

It occurs to us, in view of the fact that the news of today tells of the nation's death toll in the heat near the 700 mark, that a word about Pampa weather is not amiss.

While reports of a blistering East and mid-West have gone to the nation all during the past week, the Pampa district of the Panhandle has been one of the most comfortable spots in all these United States.

Weather here has been ideal. The days, only slightly warm, have been cooled by a stiff breeze, as if from the ocean. The nights always are comfortably cool, even to the extent of making it necessary to crawl under a blanket to avoid chilliness.

Pampa has its hot spells, but of one thing we are certain, while most of the nation has been sweltering and perspiring — this area, in the past week, rightfully earned that much-sought title of "the Paradise of America," as far as heat units are concerned.

We've often wondered what a bug thinks about. Has it occurred to you that a bug, in its saner moments, must get quite a kick out of some of us humans?

Being a bug has its advantages. For instance, you could crawl right in where mortals fear to tread and get the low-down in spots where the best human being could expect would be an invitation to scam a bit.

There are days when we feel a bit insecty, small to the nth degree and wholly unimportant in the course of human activities.

Perhaps, that is a way of explaining why some space is devoted here today to bug display by the zoology division of the University Exposition at Austin.

Can you imagine 1,200 insects putting on a show? It makes one a bit itchy to even think about it. These 1,200 bugs are starting in their own right, and most of them, we are told, are from right here in Texas, although imported talent is found in several cases of foreign beetles and moths.

Among the most interesting specimens is the 17-year locust which lives 17 years underground as a grub, emerging at the end of that period to take flight and spend the last few weeks of its life in the sunshine. Specimens of Texas' largest moth, the Cocropia, with a wingspread of over seven inches; the giant tarantula killer, a large black wasp with brilliant orange wings that spread three and one-half inches; rhinoceros beetles from Texas, Africa, and South America; and a giant water bug which kills and eats fish, frogs and other water animals, are displayed.

In a case illustrating protective form and coloring of insects is shown the rare Indian leaf butterfly which with wings folded closely resembles a dead leaf.

An enormous Texas walking stick, measuring five inches from antenna to tail, is hailed in its striking appearance by the European death-head moth on whose back is clearly represented a human skull. A box of tropical insects from Peru shows the brilliant shades of red, blue, yellow, and violet not excelled anywhere in nature.

Most of the insects displayed are from the collections of the University department of zoology. Others are from the Hollibright collection, a recent gift to the University.

Being a wild duck or a wild goose has its advantages, too. It just comes to attention that these birds now have 2,100,000 acres of refuge in the United States and three times as area provided two years ago.

Your old friend, Zloncheck—back in his home town of Seattle, is making daily speeches on the subject, "Who's Crazy Now? When you come to think of it—that is a tough one to answer.

Federal automobile purchases last year, reports the Commerce Department, totaled 1,078 passenger cars, valued at $637,400 and 42,942 trucks valued at $1,263,700.

Half of the veterans who received bonus bonds have cashed them. Treasury figures show that $1,739,000,000 in bonds has been issued and of this amount $900,000,000 has been redeemed.

Annual turn-over in the retail fur trade, points out Frank G. Ashbrook, of the Biological Survey, has shrunk from $500,000,000 in 1929 to $150,000,000. Much of the decrease is attributed to a growing scarcity of fur animals.

Lee O. Johnson, one of the Panhandle's most widely-known newspapermen, will leave Pampa the latter part of July to join the staff of the Lexington Herald in Lexington, Ky.

Johnson has resigned his Daily News post after more than six years of service to continue with his former employers, J. Lindsey Nunn and Gilmore Nunn, who recently purchased the Lexington paper.

He will remain in his present connections with the Daily News until July 29, when he and his family will leave for their new home in

SCOTTY PINES FOR 130-DEGREE NOOK IN VALLEY

Wants To Get Back In Sink and Take Off His Coat

LOS ANGELES, July 11 (AP)—Death Valley Scotty is anxious to get back where its 130 in the shade, and take his coat and shirt off.

"I see by the papers its warming up in the east," the desert rat philosopher Midas observed. "Guess it ain't like down at Furnace Creek where its 130 to 135 in the shade.

"That's down in the sink (300 feet below sea level. But it's real nice up Hell's gate. Skeleton mountain, and in the Funeral range, only about 120 in the shade. When you can find enough shade in the greasewoods.

"Of course during the warm spell—May to September—the rattlers are out. There's two kinds—the side winders and the mountain bulls. The side winders, 18 to 28 inches long, travel sideways and leave parallel cross-bars in the sand. The mountain bulls leave serpentine tracks, and are about three feet long and thick as a man's wrist.

"I don't have many visitors in the summer. No neighbors for a hundred miles. That's when I can go out in the rocks and get my work done. You know I got about $700,000 in ore out in the rocks."

Scotty has been out in Death Valley more than 30 years. During his visits to civilization he has been a spectacular spender.

Up in Grapevine Canyon he has a luxurious $2,300,000 castle, with a complete electric works and huge ice plant.

82-Year-Old Letters To Father of Pampan Tell Of Dust, Drouth In 1854

Blistering heat in the East and a general swath of the drouth through the West and mid-West, which continued to hold a place in the news spotlight today, is nothing new to the nation.

Dust storms, which to the present generation became common knowledge only in the last four or five years, roared their paths across the plains nearly a century ago.

Elements today merely are doing a return engagement in their cycle of devastation, one finds in a perusal of a letter written on Aug. 25, 1854—82 years ago—by a man in Elliottsville, Ind., to his friend in Pleasant Run, Texas. The letter, in possession of L. G. Runyon, manager of the Pampa branch of The Singer Sewing Machine Co., was written to his father

New Deal Talk Will Be Subject of Address

Delegations from more than a half dozen neighboring cities will swell the crowd expected at Road Runner Park Tuesday night when Senator Morris Sheppard, senior Texas senator, brings his New Deal message to Pampa in one of his few stop-overs in the Panhandle area.

According to a telegram received from Sen. Sheppard, in Texarkana today, by C. H. Walker, a member of the committee making arrangements for the big outdoor rally, the statesman will arrive in Pampa shortly after 7 p. m. Tuesday.

After a short rest he is scheduled to speak to an audience which will be assembled to greet him at the baseball park. Following his address and conclusion of the program there, Senator Sheppard will meet his friends and then return to the Schneider hotel where an informal reception will be held.

The senator will remain over night in Pampa and will be here a greater part of Wednesday forenoon for a conference with city officials relative to an increased government grant for the purchase of material needed for completion of the Fairgrounds park, a WPA project.

Senator Sheppard is scheduled to speak in Vernon tomorrow night and following his Pampa appearance, will speak at Amarillo on Wednesday night.

When the senator steps to the rostrum at Road Runner park he will be introduced by John Osborne, Pampa attorney, Aiding Mr. Walker on the local arrangements committee are Siler Faulkner, Democratic county chairman, and Judge S. D. Stennis.

No other speakers are scheduled for the Tuesday night rally. Senator Sheppard, a candidate for re-election, is expected to outline New Deal policies and the part they play in the program for the future.

TROOPS OPEN FIRE; DEEPEST ANXIETY FELT

JAPS TRY TO PRACTICE ON CHINESE RIFLE RANGE

TIENSIN, July 11. (AP)—Chinese and Japanese soldiers opened fire on each other today at Taku, east of Tiensin.

Both sides denied there were casualties, but the incident created the deepest uneasiness.

A detachment of Chinese troops was occupying a public park in the village. A Japanese detachment arrived and its officer announced they intended to hold target practice on the rifle range.

The Chinese objected. Several rifle rounds were fired.

Officials immediately opened negotiations for settling the conflict.

The incident was regarded by observers as the more dangerous because it followed the killing of a Japanese civilian Thursday in Shanghai.

Vice Admiral Koshiro Oikawa, commander of the third Japanese fleet, ordered the flagship Izumo to remain in harbor, although it was to have sailed for Formosa today.

At the same time, Vice Admiral Ejiro Kondo, commandant of the Shanghai detachment of the Japanese navy, warned the Chinese "naval authorities may be compelled to take action."

Election Day Quiet Sought By Candidates

A quiet day at the polls is being sought by a number of political candidates to be placed in circulation Saturday a petition in which the signers agreed to close their campaigns on midnight before election day.

It was pointed out that candidates will be asked to refrain from soliciting support from voters on their way to the polls.

Aim of the petition is to get candidates to break away from the practice of sending their representatives into the polling areas on election day to flood voters with cards and pleas for votes.

Steel Jaws Baited With Glittering Bogus Dimes

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11. (AP)—Shopkeeper Hyman Gorwitz pleaded innocent today to setting big steel-jawed traps to catch the hands of little children who assertedly annoyed him.

Two housewives testified Gorwitz, 56, concealed the dangerous instruments under thin layers of dirt in his back yard and baited them with shiny pieces of metal resembling dimes.

The traps were "strong enough to hold a wolf," said Assistant District Attorney Terrence Boyles.

NAZI LEADER SLIPS JOKER INTO NEW ACT

AUSTRIA CAN DECLARE SELF 'A GERMAN STATE'

BERLIN, July 11. (AP)—The German government announced tonight it recognized the independence of Austria—thereby apparently bringing to an end a situation fraught with danger to Europe.

The announcement, made after agreement with the Austrian government, contained the significant proviso that Austria declares herself to be "a German state."

In addition to establishing Germany's recognition of Austria's independence, the accord provides that the two nations agree to refrain from interfering in each other's internal affairs.

Hitherto, Austrian leaders have contended the Nazi movement in Austria was directed from Germany, alleging that Austrian governments were menaced by German politics.

Both nations agreed to cooperate toward the stabilization of the central European situation, this cooperation to be undertaken as two closely related German states.

Although it was stated specifically that Nazism in both countries will be regarded as a strictly internal affair, it was understood that the Austrian government would permit the inclusion of one Nazi minister in its cabinet.

The agreement failed to indicate what attitude might be taken by either country on the question of re-establishing a Hapsburg monarchy in Austria.

