Angry Jews Riot In Arab Section

By ELIAV SIMON
JERUSALEM (UPI)—Riot police today sealed off the Holy City's Arab quarter to prevent more rioting by Israelis angered over terrorist explosions.
Wearing steel helmets and carrying special antiriot sticks, the Israeli police blocked all roads and gates to the old sector seized from Jordan in the June 5-10, 1967 war.
Three explosions that injured nine persons and the discovery of two more explosive devices in the predominantly Israeli half of Jerusalem triggered mob violence Sunday night. Crowds of angry citizens stormed into the Arab quarter, burning more than 50 automobiles, smashing windows and doing what police called heavy damage in the Arab sector.
Riot police quelled the crowds, arresting 20 Israelis.
It was Jerusalem's worst civil disorder since 1967 war and came despite Israeli efforts to bring harmony to the long divided city.
The three blasts roared in a 90 minute period in the city center starting at 9 p.m. An explosion in a drainage ditch near the Bikur Holim Hospital injured eight persons.
Another of the blasts, in Bethlehem Road near the railway station, caught the ninth victim. Two of the nine victims were seriously wounded.
Israeli officials said police and civil defense workers found two unexploded devices. One was a timefused hand grenade found in a garbage can a few yards from the downtown Ron Movie Theater. Police warned nearby residents to stay away from windows for fear a blast would shower them with glass. They also pushed away a crowd but not before angry Israelis grabbed and beat two Arab quarter residents found near the blast scenes.
With the sound of the explosions still echoing, the downtown crowds surged into the Arab quarter.
Police said a number of suspects in the explosions have been arrested.
On the Israeli-Jordan line, trouble since it was formed in the 1967 war, Israeli officials said Jordanian forces fired mortars on Israeli's military position in the Beisan Valley's Yardenia region before dawn today.
The Israelis said their troops returned the fire. They reported no casualties.
In Amman, a Jordanian spokesman accused Israeli forces of opening fire before dawn today with mortars and machine guns on the line, near Manshiya, eight miles south of Lake Tiberias. The spokesman said Jordanian fire destroyed an Israeli gun position in a Sunday night exchange of artillery and machine gun fire.

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (UPI)—Pope Paul VI's appeal on behalf of "the immense population that has no honor or bread" gave assurance today that social reform will be a keynote of his visit to Latin America later this week.
The 70-year-old pontiff called Sunday for the wiping out of "idle privilege" that exists alongside "frightening misery" in Latin America and the rest of the world.
The Pope leaves Thursday for the closing stages of his 39th Eucharistic Congress in Bogota, Colombia. He will return next weekend.
Another indication of Vatican concern with the differences between poor and rich and with social injustice came in Bogota, where a 10-member pontifical mission to the meeting said the Roman Catholic Church "must involve itself with the social change that Latin America needs."
HOUSTON (UPI)—Five-year-old Maria Giannaris, into whose chest was transplanted Sunday the heart of an 11-year-old boy, was awake today and talked with her parents.
A spokesman for St. Luke's Hospital, where Dr. Denton A. Cooley and his heart transplant team performed the operation, said Maria's condition was good and that she seemed coherent in talking with her parents.
NEW YORK (UPI)—A bomb today exploded in the doorway of a building housing a Liberal Party Headquarters. Two patrolmen on their regular rounds less than 50 feet away escaped injury.
The bombing appeared to be the latest in a series attributed to anti-Communist Cuban terrorists.
AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas House Speaker Ben Barnes is expected to be named president of the National Legislative Conference in Miami Beach after he arrives there today.
Barnes is now vice president of the organization which deals with procedural problems of state government. He leads the Texas delegation to the conference.
AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—President Johnson today invited Georgia Gov. Lester Maddox, the newest candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, to a foreign policy briefing in Washington.
The Texas White House said Maddox had requested a briefing and the State Department had offered to brief Maddox either Wednesday or Thursday.

Electrical Stimulation Is Said 'Ineffective'

By DARRELL GARWOOD
Former President D. Eisenhower suffered "numerous" heart flutters during the night doctors announced today. He a.m. C.D.T. said an electrical pacemaker had been "ineffective" in regulating Eisenhower's heart rhythm, and had been removed.
Walter Reed Hospital in a medical bulletin issued at 9:30 p.m. said Eisenhower's heart rhythm, and had been removed.
During the night, "numerous" he was flown here May 14 after suffering his fourth heart attack while vacationing at Indian Wells, Calif.
Two of the heart flutters, however, forced physicians to reactivate the pacemaker and provide electric shock stimulation to steady the heart beat of the 77-year-old five-star general.
Despite Eisenhower's failure to respond to treatment, however, the doctors reported the former chief executive enjoyed "a small breakfast this morning." He also was being fed intravenously.
Doctors said the electrical pacemaker was removed late yesterday because of its demonstrated ineffectiveness after the initial few hours.
Doctors at the hospital continued to stress that Eisenhower has retained all of his mental faculties despite lapses into unconsciousness caused by the heart muscle flutters.
Described as critically ill with a "serious underlying disease of the heart," the five-star general experienced two more episodes of heart flutter Sunday afternoon. This brings to a total of at least eight episodes suffered by Eisenhower since his latest attack Friday—his fourth in less than four months.
Doctors at Walter Reed General Hospital said the 77-year-old former president was not in pain and that he was resting comfortably and sleeping intermittently. His family, including Mrs. Eisenhower, who is staying in a nearby room, have seen the general at intervals.
Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower, the general's wife, was staying close to her husband and was reported intermittently relaxing in a room nearby Eisenhower's VIP suite on the fourth floor of ward eight.
Also close at hand was Eisenhower's son, John and his wife Barbara, and their children, David, 20, Anne, 19, Susan, 16, and Mary Jean, 12.
Mrs. Eisenhower has been staying with her husband since

Uneasy Calm Settles Over St. Petersburg, Owensboro

By United Press International
The uneasy peace settled over St. Petersburg, Fla., and Owensboro, Ky., today after a weekend of disturbances.
The Owensboro trouble began after a Negro man was shot and killed at a night club. Violence flared and swelled at St. Petersburg after a dance hall brawl.
An armored state police "monster" van rumbled into St. Petersburg Sunday night as about 75 young Negroes threw bottles and rocks. Gunshots also were heard. The "monster" sprayed tear gas at the youths and they dispersed—the second night in a row tear gas had broken up a crowd.
Buckshot chipped paint of a highway patrol van. Other sniper shots were heard in the Negro district of St. Petersburg where sporadic violence had flared for three straight nights. At Owensboro, Mayor Irvin Terrill vowed to "dissolve the militant influence" which he blamed for a weekend of sporadic trouble with Negro gangs. Thirty-four persons were arrested between Friday midnight and Sunday midnight in a 17-block section of the Negro West End.
20 Arrests
Twenty of the arrests occurred Sunday night when bands of Negro youths in a small park hurled rocks and bottles at passing cars and taunted policemen.
Police Chief Vernie Bidwell said most of the arrests Sunday were made on disorderly conduct charges by police who were "tired" of being cursed by "young punks."
Bidwell said the disturbance was not organized. But Terrill said he was determined to dissolve the militant influence that he said caused the

