NATURE STILL IN CONTROL

The drouth in the northwest, coming as it does in a year when the rival parties are preparing once more to "do something for the farmer," is a timely little reminder that the old proverb is still true. Man proposes, but God disposes.

We can make plans, arrange finances, and erect protective walls until we are blue in the face, but in the end Nature has the last word. Whether the farmers of a given territory are to have a good or a bad year depends, in the last analysis, on mysterious forces which we cannot control and which we only begin to understand.

A great deal has been written about the extreme aridity of the last few years in the northwest. We have very properly been reminded that our use of our soil has been unwise and imprudent, that we have removed our forest cover too fast, and that we have given erosion a helping hand by faulty methods of cultivation.

But the wind, as a writer in ancient Palestine remarked, bloweth where it listeth; and if it blows dry and hot, week after week and month after month, with never a rain cloud to ride on its crest, the people underneath it are going to suffer, whether they have farmed their land wisely or foolishly.

And perhaps it is not altogether a bad thing for us to rediscover this old truth. It may take a little of the twentieth century cockiness out of us.

We have a habit of talking these days as if our destinies were entirely in our own hands. We see the millenium just over the skyline, and although we may differ violently about the way to get there, we are pretty well convinced that a way does exist and that we can find it if we just hunt hard enough.

We may be right. But underneath all his modern science and invention, man is fundamentally what he was in the days of Abraham; a lonely and rather helpless creature bent down beneath a high sky through whose blue emptiness his vision cannot pierce.

He takes what the world lets him take and no more; and now and then Nature smites him with a tornado, or shrugs her shoulders in an earthquake, or bakes and parches him with a long drouth, to remind him of that little fact.

When such things happen, our modern civilization can pick up the pieces and repair the damage faster than the civilization of our forefathers.

But it can do no more than they could do to keep the damage from being done. Like them, we are here on sufferance.

A REFRESHING TREND

The sidshow appearance of John Dillinger Sr., at the Great Lakes Exposition in Cleveland is proving pretty much of a dud these days. The crowds just aren't turning out any more to view with morbid curiosity the father of an infamous gangland killer.

There was time, a year or so back, when the elder Dillinger drew large audiences. But now, it seems, the hero worship of the gangster is about over in America. The public has caught up with itself. If there is any hero worship at all it's for the men who have made it their business to snuff out those thugs of whom John Dillinger Jr. was a leader.

And that trend is certainly refreshing. Somehow it sort of restores one's faith in American sanity.

MCCARL'S SUGGESTION

John R. McCarl, retiring after 15 years' service as comptroller general of the United States, leaves this mighty pertinent observation, to wit: bookkeeping and politics never were meant to mix under the American form of government.

That is to say, Mr. McCarl explains, "that an accounting office absolutely and utterly free of politics is essential" in Washington—for all administrations, "as a permanent set-up of our government."

At the same time, the retiring comptroller general urges wholesale reorganization of government to effect a "vast monetary saving," and to assure better administration.

We hope the Byrd Senate committee will return strong recommendations along the line of these suggestions and that the next Congress will carry them out.

The whole problem of government reorganization has been dodged and by-passed quite enough.

RUNAWAY BRIDE

By Helen Welshimer. CHAPTER VII. At Camilla's explanation of Rostia's name, Phil looked puzzled, and Bob gave a long, low whistle.

"Rostia, of course!" he said. "It all fits in. But why in the world should Rostia come for Marcia?" "That would be interesting to find out," Camilla said. "Let's get a taxicab and go to Zen's."

"They did, Rostia was not there. 'Her night off,' someone explained. 'Where does she live?' Bob asked. 'That, monsieur, nobody knows,' the man answered, with a careless shrug which indicated that one should not reveal addresses.

"Where does she live?" Bob asked. "That, monsieur, nobody knows," the man answered, with a careless shrug which indicated that one should not reveal addresses. Bob's hand went into his pocket. The man hesitated, then murmured an address on the Left Bank. He took the bill, bowed, and walked away.

17 JAPANESE TO DIE BEFORE FIRING SQUAD

EXECUTION WILL TAKE PLACE WITHIN 5 DAYS. TOKYO, July 7. (AP)—Seventeen leaders of Japan's military rebellion last February probably will die before a firing squad "within five days," army authorities said today.

A high military court handed down the death sentence yesterday in a judgment more than 10,000 words long after an exhaustive investigation of the uprising, which brought death to three of Japan's elder statesmen.

