"History is now looking to the heartland of America," Oklahoma Lt. Gov. George Nigh told the delegates and guests attending the 31st annual conference of the Chamber of Commerce Executives Association of West Texas at the noon luncheon yesterday at Coronado Inn.

"It's a modern opportunity for this virtually untouched area," he said. Nigh said it will be up to the

'Assassination Plot' Studied In Chicago

CHICAGO (UPI)—Federal authorities are investigating a plot to assassinate Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Eugene McCarthy during the Democratic National Convention in Chicago, the Tribune reported today.

The Tribune said it learned a plot "was said to have been formed during a meeting of 100 Negro extremists and South side gang members and have included plans for the destruction of several district police stations."

The newspaper said the police stations were to have been destroyed "with explosives and rifle fire" from upper floors of the Robert Taylor homes, in the neighborhood of the International Amphitheatre where the Democratic conclave opens Monday.

The office of the U.S. Atty. Gen. reportedly has approved an investigation, the Tribune said. The Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Secret Service are investigating, it said.

Information about the alleged plot was given last week by an inmate of the Cook County jail, who said he attended a meeting where highpowered rifles and hand grenades were displayed, the Tribune said. The inmate's cellmate had reported being told of a plot to assassinate the two leading contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination, the Tribune said.

The Tribune said polygraph tests given in the office of Sheriff Joseph I. Woods were "inconclusive."

communities to take advantage of the situation. "People are looking for a place to grow and expand," he added. "This will be one of those areas people will seek." The coastal areas are reaching the limits of their expansion, Nigh explained. The heartland of America, including West Texas, offers a place for further expansion and growth. Communities need to be ready for the change.

"The ability for change is very important for a community," Nigh said. He noted the world is moving rapidly. A community should keep up with the world, "not remain in the horse and buggy days." "It is a fast, fast, moving, changing world. Are you just going to sit still?" he questioned the delegates.

To take advantage of the benefits offered by this change, communities need to develop a

Officers Are Elected By CoC Group

John Logan, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, was named president of the Chamber of Commerce Executives Association of West Texas at the organization's closing session here today.

Other officers named by the group, concluding a three-day work conference which started here Sunday, include Don Crocker of Tulla, vice president, and E. M. Sheffield of Del Rio, secretary-treasurer. Grady Elder Jr. of Mineral Wells is immediate past president.

Elected to two-year terms on the board were Mike Scorcio, assistant CoC manager at Fort Worth; George Jordan, Brownwood; Don Stafford, Fort Stockton and Joe Cooley, Abilene. Named to serve one year terms on the board were Don Lewis, Denton; Wayne Smith, Borger; Fred Tyler, Midland and Jim Smothers, Cisco. A lifetime membership was voted for Ralph Duncan, of Abilene, on the staff of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the only charter member of the CCEAWT still active in chamber of commerce work.

Advising communities to think positive, Nigh stated, "Positive thinking also applies to communities, as well as to individuals. You have to be concerned with your image projection and relations." (See OKLAHOMA, Page 3)

Ike Comfortable But Still Listed As 'Critically Ill'

'Isolated' Spasms Of The Heart Continue

By JAMES L. SRODES

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower spent a comfortable night and suffered only "isolated" heart spasms, doctors reported today. They said the "trend is favorable" but emphasized that he remains in critical condition.

In a 10:30 a.m. medical bulletin, doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital said:

"Since last night's bulletin, Gen. Eisenhower has continued to rest comfortably. The pattern of isolated irregular beats continues.

"There had been no instances of sustained ventricular irregularities requiring electrical conversion during the last 24 hours. While the trend is favorable, the general's condition remains critical."

The doctors said the 77-year-old ex-President had not lapsed into unconsciousness during any of the spasms in the night, and interpreted this as a positive sign. But they emphasized that he is seriously ill and said his prospects for survival were "guarded."

The doctor said they were using an electric device called a defibrillator to minimize the spasms of the heart muscle whenever the episodes occur in order to keep the general conscious. Injections of stimulants and electric impulses to the heart are also used to return the heart rhythm to stability.

The general's wife, Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower, his son John and four grandchildren remained near the hospital suite which the general occupies.

The physicians said Eisenhower continued to eat small meals. He is also being fed intravenously.

Earlier, doctors ruled out the possibility of a heart transplant. They decided he was too old and too weak for such major surgery.

The five-star general's physicians said they considered a transplant for their 77-year-old patient and discussed the matter with his family who are maintaining a vigil near bedside at Walter Reed General Hospital.

"It is the opinion of those in attendance upon the general, and concurred in by his family, that such a procedure is not indicated because of the general's age and the presence of

Fulbright Wants 'Ceasefire' Plank In Demo Platform

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chairman J. William Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today proposed that the Democratic party go on record in favor of an immediate ceasefire in Vietnam followed by creation of a coalition government to supervise free elections.

Testifying before the Democratic Platform Committee, the Arkansas senator took pains to avoid personal criticism of President Johnson while asking the President's party to repudiate what he called "honest but serious errors in policy" that led to the present deep U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was to testify on Vietnam at an unusual night session.

Fulbright's detailed prescription for peace may become the rallying point for Democratic doves, including supporters of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and Sen. George S. McGovern who are prepared to wage a floor fight on the Vietnam issue at next week's Democratic National convention in Chicago.

McGovern led the 110-member panel that most of the fighting in Vietnam can be stopped within 60 days. He said there was a certain amount of risk involved in his proposal but "it is a risk far less than a continuance of the present slaughter that has already claimed 25,000 young American lives and countless multitudes of Vietnamese."

Involvement was Unintentional
Fulbright said U.S. involvement in a major land war in Vietnam came about "gradually, and to a degree, unintentionally" as a result of a long series of decisions that were motivated by "decent" intentions and which were supported at the time by most responsible officials, including members of Congress who have since become critics of the war.

Instead of looking for a scapegoat or blindly defending the existing situation, he said, the Democratic platform should (See FULBRIGHT, Page 3)

Hubert Talks Veep Choices

By GEORGE J. MARDER

CHICAGO (UPI)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is confident he has the Democratic presidential nomination firmly in his grasp, has narrowed his list of vice presidential running mates to four top contenders.

They are Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma; R. Sargent Shriver Jr., U.S. Ambassador to France; Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine and Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey.

The Vice President has not made a final decision on his running mate and a top associate is convinced he won't until after the presidential balloting. Neither has Humphrey definitely ruled out certain others. But the top possibilities, as of now, are Harris, Shriver, Muskie and Hughes.

Humphrey believes he is so far ahead in the race for the nomination that he needs make no deals. His advisers are not concerned over possible inroads by Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia in Humphrey's Southern strength as a result of Maddox' conservative candidacy.

