We have a letter on the desk, and it is signed, "Kaye." It is the kind of letter we like to receive—critical, but helpful.

Between the lines of "Kaye's" letter, she suspected that we might frown on some of our suggestions. . . . But we don't. . . . Every last one of them has our personal endorsement. . . . And we hope "Kaye" will write again and really open up. . . . After all, we have something in common.

In connection with one of "Kaye's" suggestions, we might say that the Boy Wonder of N. West-st now has seven teeth, and since the last Sunday dinner hour is definitely in love with two waitresses.

He says some very clever things, we are sure, but because of his eight-month-old dialect it has been extremely difficult for us to catch much of it. . . . He has no dog, his only pet being a back-yard centipede with which he strikes up occasional conversation at sun-bath time. This, of course brings on great maternal distress.

Confessing that like many others, we do not grasp all of the good things that are going on right around us—we must tell Kaye that we are unfamiliar with that column, by J. V. De G. For that, possibly we should not be forgiven.

If we could only become so interesting that readers would stop here before going to the editorial page, it would make us extremely happy. . . . We live with the suspicion, however, that haste many times causes us to neglect some of our most uninteresting—and includes some of you to walk out right in the middle of the show.

You shouldn't do that though—for you never know when we're going to find some extra minutes and perhaps right at the end, pop forth with something that will make you sorry you didn't stay until the last. . . . We hope some day to get around to the point where you'll want to come in to TOPICS, take a front seat and stick it out because you have the feeling that somewhere down the line, you're going to be repaid for your faithfulness.

And—about that news tip, Kaye—some sundown this week we plan to follow your lead, even though, from this distance, it might seem to be a bit of a wild goose chase. . . . Now, don't forget to come again, soon.

Attention Police Chief Art Hurst. Also, attention Sheriff Earl Talley. . . . They've got a good idea to work out equally as well in Pampa and Gray county.

In Miami if you go out on a party and get drunk, all you have to do is call up the police department and they'll send a car to take you home. . . . No fine, no arrest, no charge, no strings of any kind—just so you keep away from the wheel of your own car until you become sober.

The system is part of the city's safety drive. . . . Of six fatal automobile accidents in Miami recently, five were caused by drunken drivers and one of the victims was a policeman. . . . This impelled A. J. Kavanaugh, director of public safety, to make the offer.

"Let the other fellow drive," he urged. "If there is no other fellow, call a cab, and if you find yourself financially embarrassed and still conscious enough to be safe-minded, call the police and we'll see that you are taken home in safety—only do not do it too often."

How often "too often" would be, Kavanaugh did not say in his speech, but indicated in an interview that twice would be just about enough. He said several already have availed themselves of the service. The policemen just drove their charges to the front door and helped them up the steps—no extra frills like circumventing irate wives or delivering the automobile, too.

Gray county inebriates might like a service like that. Certainly, sober motorists would be tickled to death to know that these potential death dealers were being escorted safely home by guardians of the law, instead of being arrested on streets and along public highways. . . . At least, it's an idea, chief and sheriff.

How many of you average song birds can sing more than five songs clear through from beginning to end, word for word? . . . Not many. . . . About the only three songs that most everybody knows are "Hail, Hail, The Gang's All Here," "There's a Long, Long Trail," and "Down by the Old Mill Stream."

These three songs have been murdered so many times that if the criminals were jailed, 75 per cent of the nation's population would be awaiting execution. . . . So it has come to the point where everyone who tries to lead an American audience in song faces the same difficulty.

There have been better songs written than the three mentioned a paragraph or so ago. . . . The fact

NATIONAL CROP INSURANCE IS FAVORED HERE

FARM REPRESENTATION AT WASHINGTON IS URGED

Farmers of 21 Panhandle counties in session here yesterday went on record as favoring some kind of national crop insurance and of farm representation in Washington. More than 500 attended the general meeting. Group sessions were extremely beneficial with nearly 100 at each. R. H. Bush of College Station, organization director, presided over an organization meeting composed of farmers from every county represented. M. J. Frye of Tipton was in charge of the discussion. It was agreed that the farm program was fourfold: 1—To cooperate together to stabilize economic security. 2—To carry on a recreation program which will keep farm people interested in life on the farm. 3—To keep farm people in touch with the general agricultural program. 4—To cooperate together in legislative activities to promote farm interests.

Wheeler 'Boy' to Represent TWA At Amarillo Event

Aviation Enthusiasts of the Panhandle Will Meet in Amarillo Tomorrow

Aviation enthusiasts of the Panhandle will meet in Amarillo tomorrow when Jack Frye, president of Transcontinental Western Air, T. E. Braniff, president of Braniff Airways, and Col. J. Carroll Cone, chief of the bureau of air commerce, will be speakers at a banquet in the Herring hotel at 12:15 o'clock. Several Pampa aviators and interested citizens plan to attend the banquet and meet with the visiting speakers in a business session. Pampa is one of the most air-minded cities in the nation. Mr. Frye is a Panhandle "boy." He was born near Wheeler, the son of pioneer citizens who came to this country in a stage wagon. Now he is president of a corporation whose means of transportation span the nation in 15 hours. The purpose of the luncheon, being sponsored by the Amarillo chapter of the public realization of the importance of aviation in the economic and social life of this wide territory. It is seldom that Mr. Frye makes public appearances. He is known as a "doer" not a "talker." Braniff is well known in this section of the country. Several year ago Braniff Airlines made a stop in Pampa.

TROOP 17 WILL BE SPONSORED BY CATHOLICS

New Scout Troop To Be Organized on Friday Night

A Boy Scout troop will be sponsored by Holy Souls Catholic church, it was announced from Scout headquarters in the city hall today. The troop will be known as Troop 17 which has been dropped for a year. This troop was formerly located at Kingsmill. Paul J. Willenbring will be the new scoutmaster for the troop and his assistants will be Burdette Keim and Gene Lewis, with James P. Brown, chairman of the troop committee, and Frank Keim, Dan J. Gibbons and Dan Kennedy members of that committee. The troop will meet Friday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Knights of Columbus hall, one block east of Holy Souls Catholic church. All boys interested are invited to attend. It is understood that the various troop in town which have boys who are members of the Catholic church registered in their troops would transfer those Scouts to Troop 17 if boys and parents desire.

NOMINATION NIGHT AT VFW MEETING PLANNED

Tonight will be nomination night at an important meeting of the Panhandle Veterans of Foreign Wars to be held in the American Legion hut on West Foster avenue at 8 o'clock. Commander D. A. Bartlett urges every member to be present. The finance committee will also make a report on outcome of the Legion Day dinner sponsored by the organization. Several other important committee reports will be made.

12-Inch Rain At San Angelo Sends Rivers On Spree

15 Inches Reported At Christoval Nearby

Torrential rains swept a large section of Central Texas last night and today with every regular Texas weather reporting station except two recording some precipitation. Deluges at San Angelo and Rock Springs of nearly 12 inches sent the Concho and Nueces rivers on rambages. San Angelo's rain was the heaviest in more than 40 years. Water blocked highways and canceled rail schedules in the section. The downpour swept away a boat-house on Lake Nasworthy and destroyed motorboats. Bridge approaches were washed. An unofficial report of 15 inches at Christoval augmented fears of a South Concho flood. Upstream from Uvalde, the Nueces river rose 15 feet. An eleven-inch rain at Comfort, near San Antonio, sent Cypress creek which runs through the outskirts of the hill town, out of its banks as the stream registered a 20-foot rise in 24 hours. Small bridges across the creek were washed out both above and below the town, according to reports reaching here. Lack of a heavy rain above prevented any extraordinary rise in the Guadalupe river above the town. Cypress creek empties into the river below Comfort. A rise in the river was reported below the junction. Kerrville received a deluge of 6.42

PETE TRAXLER TRIAL STARTS ON WEDNESDAY

ENTIRE BAND WILL BE PROSECUTED AT LIPSCOMB

What authorities hope will be the last chapter in the lives of a notorious gang of Oklahoma and Texas outlaws will be started toward a climactic ending at Lipscomb tomorrow when Pete Traxler, alleged leader of the band, is scheduled to go to trial on a charge of robbery with firearms. Traxler will appear before Judge W. R. Ewing, of Pampa, in a special session of district court in Lipscomb county. He will be prosecuted by District Attorney Lewis Goodrich, of Shamrock.

The Oklahoma bad man is specifically charged with complicity in a robbery and shooting at the home of Christian Babitzke, three and a half miles south of Lipscomb, on the evening of last Jan. 12. Three other men and a woman are being held on similar charges in connection with the robbery in which Ben Babitzke, 18-year-old son in the family, was shot in the back by one of the robbers. John Hughes, 30, of Moorewood, Oklahoma, is being held for safekeeping in the Gray county jail here. Burl Wagner, 35, and Lee Kratz, 32, and Mrs. Neil Walton are in jail at Arnett, Okla. Hughes, Kratz, Wagner and the Walton woman, are expected to be tried in the next term of court at Lipscomb. Judge Ewing stated today, "Traxler will be the only one to be tried at the special court session which opens tomorrow. Young Babitzke, who was shot by one of the robbers, recovered from his wounds, but lost the sight of one eye. After he was shot, he was moved to enter the Babitzke home and line up with his face to the wall with other members of the family. The robbers ransacked the house and finally forced Babitzke to reveal the hiding place of $2,500, his life savings. The robbers took the money and fled the Babitzke home. District Attorney Goodrich took personal charge of the case and followed many clues before he ran onto the right trail through a tip on an automobile wreck involving a car which had been driven by Traxler. Evidence found in the wreckage and the occupants of the car with the Babitzke robbery. Working with Texas rangers, Sheriff J. E. Shahan, of Lipscomb county, Sheriff Walter Jones, of Hemphill county, and Oklahoma officials, Goodrich finally rounded up all suspects in jail.

