TEX'S TOPICS

This is a strange world in which we live... Do you know that Australian aborigines constantly carry the skull of their nearest and dearest dead relative, for use as a drinking cup? Imagine saying to a pal, "here, have a swig from Uncle Zeb's noggin."

Star-gazing is just about one of the world's most useless occupations. After reading about a couple of new comets playing tag up there, we lay back in a beach chair the other night and tried in vain to pick one of them out of a skyful of stars.

Particularly, we had some interest in the Pelletier comet, by virtue of having talked last summer with Comet Discoverer Leslie C. Pelletier in a small city back in Ohio. Pelletier is an amateur comet-hunter, but a mighty good one. He has his own observatory not far from the little town called Delphos, in the Buckeye State.

Acc star and comet-seekers throughout the world pay a great amount of attention to what Mr. Pelletier finds up there in the skyways. But, we strained and craned the other night trying to find his latest zooming orbit—and all we could be positive about was the Big Dipper.

Pelletier, we discovered on our visit to him, is a garage employee by day and an astronomer by night. He has four other important comets to his credit, and he is a member of The American Association of Variable Star Observers.

He was one of the astronomers who discovered the exploding new star, Nova Lacertae, which flashed in the sky not far from where Pelletier's comet now can be seen in the northeastern sky by most everybody except this observer.

We're sorry we can't pick it out of the heavens, for they do say that not since Halley's comet swished its tail back in 1910 has there been as fine a comet on view, and seldom do the skies display both a comet and a new star in the same region. So much for Mr. Pelletier and his comet.

"Automobile instruction for every junior and senior high school pupil is coming," declares William M. Andrews, former superintendent of schools in New York and Chicago, writing in the Baltimore Bulletin of Education, in State College, Pa., high school students are taken out four at a time and given expert guidance in eight hours of driving and 24 hours of concentrated observation, he points out.

Results of the first comprehensive and scientific survey and analysis of automobile accidents, which last year brought death to 36,000 persons in the United States and injury and disablement to hundreds of thousands of others, are revealed in a detailed report by H. M. Johnson, who for the past eight years has directed an intensive investigation into the subject for the National Research Council.

Professor Johnson draws the startling conclusion from his detailed and exhaustive analysis that speed, weather, road conditions and equipment are not the controlling factors in causing automobile accidents. It is the human element which is to blame; certain drivers are "accident-prone."

Close check on millions of road-miles covered by thousands of drivers, he reports, shows that 5 per cent of the drivers have about 30 per cent of the accidents, 10 per cent of the drivers have more than half the accidents, and about 75 per cent of the drivers have no accidents.

Since writing of ants here the other day, research reveals that Solomon was "all wet" about ants. They aren't at all the model citizens he made them out to be. They are lazy, they haven't much sense (read Mark Twain's "Tramp Abroad" on this point), they waste their substance in riotous living.

Some species of ants keep regular bootleggers on the premises. These are wingless beetles, that secrete some kind of "whoopie juice" which ants lap up as a human barfly laps up liquor in any given quantity, and with much the same effects. Only the ants don't seem to have a Katzenjammer afterwards.

It has been pretty hot around these Panhandle Plains recently, so you may be interested in a bit of advice on how to combat a heat wave.

ALLRED WILL NOT GO INTO 2ND PRIMARY

GOVERNOR IS ASSURED OF REELECTION TO OFFICE

DALLAS, July 27 (AP)—Democratic primary returns trickling into the Texas Election Bureau today assured Gov. James V. Allred re-election without the necessity of a runoff election.

The 37-year old governor, youngest chief executive of any state in the union, had accumulated 455,781 votes out of a total of 877,746 tabulated by the election bureau from 246 counties before noon. This gave him a majority of 33,816.

Tom Hunter, veteran of two previous unsuccessful gubernatorial campaigns, had built his total up to 201,272 as a runner-up.

F. W. Fischer, East Texas oil attorney, had 122,077. Roy Sanderford, the Ferguson-backed candidate, had 69,997; and Pierce Brooks, Dallas businessman, trailed weakly with 28,619.

The election bureau had accounted for complete returns from 114 out of 254 counties in the state and, it was indicated, only straggling votes remained to be tabulated.

In the race for state railroad commissioner, Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the present commission, was well in front with 378,834. Behind him was Frank Morris, with 135,170 and Carl Hardin, with 134,770, struggling for a place in the runoff election Aug. 22. H. O. Johnson and Rieger were behind with 96,255 and 27,963 votes, respectively.

Allred, after giving some thought to a vacation in Mineral Wells, decided to spend today in Wichita Falls, go to Bowie tomorrow and return to his desk in Austin Wednesday. He was elated over his landslide re-election.

In Texas it is tantamount to election to win the democratic nomination.

The weak showing of Sanderford, a state senator who campaigned with the active support of James E. Ferguson, one of the politically powerful indicated the Ferguson vote-controlling strength was definitely smashed in Texas.

Blanton Trails

Rep. Tom Blanton, fighting for re-election to congress, was trailing Judge Clyde L. Coover by a sharp margin in the 17th district. The latest figures gave Judge Garrett 22,453 and Blanton 17,975. They will be in the runoff.

Returns of the Texas Election Bureau at 9 a. m. from 244 out of 254 counties in the state, including 98 complete, showed the following: Senator—Bush 30,005, Eagle 111,140, Fisher 70,487, Glenn 23,327, Price 33,300, Sheppard 478,523. Rail Commissioner—Hardin 129,618, Johnson 92,360, Morris 130,130, Rieger 27,527, Thompson 362,876. Coprtroller—Covington 81,632.

Envoy Periled

Because of severed communication lines, the safety of Claude G. Bowers, United States Ambassador to Spain, remained in doubt while embassy attaches at Madrid prepared to care for Americans imperiled by the revolution. Bowers and his personal staff had moved to summer quarters at San Sebastian, which was the target of rebel gunfire.

WILBUR IRVING LIVES 8 HOURS AFTER MISHAP

ATHLETE INJURED AT TEN-MILE HOLE AT LEFORS

Wilbur Irving, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Irving, 612 S. Cuyler street, died at 12:15 a. m. today in a local hospital of a broken neck, sustained in a flip dive while swimming at Ten-Mile Hole, eight miles east of Lefors, Sunday afternoon.

Irving, widely-known Pampa athlete, had driven to the swimming place with Junior Strickland, his close friend, who lives at an oil camp five miles southeast of Pampa.

The two youths were diving from a spring-board when the accident happened. Irving, according to Strickland, turned a flip from the board and landed in about four feet of water. He struck the sand bottom with full force of his weight on the shoulders and neck.

Strickland said that Irving failed to come to the surface and he dived in to his aid and pulled him to the bank.

Irving told Strickland that he believed his neck had been broken. He regained consciousness and Strickland put him into his automobile and hurried to the hospital.

There it was learned that he had been seriously injured and an operation was decided upon in an effort to save his life. He died in the operating room.

The youth lived for more than eight hours after the accident, which happened at 3:55 p. m. yesterday after the boys had been swimming and diving for nearly an hour at the swimming hole.

Young Irving had lived in Pampa

FOUR FORMER ROAD RUNNERS TO PLAY WITH EASON OILERS HERE TONIGHT

CLUB TO PLAY TUESDAY NIGHT IN AMARILLO

TEAM WILL LEAVE FOR DENVER TOURNEY WEDNESDAY

The Pampa-Danciger Road Runners will meet the ex-Road Runners at Road Runner park tonight at 8:30 o'clock. At least there will be four former Pampa players on the roster of the Eason Oilers of Enid, Okla., when they take the field.

At first base will be Gordon Nell. Patrolling right field will be Dallas Patton. Behind the plate will be Tank Horton. On the mound, may be Gene Ledford. The Oilers will be enroute to the Denver Post tournament when they stop off here for the single game, their sixth of the season with the Road Runners who hold a one game edge in games won.

Who will be on the mound for the Road Runners? If anyone knows it is being kept a secret. The Road Runners have two pitchers, Daney and Stewart, ready to go. Gustovich is still suffering from a sore arm. He may get the nod unless team officials have a dark horse up their sleeve. A week ago a surprise was promised. It may be sprung tonight, who knows? Tomorrow night the Road Runners will play in Amarillo. From there they will go direct to Denver where they will be joined by at least four new players. Names of the additional men have not been released by team officials.

A packed grandstand is expected tonight to welcome back the traveling Road Runners with the Enid ball team. Everyone of them has a large following in Pampa. They will be out to see if Nell can still hit one over the left field fence and to see whether Horton can still fall down and go boom when he missed a strike at the plate. Can Gene Ledford slow ball the birds is another question in the minds of fans.

