TEXAS TOPICS

BY TEX DE WEESE

When conversationally in doubt, one always can fall back on the weather. They've been doing it for 10, these many years—and it's still the ace subject for discussion when all else fails.

We do not wish to speak disparagingly of the Tactless Texan who called the draw on recent floods, but he did misstep a bit yesterday when he read in his column that he couldn't see any rain around the Plains for at least another week.

We read that just after ducking in out of a rain that had been falling plainsward for a couple of hours. Now, these words are typed, the same rain is in progress, without let-up, after seven hours.

Personally, we never should predict. Most predictions originating here go badly well over the brink, do you see? The recent reminder of this is the Joe Louis-Max Schmeling thing. Which is to say that most of our predictions along any line are very similar to an empty banana.

What we had planned to say is that we feel that this column and the Tactless One now have something in common. We picked Louis to win and it rained on the Texan's dry weather message—making us both all wet.

Still we keep right on putting our neck out to let the coppers take a gleeful whack at it. It is very silly, but being top-heavy with brightness is something of which this space never can be accused.

And this brings us around to another prediction which is not wholly original. It may be due somewhat to effects of the recent hot weather, or of a little research reading about climate, temperatures and such, just recently completed.

So out goes the neck. Right now it's plenty cool. Everybody is gushing about gee isn't this swell, or something. This research leads us to predict that you haven't seen any hot weather yet and that the third week in July, according to our best findings and calculations, the Textless Taxpayer notwithstanding, will be of the hum-dinger variety.

Write the date on your cuff and then remind us a little later on about it, you little checker-uppers, you.

The most colorful and rugged exponent of homespun justice, Judge Roy Bean, known all over the world as "Law West of the Pecos," is one of the principal characters in the Cavalcade of Texas cast at the Texas Centennial exposition in Dallas.

For those who are interested, an original drawing of Judge Bean's court is to be found here in Pampa hanging on the wall of Judge E. F. Young's office in the courthouse.

Roy Bean, who followed the railroads into the Big Bend country in 1889, dropped off at a town named Vinagaron, renamed it Langtry and started to make history. He set up a saloon at Langtry and called it the Jersey Lily. Then he took over the task of administering justice in a lawless land.

His judicial rulings, which are still quoted wherever a group of barristers gather, and his humorous comments and decisions, which cause old timers to cackle with laughter up and down the Rio Grande, went round the world before he died. Lily Langtry, for whom he named his saloon, carried on correspondence with the Judge during the heyday of his career, and came to visit Langtry after Roy Bean's death.

The Big Bend country, a land which is still wildy beautiful, and the last frontier of the Old West, plays its own dramatic and colorful part in the story of the Cavalcade of Texas. Through the Davis Mountains to the first of the Conquistadores, shipwrecked Cabrera de Vaca, trudging, naked and barefoot, in 1534. Across its rugged peaks the Conquistador Coronado marched on his return from the fruitless search of Seven Golden Cities of the Cibola. Within the grandeur of these mountain ranges Texas history was born.

The cast of the Cavalcade of Texas recreates the glory of the land west of the Pecos, beginning with Cabeza de Vaca and Coronado and closing with Roy Bean and his Jersey Lily saloon.

When they hold a contest or something to pick the Panhandle's most contagious smile, we'd like to

U. S. REPORT LIFTS FUTURES $3 BALE

JOSH LEE LEADS MARLAND, SMITH FOR U. S. SENATOR

TOWNSENDITE RUNNING NEXT TO GOVERNOR

CLOSE RACE INDICATED FOR POSITION IN RUN-OFF

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 8 (AP)—Gov. E. W. Marland increased his lead slightly today over Gomer Smith, national Townsend old age pension club vice president. In the fight for Democratic U. S. senatorial nomination that put Rep. Josh Lee in the lead and defeated blind Senator T. P. Gore.

Tabulation of late returns from yesterday's first primary election indicated the New Deal governor's lead over Smith for second place in the July 28 primary election, climb from a little over 1,000 votes to more than 2,000 with 734 precincts yet to report.

Lee, former University of Oklahoma professor, will be bracketed against the winner of the second place in the Democratic run-off election.

Lee gradually increased his lead over the field as additional returns were tabulated. Gore ran fourth and conceded defeat last night.

Reports from 2,677 precincts out of 3,411 in the state gave Marland 94,383 votes and Smith 92,263. Lee had 132,643 and Gore 74,038.

Herbert K. Hyde, former U. S. district attorney here and prosecutor of the Charles F. Urschel kidnapers, had a substantial lead on the Republican senatorial ticket while Horace McKeever, Enid lawyer, and Robert W. Kellough, Tulsa attorney, were in a spirited race for the other run-off berth.

With 1,064 precincts reported Hyde

GATLIN WIDOW FILES SUIT IN DISTRICT COURT

Compensation Asked For Injuries Suffered

Mrs. H. S. Gatlin, widow of H. S. Gatlin, oil pumper who was injured last December 24 on the Sun Oil Co. properties, and who two months later was killed in an automobile accident on the highway between LeFors and McLean, today filed a compensation suit in district court against The Hartford Accident and Indemnity Co., of Houston.

Mrs. Gatlin and several co-plaintiffs ask in their petition that they be awarded judgment of $3,478.42, equal to compensation of $17.93 week for 290 weeks.

THIRTY HURT IN RIOTS AT RAND PLANT

President Will Attempt To Settle Strike; Workers Attacked By Strikers.

CINCINNATI, July 8 (AP)—Riots in which a bystander was wounded, 30 or more persons injured and two buses wrecked in running fights brought James H. Rand Jr., president of Remington-Rand Inc., to Cincinnati today for a conference looking toward settlement of a six-weeks strike.

A 24-hour truce between the company and the strikers closed the plant after three days operation in which stone throwing and hand-to-hand encounters had occurred each evening at the close of work.

Rand will confer Thursday with committees of workers and strikers.

Ten persons arrested on charges of disorderly conduct and assault and battery were ordered to court Friday.

Announcement of Rand's coming served to disperse a crowd which kept more than 30 employes prisoners in the plant until late last night. Only 25 tickets were on duty outside the closed plant today.

A crowd, estimated by police at more than 1,000 persons, gathered about the gates of the plant in suburban Norwood late yesterday. As buses containing many of the 250 workers left the plant, they were greeted with a shower of stones.

In automobiles pursued one bus load of women workers six miles to the yard of the Hamilton county courthouse. Another, en route to the plant, was overturned, set afire, and hauled with axes, while a third was wrecked in a traffic jam at a busy street intersection. Police said working of the third bus apparently was accidental.

Jack Veneman of Norwood, a bystander, entered a hospital early today for treatment of a bullet wound in his leg.

Police said that 30 or more minor casualties among employes did not require hospital treatment. A company guard was treated.

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—Aubrey Williams, deputy WPA administrator, announced today that 55,000 destitute farmers in five mid-western drought stricken states would be employed by the WPA within a week or ten days at the most.

Williams estimated that nearly half the number would be employed within 24 hours.

He said the WPA would employ 20,000 in North Dakota at the rate of 2,000 a day, under direction of Thomas H. Mcodie, state administrator at Bismarck.

In North Dakota, he said, 17,000 would be employed at an average of 2,800 a day under direction of M. A. Kennedy, state administrator at Pierre.

Here Tomorrow

Col. Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Railroad commission, will arrive in Pampa tomorrow noon to spend several hours. He will be a guest at the Lions club noon meeting, and will remain in Pampa until about 2:30 o'clock when he will leave for the annual barbecue at the Smith Bros. on the Sater ranch where he will be one of the speakers. A number of Pampans will accompany him to McLean.

SMITH BROS. TO GIVE BARBECUE FOR EMPLOYEES

Invited Guests Will Include State Officials

The second annual barbecue of the Smith Bros. Refining company will be held on Thursday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, at their Sitter plant, located five miles east and seven miles north of McLean.

Employees of the company, their families, and a group of invited guests will attend. The program will open with a ball game and will be followed by a brief program during which Moore E. A. Simpson of Amarillo will speak as representative of Governor James V. Allred.

Senator Clint C. Small and Col. Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Railroad commission, will be other speakers. They will be introduced by John Sturgeon, Pampa attorney.

Pit barbecue prepared by an expert, will be the closing event. Last year more than 2,000 persons attended the event.

The Smith brothers have been residents of McLean for many years. They started in the ginning business but when oil was discovered in the McLean territory, they expanded into that business. They still operate in that section.

Many Pampans have been invited to the big celebration.

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

The smiling candidate came into the courthouse lobby, passing out cards, offering to buy all and sundry a coke, or a cigar, shaking hands all around. When he left one of the old men on the bench said: "I'm glad that feller is speakin' for 'em—his speakin' to me for the first time in years, but just as soon as election is over, he'll stop it."

I have seen his kind before. He thinks he'll keep on speakin' but when he gets beat he'll be so mad he won't see me fer a year! I'll tell you fellows something. A man ought to act all the time like he was a-runnin' fer office and everybody'd git along hunky-dory, then. There's a lot of guys that act all the time like they're runnin' fer office, but they don't have to run because they've already got so many friends. A feller ought not to run for office just to see how many friends he's got. That's just askin' too much of your friends. . . . But some guys ought to run for office once in a while, even if they don't git beat, so they can make a few new friends by speakin' to people!

