Top News In Brief

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — President Ahmed Hassan Al-Bakr turned control of the Iraqi government over to his party's moderate wing today on the strength of a coup which ousted the men who put Al-Bakr in power July 17.

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The United Steelworkers Union (USW) won its biggest contract ever from the basic steel industry and many of its members soon will be receiving one of the top provisions—increased unemployment pay.

Agreement on the contract, valued at $1.5 billion over its three year duration, was reached Tuesday and ended the threat of a nationwide strike at midnight tonight by 400,000 union men employed in basic steel.

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — After giving 400,000 employees the fattest wage contract they ever had, the steel industry today embarked on an apparent new round of price increases to pay for the added labor costs.

U.S. Steel Corp., the country's largest steelmaker, announced increases in the prices of tin mill products, ranging up to 9.7 per cent.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — Sen. J. William Fulbright today headed for a general election battle with a Republican planter. The outspoken critic of U.S. Vietnam policy narrowly avoided a run off in Tuesday's Democratic primary.

US Postmen To Continue 'Rounds'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — You can quit worrying about the postman coming around only four or five times a week. He will continue on his appointed rounds, Saturdays included.

And the city post offices will not be curtailing their services after all.

When Congress recently ordered the government to roll back employment to levels of two years ago, it didn't really mean the Post Office Department too.

The Senate so voted Tuesday. The House was all set to say the same thing today.

The means that the progressive mail cutbacks outlined by Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson, to have started at once, will not be necessary.

Living Costs In New Jump

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The cost of living took its biggest upward jump in more than two years in June, the government reported today. The increase was mainly the result of an upsurge in housing costs.

The Labor Department reported that the consumer price index rose half a per cent over May levels to 120.9 per cent of the 1957-59 base period — 4.2 per cent higher than a year ago.

This means the same market basket of goods and services which $10 could have purchased during the base period now costs $12.90. Based on 1939 terms, $10 worth of goods then would cost $24.97 today.

'City Plan' Session Is Set Monday

City Manager Charles Hill announced today Thursday night's scheduled meeting with City Planner Marvin Springer of Dallas has been postponed until 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Springer will be in Pampa for the third in a series of meetings designed to formulate a Comprehensive Plan for the city's future growth.

Monday's meeting will be a continuation, the city manager stated, of the development of an overall revised zoning ordinance that will encompass several zoning ordinances now on the city law books.

Springer was employed by the city at a cost of $33,000 to develop a Comprehensive Plan for the various phases of city government services.

Monday night's meeting, open to the public, will be in the Palm Room of City Hall.

Like, Man, It's 'Cool' In Pampa

After a high yesterday of 96, temperatures for Pampa and vicinity were not expected to rise above the mid-70s today. Temperatures shortly before noon today had failed to reach 70.

The cool temperatures are the result of a Canadian cool front that moved into the Panhandle early today from Kansas.

The front was expected to touch off scattered thunderstorms throughout the Panhandle as it moved southeastward. A forty percent chance for showers existed for Pampa and vicinity.

Hubert Asks Free Viet Elections

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey today called for free elections in South Vietnam with "every group"—presumably including the National Liberation Front—participating. He said the United States should accept the results "whatever they may be."

"South Vietnam should be run by the people who live there, not by Hanoi or Washington," the Democratic presidential candidate said in a speech prepared for the National Association of Counties. "I believe, too, that we must move beyond the pending discussions with the Soviet Union of offensive and defensive missiles to the business of world wide reductions of armaments and defense expenditures," Humphrey said.

These were the goals that prompted him to seek the presidency, Humphrey said. "I believe, too, that we must move beyond the pending discussions with the Soviet Union of offensive and defensive missiles to the business of world wide reductions of armaments and defense expenditures," Humphrey said.

Reagan Sees 'Open' Convention

By RAYMOND LAHR MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan today made a whirlwind personal appearance tour of the Republican National Convention scene and held strategy talks with advisers who believe he has a good chance to win the GOP presidential nomination on the third ballot.

Reagan arrived at Miami International Airport aboard a chartered jet plane shortly after midnight. He flew here from a final pre-convention speaking foray into the South, where he has been trying to woo delegates away from Nixon.

He paused at the airport for a brief news conference, then drove under heavy security guard to the Deauville Hotel, where his boosters have opened a campaign headquarters.

Rockefeller and Reagan partisans have the same aim at the convention—to combine their votes with those of favorite son candidates to deny the nomination to Nixon on the first two ballots. They assume that Nixon then would fade quickly from contention, and Rockefeller and Reagan would get a run at the prize.

Rockefeller strategists concede that Reagan might move into the lead on the third ballot. But they believe a majority of the delegates would not accept Reagan as the nominee because his support comes from the GOP conservative wing, which (See REAGAN, Page 3)

Beard Growing Requires Stiff Upper Lip

By Bob Cochar
NEA Menswear Specialist
He who is ashamed of hair very often knows little of the business of living.
—Old Saying.

There is a moment in the affairs of man when the decision to grow a little hair on the upper lip and chin is made. But only those who refuse to accept the snide remarks of friends and family stick to their newly found hirsuteness. The moment came for me at the start of a week's holiday in the Massachusetts Berkshires. I had little to do but read, eat and fish. So I let the hair grow.

