There's nothing like having a public We feel certain now that we have one after receiving in the day's mail some poetry, left over from Dizzy Weick on the Plains and a letter from R. B. B., a Pampa man who shows promise of something. The letter:

"Dere Ed:

"If yew dont get sum cents pritty quick i think it wud be a good idea for yew to go put yewr head under sum water and leave it there for a hour or tew. I thot old tack was bad enuff, but, boy, he kant hold a candul tew yew."

"If yew and old tack were late end to end, it certinly wud be a grate idea, especially if yew cood no why it iz, but i rite yewr collum every nite and that praktikally maiks me a partie tew the krime. "If yew are tryin' tew be funnie, yew shud got me in tews and if yew think yewr tragge yew hev hit the nale on the foot, Ennie way yew look at it, yew are a laff in ennyboddie's funny paper, yew clown."

"Stick around for a few daze mear—the sirkus will be in town. When they put up the tents and things the sirkus managr shure ott to kum down and get yew and talk yew out and let the animals look at yew. The monkkies shure wud get a big kick out uv yew, yew rangotang."

"The sirkus clowns, no doubt, will be glad to get out of Pampa, on account of worryin' wile they are here for fear that yew will sop thare jobs. A sirkus shure cood save monnie by talkin' yew on the pae-rote. Yew cood take the place uv fiftie clowns, yew pagl-otchle."

"Wun thing i wud advise yew tew be kareful about, and that's goin' on tew the sirkus growin' coon on Thursdie mornin'. Yew shud ott tew watch yewr step or the elie-funts mite mistalk yew for a pee-nut. Ennyboddie that rites the things yew dew cood be mistaken for almost enything, yew almuud."

"In fact, yew are a hole sirkus yewrself. Now, if yew cair rite enny moar of thozse dizezles, i intend tew cawl a meatin' uv the sitty comishyun and talk it up with the komitty on sewers and dranes. Now, yew no just whare i stand, yew weel."

"Yewrs, not so yew cood notise it, "R. B. B., Pampa."

Thank you so much, R. B. B. There's nothing like a letter of praise from the readers. It's one way we have of telling whether we're getting over or not.

If there are any others who have constructive criticisms of that type, send them along. One thing, if nothing else, it does help to fill up the space. And now for the contributed poetry from Mrs. B. B., also of Pampa, who writes: "Now you've got me doing it—how's this?"

Come blow your horn
The sheep's in the meadow,

Where is that boy
That looks after the sheep?"

SAFETY TEST ZONE YET TO BE DESIGNATED

CAR INSPECTIONS DUE TO BE ON LARGE SCALE

Pampa Motorists today were preparing to avail themselves of traffic safety tests to be conducted here Thursday and Friday by state highway patrolmen.

Free inspection of all automobiles will be given by a squad of eight state troopers in a safety lane to be set up on a street to be designated later.

City police, the sheriff's office, safety groups and civic clubs are cooperating with the move which is planned on a wide scale this year.

A similar test was conducted here two years ago but the 1936 inspection is expected to be held on a much larger basis.

Every autist is invited to drive his car to the safety lane for a thorough checkup on brakes, lights, steering gear, horn, windshield wiper and other accessories which should be functioning at 100 per cent to insure driving safety.

Capt. M. L. Berry of the State Highway Patrol will be in charge of the two-day inspection in Pampa. He will be accompanied to the city by state troopers and Sgt. George Schauer, of Austin, state first aid instructor, who will speak on traffic safety at civic club meetings.

The tests will not be compulsory, but all motorists are invited to avail themselves of the free inspection in order to cut down traffic mishaps.

BLOCK WOULD DEPORT FOR AIDES TO RUSSIA

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (AP)—Paul Block, newspaper publisher, returned from Europe today declaring he favored the deportation to Russia of "the many young socialistic experimenters, who, at the moment, are so close to President Roosevelt."

"It is most discouraging," he said in a statement, on his return to the city. "Queen Mary," when one has been to England and has learned of the sanity and intelligence that is responsible for their fine recovery and then compare it with the wasteful boondoggling that is going on over here."

In England, experienced statesmen and business men are directing the destinies of their nation," his statement said. "While in the United States we have inexperienced young professors and lawyers, many of them alien-minded, assisting and advising Mr. Roosevelt."

Rescued from well VAN ALSTYNE, Sept. 7 (AP)—Mrs. Charlie Edmonson was rescued from a well last night. Clifford Gilchrist was lowered into the well to aid her until firemen arrived and pulled her out. Mrs. Edmonson was reported to have fallen into the well shortly after dark.

Pampa Stores to Offer Big Values On 'Dollar Day'

Tomorrow is DOLLAR DAY in Pampa. The regular monthly merchandising event has been moved up a day because of Labor Day falling on Monday.

Dollar Day, by the way, has grown in less than a year's time to be the outstanding Pampa sales event of the month, and each succeeding Dollar Day has been growing in importance to the consumer in the Pampa trading area.

Dollar Day tomorrow means that Pampa merchants have assembled their stocks so that buyers may take advantage of end-of-summer specials as well as make selections at unbeatable price values of the latest in new and seasonable merchandise.

One of the features of past Dollar Days in Pampa has been the growing inclination of patrons to come to the city from long distances in order to avail themselves of the merchandising values offered in Pampa stores.

It is the best evidence that Pampa merchants rank first in quality and price.

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS

Utah, Sept. 7 (AP)—Bronzed Ab Jenkins, driving his ivory-hued "Mormon Meteor" over this world's fastest racing course at dazzling speeds, snatched two records back to America from England today and roared on in quest of more.

Jenkins established a new mark for 500 kilometers at 164.47 miles per hour—far surpassing the old record of 153.30 set on this same glistening surface by Capt. George E. T. Eyston of London.

Then he crashed Eyston's 500-mile record of 152.34 with a new world record of 159.03.

EXPERTS GATHER FOR WORLD POWER PARLEY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Experts on coal, oil and electricity from all parts of the world, gathered in the capital for the third world power conference today to study the effect of their products on modern society.

From 52 nations, industrialists, government officials, engineers and scientists came for a crowded week in which they will:

Watch President Roosevelt press the button which starts the turbines of Boulder Dam.

View for the first time a machine for capturing the sun's heat.

Hear Secretary of State Hull discuss world affairs.

Read invoices of the world's power resources, and.

Discuss, in four languages, their common power problems.

Diplomats and officials prepared an elaborate social program for Washington's first international conference since the naval disarmament meeting in 1922. For lack of a large enough dining hall, the waiting room of Union Station will be converted into a banquet hall for the conference dinner.

Delegates registered today and turned immediately to studying the 325 papers prepared by experts of many lands.

Labor Day Unusually Quiet; Accidents, Arrests Minor

HUNGER IS FIRST INSTINCT, SAYS PSYCHOANALYST

Jung Disagrees With Freud, Places Sex Second

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, Associated Press Science Editor

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 7 (AP)—Charles Gustav Jung, co-author with Freud of psychoanalysis, made his first speech in America today, summarizing his life work in emotional analysis at the Harvard tercentenary.

Jung rated sex in second place among the instincts in speaking at a symposium on "factors determining human behavior." Unlike Freud, he placed hunger first.

Explaining why he disagreed with many psychoanalysts who place sex first, Professor Jung said: "The growth of culture, having brought with it so many restrictions of a moral and a social nature, sexuality has been lent, temporarily at least, an excess value comparable to that of water in a desert."

Professor Jung gave five principal factors as regulators of human behavior: Hunger, sexuality, drive to activity, reflection and creative instinct.

RADCLIFF WILL SPEAK AT REGULAR API MEETING

First of the regular winter meetings of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute will be tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in city hall auditorium. Max Mahaffey, chairman, will preside.

Seven Persons Taken By Officers on Sunday

Pampa passed through an unusually quiet Labor Day Monday. No serious accidents and only seven minor arrests were listed at police headquarters and in the county sheriff's office.

Seven persons were arrested over Sunday, including four for intoxication, two for vagrancy and one for a traffic violation.

Most business places were closed all day. Activities were suspended in city and county offices, the post-office, bank, and on WPA projects. There was no mail delivery.

Sports activities also were at low tide in the city with no events of any kind scheduled here. Many Pampans took advantage of the holiday to attend the race meet at Panhandle.

Schools conducted classes as usual. Persons who were enjoying a holiday from their regular duties, in many instances left Saturday night for a double-holiday motor trip to vacation spots.

