Attention, girls! Never think of yourself as shabby and dull. It is better to imagine yourself interesting and glamorous. Every woman should know what's becoming to her and wear it; personal appearance often turns the trick. Be alert but not too aggressive.

Have dramatic and romantic notions but don't inflict them on other people, especially on your employers. Learn how to live economically without feeling "blue."

This is some of the advice of Dorothea Brande, author of "Wake Up and Live" hands out to the small town girl seeking employment in a big city. When Miss Brande first went to New York as an "unknown" from Chicago, she was secretary of the Professional Employment Bureau at the Y. W. C.

"The small town girl should prepare herself with a knowledge of one of the sciences or take a stiff course in mathematics before approaching the business world," stated Miss Brande. "She must keep courage and be able to weather 'sinking periods,' always keeping a good opinion of herself, regardless of circumstances. It all depends on your mental attitude and the girl who goes to the city because she doesn't like life any more where else better stay at home."

The next four squibs in the column today were contributed by Helen Partridge, who picked them from her scrap book.

If parents want to know what school teachers think, they had better visit school now and then. Children sometimes "sorta" show them up, and if they are not able to defend themselves it's their own fault that the teacher thinks. And it makes no difference how respectable the family is supposed to be. For instance: During the first week of school a first grade teacher gave each of her pupils a magazine and told them to cut out something good to eat. One little boy cut out a bottle of Four Roses, held it up with his teacher and said, "I like whiskey." Another little fellow promptly spoke up and said, "I like wine better, don't you? Well, you'll have to be a first grade teacher to know how to answer that one, and many others equally as embarrassing."

Do you know that the marigold is reputed to forecast the day's weather with accuracy? By observing it early in the morning it is possible to tell whether the day will be fair or stormy. If the day is going to be fine the flower opens about 5 or 6 o'clock in the morning. If wet weather is in store, the marigold will not open at all.

A West Indian hurricane, so biographers say, figured in the making of a great American statesman, Alexander Hamilton. Born on a West Indian island, Hamilton at the age of 16 was in the employ of Nicholas Cruger, a merchant of St. Croix. A terrible hurricane swept the island. He wrote a description of it, which, it is said, showed such literary talent that it was decided to send him to Boston to complete his education. He never returned to the islands.

The ghosts of our lives are the unwritten letters unpaid visits, and lost opportunities.

Thank you, Mrs. Partridge, and come again.

Filler-Uppers. Descriptions of the cocktail King Edward mixed during his vacation put new meaning into the British anthem, "God Save the King."

Federal men raiding a woman suspect, said they found $100,000 worth of drugs in her trunks, which, at that rate, must have been plus-four.

In counting up the straw votes it is a good idea to remember they may contain a lot of chaff.

Lack of rain this year made poor business for the man who predicts storms by the way his rheumatism flares up.

Former President Lowell of Harvard flunked his auto driver's test. This ought to go on the five-foot shelf with the other classics.

Perfumers unanimously agree that all the time to remember they are perfumes on the market, none equals the pure scent of fresh flowers for delicacy and fragrance.

According to Chinese tradition use of cloth was evolved from the practice of women carrying their children in fiber nets.

There were no signals in the early days of railways—when engineers met on a single track they had to argue it out. Later a post was erected midway between stations so that "the who passed the pillar must go on, and the other go back."

GUN TOSSER IS GIVEN YEAR BY ENGLISH JURY

HARD LABOR ORDERED FOR 'ALARMING' HIS MAJESTY

LONDON, Sept. 14 (AP)—George Andrew McMahon was found guilty today of producing a revolver near King Edward VIII with intent to alarm his majesty.

McMahon was sentenced to twelve months imprisonment at hard labor. McMahon was acquitted on two of the three charges placed against him after he "slithered" a loaded revolver at the monarch as he rode by in a military procession on Constitution Hill July 16.

The pudgy, crippled Irish-Scot testified "a foreign power" had wanted him to shoot the king on an earlier occasion and had tried to enlist him as a spy against Britain.

Before the verdict was reached McMahon pleaded with the court to send him to prison to protect him from those whom he said he had betrayed by failing to carry out the deed.

The jury deliberated only ten minutes. McMahon said the king was to have been shot on the ceremonial birthday of the trooping of the colors last June 23, and that he was to receive £150 ($750) for doing the shooting.

That was before the occasion, last July 16, when McMahon "slithered" the revolver at the feet of the king's horse.

The prisoner said he had told the

Fliers En Route To New York From London

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—The Canadian press said today the round trip transatlantic airplane of Harry Richman and Dick Merrill was forced down at 1:20 p. m. (EST), on the northeast coast of Newfoundland. Officials awaiting them at Floyd Bennett field said they had no confirmation.

Whether either flier was hurt was not immediately determined. Attempting to retrace their path over the Atlantic which carried them eastward to a forced landing in Wales, the two men took off for New York early this morning from a London airport.

Today's reported forced landing occurred at a marsh, three miles from Musgrave Harbor, N. E.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Sept. 14 (AP)—Harry Richman's plane, "Lady Peace," in which he and Dick Merrill were attempting a flight from England to New York made a forced landing three miles from Musgrave Harbor on the northeast coast of Newfoundland at 2:20 p. m. today. It was not known immediately if the fliers escaped injury in the landing.

Under authority of the Lindbergh kidnaping act, agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation entered the search for 18-months-old Harry Brown, upper left, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Browne of Detroit, after days of investigation by police and neighbors failed to return the infant. The child disappeared from his carriage in a Detroit park after his brothers, Edward, 7, and Charles, 9, shown at left with their mother, left him to purchase ice cream. At upper right is the Browne home, the empty carriage, from which the baby disappeared standing by the porch. At lower right a party of Boy Scouts, one of many similar parties, is seen searching an alley near the Browne home.

VALUATIONS TO BE HANDED TO CITY OFFICIALS

New Tax Rate To Be Based Upon Figures

Valuation figures on Pampa city property will be submitted to city commissioners at their regular meeting in city hall tonight and Tax Collector W. M. Craven will ask that the city tax rate for 1937 be set.

Mr. Craven said today that his valuation figures for next year are now complete but have not yet been approved. He will turn them over to the commission, he said, to give that body an opportunity to study them and fix the new tax rate.

City property valuations are higher this year than last, the city assessor stated. Figures will be released when they have received the commission's approval.

City Manager C. L. Stine said today that the tax rate for the coming year probably will not be set until about the first week in October, at a date following public hearing on the tentative budget which has been on file for the past two or three weeks at the city hall.