Maddox No Threat
The Humphrey camp believes that Maddox will win perhaps only half of his own delegation, and very little else outside of Georgia.

10 Defenders Killed

Viet Cong Overrun US Marine Outpost

By JACK WALSH

SAIGON (UPI)—About 600 Viet Cong, many hurling soft drink cans filled with explosives, overrun a tiny U.S. Marine volunteer outpost today and killed all 10 American defenders.

A last radio message from the nine leathernecks and a Navy medical corpsman inside the post, 37 miles up the coast from Saigon, asked for U.S. air and artillery strikes on their own position.

The fire blasted the base, overrun by guerrillas, but also exploded the outpost ammunition dump, blocking a rescue attempt by about 100 South Vietnamese popular force militiamen. The battalion of Viet Cong killed 24 of the would-be rescuers.

The Communists burst into the camp after blowing holes in the barbed wire defenses. The guerrillas charged in hurling both explosive satchel charges and something new in Viet Cong weaponry—the cans stuffed with plastic explosives.

The cans originally contained cola drinks that American forces had brought to South Vietnam.

The only survivors of the Marine post — all volunteer members of a civic action team protecting local fishing villages — were three leathernecks who were on patrol a half mile from the camp when the attack came.

When a leatherneck force reached the outpost, the only Communists in sight were 13 dead guerrillas. Five of the bodies had been partially hidden, indicating the attackers possibly carried off more of their dead.

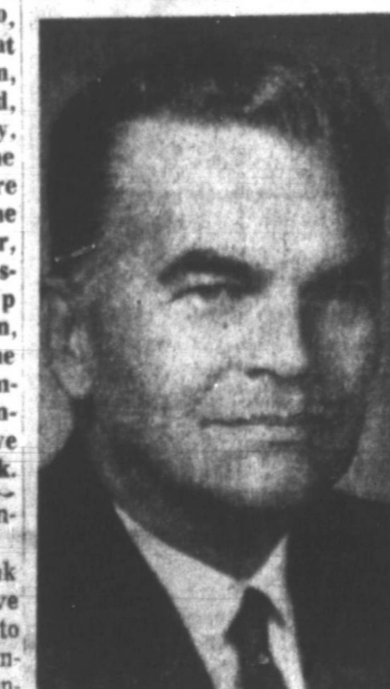

In the air, U.S. Air Force B52 Stratofortresses Monday and today flew nine missions against the North Vietnamese forces in South Vietnam's northern frontier area and against the Viet Cong near Tay Ninh. They also struck guerrilla positions as close as 15 1/2 miles to Saigon.

During his tenure with Empire Southern, he served as distribution superintendent in Brady and was made manager at Gorman in 1950, a position he held until coming to Pampa in Sept., 1953. He was named superintendent of the Pampa plant at that time and has held that position until his present promotion.

Pioneer Natural Gas Company acquired Empire Southern Gas Company in 1958.

McCoy is an active civic and church worker. He's a member of the Downtown Kiwanis Club, and has worked on numerous community projects. Recently, he was a member of the group that completed building Camp Kiowa.

Once-Forgotten Humphrey Leads Democratic Race

By STEVEN BERSTE
CHICAGO (UPI)—For the first time in his long political career, Hubert Horatio Humphrey is the anointed one of the Democratic party establishment.

The role of underdog and maverick which he once played is now all-but-forgotten history. After all these years and all those campaigns the vice president finds himself at last the choice of his party's lower establishment which used to fight him has provided him this time with the organization, the money, and most important, the delegate commitments to win the big prize of U.S. politics.

Humphrey, now 57, first broke upon the national political scene in 1948. He divided his party and won the long-lasting hate of the South at the 1948 Democratic National Convention by leading a fight for a stronger civil rights plank. When it was adopted, southern delegates walked out of the convention and set up the States Rights party.

Brash Reputation
Humphrey's reputation for brashness grew when he entered the Senate in 1949 and, in an early speech, dared to criticize Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., an old and respected member of the Senate "club."

On that occasion, other senators showed their disdain for the freshman's bravado by leaving him without an audience.

But the longer Humphrey stayed in the Senate, the more acceptance he won. After several years, with the help of Lyndon Johnson, he was finally taken into the inner circle. As more years passed, he earned a reputation for hard work and intelligence and an apparently insatiable appetite for speech-making.

In 1956, Humphrey conducted his first flirtation with national office by seeking the vice presidential nomination, but it went to Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Four years later, Humphrey went after first place on the ticket. He challenged Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts in the Wisconsin and West Virginia primaries—and lost.

Back in the Senate, he was elected Democratic whip and in 1964 reached what he called the climax of his career—passage of the strongest civil rights bill since Reconstruction.

Picked Humphrey
In the summer of that year—after months of suspense—President Johnson chose Humphrey as his running-mate and they crushed Republican contender Barry Goldwater.

Humphrey appeared destined to spend eight years in the obscurity of the vice-presidency until Johnson startled the nation last March 31 with his announcement that he would not run again. The vice president waited a decent interval, then threw his hat in the ring. He quickly won the endorsement of most labor leaders, the backing of well-heeled business tycoons, even the support of his old enemies in the South. He lost, however, the support of the liberal Americans for Democratic Action (ADA), of which he was a founder. Other liberals who once regarded him as a hero also turned their backs on his candidacy because of his identification with the administration stand on the Vietnam War.

Humphrey was an active vice president, heading up civil rights, space, youth opportunity, travel, equal employment and other programs. He also traveled extensively to the Far East, Europe and Africa.

After a short business session, presided over by Johnny Epperson, Regent, he called on Past Regent Jay Johnson to introduce the speaker. Jay introduced Robert E. "Swede" Lee, athletic director of Pampa High School, as the guest speaker.

Lee's topic was on "Leadership and Success." He said people vary in what they call success, that most every one is different, that everybody can talk about doing something but that very few individuals will deny themselves the luxury of "living high" etc.

He stated that over 70 percent of the students entering West Point and Annapolis academies are athletes. He said the armed services are looking for leaders and that athletes who have learned to deny themselves luxuries by strict training rules also make good leaders.

Commissioners Will Talk Airport Funds

Discussion of how the county might get the $20,000 maximum grant from the state for Perry LeFors Airfield is expected to be the chief topic of conversation at a specially called meeting of the county commissioners court at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

The state said in a letter to Gene Barber, project engineer of the airport construction and improvement program, that it feels Gray County raised enough money for the airport through the $250,000 bond issue voted here and does not need the funds. In addition to the $250,000 bond issue, a little over $174,000 has been awarded the county in federal matching funds.