The above picture appeared on the front page of the Denver Post sport section last Sunday. Top left is manager Sam Hale. He is pictured in a Philadelphia Athletic uniform which he wore for several years. The veteran will be at third base for the birds. Top right is Al Summers, most popular player in the tournament last year. Al will hold down second base. Lower left is Lee Daney, Indian hurler. Daney is shown in the uniform of the Mount Pleasant team of 1934. Daney hurled one of the best games in the Denver tournament last year. The unpredictable-as-ever Brooklyn Dodgers did another flip-flop in form, and staged two ninth inning rallies to win a pair of pitchers' duels with the Pirates and clubbed the Bucs into fourth place. Van Mungo took the opener 1-0 and Ed Brandt the nightcap 4-3, each with a five-hit performance.

McNabb Smacks Four Singles in Five Trips up

A four run rally in the eighth inning brought the Pampa-Danciger Road Runners from behind and gave them a 12 to 9 victory over the Blackwell Oilers of Shawnee, Okla., yesterday afternoon before a large Sunday crowd. Shawnee won a 7 to 3 game Saturday night. Both teams will be played in the Denver Post tournament, which opens Thursday, and they may get a chance to play off the tie. The Road Runners will meet the Eason Oilers of Enid, Okla., here tonight at 8:30 o'clock and will play in Amarillo tomorrow night. Shawnee plays in Berger tonight. Herschel McNabb, speedy Road Runner right fielder, had a perfect day at the plate with four singles and a walk in five trips up. Al Summers lost with an injured knee for some time, came back strong with four singles in five attempts. Big Grover Seitz got only one bingle but it was a home run in the first inning with McNabb on base. Daney, Floyd Lisle and Cox each collected doubles. Truscott and Tipton each hit a pair of singles for Shawnee but it when he hit one near the railroad track in the fourth to score House ahead of him. Summers started the game for the Road Runners but was chased in the ninth but it was nipped when Seitz came up with a great catch back of second base. Allen got a chance when he made a one-handed stab of Truscott's bullet drive. Score by innings: Shawnee ... 000 261 010—10 11 2 Pampa ... 202 200 24x—12 16 3 Batteries: Shawnee—Huckelberry, Eaves and Coleman. Pampa—Stewart, Daney and Lisle. Umpires—game—2.20.

From the press box it looked as though both Daney and Lisle and Cox each collected doubles. On the short end against the Boston Red Sox for the third straight day, as Jimmy Fox belted two homers to set the pace for a 10-3 win, the Tigers heard Mickey Cochrane reveal he is to return to action today. His first move, he said, would be to bench Billy Rogell, bring in some new talent and try to start the Tiger machinery humming again.

The unpredictable-as-ever Brooklyn Dodgers did another flip-flop in form, and staged two ninth inning rallies to win a pair of pitchers' duels with the Pirates and clubbed the Bucs into fourth place. Van Mungo took the opener 1-0 and Ed Brandt the nightcap 4-3, each with a five-hit performance. The Giants, who split with the Cincinnati Reds, winning 5-4 and losing 5-2, found themselves back in third place. A pair of stalemates completed the American league program. A 20-hit attack behind Buck Ross' six-hit flinging gave the Athletics a 13-0 victory over the Indians but Cleveland came back to slug out an 8-5 decision. The Senators walked the Browns 9-2 in the opener and took a 9-3 licking in the second game. LEHMAN IS CHAMP SAN ANGELO, July 27. (AP)—Derald Lehman, a long driver from Abilene, today held the championship of the seventh annual invitation golf tournament of the San Angelo country club. Lehman defeated James Dixon, Crowell, 4 and 2, in the finals yesterday, coming back after dropping the first three holes of the 36-hole play-off. Bill Boyer, Abilene, won the championship consolation.

LAST WEEK OF PRACTICE FOR TEAMS STARTS

REGIMENTATION WILL START IN CAMP TODAY

BERLIN, July 27. (AP)—The coaches of America's Olympic teams began cracking their long whips in earnest today as their charges entered the final week of hard practice.

For the first two days after reaching Berlin all hands were permitted to exercise on a hit or miss basis, make up lost sleep and sort of get the blare of orchestras out of their ears. But from now on there will be enough regimentation in the American camp to satisfy even the Germans.

Some athletes need to put on weight, others to reduce, and each is going to get the works until his coach looks pleased. Providing yesterday's warm sunshine holds out there will be a beautifully conditioned American track squad ready for the starting gun.

Indiana Don Lash is the lone exception to the program. As his event, the 10,000 meters, will be run on the first day of competition, next Sunday, he practically will complete his continuous preparation today and begin to taper off.

One of the largest problems is to get Jack Torrance, the over-stuffed Louisiana athlete, down to his best shot putting weight, believed to be 275 pounds. He was better while playing basketball than at any time since, so he was put to work with the Olympic cage squad.

The only other one of their charges giving the track and field coaches any real worry was Gene Venezia, the smooth-striding Pennsylvanian who appeared definitely to have slipped past his peak. The consensus was that two Kansans, the veteran Glenn Cunningham, and the newcomer, Archie San Romani, would have to carry the torch in the classic 1,500.

Better weather yesterday aided in staying off another mild epidemic of head colds and sore throats. Head Track Coach Lawson Robertson said none of the athletes was seriously affected but he was troubled with a cold himself. Robertson announced he would postpone final selection of the relay teams, both 400 and 1,600 meters, until August 4, in order to pick the best conditioned combinations.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, July 27. (AP)—There is a Broadway rumor that Gene Tunney may run for governor of Connecticut and that Jimmy Bronson, the New York fight manager, will help direct his campaign. Bronson was Tunney's chief adviser the night he sold them short, that the Bengals went out and dropped three out of four. Elmer Layden, Notre Dame coach, can't enjoy his annual fishing trip to Canada for worrying about the Pitt game.

Best-line-of-the-week honors go to the Bloomington, Ind., Evening World. It heeded the Eleanor Holm Jarrett sensation as follows:

MARBERRY HAS 6TH STRAIGHT WIN IN TEXAS

STEERS BEAT HOUSTON AND INCREASE LEAD

(By The Associated Press) Today's games: Beaumont at Tulsa. San Antonio at Oklahoma City. Houston at Dallas. Galveston at Fort Worth. (All night games.)

Fred Marberry, who once threw them past the batters in the major leagues, hung up his sixth consecutive victory for the Dallas Steers yesterday, defeating Houston 6-4. The win gave the Steers a two and one-half game lead over Houston for the league's leadership.

Marberry was touched for nine hits but was tight in the clinches. Four homers were hit in the game, Rizzo of Houston getting two and Stone and Levey of Dallas one each.

The Oklahoma City Indians took a double-header from San Antonio, 14-9 and 7-6, to edge into third place while Beaumont dropped to fourth in losing to Tulsa 3-2. The Indians went on the warpath to collect 28 hits in their double-header.

Tulsa broke an eight-game losing streak. Hal Patchett singled in the ninth to drive in the winning run. Jackie Reid shut out Galveston in a 2-0 game. The Fort Worth Huron allowed Galveston but five hits while the Panthers pounded Jack Jakucki or eleven.

Olympic Committee Sending Eleanor Holm to Jarrett. Lou Kolis, American league umpire, is a dead ringer for Victor McLaglen of the movies—or vice versa.

It must jolt Max Baer's pride something fierce to have to bowl over set-ups on one night stands.

Down at his country place at Red Bank, N. J., Mike Jacobs has a statue of a barefoot Joe Louis, swinging a baseball bat, standing guard over his prize tulips. A rumor is going the rounds that Lefty Grove will retire after this year. He wants to step down while the fans still have a high opinion of him. Granville's victory at Chicago Saturday stamps him as the year's outstanding three-year-old now racing. It might have been a different story if Bold Venture hadn't been hurt. Jack Galveson, the pitcher wears glasses on the mound but doesn't need them while reading.

JOINS WRITERS

BERLIN, July 27. (AP)—Eleanor Holm Jarrett, New York swimming star expelled from the American Olympic team on charges of repeated infractions of training regulations, today joined the army of sports writers here to report the 11th Olympic games. Definitely determined to remain through the international contest, Aug. 1-16, Mrs. Jarrett accepted an offer to write for an American syndicate. Her first "by-line" went out today.

WATERTOWN, N. Y. (AP)—J. R. Jamson of Greensburg, Pa., teed off at the Jefferson county golf course here and sent the ball soaring 100 yards into the shirt pocket of Bernard Singleton, caddy. Singleton was uninjured.

MICKEY COCHRANE IS ANGRY, PARKER WILL REPLACE ROGELL

DETROIT, July 25. (AP)—Mickey Cochrane returned to the helm of the lagging Detroit Tigers today, determined to hit the winning trail even if he has to replace his world champion veterans with youngsters.

The first veteran to feel the wrath that Cochrane generated while sitting in the grand stand with owner Walter O. Briggs through three successive defeats will be Bill Rogell, who has been in a protracted batting slump.