Montgomery Asserts Old Rules Must Be Changed. If the people of the United States want to continue the American system some of the old rules will have to be changed in order to solve the new problems. Dr. R. H. Montgomery, of the University of Texas, told 150 persons at the Chamber of Commerce membership luncheon in First M. E. Church this afternoon. Dr. Montgomery said he wanted to make clear that he was appearing at the noonday luncheon to preach Jeffersonian Democracy, and then pointed out that the Jeffersonian rules set down in the days of Thomas Jefferson, were rapidly adaptable for that generation and that day, but that Jefferson said at the time that "we are establishing a set of rules for our own generation; let the next generation establish their own."

The speaker turned at times to references about the conservation policy of the Texas Railroad Commission. "It wouldn't surprise me," he said, "if within a very short time, the railroad commission will pass a rule requiring oil to be pumped back in the wells." Dr. Montgomery said that what is endeavoring to be worked out today is to have goods distributed to individuals on the basis of their service to the community. "No man should get one penny of income unless he renders an equal service to his community," he said. "When a man gets something for nothing, he is taking it away from the man who works for it and doesn't get it."

There are three things which the nation is striving for today, he stated—good, distribution of goods on a basis of work, and as much freedom of choice as possible. Confusion comes, he added, in trying to establish rules and laws that will give us these three things. "Now, we want to pick up the pieces of what is left, and build new rules by which they can be worked out—that is, if you want to get those three things, and we are all agreed that they are what is wanted."

Today's luncheon was one of the best attended civic sessions held in Pampa in many months. John Roby, president of the Board of City Development, acted as toastmaster. Music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Guthrie. Jim Collins introduced guests who included persons from Borger, Amarillo, Plevin, Canadian, McLean and other towns. A report of activities completed was given by Tom Aldridge, future projects were discussed by Fred Culum. Attendance at the session was so large that some guests were unable to be seated. Sen. Clint C. Small, of Amarillo, and Rep. Eugene Worley, of Shamrock, were among the special guests who were introduced at the luncheon.

County Tax Rate To Be Fixed In Meeting. The Gray county tax rate for 1937 was expected to be fixed at a session of the county board of equalization which was under way this afternoon in the office of the county commissioner in the court house. The meeting today was in the form of a public hearing on valuation figures for county property. Taxpayers were given an opportunity to voice their dissent to valuations set by the board. Ewing Leech, county assessor and collector, said today the state rate for Gray county had been received and is 62 cents on each $100 of property valuation, the same rate as for this year.

GUNS AND BARRICADES GUARD LETTUCE SHEDS

SALINAS, Calif., Sept. 15 (AP)—Guarded shed operators in this great lettuce area acted to handle a $2,000,000 strike-threatened crop. The replacement crews, jeered by pickets of the striking Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Union, were brought in by train and truck last night under heavy police guard. They were quickly taken into barricaded packing sheds here and at Watsonville, indicating the Shipper-Grower Association intended a test at one of the 11-day strikes. The employers' organization, seeking to replace the 3,000 strikers, declined to fix the hour when lettuce packing will start.

CITY RESIDENT DIES SUDDENLY OF POISON DOSE

Dalton A. Patterson Had Lived Here Six Years

Dalton A. "Pat" Patterson, 47, was found dead at his service station at the corner of South Hobart and West Brown avenue about 5:30 o'clock yesterday. An inquiry by Justice of the Peace E. P. Young revealed that death resulted from carbolic acid poisoning, self-administered. Examination revealed that he had been dead several hours before being found by Mrs. Patterson. The body was lying on the floor in the rest room. Nearby was a cup bearing odor of the acid, and in a trash barrel at the rear of the station an empty bottle was found. Patterson had been a resident of Pampa for six years. During most of that time he operated a service station. He moved here from Fort Worth. Patterson served 16 months with the American army in France. He joined the 141st infantry, supply company, but transferred to the 20th engineers, with which company he served overseas. Survivors are his wife, three children, Morton, Nada and Thelma Faye, and two step-children, Francis and Nora Lee. Other survivors are three sisters, Mrs. Bell Ayers, Galveston, Mrs. Earl Hickie, Weatherford, Mrs. Laura Wall, Eden, and two brothers, Clarence Patterson, Pampa, Harriet Patterson, McCamey. Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the chapel at Pampa Mortuary. In charge will be an official of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of which he was a member. Burial will follow in Fairview cemetery. Pallbearers will be A. D. Ingram, Park Brown, Tom Anderson, W. E. Tucker, J. C. Rowe, and Mr. Griffith.

SHANAHAN APPOINTED

POONCA CITY, Okla., Sept. 15 (AP)—Appointment of M. H. Shanahan to be assistant manager of Continental Oil company's production department was announced today by President Dan Moran. Shanahan succeeds E. O. Bennett who has been named chief petroleum engineer. Bennett succeeded in this position. R. Van A. Mills, who was appointed production agent, a new position with the company. Shanahan comes here from Wichita Falls, Texas.

PEOPLE YOU KNOW

There is a wealthy woman in town who lives in a fine house and drives a big car, and you'd never know she is as good as she is if you did not run across some of the ones she has helped, or had seen her in the act. She does not talk much and when she does it is not about herself. She does not seek to be elected chairman of this or that committee—and she is not. Nor does she seek to be president of anything. Her monument will not be the kind of offices she held nor what she was a member of nor yet something that was named for her, but it will be memories of many kind and loving deeds that will pervade like perfume the heart of an adoring friend. Last week, there was a woman who said to herself, "Now I haven't a house dress to my name. What will I do," but she mentioned her need only to herself, and that very afternoon the unostentatious rich lady, gracious, kind, brought the two dresses.

SHANAHAN APPOINTED

POONCA CITY, Okla., Sept. 15 (AP)—Appointment of M. H. Shanahan to be assistant manager of Continental Oil company's production department was announced today by President Dan Moran. Shanahan succeeds E. O. Bennett who has been named chief petroleum engineer. Bennett succeeded in this position. R. Van A. Mills, who was appointed production agent, a new position with the company. Shanahan comes here from Wichita Falls, Texas.

PEOPLE YOU KNOW

There is a wealthy woman in town who lives in a fine house and drives a big car, and you'd never know she is as good as she is if you did not run across some of the ones she has helped, or had seen her in the act. She does not talk much and when she does it is not about herself. She does not seek to be elected chairman of this or that committee—and she is not. Nor does she seek to be president of anything. Her monument will not be the kind of offices she held nor what she was a member of nor yet something that was named for her, but it will be memories of many kind and loving deeds that will pervade like perfume the heart of an adoring friend. Last week, there was a woman who said to herself, "Now I haven't a house dress to my name. What will I do," but she mentioned her need only to herself, and that very afternoon the unostentatious rich lady, gracious, kind, brought the two dresses.

TO TRIAL

PETE TRAXLER TRIAL STARTS ON WEDNESDAY

ENTIRE BAND WILL BE PROSECUTED AT LIPSCOMB

What authorities hope will be the last chapter in the lives of a notorious gang of Oklahoma and Texas outlaws will be started toward a climactic ending at Lipscomb tomorrow when Pete Traxler, alleged leader of the band, is scheduled to go to trial on a charge of robbery with firearms. Traxler will appear before Judge W. R. Ewing, of Pampa, in a special session of district court in Lipscomb county. He will be prosecuted by District Attorney Lewis Goodrich, of Shamrock.

Montgomery Asserts Old Rules Must Be Changed. If the people of the United States want to continue the American system some of the old rules will have to be changed in order to solve the new problems. Dr. R. H. Montgomery, of the University of Texas, told 150 persons at the Chamber of Commerce membership luncheon in First M. E. Church this afternoon. Dr. Montgomery said he wanted to make clear that he was appearing at the noonday luncheon to preach Jeffersonian Democracy, and then pointed out that the Jeffersonian rules set down in the days of Thomas Jefferson, were rapidly adaptable for that generation and that day, but that Jefferson said at the time that "we are establishing a set of rules for our own generation; let the next generation establish their own."

The speaker turned at times to references about the conservation policy of the Texas Railroad Commission. "It wouldn't surprise me," he said, "if within a very short time, the railroad commission will pass a rule requiring oil to be pumped back in the wells." Dr. Montgomery said that what is endeavoring to be worked out today is to have goods distributed to individuals on the basis of their service to the community. "No man should get one penny of income unless he renders an equal service to his community," he said. "When a man gets something for nothing, he is taking it away from the man who works for it and doesn't get it."

There are three things which the nation is striving for today, he stated—good, distribution of goods on a basis of work, and as much freedom of choice as possible. Confusion comes, he added, in trying to establish rules and laws that will give us these three things. "Now, we want to pick up

CLUB WOMEN GREET NEW LEADERS WITH WESTERN CORDIALITY

RANCH PARLOR IS REPRODUCED FOR PROGRAM

Oil Lamp and Organ Era Is Depicted In Setting

Hospitality typical of early-day homes on the plains was extended to club women of Pampa last evening, when the Council of Women's clubs had its annual fall roundup at city club rooms. New council officers and presidents of affiliated clubs were honored, with their predecessors as hostesses.

"Evening on the plains" was the theme of the program presented on a stage arranged like an old-fashioned parlor with kerosene lamp, organ, and patchwork-covered couch.

Members of the ranch family were enacted by Mrs. T. F. Morton, Dick Hughes, Mrs. Mel Davis, and Miss Dorothy Jo Moore. Robert Smellage and Arvo Goddard were the cowboys. Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Guthrie the neighbors who dropped in, and Mrs. Alfred Gilliland the visitor from Boston.

Mrs. Gilliland sang Love's Old Sweet Song, and When You and I Were Young, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Davis. Mr. Smellage sang Home in the Range, and waltz, Jobbed by Mr. Goddard for a cowboy duet. Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie played old favorite tunes in violin and accordion. The entire group sang a cowboy song, and led the audience in a final rousing chorus of "She'll Be Coming 'Round the Mountain."

A red-checked cloth covered the table where refreshments were served, and it was lighted with oil lamps. Cakes decorated in the elaborate style of past decades, were displayed on the table, and in a handsome center stand.

Mrs. Paul Jensen served coffee from a large pot, and Mrs. Ray Hagan and Mrs. Lee Harrah dipped ice cream from a freezer.