County Judge S. R. Lenning Jr. said the commissioners court will decide on a course of action to take on the matter. He said he expected the commissioners to approve a plan to have representatives from here go to Austin to appeal the decision.

The commissioners court will also discuss possible consolidation of some of the county's smaller voting precincts. The county presently has 14, Judge Lenning said, but some have fewer than 200 voters. Judge Lenning pointed out that state law provides that voting precincts under 200 may be consolidated, but he said the move must be made during August. The consolidation would probably move Alanreed voters to McLean and Laketon voters to LeFors.

Pep Squad To Meet At 6 p.m. Today

Pampa Pep Squad will meet again at 6 p.m. today to select its official name from a choice of three discussed in a meeting Monday night. Squad leaders, sponsors and members will choose either the Pampa High School Auditorium.

Linda Henley, president, said the 125 girls in the pep unit will choose either the Pampa Peppers, Harvesters, Honeyes, or Harvesters Hustlers, for their official name, and will practice pep routines today.

"We are still taking girls pep unit members if they want to participate in our activities. We are essentially a pep booster group for the Harvesters, and will work with the cheerleaders and band in boosting morale," Miss Henley said.

In the meeting Monday, the unit completed seating assignments and practiced marching from Harvester Stadium to the auditorium where they practiced two pep routines.

Sponsors are Mrs. Dona Cornutt, Mrs. Ouida Hefer, Mrs. Evelyn Pritchard and Mrs. Gary Kastor.

Raid, Affray In Police News

A raid on an apartment where four minors were taken into custody for possessing alcoholic beverages, and an affray at a local lounge dominated police news last night and this morning.

The incidents both occurred between the hours of 9 and 10 p.m. and had police as busy, as one officer put it, "as a dog in a den of fleas."

Officers converging on the apartment on Sunset Drive took into custody three teenage boys and one 15-year-old girl. They are all scheduled to appear in Corporation Court later for a hearing.

A short while after the raid, police received a call to the lounge. The owner told police he wanted a drunk removed.

Patrolmen T. J. Hill and Joe Grimes were dispatched but when they arrived the man refused to leave.

A fight then ensued during which the man, identified as Jack Griffith, 31, of 425 Short St., "fought like a tiger," the patrolmen said. Griffith is 6-3 and weighs over 200.

Griffith has been charged with aggravated assault on a police officer, intoxication, and disturbing the peace.

Bond was set at $500 each on the intoxication and disturbing the peace charges in Corporation Court this morning.

Justice of the Peace E. L. Anderson also set bond at $500 on the assault charge.

Charges are expected to be filed later against a woman companion of Griffith's, who has been accused by police of obstructing the arrest of Griffith.

Both were booked into city jail last night. The woman, who was being detained on an intoxication charge, broke away briefly from officers at the police station and had to be chased a short distance before she was apprehended.

Dr. Gerald Thomas, vice president and dean of agriculture at Texas Tech University in Lubbock, spoke at the 9 a.m. session today. Speakers at the 10 a.m. session were Ed Wishcamper, vice president and editor of Abilene Reporter-News and Bill Shelton, manager, Industrial Development Department of Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce.

A noon luncheon concluded the conference. The program included election of directors and officers and committee reports. About 60 Chamber of Commerce managers and their wives attended the conference.

JC's Boost Convention Slated Here

Four members of the Pampa Jaycees appeared before a Jaycee Work Forum in Spearman recently to boost the Jaycee area convention to be held here this week end.

Don Litchfield, inter-club director, served as moderator for the group and Jim Osborne, convention chairman, explained that Friday night's activities will include a "Get-Acquainted" party with a "joke-box style" dance.

John W. Warner covered the Saturday afternoon activities and explained that a prominent banker from Fort Worth, a Phillips Oil Company executive from Bartlesville, Okla., and another company executive yet to be determined, will be on hand to take part in a job advancement clinic, telling the Jaycees things they look for when they want to hire or promote employees. There will also be a clinic on chapter development and three contests. Speak-Up Jaycee, Spoke and Sparkplug (for new and veteran Jaycees).

Don Tinney, convention committee member, pointed out that Sunday there will be more clinics featuring the Jaycees' Labor Day rest stop and other activities with a business meeting also on tap. Highlight of the day is to be a speech by the Jaycee State President, Bob Buck of San Antonio, at noon. The Charlie Phillips Band will play for a dance from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday night.

Workshop For Teachers Slated On August 26-27

Teachers and staff of Lamar and Baker Elementary schools and those formerly assigned to Carver Elementary School will meet Aug. 26 and 27 for an in-service workshop on teaching in integrated classrooms.

The workshop is sponsored by the University of Texas Division of Extension in cooperation with the Texas Education Agency and Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"The two-day conference is designed to aid those teachers who for the first time will be teaching classes with students of an ethnic group different from their own," Dr. James F. Malone, school superintendent, said.

The conference schedule both days will include a breakfast at 8 a.m. in Coronado Inn, a conference at 9:30 a.m., and luncheon at 11:45 a.m. A conference is slated 2 p.m. Aug. 26, but the sessions dismiss at 2 p.m. Aug. 27, he said.

Teachers Label Children As 'Greatest Comedians'

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — The teachers call them the world's greatest comedians. They're the boys and girls in their classrooms. And certainly out of the mouths of babes come some innocent remarks that brighten a teacher's day more than the traditional apple.

One teacher, Beatrice Bachrach of Chicago, tells of the day Jimmy had just arrived in the first grade of her school.

The teacher asked, "What school did you come from?"

The boy answered, "Cogen," but said it not too distinctly.

The teacher, unsure of what he had said, asked, "does that school begin with a 'C' or a 'K'?"

"It begins with the pledge of allegiance to the flag," Jimmy replied.

Mary Bowermaster of Toledo, Ohio, recalled the time a water pipe sprung a leak in her school and the children were excused for the remainder of the day.

Although most of the pupils were excited about the event, the bus driver noticed one primary youngster in tears. When he asked her why she was crying, the little one sobbed out, "We have to go home—and now we won't have any recess."

These are among incidents teachers report in "Humor in the Classroom", a section in the current "Grade Teacher" magazine.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: How is this for a strange twist of events? I am 50 and have been keeping company with a very attractive, rather well-to-do bachelor of 55 for about a year.

I have a daughter (age 28) who is married to a nice young man. She has two children. On my birthday my gentleman friend invited my daughter and her husband to join us for dinner. They had never met before.

Well, as it turned out, my daughter became interested in my friend and invited him over one evening when her husband was out of town. (He travels, and she has a clear field.) I'm not guessing, I saw his car.

Now I notice that when my son-in-law is out of town, my daughter is never home, and I can't seem to find my friend either. Now the only time I see him is when my daughter's husband is home!