Maine Is Voting, Watched By U. S.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 4 (AP)—The nation watched Maine ballot today in a state election which long has been a disputed harbinger of national success to the winning party.

Polk opened after an unprecedented campaign in which three presidential nominees visited Maine, a U. S. senator, a governor, three congressmen and minor state and county officials were to be chosen.

Likelihood of a record vote was forecast. The secretary of state's office estimated the total would approach and might exceed 300,000.

The largest recorded Maine vote was 295,538 in the 1932 presidential election. Maine was one of six Hoover states that year.

Accuracy of the slogan, "as good as Maine, so goes the nation," has been debated since its coinage in 1940, but republicans and democrats made exceptional use of it in the campaign which ended last night in a flurry of eleventh hour political oratory, centering mostly around the new deal.

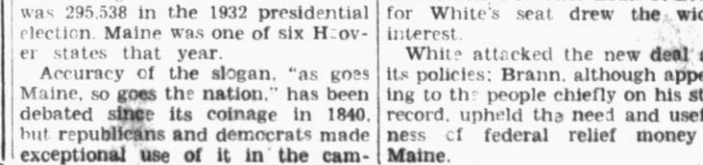

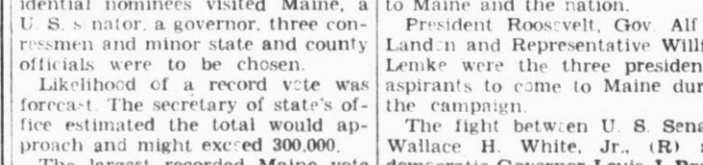

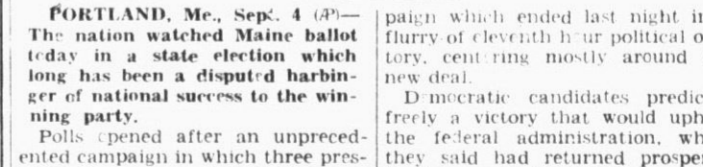

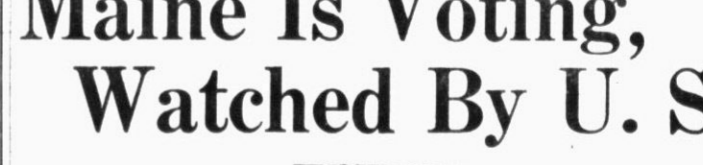

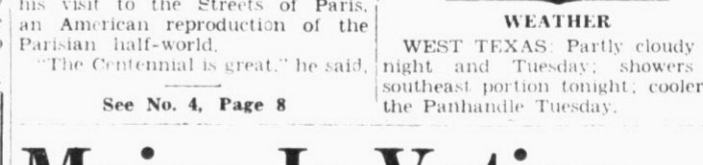

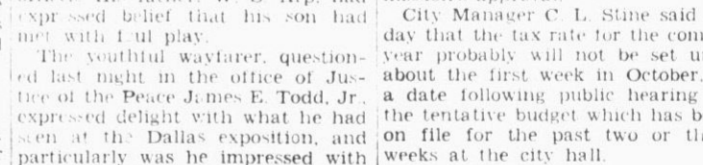

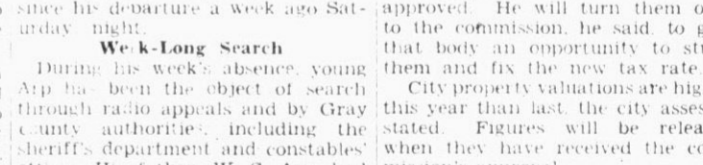

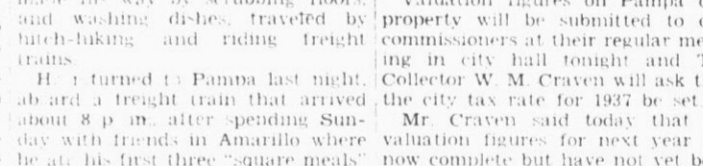

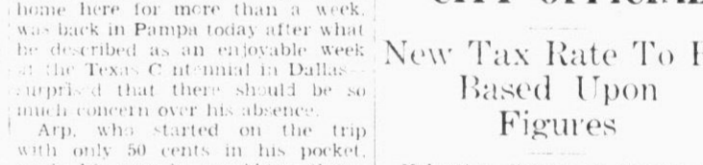

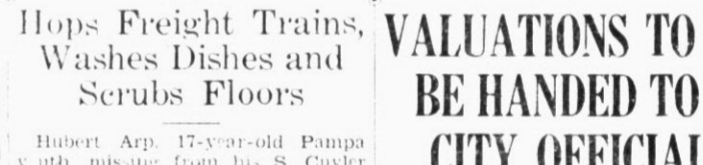

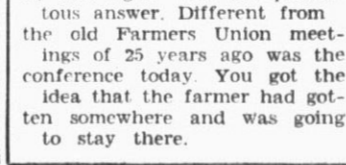

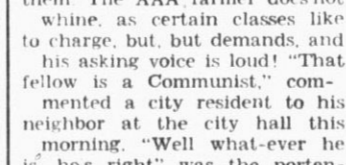

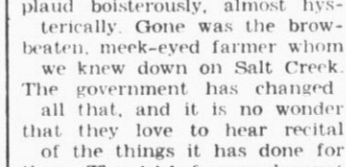

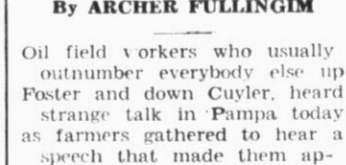

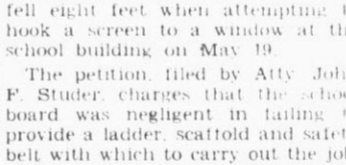

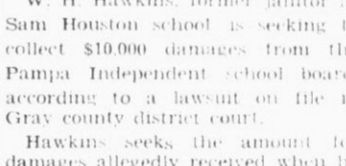

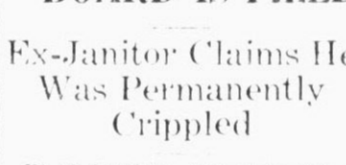

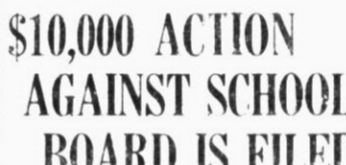

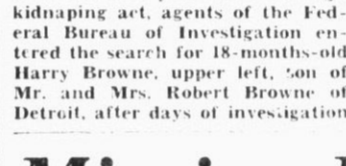

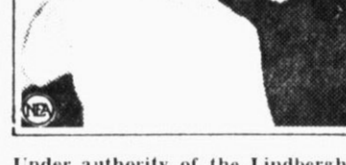

Democratic candidates predicted freely a victory that would uphold the federal administration, which they said had returned prosperity to Maine and the nation.

