Pampa Field Gets Big Extensions In 2 Pools

EAST WELL IS FLOWING AND LOOKING GOOD

Is On LeFors Road East of City—A Near-Wildcat

HAGGARD TEST MAKING GAS

Skelly Proves Schafer Ranch With Big Producer

Three new wells, all of which look like good producers, open up the Pampa field territory in as many directions and mark this vicinity as one of great potential oil recovery.

The newest development is an extension 4 miles east of the Wilcox pool south of Pampa, where the Gulf No. 1 J. M. Saunders, section 40, block 3, drilling at 3,070, is making 15 barrels. This is on the LeFors road, on the left-hand side, and is far from any other producing well. The drillers are going deeper, but if the flow does not increase a shot likely will be used.

Making Poison Gas
The Humble No. 1 J. B. Haggard, sec. 112 block 3, is down 3,080 and making 10,000,000 feet of hydrogen sulphide gas, and looks like an extension to the northwest of the Wilcox pool and nearer Pampa.

Another fine looking well is the Blackwell-McGee-Barnett No. 1 Bowers, section 32, block B-2, about 4 miles south of the Wilcox pool. It gauged 73 barrels the first 24 hours from a depth of 2,981 feet, being flowed by 9,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

If this well comes in for good production it will open up a large area of promising character. The oil is gradually increasing. Outright sales and lease transfers have resulted from the showing, some going for $100 an acre and $100 an acre for oil over a 5-year lease basis.

100 Barrels an Hour

Over in the northwest part of the Pampa field the Skelly company has opened up a new pool with its No. 1 of section 198 block 3 of the I & G N survey, which is making 100 barrels an hour in sandy lime from 3,130 to 3,157 feet. The huge, 13,000-acre Schafer ranch, upon which the well is located, is thus looking like a tremendous producing area for Skelly, which holds the lease exclusively. Nearby wells have heavy gas flow at shallower depths.

The Prairie Oil and Gas company's No. 1 McConnell in sec. 87, block 4, in eastern Carson county, is holding to a 60 barrel an hour flow.

Marland's No. 3 Bryan section 92, block 4 had 31,300,000 feet of gas at 2,730 feet and is drilling ahead.

Road Men Are Entertained By A C. of C. Group

The Chamber of Commerce gave a musical program for the visiting delegates of the Fort Elliott association last evening and had the pleasure of hearing Otto Schick, concert violinist from Fort Worth, who delighted the audience with his selections.

The reliable Dick Bosley, gave his farwell performance last evening, and Pampa music lovers will welcome the return of this enterprising entertainer.

The program included selections by the Chamber of Commerce orchestra; vocal duets, Mrs. W. A. Mann and Mrs. R. R. Jones; piano solos, Miss Mary Hobart; variety numbers, Jack Stone; novelty numbers, Dick Bosley; violin selections, Otto Schick of Fort Worth; kokum piano numbers, Bob Berry, and a demonstration of the Victor Orthophonic Virola.

Mayor Reid Is Again Head Of Highway Body

Mayor F. P. Reid was re-elected president of the Fort Elliott highway association at its meeting here yesterday afternoon.

W. B. Hedlund of Elk City, secretary, also was re-elected and H. E. Nicholson of Wheeler was made vice-president.

At a meeting of the association yesterday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce about 50 members were present.

It was decided to have markers made and placed along the highway at half-mile intervals. Arrangements were left in the hands of the committee. It was also decided to send a delegation to Austin to request the state highway department to put all route 33-A under state supervision.

Through Oil Field.
Mayor Reid stated that this road was a great factor in the oil field development and should be a state highway the entire distance of the road, as there is more traffic over this road than all the others in this section.

According to a statement made by Dr. H. E. Nicholson of Wheeler, they in that section agree that route 33-A is a necessity and should be under state supervision.

W. H. Hewlett of Elk City was sure that Oklahoma would do her share in bringing about good roads, and a delegation will be sent to Oklahoma City in the interest of route 33-A.

Judge Ben S. Baldwin said he was glad to see such co-operation between Texas and Oklahoma, and the interest taken in good roads. He further stated that good roads increase the value of land and do not place more taxes upon it. Route 33-A is a connection between the North and Mexico and California and should be a designated highway, it was asserted.

After the business meeting a banquet was tendered the visiting delegates by the Chamber of Commerce at Rogers cafe.

Committee Named.
The highway association committee, representing each town on the route is: Pampa, Scott Barcus; Laketon, Wheeler Paris; Mobeetie, Shirley Cor; Wheeler, A. B. Crump; Meridian, M. Fowler; Grimes, Ole Oleson; Berlin, M. Mathew and Elk City, W. H. Hewlett.

Those present at banquet: from Elk City, V. C. Tisdale, Chas. Johnson, J. N. Cook, W. H. Hewlett, Paul Feiler and W. B. Hedlund; from Wheeler, J. C. Moore, M. V. Saunders, Nelson Porter, F. A. Cook, O. Lewis, R. M. Bradshaw, H. E. Young, C. E. Tinsdall, G. C. McCrohan, J. M. Griffin, H. M. Wiley, J. D. Merriman Jr., W. L. Williams, A. B. Crump and H. E. Nicholson; from Mobeetie, S. P. Cox and J. G. Thompson.