Registration of the numerous guests was in charge of Mrs. Fred Cullum and Mrs. Alex Schneider. Mrs. C. C. Wilson introduced guests and Mrs. Glen Pool conducted the installation ceremony for new officers.

Mrs. Raymond Harrah took office for a second term as council president, while Mrs. Jim White is vice president, Mrs. Earle Scheig secretary, Mrs. Dave Dodge treasurer and Mrs. F. E. Leech parliamentarian.

Incoming presidents of clubs in the council are Mrs. Mabel Gibson Business and Professional Women; Mrs. Allen Hodges, A. A. U. W.; Mrs. Edward Damon, Garden club; Mrs. Frank Perry, Twentieth Century Forum; Mrs. Jim Collins, Twentieth Century Culture; Mrs. Joe Berry, Civic Culture; Mrs. N. F. Maudslayi, Child Study; Mrs. Clifford Brink, Twentieth Century; Mrs. Earl P. Welch, Philharmonic; Mrs. W. R. Ewing, El Progresso; Miss Clotilde McAlister, Carolettes; Mrs. J. W. Garman, Treble Clef.

Retiring presidents who acted as hostesses include three who will serve again this season: Mrs. Harrah, Mrs. Garman, and Miss McCallister. Others are Mrs. D. D. Philharmonic; Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, El Progresso; Mrs. Gladys Robinson, Business and Professional Women; Mrs. Paul Gardner, Garden club; Miss Josephine Thomas, A. A. U. W.; Mrs. A. M. Teed, Twentieth Century Forum; Mrs. L. L. McCollin, Twentieth Century Culture; Mrs. Paul Jensen, Civic Culture; Mrs. Lee Harrah, Child Study; Mrs. F. M. Culberson, Twentieth Century.

McCullough-Harrah Methodist missionary society met at McCullough church yesterday afternoon for business session in charge of Mrs. Earl Casey, and a study hour. Mrs. Earl Johnson conducted the opening devotional.

Mrs. Homer Wallace's topic was A Spiritual Message. Round table talks on The Church in the Community were given by Mmes. H. H. Bratcher, Ward, Conn, McClendon, and Franklin.

Free Kitchen Chautauqua Will Begin Monday Afternoon

Starts Revival

A. C. Valdez, evangelist and Bible teacher of Phoenix, Ariz., will begin this evening a revival at the Full Gospel Temple, 506 S. Cuyler. H. E. Comstock, pastor, makes the following announcement: "Born a Roman Catholic, Mr. Valdez was converted to the Full Gospel Protestant religion 20 years ago. Since then he has conducted revivals and taught Bible in four countries. His depth of teaching and wealth of material enable him to give current events in the light of prophecy are immensely interesting. He is different, a powerful, plain, a special feature of each service will be a stirring song hour. Don't miss any of the good meetings."

CIRCLES STUDY IN METHODIST WMS SESSIONS

One Group Meets in Home, Others at Church

While other circles of First Methodist Missionary society were meeting at the church, Mrs. C. W. Naylor was hostess to circle one in her home. Mrs. Esther Pieren was in charge of this group from the text Women and Home Missions.

Members discussed the chapter on City Missions and Wesley Homes and Mrs. Pieren discussed Work with Parents in "Our Midst" Mrs. O. L. Qualls' topic was Cooperative Homes for Working Girls and Mrs. G. C. Waldard, The Deaconess Movement.

A salad course was served to nine members and a guest Mrs. Pike.

Circle two joined circle four in a meeting at the church parlor. Mrs. R. K. Pieren was the opening prayer and Mrs. A. W. Babine conducted the devotional and a brief business meeting.

Mrs. P. B. Pieren, conducting a study from the text, was assisted by Mmes. Paul Babbitt, Russell McConnell, E. G. Wilson and M. E. DeTar.

A visitor, Mr. Clyde Price, was present with 22 members of circle four and 13 of circle two. Refreshments were served by Mmes. Al Lawson and J. I. Howard in the church dining room.

Circle three met in Clara Hill classroom for a devotional by Mrs. Sam Sheppard and study led by Mrs. J. E. Krehman, assisted by Mrs. Charlie Duenkel, Mrs. A. L. Patrick and Mrs. Clarence Coffin. Mrs. D. B. Dier led the first Missionary Society in Pampa, and organization of women from all churches.

To acquaint Methodists with the workings of the church organization a series of meetings on the various Methodist departments will begin tomorrow evening at First Methodist church.

They will be conducted weekly by the Rev. Will C. House, minister, at mid-week meetings. The subject tomorrow will be church and quarterly conferences. The program will begin at 7:30, and all members of the church are especially invited to attend.

Girl Scout News

A change in the meeting time for Girl Scouts, 1 troop one was voted at the meeting yesterday afternoon. In the future the girls will meet at the Little Home at 1:30 Saturday.

Work of tender of rank was demonstrated to several visitors yesterday in the members' games were played, and new songs learned. Members present were Frances Derring, Thelma Jo Thompson, Maxine Holt, Blanche Day, Betty Jo Hilliard, Mary Lou Douglass, Clara Jones, Anna Belle Lard, and the troop leaders, Mmes. A. A. Day, Douglas, and Clarence Coffin.

Visitors were Betty Lou Wilson, Evelyn Auld, Wanda Downs, Betty Johnson, Barbara Anne McKinley, Lucille Stokes, Reta Cagle, and L. Wanda Johnson. —Adv.

BOARD LUNCHEAS AS PREFACE TO WMO MEETING

Circles Reorganize And Elect Year's Chairmen

Circle organization in First Baptist Missionary union will be similar to that of last year for the coming year. It was agreed yesterday when Mrs. T. F. Morton, president, entertained the executive board with a luncheon at her home, and a general meeting at the church followed.

The same division of territory will be in effect for the seven circles. General business and mission study meetings will be conducted at the church on first Tuesdays of each month, and educational programs on second Tuesdays. Circles will meet in homes of chairmen on third Tuesdays, and standing committees in homes of chairmen on fourth Tuesdays.

These plans were made at the luncheon, which was served to Mmes. Dee Campbell, R. E. Gatlin, G. C. Durham, H. L. Watt, W. A. Robinson, C. E. Lancaster, Garnet Reeves, C. H. Schukrey, P. M. Johnson, M. P. Downs, Tom Rose, D. H. Coffey, T. A. Perkins, H. T. Cox, and C. L. Stephens.

Mrs. Cox served punch as the guests arrived, and the delicious lunch was served later.

At the following general session, plans of the board were approved and circles met to choose chairmen for the year. Mrs. T. L. Anderson is to head circle one, Mrs. O. A. Davis circle two, Mrs. Tom Duval circle three, Mrs. E. L. Anderson circle four, Mrs. J. C. Roundtree circle five.

Mrs. Lancaster will be temporary chairman of circle six and Mrs. Campbell of circle seven until permanent officers are elected.

Catholic Women To Form Council Unit at Meeting

All Catholic women of this parish are invited to be present at the Schneider hotel this evening at 7:45, when a unit of the National Council of Catholic Women will be organized.

Bishop Robert Lucey of Amarillo will be present as will Miss Lenora Wilson from the national office at Washington, D. C. Bishop Lucey recently spoke to Catholic women of Pampa on the advisability of organizing a council unit here.

Women from surrounding towns and communities are expected to be here for the meeting this evening.

Sewell-Bolander Wedding Is Read

Miss Irene Bolander, daughter of George Bolander, and A. E. Sewell were married at sunrise Sunday at the first Methodist parsonage by the Rev. Will C. House, pastor.

Miss Bolander is a local nurse, and Mr. Sewell is with a grocery firm here. They will make their home in Pampa.

ARMY DOCTOR PRESCRIBES FOR STOMACH

Needless Misery and Suffering of Many People Greatly Relieved When Acids and Poisons Cleaned Out

Millions of people are sick today because their stomach isn't digesting food properly, because their bowels are constipated, because their food is sour, because their food is rancid, because their food is putrid, because their food is poisonous, because their food is full of acids and poisons.

A World War Medicine These common conditions may be quickly overcome by the prescriptions of an ex-army doctor, developed during the World War and improved in line with modern scientific advances. Now, this prescription enjoys national sale as Williams S.L.K. Formula and is sold with this distinct understanding—that the user gets his money back if he fails to say, after taking S.L.K., "I feel great!"

Money-Back Guarantee You can realize how effective Williams S.L.K. Formula must be to sell thousands of sick people, with practically no refunds. This medicine certainly gets results! It's a great tonic for your stomach, over-coming nausea, indigestion, gas, bloating. It flushes poisons from kidneys by its diuretic action and stimulates liver action to furnish stomach with bile needed to stimulate digestion. Relieves you from getting up nights with weak bladder. Gives the bowels a great cleansing. You'll feel better tomorrow if you take Williams S.L.K. Formula tonight. Sold only by Cretney Drug Store, on guarantee of "Satisfaction from the first bottle or Money Back!" —Adv.

PASTORS ELECT SHELL AS HEAD

Ministerial Alliance Meets for Lunch Yesterday

The Rev. L. Burney Shell of First Presbyterian church was elected president of the Ministerial Alliance for the coming year at a luncheon at Schneider hotel yesterday. He will succeed the Rev. C. E. Lancaster.

John S. Millen, First Christian minister, was named secretary to replace the Rev. Lance Webb.

Other members present were the Revs. R. J. Snell, H. H. Bratcher, Will C. House, and James Todd. They agreed in the short business hour to start evening services at 7:30 instead of the summer hour, 8 o'clock, this fall. All except the Presbyterian church, which has vesper services, will observe this hour.

Regular meetings of the alliance were set for the Monday noon following the first Sunday of each month, with a lunch at the hotel. All ministers of the city are invited to become members of the alliance and cooperate in its efforts to unify the religious program of the city as far as possible.

The marriage of Miss Juanita Ball of Almarred and Allison Cash of McLean was solemnized at the First Methodist parsonage Sunday morning at 8 o'clock by the pastor, the Rev. Will C. House. Several relatives and friends were present.

The couple left for a short trip to Colorado, and will reside in McLean after their return.