President Roosevelt, Gov. Alf M. Landry and Representative William Lemke were the three presidential aspirants to come to Maine during the campaign.

The fight between U. S. Senator Wallace H. White, Jr. (R) and democratic Governor Louis J. Brann for White's seat drew the widest interest.

White attacked the new deal and its policies; Brann, although appealing to the people chiefly on his state record, upheld the need and usefulness of federal relief money in Maine.

FARMER IS STRONGLY DEFENDED BY DR. MONTGOMERY

American farmers must abandon the old practice of free competition and supply-and-demand price determination if they are to preserve their resources and social integrity, Dr. R. H. Montgomery declared this morning to more than 500 farmers, county agents and business men of 21 Panhandle counties of this agricultural district.

The former professor of economics at Texas university was the chief speaker at a meeting of the Texas Agricultural association, district 1, in session here today. His direct argument on what is wrong with the nation and who is to blame, stirred the large audience. The agricultural industry up to today has followed the American principle of the "greatest good to the greatest number," as laid down by Thomas Jefferson, Dr. Montgomery said, while the industrial half of the nation is devoted to the newer idea of trimming production to meet current demand. Organization of the American farmer, particularly in the south must be achieved in order that they may compete successfully with prevailing industrial method, the speaker declared.

Also fascinating lovely are the new wool and rayon novelty mixtures and the slightly rough crepe silks.

The panel at the front of the skirt suggests length which has a very slimming effect for the mature figure.

You'll find this model so entirely simple to cut out and put together.

$80,000,000 ESTATE FIGHT OPENS TODAY

HETTY GREEN'S RICHES CAUSE COURT BATTLE

ELIZABETHTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 14. (AP)—Two women vied here today in a legal battle for control of the $80,000,000 fortune left by Col. Edward H. B. Green, son of Hetty Green, the eccentric railroad queen.

Preliminary arguments were scheduled before Surrogate Harry Owen.

A 180-word will, filed at Port Henry last month, left the entire estate to Colonel Green's sister, Mrs. Matthew Astor Wilks, of New York City.

Opposing probate of the 28-year-old document was the widow, Mrs. Mabel Harlow Green, of South Dartmouth, Mass.

Colonel Green died in Lake Placid last June 8. Mrs. Green was named permanent administratrix of the estate in Texas.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Wilks filed the document drawn in March, 1908, nine years before Colonel Green was married. It named his mother sole beneficiary and in the event of her death, the entire estate was to pass to his sister, Mrs. Wilks.

Under Texas community property laws, Mrs. Green is entitled to all personal property accrued by her husband subsequent to their marriage. Some lawyers in Texas expressed the opinion that the will would be valid, except that the widow is entitled to share in property acquired after marriage.

Mrs. Green has asked the court here for the appointment of a temporary administrator and permission to search Colonel Green's safe deposit box in a hunt for a more recent will. She also filed a bill in equity to get title to half his holdings amassed in Texas after their marriage.

MAINE VOTES TODAY 5 STATES BALLOT TUESDAY

(By The Associated Press)

Maine took its quadrennial place in the political sun today as citizens of the Pine Tree state voted in their state election.

Throughout the nation political experts were on the alert, watching for portents of the Presidential outcome in November. There is much dispute now as to how far Maine's election can be considered a "weather vane" of national sentiment, but every four years the major parties seek to bring every last ounce of psychological advantage from it.

President Roosevelt visited the state some time ago, followed by Gov. Alf M. Landon, who made a speech at Portland Saturday night.

One of the principal contests is between the democratic governor Louis J. Brann and the republican senator Wallace H. White, Jr., for the latter's senatorial seat. Governor, members of Congress and other state officials will also be elected. Presidential balloting in Maine, as in other states, will take place in November.

Voters of five states ballot tomorrow in state primaries. Following are some of the high lights:

Massachusetts—Much public interest centers on the contest for the democratic senatorial nomination. Candidates are Gov. James M. Curley, Mayor Robert E. Greenwood of Fitchburg, and Thomas C. O'Brien, also union party candidate for vice president. O'Brien is not on the senatorial ballot, but backers are conducting a campaign for "write-in" votes.

New Hampshire—Two former political allies, Governor H. Styles Bridges, 38 years old, and the veteran ex-Senator George H. Moses are contesting for the republican nomination to the Senate seat from which the republican Senator Henry W. Keyes is retiring.

Wisconsin—Gov. Philip F. LaFollette is opposed for the progressive nomination for governor.

Democratic candidates are State Senator William D. Carroll and Arthur W. Lueck; republicans are Alexander Wiley and John B. Chappelle.

New York States—Townsend and Coughlin candidates numbering more than a dozen are pitted against regular democratic and republican designees for congress. Minority leader Bertrand H. Snell faces opposition from Jesse W. Williams, Townsendite.

Michigan—Here also observers watched warnings to be posted along the southern Texas coast, apparently struck inland south of Baffin bay. It was accompanied by rain squalls.

Damage was confined mostly to flimsy buildings and sailboats. A driving rain damaged the rice crop somewhat in the Bay City section.

The storm first approached the coast near Brownsville and then moved northward parallel to the coast until it went inland south of here.

Meanwhile, another tropical storm was whipping a course northeast of San Juan, Puerto Rico.