PASO Endorses Paul Eggers For Governor

HOUSTON (UPI)—The 10,000-member political Association of Spanish-Speaking Organizations (PASO) has endorsed Republican Paul Eggers for governor of Texas over Democrat Preston Smith.
PASO held a one-day meeting Saturday in Houston. In publicly endorsing the first Republican in its seven-year history, PASO ignored U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough's plea that it endorse Smith.
Like Yarborough, however, PASO endorsed U. S. Sen. Eugene McCarthy for the Democratic presidential nomination.
But PASO apparently believes Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey will get the Democratic presidential nomination because it urged Humphrey not to put Texas Gov. John Connally on the ticket as vice president.
The resolutions committee cited Connally's "history of being against programs of benefit to Mexican-Americans" and brought up Connally's refusal to meet in Austin with a Mexican American group, marching from the Lower Rio Grande Valley.
Yarborough told PASO delegates that Smith did not join Connally House Speaker Ben Barnes and Atty. Gen. Waggoner Car in meeting the marchers in New Braunfels.
As for endorsing Eggers, John Alaniz of San Antonio, chairman of the resolutions committee, said PASO's position was a question of either endorsing Eggers or no one.
"It is a protest against one party domination in the state," Alaniz said.

Humphrey, McCarthy Square Off

By RAYMOND LAHR
CHICAGO (UPI)—Humphrey and McCarthy forces squared off today for a brawl over platform planks and delegate seating contests that threatened to plunge the Democratic National Convention into turmoil.
Supporters of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy took the initiative, hoping for a coup that would help them overtake vice president Hubert H. Humphrey's strong lead in the party's presidential race.
Although the formal opening of the convention was still a week away, the preliminary jockeying started with platform committee hearings in Washington and the credentials committee session in Chicago.
The angry war of words contrasted with the prologue to the Republican National Convention, where platform writers found little trouble satisfying rival presidential candidates, and no significant contest developed over seating delegates.

Texans For McCarthy Will Appeal State Delegation Seating Wednesday

FORT WORTH (UPI)—The fight to replace 48 per cent of the Texas delegation to the Democratic national convention may go to the convention floor, a state leader for Sen. Eugene McCarthy said Sunday.
A group, calling itself the Texas Democrats for an Open Convention, is scheduled to receive a hearing before the credentials committee Wednesday. The IDOC charges the Texas delegation does not represent the feelings of Texas Democrats and certain minority groups, notably Negroes and Mexican Americans are not fairly represented in the present 104-member Texas delegation.

Allies Smash Large Red Offensive

By JACK WALSH
SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. and South Vietnamese troops today smashed the largest Communist offensive of the summer, killing more than 500 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese and driving thousands more back into the Cambodian border area jungles.
U.S. spokesmen said thousands of Communists sprang from lairs along the border Sunday and struck at least 15 major targets, 50 to 70 miles northwest of Saigon.
American and South Vietnamese troops aided by U.S. tanks, armored personnel carriers, helicopter gunships and planes threw back every attack. Military observers said they doubted the weekend defensive was the major red offensive that allied intelligence had predicted was coming this month, in September or October. It posed no major threat to Saigon.
But the attacks northwest of Saigon plus Communist activity in the Mekong Delta, in the Central Highlands and in the northern provinces ended a comparative low point in combat in South Vietnam.
U.S. military sources said they had learned in advance the Communists intended to "raise hell all over Tay Ninh City."
Today military spokesmen reported at least 171 Communists were killed outside the city

Lawlessness Controversial Topic At Democratic Platform Hearings

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Gov. America's cities cannot be solved solely by stricter law enforcement or solely by government welfare and job programs. Both are needed, he demanded action to draw the line against lawlessness and violence.
The conflict of views on the urban crisis also was reflected in the testimony of Robert C. Ellington and two other Democratic governors, Robert Docking of Kansas and John W. King of New Hampshire, were the opening witnesses before the Democratic Platform Committee as it began five days of public hearings.
The 110-member committee is sharply divided over how to deal with the urban violence and the war in Vietnam. Both issues may lead to bruising floor fights at the Democratic National Convention starting in Chicago a week from today.
Ellington said platform planks on crime, poverty, rioting and other aspects of the urban crisis must be "both humane and realistic."
He said the problems of

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I live in an apartment house which caters mostly to elderly ladies. One is an old maid about 60 who teaches school. She and her friend, who is nearly 80, are prim and proper as lavender and old lace but they entertain men until all hours of the night and well into the morning. Some even stay for the week-end. The teacher has two week-end guests who alternate.

The landlady does not seem to mind but I think it looks terrible. It gives the whole building a bad name. Am I being too old-fashioned?

MISS G. AGE 70

DEAR MISS G: I don't know who the men are and what they are doing there but there's a lot to be said for minding one's own business.

DEAR ABBY: My little daughter-in-law is the sweetest child and I love her dearly, but I wish I could tell her not to try so hard when she invites Dad and me to dinner. She wants everything to be "just so" which I think is commendable, but the poor little thing knicks herself out, and I feel guilty for having made her work so hard.

I would not embarrass her for the world by going into her kitchen to "help" her, but believe me, she could use some help. When we arrive, she's in the kitchen struggling with five or six different kinds of hot hors d'oeuvres, and during dinner she's either in the kitchen or jumping around "serving" us. I wish I could tell her if she'd just throw some hamburgers on the grill, slice a few tomatoes and open up a quart of ice cream for dessert, we'd love it. But no, she insists on making

DEAR NO NAME: She can not. But since you brought it up, many older, experienced women can also learn this lesson. When a guest accepts an invitation to dinner, he wants to find a hostess — not a "ghostess." By MRS. O. A. WAGNER

We have an interesting item to begin the column this week. Joe Shelton reported he went to Dunham, Okla., recently to visit a brother and rode in the wagon train to the old Grand, Okla., picnic. They camped out at night at a good location with plenty of wood and water. The wagon he rode in was an old 1911, model 3. He says the road was as rough as it was in the old days, and that he didn't think the wagon missed any of the bumps. This train is known as the "Raiden Rangers." There were 11 wagons, two buggies, one backboard and 25 horseback riders who made the annual trip to the old town site of Grand, which is a "ghost town" today.

The trip makes me recall tales of Uncle Edward Banzel's ride in the land run for the opening of the Oklahoma strip. Several spotted the land they wanted before the run and rode for that particular spot, causing lots of trouble over claim jumping in the run. Uncle Ed got a fine farm of lush bottom land which he later sold when he retired.

I was very young when my father came west in a covered wagon and bought a farm in south east Kansas. We were neighbors of Uncle Ed's sister when I grew up. I married her son, O. A. Wagner.

Mrs. A. Kempa left Friday for Bartlesville, Okla., for a month's visit with relatives.

House guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Frasier last week were their son Dr. Lloyd Frasier and family of Los Angeles, Calif. They also visited other relatives while here.

Another son of the Frashiers came to visit from Winnemucca, Nev. Gordon Frasier and his three daughters.

Mrs. Grace Hamilton is visiting her sister in Mangum, Okla. Mrs. Margaret Conley's cousin from Allreed, Okla. visited her last Thursday.