With the passing of Labor Day, it is customary to associate the end of summer and termination of the real vacation season.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

Arduo and fire shone on the man's face as he listened to the President's Labor day address in a filling station here last night. "Labor day in this country has never been a class holiday," the cultured, humane voice of the President said. "It has always been a national holiday."

Hope shone like a halo on the man's face during the entire talk of the President. When it was over, the complete concentration left him. It was as if a pin prick had awakened him from a dream. He protested bitterly.

"If Roosevelt had his way, tomorrow wouldn't be no class holiday. He don't want it to be, but there're some things even he can't do. Didja hear him? He said no laborer ought to have to work tomorrow. But you can tell the cock-eyed world I've got to—or lose my job. My boss? Oh, he's going to the horse races! Where's your boss going?"

MILLION GIVEN JOBS IN YEAR, AVERS PERKINS

8,500,000 Employed Since Low Point Of Depression

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Secretary Perkins estimated today that 8,500,000 workers had found private or government jobs since the low point of the depression in March of 1933.

"Some 1,000,000 men and women who were jobless at this time last year have been added to the ranks of workers in private industry and the amount of money in pay envelopes has been increased nearly $42,000,000 in weekly wages," the secretary said in a Labor day radio speech.

Observing the forty-ninth anniversary of the first Labor day, Miss Perkins held "substantial gains have been made each year since 1932 and advances on the economic front have been so consolidated as to give every indication that they will be sustained to the ultimate benefit of every man, woman, and child in the United States."

WASHINGTON PRIMARY. SEATTLE, Sept. 7 (AP)—More than 600 candidates for congressional and state offices made their final appeals today for votes in tomorrow's primary election, ending one of Washington's most turbulent campaigns. Approximately 500,000 voters were expected to mark their choices on the new blanket primary ballot, which will permit them to ballot for nomination of candidates in either party.

REDS TRY TO FORCE FRANCE TO AID SPAIN

SOCIALIST, ANARCHIST DEFENDERS BATTLE IN STREETS

By EDWARD KENNEDY (Copyright, 1936, by The Associated Press)

PARIS, Sept. 7 — Communists, seeking by strike threats to force official assistance to Spanish socialists, charged today a fascist uprising threatened France.

The communist newspaper L'Humanite and the fascist plot to the French "social" party, political organization headed by Col. Francois de la Rocque which arose from the dissolved Croix de Feu veterans' league.

The charges followed communist instructions to 15,000,000 metal workers in the Paris region to drop their tools for a one-hour strike today in protest against the French policy of non-intervention in the Spanish civil war.

The communist newspaper asserted it had bought a secret meeting of 300 radical chiefs yesterday, issued orders for the organization of "shock troops" and outlined a plan for civil war.

The anarchist and socialist defenders of San Sebastian, with fascist rebel columns almost at the city's gates, fought in the streets today.

With the neutrality situation in nearby France made more grave by communist charges that a fascist uprising was imminent, insurgent troops with field guns assaulted Port Tranche, last government defense before San Sebastian, famous resort city on the Bay of Biscay.

Madrid, jubilant over victories which high officers said had stopped a march on Toledo and the capital in the Talavera sector, announced rebel resistance had "given away" at Cordoba, in the south, and said fascists besieged at Zaragoza, in the north, were "desperate."

The Paris communists, pressing hard for an end to the French neutrality which is keeping arms and ammunition from the friendly Madrid government, declared this French "social" party outgrowth of the dis-

So insistent with attention were the natives of the Welsh countryside where Harry Richman and Dick Merrill landed their plane after a record-breaking flight across the Atlantic that the fliers were forced to take refuge in the cabin and close the door. TEDDY, JR., ATTACKS ROOSEVELT 'FASCISM'

OLD ORCHARD BACH, Me., Sept. 7 (AP)—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., advised today "those who wish a Russian, German or Italian government" to vote for President Roosevelt in November. Contrasting the President, his distant cousin, with Governor Landon before a Labor Day republican rally here, the former governor-general of the Philippines declared: "On the one hand you have Mr. Roosevelt... who believes this America of ours is obsolete; who has violated without a quip practically all of his promises; who squandered more of the peoples' money than was spent in the first 24 years of our experience as a nation... a plain man wishes to attain social justice under our American democratic government; who has kept his promise; who balanced the budget of his state... taking the money not cut of the hides of the unemployed, as Mr. Hopkins would have it, but out of the hides of political employees."

HELD IN JAIL. GUTHRIE, Sept. 7 (AP)—Jacob Wright was in the King county jail here today charged with robbery of $100. Guthrie was arrested in connection with a liquor store holdup near Benjamin Sept. 1, in which the proprietor was shot and badly wounded. He was arrested in Colorado, Texas, his residence, and turned over to King county officers here. Some of the property allegedly taken in the robbery was recovered, officers said, and identified by owners.

At the same time, 300,000 metal workers in the Paris region laid aside their tools for an hour in protest against non-intervention in Spain.

(Copyright, 1936, by The Associated Press.) PARIS, Sept. 7.—A communist call to 300,000 workers to strike for one hour to compel France to support the Spanish government in its civil war, shut down today the principal airplane and automobile factories in the Paris area.

According to plan, metal workers laid down their tools for the hour demonstration. Company officials in the affected factories acknowledged virtually all union members answered the summons.

Union leaders called a meeting for tonight to decide on further action to force the Blum government from its avowed "hands off" policy in the Spanish civil war. They have demanded the government lift its embargo and allow export of "guns and planes for Spain," to aid the Madrid government.

HENDAYE, France, Sept. 7 (AP)—Columns of fascist rebels—supported by batteries of artillery and field guns—surged ahead today to attack Fort Tranchepre, last line of government defense before San Sebastian.

Rumbling lines of artillery moved into place for an offensive which rebel commanders asserted would remove the only obstacle in the march on the Biscay Bay resort city. Socialist militiamen strengthened their forces inside the besieged fort overlooking the small town of Parajes. Sporadic fighting continued near Ancho as the fascists sought to seize control of the highway into the coastal community.

The government general staff ordered fighting planes into defensive action to bomb consolidated rebel positions in devastated Irun and Fuenterrabia.

A bombing plane, circling deep over French territory, dropped two heavy projectiles on Irun and eight lighter ones on Fuenterrabia. Damage to the two fascist-dominated cities was only slight.

Government defending forces in San Sebastian, meanwhile, were reported split in three directions by dissension.

Basque volunteers were declared to be advocating surrender of the resort city to avoid bloodshed during the rebel advance. Socialists and armed workers of the militia were favoring a campaign of strategy to oppose the fascist offensive without bringing damage to the city.

EMERGENCY BUYING OF DROUTH CATTLE DROPS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Emergency buying of cattle in the drouth area by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration this year has amounted to only a small fraction of the 1934 purchases. The AAA's records showed today the purchase of only 2,964 head since the first purchases were authorized June 20. During the 1934 drouth, the AAA bought 8,280,000 head of cattle at a cost of approximately $112,000,000 in order to prevent demoralization of prices because of forced selling. In addition, $7,000,000 was spent for sheep and goats, for which no authorization has been made this year. AAA officials, expressing surprise they had found it necessary to purchase fewer than 3,000 cattle this year to keep the market on an even keel, attributed this to several factors, the principal one being a relatively good supply of hay and other roughage despite the drouth.

300 LAMBS ORDERED POWER CZARS' MEAL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—World power conference officials today completed a menu for one of the biggest meals ever cooked in America. The dinner will be spread before 3,000 guests from 52 nations in the spacious Union Railway Station Wednesday night. No other place in town was large enough. Here are statistics on the food: 300 dressed lambs. A ton of cantaloupes. 5,000 rolls. 125 gallons of raspberry ice. 75 gallons of soup. 50 crates of celery. Figures on the table settings are as impressive as the food order. Nine tons or 27,000 pieces of silver vessels. 30,000 pieces of flat silver. Five bales of table cloth. 6,000 wine glasses.

GREEN, LEWIS IN SPOTLIGHT ON LABOR DAY

LONDON HOPES UNIONS WILL BE REUNITED SOON

(By The Associated Press)
America's workmen laid aside their tools today to listen to the Labor Day messages of leaders in national life.

Counsel came from President Roosevelt and his Republican opponent in the presidential race, Governor Alf M. Landon.

The rival captains of the divided ranks of organized labor—William Green, head of the American Federation of Labor, and John L. Lewis, who led ten big unions from the federation's fold in a bitter war over industrial unionism—held prominent places on a crowded program.

