert Gorman, one of the bank robbers. They said his 30-year sentence without chance of parole was "sadistic."

An outbreak of whistling, yelling and window-breaking erupted as the ordeal at the bleak prison passed the 24-hour mark.

Heart

"I am very worried," the doctor said as he left London. But Barnard, who led the medical team that gave Blair a new heart five months and 10 days ago, said the condition of the retired Cape Town dentist was "not critical."

At Grootte Schuur hospital where Barnard and his colleagues performed the world's first heart transplant last December, Blair, 59, was kept under constant watch. He suffered a relapse Tuesday. After talking with the Groote Schuur staff by telephone from London, Barnard described the ailment as hepatitis, a liver inflammation, and said it could have been caused by drugs or blood the patient had been given.

Conventions

Jim Chenoweth of Harris County a resolutions committee member, submitted the Reagan resolution as a minority committee report.

It appeared in for a tough floor fight until Tower took the platform and endorsed the measure. The senator said his comments on the resolution were not an endorsement of Reagan for the presidency.

Among Republicans named as delegates to the national convention to be held during August in Miami Beach will be these Pampans: U.S. Representative Bob Price, delegate-at-large; Jim Campbell, 31st Senatorial District Committeeman, delegate from the 18th District; and Mrs. Frances Fatheree, 31st Senatorial District Committeewoman, alternate delegate from the 18th District.

Television In Review Cattle Rustling Law In Force In Colorado

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Television violence seems certain to be scrutinized carefully by a presidential commission formed in the wake of the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. The 10 member commission, which was convened at the White House Monday by President Johnson, has been given a year to investigate causes and possible cures of violence in American life.

And among the questions Johnson suggested the commission explore was: "Are the seeds of violence nurtured through the public airwaves the screens of neighborhood theaters, the news media and other forms of communications that reach the family and our young?"

The President said he was asking the radio and television networks and the head of the Federal Communications Commission to cooperate in the study. And he posed the thoughts: Is violence a contagious phenomenon? And to the extent that it is, are there ways to reduce the contagion?

An immediate response came from CBS President Frank Stanton, who pledged cooperation "in every way possible" and added:

"As an initial step, although the integrity of the creative process will be fully respected, programming executives of the CBS Television Network will immediately undertake individual conferences with producers and writers to discuss specific measures to de-emphasize violence in programs now in production."

Stanton said: "CBS shares the President's concern as to the possible effect of the content of television entertainment programs upon the nature of our society . . .

"We believe, however, that it may take a considerable length of time to determine whether there is a causal relationship between the fictional portrayal of violence in the mass media and any increase of actual violence in American life. Nevertheless, we are examining our policies and practices in this entire area."

And movie Director Jerry Paris, who formerly guided episodes of CBS-TV's Dick Van Dyke series, took out a full-page trade paper advertisement saying:

"In the name of John F. Kennedy, Martin Luther King and Robert F. Kennedy and my family, I make this solemn pledge:

"I will no longer lend my talents in any way to add to the creation of a climate for murder. I call upon all who read this to join me in refusing to write, direct, produce, act, or participate in any way in the shaping of any 'entertainment' that celebrates senseless brutality, aimless cruelty, pointless and violent death . . . if you agree with me, let me hear from you. None of us knows where this will stop. But we can make a beginning in the stopping. Together we can change the climate."

Cattle Rustling Law In Force In Colorado

By WILLARD B. HARDESTY
DENVER (UPI)—Cattle rustlers will be cattle rustlers, and a recently enacted change in the Colorado law has not hurt their business one bit, a cattle official said today.

The 1968 session of the state legislature had to reinstate the rustling law, which was mistakenly eliminated in the 1967 session when the legislature passed a judicial reform.

Under the reform, there had to be a proven loss of at least $100 for the larceny to be a felony. This was particularly harmful during the calving season. A newborn calf is not worth $100, but will be when it grows up. The 1968 session again made it a felony to steal any livestock.

Early Brown, Colorado brand commissioner, said he saw "no noticeable difference" in rustling during the period of time when the value of the livestock had to be proved.

"I would say this is because no one knew the law was on the books," he said. "We first found out about it last fall when a case came up and the court threw it out because the state couldn't prove the value of the cattle taken. There was only about a six-month period when it was known proof of value was necessary."

Brown said a "wild guess" about the number of cattle rustled each year would be 1,000 to 1,500. "But we don't get reports when cattle are found and returned to the owner—which is often. I would say overall, about 500 cattle are actually lost each year."

He said cattle were most often rustled one at a time. "Some guy who is broke will go out and shoot a cow," he said. "Most of those convicted of rustling are broke. They often buy their beer and shoot their beef."

"Of course, there are instances where 10 to 50 head are taken at once. This is most often done by someone who will drift the cattle into his own herd and then rebrand them. Most rustling is done by men who know the cattle business."

Brown called the correction in the law a necessity. "This is not only because calves become more valuable as they get older, but also because a rancher cannot lock up his merchandise at night like a merchant can," he said. "Cattle run loose, and the rancher might not discover his loss for a week."

The re-written law provides a penalty of one to 10 years and or a fine of not less than $200 nor more than $5,000.

Priest Tells Of His Plans To Marry

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill. (UPI)—The Rev. Martin Gibbons, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church Tuesday announced plans to wed and said he hopes that "an honorable way can be granted" for the marriage.

Father Gibbons, a priest for nine years, said that the law of celibacy for priests "needs revision."

Father Gibbons refused to identify his fiancée because of possible adverse comment toward her family.

Father Gibbons has submitted his second request to the Vatican for permission to marry. His first request was rejected after six months' consideration by the church.

The holiday weekend motorist is a new breed of bird, according to the National Advertising Co., interstate map publishers who named the nine varieties pictured above. An estimated 60 million of these high-flying birds will head onto the nation's highways this Memorial Day weekend beginning 6 p.m., May 29, and ending at midnight, June 2. Highly domesticated in their natural habitat, they become birds of a different feather once they slip behind the wheel of the family chariot. The outcome is often confusion and sometimes tragedy.

STRATEGIC MANEUVER

DURHAM, England (UPI)—The miniskirted lasses at Durham University say the low-down on the university coffee machine is that it is too low down. They demanded that the machine be raised at least 18 inches to spare them the embarrassment they now suffer when they have to bend over to get a cup of coffee out of the machine.

FOG-SWEEP, shown in its inoperative collapsed position, inset, and extended more than 100 feet high when in use, is a device newly developed for injecting chemicals into the air for dispersing fog around busy airports. Tested briefly at the Sacramento Municipal Airport earlier this spring, Fog-Sweep will undergo more extensive tests at Hyannis Port, Mass., later this summer. Cancellations due to fog cost domestic airlines an estimated $75 million annually, according to the Air Transport Association, whose member airlines are financing the tests.

Houston Police Following Special "Contact" Program

HOUSTON (UPI) — Houston police recently were given anti-riot equipment which many carried about openly in squad cars.

The open display of the anti-riot equipment did not sit well among residents of minority areas and Chief Herman B. Short quickly learned about it.

A directive was issued to keep all anti-riot equipment, except sidearms, out of sight. The grumbling in the minority areas died down.

The reason Short learned so quickly about the unhappiness over display of the anti-riot equipment was because of a community contact program he instigated after two years of planning.

Word Comes Quickly

Under the program, a full-time officer is assigned to minority communities to work with community action groups and be liaison man between the groups and police. Police quickly learn of any irritants.

To carry out a community relations program, Short last September formed a Community Relations Division, with five full time officers who are headed by Capt. H. Caldwell.

In addition to the community contact program, the overall program includes these other main sections:

- Radio and TV communications, beamed to primary and elementary schools.
- Learning About Police
- An educational liaison program, under which a police man is assigned to the Houston Independent School District to teach pupils the duties and functions of the police.