HURRICANE RESULTS IN NEEDED RAIN ON COAST

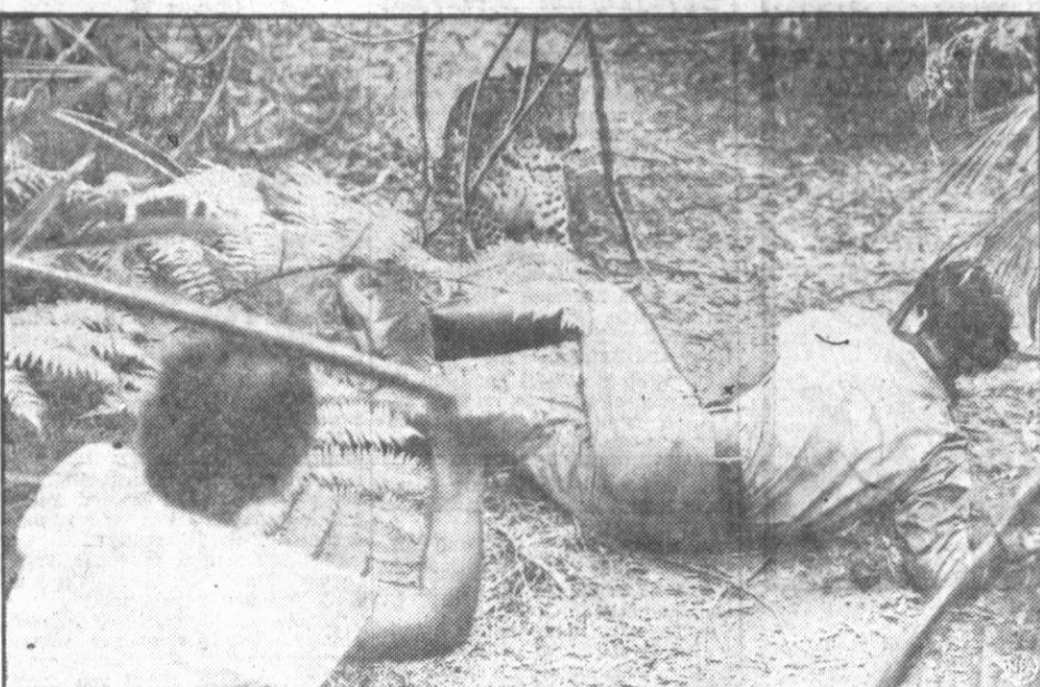

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 14. (AP)—A tropical disturbance, which caused apprehension along a section of the Texas coast Sunday, was considered today responsible for rains far more beneficial than the small amount of damage wrought during its short duration.

A moment after this photo was made, "Ecky," 13-year-old leopard seen in background, attacked Albert Alcorn, animal trainer, lying in the path of a studio "jungle" at Hollywood during filming of a movie. The leopard was supposed to leap over Alcorn's body while cameras recorded the scene.

Death takes a holiday for steel workers on the gigantic bridge spanning the Golden Gate at San Francisco, since this huge life net was installed. # RODEO WILL RETURN TO DALLAS CENTENNIAL IN CLOSING WEEKS

DALLAS, Sept. 14. (AP)—Col. W. T. Johnson's colorful world championship rodeo will return to the Texas Centennial Exposition as an added attraction for the closing days of the Lone Star State's World's Fair.

Col. Johnson, wealthy native Texan and rancher who has won world wide recognition with his show, will return with his performers to the Centennial Exposition in November to reopen his rodeo November 17 for a 12 day run. His other engagement at the Exposition was from June 6 to June 21. On his fall itinerary are Madison Square Garden where the show's glamorous performances consistently pull great crowds, and Boston from where he will come directly to Dallas. His show is well known abroad, especially in London where huge crowds attended every performance.

The November rodeo will be presented at the Livestock Arena in the spacious Livestock building. His first show was presented in the Cotton Bowl, now being used for football.

Col. Johnson, who loves rodeos because they typify ranch life, has collected about him the largest and most colorful group of performers in the history of rodeos. About 100 persons are employed by his show. Over 100 animals are used.

Johnson owns the Bird's Nest ranch, virtually an empire of acres, west of San Antonio on which all his rodeo stock is raised. He has made his rodeo an institution providing for many persons not only when his show is on but throughout the year. He lives in San Antonio, in motoring distance of the range on which he was successful as a rancher and where he began operations to carry out the idea of giving the world a championship rodeo.

The Livestock Arena will accommodate 5,000 persons. It is closed thus preventing weather from interfering with performances.

AVALANCHE IN NORWAY LAKE FATAL TO 74

HUGE ROCK ROLLS INTO LAKE AND CAUSES FLOOD

LEON, Norway, Sept. 14. (AP)—Rescue parties today searched beautiful Lake Leon, turned into a death-trap by a roaring avalanche and resultant flood, for the bodies of many of the 74 victims of one of Norway's great natural disasters.

The twin villages of Bodal and Nesdal, nestled at the foot of 6,328-foot Rogne mountain in this famous tourist region, were virtually wiped out when a huge mass of rock slid down into the lake with a terrifying rumble and sent a great wall of water sweeping over the area.

The natives, startled from their early morning sleep, had no chance to escape from the great wave which poured through the narrow valley after the massive rock—at least 1,200 feet broad and 1,500 feet high—rolled into the lake.

Relief workers, including doctors and nurses who flew here from Bergen and Oslo, established temporary hospitals in the few remaining homes in this beauty spot.

Bodies of human beings and animals, as well as furniture and household articles, floated on the surface of the lake. There were scores of corpses of silver foxes, bred by the farmers of the region.

An old steamboat, perched 350 feet up the mountainside since a similar disaster in 1905 in which 60 were killed, was swept another 300 feet higher by the immense wave.

The water rushed a mile inland at some points, destroying an electricity plant, sawmills, roads and bridges.

"The avalanche made a noise like thunder," said one of those rescued. "Nothing is left of my family or my home—everything is gone."

CHINESE PROTEST.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 14. (AP)—Chinese efforts to prevent dismemberment of the South China sea at Fakhai resulted today in another Japanese destroyer leaving hurriedly to the South China district.

Reports received by Japanese in Shanghai declared Chinese demonstrators were attempting to prevent the officials sent by the Tokyo government to inquire into the reported killing of a Japanese national from landing.

HITLER ARMY SHOWS OFF IN MOCK BATTLE

NAZIS' AIR STRENGTH SEEMS UNLIMITED, VERSATILE

By WADE WERNER (Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press)

NURNBERG, Germany, Sept. 14. (AP)—The thunder of battle shook Nurnberg today.

Nazi Germany's new compulsory service army staged its first display of strength with steel and motorized equipment for the benefit of its Fuehrer, Adolf Hitler, and hundreds of thousands of Nazis, assembled in fourth annual convention.

So realistic was the mimic warfare that the Nurnberg fire department was called out to quench an unscheduled blaze created when an armed motorcycle side car, theoretically destroyed by enemy gunfire, burst into flame.

After Hitler, in an informal conversation, had asserted Germany will guard jealously the principle of private business enterprise, the army began its day.

The display opened with an air parade of hundreds of observation planes, tri-motored bombers, two-motored heavy fighters and single engine pursuit planes, samples of fighting craft selected from Germany's 153rd, 155th and 156 Hindenburg battle squadrons and the Herz Wessel, Richthofen, and Immelmann Escadrilles.

The total strength of Hitler's new air force has not been disclosed, but this morning's parade was a broad hint that thousands of other warplanes were quietly waiting at air bases in other parts of Germany.