BOARD DENIES WARREN PLEA FOR CLEMENCY

ALLRED URGED NOT TO SAVE CONDEMNED MAN

AUSTIN, July 8 (AP)—The state pardon board today urged Governor James V. Allred not to extend clemency to Grady Warren, one of four men scheduled to die at Huntsville just after tomorrow midnight in the second largest night of executions in Texas history.

The board previously had recommended that death sentences be carried out in the cases of the other three convicted killers, Glenn Warren, white, from Angelina county, and Oscar and Mack Gougle Brown, negro brothers from Jackson county.

The governor was not expected to make a decision until tomorrow. He usually follows the pardon board's recommendations.

Grady Warren, unrelated to Glenn, twice was assessed the death penalty for the "iron bolt" slaying of E. G. Brown near Tyler on New Year's eve, 1933. After the court of criminal appeals reversed his first conviction, his second trial was held in Upshur county.

The pardon board's adverse recommendation in the case was unanimous.

"In the minds of two juries there was no doubt that Warren voluntarily killed Brown with malice aforethought," the board said. "There likewise is no doubt in our minds."

"For the commission of this crime in all its shocking and cruel details, Grady Warren deserves the death penalty if capital punishment is going to be retained, upheld and carried out in this state where murder is committed for the purpose of robbery."

Rockefeller Has 97 Candles on His Cake Today

LAKEWOOD, N. J., July 8 (AP)—Ninety-seven candles shone today on John D. Rockefeller's birthday cake, with one slice reserved for the aged financier himself.

"I've been waiting for this so long that I'm no longer afraid," the slight, wan-faced killer of three told P. T. Farnsworth, his spiritual adviser, and Sheriff Joseph Holbrook, who will supervise the firing squad execution.

Calmly the 29-year-old slayer who shot his child-wife and her mother and step-father in 1930 talked over his final plans with the sheriff—who had been out testing five rifles before he visited Green in his cell here in Utah state prison.

Farnsworth said Green had decided definitely to make no further move to escape death.

Will He Live To Be 100?

LAKEWOOD, N. J., July 8 (AP)—John D. Rockefeller, Sr., celebrating his 97th birthday, today expressed confidence he would live to be 100 years old. "I know I will live to be 100, just as I said several years ago," Rockefeller was heard to remark. For luncheon, Rockefeller had hot bullion, fresh lamb from his own estate, vegetables grown on the estate, and acidophilous milk.

Young Gives Own Blood To Save Life Of Sister

Gives Transfusion to Mrs. Gerber of Spearman

A blood transfusion given late Tuesday afternoon by Fred E. Young, Austin, state adjutant of the American Legion, today was credited with saving the life of his sister, Mrs. J. E. Gerber, Spearman, a patient at Pampa-Jarratt hospital.

Early yesterday when Mrs. Gerber's condition grew worse and it was feared death was near, preparations were made for the transfusion.

Fortunately State Adjutant Young was in the Panhandle district to attend an American Legion meeting in Amarillo last night.

When volunteers were called for the transfusion, he responded to the tests and the operation was performed at 3 p. m. yesterday.

Doctors said an immediate change for the better was noticed in the patient and Mrs. Gerber today was reported gaining the strength needed for an operation which will be performed tomorrow, according to her father, Justice of the Peace E. F. Young.

Following the transfusion yesterday afternoon Mr. Young rested for two hours and then left Pampa for Amarillo where he spoke last night.

WHEAT PRICES AGAIN REACH HIGHEST PEAK

INCREASE IN COTTON PLANTING IN ALL STATES SHOWN

NEW ORLEANS, July 8 (AP)—Cotton soared $3.00 a bale today carrying the July position across the 13-cent level as a bullish government acreage report touched off the biggest buying movement in months.

Waves of buying poured into the market as soon as trading resumed following the government estimate that but 30,621,000 acres of cotton had been planted, a figure 500,000 off 1,000,000 acres under expectations.

Prices jumped $1.50 a bale when the market reopened and aside from temporary profit-taking reactions continued an active and definite advance.

KANSAS CITY, July 8 (AP)—Wheat futures again reached the highest levels of the season today, advancing from 2 to 2½ cents but profit-taking checked the upturn after July wheat sold up to $1.04½. September deliveries were up to $1.03½ and December reached $1.05 before selling halted the rise.

Corn futures jumped the full 4-cent limit again today, bringing the total gain in three weeks to 20 cents. July corn touched 82½ cents but part of the advance was lost.

NEW ORLEANS, July 8 (AP)—A decidedly bullish government acreage report lifted cotton futures more than $2.00 a bale in active trading here today.

All the new crop months crossed the 12-cent level, making new highs for the season. Trading was extremely active when the market resumed after the government report.

October touched $12.11, up $1.65 a bale. December gained $1.50 a bale to $12.06, while January at $12.13 and March at $12.11 showed proportionate advances.

The government estimate of 30,621,000 acres was considerably below earlier private estimates and

Green Resigned To Rifle Squad

SALT LAKE CITY, July 8 (AP)—Delbert Green, who will be shot Friday for murder, said today "I think I can face that rifle squad with a smile."

"I've been waiting for this so long that I'm no longer afraid," the slight, wan-faced killer of three told P. T. Farnsworth, his spiritual adviser, and Sheriff Joseph Holbrook, who will supervise the firing squad execution.

Calmly the 29-year-old slayer who shot his child-wife and her mother and step-father in 1930 talked over his final plans with the sheriff—who had been out testing five rifles before he visited Green in his cell here in Utah state prison.

Farnsworth said Green had decided definitely to make no further move to escape death.

DEPOPULATION OF DUST BOWL TO BE DROPPED

Government to Begin New Economy Scheme

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—A sweeping alteration in the economy of the northwestern dust bowl was the announced objective of the federal government today as President Roosevelt inaugurated a drought relief program.

The President also made known his plan to make a personal inspection of the area some time next month to see what progress had been made.

Officials said work relief projects, subsistence loans and grants are included in the emergency campaign designed to give incomes to 170,000 distressed families and provide feed for livestock.

Mr. Roosevelt told reporters the

Wheat Cutting At Standstill

Wheat cutting was at a standstill today following yesterday's light rain. Several farmers, however, expected to resume harvesting late this afternoon.

A few loads of wheat, cut before the rain, were delivered to local elevators this morning. The price quoted here was 99 cents a bushel, one cent under yesterday's closing quotation.

Crop outlook is not as bright as anticipated, farmers report. The heads are not as full as at first believed and the grain is small and shriveled in many instances.

Estimation of an average yield is still uncertain. One field will produce anywhere from three to 10 bushels. An agreeable average, estimated by a group of farmers interviewed this morning, was six bushels to the acre.

Free Swim To Be Given Tomorrow

The weekly free swim for all children under 12 years of age will be given at the municipal pool Thursday morning from 9 until 12 o'clock, Mrs. Lillian A. Blythe announced today.

The pool will be drained tomorrow night. All children of the city within the age limits may enter the pool without paying admission tomorrow morning. Cool weather kept swimmers away from the pool Monday and Tuesday.

I Saw...

Jack Dunn of the local Railroad commission office and he said that friends of Col. Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the railroad commission, could see him tomorrow afternoon until 2:30 o'clock at room 305, Rose building, or could telephone him by calling 1441.

Lance Webb complaining that the people who put him on the back and congratulate him for the work he is doing, are not attending his revival meeting.

Building Of Road To Borger Starts

After more than a year of delay, construction on the Pampa-Borger highway, also known as Highway 41, was under way Wednesday.

Sixteen WPA workmen, all from the Borger area, started work east of that city yesterday. The number will be increased to about 60 men.

Grade and drainage structure work on the stretch of road between Borger and the paving, just west of there, is location of the first work. Approximately three miles of paving was laid last year.

Officials said today that an effort will be made to start work from Skellytown west within the next two weeks. Men from Pampa and Carson county will be used on that particular portion of the project, it was stated.

The portion of the highway through Gray county, west of Pampa, has been paved for several years.

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday; warmer in north portion.

FIFTY DIE OF DROUGHT-HEAT IN MID-WEST

PRESIDENT PROMISES CASH RELIEF FOR SECTIONS

CHICAGO, July 8, (AP)—The nation counted at least 50 dead today as record-shattering heat engulfed the drought-damaged midwest for the sixth consecutive day.

Crop losses—already estimated at approximately $300,000,000—mounted rapidly under a sizzling sun that drove temperatures as high as 120 degrees.

No relief was sighted. Meteorologists predicted, instead, a continuation of the fair and torrid weather that has spread death, misery and destruction across the midcontinent.

But desperate western planters received some good news. President Roosevelt swung the government into action behind a program designed to carry 170,000 farm families and their harassed livestock through the crisis.

He announced at Washington late yesterday they would receive aid through WPA work and subsistence loans and grants while small cattle breeders would receive federal loans to save their foundation herds.