Francis (Salty) Parker, late of the Toledo American Association club, will play in Rogell's shortstop position today, Cochrane said. Herman (Flea) Clifton, utility infielder, was sent to Toledo on option in exchange for Parker.

Cochrane announced the shakeup after yesterday's 10-3 defeat which enabled Boston to sweep the series. He said he would continue to import young players until the Tigers shake off their lethargy.

Later, he said he had no other deals immediately in prospect.

Since Monday, Cochrane had undergone tests and observations at Henry Ford hospital, after a recurrence of the dizzy spells which forced him out of action in June for a month.

Yesterday, however, he said his physicians had decided to permit him to finish out the season as manager before considering such drastic action as an operation to correct a suspected hyper-thyroid condition.

Hurled Bottle Knocks Out Umpire As Fans Stage Riot

New York, Chicago In World Series Foreseen

BY SID FEDER. Associated Press Sports Writer. Day by day as these dizzy pennant chases head for the stretch, it becomes increasingly difficult to see anything but a New York-Chicago world series for this fall. A lot can happen before the September windup, but the fact remains that the Yankees' revived pitching to back up their batting dynamite and the Cubs' continued great hurling make those pace-setting outfits tougher and tougher. That fact stood out yesterday in a full Sunday schedule of 15 major league games, which saw such incidents as these: An umpire was knocked out of a game by a pop bottle thrown by a fan in the Yanks-White Sox meeting. Mickey Cochrane announced he was importing young blood to his limping Tigers and benching at least one of his veterans. The Giants reached third place in their National league comeback, and the Dodgers dropped the Pirates to fourth with a doubleheader victory. The pop-bottle-throwing climaxed a riotous doubleheader in which the Yanks, aided by Lou Gehring's 29th and 30th homers, snapped out of their hitting lull and knocked off another challenger by taking the White Sox 12-3 and 11-3 to stretch

'Kid' Band to Make Trip to Centennial

Youngsters Are To Play at Dallas Next Month

Fifty picked musicians from the summer ward school band here will go to Dallas and play at the Centennial exposition Aug. 21 and 22, it is announced by A. C. Cox, director. Programs have been arranged for the youngsters at 3 p. m. each day, and plans are under way for a radio broadcast.

Each child will pay his own expense, $8.10. Pampans will be asked to contribute so that some who are unable to pay the amount will be able to make the trip.

The band will be taken to Childress by school bus, and on to Dallas by rail. For many of the young members, it will be their first train trip and the ride to Dallas will start their enjoyment of the state exposition.

Practice has been conducted three times weekly by the band at the red school building on central campus. From now until time for the trip, sectional practices will be added.

Flower Fund Is Started in Club

During a business meeting of Meriton Home Demonstration club in the home of Mrs. Fred C. Fisher last week the club voted to start a fund for sending flowers to members who are ill, by taking a birthday offering. Mrs. Frank Bailey, ill the past two weeks, was sent the first bouquet.

After the business session, games of bridge were enjoyed. High score awards went to Mrs. H. B. Knapp, low to Mrs. M. Rake, and traveling prize to Mrs. J. C. Browning.

Religious refreshments were served to those named and Misses Alva Phillips, W. O. Kelly, E. M. Heard, Joe Ford, C. B. Haney, Miss Mary Kathryn Fischer, and the hostesses.

Nine Members of Family Killed in Ohio Train Wreck

HAMILTON, O., July 27 (AP)—Nine members of one family, give their names, were killed in a train-auto crash here late yesterday, one of the worst accidents of the kind in Ohio in years.

A tenth member escaped serious injury. The dead: Mrs. Walter Seward, 53, wife of a Hamilton City fireman.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Schweitzer, a son-in-law and daughter of Mrs. Seward.

Charlotte Ann, 4, and Edwards A. Schweitzer, 1, children of the Schweitzers.

Mrs. David Vogan, of Newcastle, Pa., also a daughter of Mrs. Howard, and her son, Charles Lee Vogan.

Harlan Eugene Seward, 4, a grandson, and Patricia Ann Jenewein, 7, a granddaughter.

Mrs. Druclilla Jenewein, 24, Hamilton, survived.

Coroner Edward E. Cook described the crossing as unguarded and protected by flasher or other warning signals.

Mrs. Mary E. Gillis, 417 N. Dwight street, who has been a patient at Pampa-Jarratt hospital, was discharged today.

GUESTS SPEAK YESTERDAY AT CHURCHES HERE

HOME MISSION WORKERS FILL TWO PULPITS

Missionaries in two sections of the national field were guest speakers in two pulpits here yesterday. The Rev. W. Marion Griffin, of Kingdon, Ark., teacher of the Ozark mountaineers, preached at the Presbyterian church and the Rev. J. Paul Touchton, pastor of San Paolo church for Italians in Tampa, Fla., at Harrah Methodist chapel.

Another visiting speaker yesterday was Bishop E. C. Seaman of Amarillo, who delivered the morning sermon at St. Matthews Episcopal church.

The Rev. C. E. Lancaster, minister, returned of First Baptist church yesterday after an absence of several weeks while he took a short vacation and conducted a revival in New Mexico. He preached to large congregations. The church reported 465 in Sunday school, 108 in training classes, and four additions to church membership yesterday.

John S. Mullen, First Baptist minister, also preached at his church. The morning subject was A Sinful Silence, and the evening subject, A Great Question and a Great Answer. A special Christian Endeavor program was given in the evening, with talks by Betty Jo Townsend, Wayne Hutchens, Virginia Roberts, and P. W. Johnson. A quartet, Misses Townsend and Roberts, R. L. Alliston, and Roy McMillen, sang at the evening service.

The program last evening was on the church lawn, following a sermon by Chester Carson, young guest speaker. Travis Lively spoke in appreciation for Mr. Gillham's and Mr. Wolfe's leadership in the Sunday school.

Mrs. Lloyd Roberts expressed the appreciation of the Clara Hill class to Mrs. Wolfe and presented a gift. Mrs. J. M. Turner spoke in appreciation of Mrs. Gillham and her daughters. Miss Lois Hinton, for the young people's department, presented a gift to Mr. Gillham.

Earl Smith spoke for the Congregational couples class, Roy Bourland for the Board of Stewards, and the Rev. W. C. House, pastor, for the church. Women of the Missionary Society served ice cream and cake in the church basement at the close of the evening.

All Members Have Been Prominent In Church

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wolfe, who are to leave this week to reside in Corpus Christi, and Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Gillham and daughters, leaving next month for Brownfield, were honored by members of the First Methodist church in an informal hour following the evening service yesterday.

Both families have been prominent in activities of the church. Mr. Gillham is superintendent of the Sunday school and a teacher in the young people's department. Mrs. Gillham is a worker in the children's department.

Mr. Wolfe, past Sunday school superintendent, is teacher of the Congregational Couples' class, which he organized. Mrs. Wolfe has taught the Clara Hill class several years and is a leader in the church's musical program. At present she is serving as assistant choir director. Both Mr. Wolfe and Mr. Gillham are members of the Board of Stewards.

Not only in church work, but in other phases of the city's life the two families will be missed. Mrs. Wolfe is prominent in musical organizations, an officer in the Treble Clef club and president of seventh district federated music clubs. Mrs. Gillham is a leader in Girl Scout work, one of the directors of troop six.

Repudiation of Farm Debts Urged By Radio Priest

HANKINSON, N. D., July 27 (AP)—Repudiation of farm debts was urged by the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin today as "the only way out" if Congressman William Lemke fails to win the presidency on the new Union party ticket.

The Detroit radio priest told several thousand farmers at a Lemke "homecoming" rally yesterday that if Lemke's campaign ends in failure:

"There is only one thing to do—repudiate your debts. And if anybody tries to enforce them, repudiate them also."

Father Coughlin, who recently apologized for calling President Roosevelt a "liar," again attacked the chief executive.

"You must demand that the government restore to Congress the right to coin money and demand that it be taken away from the private hands of Wall Street," he asserted.

He also thrust at governor Alf M. Landon:

"There is another candidate for President, Mr. Landon, a lovely gentleman," he said. "Landon was brought from obscurity to the candidacy of the Republican party by William Randolph Hearst and the Republican party is swallowing it."

EDUCATED CHICKENS
ONEOTA, N. Y. (AP)—Mrs. Ardella Peaslee of West Laurens walked into a local henery and recovered five "educated" hens stolen from her farm. When asked to identify the birds, Mrs. Peaslee called out "Come Susie, come Nuisance, come," and walked from the establishment followed by the five Rhode Island reds. State police arrested a neighbor accused of the theft.

Our Little Boy and Girl

Dress "Alike" to the Delight of Everyone
By ELEN WORTH

Experience has proved time and time again that few things are more attractive for youngsters than simple sailor costumes.