Early indications showed widespread public approval of the court martial's drastic action. A communique, however, issued by the army recognized "some degree of righteousness in the motives of the rebel officers who, acted chiefly because of resentment over current conditions in the nation and patriotic sentiment."

A further note of sympathy was found in the description of the motives of rebel leaders based on their own testimony as cited in the judgment. The leaders, the testimony disclosed, "deplored the corrupt tendencies of the age, the flippancy of the public mind, and felt deep concern for the future of the country."

The rebellion, which arose swiftly during a snow storm February 26, brought death to Admiral Count Makoto Saito, lord keeper of the privy seal; Korekiyo Takahashi, minister of finance, and Gen. Jotaro Watanabe, inspector general of military education.

Premier Keisuke Okada escaped death when his attackers killed his brother-in-law, Col. Denzo Matsuo, whom they mistook for the cabinet leader.

Ruth Bryan Owen To Marry Dane

COPENHAGEN, July 7. (AP)—The mother of Boerge Rohde, 42, a captain in King Christian's bodyguard, announced today her son shortly would be married to Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, United States minister to Denmark.

Mrs. Owen, now 50 years old, is the daughter of William Jennings Bryan. She has been married twice. Her first husband was William Homer Leavitt, an artist. They were divorced March 3, 1909. On May 3, 1910, she was married to Major Reginald Owen of the British Royal Engineers.

She entered politics and won a seat in Congress as a representative from Florida. In 1932 she was defeated in the primaries, but the following year President Roosevelt made her minister to Denmark. Captain Rohde is due to arrive in New York in a few days, his mother said.

(Mrs. Owen landed in New York Sunday from the Pilsudski. She gave no indication that she contemplated marriage.)

LEFTY COX CLOUTS TWO HOMERS AS ROAD RUNNERS ROUT RAILMEN 18-8

LEE DANEY TO FACE VISITORS THIS EVENING

SAM GRAY'S PITCHING IS GOOD, SUPPORT IS SHODDY

Lefty Cox led the Pampa-Daniger Road Runners to an 18 to 8 win over the Southern Pacific Railroaders of Houston here last night with two home runs and a single. The elongated first baseman hiked his total for the season to seven when he lifted one over the fence in the first inning and repeated in the third.

The Railroaders played their first game of the season under lights. They will meet the Road Runners again tonight at 8:30 o'clock and expect to put up a much better exhibition. Manager Hartwick and his players were also bothered by a brisk wind which blew easy outs for base hits.

Manager Sam Hale of the Road Runners will probably send Lee Daney to the mound. Either Schroeder, a fast ball artist, or Ray Sawyer, pitcher, will get the call for Houston. Sawyer, former Coltexo player, and Schroeder are leading the team in victories for the season.

Only six batters faced the veteran Sam Gray in the first two innings. A walk and error and three hits, two of them freak infield singles, gave the Railroaders four runs in the third inning. Both of the infield hits were in front of the pitcher. The balls hit the dirt and took crazy hops. A double and two singles, which netted a run, chased Gray to the showers in the fourth.

George Bulla, midget lefthander, relieved the veteran and pitched good ball. He allowed three runs and four hits the rest of the way. One was a home run by Pompell. Cunningham had hit for the circuit off Gray in the third.

The Road Runners got to Parish for three runs in the first inning when Cox cleared the bases with his home run. Houston took the lead in the third but it failed to help matters. Cox blasted another homer in the same inning. Hale, Poindexter and McLarry singled to help the three run spurge.

Six runs on three hits read the story in the fifth. McNabb and McLarry singled and Baskin hit to help matters. The bases were hit by a pitched ball. Bailey stole third and Pfardrescher relieved Parish on the mound. An error and a double gave the birds one in the sixth and in the seventh they pushed across three more on four base hits.

Manager Sam Hale was hit on the left arm by a pitched ball and had to call for a runner. He finished the game at third, however. The Road Runner manager took the field with his right arm badly bruised from being hit by a pitched ball last Friday night. The "old fellow," as fans call the fussy manager, came up with two pretty plays when he took hot grounders back of third to get runners at first. Seitz pulled one when he stole home in the fifth.

Ben McLarry, short stop, also came up with a pair of sparkling plays. In the seventh he went close to second base for a hot grounder and made a bullet throw to first to get his man.