I was a bit shaggy at week's end and an important appointment that Monday forced me to conform and the whiskers went down the drain. I kept the mustache, though, and still have it. My friend, Rudy Hoglund, an artist, made his beard-growing decision about six months ago. Since he is an artist, he can get away with facial growth and he has a gem of a beard. I asked Rudy what he had to do to keep his brush clipped and maintained. His response:

"When I started growing this thing I relished the thought of not having to shave each morning. But I soon discovered that I spend as much time, if not more, keeping the beard groomed so that I'm not mistaken for a hippy.

I prepare the area of my face that is to be shaved (around the neck and cheeks) the same as I would were I shaving normally: wash, apply hot cloth, lather up.

"The neck is fairly simple. I just follow the edge in a straight line. The side below the ear is a little tricky because that area cannot be seen easily. The cheeks are the most difficult because of the curve from the sideburns to the mustache. And since this area is much more noticeable, one slip of the razor could ruin months of growth.

"I wipe away the excess lather from the cheek so the beard-line is visible. Then I tighten the skin by filling the cheek with air and carefully follow the edge up to the mustache. Next, I comb the beard out and with scissors I start snipping away the stray hairs that stick out. I keep the beard cut to its present length about once a week.

"Finally, with a pair of fingernail scissors I trim the mustache."

Researchers at a razor company in Boston, which has conducted literally millions of shaving tests through the years, have reduced the technique of shaving to an absolute and benevolent science.

They say that it's especially important to keep the face hot and use a rich shaving cream which keeps the water from evaporating, stands the whiskers up so that the blade can reach under them and lubricates the blade.

Once the beard has been softened (this usually takes two minutes) it should be tackled with a razor that exerts minimum pressure and acts with minimum skin disturbance while offering versatility of movement.

The new band razors, because of the lightness and sharpness of the stainless steel band, are considered ideal for the close-in control needed for trimming around the beard or mustache.

It is wise to control that beard, too. There was a burgher in Braunau, Austria, whose flowing beard of eight feet, nine inches, eventually tripped him up. He stumbled over it, fell down a flight of stairs, broke his neck and died.

Worse, they cut off his beard before they buried him.

In 1912 the Progressive Party, which bolted from the Republicans, met in Chicago to nominate Theodore Roosevelt for President.

A thought for the day: John Viscount Morley said, "No man can climb out beyond the limitations of his own character."

THE SECRET in keeping a gem of a beard in first-rate condition is good grooming and this often involves more time than ordinary tonsorial efforts. The neck is fairly simple but cheeks are difficult because of curve from sideburns to the mustache.

In 1962 actress Marilyn Monroe died of an overdose of barbiturates.

In 1964 Premier Tshombe of the Congo tried to form a coalition government and failed.

8 International Designers Discuss Reasons for Changes in Fashions

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Place eight international designers together for a "speak-in" to discuss fashion and their views of its course are as different as their backgrounds.

Example: Rudi Gernreich of California says that, "Clothes must make an opposition statement to seriousness of situations. I think that people really want to forget the serious problems that we are involved with and want to play act a great deal with what they wear."

"The way you dress yourself is a way of stating a point of view for both men and women," says Nora Aponte of Rome. "As people are definitely less articulate than they were . . . they state their point of view with clothes."

"I think there's a great division in fashion today," says Eve Stillman, of New York. "We can't forget the woman who still loves her home and her family, and her bridge games, and her television, and who likes to dress well and becomingly, but never can really express the individual taste of just a few. She is still in the great majority . . ."

Simonetta, who made her first success as a designer in Italy and now works in Paris, believes, "there will always be a general, simple, plain-classical trend . . . (but) today's you are free to build up your own personality more than ever. I mean, you want to wear pants for the evening when there's a ball. All right, you wear embroidered pants . . . nobody would be astounded by it or surprised by it. This is new freedom that we should have in fashion."

Or, consider the views of Clodagh O'Kennedy of Ireland. Miss O'Kennedy says, "There's going to be a new kind of war between the sexes . . . in dresswise, vying with each other. We can't use men as accessories anymore."

"I think that women are going to dress much more excitingly because the men are dressing up."

"I think the females had their revolution years ago with the skirts," says Philippe Heim of Paris. "Now it's our turn."

Miss Rebecca Buckingham
FASHION CAREER—Miss Rebecca Buckingham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Buckingham of Pampa, has been accepted by Bauder College for the fashion merchandising program beginning in September. The Bauder Fashion Career and Finishing School is in Arlington. Her college activities will include field trips to retail store display and advertising departments, fashion and trade shows, and modeling trainee assignments.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 22 and Chuck is 23. We've been married going on five years and we have three children and another on the way. We were so much in love we could hardly wait to get married, but a lot of things have changed all that. We have never had a place of our own since we've been married. We have lived with my folks or Charlie's, mainly because Charlie can't seem to hold a job, so I have to work, and we need someone to look after the kids.

On top of that, Charlie still runs with the guys he ran with before we were married, and he just doesn't seem to want to settle down to married life. We have separated twice on that account and I can see it coming again. If it weren't for the kids, I'd leave him sure. I just might anyway. Have you advice for a girl who messed up her life as badly as I?

DEAR OLD: There is not much advice for a young woman in your position but your experience could serve as a warning signal for lots of 17 and 18-year-olds who are "so much in love" they can hardly wait to get married. You are still young enough, however, to make a better life for yourself, so if leaving Charlie is in the cards, don't wait another five years.

DEAR ABBY: What would you do with a husband like mine? Last night I served fresh raspberry pie, which has always been one of my specialties. And all of a sudden my husband, whom I shall call "Dr. Jekyll" turned into a regular Mr. Hyde. He stormed around like a wild man, saying he never cared for raspberry pie as it took him two days to get the seeds out of his teeth. Then he said he never could understand why I've been showing it down his throat for 28 years!