The president estimated 204,000 farm families—the bulk of them in the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wyoming and Montana—were in need of some form of immediate cash relief. He said 50,000 were being employed on WPA well digging, dam building and farm-to-market road construction projects at an average weekly wage of $15.

Mr. Roosevelt said subsistence loans would be advanced to 50,000 families through the resettlement administration in addition to 70,000 already receiving such aid.

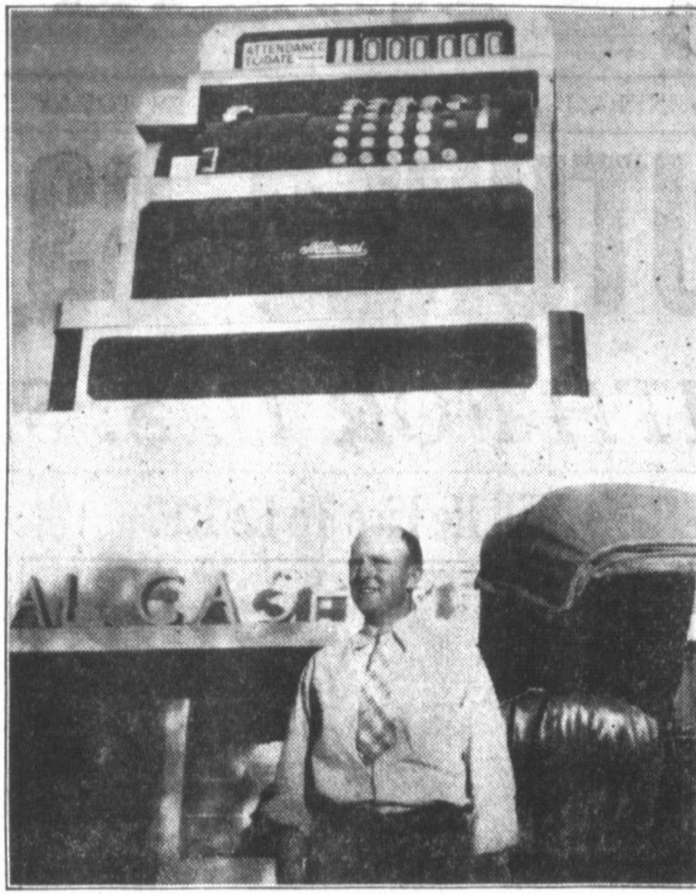

One third of the Montana wheat crop was given up for lost. Agricultural agents in three Nebraska counties agreed the corn crop was doomed unless it had rain within the next two weeks.

Grain traders shared their belief that corn was in a critical period, while much of the spring wheat in states which have been arid since June 1 had been wiped out.

But showers in Saskatchewan put the brakes on the market's precipitate upsurge yesterday. In a rare gyraton, wheat soared 4 cents to the highest point since August, 1934; plunged almost six cents; then rebounded a cent. The September delivery closed at 105 1/2-106 amid tumultuous scenes in the pits.

But President Roosevelt declared no starvation was in prospect. The most recent government estimates, he said, indicated a yield of about 600,000,000 bushels of wheat and a carryover of 150,000,000 bushels.

1,000,000th Visitor Reaches Fair

In less than 3 weeks from opening day of the $25,000,000 Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas, the one millionth visitor, Fred Bengt, 35, of Norman Okla., walked through the gates. He is shown above at the National Cash Register Company's attendance recorder, on a tour of the grounds as an honor guest of the Exposition.

TVA Has 9,000 Employed on Job

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 8 (AP)—The Tennessee Valley Authority's $175,000,000 building program, employing 9,000 men over a vast portion of the south, has swung into full stride with the advance of summer.

The project is designed to control water resources of the Tennessee river and its tributaries to provide navigation, prevent floods, and generate electrical energy.

Started in 1933 as a federal "yardstick" to determine utility rates the far-flung system will not be completed until 1940. The peak of employment is expected to be reached next year.

Two huge concrete barriers—Norris dam across the Clinch river in East Tennessee and Joe Wheeler dam on the Tennessee river 15 miles above Wilson Dam, Ala.—are practically complete.

Work is well along on Pickwick Landing dam on the lower Tennessee river in southwestern Tennessee, while excavation work in the first coffer dams is being started at Guntersville dam, 10 miles below Guntersville, Ala., and Chickamauga dam, seven miles upstream from Chattanooga.

FIVE MEXICANS SLAIN

TAMPICO, Mexico, July 8, (AP)—A gun battle between two rival groups of landholders left five men dead today. Former soldiers who own land given them for revolutionary services came into conflict once more with civil landowners at the El Coronel Hacienda near Tula. Two veterans and three of their opponents were slain. Another former soldier was seriously wounded.

COTTON CROP ESTIMATED

WASHINGTON, July 8, (AP)—Cotton in cultivation July 1 was estimated today by the crop reporting board at 30,621,000 acres, or 109.8 per cent of the 27,888,000 in cultivation a year ago.

Strikers To Be Ousted by Blum

PARIS, July 8, (AP)—Government and labor joined today in a concerted effort to evacuate business places occupied by striking workmen.

Roger Salengro, minister of the interior, enlisted assistance from labor unions to redeem his promise to the senate the government "will not tolerate" further occupation of factories by strikers.

With the approval of Premier Leon Blum, Salengro outlined to union leaders a three-step program of bringing a halt to the refusal to work. He said the steps were:

1. Strikers will first be asked by the unions to evacuate their places;
2. If they refuse, the government will make a similar request;
3. If the workers still refuse to recede from their positions, the government and labor will join in persuasive measures to halt the occupation.

"The government will employ other measures only if all efforts of persuasion fail," the minister told the labor leaders.

COURT IDEL

AUSTIN, July 8 (AP)—The state supreme court and the court of civil appeals here did not meet today because several of the judges were attending the State Bar association convention at Dallas.

COURT RECORD

RESERVES DECISION

Judge W. R. Ewing yesterday afternoon re-erred decision following a hearing in the case of Anita M. Spicer against the Associated Investment Co., and Sheriff Earl Talley, of Gray county.

The action was brought as an appeal from a county court decision, seeking to restrain the sale of property.

The plaintiff was represented at the hearing by Atty. Robert Gordon and the defendant by Atty. John Sturgeon.

Marriage licenses: D. W. Jones and Iva Bullard, both of Pampa; Carl Devitt and Dorothy Steele, both of Pampa.

Members of the county grand jury will convene again tomorrow at the court house to consider criminal cases. The jury has been in adjournment since Thursday of last week.

LUNG CANCER FATAL

DALLAS, July 8 (AP)—George Crook, Tyler water engineer, died at 3:55 a. m. today in Baylor hospital. The body was sent to Paris, Texas, for burial. The hospital diagnosis showed Crook's death was caused by a lung cancer.

Boy Drowns in Lake at Rhome

RHOME, July 8, (AP)—Seized by cramps while swimming in a Fort Worth and Denver City Railway lake nine miles north of here, V. T. House, 15, of Route 1, Decatur, fought off would-be rescuers and was drowned last night.

House and four companions went to the lake on what is known as Hill 17 on the railway after they were through with their work at a farm. According to information gathered by Deputy Sheriff Fred Easley, Virgil Pounds, 14, of Decatur, and the House youth swam to a hole in the center of the water. They were returning toward their fellows when House, afflicted by cramps, began sinking. When two of the companions went to his rescue he fought them away.

As attempts at saving continued, Pounds was seized with cramps, but was hauled ashore by Hays Crowder, 35, Decatur, who was in the party. Crowder returned to help House but the struggling youth fought free and sank.

Kelse Hext, of LeFors, injured when struck by an automobile last week, was able to leave Pampa-Jarratt hospital this morning.

Mrs. M. A. Graham is convalescing at her home following a serious illness.

HUNG JURY IS REPORTED IN McLEAN SUIT

JURY DISMISSED; IS UNABLE TO REACH VERDICT

After five hours of deliberation the jury in the lawsuit of The Aerolene Gasoline Co. against W. H. Blevins, of McLean, reported shortly before noon today that it was unable to reach a verdict.

Following report of the disagreement, Judge W. R. Ewing, in district court, dismissed the jurors. No date for retrial had been set today.

In the action the gasoline company had sought to recover $1,295.43 on a verified account in which it was alleged the amount sought was due from Blevins for gasoline and oil sold to the defendant.

Blevins denied the claim from the witness stand yesterday and in his petition, answering the suit, claimed that the plaintiff in reality owed him $34.70, because he had not been credited with proper cash payments and credits due through transfer of the gas and oil products. Blevins stated that he formerly operated a bulk station for the Aerolene company at McLean. The jury took the case at 4 p. m. yesterday and reported the disagreement at 11:45 a. m. today.

Members of the jury were J. R. Glass, Roy Arb, W. S. Wall, Ben Kelly, R. M. Gibson, G. H. Baxter, Jim Libby, S. T. Pierce, J. R. Phillips, Foll Moore, and Millard Windom.

Tomorrow the civil actions of W. A. Smith vs. Thurston Martin, and E. Bass Clay vs. Rudco Oil and Gas Co., are scheduled for trial.