Hope that the breach would be speedily healed was expressed by Governor Landon in an address prepared for delivery before the Kansas contingent of the American Legion at Wichita.

"It is to be hoped that organized labor may continue its part in the struggle for higher living standards," he said. "And to be really effective, it must be united."

Mr. Roosevelt contended government expenditures saved business and would aid the drought-harassed farmers in a radio address last night from Washington.

He promised immediate work relief to resourceless farmers in the arid areas and a long range program to cushion the effect of future dry spells. He allocated $2,500,000 to the U. S. Employment Service to stimulate absorption of relief workers by private industry.

At Knoxville, Tenn., last night, Green called for a new national effort to regulate hours of work and an increased purchasing power and cited a need for social security.

Green, defender of craft unions, was scheduled to make a radio address on labor's outlook tonight. Shortly afterward, Lewis, chief of the United Mine Workers of America and committee for industrial organization and advocate of industrial unionization, arranged to broadcast his views on much the same subject from Washington.

Col. Frank Knox, Republican vice presidential nominee, was expected to touch on labor problems in a speech at Alma, Mich., and William Lemke, standard bearer of the Union party, at a rally at Chicago's River-view park.

AMERICA WILL LIKELY LOSE THOMPSON CUP

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 7 (AP)—Harried by crampups and narrow death escapes, America seemed destined today to lose the Charles E. Thompson trophy, emblematic of air speed supremacy in this country.

The 150-mile race for the trophy and a $20,000 purse, following yesterday's spectacular Louis W. Greve trophy event that brought mishap to two Yankee pilots, headlined today's closing program of the 1936 National Air races.

The man picked to capture the Thompson classic, won in 1932 by Major James H. Doolittle, in 1933 by James R. "Jimmie" Wedell, in 1934 by Col. Roscoe Turner and last year by Harold Neumann, was dashing Lieut. Michael Detroyat of France.

The 30-year-old Frenchman, who came over for the express purpose of taking the trophy back to France, demonstrated his ability yesterday in winning the $8,000 Greve race.

Seventy-five thousand spectators gasped as mishap befell Joe Jacobson of Kansas City, "hard luck" pilot of the 1936 races, and Rudy Kling of Lemont, Ill.

Both fliers, landing after racing in the Greve event, crashed in the center of the field a few minutes apart.

Neither was badly hurt, but their planes were wrecked.

COUGHLIN ADVOCATES CONVERTING BANKERS

CHICAGO, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin left in Chicago today an admonition to his followers that "you won't get your rights until you take every international banker and either convert him or start a new party."

"I mean a new Boston tea party," he said in a Sunday address to thousands at Riverview park. "Your ancestors did it once before and do you lack the intestinal fortitude to do it now?"

While his listeners surged about the press section with cries of "throw them out," the priest replied to recent reports that high church officials had curbed his activities, with a "challenge" to the press to "headline" his denial as, he said, it had "headlined the lies."

PLAYOFF CONTINUES

VAN ALSTYNE, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Van Alstyne Grays won the first game in the Lone Star league playoff, defeating Leonard, 7 to 6 Sunday. Raines and Hogan Stubblefield were Van Alstyne's batteries. Dixon and Thornton had the same assignment for Leonard. The second game will be played at Leonard next Sunday.

BRITISH FEARFUL

LONDON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Great Britain, fearful lest the increasing fury of the Spanish war endanger European neutrality, today instructed its charge d'affaires in Madrid, G. A. D. Oglvie-Forbes, to ask if rebel charges in that the government is using gas bombs are true.

DEATH WRITES LAST CHAPTER OF LOST LOVE

AMERICAN FUTURELY LOVED BY DUKE OF ABRUZZI

BY MARK BARRON.
NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (AP)—The requiem of a romance that inspired an African empire was intoned Saturday across the pier of Katherine Elkins Hill in Washington, D. C.

The death in a New York hospital of the daughter of the late Senator from West Virginia wrote the final chapter to the lost love of the late Duke of Abruzzi, cousin of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy. It was the Duke of Abruzzi who, nearly a quarter of a century ago was forbidden by his king to pursue his courtship of the proud, lovely daughter of Senator Stephen B. Elkins.

Heartbroken, the tall, lean nobleman plunged into his exploration of the deserts and jungles of Somaliland and Ethiopia, made everlasting friends of the Sidamo and Borano tribes of savages, established his Utopian colony of the Villaggio Dell a Duca del Abruzzi and died there in 1933.

Moving up with the Italian troops on the Dolo offensive that resulted in the capture of Neghell last February, this correspondent camped for a night in the Abruzzi village and there heard for the first time the story of the thwarted romance of the American girl and her royal Italian courtier.

Only two days before our arrival in the village with a detachment of the Costa Lancers, the native hospital had received an automatic refrigerator and other gifts from the "Signorina" Elkins, but when a story was filed that night telling of the receipt of her annual gifts there was doubt in the censor's voice.

"His majesty is still sensitive about the Duke of Abruzzi's romance," he explained as he blue penciled the copy.

From 1908 to 1910 it was thought almost certain that she would wed the Duke of Abruzzi at a time when it was reported he would be crowned king of Albania.

The two met when the duke, the Prince Luigi Amedeo of Savoy-Aosta, came to America in 1908 as commander of a group of Italian warships. "There was no ordinary, swarthy, foppish Italian nobleman," Evelyn Walsh McLean wrote in her autobiography. "This was a man who seemed to be the essence of nobility."

In the lush, jungle fields of Abruzzi village are evidences of his brusque, untiring work in an effort to forget the American girl he loved, but who was forbidden to him by his cousin and king. Besides the bountiful crops of cotton, sugar cane, rice, bananas and other produce, there are even a few small factories manufacturing soap, molasses, tools and sugar.

In 1913 Miss Elkins married William P. Hill, son of a former Illinois member of congress. In 1921 she divorced him in Paris and remarried him in Washington in 1923.

KEYSTONE OF NATION'S PROSPERITY

The greatest gain made by American labor during the trying days that have passed since the Great Collapse in 1929 does not appear on any statute book. It is written in no court proceeding, recorded in no chronicle of the picket lines.

It is this: for the first time in the history of the country, practically everyone, workman, employer, professional or business man, recognizes that the keystone of prosperity and the welfare of all of us is the purchasing power of the men and women who work.

A few economists always knew it. But there were always some in influential places to deny it, and the great majority of the people were indifferent to it. Now, it has been borne in on us again and again, by the most careful studies of economists of the Brookings Institution type, and by the daily observation of every man who studies his own and his neighbors' lives.

Without wages that will put strong purchasing power into the hands of those who work, there can be no prosperity, no security for anyone.

The American market remains the greatest in the world. And that is because the buying power of the American workman has always been high in comparison with that of workmen abroad.

It is good to have all the foreign markets we can get, but the fact remains that the great market of the world is right here, and that its keystone is good wages which will put purchasing power into the hands of the many.

Merchants know it. They have seen their sales leap as employment grew and wages rose.

Professional people know it. They have seen medical, dental, and legal bills paid, after having been dormant for years.

Business men of all kinds know it, for they have seen the pulse of business beat faster as that purchasing power seeped down through retail trade into light, and then to heavy manufacturing.

Working people themselves know it as they have watched their pay envelopes translated into more, and better things to broaden their own lives.

Everybody knows it now, and the universal establishment of that glowing truth is the best augury for the future of American labor as it joins hands once again in celebrating its own day.

The future of American labor is somewhat clouded in detail. Rival organizations put forth their claims for attention. Different courses of action are urged on the men and women who work.

But the central fact of labor's keystone position in the national economy is so firmly established that the future can be set along only one course: "Forward!"

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

PORTLAND, Me.—If the nation goes as Maine goes this year, it's going to be just too bad for the New Deal.

Most Democrats seem to expect defeat in the election of Sept. 14 when the state chooses a U. S. senator, a governor, and three representatives. But they are fighting desperately to avert a massacre.

A huge Republican victory would be exactly what the G. O. P. would use to wave before that large group of voters—and campaign contributors—who always want to be with the winner.

"As Maine goes, so goes the nation!" is a slogan rather than a truism. Maine has always gone Republican in presidential years except in the Roosevelt-Taft split in 1912.

Although Democrats have won the presidency five times since the Civil War, only one of those times had they won the preceding September election in Maine and that was in 1932, when Roosevelt lost the state to Hoover in the following November just the same.