—A police observer corps program, under which 10 young people from underprivileged neighborhoods are brought in to observe dispatchers, patrol officers and juvenile divisions at work.

—A police-aid program, under which the police department, without federal help, hires 10 unemployed youths from underprivileged neighborhoods to work in the police headquarters lobby and as informational aides.

Meeting Policemen

Short said police safety personnel conduct an "Officer Friendly" project in schools to give pupils a chance to meet a policeman and vice versa.

Houston police also sponsor Little League baseball teams, the expenses of which come out of their pockets.

The most recent community relations project started by Houston police is "Operation Crime Spot." It is a cooperative venture with citizens' groups, which are urged to report crime.

Civic groups and service clubs that volunteer get a log book and instruction book for each member. The instruction book tells how to report a crime and what to look for. It has a slot for a dime to use in the telephone in reporting crime.

Program Looks Good

So far, the whole program looks good but both Short and Caldwell are wary of openly praising it.

"It is something you don't measure in terms of success or failure," Short said. "We know that each favorable contact we make is a benefit."

"I don't know how one measures success," Caldwell said. "We have escaped the riots which have plagued other cities. We do not take credit. I only point out that an atmosphere for meaningful dialogue exists. We are far from solving our problems."

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

In Italy, a leading Communist described the demonstrations there as "extremis infantilis."

In other words — and for different reasons what happened in France, where workers and Communists joined with the students to threaten not only the De Gaulle government but the French economy as well, is most unlikely to happen in either Germany or Italy.

In Rome, Giorgio Amendola, a member of the Communist central committee, made it clear in his party's weekly magazine that he considered the student revolutionaries amateurish and their call to the barricades a danger to his own party's fight against capitalism.

He asked specifically that the Communists refute the ideas of Prof. Herbert Marcuse, an idol of the student revolt who holds that the principal adversary is the industrial society whether it be capitalist or socialist. Marcuse is a teacher at the University of California at San Diego.

Washington Report

From Congress
BOB PRICE NEW DISTRICT, TEXAS

The latest report from the Department of Agriculture confirms our contention that the American farmer is sinking further into the economic quicksand with each passing year.

The House Republican Task Force on Agriculture said today. The panel referred to the April "Farm Income Situation" report from the Department's Economic Research Service.

Task Force member Bob Price pointed specifically to farm production expenses.

The report tells us that farm vehicles and other machinery and equipment, have risen 55 percent since 1960, according to the report, the Panhandle Congressman said. "That same Situation Report shows that taxes payable per acre also rose 55 percent and interest payable per acre rose 110 percent during that same period. Compare such increases with the much smaller 5.7 percent increase in the per acre index on prices received for all commodities as reported in USDA's Agricultural Statistics publication, and you can readily understand why our farmers feel the ever-increasing pressures of the current pinch. There's a limit on how much a farmer can squeeze out of an acre of land in in-

DENOUNCE PLANS

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Opposition parties to Sweden's Social Democratic government Tuesday denounced the government's plans to socialize drug stores throughout Sweden. Conservative leader Goesta Bohman said the plan was a "reactionary Communist proposal."

Economics minister Krister Wickman, who announced the plan Monday, said it would provide cheaper drugs in Sweden.

Many of the new water repellent finishes on cotton raincoats will take up to five dry-cleanings without having to be reprocessed.

Theta Rho Wins Top State Award

Pampa Theta Rho number 18 has returned from Galveston where they attended the state Theta Rho Assembly, which was held June 6, 7 and 8, at the Moody Center.

Their Degree team won the first place trophy, with a score of 993, out of a possible 1000 points. They competed with other club teams from over the state in the initiation ceremony.

Mrs. Harold Lawley, Advisor of the Pampa Club and a member of the Youth Committee of the Rebekah Assembly of Texas, was elected State Mother Advisor for the 1968-1969 term.

Deborah Lawley and Paula Kretzmeier both won Awards of Honor for saying the four Herald charges perfect with 1000 points.

While at Galveston, besides attending the Assembly, Pampans took the ferry across the channel to Texas City and visited the Sea-arama.

Each year they earn their expenses to the state meeting by selling products, having bake sales, rummage sales and making Christmas lamps.

At the meeting Shari Lawley served as Right Supporter to the Vice President, Diana Judd of Twin Pine Theta Rho Number 11 of Amarillo. Miss Judd was installed as president of the Theta Rho Assembly, June 8. The 1969 state meeting will be held at Wichita Falls.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a serious problem which I can't confide in anyone else, so I'm turning to you.

My son-in-law told me that he is "in love" with me. He is 21, and I am 36. My daughter (his wife) is 19 and she's a perfect doll. They have an adorable baby.

I don't know what this boy sees in me, although people do say my daughter and I look like sisters.

Abby, it would break my daughter's heart to know how her husband feels about me. And I don't even want to think of what my husband would do if he knew.

I am having a hard time keeping this boy away from me. He keeps trying to get me alone, and he drops in all the time (without my daughter). What should I do? I can't very well tell him he's not welcome.

GRANDMOM: DEAR GRANDMOM: Aw, come on, you certainly can. Just tell the boy that if he does not cut out the nonsense you'll turn him over your knee. If his attentions are really as unwelcome as you say, tell him off—and that should be the end of it.

DEAR ABBY: I don't know where to begin explaining my problem because it's been bothering me for about 15 years now, and it's not getting any better. If anything, it's getting worse.

I am always washing my hands because I have it in my head that everything I touch has germs. I'll bet I wash my hands 50 or 60 times a day.

If I have company, I can't wait until they leave so I can wash everything they have touched. I wash the door knobs and even the chairs they've sat on, then I go take a bath and wash my hair, even though I have bathed before they arrived. I just have to wash everything they've come into contact with or I don't feel clean.

TEXAS-STYLED—Ideal for HemsFair wear is the shirt-dress, here topped by an eye-let-ruffled cool cotton batiste bodice. Bright yellow patent belts the pleated skirt of navy cotton sailcloth.

I never go to funerals anymore because when I do, I hurry home to take a bath, wash my hair, wash all the clothes I have worn, (even my shoes!) and I send my dress to the cleaners. I even wash my car!

Have you ever heard of anything like this before? Abby, I really like people, but I stay away from them because of this thing I have about germs.

I am always washing my family because I am always after them (I have teen-age children) to wash the way I do, and they are getting tired of it. Can you help me? Or am I hopeless?

UNCLEAN

DEAR UNCLEAN: I have heard of others who have had the same problem, and it's not "hopeless." Confide in your family doctor. He will recommend someone who will try to help you get rid of those fears.

DEAR ABBY: My wife is always on my back about the old car we drive. It's 6 years old, but it runs as good as any of the newer ones.

Every time we go somewhere she points out this friend or that friend with a brand-new car. It bugs me. I need a good answer for her. Got any handy?

FLINT

DEAR FLINT: Here is one which should give you a lot of mileage: "Never judge a man by what he drives, but rather by what drives HIM."

DEAR ABBY: Please print my letter. It might keep some other girl from making the same mistake I made.

I went with a boy all semester. The only place he ever took me was out to park. He told me he loved me, and I flipped over him, but when it came time to ask a girl to the prom he asked another girl. I felt so hurt I wanted to die.

My girl friend asked him how come he didn't ask me, he said, "Oh she's okay for a make-out, but a guy likes to be seen in public with a girl he respects."

LEARNED A LESSON: Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700 Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped-self-addressed envelope.

CONFIDENTIAL TO C. C. K.: There are exceptions, of course, but the true index to a man's character can usually be found in the health of his wife.