I realize that my daughter started all of this, but what am I going to do? If my son-in-law ever found out, he would break this man in half! What is your advice? It's conceivable that she'd leave her husband for this man.

DAUGHTER TROUBLE
DEAR TROUBLE: Drop your friend, and tell him why. He will most assuredly pass the word on to your daughter, and hopefully, it will scare a little sense into her. Your daughter has my sympathy. A woman who has a two-timing gentleman friend doesn't know what trouble is until she "wins" him. Then she has a two-timing husband.

DEAR ABBY: When I was 15 years old I had a child out-of-wedlock at a home for unwed mothers. I signed a paper agreeing to give my baby up for adoption to a couple who were waiting for it, because at the time I thought it was the best thing to do. My mother went with me and she also signed the adoption papers because I was a minor.

Now I'm nearly 18 and I'm going to be married soon to a boy who knows all about my past. Abby, now I want more than anything in the whole world to have my baby back. Isn't it true that because I was a minor when I signed the adoption papers it isn't legal? Please tell me how to get my baby back?

SORRY NOW
DEAR SORRY: You can't and you'd be well to accept that fact. The child legally belongs to the couple who adopted it.

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend

Fashion Showings Reflect Revolution

By JOAN DEPPA

PARIS (UPI)—No barricades have been set up in Paris haute couture salons, but the effects of the 1968 French Revolution will show much of the "bourgeoisie" fashion showings open recently.

Most collections will be smaller and more serious. Gone will be much of the "bourgeoisie" luxury for luxury's sake, the sort of frills and frumpies designed more for magazine covers than for living, breathing women.

The most important look will be lean, clean and sexy. It will emphasize slim waists, natural bosoms and have short skirts swaying gently above long legs.

Its keynote will be the shirt with its neckline left unbuttoned as far as the wearer dares, but with a resemblance with the old shirtiness is purely coincidental. Many of the shirts will be worn with neat, figure following suit jackets and pleated or A-line skirts.

The look will have the sort of simple wearable sophistication right for hiking or biking to work during a general strike.

Texas Students Will Spend More Time In Labs On Current Events

(Editor's Note: One of a series on Texas public schools.)

By ROLAND LINSEY
United Press International

Texas students will spend more time doing laboratory experiments and talking about current events this year than ever before, the Texas Education Agency (TEA) said today.

These steps are part of a plan to "get the children involved." Elementary school students, who in the last few years have amazed parents with their grasp of the "new math," will now be faced with a "new science" — including laboratory experiment in the first grade.

New approaches in teaching science, social studies and English are expected to come into prominence during the 1967-68 school year, spokesmen for the education agency said.

"New math had its day a few years ago," said Jack Risher of the social studies division of the team "now it's time for new approaches to social studies, English and science, particularly in the elementary grades."

Draw Own Conclusions
"We're not telling them what to think," Risher said. "We're encouraging them to think and arrive at conclusions on their own."

He said less and less emphasis is being put on memorizing names and dates in history course.

"Names change, and it is more important for students to know why they changed rather than simply that the name of a city has changed three or four times and will likely change again."

"The students are learning that there are no easy, simple answers to today's social problems," he said.

Risher said one method used to "get students involved" in history courses is to "start off with events close at hand, ones they are concerned with. Then ease into the background of those issues in history, and see how they developed."

Fills the Gap
"It helps fill the so-called generation gap," Risher said.

Science instructors are putting increased emphasis on laboratory work from first grade on through high school, said Bill Story of the TEA science division.

"We used to emphasize laboratory sciences on high school levels, and now we're encouraging schools to establish laboratories for use in grades seven through nine," Story said.

"We're also emphasizing the lab approach as much as possible in the elementary grades."

"Since we know schools can't afford to build labs for grades one through six, we're putting emphasis on use of kits by teachers. With these kits, the teacher can do simple table-top experiments in her classrooms without the cost of laboratories."

Getting Response
"Story said projects of this type are 'getting a lot of response.'"

At Waco schools, elementary school students will be given "kit" materials, and asked to solve problems themselves. For example, a spokesman said, student could be given beans, and asked to figure out by looking at them if they would grow. Or they could be given bones, and asked to build a skeleton.

In the upper grades, Waco teachers are answering questions from students with another question — hopefully prompting the student to "figure out the answers for himself."

At Amarillo, English in the junior and senior high schools is to be taught entirely through great works of literature, rather than through emphasis on grammar and composition.

Studying Great Works
"It is hoped that the student will learn grammar and composition by studying these great works," said Jim Kidd, director of secondary education in Amarillo.

"We want to give the student an understanding of the relationship between himself and others and between himself and the outside world."

In Houston, Westbury High School will be one of 12 schools in the nation to offer ground instruction in flying this fall.

At three other Houston schools a pilot program of in-depth oceanography is scheduled for the 1968-69 school year.

The trend toward concentrating more learning in the child's younger years is also reflected in kindergarten attendance at public schools.

Although the state provides no funds for kindergartens, the education agency said 44 districts operated public kindergartens in the state during 1966-67. Attendance at the kindergartens was 31,848 students.

Old at Six
The TEA says research indicates that age six "is generally too late for children to begin their formal schooling."

The research suggests earlier schooling would help prevent causes for potential dropouts, enable children to function more effectively in the first and subsequent grades, help them to learn at a higher academic level, and decrease the need for remedial work in later years, the TEA said.

The new teaching ideas have such names as "the investigative approach" and "American academy of associated sciences approach," but they are all aimed at the same thing, Risher said.

The purpose is to get the students involved in "discussing and exploring for themselves the basic issues."

Gerald Ford Endorses Republican Candidate
For Joe Pool's Seat

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican Jim Collins has gained the support of House minority leader Gerald Ford in next Saturday's special election to fill the unexpired term of the late Dallas Rep. Joe Pool.

Ford said recently he would "do everything in my power to see that Collins is given committee assignments of direct benefit to his congressional district."

Ford said should Collins win the special election and a full term in November, he would have a five-month head start in seniority over other freshman members in Congress next year.

Collins will face Mrs. Joe Pool, the late representative's widow, in the Saturday election.

Panhandle Sets Wallace Speaker

PANHANDLE (Spi) —Dustin Fillmore, Wichita Falls attorney, will speak in behalf of the George Wallace for President campaign, following a dinner meeting at 7:30 p.m. to be held in the Panhandle Inn Dining Room. The program will start about 8 p.m. Those not wishing to attend the dinner may come for the address.

The program and Fillmore's speech will be free and everyone is welcome to attend, according to Robert Walker, chairman of arrangements. Fillmore has been a practicing attorney in Wichita Falls since 1960. He is a former assistant prosecutor in the Dallas district attorney's office. He has control of civilian firearms in the prevention of crime. "He recently quoted George Wallace in saying: "Register Communists, not guns."