Abby, I always thought my husband liked raspberry pie. I felt so hurt I cried myself to sleep. Was I wrong, or was he?

RASPBERRY FIGHT
DEAR FIGHT: If a man does not care for something his wife serves him, he should not wait for 28 years to tell her about it. Tell Mr. Hyde you are no mind reader, and serve him baby food.

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago my husband wasn't feeling well so he went to a doctor. The doctor checked him over and told him he needed an operation. My husband never went back to that doctor, and he never had the operation. Today he says he never felt better in his life. How can you account for this?

HIS WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Either your husband didn't need the operation in the first place, or he still needs it. If you love him, get him to a doctor for another checkup. If he's lost confidence in the first one, let him try another.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "JUST FOR THE RECORD" IN BOSTON: Yes, I write all my own answers. A ghost writer hasn't a ghost of a chance with me.

Astrological Forecast

Thursday, August 1, 1968

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You remain in need to be watchful that you are not eager to find errors in what others are doing that you appear to be a nag and thus lose some of the good will that you have built up with others.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Why don't you get busy and improve conditions around you instead of waiting time with "bores"? Be very kindly toward a fellow worker, who is feeling down in the dumps. Don't bark at him or her.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20): A little extra flap is necessary now in order to become more attractive and pleasing to others. Then get together with persons who have free time for that hobby you delight in. Have a good time by having a more friendly attitude.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Beak of, false now need your full concentration in order to rid yourself of those annoying situations that impede your progress. You had better make fairly rapid, also, even if there are being set down happily tonight and later that all set.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Be most careful to make and you save yourself some credit and partial accident before you make that critical comment to another. Forget it. Don't just be a time and understanding friend.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Plan early how to make your new hair more productive without annoying those around you. Use a little higher-ups. Don't go overboard. Don't be too sure of your own wisdom. This would not even be the worst of it.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21): Find the right solution to present problems and do not make small talk with persons who are busy at work. Be thoughtful. Take more time for self-improvement, also, and you find others respect you more.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 21): Showing off those that you are more than capable of handling all those secret matters that are cleared up for more action in the days ahead. Use your future hours more sensibly.

SCORPIO (Oct 22 to Nov. 21): Concentrate upon how you can best assist girls who are having rough wedding night. Don't expect any help for their relatives, though, since others are too busy with their own wedding time for that thought is very important.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Do nothing that can reflect on your good name. Right now where high-ups or the general public are concerned. You must attend to some credit matter that you have been perverting to lag for some time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Some new plan should not be put aside because there are some rather difficult ramifications that come up. Just keep working on it and all is fine. Gain the good will of some new contact you have made.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): You have many obligations to get rid of, so keep busy now and you can advance more quickly in the days ahead. Keeping occupied with all matters, whether large or small, see you getting ahead more quickly than you had thought possible.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Although you feel some partner is not doing what you feel to be right, be careful before you criticize. Think matters over more thoroughly. Keeping promises is a must for the town tonight and have a wonderful time.

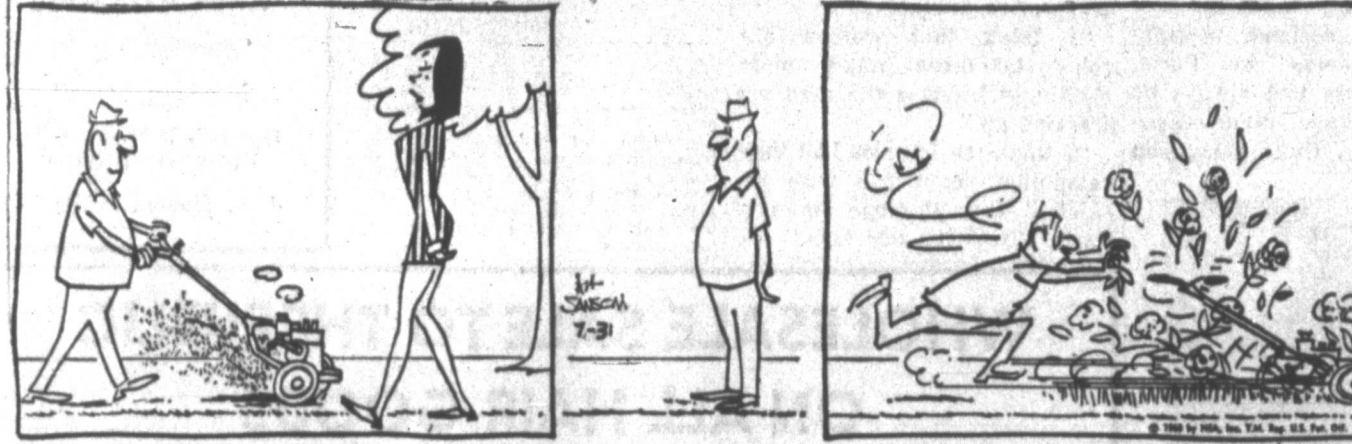

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those fascinating young people who is capable of laboring on some hard problem. It is cleared up very nicely and solved to the T. A. trouble-shooting variation is best here, whether male or female. Teach early not to be so critical of others but to be very helpful instead. College.

Television Correctional Institute In California In Review Lets Inmates Live With Families

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—In the past television season, CBS-TV's Monday night lineup demolished the opposition and earned the network ratings supremacy. The lineup consisted of "Gunsmoke," the Lucille Ball and Andy Griffith series, "Family Affair," and the Carol Burnett show.