THURS. JUNE 13
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Most everyone wants to break up existing conditions now without actually having anything new to go to. Therefore, make a point to refuse to get upset and to run without first having a complete new plan and place to go that is even more satisfactory than the present one that annoys.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Just forget out what is going on by contacting good friends early. You want to get some personal aim going, but this isn't quite the time. Some snooping around where a live interest is concerned is good, too.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Better recheck and see that all is being done right in that job you have promised to do. A charming bigwig gives you backing you want if you make a good showing.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — You have to have the slightest of consciousness now if you want to make that bigwig happy, otherwise you get the proverbial boot. Keep working on those new ideas. Your mind is keen; make good use of it.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — Although you feel that expert is a bit on the temperamental side get his aid for some plan that means an awful lot to you. If your mate is feeling touchy, don't add to the confusion. Be good.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) — Stop seeming uninterested where associates are concerned and get busy giving them real support. Then you get the results you want. Something comes up in the outside world you don't care about, but leave it alone right now.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) — While some other interest may seem more interesting, it's better you complete what you have started first. Just leave co-workers alone who are getting pretty annoying. Tend to your own knitting.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) — Relax and take it easy, even in business today — getting all worked up gets you absolutely nowhere. You can ward-off potential trouble simply by being charming. Have more faith in others.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) — you want to get those things done and easily at home, better talk matters over first with those who dwell under your roof. Advancement is very possible, but you have to study all angles first. Do not beam in until you are ready.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — If you permit others to cause you to drive faster than you should, talk out of turn, you could really get into a pickle now. Eradicate mistakes. Tell your mate to keep quiet if he, or she, gets on your nerves. You should have done it long ago.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Before you spend the money for that most extravagant article, run out to the bank and deposit it. An expert gives fine idea that grates on your ear, but later you know it's really fine. Go ahead with it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — So much is of interest around you now, but be sure to discriminate or a lack of will power could get you in very hot water. Don't give up that regular bread-and-butter job, either.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — You have to persevere patiently if you want to clear up that desk other work intelligently and speedily. Some information that an expert gives you can help to make present situations much better. Use it wisely.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he, or she, will be one of those young people who are literally born with wisdom and would do well in any trouble-shooting vocation, in the field of psychiatry, in government, etc. Be sure the stars are channeled in the right direction or the mind could go on a regular spree, depending upon the company that is kept.

Fashionably In or Out of the Swim

This is the summer when you can be out of the swim and still be in fashion.

Swimsuits take cover under coordinated swimdresses and come up looking as appropriate for town as for the beach. Some find shelter under romper-inspired jumpsuits. Others play it half-safe with sheer ruffled shirts. The result is total fashion in or out of the water.

As for the swimsuits themselves, there's a style for every figure. There's the bikini pared down to bare essentials; the modified two-piece suit with bandeau top and boy-leg shorts; and the one-piece style with tunic tailoring or soft draping.

Swimwear designers take note of fashion's focus on the waistline and bring back the belt. Tied, buckled, or chainlinked belts turn up on one-piece suits as well as the more covered two-piece versions.

The real fashion notes are in the fabrics and cotton in all its variations proves to be both seaworthy and worth seeing. Cotton swim fashions range from printed voiles to saucy gingham checks... from sturdy canvases to ribbed piques.

Flower prints and flower-colored solids are either demure and feminine, or bold and beachnik. They're in a whole garden range of colors, equally right for beach or poolside.

BEACH SET—Fashionable out of the swim is summer's newest cover-up: the beach dress. A stylized floral print in sheer cotton is the choice for the high-yoked dress with dainty rickrack trim. At right, its water-loving companion—a two-piece hipster suit in the same fabric with decorative button detail.

FEMININE—A chain of daisy appliques accents this dotted cotton bikini in size pink or brown. It comes with a matching coverup that's styled like a cobbler's apron. By DeWeese Designs of California.

A MATCHED PAIR—The belted look is back in swimwear for summer '68, and California Designer Bob Cunningham belts both the coverup and the one-piece swimsuit in this totally fashionable ensemble. Both are identically styled in dazzling white cotton pique with contrasting navy trim.

PANTS MAKE NEWS. Permanent press Dacron and cotton ensemble (left) is in cool lime with contrast zipper by Russ. There's smooth sailing ahead in the jaunty long-sleeve cotton knit turtleneck with stripes galore and white cotton knit pants (right).

Elegant Trousers Return To Make U.S. Style News

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA) — Pants are more important than ever since the emergence of the body shirt, the come-back of the blouse and the Bonnie and Clyde influence in fashion.

The tailored pantsuit is out. But pants by themselves make news with fuller legs, supple fabrics and when co-ordinated with flowing silk blouses or softly tailored shirts.

Not since George Sand has there been so much excitement created by trousers. There are pants to suit every mood and fancy. They come in all lengths to cover or uncover all legs. Short or long pants are emerging as one of the top fashion items for spring and summer.

The razz-ma-tazz of the '30s, the glamor, sophistication and aloofness of stars like Garbo and Dietrich, show up in wide leg, over-the-toe crepe pants. The Dietrich influence can be spotted in straight-cut cuffed linen designs. Flannel tells the Bonnie and Clyde story best.

Pants that don't really look like pants are for the more daring. The afternoon pantdress in crinkled voile and softly ruffled jabots spells fashion news. Organically dandy-shirts to be teamed with more shortpants and the finely tucked shantung pant-drindl add a chic elegance to the spring scene.

Pants, favorites with women for the last few years, are now updated and enhanced by the great variety and individuality that the incoming fashions offer.

Lamar Tech Golf Team Takes Lead

BEAUMONT, Tex. (UPI)—Lamar Tech, trying to become the first team to win back-to-back NCAA College Division golf titles, tore apart its home course Tuesday and opened up a 15-stroke lead in the NCAA College championship.

The Cardinals played the dual role of defending champion and host over the 6,800-yard Tyrrell Park Course.

Lamar Tech used its familiarity with the course to good advantage by firing a 13-under-par team total of 275. The Cardinals took the first three places in individual scores and tied for the fourth.

Mike Nugent and Mike Garrison tied for the first round individual lead with 5-under-par 67s. Teammate Mike Miller shot a two-under-par 70 for third place and another Lamar Tech golfer, Jimmy Singletary, was tied for fourth at one-under-par 71.

The closest team was Middle Tennessee State, 15 strokes back at a two-over-par 290. East Tennessee State was third at 295 and Illinois State University was fourth at 298.

A second round of 18 holes was scheduled today in the tournament which ends Friday.

The top 10 individual golfers will be eligible for the NCAA University Division tournament next week at Las Cruces, N.M.

Lamar Tech won last year's title by 19 strokes at the tournament in Paducah, Ky.

SIGN DRAFT

DETROIT (UPI)—Elliot Maddox, the Big Ten's leading hitter this season, signed Tuesday with the Detroit Tigers.

The 19-year-old Maddox was the Tigers No. 1 selection in the secondary phase of the free agent draft. The University of Michigan star, who played high school ball in Union, N.J., had a .467 batting average.

Twenty-Third Annual Season—May 18-Sept 2

Off The Top

By WES DUMONT
Pampa News Sports Editor

GOOD START

At the early stage, how does the Pampa American Legion baseball team rate in the fight for the district title?

Our prediction is that the Rebels will finish with a winning record. How far they will go depends on so many unpredictable factors that this column will not hazard a guess on their exact finish.

However, basically, they played well in their first game and their pitching was surprisingly good for this early in the season.

George Bailey won his first game of the season, despite the fact that he had not played high school baseball. Reliever Al Gomez hurled equally well and was very effective when the chips were down and men were on bases.

Neither Bailey or Gomez played high school baseball this year. Yet, both pitched effectively.

The Rebels committed two errors but neither were costly. Second baseman Larry Turcotte, who was the batting star with an inside-the-park home run into center field, turned in an outstanding field play in the top of the seventh inning.

Center fielder Steve Summers, son of baseball coach Lloyd Summers, got two singles in four trips to the plate to lead the hitting on both clubs.

