What are you going to do with worldly possessions after you are all washed up with life? ... Wealthy men ponder the question...

Leaving the world behind is not such an unpleasant business, if it weren't for the thoughts of what is going to happen to the things and persons you leave on this side of the shore.

They will connive, scheme and do things to make you turn over in your grave—you can bet your last nickel on that. Greedy, grasping and selfish, that's what you can figure most of them will be.

We like very much the sentiment in a copy of the will of "Charles Lounsberry," an inmate of the poor house, which was handed to us today for perusal.

"Lounsberry" like the rest of us, knew he was to die. He had no money nor property. Still, he was a wealthy man and he knew it.

"I, Charles Lounsberry, being of sound and disposing mind and memory, do hereby make and publish my last will and testament in order to distribute my interest in the world among succeeding men.

"That part of my interest which is known in law as my property, being inconsiderable and of no account, I make no disposition of my right to live, being but a life estate, is not at my disposal, but these things excepted, all else in the world I now proceed to devise and bequeath.

"Item: I give to good fathers and mothers, and to the fathers of their children, all good little words of praise and encouragement, and all quaint pet names and endearments; and I charge said parents to use them justly, but generously, as the deeds of their children shall require.

"Item: I leave to children inactively, but only for the term of their childhood, all and every flower of the field and the blossoms of the woods, with the right to play among them freely according to the custom of children, warning them at the same time against thistles and thorns.

"Item: I devise to boys, jointly, all the useful idle fields and commons where ball may be played, all pleasant waters where one may swim, all snow-clad hills where one may coast, and all streams and ponds where one may fish.

"Item: To lovers, I devise their imaginary world, with whatever they may need, as the stars of the sky, the red roses, the hickories, the locusts of the hawthorn, the sweet strains of music, and aught else they may desire to figure to each other the lastings and beauty of their love.

"Item: To young men jointly, I bequeath all the hot-steaming, inspiring sports of rivalry, and I give to them the disdain of weakness, and undaunted confidence in their own strength.

"Item: And to those who are no longer children or youths, or lovers, I leave memory; and bequeath to See COLUMN, Page 5

POPE CRITICIZES FATHER COUGHLIN

REPORT GIVEN BY BISHOP IS TERMED FALSE

VATICAN DISAPPROVES OF VICIOUS ATTACK ON ROOSEVELT

VATICAN CITY, Sept. 2 (AP)—The Osservatore Romano, authoritative Vatican organ, today publicly criticized Father Charles E. Coughlin's recent speech assailing President Roosevelt as 'a liar and betrayer.'

Prelates, however, said Father Coughlin was free to continue his political activities, provided he does not denounce public authority.

The Osservatore Romano editorial, which prelates said was not to be considered official or semi-official, stated:

"In some American newspapers it has been said that when Bishop Gallagher (Bishop Michael J. Gallagher of Detroit) was in Rome he was given to understand the Holy See approved completely the activities of Father Coughlin."

"That is not true, Bishop Gallagher knows very well what was said to him on that matter. 'The Holy See wishes to respect all liberties and all conveniences. It is extremely notable that an orator offends when he inveighs against persons who represent supreme social authority, with the evident danger of disturbing the respect due the authorities themselves by the people.'

"The inconvenience is greater as well as more evident when the speaker is a priest." In high Vatican circles, it was stressed the Osservatore comment did not mean the Vatican wholly disapproved of the Detroit radio priest.

The Vatican, it was said, approved the work Father Coughlin has done in interpreting the Pope's encyclicals on economic matters to the public.

However, high sources said, the Vatican disapproves Father Coughlin's attack on President Roosevelt as an attack on a constituted authority.

The Vatican, as the Osservatore comment pointed out, does not want to see the respect of the masses for their authorities shaken by such attacks.

The prelates also made it plain the comment was not directed, in any sense, against Bishop Gallagher, but against reports which represented the bishop as saying the Holy See approved Father Coughlin's political activities.

Father Coughlin has issued an apology for his remarks, with President 'a liar and betrayer' in an address before the Townsend plan convention in Cleveland. He said he spoke of 'Candidate Roosevelt' and not of the President of the United States.

The recent visit to the Pope of Bishop Michael J. Gallagher of Detroit, Father Coughlin's ecclesiastical superior, gave rise to reports that the radio priest might be reprimanded.

However, Bishop Gallagher, following his audience with President Pius, declared the Pontiff had not so much as mentioned the Coughlin case.

Vatican prelates, nevertheless, have stated the Holy See was far from pleased with the incident. Father Coughlin was in New York to greet Bishop Gallagher upon his return from Rome tomorrow. He has told reporters that whatever the wishes of the Vatican might be, he would be "only too happy" to accede to them.

The sources which disclosed preparation of the Osservatore's editorial stated the draft said: "For several days it has been said that when Bishop Gallagher was in Rome he was given to understand the Holy See approved completely the activities of Father Coughlin. 'That is not true, Bishop Gal-

Oil Well Near LeFors Has Potential Of 2,775 Barrels

JAPAN DECIDES NOT TO SCRAP SHIP SINKERS

LONDON, Sept. 2 (AP)—Japan formally disclosed today intentions of having a submarine strength one-third superior to that of either the United States or Great Britain. In a note, the Japanese signified they expected to retain 15,598 tons of submarines in excess of either of the other powers.

LONDON, Sept. 2 (AP)—Japan, in a formal note, today announced it intended to retain 15,598 tons of submarines in excess of the United States and Great Britain.

Under the terms of the pact, Japan, had it desired, could have added 28,000 tons in great ships, instead, the Japanese elected to substitute retention of 15,598 tons of submarines which were due to be scrapped as average at the end of the year.

Under the treaty, Britain, the United States and Japan are allowed 22,700 tons of submarines each. But, by today's proposal, the Japanese will increase their submarine strength to nearly 68,300 tons.

Under the Escalator clause, any situation that would threaten national security to be jeopardized may increase its naval strength in any classification by notification to the other signers, who, in turn, are allowed to make proportionate increases.

The question arose here today, however, whether Japan was entitled (See NO. 1, Page 5)

Well at City Limits Here Watched Eagerly

One of the Panhandle's largest producers of the year has been completed by the Warner Oil company whose No. 2 Jeannie Chapman, located 330 feet from the south and 990 feet from the west line of the south half of the northeast quarter of section 69, block 25, Gray County, was given a potential of 2,775 barrels daily by the Railroad commission yesterday.

Pay was in the lime formation from 2,645 to 2,652 feet, total depth of the hole initial production was estimated at nearly 175 barrels. The flow was shut in for connections before a test could be made.

The well is located in a small pay southeast of LeFors in central Gray county.

Another Gray county test being watched with interest is the Jake Phillips No. 1 Finley located in the southwest corner of the northeast quarter of section 195, block 3, less than 1 1/2 miles south of the city limits of Pampa.

Pays were located at 3,236 to 3,245 and from 3,265 to 3,295 feet in Dolomite formation. Total depth is 3,205 feet. A shot of 420 quarts of nitro was placed from 3,233 to 3,293 feet with 400 feet of oil in the hole. Setting of 6-inch casing is in progress.

The bridge will not be drilled from the hole until the casing has been set. The test is estimated good for at least 300 barrels.

Three offsets will have to be drilled by the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company, Cree and Hoover and the Sinclair-Prairie Oil company.

The new test is a half mile east of product n. (See NO. 4, Page 5)

Continued Delay In Borger Road Work Indicated

Little encouragement was given today to a Pampa delegation which went to Amarillo and conferred with WPA officials to speed up work on the Pampa-Borger highway.

Practically no hope was given to the committee that any immediate change could be made in the methods which have been delaying progress of construction work.

A committee comprised of Garret Reeves, secretary of the Pampa Board of City Development; James Collins, chairman of the board's highway committee, and Tex Weese, of the Pampa News, conferred for two hours this forenoon with A. A. Meredith, district WPA supervisor, and his assistants.

The committee gained the promise from Meredith and other WPA officials that WPA would do everything possible to keep the job going. (See NO. 2, Page 5)

Fascists Also Claim Victories at Irun

(By The Associated Press) Determined waves of rebel troops stormed and captured government trenches outside of Irun today, gaining a clear path to the suburbs of that besieged north Spanish city.

But at Madrid, the socialist government announced its fighters had found and destroyed a secret armory from which the fascist rebels have been conducting aerial raids on the capital.