In the coming season, however, a battle royal is shaping up for Monday night ratings supremacy—and the outcome may determine which network scores best in the overall statistical competition.

CBS-TV's chief challenge will come from NBC-TV, which lost out last season with "The Monkees," "The Man From U.N.C.L.E.," "Rowan and Martin's Laugh In," and the other three series simply won't be back in the fall.

Laugh-In Successful
 "Rowan and Martin's Laugh In," however, will indeed be back, and it has been a phenomenal success against the potent CBS-TV Monday pairing

TEHACHAP, Calif. (UPI)—A unique program to permit inmates nearing release to spend 48 hours living in a cottage with their families outside prison walls is underway at the State Correctional Institute here.

One such prisoner—among the first 10 selected for the pilot program—is named Philip. He declined to give newsmen his last name because he is a salesman and hopes to resume his civilian occupation after he is released Sept. 16.

of "Gunsmoke" and "The Lucy Show."

Furthermore, NBC-TV will follow "Laugh-In" with its new Monday night movie series—the third weekly motion picture for the network, which also shows feature films on Tuesdays and Saturdays.

In addition, NBC-TV will precede "Laugh-In" with the long-running Barbara Eden series, "I Dream of Jeannie"—a long run in television meaning anything you can still remember the title of.

Philip, 28, his attractive blonde wife, Mimi, 23, and their 17-month-old daughter, Deanna, Friday enjoyed their first unfettered reunion in six months.

Their temporary home for two nights and nearly three days is one half of a large single-story, brown stucco cottage just beyond the barbed wire-topped fence separating the prisoners from the outside world.

"It's just like home," Mimi smiled. "It's our home away from home."

Philip, a check forger returned to prison for violating parole, chimed in, "It's nice to have home cooked meals."

The program began July 1 after Gov. Ronald Reagan asked State Department of Correction officials, "Is this a good program?" A pilot program was decided upon using prisoners with good records who had three months or less before being freed.

G. P. Lloyd, superintendent of the institution, said that with the 10 prisoners who have participated in the program thus far there "have been no problems. None, whatsoever." He added that he believes "this will be a big help in bridging the gap between prison life and home life."

Pat And Julie Nixon Trying 'Human Approach' In Politics

By MAX FORD
COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI)—In a year of political unlikelihoods, perhaps the most unlikely campaign of all is that being waged across the nation by Patricia and Julie Nixon. They call it "the human approach."

It is a friendly, low key kind of persuasion which relies on a soft handshake, a quiet voice and a smile. It is a personal touch in a campaign characterized by the glare of television and high pressure politics.

The Nixon sisters feel they are filling a void in the presidential campaign. They hope by filling it to help their father, Richard Nixon, win the GOP nomination next month and the White House in November.

For Patricia, 22, and Julie, 19, the 1968 campaign trail has stretched from the snow of New Hampshire, through the important primary states and will continue on to the sands of Miami Beach.

"We're presenting the human side, letting the people see the daughters of a presidential candidate," says golden-haired Patricia. "We don't talk politics and we don't talk about the other candidates. It's important for people just to see what the Nixon family is like."

The girls often joined by David Eisenhower, Julie's fiancé, who adds a hint of his famous grandfather's smile to the efforts.

Campaigning from one corner of the nation to the other, their day usually begins at dawn. During a recent trip here they appeared on an early-morning television show, met newsmen ("We never know what to say"), appeared at a meeting of civic leaders, addressed a rally and then wrapped it up by shaking hands and smiling during a Republican party convention in the evening.

After a 15-hour workday, the girls flew to North Carolina to begin all over again.

Their nationwide handshaking sweeps are meticulously planned in advance by Nixon headquarters. Advance men— and Secret Service agents— accompany the girls everywhere they go, but they are still their own chaperones.

Their father has offered just one piece of advice on their tour.

"Dad told us to just be ourselves," says Julie. "and that's what we try to do."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "The most apparent fact that emerges from the data we have assembled is that the Negro mass is far less revolutionary in its attitudes than its more militant spokesmen."

"While there is no doubt that Negroes want change and some of them are prepared to do desperate things to bring it about, and changes they have in mind are essentially conservative in nature. The great majority do not propose to withdraw from America; they want equal status in it."

These are basic conclusions by a research team from the University of Michigan Survey Research Center, prepared for and National Riots Commission.

Under the leadership of Profs. Angus Campbell and Howard Schuman, the social scientists interviewed more than 5,000 Negroes and whites in 15 major cities.

The group was somewhat more optimistic than the Riots Commission's own report, released March 1, which concluded that "our nation is moving toward two societies, one black,

CAPE TOWN (UPI)—Dr. Philip Blaiberg is learning how to walk again—a process that will take several weeks. "He is full of fun," said the wife of the world's longest surviving heart transplant patient Tuesday.

You're Middle Aged If...

NEW YORK (UPI)—"Forty-two in daylight, thirty-five in lamplight, and twenty-five or what you will in a blonde wig and the spotlight."

Dorothy Sawyers put the problem of a woman's added years in her "In the Teeth of the Evidence" in 1940.

I fell to thinking of Miss Sawyers comments on what a bright light can do to show up the years. A dim one to dim them, as I observed reluctantly another milestone—a birthday. Birthdays seem to arrive faster these days. They are fine when you can hardly wait to grow up, are traumatic experiences after you are grown and moving toward the middle years.