Storm Deaths Are Mounting In Many States of Southwest

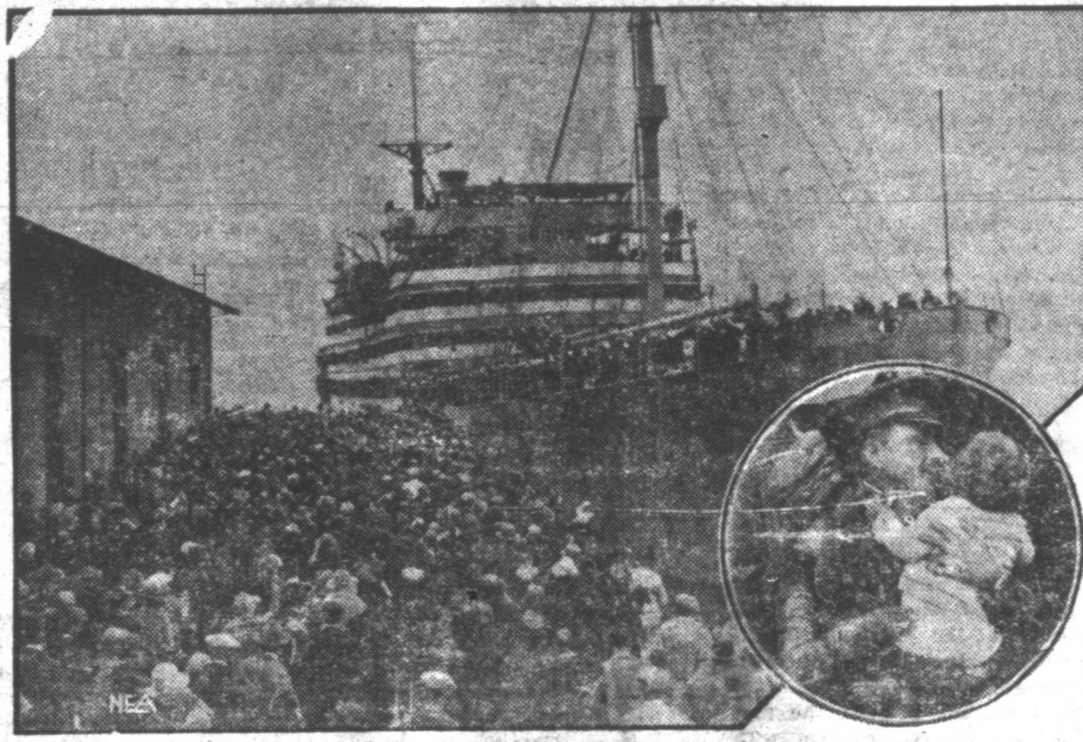

(By The Associated Press.)

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 15.—Francis Pearson, 14 years old, was drowned today near Welch, and is the latest victim of flood waters in Oklahoma, which has claimed more than a score of lives during the last two weeks.

While streams over the remainder of the state are rapidly getting back to normal, others in the north-eastern portion were at the highest level today since 1904.

ALEXANDRIA, April 15.—A negro man was killed and 10 houses demolished, and eight others damaged when a tornado struck Lacamp late yesterday, it was learned today.

MORE MARINES SAIL FOR CHINA

Reminiscent of the days of the World War is this picture of the cheering throng that was on the pier at San Diego, Calif., when the Sixth marines and a detachment of aviators left for China aboard the Henderson the other day. The circle shows Major Francis T. Evans, in command of the fliers, kissing his baby daughter goodby while his wife clings to his arm.

Queen of May

Most of the 500 girl students at Texas Woman's college wear their tresses shorn. But this year a girl who wears her hair long was chosen May Day queen.

She is Miss Minnie Willis, a senior, who is a vocalist and an athlete, having been a member of last year's junior baseball team.

ROCK SPRINGS NEEDS RELIEF

$200,000 and 9 Months Required To Regain "Feet"

(By The Associated Press.)

ROCK SPRINGS, April 15.—Tents occupied the site of every demolished home here today, and employes of state highway department, assisted by volunteers, are rapidly clearing away the debris.

Survivors of Tuesday's tornado met today with Morris Paddy, assistant national director of the Red Cross disaster relief, who said it would take nine months for the town to regain its feet, and that it would require $200,000 relief.

The dead have been buried. Word from Austin today said Dr. Livingston Anderson, state health department physician is sending 300 doses of typhoid antitoxin by airplane in answer to a plea from the county health officer who indicated a typhoid epidemic was a possibility.

Health Officer Says City Making No Real Efforts On Sanitation

That the city government of Pampa should give more attention to the carrying out of its decisions and take immediate action to remove the sanitation hazards it has allowed to exist is emphatically suggested by Dr. V. E. von Brunow in another written communication to Mayor F. P. Reid.

After reading the message, Mayor Reid said its provisions "have been ordered" and men instructed as to all sections.