Republican campaign artillery sent to the state or about to arrive includes Col. Frank Knox, ex-Senator Edge of New Jersey, Congressman Hollister of Ohio, Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and Charles P. Taft.

Democratic orators for Maine include Governors Earle of Pennsylvania, Curley of Massachusetts, and McNutt of Indiana, and Senator Wagner of New York, to say nothing of Roosevelt's visit.

Republican U. S. Senator Wallace White is opposing Gov. Louis J. Brann, and Secretary of State Louis O. Barrows opposes Democratic National Committeeman Harold F. Dubord for the governorship. Democratic Congressman Simon Hamlin is running against James C. Oliver in the First congressional district; Democrat Ernest L. McLean against Republican Clyde H. Smith in the Second district; and Republican Congressman Ralph Brewster against Wallace H. Mabee in the Third district.

Favored to win are White, Barrows, Brewster, and Oliver, with a lone Democrat, McLean, being conceded a good chance.

A Brann-Dubord victory, even by a small margin, would set most neutral political writers to predicting a national Roosevelt landslide in November.

Two years ago Brann, aided by the "wet" issue, was re-elected governor over a weak, aged opponent. He has since lost the support of several Republican newspapers, and ERA scandals have done him no good.

Brann treats the New Deal as a liability to his candidacy. But many Republicans say they'd rather have a Republican anti-New Dealer in Washington than a Democrat. On the other hand, New Dealers suspect Brann as a "power trust" friend and reactionary.

On the other side of the picture, business is improving rapidly in Maine and potatoes are up from 50 or 75 cents to $2 a bushel.

Most factory and relief workers will vote Democratic, as against a heavy Republican rural vote.

Dubord, energetic and popular, has been campaigning all summer, praising the New Deal. He came within 1200 votes of beating Senator Frederick Hale in 1934. Barrows, a small town druggist long active in Republican politics, is not a spectacular campaigner or a statesman, but he is also popular. His chief campaign issues are federal expenditures, the national debt, and failure of Maine to benefit much from AAA.

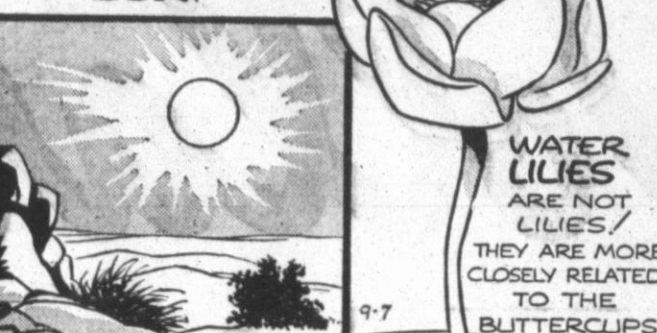

Two days from the electric chair, a Sing Sing inmate asked that the prison radio be turned on, since he can't have music wherever he goes.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

It's a matter of four days even on the Queen Mary from here to Twickenham-on-Sutton, Sussex, but I can hear P. G. Wodehouse, who is one of the great masters of prose comedy, figures prominently in several hilarious Hollywood legends—not because of the pictures that have been made from his writings, but because of the exceedingly large sums of money he has taken out of the studio town without, apparently, doing anything in return.

The films wanted Wodehouse a few seasons back and won his services for an elaborate sum. It was almost a shocking amount they paid the pleasant Britisher. But, somehow, they never filmed his stuff, despite the very obvious fact that he has authored a dozen best sellers and is one of the most widely-read writers in the English language.

When his contract ran out, P. G. came to New York and wrote a show for the Broadway stage. Then he went home and issued several funny articles about the Hollywood flings of fortune. He was delighted, he said, to bank so much after doing only a nominal amount of work.

Now, that he is in England, the movies have suddenly discovered that his novels are ready-made for the screen, and one company has tossed Bob Montgomery and the pretty Madge Evans into one of P. G.'s most hilarious stories, "Piccadilly Jim." It's a delightfully mad world—this writing and picture-making one.

James Hawkins, the North Carolina Negro lad who is chef and Man Friday to one of the better cartoonists, is back in the money again. A worshiper of Joe Louis, James was a sorrowful and weeping figure after Joe ran into that right hand of Max Schmeling's.

Late that night, after Joe had been slugged into his deep slumber, the telephone rang and a very sad voice was wafted into the ear of the delighted cartoonist.

"It's the way, boss—Ah bet it'll dollars against 50 cents Joe Louis would win—an' ah ain' got no 11' dollars."

"Well, pay your debts pay-day." "Nossah, boss—that pay-day business doan go in Harlem. Up here we pays on the nose or gets hit on the nose. If I doan pay tonight, I cain go home."

So James made the long haul from Harlem to Tudor City to collect his $5 and then went back to pay his debt of honor. But he's ahead now. When the Starkey Man had his dance with Joe recently, James got it all back. In fact, he won a few quid to spare.

The present generation can't mention the theater without bringing up Zeigfeld, White and Carroll—that his novels are ready-made for the screen, and one company has tossed Bob Montgomery and the pretty Madge Evans into one of P. Christian Church Sunday School Has Attendance of 372

There were 372 in attendance at the First Christian church Sunday school yesterday. The Y. P. class had a gain of about 1-3 per cent. The Rev. John Mullen, minister, spoke at the morning hour on "The Man Who Can Tell Us All About Ourselves." Special musical numbers included a solo, "Be Near Me, Father," by Felton, sung by Mrs. Alfred Gilliland, and a duet for vibraphone and piano, "Savior Like a Shepherd Lead Us," by Mr. Howard House and Mrs. Mel Davis. In the evening the sermon was on "Nicodemus, a Seeker After the Kingdom," and the solo of the evening was sung by Charles Madeira.

FAMED MERCY DOCTOR OF LONDON IS DEAD

LEEDS, Eng., Sept. 7 (AP)—Lord Moynihan, 70, prominent British medical authority who proposed legislation for legalization of mercy deaths, died today.

Baron Berkeley George Andrew Moynihan died six days after his wife, Isabella, whom he married in 1895. He collapsed from grief a day after her funeral and became steadily worse.

His son and two daughters were called to his bedside when his condition became critical.

Lord Moynihan drew fire from Catholic groups last year when he advanced a plan to make legal the killing of "persons suffering from incurable disease."

He organized the "Voluntary Euthanasia Society" after a British doctor was reported to have admitted five "mercy slayings." He became president of the organization.

GERMAN YOUTH GATHERS FEUPFH, Germany, Sept. 7 (AP)—Assembly of 50,000 disciplined German youths, who concluded a six-week march to this Nurnberg suburb, celebrated today the first event of the annual Nazi party convention.

The army of youth tramped into its tent city from all directions in preparation for formal opening of the national socialist conclave tomorrow.

A 108-degree temperature August 10 was the hottest on record at Minden, La., the weather bureau reports.

MRS. BERYL MARKHAM WILL SLEEP AND SHOP

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (AP)—Mrs. Beryl Markham, a society matron to London by just plain "Blondie" to New York, put down sleep and shopping today as the objectives of her first full day in the United States.

The trim, genial woman, who became the first of her sex to fly solo westward across the Atlantic in a trip described as almost incredible, took care of the sleep first.

"Terribly delighted and happy to be here," was her response to Manhattan's welcome.

Obviously fatigued by the strain of her flight through fog and rain from England to the Nova Scotia village of Louisburg, she retired early last night and left word not to be disturbed. She had had only four hours sleep since her takeoff Friday.

BORGER TO OPEN WAR ON MAIN'S SPEEDERS

(Special to the Daily NEWS) BORGER, Sept. 7.—Warning was sounded here today by Chief of Police Bill Bates that a war on speeders will be placed in effect tomorrow. Local police and state highway patrolmen have entered into a double-barreled drive to cut down speeding through Borger's Main street, one of the longest main thoroughfares in the world.

Because of increased traffic on the highway and Main street, motorists have begun to make a speed way of it, police stated.

To cut down the possibility of traffic accidents and fatalities speeders will be arrested and given the stiffest possible penalties, Chief Bates warned.

HUBER NINE TO PLAY UNDER NEW MANAGER, AGAINST ROAD RUNNERS

CARITHERS TO HURL BATTLE FOR BORGANS

BORGER SPLITS TWIN BILL IN AMARILLO THRILLERS

The Huber Blackfaces of Borger will take the field tomorrow night at Road Runner park under new management. Fred Pelove, catcher and former member of the Coltex Cassers of LeFors, will be at the helm in place of Lefty Huffman, first baseman.