Today's little double-breasted styles are too fascinating for words. They have cool square necklines. Mother won't be afraid to tackle these cute costumes. No sleeves to set in. The yoke that simulates a sailor collar, does all the work. It covers the upper arm so cunningly and smartly.

Navy and white linen-like cotton combined to make these practical costumes. There are lots of other schemes that you will like equally well.

Style No. 1725 is designed for sizes 2, 4 and 6 years. Size 4 requires 1 1/4 yards of 35-inch material with 1/4 yard of 35-inch contrasting and 3/4 yards of braid for dress. Boy's suit requires 1 yard of 35-inch material for trousers and yoke with 1/4 yard of 35-inch material for waist with 3/4 yards of braid. Pattern includes both models in same size. If different sizes are wanted two patterns will have to be ordered and will cost 15c each.

Our Illustrated Home Dress-making Book contains the latest fashions together with dressmaking lessons and the fundamental principles of sewing. Whether you are an experienced sewer or just a beginner, you will find this book helpful indeed in making your summer clothes. It is just full of ideas to enhance your own looks. You simply can't afford to miss it! Send for your copy today.

After using a bleach it is very necessary to rinse all articles thoroughly because the bleach weakens the fabric if it's allowed to remain.

Sunshine is a splendid bleach, too. If you have a place in the sun, try wringing the clothes from the last rinsing water not as dry as you do when you wring from the other waters. The sun will whiten the clothes beautifully as they dry.

AIR CONDITIONING

Record high temperatures of July compel recognition of the fact that air conditioning is necessary to comfortable midsummer living in this best and most interesting of all climates. Business men who had air conditioning equipment installed early in the season are reaping the reward of their enterprise and a return on their investment.

The patron lingers long in the air conditioned establishment because he dreads to step out into the burning sun. The change is so abrupt that he is more uncomfortable than he was before he enjoyed the cool respite. There are frequent reports of illness caused by emergence from an air conditioned room into the outside heat.

Air conditioning is something relatively new and as it gains general acceptance there will be successive improvements. A modern world has come to the conclusion that science can accomplish most anything it attempts.

BABY IS SAFE

Great Britain is prepared to protect its babies. The home office has announced, in effect, that even in a world of shifting moral values babies come first in the hearts and minds of loyal Britons.

Plans have been completed for anti-gas covers for baby buggies, equipped so that filtered air could be pumped through the handles to the baby. The pumps could be operated by the child's nurse wearing a gas mask.

British mothers now are expected to sleep at night. The genius of science has relieved them of the how-to-savvy-baby-from-being-gassed problem.

ONE BID FOR EQUALITY

Women today are finding jobs in increasing numbers, but the basic inequality of pay still faces the feminine employe. That is to say, a woman seldom draws pay equal to that drawn by a man for the same job.

Women have come a long way and waited a long time to claim their place, and generally they've been pretty efficient. Certainly, it's about time that men saw fit to pay them identical wages for identical work.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON—The position of young Senator Rush Holt of West Virginia is as peculiar as it is surprising.

Nominated and elected as a liberal boy wonder while still under the required senatorial age of 35, Holt found the whole capital friendly when he came here.

But by his own assiduous efforts he has queered himself with the national administration, the Democratic machine which dominates West Virginia, the union mine workers who helped elect him, and other elements, until he is perhaps the most isolated man in the Senate.

He has 4 1/2 more years to serve. It started in a patronage row with Senator Mat Neely and some of the latter's political associates. Holt stumped the state against Neely for the May primaries and Holt's man was badly licked.

Then Holt lost practically his last friend here—at least in his own party—by filibustering the second Guffy coal bill to death at the end of the session.

A gob of his filibuster speech, recently printed in an appendix to the Congressional Record and full of fables from Aesop, gives little indication of what caused Holt to keep competing for the "most unpopular man" prize.

But there's some point to a fable interpolated by Senator Bennett Clark of Missouri, who told of "the famous tomestone it was written: "He whistled for the grizzly and the grizzly came."

It is easy to get mixed up on one campaign issue when you hear certain "WPA workers" or "CCC workers" have or have not been required to furnish political endorsements to get their jobs.

If a politician means that WPA is hiring work-relief labor at WPA wage scales or CCC boys at the $30 a month CCC pay on a political basis, that's one thing. If he means that administration employes, from supervisors and foremen up, are being required to show political backing, that's another.

There's something more nauseating about the idea that subsistence wages used as substitute for dole to avert starvation are conditioned on politics.

Republican Manager John Hamilton has answered Democratic Manager Jim Farley's question:

"Has anybody who is listening to this speech ever heard of a man or woman being asked whether he or she is a Democrat or a Republican before getting the dole or an emergency job?"

It's a fair guess that Farley meant recipients of cash or work relief, although he may have figured listeners would think he covered more ground.

But Hamilton comes back with evidence that an applicant for a job as a non-technical foreman in a CCC camp was asked by Wyoming's Governor Miller to fill out an application blank requiring him to give his political record.

Evidence that work-reliefers and CCC enrollees have been required to leap political hurdles hasn't yet appeared—although it may, local politicians being what they so often are.

In many states, however, WPA administrative staffs and CCC non-technical foremen are employed largely on a political basis. That's been true in CCC since the late Speaker Byrns and an unofficial patronage committee of congressmen went to the White House and put up a big holler for more pie.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Frederic J. Haskin

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Pampa Daily News' Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. When were the first soda crackers put on the market in packages? F. P.

A. In 1898 the first trade-marked and packaged soda cracker was put on the market.

Q. Please give some facts about Erasmus? L. K.

A. Erasmus was a famous scholar of Amsterdam who was a contemporary of Christopher Columbus, Martin Luther, Sir Thomas Moore, and Holbein, the artist. A current opinion has stated that Erasmus was the greatest of all publicists because of his success in promoting learning when books were so scarce.

He was the editor of a great printing plant through which he managed to distribute large quantities of important educational documents. Erasmus is reputed to have read every book and known scroll extant in the Occident at that time. Now it is said that if a man started to read all the books in the Library of Congress he would spend his lifetime and die before he completed the first book.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK, July 26.—Ray Henderson reported just before he sailed for London the other night that a Texan girl had discovered an error in George Bernard Shaw's "Saint Joan." For more than 12 years the printed text had placed the scene before the raising of the siege of Orleans as May 29, 1429. The Texas lass pointed out that since the Orleans siege was raised early in May, Shaw's date was incorrect. She indicated the error after attending a performance of the play starring Katharine Cornell. (Note: As Shaw's contracts insist that his stage productions follow to the last comma the published version of his plays, Miss Cornell faithfully copied the date indicated.) But the Texas lass won't be satisfied with deliberately ignoring an error just because the irrepressible Irish god doesn't want people to tamper with his manuscripts. She wrote Miss Cornell, and she let her portrait be forwarded to the playwright.

"Yes," Shaw replied, "of course it should be April. The English cleared out on May 8th. Thanks for pointing out the blunder; but why did you wait 12 years? I am instructing the printers to correct."

Going from wags to witches (honest, that one just slipped out) there is a case of that old crone who lives in a hut no far from Brooklyn bridge—a modestly dressed, chic female, fairly comely, who rushes up to nice elderly men with outstretched hands and a big cheery smile. "Hello there! I'm delighted to see YOU again—of all people. You know, something most embarrassing has happened; I came up town to ship my new suit, and in the taxicab. Could you let me have $5 until I get home? My husband will bring it over to you tonight." Sometimes the nice elderly gentlemen refuse the bait, but that's all right with her. She merely apologizes for having mistaken an identity and ambles around a convenient corner.

Often it does work—you know, that big cheery smile—and, while the victim can't recall the young woman, he is afraid that if he refuses he will offend or unduly embarrass someone he knows.

The answer is that the lass isn't the daughter of the old crone at all. She is one of half a dozen young belles employed to bring home the bank notes. And they play fair with her, turning in a percentage of every "loan" acquired from the nice elderly gentlemen. The reason they play fair is that the old crone—who has plenty—takes care of them during lean times. If they run into poor luck, "Mother" gladly provides victuals and a bed.

Corey Ford is one of the few fiction writers who really understands the scientific theory of fly and bait casting. . . He would rather play a mountain stream for steelhead trout than anything you can name. . . If an award were to be made for New York's best dressed artist, Russell Patterson would win it. On Coney Island, which is a sandy beach, they will toss you in the hoosegaw if you go in swimming without the top of your bathing suit. . . But in City Hall Park, which is a middle of town, any one wearing more than a pair of trunks is considered over dressed. There's a fountain there, beneath the statue of Civic Virtue, a strong-armed guy with his heel on a lady's neck, but it is more than just a fountain to the young scallawags who roam the city. To them it's the old swimmin' hole.

HOW'S your HEALTH

Edited by DR. JAGO GALDSTON for the New York Academy of Medicine

IMPERCEPTIBLE INJURIES To speak of an imperceptible injury is to dwell on a seeming paradox. However, recent studies teach that there is a definite class which may be properly called imperceptible injuries.