Dr. Brunow, county health officer, submitted the following:

I call to your attention once more the unmentionable conditions and nuisances still existing at the city dump ground and disposal plant, and I refer you to the headlines and write-ups in the Daily News confirming my charge. Your communication of April 2, (nearly two weeks ago) promised immediate action but this action for immediate relief is confined to giving orders to water superintendents. Evidently, you are not following up your orders to see if they were carried out as they should be, and upon inspection, I find that your orders, so far carried out, are as follows:

The gravel has been partly (very little more than one-third) placed where it belongs and the major balance is still high on the outside of the settling basin.

The connections from the fermenting and digesting vats have been made as, I presume, it originally was.

The sprinkler system into which this connection is directed as it is now is a fake and a make-shift, because the sewerage is not sprayed. The small sprayers, all of them except two, have been replaced by thin metal plates, nail punched, full of holes and wire fastened, permitting the sewage to flow too freely and thereby defeating the object intended when the plant was installed originally. There is only one sprinkler or sprayer functioning correctly and there should be a dozen.

The raw sewage hauled from cess pools in tanks is still turned loose on the dump ground in the open.

No visible preparation is made for an incinerator.

The unsightly landscape is still in evidence.

Under virtue of my office, I am now

(By The Associated Press.)

Miss Coventon, who has taught in rural schools in Marion and Baxter counties for several years, matriculated there in 1912 and has continued her studies by both residence and correspondence, intermittently, since then.

"I entered the University of Arkansas in June 1912, with six semester hours of credit," Miss Coventon said, "and attended the university regularly until 1914. Since then I have attended four summer sessions and have taken seven courses by correspondence. While I was teaching, 27 of my pupils came to the university, some of whom have graduated and left. Others are in classes with me now."

Woman Fights For Office and Wins

CLINTON, Ky.—Woman's prerogative for the last word does not prevent her from having the last move also, especially if a political fight is involved.

Mrs. R. B. Platt, clerk of Hickman county since 1921, has proven she can fight and win such battles. Re-elected in 1925, she failed to make her bond in time. The county judge issued an order ousting her from office and appointing a man to fill her place, although she claimed the judge had agreed to let her delay a week. She refused to vacate. The circuit court upheld her and the court of appeals affirmed the decision.

Turkish Women Like Old Marriage Code

CONSTANTINOPLE — Educated, emancipated, westernized in many ways, Turkish girls still cling to tradition, preferring the old marriage code whereby marriages are arranged by their parents. However, they do ask now to see their future husbands before they are wed.

Young Turkey compares the number of divorces in the western world, where free choice in love and marriage is customary, to the tranquil life in Turkey, where all marriages are arranged without consulting the brides or bridegrooms.

New York Is "Softest" Town For Pianist

NEW YORK—After giving piano concerts all over the United States, in big towns and in towns so small that the piano didn't even have pedals, Miss Myra Reed is convinced that New York is the "softest town in America."

Miss Reed started on the concert platform when she was eight years old.

Designer Says Forms Of Women Changeable

(By The Associated Press.)

PARIS, April 15.—The mystery of women's figures—how the same perfect thirty-sixes can look perfect thirty-twos one year and thirty-eights the next—is still a mystery to Edmond Courtot, manager and head designer of the dressmaking house of Redfern in Paris.

Years of designing women's clothes for famous dressmakers of Paris have not taught this Frenchman why women appear sylphs one season and plump cherubs the next.

"I have never understood," he confesses, "how women's figures change with the mode. The fitted linings of this year are entirely different from those made for the same women last year, although the women show relatively the same measurements."

M. Courtot is one of the Paris designers who are gently pushing women toward more feminine lines.

Mrs. Hush Haggard is able to be back at her position in Kraft's Mint store, after an attack of flu.

Wesley Johnson left Friday for Fort Worth on a business trip and expects to return Monday.

PREPARATION OF GIRLS FOR HOUSEKEEPING REAL TASK

One of the highest services which can be rendered to this country by its leading women is the starting of a new fashion—the fashion of thorough preparation by young women for household management. The greatest institution in the world is the home. Yet in proportion to its importance it receives a smaller amount of scientific attention than any other. Because it is most familiar of human organizations it is left to run itself so far as possible. Rule of thumb methods persist in its management to a far larger extent than in any other civilized activity. While something is being done in a more scientific manner than was formerly the case, hardly anything beyond a beginning has been made in this direction. It ought to be as unthinkable for a girl of any class to marry without a training in domestic science as without a trousseau. As a matter of fact, the trousseau is less important than the training, but one can be made as indispensable as the other if the thoughtful women of the country so determine.

In understanding the management of a house, a woman is assuming duties worthy of her best intellectual powers. She can learn to perform or to oversee the performance of those duties in one of two ways; either by mistakes or by training herself in advance. The method of learning by making mistakes is costly, not simply in time and energy, but in the health and happiness of the household. It took the world a long time to find this out. More time had to lapse before a remedy could be discovered. No science is built in a day and domestic science is no exception. But just because it came late, domestic science had the advantage of being able to use the other sciences. As a result, it has developed rapidly and is now a well-rounded body of knowledge. For a woman to ignore it is to wrong both herself and the other members of the household over which she presides. Her financial condition makes no difference. Rich girl, poor girl, college girl, elementary girl are all alike in their need of training for domestic management.