Promptly at 8:15 the Blackfaces will tee off against the Pampa-Dancier Road Runners. It will be the last 1936 appearance of the Huber team on the Pampa diamond. Admission will be 25 cents for women and 40 cents for men.

Lefty Carithers is scheduled to take the mound for Borger, opposed by either Carl Thrasher or Lee Daney. Manager Sam Hale of the Birds had not definitely decided on his starting mound artist this morning.

Huber split a doubleheader in Amarillo yesterday afternoon. Chet Spencer hurled Borger to a 3 to 2 victory in the first game and "Soldier Sam" Daley losing the nightcap, 3 to 1. Irish Thrasher, who accompanied the Pampa-Dancier Road Runners to the Denver Post tournament, joined the Amarillo team and was behind the bat for both games. Thrasher was a former teammate of Freddy Brickell's.

Huber will field the same team that holds a two-game margin over the Road Runners in the season play. However, Amarillo holds the decision over Borger and Pampa has won all but two games against Amarillo.

On Saturday night the great House of David bearded team will be here for a single game, at 8:15 o'clock. Four new players will be with the team. Dacus, a lefthander, used to play for Amarillo, is now the ace of the beards' hurling staff. Henry is a new righthander. With the arrival of Mariott to join the team, Anderson went to left field with Mariott taking third. The shift sent Sam Sealing, former Road Runner, to center in place of Oltz, who joined Halliburton of Duncan, Okla. Franz is a new second baseman.

The House of David has signed for several games in the Orient this fall and will sail from Los Angeles on September 18.

Advance sale of tickets for the Road Runner-National league (negro) All Star games here on Sept. 17, night, and Sept. 18, day, started briskly this morning, especially from out-of-town customers. All advance orders must be by mail to Harold Miller, Box 1662, Pampa, Texas.

The All Stars will be led by Satchel Paige, greatest pitcher of the century, and "Cool Papa" Bell, one of the fleetest base runners in baseball. Both would be worth a hundred thousand dollars in organized baseball, scouts who will

College All-Stars Hope To Score First Win Over Pros

Abe Mickal Is Slated To Do Chunking At Dallas

By Felix R. McKnight Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Sept. 7 (AP) — The Centennial All-Stars, a bold band of last year's college grid heroes loaded with aerial trickery whistled to them by two masters at the art, tonight make an effort to score college football's first victory over their professional brethren—in this instance, the Chicago Bears.

Sprinkled with All-America and sectional stars, the collegians will depend on passing wizardry and a weather break to conquer the vaunted professional giants in the Southwest's first "dream game" in the Cotton Bowl of the Texas Centennial exposition.

Coaches Matty Bell and Leo (Dutch) Meyer, who led Southern Methodist and Texas Christian into the Rose Bowl and Sugar Bowl last New Year's day, said their charges would serve up typical Southwest aerial antics and further confided the college boys would "make it an offensive battle from the start."

Two years ago the Bears played the collegians to a scoreless tie at Chicago. Last year they carried away a 5-0 victory.

Abe Mickal, celebrated Louisiana State University triple-threat, will handle most of the "Collegians' chunking chores. Coach Bell said, with him in the starting backfield will be John McCauley, Rice Institute's great back; Taldon Manton, hero of Texas Christian's Sugar Bowl victory, and Rex Clark, another rammng Texas Christian back.

Thy Bobby Wilson, All-America choice in his last year at Southern Methodist, will be fired into the game "at the right time," Bell said.

Centennial officials predicted a throng of between 25,000 and 30,000

if favored by clear weather. Starting line-ups: All-Stars Bears

- Left End Beny, Vanderbilt; Hewitt, Mich.
- Left Tackle Reynolds, Stanford; Trost, Marq.
- Left Guard Sklar, Kansas; Carlson, Ore. State
- Center Muller, Stanford; C. Miller, Purdue
- Right Guard Stamps, SMU; Zeller, Indiana
- Right Tackle Throgmorton, Vand. Musso, Millikin
- Right End Howell, Ark.; Karr, W. Va.
- Quarterback Mickal, LSU; Masterson, Neb.
- Left Half McCauley, Rice; Sisk, Marq.
- Right Half Clark, TCU; Feathers, Tenn.
- Fullback Manton, TCU; Nagurski, Minn.
- Officials: Ben Lee Boynton, referee; Wilford Smith, umpire; Ross, line judge; Morris, field judge.

Both Cards And Giants Lose As Bees And Cincinnati Win

Bees' Homer in 9th Gives Boston 3-2 Game

By Sid Feder, Associated Press Sports Writer

Want to know who's going to win the National league pennant? Ask the Boston Bees.

They won't, but they're having a lot to say as to just which outfit will finish at the head of the parade.

Third in a row over Bill Terry's Terriers yesterday was produced in the "Frank Merriwell" manner. Behind 2-0 going into the ninth they proceeded to get men on base in a hurry.

Then Tommy Thompson, called on to pinch hit, poled out a homer to account for a 3-2 decision off Gabbo Gabler.

Fortunately for the Giants, the Cardinals lost both of their starts against the Cincinnati Reds, leaving the New Yorkers with a three-game lead. Babe Herman's homer led the attack for a 5-3 win in the opener, and Peaches Davis pitched a nine-hitter to take the nightcap, 8-4.

The Cleveland Indians dropped both of their doubleheaders to the White Sox, 15-1 and 6-3, and skidded out of second place.

The Red Sox belted out a twin win over the Yanks, 14-5 and 4-2.

The surging Washington Senators moved into a tie for fourth place with the Cleveland Indians by trouncing the Athletics, who are earning their "Apathetics" nickname easily, 7-1 and 7-5.

The Cubs were unable to get by the Pirates and dropped a 5-4 close one. The Phillies came from way behind to take the Dodgers, 7-5, with the aid of Pete (Dizzy) the Third's Sives' effective hurling.

nessed the Denver Post tournament declared.

Before the All Stars come, however, Pampa fans will see another great negro team when the Kansas City Monarchs come here for games on the nights of Sept. 15 and 16. The Monarchs appeared here in the spring, defeating the Road Runners 3 to 0 in a great game.

HARVESTER FOOTBALL ELEVEN WILL SCRIMPAGE PANHANDLE

Coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejean will send their Harvester prospects against the Panhandle Panthers of Pat Gerald at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon on the new turf at Harvester field. The public is invited to see the scrimmage, free. Excepting for scrimmage sessions, Harvester field will be closed to the public.

Tomorrow's scrimmage is expected to see the Harvester coaches select a regular starting lineup. The boys, 30 of them, have been battling for more than two weeks for the right to be named on the "first string." Although one or two good prospects will be on the sidelines because of injuries, the coaches know their ability and will not overlook them in the final selection.

Within the next few days, the coaches also decide how many of their prospects will be sent back to the Gorillas. Lack of interest in making the team will be the chief cause of "reduction to the ranks" and there are a few boys who are deliberately loafing on the job. One or two boys who were unable to attend camp are hoped to come up to the Harvester ranks after the Gorillas report this afternoon to Coach Bob Curry.

Only two weeks separate the Harvesters from their opening game, with Central of Oklahoma City. Game time will be 8 o'clock on the night of Sept. 18. As the time nears for the opening tilt, practice sessions will be longer and more strenuous. Defense will be the big job for the next week.

Panhandle has a heavy team with several lettermen back from last year. Scrimmage is expected to be tough.

Toots Mondt, manager of Dave Levin, wrestler, claims an air-travel record. In a little more than 30 days, Mondt flew 33,000 miles.

PANTHERS WIN FROM DALLAS IN 5-3 GAME

CATS WITHIN 3 AND HALF GAMES OF 4TH PLACE

By The Associated Press Today's games:

Dallas at Fort Worth (2 games). Oklahoma City at Tulsa (Two games).

Beaumont at Houston (two games). Galveston at San Antonio (two games). (All day games).

The Texas league season entered its final week today with two clubs, Fort Worth and San Antonio, making a last desperate effort to land a place in first division in order to have a chance at the pennant by the post season playoff series route.

The Fort Worth Cats drew within three and one-half games of the coveted fourth place by downing the league-leading Dallas Steers, 5 to 3. Sunday, Chris Fullerton pitched six-hit ball for the Steers, but his mates could not overcome the four-run lead the Cats gained in the first inning on two walks, a wild pitch, an error and two hits. Jim Stroner of Dallas hit his twelfth home run of the season in the fifth inning.