It was good to have Mrs. Linnie Fowler back with us last Thursday.

Visiting Mrs. Maggie Deal recently were her cousins, Mrs. Effie Hinson from California and Mrs. Nettie Camerford of Amarillo.

Door prizes were won by Mrs. Anna Eckroat, Mrs. Fred Cullum and G. L. Sublet. Hostesses were the Friendship Class of Presbyterian Church. Serving refreshments were Meses. Owen Gee, O. W. Appleby, Fidelia Yoder, E. J. O'Brian, W. S. Dixon, J. C. Patullo, Elsie Cunningham, A. D. Hills and Dick Walker.

Altruists assisting were Meses. Martha Kennedy, Lillian Snow, A. D. Hills and Miss J. Flanagan.

ers of McCarthy will testify Wednesday before the credentials committee. State Rep. Curtis Graves of Houston, a Negro, is to argue that the Texas delegation does not include enough members of his race and County Commissioner Albert Pena of San Antonio will contend that it should include more Mexican Americans. Gladden will take the position that, even though Connally's conservative supporters control the state convention, the Chicago delegation should include more liberals. He cited recent voting breakdowns in which Connally conservatives held a 52-48 per cent edge over liberals. "This would accurately reflect the proportionate strength of the Democratic factions in Texas. We can no longer operate under the old theory that the victor should enjoy all the spoils."

Unit Rule Attack

Also to come under attack Wednesday is the unit rule which, Maury Maverick of San Antonio will contend, is contrary to the Supreme Court's "one man, one vote" ruling. Other charges expected to be leveled include the theory liberal Democrats are more loyal to the party than are conservatives. "They (Conservatives) vote in the May Democratic primaries, attend Democratic precinct conventions, go to the Democratic national convention in August and then vote Republican in November," a spokesman said.

Wants Cease-Fire

He said he wanted a cease-fire, including a halt in bombing, but that no responsible political party should try to take over the authority of the commander in chief—that is, President Johnson.

Rep. James G. O'Hara of Michigan, speaking for the Humphrey organization, charged that McCarthy forces were trying to "lock out" almost a third of the delegates to the convention.

He was anticipating a McCarthy effort to bar any challenged delegates from voting on the seating of all delegates whose credentials are being contested. A similar move helped Dwight D. Eisenhower win the Republican presidential nomination in 1952.

Convention officials said that almost 1,000 delegates and alternates out of a total of 5,611 have been challenged but that they do not know how many will be involved in formal contests.

McCarthy campaign spokesmen said their camp was challenging fewer than 300 delegates. They said that more than 300 of their own delegates had been challenged in a countermove by Robert Vance, Alabama Democratic chairman.

County Red Cross News

By LIBBY SHOTWELL
Executive Secretary, ARC
The Junior and Senior Life Saving Class was completed Thursday at the City Pool with Mrs. R. A. Fugate and Miss Judy Fugate as instructors.

The following received their Senior Life Saving Cards: Mrs. Cecil Bowers, Mrs. Lillian Estes and Dawn Hills. The following received their Junior Life Saving cards: Rocky Hills, John Chittenden, David Ince, Kathy Collingsworth, Burt Turner, and Raymond Miller. Congratulations to each of you for this is no easy course to complete.

at the Youth Center Pool, are still under way. Watch for the names next week of those who passed the course.

We had a letter from a serviceman from Pampa this week telling us how good he had been treated in the hospital after receiving a wound in Vietnam. Arthur Williams says he will soon be ready to go back on active duty with his buddies and then in about 100 days he will come home. It is refreshing to hear one from our community speak of our country as this young man does and he hopes to tell others how he feels. Isn't it wonderful to know the boys and girls from Pampa remember the training their parents and school teachers give them when they are so far away from home. One of the joys of being a Red Cross worker is hearing from these youths from Pampa.

The High School Red Cross will serve the Senior Citizens at the Lovett Library Thursday afternoon, Aug. 22. Red Cross Volunteers who would like to help make sandwiches should come to the Red Cross office at 10 a.m. They may also help serve the group that afternoon. Wear your uniforms girls and remember the time is 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Miss Mona King worked at Highland General Hospital Friday morning for one of our Volunteers who had company in her home and found she could not work on her assigned day. Thanks, Mona.

Should some young boys or girls come to your door asking for money for the Red Cross, please call our office, MO 4-7121 or MO 4-3481, as we have no such drive under way.

The Mother and Baby Care Class will have the third lesson Tuesday evening at Highland General Hospital on OB Floor. Mrs. Forrest Hills, RN, will teach the class and all parents of their first child are invited to come to these meetings.

"As our nation grows, so must the Red Cross grow, if it is to continue to relieve human suffering and distress," President Johnson wrote to the National Convention, adding "I know that the Red Cross will plan with wisdom and act swiftly, with confidence and mercy."

Local Man Gets Award

A special award was presented recently to Benny Wyant, who is employed at Post Office Service Station, 123 S. Ballard.

The award, a plaque bearing two rare silver dollars, two Kennedy half-dollars, and a specially minted commemorative coin set in an automotive engine design, was presented for exceptional customer service by a representative of The Gates Rubber Co.

The Denver-based rubber company sponsors a nation-wide contest (now in its 36th year) to reward service station personnel who provide exceptional customer service. A fleet of "Gates Mystery Cars" regularly travels across the country stopping at service stations. Each "Mystery Car" has a worn fan belt. Award plaques are presented to station personnel who notice the defective belt and offer to replace it.

Child's Initial School Impressions Important

AUSTIN (SpI) — Here it is back-to-school time, but for many children and parents it's "first time to school," occasionally, the first-time experience can be nerve-racking, but it is always important. So says the Texas State Teachers Association (TSTA), which points out that the first few hours, days and weeks are vital to a child's future in school.

TSTA provides several tips and information to help ease the first-time school experience, and make it more productive. Any child who is six years old or before Sept. 1 of the school year may be admitted to school. The child's birth certificate must be presented at the time of enrollment.

Some schools, in the interest of good health, require the child to be vaccinated against smallpox before enrollment. Also required may be immunization against diphtheria, whooping cough, and tetanus. Other information which may be needed is the name of the father, his occupation, where he works, and his phone number. The name and telephone number of the family doctor and hospital used may also be requested. Also can be the address and telephone numbers where parents can be reached in an emergency.

But such details are only part of the picture, and parents form an important partnership with teachers in getting the child off to a good start. HOW PARENTS CAN HELP It will help if the child has opportunities to be away from his mother for short periods before he starts to school. The child should be taught the safest way home from school. Also teach him to go directly home from school without loitering will help start the school day. Tell him not to go with strangers. Children should learn that policemen are their friends, and can give them help when needed. A child should have definite duties to perform at home, and it will be helpful if he can learn good listening habits. He should get enough sleep. A good breakfast each morning will help start the school day right. So will making certain that he is happy before he leaves for school. A child should learn to dress himself properly. He should be expected to respect the property rights of others, and should learn as he is able to do. Habits of self as he is able to do. Habits of promptness, obedience, and respect for authority are also helpful.