The food that is served and the way it is cooked have a direct relation to health, both physical and mental. Even so excellent a food as milk has to be carefully guarded lest it becomes a poison instead of a food. To some extent, the government looks after the matter of pure food, but nothing which is attempted by public agencies can begin to take the place of private supervision. Without this private supervision, the health of the household is in constant danger. Certain serious diseases are the consequence of improper food or of food improperly prepared. How is one to select the right foods and to be sure that they are correctly prepared, unless one has the requisite knowledge? Of course, it is impossible. A woman who tries to get along without this knowledge relying upon guess work, is trifling with the lives of those in her charge. One is not fitted to manage servants who has not made some study of the various branches of domestic science.

Health is not the only thing that is dependent upon the way in which a household is managed. There is a close connection between such management and the kind of citizens who are developed. Poor or improperly cooked food is responsible for bad impulses as well as indigestion; it plays a part in the making of criminals. So does the mismanagement of any other important element in the domestic economy. All unskilled methods of this sort impose a heavy handicap upon the members of the home in their best of success and happiness. A well-managed house is like a well-managed training table for a college football team. It gives the individuals who belong to it what is best for growth of their strength and it protects them from anything that would injure them or nullify the benefits they receive.

There is no greater need today than the need for the up-to-date mistress of the household.

Vacuum cleaners, dishwashers and other electrical equipment should be oiled carefully, with high grade lubricant, once a month. A repairer of household equipment diagnoses three-fourths of needed repairs as due to lack of oil or poor oil used.

White silk blouses can be kept white by rolling up in bath towels as soon as laundered and ironing the minute they are dry enough. Exposure to air yellows the silk.

Principals In The Snyder Murder Case

Lorraine Snyder

Henry Judd Gray

Mrs. Ruth Snyder

Mrs. Ruth Brown Snyder and Henry Judd Gray, corset salesman, face trial soon in New York's latest murder sensation. They beat Albert Snyder, husband of Mrs. Snyder, with a window weight and then garroted him with picture wire. It is charged. Lorraine, nine-year-old daughter of the Snyders, is the "other victim" of the tragedy and a possible witness.

2 1-4 cupfuls milk.
Sift dry ingredients together, beat egg, and milk and syrup, then flour, and beat all well. Turn into well-greased loaf tin and bake in moderate oven for one hour.

Currant Loaf

4 level teaspoonfuls baking powder.
1-2 level teaspoonful salt.

1-2 cupful (1-4 pound) currants.
1 level teaspoonful cinnamon.
1 egg.
1 cupful (1-2 pint) milk or milk and water.

Household Logic

A pot of paint and a few yards of new cretonne, used to advantage now on porch furniture, will make spring seem a reality.

Woolen coats, suits and blankets should be cleaned thoroughly and aired before packing them away for the summer, even though stored in cedar chests or closets.

In laundering lingerie of colored silk, use a bit of dye in the rinse water from the first. Don't wait for the garment to fade. Keep it its natural color.

The housewife who wants pretty hands will keep a slice of lemon a bottle of lotion and a brush right at her sink and apply first aid after each household task that soils her hands.

Gold and silver lace can be cleaned by brushing with alcohol or gasoline while laid out carefully on a bath towel.

Pillows may be washed, without removing the feathers from the case by soaping them up and down in warm suds or putting them in a washing machine. Do not wring. Choose a windy day as wind livens up the feathers as well as drying them.

With spring comes the necessity to save strength and time. An hour spent in planning the menus for the whole week will not only be an economy in money but will give you time for other things.

A purchase well worth its price is an attractive market basket, large enough to carry your smaller parcels. It will be an added incentive to go personally to select your groceries.

Spring is the season for adventure. If you have gotten into menus, buy a new cook book and try out some new menus on the family.

Covers for comfortables, in dainty polka-dots or flowered materials can be purchased reasonably and are invaluable in preserving the silk coverings on your down puffs.

Clothes, folded carefully when taken from the line, will iron much more easily. A big time saver is to sprinkle the clothes immediately and fold up for ironing.

Rubber gloves are more than worth their weight in gold to the housewife who cares for her hands. They can be purchased in every conceivable shade are as joy as well as a help.

It should be "off with the soups, on with fruit cups and salads," now that spring is here. Every meal should furnish fresh fruit and fresh vegetables.

For all scouring use a damp, not a wet cloth. Too much water prevents the frictional material from taking hold and doing its work well.

Ammonia will evaporate very quickly unless the bottle is kept lightly corked.

Squeeze the juice from grapefruit at night, leave it on ice, and have a quickly prepared breakfast fruit.

To make smooth cocoa, add a tiny bit of cornstarch and sugar and bring to boil in water before adding hot milk.

Before baking potatoes, wash them and dry carefully. If placed in the oven wet, they lower the heat. A very hot oven is needed to make the potatoes light.

Do not salt asparagus until it is nearly done cooking. The water in which it is cooked should be saved, mixed with cream, and seasoned for asparagus soup.

Keep a pot of parsley growing in the kitchen window. It is very decorative and useful for seasoning.

Clothes hangers and shoe trees increase the life of their wears. Care in putting away is worth more than pressing.