In Paris, the Spanish woman deputy, La Passonaria, made a stentent appeal for French aid, declaring European neutrality to be a sanction against democracy.

Officials of the Italian embassy followed the lead of Germany in transferring their quarters from Madrid to Alicante, southeastern Spanish port, where their battalions can assure protection.

Diplomats accredited to Madrid, now stalled on the Franco-Spanish border, announced today they had established communication with both the Spanish government and the rebel "capital" in their efforts to check atrocities of the war.

While the fascist rebels hurled artillery fire anew at the Irun defenders, 100,000 government militiamen shouted defiance at rebel air raiders from the streets of Madrid.

The military at Madrid marching through streets, bombarded almost daily since last Friday night, raised clenched fists in the rebel salute in graphic defiance of the rebel thrust: "Surrender or we shall punish!"

Urgent land, sea and air forces awaited the lifting of a fog to shower steel anew on the defenders of Irun, Biscay Bay city near the Franco-Spanish border.

The government held Irun with a single battalionscared ridge, were cheered by news that a new armory at LePons, Sebastian was being rushed to completion as a base for Madrid's warplanes.

Only the fog, the government leaders said, frustrated a "final" assault on the long-besieged city of Oviedo in the northern mining country.

In Madrid, where the government said anti-aircraft guns and plane detectors had thus far balked important success for rebel air raiders, officials announced victorious sorties by government planes on several insurgent strongholds.

Indalecio Prieto, socialist "strong man," declared the fascist rebels had lost confidence and "the war is now stationary."

The rebels, in Burgos, opened a recruiting campaign to swell their white-clad cohorts, stationed on a French mountain were signaling government gunners near Irun.

MADRID, Sept. 2 (AP)—A secret raid from which Fascist planes operated in attacking Madrid today destroyed today, the government reported.

The air squadron "Espana" from Cuatro Vientos field at Madrid destroyed the fascist hangars, hidden in a large pine forest of the mountains outside Madrid.

The government squadron, under way at dawn on its mission of destruction, sighted four tri-motor (Junkers) and two pursuit planes, gasoline tanks and two hangars in the mountain redoubt.

Swooping downward, the government fighters destroyed the hangars.

Committee Is Given Little Hope at Amarillo

Little encouragement was given today to a Pampa delegation which went to Amarillo and conferred with WPA officials to speed up work on the Pampa-Borger highway.

Practically no hope was given to the committee that any immediate change could be made in the methods which have been delaying progress of construction work.

A committee comprised of Garret Reeves, secretary of the Pampa Board of City Development; James Collins, chairman of the board's highway committee, and Tex Weese, of the Pampa News, conferred for two hours this forenoon with A. A. Meredith, district WPA supervisor, and his assistants.

The committee gained the promise from Meredith and other WPA officials that WPA would do everything possible to keep the job going.

Members of the committee hoped to learn why more men could not be placed on the job, at least enough to fill the assignment quota as permitted under the project set-up. They also sought to determine if it is not possible for WPA or the state highway department to furnish transportation for Gray county men employed on the job in Carson county.

They were told that regulations and rules of WPA are such that it is impossible to speed the work any, and that there is no provision for transporting the Gray county men to and from the job.

The project assignment calls for 60 men to be employed in Hutchinson county and for an equal number to be employed on the road work in Carson county at the present time. (See NO. 2, Page 5)

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM Notes on the opening of school, to be elaborated upon later:

The teacher looking rather gaunt from the rigors of last year's term goes back to classes. She is the least-appreciated and most criticized. Let us try to treat her as a human being and remember that he who is without fault may cast the first stone.

It is 7:30 o'clock this morning and here comes a boy to enroll on the first day of school. He is whistling and his hands are in his pants pockets. He is Bennett (Britches) Wray, and he is glad school is going to start.

Here comes Bill Coons with a new hair cut (rinktums) and that boy you see all dressed up over there is Doug Keyser.

His manners are certainly polished today. Yes, all the kids will be nice today except the smart alecks.

Missing in the high school cafeteria and in the lineups of athletic teams will be Moose Hartman and Stokes Green, and intimates may rejoice to know that although they were mad at each other all summer and refused to speak to each other they bumped into each other and made up. They left Saturday for Schreiner Institute where they will play with their eyes on Rice Institute.

SLAYING CASE OF SCRAPPIN' VALLEY OPENS

NEWTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—Scrappin' Valley's strange slaying case went to trial today with Albert Williams the first of three defendants to be prosecuted.

DETAILS OF STRANGE SLAYING WILL BE DESCRIBED

Murder charges developed from the finding of a skeleton buried under a lonely road outside the Little East Texas community of Scrappin' Valley. It was four years after the killing before charges were filed and another year elapsed before any arrests were made.

Investigating officers said the three suspects claimed Pete Wells, father of Vernon, shot Ridgeway and forced the three to aid him in burying the slain man.

The courtroom here was crowded today when the Williams case, delayed from last March because of an influenza epidemic, was called. About 50 witnesses had been summoned.

District Attorney Hollis Kinard did not indicate what penalty the state would ask in event of conviction.

Liquor dealers, officers believed, led to the Ridgeway slaying.

TWO-DAY COURT TERM IS HELD IN ROBERTS

District Judge W. R. Ewing yesterday afternoon adjourned one of the briefest terms of court in his long occupancy of the judge's chair Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Judge Ewing called 31st district court to order in the Roberts county court house at Miami. He addressed the grand jurors, instructing them to investigate all criminal cases presented before them. Then he called the docket and set suits for Tuesday.

On Tuesday morning the grand jury reported that they had duly met, but that no criminal cases were on the docket. They were dismissed. A civil suit was then called for trial. It was completed yesterday afternoon. With no other business on the docket, Judge Ewing closed the term of court yesterday afternoon.

On Monday Judge Ewing will convene court in Lipscomb.

RED HORSESHOE TO BE PUT ON FIREMEN'S CAR

By the red horseshoe on the front and rear of their car shall ye know them, those Pampa volunteer firemen.

For some time Chief Ben White has been wondering how he could get his volunteer firemen to fly without being stopped by the police or tied up in traffic jams by nose motorist-following the fire truck which is against the law. Finally the chief hit upon the idea of fastening a red horseshoe on the front and rear of his firemen's cars so that they will be recognized as firemen and given the right-of-way.

The chief especially desires motorists to watch out for cars so marked and give them the chance to get to fires unmolested.

FATHER HELPS SENTENCE SON FOR ROBBERY

JUDGE GLAD TO QUIT BENCH BECAUSE OF INCIDENT

ATLANTA, Sept. 2 (AP)—A father wept in superior court today as his son and two associates were sentenced to the chain gang for robbing his home.

N. A. Garner, a bondsman who had aided in the capture of N. A. Garner Jr., 22, in Austin, Texas, recently, told Judge G. H. Howard there was no question of the youth's guilt and that he should be sentenced for his own good, "in order to save him from a possible crime of violence."

Young Garner, together with a man listed as Mike Deprano of Austin, pleaded guilty to breaking into the Garner home and carting away a safe containing $1,500 worth of jewelry and money.

The third man, listed as E. Owens of Austin, said he was left in downtown Atlanta and knew nothing of the burglary.

Garner was given five to six years, Deprano, nine to 12 years, and Owens, 12 months which was suspended.

Said Judge Howard:

"Such situations as this—passing sentence on relatives of my good friends, is one reason I am glad to leave the bench. I believe, however, that it is for the boy's best interest."

Cole formerly was secretary and assistant treasurer of the Municipal Gas company in Dallas, prior to his being made division superintendent and moving to Corsicana, August, 1935.

Surviving are his wife, three daughters, Mrs. Donald Erskine, Dallas; Mrs. Gene Talbot, Dallas; and Miss Caroline Cole, Corsicana; mother, Mrs. Sarah Cole, Wortham; a brother and two sisters.

No funeral arrangements had been made early this morning. The body is being held at a local undertaking establishment.

TOUGH GUY HAS TENDER NATURE, HE COMPLAINS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 2 (AP)—Puzzly-haired, frog-voiced Leonel Stander may play knock-about roles in screen comedies, but at heart he has a sensitive nature, his divorce complaint disclosed today.

The $40,000-a-year actor accused Mrs. Lucy Stander of destroying their marital happiness by frequently refusing to talk with him and on occasion abusing him verbally in the presence of friends.