When it was all over the 25,000 participating soldiers, sailors and air force men paused briefly for lunch, then began a repetition of the morning show for an afternoon audience of 150,000 persons.

The climax to this was a parade of 20,000 troops, 400 warplanes and the Zeppelin Hindenburg past Hitler.

CALL THE FIRE DEPARTMENT

Writing in "Safeguarding America Against Fire," Chief Engineer George W. Booth of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, calls attention to the great importance of calling the fire department promptly when a blaze breaks out.

"Even in fireproof buildings serious loss may be expected when there is a delay in discovery of the fire," says Mr. Booth, who then recommends interior local alarm systems, automatic alarms and sprinklers and similar equipment.

This doctrine is as applicable to homes as it is to factories and places of business. Many a fire that could have been easily extinguished had the fire department been summoned at once, has been allowed to grow to serious proportions.

Every year, people attempt to extinguish gasoline and oil fires with water—even though every school-boy knows that this simply spreads the flame, and that only chemical extinguishers will work effectively.

When fire starts, call the fire department—and call it at once. That's what it's for.

LIGHT DESTROYS EVIL

A meeting of Michigan police officials, formulating plans to reduce crime, noted that the decline in organized racketeering is due largely to newspaper publicity.

Often a man who had been paying tribute to racketeers for years awoke for the first time to exactly what was going on when he read an account of the racket in his newspaper.

Newspapers, if read carefully, can give the public a vast amount of information on what is going on in its midst. The criticism that newspapers do not contain enough valuable information comes from those who have never troubled to read more than the headlines.

All evils fall when the light is turned strongly enough on them.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON—It has become increasingly clear to political leaders of both major parties that there is really one big fighting issue in this campaign from a vote-getting standpoint—government spending.

That doesn't mean that more vital issues are not involved. It means that the Republicans now figure their best hope of victory lies in plugging away on the subjects of extravagance, waste, deficits, national debt, and taxes.

It also means that Democrats, recognizing this issue as a weak point in the New Deal armor, will fight back harder in this field than in any other.

DEMOCRATIC: Skipper Roosevelt has brought the nation safely through its great crisis at relatively small cost. The few billions spent by the New Deal are far outweighed by the big boost in national income and the swing back toward prosperity.

It's a good thing to "spend a million dollars to save 10 millions." Deficit for the current fiscal year will be $2,097,000,000 as compared with $4,764,000,000 for 1935-36, showing that the hump of expenditures has passed and that the long-diverging curves of federal receipts and expenditures are definitely beginning to come together again.

REPUBLICAN: Roosevelt promises of decreasing deficits and early balanced budget are not to be taken seriously, because of failure to keep past promises of this sort. The New Deal has been profligately careless of the public funds, diverting them to the silliest types of boondoggling as well as to political uses.

The New Deal will have increased the national debt to 34 billion dollars by June and will steer the country into bankruptcy if given the chance.

Current taxes, meanwhile, are mostly invisible and afflict the middle and poorer classes more seriously than the rich.

The Republican national committee's "brain trust" is still functioning, although moved to Chicago and although you don't hear much about it.

The "brain trust" is reported to have been responsible for the line in Governor Landon's Buffalo speech which said: "During the depression, private industry paid out over $20,000,000,000 more than it took in — $20,000,000,000 that helped to cushion the depression and keep employes working."

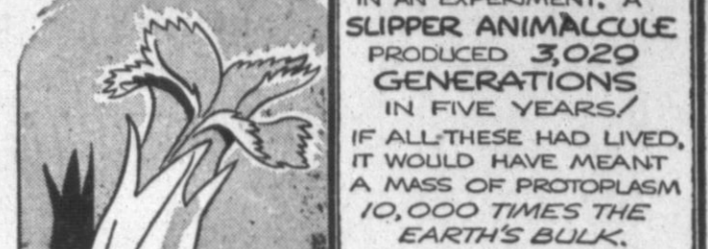

That sounded well to Landon and everybody else until some of the New Deal brain-trusters started pulling it apart. Senator Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri points out that most of the 20 billion "pay-out" was pure book-keeping, including such items as depreciation, bad checks, depletion, inventory losses and plant write-down.

The depression was a fine time to write such things off for income tax purposes. From 1929 to 1932 American corporations reduced their surplus account by 15 billions, mainly by such book-keeping methods — according to Clark.

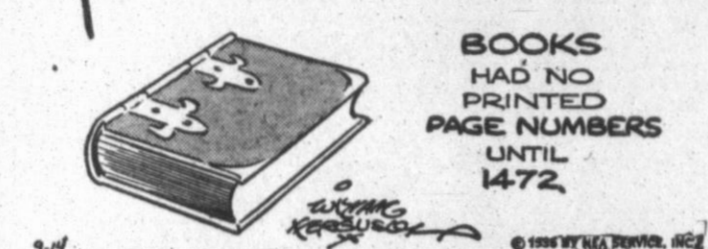

In the same period they increased cash and investments by $3,800,000,000. Thus many corporations were able to make money from day to day and still show a paper net loss for the year.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—Interesting is the announcement that Damon Runyon's comedy of the race tracks, "Saratoga Chips," will have its premiere some time in October. It has long been an axiom among theatrical managers that plays dealing with horse racing never make money.

The late Willard Mack, who declared he could not write a decent play unless he was writing in the distance of the paddock, was one of the few authors who scoffed at the "hax" placed on race horse dramas. His own comedy, "Weather Clear, Track Fast," was an early money-maker, and he went to his grave convinced that a "hoss" opera proved only the salt of sound craftsmanship to make it a profitable venture.

At the moment there are fewer productions in rehearsal than at a corresponding time last season, due to the reluctance of Hollywood "angels" to hazard the perils of Broadway play-making, but the prospects for an exciting season continue to be intriguing.

From Piccadilly theater doors and coast studies has been lured a procession of "name" personalities, and you'll see them in person before many weeks pass. There's Ruth Etton, who hasn't been on Broadway since 1927, and Katharine Hepburn, the delightfully temperamental lass from the screen, whose agent that destroys microorganisms of d'Herville, employed in waging war on certain bacteria, is thought to be a virus which attacks germ life. No one has succeeded yet in growing any virus in an artificial medium. For their growth, viruses must be cultivated in the presence of some living, susceptible cells. Nor has any one yet developed any effective anti-viral virus vaccine.