BORAH STILL SILENT

BOISE, Idaho, July 8 (AP)—Everybody is ready to announce Senator William E. Borah's candidacy for reelection, it appeared today—except Senator Borah.

The rock-chinned Idahoan only set his jaw a little firmer or smiled when asked to comment on the prediction of Ray McKaig, latest of his friends to say Borah will run.

KING BACK TO CHI

LOS ANGELES, July 8, (AP)—King Lewinsky headed back to his native Maxwell street in Chicago today, his current invasion of California fight rings ended in defeat. Lee Ramage of San Diego applied the finishing touches to the King's west coast tour last night, winning a 10-round decision before 10,000 fans at the Olympic auditorium.

"YOU'D NEVER GUESS HOW HOT IT IS OUTSIDE"

Keeping comfortable in the hottest weather is no longer difficult. Modern air conditioning solves the problem completely, but it is surprising how much help one gets from an electric fan.

And most electric fans are portable. They can readily be moved from one room to another. They cost little. They last a long time and like other new appliances they are economical in the use of electricity.

Your local electric dealer dealer has a stock of these new electric fans. Call for the model that will best serve your particular needs.

BREAKFAST WELCOMES A NEW TEACHER OF ALATHEAN S. S. CLASS YESTERDAY MORNING

TABLES ARE PRETTILY ARRANGED FOR THE OCCASION

A 9 o'clock breakfast yesterday morning was one of the prettiest social meetings of the year for Alathean class of First Baptist church.

Tables were arranged in "A" shape and decorated with garden flowers and pink tapers. Each plate was marked with a corsage of sweet peas.

Mrs. R. Earl O'Keefe gave the invocation after the group had sung "Blest Be the Tie." Miss Marjorie Tucker and little Bobby Jo Tucker entertained with songs and readings.

In the business meeting, Mrs. W. B. Ellis was introduced as the new teacher by Mrs. R. W. Tucker, adult department superintendent.

A standing vote of the class pledged support to the new teacher and expressed appreciation for the delicious two course breakfast of orange juice, bacon, eggs, toast, and coffee.

Those attending were Mrs. T. E. Solomon, M. W. Boyd, O'Keefe and Tucker, adult department officers; Mrs. Hattie Bush, church secretary; Mrs. J. T. Worrell, N. B. Ellis, Earl Isley, D. D. Robbins, H. H. Threat, B. E. Sarrett, L. L. Allen, L. H. Simpson, J. A. Jett, Jack Dunn, Calvin Whitley, C. W. Windom, J. E. Matthews, W. T. Porter, James A. Barrett.

Surprise Bridge Party Given for Birthday Event

Mrs. Roy West entertained last evening, surprising Mr. West on his birthday. Bridge games were enjoyed by six couples. Tables were arranged in a red, white, and blue color scheme.

Election of Miss Mary Adams, member of the Order of Rainbow here, to a state office at the recent Grand Assembly in Houston was announced to the local order at a regular meeting last evening at Masonic hall.

ICEBOX MEALS HELP TO KEEP THE COOK COOL

Making Use of the Refrigerator Is Helpful

By MARY E. DAGUE, NEA Service Staff Writer. Did you ever stop to think how, along with keeping the food cold, your refrigerator can keep YOU cool, too?

It can, indeed, if you use a bit of forethought, plan meals that can be prepared in the morning, kept in the refrigerator until shortly before serving time. The family will enjoy these meals, too; they won't taste like hastily assembled makeshifts.

Many main dishes can be prepared, baked and kept in the refrigerator in the same dish in which they were cooked. When you want to reheat them it's an easy matter to put them in the oven and then serve them in the same dish.

If you have a dish of cold boiled potatoes on hand you can, in almost no time, serve one of the following: potato salad, potatoes au gratin, potatoes in cheese sauce, potato omelet, hashed brown potatoes, old-fashioned fried. All these dishes are splendid with cold meats and they are economical as well.

Jellied veal loaf, potatoes in cheese sauce, corn on the cob, stuffed tomato salad, red raspberry shortcake, milk, coffee.

The meat loaf is best prepared the day before and chilled for 24 hours. The potatoes are diced, ready to reheat in the sauce, or the sauce can be made, potatoes added, and the whole put in a covered dish ready to pop in the oven the minute the heat is turned on.

Tomorrow's Menu. BREAKFAST: Fresh plums, crisp broiled bacon with scrambled eggs, bran and raisin muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Cream of corn soup, minced ham sandwiches, carrot sticks, chocolate cup cakes, lemonade.

DINNER: Sliced cold boiled tongue, old-fashioned fried potatoes, ten-minute cabbage, apple and celery salad, blueberry pie, milk, coffee.

shortcake is made of baking powder biscuit dough which has been mixed ready for the milk. Or you can use one of the excellent prepared flours on the market.

Menu II. Cold sliced meat, lattice potatoes, green beans in cream, jellied cabbage salad, Dutch peach cake, milk, coffee.

A cold roast of lamb or beef, cold boiled tongue, pressed corned beef, cold boiled or baked ham provided variety in cold sliced meats. The potatoes can be cooked the day before or early in the morning and stored in an air-tight box until wanted for reheating.

Cook the beans early in the morning, cool quickly and keep covered in the ice box until ready to reheat in a thin

Harrah Revival To Be Outdoors Again Tonight

Outdoor services will be resumed this evening at Harrah Methodist chapel, where the Rev. W. E. Peterson, evangelist, will preach on the subject, A Message in the Night.

The Social CALENDAR

THURSDAY. A covered dish luncheon will be given by Bethany class at First Baptist church.

Beta Sigma Phi will meet at the home of Miss Ann Clayton, 7:30.

FRIDAY. Garden club will meet at city club room, 9:30 a. m.

Mrs. George Hancock will be honored at Chatterbox Sewing club at an outdoor meeting in Harvester park.

Mrs. George Nix will be hostess to New Deal bridge club at her home, 2:15.

Members of Beta Sigma Phi will lunch together at the Eagle buffet, at noon.

Wall Treatment Is Discussed by Club

Walls are the background of the room, said Miss Ruby Adams, county home demonstration agent, in a talk to Laketon club Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Edgar Gray.

She recommended wallpaper with few figures or flowers as appropriate for most rooms, and more serviceable if the paper cannot be changed often. This type of paper will not become as tiresome as the elaborate kind, she added.

Real wall was answered with plans of members for repapering or finishing rooms. A club goal is for each member to have at least one bedroom refinished this year.

Two guests, Mrs. Jim Cooper and Miss Marie Cooper, were present with Mrs. Grady Bailey, Lawton Hoffer, Clyde Gray, J. C. Terry, C. B. Russell, Tom Breeding, Miss Adams, and the hostess.

CRAVENS' VERDICT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8 (AP)—San Francisco authorities today accepted accident or suicide as explanations of the death of Junius Cravens, 35, art critic, after Coroner T. B. W. Leland reported drowning the probable cause.

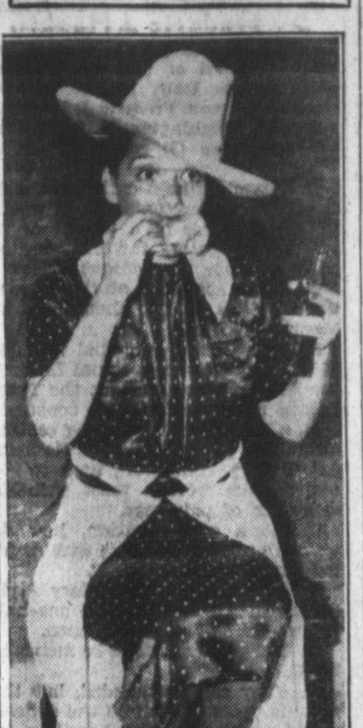

Coroner Leland performed an autopsy after the body was brought here yesterday from San Mateo county, where a deputy coroner had expressed belief Cravens' neck was broken and face crushed, possibly by an assailant.

COWBOY'S NEMESIS

GREENVILLE, S. C., July 8 (AP)—He rode the western plains, he stunted in daredevil rodeos, and horses never hurt him. Then he came back south to live—and an old farm horse, frightened by a sound of a motor, kicked him so hard that it broke his hip.

But Alexis Finley, ex-cowboy, says it might have been worse. The hip is healing rapidly, and he can now ride over his farm in a wheel chair.

Ex-Prince Asks Annulment of His Marriage

NEW YORK, July 8. (AP)—The haemophilia-afflicted Count of Covadonga, one-time heir-apparent to the Spanish throne, today filed suit in supreme court for annulment of his marriage to his commoner wife, Edelmira Sampedro.

The action brought to a head repeated rumors of domestic discord since the count renounced his right to the Spanish throne to marry the beautiful Cuban.

To insure the immediate serving of papers on the countess, the attorney for the former Prince of Asturias dispatched an emissary to Havana by airplane Monday night.

"We do not know as yet when the case will come up for action in the supreme court," said George Lassall, the attorney.

