CARELESS USE OF GUNS HIT BY RED CROSS

REDUCTION IN DEATH RATE SOUGHT BY LOCAL CHAPTER

"While more than 3,000 persons are killed annually by careless handling of firearms, this year's death rate could be reduced to approximately a third by hunters using ordinary precautions with guns this fall," according to Tom Eckerd, chairman of the Home and Farm Accident Prevention committee of the Pampa Chapter of the Red Cross. "Figures show 65 per cent of accidental deaths by firearms occur during autumn hunting season."

"Most accidental shootings are caused when hunters momentarily forget while carrying guns that they are made to kill," Mr. Eckerd said. "Hunters following each other under tree limbs or through underbrush is dangerous. The guns may be set off by a limb catching the trigger. Dragging a gun through a wire fence may fire it, and pulling a gun carelessly out of an automobile may shoot somebody. A gun should be carried with the muzzle pointed to the ground and never cocked until ready to fire. Never use a gun to club game out of brush. If a shell misfires, wait at least a minute before clearing the chamber."

Although hunting is an outdoor sport, Mr. Eckerd pointed out that one-fourth of the accidental deaths from firearms during the hunting season occur in the home. "Hunters, tired after a day in the open, often neglect to remove shells from a gun and put them away. Serious accidents and death have resulted when children played with shells or tossed them in the fire. Guns rested against a wall have been knocked over and have gone off, wounding a member of the family. When not in use they should be kept under lock and key."

These safety hints, Mr. Eckerd explained, are being called to the attention of hunters as part of the Pampa chapter's work with the National Red Cross movement to reduce the terrifying toll of accidents in homes and on farms, which last year caused 31,500 deaths and 4,600,000 injuries. This program aims to inform householders throughout the year of seasonal dangers as well as all other common hazards about their premises in order that they may be corrected.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Oct. 19 (AP)—A new kind of fish story has developed, says Lieut.-Gov. Walter F. Woodul. It consists in bragging on the folks you met on a real or asserted fishing expedition.

"That's got the other kind—you know, go long and so heavy—beat a mile," he laughed.

Up the steep slopes of Mount Bonnell, two miles from Austin, three horses toiled slowly one Sunday afternoon recently. Near the summit, they were permitted to rest.

One of the riders, in broad-brimmed, tan felt hat, was Gov. James V. Allred. Another was Edward Clark, the governor's secretary, and the third was the governor's small son.

A word of greeting to friends at the hill-top and the trio passed on. So it is on many afternoons, for riding is the governor's favorite diversion.

Someone asked Lieut.-Gov. Woodul his opinion of the amount the proposed tax on certain notes and obligations would yield.

"Well," drawled the man who presides over the Senate, "judging from the number of notes I have out, it would raise a great deal."

The tax is contained in the omnibus bill of which Rep. Jesse James of Cameron is author.

The House of Representatives, says Speaker Coke Stevenson, simply cannot get into a parliamentary tangle from which it cannot extricate itself.

Sometimes it appears to ordinary citizens that such a situation has developed the House can neither go forward nor backward, but if anyone puts the question—and frequently one does—Speaker Stevenson is likely to grin and remark:

"It is my ruling the House cannot hog-tie itself."

Probably he will make a suggestion, and presto, the House will emerge, right side up, whole and able to proceed.

F. W. Fischer of Tyler, who unsuccessfully sought the Democratic gubernatorial nomination last summer, visited Gov. Allred the other day.

"I'm through with politics," the "Big Fish" said. "I formerly supported you but, like a lot of other people, took a notion to run for office. I had a lot of fun and am satisfied."

"Now, so far as I'm concerned, you can run this outfit down here from now on."

Up And Down The Air Waves

By RAY D. O.

Here we are on BLUE Monday, on WHITE paper, with BLACK ink, hoping that it is being read (RED), while we TAN the hides of the bobble makers, and to show we are not YELLOW, we wouldn't fight the BROWN Bomber, even though he had the PINK eye. Speaking of fighting, we like the fighting spirit of the GREEN and GOLD Harvesters. Well, we have Color in the column, anyway.

The "Big-Time" programs are not without their little slip ups. We heard, last night, on one of the big programs, an announcer taking an "Indian" character part, and when the time came for his regular announcement, he started it in "Indian" character. When this provoked a hearty laugh, he said: "Pardon Folks" and started over again—it is all in the life of a radio artist.

We wonder if our "mild" panning has put the KPND staff on their guard—we don't have a bobble to mention today, and that's fine. Did you hear one?

Here is our idea of a delightful evening's entertainment: NBC at 6:15 "Uncle Ezra's Radio Station"; 6:30 "Lum and Abner"; 7:00 "Fibber McGee and Mollie"; 8:00 "Greater Minstrels"; 10:00 "Amos and Andy." Anyway, that will please us.

We have just had a rumor that "Piccolena," who is heard on the Waker Uppers program each day at 7:30 to 8:30 a. m., is to be no more. We won't say whether we are glad or sad—what do you say?

Tune in KPND tomorrow afternoon at 3:15. The occasion is another delightful program presented by Mrs. Reeder, singing lullabye songs and playing classic numbers on the piano. We are proud of this program and we want you to hear it, so don't forget.

If you are a listener to KPND and do not hear the type of program that you would like to hear, why not write a card or letter to the station and give them the information. We are of the opinion that those in charge of programs will be glad to put on just that kind of program.