Six hitters on the Rebel team—John Jenkins, Alvin Achord, Larry Turcotte, Steve Summers, Tommy Hawkins and Larry Kotara—all got hits with Turcotte's home run the longest effective one.

Perryton, which has no high school baseball team, had the advantage of playing a previous practice game. The Rebels had their practice tilt postponed because of wet grounds.

Perhaps, the turning point of the contest was when Al Gomez, who allowed only one walk, bore down in the fifth inning when Perryton loaded the bases on three straight walks.

Center fielder Richard Traylor, who had hit hard to center field in his first trip to bat, slugged one into right field which went foul by inches and we mean inches. If the ball had been fair, it would have easily resulted in two runs and possibly three. That would have made the contest, at best, 5-4, in favor of Pampa and Perryton might have gained the momentum for a win.

After the Wheeler contest on Wednesday, Pampa will travel for two road games. The Rebels meet Amarillo Saturday night at 6:30 at Amarillo, then play Dumas Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

It will be an interesting season for the Rebels, win or lose. They have a ball club which might take the title despite the predictions of so-called experts who predict otherwise.

ODDS AND ENDS: The Perryton-Pampa American Legion baseball game was broadcast by a Perryton radio station.

However, radio station director Warren Hasse, who broadcasts all the Pampa high school baseball games and keeps extensive records on their play, will not broadcast

Rebels Play Wheeler In Second Contest

Righthander Jerry Heasley has been selected the starting hurler when the Pampa American Legion baseball team plays the Wheeler American Legion baseball club here tonight. Game time is 8:15.

It will be the second game for the Rebels who scored five runs in the fourth inning and then added two more tallies in the sixth frame to ease by Perryton, 7-2, in their home opener here Wednesday night.

Coach Lloyd Summers has two other righthanders ready to go in relief roles should Heasley falter. They are George Bailey and Al Gomez, the combination who pitched so effectively in the initial win over Perryton.

Neither Heasley, Gomez or Bailey played high school baseball although the latter two hurled well in their initial outing.

Travis Lively Jr., manager of the Pampa team, announced today that he would reschedule the Spearman-Pampa game at a later date.

Lively said he would inform the newspaper of the change when negotiated so that fans could be aware of the new date for the game.

The Spearman-Pampa baseball contest was postponed Sunday afternoon because of heavy rains here in Pampa.

Pampa is now 1-0 in league play and for the season.

Assistant coach Joe Achord will take over the reins of the Pampa American Legion team when the Rebels face Dumas there on Sunday afternoon. Head Coach Lloyd Summers has to work on Sunday so he will be unable to watch his team in action.

No admission will be charged for the contest although fans may contribute to the American Legion program when a collection is taken at the ball park.

Arnold Talks Of Winning U.S. Open

By MILTON RICHMAN
ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI)—Old soldiers never die and neither does that celebrated general of "Arnie's Army," who is sharpening his old sand iron for another charge at the U.S. Open title and even talks about winning it, too.

Arnold Palmer is 38, has been bothered by a bad hip recently and hasn't won a tournament in four months, but don't write him off yet.

He has a lot of sand traps to cross here at the rolling Oak Hill Country Club—61, to be exact—but he feels up to the task and believes he can win this one "if I can get things moving" despite the fact the oddsmakers do not.

They have made placid, completely-relaxed Billy Casper the all-alone favorite, and defending champion Jack Nicklaus the second choice, none of which bothers Palmer a bit.

Cincy Trades Milt Pappas

By DAVID M. MOFFITT
UPI Sports Writer
ATLANTA (UPI)—The Cincinnati Reds have resolved their feud with pitcher Milt Pappas by trading the controversial righthander to the Atlanta Braves.

The Reds and Braves pulled off a six-player deal Tuesday night that brings Pappas, lefthanded reliever Ted Davidson and veteran utility infielder Bob Johnson to Atlanta in exchange for righthanded pitcher Tony Cloninger and Clay Carroll and former second baseman Woody Woodward.

Pappas was traded less than 72 hours after he resigned as the Reds' player representative following an argument because the Reds decided to go ahead with their Saturday night game with St. Louis even though Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's burial hadn't taken place.

Pappas was the spokesman for a group of players who wanted to wait but who agreed to play after Reds' Manager Dave Bristol found nine who were willing to go ahead.

Braves Manager Luman Harris was delighted with the trade. He had been a coach at Baltimore when Pappas, now 29, joined the Orioles as an 18-year-old prospect.

"He's always been a late starter each year," Harris said. "He had a bad spring last year, yet wound up with 16 wins. I just hope it holds true again this year since he can really help us."

To get Pappas, the Braves admittedly took a gamble on Cloninger. The ace of the Braves in 1965 when he won 24 games, the 27-year-old Cloninger has been plagued by injuries the past couple of years. He was only 4-7 in 1967 and 1-3 so far this year.

Pappas was 2-5 with the Reds this spring. But his lifetime record is 140-103 and before being traded to Cincinnati after the 1965 season, he set Oriole

BOB FOSTER, who recently lifted the light-heavyweight boxing crown from Dick Tiger, is a possibility as the next heavyweight champion, according to Morris Salow, his manager.

Fined Player's Double Aids Five Run Rally

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer

Rusty Staub has class—both on and off the field.

Sunday, for Staub was a time to mourn, and Tuesday was a time to play again. He did both things with equal grace.

Staub, who was fined a day's pay—about $250—by Houston for sitting out Sunday's game in deference to the memory of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, made a spectacular return to the Astros' lineup Tuesday night. He stroked a two-run double to climax a five-run second inning which lifted the Astros to a 5-1 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

General Manager Spec Richardson of the Astros had ordered the team to play Sunday despite the protest of the players claiming, "Kennedy would have wanted us to play!"

But on Tuesday, both Staub and teammate Bob Aspromonte, who also refused to play, received telegrams from Kennedy's press secretary, Frank Mankiewicz, which thanked them for their public display of sympathy. Milt Pappas of the Reds, just traded to the Braves Maury Wills of the Pirates and the New York Mets received telegrams, too.

Message Commends Action

The telegram said, "Please accept my personal admiration for your actions. Senator Kennedy indeed loved competitive sports but I doubt that he would have put box-office receipts ahead of national mourning under any circumstances."

After Tuesday night's game, Staub said, "I was pleased and honored today to receive the telegram from the Kennedys."

"I loved that man and that family and felt very deep in here (he tapped his heart) about it. I have received calls and gotten letters from all over the country. It is very gratifying."

He concluded, "I just went out there to play ball today, it's all over. There are some things to be said that are best unsaid."

Aspromonte started the second inning rally with a walk. Bateman's double, Larry Dierker's single and Ron Davis' sacrifice fly produced three runs and after Denis Menke walked Staub doubled in the final two runs.

Dierker pitched a seven-hitter to pick up the victory.

Elsewhere in the National League, St. Louis blanked Atlanta 6-0, Cincinnati outlasted Chicago 9-7, New York shut out Los Angeles 3-0 and Pittsburgh outslugged San Francisco 7-4.

Tigers Win Two

In the American League, the Detroit Tigers stretched their American League lead to 4 1/2 games by sweeping Minnesota 3-1 and 3-2. Oakland blanked Cleveland 2-0 in a game halted by rain in the sixth inning. Chicago topped New York 9-5, and Baltimore blasted Washington 8-4. The California-Boston game was rained out.

Snyder Slugs Grand Slammer For 9-5 Win

By JOE GERGEN
UPI Sports Writer

A grand gesture by Russ Snyder resulted in still another by the Chicago White Sox.

Snyder, a veteran outfielder in his first season with the White Sox, slugged the first grand slam homer of his 10-year career Tuesday night in a 9-5 victory over the New York Yankees, touching off a regal ceremony in the Chicago dressing room.