The son of former King Alfonso of Spain refused to comment other than to say he had not seen his wife since March 9. She formerly was Edelmira Sampedro, daughter of a wealthy Cuban.

"At the proper time," the court's attorneys said in a statement, "it will be conclusively shown that the count was imposed upon by the countess."

Look Fresh as a Daisy

Through the Torrid Summer Days in This Dotted Swiss

By ELLEN WORTH

Here's a pretty little open blue and white dotted swiss frock with cool cape-like sleeves. There's a lingerie yoked neck of crisp white organdie. The leather belt repeats the white contrast.

You'll wear this dress to town, for afternoons at bridge, to the beach club or for informal Sunday evenings.

It is easy to sew. The sleeves cut in one with the shoulders. It is easy to keep in order and repress after tubbing.

French blue voile with valenciennes lace sewed around the lower edge of the yoke, is another scheme that is exceedingly dainty and flattering.

This model may also be carried out in shantung, linen-like cottons, glazed chintz, linen, tub pastel silks, etc.

Style No. 1792 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18 years, 36, 38 and 40-inches bust. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards of 35-inch material with 1/2 yard of 35-inch contrasting.

Our Illustrated Home Dress-making Book contains the latest fashions together with dressmaking lessons and the fundamental principles of sewing. Whether you are an experienced sewer or just a beginner, you will find this book helpful indeed in making your summer clothes. It is just full of ideas to enhance your own looks. You simply can't afford to miss it! Send for your copy today

LOUDER!

Something is happening to political oratory. The spoken word is losing some of its power. The great orators of yesterday, if they could be recalled to the platform, would do no good to their reputations. Why?

Because they would be facing a line of microphones. Then listeners, both seen and unseen, would be familiar with their subject and with their style. In a literal sense, they would be performers trying to please a critical audience, instead of political notables explaining a viewpoint to grateful admirers enjoying a special privilege.

Formerly, it was a privilege to hear an important politician make a speech. Today, thanks to amplifying apparatus and radio, millions listen where only hundreds formerly were able to hear. Consequently, more is expected of speakers. Furthermore, many listeners are so familiar with various points of view that mere repetition does not suffice to hold their attention.

It is questionable whether orators ever can recapture the personal prestige which once was the reward of exceptional, or even merely good speaking. They are dealing with a different kind of listener, one who has heard all kinds of speeches on all kinds of subjects. Public speaking no longer is exclusive; it is as common as the jazz band which precedes it, the radio playlet which follows it and the comedian who competes with it.

Throughout the conventions of the major parties there was an undercurrent of criticism and resentment running against the political oratory which was the main business of the two assemblies. It was charged that the speaking in many cases detracted from, instead of added to, the favorable impression which the party leaders were trying to make on the public mind. Unquestionably, something has happened to political oratory. It is up against competition and criticism it never encountered before. Orators have something to think about besides the art of elocution. They must begin to investigate the business of competing for attention in an intensely auditory world.

THE HI-Y ON THE HIGHWAY

The problem of the young driver has been taken up by one of the national organizations best fitted to deal with it—the National Hi-Y Council of the Y. M. C. A. The Council has just published, with the cooperation of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, a manual entitled "The Hi-Y on the Highway," a guidebook for bringing Hi-Y Clubs everywhere into active participation in the traffic control movement.

This manual was used as the basis for a discussion of the young driver and his obligations at the National Hi-Y Congress recently at Berea, Kentucky. Dr. Herbert J. Stack, Director of Youth Education for the National Bureau, started the discussion by emphasizing that motor vehicle commissioners and police chiefs the country over complain that the accident record of young drivers is definitely worse than that of adult motorists.

The young driver, Dr. Stack said, is frequently charged with bad driving attitudes. These, rather than inferior knowledge or skill, seem to account for his poor accident record. He likes to show off. He takes unnecessary chances. He is discourteous. Two remedies for the situation suggest themselves. The first, a representative measure, would keep the young driver off the road by raising legal driving age to 18 or 19. The second, put forward by those who object to the first as being prohibitive rather than progressive, would provide facilities for giving the youngster a proper understanding of the automobile and his relationship to it. This would mean an extension of the present educational trend toward teaching good driving in the high schools.

The Hi-Y can fit splendidly into this scheme. It is precisely the organization to extend the principles of traffic control council, formulating a school traffic control program, developing good driving attitudes are projects for which the Hi-Y is well equipped. We may hope that the Hi-Y on the highway will prove to be a strong constructive influence in making the country's young drivers good drivers.

HAIL, WATER BABIES

The most popular sport in the United States is neither baseball nor football, golf nor tennis. It is, on the contrary, the age-old sport of swimming.

This finding is reached by statisticians of the National Recreation association, who report that in 1935 no fewer than 46,500,000 people went to the public beaches and 18,000,000 to the outdoor swimming pools.

This compares with a seasonal participation in baseball of 10,250,000 people and in golf of slightly more than 6,500,000.

Just what moral should be drawn from all this by a conscientious commentator we do not quite know; unless, perhaps, it be that swimming, the most informal of all sports, and the cheapest, is also the most enjoyable. Or did you, as one of the 46,500,000, know that already?

THE Venetians guarded well the secret of mirror making. All factories producing mirrors were located on the isolated island of Murano, and no foreigners were allowed to set foot on the island. But after many years the secret escaped. Four glassworkers were bribed by certain interests in France to run away from Venice and take their mirror-making art to that country.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

BY GEORGE TUCKER. NEW YORK—Among other swains who have been romantically attracted to Paulette Goddard, whose marriage to Charles Chaplin often has been rumored, is a young fiction scribbler who became infatuated with her dark type of beauty long before he ever saw her. Their first meeting was like an episode out of a fairy tale.

Dining alone in a Miami Beach hotel, he was pleasantly startled when the young actress drifted in. The point that concerned him most was how to effect an introduction without obtrusively thrusting himself upon her. Just at that moment a waiter placed before him a piece of cake with a birthday candle burning upon it.

Mildly amazed, he glanced up and beheld his old friend, George Wright (who was the father of organized baseball), dining alone at a nearby table. It being Wright's birthday, the management had honored him with a cake, and Wright decided to share his fun with the writer.

Wright quickly moved over to Miss Goddard and placed the cake with the candle in front of her. "This is delightful," she enthused, after mastering her amazement. "How did you know today is my birthday?"

Almost daily I receive inquiries from various sections of the country—from a Connecticut industrial town, a Mississippi prison, a Texas ranch, a California fruit farm, a North Carolina factory. They are from people who want to become artists, interior decorators, poets, writers, and almost invariably they ask: "How shall I begin—what is the first step?"

Well, that's a tough one, and frankly I can't answer it. But I can remind them: That Edgar Allan Poe never became discouraged, and even though "The Raven" brought him only $15, That Zane Grey (who has made more than $1,000,000 by writing) never lost faith in the face of repeated rebuffs. At one point in his career he nearly starved.

That Lucretia Bori had the courage to fight for her dream of becoming an opera star, even after her voice mysteriously dropped to a whisper. She retired to the mountains of Spain where she lived for three years, praying that it would come back.

And that not even prison could allay O. Henry's inexorable determination to succeed. They had what it takes, and when you've got it, they say, you'll get there—if you're willing to take a chance.

Next to producing a Broadway show, Eddie Dowling would rather lead a political rally than anything else. Leaping to the stump and giving spirited orations is his definition of having fun. It was in 1932 that he was arrested for inciting to Roosevelt, and now he's at it again. He just can't keep away from those sound wagons in Times Square or those amplifiers in Madison Square Garden. Eddie is chairman of the stage and screen division of the democratic national committee.

Talks to parents

JAZZ. By Brooke Peters Church. Many children, after a year or two of music lessons, balk at going any further and refuse to practice, even taking a dislike to music. Why play Bach and Beethoven and put in hours aday practicing the classics when they can be gotten so much better over the radio? If they were learning jazz, it would be different. They could use that.

Well, why not teach them jazz? It is a difficult form of music, and if it becomes really first class jazz players, they have conquered enough of the technique of music to be called accomplished pianists. Nothing has been lost. When, if ever, they develop a taste for chamber music, they will be able to play it to their own satisfaction at last.

To play popular music and play it well is a social asset for any girl or boy, and why it is not taught more often is a lasting mystery. The child who refuses to play Bach probably will put in hours over a good rumba. Where playing a fugue or even a Chopin waltz will leave his comrades cold, he will be the center of attraction if he can run through the latest hits.

Every child who knows his notes will struggle through the hardest kinds of popular music in a vain effort to get the proper swing and beat. uBt it is discouraging work without the incentive of good teaching. There must be experts who would be glad to give him lessons in the technique if only it occurred to parents that such lessons were essential.

There is room in the world for all kinds of music, and to insist that only the classics are worthy of the dignity of lessons is a very narrow-minded point of view. Probably even classicists would be benefited by a course in modern jazz. Certainly it would be a worthwhile undertaking for modern young people.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

BY ELMER W. PETERSON. LONDON, July 6, (AP)—Good cash money, much of it minted by Uncle Sam, continues to pour into British motion picture production.