Parents should show an interest in what the child has to tell about his work and play at school. Children need to be praised frequently, and to be made to feel successful. They should be encouraged to have playmates.

It is vital for the child to have confidence in his teacher. Remember that your attitude toward the school will be observed — and copied — by the child. Do not criticize school or teacher in the presence of the child. If there is a difficulty — conflict with another child, a difficult activity, a school rule the child does not understand — take the time to help solve the problem instead of just criticizing the situation.

To get a child ready for school begin broadening his horizons even before that first day. Reading good books to him will help, as will taking him to places such as the zoo, park, and library. Personal belongings of the child should be labeled. Teachers will help your child experience opportunities for group work and play. They will help him grow in thinking for himself, and becoming interested in the world around him. At school he learns democratic living, and teachers will work to make him feel at ease in his school environment. Early days and weeks help build the foundation for future learning experiences.

Teachers want to learn as much as possible about each child. They are interested in his academic progress, relations with others, self-control, ability to concentrate, and response to suggestions.

The child's readiness for learning is directly related to varying rates of growth — physical, mental, social, and emotional. The teacher attempts to understand these factors for each child by observing his behavior in the classroom and on the playground. But the parent can also help by supplying teachers with this kind of information.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Any presidential candidate who thinks ABC ought to preempt time for him Oct. 12 to Oct. 27 when the White House race is at its hottest will have 50 cameras, the carefully whether he may lose in more votes than he will gain. For there is no fury like a sports fan deprived of a chance to see the Olympic Games in Mexico City live and in color for the first time. Roone Arledge brilliant head of ABC's Wild World of Sports admits to being worried about the pressure of election coverage on his great plan to carry 44 hours of Olympic sport from Mexico City, some of it in prime time and almost all of it live. His concern is understandable—the games end only a few days short of election day. Doubts Interference "But I strongly doubt," he said in an interview, "that there will be any interference with the live Olympic coverage except for something of overwhelming importance. I don't think any politician would want to annoy some of his viewers and these are the first summer Olympics on our continent since 1932, the first we can see live at a reasonable hour. "Naturally it would have been better all around if the games had been scheduled for earlier in the year. We ourselves are reluctant to preempt brand new programming so soon after the start of the season. But it is an event that must be covered. I've seen an estimate that 400 million people around the world will be watching it by landlines and by satellites!"

South Dakota Solon May Help Humphrey

CHICAGO (UPI) — George Stanley McGovern, 46, youngest of the contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination, is a quiet and gentle man as befits the son of a Methodist minister.

The senator from South Dakota seldom raises his voice and aides say they never have known him to bear a grudge. But despite his unassuming, almost diffident, manner he feels passionately on some subjects:

—That the war in Vietnam must be ended at once: "I am convinced that any president with the will to do it could end the war on terms acceptable to the American people in 60 days."

—That farm policies must be improved: "When I see how hard farmers work, the long hours they spend and the inadequate returns they get, it almost breaks my heart."

—That America's agricultural abundance and know-how must be used to feed the hungry everywhere, at home and abroad: "There can be no peace or safety on a planet ravaged by famine."

McGovern does not stand out in a crowd. He is slender, just slightly taller than average, with hazel eyes and sparse dark hair.

McGovern's entry Aug. 10 into the Democratic presidential sweepstakes was a surprise to most, coming as it did only 16 days before the opening of the Democratic National Convention.

There was speculation that McGovern acted in behalf of his old friend and former next-door neighbor, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the front-running presidential contender. According to this theory, McGovern would capture some of the votes which otherwise would be cast for Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and Humphrey would be the beneficiary.

Television In Review

Arledge said the coincidence of the Olympics and the election would throw a tremendous burden on the ABC technical staff, which would have 45 cameras of its own at Mexico City and access to 75 others, the biggest camera lineup in television history.

Entering its eighth year Wide World of Sports is doing better than ever before. It is completely financed for the entire season in accordance with a firm policy which does not give the sponsors any say in what sports are covered or how.

"This gives us freedom to do things," Arledge said. As an example he cited boxing. Television was once accused of killing boxing. Then came the recent tournament of champions which Arledge decided to back. Jimmy Ellis captured the title taken from Muhammad Ali (Cassius Clay) in a series of bouts that won back boxing's audience. And with it the sponsors returned.

"Just today," Arledge said, "I'm working on the technical problems of covering the championship fight between Ellis and the challenger and former champion Floyd Patterson in Stockholm on Sept. 14. We expect a tremendous television audience. The fight has created great excitement in Sweden even though its day before the national elections there."

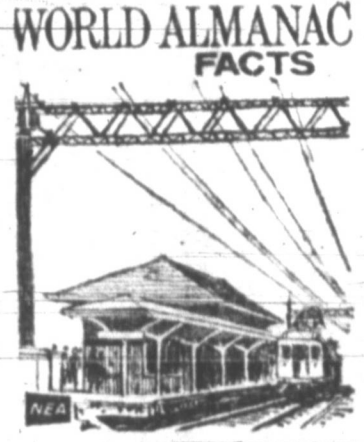

Patterson is really keyed up for this one, his whole life has been dominated by the thought of coming back from his defeats by Sonny Liston. There's a Hamlet quality in him that strikes a responsive chord in people. You just know he's going to get knocked down and get up and fight his way back. Everybody wants to see him do well. Everybody feels sorry for him. Yet he's made and kept more money out of boxing than any fighter ever."

Arledge said one of Wide World of Sports' secrets was to do everything live where possible. Another was to show unfamiliar sports if there is the basic element of competition that appeals to Americans. This venturesome policy and the general excellence of coverage has won the program two TV Emmys and a Peabody Award.

Automobile racing is one of its staples and gets the most air time. But this year Arledge added, it will cover table tennis, skiing and perhaps the New York State Firemen's contest, a surprisingly popular item with viewers among more conventional sporting fixtures.

FEATHERED FRIEND perches on the arm of third-party presidential candidate George Wallace. The former Alabama governor took an unexpected tour of Florida's Sunken Gardens in St. Petersburg, where a long-billed tocan flew down for a close look.

Long-suffering commuters derive solace in using their railroad's initials to contrive epithets expressing affection or displeasure with a road's service. The World Almanac notes that the Middletown and Unionville was once popularly called the Miserable and Useless, the Maryland and Pennsylvania became the Ma and Pa and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western was misread as Delay, Linger and Wait.

Rookie's Decision Stirs Controversy

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

HARRISON, N.Y. (UPI)—Julius Boros did a nice thing when the Westchester Golf Classic was all over.

He picked up the first prize check for 50 big ones, which is always nice. But then he did something nicer yet.

He resisted any impulse to show everybody where a 26-year-old rookie golfer's judgment can never compare with a 45-year-old veteran's like himself and along with that he also refused to second-guess the rookie, Bob Murphy, although a majority of others did.

If you watched the Westchester on TV Sunday you saw the whole thing.

Bob Murphy, who had led for the first three rounds, came to the final hole—a par five 518-yarder—tied for the lead with Jack Nicklaus and Boros.

Nicklaus had already finished with his 66 that put him 15 strokes under par and was watching the wind-up on TV in the press room.