Under terms of a property settlement filed with Stander's suit, he will pay his wife $150 a week for the support of herself and their daughter, Michele Louise, 3,

HAIR STRANDS ARE CLUES IN SEX SLAYING

TWENTY MEN QUIZZED IN DEATH OF MISS RUTH MUIR

LA JOLLA, Calif., Sept. 2 (AP)—A few strands of brown hair provided police today with their main hope of solving the seaside attack-killing of Ruth Muir, 48-year-old socially prominent welfare worker.

Convinced the slaying was the work of a sex-crazed assailant, officers turned their investigation away from La Jolla, aptly named "Jewel Town" of the southern California coastland, and searched in San Diego for the killer.

More than a score of men who had previously been arrested on morals charges were picked up here and closely questioned as to their movements Monday night, but virtually all of them were released before dawn.

The body of Miss Muir, former San Antonio, Texas, society girl, was found yesterday in a grassy ravine on La Jolla's famed beach front.

Her head had been beaten, as if by a rock. In her hand were several wisps of human hair.

The hair will be sent, along with samples plucked from the heads of several suspects, to Pomona, Calif., college, for tests.

"We may be able to find out something about the slayer from these hairs—his type, for instance," an officer explained.

Clotted blood found under Miss Muir's fingernails also will be sent to Pomona for analysis, along with three soggy paper towels, believed blood soaked, which were found in a La Jolla oil station Monday night.

ALASKA BECOMES LAND OF GREATER PROMISE

More interesting, perhaps, than the outcome of the government-fostered colony in the Matanuska Valley of southern Alaska will be its indirect influence.

Latest information from Alaska is that a thin but steady stream of farmers is arriving, bearing their own equipment, and ready to "go it on their own."

These "rugged individual" pioneers are gradually taking up locations in the Kenai Peninsula, and up north of the Matanuska colony into the Tanana Valley almost as far as Fairbanks. The offices of Gov. John W. Troy at Juneau and those of chambers of commerce of Alaska cities are piled with mail, inquiries about farm possibilities in the territory.

The Matanuska colony itself seems to be doing well, with all internal criticism leveled at details of management rather than at the territory itself or the local conditions. There are 158 families there now; with 410 children; of whom 46, have been born since the migration a year ago in May.

Marketing of vegetables and dairy products from the colony is beginning, and there is reason to believe that Alaska can use far more of such products than Matanuska ever can produce.

That is why individual farmers, many of them veterans of many years in the "dust bowl" of the west, have been collecting the remainder of their cash assets, their tools, and their families, and striking out for the "new land" of Alaska.

They hope to find a more secure future "digging" for vegetables in the northern territory than their grandfathers ever found digging for gold.

Matanuska families know of drought and heat in the western part of the United States only through reading of them. Matanuska temperatures never rose above 80 during the summer, and there were sufficient intermittent rains.

The land has proved to be just as fertile as represented. A long waiting list is ready to fill any vacancies that may develop in the colony.

Thus it begins to be a fair bet that the experiment of transporting a few relief clients from drought-stricken farms in the northwest to Alaska, and staking them to a new start, may succeed in itself.

But if it serves to call attention to the opportunity for others to go as individuals, it will be of still greater service. And that is just what it appears to be doing.

Alaska veterans believe the Kenai Peninsula alone can accommodate 100,000 people, which is almost double the whole population of the territory in 1930. Perhaps a new Horace Greeley is needed to coin a new slogan for today. "Go north, young man, go north!"

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

NEW YORK—Politicians say one thing when they make public forecasts about the election and another thing when they speak privately among themselves.

It is the final impetus of money and frenzied effort which makes the sizeups and polls as of this date impossible to depend upon as indicative of the result.

You have two immeasurable factors insofar as their influence on that result is concerned:

1. The Democratic political machinery. This means the normal federal patronage machine everywhere plus definite political activity by much of the network of New Deal agencies created since 1932. It also means the patronage machines of practically all the big states and most of the others—just remember the overwhelming number of Democratic governors and members of Congress elected in 1932 and 1934.

2. The Republican war chest, which will be twice the size of the Democratic campaign fund and perhaps much more.

Republicans are confident they will take New England. Some Democrats say they have a "chance" in Massachusetts, but all hands concede a big G. O. P. victory in Maine in the September elections as well as in the presidential election. Republicans claim New Jersey and I've heard no Democrat dispute that.

Republicans are much more confident of New York's 47 electoral votes than Democrats are. (Landon can't win without those; Roosevelt might.)

Republicans are definitely worried about Pennsylvania's 36.

Democrats insist Indiana is "safe" and Republicans dispute, but none too vigorously. Both sides come nearer agreement that Illinois is fighting ground, with Republicans seeming a bit more confident.

Democrats admit that Ohio looks bad for them at this time, thanks to irritation over their Governor Davey and strong Coughlin sentiment.

Democrats insist they have the border states and Republicans here put up little argument about it except as to West Virginia and Maryland. The mountain states are all claimed by the Democrats as "in the bag" except for Colorado, which Democrats admit is doubtful.

Democrats claim Wisconsin and Republicans Minnesota with emphasis which is equaled by the other side in neither case. Nobody is sure about Michigan.

Democrats have given up Landon's Kansas and have no great hopes as to Nebraska. Republicans hope for a clean sweep in the corn-belt area and Democrats present plausible figures to show how they could lose it all and still win—if they could be sure of Indiana and Michigan or of New York or Pennsylvania.

Both sides, incidentally, are beginning to say privately that Lenke will take more votes from Landon and fewer from Roosevelt than they supposed.

Until she took lessons from a quick-tempered golf instructor, Dumb Dora had not realized what was meant by "teachers' oaths."

Political seers say the campaign will not really start until October, which might be significant, since that is not gathering time.

A radio comedian may hire Jesse Owens. It must be nice to have someone run for you after one of those air jokes.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Frederic J. Haskin

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Pampa Daily News' Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. How many illiterates are there in Spain? N. K.

A. In 1920, the last census reporting illiteracy in Spain showed 7,206,000 illiterates, or 43.6 per cent.

Q. Please give some facts about the Eye in the Sky device that is used to decide close finishes in races. V. S.

A. Harry I. Day's clever machine was first used at Santa Anita two years ago. It has also been used at the Narragansett, Arlington, and Washington Park tracks. It is a movie type machine that takes 155 pictures per second. Five men are required to operate it, and it costs the track a rental fee of $300 per day. Its value lies in the fact that when the pictures are posted they stop all arguments about close finishes.

Q. Does honey always have the same flavor? N. T.

A. Since honey takes its flavor from flowers, it varies with the kind of nectar that the bees gather.

Q. In what year were the last silent feature films made? J. G.

A. There were five silent pictures made in 1930. Virtually none has been made since then.

Q. Are there any windowless office buildings in the United States? H. W.

A. The first structure of this type has been completed in Hershey, Pa., and work on the second one will begin in Chicago about September 1. Such buildings will have conditioned air all the year round, and will have artificial lighting which is supposed to be an improvement over natural light.

Q. How does the per capita consumption of wine in this country compare with that of France? O. N.

A. In France, it is about 50 gallons per capita, while in the United States it is less than one gallon.

Q. Why are people not permitted to take snapshots of the Liberty Bell? E. H.

A. Rules and regulations at Independence Hall are such that no photographs are allowed to be taken in the interior of the buildings by visitors. Such instructions were issued many years ago when it was often thought that these pictures were used for undesirable publicity purposes, and now only under special conditions, through executive authority, are photographs allowed.

Q. What is the life of the current dollar bill? T. E. J.

A. The average life of a dollar bill is less than six months. Some, resting in bank vaults or private residences and not in active use, will last years; others, passing from hand to hand several times a day are soon worn out and are returned to the treasury.

Q. When were gold pen points first made in the United States? C. T. F.

A. Gold was first used in the making of pen points in the year 1835.

Q. When was the year without a summer? B. W.

A. The famous year of low temperatures during the summer, known as the year without a summer, was 1816.

Q. When will the G. A. R. encampment be held? M. P.

A. It will be held from September 20-25 in Washington, D. C.

Q. What is codine? W. B.

A. This is one of the alkaloids found in opium. It is a white, crystalline substance very similar to morphine.

Q. Please give the birth dates of the New Dealers, Tugwell, Moley, Frankfurter, Berle, and Eastman. A. H. S.

A. Rexford G. Tugwell, born July 10, 1891; Raymond Moley, born Sept. 27, 1886; Felix Frankfurter, born Nov. 15, 1882; A. A. Berle, born Jan. 29, 1895; Joseph B. Eastman, born June 26, 1882.