New production companies are forming, more American film stars are being imported, and there is a great deal of talking about the future.

But in the midst of all this bustle the question of whether the British really can rival Hollywood remains on top.

New studios at Denham, outside London, are being built, and Hollywood, it is said, knows nothing better in the way of equipment. In every direction from London studios are grinding out films.

Lothar Mendes, American director, is one of the latest to form his own company. He has signed Ignace Fiedorowski for the lead in his first film.

RUNAWAY BRIDE

By Helen Welshimer © 1936 NEA Service, Inc.

CHAPTER VIII. Marcia reached the hotel shortly after Phil, Bob and Camilla had started their quest for her.

"Mr. Kirkey went away with Miss Howe and Mr. Haskell an hour ago," the clerk explained. "They were asking about you and seemed perturbed."

"Do you know where they went?" Marcia asked. "No, Mademoiselle, they did not say."

Marcia went upstairs, undressed, lay for a long time in a hot bath, then dressed in a white silk frock whose yellow daisies were scattered in careless loveliness over the shoulders and the round puffed sleeves. She brushed her reddish hair until it shone, powdered her face and touched her lips with bright red. She disregarded the rouge pot. She felt pale—so pale that any color would be an unblending blotch on the whiteness of her face. She sat down to wait. Ten o'clock, 11, 11:30—at 12 the phone rang.

"Marcia!" It was Bob. "Bob!" "Where in the world were you? We've been tearing up the town, Marcia, honey."

"Oh, I'm so sorry, Bob. I was called away." "With Rosita." "How did you know?"

"The clerk is an observing man, my dear. Is the young lady still trying to frame me?" Marcia had been thinking quickly. After all, she would need witnesses to aid her defense against Rosita and Pierre. She had better tell Bob, Camilla, everyone!

"No, she's trying to frame me. Wait for me, all of you." From the bed she took a white evening cloak, laid there a while before, and from the dressing bag a small white beaded evening bag.

"Marcia, you're white!" Camilla greeted her. "And scared," Phil added. "Bob examined her critically. 'But lovely!'"

"Can we go some place where it's quiet?" she asked. "And safe. I'm scared. I'm afraid my suite is being watched."

"Then come to mine," Camilla volunteered. "Order up some chicken sandwiches, Phil. I'm starved after all the excitement."

When they were in Camilla's sitting room, Marcia spoke. She told the tale quietly. When she finished there was an astonished silence.

"Of all the effrontery! Of course they can't do anything but scare you!" Bob said. "Don't worry about that."

"They can—and will—send those pictures to the New York papers," Phil interposed. "Of course we can swear that it's a lie, a frameup. But what good are we, as friends of Marcia's, against the evidence?"

"What good would it do Rosita and Pierre if they did publish the pictures?" Camilla asked. Then she answered her own question. "Unless, of course, the comment was so terrible that you paid them to say it was all in the spirit of good clean fun."

"We have to get the pictures," Phil said, glancing at the girl in the flowered dress. He looked, then, at the man who sat, long legs spread before him, in a big chair. "How about it, Bob?"

"I'm all for trying. But I don't know quite how to go about it. What about the police?"

"They would stir up an investigation. Anyway, she's been there." "There isn't much to worry about tonight. Tomorrow we'll get them. I promise you!" Bob told Marcia. "Those low-down, damnable scoundrels!"

"I'm to meet them at the same place tomorrow at 7," Marcia said. "They know I won't be alone, if I come. Aren't they taking chances?"

"They don't think you'll come. They may expect you to let the stunt go and crash through later when you needed them. We'll get them," Phil answered.

Marcia smiled at him. Somehow she believed him. She did not know that she was turning to him for help, having faith that he would save her. She did not know that she had forgotten that Bob, too, was offering aid.

Camilla, curled up on the long couch, was thinking of a remark that had been made at dinner—a remark that she was independent, self-reliant; that she didn't get herself into scrapes from which she needed to be removed. Men liked to do the rescue act—it made them feel big and manly. She walked to the window and watched the lights for a minute.

When she turned she spoke to Marcia. "I have twin beds. Let's have our night things brought up. You spoke of being frightened in your rooms."

"Thank you, Camilla. You're grand," Marcia answered, relief suddenly making her a little weak. She had been scared to go back to the suite and had been wondering if she could ask to have another room tonight, or if that, too, would be known.

When the lights were out at last, and a cool, wet wind was stirring the curtains, she did not sleep. She thought of Bob—funny that he was growing so much less important. Then she thought of Phil. She tried not to. He was Camilla's. He had wanted her for a long time and came to get her. Anyway, Camilla was a splendid person.

In the bed across from her, Camilla was thinking about Bob and wondering why his dark face insisted on squeezing in between her and the white sheep she was counting in order to go to sleep. "Oh, drat it!" she spoke out loud, and Marcia, hearing, said

'GAG RULE' IS DEMOCRACY IN LONDON MOVE

EVERYTHING CUT AND DRIED AT SPECIAL SESSION

TOPEKA, Kas., July 8, (AP)—Despite minority demands for immediate action on social security legislation, the Kansas legislature moved today toward an early end of the special session called by Governor Alf M. Landon for consideration of constitutional changes to clear the way for such enactment.

The legislature will have a regular session next January. Governor Landon, acknowledging the "public obligation" of social security, told the assembly yesterday the necessity for changes in the state constitution had been impressed on him by a majority of its lawyer members.

Democrats were quick to protest. Amid cries of "gag rule," the house of representatives promptly limited the session to consideration of proposed amendments—one to permit the state to participate in direct relief, the other to enable enactment of contributory old age pensions and unemployment insurance.

The house voted 64 to 47 against consideration of immediate social security legislation.

Rep. David C. Doten, a democrat, said "we had an understanding last spring when we agreed to adjourn that a special session would be called in the near future. Most of us were ready last spring to consider this measure and pass an old age pension bill if we were ready last spring we should be ready now."

Senator Joe McDonald, a democrat, forced a delay in senate consideration of a similar resolution but lost an effort to introduce nine bills for immediate participation in the federal security program.

McDonald said he would press a demand today for an investigation of relief expenditures in Kansas.

He contended no amendments were necessary for a social security program. Most republicans contended the state constitution in the present placing the burden of relief on the counties would have to be altered before the state could supervise and participate in a program.

A two-thirds majority is necessary to submit the constitutional changes to a vote of the people.

Dr. Blitz Will Play at Canyon

CANYON, July 8.—Julien Paul Blitz, head of the music department of Texas Technological college at Lubbock will give a violin-concerto at West Texas State Teachers college Tuesday evening, July 10, at 8:15 p. m. in the auditorium of the administration building. Mrs. Julien Paul Blitz will accompany him at the piano.

Mr. Blitz was educated at Royal Conservatory at Ghent, Belgium, of which country he is a native; and at the Louvain Conservatory. He has concentrated in America and abroad. Mrs. Blitz has studied with American teachers and has appeared in concerts with her husband.

A system of light signals aids the audience in an intelligent interpretation of Blitz' concert. Colored electric bulbs are arranged in tall flower baskets at the footlights' edge. These lights are controlled by pedals operated by the players, and indicate the instrument featured in the music.

Julien Paul Blitz and Flora Blitz will be brought to Canyon by the college fine arts committee, of which Dr. Ford Fronabarger is chairman. Admission will be 50 cents, or the presentation of a student activity ticket.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. This bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just stays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, miserable and world looks pink.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes time to get the bowels clean. You need Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

LABOR CHIEFS TO DECIDE ON WAR OR PEACE

LEWIS' CAMPAIGN WILL BE DISCUSSED AT CONFERENCE

BY JOSEPH A. MILLER, Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—Leaders of the American Federation of Labor gathered today to decide whether to wage war to the knife on John L. Lewis and fellow insurgents engaged in the gigantic struggle to organize 500,000 steel workers into a single industrial union.

Angry accusations from the opposing camps of industrial and craft unionists indicated no peace was in sight in the quarrel threatening to split the A. F. of L. wide apart with profound consequences for the future history of organized labor.

William Green, president of the A. F. of L. and spokesman for its dominant faction of craft unionists, said bitterly that Lewis' "unwise policy" had produced only "division, discord and confusion" in labor ranks and would benefit "only the enemies of organized labor."

Lewis, United Mine Worker head and leader of the drive to organize steel workers into a single unit instead of into various unions according to the craft they work at, immediately flared back.

He said that if the A. F. of L. executive council "elects to join with the corporations composing the American Iron and Steel Institute" in fighting the Lewis group "the shame of such a dishonorable action will lie on the heads of Mr. Green and his irreconcilable associates."

The executive council, convening today at 1:30 p. m. CST, faced a decision whether to remove Lewis' Mine Workers and 11 other unions from the federation. This group, all enrolled in the committee for industrial organization, faced these charges:

(1) Banding together with the avowed purpose of pushing the industrial unionization campaigns contrary to the federation's policy, which is to allot many workers to craft unions.

(2) Aiding the radio and electrical workers union, now on strike at the Radio Corporation of America's Camden, N. J., plant. This union was refused an A. F. of L. charter after the executive council decided all radio workers should join the Electrical Workers Union.