Announcer Surprised

Boros was on the 18th green waiting to putt and Murphy, playing in the threesome behind, was on the 18th fairway getting ready for his second shot.

The camera focused on Murphy and suddenly the obviously surprised announcer said:

"He's going to play it safe, he's going to lay up with his second shot."

Jack Nicklaus, taking it all in on the 19-inch screen overhead, looked positively shocked.

"What..." he said, almost involuntarily.

Trying to build up the suspense, the announcer said Bob Murphy soon would learn whether he was happy with his decision to play it safe or not.

"I know three guys it's gonna make happy..." piped up Nicklaus.

Murphy made his shot with a three iron—and it wound up more or less the way he wanted it to, short of the trap. He then wedged to within 19 feet of the pin and two-putted for his par.

As it turned out that did it because Boros, canned his 15 foot birdie putt for the one stroke margin that netted him $30,000 more than Murphy, Nicklaus and Dan Sikes, all of whom tied for second place.

"Would you have done the same thing he did?"

The obvious answer, of course, was no. Any golfer with any experience on the tour at all will tell you he never plays for a tie but for a win, especially when he's on the final hole and has a chance to take it all.

That's the obvious answer but it wasn't Boros' answer.

"I think it was probably good strategy on his (Murphy's) part," said Boros.

"Yes, but would you have done it from where he was?" one questioner persisted.

"I didn't see where he was," parried Boros. "I was up ahead. I never look back. I was worrying about my own putt."

Bridges Gap

Quietly and quickly, Boros succeeded in bridging the generation gap between himself and young Murphy, who said he was disappointed at not having won but proud of his overall showing.

"Why did you play it safe on that second shot on the 18th?" Murphy was asked.

"Jack Nicklaus asked me the same thing," said Murphy. "I did what I did because I couldn't get home in two from where I was."

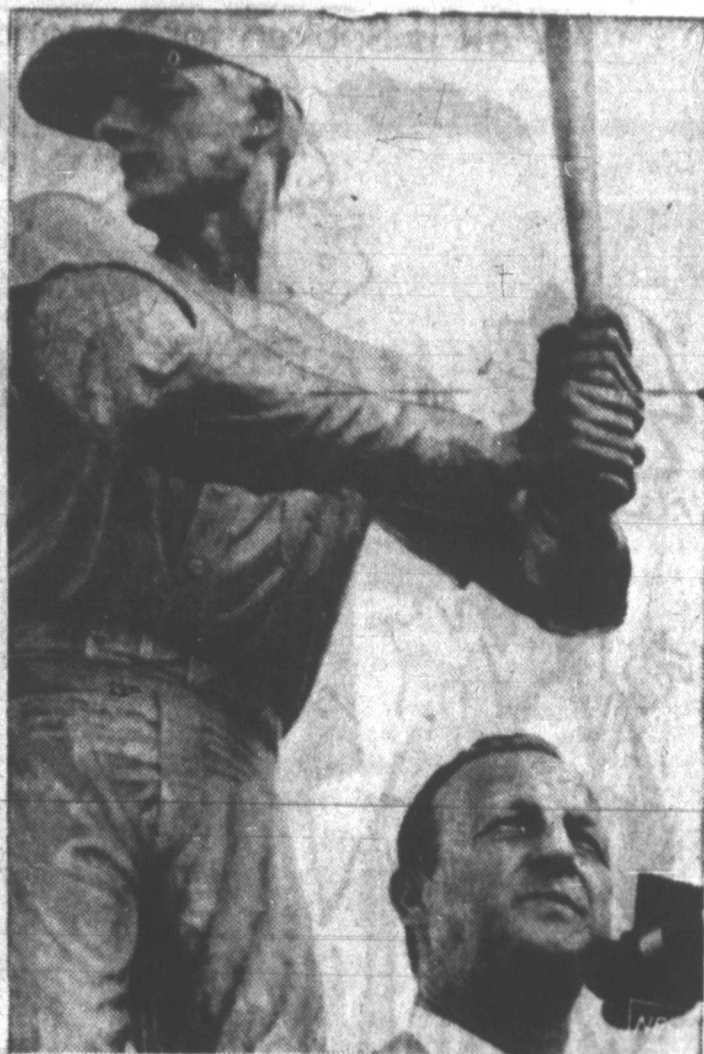

"Do you still think it was the right thing to do looking back now?"

"Yes. I think I played the right shot. I may not have but I think I did."

"Would you do the same thing all over again?"

"Yes. I just didn't think the gamble was worth it."

So Julius Boros took his $30,000 and Bob Murphy his $20,416. Nobody second-guessed anybody and everybody went home happy because Julius Boros did a nice thing.

BIGGER THAN LIFE, a statue of Stan Musial dwells "the man" as he speaks during dedication ceremony. The monument, a tribute to Musial's greatness on and off the baseball field, will be placed outside Busch Stadium in St. Louis, Mo.

Oilers Keep Perfect Slate With 24-23 Win

By PHILIP WHITE JR.
HOUSTON (UPI)—Coach Tom Fears of the New Orleans Saints says the AFL's Houston Oilers used a college play to win a professional football game Sunday afternoon in the Astrodome.

The Saints' coach was referring to an extra point the Oilers scored with 56 seconds left to remain undefeated in preseason action and grab a 24-23 victory over the NFL club. Pete Beathard, the Oilers' scrambling quarterback, rolled out to his right on the option play and pitched out to halfback Sid Blanks who rambled over for the deciding point.

"That's a college play for the most part," Fears said. "It's the first time I've seen it and I don't think we'll see it again either."

"But Beathard is built for the roll out play. We expected he would roll out and either pass or run it himself. We did not expect a pitchout option," Fears said.

Beathard scrambled three yards in the second period to score the Oilers only touchdown before safety Ken Houston returned a pass interception 39 yards in the fourth period.

The return brought coach Wally Lemm's Oilers within 14 points. On the ensuing kickoff, Bill Halley forced John Gilliam to fumble with a crushing tackle and Clarence Scott recovered for Houston on the Saints' 3.

The Oilers managed to gain a first down at the 12, but two penalties setup a 47-yard field goal by John Wittenborn.

Then came Houston's last minute heroics when Beathard, on a pass-run option, darted six yards for his second touchdown and, on a pass-pitch option, shoveled the pigskin to Blanks for the winning point.

Charlie Durkee, who made a 25-yard field goal for New Orleans earlier, missed a 40-yarder which was partially blocked by Willie Parker with nine seconds left.

New Orleans, now 1-2 in preseason action and 1-1 against AFL foes, scored on second quarter Bill Kilmer passes of five yards to Monty Stickers and of four yards to Dan Abramowicz.

Oiler Linebacker George Webster batted down a Kilmer pass attempt for the point after touchdown following the Abramowicz touchdown in what proved to be the winning play for the Oilers.

Don McCall scored on a two yard smash early in the third period to apparently put the game away for the Saints.

The loss furthered coach Fears' dislike of the experiment with no kicking of point after touchdown during preseason interleague games.

"This is a big advantage for a strong defensive team. A team such as the Rams, Packers or Colts can hold you from that two-yard line.