Woman Minister Has No "Sissy" Job

WEST ENFIELD, Me.—The Rev. Doris A. Swett of this town, who worked her way to a college degree, doing seven years work in six, advises young women not to study for the ministry.

"It's no sissy job," she says. "Don't try to preach unless you feel that it is the only thing you can do which will bring your complete satisfaction."

Miss Swett was ordained to the ministry in the Universalist Church. She became pastor a year ago in the First Church at Plymouth, Mass.

WHERE'S THE BLAME?

Pampa's city government is not functioning well.

"Passing the buck," city officials themselves state, has resulted in slipshod methods. Good intentions come to naught when not translated into action. An official is not measured by his sound ideas and ability, but by what he accomplishes.

The News believes that the system is faulty, and that unless the present council can drastically revise the plan of government the people will demand an election to adopt some new form.

Pampa's government is a contradiction. When the council gives an order, the form is that of a city-manager government in many cases, yet neither the mayor, city secretary or city marshal always has the power to carry these orders into effect. In other words, the old mayor-council plan does not provide machinery with which to carry out its own provisions. It is not fair to the mayor to lay all the blame on his shoulders, for his powers are limited. No member of the council is responsible for any single item.

The garbage removal system makes collecting difficult for the contractor and removes that work from the direct supervision of the city. The sewer system has only an indirect relation to the water department, and has been allowed to deteriorate. It is not business-like to operate a huge corporation like the city without responsible department heads, who in turn are responsible to some authority which, whether council or individual, can give day-to-day attention to civic problems. It takes a quorum to transact council business, yet quorums cannot be gathered often when desired.

The sanitation question is before the new council. From Ward No. 1 has been presented a bonifide petition of 351 names, asking for the removal of the unsightly dump grounds. The recent elections polled a smaller average vote and it appears logical that so large a number of persons have as much right to determine this relatively small matter as have a smaller number to vote school bonds and decide other city matters. In short, it is not a question of yes or no as far as the council is concerned. The council may, in a sense, pass the issue back to the people by proposing a small bond issue to improve the sewer system.

State Sanitary Engineer, E. G. Eggert recently made a trip to Roscoe, a small town, to ask that the sewer system be moved further from the city. Is it likely that the state will countenance the local menace in a city as large as Pampa? He should be invited here.

Questions of city government are as close to the individual as the Chamber of Commerce, and should be discussed in as general and as logical a manner. The system, not the council, is the basis of the whole matter.

This Complicates Things Considerable

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON. — Senator Borah's prediction that Governor Al Smith of New York would turn prohibitionist if he were nominated for the presidency serves to emphasize all over again the confusion that continues to reign in the Democratic party.

It must have been noted ere this that three men conceded good chances for the Democratic nomination—Smith, Senator Jim Reed and Governor Ritchie of Maryland—are all wets and that the only outstanding dry candidate, W. G. McAdoo, is generally conceded to have lost strength.

Yet it will be admitted that the backbone of the Democratic party, the south and west, is dry.

And considering that fact, it does seem a little early to blot the crusading Mr. McAdoo from the picture without offering someone else at least equally as strong to stand as the hope of the Democratic dries.

The confusion within the party ranks is only matched by the confusion of the innocent bystander who observes that there are some forty-odd creeds in the party when 1928 is discussed and that each faction insists that its own method is the only way to save the party.

The one thing that seems most unlikely at this time is that the party will nominate a wet candidate and run him on a wet platform. Some of the most astute politicians declare that the party would promptly split into two factions if any such course were adopted.

Most political experts seem to think that there will be a wet candidate on a straddling platform and that the issue will be soft-pedaled as effectually as possible. Hardly anyone but Borah has gone so far as to suggest that Smith will pose as a dry, but Borah is no wind-bag given to talking through his hat.

There are numerous substantial Democrats who will tell you that the party is nearly all set to side-track both Smith and McAdoo and agree on a strong candidate. But there are a surprising number of others who insist that the Smith-McAdoo fight is the big thing before the party, that it must be fought out if the party is to live and that either Smith or McAdoo could run from three to five million votes ahead of the next best Democrat who could be named. Still others either can't see any possibility but McAdoo or any satisfactory outcome but Smith.

The tremendous undercurrent caused by the religious issue cannot be ignored, although one seldom hears of it in public. Great numbers of Catholics will never believe that anything but his religion could keep Smith from the nomination and some anti-Smith politicians declare privately that if Smith is not nominated, the party candidate will obtain hardly a Catholic vote. This latter type insists that a mere handful of Democratic Catholics voted for Davis in 1924.

PRESS FORUM

BEARDS

England sees the return into vogue of the beard in all its pristine glory and variety of size, shape and shade. Strange that the Britisher should be the last to discard the facial foliage and the first to "plant" a new crop, but the average American who has experienced the agony of being separated from a razor for more than 48 hours is content to let the Englishman have any honor there may be in being the last and first in this matter.

But there is something to be said for the beard provided it spreads and bristles "like quills upon the fretful porcupine" and is not allowed to sag scraggly. The heroes of the novelist of other days who had beards and hilltops are not exhibited by the smooth face. Beards and beards go together.