Following Cox in the batting barrage were Lisle and Poindexter, with a double and single, and McLarry with three singles in five trips to the plate. Bailey connected for a pair of doubles.

The Railroaders showed plenty of power at the plate. They hit the ball hard and often but sparkling plays cut down the runs. In the field the visitors looked smooth and capable.

On Friday night the Phillips 66 Gassers of Oklahoma City will be here for a single game with the Road Runners.

USLTA PLANS MEETS TO WIN BACK LONG LOST DAVIS CUP

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT Associated Press Sports Writer DALLAS, July 7 (AP)—Desperately attempting to bring back America's long lost Davis Cup, United States lawn tennis association officials are again experimenting with youth. On Waco's lawn tennis club courts today are a group of teen age youngsters competing in one of the many nation-wide "experiments."

High school tennis stars of Texas will vie with the nation's best in the Middle-Atlantic league. He's due for a quick trip to Cleveland's spring training camp next year. The Fort Worth lad punched out three successive home runs the other evening, bringing his season total to 20. It took several hours to do it, but the Centennial slugger, Fort Worth softball team, finally whipped the Calloway Sluggers, 60-4, the other day. Fifteen runs came across in the sixth inning. Texas A. & M. rises to point out that since the records were started on January 1, every state in the union except Idaho and Nevada has produced one or more aces, Texas still blazing the trail with the surprising total of 75 as against 65 for Indiana. Seven golfers have scored two or more for the season.

New members to report included: Windy Watkins, Lubbock, Texas, third hole, 184 yards, Lubbock C. C.; C. Graham Stinson, Lubbock, Texas, twelfth hole, 139 yards, Meadowbrook.

SPORT SLANTS by Pap

By all cinderpath rules Forrest (Spec) Towns, slim, graceful University of Georgia hurdler, who should be an "Olympic hopeful." He has not had the experience of at least seven of the nation's ranking hurdlers. As late as a few months ago he had not shown the natural ability that makes an athlete a leader in one of the most trying track events—the high hurdles. Towns may get there because of his indomitable spirit and a firm belief that he can get over the tall timbers—in front of any competitor.

Towns first put on spiked shoes as a freshman. After having made something of a name for himself on the yearling football squad, Towns reported for track. He was a high jumper, and his prospects looked none too bright. Weems Baskin, an assistant track coach at Georgia, singled Towns out as a hurdling prospect.

When Towns was a high school student at Richmond Academy he got his early training. If one could call it that. There were a few exceptionally tall garage cans that rested on the curb along streets near his home. Often Towns, a lanky lad ideally suited to the sport he follows so assiduously today, was seen dashing along skimming the ash cans. The fact that they were ill-shaped meant nothing, for Towns had no aspirations of becoming a track athlete.

First Race Slow Towns had no great desire to learn the art of clearing the high sticks even after Coach Baskin had singled him out. His first race over the 120-yard hurdles was anything but impressive. He was timed in 18 seconds flat. But by the end of his freshman year he had cut down pitched ball—by Pfardrescher (Hale, Cox), Struck out—by Gray 3, Bulla 3, Parish 1, Pfardrescher 1. Bases on balls—off Gray 1, Bulla 3, Parish 2, Pfardrescher 1. Passed balls—Tolar 2, Wild pitches—Parish 2, Pfardrescher 1. Winning pitcher—Bulla. Losing pitcher—Pfardrescher. STEERS SHOVE SOONERS INTO FOURTH PLACE

11-INNING BATTLE IS WON BY DALLAS 8 TO 7

(By The Associated Press) Today's games: Dallas at Tulsa. Fort Worth at Oklahoma City. Houston at San Antonio. Beaumont at Galveston (2 games). (All night games.)

North Texas' standard-bearers in Texas league competition, Dallas at the head of the procession, and Fort Worth, nesting forlornly in the cellar, left Oklahoma's representatives out in the cold last night.

The league-leading Steers bumped Oklahoma City in an 11-inning affair requiring the services of seven hurriers. The score was tied at 7-7 in the ninth when Dallas pushed across a brace of runs. In the fateful eleventh, Comander cracked out a single to score Red Harvel. The 8-to-7 count put Dallas five games in front, shoved Oklahoma City into fourth place just a step ahead of Tulsa.

Tulsa found the going a bit rough also, taking a 15-to-7 pummeling from Fort Worth. The Cats from Cowtown laid to with a vengeance in the second inning to score nine runs.