Couple Wed Here Live at McLean

The marriage of Miss Juanita Ball of Almarred and Allison Cash of McLean was solemnized at the First Methodist parsonage Sunday morning at 8 o'clock by the pastor, the Rev. Will C. House. Several relatives and friends were present.

The couple left for a short trip to Colorado, and will reside in McLean after their return.

MRS. McDONALD WILL CONDUCT THE LECTURES

Women of Territory Are Invited to Attend

Here's a treat for the women of this city and surrounding territory. The NEWS has been fortunate enough to secure the services of Mrs. Martha McDonald, nationally famous home economist, to conduct its free Kitchen Chautauqua beginning Monday, Sept. 21. The lectures will be held in the city hall auditorium beginning each afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Every woman who can possibly attend these lectures should do so for

Bethany Class Has Special Guests at Luncheon Recently

Bethany class of First Baptist church had its monthly luncheon Thursday at the church. Mrs. T. L. Anderson presided for a brief business session. After the class song, in The Garden, Miss Helen Gardener of Dallas gave the opening prayer. Special visitors were Mrs. Tom Duval, teacher of the 3-H class, and Miss Gardener. Others present ed in laboratory work as well as practical experience in her own kitchen of foods, but her lectures are not the dry discussions of calories, proteins and carbohydrates. She knows what a balanced ration should be but she also knows that foods should be appetizingly prepared and daintily served in order to be eaten with relish. Her appeal is to the eye and the palate as of prime importance as well as those phases of dietetics with individual metabolism. There are many women who have often expressed regrets that they did not have the opportunities provided for school girls of today by the economic departments in schools. Housewives appreciate the benefit and value of instructions along these lines and will grasp the opportunity of taking a course in household arts since such a thing is now practicable. Mrs. McDonald works along entirely new lines. Her lectures will be found especially helpful to the young housewife and the matron who is desirous of serving better meals at less cost. She seeks to encourage better health through better foods. Mrs. McDonald will prove to the women of this city that the old adage, "the shortest way to a man's heart is through his stomach," is no myth but a clear, concrete statement of fact. One of the most important phases of her work is the fact that she does not deal in impractical suggestions but tells the women in her audiences the latest and most approved methods of culinary art in a way that they can be put to use in each and every home. Every woman is cordially invited to attend every lecture as the guest of THE NEWS.

The Pampa Daily News Annual COOKING SCHOOL

Under the Personal Supervision of Mrs. Martha McDonald

A Treat You Should Not Miss!

THE KITCHEN CHAUTAUQUA

Now and again some particularly fine feature or program of entertainment is available to you. It may be a lecture or a play, an Uncle Tom's Cabin show or grand opera.

One of the finest of such programs—and a feature that comes for your enjoyment but once a year—is the Kitchen Chautauqua. The Kitchen Chautauqua is a cooking school—but what a cooking school.

Whether you're a bride of a month or a grandmother, you'll enjoy these sparkling programs with the age-old theme of cookery. There are many short cuts and many roads leading to culinary success and perfection—the Kitchen Chautauqua gathers them all up and shows them to you, right before your very eyes.

Every recipe and every kitchen suggestion that has a part in this cooking school—the theme of which is "the happy kitchen"—has been tried and tested by a whole staff of practical housewives. Don't come expecting to see nothing but a batch of party dishes—they'll have their part, of course, but the main things you'll see and hear at the Kitchen Chautauqua will be the simple, easy, little workaday hints and time-savers that make cooking a real pleasure. And without these hints and time-savers, your three meals-a-day are likely to become a drudge.

Cooking can so easily be turned into romance—the thrill of discovery and the satisfaction of seeing a thing well done. Attend the Kitchen Chautauqua—then try the frying-pan recipe on the family's grouches!

COOLEY INFANT RITES WILL BE HELD TODAY

Funeral services for Floyd Hal Cooley, two-months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Cooley of Amarillo, were to be conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the chapel at Pampa Mortuary with the Rev. H. E. Comstock, pastor of Full Gospel church, officiating. Burial was to follow in Fairview cemetery.

LAKETON NINE LOSES TO WESTERN CARBON

Western Carbon, with Mays hurling one-hit ball, defeated the Laketon Wheat Growers, 6 to 2, Sunday afternoon. Ritchie and Barber were on the mound for Laketon. They yielded 11 hits.

Errors played an important part in several of the counters, both of the Laketon runs being the result of miscues. Laketon support was also erratic.

FORMER GIRL CONVICT LEAVES FOR OLD CELL

BORGER, Sept. 15.—Ruby Herring, alias Ruby Stevens, who was arrested in a rooming house here Saturday by city officers, waived extradition and was on her way today to the Oklahoma state prison at McAlester, from which she escaped Aug. 2.

A deputy warden and prison matron came here to return the 18-year-old girl, who was convicted of killing an Oklahoma City policeman and sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary.

OIL WORKER INJURED

HOBBBS, N. Mex., Sept. 15. (AP)—Charles Kyle, 28, a Hobbs, N. M., oil field worker, died of injuries at a Eunice, N. M., hospital late last night 30 minutes after he was mangled by a premature dynamite explosion that critically injured John McNew, Eunice teaming contractor. McNew was taken to a Lubbock, Tex., hospital, with severe head lacerations. Doctors who attended him at Eunice said he may lose his sight.

Johnny Garman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Garman, is resting nicely at Worley hospital following an operation.

WITH THE NETWORKS
(Times in Central Standard.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 15. (AP)—A discussion of America's foreign policies by Secretary of State Cordell Hull is to go via WJZ-NBC tonight. The secretary's address will come from a New York dinner in his honor by the Good Neighbor League.

Naturally, song writers and publishers are worried. Gene Buck, president of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, admitted the other day that he was greatly disturbed. Just in case he may have forgotten (he probably hasn't) he is reminded that precisely this outcome was foreseen long ago.

People remember the songs they sing, not the songs they hear. The songs they learned around the old upright piano in the front room, or the keg of beer in the clubhouse will live forever. Because group singing was encouraged during the World War, the songs of that period are remembered.

When the player piano, the phonograph, the radio and finally the mechanical age to music, sour skeptics saw the beginning of the end of "personal" music. Apparently, the event has caught up at last to the premonition. At last people are willing to let a machine do their singing for them. Music relief has arrived.

Yes, "Sweet Adeline" is no longer the belle of her set. . . . She sits back in a rocking chair and watches the capers of her ultra-modern granddaughter, "Swing-time Sal," a gal under whose feet no grass could possibly grow.

SELLING MORE LABOR

In the Atlantic Monthly for September, is a very interesting article on "Selling More Labor" by Sumner H. Slichter. Mr. Slichter is professor of business education at the Harvard School of Business Administration. In this article, Mr. Slichter points out that in former years we had no thought as to being unable to give employment, not only to the natural increased population but to all those who cared to immigrate to the United States.

Between 1900 and 1914, the United States received an average of nearly a half million immigrants a year. American industry absorbed these new workers, as a matter of course. During this time, the rate of increase in population was much more rapid than it is now. Now, there is practically no immigration and a great decline in birth rate. Yet, we seem unable to sell the labor that wants work.

There is undoubtedly a cause for our inability now to sell the labor of those who want work when we were able to do it previously with a much higher birth rate and with immigration of nearly a half million a year.

Mr. Slichter summarizes the matter by saying that will be necessary to have more factories and more capita that have to be operated if we are to give normal employment to those who want to work.

He ridicules the idea that labor can be sold by increasing the price; that there is nothing else that can be sold in greater quantity by increasing the price and it is only an illusion to think that more labor can be sold by increasing the price.

Here is an economist who has the same ideas as John Stuart Mill and Adam Smith. Our new political economists and our new reformers take exactly the opposite idea—that there are more jobs with artificial wages. They disregard all the laws of economics. They contradict Adam Smith when he said, "A demand of those who live by wages, therefore, necessarily increases with the increase of the revenue and the stock of every country, AND CANNOT POSSIBLY INCREASE WITHOUT IT. The increase of revenue and stock is the increase of national wealth." Of course if the demand for labor is small, wages, if there be any, will be low. It is only by increasing the demand for labor that wages can be high.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON. — Former Senator Jim Watson of Indiana, a power here for many long years but finally tossed out by the voters and reduced to odd jobs of lobbying here, along with rather desperate attempts to maintain leadership in the Indiana Republican machine, has been called "a lovable old hambug" and many other names less or more complimentary.

No one, however, ever said Jim couldn't tell a good story and even many of those who detested his political attitudes and actions were fond of him for his friendly geniality. Watson always insisted that he was a thorough "reactionary" and no one disputed him. Some admired him for his frankness.

Now Jim has written an autobiography entitled "As I Knew Them," and in spite of all the things that are glossed over and of doubts whether this is a major contribution to political history, Jim's book contains a swell collection of anecdotes and for that if for no other reason is an enjoyable tome. Many of the yarns are already famous. Others are not and some of the latter are produced herewith.

Jim's first political training came at DePauw University, where he fought with Albert J. Beveridge "like a couple of cats" and became president of the Plato literary society. On the eve of a close Plato fight he discovered the opposition had taken five of "our boys" to Eel River hunting and driven away, leaving them there.

That meant defeat for Jim, so he went to Emmons Vest, a student preacher who belonged to his faction and asked: "Emmons, how long do you think you can pray?" Emmons said he could pray indefinitely, Jim explained. At the opening of the Plato meeting he called on Emmons to pray. DePauw had great respect for prayer, so no one dared interrupt.

"Every time the door opened, Vest looked up, and if it was not our boys coming in, he ducked his head and went at it again. He prayed for an hour and a quarter, till the boys rushed in all bedraggled and covered with mud. It was my first filibuster."

It's typical of Jim Watson when he observes that subsequently, as a member of the Methodist board of trustees in his home town, he rewarded Vest by going to the conference to get him assigned to Rushville "to do our preaching."

Watson's first campaign was at Andersonville. "I took off my coat, vest, collar and necktie and proceeded to orate for a couple of hours." Jack Ross, a country lawyer, presided and on the 14-mile buggy ride home Jim asked him if he had done well. Ross was only mildly enthusiastic.