Men Are Working On Borger Road

Plans for the new highway between Pampa and Borger, according to state highway department officials, call for approximately 17 miles of new pavement in Carson county and 4.4 miles in Hutchinson county under the set-up which was launched last week at the Borger end of the project.

A score of men are engaged in the preliminary work in Hutchinson county which consists of clearing the fencing right of way for extending the west end of the paved stretch across the Santa Fe tracks to N. Third street in Borger.

More than 50 men soon are to be put to work when equipment is assembled for moving approximately 20,000 yards of gravel and dirt. It will take several months to complete the work on that end.

The new highway grade will cross and recross the old "back way" road but will go through one mile south of Skellytown where a connecting loop road probably will be constructed later, it was stated.

Steepest grade on the highway will be constructed to permit an 800-foot vision ahead.

FARMERS WILL BEGIN SIGNING PAPERS MONDAY

$185,000 To Be Paid To Gray County Farmers

Gray county wheat farmers will begin signing compliance papers in the county agent's office Monday, July 13, for the 1936 wheat adjustment program. Under this program approximately $185,000 will be paid to Gray county farmers who signed an application last fall and who have complied with the 1936 wheat program before it was declared unconstitutional on January 6 by the supreme court.

In order to have complied, producers must not have seeded more than 95 per cent of their base wheat acreage and designated as adjusted acres at least 5 percent of their wheat base and used such adjusted acres in accordance with regulations.

It is estimated that 90 per cent of the wheat producers in Gray county, or approximately 422 farmers, had complied on January 6.

This payment is being made as an obligation of the government pursuant to an act of Congress approved February 11, 1936.

DIZZY DEAN IS SEVERELY HURT BY LINE DRIVE

Suffers Concussion Of Brain; Wants To Drive Car

ST. LOUIS, July 11 (AP)—Jerome Herman (Dizzy) Dean, star pitcher of the St. Louis Cardinals, was knocked out in the sixth inning today but not because of poor hurling.

A vicious line drive from the bat of Burgess Whitehead, second baseman for the New York Giants, struck the loquacious hurler on the head and knocked him unconscious. Dr. Robert Hyland, club physician, diagnosed it as a severe concussion.

An X-ray examination at a hospital disclosed no skull fracture. Hyland said Dean had no headache. The physician said it was too early to say how long it would be before Dean was fully recovered and able to take the mound.

Dean quickly recovered his faculties after being carried to the dressing room and began to "wise-crack" about his injury and insisted on dressing and driving his own car to a hospital for observation.

This was not permitted but Dean was able to walk to a car for the hospital trip.

Dean said of Whitehead: "I was talking only recently about Whitehead and said of him 'there's a boy who might knock you right back to the minors.' But this is the first time I ever was hit hard enough to see stars."

Whitehead's blow, which struck Dean on the right side of the head just over the ear and raised a lump, caromed into the Cardinal dugout and George Davis of the Giants, who had singled, scored the first Giant run. Another run the same inning tied the count at 2 all but Dizzy's mates drove in six runs the last of the sixth and went on to win 9 to 3, and retain the National leadership.

Ed Heusser, who relieved Dean, received credit for the victory. Dean was trying for his fifteenth win of the season.

700 VICTIMS ARE DEAD IN MIDDLE WEST

WHOLE COMMUNITIES FALL TO KNEES IN PRAYER

CHICAGO, July 11. (AP)—From the Northern Pacific's great refrigeration plant, a mass of cooling air at last was moving eastward tonight to rout the nine-day-old heat wave.

Millions of sun-baked farms of the drouth states of the northwest and more sweltering millions in cities and towns of the north central states were cheered by the statement of forecaster J. R. Lloyd.

"Definite indications of a break up in the heat in the northwest are seen. A new mass of cool air from the northern Pacific is moving over the north Rocky Mountain region—Idaho, Montana and Wyoming, causing showers and cooler weather in that section."

A few hours later the Chicago weather office said the cooling temperatures had reached western Idaho and as far south as western Colorado. But heat and drouth continued their ravages over the remainder of the west, the north and southern parts of the country.

Upwards of 700 deaths were totaled as temperatures soared over the 100-degree line from North Dakota to the eastern seaboard.

Illinois' fatalities for eight consecutive days of tropical weather were 104. The temperature at Danville equalled the all time record of there of 111. Michigan's deaths from heat and drouth Saturday 100 as the mercury reached that mark again in Detroit. Missouri burned in its eighth day of 100 degrees, so did Kansas. New York's mortalities mounted toward 70 with conditions alleviated in the perspiring metropol.

Guymon Section Gets Good Rain

GUYMON, Okla., July 11. (AP)—Southwest rains soaked the parched fields of the Western Oklahoma Panhandle tonight. At Boise City, county seat of Cimarron county, rainfall reached one-half of an inch late today. The county, its wheat crop ruined by drought, recently was hit by the Oklahoma emergency drought relief area.

The rainfall here amounted to three-fourths of an inch. Rain began falling steadily at about 6 p. m. and it still was raining at 9 p. m.

Farmers hailed the rain as a lifesaver for parched feed crops, which had been given a good start by early summer rains.

The heaviest rains in the area were recorded at Stratford, and Dalhart, Tex., where an inch of precipitation was recorded.

OIL NEWS - - From Panhandle and Other Southwest Fields

TARIFF LAWS ON PETROLEUM IN PAST YEARS

OFFICIAL ATTITUDE ON IMPORTS IN GREAT VARIANCE

The official attitude toward the imports of foreign petroleum and its products has varied greatly over the past seventy-five years. From very exclusive tariffs, it has passed to the other extreme, admitting foreign petroleum and its products on the free list and then returning to the imposition of a tax on those materials. Countervailing duties have been imposed, altered and then removed. Some of those interests who are today the strongest foes of any restrictions on oil imports or any tax or tariff upon them have appeared in the past as the champions of such measures.

The first duty laid upon any petroleum products was that which was inserted in the act of March 2, 1861, chapter 68 and section 9, which imposed a duty of ten cents per gallon on kerosene oil and all other "coal-oils." In the act of July 14, 1862, chapter 163, section 5, the following levies were made: "Petroleum and coal illuminating oil, crude, ten cents per gallon; refined, or kerosene, produced from the distillation of coal, asphaltum, shale, peat, petroleum, or rock oil, or other bituminous substances, used for like purposes, twenty cents per gallon." In the same section a duty of ten cents per pound was levied upon paraffine.

The act of the following year, March 3, 1863, section 6, stated "That from and after the passage of this act, the duty on petroleum and coal illuminating oil, crude and not refined, when imported from foreign countries in a crude state, shall be twenty per centum ad valorem, and so on."

Since the legislative program of that period required continually increasing revenue because of the war between the States, the yearly tax bill showed mounting duties laid upon foreign imports. In the act of June 30, 1864, chapter 171, section 11, imposed the following: "On petroleum and coal illuminating oil, crude, ten cents per gallon. On illuminating oil, and naphtha, benzine, and benzole, refined or produced from the distillation of coal, asphaltum, shale, petroleum, or rock oil, or other bituminous substances used for like purposes, thirty cents per gallon."

The act of March 3, 1865, chapter 80 and section 3, contained the following duties: "On illuminating oil and naphtha, benzine, and benzole, refined or produced from the distillation of coal, asphaltum, shale, peat, petroleum, or rock oil, or other bituminous substances used for like purposes, forty cents per gallon. On crude petroleum, or rock oil, twenty cents per gallon; on crude coal-oil, fifteen cents per gallon."

Between 1865 and the revised statutes of the 1870's (two editions being issued) various tariff laws affecting petroleum were adopted without being complete revisions of preceding laws. During that time some duties were adopted by Congress in addition to those already in effect. Others were levied in lieu of existing duties. Up until the time of the revision of the statutes, all of these various tariff laws had to be constructed together. It is impossible in a brief article to set forth the changes made during that period.

During this period, from 1865 to 1878, the duties assessed on most, if not all, of the articles which had been imposed in the laws adopted in 1861 to 1865 (including those imposed upon imported petroleum and its products) were either continued or were increased.

In the tariff act of 1890 Congress provided for various products of petroleum, both crude and refined, in the refined list. For about forty years and in seven successive tariff acts, Congress continued these articles in the free list.

Since foreign countries importing our petroleum products were imposing customs duties upon them while they themselves exported to this country petroleum products which we admitted free of duty, Congress, in the tariff act of 1894, while continuing to keep imported petroleum and its products on the free list, made this condition: that when foreign countries imposed duties on importations of our crude petroleum or its products, then similar importations of petroleum from those countries would be subject to a tax of forty per cent ad valorem. This was continued in the tariff act of 1897 with this difference, that instead of imposing a tax of 40 per cent ad valorem, the law applied to petroleum imported from a country taxing our product a tax equal to the duty imposed in that country.

These conditions, which at that time were the only protection which the petroleum had from the competition with foreign products remained in force until the year 1909 when petroleum and its products were placed upon the free list, unconditionally, a situation which was repeated in the tariff act of 1913, and which was not thereafter altered until the exise taxes of 1932 were adopted.

PRODUCTION TO BE GAUGED ON MARKET NEEDS

CONSERVATION OFFICIALS MOVE ANEW TO CURB OIL OUTPUT

AUSTIN, July 11 (AP)—Oil conservation officials of several major producing states entered the second half of 1936 apparently determined to hold down production to figures at or near market demand estimates of the Bureau of Mines.

Their task was made less arduous by the continued unexpectedly heavy consumption of gasoline. Since the period from July 4 to Labor Day generally is the time of greatest motor fuel demand, oil men felt that the industry was certain to remain in a strong position. Through the next two months unless something unforeseen should happen.

Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, and New Mexico, all signers of the interstate compact, were keeping their outputs fairly well in line with figures of the Bureau of Mines. There was even some talk in the industry that another crude price raise might be forthcoming before the end of the peak gasoline consumption period unless Louisiana and California production should increase substantially.

Others felt that producers could hardly hope for a price increase with gasoline stock still large and with consumption necessarily declining in the fall and winter.