Snyder, who had failed to drive in a run in 36 previous games, was treated with all the pomp of a visiting monarch as he stepped into the clubhouse. Spread before him was a carpet of white towels stretching from the doorway to his locker and the path was framed by an arch of baseball bats held aloft by his teammates.

Snyder, whose batting average was a peanut-sized .125 entering the game, enjoyed his first moment in the spotlight since being dealt by the Baltimore Orioles last winter.

Scores Five

Snyder drove in a fifth run in the ninth after he climaxed the White Sox' five-run third inning by greeting relief pitcher Bill Monbouquette with a line drive into the lower right field seats.

St. Louis stretched its National League lead by winning its 10th straight game from Atlanta over the past two seasons. Bob Gibson set down the Braves on five hits to gain his sixth victory in 11 decisions.

Tony Perez highlighted an 18-hit Cincinnati attack with two singles and a homer to drive in four runs and pace the rout of the Cubs. The four RBIs boosted his National League leading figure to 39. Reds' reliever Billy McCool won the game.

Dick Selma boosted his record to 6-0 with a five-hitter as the Mets turned back the Dodgers. Bill Mazerowski drove in three runs with a pair of singles to pace Pittsburgh past San Francisco. Roberto Clemente hit his eighth homer for the Pirates in the sixth inning to tie the game 3-3 and start a four-run rally that decided things. Ron Kline, 4-1, took the victory in relief.

Griffith Wins Split Decision

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—Former middleweight kin Emile Griffith today was back on the road that could lead him to a fourth meeting with the current champ, Italy's Nino Benvenuti.

Griffith won a split decision over Andy Heilman Tuesday night in a rugged 12-round bout at Oakland Coliseum Arena.

The victory assured Griffith of a July 8 bout in Philadelphia against unbeaten Gypsy Joe Harris. The winner of that one gets a title shot, according to New York matchmaker Teddy Brenner.

Griffith and Heilman both weighed 157 1/2 for their go here. There were no knockdowns in the action, but Griffith staggered Heilman with a right in the 10th stanza, Griffith's best round.

Judge Elmer Costa called it 4 and Johnny Lotsey 8-3 for Griffith. But referee Vern Bybee called it 5-5.

Fishing Fair At Marvin

Despite rainy weather over the weekend, fishing seemed to be fair at Lake Marvin.

Several good catches were reported to lake officials John Barnett, Canadian, Benny Martin, Dickie James, George Flaherty, C. E. Settle, all of Pampa, L. E. Jenkins, Panhandle, and Rey Sons, McClean, seemed to be leading the fishing brigade. They caught a total of 19 bass and channel catfish weighing between 1 to 1 1/4 lbs. each.

Quick-handed Griffith who always landed more than he took. Heilman seemed to lose a lot of zip from the fifth round on after early body punches slowed down the San Pedro, Calif., battler.

Griffith now has a 55-9 record while Heilman is 40-4.

Larry Wright, Canadian, caught the largest fish which was a 15 inch 2 lb. channel catfish. Larry also caught several nice bass.

Harold Johnson and family and Mrs. Leroy Cunningham all of Amarillo caught 1 1/2 lb. channel catfish.

The fishermen among many more were drenched with rain and pounded with golf-ball size hail, but remained the weekend to continue their fishing.

Lake Marvin, 14 miles northeast of Canadian, opened for fishing June 1 and reported more than 500 fishing permits were sold opening weekend. Nick Johnson of Canadian won the tackle box offered for the heaviest fish with a 2 lb. black bass.

Out of state visitors were reported from as far away as Washington State, Ohio, and Minnesota, as well as Kansas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

The Jobs Are Waiting

Behind the highly propagandized figures on poverty, thousands of jobs across the length and breadth of the land are going begging. As the "poor" converge on Washington, demanding that the government tax those who work to reward those who won't, employers almost everywhere are begging for workers.

What a commentary on a once proud United States of America!

A check across the country, says an article in U.S. News & World Report, shows unskilled, as well as skilled, jobs are waiting for applicants. "Employers are flooding newspapers with help-wanted ads. Jobs go begging."

Statements made in the U.S. News & World Report article were backed up by statistics and charts compiled by the National Industrial Conference Board and the U.S. Department of Labor. Yet, in spite of this information readily available to both the President and Congress and the chaotic financial condition of the government, the administration and a compliant Congress, apparently intend to continue pouring billions of tax and inflation dollars into the "poverty program."

One would think that men and women physically capable of marching and demonstrating would also be capable of accepting work when available and earning an honest living. What seems to be in short supply, is the desire to work and earn.

Joe Brown, Houston official of Manpower Inc. of that city, put it like this: "Our only requirements are that a man have a desire to put in an honest day's work and that he be at least 18. Unfortunately, many fall short on the desire to put in the day's work," he said.

Another Houston employment official, the article continued, said that all kinds of unskilled labor was needed. The jobs are there and begging to be filled, he said; but missing, were individuals willing to accept them.

Making Haste Sanely

A tire maker and a precision instrument manufacturer in West Germany carried out an interesting experiment recently.

They took two identical cars, reports the Ontario Department of Transport, and fitted them with instruments which registered every driving detail during a trip of almost 1,000 miles from Hamburg to Rimini on the Italian coast. More than half the distance was over expressway type routes.

One driver was told to make the best time he could, to pass when it was safe and to take bends at the maximum possible speed. The second driver was told to take it easy, to avoid any risk and to move as the traffic flow permitted.

Result: After almost 1,000 miles, the speedometer finished only 31 minutes ahead of the relaxed driver. Taking every advantage, he averaged less than 50 m.p.h. He was behind the

Loyalty Day

An individual who regularly reads the newspapers might believe that it is "fashionable" to be anti-American. Yet many citizens are not interested in what the mass media consider fashionable. They are eager to display their love of country, and they did so on Loyalty Day, April 27.

It was observed in most cities by veterans' groups, who wanted to prove that patriotism is not dead in Republic U. S. A. In many cities, Loyalty Day has been made an annual event.

This year the annual Loyalty Day parade in New York City drew over 5,000 marchers. In Chicago, an estimated 15,000 persons marched down State Street in a 70-minute parade. In Philadelphia, 8,000 persons participated. Similar parades were held in Seattle and Pittsburgh.

One Houston employer, the article related, needed 75 laborers to complete a deadline scheduled construction job. He offered wages of $3 an hour. Just seven men, out of the 75 needed, even bothered to make application.

In city after city the story was essentially the same. Only in Detroit, said the article, did job demand exceed supply; and even there, reading between the lines, "unemployment compensation" seemed to be working to keep job and worker apart.

In New York City alone, 27,000 unfilled jobs were reported by the State Department of Labor. These, for the most part, were not scorned menial positions but, according to U.S. News & World Report, "white-collar jobs, including professional, technical, clerical and sales."

In Chicago, Paul Sheldon, president of Monarch Personnel, Inc., said his firm had job openings "coming out of our ears." No takers!

A. J. Altmeier, head of the Illinois State Employment Services, had much the same story. "There are plenty of openings," he said. "There is a big shortage of workers, even unskilled ones."

Back in New York City, Steve Becker, of the Phoenix Employment Agency, reported "a couple of hundred unskilled jobs on my desk and nobody to fill them." Industry, he added, is pleading for people and experience, in many cases, is not necessary.

So and on, over and over, the story was the same. In Los Angeles, in San Francisco, in state after state and city after city jobs are going begging. "And the help-wanted columns of the newspapers," the U.S. News & World Report article concluded, "continue to bulge with offers."

So, one is constrained to ask, other than political propaganda and a vote-getting gambit, just what is all this "poverty" stuff, anyhow?

The slow driver braked 652 times (with no emergency stops, passed 645 times and was passed 142 times. His driving time was 20 hours, 43 minutes.