A spokesman for the local Wallace organization said "Fillmore will come all the way from Wichita Falls without pay for his time and trouble. We of the American Party hope you will respond with a small bit of your time, Tuesday evening, to come and receive Fillmore's personal contribution to the one presidential candidate who does not look down on the average man, but firmly believes "We the People" have enough common sense, human decency and respect for our fellow Americans, regardless of race or color, to run our local American Party."

Airport To Be 'Largest' In World

DALIAS (UPI) — The Proposed Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport will be the largest airport in the world by mid 1972, according to Thomas M. Sullivan, executive director of the facility.

Sullivan says despite financing worries and hints of opposition from communities near the proposed facility, he is sure his prediction will come true.

The giant, 20,000-acre facility is to be located between Dallas and Fort Worth, just south of Grapevine, Tex.

Residents of small communities surrounding the site have complained the airport is buying up too much land.

Sullivan said the new airport must have land to expand, and pointed out that the lack of such expansion space has seriously hurt airports at Los Angeles, Chicago, New York and San Francisco.

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

The Real National Debt

Periodically, when we say the federal government is bankrupt those who refuse to open their eyes to reality accuse us of exaggeration. After all, we are told, the national debt is only a little more than $350 billion, or less than half of the gross national product. Most of them do not consider various obligations over and above the admitted national debt, which is the accumulated amount the federal government has borrowed over its receipts through the years.

In the past we have cited some outdated estimates by the late Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia, who was known as the watchdog over expenditures of federal tax money. About ten years ago, he said that total obligations of the federal government amounted to more than a trillion dollars (1,000,000,000,000). Now comes Rep. Otto E. Passman, Louisiana Democrat, who in the past has gained fame by opposing the federal fiscal folly of foreign aid. The following statements are extracted from a speech he made before the union league club in New York:

"Using round figures, on Dec. 31, 1967, our borrowed money federal public debt amounted to $350 billion. And to this the cost of 115 statutory obligations calling for the pay out of money in subsequent years for services previously rendered, which now amount to 1 trillion, 300 billion dollars. The two together make a public debt, or obligation, for services previously rendered—not TO BE rendered—1 trillion, 650 billion dollars. These obligations amount to $8,250 for each and every one of the 200 million living Americans.

"Many Americans believe that borrowed money is our only federal debt; however, this is the smallest part of the total federal obligation. Federal sta-

The Nixon-Agnew Team

It's a long time till November, but already there's a feeling that there'll be a major change in Washington. Whether there will be a major reversal in the welfare state philosophy is doubtful in view of the fact that for 40 years the nation has been advancing step by step toward complete "Big Brother" government.

But there is indication that regardless of who wins there will be an attempt to get out of the Vietnam mess. Certainly the two Democratic party frontrunners have expressed distaste for the Southeast Asia predicament, although Vice President Humphrey—if he is the candidate—will be saddled with the task of trying to defend President Johnson's acts.

It would appear that the Republican party has chosen a slate which may be more acceptable to more people than any other team which could have been chosen from the party ranks. The "new" Richard Nixon, who carefully built up friendship among all segments of the party by his support of all Republicans, apparently left no bitterness among those who preferred Nelson Rockefeller, Ronald Reagan or other assorted hopefuls.

Choosing Maryland's governor, Spiro T. Agnew, as his running mate, seems generally to have mollified most of those who wanted either a "liberal" or a "conservative." Agnew, the son of a Greek immigrant, a former Democrat, an early advocate of civil "rights," also

Prior to World War I few travelers from the U.S. went to the Orient. Most headed for Europe on business trips or as tourists. Travel to Hong Kong and other places in the Far East has increased 134 per cent since 1960 and it's estimated that by 1970 air lines will be transporting 2000 persons to the Orient and 500 to such hitherto faraway places as Australia and New Zealand.

Today's smile: A fellow standing absent-mindedly at a counter in a department store was approached by a pretty salesgirl who asked: "Could I interest you in a bathing suit, sir?" He took one look at her and said: "You certainly could, but I'm waiting for my wife. She's at the next counter buying gloves."

Folks may laugh at the old saw: "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again," but it has proven efficacious through the years. A prime example was R. H. Macy, founder of what has become one of the world's largest department stores. He was a Nantucket ship captain, who longed to become a successful business man. He quit shipping and failed in his first four ventures in business. Success came on his fifth try when he founded the department store.

Thoughts while shaving: One convenience that evolved from World War II is the aerosol can. Today they contain such diverse items as hair spray, shaving cream, paint and even soft drink concentrates. You never heard of them until the 1940's, but last year two billion of them were used in the U.S.... Ping-Pong is making a comeback as a home family great. It was a craze in the 1920's and for some unknown reason just simmered down afterward. Game manufacturers say its renaissance is indicated by the fact they sold more than 100,000 paddles, balls and tables last year. Incidentally, Ping-Pong is a registered trademark name for the game. Its regular name is table tennis. Maybe the racoon coats of the 1920's will be making a comeback too. At any rate a New York furrier says more men are buying fur coats than ever before. Not at this season, we hope. . . . The late President John F. Kennedy was not the only chief executive who loved Cape Cod. When Grover Cleveland was President he spent many week-ends at the famed Massachusetts peninsula where he loved to go salt-water fishing with his close friend, Joseph Jefferson, the famous actor. . . . An apriarist tells us bees make more honey if housed in aluminum hives. He says such metallic hives reflect the sun's heat rather than absorbing it, which reduces the temperature within and thus keeps the bees cooler and more active. What next? . . . Although some of the U.S. labor unions have lengthy names none can compare with the F.N.O.M.C.F.E.T.M.F. in Brazil. That is bargaining agent for the officers, machinists, motormen, drivers, firemen and electricians in sea and river transportation in that South American country. . . . The Walden (N.Y.) CITIZEN HERALD reports in a story: "Another recently acquired fire vehicle is a brush truck, equipped with a two-inch hose, Indian tanks, brush fire-fighting equipment and a wench." Any fireman will tell you every fire truck should be equipped with at least one wench.

horrible convulsions in the United States. But people knew that he would consider himself released from his oath if he had one day the authority of a United States President. This is why, before the murder, organs of the far right designated him as the man to kill, using his positions on Vietnam as a pretext. Has the man apprehended been associated with any "organ" of the far right? On the contrary, no less than the Mayor of Los Angeles, where the dread deed was done, has documented the assassin's sympathies with the far left.

Was Oswald a tool of the far right? One could fill an encyclopedia with quotes suggesting that President Kennedy's assassin was a hate-filled right winger.