A person bumped by an automobile fender or bumper may suffer a fracture of the liver which is not revealed until hours or days after the accident. Similarly injuries of the lungs and kidney are sometimes suffered by minor accidents when they are forcefully driven against the side wall of the car. The true extent of the hurt may not be apparent for a long time.

There is another type of injury which may be properly called imperceptible and which is frequently suffered in the joints and bones. Children are particularly prone to this type of hurt. A boy playing ball and having his fingers stubbed, a child skating and falling on its knees, may appear unharmed. Months or even years later, however, they may suffer in these joints. Quite a number of arthritides can be traced with training. Mr. Smith complains because Tommy learns a lot of useless trash at school and college, when he should be getting a means of livelihood. It is unfortunate that he did not send his son to a trade school or a technical institute. It is the demands of the Mr. Smiths of the world which are rapidly changing our institutes of learning from educational to training schools.

If earning a living is the whole of life, living seems hardly worth while. One might as well be a robot, the day, and turned off to be called active for the working hours of and tuned with sleep and food for the rest of the time. More than half the contacts of life are closed to such a man. He knows nothing outside of his own narrow groove, and can neither interest others nor be interested in them.

HOUSE OF SHADOWS

CHAPTER XII Claire went to Eb and laid her hand on his arm to attract his attention. He was evidently in a half-frenzied condition. "Eb, ah," she said, "tell me where you've been. What happened?"

Again the menacing finger pointed accusingly at Susie. "Ask her," Eb said grimly. "She can tell you how she brought me food down in the room of Lyman Fossdick. But all the time I was tied, hands and feet. All I could do was kick against the wall in hope someone would hear me. For a while I thought someone did hear me, but I guess I was wrong. If the tree hadn't been struck I'd be there yet. Sawed the ropes off of a bit of sharp stone."

"Lyman Fossdick's room!" began Claire. "Eb, was it under the pine tree? Sit down there and tell us." used to keep his blasted jewels," the old man explained. "I allers said they'd bring him no good, nor Susie either."

All eyes turned to Susie, but she only tossed her head. "He's out of his mind. I've said so before and now you can see for yourselves. He—"

Eb's cracked voice rose almost to a shriek as he sprang to his feet. "Then ask him!" He pointed at Nick Baum. "Ask him what's between him and this wicked sister o' mine!"

Susie shrank back. "No. It ain't so! Nicky never had nothing to do with it. I was the one wanted to find the jewel. I—"

"But he's the man who pushed me down the mine shaft," broke in Pat. "When he offered to light my cigarette just now, I noticed the little finger of his hand is cut off at the second joint. And the guy who fought with me in the tunnel was shy a joint of one of his little fingers."

For a moment Nick Baum's handsome face held a suspicion of fear. Then he turned to Claire. "Is this the way you usually treat your guests? Of course it is perfectly absurd—"

Dan Dallas unexpectedly took command of the situation. "Not so absurd as it seems, Baum, when they know that you're Susie's son." One hand was concealed in his pocket, and now that pocket showed a menacing bulge. "The time Susie spent in the city when she was young was long enough for her to have a son by some unknown father. It was not hard to discover that that son was still living, and now, come, grow. That made a workable basis for the theory that Baum and the son were the same person. Then when I discovered Susie was hunting for another treasure of Lyman Fossdick, what more natural than that she should enlist her son's help?"

"If Nicky is my son, that doesn't prove he's done anything wrong, does it?" she demanded.

"Nothing except attempting murder in the case of both these young men," Dallas told her. "Only luck and an unusual series of events foiled him each time. With the apprenticeship in crime he served in the underworld of an eastern city, it's hard to say what would have happened if he had succeeded in his plan to become master of this place!"

Claire shuddered as she looked at Nick's dark face which had lost all its handsome charm. "Now see how you've messed things up!" he snarled at Susie. "You and your talk about the damned jewel. If it hadn't been back, I never would have come back, and—"

"Nicky!" Susie's cry was desperate, heart-broken. "I only wanted it for you, Nicky."

But he turned his back upon her and addressed Dan Dallas. "All right, let's get going, since the jewel's up. I suppose you've got handcuffs and all the trimmings."

He held out his hand, but as Dallas moved toward him there was a sudden brief skirmish, a sharp report, and the confessed criminal dropped to the floor in a twisted heap. The gun he had tried to fire at Dallas fell between the eche of the shot seemed to circle upward with the smoke to the high ceiling.

"Dead." Dan's tone had the finality of a curtain line.

Susie gave one agonized cry. Claire looked at her half curiously. Of course Susie would scream like that. Claire herself was only conscious of a strange feeling of relief.

Later, with the remembrance of Susie's agonized weeping still ringing in her ears, Claire stood in the library of the House of Long Shadows where Pat and Bob and Dan Dallas were grouped about the fireplace that bore the sign of the broken arrow.

"Uncle Lyman must have known about Nick," Claire said in a low voice. "Maybe that was why he suspected Susie would not be satisfied with the money he left her, and might try to find this last treasure. He knew, too, that she would never look in books. So he left them specifically to me."

Dan Dallas walked to the bookcase and looked at it closely. "Has it always stood out from the wall like this?" he asked.

"Why, no!" Claire answered. "It must have moved. Maybe when I was fussing with it, for at the pressure of Dan's fingers, the bookcase swung slowly forward, showing a flight of narrow stairs leading downward."

"To the secret room, I'll bet!" confined to book-learning, Much of it is got by contact with others, by a lively interest in everything which turns up. But one cannot take such an interest intelligently unless one has an open and well-stocked mind. One cannot make a close friend without some knowledge of his past, his background, his origins. One cannot know life intimately without having learned more about it than its appearance at this moment.

Nothing that Tommy learns can be useless if he is to be educated for life, not merely trained for living.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Mechanization of the film industry goes on apace. Latest relic of the old days to fall before the march of progress and motors is the scared old property wagon.

Larger than a trunk, not so large as a hall bedroom, the old wagon yielded from its dark recesses a jumble of materials dear and indispensable to the prop man's heart and work.

Things, just things, were heaped there in apparent disorder and confusion, so that only the prop man knew where to find anything. But he, the miracle man, could reach in and extract a needle or a haystack with the nonchalance of a Hindu fakir.

Modernism Wins

Now that is gone, or going. In its place is a huge motor vehicle, painted bright blue. It is as ordered as Mrs. Grundy's life, neat with labeled shelves, a place for everything and everything in its place. It has an ice box for food and drink, it has cabinets and drawers and files and hanging berths to sleep two men. It is the necessities of life and movie making on wheels.

The crowning touch is a card index system by means of which any body, just anybody, can find anything any time without half trying.

Not Sick—Just Dying

Victor Moore, who inclines toward portliness, was talking about the new steak-chops-tomatoes scheme for reducing. It reminded him:

When he was out here first, in the silent pictures, he decided to reduce. By fasting and exercise he lost 25 pounds in one month between pictures. When he reported for work again, Cecil B. DeMille inquired if he had been sick. Moore explained, "Well," DeMille said, "you used to be a comedian. Now you look like a juvenile. Better start eating."

Victor Moore did—and has not dieted since.

Brendel Prefers Swede

Moore, after "Swing Time," is going into Lew Brown's musical, "Around the Town," something similar to the DeSylvia-Brown-Henderson early talkie, "Sunny Side Up" which made money records in its day.

Janey Gaynor and Charlie Farrell were starred and two of the comedians were El Brendel, the Philadelphian who always plays a Swede, and Frank Richardson.

Brendel is still in pictures, still playing Swedes, and can be found currently on the "God's Country and the Woman" set. The other day, dressed in a lumberjack's outfit and tentatively tasting the chocolate that would serve for snuff in his role of Olsen, Brendel awfully his cue.

"I think I'll play Olsen as a Swede," he commented.

Tom Hunter To Issue Statement

WICHITA FALLS, July 27 (AP)—Governor James V. Alford planned to remain in Wichita Falls Monday, undecided when he would return to the capital to resume his duties.

Tom F. Hunter, who with three other candidates for governorship was buried under a landslide of votes which gave Alford a majority, said Monday Morning he was leaving for Dallas where he will issue a formal statement. He did not outline future activities.

The governor expressed his appreciation for Texas' demonstration of confidence in his administration.

Although his plans are indefinite, it was indicated he may visit briefly in Mineral Wells and rest several days before returning with his family to Austin.

SECOND PRIMARY TICKET TO BE SHORT--GOVERNOR POLLS MORE VOTES THAN ALL FOES

ERNEST O. THOMPSON WILL BE IN RUN-OFF

DALLAS, July 27 (AP)—Youthful Governor James V. Alfred was all but sure of re-election today without the trouble of going through a run-off primary.