One comfort is that middle age is being pushed farther and farther into the future as man's life span increases. Small comfort, though as you see the lines today that weren't there last year.

Yes, you're nudging middle age if you look at those lines and say, "oh, there's a sign of character. They come from living."

You're nudging middle age if you examine the mirror the gray strands and console yourself that it's a face-softening look.

You're nudging middle age when:

- You resolve to get the weight back to your "fightin'" trim of the college years and start by deliberately buying a couple of dresses two sizes too small.
- When you decide black is a difficult color to wear.
- You wish that relatives and friends would forget cards and gifts and if there's a cake you insist that it have only one candle on it.
- You get a physical and insist on an electrocardiogram.
- You remember Major Bowes, the Sons of the Pioneers and Shep Fields and his Rippling Rhythm.
- You don't chase dirt as ferociously around the house.
- You go out and buy a whole new set of highly touted face creams.
- Have more trouble reading the numbers on the buses and subways.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "The most apparent fact that emerges from the data we have assembled is that the Negro mass is far less revolutionary in its attitudes than its more militant spokesmen."

"While there is no doubt that Negroes want change and some of them are prepared to do desperate things to bring it about, and changes they have in mind are essentially conservative in nature. The great majority do not propose to withdraw from America; they want equal status in it."

These are basic conclusions by a research team from the University of Michigan Survey Research Center, prepared for and National Riots Commission.

Under the leadership of Profs. Angus Campbell and Howard Schuman, the social scientists interviewed more than 5,000 Negroes and whites in 15 major cities.

The group was somewhat more optimistic than the Riots Commission's own report, released March 1, which concluded that "our nation is moving toward two societies, one black, one white—separate and unequal."

The report on this latest study, carried out under a Ford Foundation grant after the commission depleted its funds, continued in its conclusions about American Negroes:

"They do not talk of tearing down the economic and political institutions of the nation; they seek to share equally in the benefits. The majority... are not despondent and without hope for the future. They see 'real progress' over the last decade and real hope for the future."

"We have indeed revealed much evidence of white dislike and resentment of Negroes, much white support of segregated social patterns, much white resistance to equal rights in housing... but we have also demonstrated (that) there is no universal pattern of racial conduct among white people in this country. On the contrary, there is a fundamental and perhaps growing schism between those whose basic orientation toward Negroes is positive and those whose attitude and behavior are negative."

Top Lone Star Cagers Play At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH (UPI)—The best high school basketball players in Texas meet tonight in their annual North-South classic, and the coaches gathered for the contest say it could be just that—a classic.

Both clubs have a lot of everything—speed, shooting and height.

Both coaches, Jack Whitton of West Sabine (South) and Charlie Turner of Fort Worth Paschal (North), say they plan to fast break every chance they get and there are some coaches around who think the winner might have to score 100 points to be on top.

Two Play'rs Key

Whitton's club owns a five-game winning streak going into tonight's contest at Texas Christian's Daniel Meyer Coliseum, and although most of the coaches feel the game will be one of the closest in years, sports writers have made the South an overwhelming favorite.

The chief reason the South was selected as favorite was the two players who will alternate as the key to Whitton's doublepost offense—6-9 Ennis Watson of A&M Consolidated and 6-7 1/2 Rick Duplantis of Port Neches-Groves.

The South's outside shooting is also first class with another of Clear Creek's Lenox brothers—Joe—leading the pack.

Duplantis to Lead

Joining Watson and Lenox on Whitton's starting lineup will be George Price of San Antonio Brackenridge, Roy Thomas of ALVIS BURKE, Liberal, Kansas, and his son DON BURKE, 3005 Rosewood, Pampa, with the 12 1/2 pound channel cat caught at Lake Gething east of Pampa. It was weighed in at the Sports Afheld Award Station at Pampa Tent & Awning Co. A waterdog was used for bait.

Another Grid All-Star Tilt Slated In January

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—Still in another college "all-star" football game has been added to the post-season schedule, this one to be called the "All-American All-Star Game."

It will be played the afternoon

Tuesday. H. Vincent Thornton, chairman of the Tampa Sports Authority, and Ron Gorton, television and movie producer, made the joint announcement Tuesday.

Gorton said Alabama Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant would head the South-Southwest-Southwest team, and Purdue Coach Jack Mollenkopf will coach the North-East-Midwest contingent.

Thornton said the game will be televised by an independent network, Castleman D. C. Hessler Productions of Philadelphia. He said the firm has guaranteed at least 140 stations would carry the game.

"The game is on. This is a positive deal. The money is in the bank. We're going after the top college stars of the 1968 season," Thornton said.

As competition for players, there are at least five other formally recognized and televised post-season college "all-star" games. They are the Hula Bowl, played in Honolulu and this year scheduled for later in Mississippi for 21 years, is second in winning percentage with a .750 mark. His teams have won 163 games, lost 48 and tied 11.

Two new coaches have been added to the top 20 by Hudgins, who compiles the list annually. To qualify for the 1968 listing, a coach must have 80 or more victories for his college career.

The additions are Frank Broyles of Arkansas, 10th with a .707 percentage, and Murray Warmath of Minnesota, 19th at .560. They replace Warren Woodson of New Mexico State and Aldo "Buff" Donelli of Columbia, both of whom retired.

The retirement of Woodson, who showed 239 triumphs, for his 37-year coaching career, left Paul "Bear" Bryant of Alabama as the coach with the greatest number of victories, 179, and Frank Howard of Clemson as the coach with longest service, 28 years. Bryant is third on the percentage list with .755 and Howard is 18th with .591.