"Jack, did I miss anything?" "Yes, Jim, you did." "What was it?" "Well, Jim, you missed two damned good places to quit."

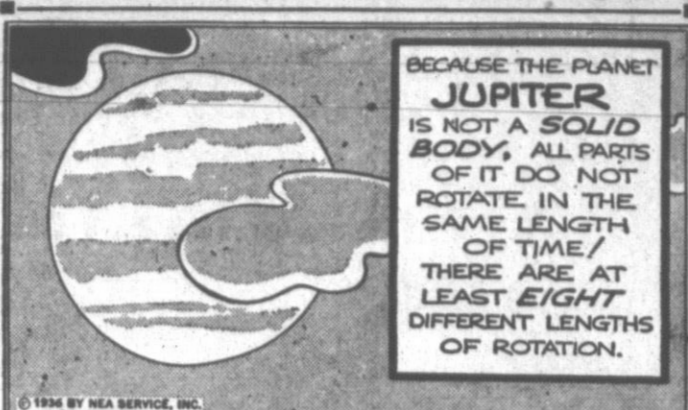

"Senator Joe Brown of Georgia expressed it by saying that the first couple of months he was a senator he looked around with awe on the assembled senators and wondered how in the world he had managed to land in such company. After that, for the next three months, he looked around at them and wondered how the other fellows had ever got in the Senate. And after that they all looked around at one another and wondered how on earth they were all going to stay in the Senate."

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—Harry Meyer, the affable impresario, will match the appetite of his two star musicians against any marathon eaters in town. When the band goes out for an evening meal, these two—Tony Frangipane, who plays sax, and Frankie Richter, pianist—always select a table to themselves. Then they order FOUR dinners.

"Two others are going to join us later," they advise the bewildered waiter. "Just bring all four steaks (perhaps it's lobster) in at once."

It's a gag between them. As they swallow their own rations they speculate audibly as to what is delaying their tardy companions. By the time the waiter is showing signs of distress, because the steaks are growing cool, and he has visions of having to duplicate the order.

"I suppose they got arrested, or perhaps lost in traffic," observes Tony. "Maybe we'd better call their dinners and let them order something else when they get here," adds Frankie.

Very gravely they seize the remaining dinners and down them with undiminished relish. Sure, Harry Meyer will match those lads' appetites against any six musicians in Manhattan. Jascha Heifetz, the virtuoso, receives $3,000 for a single concert. This item was disclosed during dinner in Longchamps recently.

"Well," observed Jimmy Savo, the baggy-pants comic, "that makes it $750 a string. At that figure he ought to change to a harp."

Then there is the legend of the new "dowager" who wallowed happily in her suddenly acquired wealth. Invading Long Island, she was promptly adopted by a fun-seeking mob whose members were quite willing to overlook a few crudities so long as the champagne continued to flow.

Trying out for her rhetoric on one festive occasion, she was really doing admirably until one of the guests asked for a hairpin. "I'm embarrassed to admit this," she confessed, "but my maid is on an errand, and I don't know where the hairpins are."

Which reminds of a crack that was aimed at this correspondent by Mark Barron, the drama critic, recently. Unashamedly I confess it—I didn't know the meaning of "spa." "Listen," I said, "everybody around here keeps referring to Saratoga as the spa. How come?"

Giving me a pitying look, he patiently explained that, as used here, the word implied a resort, with water or mineral springs. "Oh," I said, "that's what I thought."

"The English language is interesting, if you take the trouble to learn it," he added.

Two adept hoofers are those septa lads who rata-a-tap-tap at the Kit-Kat club, favorite rendezvous of orchestra leaders who drop in for relaxation after their own evening chores are completed.

They are embryo Astaires and are called the telegraph twins —Dot and Dash. What is more, as they dance they actually tap out messages in code, but only a telegraph operator could interpret them. Which, if you're sensitive, is probably a good thing.

HOW'S YOUR HEALTH

used as a protective agent, noticeably against measles. Recently an interesting experiment was made under the auspices of the Hillsdale County Medical Society of Michigan on the effectiveness of the prevention of measles of "immune globulin," a substance derived from the placenta. During a local epidemic of measles, a number of susceptible children were treated with immune globulin by mouth. Of 77 exposed persons given an intramuscular injection, 40 per cent did not contract measles, while 55 per cent had a mild attack. In 5 per cent the treatment seemed to have no protective effect. Of 16 persons given the immune globulin by mouth, 1 escaped attack, 12 were recorded as having a modified attack and 3 were unaffected.

Though the number of individuals thus studied is statistically too small for conclusive deductions, it does appear that in immune globulin, when administered by injection into muscles, we have an effective agent for the prevention or modification of the disease in susceptible and exposed children.

Measles incidentally lowers the sufferer's resistance, exposing him to such complications as broncho-pneumonia or wear on any occasion, he feels at a loss and awfully helpless himself blushing at the most inopportune moments, and his voice takes such unaccountable liberties, that he is afraid to speak above a whisper.

Boys seem to have a worse time than girls, perhaps because of the uncertainty of a breaking voice. Small wonder that a child is under such handicaps tries to cover his confusion with a swagger. He is so afraid of betraying his ignorance that he claims to know everything. Expression of emotion leads into such unexpected crises that he assumes scorn of any feelings. He is brusque and gauche in speaking to grownups because he feels so inadequate.

Q. How high do the highest fireworks go up? What is the elapsed time between the setting of such fireworks and their explosion in the air? J. H. R.

A. National Fireworks, Inc., says that bomb shells go to a height of from 500 to 600 feet and the time fuse burns from 3 to 5 seconds. Rockets go up about 1,200 feet. Their ascending time is about 2 seconds.

Q. Do greyhounds bark while racing? D. W.

A. Whippets and greyhounds bark before the start, but do not bark while running.

Q. What pictures were the biggest money makers last year? B. C.

A. For the calendar year of 1935 and up to April 1, 1936, Mutiny on the Bounty led them all. Top Hat was second, Roberta and Midsummer Night's Dream tied for third place.

Q. What is Hitler's religious affiliation? W. H.

A. He was reared a Roman Catholic but at present is not affiliated with any church.

Q. What is the cost of a child's public school education for one year? J. E. W.

A. Based upon reports received from 312 city school systems in the United States, the Office of Educational Estimates that $96.19 is the average cost of one pupil's education per year.

Q. How many telephone directories are distributed by the Bell System? H. K. G.

A. It distributes annually to subscribers more than 25,000,000 copies of telephone directories.

Q. Do all popular orchestras engage arrangers? If so, what is the average cost? L. H. G.

A. Practically every major orchestra has a staff of arrangers specializing in various rhythm styles. Some orchestras pay as high as $50,000 a year to these artists. For smaller bands, $500 a week is an average.

Q. Please print the famous editorials of the Colville County, "Why Editors Never Get Rich." F. J.

A. Here it is: "When a child is born the attending physician gets $15; the editor who gives him the proper send-off gets $0.00. When it is christened the clergyman gets $10; the editor gets $0.00. When it is married, the clergyman gets $5.00; the editor gets $0.00 for his long-winded article about the 'beautiful and accomplished bride.' When he dies the doctor gets from $25.00 to $100.00, the undertaker gets from $100.00 to $200.00 and the editor gets $0.00 for the complimentary obituary."

Q. Is the widow of Carl Akeley, the explorer, living? L. J.

A. Mary L. Jobe Akeley is carrying on her husband's work in Africa. Her new book, Restless Jungle, describes her experiences in that country.

Q. How many people in the United States own insurance policies? What is the average amount carried? S. R. L.

A. Approximately 63,000,000 Americans are owners of one or more insurance policies. The average coverage is about $1,600.

So Much for Love

Chapter VII

It was indeed a closely-knit town, neither large nor small, into which John Courtney brought Helena—and to her alarm she discovered that the Henderson Department Store was easily the most impressive structure there. She was to learn that it was impressive not simply in size. True, it was not a large as Helvig's, where Helena had worked, but it was easily the biggest organization of its kind in its half of the state. And to the town, as well as to the surrounding farm families, it was a center of life. Women met their friends at Henderson's, had tea or lunch there. The store was more than just a place where they could buy almost anything they wanted.

"You can see from what I've said," Helena wrote her mother, "that I've had my hands full—and that I don't know yet just what to do. I'd thought of having you here with me, but the truth is I don't know whether I'll stay. I'm not living in the Henderson house. It's too big, and it frightens me. And I never could feel I had any business there. So I've taken a little apartment and I've hardly been out of it the last week. But today John Courtney telephoned and said he was coming over. I have to meet Peter's uncle, and a man from the bank."

She tried to keep from this letter to her mother the feeling of bewilderment, the frightened awe which she had at the Henderson house. It was not that she did not know that she had more than once considered escaping to the station and taking the first train—any train, as long as it was bound away from the town and the towering Henderson Department Store.

She had just sealed and stamped this letter when the bell of her apartment sounded. It must be Courtney, Helena thought with a sigh. Aloud, she said, "Come in."

"Turning from the little writing desk she confronted, not John Courtney, but Leah Frazier. The girl wore a smart tweed suit and a jaunty hat which Helena instinctively realized had come from Helvig's.

"Good morning, Miss Frazier," Helena faltered. "I'm awfully glad you called."

"This," answered Leah Frazier, "isn't precisely a call, Miss Derrick." She smiled coldly. "It is Helena Derrick, isn't it? I mean, you wouldn't quite call yourself Mrs. Peter Henderson, would you?"

Helena ignored the thrust. "Won't you sit down?"

"Thank you, no. I can state my business very briefly. I understand that you're going to meet Roger Barnes today."

"Roger Barnes managed the store for Peter, you know. I suppose you plan to turn everything over to him?"

Helena fingered the letter she had just written. "I'm not prepared just now to discuss my plans."

Leah Frazier's eyes glittered with sudden anger. She kept her voice level with an obvious effort. "Perhaps, however, you'll consider my advice."

"Perhaps." "My advice is that you relinquish all claim to Peter's estate. No doubt Mr. Barnes will be willing to make some compensation—say, a sum that would be reasonable under the circumstances."