Q. What years are covered by Pepy's Diary? E. K.

A. It extends over the years 1660 to 1669.

Why Are Clothes Made as They Are?

Did you ever notice that the bow on a man's handkerchief is always on the left? That the sleeves of his coat have buttons and are opened a little way up? That most men's coats have a part in the back?

Perhaps you never paid any attention to your clothes, for they've always been so.

But these fashion details had a romantic beginning in the swag-ging days of knights and swords, gallants and adventure. They were originally not fashions, but necessities which grew from the life of the times.

The booklet, CURIOUS CUSTOMS, contains interesting facts about many other customs, expressions, words, weddings, funerals, superstitions, and ceremonies.

Send for your copy today, and learn why you do many things you do, say some of the things you say, and have clothes made the way they are. Enclose six cents to cover cost and handling.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

Despite a presidential election year, Wall street shows signs of stirring out of its long nightmare. The financial pages, of course, indicate the reason. Trading is heavier, money is flowing.

But we'll leave that to the financial writers and look at other phases of the situation. At the depth of the depression, there was no more jittery sight than the street at noon. At Broad and Wall, the heart of the section, each day for years, the agitators and spiclers have preached their loud and garbled sermons.

A year ago they attracted such crowds that the entire section was blocked off from traffic. Today they preach only to a small and amused crowd.

Artie McGovern, the able and famous trainer, has invaded the section now. For years, Artie has had a place in midtown to which the great names of sport and business have trooped.

In the glad twenties, when Wall street closed shop around two o'clock, the financiers trooped to Artie's for a little exercise, a Turkish bath and an afternoon nap. But this was cut out when the big drop came and McGovern struggled to keep his place going.

Now he's just finished a busy half-year, and he's working on the most lavish gym in the country. The new one will be in the Wall tower. The entire place is lighted with ultra violet rays, and the walls and floors of the shower rooms are heated so that it won't be too cold when you turn on the cold water.

Here's Artie's theory on his new experiment: "In '29, those fellows would work for an hour or two a day and then go out and play golf. They don't think that's such a good idea now. They know it's just as important to keep in shape, probably more so because they have to work harder, but they don't want to be away from the office most of the day."

McGovern thinks this is a sensible trend, and in high places in all walks of life are watching their accounts and their health more carefully. Their sense of values has changed in the last five years, he says.

Ida Lupino, the actress, and Stanley Lupino, the actor, are not related to each other although both were born in London. Wallace Lupino, who is also an actor, hails from Edinburg.

My idea of an appropriate name is Dorothy Shaver. I don't know her, but she is one of the newer film fems, and she is just five feet two. Home town, Philadelphia.

One of the new opera stars who will make her debut at the Met this season is Erna Smetana. Edward Johnson, Metropolitan director, signed abroad this summer. That's her name when she warbles in foreign lands. In reality, she is American and her name is Marion Clark.

HOW'S your HEALTH

THE VALUE OF VITAMINS
The healthy skepticism of the average person must be strained by all the emphasis physicians and nutritionists place on the value of vitamins.

The vitamin, like the germ, has the disadvantage of being "invisible," and with the vast majority among us "seeing is believing." But confirmation of the value of vitamins is forthcoming daily, and from a variety of sources.

To be healthy to the highest possible degree, it is essential that we should consume, with our foods, an adequate supply of the known vitamins. True, mankind has somehow managed to survive and thrive through the ages. This does not, however, establish that we have been free of diseases and as healthy as we might have been. No needs the normal of today necessarily serve as the ideal for tomorrow.

The value of vitamins has been recently confirmed in certain experiments with tissue cultures. Some 25 years ago Dr. Carrel of the Rockefeller Institute, succeeded in growing the heart muscle cells of an embryonic chick in an artificial medium. Since that time many other kinds of tissues have been artificially cultured. The culture medium employed for many of these tissues consists (in part) of the plasma (the liquid portion of the blood) of normal animals.

VARIED DIET FOR BABIES
By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH

Until 25 years ago, milk was considered the only fit food for babies up to a year or even 18 months. Many people still cling to the old-fashioned methods of baby feeding and do not add to the child's diet until he has teeth and therefore is presumably able to chew.

It has been found, however, that long before the teeth have begun to erupt the child is able to eat and

Chapter VIII
Next morning Judith Howard telephoned the hospital soon after she had come to work.

"How is Mr. Francis Jarvis, please?"

"There was a moment's wait while the operator consulted her card file. Then: "Mr. Jarvis was discharged early this morning. His injuries were very slight."

But Judith's conscience wouldn't let it go at that. She realized she had been the indirect cause of the man's accident, and she wanted to know she was ready to accept a certain responsibility. In the telephone directory she found Jarvis' office number beneath that of his home number. Deciding that it would be better to see him personally than to try to contact him over the telephone, she obtained permission to take an hour off.

When she had reached the offices of Francis Jarvis she was due for a surprise. They were luxurious business quarters, indeed, and she quickly discovered that the name of Francis Jarvis was important. Of course she had noticed that his automobile had been no small model—but nowadays even the moderately fixed may drive more than eight cylinders.

The girl in the walnut-paneled reception room regarded Judith with polite suspicion. "What did you wish to see Mr. Jarvis about? Perhaps Mr. Pomeroy, his assistant could be of service to you."

"I'm afraid not. You see, Mr. Jarvis was injured slightly in an automobile accident last night—and I was responsible."

"I see. Just a moment, please." Expertly the girl plugged in. And apparently Jarvis was guarded by still another young woman. "Please tell Mr. Jarvis that a Miss Howard is here to see him. It's with regard to an automobile accident last night." There was a moment's silence, after which the switchboard operator told Judith: "Please go right in." She nodded toward a beautifully figured walnut door.

Hesitatingly, Judith stepped on a deep, soft carpet. At the other end of the corded room was a broad, flat desk which held nothing more than a green blotter pad and an ornate pen set. Behind it sat a man of middle-age, slender, a bit florid, his hair receding when he smiled—as he did now—his face complemented the eyes, and he seemed to drop five or six years.

"Miss Howard?" he said. "Won't you please sit down?"

Judith thanked him, choosing the nearest leather-cushioned chair. Suddenly it occurred to her how absurd it was for her to be offering this man responsibility for the accident. Obviously he could afford almost any given number of such mis-

"You wanted to see me about last night's little accident?" With a smile Jarvis touched the side of his head where a broad patch of white tape covered his dark hair. "You're not by any chance that very pretty young woman who caused me to swerve into an unyielding fire hydrant?"

"I'm afraid I was," Judith said. "I came to tell you how sorry I am—and to assure you that I feel quite responsible for any damage done."

"Your eyes widened, and for a moment he looked as if he believed Judith might be attempting to somehow trick him. But when Judith's guileless expression assured him that she was sincere, he broke into a pleasant laugh.

"Well, that is all right," he said. "I got up to go to a sidewalk." "Would you care for something?" Judith shook her head. "Mind if I do?"

"Not at all. I—" she started to rise from the chair. "I'll leave you my name and address, and then anything comes up you can get in touch with me."

He looked at her curiously. "Just what do you mean?"

"Why, there's the damage to the car, but I imagine that's covered by insurance. I was thinking mostly of your injury. Something like that usually appears to be all right, and then later on they develop into something serious."

Jarvis laughed, and tossed down the contents of a small glass, followed it with neither water nor soda. "I hardly think this one will hurt," he returned to her. "But, as you suggest, I'll take your name and address, just in case anything should develop."

Judith resented his apparent mild amusement. Getting to her feet, she said, "Of course I didn't know what your circumstances might be, but I don't appreciate your thoughtfulness." He laughed pleasantly. "The bond business hasn't been quite so good as it might be, you know. I may hold you responsible at that!"

"That would be fine," Judith said, and gave him her address and telephone number.

Smiling, Jarvis wrote it down on a desk pad. Then he tossed down the pencil and grew serious. "Really, Miss Howard, I think this is splendidly made," he said. "I'm more than willing to take care of the damage." He smiled again. "The truth is, it was a case of bad driving. I might have turned into the opposite curb. It didn't have a fire plug, probably."