Fears reported that veteran defensive end Dan Colchico popped the Achilles tendon on his right heel and is out for the season and that center-linebacker Jackie Burkett cracked some ribs and will be out several weeks.

Dallas Defense Pleases Coach In Cowboy's Rout Over Rams

DALLAS (UPI)—Coach Tom Landry was very pleased with the "Dallas Cowboys' "jelling" offense in their 42-10 walloping of the Los Angeles Rams last Saturday night, but he reserved his loudest plaudits for the Dallas defense.

"Our offense is supposed to be explosive and it certainly was," Landry commented upon the Cowboys' return to their home field Sunday, "but our defense was better, too, especially on the goal line. This was the strongest point of our game."

The explosive offense he mentioned saw Don Meredith hit Bobby Hayes and Lance Rentzel on 58-yard scoring bombs to fashion a quick 14-0 first quarter lead from which the Rams never recovered.

Big Hal Lead

Meredith went on to hit Rentzel for another 12-yard touchdown pass and guide the Cowboys to a strictly on-the-ground scoring drive that was capped by Dan Reeves' nine-yard smash before he retired at halftime.

The score by then was 35-10 with defensive back Johnson scooting 23 yards with a Ram fumble for the fifth Cowboy touchdown.

Craig Morton came on the last half and managed but one scoring drive and that was capped by a 22-yard toss to Rookie Dennis Homan.

But, the Dallas defense tore through to smear the Rams' Roman Gabriel nine times, held the Los Angeles running attack to 49 yards and twice held off the Western Division's pre-season co-favorites on first-and-short yardage situations deep in scoring territory.

Scored for Rams

The only time it let the Rams get away was when Cornell Green fell and let Bernie Casey get loose for a 50-yard touchdown aerial.

"We had a good pass rush and our coverage was better,"

Landry said. "We destroyed his (Gabriel's) timing with his primary receivers and he was having to look for his secondary targets."

The worst casualty of the game, played before 64,978 fans in the Los Angeles Coliseum, was a head injury to defensive back Phil Clark, who remained in the coast city for observation before rejoining the team here.

The Cowboys return to action next Saturday night against another old nemesis, Green Bay, in the Cotton Bowl.

Drownings Take High Death Toll

AUSTIN—Drownings have accounted for 379 deaths in Texas so far this year, 62 more than the 317 recorded for all of 1967, according to E. G. Mauermann, deputy director for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Many of the more recent drownings occurred while the victims were swimming. The information we receive on what occurs during these drownings indicates that most occur when the victims extend themselves more than their abilities warrant," said Mauermann.

"Poor swimmers are continually getting themselves into predicaments from which they are unable to extricate themselves. In some cases, they not only drown themselves, but someone else as well," he said.

"I question anyone's right to put himself in a situation which would endanger a would-be rescuer," Mauermann said.

According to Mauermann, boaters still defy the spirit of the law which requires them to have one coast guard approved life saving device on board for each person in the boat.

Regional Legion Event Set In Lone Star State

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI)—San Antonio Highlands and Arlington will represent Texas in the first regional American Legion baseball tournament in the state when action gets underway Wednesday at Turnpike Stadium.

Other teams vying for the right to go to the national meet will be Fort Smith, Ark.; New Orleans; Biloxi, Miss.; Memphis, Tenn.; and the Panama Canal Zone.

Biloxi will meet Panama Canal in the first game Wednesday afternoon while San Antonio and Memphis and New Orleans and Arlington play night games.

Nixon Campaigns

By United Press International

Richard M. Nixon was campaigning today in three of the "big seven" states he considers vital for success in his bid for the White House.

Nixon and his political strategists are convinced he must carry most of the nation's largest states—California, New York, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania and Texas.

Nixon flew to Springfield Sunday night from San Diego where he told newsmen he would campaign face-to-face with the voters in order to "experience a chemistry" with the people. He said he would not "barricade" himself in a television studio in the weeks ahead.

Randy Matson Will Compete In Track Meet At Houston

By PHIL WHITE JR.
HOUSTON (UPI)—The nation's largest Olympic exhibition meet opens Saturday at Houston's Jeppesen Stadium, featuring eight world record holders in its 73-man field.

And the event will be distinguished in another respect—promoter Dave Rickey, manager of the Houston Striders Track Club, said it will be "the first time the Olympic team has ever run in the South."

He said a sellout crowd of 20,000 is expected. Competition is slated in the field events and in track events up through the 800 meters, leaving out the long distance runs.

Record holders who will compete include Bob Seagren, University of Southern California pole vaulter; Bob Beamon, Houston Striders Track Club, long jump; Jim Hines, Striders, 100 meters; Charlie Greene, University of Nebraska, 100 meters; Randy Matson, Striders, shot put; Jay Silvester, University of Utah, discus; Tommie Smith, Santa Clara, springs; and Ralph Boeton, Southern California Striders, broad jump.

The exhibition meet is designed to "prepare the men for the final olympic trials and to keep them sharp and tuned up for Mexico City," Rickey said.

The final trials are scheduled at South Lake, Tahoe, Nev., Sept. 12. At that time, the top 10 in each event will be narrowed to four.

The exhibition will present several feature matches. In the strong 400 meter field, Vince Matthews of New York, Emmett Taylor of Miami of Ohio University, Larry James of the Villanova and Jim Kemp of the U.S. Army have all covered the distance in 45 seconds or less.

Richmond Flowers of Tennessee and Willie Davenport of the Houston Striders each has a best time of :13.3 in the 110 meter hurdles.

Former olympian Al Oerter and Rink Babka, both of the New York Athletic Club, will battle for honors in the discus.

John Vaughn and Seagren have gone 17 feet, six inches in the pole vault this year, but will get plenty of competition from vaulters Jeff Chase of Santa Clara and Dick Railsback of UCLA, who also have cleared 17 feet.

Smith, with a time of 20 seconds in the 200 meters, will race against two dashers with :20.1 times this year. They are John Carlos, a teammate at Santa Clara, and Hines,

Orioles Win, 7-1; Detroit Loses, 4-1

By FRED McMANE
UPI Sports Writer

Frank Robinson is seeing things much more clearly now and as a result the Baltimore Orioles haven't lost sight of the American League pennant.

The AL championship is still a long way off for the second place Orioles, but if Robinson continues to hit the way he did Sunday the Orioles might still have a chance of overhauling the league-leading Detroit Tigers.

Robinson, who has just about recovered completely from the double-vision he incurred after a head injury last season, drove in four runs Sunday with a homer, single and a double to pace the Orioles to a 7-1 victory over the Minnesota Twins.

The triumph, coupled with Boston's 4-1 vic over Detroit, moved the Orioles to within seven games of the league leaders with 40 games remaining to be played for each team.

In other AL action, Chicago swept a doubleheader from Cleveland 4-2 and 8-1, California beat Washington 6-4 and New York edged Oakland 7-5 in 10 innings.

Cincinnati swept a doubleheader from Chicago 2-1 and 6-3, Philadelphia defeated San Francisco 5-3, St. Louis routed Atlanta 10-1, Pittsburgh whipped Los Angeles 5-1 and New York topped Houston 8-1 before losing 5-2 in National League games.