The Texas Railroad commission, conservation body in the largest oil producing state, faced several difficult issues. Drilling had slackened a little but the commission still was confronted with the necessity of cutting the per well allowable each succeeding month in order to keep within Bureau of Mines estimates. With many wells cut back farther than their operators think is proper, that problem probably will grow more acute when gasoline consumption begins to decline.

Many Texans remained of the opinion that this state was entitled to a larger slice of the nation's oil allowable. The question of production potentialities of the various states probably will come up for discussion at the next meeting of the Interstate Compact commission in Dallas July 31.

The Rodessa field, which offers an individual problem because part of it is in Texas and part in Louisiana, will be considered by the Texas

SIX LOCATIONS DURING WEEK IN PANHANDLE

Hutchinson and Carson Counties Only Ones to Register

Six new locations were made in the Panhandle field last week. Hutchinson county received four of the first intentions with Carson county having the other two.

It marked the first time in several months that Gray and Wheeler counties failed to register in the new location column.

First intentions as follow were filed with the Railroad Commission: Gulf Oil Corporation, B. F. Block No. 9, 990 feet from the south and 990 feet from the east of NW 1/4 of section 111, block 4, I&GN survey, Carson county.

Turman Oil Co. et al. J. A. Whittenburg "A" No. 7, 1,530 feet from the south and 4,950 feet from the east of section 11, block M-21, TC&RR survey, Hutchinson county.

Niapa Oil Corporation Halle No. 4, 330 feet from the west and 990 feet from the north of section 5, block M-21, TC&RR survey, Hutchinson county.

The Texas Company, H. Schafter No. 2, 452 feet from the north and 442 feet from the west of NE 1/4 of section 88, block 4, I&GN survey, Carson county.

Turman Oil Co. et al. J. A. Whittenburg "B" No. 3, 1,462 feet from the south and 1,340 feet from the east of section 58, block 46, H&TC survey, Hutchinson county.

Fred E. Devore and Less Whitaker J. T. Hodges No. 2, 330 feet from the north and east lines of SW 1/4 of NW 1/4 of section 14, block X02, L. A. Patillo survey, Hutchinson county.

South Texas Oil Field Has 2,520 Wells on June 30

LAREDO, July 11, (AP)—The south Texas oil field, opened in April, 1921, and embracing Webb, Duval, Zapata and Jim Hogg counties, had 2,520 producing wells June 30, with estimated total runs of 50,000,000 barrels. The number of producers do not include several hundred gas-wells.

Harry L. Pansler, local oil scout, reported 29 individual producing areas in the four counties, including Mirando Valley in Zapata county, where the discovery well was brought in more than 15 years ago. Notably, this proved to be the minor field as only 11 producers have been developed.

Schott field of Webb county, developed the same year, has 85 producers.

Duval county proved the largest producer and to date has three major fields. Government wells field has 675 producers, Loma Novio, 525, and Seven Sisters, 200. Extensions during June in fields of Webb and Duval counties indicate, oil men believe, that eventually several of the heavy producing areas will be joined.

The tragic results of diversion—use of highway funds for other purposes—are emphasized on our national holidays. Motorists, deprived of highways for which they have paid gasoline taxes, pay with their lives for the privilege of driving on a limited mileage of narrow, congested pavements.

53,000 Acres Are Involved in Two Texas Oil Deals

RAYMONDVILLE, Tex., July 11 (AP)—Two of the largest oil lease deals ever closed in the Rio Grande valley were reported consummated here today, transferring mineral rights on 53,000 acres of Willacy county land.

The Humble Oil Co. was said to have leased 31,000 acres from the Garcia Land and Livestock Co. of Brownsville in the northern part of the county, promising to start a 7,500-foot test in 60 days.

The second lease was reported to be 22,000 acres acquired by the Magnolia Petroleum Co. in the western portion of the county. It was understood tests were planned on this tract.

The evils of diversion—use of highway funds for other purposes—are recognized in the federal aid law passed by the last Congress. The act applies penalties to states which increase the amount of their diverted funds and awards a bonus to states which do not practice diversion.

The 1936 act continues a provision of the act of 1934 which stated that any state increasing the amount of its diversion should be penalized by loss of one third of the federal aid funds to which it was entitled.

The 1936 act also provides that any state which is unable to match its federal aid appropriation dollar for dollar may obtain the funds without matching if the state devotes 100 per cent of its gasoline taxes to road construction and maintenance.

In previous years motorists have been deprived of as much as $140,000,000 of their investments in highways. The money was diverted to such purposes as building fish hatcheries, and oyster beds, construction of public buildings and payment of salaries and pensions.

Diversion Is Hit In New Federal Aid Legislation

The evils of diversion—use of highway funds for other purposes—are recognized in the federal aid law passed by the last Congress. The act applies penalties to states which increase the amount of their diverted funds and awards a bonus to states which do not practice diversion.

3 OIL WELLS, TWO GASSERS BOOST FLOW

1,619 BARRELS ADDED TO POTENTIAL IN PANHANDLE FIELD

Three oil wells and two gassers were completed in the Panhandle field last week. The oil wells, divided among Gray, Carson and Wheeler counties, added 1,619 barrels to the field potential. The gassers, one in Moore and the other in Wheeler county, made 132,154,000 cubic feet. Anderson and Kerr Petroleum Co. test in Moore county was one of the best in recent months. The test showed production to be 77,302,000 cubic feet.

Six intentions to drill were filed. Four were in Hutchinson county with Carson drawing the other two.

Activity in the Panhandle field has slowed up little despite adverse reports. There are 144 wells in process of drilling or completion. Gray county leads the list with 49, one more than for Hutchinson county which is receiving its largest play in five years.

Tests are distributed as follows: Gray 49; Hutchinson 48; Wheeler 18; Moore 17; Carson 10; Childress 1; Hartley 1.

Completions recorded by the Railroad commission follows:

Gray County.
Bradshaw Oil & Gas No. 3 Vaniman, section 175, block 3, I&GN survey, tested 719 barrels. Total depth was in lime formation at 3,314 feet with pay from 3,212 to 3,245 feet.

Carson County.
Ryan Consolidated No. 12 B. F. Block, section 111, block 4, I&GN survey, made 632 barrels on test. Pay was from 3,090 to 3,107 feet in lime formation. Total depth was 3,175 feet.

Wheeler County.
C. A. Lupton No. 1 Stewart, section 73, block 13, H&GN survey, tested 208 barrels. Pay was in granite wash formation from 2,114 to 2,121 feet, total depth.

Dancier Oil & Refining Co. No. 1 Rosch, section 27, block 24, I&GN survey, made 54,852,000 cubic feet of gas. Rock pressure was 197 pounds.

Moore County.
Anderson and Kerr Petroleum Co. No. 3 Morton, section 206, block 37, T&NO survey, tested 77,302,000 cubic feet of gas. Rock pressure was 409 pounds.

ROAD RUNNERS DECIDE TO ENTER DENVER TOURNEY THEN WHIP PHILLIPS

PAMPANS COME FROM BEHIND TO WIN TILT

LEFTY COX KNOCKS HIS EIGHTH HOME RUN OF SEASON

Pepped up by an announcement that the team would enter the Denver Post tournament in Denver, Colo., July 30 to August 10, the Pampa-Daniger Road Runners put on a burst of speed and came from behind to defeat the Phillips 66 Gassers of Oklahoma City, 5 to 2, Friday night at Road Runner park.

The Birds were trailing 2 to 0 going into the fourth inning when F. E. Shryock, superintendent of the Daniger Refineries, announced that he would let the boys off to go to Denver. Hale greeted Bolding with a double and Lefty Cox propelled his eighth ball of the season over the left field fence to tie the score.

Not satisfied, Hale spanked one over deep centerfield fence in the next inning, scoring Seitz ahead of him. Seitz had got a life on Goettling's error. McNabb opened the inning with a screaming drive against the center field fence but was caught trying to stretch the hit into a triple.

The Road Runners finished their scoring in the sixth inning. Pointexter opened proceedings with a single and went to second when Lisle's attempted sacrifice fell safe. He continued on to third when Goettling threw the ball away and scored on McLarry's long fly to center field.

Phillips started the game off like champions. Routh was out on the first pitched ball. Lewis was safe on an infield hit. Ellis went out, but Rogers came through with a double to score Lewis. O'Neal was safe on Hale's error, Rogers scoring on the play. From then until the last man was out, big Gene Ledford had

Blackfaces To Play At Lefors This Afternoon

Shaw park at Lefors, which has rounded to the third of pigskin on shoe leather for two years, will hear the ring of horsehide on timber this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The occasion will be the game between Phillips 66 of Lefors and the Huber Blackfaces of Borger. Admission will be 25 cents for women and 40 cents for men.

The surprising Phillips aggregation, strengthened quietly but surely, put Huber into a nose dive a couple of weeks ago in Borger. Right now the Blackfaces are thinking of nothing but revenge. The Blackfaces have been manhandling all opposition for two weeks but all the time their sights were set on Phillips of Lefors.

Eight players on the Huber roster used to be with Cox of Lefors. So today's game will be a kind of home coming affair. Manager Eddie Pulliam of Phillips will greet the Blackfaces with either Harvey Dilbeck or Roy Winkler on the mound. Either one of the portersiders should be good against Borger's six lefthanded batters. If the Lefors mound artists are given any support, they should make it number two over the Blackfaces.

Lefty Huffman, manager of the Blackfaces, has not released the name of his starting pitcher although it has been rumored that Wilkinson, a newcomer, will get the call. Former Coltexo players on the Huber squad are Huffman, Carthens, Spencer, Dingman, Eash, Polvogt, Stegman, and Wilson.

Phillips will take the field with a changed lineup. It is rumored. Freddy Newsome, slugging outfielder, will be at third base, it is reported. Sims, Oklahoma university star, will be at second base. Eddie Sain, a newcomer, will be in left field. Jack Bacus and Bleu will fight it out for the assignment in right field.