Viruses are responsible for some of the most devastating diseases, including smallpox, rabies, (hydrophobia), influenza, the common cold, yellow fever and infantile paralysis. Viruses also cause mumps, chicken pox, fever blisters, herpes, psittacosis (parrot fever), foot and mouth disease, and several forms of meningitis.

family. She ceased to develop, neglected to go on with her education. The world moved on without her, and when the children left the home, she found herself lonely and forsaken with no lively interest to occupy her mind and time. It is when the children are small that one must prepare for the future. It is a short-sighted policy that puts all the eggs in one basket. An hour or two a day spent in inculcating her soul and cultivating her friends and interests, will prove an excellent investment against wearisome old age. If, by her example, she can teach her daughters this secret of perpetual youth, her effort is doubly rewarded.

So Much for Love

Chapter VI

John Courtney looked at Helena in astonishment. "But that isn't the way Peter wanted it, apparently," he said.

"Isn't there... anyone else?" Courtney studied her hands a moment before replying. "There's Peter's uncle, Roger Barnes. He has been managing the store. You see, Peter has been away a good deal."

"Then why shouldn't Barnes have it?"

"Because Peter has provided that you shall have it," Courtney told her patiently. "I want to be honest with you, Mrs. Henderson. We may have trouble with Roger Barnes. It's almost certain that he will feel the store should have come to him. I expect him to contest the will."

Helena's shoulders sagged wearily. "I'm sure I shan't fight it." She raised her eyes to Courtney. "Tell me about—about Leah Frazier. Peter inferred that she was your friend, but I—I know differently."

Courtney started to speak, then stopped. Finally he asked, "Do you really feel like talking now?"

"Please go ahead," Helena told him. "I've got to get things straight now."

"Well... I'm afraid you don't know very much about Peter Henderson. I—please don't misunderstand me. I don't see how you could in the short time that... His voice trailed off, and he began again with difficulty. "Of course I understand how these things happen. I believe you were sincere. Peter told me that you knew nothing of his financial standing when you agreed to marry him."

"That's true," Helena burst out. "I loved him."

Courtney nodded. "He possessed a good deal of charm. Women lost their heads about him—threw themselves at him. As well as his attorney, I happen to know all this. And Peter liked to play. He was rarely in town to give attention to the business. He like to be everywhere—and the result was that lots of people knew him. And... Courtney paused, "nobody knew me."

"You haven't told me about—about Miss Frazier."

Courtney cleared his throat. "I'm coming to that. You see, Leah Frazier belongs to one of the town's oldest families. She and Peter had known each other since they were children. Then Leah went east to school, finally to Europe. Peter went his own way—to a military prep school in the south, and then to Stanford. But when they returned, and were in town together, Peter called on Leah often. They went together at our local affairs. People began to take it for granted that, whenever Peter got ready to settle down, he would marry Leah Frazier."

"I... see," said Helena dully.

"Peter knew the town. He knew what they would say when they heard that he'd married. I—I heard that he'd married. I—I suppose he felt sorry for her, knowing what she would do. That's why he sent for her with me. I—I really don't think he was in love with her, Mrs. Henderson. Peter was an ambitious sort, and he had been in love with her. I'm sure he would have married her long ago."

"But he—he must have planned to marry her... some time."

"No doubt. As a duty," Courtney smiled. "Then you came along."

Helena's fists clenched until the knuckles showed white. "God knows I wish I—I hadn't." She looked at Courtney helplessly. "What can I do? How can I get out of this?"

The attorney shrugged. "I would not be doing my duty to Peter if I suggested that to you—yet. How do you know you won't be the best thing for you to do is return home with me. The store is yours. You must do something with it. You can sell it to someone else, or give it to them, or you must operate it."

"What do you suggest?" Helena demanded evenly. "You're his—his widow's attorney now, and you have a duty to me, too."

"Well... My idea is that you should take over the store. Then if you find it—inconvenient under the circumstances, you sell it for a comfortable sum. Possibly to Roger Barnes."

"I know what you mean by 'inconvenient,'" said Helena slowly. "They'll all hate me."

Courtney looked grim. "They'll regard you as an interloper for a time, possibly, but Roger Barnes may be an active enemy."

"And Leah Frazier?"

Courtney shook his head. "I can't answer that."

But Helena could answer it. Her sure, woman's instinct told her that Leah Frazier would be a far more active enemy than Roger Barnes, whatever the latter might be like.

The attorney looked at his watch. "The caretaker has offered to take us to the station to take the afternoon train. I'll see to... all the arrangements, and the services, of course, will be over there. You'll come with me."

Helena nodded. "Of course I'll go—to be at the funeral. Then I'll decide about—the other."

Courtney left the room briskly, and a few moments later Helena caught Sandra's hand, though a fresh flood of tears, she told Sandra what Peter had done. "But I can't go through with it, don't you see? I—I don't belong in Peter's life or in his town or in his business. I—I haven't the right."

The Leigh girl sat squarely in front of her, lifted Helena's chin until their eyes met. "Look here, child, I'm glad you came to me with this. I—I rather feel I got you into it, and I want the chance to see you through it. Answer a question for me. Who has a better right to it than you?"

"Peter's uncle. Perhaps this—this Leah Frazier."

"Nonsense! I don't know Peter's uncle, but there must have been some good reason why he was left out altogether. As for Leah Frazier, feel sorry for her if you want. But I'll tell you this, you'd better feel sorry for yourself. She has that town by the tail, and she'll swing it against you every chance she gets. I think I know women, Helena. She's the kind that doesn't fall for a man, toss over everything for him. She had herself set for Peter, and she was going to get him. It never mattered whether she loved him, or whether he loved her.

"Let me finish, Helena. You thought you were in love with Peter. I think you were, but whether it was love or just an infatuation that swept you off your feet doesn't matter now. You were willing to take the chance, and you took it. You couldn't know this was going to happen. And don't think you're being handed something free. Life doesn't work out that way. If you make a go of it in Peter's home town with what he left you, then you'll fight like hell for it and win it on your own."

There was a knock at the door, and at Sandra's invitation it opened and revealed a tall, cool blond.

"Miss Frazier..." Sandra said clearly. "This is Mrs. Henderson."

Leah Frazier's gaze was sharp, penetrating, and under it Helena felt her face growing crimson. How do you do?" said Leah (immediately ignoring Helena. She turned to Sandra. "I was wondering about the plane schedule to the city. I—I'm rather upset and I don't think I'll return home for a few days."

While Leah ended in an abrupt Sandra, Helena examined her. She was indeed beautiful. Her features, her figure were perfect, almost as though she had been done by some sculptor—but a sculptor who had somehow been unable to breathe softness into his work. Her pose was a mosaic, nicely fitted together, a pattern from smart schools, from Cannes, from Paris, from Florida and Palm Springs. For a moment Helena felt strangely afraid. This, then, was the woman who would have been Peter Henderson's wife. "Sandra was right," Helena thought. "She didn't love Peter. She couldn't love anyone. She—she's not even going to his funeral!"