Although the chances were very slim, the San Antonio Missions stayed in the battle by taking a double-header from Galveston, winning the first game, 13 to 4, and the second, 6 to 1.

The Tulsa Oilers bested the Oklahoma City Indians, 4 to 3, in the first game of their crucial third place series. The victory increased the Oilers' lead over the Indians to two games.

The Houston Buffs defeated the Beaumont Exporters in both games of a double-header, winning the first 5 to 1 and the second 3 to 1. The double victory gave the Buffs a firmer hold on second place.

GENE MAKO TO BATTLE PERRY IN NET MEET

EXPERTS' EYES FIXED ON BOBBY RIGGS OF L. A.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP) —Sifted down to the round of 16, the national tennis singles championships were ready for the show-down today.

In the men's tournament eleven of the 13 seeded players had survived and in the women's eight out of ten had advanced to the quarter-finals.

From top to bottom of the upper bracket in the men's tournament the pairings were as follows: Bryant Grant, Atlanta, vs. Pierre Pelizza, France; Bobby Riggs, Los Angeles, vs. John Van Ryn, Philadelphia; Sidney Wood, New York, vs. Henry M. Cullley, Santa Barbara, Cal.; and Fred Perry, England, vs. Gene Mako, Los Angeles.

These matches were scheduled for today with Grant, Riggs, Wood and Perry favored. Lower bracket play is today tomorrow.

Though most of these players are well known, several of the youngsters are especially interesting. Bobby Riggs is rated perhaps the most promising youngster in the country today. He is 17 years old and last year was ranked No. 1 among the nation's junior players. This year he has won the National Clay court, Southern California, Missouri Valley, Nassau invitation and Eastern Clay Court singles, beating Parker and Mangin along the way.

John McDiarmid had the hardest battle in the consolation program. The Princeton instructor made a great comeback to whip Frank J. Bowden of New York, 8-10, 8-10, 6-2, 7-5, 6-4.

The women's championship is so completely dominated by Helen Jacobs, the defending champion from Berkeley, that speculation turns on who can beat her.

KAUFMAN AND MORGAN REACH SEMI-FINALS

Bus Kaufman and Ruey Morgan battled their way into the semi-final round in the championship flight of the Lethanders Tournament in Amarillo yesterday. Hamp Brown, another Pampa player, drew Ruey Morgan in the first round and lost a 1 down match.

Kaufman started the tournament with a first round victory over Ford Jacobson, 7 and 6. He established himself as a favorite in the afternoon with a 2 and 1 victory over Carl Scott of Canyon, one of the best players in the tournament. Morgan drew a bye in the second round of play.

Finals were to be played today.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press) Tommy Thompson, Bees: His 4th inning pinch homer with two aboard downed Giants, 3-2.

Wes Ferrell and Lefty Grove, Red Sox: Their pitching beat Yanks in both ends of doubleheader.

Babe Herman and Ival Goodman, Reds: Former's homer and three other hits led way to doubleheader win over Cardinals; Goodman hit homer in nightcap.

Tennis Players Lose 17 Out Of 20 Matches At Amarillo

Henderson, Stennis Win Singles Matches

Pampa tennis players lost 17 out of 20 matches in Amarillo yesterday when the largest dual meet of the year was staged at Ellwood park.

The bright spot in the Pampa loss was the sensational victory of Dave Henderson over John White. Amarillo city champion, 6-14, 4-6, 6-2. Henderson staged a great uphill battle after getting the jump in the first set and losing the second. His service was almost faultless and his volleying perfect, especially when a placement meant game or set.

Two Pampa junior teams also registered victories when Hugh Stennis defeated Grady Robbins, 6-4, 6-3, and the doubles team of Don Hughes and Jesse Hamilton won from Jamie Franklin and Earl Christian, 6-4, 6-0.

However, several Amarillo aces came through with hair breadth victories over Pampa players. Cullen Crain, one of Amarillo's best, was forced to extra games in both sets to defeat Ralph "Lefty" Hamilton. It took Amarillo's ace doubles team, Brummett McClendon and B. C. McClendon three sets to overcome Rob Brown and James Pearson. The last set went 8-6 before the tiring Pampans' lost.

One of the hardest fought matches of the day, and one of the most surprising, was the exhibition given by Mrs. Harold Teague and Rob Brown before losing to the Amarillo No. 1 mixed doubles team, Twille Mae Gibson and Wayne Byers, 10-8, 10-8.

Results: (Amarillo players first) Men's Singles John White lost to Dave Henderson, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

LITTLE ROAD RUNNERS BEAT BORGER CHRISTIANS 6 TO 5

The Little Road Runners, champions of the Panhandle Junior baseball league, again demonstrated their superiority over their closest rivals, the Borger Christians at Borger yesterday, emerging with a 6 to 5 victory.

The Pampa nine has walloped the Borgans in the last three games. Most of Borger's runs yesterday were made on Little Road Runner errors.

Paul Montgomery allowed only five hits but his support was ragged. Practically every Pampa player was able to smack Robinson's offerings. Noland, catcher, again started for Borger at the plate. Fred McGahey smashed out a homer, and both Keyser and Cunningham connected for three-base hits. Cunningham caught for Montgomery.

The Little Road Runners have been defeated only one time this season, and the Christians played the winning role in that game, at Road Runner park. The Junior Birds defeated Phillips, the Magnolia Peewees, Hoover, and LeFors consistently all summer to maintain the lead in the Junior league.

The Junior champions of Oklahoma are trying to arrange a game to be played in Pampa as soon as possible. All that is keeping Manager Joe Parkinson from matching the game is lack of a $50 expense guarantee which the Oklahoma City club asks. The team would like to play three games here. It is rated the best kid team in Oklahoma. Players are 17 and 18 years old, the same age as the Little Road Runners. Admission would be charged for the games. Persons who would be interested in helping underwrite the $50 are asked to see Archer Pullington at the NEWS, president of the Junior league. The opinion prevails generally that the boys deserve to play the Oklahoma champions.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONS IN HOUSTON TOURNEY

HOUSTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Following the elimination of the defending Brenham Sun Oilers today, two games will be played tonight in the semi-pro baseball tournament here. The national semi-pro champion Halliburton from Duncan, Okla., tackles Conroe in the opener after which Thompson meets Petus.

Refugio completed the elimination of the defending champions Sunday as Ray Pipkin, former Houston Buff, hurled the firemen to a 4 to 1 victory over the crippled Brenham team. It was the second loss for Brenham. The elimination of the Sun Oilers left seven teams in the running for the title.

Barbers Hill's mighty Gushers remained as the only undefeated team and the undisputed leader in the tournament today after they had conquered the grand prize brewers, 3 to 2, in a thrilling 11-inning battle Sunday. It was the fourth straight victory for the Gushers and the first loss in four starts for grand prize.

Strangler Lewis, the wrestler, took off 40 pounds in a recent training grind.

Brothers Hope Robot Cotton Picker Will Be Blessing, Not Curse to Workers

By NEA Service.
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 7 (AP)—The Rust cotton picker will not be a "curse to mankind." It will not mean a bleak, dismal future, starvation, and misery for cotton pickers of the Southland, taking work from thousands of them.

These are the vows of John D. Rust, 43, and Mack D. Rust, 36, the Texas brothers who studied and toiled for eight years to build a machine that would eliminate back-breaking work in the cotton fields.

With the machine practically perfected and ready soon for manufacture, the Rusts have revealed their determination to forego profits, and to see that their invention is marketed in such way as to bring security and leisure to workers, not to rob them of their jobs.

To this end, they have appealed to the country for ideas that will help them in this aim. Already they are considering several plans. Under one of them, they would lease their machines, instead of selling them outright, only to planters who would agree to obey certain specified conditions.

Would Help Laborers.
These include maintaining definite minimum living wages and maximum hours for their workers; the abolition of child labor; and recognition of the right of collective bargaining among their employes.

The brother-inventors, too, want to help in development of co-operative farms—on which farm laborers own land and share in profits—in the South. In these cases, cotton pickers would share directly in benefits from the Rust machine. And the Rusts seek state and federal aid in the "socialized marketing" of their invention, through national co-operation.