A packed grandstand and bleachers is expected to see the opening game of the season in Lefors. Pampa will send a large delegation.

ROAD RUNNERS AND PERRYTON CLASH TODAY

BORGER BEAT RANGERS 18 TO 3 LAST WEEK

The North Plains will have its first opportunity of the year to see the fast flying Pampa-Daniger Road Runners in action this afternoon when the Birds play the Perryton Rangers at 2:30 o'clock at Perryton.

With only one defeat this season, and that to the Huber Blackfaces in the first night game of the season, the Rangers expect to give Manager Sam Hale and his stars a tough battle. The entire north plains is talking the game and a record crowd is expected to fill the stands at Ranger field.

With victories over Buffalo, Okla., Ralston, Okla., Texhoma, Shattuck and Forgan behind them, the Rangers decided to step into fast company over the week-end. The opening game of the series was against Huber of Borger and it ended with an 18 to 3 win for the Blackfaces. Only nine Perryton players showed up in Borger and as a result, only two regulars were in their right positions. At that, the boys from Ochiltree county banged out 10 hits off Nash.

Mormon will be on the mound for Perryton with Byron behind the plate. At first will be Hank Richardson. Irvin Hergert who has been playing great ball all season, will be at second. "Errorless" Cornwall from the OCC camp will be at short. Devers will take care of the hot corner. In the outfield Manager Garland Redfern will have available Bill Cayer, Mansell Coffee, Slim Teeters, Phil Cartwright and the slugging Bill Richardson.

Manager Sam Hale of the Road Runners will have Stewart, Gray, Dancy and Bulla all ready to go. Al Summers, second baseman, will still be missing from the lineup because of a knee injury.

Peewees Will Play Crucial Game Against Borgans

Hoover to Play Here And Phillips Will Go To Lefors

Weather permitting, the Magnolia Peewees this afternoon will exert a mighty effort to whip the Hoover Christians on the latter's diamond. Other games in the Junior baseball league are expected to result in victories for Hoover and Phillips. The fledglings have vowed to give Hoover a worse lacing than the Peewees gave the rural team last Sunday when the Mags won 21 to 5.

In their last encounter, the bug chasers ran Hoover ragged by a score of somewhere around 30 to 1. Everybody has defeated the LeFors team and there is no reason why Phillips shouldn't. However, if Mc's Pirates have begun to take themselves seriously and have practiced for a change during the last week, they might surprise the 66 Juniors. LeFors has a strong team, potentially.

The last time the Peewees and Borger met, the Christians won 14 to 10. The Peewees' at that time was that not a man was playing his regular position except the catcher and left-fielder. Claude Heiskell, regular first baseman, hurled the game in the absence of Amos Reed and Key Rafferty, one of whom will take the mound today. However, Borger that afternoon gave a weak performance, compared with brilliant work shown since then.

The Peewees got a break Friday that may help or hinder. Billy Morrow who played with the team two years ago and then moved away this summer after school was out, returned and probably will be in the lineup at short stop.

If he's as good as he was when he left, the Peewees will profit, but if he has slipped they'd better let Grover Lee Heiskell hold down the shortstop berth. Billy used to be called the best player on the team. The Christians have improved more than any team in the league, except Phillips, and they will be harder to beat than ever. The Christians upset the dope and vanquished the Little Road Runners 15 to 5 in a league game here a week ago, several days later the Peewees led the Daniger boys until the last of the 8th when the Little Road Runners scored five runs to win the game.

The lineups:
Peewees—Grover Lee Heiskell rf; Buckingham 2b, Mills 3b, Claude Heiskell 1b, Foster lf, Dull cf, Auld c, Reed p, Morrow ss.
Borger—Saunders ss, Robertson 2b, White 1b, Roland rf, Hensley 3b, Dillon, Wright lf, Foster p, Hoover—Turcotte c, Colvin 2b, E. W. Hogan p and 1b, Maddox 1b, C. Hogan rf, Johnson cf, Cole 3b and p, C. Lewis lf.

[QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING]

"What is an amortized loan?"

An amortized loan is one which the borrower pays off on the "installment plan." At the time the loan is granted definite provisions are made for certain payments at regular intervals.

This form of loan has the distinct advantage of enabling the borrower to reduce his debt gradually in easy payments—instead of having the entire loan to pay when it becomes due. Another advantage is that the bank can depend on certain incoming amounts and is enabled to extend new loans to other borrowers. Since there is less likelihood of an amortized loan becoming "frozen," it offers safeguards both to the borrower and the bank. Hence it is usually a useful loan for the community as a whole.

The officers of this bank will be glad to discuss with you your loan requirements.

PHILLIPS AGAIN BECOMES THREAT IN LOCAL SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Phillips and Voss Cleaners have thrown their names in the pot as contenders with Skelly for winning honors in the second half of the Pampa Playground ball league.

The fast-stepping Phillips crew took a 3 to 2 game from the Texas company Friday after defeating King Oil, 2 to 1, on Tuesday. Voss Cleaners continued to win, taking Coltexo to camp, 13 to 4, on Thursday evening.

Skelly had no trouble downing the newly organized Cabot crew, 20 to 3. The Christians, underdogs in the first half of the league race, sprung the surprise of the season by downing King Oil, 19 to 18, in an extra inning. King scored nine runs in the first inning and the churchmen followed with seven.

Cities Service won a well-played 7 to 4 game from the Baptists in the other Friday encounter. Three postponed games are to be played from the opening night.

Schedule for Tuesday:
Baptists at Coltexo.
Cities Service at Skelly.
Voss Cleaners at King Oil.
Christians at Texas Company.
Phillips at Cabot.

CLEANERS LOSE BUT GIRLS WIN IN GAME AT CANADIAN

Pampa playground ball teams divided games under the lights at Canadian Friday night. The Sluggers, girls team, won a 12 to 6 decisio from the Wildcat Lassies while Voss Cleaners dropped a 10 to 4 game to the Wildcats.

Errors, a host of them, cost the cleaners the game. They were unable to get used to the lights and booted balls all over the diamond. The Wildcats played sensational ball behind the hurling of Enoch. Patrick and Morrison divided mound work for the Voss Cleaners with Sheridan behind the plate. The Ann Heiskell landed seven batters in the Sluggers' win over the Canadian girls. Owens went the distance for the losers. Anna Ford, who played for the Sluggers early in the season, was recruited to replace Doris Gee behind the plate. Gee is ill.

Both teams played classy ball

The fast-stepping Phillips crew took a 3 to 2 game from the Texas company Friday after defeating King Oil, 2 to 1, on Tuesday. Voss Cleaners continued to win, taking Coltexo to camp, 13 to 4, on Thursday evening.

Skelly had no trouble downing the newly organized Cabot crew, 20 to 3. The Christians, underdogs in the first half of the league race, sprung the surprise of the season by downing King Oil, 19 to 18, in an extra inning. King scored nine runs in the first inning and the churchmen followed with seven.

Cities Service won a well-played 7 to 4 game from the Baptists in the other Friday encounter. Three postponed games are to be played from the opening night.

Schedule for Tuesday:
Baptists at Coltexo.
Cities Service at Skelly.
Voss Cleaners at King Oil.
Christians at Texas Company.
Phillips at Cabot.

HUMAN ENGINEERING

It is an almost cruel fact that the lack of youthful training can never be fully made up in after years. This fast moving decade, this changing world, has changed all contacts for childhood.

The children are in school for nine months. Then for three months most of them have no definite plans for the use of their time.

We all know that children grouped together without a leader will not develop the proper initiative. A properly supervised recreation program under trained leaders will help to accomplish the desired results.

If we could have human engineering so that children would get only the best food for thought we would have men and women who have been taught from infancy to build thoughtful and wise images of conduct.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON.—The drought's potentialities as a major disaster in a campaign year naturally enough have aroused speculation here as to the possible political effect.

It may be worth remembering that the great drought in the summer and fall of 1934 was followed by a Democratic landslide in the November congressional elections.

Drouth causes livestock raisers to ship cattle, hogs, and sheep to market as fast as they can get them there.

Flour and bread prices, on the other hand, may go up very soon unless the drought is broken.

If you want to do some tricks with figures, just take Secretary Morgenthau's radio announcement that the national debt has reached $33,750,000,000.

The increase since Roosevelt took office has been just about $13,000,000,000, according to the balance sheets.

On the other hand, if you're a Democrat, it's the simplest thing in the world to whittle down the cost of the New Deal to less than $7,000,000,000.

Then deduct that $2,000,000,000 "profit" from gold devaluation which is now in the currency stabilization funds, leaving $8,800,000,000.

Then a couple of billions more in loans by RFC, PWA, and other federal agencies which are supposed to be recoverable. By this time you're down to $6,800,000,000 and there are plenty of officials here who can think of more deductions if you want them.

Amelia Earhart says a hangover is much worse in a plane. There is always the temptation to bait out without bothering with the parachute.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

BY GEORGE TUCKER. NEW YORK—Dexter Fellows, famed press-agent of circuses, recalls the night several winters ago when several lions escaped from their cages in a Connecticut midway.

That was her beginning as a "Give Me Something to Remember You By" gal, and Broadway hasn't seen her dance since.

The most startling and eye-widening character this courier can remember in any play was Mother Goddess in "The Shanghai Gesture."

One of the complaints against New York for foreigners is that, despite its abundance of fine restaurants, New Yorkers seldom make a ceremony of dining. As Paul Morand points out, "New Yorkers rarely dine—they swallow."

Another complaint, chiefly by French writers (who probably are subject to attacks of claustrophobia) is that New York's skyscrapers are always "threatening the sky like a forest of violently upthrust fists, or trampling the earth like a herd of mastodons."

The genteel, well-bred atmosphere which so long has characterized Fifth avenue is on the wane. Its aloofness for years was an effective barrier (that and the high tariffs) against the on-rushing tide of cheapening shops which have inundated Broadway and the Times Square area, but of late the dikes are leaking. This sad commentary (Brother, can you spare a handkerchief?) was never more forcibly borne out than in the appearance of that sign in front of a new shop: "Paris Pressing—No cash."