Did you hear the program this morning at 10 o'clock when two youngsters from the Pampa Junior High School sang a number? They were heard on the variety program of the Berger studio, and it was Charles Stephenson and Jean Lively, both singing and Jean playing the accompaniment. We enjoyed it very much and would like to hear them again.

Here is Columbia's contribution this evening: 6:15, "Poppy the Sailor"; 6:30, "The Goose Creek Parson"; 6:45, Brake Carter; 7:30, "Pick and Pat in Pipe Smoking Time"; 8:00, "Lux Radio Theater"; 9:00, Wayne King.

Tune in Tuesday at 4:45 on KPND, and you'll hear Miss Evelyn Shanklin in a quarter hour of most delightful vocal numbers. We have heard her before and know that we have a treat coming.

We hope we may be privileged to hear Bill Karn, KPND announcer, on another football game, coming direct from the field. We think he is doing a bang-up good job of portraying the game. Don't you like him (his announcing, we mean)?

No connections, but be sure you hear the Harmony Trio THIS AFTERNOON. These girls are local high school girls and you will enjoy their program of pleasing harmony. This afternoon at 4:45 and again next Friday. Beautiful girls with beautiful voices, singing beautiful songs—that makes

SHIPPING LOBBY IS PLACED UNDER MARITIME RULE

Strict Regulations Put Into Effect By Commission

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—Shipping "lobbyists" and others who "present, advocate or oppose" any matter of interest to a ship builder or operator before any government body were placed under strict rules today by the maritime commission. The new commission's first general order also provided for registration of all shipbuilders and operators who seek contracts under the 1936 merchant marine subsidy.

Washington agents of shipping interests must file statements of their pay and expenses with the commission within ten days after the close of each calendar month, and must certify the nature of their work.

Shipbuilders and operators who plan to hire a person to represent the shipping firms views before governmental agencies must file statements showing:

Duration of work—whether permanent or temporary, regular, intermittent or special.
Rate of pay—full time salary or basic retainer fee, bonuses, commissions or special fees.
Expense allowances—pay for travel, subsistence, entertainment or miscellaneous extras.

ITALY PLANES TAKE REVENGE ON ETHIOPIANS

NATIVES LOSE HEAVILY IN 'MASS REPRISAL'

ADDIS ABABA, Oct. 19 (AP)—Italy today completed a "mass reprisal" against Ethiopian irregulars who last July ambushed and killed 30 fascist aviators in Western Wallega province.

Thirty Italian bombing and transport planes, carrying 500 men armed with rifles and machine guns, landed at Lakemti, dispatches to Addis Ababa reported, and engaged irregular troops in a fierce battle during which the natives suffered heavy casualties.

Swooping down on the surprised Ethiopians, the Blackshirts scattered Emperor Haile Selassie's former soldiers and joined forces with local warriors sympathetic to the Italians.

Attached With Bombs. The combined expedition sought out the Ethiopians believed responsible for the July slayings and attacked them with bombs and machine guns.

The irregular forces were scattered, leaving dead and wounded behind in their flight to escape the vengeful fascist assault.

The Italians landed on the spot where last July 8 three bombing planes put down under the command of Gen. Vincenzo Magliocco. At that time, Ethiopian irregulars attacked the fascist from ambush, scattered members of the reconnaissance expedition and killed General Magliocco, Col. Carlo Calderini, Maj. Antonio Locatelli, transatlantic flier, and other pilots and mechanics.

WHEAT, CATTLE, AND OIL

The Texas Panhandle's GREATEST STORY HAS YET TO BE TOLD

This, The Panhandle of Texas', history is far more a chronicle of industrial victory than a saga of frontier wars waged and battles won. Its greatness today lies not in bows and arrows, or guns, or Indian fighters but in oil wells and smoking carbon black plants, great golden fields of wheat, beautiful Hereford cattle and the spirit that is so typically Texan.

The Panhandle of Texas' biggest story is the thrilling account of its industrial growth and the development of its commercial might. It is big because it touches the lives of so many people, because it has made by far the greatest contributions to their welfare and comfort and happiness.

The Pampa Daily NEWS has long seen the need for a better understanding of The Texas Panhandle industry by the Texas Panhandle people. While this newspaper has served both of them well, it hopes to serve them better by helping to bring about that understanding. Along this line The Pampa Daily NEWS has probably done more constructive work than any other newspaper in the country.

When you tell the story of your concern to the Texas Panhandle public, remember that there is no finer medium through which to do it than The Pampa Daily NEWS.

TRANS-PACIFIC FLIGHT

By DECK MORGAN

CHAPTER XXV The Flying Mariner taxied up to the dock, and Kay, standing at Ted's side, saw the white faces of the island colony members awaiting them.

Beyond the human fringe she could see the electric lights of the village, built in the jungle.

Ted's joy was mingled with brooding, for he had lost the secret of his gyropilot. But when the Mariner was safely moored Kay turned to Ted and put her arms around him.

"Oh Ted, you felt your way out of that storm!" she said. "Nobody else in the world could have done it!"

He answered gruffly, "Ridiculous! If the radio compass hadn't been out of order, it would have been far more simple than driving an automobile. The human element shouldn't enter at all into flying. It ought to be fool-proof. We can go ahead now, after this experience, and make some scientific adjustments on the direction finder."

Kay stood tiptoes and kissed him. "Oh, you darling!" she said. "You and your scientific planning! That's all right when you're on the Mariner, but from now on, it isn't going to be the rule in our private lives. When you're in home port, I'm going to have things my way!"