Already the Rust Cotton Picker Co., Inc., in Tennessee, is organized on a 50,000-share basis, with about one-tenth, or $100,000, of its capital paid in. The Rust brothers hold the controlling interest of 51 per cent.

Idea From Grandmother.
According to John Rust, 10 machines will be assembled by July, ready for final endurance tests in this year's cotton harvest. If they fulfill expectations, commercial production on a small scale will begin in 1937, less than a decade after the brothers joined forces to make a dream come true.

It was the recollection of his grandmother moistening a spindle on her old spinning wheel that gave John the idea for the cotton picker, which goes through the cotton stalks, removing the bolls, on a smooth, moistened spindle.

In the office of their small Memphis plant, the brothers now ponder the even greater problem that confronts them. "Thrown on the market in the manner of past inventions, unrestricted use of our machine would mean that 75 per cent of the labor population would be thrown out of employment in the sharecropper country. We are not willing that this should happen."

For this reason, the Rusts say they are willing to forego huge profits, limiting the salary of each to only 10 times that of the corporation's lowest-paid employe. And, at the same time, they hope to enrol non-profit organizations as investors, to cooperate in their social-minded aim. (Copyright, 1936, NEA Service, Inc.)

SCHOOL ONE-ACT PLAYS WILL BE LIMITED TO COMEDIES, FARCES

AUSTIN, Sept. 7 — Copies of the 27th yearly issue of the Constitution and Rules of the University of Texas Interscholastic League, now in the University Press, will be ready for distribution by September 15, according to Roy Bedichek, chief of the University Bureau of Public School Interests, which serves as the state office for the league.

The only new contest added to the League's schedule of events this year is a shorthand contest, Mr. Bedichek said. This contest has been carried on as an optional event in many district and regional meets, and it has also been held as a state contest but outside of the regular listed events in the league. This year's constitution and rules includes it as one of the regular contests.

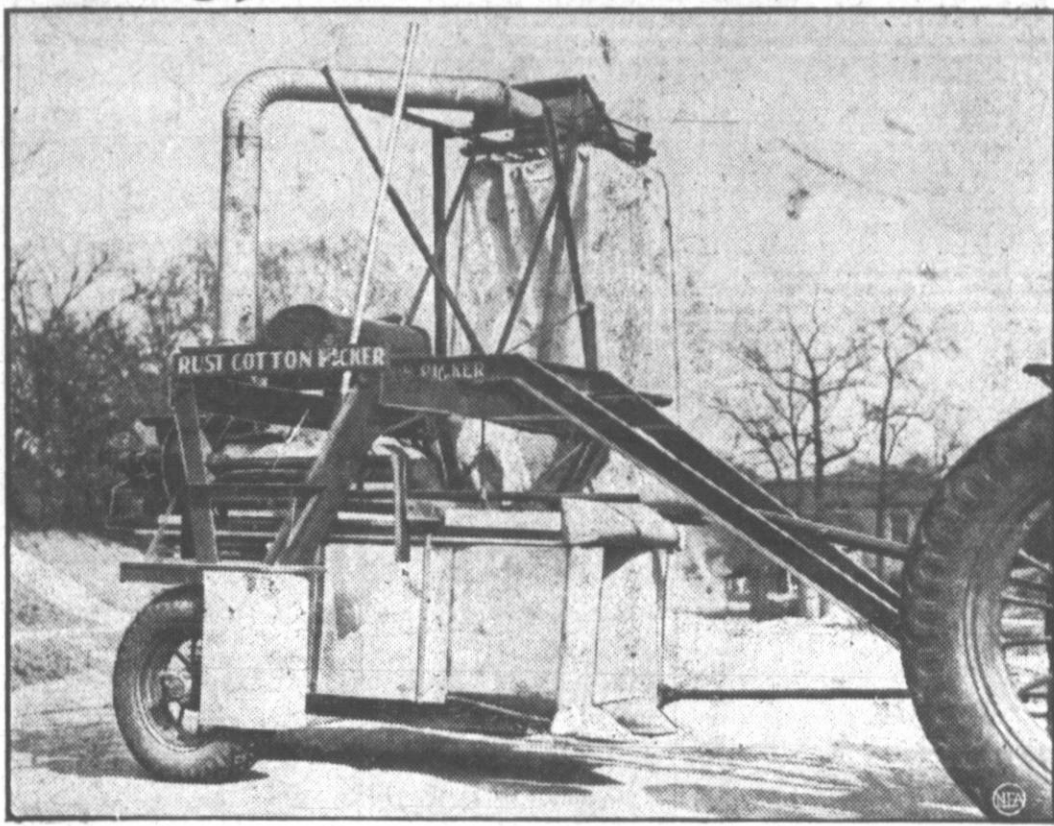

"Comparatively few changes have been made in the rules for the 1936-37 school year," Mr. Bedichek said. "There has been a change in the penalty for late payment of fee. Instead of there being a blanket fine of one dollar for late payment the rules this year provide a 50 per cent penalty. This equalizes the penalty on all classes of schools. Moreover, when a school elects to take advanced classification it must take advanced classification in all contests. Heretofore a school has been allowed to elect advanced classification in one or more contests."

"Another change affects ward school contestants in the 'ready writ' contest. Instead of admitting these contestants to regional and state meets the ward school competition in this contest ends with the district meet."

"Points that may be counted toward all-round championship have been revised in terms of declaration, each of these contests being awarded a fewer number of points. In the choral singing contest a change has been made, admitting a larger number of pupils to the choir."

"By a vote of the one-act play schools entered in last year's contest the plays this year are to be limited to comedies and farces. This proposal was put to a referendum and carried 104 to 63."

"A change has also been made in the journalism rules which requires papers to publish only eight issues

it by far the largest organization of public schools for inter-school competitions to be found in the United States. Not all of the schools, of course, engage in all of the contests, but all of the schools engage in one or more of the contests. The league program is large enough to accommodate every sized public school there is in the state, from the three hundred odd big high schools that engage in such major sports as football, down to the two or three thousand one and two teacher rural schools that engage in rural pentathlon, playground ball, declamation, and other less strenuous contests.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

By HUBBARD KEAVY

HOLLYWOOD—Among the things in Hollywood that amuse sideliners are the sharp lines of social distinction.

A muse may look at a queen, but he hadn't better speak to her. The dukes and counts may address her, but they are seldom invited to help dispose of her caviar. If the mouse becomes a count, he may court a countess. If the countess is in line for a queenship, the other queens may accept her. If she isn't, they shout: "Off with her head!"

Extras associate with extras. But players, one step higher on the social ladder, associate with their kind. Featured players have their group, and the stars and the directors and the executives have their.

Salary Dictates Position

Salary determines where one sits socially. A $1,000-a-week player is not in the same class, socially, with a $500-a-week extra. Directors of two-reelers are not in the same class with directors of features. Scenarists with a reputation do not have luncheon with the $500 writers.

I was reminded of these social lines the other day when I read that Leopold Stokowski, director of the Philadelphia symphony orchestra, was the guest during his Hollywood stay of Director Mitchell Leisen. Leisen would not have entertained Stokowski four years ago. Leisen then was an extra. When Writer Norman Krasna was a publicity man, he spoke to the queens on business matters only. Today, as a high-salaried scenarist, he courts ladies of the inner circle.

Leslie Howard travels in the best circles, but he could only have peered from the outside when he was a bank clerk. Stankord also changed the status of Barker Fredrick March. The Truckdriver Boris Karloff, the Chorus Girl Myrna Loy.

Up The Ladder

When Mitchell Why's managed a 10-cent attraction he had dimmed Althea Faye from a distance. Now he does it at the chummy table of a night club. Joe E. Brown entertained no celebrities when he was the proprietor of a bowling alley. Nor did Wallace Beery when he was an elephant trainer. The elephants did that. If she saw Ricardo Cortez when he was a gold-brained theater doorman, Mrs. Christine Lee didn't pay him any attention. When he became a movie star, she married him.

Bernard Barton, Quaker port, was born at Orlisle, Pa., in 1784. He died in 1849.

ON THE NETWORKS TOGETHER

NEW YORK, Sept. 5 (AP)—Labor Day, 1936, brings another general discussion of labor to the airwaves. Quite a number of speaking broadcasts have been arranged to include Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers. Secretary of State Cordell Hull also is to make an address. The schedule of talks as announced is:

WABC-CBS, 4, Secretary Perkins from Boston on "A Review of Labor."

WJZ-NBC, 5:30, Wm. Green's Knoxville address.