11th Homer

Robinson cracked his 11th homer of the year with the bases empty in the sixth inning, singled home a run in the seventh and doubled home two more runs in ninth to help Dave Leonhard notch his sixth victory in 11 decisions.

Winning pitcher Juan Pizarro squeezed home the tie-breaking run and Dalton Jones followed with a two-run homer as the Red Sox defeated the Tigers.

The Tigers' only run came on Willie Horton's 28th homer of the year in the fifth inning.

Astros Defend Ninth Place In Showdown

HOUSTON (UPI)—The richest Los Angeles Dodgers open a three-game "showdown" series with the Houston Astros tonight—with last place riding on the line.

The Dodgers currently occupy that ignominious position after dropping two out of three games to the Pittsburgh Pirates during the weekend.

Houston is in ninth place, one-half game ahead of Los Angeles.

Los Angeles solidified its hold on its lowest position in history Sunday when it dropped a 5-1 decision to the Pirates.

The Bucs' Bob Veale and the Dodgers' Don Sutton engaged in a scoreless duel for the first six innings before the Pirates tallied three times in the seventh.

Sutton gave up a leadoff, single to Willie Stargell, who advanced to second on a sacrifice and scored on Fred Hatke's single. Patek moved to third on a double by Bill Mazerowski and Chris Cannizzaro was intentionally walked to lead the bases. Maury Willis bunted to third baseman Bob Bailey, who threw wildly to the plate for a two-run error.

TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

GOP Job To Convince Voters

The Republicans went home from Miami Beach with the unity Richard Nixon promised he would do nothing to jeopardize in his choice of a running mate. The task they and now face is the far more difficult one of transforming party unity into party appeal to the voters, according to Don Oakley, Newspaper Enterprise Ass'n. editorial writer.

Granting their minority base of 27 per cent of the nation's registered voters, they must do no less than convince one-third of the remainder of the electorate — Democrats and Independents — that they have the answers to the problems the nation faces today and will face in the coming years.

By the nature of things, the party out of power has to emphasize the sins and failings of the incumbent administration. The party in power must of necessity defend its record. Both, of course, are never short on promises of how they will do better in the future.

As it would appear this early in the contest, the "ins" have the harder problem. For it has been during the Johnson administration, whether because of the President's policies or in spite of them, that the large and small crises that affect and concern all Americans today have developed and come to their present pass—the endless war in Vietnam, inflation, burgeoning federal power and massive deficits that have required a tax hike, racial unrest in the cities, the hippie generation and widespread disaffection among youth with American institutions and mores, crime and pollution.

Early Thanksgiving, Maybe?

It is impossible to escape the conclusion that one of the most relaxed men in the country these days is Lyndon B. Johnson. With Congress gone from Washington for a month, he retreated to the ranch to count his blessings.

First, the dollar survived and bids to outlive the French franc. The consensus of politicians, bankers and currency dealers is that the franc can't be saved. By American standards, France is gold-rich. Within the month, France negotiated $1.3 billion in short term credit. That took some doing. It borrowed $600 million from the US Federal Reserve, $300 million from West Germany, $200 million from Italy, $100 million from the Bank of International Settlements, and $50 million each from Belgium and the Netherlands. Just the figures and the varied creditors make clear that France has reached the borrowing limits.

But other strikes are clearly in the offing; taxes rose in France in the wake of the recent crisis. The franc is going to be under increasing pressure. And from here on out France will have to sell gold to save it. No politician, banker or currency dealer thinks it can be done.

Lyndon B. Johnson is a complex man. The fall of the franc will be a blow to the dol-

One Very Angry Man

Stepin Fetchit was an old-time movie actor whose name was known throughout the United States. People everywhere loved to see him in the movies — they loved him — and he made a fortune as well as fame in the high art of entertaining people. He was lovable, natural, highly gifted, patriotic and noninferior. And he had a gimmick, as most comedians do, to fix attention upon himself and create an image.

He pretended laziness and adopted eyeball rolling and foot shuffling as physical evidence of his rejection of all the high-pressure stuffed shirts and their mad, vain dogmas.

But now he is not funny. He is angry, very angry.

He is riled at a television

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

Long a favorite pastime in both urban and rural America was the summer tradition of making root beer in the home. We did so many years ago in Maryland when all the family got together, mixing the ingredients, washing the bottles and later filling them with root beer for storage in the cellar. Most of today's root beer fanciers have neither the time nor inclination for those chores. This great American beverage traces its origin to a small drugstore in Philadelphia. In the late 1880's, Charles Hires developed this brown foamy drink in the back of his shop where he blended a variety of roots, barks and herbs to produce a delightful beverage.

Today's smile: A fellow said to his girl friend: "Sometimes I wonder if I'm good enough for you." She replied: "Well, you are really not, but you're too good for any other girl."

The Post Office Dept. has been re-wrapping broken and torn packages for years and charging the recipient 80 cents per package. Now they have a new machine that's being tried out around the country that re-wraps the packages with a clear plastic film and the cost may be reduced to a dime.

Thoughts while shaving: A theatrical producer told us recently that only about one-fifth of the shows produced make any money and turn out to be a good investment for the backers. He said the producers and writers can make money on a flop by selling it to the movies. . . . And speaking of Broadway reminds us that the theatrical business has its own calendar. It begins in September instead of January. That's the month when the new shows open the new season. . . . Back in the good old days the favorite summer drink on New England farms was Switchel, a tangy concoction made from molasses, vinegar, cold water, sugar and ginger. It was frequently used as a chaser for a hooker of New England rum. . . . The largest cave-in Europe is near Belgrade, Yugoslavia, and contains a river and a 10,000 seat concert hall. . . . One of the Veterans Administration is the managing of estates for minors and mentally incompetent persons. . . . The Canadian Mounties always get their man, but somehow we think the French police deserve that kind of slogan too. We read recently about gendarmes notifying a citizen they had recovered his bicycle which had been stolen 20 years ago. . . . The next time your tight shoes hurt see a psychiatrist instead of a foot doctor. A podiatrist friend tells us that many of the walking problems he encounters in examining patients are psychosomatic. . . . The Washington (D. C.) POST reported in a story: "The bust continued rolling crazily until it bumped to a halt on the curb of 21st and P Sts."

Country Editor speaking: "Most folks are willing to pay for a doctor's advice, but few of them have sense enough to take it."

It is the rage to see things in the light of "social purpose" and not in the light of reality, a time when re-writers of history lurk. And what such people would really like to do is to wipe out all vestiges of Stepin Fetchit and the marvelously real ones whose work he shared.

What will it come to? Nobody knows.

But here is what it might come to. At some time in the future some clique of kooks may decide that the basket catch was degrading. And, ignoring the true contribution and worth of a great athlete, they will try to wipe out the magnificence of Willie Mays.

But it will always add up this way: One Stepin Fetchit, one Willie Mays, or one George Washington Carver is worth 100,000 of their nit-picking critics.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: Are employers and all governments setting a bad example?

ANSWER: Yes, they are. Most all employers are setting a bad example by being paternalistic. They seem to think they know how to run their employees' lives better than the employees themselves do. They insist on reducing the amount of pay the employees receive in order to establish pensions for them or provide insurance or other so-called benefits. What they are really doing is saying that the employees are so stupid they don't know how to take care of themselves so the employer has to do it for them.