Graebner Is Expected To Win In Tennis

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (UPI)—Top-seeded Clark Graebner of New York was expected to move another step closer to the eastern grass court tennis championships when he met Humphrey Hose of Venezuela today.

But, Graebner may soon have to reckon with Cliff Richey, who has learned to handle grass courts and his unpredictable temper.

Graebner, who has lost in the finals of the eastern tournament three times previously, posted an easy 6-3, 9-7 victory over Butch Seewagen of Bayside, N.Y., Tuesday, and can gain the quarter final today with a win over Hose.

Richey, of San Angelo, Tex., who is best known for his play on clay courts, managed to control his temper en route to a difficult 6-3, 1-6, 6-4 triumph over Ron Goldman of Washington.

Richey attributes his self control to his marriage last September which he said was a stabilizing factor. His opponent today was Haroum Rahim of Pakistan.

Jaime Fillof of Chile posted the first upset of the tourney when he eliminated South African Ray Moore, 9-7, 9-7.

Second-seeded Charlie Pasarell of Puerto Rico advanced with a 6-2, 4-6, 6-1 triumph over Bill Brown of Omaha, Neb., and met Ed Grubb of Santa Monica, Calif., today.

Bob Hewitt of South Africa, the third-seed in the tournament, faced Paul Cranis of New York after eliminating Steve Faulk of Madisonville, La., 6-4, 6-8, 6-2.

Unassisted Triple Play Enlivens Baseball Game

L. V. HOPP, 825 E. Kingsmill, with an eight pound largemouth bass caught at a lake near Leedy, Okla. He was fishing in a tube floater and using a black jig with pork rind for bait. The bass measured 23 inches, and is the largest bass entered in the Sports Afield Award station at Pampa Tent & Awning Company.

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Ron Hansen looked surprised when informed it had been 41 years, 50,000 games and 2.7-million putouts since an unassisted triple play had been made in the major leagues.

"I didn't know that," said the 30-year-old Washington Senator shortstop who made one Tuesday night in the first inning of a 10-1 loss to the Cleveland Indians. "But I did know there were three out."

Hansen became the eighth player to perform the feat after Dave Nelson singled and Russ Snyder walked. Both runners were going with Bruce Howard's 3-and-2 pitch when Joe Azcue hit a line drive to the left of Hansen. Hansen speared the ball for one out, stepped on second base to retire Nelson and tagged Snyder coming down the baseline from first.

"It was one of the best plays I ever made in terms of all the putouts" said the 6-foot, 3-inch, 200-pounder from Oxford, Neb. "But it wasn't difficult. In fact, it was made to order. I just happened to be in the right place at the right time."

Twice in '27

The play had not occurred since 1927 when it happened twice within 24 hours. Shortstop Jim Cooney of the Chicago Cubs made one against the Pittsburgh Pirates on May 30 and first baseman Johnny Neun of the Detroit Tigers pulled another against the Cleveland Indians on May 31.

The Detroit Tigers defeated the New York Yankees 5-0, the Baltimore Orioles beat the Boston Red Sox 8-3 and the Oakland Athletics topped the Chicago White Sox 3-1 in Tuesday's other American League games.

In the National League, the St. Louis Cardinals whipped the New York Mets 7-1, the Pittsburgh Pirates swept the Atlanta Braves 8-5 and 5-4, the Cincinnati Reds beat the Philadelphia Phillies 5-2, the Chicago Cubs swamped the San Francisco Giants 10-4 and the Los Angeles Dodgers shaded the Houston Astros 3-2.

Hansen is likely to remember his record-book play for the rest of his life but he'll probably try to forget that he struck out on all four of his appearances in the game and his Senator teammates would rather forget the whole affair.

McDowell Wins Eleventh

Jose Cardenal drove in four runs and Lee Maye knocked in three as the Indians hammered Howard and two successors for 12 hits. Sam McDowell went eight innings for the Indians and struck out nine in posting his 11th victory against nine losses.

Earl Wilson hit the 29th homer and scored the 100th victory of his big league career as the Tigers maintained their seven-game American League lead over the Orioles and Indians. Wilson allowed only three hits in eight innings but was relieved when he walked Mickey Mantle leading off the ninth.

Paul Blair's two-run double spiked a six-run seventh-inning rally which enabled Jim Hardin to score his 13th victory for the Orioles and deal the Red Sox' Dick Ellsworth his sixth setback. Frank Robinson, Brooks Robinson and Mark Belanger had three hits each for the Orioles and Carl Yastrzemski and Jose Tartabull had two each for the Red Sox.

Rick Monday tripled and Sal Bando singled to break a 1-1 tie in the fifth inning and Chuck Dobson, with relief help from Jack Aker, went on to win his eighth game against 11 losses. Joe Horlen, a 19-game winner in 1967, was tagged for three runs and eight hits in six innings and suffered his ninth loss against eight wins.

Kline Returns To Team As Winning Reliever

By JOE GERGEN
UPI Sports Writer

Ron Kline may rate a Comeback-of-the-Year award if only for the fact that he left Pittsburgh a loser and came back a winner.

Kline, the 36-year-old reliever of the Pirates, was anything but that when he was traded away in 1959 with a 53-83 record and not one winning season to his credit.

He's had several since then, four in a row to be exact, but now that he's returned "home," Kline is really going to town. The right handed veteran twirled 4 1-3 scoreless innings in the second game Tuesday night as the Pirates swept a doubleheader from the Atlanta Braves 8-5 and 5-4 and gained his eighth consecutive victory since losing his first decision of the year.