Inside Washington

McCarthy's Campaign Managers in Backstage Drive to Have Him Run With Humphrey as Vice President.

ROBERT ALLEN

JOHN GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON—Senator Eugene McCarthy is giving a graphic demonstration of an office-seeking politician talking out of both sides of his mouth. Publicly he has repeatedly sought to convey the impression he would disdain taking second place on Vice President's Humphrey's ticket. While carefully stopping short of actually saying that, McCarthy has clearly implied it. With varying degrees of condescending scorn, he has brushed off the idea. . . . But privately, it's a far different story—and an astonishing one.

As the Democratic national convention approaches, a furious backstage drive is underway to put over McCarthy as Humphrey's running mate. Humphrey's campaign managers and inner advisers are being besieged with arguments, pleas and pressure from McCarthyites throughout the country urging his selection.

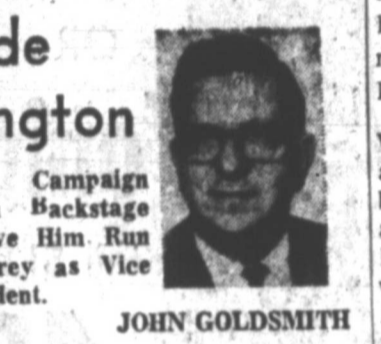

It is ardently contended that with McCarthy's youth and anti-Vietnam war following he is the most logical choice, and that a Humphrey-McCarthy combination would make the strongest ticket. Brushed aside as a "legal technicality" is the fact that both are Minnesotans. It's claimed this unconstitutional obstacle could be overcome.

Also not mentioned by the McCarthyites is the huge debt he piled up in his eight primary contests (he won only three) and other campaign activities. The extent of this debt is unknown to McCarthy's managers. Inside estimates put it at more than $1 million.

There are stacks of unpaid bills from New Hampshire to California, ranging from an estimated $40,000 in the former to several hundred thousand in the latter. Who is going to pay them?

In the first hours after the death in Dallas the news media were flooded with charges that the far right was responsible. Only when the defector to the USSR was apprehended did the torrent cease. But the guilt charges did not transfer to the Communist conspiracy. Instead, we all became "guilty", and the far right was guilty by implication because of the "atmosphere" in our country.

Now, before the trial, the far right is being charged with Robert Kennedy's assassination in the European press. Such tortured telling of the truth is a prize exhibit in our contention that permitting "world opinion" to influence any decision in Washington on any matter in the world is utter folly. "World opinion" is molded by things like PARIS JOUR. That publication is just as enlightened in its reporting on the Vietnam war, for example.

them and how is the thorny unanswered question: If this is worrying McCarthy, there has been no sign of it. On the other hand, the country wide accumulation of red ink may explain the strenuous subrosa drive to induce the Humphrey camp to take McCarthy as running mate. That would be a handy way to have these numerous pre-convention debts taken care of. As the vice presidential candidate, his obligations could be unloaded on the National Committee. That's been done before. MAKING NO HEADWAY . . . So far, this undercover scheme has gotten nowhere. Humphrey personally is held to it for a number of reasons. Foremost among them is President Johnson's dislike of McCarthy, a sentiment that is heartily reciprocated. Another is Humphrey's strong misgivings about McCarthy's capacity to handle the tremendous job of president. By temperament and experience he lacks the essential qualifications.

In McCarthy's 20 years in Congress (10 on the House, 10 in the Senate), there isn't a single piece of significant legislation to his credit. Also he has never led a floor fight on a major issue. Throughout, he has always been an innocuous back-row member. Even the Americans for Democratic Action, which endorsed him, rated his record as only 62 per cent in 1967.

Some of Humphrey's ADA backers are inclined to the proposal to have McCarthy on the ticket. But they are very much in the minority among Humphrey's advisers. Barring some unforeseen development, there is no likelihood of a Humphrey-McCarthy slate.

WHAT'S BEHIND IT—Senator George McGovern's belated sudden dive into the presidential arena was Kennedy-inspired and engineered. Also, it will be largely Kennedy-financed.

The undertaking was personally approved by Senator "Ted" Kennedy, Mass., in a trans-Atlantic telephone conversation with McGovern following a meeting of Kennedy's insiders at which he was persuaded to run. In addition to his blessing, "Ted" promised financial support.

Foremost among the Kennedy zealots who influenced McGovern were Professor Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., former ADA president who has been active in the dissident campaigns of Senator McCarthy, the late Senator Robert Kennedy and now McGovern; Frank Mankiewicz, press assistant of Bobby Kennedy; William Vandel, Her-Val; Jerry Bruno and William Dougherty, head of the South Dakota delegation to the Democratic convention which Bobby Kennedy won in the June 4 primary in which he decisively defeated McCarthy.

PAUL HARVEY NEWS

Baseball Is Big Business

By PAUL HARVEY Baseball is a big business threatened with bankruptcy. Baseball is supposed to be a sport, but because it is taxed as a sport it is being run like a business. Baseball's front office is increasingly preoccupied—not with team spirit, but with "earning per share."

Tax advantages allowed the corporate or private owners of ball clubs include "depreciating" players at their own discretion. This can afford an instant tax writeoff if a player is sold or released. Thus, player turnover has become such a merry-go-round that there is little time in which ball fans can identify with their home team before the next player shuffle puts their heroes on a visiting team.

Furthermore, what is a "home team" when it is owned by a brewery or by absentee stockholders? In the old days, home-grown ballplayers playing for a home-owned ball club fostered fierce home-team loyalties. That's gone; so far gone that one Chicago team is now playing some of its "home games" in Milwaukee.

Another factor decreasing attendance is the desperate dearth of big hitters. Few pitchers pitch a ball game any more. With a whole stable of standbys warming up in the bull pen, the instant a pitcher begins to tire he's replaced.

Baseball is a lackluster pitcher's war—almost 100 shutouts this year! Public interest in baseball naturally increases around series time, but it has been a dismal season. TV's cameramen in most major-league ball parks have tried desperately to keep the acres of empty seats out of sight; they couldn't always.

Bill Veeck tried adding circus acts; that didn't work. Casey Stengel says baseball's owners should not panic, says it would be a mistake to change the game just because it has become boring. He says the monotony of hitlessness is temporary. Stengel says, "Once every 10 years the National League will come up with an amazing pitching staff. This year it just happens to happen that the American League has similarly good pitching."

Meanwhile, though baseball's declining following is largely due to having become a big business, the remedy both leagues are now considering is making it bigger. Expanding to other cities, increasing the number of players and the number of games per season can only further diffuse allegiances. Corporate ownership is not conducive to civic pride or player pride.