And another good medicine discoverer. Perhaps the need for many corrective measures in later life, such as orthodontia and posture exercises could be prevented if they would also accept the medical findings in the value of a varied diet for babies.

looked to the skin from the broken hydrant. Perhaps I am the one who should be offering—"

"Oh, no," said Judith quickly. "And now, I'll get back to the office."

Francis Jarvis accompanied her to the door of his office. "Goodby, Miss Howard. And I want to thank you again. I'll be glad to have you drop in any time."

Virginia and Bob Bent were mightily interested when Judith related her meeting with Dr. Eden Harris. "It didn't take you long to get under way after you broke the lease with Steve!" was Virginia's comment.

But Bob was more interested by far in the fact that she'd met Francis Jarvis.

"He's a big shot for fair," Bob told her, as they had dinner in the Bents' apartment that night. "His outfit has sold all the important securities in this time since everybody got the idea that they could make money on paper. Say, that guy could bust up a car a night—and still not lose sleep. He's got a Diesel yacht, and a speedboat. Just the other day he bought a private plane." He grinned. "And little Judy offers to be responsible for his accident!"

"Well," Judith insisted good-naturedly, "it was the thing to do under the circumstances. I didn't know whether he was rich or poor until I got into his office."

"You say he took your name and address?" inquired Bob.

"Why, yes. I gave them to him, just in case—"

"I know Francis Jarvis—" Virginia cut in. "His wife reminded him. 'I wish you did.'"

Bob accepted this wily thrust. "Well, then, I mean if what I hear about Francis Jarvis is true—he'll make use of that name and address very soon."

Virginia laughed. "Judith, just think! Maybe you've put yourself in line for a yacht and a garage full of cars."

"Don't be silly, you two," Judith admonished them.

She did not know what was in her heart—that she wanted, and all she wanted, was a Steve Fowler who would come back to her and say, "Let's get married, Judith. If you want to work, that's all right."

"I'll be a Hollywood: the business of the curious and the demands of celluloid fame. Although their careers thrive on autographs and photographs and the hubbub that accompanies their every public appearance, the average actor not infrequently succumbs to that "gold-fish feeling" and yearns to light out for nowhere or anywhere.

Eric Linden is one of Hollywood's inveterate runners-away. Sometimes it is to the mountains and again it's to the beach; but he likes solitude and will take it where he finds it.

But Claudette Colbert, who also likes time to collect her thoughts, doesn't have to leave town. In the corner of her new house is a little room with sound-proof walls and no telephone. When she wants to study a script or just to relax and forget that tomorrow is a full day's work, she goes to her room and appointments here and there—she can go to this room and be alone as Garbo.

Wallace Beery goes fishing or flying—not that Wally ever feels like a goldfish. But Carole Lombard, anything comes up you can get in touch with me."

Clark Gable goes hunting, and Preston Foster goes boating, and Joel McCrea and Frances Dee go to their ranch. Mae West has moved to her ranch from the penthouse apartment in Hollywood; so now if she wants to get away she'll have to build a hut like Lombard's or take up boating or flying.

Garbo Continues Hideout
Gary Cooper and Bing Crosby are part-time ranchers. Gary's date farm in the Coachella Valley is a good place to look for him when he can't be found at home or anywhere else. The ranch is a big place, and the sprawling little ranch house isn't open to general view.

Bing's hideaway is not exactly a shack, with its swimming pool and barbecue pit, but it's the place he goes when he has had too much of Hollywood.

Sir Guy Standing has an automobile trailer, one of those de luxe models supposedly with all the comforts of home. When the get-away moment comes to him all he has to do is hook the trailer on his car and vanish down the highway.

But maybe Jack Oakie's plan is best of all. He hides out in his studio dressing room, pulling down the shades on windows, locking the door and pretending he isn't there. Nobody, he reasons, would ever think of looking for him at the studio.

And Garbo isn't so bad, either. It's so good, in fact that it's news when she isn't hiding out at home.

However, this Steve Fowler didn't appear, that day or in the days that followed. The Bents were not even hear from Steve who wanted to argue her into prolonging a more engagement. Almost every evening Virginia and Bob dropped in at Judith's apartment, but this helped only a little. And there were nights when she would have preferred to be alone with her thoughts.

"I hear Steve's out of town on a business trip," Bob told her one night, his voice tentative and his eyes alert to catch Judith's reaction.

"Is he?"

"I'm sure," Virginia added quickly. "That Judith's stopped worrying about Steve."

But she hadn't. When the Bents had left, Judith realized this. She smiled at good old Bob's effort to make her feel better. No doubt he was lying about Steve's business trip. The chances were good that he'd invented the tale so as to explain why Judith hadn't heard from Fowler. And the irrevocable fact was that she still thought of Steve in her waking hours, dreamed of him in her sleep.

Then one evening, just as she and the Bents arrived home, Dr. Eden Harris telephoned.

"I want," he said, "a beautiful companion for dinner."

Judith was delighted to hear that bantering voice. "Was?" she said. "I can't think a moment. Perhaps I can make a suggestion."

"On second thought," said Harris. "I'll make one. It's you. I'll be around in an hour."

He took Judith to a new restaurant in town. A delightful little place called John's Rendezvous, with a graining table of Swedish "smorgasbord" to be delved with before the entire arrived there. But before the entire arrived there was a telephone message for Dr. Eden Harris. He returned from it with disappointment darkening his usually pleasant face.

"I'm sorry, Judith. Emergency case. I might be able to return in an hour—and I might not make it until morning. Would you rather I took you home?"

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—Not all movie actors have to leave town when comes the irrepressible urge to get away from it all.

"It all" is Hollywood: the business of the curious and the demands of celluloid fame. Although their careers thrive on autographs and photographs and the hubbub that accompanies their every public appearance, the average actor not infrequently succumbs to that "gold-fish feeling" and yearns to light out for nowhere or anywhere.

DEMOCRATIC CHAIRMAN INDICTED AT COWTOWN

FORT WORTH, Sept. 2 (AP)—B. Frank Kaufman, county democratic chairman, and Clyde Mays, an attorney, were indicted by the Tarrant county grand jury here today in connection with the alleged election return tampering after the July 25 democratic primary.

The grand jury also indicted Fidge Covey, Jimmie Johnston and Jack Diamond, who previously had been charged.

The cases have been set for trial in criminal district court on Sept. 21. Johnston and Covey are indicted on charges of tampering with returns from precincts 1, 2, 4, 6, 15 and 81. The indictments against Kaufman, Mays and Diamond charge them with being accomplices, standing specifically that Mays advised, commanded and encouraged Covey prior to the offense, and that Kaufman advised, commanded and encouraged Johnston.

The indictments set out that returns from the six voting boxes were altered so as to give C. D. Little a majority in the race for sheriff.

Mrs. Lillian Blythe, lessee, announced the closing of the Pampa swimming pool yesterday. A large crowd visited the pool for a last plunge until next summer.

Pampa firemen drove "all over" the Priest addition last night searching for a burning telephone pole. Their search, however, proved fruitless because no fire was found. This morning some of the firemen drove over the ground and discovered some burnt dead grass at the base of a pole. The fire must have died out before the truck arrived.

Roy Hallman has returned from St. Anthony's hospital in Amarillo where he had been critically ill for some time. He is now able to receive company at his home, 105 Hobart street. Mrs. Hallman was with him during his illness.

Mrs. Mabel Kemp of the Marie hotel leaves today on an extended vacation. She will go first to the Dalais Centennial, then to Galveston and then to New York by boat. Mrs. Blanche Brewer will be in charge of the hotel while she is away.

Naval officers said today there was a possibility both the United States and Great Britain would follow the lead of Japan in retaining excess submarine tonnage scheduled to be scrapped by next Jan. 1 under the expiring London naval treaty.

The government has not been notified of the Japanese action generally it was interpreted here, however, as a formal invocation of the treaty's "escalator clause" under which a signatory is entitled to disregard its fleet limitation provisions if it believes its national security threatened.

Such action automatically entitles other treaty powers to do likewise. Even if the United States and Great Britain take advantage of this situation, however, statistics show Japan will continue to be superior in actual under-age submarine tonnage.