Mrs. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte is said to be the best backgammon player in the "400." ... They also say it makes her angry to lose.

POISON IVY. Poison ivy is a plant shrub which also assumes the character of a climber, using its long, fibrous roots to creep over rocks, walls and trees.

Individuals differ in their susceptibility to poison ivy. Some are seemingly immune. Others contract it when, as they say, they come within a mile of it. The amount of resinous poison to which the individual is exposed, his susceptibility, determine the severity of the symptoms.

The earliest symptoms appearing several hours after contact with the plant are those of burning and itching. The exposed parts of the hands and face usually react first. Later vesicles of small blisters develop. These may break, discharging their contents.

Together with these skin manifestations there may be constitutional symptoms, such as headache, fever, loss of appetite and lassitude. The ordinary case of poison ivy runs its course within a week.

When the sap, which exudes from all parts of the injured plant, comes in contact with the skin, it causes intense irritation, associated with swelling and the formation of small blisters. The areas of inflammation usually are irregular in shape.

Secondary areas of inflammation, backward work, so arithmetic, and geometry must be done on paper. Detail maps are required which make the child pore over the fine print in the geography.

Little children at least should be given the chance to spread. They should be encouraged to use the large muscles of the body, to write large, draw large, look at large objects. They should not be permitted to do fine work for more than a few minutes at a time, and even when they are reading, should be interrupted every 15 minutes or so to rest their eyes by looking into the distance.

In time the child himself should acquire this habit, and consciously take this means of resting and "stretching" his eyes, no matter how absorbed he may happen to be in his book.

Drawing should be done on blackboards, writing on large sheets of wrapping paper or slates. If the vicious circle of near-sightedness once starts, it is hard to break. Prevention is always easier and cheaper than cure.

Talks to Parents

NEAR-SIGHTEDNESS By Brooke Peters Church.

In the development of near-sightedness in children there is a vicious circle which is hard to avoid. The cramped conditions of modern life and the use of pencils paper and textbooks, tend to concentrate the child's attention on small things at close range. This becomes a habit until he is so accustomed to detail work that his eyes adjust to it, and he in turn begins to write small, to hold his work close to his eyes, and so eventually to develop near-sightedness through training and shaping his muscles for close-vision service.

Parents and teachers are too apt to make the mistake of encouraging small handwriting in children. It saves paper and makes for neatness. Classes are too large for much

RUNAWAY BRIDE

CHAPTER XI. By the time Phil Kirkby saw the announcement of the decline of the Howe fortune in the Paris Herald, the newspaper was two days old. He read the news one morning in a small pension, where he had ordered breakfast, and was lamenting the fact that orange juice was not a morning beverage on the continent.

When he put the paper down he was silent. There was one thing only to do. He must go to Camilla. He always had been near when she needed him. At that he smiled grimly. She never before had needed him. But she had known he was there—something like a rock of Gibraltar or the stone that was sacred to the Pilgrim Fathers or something else unmovable. Phil was disgusted with himself. He had dreamed of the girl with bright, light hair and brilliant blue eyes for years. He had taken the first ship to France to see if she really was developing serious symptoms for an Austrian embassy attache. Now she needed him—

He got on his bicycle and rode all day, not stopping for lunch. At dusk he sent a telegram to Camilla at the Continental.

"Am taking train to Paris tonight. Wait for me." He had hesitated over the next word. Then he had added, "Affectionately, Phil."

Camilla had been fond of him always in her way. Now that she could no longer play at love and romance she would turn to him. Well—he had asked for it long enough.

When he reached the hotel in Paris he found two messages. One from Camilla and one from Marion. Each urged him to join the house party at once.

"I am not checking in," he told the desk. "When's the next train to Nice?" He hesitated a second before making his second request. "Is Miss Cunningham still here?"

"Miss Cunningham checked out more than a week ago, Monsieur."

Well, that ended that. Definitely. He was strangely disappointed, oddly relieved that he would not see her again. He had left his luggage at the hotel, with word that it was to be forwarded to him if he did not return to Paris. Now he waited long enough to pick up a bag, then caught the next train south to Nice.

He had sent a telegram, and a pony cart met him at the train. "The guests are all at the beach, Monsieur. You are to join them there," the driver explained.

Getting into black trunks Phil told himself that he was the master of his own mind. If he said that the provocative, tender lips, and wide gray eyes of a certain young lady should get out of his gallery of faces, it should! Then he ran down to the water, and stared straight into that face.

"Marcia! You here?" Marcia, glancing into his puzzled blue eyes aware of the long, strong brown body, fashioned to weather wind and rain and sea, could only nod. So Phil had come. Had come to know that she would need him. Well, there were plenty of ships to America. She could take one of them any minute she wanted to.

"I asked for you in Paris," Phil was saying, throwing his long body on the sand.

I left Paris when you did and came here. Funny that she could think of so few things to say. "The water is beautiful today. Want to swim? I'll race you to the raft."

She was crazy to think that Phil looked disappointed — her mind was playing freak tricks. Phil had come to Nice to see another girl. He hadn't even known that she, Marcia, was here. He had just said so.

They raced to the raft where a chorus of eager voices greeted them. "Hi, Kirkby, it's good to see you again!" That was Bob.

"Hello—sort of old home week," Marcia noticed the lack of warmth in Phil's return greeting. No wonder, she mused. He wouldn't want Bob around as a rival when he had come to plead his case with Camilla. She did not know that Phil was thinking: "So this is it. Of course Bob would be damned wherever Marcia is. I'm a damned fool."

The water at Nice was very black that night. It stretched away acres and acres and acres of it. The stars were bright but there was no moon. Marcia, in a frothy blue dress, had been quiet at dinner. No one had noticed, she decided, because everyone else had so much to say. Even Camilla, for whom everyone was supposed to be, was merrier than usual. But Marcia understood that. Phil had come back and Camilla must feel safe again.

After dinner, Marcia went upstairs and changed to a white sports dress and some white walking shoes. She grabbed a woolly white coat, slipped out a side door, and started on a walk along the beach. It was too hard to stay in the house where the music, the laughter, the light voices, wove a spell that drew a young man with eyes that were bluer than she had remembered and another girl—closer and closer together. Suddenly the walls had closed in around her and she had escaped.

She had not gone far when she became aware that she was being followed. She began to walk faster, then to run. It was lonely and she had been warned to beware of vagrants. One encounter with lawlessness in Paris had been enough. Then she decided that she couldn't outrun a man. She might as well see what he wanted. Or he might even pass her. Some people ran for

LABOR STILL WOULD AVERT CIVIL STRIFE

MONDAY IS DAY FOR OUSTER TO TAKE PLACE

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP)—Hampered by bitter, personal feeling, American Federation of Labor peace-makers strove today to avert a split that would divide the federation into two warring camps of labor unions.

Secret conferences were the order of the day. The federation's executive council, slated to act Tuesday on a motion to suspend 12 unions led by John L. Lewis, was in recess. Those members opposing suspension, however, discussed the issue throughout the day with those who want to oust the president of the United Mine workers and his allies for "dual unionism."

Other labor developments included:

- (1) The labor relations board of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. with complicity in three assaults on United Rubber workers organizers in Gadsden, Ala.
- (2) An agreement was reached to end the seven-week strike at the Wheeling Steel corporation's Portsmouth, O. plant.
- (3) In response to a request from Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, the International Longshoremen's association agreed to postpone for two weeks a strike in all ports from Wilmington, N. C., to Pensacola, Fla., which had been scheduled for Monday. McGrady will attempt to arrange a settlement.
- (4) Labor department officials reported they had made progress toward settlement of the Remington-Rand strike. The company postponed opening its Norwood, O., plant, set for Monday. The labor relations board charged the company with "wholesale discharges for union activity" and other alleged violations of the Wagner labor dispute act.
- (5) McGrady left for New York. Observers thought he might plan to see Remington-Rand officials, as well as Radio Corporation of America officials about the strike in the RCA plant at Camden, N. J.

McLean Program

Candidates are especially invited and others will be welcomed to a Play Night program at the McLean ward school building tomorrow at 8:30. It is announced by Mrs. Wade, one of the sponsors. Boy Scouts and 4-E club girls of that town are presenting the evening of entertainment and will benefit from the proceeds.

Meeting Place Changed

The singing convention announced for this afternoon will be conducted at Central Baptist church instead of at the Culbertson-Smalling building as first announced, officers of the Gray County Singers said yesterday. All who are interested in gospel singing are invited.

Visitors On Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Ell Messmore and little son, Ell Oliver, of Kansas City are spending the summer here with her mother, Mrs. Sarah A. Ross. Mrs. Messmore and son, Mrs. Ross, and Mrs. Estelle Smith drove to Mountain View last week to visit another daughter of Mrs. Ross, Mrs. J. W. McMahan. On the return trip they visited an aunt, Mrs. Lehoma Paxton of Lone Wolf, Okla.

Treated for Injuries

Three employees of the Stanolind Oil & Gas company, Otis Lillie, Dow Snyder and M. O. Pickett, were treated for injuries Friday afternoon at Pampa-Jarratt hospital following a car accident two and a half miles west of Pampa on the Berger highway. Pickett received torn muscles on his side, cuts and bruises about the face. He was able to leave the hospital yesterday. The other two men left after receiving treatment for cuts and bruises. Lillie was driving the car when it met another car approaching the highway from a side road. Name of the driver of the other car could not be learned yesterday.

Breaks Leg

Mrs. May Coffee, White Deer resident, suffered a fracture of the right leg below the knee when she was struck by a car yesterday morning in White Deer. She was brought to Pampa-Jarratt hospital where she was resting well last night.

BROOKS WOULD LIKE TO FACE HIS OPPONENT

FISCHER FAVORS CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT HE DECLARES

(By The Associated Press)

Gubernatorial candidates wound up a hard week of campaigning Saturday night, with Pierce Brooks saying he would like to meet his opponents face to face and discuss major political issues.