Is not the beard a proclamation of virility and strength? Especially, now that ladies bob their hair, wear masculine attire and cultivate the mannish swagger, making it highly important that some new method of determining sex be evolved. The beard would serve such a purpose admirably, for as yet the ladies with the exception of those few on exhibition in circus sideshows, have not found a way to raise a beard.

However, this seems to be taking an advantage of those beardless young men who strive so manfully to be masculine and virile and of those feminists who are so discontented with their sex they affect the mannerisms of masculinity.—Chickasha Express.

College Dean Has No Use For Car

(By The Associated Press.)

HUNTSVILLE, April 15.—Professor Joe L. Pritchett, Dean of Men of the Sam Houston State Teachers college will not entrust his life to an automobile. "Fessor" Joe Pritchett, as he is known to the students, always rides a horse, a big black horse with a blaze face. He has a certain place on the campus, close to his office where he ties his steed. One day he started home and found his horse gone and a donkey in its place, but the horse had only broke his tie-rope and "Fessor" Joe soon found him. He also claims the record for being the smallest dean in the United States, as he is five feet two inches tall and weighs about 100 pounds, and is about 65 years old.

He has a fine new car, but states that it is for his family, and that he will stick to his horse.

Dean Pritchett has been connected with the college for many years. His brother, Carr Pritchett, was president until his death in 1908 and was succeeded by Dr. H. F. Estill.

Japan Unemployed Lay Blame On Women

TOKYO—Women are a cause of unemployment in Japan according to its labor organizations, which claim women work cheaper because their standard of living is much lower than that of men. It is claimed that wage standards are rapidly being lowered and the condition of the wage and salaried classes in Japan are growing more precarious.

Women's efficiency, however, is said to be on a par with the best male workers.

There were about 500,000 unemployed in Japan last year, divided equally between the laboring and white collar classes. In offices, women are now clerks, stenographers and bookkeepers, jobs that only a few years ago were considered exclusively men's.

Prison Farm Crops In Splendid Condition

HUNTSVILLE, Texas, April 15.—Crops on the Texas State prison farms are in excellent condition, according to H. Walker Style, chairman of the board of prison commissioners.

Corn on 15,000 acres is up, 25,000 acres are being planted in cotton, a reduction over last year's acreage, and peas in large quantities and feedstuffs of various kinds are being grown on every state farm, the commissioner said.

SPORT TALK

If you have any questions on umpires decisions that you want answered write the Sport department of the Pampa Daily News.

Some strange plays are seen at a ball game and the umpire has a hard time making a decision. We will try and make the answer clear to you.

Admission to the Metro-Pampa game Sunday will be 50 cents. Come and see the boys get revenge for the 3 to 0 defeat.

The Texans showed reversal in form yesterday and beat the Lincoln Links or else the Links are not so good. Strange things happen in the spring.

Pampa Grays are to meet the Amarillo Texans in the return game Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the new diamond—the place where the Texans were vanquished. Bob Clark or "Lefty" Martin will start the game for the Grays.

As the Pampa ball club is semi-professional the players on the team work during the week and some of the boys are not working at present. If any sport lover in Pampa can give the boys work call Ed Gohar at 43 or the Sports Editor of the Pampa Daily News at 100.

The Grays are out looking for more games and some surprises are going to be sprung in the near future. Watch the sport column.

Work on the new Tennis club courts will be commenced immediately and they will be ready to play on within the next week.

South Africans To Play At Wimbledon

CAPE TOWN, South Africa—A team of South African women tennis players is to compete for the Wimbledon championships at London for the first time in history.

South Africa will also try for the Davis Cup, the probable team being: L. Raymond, an ex-Olympic games champion; J. Condon of Transvaal, likely to prove one of the hardest drivers in Europe, and P. D. B. Spence, at present residing in England.

Texans Slug Out Victory In First League Game

(Special to The News.)

AMARILLO, April 15.—The Amarillo Texans came from behind a third-inning lead Thursday afternoon to defeat the Lincoln Links by a score of 7 to 5 in the opening of the Western League schedule.

Joe Morris, former Texas leaguer, held the Links to two hits in six and one-half innings after relieving Reppy. More than 8,000 persons—the largest ever gathered to see a Panhandle event—were present.

Only Three Pilots To Wear Uniforms

BOSTON.—Announcement by Bill Carrigan, manager of the Boston Red Sox, that he will wear a uniform during the approaching season leaves only one manager, Connie Mack, in the American league out of character.

Two National league pilots will not dress the part, Wilbert Robinson and John J. McGraw. Despite their uniforms, however, five American league managers will do no playing. They are the Miller Huggins, Yankees; Jack McCallister, Indians; Dan Hewley, George Moriarty, Tigers; Bill Carrigan, Red Sox. Bucky Harris and Ray Schalk will lead Washington and Chicago in person on the playing field. The National league outnumber the American in playing managers as O'Farrell and the Cardinals, Bancroft of the Braves and McInnis of the Phillies will perform.

Diminutive Dagna Scores 286 in 9 Games

SCARBORO, Me.—In caging a total of 286 points in nine games in which she played forward for Scarboro high school, little Dagna Olsen has made a bid for the high scoring record in basketball.