Mike Cvenegros had trouble in the sixth inning against Galveston. He granted two hits, two passes and a long fly, which combined for two runs. In every other frame he pitched unless ball and Houston easily won, 5 to 2.

Beaumont defeated San Antonio 3 to 2 in the first game of double-header. Big Abe Miller took the mound for the Missions in the nightcap and scuttled the Shippers, 5 to 0.

Sports Roundup

BOSTON, July 7 (AP)—Boston is chock full of the world's series atmosphere today. The outstanding stars of the two major leagues are here for baseball's annual dream game. Everybody is honing the mace for the game led by celebrities Charlie Grimm and Joe McCarthy. It's the nearest thing to a world's series Beantown fans have had a peek at since Ed Barrow, now of the Yanks, piloted the Red Sox to a flag in 1918.

The American leaguers will be going after their fourth straight victory. They have had such an easy time in the past that Henry P. Edwards, the league's demon publicity man, says Joe McCarthy is thinking of starting his second team. The Nationals have a decided edge in pitching, but the Americans have it on them in power.

Tom Yawkey came up from New York to see the game. But wishes he hadn't come so early. He has been kept busy trying to explain to disappointed Beantowners just what happened to his gold-plated Red Sox. Mr. Yawkey wishes he knew. "I am so tired talking, I can't think," he said. Messrs. Joe Cronin and Jimmy Fox also are in town, but you didn't see much of them on the boulevards. They were quite content to let Mr. Yawkey do whatever talking was done.

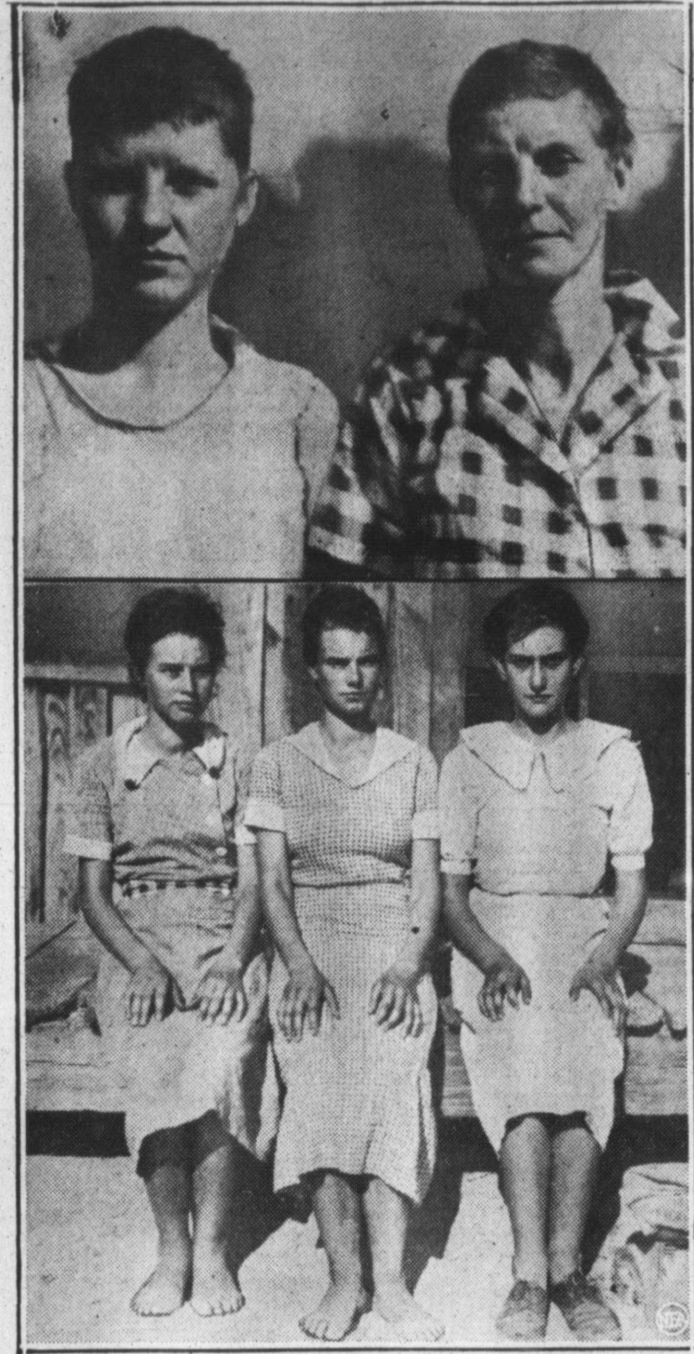

Rams Win From Sunoco 25-22

Sunday's ball game between the Pampa Rams and the Sunoco Sluggers was a real sandlot engagement. It finally went to the Rams by a score of 25 to 22.