Little wonder the players are now beginning to look at themselves as "employees." They are demanding "rights," they are negotiating through "unions," and I fully expect within another season or so to see baseball's fading stars in picket lines. Periodically, baseball's corporate owners appear before Congress to defend themselves against charges of monopoly and categorization under interstate-commerce.

Instead, they should stop promoting more towns for rent-free multimillion-dollar plays and start rebuilding local identification and reciprocal hometown pride wherever they now are. Or else acknowledge that they are "promoters" of a "road show" and go to a common grave with professional wrestling.

an organ when its blood supply is cut off. Myocardial ischemia is the basis of coronary heart attacks. The treatment of this condition includes rest during the acute stage and drugs to dilate the coronary arteries. Many doctors also prescribe anticoagulants for the first year of the disease. Q—A little over a year ago I was visiting neighbors. When I got back home, my husband was sitting by the television set dead. Apparently he hadn't straggled. Autopsy showed a coronary thrombosis. What caused the clot to form? How quickly did it cause death? A—Most persons recover from a first heart attack, one that often goes unrecognized or is mistaken for a bout of acute indigestion. When a heart attack does cause death, the end is so sudden that the victim doesn't know what has happened and no treatment can revive him. A clot forms in a coronary artery when the narrowing of the vessel causes a greatly reduced flow of blood through it.

Q—What is the treatment for shortness of breath on mild exertion? I am taking Duotrate and Naqua. How do they help? A—The usual cause is a leaky heart valve. If the symptom can't be controlled with rest and digitalis, an operation to repair or replace the valve is your best bet. Duotrate is given to dilate the coronary arteries and Naqua is a water pill.

Q—My sister, 50, is on a diet that consists of two eggs with bacon every morning. Isn't she getting too much cholesterol? A—There is no harm in such a diet if her blood cholesterol level is normal. The level can be determined by a laboratory test. Q—My electrocardiogram showed ischemia. Should I be taking anything for it? A—Ischemia is the abnormal condition that occurs in

Q—What is hypercholesterolemia—what foods should one avoid if he has this disease? What is Ascriptin?

A—Hypercholesterolemia is an abnormally high level of cholesterol in the blood. It is not a disease but it predisposes one to hardening of the arteries. The normal cholesterol level is 150 to 250. Any diet that is low in animal fats, including butter (the saturated fats), should help to keep your cholesterol level within normal limits. Ascriptin is aspirin combined with magnesium and aluminum hydroxide. If given to prevent irritation of the digestive tract when large amounts of aspirin must be taken.

Gibson Wins 15th In Row

By FRED McMANE
UPI Sports Writer

Ferdie Schupp might have a chance of escaping the wrath of Bob Gibson, but Rube Marquard probably won't be so lucky.

Schupp was a little known pitcher who holds the major league record for the lowest earned run average compiled in the season with 0.90 for 140 innings in 1916. Marquard, a bigger name star, set the record for most consecutive games won in a season with 19 in 1912. Both are in danger of losing their place in the record book to Gibson this season.

The 32-year-old righthander of the St. Louis Cardinals moved a step closer to both records Monday night when he blanked the Philadelphia Phillies 2-0 on two hits for his 15th straight triumph and lowered his ERA to 1.00. And recorded his 10th shutout of the season.

In other NL action, Cincinnati beat Pittsburgh 8-3, Houston topped Los Angeles 8-5, San Francisco nipped New York 1-0 in 17 innings and Chicago beat Atlanta 5-1.

Boston blanked Cleveland 3-0, Minnesota edged New York 1-0, Baltimore beat California 1-0 and Washington defeated Oakland 4-1 in American League games.

Fred Whitfield blasted his fourth and fifth homers in a six-game span and Gerry Arrigo hurled a six-hitter as the Reds extended their winning streak to seven games.

The Astros broke open their game against the Dodgers with a seven-run fourth inning as they routed Bill Singer and Claude Osteen. Pitcher Dave Gusti and Rusty Staub contributed two-run singles to the rally and Bob Aspromonte clubbed a run-scoring double.

Ron Hunt singled home the game's only run in the top of the 17th as the Giants and Mets played the NL's 39th 1-0 game this season. Frank Linzy, who worked five innings in relief of Bob Bolin, received credit for the victory while Ron Taylor suffered the loss.

Ernie Banks slammed a two-run homer in the first inning to pace the Cubs victory.

ON YOUR MARKS!—It appears that track meets have come to Yankee Stadium as these two ballplayers seem to be breaking from the starting blocks. Actually, Oakland infielder Sal Bando (left) is stumbling after a ball he just bobbled as New York's Roy White shuffles back to third. Coach Frankie Crosetti (center) resembles a track starter.

CAUGHT BY THE HAWK: Red Sox outfielder Ken Harrison is doing something unusual for him, at least—catching a foul ball. Although he's been one of the majors' top hitters all season, Harrison is not noted for a talented glove.

Recalled Minor League Player Leads Baltimore Over Angels

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer

Jim Hardin, who stayed away from sting rays this spring, has been busy this summer stinging the American League batters.

In the spring of 1967 at the Baltimore Orioles Miami training camp, Hardin stepped on a sting ray Key Biscayne. His foot was lashed by the sting ray's tail and he limped around camp for the next week and was shipped to the minors in the first squad cut.

Hardin, who was recalled from the minors last year on June 20 and went on to post an 8-3 record, kept away from sting rays this spring and started the Orioles' second game this year. He's been in the starting rotation ever since and boosted his record to 16-8 Monday night as he pitched a two-hitter and doubled in the only run of the game in the Orioles' 1-0 victory over California.

Elsewhere in the American League, Minnesota edged New York 1-0, Boston blanked Cleveland 3-0 and Washington stopped the Oakland A's 4-1.

In the National League, Chicago beat Atlanta 5-1, St. Louis blanked Philadelphia 2-0, Cincinnati stopped Pittsburgh 8-3, Houston outslug Los Angeles 8-5 and San Francisco blanked New York 1-0 in 17 innings.

The two 1-0 games in the American League boosted the number to 32 this season compared with the league record of 41 set in 1908. The 1-0 game in the N.L. boosted the total to 39, compared to the league record of 43 set in 1907.

The Red Sox felled Luis Tiant's bid for his 19th victory by dumping the Indians with the aid of three double plays.

Dean Chance pitched an eight-hitter and Tom Tresh's throwing error let in the only run of the game as the Twins edged the Yanks. Cesar Tovar doubled with two out in the third and the next batter, Rich Reese, grounded to Tresh at shortstop. When Tresh threw the ball past first for an error, Tovar scored the run that beat Stan Bahnsen, who's now 11-9.