He smiled down at her. "I'm so glad to see you safe that I could turn loose and do handstands. I want to dance a jig and I want to cry."

"Don't you do either!" she warned. "Here comes the naval custodian of the island. Look your dignified best, Mr. Captain."

Ted stood ready to receive the official, but he looked up and saw Iliah, standing before them in the chart room. Her face was resigned; there was the faint trace of a mystic smile about her lips. Iliah had secured the secrets of the gyropilot and she was content.

The radio operator from the land station came on board the Mariner first. His face was beaming.

"Hell, Ted!" he said, you had us scared. What happened to your sending set? We knew you were fighting the storm somewhere over the ocean, but do you know—we haven't had a clear signal from you since you were over French Frigate Shoals. No messages at all!"

Iliah's face suddenly fell. "What was that? You heard no code messages from the ship? You mean," she whirled to face Ted, "and her fact lost its Oriental passivity; her eyes were full of hate. 'You tricked me! You didn't send my message with the secret key!'"

Ted's face was wreathed with smiles. He was beginning to understand. "We sent your message," he said, "but I doubt if it reached your pearling schooner at Wake Island."

The radio operator from the land station scoffed. "I have the strongest station this side of Honolulu. If a code message didn't reach me, it certainly couldn't reach any ship on the Pacific Ocean. I guess your sending set went on the blink during the storm. Were you receiving all right?"

Ted chuckled. "Every message you sent. We had your station and the U. S. S. Mississippi, and came in triangulating to find our position."

Iliah's eyes flashed with cold fire. Her message hadn't gone through, and the figures were too complicated for her to remember. Ted had the secrets of his gyropilot safe.

He left her with the naval custodian, under arrest. Iliah disembarked and became the island's first jail bird.

Ted devoted his attention to the other passengers then. The naval surgeon had gone ashore with the precious serum, and was already administering to the meningitis patients in the hospital. An epidemic would be forestalled.

Passengers were not allowed to go ashore on the quarantined island, but they were too excited to sleep. It was already 2 o'clock in the morning, and they stayed up to watch the dawn which would break on Midway with a riot of tropical color. They had missed dinner the evening before in the giant flying boat on account of the storm. Now they dined on the best the steward could find in the ship's rations.

Only the crew members went to sleep, for they had to fly the ship next day. Ted went sound asleep and once or twice Kay went to glance at his sleeping face. How peaceful he looked after the storm! But to Ted now the journey had been a routine flight!

Engineers were making repairs to the radio loop. Tomorrow they would have to fly on to Guam. Kay stayed on Midway to help care for the sick at the hospital. At first Ted had protested; he wanted to take her on to Manila and he was afraid for her health. But she was eager to prove her loyalty and be of help to the men who were suffering, and at last he agreed.

Towards noon she stood on the dock and watched the Mariner take off for Guam. Its great silver hull throwing up gray spray again, the Mariner dashed along the surface of the lagoon, and took to the air. Kay watched its disappearing over the ocean, her eyes filled with poignant tears.

English explorer had taken the hood from the falcon's eyes, and the tiny black buttons looked out into the light with terror.

The missionary and the American traveling salesman were engaged in an argument over the place of bathtubs in the progress of civilization. The young polo player walked up and down the aisle, trying his sea legs.

In the middle of his discussion the salesman yawned. It was catching. The missionary yawned, too, and then the English explorer. Ted laughed, and went back to work. On the trip today he would have time to make some corrections in the design of his gyropilot.

The four 800-horsepower engines hummed out a tune of the progress of science, of transportation and civilization. And, as he worked, Ted hummed, thinking about Kay. What pretty hair she had! And those green eyes! He'd be glad when this trip was over and he could take her back to Dickie and the little house on the beach at Ship Harbor.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

By HUBBARD KEAVY HOLLYWOOD—So far this year, the role playing the biggest dividends is that of the priest in "San Francisco." Spencer Tracy is the man who is profiting.

Tracy was in the peculiar position of being in demand in Hollywood, but he was no great shakes at the box office. Many directors feel Tracy is one of the few natural actors in town. He has played many fine roles, notable that one in "Fury," but the character did not excite the sympathy of audiences. American moviegoers must like the characters to like the individuals playing them.

Tracy's priest was both worldly and priestly. Never for an instant did he lose a sympathy, a trick in both the writing and the acting. Originally it was intended to have Tracy knock Clark Gable down, after Gable struck the priest, resenting his intrusion.

Does Priestly Thing. After many conferences and discussions, it was decided that he should do the priestly thing and not hit back, thus engaging in what would have amounted to a brawl. It was established earlier, in the boxing sequence, that Tracy was capable of flooring Gable.

Economy, Hollywood style: A film couple (he's an executive and she's a star) who have a joint income of several thousands a week, decided they'd have to economize.

They did it by prohibiting the servants from using the phone for personal calls (because of the toll charge) and by discontinuing the purchase of bottled water for the help.

Their chauffeur was telling me about it. He was amused. Ascertains star of many years' standing has become so egotistical that his friends avoid him as much as possible.

He's happy only when the talk is about himself and his accomplishments. He yawns when the conversation turns to equally interesting people—or more interesting subjects. Those who know him say his is Hollywood's foremost case of egomania.

In a warehouse the other day, where I was ransacking some ancient photographic files, the running board of an imported car served as a desk. After a while, I became curious to know whose car it was using.