President Green, in a statement last night, recalled that the A. F. of L. was laying plans for a steel campaign when the Lewis committee started one on its own hook.

Soon after a majority of the city's 300 cabs resumed service yesterday, spokesmen for unions with a reported membership of 20,000 met to give promises of aid to the thinning ranks of the strikers. Many of the drivers returned to their jobs.

As they did so, thus virtually breaking a nine-day walkout, there were minor affrays.

The remaining strikers, however, voted to continue picketing at strategic places such as the union terminal and hotels.

BRITAIN ASKS BILLION FOR NEW DEFENSE

'Demon War Stirring' and British Plan To Meet Crisis in Danzig.

BY BURDETTE T. JOHNS, Associated Press Foreign Staff.

LONDON, July 8 (AP)—Three new estimates, filed in the House of Commons, pointed Great Britain today toward a billion dollar defense program.

The government informed parliament it would ask additional appropriations of $100,000,000 or more to bolster arms, naval, and air forces ready to meet any threat.

The total of the new askings was not disclosed when the estimates were tabled in the lower chamber. Members expected to learn the exact amounts Thursday.

Informal sources predicted the new requests would be for between $15,000,000 and $25,000,000 ($75,000,000 and $125,000,000) in addition to the regular and extra appropriations already approved by the commons.

Broken down, the new askings would boost the navy fund somewhere in the neighborhood of $50,000,000, and a similar approximate amount to the air force appropriation, and increase the army cash balance about $25,000,000.

As parliament made ready to consider the new financial requests Viscount Cecil added a fresh warning that the European situation was "dangerous."

"The old demon war is stirring again," the president of the League of Nations union told a meeting of his followers. He expressed belief that alleged German attempts to influence the free city of Danzig to break away from the League of Nations "might become of the utmost danger to the peace of Europe."

First Million And Half Visits Birthday Fete

DALLAS, July 8 (AP)—The first million and half was the easiest for the Texas Centennial exposition. Officials looked back over the first 32 days of the state's central birthday celebration and could count three big days that brought the daily average attendance to nearly 47,000. Huge crowds came opening day, on President Roosevelt's visit and on July 4.

Last night at midnight the Centennial announced 1,510,086 persons had gone through the turnstiles since the opening June 4.

In an amateur contest of its own, the Centennial picked five winners in a "talent-discovery" program. They were Jo Ann Hill of Wichita Falls, Dorothy Braly of Denton, Charles Proctor, Myrtle Allen and Jack Stice of Dallas.

Unions Promise Aid to Dallas Taxicab Drivers

DALLAS, July 8 (AP)—Representatives of 52 unions today were pledged to throw their full support behind the apparently faltering strike of Dallas taxicab operators for a closed shop.

Soon after a majority of the city's 300 cabs resumed service yesterday, spokesmen for unions with a reported membership of 20,000 met to give promises of aid to the thinning ranks of the strikers. Many of the drivers returned to their jobs.

As they did so, thus virtually breaking a nine-day walkout, there were minor affrays.

The remaining strikers, however, voted to continue picketing at strategic places such as the union terminal and hotels.

At last night's meeting union speakers condemned actions of police, the district attorney's office and the cab operators. Monday police stood by while the first few idle cabs were taken on the streets.

LEE DANNEY LIMITS HOUSTON TEAM TO 7 HITS AS ROAD RUNNERS WIN 10-3

GROVER SEITZ HAS BIG NIGHT HITTING BALL

HURLER ALSO KNOCKS HOMER TO HELP CAUSE

Lee Danney was really "Big Chief White Horse" last night when he subdued the Southern Pacific Roadrunners of Houston with seven hits and led the Pampa Road Runners at bat in a 10 to 3 rout of the invaders from South Texas. The win was the second, the Road Runners having swamped Houston Monday night by an 18 to 8 score.

The little Indian moundsman allowed the visitors only three scattered bingles until the seventh inning when two singles and an error let in two runs. A single and a double in the eighth accounted for the other Houston run. Danney helped his own cause in the sixth when he lifted one of Ray Sawyer's pitches over the left field fence. When Danney crossed home plate, he was swamped by his teammates.

Big Grover Seitz was also in a hitting mood. He walked on his first time at bat, hit a home run on his second time up, flied out, hit a double and followed with a single. McNabb hit for three bases and a single and on top of that stole two bases. Hale and Lisle each hit a single and double. Don Bailey had a hectic night. He fanned four times, was hit once, and charged with two errors.

Edgley, with a single and double, did most of the Houston hitting. Andy and Sawyer assisted with doubles. Cunningham, Houston third baseman, came up with a snappy unassisted double play in the second inning when he took Danney's bullet line drive down the base line and stepped on the bag before Lisle could get back.

The Road Runners opened their scoring spree in the second with a run on singles by Cox and Lisle and an error by Pompeii. Two more were registered in the next inning on a walk to McNabb and Seitz's home run.

Hale contributed a double and Poindexter sent him home with a single in the fifth. Seven Road Runner batters faced Sawyer in the sixth, which netted three runs on three hits, including Danney's homer. Seitz doubled and Walshe hit a single after the pitcher had scored.

The other three Road Runner scores came in the eighth when Clinton walked. Clinton, a Mount Forest youth, appeared in a Pampa uniform last night for the first time. He will be in a trial in the outfield. A single by Seitz, Cox's double, and a walk mixed in, accounted for the runs.

On Friday night the Birds will entertain the Phillips 66 Gassers of Oklahoma City in a single game. The Gassers are leading the league with eight wins and no losses.

Sports Roundup

BY EDDIE BRIETZ.
Associated Press Sports Writer.
BOSTON, July 8 (AP)—All-star game pickups: Charlie Grimm promised he'd send the American leaguers away from the seethe bow-legged and he did. Too bad young Joe Di Maggio had to flop along with the attendance. And all this while some hard-hearted Beantown fans were going around referring to the Red Sox as the Red Foxes.

Judge Landis showed up in a new hat. He won't be betting the weather would be good. Jimmie Fox (don't forget that extra x) fooled some of the American leaguers with a flat curve in batting practice. That may have been the tip-off on what was coming. Al Schacht's solo burlesque of the Schmaling-Louis knockdown wins his funniest stunt in years. Al simply wowed 'em.

Baseball men are calling Judge W. G. Braham, minor league czar, and Joe Carr, his promotion man, "the touchdown twins" for their fine work in bringing the minors out of the doldrums. Owner Tom Yawkey took time out between autographing score cards to inform all and sundry that Joe Cronin's job is safe for next year. Ditto Eddie Collins.

Oklahoma City Phillips To Play In Pampa Friday Night

Gassers Have Won 8 Straight Games In League

The baseball team perched at the top of the Oklahoma City Commercial league will be in Pampa Friday night to do battle with the Pampa-Dancer Road Runners. The visiting nine will be the Phillips, 66 Gassers of Oklahoma City.

With Al Jennings at the helm, the Gassers have won eight straight games in the Oklahoma City league. The team is being talked for the state championship, even over the Halliburton Cementers of Duncan and the Eason Oilers of Enid. The Oklahoma City nine celebrated the Fourth of July by taking a game from the Eason Oilers, the second this season.

Manager Jennings is a former Texas league and Western league hurler who still takes his turn on the mound. His mound staff is headed by R. Ketchum, who last played for Tulsa in the Texas league. Other chinkers include Mack Bolding, Western association; John Graves, sandlot sensation; J. Helvey, Western association; Tarrant, Western association.

The catching department is in the capable hands of Seiden Pan, former Oklahoma City Indian star. Coasting from the Western association, is the first baseman, Mofett, at second base or utility, is a sandlot product. Hopson, shortstop, came out of the Western league. Routh, from the Western association, is the hot corner artist. In the outfield is Lewis, left field, a sandlot star; Rogers, center field, another Oklahoma City lad; O'Neal, right field, also from the sandlot area.

Pampa's mound artist will not be selected until Manager Sam Hale has had an opportunity to see the Gasser batters in action. If a bunch of them swing from the right side of the plate, Carl Stewart or Lee Danney will be the probable selection. Should there be a bunch of porters in the batting order, it will probably be Gene Ledford who will get the call.

Al Summers, Road Runner second baseman who was injured in Borger Saturday afternoon, will probably be back in the lineup for the game. Summers' injured knee is responding to heat treatment.

Manager Sam Hale, who took pitched balls on both arms during the past week, will be in the lineup, bruised but "ready to go."

The hitting of Cox, McLary, McNabb and Seitz has pepped the birds up the last couple of weeks. Cox has become the home run king of the Panhandle, with seven to his credit. McNabb and McLary have developed into hitters of doubles. Seitz has come to the front in the past 16 games, hitting safely in 14 of them.

Di Maggio Flops As Great Twirlers Tame Americans

'Murderer's Row' Is Handcuffed by Pitchers

BY ALAN GOULD.
Associated Press Sports Editor.
BOSTON, July 8 (AP)—Echoes of the biggest financial and freshman flops in the four-year history of the all-star game failed today to deprive National leaguers of their jubilation over turning back the Americans for the first time.