Kline, acquired during the winter from the Minnesota Twins has replaced Roy Face as the big man in the Pittsburgh bullpen and his 1.29 earned run average places him among the National League leaders.

Bob Gibson yielded a rare run and the Los Angeles Dodgers finally scored one in other National League contests. The St. Louis Cardinals, behind Gibson, routed the New York Mets 7-1 and the Dodgers ended a string of 27 consecutive scoreless innings in beating Houston 3-2. Cincinnati stopped Philadelphia 5-2 and Chicago swatted San Francisco 10-4 in other games.

Cleveland whipped Washington 10-1 despite an unassisted triple play by Ron Hansen, the first in 41 years. Detroit blanked New York 5-0, Baltimore blasted Boston 8-3 and Oakland edged Chicago 3-1 in American League action.

Kline, who hasn't lost since May 3, gained credit for his victory when Matty Alou scored from third base on Manny Mota's one-out grounder in the 10th inning.

Pitcher Steve Blass climaxed a six-run fourth inning with a two-run double and Jerry May drove in three runs with a pair of singles in the opener. Blass, who allowed five unearned runs in 7 1-3 innings, gained his ninth triumph.

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Varied, Curious History

President Johnson's nomination of Abe Fortas to succeed Earl Warren as chief justice of the Supreme Court is expected to meet strong opposition in the Senate. But not strong enough to block confirmation, reports from Washington indicate.

Fortas is a wealthy lawyer and a Johnson pal of long standing. In all probability his nomination will be ratified and he will have an important hand in shaping the nature of things to come in America for the rest of his life. Here are some significant facts of his background.

Fortas also served Mr. Johnson when he helped to set up the trust for the family's TV holdings. He helped to suppress temporarily the news that one of the President's top aids had been arrested twice for homosexual acts. At the time of the first Kennedy assassination, Fortas was summoned by Johnson to plan what later became the Warren Commission.

During his residency in Washington, Mr. Fortas has become immensely rich. His law firm Arnold, Fortas and Porter numbers about 30 attorneys. It specializes in tax matters. At various times, Fortas has served as director of major corporations, including American Molasses Co., Su-Crest Corporation, Federal Dearthment Stores, Carnegie Hall Corporation, Greatamerica Corporation, and Madison National Bank.

The prospective new chief justice has had the unfortunate experience of discovering that a number of associates were red or pink (take your choice) as boiled lobsters. His, Pressman, Aht and Witt were identified in sworn testimony before Congressional Committees. The Washington Committee for Democratic Action was listed as subservient by Attorney General Tom Clark, father of president Attorney General Ramsey Clark. The lawyers Guild subsequent to its membership was found subservient by Congress.

We don't suppose anyone can walk through Washington without brushing shoulders with political opportunists, including the more rabid of the lot, communists. Like fleas on a dog, they migrate to the area where they can draw the most blood. In at least one instance, though, Fortas provided his services with foreknowledge; he chose to defend Owen Lattimore who had been indicted for lying under oath about his Communist espionage.

On the record, the most charitable conclusion left open is that this Washington luminary didn't understand what he was doing. Never-the-less, he ends up with a pocketful of money and a nomination for the country's second most powerful position. This is the man you are destined to rely upon as the supreme arbiter of justice.

Neither Can We, Professor

Donald B. Brand, professor of geography at the University of Texas, has written an interesting little book, "Mexico: Land of Sunshine and Shadow" (D. Van Nostrand Co., Inc., $1.75) in which he touches on some aspects of the bracero program.

Writes Prof. Brand:

"After Mexico entered the war against the Axis Powers in 1942, a series of agreements established a bracero program of contract Mexican labor which continued until 1964. This program was highly beneficial to both countries, but after the end of World War II the labor unions in the United States attacked the program and ultimately the unions were successful in bringing it to a halt.

"Although it is still too early to evaluate the results of this action fully, several conclusions seem to be indicated. (1) Not enough United States labor is willing to undertake the hard and hot work involved in the cultivation of certain vegetables and fruits; (2) Losses and shift in crops will be costly to both the United States farmers and the consuming public; (3) An increasing amount of United States and Mexican capital is investing in the production of fruits and vegetables in Mexico for export to the United States. Furthermore the returning braceros in Mexico, through acquired capital, technical skills, improved cultivation tech-

The American Way

By D. R. SEGAL

I have had a nice long chat with the young man who is in charge of our local War on Poverty program and it has been instructive. I found out neither of us knew exactly what it was all about. (Admittedly, I know less than he does, but my roommate assures me I know less than anybody about everything.

The trouble with the bash-on-poverty is that it is in such a hell of a hurry to spend so much money, nobody has been able to keep up. We get money for which no projects have been authorized and the other day our congressman (he's back from wherever) sent us a wire that VIDA was getting 70,000.

We asked the young man in charge of poverty what VIDA was. Rather, we tried to ask him. He was "out" when our man called. But another reporter, who did find him, quoted him as saying VIDA means "Various-ly Independently Decided something" — he couldn't remember what the A stood for.

But another fellow, up in Laredo, Tex., where they specialize in poverty, too, said he understood VIDA meant Voice in Democratic Action. He said VIDA was for the purpose of paying poor people to picket things, and that in Laredo they were getting pretty good at it. (The pickets down in our part of the country are still pretty inept. One of them was picketing the county courthouse the other day because the county was going to take over the poverty program and dump the young man in charge. A reporter asked the lady, in Spanish, what the sign said. She replied she didn't know because she couldn't read. (Maybe VIDA will teach her.)