"Maybe I will be able to get one of them to meet me in the run-off campaign," he said at Greenville, predicting he would gain enough votes to survive the primary.

Brooks contended there was need for a better business system in the state house and said only a trained business man could install such a system.

East Texans heard F. W. Fischer say he favored ratification by Texas of the federal child labor amendment.

"Any concern that is willing to pay its women employees does not those object who would enrich the Tyler oil attorney said. "Only themselves at the expense of the health and morals of the helpless. If I am elected governor, a minimum wage law will be passed."

Fischer brought his week of campaigning to a close with a night appearance at Athens. He planned to rest Sunday.

Roy Sanderford went on record as advocating a three per cent general sales tax, with two-thirds of the proceeds being used to pay in full the old age pensions to all qualifying under the constitution and the other third being used to replace the state ad valorem tax.

"It would not only pay a debt of honor to the aged, but would also relieve real estate of the burden it bears now," the Belton candidate said, speaking at Farmersville and Dallas.

At Nacogdoches, Gov. James V. Allred pressed his campaign for re-election with a plea to voters to consider "performance—not promises." He said tax reduction had become an actual fact under his administration.

"For years, candidates have promised the people a reduction in their ad valorem taxes," the governor said. "Under the administration of your Centennial Governor, this has actually been done."

Speaking at Decatur in his home county, Tom F. Hunter continued his attack on Gov. Allred for operations of the old age pension plan. He said:

"The real pensioners at present are employees of the liquor control board and the old age assistance commission. In May, 41 per cent of the total receipts from the liquor tax were sapped up as salaries and expenses of these two boards.

Hunter said the old age pensions must be met in full as contemplated by the constitutional amendment, and pledged himself to "see that this legislation be carried out as willed by the people."

Wisconsin summer home without answering the question whether he would run for a fifth term in the U. S. Senate.

ATTITUDE TOWARD PENSIONS IS EXPLAINED BY GOVERNOR ALLRED

CROCKETT, July 10. (Sp.)—A "whispering campaign" instigated by his opponents is being used in attempts to mislead and needlessly alarm the old people of Texas, Governor James V. Allred charged here Friday night.

"For months, if you remember, these gentlemen went about the state saying that no old age assistance payments would be made because we didn't have the money to make them," the governor said.

"When the checks were mailed out on schedule July 1, just as I had pledged all along, to more than 40,000 of our needy citizens my opponents had to change their tune.

"Now they are having their friends whisper to the old people that the lists are closed on old age assistance payments—that no more names will be added to the rolls.

"Emphatically, that is not so! Investigations are still being carried on and new names are being certified and added to the rolls daily.

"Shame to these men who are playing politics with the panic of our unfortunate and needy old people!"

The present old age assistance act is only a part of his program for social security in Texas, Governor Allred said. He reminded his Houston County audience that he is the first candidate for governor who has publicly proposed passage of a law to authorize Texas to participate in the benefits of the National Government's program for unemployment insurance, aid for dependent children, maternal and child welfare and aid for the blind.

"This program can be carried out, I am sure, at a small cost to the state," he said. "The economic security of every citizen of Texas is still of supreme importance." Although some of the other candidates for governor, "and some of their lawyer friends," have told the old people that the present old age assistance act is unconstitutional, none of them have dared to attack it in the courts, Governor Allred pointed out.

"Attorney General McCraw held it unconstitutional," he said, "and when I took the bill to Washington it was immediately approved by the National Social Security board, from whom we must secure federal funds to carry on the program in Texas.

"I think I can safely claim that I have been a better friend to the old folks than any of the candidates for governor. I believe they prefer a candidate with a record of performance to one who offers no more than wild promises.

"I am asking the people of Texas for a second term in order that I may be able to carry this program on to completion."

ROBINSON IN HARD BOILED SLEUTH ROLE

PLAYS DETECTIVE PART IN 'BULLETS OR BALLOTS'

Back in a part which affords him all the opportunities for characterization that "Little Caesar" gave him, Edward G. Robinson, one of the finest actors on the stage or screen is now playing the stellar role in First National's "Bullets or Ballots" at the LaNora theatre.

In this film he plays the part of a hard-boiled detective of the two-fisted school who broke up an organization of racketeers.

For a long time Robinson was not entirely satisfied with his screen roles. He thought he should like to play again a character resembling "Little Caesar." In that, the role which catapulted him to stardom, the character was so strong that ever since, although that was made several years ago, he has been identified with it.

In "Bullets or Ballots" he has such a role. As Johnny Blake he plays a clear-cut, definite character, as definite as anything he has ever done, save this time he is on the side of law and order.

"It is strange," Robinson said, when the subject was brought up, "how the public has dubbed me a gangster, a criminal. This is in spite of the fact that I've played comparatively few such evil roles since 'Little Caesar.' After that picture came 'Smart Money', then I was a newspaperman in 'Five Star Final', a fisherman in 'Tiger Shark', a miner in 'Silver Dollar', an actor in 'The Man With Two Faces', and a Caspar Milquetoast in 'The Whole Town's Talking'.

My roles have been diversified enough, but whenever my name is billed in a picture the public's mind clicks, 'Gangster'.

"So I'm glad to have a role as strong as 'Little Caesar' in a picture equally as exciting, equally as fast moving in its absorbing story."

"The picture 'Bullets or Ballots' was directed by William Keighley from the screen play by Seton I. Miller, based on the story by Martin Mooney and Miller.

In the cast are such talented players as Joan Blondell, Barton MacLane, Humphrey Bogart, Frank McHugh, Joseph King and many others.

In La Nora Attraction

Edward G. ('Little Caesar') Robinson, and Joan Blondell, the screen's No. 1 goldigger, join hands to pull the brain trust of the crime trust off their high seats in a film as thrilling as "G-Men", First National's "Bullets or Ballots" which comes to the LaNora theatre today.

OWENS WINS TWO OF THREE RACE EVENTS

CAPTURES 100-METER DASH AND BROAD JUMP

BY ALAN GOULD
NEW YORK, July 11 (AP)—Jesse Owens, Ohio State's triple Olympic threat, led America's athletic march toward Berlin today by winning two of the three events decided today in the opening half of the final United States track and field tryout.

The negro athlete made it look easy as he finished off two-thirds of his competitive job. He whipped his dusky rival from Marquette, Ralph Metcalfe, by a full yard in the final of the 100-meter dash, timed in 10.4 seconds, and then won the broad jump with the second of his two efforts, measuring 27 feet, 10 3/4 inches. Tomorrow Owens will seek his third Olympic berth in the 200 meters.

Today's competition, inaugurating the new Randall's Island stadium located under the newly dedicated Triborough bridge, began in blistering hot weather, finished between showers.

The stadium was scarcely two-thirds occupied by a crowd estimated at 15,000 fans. This was a blow to the gate receipts. If repeated tomorrow for the finals, it will further complicate the Olympic financial situation and perhaps compel officials to curtail team selections, despite the previous decision to take a full track and field squad to Germany.

Sharing today's spotlight with the machine-like Owens were Frank Wykoff, Southern California sprint veteran who clinched a place on the Olympic team for the third time by placing third in the 100-meter final, and longstriding John Woodruff, University of Pittsburgh negro runner who came within one-tenth second of equaling the world meter record in his trial heat.

To reach the final Wykoff had to run an extra heat, after placing fourth to Owens in the first preliminary. He was off the marks in old time form in the extra heat run to decide the seventh finalist, and easily beat Harvey (Chink) Wallende of Texas in 10.7 seconds.

A man is all true. I came nigh to completing the job. Had it not been for the doctor and one or two others the world would have been mine. It makes no difference with me about fighting or getting into difficulties, for they are every-day occurrences here. So long as the God of Heaven sits on his throne and rules the sun, moon and stars, so long as I am ready to defend myself of all dumb, mean scoundrels, and it runs in my breed of people to stand their ground until the blood of their hearts runs freely from them.

"If you ever get into a difficulty—if you even have not got a pocket knife, never give the inch of the ground, for even when I had my difficulty I did not have a weapon, but it didn't take me long to get plenty of good instruments for the purpose. There's no need of my going into the minute details here, but if you want to know all about it I will tell you at some later time."

This excerpt lives up to the present day saying that Texas was a part of that area of the "great open spaces where men were men."

In the letter from Elliottsville, Ind., to the Texas store-keeper in that August of 1854, Mr. Chambers wrote:

"Hiram Rockett is still here. He thinks of starting to Texas about the fifth of next month if it rains. If there is no rain I don't think he will start, because of the dreadful dust."

"With that to face they could not travel with any satisfaction. The dust and scarcity of water would kill their horses."

After setting forth these fears of the effects of drought and dust storms, Mr. Chambers discussed the crop situation of that year as follows:

"The weather has been uncommonly dry all summer. We haven't had any rain since the first of June to do the crops much, if any, good in the part of the country. But very little good wheat has been raised this year. It is selling for a dollar a bushel. The prospect is for about a fourth-crop of corn in Indiana. Corn prices are uncommonly high for this country, business is dull and times are getting pretty hard."

"Stock of every description is coming down in price, and hogs (on which farmers were depending to pay their debts) are about flat. Hogs that will weigh 150 pounds will bring $1 per hundred, and over 175 pounds, $1.50 a hundred—and few buyers at these prices."

"I expect this is right enough for us, because prosperity had made fools of the people so that they didn't know how to enjoy the blessings that had been bestowed upon them."

So it is found in reading these letters of more than four-score years back, that there still is little new under the sun in that respect. They had the roasting hot weather, drought, dust-storms and depressions,—in the words of the poet:

"Even as you and I."

RAWLS SWEEPS WAVES
NEW YORK, July 11 (AP)—Katherine Rawls of Miami Beach, King Neptune's little jack-of-all-waterly trades, swept the waves in the final American Olympic swimming trials with a victorious double today by winning first in the 100-meters free style and the three-meter diving championships.

The storekeeper, who operates a small place in a residential district, complained of "vandalism" by children.

Abraham Glickberg, attorney for the accused man, said Gorwitz had planned an out-of-town trip and because of past troubles had set the traps to protect his property.