Faced by the great Dizzy Dean and Carl Hubbell, then plucked from danger by the strong right arm of Lonnie Warneke, the Nationals capitalized their superior pitching to squeeze out a 4 to 3 decision under extraordinary circumstances before a crowd that occupied little more than half of the stands at National league field.

Led by Manager Charley Grimm of the Chicago Cubs, the Nationals won because they forced the "breaks," capitalized opportunities and on the whole played smarter baseball. They had their share of luck, but they were primed to win.

The favored Americans lost because their celebrated "murderers' row" was handcuffed by rival pitchers for eight of nine innings and, sad to relate, because their sensational rookie outfielder, Joe Di Maggio of the Yankee club, had the occasion to experience his worst one-day slump since he flashed across the star clustered big league sky.

Rookie Joe, a national baseball hero in his first major league season, came to Boston to get the "Bronx cheer" for the first time in his life. Whether suffering from the jitters or just not having "much luck" as he ruefully expressed it, Di Maggio flopped with as resounding a note as the attendant.

The California recruit had three chances in the field and missed two of them. Charitable scores charged him with only one error, but his misplays figured in each of the National leaguers' scoring rallies.

Up five times, against the superb jitching of Dean, Hubbell, and Warneke, Di Maggio failed to get the ball out of the infield even once. Good strategy or bad, jitters or imply ill luck, Di Maggio was the "goat" of the American league's first defeat since the all-star show was inaugurated in 1933 at Chicago. It remains to be seen, whether it deflates his power or confidence.

More vital, from the standpoint of the major league magnates, was proof that they will have to revise radically their system of ticket handling or "ballyhoo" if they want to keep the all-star game from becoming a financial fiasco.

Instead of an anticipated sell-out crowd of 42,000 at the old wigwam, now the "Bee-Hive," the paid attendance numbered exactly 25,334. Although the weather was perfect and the attraction unusual, the gate receipts were little more than the $20,000 and expenses consumed well over half the amount taken in.

Texan in Finals Of Golf Tourney

DENVER, July 8 (AP)—Between Rufus King, 20-year-old defending titlist from Wichita Falls, Texas, and George Cannon, 18-year-old Denver southpaw, lay the Colorado Junior Golf championship today.

Survivors of a field of 16 golfers under the age limit of 21, they met in a 36-hole duel at the Lakewood Country club.

Young Cannon dropped a 15-footer for a birdie 4 on the third extra hole to score a semi-final victory over Jack Kerns of Denver yesterday.

COACH OF CHAMP CAGE TEAM SHIFTS OVER TO SNYDER HIGH

DALLAS, July 8, (AP)—Football Coach Homer Norton of Texas A. & M., who at one time in the spring was more seriously ill of a throat ailment than was generally known, is gradually recovering. Close associates report he will be ready to start of fall grid training Sept. 10. He has been recuperating in Florida.

Glen W. Berry, who gave the village of Cushing a state school-boys championship basketball team last year, has shifted over to Snyder high school. He won the title nine straight years while at Cushing and entered the district finals each season. His successor will be Cecil Wisener of Lufkin, graduate of Stephen F. Austin and Louisiana state.

There is nothing to the following Texas Aggie football rumor: that Dick Todd, ace triple-threat man, is still suffering from a bad ankle injury. He's doing man-sized work in the oil fields. That Zed Coston and Martin (Bomber) Lindsey, giant center and tackle, will not return to school. The all-star trio will be back—in perfect health.

Installation of a huge totalizer at the Texas Jockey club's Arlington Downs track will start within a few weeks. Contracts for the machine were signed and sealed long ago, as was the appointment of Sam Nuckles as new presiding steward, but officials just got around to publicly announcing the news.

Skipper Ira Smith's Houston Buffs are heading for some sort of a one-run record. In 80 games, they had dropped 16 tilts by a single run. Nine victories were theirs by the margin. Skipper Smith opines the Texas league is "the worst one-run league I ever came across."

Bench Warmers Of Skelly Beat Cities Service

Cities Service tried out a new hurler Monday night against the Skelly Roughnecks, bench warmers of the Skelly-Schafer playground ball team, and lost a ball game, 14 to 5.

The Roughnecks jumped on the offerings of Hoy, who was wild along with his generosity on base hits, and before Halbig relief hurler, could retire the side, nine runs had crossed the plate. Sandy was behind the plate.

Twentier went the distance for the Oilmen and hurled outstanding ball all the way. Jackson was his battery mate.

Denver caddy, his semi-final victim by 3 and 2.

In his second round match King linked Lawrence Flanders, University of Colorado student, 8 and 7, finishing four under par for the 11 holes without a 5 on his card. He had four birdies.

King, a member of the Denver Country club, also holds the Colorado open amateur title and was Lawson Little's first round foe in the National Amateur last year.

TULSA WHIPS DALLAS WHILE SOONERS LOSE

GALVESTON, SHIPPERS SPLIT; COWTOWN WINS

(By The Associated Press)
TODAY'S GAMES.
Dallas at Tulsa (night).
Fort Worth at Oklahoma City (night).
Beaumont at Galveston (night).
Houston at San Antonio (two night games).

The ingredients for a first-class hurlers' duel were provided Galveston fans in a doubleheader with Beaumont last night. As it turned out, though, Joe Gibbs led his Galveston mates to a 4-to-0 shutout over the Exporters in the first game, and Herman Ware pitched three-hit ball in the second to give Beaumont the nightcap, 6 to 0.

Gibbs gave up only four hits while Ware poled out an unneeded homer in the seventh.

Tulsa again worked its sporadic jinx on the league-leading Dallas Steers, nosing them out in a 5-to-4 thriller. The Steers started in a hurry, scoring thrice in the first inning. From then on it was tough going for the North Texans and not until the eighth did they score again. Tulsa got to Sal Glatto and Stiles for 10 hits.

Al Sealy won his own game for Fort Worth against Oklahoma City with a smashing double in the ninth inning as the Cats won 5 to 3.

Houston and San Antonio stepped aside for rain, scheduling a doubleheader tonight.

Most disappointed of all Texas leaguers who failed to make the all-star team was Marty McManus of Tulsa, crafty manager and a great third sacker. He received only a scattering of votes, either as player or manager, despite his 14 seasons in the major leagues and brilliant record since managing Tulsa. Agents report the McManus-Jim Levey feud had reached the point where one or the other was certain to leave the club before Tulsa, hustling shortstop, was traded to Dallas.

Money Rolling In For Olympic Expense Money

NEW YORK, July 8, (AP)—The Olympic situation, which had officials worried two days ago, seems to be straightening itself out, although members of the American Olympic committee have not yet found any reason for discontinuing appeals for contributions to send America's athletes to the Berlin games.

Since Sunday some $10,000 in contributions has been received, including $2,500 from a New York committee which has promised to collect at least $10,000. Gustavus T. Kirby, A. O. C. treasurer, announced last night.

Several special contributions have been received for expenses of special athletes, and the advance sale for final track and field tryouts at Randall's Island has been booming.

HEAT KILLS THREE

EL CENTRO, Calif., July 8 (AP)—Imperial Valley, dusty and scorched, counted its third death from summer heat today. Blackie Weaver, a vegetable worker, collapsed near Westmoreland and died en route to the county hospital.

FLORIDIANS TO DALLAS

AUSTIN, July 8 (AP)—Governor David Scholtz of Florida advised Governor James V. Alfred today that he and a large party of Floridians would arrive July 9 in Dallas for a visit to the Centennial Central Exposition. Thursday has been designated as Florida day at the Centennial.

FOUR ITALIAN FLIERS SLAIN BY ETHIOPIANS

MASS REPRISALS ARE ORDERED; FAMED FLIER KILLED

ROME, July 8, (AP)—Italian military airplanes were reported today sent out to make "mass reprisals" against an Ethiopian district in which at least four Italian fliers were slain June 26. Among those killed was Maj. Antonio Locatelli, famous pilot and a member of the Balbo mass flight to the United States in 1933.

The victims, occupying three airplanes, had been making an observation flight over the Wallega arid. They landed in a district frequented by fierce and hostile tribesmen. The natives attacked the group, destroyed the planes and killed at least four occupants.

A priest, the Rev. Father Barollo, a passenger escaped and carried the news of the massacre to Addis Ababa. Other victims included General Magliocco, who commanded the flight, Col. Carlo Calderini, and a mechanic named Proso.

The official communique telling of the affair did not explain the fate of the others who must have been included in the party. It described the attackers as irregular Ethiopian soldiers.

NEW YORK, July 8, (AP)—Col. Antonio Locatelli, Italian aviator reported ambushed by Ethiopians, is the pilot who flew Mark Barron, Associated Press correspondent on the Southern Ethiopian front, to a hospital shop off the coast of Italian Somaliland last March. Barron was brought down by tropical malaria after the offensive which captured Neghelli.

Thomas E. Hall of Valley Head, Ala., says he owns a shaving brush that has been in use 70 years.

Shortly after his 100th birthday, a farmer living near Agrici, Yugoslavia, married a 17-year-old girl.