It was registered in Mae Murray's name. And, some questions brought out, the car is Mae's. It has stood in the same spot since 1928, and the bill against it is nearly $900.

TORONTO 'STORK DERBY' NEARING FINAL CURTAIN

Leading Mother Has Dozen Babies in Ten Years

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 19 (AP)—Who is the Toronto mother who has borne and properly registered the most children since Oct. 31, 1926?

With the end of the "contest" only two weeks away, the leading claimant to that distinction tonight is Mrs. Matthew Kenny, claiming to have borne an even dozen babies in the period specified in the late Charles Vance Millar's eccentric will. Under that will a fortune estimated today at $750,000 is bequeathed the most prolific Toronto mother.

If Mrs. Kenny is unable to substantiate her claim, the fortune may go to one of the following: Name Babies claimed Mrs. Arthur Timleck 10 Mrs. John Nagle 10 Mrs. Pauline Clarke ("Mme. X") 10 Mrs. Joseph Bagnato 9 Mrs. Bagnato is expecting another child "almost any minute."

COUNCIL OF CATHOLIC WOMEN OPENS SESSION

GALVESTON, Tex., Oct. 19 (AP)—Delegates to the convention of the National Council of Catholic women turned their attention to business affairs today.

Two speakers yesterday urged the need for a united Catholic action among Catholic womanhood of the country to combat the rise of communism as well as to advance the Catholic faith.

The Most Rev. Edwin V. O'Hara, Bishop of Great Falls, Mont., asserted the triumph of Catholic social philosophy would prevent the growth of communism, because it would remove the conditions of social injustice on which communism feeds and thrives.

MAN'S FOLLY THREATENS HIS UTOPIAN FUTURE.

The gentlemen who are handling the big fair, or exposition, which New York is going to throw in 1939 have announced that its general theme will be "the world of tomorrow"—thereby proving that there are still a few optimists in the world.

Nineteen thirty-nine is slightly more than two years away from us, and so many things can happen in those two years that, when 1939 finally does come, it may take an uncommonly brave man to look ahead to "tomorrow" with any comfort.

The dictators of Europe, for instance, ought to find two years plenty of time to get world politics into a snarl that only the sword can cut.

The Japanese and the Russians between them, aided by the confusing factions of China, ought similarly to be able to have the Asiatic situation in a complete and permanent mess by that time, instead of the modest 50 per cent mess that they have got it into as of today.

But all of this, of course, is not the sort of thing you would put in a world's fair. Instead, this New York show will give us dazzling displays of man's scientific and technological advances.

All the spectators will have to do will be to hope that the race's unmatched talent for making hash of its human relationships will leave him alive to enjoy these blessings.

And it is right there that the most irritating and vexing problem of the century comes to a focus.

Mankind has passed through some thousands of years of apprenticeship in the task of learning how to make the physical world a comfortable place in which to live. Now, as he goes into the second third of the 20th century of Christianity, he seems to have finished his apprenticeship.

He is ready to fix things so that all hands can at last have enough of everything. The famines, some of the terrible pestilences, the crippling isolation of distance, the long regime of poverty and unremitting toil for the "submerged tenth"—these, finally, can be banished from the earth, and man's tomorrow can be richer in human happiness than any previous era in history.

But just as we begin to exult in this picture, we discover that the collective folly of the race weighs down the other side of the balance. We use the genius of our chemists to make poison gas and high explosives; the miracle of flight to make war more destructive than ever before; high-speed travel and communications to make war and depression worldwide in scope and effects.

Never has the race had so tantalizing a prospect. Just ahead there is a time of unparalleled richness and happiness—ready to be enjoyed, if men can find a way to keep from destroying themselves before it begins.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

CHICAGO.—Mr. David Dubinsky of New York is getting to be a celebrated character out on the prairies. The Republicans hope to make him as sinister a figure in the mind of rural America as Dr. Rexford Guy Tugwell.

National committeewomen from various states who flutter in and out of campaign headquarters in Chicago report gleefully that Dubinsky is getting to be a household word.

Simultaneously, some of the keenest G. O. P. strategists assure this writer that "Communism" has come to be the biggest and best issue of the 1936 election fight.

Until recently they thought the best vote-getter would be federal spending, with special stress on WPA, and before that the Constitution-supreme court issue had seemed the likeliest.

Recently the idea dawned that the "Red stuff" could be pushed more or less quietly in the east and be made effective among Roman Catholic voters, who presumably would be angry at reports of murder of Spanish priests and correspondingly bitter at the New Deal if any bond of sympathy between it and the Spanish leftists could be suggested.

This is a good place to sum up the basis for the "Communism" charge against Roosevelt, one of whose primary claims is that he has saved and will save America for democracy, as opposed to either Fascism or Communism. Communists have their own presidential candidate in Earl Browder, but they much prefer Roosevelt's election to Landon's for this reason: They know they can propagandize freely and safely under a liberal democracy, but would be wiped out under Fascism. And they believe that Fascism might be more likely under Landon than under Roosevelt.

Roosevelt persuaded Democratic candidates that state office in Minnesota to withdraw in favor of farmer-Laborites, a practical political move designed to "unite progressive forces" and prevent a Republican factory for both state and national tickets.

Republicans charge that the Minnesota Farmer-Labor party is endorsed by Minnesota Communists. Then there's Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers.