A troublesome voice somewhere in her brain kept asking, "Did you love Peter? How do you know? How do you know it wasn't the new environment, the gaiety of Sandra's crowd—Peter making love to you in the moonlight—how do you know it wasn't that? In a sudden flash of self-revelation she saw that what she was feeling for Peter's death was not so much grief as shock. Grief was something that welled up out of the years, out of an association between two people through happiness and sorrow, through success and defeat. But her brain was too weary to follow things out. Her life seemed to have been taken into other hands. John Courtney seemed to symbolize a fate that was steering her along in the rut of the past.

Before she could be certain of anything at all, she was on the train with him, bound for Peter's town... the owner of the Henderson Department store and the big Henderson home she had never seen.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Unreal parade: Ann Sheridan is the latest retort to Hollywood's old-fashioned old saw that "beauty contest winners never get anywhere." Not that Ann got places right at first, for she was one of the girls brought to Hollywood for that "Search for Beauty" film, and the studio that signed her (Paramount) didn't keep her.

When red-haired, 120-pound Ann went to Warner Brothers, she started with a bit in "Gold Diggers of 1937," then played an "another woman" role in "Come Out Smiling."

On top of that they let her be the "woman" in Pat O'Brien's life in "The Making of O'Malley"—and that means she is on her way.

Married Recently

She hails from Dallas, where she was Clara Lou Sheridan, and she's Scotch-Irish-Indian by descent. Recently she married Edward Norris, the young actor of "Show Them a Mercy"—and the same whose brief marriage to Lona Andre, another contest winner, ended in annulment.

Ann is not like the beauty winner—typical of those who have made Hollywood shy of all the blue-ribbon takers—who is the heroine of this incident:

The young man who had the girl in tow took her to dinner, and at her suggestions for food she gave blank, expressionless dissent.

Finally, in desperation, he suggested clam chowder.

"No," she drawled, "I don't care for that Chinese food."

Leo Carillo and Douglas Dumbrille brought back the tusks of four wild boars and the sword of a Marlin to prove their stories of hunting and fishing trip to Santa Cruz island.

A new executive building is going up on the Twentieth Century-Fox lot... The windows of two suites are done in special glare-proof glass.

Yes, Zanuck and Schenck... Charley Grapewin, the character actor, smokes moderately six months of the year... Then quits for six months to demonstrate his will power... Grapewin and Anna Chana are now in their forty-first year of marriage.

Leah Ray Back

Leah Ray, who was in pictures with Phil Harris and his band three years ago, and then went east again, is back with a new contract. She was discovered again on the air... Jean Muir, who was a blond before, and didn't care much about clothes, now is a brunette and a smart dresser. At least she was on the "Once a Doctor" set. Whether she has reformed sartorially offstage is a matter for a later report.

Sid Silvers, the writer-comic, is taking exercises to increase his height—or maybe he's just fooling. Romance helps the assistant director when the romance is between two players at the same studio. For instance, the assistant always knows he can find Dick Powell on the stage where Joan Blondell happens to be working, or vice versa—but a year ago, looking for Dick meant looking at a restaurant, dressing room, gymnasium and a half dozen other places.

Tired

PORT MADISON, Ia. Sept. 14. (AP)—Clarence Harvey, 30, a hotel employe, paid his fee at a toll bridge here and began trudging across. To a motorist who offered him a ride he declared: "I've gone as far as I'm going." Then he leaped into the Mississippi river and drowned.

KANSAS CITY NEGROES ARRIVE HERE TOMORROW FOR 2-GAME SERIES

ALL STARS TO BE NEXT Foe FOR PAMPANS

SENSATIONAL PLAYING DUE TO FURNISH THRILLS

The Kansas City Monarchs, three times world negro champions, will arrive in Pampa tomorrow for a two-game series with the Pampa-Danger Road Runners. Games will be called at 8:15 o'clock tomorrow and Wednesday nights, with admission 25 cents for women and 40 cents for men.

Following the Monarchs to Pampa will be another great negro team composed of the best players in the Negro National league, made up of teams in New York, Brooklyn, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, and other eastern cities. The All Stars will appear at 8:15 o'clock on Thursday night and at 3 o'clock on Friday afternoon. Admission will be 40 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Tickets to the two games may be purchased at the Danger Road Refinerie east of the city by mail or in person at the games Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

For many years the Monarchs were members of the Negro National league. They still have six players in the lineup who were with them in the league. Up to date this year, the team has played 116 games, winning 96 and losing 20.

Several members of the team have made names for themselves in other sports. Patterson, third baseman, was a great football and basketball star. Milton, in left field, tied the world record for the 100 yards and 200 meters in his college days. He is still the fastest man on the club and a rival in speed for "Cool Papa" Bell of the All Stars. Dwight, a midget outfielder, is another speed demon, especially on the bases.

The team has stars galore who will thrill Pampa fans with their sensational playing. In Cooper, "Bullet" Rogan, Kranston and others, the Monarchs have a great pitching staff.

Manager Sam Hale of the Road Runners is leading up for the two negro teams. He has secured "Buz" Ross of Borgor to play second base in place of the missing Summers. He has also signed Army Little of Amarillo to help out in the garden. Lefty Carlthers, ace of the Huber hurling staff, will also be in a Road Runner uniform for the four-game series. One and maybe two more hurlers will be borrowed to help the Pampa aces, Dancy and Stewart.

Leading the Stars to Pampa will be the one and only Satchel Page, the Dizzy Dean, the Carl Hubbell, the Roy Parmelee of negro baseball. Also with the team will be "Cool Papa" Bell, the "air express" of baseball. Other members of the team are equally as potent. The All Stars won the Denver Post tourney with seven straight victories in which they scored 75 runs to their opponent's eight. Three All Star pitchers fanned 115 batters. Two of those hurlers, Paige and Griffith will be with the team here.

Cards And Giants Split As Feller Fans 17 Athletics

Biggest Crowd Jams Polo Grounds To See Battle

BY SID FEDER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

The Giants are breathing easier today. The worst is over and they're still 3 1/2 games in front of the National league pack.
In the "record breaking" day of this season, if not of several years, they met the challenge of their closest rivals for the National league flag, the St. Louis Cardinals, yesterday and came through with an even split in a doubleheader to maintain the pacesetter margin.