Well, I didn't start out to discuss the war on poverty as she is being fought in our little bailiwick but only to remark, as I did to the young man in charge, that this orgasm of spending is a symptom of the political season. We are right on top of electing a new president and this new guy is going to have to eradicate poverty, but along different lines. Surely the fellow who wins, regardless of his party, is going to be four-square against being poor, but he can't very well say, "Gosh, I can't think of a thing to do about poverty except what the fellow before me has been doing." That would brand him a hopeless nincompoop.

So, he'll have to cancel out the present program and start something different. That means the Johnson War on Poverty has got to be phased out between now and the first of the year, and the administration seems to be stuck with an embarrassing pile of money to get rid of.

I think I told you we had a day care center with three employees for every child. They closed it. The mayor of the town was pretty sore at us for putting it in the paper. If the government wants to spend $15,000 per child for day care (excluding lunch), that's the government's business, ain't it? You some kind of agitator or something that don't like the American system of government?

I had dinner with the bishop (R. C.) the other night and I ventured that if he and the young poverty fighter and I are successful in our efforts to rub out crime, sin and poverty, what kind of work can we get into? I don't think he is much worried that'll happen. I haven't seen him looking at the Help Wanted ads.

Me neither.

Pressure Growing for President to Decide if Policy of Limited Vietnam Bombing is Hopeful or Deadly

WASHINGTON — Unhindered by bombing raids on neighboring supply depots and transportation centers, the ports of Haiphong is once again going full blast, supplying North Vietnam and its forces fighting in the South.

That is one of the hard facts of life which must be acknowledged by President Johnson as he ponders a future course with respect to the bombing of North Vietnam.

At his Honolulu meetings with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu, Mr. Johnson spiked reports, circulating here and in Paris, that he was ready to stop all bombing of the North. Soon he must address himself to the consequences of the present policy which limits bombing to the North Vietnamese panhandle.

U. S. pilots were never free to attack the piers and unloading facilities in Haiphong. Such raids were forbidden for fear some accidental damage to a Russian — or even a British-supply ship might raise international temperatures.

Nevertheless, the operation of the vital North Vietnamese port was slowed somewhat by raids on railroads, roads and supply points which serve the port facilities.

All such interference ended, of course, when President Johnson announced his scaled-down bombing policy on March 31. It's now clear that the North Vietnamese have taken full advantage of the logistic opportunity afforded them.

Intelligence reports indicate that the "turn around time" for Haiphong — the waiting and unloading time between arrival and departure of a supply ship — is down from 43 days to an efficient 15.

MORE SHIPS — The number of ships discharging in Haiphong and other ports in North Vietnam is substantially larger now than in 1967. Russian shipping and vessels from the free world have combined to increase the traffic.

During the first four months of this year (including April, the first month of the restricted bombing policy) 72 Russian ships called at ports in North Vietnam. That annual rate, 216 per year, compares with 181 Russian ships entering North Vietnam ports in 1967.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va., the principal congressional auditor of shipping to North Vietnam, reports that the number of free world ships visiting North Vietnamese ports is running at just about double the rate of the past two years.

For the first six months of 1968, Byrd says, 78 free world

Varied Causes, Cures For Mouth Ailments

Q—What causes cracks at the corners of the mouth? Can they be cured?

A—Common causes include a deficiency of riboflavin or orniacin and various infections, especially with a fungus called Candida albicans. For the former, vitamin B complex is a specific cure and, for the latter, a lotion containing amphotericin B, a prescription drug, should do the trick.

Q—What would cause excessive dryness in my mouth? I drink plenty of fluids during the day and do not sleep with my mouth open.

A—Beladonna, rauwolfia serpentina and their derivatives may cause dry mouth. Other causes in addition to the two you mentioned are lack of moisture in the indoor air (especially in the bedroom), excessive smoking in one who has been a heavy smoker for many years, a deficiency of vitamin A or B and chronic Rhinitis. Removing the cause is the only way to get lasting relief, but while you are waiting, you may get some relief by chewing gum or swishing a little olive oil around in your mouth.

Q—What is the best remedy for dry lips? I have tried several preparations, but they only make my lips greasy and within 10 minutes they are dry again.

A—Local applications, such as you have been using, should be helpful but they will work only if you scrupulously avoid licking or biting your lips.

Q—What would cause a person to have too much saliva? I have to keep swallowing all the time.

A—There are several causes including (1) excessive smoking in a person who has just begun to smoke; (2) such drugs as calomel, iodides, bromides, arsenicals and potassium chlorate; (3) some types of anemia; (4) diseases of the mouth and gums and (5) indigestion. In some persons frequent swallowing is a nervous habit. Eliminating the cause will bring relief.

Q—I have Stevens-Johnson's disease in my mouth. Can it affect other parts of the body? Is there any treatment other than cortisone, which I can't take?

A—Stevens-Johnson syndrome, a severe form of erythema multiforme seen in children and young adults, is often associated with canker sores, dental infections, measles, pneumonia, pregnancy, allergy to foods and a reaction to various drugs. The chief symptoms, in addition to a variety of skin lesions, are fever, headache and ulceration of the mucous membranes in many parts of the body.

The chief reliance in treatment is placed on stopping all drugs previously taken and giving drugs of the cortisone group. Antibiotics are sometimes given if an underlying infection is present.