LUBBOCK HAS LARGE LINE, FLEET BACKS

SPECTACULAR GAME IS PREDICTED FOR FRIDAY

The first conference game of the 1936 football season, as far as the Pampa Harvesters and the Lubbock Westerners are concerned, will be played at Harvester field here at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. Game time will be 2:30 o'clock with general admission 75 cents. A few good reserve seats for the remaining two home games are available at the office of Roy McMillen in the city hall for 50 cents.

Lubbock school officials wired yesterday for 500 adult tickets and 450 student tickets. Plans are being made to run a special train to Pampa. The 70-piece Westerner band and the pep squad will come to Pampa in full force.

The Westerners, who lost a 14 to 6 game to Capitol Hill of Oklahoma City Friday night, will bring a starting lineup to Pampa averaging 170 pounds to the man. The Westerner line will average 177 pounds. The middle five men in the Lubbock forward wall average 192 pounds. Two tight ends, one a 134-pounder and the other weighing 143 pounds, cut the average considerably. The starting 11 men lack only 130 pounds of weighing a ton.

Looking at the Harvesters, one finds a line averaging about 159 pounds per man and a team with an average of 133 pounds per player. Lubbock will have a weight advantage in the backfield, largely due to Storrs' 179 pounds. Ingley is the speed merchant of the team. He is a 147-pound youngster.

Although lacking in weight, the Harvesters are expected to battle the Westerners from whistle to whistle. The wearers of the green and gold have faced greater weight handicap, additional age and experience already this season and they have yet to finish. The Harvesters are expected to return to Pampa with a record of 1-1. The Westerners are expected to return to Pampa with a record of 1-1.

Lubbock holds a one game edge on the Harvesters during the past six years, or since the Harvesters entered Class A competition. The count is 4 to 3. The odd game was played in 1931 when the Westerners took two games from the Harvesters in a district three-way tie.

Last year in Lubbock a big and favored Harvester team dropped a 7 to 0 game to an inspired Westerner eleven. This year's little Harvesters are determined to wipe out the defeat and make the count even again.

Coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejan will spend this week working on offense and a defense to stop Ingley and the huge Lubbock center wall.

RAFFERTY SAYS A. U. MIGHT BE REORGANIZED

By LEWIS T. NORDYKE
HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 19 (AP)—The fat in the A. U. fire, still fed by explosive Olympic fuel from the Berlin games, probably will reach the sizzling point at the national convention here Dec. 4, 5 and 6.

Jack Rafferty, president of the Gulf association and a power in the fight which kept the meeting from being transferred to Chicago after the board of governors awarded it to Houston, predicted today the union would be completely reorganized.

"It will be a sizzling session," Rafferty, former vice-president of the national organization, said, adding that "an effort will be made to restore the union to public favor by an offensive in behalf of a sportsmanlike, unselfish, logical administration of athletic affairs."

Rafferty, outspoken critic of President Avery Brundage and American Olympic team management, was mentioned as a presidential possibility. He said he favored Judge Jeremiah T. Mahony of New York, a former president.

Erving has announced he would not accept re-election. Rafferty said management of the Olympic teams would be aired and rumors persisted that Eleanor Holm Jarrett, American swimmer expelled from the team because of asserted infractions of training rules en route to Berlin, would personally present her case.

"The criticisms pointed at the A. U. will have to be answered," Rafferty said. "The convention, of course, will be fraught with danger. There will be bitter debates but the organization can survive the ordeal of democratic discussion."

In the board of governors' vote on the proposal to transfer the convention was seen a possible balance of power. The vote was 86 to 75 for holding it at Houston on the mail ballot issued by Chicago headquarters. Rafferty charged the proposed transfer was a move to bolster attendance with friends of the present administration.

Rafferty claimed such leaders as Louis de Benedictis of the Southern association, Col. Frank E. Lowe of Maine, J. Frank Facey of Massachusetts, D. Norman Fisher of St. Louis, Alfred Masters of Stanford University, Judge W. Bonniwell of the Middle Atlantic association and C. L. Orstein of the New York

Undeclared List, Revised By Upsets, Is In Further Danger

Record Cleansing of Potential Champs Sweeps Field

By HERBERT W. BARKER

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP)—Still suffering from the shock produced by the astonishing results of last week's far flung warfare, the football world drastically revised its form sheets today and looked forward to another possible gridiron earthquake when the general call to arms next is sounded.

Never in recent years have so many championship contenders been summarily removed from the ranking list in one comprehensive sweep. Seven major eastern powers, headed by Pitt and Princeton; Georgia Tech in the south; Texas in the southwest; and Denver and Brigham Young in the Rocky Mountain district, all suffered their first defeats of the campaign.

Among major schools, here's the way the undefeated list shaped up today:

East: Yale, Army, Fordham, Holy Cross, Duquesne, Villanova, Georgetown, George Washington and Catholic.

Midwest: Minnesota, Northwestern, Purdue, Notre Dame, Michigan Southwest: Texas A. & M.

South: Duke, North Carolina, Tulane, Louisiana State, Alabama and Auburn.

Rocky Mountain: Utah and Utah State.

East: One undefeated record will go to smash when Fordham, 20-6 victor over little Waynesburg last week, entertains St. Mary's Gaels, far western power, who were held to 0-0 tie by San Francisco yesterday. Of the other undefeated eastern teams, Holy Cross, George Washington, Catholic and Georgetown will run considerable risks.