Experienced drivers from West Germany's biggest motoring club were skeptical and tried a test on their own on an 800-mile run from Cologne to the Brenner Pass.

In this test, the fast car took 16 hours, 52 minutes; the slow took 21 minutes longer.

In both tests, besides risking his life, the fast driver paid a penalty of about 10 more gallons of gasoline, plus obvious wear on his brakes, tires, suspension and engine.

Need a moral be stated?

American patriots should be proud of those who organized and took part in Loyalty Day observances. At this time America is under attack both at home and abroad for precisely those things which have made our country great: the safeguarding of liberty and resistance to tyranny. We need many more citizens who are willing to show that they still believe in the principles on which this country was founded.

On the same day, anti-American demonstrations were held in many cities. Those who participated in these demonstrations claim to believe in "peace" and "freedom." Yet if those who agree with them were in control here, neither peace nor freedom would exist. It is to be hoped that Loyalty Day will become an annual occurrence in many more cities—and towns.

PINE TREE FEATURES

HOW'S YOUR SIGNAL SYSTEM?

I was driving along the highway the other evening and cars were weaving in and out of traffic, their signal lights blinking to indicate a change of lanes. A teenager in the car with me asked, "Why do the tail lights of the cars ahead start to blink once in a while?"

I explained the process of letting other drivers know your intention prior to your action. Then I illustrated the procedure with my own vehicle. "Why, that's really marvelous," observed my passenger. "You really are communicating with all the other drivers, aren't you?"

I had never thought of it quite that way before, but it was an accurate statement. And the more I pondered it, the more meaningful it became. Of course, there are various types of accidents that can and do occur on the highways. But I wonder how many happen simply because some driver fails to communicate his intentions. When you've driven for many years you develop a sort of communicative sense about the vehicles with which you share highway space. Even if signal lights are neglected, you get to sense something of a driver's intention from the attitude of his car. I don't know how to put it into words with precision, but something in the speed, the position of the car in the lane, acceleration and deceleration, and possibly even a glimpse of another driver's face, give you all kinds of information and usually it is fairly accurate. Experienced drivers develop this sense concerning the intentions of other drivers. Truly good drivers take pains to see that their intentions are communicated to others in every way possible.

From that bit of reflection, I turned quite logically into a line of thought relating to human behavior outside of moving vehicles. I began to wonder if some of the animosity we have in the world, which leads us into law courts and prisons and even into political disputes and wars, may not arise out of a simple failure to communicate our intentions to others with sufficient skill. I believe, for instance, that the truth is always desirable. If you are going to communicate with another, you ought to come as close to the truth as you can. It's the only thing that means much.

Think of what would happen on the highways if drivers attempted to deceive other drivers. Suppose they lied. They would signal for a right turn and then turn left. Or they'd indicate that they propose to accelerate and, instead, would stop suddenly. We can instantly visualize the kind of catastrophe that would ensue.

But isn't this the very practice in which many of us indulge from day to day when we are not driving? It seems we don't want our immediate neighbors to know just what our intentions are. So we develop imperturbability and our faces are trained to reveal nothing. And if someone asks us what we plan to do, we evade or in some cases positively deceive.

For many years I've maintained the view that no one has an obligation to communicate private business and even on the highway my destination and my motivation remain private insofar as other drivers are concerned.

But if I have any sense, I'm certainly going to communicate important data to other drivers about my immediate intentions. It's none of their business. But how can they keep from taking actions that would positively harm me, if I don't let them know some things, at least?

And so it seems to me with daily events, I still accept the view that I'm under no obligation to communicate certain things to anyone. But if I wish others to have due regard for me, and hence avoid becoming problems to me, I might at least communicate to them my immediate intentions so that they can detect at once that I mean them no harm, but merely propose to act in such and such a way.

Having gone this far in my reflections, I thought of the many people I know. And suddenly it hit me. Most of the men and women I know who are outstanding, who have

Private Talks — Only Hope for Effective Negotiations On Vietnam Peace — Still Getting Silent Red Veto

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Hope of getting anywhere in the so-far fruitless Vietnam peace talks rests primarily on one thing—private deliberations.

Until and unless Hanoi's emissaries will meet on unpublicized sessions to seriously discuss substantive issues, the Paris negotiations will continue to be merely propaganda antics. As long as the practice of announced meetings prevails, there will be no progress.

Secret conferences offer the only prospect of accomplishment.

The chances for that are wholly conjectural.

To date the Communists have been completely unresponsive to all efforts to arrange such get-togethers. They have blandly shrugged off repeated overtures and soundings; saying neither yes nor no.

In effect, this persistent silence has been the same as rejection. What the Reds have done is turn a deaf ear without actually saying no.

Whether the appearance of Le Duc Tho, seventh ranking North Vietnam Communist, means a change in attitude remains to be seen. It's anyone's guess and Ambassador Averell Harriman is warily not making any.

The head of the U.S. delegations has reported to President Johnson there has been no clue as to what Tho is up to—if anything.

His widely publicized attendance in Paris may be just another diversionary stratagem to stall for more time while Hanoi further escalates its build-up and ferociously destructive fighting in Saigon and other population centers in South Vietnam.

This moot point was raised at a White House briefing the President arranged for congressional leaders during Am-important and responsible jobs, who are getting things done, have developed this business of communication with their contemporaries to a fine art. They don't necessarily wear their hearts on their sleeves, but they are outgoing enough to create a sense of ease when you are in their company. You know they won't harm you. You know they are ve-/ active. And you can gain much in any communicative exchange, for they don't hesitate to tell you something of themselves, what they're doing, and how they propose to do it.

And it's truly astonishing how people virtually elbow their way into the presence of such people and vie with each other in trying to provide assistance for them. Possibly, loneliness and misunderstanding is the chronic malady of the human species. If we ever learn to communicate with others as well as we communicate with strangers on the highway, we may be able to resolve many of our problems and our misunderstandings.

bassador Cyrus Vance's visit to make a first-hand report. General Earle Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, also attended and was asked by a top senator:

"In view of the enemy's heavy reinforcing in the South, how long can we continue to limit our bombing of the North while Hanoi's delegates stall and propagandize in Paris?"

The answer to your question, replied Wheeler, "revolves around three determining factors: (1) The mood and temper of the American people; (2) The ability of General Abrams (Westmoreland's successor) to cope with the steadily increasing enemy build-up; (3) The progress or lack of it at the Paris peace talks."

Another legislative leader asked Vance if the widespread French strikes and disturbances had any effect on the negotiations.

"None at all," he said. "And I can also tell you that the De Gaulle government is meticulously keeping its hands off."

RAGS TO RICHES — For UN Secretary General U Thant, being elevated to that lofty job meant finding the legendary pot of gold at the end of the rainbow—tax free!

Before becoming Secretary General, the Burmese diplomat, whose persistent hostile carping at the U.S. is in striking contrast to his silence about Communist aggression and terrorism, was getting $530 a month as his country's representative at the United Nations.

As Secretary General, he is paid $5,000 a year salary, $6,300 a year "post adjustments", $22,500 representation (expense) allowance, and $15,000 rent allowance — total $93,800, tax free.

This revealing information was brought about by Rep. John Rooney, D-N. Y., chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee in charge of the State Department's budget. During the testimony of assistant Secretary William Bundy, Rooney directed him to submit a comparison of U Thant's previous and current income, remarking:

"U Thant is constantly sticking his nose into areas of our foreign policy in which he has no business. It seems to me he is so eager to get some personal publicity that he behaves like a man who never amounted to very much until he got the UN job."

Bundy demurred — discreetly and mildly.

"I am sure U Thant had high standing in his country as a career diplomat," he said. "Now, of course, he is a world figure. I think he is basically sincere, although I do not agree with him by any means."