WABC-CBS, 8:45, John L. Lewis from Washington on "Labor and the Future."

Mr. Green also had been scheduled for a WABC-CBS broadcast at 5, but this had been advanced to Sunday at 4:45.

Opening of the Third International World Power Conference at Washington will be broadcast by WJZ-NBC at 7:30 with Secretary Hull at the principal speaker.

The political roster for the day is to contain these features: CBS, 9, Republican William Hard; WJZ-NBC, 9:15, National Communist program. This represents a transfer of the Hard series from NBC to CBS.

After broadcasting for the same sponsor approximately 13 years, Harry Horlick winds up his series of Gypsy Concerts on WABC-CBS at 7. The WABC-CBS theater at 7 brings forward James Cagney, playing in "Zat Gun." Borger's Margaret Spinks is away in Europe here. WABC-NBC program at 6:30 will present Eusebio's Brazilian, soprano. An other broadcast of the National Air Races at Los Angeles is scheduled for WJZ-NBC at 6.

Some More Possibilities: WABC-NBC, 5:15, Uncle Sara's station; 6, Fisher McGee and Mullis; 7:30, Dick Hunter's music; 8, Morgan L. Eastman concert; 9:55, Fish Jubilee Choir.

WABC-CBS—6, Horace Heidt's Briz.

FDR HITS AT PROMOTERS OF CLASS STRIFE

NEW DEAL'S SPENDING NOT WASTE, SAYS PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Weaving a defense of new deal spending into a two-fold address on re-employment and the drouth, President Roosevelt was on record today with the contention that government expenditures saved business and will save drouth-stricken farmers.

Denying charges of waste hurled at him by campaign foes, the President took to the radio last night in a combination Labor day eve address and a report on the tour of the drouth area, just ended.

"Re-employment in industry is proceeding rapidly," he said. Government spending was in large part responsible for keeping industry going and putting it in position to make this re-employment possible.

To speed re-employment, he said, he was allocating $2,500,000 more to the United States employment service for the purpose of placing workers in private jobs.

At another point in his speech he hit at those who, he said, would "refuse the worker any effective power to bargain collectively." He said, "It is those short-sighted ones, not labor" who threaten the country with "class dissension."

As for the drouth, he declared from his desk in the White House Oval room that "We are going to conserve soil, conserve water and conserve life."

By inference, he held that Governor Alf M. Landon, his Republican rival for the presidency, agreed with him on a broad "outline of work relief for drouth-stricken families instead of the 'dole.'"

Back from a tour in which he conferred with Landon and other governors, he said:

"Every governor with whom I have talked is in full accord with this program of providing work for these farm families, just as every governor agrees that the individual states will take care of their unemployed but that the cost of employing those who are entirely able and willing to work must be borne by the federal government."

Indicating the work would include building of reservoirs and ponds to conserve water, drilling of wells, irrigation, soil erosion control and farm-to-market roads, he said:

"Spending like this is not waste. It would spend future waste if we did not spend for such things now."

Summing up his agricultural remarks, he said:

"We are going to have a farm policy that will serve the national welfare."

"Private enterprise," he said, "is necessary to any nation which the United States employment service of government. In their businessmen's case, just as certainly as in the case of drouth-stricken farmers, government spending has saved."

"Government having spent wise-

BIG CROWD EXPECTED AT CENTENNIAL TODAY

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 7 (AP)—Labor Day attractions and a grid-iron tussle between collegians and professionals combined today to furnish entertainment for a holiday crowd at the Texas Centennial exposition.

A number of special events were arranged for the day to be climaxed at night with a football game between the College All-Stars and the Chicago Bears, professional.

Yesterday's attendance was 68,719, bringing the grand total to 3,091,669.

NEGR0 LYNHED

DALTON, Ga., Sept. 7 (AP)—A 21-year old negro was lynched here yesterday after his arrest on an accusation of attempting to assault a white woman. Sheriff J. T. Bryan said a crowd of about 150 men removed the man, booked as A. L. McCamy, from the Whitfield county jail after using pistols to force jailer John Pitt to relinquish his keys.

STONE SHAFT WILL MARK GRAVE OF MIER EXPEDITION VICTIMS

AUSTIN, Sept. 7 (AP)—A massive stone shaft soon will be raised at Lagrange over the burial place of victims of the Mier decimation and the Dawson massacre.

The memorial, of simple design, will rise 42 feet above its granite base at the head of the common grave wherein the remains of 40-odd men were placed three quarters of a century ago.

The towering sentinel will overlook the valley of the Colorado river where lived those who lost their lives for Texas' liberty. It will be made of native stone, seven feet thick and 10 feet wide. Portrayals of scenes commemorated will be worked into the stone and a bronze mourning figure will stand at the base.

The shaft was designed by Austin architects and will be erected for the Centennial division of the board of control at a cost of $10,000.

A short spur from the San Antonio-Lagrange highway to the heroes' graves on top of the hill was built by the highway department.

Comrades, who saw every tenth man of the ill-fated Mier expedition at Hacienda Salado in Mexico draw black beans and afterward lined up and shot by Mexican troops, later went back and from the shallow, unmarked graves gathered up the bones of these victims. Seventeen were killed in the decimation which occurred March 25, 1843.

Others collected the bones of victims of the Dawson massacre which took place when 36 of 52 volunteers, seeking to check a Mexican advance, were shot from ambush between San Antonio and Austin. The Mexicans were halted later.

For many years, owners of the land on which the grave is placed, refused to admit public access to the shrine and for two decades a check in payment for the road right-of-way lay in the Fayette county court house uncashed.

The highway department worked out the agreement by which the grave site and the highway to it have become state property.

SKY MINDED.

OAKLAND, Calif.—Eleven-year-old Norman Leon's ambition to be an aviator took him only as high as a steam shovel crane, but when he fell it seemed high enough.

His pleas for a plane ride at the Oakland airport rejected, the boy climbed on a crane being used at the field. Hospital attendants treated him for a head cut, and advised him to stay on the ground.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Sept. 7 (AP)—Gov. Allred added his voice to those agitating for a new state office building.

He believes one could be built for 1,000,000 and the state would be repaid in rent saved on leased offices and in the increased efficiency of workers.

"It is only a matter of time until we must build," he says, "the government has outgrown its housing facilities."

He would be glad to have the office building, he says, in addition to the proposed new one to house the Supreme Court, the Court of Criminal Appeals, the Third Court of Civil Appeals, and the attorney general's department.

Claude D. Teer, chairman of the board of control, commented, however, there was small chance of obtaining the courts building under the present financing plan.

The legislature appropriated $200,000 for the building, but made the appropriation dependent on about $700,000 in Federal assistance, which is not in sight.

"Anyone familiar with the situation knows there should be a building," Teer said. "Departments are scattered all over town and office rental totals $34,278 annually. The greatest loss, however, arises from decreased efficiency."

The public safety department is one of those widely scattered. The Rangers and the office of Director H. H. Carmichael are in the main statehouse; the highway patrol in the highway building; the drivers' license bureau in the old Labor Temple, along with the oil division of the attorney general's department, and the records bureau at Camp Mabry, seven miles from town.

Senator Olan Van Zandt of Toga suggested the matter of new buildings has been before the legislature several times.

"The chief difficulty," he said, has been that about the time the legislature is elected and a big turnover in membership and the process has to begin again.

"The Senate would willingly appropriate for a building, but why should it when it knows the House would not agree and the Senate would be blamed?"

"Many members seek appropriations for state buildings back home and are much more interested in getting them than in building at the capital.

"But I have an idea. Maybe the state will obtain enough in inheritance taxes from the estate of Col. E. H. R. Green to erect all the buildings needed."

Several states are contending for inheritance taxes on the estate, among them Texas

Frank Knox Will Talk in Stadium

ALMA, Mich., Col. Frank Knox, Republican vice-presidential nominee, revisited today the little college town where he was a student 40 years ago.

Knox, who captained Alma college's first football team, was to deliver his Labor Day address in Bahk stadium, which was the setting for an undefeated 1935 eleven's home triumphs. Estimates reaching the candidate were that more than 200,000 Michigan Republicans would gather to hear him.

Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald, Republican chief executive of the state, and United States Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, of Michigan, were expected to confer with Knox aboard his train before the rally.

If This Hat Could Talk!

"I was a dirty, faded old hat, discarded because I was out of style. My owner saw this ad and had me rebuilt and restyled. Now I am a regular 1936 Fall Style."