The Pampa Chamber of Commerce has agreed to pay $6 a day for a truck to transport 25 Gray county workers to the project, but on some days as low as nine of the men have been put to work, the remainder being sent back when unable to begin work because of a lack of equipment.

"We will do everything in our power to get as many men on the job and to speed it up as much as possible," Mr. Meredith told the Pampa group. "There are certain regulations by which we must be guided and these, in a number of instances, cause temporary delays, but we try to keep these delays at a minimum."

Gov. Futrell of Arkansas said today it was satisfactory to him if Texas authorities held for trial Charlie Chapman and O. Hugh Lindsey, escaped Arkansas convicts captured in an Atlanta, Texas, bank holdup. "Texas has a right to hold these men for trial," Gov. Futrell said. "That will save us the expense of keeping them. We can take charge of them after Texas gets through."

Otis Hayes Poole, 62, veteran Cleburne newspaper publisher, died of heart disease at his home here today. Mrs. Poole found him dead when she called him at 6 a. m. A physician said Mr. Poole had been dead two hours.

Mayor and Mrs. W. A. Bratton and sons returned last night from Dallas, Fort Worth and other points of interest. Mrs. Tom Rose and Mrs. Clifford Braly are visiting in Dallas.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Sept. 2 (AP)—A more active and confident stock market today got behind stocks, rails, utilities and specialties and gave them an upward push for fractions to 2 or more points.

Further evidence of economic progress, it was said, provided the principal bullish inspiration. A number of new highs for the past year or longer were recorded. The close was firm. Transfers were around 1,000,000 shares.

Two rebel pursuers, darted upward to chase the Madrid attackers. One was forced to flee. The other, flying below a government bomber, loosed machine gun fire.

The bomber then circled back over the airfield again, dropping incendiary bombs which exploded the gasoline tanks and ammunition deposits.

Huge columns of smoke, visible for a long distance, gave evidence of the accuracy of the bombardment.

Citizens were routed from their beds in the capital today by wailing sirens. Two government planes were seen reconnoitering over the eastern part of the capital, apparently in expectation of a rebel attack.

Many people returned to bed, however, when a rebel plane reported over nearby towns apparently changed its route to avoid Madrid.

Changing Daughter's Name

That very serious expression worn by the usually gay Joan Bennett as she tells her story in Judge Arthur Crum in Los Angeles is occasioned by the battle over alteration of daughter Diana's name from Fox to Markey. The court approved the change after she testified that John Marion Fox, Diana's father, abandoned her when the baby was two months old and Gene Markey, her present husband, was the only father the child knew.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning! The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is clogged and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Locatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up".

Terry Forces Grimm To Pull Davis And Wins Ball Game

Giants Raise Lead to Four Full Games Over Cards

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bill Terry must feel today like the poker player who fills an inside straight.

He pulled the longest kind of a long shot out of the hat yesterday, but his master-minding (if such it was) paid dividends, as his giants battered the Cubs 7-4 in the windup of their "crucial" series to move four full games in front of the national league pack.

The giant sixth, Curt Davis, was back on the hill for the Cubs for the first time in nearly three weeks, recovered from a stomach ailment, and he was having his usual fun stopping the New Yorkers.

Terry apparently realized that with Davis in there tossing them up, the Giants weren't particularly bright.

Terry's idea apparently was to put Manager Charley Grimm on the spot, and virtually force him to remove Davis. The thing was simple enough. In the Cubs' fourth inning, the first two men up were walked in a hurry. This would have brought up Davis, but Terry relied on Grimm to do the logical thing and yank him for a pinch-hitter.

Grimm did, and a Chicago run resulted, but Davis was out. In the next inning, the Giants showed him how much they thought of his relief, Bill Lee, by banging him and two other Cub throwers for four runs to put the game on ice.

With the Cardinals rained out after three innings with the Dodgers, the win for the Giants—third in four-game Cub series—made them certain of at least a two-game lead when they return home from the current western swing.

In the American league, while the pace-setting Yanks were idle, along with the Chicago White Sox, their first-place margin was boosted to 17 games by the third straight defeat for the second place Cleveland Indians at the hands of the Boston Red Sox.

The fast-traveling Senators pulled up in a fourth-place tie with

Circus Is Coming to Town

Eight more days and the circus will come to town. The above scenes depict a few of the sights that will be seen when the Famous Robbins Big 3-Ring Wild Animal Circus comes to Pampa, Thursday, Sept. 10th for afternoon and night performances on the circus grounds opposite the Road Runner Baseball Park.

"Hey Skinny, the circus is coming to town!"

Yesterday the advertising crew of the Famous Robbins Big 3 Ring Wild Animal Circus was in town and the store windows, the sides of buildings and billboards about town are filled and covered with brilliantly colored posters announcing the coming to Pampa Thursday, Sept. 10th of this big circus, the first big circus of the year and the only circus Pampa is to have visit the city this season.

The Famous Robbins Circus, fresh from its triumphant tour of the principal cities of the East and Middlewestern States comes to Pampa with highest praise of press and public as to the merits of its performance and the cleanliness of the organization as a whole.

Requiring three circuses and massive stables, arena in which to present its galaxy of world wide circus features, the Robbins Circus presents such acts as the Riding Bartoni Family, Italian circus bareback riders; Allen Kelly and his six animal performing lions, Schwyer's Bengal tigers; Harriet Schumann's leopards and pumas; Baron's seals; Robbins herd of performing elephants; Gullfoyle's polar bears; Ray's zebras and baby elephants and many other wild and domestic animal acts, while of course a circus must have its wire walkers, acrobats, tumblers and clowns, all these, have been incorporated into the performance of the Robbins Circus to make it one of the outstanding tented circus organizations on tour today.

For the children's special entertainment the Robbins Circus proudly presents "REX," the original wonder dog of the movies, who, together with assisting company of 25 Hollywood movie players, comes direct from the Fox Studios in Hollywood and appears in each performance of the circus.

WORST DROUGHT IN HISTORY TO BE DISCUSSED

ARID SPELL TO HOLD INTEREST OF NATION

By EDWIN W. HASKINSON
WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—Precipitating a Roosevelt-Landon meeting on ground termed non-political by both, a search for answers to the "worst drought in climatological history" again will center national interest tomorrow.

The great-dry spell of 1936, officially labeled the "worst" by the weather bureau in August but since alleviated in some sections by rain, will bring the President, the republican presidential nominee and six other governors to a Des Moines conference table. A survey of the magnitude of the present problem for which they seek an answer today showed:

A total of 1,092 counties in 23 states on the federal emergency list.

A sun-burned corn crop, officially estimated at more than 800,000,000 bushels under that of last year.

An army of farmers, reported at more than 115,000 by WPA, working on emergency relief projects.

An initial expenditure of around 15,000,000 by three drought relief agencies, with tens of millions more in prospect.

None here would even guess officially at the total and final cost to the nation of the disruption brought about by too much of one element, of life, heat from the sun, and too little of another, moisture.

WICHITA FALLS YOUTH KILLED, 2 PALS INJURED

WICHITA FALLS, Texas, Sept. 2 (AP)—A young boy, Jr., of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Costello, resident of Wichita Falls, was fatally injured and two companions were critically hurt early this morning when the speeding automobile in which the three youths were returning from a dance crashed into a tree.

The injured boy, Harry C. Carr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Carey of this city and Joe Craig Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Moore, former Wichitans who now reside in Houston.

The accident brought the city's death toll to seven for 1936.

The car in which the three young men were riding failed to negotiate a slight jog in a residential thoroughfare and the machine jumped the left hand curb and wrapped around a tree.

The injured Carr and Moore are expected to recover.

7-DAY HORSE RACE MEET WILL START AT PANHANDLE NEXT SATURDAY

200 WAGS TO BE READY FOR FALL CLASSIC

HIGHEST CLASS HORSES IN HISTORY ARE ENTERED

PANHANDLE, Sept. 2.—This town is looking forward to seeing the finest horses and the best races in history when the fall meet opens here next Saturday, Sept. 5.

In the past it has been the custom to say that the horses were better than ever before; sometimes that was true and sometimes it wasn't, but this time no one who has visited the stables and seen the 125 horses already on hand, has the slightest doubt but that the stock and the races will surpass anything ever seen on the Panhandle track.

Last Sunday, there were 100 horses in the stables, and by Monday night 25 more had come in. Pessimists are predicting that at least 200 horses will be ready for the races when they begin at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. This year the races are being sponsored by W. E. Todd, H. B. Gooch and Norwood West in cooperation with E. J. Deahl who controls the fine plant.