Her team-mates believe she set another mark for the state when she scored 28 field goals for a total of 56 points against the Buxton high girls. In only two games did Dagna fall to score more than 20 points. The diminutive player's accuracy in shooting field baskets offsets the disadvantage of her height.

Notre Dame Cagemen Lose Star Quartet

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—The handing out of sheepskins in June will break up the Notre Dame basketball team which claimed the western championship for two seasons and lost but two games in that period.

Capt. Johnny Nyikos, all-western center; Conroy, all-western guard; Dahman, guard, and McNally, forward, finish this year. That leaves of this year's team Frank Crowe, sophomore forward, and Joe Jachym, his understudy and alternate.

Among its 39 victims Notre Dame has counted five Big Ten teams, Pittsburgh, Carnegie Tech, Mercer University, and the Kansas Aggies.

The air corps has raised a giant applicant who weighs 263 pounds and is 6 feet 8 inches tall.

Jess Sweetser's Health Improving

ATLANTA—Jess Sweetser, who collapsed after winning the British amateur championship last year, has been improving in health during a years stay in Asheville, N. C., although he is not yet ready for tournament play. He showed that he was very much on his game by winning the best ball match, paying with Bobby Cruickshank, with a 64 for the 18 holes in the preliminaries to the Southern Open here. He dropped out of the tournament in order to conserve his health. Sweetser has been playing moderately in Asheville and entered the tournament just to test his physical condition.

Heavy, extra-leaved semi-elliptic springs—set parallel to the frame—effectively cushion the load and chassis against road shocks.

The rugged Chevrolet gear axle possesses about 10% extra strength and provides for the heaviest haulage duty—without loss of performance under over-condition.

A modern, three-speed transmission provides proper gear ratios for maximum power under every condition.

A heavy, 6" channel steel frame is contributing factor to the long life and excellent performance of Chevrolet Trucks.

Opposes Liquor; Ousted by W. T. C. U.

HADDONFIELD, N. J.—A public declaration that she is as strongly opposed to prohibition as she is to liquor caused Mrs. Bertha Shippen Irving, member of the New Jersey Board of Education to be dropped from the W. C. T. U. roster.

"Hundreds and thousands are drinking today simply because they will not supinely submit to being told that they shall not," Mrs. Irving says. "Men are only grown up boys. When my son and his schoolmates played poker in the living room I didn't berate them and turn them out. I provided a new radio set and turned my lawn into a baseball diamond. Now they have forgotten gambling."

A BUILDING RECORD

AUSTIN, April 15.—The hoodoo of the contractor, "every big building costs one life in its construction," is believed to have been dispelled here.

In the erection of the last six large buildings in Austin no human life has been part of the cost.

Three mishaps occurred but all the injured recovered.

One good turn deserves another. A team of Iowa mules were recently pulled out of the mud by a truck.

SANITATION—

demanding that you proceed at once as follows:

Needs Outlined
Replace all the gravel and sand up to proper level just so the sprinkling valves are clear in the settling basin.

There should be a cut-off valve in this line so that periodically the settling basin can be flushed out from the bottom with clear city water under pressure. (It was understood when the plant was installed this provision was made or should have been made.)

Replace all sprayers as per original model except the good one, which can be used as a model to make others, (we have shops in the city that are equipped to do it.)

Prepare a man hole at the end of the sewer line large enough to permit the tank wagon to unload the sewage from the cess pools and the sewer will spill it in the fermenting vat where it belongs (this will keep it off the country side, and the haul for the teams will be shortened.)

Build Own Incinerator

Run a gas line to the dump ground and procure grates and fire brick, common brick, mortar, sand, gravel and cement, lay out a 5' x 10' fire box with a 20 foot smoke stack and garbage and filth will virtually walk to it to be consumed. (as this is fire works, relieve the water superintendent for this supervision and let another department head, to-wit, the fire marshal, handle it.)

Remove all the clean waste, such as old machinery, tin cans, etc., to broken hill sides or wash outs and fill in spaces with clean garbage such as street sweepings (of which we will have plenty when the pavement is in) and so make valuable and sightly ground as many cities have made before and are doing now.

Enlarge the fermenting and digesting vats (this is important and can be easily done.)

Visit the place yourself and let action take place instead of talk with the council.

Wants Clean-Up Week

Concluding let me call your attention to this; that the State of Texas has called for a clean-up week beginning this tomorrow. Numbers of papers have published proclamations of city mayors, citing this fact.

Relevant to this condition; I take leave to ask this question, how can the mayor of a city of thousands place a fine upon a single citizen for violating the sanitary ordinances when he permits the maintenance of a nuisance a thousand times greater?

Political Prisoner Swam To Liberty

LISBON, Portugal, April 15.—Discovery of the means by which Antonio Madia da Silva, former premier of Portugal, recently escaped from the fortress prison of Trafaria reveal that he swam to liberty.

Some prisoners accused of common crimes were in cells adjoining that of da Silva. They managed to open a subterranean passage, meaning to escape in a body. As it passed along the wall of the room where the political prisoner was held, some of the men who belonged to the secret society of which da Silva is the supreme head informed him of the passage. He gained access to it just before the officials came to take him and 1,500 other political prisoners to the Portuguese penal colonies.