"Apparently you've discussed the matter with him?"

"And who not? My people were among the founders of this town. I was a friend of Peter's and of his family. Obviously, you have neither the background nor education to even assist in the management of the store."

Helena smiled. "Perhaps not the background, if that's necessary. But I've worked in stores for quite a while. I think that might be a very good education for this job. With the advice of Mr. Courtney, and perhaps of someone from the bank—even from Mr. Barnes, if he wishes—to help—I might get along."

"You couldn't!" Leah retorted without control. "Everyone knows you tricked Peter into marriage—just so you might fall into this. I suppose you thought you played into great luck when he had the accident. I suppose—"

"That's enough, Miss Frazier!" Helena cried, facing her. "If everyone knows a story like that, it's only because you've spread it. Now will you please leave?"

The Frazier girl colored, held fast to her composure. "Yes, gladly. But in fairness, I'll warn you. If you attempt to stay in this town you'll wreck Peter's store in six months. I'll help you to do it."

"You'll help?" "I don't understand."

Leah Frazier smiled. "Yes, and so will all my friends. We'll boycott Henderson's Department Store, and we have accounts there now running into plenty of money. You don't know how fast a think like that can spread in a town such as this."

Helena gazed at her in sudden contempt. "You'd—you'd do a thing like that just to spite me? You'd try to smash Peter's store and hurt the town, just to—"

"Oh, it would come back," interrupted the Frazier girl. "After we got rid of you." She turned and left the apartment, slamming the door insolently.

When Courtney arrived he found Helena wrapped in a cold rage that had not subsided from the moment Leah Frazier had gone.

"The Frazier girl was just here," Helena told him. "She wants me to turn the store over to Barnes. And she says if I don't she'll boycott it."

"The lawyer pushed his lips. 'I was afraid of something like that. And there's another hurdle, too. Two discovered Barnes has been talking to the employes. He's warned them that if you take over you'll mismanage the place, put it out of business, and lose their jobs for them."

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—A lady mingly treading egg shells has nothing on Mae West, the champion of solid charms and curves, when she undertakes a new picture.

Mae substitutes her "swivel swing" for miming, but she doesn't break any egg shells, either. She has a set of rules, and when that West character steps on a sound stage, those rules are inviolate.

She is applying them currently on "Go West, Young Man," which is the new title (Hays office-imposed) for "Personal Appearance," a play which unaltered would not have received a production code certificate. There have been some changes made, of course, both for Mae and for the production code.

Mae's Own Code Rule No. 1 (in Mae's own code) is that her character never steals another woman's man.

No. 2 is that Mae can do practically anything to any character provided he or she is a heel—but if the other fellow's a good guy, Mae's tactics have to be on the level.

And No. 3 is to make no play for "sympathy."

All of them stem from the Westian realization that what she has to offer is different from the wares of other actresses. On the stage it was Mae who got the word "sex" into headlines when it couldn't go alone into advertising, and while her kidding treatment of it has been a screen sensation of this decade, she knows that the character requires skillful handling.

"Taking another woman's fellow, for instance," she says, "is something that'll get an audience down on you. They don't like it, and they decide you're an all-bad gal. I can't have that."

"I've even got to be careful what I say to a character the audience likes. They won't stand for having a good guy picked on. But when I romp on the other kind, that's fine. And as for what they call 'sympathy'—I don't want it. Don't want anybody feeling sorry for me. A lot of people raise a howl if they play parts that don't get the 'sympathy.' But not me. I figure if they give me the laughs they're with me, and that's what counts."

Mae takes care of those things in twisting the dialog to suit her needs. Of other things, too—like putting in a couple of men the play lacked.

"I figure I've got to give an audience what it expects," she says. "And I can't wait for several reels until a man comes in. Things have got to start happening right away or the audience'll sit back. I want to keep 'em leaning forward in their seats right from the start."

DANEY OR STEWART TO HURL AGAINST KANSAS CITY NEGROES TONIGHT

ANOTHER TILT TO BE PLAYED ON WEDNESDAY

AMARILLO TEAM WILL HAVE TO DISBAND FOR SEASON

Either Lee Daney or Carl Stewart will be on the mound tonight when the Pampa-Danciger Road Runners face the Kansas City Monarchs, negro world champions, in the first of a two-game series at Road Runner park. The same teams will meet again tomorrow night. Both games will be at 8:15 o'clock with admission 25 cents for women and 40 cents for men.

Manager Andy Cooper of the Monarchs is uncertain about his starting mound artist. He may take the job himself or turn it over to "Bullet" Rogan or "Speed" Kranton. Rogan still throws one of the fastest balls of the year. Kranton is a youngster with a bright future. Another member of two from the Amarillo team will be secured for the coming series. The team has no home now. Ancient Metro park burned to the ground Sunday night and will not be rebuilt. As a result, the Amarillo team will have to disband for the season.

Manager Sam Hale will have his regular lineup to throw against the negroes. His charges will be fighting to average a 3 to 0 defeat handed them by the Monarchs earlier in the season. Big Gene Ledford was the losing hurler although he pitched eight-hit ball. A change will be made in the Road Runner batting order for tonight. Manager Hale spent yesterday afternoon with a pencil doting out his line of offense. He was not satisfied with his work, however, and would make no definite statement excepting that Ross might replace him at the clean-up position. The Monarchs will not be the last negro team to appear here this season. On Thursday night at 8:15 o'clock and on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the famous Negro National league All Stars, featuring "Cool Papa" Bell, Howard Snow, Oscar Charleston, Walter Griffith and a host of others will be here for games with the Road Runners. Advance sale of adult tickets, at 40 cents, has been brisk. Duets may be purchased at the box office at Road Runner park tonight and tomorrow night or from Harold Miller at the Danciger Refineries east of the city.

Kansas City Monarchs Sooners Average 161 Pounds to Man, Weights Show

Above are pictured members of the Kansas City Monarchs, negro world champions, who will play the Pampa-Danciger Road Runners here tonight and tomorrow night at 8:15 o'clock. The Monarchs, on their way south following a season which has seen them win 96 games against 20 losses, will make their only Panhandle appearance in Pampa. The Road Runners will add three or four players for the series. The Negro National League All Stars, winners of the Denver Post tournament, will be here on Thursday night and Friday afternoon.

BRITISH AMATEUR CHAMPION MAKES IMPRESSION IN MEET

By BOB CAVAGNARO Associated Press Sports Writer GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Sept. 15.—As the second and last detachment of big guns wheeled into action in the second round of the U. S. amateur golf championship today, the topic on all tongues was the definitely dangerous threat of Scotland's Hector Thomson. By nightfall the original field of 210 will be reduced to 64. The British amateur champion made a deep impression on American critics as he carved a machine-like 7 and 6 victory over John Roberts of Columbus, O., yesterday. They concede him a good chance of becoming the first Briton to win the American title since Harold Hilton's triumph 25 years ago. Johnny Goodman, Albert (Scotty) Campbell of Seattle and Reynolds Smith of Dallas, the American favorites, all survived the opening test although Campbell gave his adherents some concern by trailing at various stages before hitting his winning stride. Campbell and Smith were scheduled for "breathers" today, but Goodman was matched against the erstwhile sledge gun and former titleholder, Jesse Guileford of Boston. The terrifying traps and narrow fairways of the par 73 Garden City course made many faces crimson yesterday. Only 38 players out of 164 broke 40 on the first nine, whereas par for the first nine was either equalled or broken by six shotmakers. Smith leading the small group with an outgoing 35-two under. Only two contestants, Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati and Tommy Tailer of New York, finished their matches under par. They were one under regulation, figures for 13 holes each.

WICHITA FALLS GIRLS TEAM WILL PLAY TODAY

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Twenty-five survivors of 15 solid hours of play yesterday turned out early today to resume competition for the 1936 national men's and women's softball championships. The men's division competitors had been reduced to four teams, with Chicago and Cleveland, two favorites, paired in the first quarter finals game. Two no hit performances were turned in yesterday by Cameron Eccleston of Toronto, whose team eliminated Pueblo, Colo., 5 to 0, and Lefty Cummings of Imperial Valley, Calif., 3-0 victor over Charlotte, N.C. The defending champion Cleveland women's team headed 11 survivors in their division. Cleveland drew a second round bye and was scheduled to meet the winner of a tussle between Wichita Falls, Texas, and another Cleveland team, in the third round.

TEXAS LEAGUE PLAYOFF WILL BEGIN TONIGHT

DALLAS AND HOUSTON WILL BOTH PLAY IN OKLAHOMA

(By The Associated Press) Possibility of an all-Oklahoma series for the championship of the Texas league was discussed by Sooners fans today as two Texas baseball teams moved into Oklahoma for the opening games of the Shaughnessy play-off.

The only Oklahoma clubs in the loop start the semi-finals tonight on their home lots—Oklahoma City's Indians, defending champs, meeting the pace-setting Dallas Steers and the Tulsa Oilers entertaining the Houston Buffaloes.

The semi-final series will be three-out-of-five, with the two victorious clubs meeting in the four-out-of-seven series for the league championship and the right to meet the Southern Association champions in the annual Dixie series.

Manager Bert Niehoff named Hugo Klaerner to start on the mound for Oklahoma City in the play-off opener. Fred Marberry was expected to be Manager Alex Gaston's choice as the Steers' starting hurler. Both are right-handers. Marberry has beaten the Tribe three times this season and hasn't lost once to the 1935 titleholders. Klaerner holds four victories over the Steers but he also has three defeats charged against him in the games with Dallas.

Tommy Seals, southpaw ace of the Houston mound staff, will face Irvin Stein, a right-hander, tonight at Tulsa. Seals, who hasn't lost to Tulsa all season, has beaten the Oilers three times. Stein holds only one victory over Houston against three losses to the Buffs. The four clubs are scheduled to move into Texas Thursday night after games at Oklahoma City and Tulsa tomorrow night. If a fifth game is necessary in the Houston-Tulsa series, it also will be played at Houston Saturday night. Dallas and Oklahoma City will flip a coin to decide the site of the Saturday night game if a fifth contest is required.