Persons who have never attended the races may be interested to know that the grandstand is covered and faces the east, assuring comfort and freedom from heat. The partitioned windows are located under the grandstand. The betting tickets will feature the daily double which pays off in big purses daily.

A big racing program has been arranged for Labor day when the largest crowd of the meet is expected. The meet will continue through Sept. 12.

A casual glance at the horses already in the stable would convince the rank skeptic that the banglalls are far superior to any ever raced in Panhandle. Several horses are from the Chicago tracks, and from other large tracks all over the country.

It was announced earlier in the year that the stables and other equipment at Panhandle would be moved to Borger, but nothing has been transferred yet. Borger has not yet completed arrangements to operate a race track. Until races are held in Pampa and Borger, the Panhandle races will be the mecca for race fans of those cities.

Eight Survive In San Antonio Golf Tournament

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 2 (AP)—Eight survivors in the Texas Junior Golf tournament were ready to renew an assault on par today in the third round of their quest for the junior crown.

Arthur (Buck) Luce of Austin, the defending champion, had to rally to survive the second round. Two down at the thirteenth, he won four holes in a row to eliminate Houston Cole of Ranger, 2 and 1.

The medalist, Lee Brandt Jr. of San Antonio, remained in the running with a 2 and 1 victory over Milton Ward of Beaumont.

Bill Glasgow of Beaumont, last year's runner-up, was one over regulation figures in eliminating George Gist of Port Arthur, 5 and 4.

Billy Bob Coffee, Fort Worth city champion, defeated Joe Moore, 14-year-old San Antonio youngster, 1 up.

Simon Ray Alexander of Corpus Christi bested Henry Hauser of Kerrville, 2 up.

Jack Thurmond of San Antonio coasted to an easy 8 and 7 win over Tom Miller of Austin.

Vernon Willoughby of Fort Worth eliminated Carl Letcher of Port Arthur, 1 up, and Jimmy McBride of Port Worth upset Roy Sherrill of Temple, 2 and 1.

Today's pairings: Luce vs. Willoughby; Thurmond vs. Glasgow; Brandt vs. McBride, and Coffee vs. Alexander.

Babe Didrikson Is In Tourney Semi-Finals

RYE BEACH, N. H., Sept. 2 (AP)—Mildred Babe Didrikson, of Dallas, Texas, star woman athlete, entered the semi-final round of the Women's Eastern Golf tournament here today.

Miss Didrikson faced Mrs. E. B. Morrow of Baltimore and Helen Dettweiler, of Washington, D. C., opposed Rosamond Vahey of Lowell, Mass., former Massachusetts champion.

The versatile Texas star eliminated Elizabeth Ingersoll, Philadelphia, 8 and 7 in a first round match yesterday, then defeated Mrs. Don Baldwin, of Lowell, 5 and 4 in a quarter final round.

OPENER TOMORROW

GREENVILLE, Miss., Sept. 2 (AP)—The opening game of the championship playoff series in the Cotton States baseball league between Greenville and El Dorado will be played here tomorrow. The teams will play again Friday and Saturday at El Dorado and return to Greenville Sunday. The team winning the first four games in the playoff will be declared the league champion.

Cane sugar production is the chief industry of the Hawaiian Islands.

Mexico's Aztecas To Play Road Runners Here Tonight

Beat Phillips Club 12 to 1 in Amarillo

The popular Aztecas of Mexico, one of the best traveling baseball clubs of today, will be in Pampa tonight for a game with the Pampa-Dancer Road Runners. Game time will be 8:15 o'clock.

Last night in Amarillo the Mexican champions, determined to avenge a 1 to 0 loss in 13 innings at Amarillo Sunday, defeated the Phillips Parrots 12 to 1. The Aztecas played airtight ball, for which they are noted, and handled the willow to chase Hadley, Haddock and Curran to the showers. Amarillo's lone count was a home run by Army Littrell.

Tonight, Manager Sam Hale is optimistic that Lee Daney will return to the mound. The little Indian right-hander has been on the bench with torn nerves in his left side for a month. He injured the side in the first game of the Denver Post baseball tournament.

Should Daney be unable to go, the one and only Carl Stewart will be available. So will Vodie Clements and Braly. The youthful Clements has looked good on every appearance since he joined the club. Braly, who has not been on the mound recently, is in good condition and ready to go.

T. Parra or "Cheene" Perez will probably get the call to arms for the Aztecas. "Long John" Castillo was scheduled to hurl but the big fellow begged to return to the mound against Amarillo last night to avenge the 1 to 0 loss Sunday. Castillo got it in a big way, too.

Fans will see a sensational fielding outfit in the Aztecas who can jump any direction after a ball. In fact, Dan McGraw called them the jumping beans on their previous visit to Pampa. So fleet are the little fellows that they make the tough ones look easy.

Probable batting order for tonight will be:

Pampa: McNabb rf, Summers 2b, S. Izz cf, Hale 3c, C. H. Bailey lf, Lisle c, McLarry ss, Daney or Stewart p.

Aztecas: Pulido 2b, Soto ss, Vargas 3b, Caprio 1b, Caballero cf, C. Perez lf, Arriola rf, Ibarra c, Perez or Parra, p.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 2 (AP)—Prosperity note: Purdue's advance football ticket sales have been running 300 per cent ahead of last season. Jimmy Braddock is getting well fast in the south. . . Jimmie Arthy looks like a cat who has swallowed a whole canary farm these days. . . There may be legal reactions to Max Schmeling's printed statements that Joe Louis hit him low in their June fight. . . In Chicago, Julian Black, one of the bomber's managers, has been talking to his lawyers. . . Experts estimate the absence of Helen Williams, Moody from the tennis nationals will cost the gate $23,000. . . which is a lot of dough in our book.

This department is one year old today. . . And thanks to all the boys who've helped keep it going. . . To had the McPherson Oilers and the Hollywood Universals will bust up. . . They're the joint combination which won the Olympic basketball championship, you remember. . . In recognition of this the boys have received so many attractive offers they've decided to cash in. . . The professional urge seems to be catching. . . Dorothy Boynton Hill has followed Jesse Owens' lead and is going out for what it takes. . . Reports say Ace Arden, the high jumper and one of the best lookers on the American Olympic team, and Betty Robinson, of the winning 400-meter relay team, also have their ears cocked for offers.

Two Texans in Walker Matches

PINE VALLEY, N. J., Sept. 2 (AP)—Captain Francis Oulmet directed his American forces from the sidelines today as Britain's youngest team in history battled against odds, tradition and rolling class to get grip on the Walker Cup that always has eluded England's grasp. . . Electing himself from the competitive front for the first time with the simple explanation that he "didn't feel capable enough," the gallant Boston veteran also with-held Johnny Fisher of Cincinnati and George T. Dunlap Jr. of New York, but sent the rest of his squad out for the first skirmishes—four some play.

Carrying the American banner as the number one doubles combination were Johnny Goodman of Omaha and Scotty Campbell, the fairway bomber from Seattle. . . Two of Texas' greatest amateurs, Reynolds Smith of Dallas and Ed White from Bonham, who turned up with a record-breaking 69 with alternate shots Monday, drew the leading British duo in Jack McLean, rated as England's best amateur next to Thompson, and the 18-year-old schoolboy sensation, John Langley.

YANKEES FACE TOUGHER FOES IN 1936 RACE

TEAM COMPARES WITH FAMOUS CLUB OF 1927

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK (AP)—The argument over the relative slugging merits of the 1927 Murderer's Row and the current homicide squad probably will never be settled, but one thing that can't be overlooked is the considerably more powerful opposition the 1936 Yankees are facing.

Back in the hey-day of Ruth and Company, the Yanks stood out in the loop like Man O'War in a field of platers. But outside of New York, the batting power didn't compare with that of such explosive combinations as the 1936 Yanks come up against day after day.

For instance, the Yanks of '27 found their toughest opposition in the Philadelphia Athletics. Yet, the A's of that year were largely a bunch of sluggers. Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, and Jimmie Foxx were bringing along, and didn't develop to their full power until two years afterward when they started their pennant run. The rest of the circuit was left far in the dust early in the season.