The prison ship "Lourenco Marques" was read to depart when a motor boat was dispatched to the fortress after da Silva, and it was discovered that he had disappeared. All the officers and guards were armed, but it was not learned how rested and an exhaustive inquiry he had managed to escape from this impregnable fortress which juts out over the river Tagus and has only one heavily guarded entrance on land.

While the search was going on da Silva calmly remained hidden in the fortress walls for ten days. Stealing food at night from the prison kitchen through a loose plank in the floor. When everyone supposed he was safe beyond the frontier he swam the river, boarded a train and left the country.

Two other officers, held as political prisoners and who escaped in the same manner, gave the secret away.

PIONEER WOMAN DIES

CANYON, April 15.—Mrs. Sarah Jane McGeehee, who has lived in the Panhandle more than 40 years and who was nearly 80 years of age, died here recently. Nine children, all of them citizens of the territory near Canyon, were at the bedside of their mother during her last hours. Mrs. McGeehee had lived in Texas since the early 50's, when her family removed from Stewart county, Ga., to Dallas county, Texas.

Old Veterans Recall Stirring Days of Past

(By The Associated Press.)

AUSTIN, April 15.—Tense scenes in the Texas capitol 53 years ago when "carpetbag" rule was being retired at the point of Confederate guns in the hands of the "Travis Rifles" were recalled here when two of the three survivors of the historic company dined together recently.

White-haired, slim and erect, each was in an exultant mood. C. C. Bell, apple grower of Booneville, Missouri, came about 1,000 miles to greet H. L. Haynes of Austin, one of the two surviving comrades.

The story of the stirring times of 1874 was told by both as they talked in a reminiscent mood.

Refused to Quit
E. J. Davis, governor, they related, had been beaten at the polls but refused to give up his office.

The "Travis Rifles," bedecked in the "brightest uniforms and outfit they ever had," took possession of the entire capitol, excepting for the basement where Davis and his men had retired and barricaded themselves.

For three days and nights the "Rifles," Confederate veterans and relatives of Confederate veterans, held undisputed sway over the top part of the building, calling on Davis to surrender and leave.

The governor wired to General U. S. Grant, then president, for aid.

"But," as Haynes told it, "the general was too big. 'You were beaten at the polls. Step down and out,'" Grant wired back, and Davis left.

Can't Come Back
Haynes undaunted by age, recently attempted to "come back" in municipal politics. Until about a year ago he had been in continuous service of the city for more than 30 years. But at that time was a member of the city council ousted by the faction desiring a city manager.

In the last election, running with his old colleagues, Haynes fought the city manager plan and sought re-election. He was beaten by a decisive majority.

As far as either Haynes or Bell could determine, their only surviving comrade of "Travis Rifles" fame is A. I. Haber, also of Austin.

ROCK SPRINGS

—Everyone of the 91 injured survivors of the Rock Springs tornado brought to San Antonio hospitals has a chance to live, doctors announced today after bringing the patients through the night without death.

Tornadoes, blizzards, and cloud-bursts have brought death lists in a dozen states to an unusually high total, and have sent scores to hospitals, besides leaving thousands homeless in the last five days.

Wide Storm Area

The storm area extends from the central Rocky Mountain states to the Mississippi valley, where vast sections of land are under water or threatened by levee breaks. Texas heads the casualty lists with more than 50 dead and upward of a thousand persons forced from homes.

At Fort Smith and Van Buren, Ark., where the Arkansas river concentrate torrents from Kansas and Oklahoma, little immediate relief is seen. Over the inundated Oklahoma expanses freezing temperatures have added to the suffering, while in the mountain states, the floods were accompanied by snow, and traffic was crippled.

In Colorado, Wyoming, Nebraska, and Oklahoma thousands of acres of farm land is under water. The damage in Oklahoma and Kansas alone is estimated at $5,000,000 and Illinois and Missouri also have suffered heavy losses.

J. Evetts Haley of Canyon, field secretary of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society, was in Pampa today enroute to his headquarters after making a profitable trip over the North Plains, during which he gathered valuable data and relics.

Morris Selger, manager of the local K. C. store has returned to the city after an extensive buying trip.

Scott Barcus, of the Chamber of Commerce, and a Boy Scout enthusiast, will leave for Canyon tomorrow to be one of the judges in the Boy Scout meet to be held there.

USE YOUR HEAD

As Well as Your Letterhead

"Let me give you this tip, Fred—and it's based on long experience, as you know: Don't ever try to save a few cents on your sales letters by using a mimeograph job instead of a good printed circular.

"You can't fool anybody today about a form letter being 'strictly confidential.' Folks don't think any less of your offer because it is made to others, too; but they do dislike anything cheap or second-rate! Don't forget that."

This office is prepared to print your circular letters, including the letterhead form, at a price that will further discount the merits of a mimeograph or other "home-made" product.

We will set your message in typewriter type, and give each copy the appearance of a carefully prepared letter. It will be the kind of "printed salesman" you can be proud to have represent you.

Get our price, and you'll never use anything else.