(AP)—A full grown domesticated wild duck hen was overcome by water in her own front yard here last night. The duck, two years old, never had seen more than enough water to wade in, Raymond Bennett, owner, said. He believes the fowl drowned when it was awakened and tried to swim as a 12-inch downpour descended here. Its body was drifted up against a fence when Bennett surveyed the rain results this morning.

AUBURN GRID ELEVEN WILL BE ON 'SPOT'

TEAM HAS 12 SENIORS, HEADED BY SOUTH'S BEST, GILBERT

AUBURN, Ala., Sept. 15.—Auburn, after years of gunning for upset football victories, suddenly finds itself this season on the spot as southeastern conference favorite. Chief reasons for Auburn's return to prominence in Coach Jack Meagher's third season are 12 seniors, headed by Walter Gilbert, 200-pound center who was voted the south's best last year.

The Tigers' first string roster lists only seniors, with the exception of the halfbacks, Jimmie Fenton and Billy Hitchcock, who plugged the same gaps as sophomores last season. Tackle and fumble material is inadequate for the grueling schedule Auburn faces this fall, largely due to the loss of Haywood Patterson, all-southeastern tackle, and Buny O'Rourke, fullback. Herbert Roton will fill the gap at tackle, with Willard Kilgore stepping into the fullback job. Reserves for these "gap-closers" are scarce. The Tiger line, built around Gilbert, is streamlined for speed, but rugged enough to handle bruising assignments. The forwards average 187 pounds.

The offensive burden will fall to Billy Hitchcock and Jimmie Fenton. Hitchcock, brother to Auburn's all-American Jimmy of 1932, will handle the punting, passing, and share the running duties from left halfback. Fenton, not so versatile, is a dangerous ball carrier. The schedule: Sept. 25—Birmingham-Southern at Montgomery (night game); Oct. 3—Tulane at New Orleans; 10—Tennessee at Knoxville; 17—Detroit at Detroit; 24—Georgia at Columbus, Ga.; 31—Santa Clara at San Francisco; Nov. 7—Georgia Tech at Atlanta; 14—Louisiana State at Birmingham; 21—Loyola of New Orleans at Auburn; 28—Florida at Montgomery.

BACK TO COAST COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 15.—Tony Prietas, 26, left-handed pitching star with Sacramento of the Pacific Coast league when Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics bought him for $25,000 in 1932, went back to the Coast League team today through outright sale by the Columbus club of the American association.

PEOPLE STARVE 'EATING FULL MEALS,' CLAIM

X Factor and Protein Starvation Are Described

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 15 (AP)—People who starve eating full meals were described at a symposium on "nutrition and deficiency diseases" held at Harvard medical school today as part of the Harvard centenary.

Two newly recognized causes of this starvation were explained. One is a mysterious "x factor" believed to be a still unidentified stomach secretion, which some persons lack. Another is protein starvation.

Dr. Minot asserted the medical world here and abroad is excited about the "x factor." Its discoverer, William B. Castle, M. D., associate professor of medicine at Harvard, said that lack of this digestive secretion results in pernicious anemia, sprue, a tropical and occasional northern disease in which fat is not digested, pellagra and "less well defined conditions."

Chester M. Jones, M. D., assistant professor of medicine, Harvard, reported any of several causes of swelling of the lower limbs and tendency to abnormal accumulations of water in tissues. Two common causes of protein starvation in "civil life," said Dr. Jones, are bad economic conditions and constitutional susceptibility.

BERNARD SHAW WOULD BAR CATHOLICS FROM SEEING HIS ST. JOAN

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP)—George Bernard Shaw told the editor of the New York Times in a letter published today that the Catholic action had censored a film scenario of his play, "St. Joan," and he protested the actions as "meddling by amateur busybodies."

"I find myself presented with certain specific requisitions from the actions," the Irish dramatist wrote, "to be complied with on pain of having all Roman Catholics forbidden to witness an exhibition of my 'St. Joan' film."

His 3,000-word letter referred to the action as "a body pretending to represent the Vatican without the much knowledge of Catholicism as a village grave-digger."

He cannot accept this "pretension," the letter said, because the action "has neither the knowledge nor the manners to sustain such a part. It is as obvious to the United States constitution as any of the features of the New Deal forbidden by the Supreme court. It has no legal authority to enforce its vetoes."

"Yet it has brought all the Hollywood financiers and corporations to their knees by the threat that if they dare to produce a film banned by it, not one of the 20,000,000 Catholics in the United States will be allowed to cross the threshold of any picture house exhibiting it."

Elizabeth Bergner, who appeared on Broadway in "Eschscholmeyer," is playing the title role in the film, which went into production Aug. 31 in England.

Question About CARDUI

HOW IT HELPS WOMEN "Who takes Cardui?" Women who are run-down, weakened, nervous, from not getting sufficient strength from the food they eat—Thousands and thousands have found that Cardui increased their appetite, improved their digestion, thereby promoting better nourishment and the consequent strengthening of the whole system.

And women who have suffered from functional pains of menstruation have found that, by taking Cardui just before and during the periods, this purely vegetable sedative and antispasmodic seemed to save them much discomfort. This action of Cardui is highly esteemed because the relief credited to it comes in an entirely beneficial way. Cardui is purely vegetable; nothing in it to be afraid of.

HITLER IS FEARFUL OF SPREAD OF BOLSHIEVISM

NURNBERG, Germany, Sept. 15 (AP)—The spread of bolshevism in Europe, Adolf Hitler believes, will plunge the continent into "a sea of blood."

"I watch with fearful anxiety the developments in Europe," the German chancellor declared in the closing speech of the annual national socialist convention last night.

"I have seen this danger clearly but I do not belong to those who faint at the sight of it," the fuhrer told thousands of applauding nazis.

"We are entering a great period of history—a period in which not the wisecracks but the brave will come out on top."

gate assembly, which half filled the city auditorium with its 12,000 seats, an estimated 25,000 war veteran guests, also here for the convention, found diversion throughout the city.

Van Zandt told the delegates veterans should regard themselves "as the world's number one pacifists because we are ready to fight, if necessary, to convince other nations that our demands for peace must be respected."

He reiterated it is the policy of the VFW not to ask for pensions or financial aid for able bodied former soldiers and said he "looked to this encampment to tell the nation, in no uncertain terms that we are asking nothing for those are physically well."

plete republican swing from four years of democratic control in Maine. The electorate turned out in a record vote exceeding 300,000.

In addition to White, the state elected a Republican governor and three republican congressmen; a new legislature, which convenes in January, and minor state and county officials.

Riding to power on the crest of the record vote were Lewis O. Barrow, republican candidate for governor, and the party's three nominees to the House—James C. Oliver in the first district, Clyde H. Smith in the second, and incumbent Rep. Ralph O. Brewster in the third.

All three bore endorsement of the Townsend old age pension group. White attacks New Deal.

Behind the tide of ballots was an intensive campaign of bitter partisanship claims and recriminations. White and the entire ticket he headed campaigned directly on a platform calling for repudiation of Rooseveltian policy.

Republicans declared "the eyes of the nation are on Maine" in urging a republican victory as an endorsement of the party presidential nominee; Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas, who lent his own presence to the campaign in a Portland address Saturday night, seeking support for the party's candidates.

Even more colorful than in previous years. White numerals and white web belts will add a dash of light to the flashy red-and-black silk of the football goals. Another bit of color is to be added in the form of scarlet helmets, an innovation on the Raider squad this year.

The Little Harvester

VOL. 6 PAMPA, TEXAS, TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1936 NO. 2

PEP SQUAD CHOOSES LEADERS FOR 1936-37; MEMBERSHIP OF ORGANIZATION MORE THAN 200

GORILLAS WILL PLAY TIGERS IN OPENING GAME

Squad Is Larger and Heavier Than Many Previous Teams

In preparation for their opening game of the season against Groom Friday, the Gorillas, forty strong, are practicing daily at Harvester park under the direction of Coach Robert W. Curry.

This year's squad, one of the largest in the school's history, is also much stronger in weight and experience than many previous Gorilla teams. Coach Curry said yesterday that the line averages about 160 pounds, being heavier and slightly more efficient than the backfield.

The probable line-up for Friday's game is: Jack Cunningham and Hilton Crane, ends; Tommie Solomon and Carl Brown, tackles; Harold Wisely and Oliver Cashaw, guards; Welby Parish, center, and Melvin Watkins, J. W. Kidwell, Alonzo Hubert, Warren McDoniel, and Elmer Esslinger, backs.

Other boys fighting for places on the team are: Doyle Auld, Lewis Roberson, Jiggs McDonald, Paul Harrell, Paul Gavin, Robert Maddrell, Bob Andis, DeWitt Henry, Orville Carpenter, Marc McEner, Farrington Lewis, Clarence Cunningham, Robert McDoniel, Jack Crout, Denver Hubert, Floyd Gwinn, Howard Hoover, Raymond Palmittier, Francis Schwind, Russell Jones, Omar Harrell, Joe Isbell, Iven Stokes, LeRoy Fisher, and Kenneth Kyle.

F. F. A. Boys Meet Wednesday Night

Members of the Pampa chapter of F. F. A. held their first meeting of the school year Wednesday evening in the high school building.

Plans were discussed for securing 100 per cent affiliation with the state and national organizations of the Future Farmers of America. The club at present has the possibility of having a membership of 165 boys, which would be an increase of 22 over the membership this time last year.

Junior McKay was elected temporary chairman. He appointed Jack Cunningham, Rex Shearer and Leon Holmes to serve as a committee to nominate three persons for each of the offices to be filled.

Members present at the initial meeting were: Darrell Coker, Ed Cassada, Calvin Stidham, Paul Luttrell, Jack Cunningham, Alton Hinson, A. P. Coombes, Rex Shearer, A. C. Miller, Jimmie Giddens, Bertie Vaughn, Leon Holmes, Paul Gregory, C. W. Smith, Vernon Thomas, Raymond Palmittier, John E. Edwin McConnell, Raymond Johnson, Freeman Sullivan, Mack Randolph, Junior McKay, Clyde Perkins, Jimmie Hill, Bill Plato, and Ben Herr.