West: One undefeated record will go to smash when West Virginia Wesleyan, Boston University looks overmatched against Villanova. Yale should be able to ease off against Rutgers. Army's Cadets look only for a good workout from Springfield.

Midwest: Victors now in 20 consecutive games as a result of the 26-0 rout of Michigan, Minnesota's Gophers will be given a thorough testing by Purdue's high-scoring Boilermakers who trounced Chicago, 35-7.

Northwestern faces Illinois; Indiana meets Ohio State. Marquette and Michigan State clash in a game of undefeated and tied teams. In the Big Six, Nebraska and Oklahoma, the leaders, collide in a game that may decide the title.

Southwest: Texas A. & M. which scored its second conference triumph at Texas Christian's expense, 18-7, tackles Baylor's Bears who rallied for three touchdowns in the fourth quarter to nip Texas, 21-18. Texas plays Rice which spilled Georgia 13-6. Christian entertains Mississippi State.

South: Georgia Tech plays Vanderbilt, 16-0 by Southern Methodist; Auburn meets Georgia and Louisiana State plays Arkansas.

Far West: Washington, whose 19-7 victory over Oregon State gave the Huskies undisputed possession of the lead with three victories, plays California.

Rocky Mountain: Utah and Utah State share the lead and meet this week. Colorado University plays Colorado State.

ONLY 11 UNDEFEATED TEAMS LEFT IN HIGH SCHOOL RACE

DALLAS, Oct. 19 (AP)—The Texas Intercollegiate league's select circle braided today for the drive down the home stretch of a football campaign that has reduced the list of undefeated teams to 17, with six more weeks to go.

Of the 17, six have tie games to mar their records. Those without a blemish are: Amarillo, Austin (El Paso), Paris, North Side (Port Worth), Dallas Tech, North Dallas, Palestine, Hillsboro, Kerrville, Corpus Christi and Edinburg.

Teams undefeated but tied are: Olney, Breckenridge, Longview, Temple, Port Arthur and San Benito. The high are deadlocked at the head of the district four drive. Highland Park (Dallas) won the lone conference game played in district six.

North Side and Paschal lead the Fort Worth district and North Dallas, Woodrow Wilson and Dallas Tech are unbeaten in district eight conference play. Gladewater and Longview bear that distinction in district nine.

Lufkin, Athens and Palestine are rocking along at the head in district ten. Hillsboro and Temple top district eleven. Kerrville and Austin lead district twelve. Port Arthur tops district fourteen. Goose Creek and South Park (Beaumont) played to a 6-6 tie last week. It counted a half game won and lost for each.

John Reagan of Houston has a win and no losses in district 13. Sam Houston and Jeff Davis have not yet played conference games.

Edinburg, Harlingen and San Benito lead district 16, the former two with two wins each.

In the state's feature game last week the Hillsboro Eagles flung a mighty challenge from Central Texas by noosing out Waco's Tigers 13-13.

Saturday: Southwestern vs. Abilene Christian, at Georgetown.

GEORGETOWN, Texas, Oct. 19 (AP)—Two of the Texas conference's undefeated elevens, Howard Payne and McMurry, clash Friday night at Abilene in the most important game yet played.

These teams, pre-season favorites, had easy sailing last week, McMurry coasting to a one-sided victory over Westmoreland of San Antonio and Howard Payne stopping Austin College, 14-0.

The only other conference clash brings together Southwestern and Abilene Christian in the Georgetown school's homecoming day feature. The Pirates dropped a 13-0 game to Southwest Texas teachers last week.

Austin, trimmed by Howard Payne last week, have trouble aplenty in the North Texas Teachers tricky offensive team at Sherman Thursday night. The teachers walloped the Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks, 27-7.

Daniel Baker, third and last of the teams undefeated in conference play, entertain the strong Southwestern Teachers at Brownwood. The Hillbillies rate favorites, but the Teachers, fresh from a victory over Southwestern, show signs of returning to form. Daniel Baker barely bagged a 7-0 win over Texas Wesleyan.

Trinity University has a tough one in the East Texas Teachers, a team that already holds two victories over conference teams. St. Edward's will be idle this weekend.

Baylor-A&M Game Tops Southwest Tilts Saturday

BY FELIX R. MCKNIGHT

DALLAS, Oct. 19 (AP)—Two erstwhile underdogs transformed overnight into the big bad wolves of the Southwest conference—Texas A. & M. and Baylor university—have it out at Waco Saturday in the weekend's top attraction.

The Texas-Rice game at Houston and two bright intersectional games featuring Texas Christian and Arkansas, can't touch this scrap of the one-time doormats.

It pits two of the conference's finest ball carriers—Dick Todd of the Aggies and Lloyd Russell of the Bruins—and a pair of stout lines in a tilt that will have heavy bearing on the pennant chase. The Aggies, also, will be defending their unimpaired record of no defeats and ties, an item that ranks them among the nation's leading elevens.

Baylor's veteran senior team, notoriously "in and outers," were decidedly "in" against Texas Saturday. They far behind, 18-0 going into the fourth period, the Bruins, with Russell at the helm, started a touchdown tornado that produced three scores and a 21-18 victory. For the first time of the season the veteran backfield of Russell, Brazell, Gernand and Masters, aided considerably by Sophomore Billy Patterson, attained the form expected of them.