"Gangs of kids," Gorwitz said, had made repeated raids on his property and "stole everything they could carry away."

"I made complaints to the police," he added, "but the vandalism continued. I then set the traps, but they were not open."

Mrs. Blanche Orton, one of the arrangement witnesses, testified Gorwitz, set the traps, waved a hatchet at her and shouted:

"I'll kill those kids! I'll get them if they come into this yard."

Mrs. Orton said the "kids" referred to were her children, Betty, 6, and Geraldine, 4.

F. Krepsier, Galveston, related that his mother fell victim to a gypsy woman who told her fortune. The fortune teller, he said, told his mother that pertaining to what was termed the "money blessing" racket worked in Galveston.

After three days his mother took off the scarf, he said, and found that the money had disappeared.

Band Concert To Be Given Today In Central Park

This season's first concert by the summer municipal band will be given in Central Park this evening at 7 o'clock, under direction of Winston Savage.

Forty members of the band have been attending regular practice in the band room on the central school campus the past month, and are ready to play an hour of marches, overtures, and popular music.

Those who attend the concert are invited to find comfortable places on the park grass to sit, as the natural bowl affords an ideal place for listening from any point. A series of similar concerts last summer attracted hundreds of Sunday evening hearers.

Members of the municipal band include several from the Harvester band of last year and prospective members, as well as other interested musicians of the city.

That event would also provide the final answer to Secretary Wallace's recent intimation that the magnitude of 1936's drought as compared with the 1934 devastating situation, would be disclosed by conditions at the end of the three weeks period, winding up around July 22.

In the meantime, the federal aid program for relief of drought sufferers moved on. The first week of its operation in North Dakota, one of the most severely hit states, found 4,000 cropless farmers enlisted in WPA projects.

In Birmingham, Ala., resettlement administrator Rexford G. Tugwell estimated 50,000 farm families of Georgia, Alabama, and South Carolina were destitute from the drought. He said his agency expected to make direct emergency grants of approximately $15 million per family to half of the number.

Forecasts brought some encouragement that the extended drought and sultry spell in the South might be broken by the middle of next week.

EVERYBODY Enjoys an ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

When you consider everything you will find that an electric refrigerator brings unusual benefits to those who purchase them. Electric Refrigerators do not cost much. They last many years. Operation and maintenance costs are now very low. But electric refrigerators approach perfection performance—no matter how hot the weather you can always depend on these three important essentials of good refrigerators:

1. An abundance of ice cubes.
2. Positive food compartment temperature below 50 degrees, the critical danger point.
3. Fast, dependable freezing of desserts.

During the past ten years improvement in electric refrigerators has been rapid. The whole family enjoys them. An electric refrigerator represents real economy.

Birthday Revival At Skelly Church Continues Daily

SKELLYTOWN, July 11.—The Community church is conducting a revival this week in honor of its second birthday. It was organized two years ago under the leadership of the Rev. Hubert Bratcher. The Rev. W. W. Pittman is preaching for the daily revival services, to which the public is invited. Song hours begin at 8:15 each evening, with the sermons following.

Persons. Miss Lennie Ivey of Hereford is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. A. Ward. Henry Paulsen of Fayetteville, Ark., visited in Skellytown last week. Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Jarvis and Miss Goldie Jacobs accompanied Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cook of Seminole to Carlsbad cavern Sunday and returned Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miller spent last week-end visiting her parents and attending the Centennial exposition at Dallas.

Mrs. J. J. Devine returned Monday from near Dallas, after visiting several weeks and receiving treatment from ear specialists. Larry, her young son, accompanied her.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Harvey of Pampa visited relatives here Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Meade Simmons and Mr. and Mrs. Sams of Lake Lure, N. C., visited Mr. and Mrs. Howard Simmons this week. The two Mr. Simmons are brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cook of Seminole, Okla., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jarvis.

Mrs. Bill Harlan spent last week-end with her mother at McLean.

Harry Brandt, who has visited in Shreveport the past five weeks, returned Monday.

Leaves to Study

Miss Joyce Smith, who has spent the past month with her mother, Mrs. Bob Cecil, after a term in Texas State College for Women at Denton, left this week for Riverside, Calif., for summer study of dancing and dramatics. She will also visit friends in California.

VERSATILE SANDWICH FILLS ANY SPOT IN SUMMER MEAL

AMERICA'S FAVORITE FOOD IS EASILY PREPARED

Department of Home Economics, Texas State College for Women. DENTON, July 11.—The sandwich is one of America's favorite foods. It can be used as an appetizer in the form of a canape, as the main course (or a part of it), as an accompaniment to a salad, or even as a dessert.

The same general directions apply to the making of all types of sandwiches. Here are some valuable tips that will give your sandwiches an added tastiness. Choose bread which is twenty-four hours old, not too light, and with the moisture well retained. Cut it in thin slices and cream the butter. Make the filling moist and plastic in order to spread easily, and season it generously. Use sufficient filling to make a palatable sandwich.

It is possible to make tasty combinations for sandwich fillings using insignificant quantities of left-over materials. It is important to use only such ingredients in one mixture that combine well with each other, and take the same kind of seasonings well.

Hot Russian Sandwich: 2 or 3 eggs, 2 T milk to each egg, one serving left-over boiled ham cut very fine or 2 slices broiled bacon cut up, 1 T chopped parsley, 1/2 T chopped onion, 1 T chopped pepper (green), 1-3 t salt, pepper. Beat the eggs until mixed. Add the remaining ingredients. Mix well. Heat a heavy skillet on T. fat. Pour in the mixture and cook 1/2 slowly over a low flame. When it has almost set, cut it into sections the size of the sandwiches desired. With a spatula or griddle cake turner turn the sections over to complete the coagulation on the top. Place between thin slices of buttered bread. The sandwiches may be toasted slightly under the broiler. Care is required to avoid over cooking. The filling must be coagulated but not hardened. Serve immediately.

Lettuce and Egg Sandwich: 2 hard-boiled eggs, 1/4 c salad oil, 1 1/2 T vinegar, 1/4 t paprika, 1-3 t salt, 2 T chopped celery, 1 T chopped onions, 2 T chopped parsley, pieces of lettuce leaves. Cut bread into thin slices. Butter slightly. Spread one slice with pieces of lettuce. Add the egg mixture generously. Add lettuce again and cover with buttered bread. Serve immediately. Dessert Sandwiches: 1 c chopped dates or 1 c chopped stewed prunes, 1/4 c jelly or jam or 1/4 c sugar, 1 T lemon juice, 1-3 c chopped nuts. Boil the chopped dates with sugar or jelly until it is thick. Cool. Add the nuts and lemon juice. Spread generously between graham crackers, or vanilla wafers. Whipped cream may be added on top if desired.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Leland left yesterday for Okmulgee, Oklahoma City and other points. They were accompanied by Mrs. Leland's sister, Mrs. Ross Jones of Okmulgee who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Leland and Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Gaylor.

W. M. Elkins of Spur arrived Friday to visit his daughter, Mrs. W. W. Tucker. Although he has lived 76 of his 85 years in Texas, Mr. Elkins has never before visited the Panhandle region.

Mrs. Walter Mylar has returned to her home at Rio Oso, Calif., after a lengthy visit with her mother, Mrs. Sarah A. Ross.

The marriage of Miss Iva Bullard and Don W. Jones was solemnized Tuesday evening before the altar at First Methodist church, with the mothers of both as the only witnesses. The Rev. Will C. House officiated. The couple will live in this city.

DeVITT-STEELE Miss Dorothy Steele and Carl DeVitt of Skellytown were married Wednesday evening by the Rev. Will C. House, First Methodist minister, at his home here.

SUMMER RECREATION PROGRAM REACHES 400 CHILDREN WITH HOURS OF CONSTRUCTIVE PLAY

Many Pampa children are busily engaged in each day in the various activities being carried on as part of the summer recreation program under the direction of supervisors employed by the council of clubs, the city commission, the board of city development, and the school district. Approximately 400 boys and girls are being reached in some way by the summer recreation project. It was estimated yesterday, and it is expected that still more children will take part in the work as summer advances. Many mothers have found relief in the being reached in some way by the recreation program, the attendance varies considerably from day to day, but approximately 175 boys and girls find their way to the gymnasium frequently. Other activities offered on the high school campus include a weekly dramatics class taught by Mr. Guill, and band work under direction of Winston Savage, who is kept busy

ROUND-TABLE HOUR HELD IN GARDEN CLUB

THREE NEW MEMBERS ARE WELCOMED INTO GROUP

Garden retrospections were taken as an interesting feature of the Garden club's program Friday morning, with Mrs. Emmett Dwyer as leader. Each member took part in the discussion of "Things I wish I had done last spring as I look over my garden in July." Another round-table topic was on the cultivation and pruning of flowers, timely suggestions for mid-summer. The consensus of members' experience was that zinnias, asters, marigolds, and dahlias need careful pruning of buds through the summer for production of choice blossoms. In an informative paper Mrs. Edward Damon discussed summer care of chrysanthemums for the best fall blooms. Mrs. Tom Rose presided for the business meeting in the absence of Mrs. Glen Pool. Three new members, Mrs. B. C. Fahy, Mrs. G. C. Malone, and Mrs. Loving, were enrolled.

BRIDE-ELECT IN McLEAN IS GIVEN PARTY

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENTS MADE IN MANY TOWNS

McLEAN, July 11.—Miss Ruth Hess, whose marriage to Clyde Magee is announced for July 19, was honored when Mrs. Jim Black entertained Wednesday morning. Beautiful floral decorations were arranged in orchid and pink. In the receiving line were the bride-elect and her mother, Mrs. J. L. Hess; her grandmother, Mrs. George W. Sitter; her sisters, Misses Mary and Margaret Hess, and Mrs. C. A. Watkins, Mrs. Roger Powers, and Mrs. Raymond Goss. Mrs. June Woods, Miss Leta Mae Phillips, Miss Mable Back, and Miss Georgia Colebank served punch. Many guests called.