Change Is Made in Locker System of Pampa High School

Introduction of a new locker system took place with the opening of the fall term of school, with Doyle F. Osborne as the faculty member in charge.

Under this system lockers were assigned to students during registration, and all the various types of locks used by students in the past were outlawed, a standard combination lock having been selected by school authorities. This lock is sold by the book store for $1, with 50 cents being refunded if the students care to turn the lock in at the end of the year.

It has been recommended that students retain their locks until they graduate, since that will be more economical than the securing of a new lock each year.

One pass key which will open all the locks is in the possession of Mr. Osborne. Authorities reserve the right to examine any locker at any time.

Adoption of this policy was prompted by the desire to eliminate the numerous annoyances that existed in the past and to protect student property.

Mary Adams, Pauline Gregory to Assist New Leaders

Election of pep squad leaders for the year to replace Friday afternoon in the high school gymnasium when members of the organization chose six girls from the 16 who had previously been nominated. The result of the election was confirmed by a faculty committee which passed upon the choices of the girls' voting.

Those elected were Betty Blythe and Dorothy Jo Moore, seniors, and Frances Coffey, Inez Hawkins, Jean Gillespie, and Jackie Bragg, juniors.

The leaders chosen will be assisted by two of last year's leaders, Mary Adams and Pauline Gregory, who are in school. Miss Adams is taking post-graduate work, while Miss Gregory is a senior. Regular leaders may serve only one year.

Others who were nominated were Helen Arnold, Pauline Barrett, Charlotte Watson, Helen Miller, Peggy Stephens, Martha Price, Ruby Scalf, Colleen McMahon, Betty Ann McTaggart, and Ethel Wilder.

The squad, which now has more than 200 members, is doing intensive work this week in preparation for its first public appearance this year when the Harvesters take the field Friday evening against the Central High team from Oklahoma City.

Miss Angela Strnad and Mrs. E. L. Norman, who have sponsored the organization in the past, are being assisted this year by Miss Helen Martin.

While no definite line-up has been announced, it is likely that the game's start will see Roy Lee Jones, Lewis Jones, J. P. Matthews, Ivan Noblitt, Sherman Morgan, Earl Rice, and Glen Maxey in the line, while the backfield line-up will probably be chosen from Woodrow Woodridge, J. W. Graham, Doyle Enloe, Boyd Owens, Albert Ayer, and Roy Showers.

Others who may see action in the game are: Williams, Turner, Haggard, McMahon, Clements, Johnson, Smith, Dedmon, Nelson, Stevens, Harding, and Stiles.

With the strength of this year's Harvesters team yet a matter of conjecture, fans are expected to be out in full force Friday evening to see how the light Pampa team measures up.

UNIVERSITIES IN ALL PARTS OF NATION REPRESENTED IN LOCAL SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL FACULTY

Group's Scholarship Attested by 43 Degrees

With a faculty of 28 men and women under the supervision of Supt. R. B. Fisher and Principal L. L. Sone Pampa senior high school ranks favorably with schools anywhere in the strength of its teachers as judged by their college and university training.

A survey of office records reveals that high standards have been upheld in the election of the administrative and teaching staffs of the high school. A total of at least 43 degrees have been conferred upon the 30 men and women included in the staffs.

All members of the faculty hold degrees and most of them either hold graduate degrees or have done graduate work.

Supt. Fisher has had an M. A. degree conferred upon him by Columbia university and has done work toward his doctorate in the same institution.

L. L. Sone, principal, holds a B. S. degree from W. T. S. T. C. and has done graduate work in the University of Southern California.

E. N. Dennard, assistant principal, took his B. S. at Trinity university and has done graduate work at S. M. U.

Other faculty members, by departments, follow. No attempt is made to list graduate work except where degrees have been conferred.

Public speaking: Kenneth Carman, B. A., Illinois Wesleyan university, M. A., Northwestern university.

Music: Winston Savage, B. S., W. T. S. T. C.; Miss Helen Martin, B. S., Syracuse university, M. M., University of Washington.

Quartets and Trios Need Recruits

More boys and girls are needed for quartets and trios, Miss Helen Martin, of the music department, said yesterday.

Miss Martin already has arranged a girls' trio and a boys' quartet, and she is planning to have several organizations of each type if a sufficient number of students are interested.

The girls' glee club this semester, though not so large as it was last year, has just as good material, Miss Martin said. The group is now working on popular and classical numbers. Students who are interested in participating in musical work have been asked to see Miss Martin.

GRID SQUAD IS PREPARING FOR CENTRAL TEAM

Probable Line-Up in Season Opener Is Given

Full of fight and determined to give a good account of themselves, the 1936 Pampa Harvester football squad is going through intensive workouts daily in preparation for its opening clash with Central High, of Oklahoma City, Friday night on Harvester field.

While no definite line-up has been announced, it is likely that the game's start will see Roy Lee Jones, Lewis Jones, J. P. Matthews, Ivan Noblitt, Sherman Morgan, Earl Rice, and Glen Maxey in the line, while the backfield line-up will probably be chosen from Woodrow Woodridge, J. W. Graham, Doyle Enloe, Boyd Owens, Albert Ayer, and Roy Showers.

Others who may see action in the game are: Williams, Turner, Haggard, McMahon, Clements, Johnson, Smith, Dedmon, Nelson, Stevens, Harding, and Stiles.

With the strength of this year's Harvesters team yet a matter of conjecture, fans are expected to be out in full force Friday evening to see how the light Pampa team measures up.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN PLAY WILL BE STAGED BY PROFESSIONAL CAST AT ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

Series of 5 Lyceum Numbers To Be Staged Here

Staging of the great Abraham Lincoln drama, a three-act production, by a full professional cast headed by Albert Russell as the emancipator will feature the high school assembly program at 2 o'clock tomorrow.

Tomorrow's dramatic production will be the first of a series of five lyceum numbers scheduled to be presented here during the year for the benefit of the high school students under the management of National Assemblies, according to Ernest Cabé, chairman of the local assembly program committee.

In addition to Mr. Russell's appearance in the role of Lincoln, Donald Hayes will play the part of General Grant, Marion Reed will appear as Anne Rutledge, and Jane Raymond will be seen as Mrs. Lincoln. The play carries the audience through the dark days of '65, the production, which has been staged in more than 1000 schools in the past three years, comes here highly recommended.

A fee of 10 cents will be charged high school students who attend. Adults who wish to attend may do so if there is room. Mr. Cabé said yesterday. Admission for them will be 30 cents.

Other programs scheduled for the year include Jams Williams' popular scientific demonstration of the wonders of liquid air, which will be given here November 24; Prof. Lewis Hoskins' demonstration, on January 8, of modern wonders of electricity, a program which is said to be made up of highlights from the Hall of Science at the Century of Progress exposition; Orendo's Magicians, to appear here March 1; and Jack Rank, who will stage "The Vienna Express," a three-act drama.

With the strength of the Oklahoma team makes it a formidable opponent, the Harvester tradition and the fighting spirit of the new local squad plus the tutelage of Coaches Mitchell and Prejean are expected to make the contest a close one.

BAND PREPARES TO APPEAR AT GRIDIRON CLASH

Marching Practice Is Started; 65 Are On Roll

The Harvester band will make its first appearance of the year at Harvester park Friday night when the local football team opens its season with a game with Central High of Oklahoma City.

Director Winston Savage yesterday expressed himself as being highly pleased with the band's prospects. Considerable practice was had by members of the organization during the summer, and no time was lost in continuing their work at the opening of school this year.

The bandsmen had their first marching practice Wednesday afternoon. There are 65 students taking band this year, a number which far exceeds that of any previous year. From this group, a 40-piece marching band will be made up.

Arvo Goddard, who is playing in the band for his third year, was elected president of the organization Thursday afternoon. Jack Allison, another veteran member, was elected vice president. Rose La Williams was chosen as secretary-treasurer.

The band will make many public appearances here during the year and will probably make a number of trips to appear on programs elsewhere.

Sponsors, Coaches Are Announced for Student Activities

Principal L. L. Sone announced yesterday the sponsors and coaches who will guide high school students in their various activities this year.

In the field of physical education and athletics, Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejean will coach Harvester teams, while Robert W. Curry will tutor the Gorillas; B. G. Gordon and Miss Kathleen Milam will be in charge of boys' and girls' tennis; J. L. Lester will coach volleyball; Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Curry will supervise boys' physical education classes, and Miss Milam will teach physical education for girls.

Mrs. Hol Wagner will be faculty sponsor for the annual, and Delmer Ashworth will supervise work on the Little Harvester.

Miss Angela Strnad, Mrs. E. L. Norman, and Miss Helen Martin will be in charge of the pep squad. Winston Savage will direct band and orchestra work, and Miss Mar-

Students to Stage One-Act Plays for City Organizations

One-act plays will be staged before groups over the city in the near future by students of dramatics and public speaking.

Local organizations who desire to have entertainments provided may have their need filled through the student productions. The plays and the casts are yet to be picked.

While the students have had little experience, they will be assisted by Colleen McMahon, Mary Adams, and other students who have taken active part in school plays in previous years. The work will be under the direction of Kenneth Carman, new head of the public speaking department.

Senior High School PTA to Have First Executive Meeting

The first executive meeting of the Senior high school P-T-A during the current school year was scheduled to be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in room 204 in the high school building.

Mrs. N. F. Madoux is the 1936-37 president of the organization. Other officers are: Mrs. W. E. Hutchinson, vice president; Mrs. J. C. Richey, treasurer; Mrs. R. W. Lane, secretary; Mrs. Roy Kilgore, historian, and Mrs. Frank McAfee and Mrs. I. W. Spangler, city delegates.

Paul Jensen Talks To Student Groups

Various methods of refrigeration were explained to a number of high school students yesterday when Paul Jensen, of the Gray County creamery talked to Miss Angela Strnad's third-hour home economics class and J. L. Lester's third-hour agriculture students.

Ice-making with ammonia, electric refrigeration, refrigeration by dry ice, and air conditioning were explained by Mr. Jensen.