Only the slightest doubt remained that the 37-year-old Democrat received more votes than the combined total of his four opponents in Saturday's first primary.

In the Texas Election Bureau's last tabulation Alfred had 403,006, or 28,588 more than all his opponents, who trailed as follows: Tom Hunter, 176,819; F. W. Fischer, 169,933; Roy Sanderford, 62,065, and Pierce Brooks, 25,061.

At his home in Wichita Falls Alfred said: "Well, naturally I'm tremendously pleased. I'm watching the returns, though, to see if I'll hold my lead. I think I will but I'm knocking on wood."

In Texas generally the Democratic nomination is tantamount to election.

Several other races were decided in the first primary. Senator Morris Sheppard was renominated with an overwhelming victory, polling 437,666 votes to 90,030 for his nearest opponent, Rep. Joe Eagle.

A run-off appeared probable in the railroad commissioner race. Frank Morris, Dallas, or Card Hardin, Stephenville, opposing Ernest O. Thompson, incumbent. Thompson polled 317,963. Morris had 119,417, and Hardin 118,287.

George Sheppard was re-elected comptroller. W. H. McDonald was named land commissioner. Charley Lockhart was returned as treasurer and L. A. Woods as state superintendent of public instruction.

George B. Terrell, Cherokee county, and J. E. McDonald, Ellis county, were in the run-off for agricultural commissioner. Terrell led McDonald, the incumbent, through yesterday's tabulation with 249,325 to 225,580.

Run-offs appear likely in the civil appeals courts races.

Judge Soule G. H. Cody in district one, with 21,455 and 17,153 votes respectively, apparently will be in the run-off. John Speer, with 20,515, and Harry Bunnenberg, with 9,953, appear likely for the district two short term. Marvin H. Brown, Sr., apparently will be elected for the second primary in the race for district 17. Garrett was the only candidate in a congressional race to lead the incumbent.

Morgan Sanders had 24,210 votes to 21,159 for Alton Grant in the race for district three where there will be no run-off.

Hatton Summers in district five apparently faces a run-off with Claude Westerfield. Summers polled 10,912 to 4,639 for his nearest opponent. Nat Patton led in district seven but faces a run-off with either Bonner Frizzell or Emerson Stone.

Patton had 18,467, Frizzell 8,938 and Stone 7,851. Fritz Lanham faces Julien Hyer in the run-off for district 12 where Lanham had 9,889 votes to 7,288 for Hyer.

In district eight Albert Thomas, with 20,844 votes, faces Oscar Holcombe, Houston mayor, with 21,224. The run-off in district 13 places W. D. McFarlane, with 18,092 votes, against Ed Gossett, with 9,689, and district 20 has Maury Maverick, with 18,969, against Lamar Seeligson, with 12,773.

Summers, Frizzell, McFarlane, and Maverick are incumbents.

Candidates for congress with apparent conclusive leads include Martin, Dies, Sam Rayburn, Luther Johnson, J. J. Mansfield, J. P. Buchanan, W. R. Poage.

All except Poage, former state senator from Waco, were running for re-election.

Lieut.-Gov. Walter Woodul; Attorney General William McCraw; C. M. Cureton, chief justice of the supreme court; Richard Criz, associate justice of the supreme court; O. S. Lattimore, judge of the court of criminal appeals, and Congressmen Wright Patman and Ewing Thomason were unopposed for re-election.

Childress Man Hurt in Wreck

M. M. Music, of Childress, sustained a broken shoulder at 10:30 a. m. today when the automobile he was driving overturned in front of Dixon Creek on the Borger road.

Another passenger in the car escaped with only minor injuries. It was reported, Music was brought to Worley hospital in Pampa by the G. C. Malone ambulance.

Mrs. O. M. Blevins, Pampa nurse, entered Pampa-Jarratt hospital as a surgical patient this forenoon.

WIFE'S SLAYER 'WANTED HOME', NEWSMEN TOLD

He Refuses to Sign Statement About Killing

AMARILLO, July 27 (AP)—Louis J. Kirk, 30-year-old brick layer charged with slaying his wife, Florence, Sunday morning, today refused to sign a statement about the killing but told a newspaper reporter, "I wanted a home."

"Saturday night I thought everything was patched up," he said. Kirk's two sons, 10 and 11 years old, were sitting in the back of the sedan when the mother was slain as she sat in the front seat with Kirk.

The younger of the boys said: "Father asked her if she was ready to go home for that apartment. 'No, Louis, I'm not going to look at it,' the boy quoted her."

The child said his father then put the gun to his mother's head and fired. He allegedly pushed her body from the car and ran the machine over her legs as he drove away. The two boys jumped out and tried to lift the body of their dying mother.

Kirk came here from Vincennes, Ind., six years ago. He worked as an insurance salesman for 18 months before he returned to brick-laying. His wife lived near Vincennes.

the individual, health authorities agree. Over indulgence in food or exercise may cause such suffering.

Summer clothing should be light in weight and color and of a porous texture. White clothes reflect the rays of the sun and therefore are cooler. Frequent changes of clothing, particularly of that next to the skin, is especially conducive to comfort.

The summer diet should consist of light, nutritious, and easily digested foods. Fresh fruits and vegetables are particularly desirable as hot weather foods because of their ease of digestion and wide range of variety in the manner they may be served. Heavy foods should be eaten sparingly. A balanced diet may be maintained without these foods. Do not eat when you are tired.

Exercise should be taken in hot weather but good judgment must be used in the amount that is taken. Swimming is fine exercise and is more refreshing than other forms of exercise. If sun baths are indulged in, care should be taken to accustom the skin by exposing the body for short periods in the beginning.

Plenty of rest is necessary during hot weather. Sleep a sufficient number of hours and eat at regular meal times. Acquire regular habits of living and develop a cheerful outlook on life, and you will find that it will help you to spend a comfortable summer at home or on vacation.

LOYAL GUARDS HOLD PASSES—EXTEND DRIVE

REBEL LEADERS WILL BE EXTERMINATED CLAIM

BY ALEXANDER H. UHL, MADRID, July 27 (AP)—Spain's loyal guards and militiamen bolstered their mountain positions today and struck on four other fronts for "complete surrender of fascist rebel troops."

Carrying on the "defense of public and proletarian rights," the loyalists consolidated their victories in the Guadarrama mountains northwest of Madrid and at the northeastern seaport city of Barcelona.

Vigorously, they thrust at rebel horde nests in Zaragoza, in the north; Granada and Cordoba in the south, and Palma, Mallorca, in the Balearic Islands.

Simultaneously the government denied reports it was planning to hand over complete power to Socialists.

The newspaper El Socialista reported rebels barricaded in the Loyola barracks near San Sebastian were about to surrender under a heavy bombardment.

(French border reports Sunday said the rebels had fled the barracks for the hills after a three-hour shelling.)

Apparently the insurgents were expected reinforcements from Morocco which had not arrived.

The newspaper said Gen. Francisco Franco, the rebel commander-in-chief, had promised to land colonialists at the northern port of Pasajes. However, soldiers under the command of rebel officers were said to have hoisted the white flag.

New detachments of loyal forces left San Sebastian for Vittoria.

In the south, the loyalist troops of General Miajas were expected to proceed from Jaen to Cordoba. Their enthusiasm, the government said, was high. The Cordoba rebels were reported "willing to surrender, but only to loyal troops, not to militiamen."

(The government previously has claimed successes at Cordoba.)

At Ovido, in the far northern province of Asturias, the government expected rebels under the command of Colonel Aranda would be forced to surrender in view of their isolation.

They were reported surrounded by thousands of Austrian miners with guns, rifles and dynamite. Their water supply was cut off, government advisers stated.

The left newspaper politica, criticizing the army, declared the troops were "nothing but factions of uniformed adventurers" and said "the army that places itself outside the law which was created for its custody already lacks all moral strength to enforce the law."

El Liberal added: "The popular front is victor in the elections and on the battlefields. Fascist domination in Spain? Never!"

La Libertad said: "It now is clear that the fighting against the reactionary rebel generals must be carried on to an end. The country's physical vitality and moral conditions in the colonies may perhaps be bad but they (the rebel leaders) must be exterminated."

It was announced Colonel Lillagas, arrested Sunday, had been accused as the leader of a rightist plot.

Australia Wins Over Two Britons

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 27 (AP)—Australia kept alive her bid to regain the coveted Davis cup today when Jack Crawford and Adrian Quist defeated Tuckey and Pat Hughes, 6-2, 4-6, 7-5, 10-8.

The victory reduced England's lead to 2-1. The Britons forged to a 2-0 lead Saturday when H. W. (Bunny) Austin defeated Crawford and Fred Perry vanquished Quist in the opening singles.

The best three out of five series will be concluded tomorrow with Perry meeting Crawford and Austin taking on Quist. Australia needs to win both matches to cop the cup, while England needs only one more victory to win the prized trophy for the fourth straight year.