"I should think not," snapped Rooney.

PATRIOTIC DOVE — Senator J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., who rents the air-frequently and loudly assailing the war against Communist aggression in Vietnam, is displaying a new symbol of his staunch Americanism. The ardently dovish head of the Foreign Relations Committee, is sporting a new green $6,000 foreign-made auto — of which apparently is very proud as he is tooting it all over Washington.

Meanwhile, Fulbright is busy pulling wires lining up support for an unfavorable report by his committee on the House-passed bill to bar large-scale dumping in the U.S. of Egyptian extra-long staple cotton. This measure, sponsored by Senators Clinton Anderson and Joseph Montoya, D-N.M. was approved by the Senate Agriculture Committee by 8 to 7 vote. But before it could be taken up by the full Senate, Fulbright with the assistance of Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., had the measure referred to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, while Montoya was in the hospital recovering from a lung operation and Anderson was in New Mexico. When they scathingly denounced this Parliamentary skullduggery Fulbright promised not to bottle up the bill. But it's still tied up in his committee.

The election of Arnulfo Arias, long bitterly anti-U.S., as president of Panama, means finish for the laboriously negotiated treaty for a new canal there.

Neither country has ratified the pact, and with Arias as president it is certain to be repudiated by him — which will be entirely agreeable to powerful opponents of the agreement in Congress.

PREPARING FOR TROUBLE — A battalion of military police and other units of the District of Columbia's National Guard have been quietly ordered to active duty starting June 16 — expiration date of the "poor people's" shantytown near the Lincoln Monument.

Also directed to be ready for duty in the capital then is a battalion of air-borne troops stationed in nearby Ft. Meade, Md., since the costly April riots.

The unannounced National Guard call-up is being backed in the guise of a training exercise. Significantly, it not only starts June 16, when presumably the Poor People's camp is to be vacated, but extends to June 24, well past the June 19 date proclaimed by Bayard Rustin, veteran organizer of mass turnouts, for a "Massive national mobilization" in Washington.

So far, the White House has given no indication what will be done about closing down the Poor People's camp. Congressional leaders who have made inquiries have been told no decision has yet been reached.

Leaders of the "Poor People's Campaign" are truculent in declaring intention to resist eviction. They avow determination to remain in the capital until Congress meets their demands. Aim of top congressional leaders is to wind up the session by the end of July, shortly before the national convention in August.

America Sadly in Need Of A Spiritual Revival

By PAUL HARVEY
"Let us, for God's sake, learn to live under law!"
With those words the President of the United States responded to the assassination of Sen. Robert Kennedy.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: Several times I have heard respected anti-Communists state that "atheism is communism," or that "if a person doesn't believe in God, he's a communist." Isn't there some inconsistency to these statements when applied to a great exponent of private enterprise and individualism as atheist Ayn Rand (as evidenced by her book, "Atlas Shrugged")? Isn't it true that many of our country's forefathers came to this country for greater freedom from tyranny or chastisement of their religious or political beliefs?

ANSWER: We believe those who made such statements are in error. In the first place, Communists are not necessarily atheists, since they do worship God, the state may not recognize the Judeo-Christian God, but they recognize the state as the grantor of all that is good, just as do some other state worshippers.

Atheism and communism are not synonymous. The opposite of atheism is belief in a Supreme Being or Supreme Power. The opposite of communism is individualism. An individualist may be a Christian, a Jew, a Moslem or an Objectivist, which Miss Rand calls herself.

We once heard a Christian minister deny that Ayn Rand was an atheist. He contended that since she recognized certain basic and universal rules of conduct, she could not be an atheist. He said one might call Miss Rand an agnostic, but not an atheist.

But if one wants to accept the statement that Miss Rand is an atheist as true, still the things she advocates and does are the antithesis of communism.

Through the centuries there has been an inclination to call persons atheists or worse if their religious beliefs did not conform to the generally accepted beliefs. At times the non-conformists even have been persecuted. It is true that many of the early settlers in America came to these shores to practice their own brand of religion. The Pilgrims were a prime example. Yet some of the same people then attempted to force their brand of religion on others.

chance of this Congress enacting the demands of the demonstrators.

Meanwhile Washington businessmen are increasingly clamoring for more protection against crime, violence and constant demonstrations. They are citing the pronounced drop in tourists and trade.

William Calomiris, head of the Metropolitan Washington Board of Trade in a telegram to President Johnson, asked that troops be brought back to the capital.

"It is essential that the number of law enforcement personnel be augmented immediately," Calomiris declared. "We urge that the appropriate officials be directed that this be done forthwith. The need is now and we have to find some way to deal with it. As far as I am concerned, that means military police and other troops — until adequate police can be provided. That is the policy of our Board."

PREDICTIONS — This Congress will do nothing about President Johnson's politically motivated proposal to lower the voting age to 18. There is absolutely no likelihood. Congress will approve such a constitutional amendment. . . . At the end of the current fiscal year June 30, interest on the national debt will reach an all-time record-high of $14.5 billion. That will be $1.1 billion more than June 30 last year. . . . Senator Robert Byrd, D-W. Va. will become chairman of the appropriations committee in charge of the budgets for health, education, welfare and labor. Now chairman of the appropriations subcommittee in charge of the District of Columbia budget, Byrd, deputy floor leader, will move up to take over the appropriations chairmanship vacated by retiring Senator Lister Hill, D-Ala.

But President Johnson was talking about all manner and all degrees of violence — on campuses, in public buildings, on main streets — and dark side streets.

The statement and the events which inspired it should have a sobering effect on all rational men. Now we have seen so graphically the inevitably ugly results of disrespect for law — surely rational men will sober up and cease and desist from the small crimes which lead to big ones.

What of the irrational persons inevitably included in our conglomerate sardine society? Sirhan Bishara Sirhan entered our "melting pot" but did not melt. He retained a fanatical allegiance to his mother country, Jordan.

Lee Harvey Oswald, at least for a while, let his responsibility to his homeland be superceded by a distorted preoccupation with Castro's Cuba.

What I'm saying is that a presidential commission designated to determine what causes violence is going to seek a rational explanation for the behavior of irrational persons, and there is none.

I recall during the height of the national controversy over Sen. Joe McCarthy my own life was threatened.

Scheduled to speak in a certain Southwestern town, I arrived to discover an extraordinary escort of police at the airport and FBI agents guarding my hotel corridor.

These precautions, resulting from receipt of an unsigned postcard, I found embarrassing. I telephoned FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. "Anybody intending to shoot me is not going to send me a warning," I protested.

Director Hoover's response was firm: "You can't rationalize what an irrational person is likely to do!"

He went on to explain that if the protection were to be withdrawn — then anything should happen — the bureau would be in trouble for ignoring the warning. The guards remained.

I relate the experience only to underscore the problem facing the President's new commission as it undertakes to explain or anticipate what an Oswald or Sirhan is likely to do.

When the investigators have done their best, have piled more laws on laws vainly trying to provide salvation by legislation. Americans may then recognize that the only way out is up; that the change must be made in the hearts of men.

Our beloved republic, born in pain out of a spiritual God-man wedding, has backslid so far that it now must be born again, one individual at a time.

We don't need more laws. All we need is renewed respect for the basic Ten. If to a sophisticated generation it sounds "corny" to propose spiritual regeneration, so be it.

This generation will accept the narrow gate to heaven — or live in hell right here.

I see where Hubert "The Humph" is going to walk away with the nomination on the first ballot. Anyways, it looks that way. If you can talk only in vague generalities you have got a good chance of being nominated to some office.

Humph didn't have any talent for the drug store business. I guess he could roll pills but he couldn't get the hang of making chicken salad, he should have tried ham.

So, once you're a failure at everything else there's nothing left but trying to be first over the fence and into the political ring. That's where they keep the bull.