Such employers could hardly be more insulting if they deliberately tried to be.

This is certainly not setting a good example of self-responsibility, independence and non-interference with other people, and respect for others.

It hurts both the employer and the employee because he is in danger of becoming arrogant and of really believing he knows best for everyone and acting as if it were so. He will then mind everyone else's business but his own. Since he can't possibly mind everyone else's business, he will fail at that; and to the extent that he's busy trying to mind other's business, he will be unable to mind his own, and it will not prosper as it should.

It hurts the employee to be deprived of the right to make his own decisions—to make his own mistakes and his own wise judgments and improve himself thereby.

If the employee wants the employer's opinion and advice, because of his experience or knowledge, that is quite different from the employer making the employee's decisions by arbitrarily establishing pensions for him.

Of course, the federal government does the same thing, but on a compulsory basis. They established "social security," which is really anti-social security, by taking from each man a fraction of his energy—through his earnings—and spending it currently and calling it a pension or insurance. They have no reserves from which to make payments. They owe at least $800 billions in obligations they don't have assets to pay.

The federal government is then setting a bad example by encouraging irresponsibility and dependence, by coercively interfering with other people, and on top of that, not telling the truth. It deceives the people about the safety and benefits of the so-called social security. Local governments do the same thing. They not only have their own pension funds for the local government employees, but they insist on making decisions for all people. They set themselves up as knowing what is best for others through the zoning laws, whereby they tell a man how he must use his own land that he honestly owns.

Federal Aid And Control

(Barron's)

Federal funds mean federal control. So says F. A. Harper of the Institute for Humane Studies, writing in Science. He warns his colleagues in academia that those who take easy money from Washington cannot hope to escape political control. His point is, especially appropriate now, because the National Citizens Committee for Public Broadcasting (chairman: Thomas P. F. Hoving, director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art) is asking Congress to appropriate funds for "public broadcasting." Subsidized TV, the committee argues, is "one of the greatest powers to calm, settle and balance an uncalm, unsettled and unbalanced society." By its failure to act so far, the Hoving group claims, Congress has shown "incredible arrogance directed at the people."

Nations all over the world consider public TV high priority—the U.S. could learn a lesson from them." Mr. Hoving blithely ignores the fact that totalitarianism in Russia, Germany and Italy owed much of its success to "public radio."

Mindful of that experience, Congress could do worse than withhold funds from "public broadcasting" which it mistakenly authorized last year.

Pre-teen Needs Room To Expand Interests

Having already discussed the steps involved in letting your child stand alone up to his entrance into first grade, let us take a look at your child of 8 to 11.

The pre-teen no longer needs to have his mother hover over him directing his every move—and he often takes drastic steps to make this clear. Despite the fact that he sometimes appears not to care about his parents' feelings, it is very important for him to know that you are there and that you still care for him.

Your pre-teen needs room to expand his interests and his activities. If you want to get the most enjoyment from your relationship, now is the time to watch and encourage him without feeling that you must become actively involved. Let him make his own decisions regarding his friends and his hobbies. If he makes a few mistakes, he will learn more from them than he could possibly learn from your well-meant advice.

This does not mean that the sky's the limit. You must still know where he is, when he will be home and who he is with. If he knows that you have confidence in his ability to correct his mistakes by himself he will be more likely to accept your guidance on matters that really count. Learn to talk WITH your child, not AT him. He has probably heard all your ideas on proper conduct many times. Endless repetition will not help at this stage.

If he refuses to tidy up his room, you should make it a firm rule that he can't mess up the rest of the house and that he is not to create any fire

Realism on Vietnam

As protracted negotiations drag on Paris, it is vital that Americans consider anew the problem of Vietnam and why the U.S. intervened in that Far East struggle. The danger is that a large segment of the public will conclude that the entire effort in Asia hasn't been worthwhile.

Certainly, the war has not been brought to a prompt and successful end, as Americans earlier hoped would be the case. While more and more U.S. troops have been sent to Vietnam, the Johnson administration has not demonstrated a will to work. The emphasis in briefing pilots has been on what they must not hit, because of political restrictions, rather than striking all targets of opportunity.

The Navy also has been denied a chance to blockade the North Vietnamese supply port of Haiphong and other entry points for Red war material. Allied forces on the ground have been refused permission to engage in hot pursuit if the enemy goes into "neutralist" states or into other privileged sanctuaries enjoyed by the communists. Thus American and allied fighting men, who have the know-how and the courage to win the war, have been prevented from achieving a clear-cut victory. The failure in Vietnam has not

Wit and Whimsy

An inebriated staggered into a bar and placed a big live lobster in front of him.

After downing a martini, he said, "Joe—Shay, you make the best martinis in town and I'm going to give you Ethelbert, my pet lobster."

Georgie (the bartender)—Fine. I'll take him home for dinner.

Joe—No, no don't do that. He's had dinner. Take him to a show.

When young Mark Twain was a struggling journalist in San Francisco a friend saw him on the street one day holding a cigar box under his arm.

Mark Twain—It isn't that you are always carrying a cigar box with you. I'm afraid you're smoking too much.

Mark Twain—It isn't that. I'm moving again.

A motorist was being examined for a driver's license, and was asked,

Mr. Bass—What is the white line in the middle of the road for?

She replied, "Miss Blank—Bicycles."

hazards in his private pigsty. Finally, don't make mountains out of molehills. Don't back down where a moral issue is involved. Don't refuse to help him if he asks you to and never let him think for a moment that you do not love him.

Q—The doctor found a horseshoe kidney in a one-year-old girl. How serious is this?

A—This is a developmental abnormality in which the lower poles of the right and left kidney, which are fused in the embryo, remain fused after birth and throughout life. In practically all persons with horseshoe kidney, the kidney function is normal and as long as the organ works properly, the condition is no more serious than a dimple on the chin.

A thought for the day: Cervantes said, "Fortune may have yet a better success in reserve for you, and they who lose today may win tomorrow."

In 1916 Abraham Lincoln's birthplace in Hodgenville, Ky., was given to the U.S. government as a national shrine.

What FDR Said

Birmingham, Ala., News

Would you believe that 30 years ago we were being told that Social Security would eliminate poverty and make welfare programs obsolete?

Oh, yes, on November 27, 1934, President Franklin D. Roosevelt wrote to Col. Edward M. House:

"There will, of course, be a certain number of relief cases where work will not furnish that answer, but it is my thought that in these cases all of the relief expenditures should once more be borne by the states and localities as they used to be."

(Mark you, this is FDR talking, not Ronald Reagan.)

"The lessons of history, confirmed by the evidence immediately before me, show conclusively that continued dependence upon relief induces a spiritual and moral disintegration fundamentally destructive to the national fibre."

"The old-age-benefits system was still to come; and Social Security; and unemployment compensation; and a host of programs that are nowhere near becoming obsolete — programs originally designed to relieve states and localities of their burdens."

How quaint Roosevelt's rhetoric sounds today above the clatter of the "War on Poverty"! The "abolition of relief altogether" just wasn't around. And it still isn't.