The Aggies, pre-season favorites, proved wisdom of the critics with a crushing running attack that buried Texas Christian, 18-7. It was the first time in a dozen years that a cadet team had come off winner in a Christian game. Todd, the high school sensation of two years ago, lugged the ball like the Aggies' immortal Joel Hunt on runs of 76, 51 and fewer yards for two touchdowns.

After a look at Southern Methodist's hustling green team in its easy 16-0 victory over Ray Morrison's Vanderbilt Commodores, the wise ones began looking ahead at the Nov. 7 date that will bring the Aggies and the Mustangs together at Dallas in a clash that could settle all pennant arguments.

Matty Bell's Methodists, still ranked over the tough game they dropped to Fordham for the season's only defeat, look it out on their old rival. They scored, with riotous enthusiasm, all of their points in the first 17 minutes of play and then coasted in. Bell removed his hot running trio—Johnny Stidger, Johnny Sprague and Bob Finley—after the first outbreak and sent a mob of second and third stringers thru out the game. Every man on the Mustang squad except the cripples played.

The crowd of 25,000 sensed that Bell, given his present job by Morrison when the aerial master was Methodist coach, was repaying a debt to his warmest friend. At that, only bad breaks kept Methodist reserves from scoring three additional touchdowns. Vandy never advanced past the Mustang 37-yard line.

Rice Institute, looking better in a 13-6 licking handed Georgia, will have its injured backs in the game and ready for Texas at Houston. The Owls used straight football, plus the fine kicking foot of Jake Schuchle, son of the Hon. Sheriff, to beat down Georgia.

Texas Christian, held to 13 yards on the ground by the Aggies, will pass at Mississippi State in an intersectional game at Dallas' Cotton Bowl on the Centennial exposition grounds.

Coach Fred Thomsen's Arkansas razorbacks, crippled and without their star, Jack Robbins, took a 13-7 pasting from George Washington but expected to be in better physical condition for the Louisiana State game at Shreveport, La.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP)—John (Clipper) Smith, Duquesne coach, is turning down vaudeville offers. . . . Yep, that feller mumbled to himself is Francis Schmidt of Ohio State.

If you happened to see Tulane wallop Colgate you got a fairly good left-handed idea of what Minnesota looks like in the flesh. . . . Tennessee is liable to rear up and knock off Duke this week. . . . Did Matty Bell of Southern Methodist pour it to his old boss, Ray Morrison, or did he pour it to him? . . . And what about Washington State holding Southern California to a tie?

The Cubs have fired their bat boy. . . . Mebbe he is a candidate to manage the Dodgers. . . . The bloods up at Harvard got so excited over Army's Monk Meyer they plumb forgot their broad "A's" . . . They were hollering "stop that guy," just like us ordinary fella. . . . Down at Fort Worth they liken Sam Baugh, Texas Christian's pass pitcher, to old Sam Houston. . . . They say the latter never could shoot any straighter with a scrunched kum than Baugh can fling that pigskin.

The provinces are yelling for a peek at Joe DiMaggio so the Yanks will make the most elaborate spring tour since Babe Ruth was in his heyday. . . . Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma will be added to the Carolinas, Georgia and Alabama on the itinerary.

4 NATIONAL FORESTS ARE CREATED BY FDR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—The agriculture department disclosed today that President Roosevelt had created four national forests in East Texas containing 1,400,000 acres, of which 631,000 acres already have been purchased and placed under the forest service.

The new areas will be known as the Sam Houston, the Sabine, the Angelina and the Davy Crockett national forests and officials said all had "great possibilities for development as permanent productive timber lands." They were established as prospective purchases by the government in 1934.

GIRL ROOTERS TANGLE AFTER FOOTBALL GAME

VALLEJO, Calif., Oct. 19 (AP)—Girl rooters battled on a football field after Vallejo school defeated Tamalpais high, 13 to 12, here Saturday.

Police, who were aided by the high school boys in breaking up the fighting, said more than 60 girls participated. The hostilities started, they said, when Tamalpais girls snatched hats from two Vallejo girls, Dollie and Tudy La Gravo.

SAN FRANCISCO HOLDS ST. MARY'S TO A TIE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19 (AP)—Football, fire and fights, all mixed in a super-explosive gridiron setback for the powerful St. Mary's College Gaels, left a toll of burns, bruises and shattered hopes here today.

Injuries to many fans came from an explosion of bunched rubber balloons, fist fights and a near riot at Kezar stadium yesterday.

Hopes of the Gaels' for national championship recognition were shattered by a scoreless tie—a "moral defeat" at the hands of San Francisco University's Dons.

Two others, treated at the hospital, were injured in the near riot which kept most of the 35,000 fans in the stadium for more than half an hour after the game ended. Scores of others were knocked down and bruised.

The bunched balloons, carrying a political advertisement, exploded in the outstretched hands of a throng which had left the St. Mary's stands to grab them.

Mayor Angelo J. Rossi, sitting a short distance from the puff of flame which accompanied the explosion, said he believed the balloons were ignited by a cigaret.

DIZZY DEAN THINKS HE IS A CANARY BIRD

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 19 (AP)—Colorful Dizzy Dean, who is at his best when he talks about the contract troubles he knows so well, likened himself to a "canary bird" today.

"I can sing my song anywhere and I like it anywhere," the eccentric St. Louis Cardinal pitcher explained. "I don't care where I play next year."

Dizzy, with the variations that come from experience, was making his usual announcement that he was a holdout and that he didn't care if he were traded.