Humph has already made it known what his campaign is going to be & it is the same old gaff of "sweetness and light" with a few subbeams thrown in. He ought to set it to music. Humph is going to be a stand-in for Elbee Jay. Politicians are held together by bad habits.

He says he doesn't see any break in the policies of the crepe Society. So if you want more and more of the same, only more so, I guess "The Humph" is your man. O, for the good old days when I was hungry but happy.

Commission Is Urged To Take 'Penetrating Look' At America

By HELEN THOMAS
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The pressing questions have been posed.

Now comes the difficult part: Determining whether there is merit in Johns Hopkins University and brother of "something in the environment of American society" that produces violence.

That in essence was the assignment President Johnson handed Monday to his new 10-member National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence.

At a White House meeting with the members, the President signed an executive order giving the panel its official title, providing it with money and a staff, and giving it a year to report back on its findings and suggested remedies.

Johnson announced creation of the commission last Wednesday after the shooting of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in Los Angeles. And while that act was not mentioned at the Monday meeting, the President's clear mandate was to determine whether there are basic flaws in the American way of life which give rise to such political murder.

Flanked at either end of the Cabinet room by bronze busts of two assassinated presidents, John F. Kennedy and Abraham Lincoln, Johnson urged the members to make a "penetrating search" that will benefit not only America but other countries at a time when violence is an "international phenomenon."

Beginning with Chairman Milton S. Eisenhower, president former President Eisenhower, Johnson went around the table extracting from each member promises to go to work immediately without prejudging the issues.

Johnson suggested the commission explore, among other things, these questions: —Is there something in the environment of American society or the structure of our institutions that causes disrespect for law, contempt for the rights of others and incidents of violence? If there is, how can we correct it?

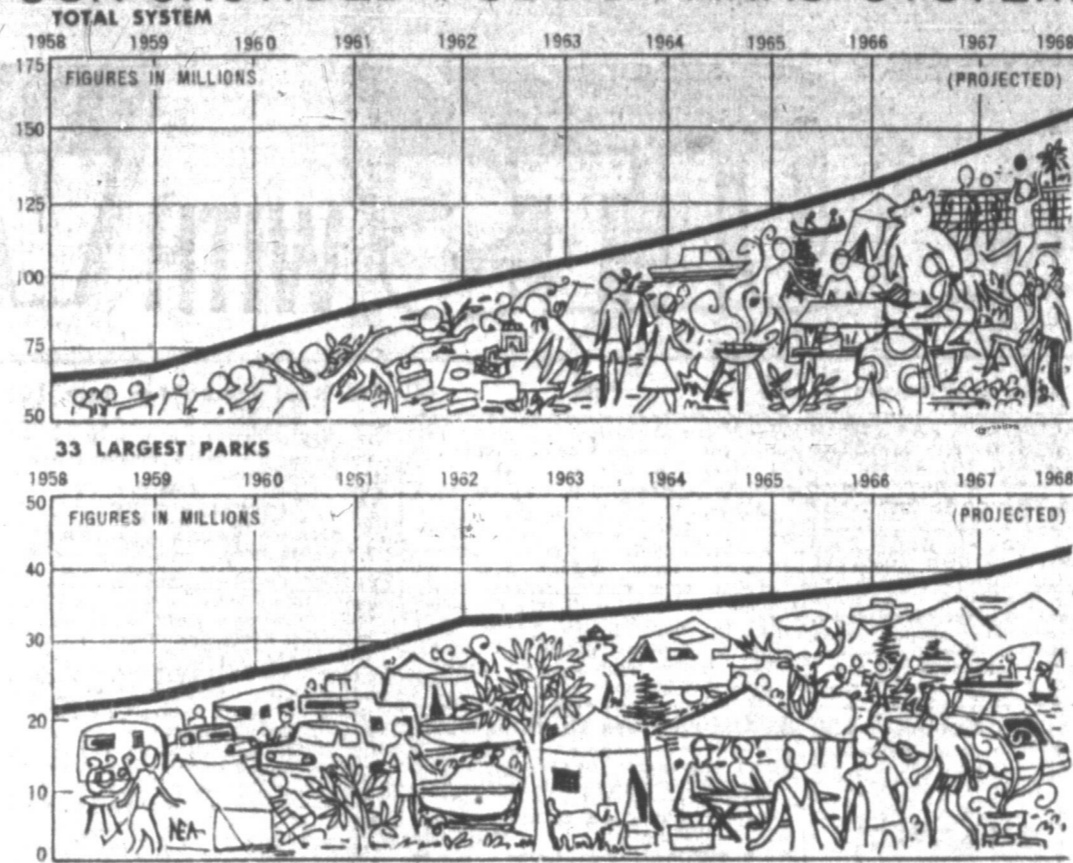

—Has permissiveness toward extreme behavior in our society encouraged an increase in violence? —Are the seeds of violence nurtured through the public airwaves, the screens of neighborhood theaters, the news media and other forms of communications that reach the family and our youth?

—Is violence a contagious phenomenon? To the extent that it is, are there ways we can reduce the contagion?

—What is the relationship between mass disruption of public order and individual acts of violence?

The President also asked whether debate in a democracy—presumably he included presidential candidates—now calls for less physical contact with the public.

OUR CROWDED PUBLIC PARKS SYSTEM

Traffic lights may become standard fixtures in our national parks soon if the number of visitors continues to increase at the rate of recent years. The wide-open spaces are quickly getting crowded with, in recent years, lines of cars often waiting to enter the most popular parks. The flow of visitors to the entire park system—currently 266 facilities in all, including everything from the big woods to the White House and Arlington National Cemetery—has climbed 150 per cent since 1958. Visitors to the 33 major parks such as Yellowstone, Glacier and Yosemite are up 100 per cent for the same decade.

SECTS RIOT

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Three persons were killed when police opened fire on a crowd of 600 rioting religious rivals in the town of Ghazipur, 40 miles from the Hindu holy city of Benares, officials said Tuesday. The rioting between the Shia and Sunni sects broke out Monday.

GOOD NEWS

Belgian table linen is now being treated with a soil release finish which will be a boon in keeping nice tablecloths looking nice longer. Soon to be added will be durable press.

SAFE LANDING

LONDON (UPI)—A Pan American World Airways jetliner with 103 persons on board landed safely at London's Heathrow airport on a flight from New York after developing hydraulic failure in the landing gear. The Boeing 707 circled the airport for an hour while the landing gear was lowered by hand.

Summer 'Conveniences' Are Hazards In Some Instances

NEW YORK (UPI)—They're the pleasant sounds of summertime: The whir of the lawnmower, the children splashing in the pool, the gang gathering for the backyard cookout.

Pleasant sounds, yes, but often they presage injury, even death.

For man, in building summer conveniences, also built himself hazards. Drownings each year, alone took 7,000 lives, including boating deaths. There are some 750 home drownings each year, 200 of them in bathtubs, another 250 in swimming pools.

Marjorie May, director of education and the home division of the Greater New York Safety Council, urges caution along with creature comforts. And to help make it a safe and sane summer, she offered some tips.

Take the matter of swimming, especially in the home pool. Supervision around the home pool is most important, says Mrs. May. "Children get into things and water doubles the desire. Three inches of water can drown a child," she continues.

Make sure children learn to swim as early as possible. Establish hours for the pool, and make sure an adult is on hand.

Horseplay should be forbidden; it is easy for a child jumping onto another to injure a back or limb.

She urged that adults and older children be taught artificial respiration; mouth-to-mouth resuscitation is the approved modern method.

Never swim alone, either in the familiar pool or anywhere else. Even the most experienced swimmer can be subject to cramp. If there's an electrical storm, get out of the water and seek shelter in some low place—low building or your automobile whose tires act as insulation. Do not seek a vulnerable, isolated spot, like a lone tree.