Dillman started for the Rams but couldn't get anyone out. Little "Lefty" Harvey relieved and weathered a barrage of base hits to come through with another win. Roy Kretzmeier was behind the plate.

Manager Harris, Sunoco catcher, started Nichols and let him stay the route although he was batted all over the lot. The win was the seventh in nine starts this season for the Rams.

Below, left to right, are Grace, Glenn, and Carolyn Fowler, not related to the other victims. The terrorists, evidence indicates, had beaten their victims as "undesirables."

BARBER HURLS FIVE-HIT BALL AS LAKETON BEATS HOPKINS

LAKETON, July 7 (SP)—Twirling five-hit ball, Holt Barber gave Laketon his seventh win of the season when Hopkins was subdued 14 to 5, Sunday afternoon. Kingsmill and White Deer united their teams last week and as White Deer was already scheduled to play, Hopkins filled in.

Laketon got 14 hits and Hopkins got five hits to score their runs. Barnes led Laketon's attack with a triple and a double, scoring three runs and driving in four. Ralph Ridgeway got two of Hopkins hits—a double and a single.

Barber scattered Hopkins hits over the distance, but his support blew up momentarily in the 8th giving Hopkins 3 runs on no hits. All West, who has been ill, pitched the last frame, striking out three men in order. Barnes caught for Laketon. Lane and Bill Ridgeway bunted for Hopkins, with Guthrie behind the bat.

Laketon does not have a game for Sunday and is interested in getting one, either at home or away. Anyone desiring a contest should get in touch with Ranson Carter at Laketon.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, July 7 (AP)—Former Senator Tomas G. Roland of Tyler brought 100 dozen beautiful roses to Austin recently and distributed them among friends at the capital. They were from his East Texas farm where he grows flowers for profit and pleasure.

"On this occasion," he said in making the distribution, "I point with pride to the fact that Tyler is the greatest rose plant shipping place in the world."

Captain Bill McMurray, stationed at Hebbronville, has been chosen as a "typical Texas Ranger."

His expenses to California will be paid by a movie company, and he will be the model for a statue memorializing the Rangers.

"I want to echo the decision that Captain McMurray typifies in appearance, conduct, and action the best traditions of the Rangers," Gov. Alfred said.

Captain McMurray is one of the finest shots with rifle and pistol ever in the service, his friends say. "Once he asked to see a single-action pistol which he had not handled before, tossed a rock into the air and smashed it with a bullet," one friend remarked.

Another said the captain frequently killed running rabbits with pistol shots from his automobile.

An act of vandalism occurred at the governor's mansion. A concrete flower pot, weighing perhaps

Trade Practices In Oil Industry Will Be Probed

MADISON, Wis., July 7 (AP)—A special United States grand jury was called into session today to resume hearing of complaints of unfair trade practices in the oil industry.

The 23-man jury, impaneled May 4 by order of Attorney General Homer Cummings to investigate charges by independent dealers that major companies were forcing them out of business, recessed June 16 after returning a true bill against William A. Tracy of Fort Worth, Texas, southwestern district bulk sales manager for the Sinclair Refining company.

The indictment charged Tracy with perjury while testifying as a witness in the investigation. He furnished bond of $2,000 before a United States commissioner at Fort Worth on July 3 and July 20 was fixed as the date for hearing a federal request that Tracy be brought here for trial.

More than 1,000,000 United States cars enter Canada annually, and from 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 Americans spend their vacations there.

WOULD BAR OIL RUSE

AUSTIN, July 7. (AP)—The Texas Railroad commission today announced issuance of an order designed to give it power to prevent the intrastate movement of excess oil under the guise that it is legal oil imported from another state.

The commission stated that it had found that water had been shipped into the state under the guise of being crude oil. The continuation of such a situation would make it possible for illegal Texas oil to be substituted for the water and transported, the commission stated, pointing out that it was impossible to distinguish between Texas and imported crude.

The commission stated further that it had found that "an appreciable amount of oil has been and is being imported into Texas, produced in excess of the allowable stipulated by conservation authorities in the state from whence the oil is imported."