"I guess I'm a holdout all right," he declared. "I ain't seen nobody at the Cardinal office so they have not offered me a contract or talked terms. But I'm a holdout until I'm signed."

And, as for going to some other club, "well, I've made a lot of friends in St. Louis and I would hate to leave them." Dizzy continued, "but, as the fellow said when the lion bit him, that's Africa."

"How do you like that one?" Dizzy asked gleefully. "I got it from Joe E. Brown. Wait 'til I spring it on Pepper Martin. He'll use it every time he makes a speech."

ST. MARY'S WINS

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 19 (AP)—St. Mary's university of San Antonio, led by Douglas Locke, defeated St. Thomas college, 13 to 6, in an intersectional grid contest here yesterday.

The Texans trailed, 6 to 0, at the half but began clicking shortly after the third period started. A 48-yard run by Locke put the visitors in a position to score one of their touchdowns.

St. Thomas made its touchdown in the second period.

FIREMEN MIX BUSINESS WITH CHURCH WORSHIP

KENMORE N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—The village fire department, in full dress uniforms, lined up in the firehouse yesterday to march to the evangelical and Reformed church for the annual memorial service.

An alarm rang in. Yes, it was the church. The men broke rank, ran apparatus to the scene, quenched the blaze, scribbled up a bit and then carried out their program. There was little damage.

SURGERY GIVES BABY HIS CRY

A baby who COULDN'T cry! What a hoop, chorus parents who stambeleth forth in dead of night to still infantile yowls! But the mother of 13-year-old Eugene Greco missed the usual rumpus, so Eugene went to a Pittsburgh hospital. There a surgeon found a larynx obstruction and remedied it, so here Eugene is shown, apparently ready to try out his newly acquired wail.

Farmers Greet Landon at Rural Surprise Party

A spring wagon, a crowd of farm folks, and a background of trees gave a genuine rural atmosphere to this unscheduled meeting with Gov. Alf M. Landon between Sturgis, Mich., and Kendallville, Ind. Farmers gathered around the train when it made an operating stop on the homeward leg of Landon's presidential campaign tour. Landon is seen on rear platform, waving a greeting.

ROOSEVELT TO OPEN DRIVE IN NEW ENGLAND

LONDON DEMANDS FDR SHOW HAND ON NRA PLANS

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—President Roosevelt settled himself at the White House today for a 40-hour stay, striving to clear his desk of an accumulation of business before resuming in New England, his fast-traveling campaign for re-election.

He returned early today aboard a special train from his Hyde Park, N. Y. home.

Traveling by train and motor, Mr. Roosevelt will turn northward before mid-week for a six-speed campaign drive in three New England states, taking up not far from where he ended last week a 5,000-mile mid-western tour.

Except to see a few cabinet officers, including Secretary of State Cordell Hull, in his study in the executive mansion, he had no engagements on the bench.

He planned to remain away from his office and work on the remainder of a two-foot stack of mail that accumulated in the last five days of his western trip. He departed at Hyde Park.

Tuesday night he will leave Washington for Rhode Island, Massachusetts and Connecticut, which have an aggregate of 29 electoral votes. All three states have been marked by Roosevelt lieutenants as "battleground" territory.

The President's main speech of the two-day drive will be a nationwide radio broadcast address at Worcester, Mass., at 9 p. m. in central standard time Wednesday.

The rest of the speeches will be outdoor affairs from an automobile.

LONDON ASKS SHOWDOWN

BY HUGH WAGNON

ABOARD LONDON TRAIN ENROUTE TO CALIFORNIA, Oct. 19 (AP)—A call for President Roosevelt to say whether he intends "to perpetuate the NRA willy-nilly" was voted today by Gov. Alf M. Landon as the Republican presidential nominee headed west for a major address tomorrow at Los Angeles.

In a formal statement, the Kansan commented on a speech last week by James Roosevelt, the President's son, Landon said "this may be clear, that young Roosevelt understands the President still to intend to make NRA principles live and operate in our government by one device or another."

The statement was made public as Landon crossed the foothills of the Rockies en route to Albuquerque, N. M., for a short speech (at 4:30 p. m. central standard time), the first during a strenuous two weeks of campaigning that will take him twice the distance across the continent.

"The President," Landon said, "must specifically deny that his son's views are his views. Otherwise, the silence of the father will be the confession that the son spoke for the President when he gave us to understand that his father intended to perpetuate the NRA willy-nilly."

Landon's statement said: "Mr. James Roosevelt's own account of what he said as quoted in the press is as follows: "These are the purposes of the NRA. The administration is pledged to attempt to carry out the purposes of the NRA in every constitutional manner. Should there be no way in which we do not admit, I as an individual see no alternative but to ask the people for the right to make those purposes constitutional through the Congress of the United States."

Accompanying the nominee were his advisers, Ralph West Robery, former Columbia economic professor and Olin Glenn Saxon, head of the Republican national committee research staff; James T. Williams of the NRA newspapers; and Landon's personal party.

GRUESOME STORY OF ATTACK AND DOUBLE KILLING IS TOLD

EDINBURG, Oct. 19 (AP)—A gruesome story of attacking and killing a young couple lived across the Rio Grande into Mexico was revealed today in statements officers said they obtained from six Mexicans accused of the crime.

Murder charges were filed against Ascension Martinez and his two brothers, Bonifacio and Emilio, Placido Handy, Braulio Yanez and Jose Rodriguez, all residents of the borderland south of Donna, Tex. They were in the Edinburg jail.