MIAMI, July 11.—Complimenting Mrs. Robert P. Powers, who before her recent marriage was Miss Blanche Chisum, a shower was given Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mart Cunningham Jr. with Mrs. Charlie Russell and Mrs. Chess Terry as assisting hostesses.

LeFORS, July 11.—Miss Bertha Nunley, whose engagement to Richard Hester of Kansas has been announced, was given a shower in the home of Mrs. Jenks and Miss Mary Jenks last week.

CLARENDON, July 11.—Miss Margaret Goldston became the bride of Frank Frey last Friday in a ceremony at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Goldston. The couple will live in Wichita Falls, where Mr. Frey is employed by the state highway department.

Miss Lela Laman and Irvin Alderson were married last Saturday evening and will live here after a trip to New Mexico and Dallas. Miss Ruby Hall and Floyd O. Naylor, both members of pioneer Donley county families, were married Tuesday at Lelia Lake and will reside at Hedley, where Mr. Naylor is in business.

PANHANDLE, July 11.—An announcement is made of the marriage on June 21 of Miss Nina Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Fisher, and L. H. Skaggs Jr. The bride attended school in Panhandle two years, but was graduated in Borger. The couple will live in Borger.

Miss Vivian O'Neal and Harold Biggs were married last week and are at home after a short trip to Dallas.

Churches to Join Again for Final Revival Services

Closing services of a revival at Harrah Methodist chapel will be attended today by members of both McCullough and Harrah churches as were the meetings last Sunday. The Rev. W. E. Peterson will deliver his final messages of a two-week campaign.

His subject for this morning will be The Royal Exile, and this evening, The Lion Fight. Evening services are conducted on the church lawn at 8:30. Members of both churches will join again Wednesday evening in an all-church rally at Central park. They will meet at 7 o'clock for an hour of fellowship, with the boards of stewards as hosts. Transportation will be provided from either church. Members and their friends are invited.

After the service this evening, Mr. Peterson will return to Shallowater, where he is pastor. He is being assisted in the revival by the local minister, the Rev. Lance Webb.

Two Members Entertain Club And Guests at Dinner-Bridge

Gay Gown for Gay Goings-On

Typical of the charm prevalent in Paris' midseason collections is this lovely evening gown of natural colored lace, designed by Barton. It has long, flattering sleeves with wing effects between cuffs and elbows. The double flounce trimming is edged with satin to match the shade of the lace. A vivid red, green and yellow plaid belt supplies the color contrast.

Mrs. McCullough and Mrs. Ewing Are Hostesses

Last week's parties included a dinner and bridge for Amusu club and husbands of members Tuesday evening at the Schneider hotel, with Mrs. W. E. Ewing and Mrs. L. N. McCullough as hostesses. Sixteen couples were guests. Tables for the dinner were decorated with midsummer flowers in a variety of colors. In the bridge games, Dr. H. H. Hicks made high score for men. Mrs. J. M. Dodson received the traveling package, Mrs. William M. Craven and Ray Hagan were given favors for high cut. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Gribbon, Mr. and Mrs. Roger McConnell, Dr. and Mrs. Hicks. Members and their husbands present were Messrs. and Misses W. A. Bratton, Howard Buckingham, Craven, Dodson, Siler Faulkner, Hagan, C. T. Hunkapiller, Tom Rose, Charles Thut, Alex Schneider, Dick Walker, McCullough, Ewing; Mrs. Clifford Braly and Mrs. George Walstad.

RAILROAD WEEK PROCLAIMED BY MAYOR BRATTON

Citizens Are Asked To Take Part in Celebration

Official recognition of "Railroad Week" as a period set aside in Pampa from July 13 to 18, inclusive, for the celebration of progress made by Western railroads during the past year, was assured Saturday in a proclamation issued by Mayor W. A. Bratton.

Commenting on his official action, Mayor Bratton pointed out the importance of railroads to Pampa. "More than 45 railroad heads in Pampa alone are railroad employees," the mayor said, "and throughout the West there are more than 750,000 men and women employed either by the railroads or their kindred industries."

"WHEREAS, The growth and advantages enjoyed by this community have been largely augmented by the Panhandle & Santa Fe Railway Company and the Fort Worth and Denver City Railway Company who have made it possible to reach markets with our products and our wares, and who have supplied our needs from other sources, and have furnished passenger transportation to our citizens; and

"WHEREAS, These railroads increase property values, pay taxes, and provide gainful employment; and

"WHEREAS, They have built up a remarkable record of safe transportation, and in cooperation with Western Railroads have (1st) expended large sums in modernizing passenger equipment, including the air-conditioning of principal trains; and (2nd) have reduced fares and sleeping car charges, working ever toward the maintenance of both local and national prosperity; and

"WHEREAS, The executives of other western communities, both state and municipal, have asked public recognition of the part played by Western Railroads of America in our wealth and welfare, now, therefore, I, W. A. Bratton, Mayor of the municipality of Pampa, Texas, do call upon our citizens to take note of RAILROAD WEEK, July 13 to 18, inclusive, and to join in the celebration of that event."

Prospects for work leading toward the completion of Highway No. 8 from Perryton southeast to the Lipscomb county line look brighter after a delegation of Ochiltree county men held conferences with WPA and State Highway officials in Amarillo Monday afternoon. Judge Dave Shanks, W. B. LaMaster, chairman of the Perryton Chamber of Commerce highway committee, and Van W. Stewart and A. J. Kelley, members of the Ochiltree county planning board composed the delegation.

Lloyd Waldron was installed as president of the Panhandle Lions club for the coming year at the luncheon Tuesday noon. Installation program for Mr. Waldron and the other officials was in charge of District Governor Ralph Randel, who made an impressive talk.

Wheat Harvest Under Way
Carson county's wheat harvest is getting slowly under way. Cool weather the past several days has delayed ripening of wheat and also rain of one-tenth of an inch last Tuesday held up cutting all that day and nearly all of Wednesday. The heaviest rainfall was reported from the south plains.

Harvest is the latest it has been in Carson county in 10 or 12 years, elevator men declared Thursday. It is doubtful if harvest will be in full swing before the middle of next week now, and predictions are that it will be the end of July before all fields are cut.

Reports are that some sections of Carson county in past years have completed their harvest by the 22 to 25 of June.

Although the yield is light, averaging from 4 to 7 bushels in most instances, farmers are encouraged over the steady price. Wheat brought $1.00 in Panhandle Thursday. This is the highest price paid for wheat during harvest since 1930 when the price was around $1.18.

Two years ago wheat reached 97 cents for a day or two, but the bulk was sold considerably nearer the 90 cent mark.

The Gwynn-Render Grain Co. and the W. B. Johnson elevators each shipped a car of wheat Thursday. Panhandle Wheat Elevators put all their receipts in storage here.

Wheat is testing from 50 to 58 pounds, the lightest in years. In a few instances wheat has gone to par. Farmers report that the cutting is tough.

Yield per acre is expected to be a little heavier in the White Deer section. Probably around 10 cars have been shipped from White Deer. Harvesting began about two weeks ago in the Cuyler section and probably 25 cars have been shipped from that community.

Everett Gaston, east of Panhandle got 15,000 bushels from 150 acres. W. Wigham is said to have averaged 13 bushels on the Shafter place of about 200 acres.

Arlie Crites, secretary and treasurer of the Borger Lions organization during the past year, was elected to the presidency of the Borger club at the noon luncheon meeting last week.

Combined deposits of Canadian's three banking institutions as reported in their statements of June 30, were $660,672.86. This is an increase of $38,853.91 in total deposits over the previous call of March 4, and is higher than the statement of December 31, 1935, when a large gain had been shown.

Each highway is entitled to improvement equal in amount to the gasoline taxes and license fees paid by the cars using that highway. Many main highways earn their own way only under congested holiday traffic conditions. Many secondary and rural highways earn improvements they never receive.

Seems To Be Poor Time For 'Political Alarms'

By BRUCE CATTON

If the rival politicians of this land are as wise as they are supposed to be, they will call off all forensic fencing for a month or so and take in a few of the assorted expositions, fairs, and exhibits with which the native sons are beguiling the heat of summer.

They will do that because such things, rather than political fights, seem to be what are chiefly interesting the American people just now.

The politician who tries to save the nation when the American people are thinking about something else is likely to be greeted with nothing but a large dose of public apathy.

The exposition business is doing right well this summer. Texas has a big, double-barreled affair that apparently offers a great deal of entertainment for the money and seems to be drawing customers from everywhere. San Diego has another one, and Cleveland a third, and they are doing all right, too.

That these things should come to flower in the summer of 1936 is a neat little symptom which politicians and others could profitably examine.

They would seem to mean that the people of America have—for the moment, at least—given up their perennial worry about whether their country is going to pot, and have set out to get a little recreation for themselves.

And if they are doing that, it is a pretty fair sign that a few years of life are left to them, after all.

This exposition business does not flourish when things are going downhill. People don't pick up and trundle off to look at automotive exhibits, fan dances, Bavarian villages, and horticultural displays when they are worried about the state of the Union, the flatness of their pocketbooks, or the amount of red ink on the ledgers down at the office.

And when they are not worrying about such things, they do not have a great deal of time for the politician who arises to beat his breast, thump the tub, and announced that he has come down from the mountains to save them from a fate worse than death.

The people of this country have been keyed up for three or four years. In those years they have examined their past and studied the future; they have listened to innumerable harangues about the state of the nation, the precepts of the founding fathers, the perils of the present, and the condition of their immortal and collective soul. Right now, they seem to be in a mood to relax and stop worrying.

That is going to make it pretty tough for the campaigners. The earth-shaking crisis which they are eternally discovering just over the next hill may be as real as next Saturday night's bath; but how are you going to make the voters view it with the proper amount of alarm when they are thinking what a swell country this has turned out to be, after all?

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Holt and daughters are spending a vacation in Colorado, traveling to various points of interest.

Senator Small took a leading part in passage of the $20,000,000 relief bill, believing that the hungry should be provided with food and shelter in times of stress. Paid Pol. Adv.