Routed The Field In '27

As a result, the Yanks won 110 games that year and finished up with a 19-game lead over the pack. Things are different today. The strength is distributed all down the line. Where the Yanks of a decade ago had the Athletics as their major worry, the '36 crew finds a power-packed lineup in every part. There are the Cleveland Indians, for one, with a h-m-r in every bat that steps to the plate. And the Chicago White Sox, the Tigers, the Red Sox, even the Browns—there isn't a pitcher's pushover in their batting orders.

Yet, despite that, the Yanks at the moment threaten to eclipse the victory record of their '27 predecessors, and are well on the way to crack the all-time mark of 173 homers for a club in one season.

The 1927 Yankees, as a group, and with the aid of such bombarding batsmen as Babe Ruth, Bob Meusel, Lou Gehrig, Earl Combs and a much younger Tony Lazzari, batted .307 for the season. Today's outfit is hitting around .304 despite the tougher opposition.

STANFORD IN ROLE OF 'DARK HORSE' AS 9 REGULARS EXIT

PALO ALTO, Calif., Sept. 2 (AP)—Stanford university, western leader in the last three Rose Bowl football classics, finds itself in the interesting role of "dark horse" this season after many years' designation as "the team to beat."

Not even Coach C. E. "Tiny" Thornhill will hazard a guess as to the "when, where, and how" of the Stanford team of 1936 but if the big fellow has any worries over the prospects he is keeping them strictly to himself.

Nine of the 11 regulars who helped whip Southern Methodist last New Year's day in Pasadena, passed out of competition under the three-season rule. In the general exodus of gridiron talent were 16 of 23 letter-men.

To Stanford follows the loss was a terrific shock. To Coach Thornhill it was just one of those things "We'll find somebody to replace them."

The man who turned out three top crack teams in as many years as head coach, is confronted with the job of putting together a winning combination from seven returning letter-men and some 50 other candidates. A few have had varsity experience. Bright prospects from the 1935 freshman squad are sprinkled throughout the group.

RAIN DELAYS SOLDIER FIELD GRIDIRON TILT

ALL-STAR - LION GAME WILL BE PLAYED TONIGHT

CHICAGO, Sept. 2 (AP)—The College All Stars and Detroit Lions collide tonight at Soldier Field after a 24-hour postponement caused by last night's steady rain.

The "dream game" battle between the former college and university aces and the world professional grid champions will get under way at 7:30 p. m., central standard time, wet or dry, sponsors declared.

Eighty thousand tickets have been sold, approximately 15,000 to out-of-town fans, many of whom were forced to return home when the game was put over.

The postponement, however, apparently did not dull the keen edge of the two crack grid squads. Head Coach Bernie Bierman, while disappointed at the delay, said he believed a firmer turf would aid his brilliant collection of 51 stars, while George (Patsy) Clark, coach of the lions, remarked "the comfort of the fans was the big issue—our boys will be just as ready tonight."

RUBBER GAME OF LOOP TO BE PLAYED TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

Alexandria and Jeanerette squared off today in the "rubber" game of their Evangeline league playoff series.

Jeanerette battled back into a series tie at three games apiece yesterday when it bunched five hits for a 2-1 victory.

Opelousas could win a playoff final berth with the Alexandria-Jeanerette winner by another victory over Rayne today. The Indians won a three-to-two game series lead from Rayne along with an 8-7 victory yesterday.

A Czechoslovakian shoe company has introduced a mobile shoe repair shop which consists of a heavy-duty truck chassis equipped with the latest machinery.

Voss Comes From Behind To Beat Skelly Again 4 To 2

Cities Service Wins Over Killarney 13 to 1

The Voss Cleaners of Pampa, Panhandle softball champions, continued to show their power and ability last night when they again defeated the Skelly-Schafer Oilers, this time by a score of 4 to 2. The first game of the benefit double header at Road Runner park went to the Cities Service, who defeated Killarney All Stars of Canadian, 13 to 1.

Voss Cleaners will leave Friday afternoon for Fort Worth where they will participate in the state tournament, being sponsored by the Fort Worth Star Telegram. The Pampa-Norice Sluggers, girls' team, will be Panhandle representatives in that division.

Pampa's cleanermen will strengthen for the trip by taking Hays, Skelly pitcher, Wilson, Canadian hurler, and Sharp, King Oil first baseman. Voss players who will make the trip are: Pinell, second base; Prince, shortstop; Weathered, third base; Sullins, roving short; Morrison, outfield; White, outfield; Davis, outfield; Ingram, outfield; Ridgeway, outfield; Sheridan, pitcher; Patrick, pitcher; E. W. Voss, sponsor; Burdette Keim, manager.

Sluggers who will accompany Manager J. E. Kretzinger to Fort Worth will be: Frances Nash, second base; De Ann Heiskill, pitcher; Doris De; Ge, catcher; Avis Heiskell, outfield; Boots Baucum, third base; Lillie Mae Robinson, outfield; Elsie Hall, outfield; Ruby Eldridge, roving short; Martha Ann Martin, first base and pitcher; Artie Robbins, short stop; Jackie Bragg, outfield; Freda Bellows, roving short; Zeida Hughey, roving short; Irma Sarrett, Canadian, pitcher; Phyllis Cotton, Phillips, short stop.

In last night's opening game, Munsey had little trouble holding the Killarney All Stars while Wilson, Lyle and Allen were unable to step the Cities Service sluggers.

Voss Cleaners had to come from behind to defeat Skelly who jumped into an early lead when Sorenson and Cobb singled and Hays came through with a double. In the twski and Benny Bengough, receivers for the 1927 club.

The outfield average of '27 was 347. Today's fly-chasers are hitting about 310. The infield of '36 is hitting nearly ten points heavier, while the catching department is almost a hundred points higher.

This batting power is the big reason for the Yanks' long lead at this stage of the campaign. They've built up that lead in a season when the cellar club, the Athletics, are hitting around .275, compared to the .250 for the last-place Red Sox of 1927. In that year only the first two clubs in the loop were batting over .290. Today, five are either in or near the 300 group.

Jaycee Softies To Play Grudge Game This Eve

Residents of the Coak addition will think the football season has opened when they see cars streaming north this evening about 6:15 o'clock.

They will be wrong, because it will be fans going out to the softball diamond south of Harvester field where the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce members will be playing their grudge game.

Tommy Chesser, manager of the Daisies, and Dick Hughes, manager of the Pansies, met yesterday afternoon and after a long and bitter debate, agreed on lineups for the big game. Neither, however, would release lineup, batteries or anything else about the game excepting that each side was going to win.

Even the members themselves don't know on which team they will play. Just before time to warm up, the managers, with chests protruding, will step forth and call their warriors to their sides.

Umpires still have to be assigned. Because of the seriousness of the occasion, umpires are had to find.

No admission will be charged and the public is invited to see some of the outstanding softball players of the year in action.

BRUBAKER WINS BOUT

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2 (AP)—Phil Brubaker, California's two-fisted ex-ministerial student, followed in Joe Louis' footsteps today and climbed a rung on the heavyweight comeback ladder. The tall Dinuba boy, outpointed this summer by Jack Sharkey, belted out a 10-round decision over Pepe Del Rio of Mexico City last night in his first start since the Sharkey fight.

79 RUNS ARE SCORED IN 4 TEXAS GAMES

DALLAS STEERS LOSE TO GALVESTON 16 TO 4

Tonight's Games (By The Associated Press)

Houston at Dallas. Galveston at Fort Worth. San Antonio at Oklahoma City. Beaumont at Tulsa.

Texas League scorekeepers were still dizzy today from counting the 79 runs scored in the 100's four games last night.

The Galveston Bucs, cellarites, rose in all their might to smite the league-leading Dallas Steers 16 to 4. The Bucs piled up an eight run lead in the first inning and coasted to an easy win.

Hal Patchett, Tulsa centerfielder, stole home with two out in the ninth to give the Oilers a 10 to 9 decision over the San Antonio Missions.

The Fort Worth Cubs went on a scoring cry to trouble the second-place Houston Buffs, 17 to 8, in a wild contest that developed 29 hits, nine errors, 11 bases on balls and an assortment of wild pitches and passed balls.

Six runs Oklahoma City counted in the first inning went for naught as the Beaumont Exporters went on to win, 9 to 6. Bill Ehrenberger, rookie hurler, relieved Gill in the first and limited the Tribe to three singles in eight and a third frame, and got three for five at the plate.