BERNARD SHAW IS COMMUNIST, HE DECLARES

Would Like To See Both Europe and America Red

By ROGER D. GREENE, Associated Press Foreign Staff MALVERN, Eng., July 26 (AP)—George Bernard Shaw—80 years old yesterday and "too busy to die"—said tonight he would like to see communistic states in "all of Europe and America." "I am a communist," he observed spiritedly, his bushy white beard bobbing as he spoke. "But I don't like the way they are running it in Spain. "I read Karl Marx 14 years before Lenin did. If Lenin had read my works before he started, he would have saved himself many stupid mistakes." Politics—the Irish wit and playwright declared—has gone into the shirt business. The symbols of various movements has resulted in boosting the output of manufacturers of "black shirts, blue shirts, green shirts, and red shirts." He extended his rapid-fire observations to include critical comment on parliamentary methods. "The trouble with parliament," he said, "and the United States congress is that it takes them 30 years to do 30 minutes work. "Then when it becomes necessary to do 30 years work in 30 minutes

SUICIDE WATCH IS ESTABLISHED AT JAMES' CELL

Precaution Taken to Balk Attempt On Own Life

LOS ANGELES, July 26 (AP)—Cell guards started a suicide watch today over Robert S. James, 38, as he awaited sentence—which must be death by hanging—for what the state called "the most horrible murder in history." Extra vigilance began after a safety razor blade was found in a pocket of the pallid, green-eyed barber's jail jacket. James denied he planned suicide. He said he gave the blade to turnkeys voluntarily. "We took it away from him," said Jailor Clem Peoples. "We have no doubt but that he intended to kill himself." Turnkeys said James hinted suicide Saturday and they searched his cell last night after a jury convicted him of murdering the last of his seven wives, Mary, by causing a rattlesnake to bite her and then drowning her in a bathtub last Aug. 4. MODERN VALJEAN IS ARRESTED 23 YEARS AFTER 'KID'S PRANK'

CLEVELAND, July 27 (AP)—A respected 41-year old Clevelander awaited his arrest today, asserting he would fight extradition to Oklahoma for completion of a two-year reformatory sentence in "a kid's prank" of bank burglary over 23 years ago. Carl B. Chilton, said by police to be working on a government survey job, told inquirers that his wife and two children did not know of his escape as a youth of 18 in 1913. "If they hear about this," he said, "you might as well put a bomb under this house and blow it up for the effect it would have on them." Acting Detective Inspector Charles O. Nevel, who earlier recommended freedom for the "modern Valjean" on the basis of his five-year record here, said Chilton would be arrested today for Oklahoma authorities. Nevel's announcement came after Deputy Warden L. C. Warlick of the Oklahoma state reformatory at Granite sent a telegram asking Chilton's arrest. "If he is entitled to a pardon or parole, that is up to the governor," declared Warlick. Chilton escaped after serving a year of a two-year term for breaking in and stealing $400 from the Calvin, Okla., national bank, which he termed "a kid's prank."

Queen Mary Hangs Up New Record in Atlantic Crossing

NEW YORK, July 27 (AP)—The Queen Mary rode into New York harbor today with a new trans-Atlantic record. Britain's super-liner wrested the blue ribbon of the Atlantic from the French liner Normandie by completing the passage from Cherbourg breakwater to Ambrose Lightship in four days, eight hours and 37 minutes. This record, given as the official time by the Queen Mary's commander, Sir Edgar T. Brien, slipped three hours and five minutes from the record established last summer by the Normandie on her maiden voyage. The 80,000-ton ship, after anchoring at 12:15 a. m., Eastern Standard Time, off Ambrose Light, proceeded leisurely toward quarantine. The Cunard White Star line, owner of the Queen Mary, laid

BOWERS QUILTS SAN SEBASTIAN SUMMER HOME

MEMBERS OF SPANISH EMBASSY BOARD CUTTER

BY STANLEY RICHARDSON, Associated Press Staff Writer. WASHINGTON, July 27 (AP)—An increasingly ominous picture of war torn Spain emerged today from Llacomb diplomatic dispatches as Ambassador Claude G. Bowers' aides abandoned the American summer embassy at San Sebastian in the belief there may be "terrible bloodshed" here.

Anxiety concentrated on the fate of 161 Americans stranded in the embassy at Madrid, diplomats were making intense efforts to open a way to escape for them from that interior city to the sea.

Fleeing before fighting in and near San Sebastian, members of the summer embassy staff took refuge on the United States coast guard cutter, Cayuga, which bore them and their diplomatic records to the isolated villa occupied by the ambassador in nearby Puentebrabia.

The envoy reported to the state department that "impossible conditions" prevailing in San Sebastian made it necessary to move the chancery to Puentebrabia.

It was the second time within three months that American diplomatic officers abroad had been driven out of their quarters by violence. In Addis Ababa, members of the American legation staff were forced to seek protection of the British legation for a few hours last May during native rioting preceding the Italian occupation of the Ethiopian capital.

Ambassador Bowers' instructions to his staff to leave San Sebastian coincided with advice to the state department from Eric C. Wendelin, third secretary in charge of the embassy at Madrid, that he was endeavoring to arrange for a train to take those Americans who wished to leave Valencia on the eastern coast.

The American consul at Vigo, William W. Corcoran, reported that uniformed armed fascists and others in that place had publicly insulted him but that the military authorities had broadcast an apology as a result of his protest.

The battleship, Oklahoma, after landing a number of American and other foreign refugees from Bilbao and Santander at Bayonne, France, steamed back to Bilbao, where the American consul reported the city "quiet but nervous."

Nineteen American refugees arrived at Gibraltar from Malaga. The Spanish embassy in Washington issued a statement declaring that the present government in Spain is not "red" or communist.

TEXAS SPORT NOTES

DALLAS, July 27 (AP)—Put a St. Louis Cardinal tag on Johnny Stevenson, former Austin sandlotter now with Houston's Buffs. The youngster has twelve victories to his credit and his earned run average is among the best. He left Austin's amateur baseball two years ago, helped Jacksonville win the West Dixie league flag last year and is headed for a spring tryout with the gas house gang.
Few know that Dick Whitworth, veteran Oklahoma City twirler, still makes his brackman's run on the Southern Pacific between ball games. He's 42 now and still winning. Another Austin sandlot product, twirling veteran, back to the East Dixie after a spring tryout. Reid, now back with Fort Worth won his first six Texas league starts. Taldon Manton, giant Texas Christian university fullback of last season, admits he has been approached by the New York Giant professional football team. One of the unsung heroes of the Sugar bowl champions, Manton said he hadn't signed a contract but had been dickering with the Gotham team several days.

TOM BLANTON IS TRAILING HIS OPPONENT

GARRETT WILL BE FOE IN RUF-OFF PRIMARY

ABILENE, July 27 (AP)—Thos. L. Blanton, veteran 17th district congressman, was trailing by 4,773 votes today in returns compiled from Saturday's democratic primary. The leading candidate in the field of three, Clyde L. Garrett of Eastland county, lacked 2,874 votes of a majority out of 51,969 counted. Returns were complete from ten of the 12 counties of the district, with an estimated 200 to 300 to be counted in Eastland and Jones counties. The totals stood:
Garrett, 24,511; Blanton, 19,738. Third candidate, Fred O. Jaye of DeLeon, had 7,447.

A large number of Blanton's Abilene friends will meet today and organize his run-off campaign. The congressman issued a statement saying, "Whether I stay in congress or not is going to depend on my friends. The controlling issue last Saturday was not Garrett's or my respective fitness, but was resentment about postmaster appointments which are no part of my legislative duties, plus paid agitators spreading falsehoods about me.

"The real issue now is whether the voters of the district are going to allow Washington money disgruntled unsuccessful postmaster applicants, and old political enemies to replace me. If you want me, I want to serve you, but if you do not I will be happy and satisfied at home.

Undoubtedly the election convinces you that there was spent an enormous slush fund sent into my district by Washington tax-dodgers who have sworn to defeat me. The money was spent cleverly in having paid organizers cover every voting precinct in all counties, spreading falsehoods about me. Their work was done quietly over a long period of time x x x and I had no opportunity to refute same. I made a clean campaign, strictly on my record of service. My friends felt so confident that, with a few exceptions, they were not active in my behalf. This is evident by the small vote in all the counties except Eastland."

Youth Held in Throat-Slashing Of Grandmother

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 27 (AP)—Donald Knepper, 24, described by his father as a former honor student at Oklahoma A. & M. college, was held in jail today while authorities sought to solve the slaying of his 75-year-old grandmother, Mrs. O. N. Weiser.

Deputy Sheriff Len Kean said the youth, appearing dazed, admitted strangling the woman and cutting her throat with his pocket-knife. Mrs. Weiser and Knepper, her "favorite" grandson, had been staying at a neighbor's home while the family was away.