Sal Bando's throwing error in the ninth inning paved the way for four runs as the Senators topped the A's. John Odom had a five-hit shutout going into the ninth when Ed Stroud opened

El Paso University Title Co-Favorites

By MIKE MYERS
DENVER (UPI)—The University of Texas at El Paso is the baby of the Western Athletic Conference, but league coaches predicted Monday it might be on top of the standings at the end of the upcoming football season.

Coaches of the eight WAC teams said they thought the grid race would be a fight between UTEP, Arizona State and defending champion Wyoming University.

UTEP, along with Colorado State University, is a new member of the conference and will be fighting for its first league title this year. Other teams in the conference are New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Brigham Young.

Despite assurances from their fellow coaches, the mentors of the three favored teams said they had their problems this year. None predicted an easy victory.

Lloyd Eaton, whose Wyoming Cowboys made the national rankings last year before going to the Sugar Bowl where they suffered their first loss, said he saw a rebuilding year.

Coach Frank Kush of Arizona State said his overall strength was weaker and the offense was "not as potent as last year."

And Bobby Dobbs of UTEP said his Texas squad has lost "few in number but much in quality" and added that the replacement personnel was uncertain.

While bemoaning some of their troubles, the three coaches admitted they also had a few favorable factors going for them.

Eaton said his offensive line would be Wyoming's strong point. It will be led by split end Gene Huey, who set five receiving records in 1967. The fullback slot may go to Dave Hampton, "a strong runner with lots of promise." Eaton said he had lost six starts and was uncertain who would be the starting quarterback.

Kush said his squad would miss Max Anderson, the third leading rusher in the nation but he has 23 lettermen returning, including running backs Larry Walton and Art Malone and wingback J. D. Hill. Kush described the defensive secondary as fairly strong, although the loss of middle guard Curley Culp would be a sore point.

Dobbs said his UTEP offense would have seven starters returning. Brooks Dawson will take over the quarterback post, a slot held for three years by Billy Stevens. The offensive line, led by guard Wally Gullford, should be strong, Dobbs said.

New Mexico coach Rudi Feldman sees "an uphill battle" and just about everyone agrees with him. Feldman is pushing a rebuilding program and says the Lobos have a tough schedule.

The New York Jets Friday night in Birmingham, Ala.

The Miami Dolphins, gleeful over 23-7 surprise whipping of the Philadelphia Eagles, look toward a Friday encounter with the Boston Patriots in Jacksonville, Fla.

Elsewhere, the Pittsburgh Steelers released five players, acquired center Mike Connelly from Dallas in the trade for kicker Mike Clark and placed halfback Don Shy on the injured reserve list with a shoulder separation. The Los Angeles Rams, smarting from a 42-10 walloping by the Cowboys, held a two-hour drill without pads or contact.

Cowboys Lose Back For Saturday's Game

DALLAS (UPI)—Running back Danny Reeves will set out Saturday night's exhibition against the Green Bay Packers in the Cotton Bowl, but Dallas Cowboys coach Tom Landry was happy today that the situation was no worse.

There had been some fear that there might be a break or a tear involved in Reeves' foot injury sustained in last weekend's 42-10 out of Los Angeles, but x-rays revealed only a bruise Monday and the foot was placed in a cast.

That means that Craig Baynam, who has been nursing a knee injury, will get his first call of the new season, as Reeves' fill-in.

No. 2 fullback Walt Garrison, absent for two weeks on Army duty, also will return in time.

Oilers Cut Squad By 5

KERRVILLE, Tex. (UPI)—The Houston Oilers of the American Football League cut four rookies and a three-year veteran Monday, trimming their squad to 49, three over the limit.

Bill Halley, a 227-pound rookie tight end from LaVerne College in California; Clarence Scott, a 195-pound rookie defensive back of Morgan State; Ben Hart, a 228-pound rookie tight end; Ken Klein, a 190-pound rookie defensive back; and Mike Melnikovich, a 250-pound veteran defensive end, were cut.

The Oilers leave Thursday for Tulsa, Okla., where they will meet the Buffalo Bills in their fourth exhibition game at Skelly Stadium on Friday.

Sayers' Long Run Leads Chicago Win

By GARY KALE
UPI Sports Writer

Jim Dooley is inviting Vince Lombardi to come on down from the press box and see what's happening to his Green Bay Packers.

Lombardi, retired from his bench duties as coach of the Packers in favor of Phil Bengston, watched his protégé run into the "total offense" concept instituted by Dooley, who replaced George Halas as head coach of the Chicago Bears this season.

The "total offense" in Monday night's annual Midwest Shrine game was Gale Sayers. The fleet back scampered 76 yards for a touchdown on the second play from scrimmage as the Bears edged the Packers 10-7 before a crowd of 47,127 in Milwaukee and sent Green Bay down to an almost unheard of second consecutive loss in exhibition play.

"Green Bay's great defense has been its secret of success for years," Dooley explained, "but our multiple formation offense, where shifting is the key, can create mistakes by any defense."

Sayers' touchdown scamper was a case in point. On second down Ralph Kurek shifted from his fullback position into the slot and did some yeoman blocking as Sayers took a handoff, bounced off two tacklers and streaked down the left side of the field like a Saturn rocket.

Mac Percival provided the margin of victory when he booted a 42-yard field goal in the second quarter.

Green Bay scored in the third period as quarterback Bart Starr connected on a 14-yard touchdown pass to Boyd Dowler.

The Atlanta Falcons, with two losses in pre-season play, meet

Gillen Wins Junior Title

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—Dan Gillen of Deer Park, Tex., edged out Bobby Jones of Denison, Tex.—Monday to win medal honors in the Texas Junior Golf Tournament with a four-under par 68.

Jones shot 69 over the Olmos Basin Golf course. Eight golfers tied for second.

The Tri-Cities team, youths from Midland, Odessa and Big Spring, Tex., won the team championship by a single stroke with a four-man total of 292.

The individual competition begins today with the golfers playing two rounds of match play each day. The final 36 holes will be played Friday.

Pat Campbell of Odessa, and similarly named but unrelated Craig Campbell of Midland fired 72s to lead the Tri-Cities team. Behind them were Jim Cauthen of Midland at 73 and Ronnie Broadrick of Big Spring at 75.

San Antonio was second in team competition with 293 and Austin was third at 301.

New Orleans Saints Trade Dave Simmons, Release QB Wood

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The Saints traded away linebacker Dave Simmons and released quarterback Gary Wood on waivers to the New York Giants recently.

Simmons, acquired from the St. Louis Cardinals, went to the Dallas Cowboys in return for a 1969 draft choice.

Wood headed back for the Giants after being unclaimed by other National Football League clubs.

The Saints were expected to get two future draft choices from the Giants in exchange for Wood who has been serving as an understudy to Bill Kilmer since joining the new Saint team last year.