Knepper's father, Deputy County Clerk Frank C. Knepper, said his son appeared at home late Saturday night, seemingly unstrung. The father said his son might have been affected by the heat Saturday when he worked under a burning sun.

The elder Knepper said he would ask officers to try to determine by fingerprinting whether anyone else had been at the neighbor's home the night of the slaying.

Janet Gaynor Has Nerve in Face of Danger, Says Guard

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., July 27 (AP)—A life guard who rescued Janet Gaynor of the screen from the grip of a treacherous riptide acclaimed today her coolness before danger.

The red-haired actress was wading some 50 yards offshore at Playa Del Rey yesterday when an unidentified man companion when she stepped into a hole.

Swept beyond her depth by the strong current, Miss Gaynor kept her head, shouted for help and swam with the riptide. Lifeguard Richard Daubenspeck swam out and pulled her from the surf.

"She's got nerve," he said later.

J. F. Arrington left today for a short vacation trip downstate, which will include a stop at the Dallas Centennial exposition, and a visit with Mrs. Arrington, who is attending Sam Houston teachers college at Huntsville this summer.

Mrs. Olen Powell, daughter of Mrs. J. A. Cooke, has returned from a trip to Colorado and Cheyenne, Wyo.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, July 27 (AP)—In a broad buying movement stocks pushed up fractions to record levels today, but, many to new peaks for the past several years.

The utilities, steel, motor, farm implement, rail and auto issues were inspired by a bright brand of economic news and, despite late profit taking, the close was firm. Transfers were around 1,400,000 shares.

Irving had been recommended only recently for an appointment to West Point military academy.

His father operates a grocery store on S. Cuyler street, and Irving had worked there until about two months ago. Recently he had been employed at the H. A. Marr wholesale grocery concern.

Prominent in athletics, the youth had been a member of the high school basketball team, the PFA basketball team, high school tumbling team, H-Y club and was a 4-H club member. His brother, Elmer, is a member of the University of Texas basketball team.

He is survived by his parents and two brothers, Elmer and Dale, in the immediate family.

Funeral services, under direction of the G. C. Malone Funeral home, will be held at 9 p. m. Tuesday in First Baptist church here. The Rev. C. E. Lancaster will officiate.

Palbearers will be Junior Strickland, William Seeds, Ed Haner, Albert Ayer, James Herring, and Kelly Kitcher, all former associates of the deceased.

Flower ladies for the services will include Mrs. Earle O'Keefe, Ann Sweatman, Leona Hurst, Elma Pae Seeds, Edna Mae Moses, Marjorie Davis, Betty Jo Townsend, Odessa Winkler and Barbara Kilgore. Sacred music will be sung by a male quartet. Burial will be in Pampa cemetery.

Palbearers heard that government planes had bombed San Roque six miles northwest of Gibraltar in the province.

The rebels lay claim to their own successes, notably in the Guadarrama mountains, north of Madrid, but this was disputed by the government.

A fierce battle was reported in progress between loyalists and insurgents in the ancient gothic city of Toledo.

Though at a standstill for the moment, Fascist armies were reported to be threading Madrid both from the northwest and south. Madrid's civil life gradually was returning to normal, the populace ap-

Mobeetie Woman Is Unable to Make Ends Meet

Futures of five children, ranging in ages from 14 months to ten years, rested in the balance today as a broken-hearted Mobeetie mother appealed to Gray county authorities to aid in solving her dilemma.

The woman told a story of desertion by her husband six months ago and of her subsequent struggle to keep her family together.

Unable to make ends meet the woman decided to ask court permission to have the four older children placed in the state home at Waco. She told authorities she could not care for the baby. Final disposition of the case is being withheld pending an effort to place the children, it was stated.

Goodrich Defeats Braly 1,237 Votes

Prosecutor Is Given Heavy Vote in Wheeler

District Attorney Lewis Goodrich, of Shamrock, defeated Clifford Braly, of Pampa, by a majority of 1,237 votes in their race for 31st district attorney in Saturday's primary election.

Goodrich, solidly supported by his home town of Shamrock and his home county of Wheeler, received 5,103 votes in the four county district, and Braly received 3,866.

Goodrich came out of Wheeler whipping Braly there, 2,308 to 773.

Braly carried Gray, his home county, by a majority of nearly 800. The Gray county vote was: Braly 2,824, Goodrich 2,091.

Goodrich also carried Lipscomb and Roberts county. The vote in Lipscomb county was: Goodrich 346, and Braly 132. In Roberts county the vote was: Goodrich 356, and Braly 137.

Tightest Race in County Was Run in LeFors Precinct

One of the tightest election races ever recorded in a three-man contest in Gray county, or anywhere, grew out of the race for constable in LeFors Precinct No. 1, the official tabulation figures revealed today.

In this precinct Charles Buss, Henry Schoffitt and O. E. Stewart were candidates for the constable's job.

The final count on the race showed the following vote tabulations: Buss, 198; Schoffitt, 198, and Stewart, 197.

Siler Faulkner, county Democratic executive chairman, said this afternoon election officials were taking up the unusual situation, endeavoring to find a way in which to decide the contest.

PAMPA NETTERS TO BEGIN TITLE PLAY SATURDAY

Champs To Be Picked In Annual City Tourney

Pampa's annual summer tennis tournament, sponsored by the Council of Clubs as a part of the summer recreation program, will start next Saturday, Aug. 1, it was announced today by Ben Guill, city recreation director.

The tournament this year will include a junior division for entries up to 16 years of age, and senior division for those 16 and over. Champions will be crowned in each division.

Contestants will be comprised of boys and girls, men and women with both singles and double matches.

Guill stated there also will be mixed doubles competition in which there is no age limit.

Matches will be played on two courts in city park and two courts at the water tower. All four courts will be put in excellent condition for the tournament.

Entry blanks for tennis players in all divisions of the city tourney will appear in Monday's Pampa NEWS.

CITY WILL GET AIDS ON STEEL WATER STORAGE

Discussion of Pampa's water supply problems is to again assume the principal role of business tonight at the regular weekly meeting of the city commission in city hall.

City Manager C. L. Stine said tonight that new bids are to be submitted to the commissioners on steel tanks for water storage.

Stine was in Berger this afternoon making an inspection of the Berger water storage system in an effort to become familiar with the type of tanks on which the new bids are to be submitted.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Harrah left today for Denver, to visit their son, Raymond Jr., who is in a boys' camp there.

Mary Ellen Reeder was released from the Pampa-Jarratt hospital Sunday.

Panhandle to File Charge in Case

A suspect arrested here Friday night by Gray county deputies and state highway patrolmen, was expected to be taken soon to Panhandle to answer to a charge of robbing a safe in the Ford garage there.

The man was arrested here when he was recognized by Deputy Sheriff O. T. Lindsey as being wanted for a safe robbery at Longview several months ago.

Mrs. Hattie Bush is visiting in Sherman for a few days. Her place as church secretary of First Baptist church is being filled by Miss Juanita Higgins in her absence.

New Jersey has a straight, surveyed boundary line only along its northern edge, between the Hudson and Delaware rivers.

FEET HURT?

Here is your chance to obtain RELIEF

There is no need for you to suffer any longer with painful feet... your foot troubles can be relieved—inexpensively.

Spain's loyal troops marched today on three regions dominated by insurrectionists in the wake of what the government termed leftist victories on the northern slopes of the strategic Guadarrama mountain passes a few miles from Madrid.

Fascist losses were described as heavy.

The rebel high command flung its man power against leftist positions in the mountains, strongly fortified, and paid for its assault on the gateway to capital city, with severe casualties.

Now in its eleventh day, the nation's civil war was punctuated with reports of a food shortage in the contested north-central portion of Spain, of mass desertions among the rebels, and of insurrectionist plans to 'starve out' Madrid.

Aides of United States Ambassador Claude G. Bowers, said reports in Hendaye, France, left San Sebastian, Bay of Biscay summer resort, aboard the American coast guard cutter Cayuga. The ambassador apparently still was at the fortress at Fuenterabia.

Four American diplomatic officials, led by Hallett Johnson, counselor of the United States embassy, sailed from St. Jean de Luz, France, for Fuenterabia, indicating they would attempt to induce the ambassador to leave.

The American battleship, Oklahoma, arrived in Bayonne, France, with 38 refugees from Santander and Bilbao.

tell me...why are they Milder...why do they TASTE BETTER

Well, first off, all cigarettes are not alike...not by a long shot. Now Chesterfields...they are milder because they are made of mild, ripe tobaccos...both home-grown and Turkish. They age these tobaccos for two years to take out all harshness. These tobaccos are not only blended but cross-blended...this brings out the better taste of each tobacco. It welds the different flavors into one better flavor. It helps to make Chesterfields taste better. When you smoke a Chesterfield you realize they're not like others...They Satisfy.