Records were smashed on all sides in both leagues through the Sunday program.
The biggest crowd in National league history, an overflow throng of 64,417, jammed the Polo Grounds to the rafters to see the Giants and Cardinals.

The American league champion New York Yankees walloped eight homers in taking a doubleheader from the Browns to bring their total for the season to 175, setting a new major league record for four-base blows and for extra bases on long hits in one season.
Young Bob Feller, the Cleveland Indians' schoolboy sensation, fanned 17 Philadelphia Athletics batters to bring his record for strikeouts in a game.

The crowd at the Polo Grounds—police estimated 50,000 more were turned away—went wild as Mel Ott blasted his thirty-first and thirty-second homers and Pat Freedy Fitzsimmons pitched seven-hit ball to give the Giants an 8-4 win in the opener of the twin bill.

Then the huge throng yelled as Johnny Mize's homer sewed up a 4-3 decision for the Cardinals, and Dizzy Dean, making his third pitching appearance in two days, relieved Roy Parmelee in the eighth and stopped the Giants.

The Cubs, meantime, blew their chance to gain on the leaders by getting only a split with the Dodgers. Brooklyn made the opener, 5-3, and the Cubs took a 9-7 decision in the nightcap.

Joe Di Maggio walloped three homers and Lou Gehrig hammered out his forty-seventh and forty-eighth in the Yankees' performance against the Browns as the Homicide Squad won the opener of the twin bill, 10-7 and 13-1.

Their total of 175 four-baggers is two better than the old major league record of 173 set up by the Athletics in 1932. The eight homers, along with three doubles, gave them a total of 997 extra bases on long hits for the season, shattering the previous mark of 974 set by the Yanks in 1930.

In his spectacular strikeout performance, the Indians' young Feller allowed the A's but two hits as he won the first game of the twin bill, 2-1, and the Bees took the nightcap, 6-1.
The Pirates and Phillies divided their twin bill, the Cubs getting a 5-3 opener decision, and the Phils taking the nightcap, 4-3.

GOODMAN AND CAMPBELL ARE FAVORITES TO WIN GOLF OPEN

BY PAUL MICKELSON, Associated Press Sports Writer.

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Sept. 14 (AP)—While Lawson Little, the former king, counted his first bit of ransom money, a record-breaking field of 210 pretenders to the crown he cast aside opened the fourteenth annual drive for the National Amateur Golf championship today.

With Little on the sidelines after his first professional victory, scored in the Canadian Open, the fight for the simon pure title of the United States looked like the most wide open scramble in the big show's history.
Bookmakers made John Goodman of Omaha, 1933 National Open champion, and Albert "Scotchy" Campbell of Seattle, who led the scoring brigade in practice for the show with a course-shattering 69, the co-favorites at the low odds of 8 to 1.

There was a big rush of money on Francis Ouimet, the Boston Commander of golf who twice has held the show, others had their backers. Reynolds Smith of Dallas, the man many pick to spread eagle his field; tall Johnny Fischer, the Cincinnati young vet who usually comes close; Walter Emery of Oklahoma City, 1935 runner-up to Little, and a score of others had their backers.
Eighty-two 18-hole matches were on the starting lineup today with 46 players standing around with luckily drawn byes. At midnight, the field will be reduced to 128, who will open the straight line process of elimination tomorrow.

None of the favorites drew exceptionally tough totemen today.
The games cancelled on account of rain were San Antonio at Galveston and Beaumont at Houston.
The Dallas Steers, a well-balanced club, lived up to pre-season predictions by finishing on top. They closed the season nine games in front of the second-place Houston Buffaloes.

They will enter the championship series against the Indians at Oklahoma City Tuesday in a somewhat crippled position, their star second baseman, Les Mallon, and Ed Montague, utility infielder, having been forced out of the last games of the season because of injuries. They were expected, however, to see service in the Oklahoma City series.
In the other series Houston will meet the Oilers in Tulsa Tuesday in the initial game. After two games in each series in Oklahoma the teams will travel to Texas. The winners of these two series then will play for the championship and the right to meet the winner of the Southern Association in the Dixie series.

Pitchers expected to start the series: Fred Marberry for Dallas; Ralph Buxton for Oklahoma City; Tommy Seals for Houston, and Irv Stein for Tulsa.
The official standing follows:
Club W. L. Pct.
Dallas ..... 93 61 604
Houston ..... 83 69 519
Tulsa ..... 80 74 519
Oklahoma City ..... 79 75 513
Fort Worth ..... 76 78 494

The game went 14 innings, the Independents getting their hit, a single, in the first. Melvin Van Noy, opposing pitcher, allowed six hits and struck out 10.

PANSIES AND DAISIES WILL PRESENT A 'UNITED FRONT'

Who says softball is dead in Pampa? Tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock on the diamond south of Harvester field, the Junior chamber of commerce Pansies and Daisies will combine to play the Gray County Creamery bottle fed aggregation. No admission charge will be made although donations for purchase of innament and bandages will be gladly accepted.

It took a week for Managers Dick Hughes and Tommy Chesser of the Jaycees to get together for the game. Finally they agreed to pool their players for the big battle and tomorrow evening was the date set.

Little is known of the strength of the creamery boys, who have been practicing in secret. The Jaycee lineup has not been definitely decided but players in uniform will include Hughes, Chesser, Clarence Kennedy, Red Weathered, Johnny Hann, Phillip Pond, Chick Hickman, Heinie Hindman, Bill Barnett, Harvey Downs, John Osborne, Jack Dunn, Harry Hoars, Cecil Miller, Pres Kremer and a host of other stars of years gone by.

Sports Roundup

BY EDDIE BRIETZ, Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—Well, the Giants and the Cardinals are just where they were before yesterday's crucial doubleheader. Neither gained an inch in the National league pennant race. . . . If you don't think some baseball has been played out there, let us tell you 64,417 fans and fanettes kept their seats until Old Dizzy Dean had the last Giant out in the second game.

The Cards did some dumb base running in the matinee. . . . With two men on the paths, young Art Garbarid hit what should have been a double. . . . But Mel Ott's peg from the outfield caught both runners and retired 'em. . . . Did you ever hear of anything like that? Frankie Frisch was so chagrined he wouldn't appear on the coaching lines the next morning. . . . That's what the Cardinals are for, hanging around Brooklyn so long, mebbe. . . . Dizzy Dean was so pained with the exhibition he paced up and down in front of the Card dugout while the fans roared with laughter.

The Giants didn't show much pepper across the field, but they had a long, tough afternoon ahead. The Cardinals came swarming over the field. . . . Pepper Martin and Joe Medwick were chewing tobacco. . . . The Great Dean goes right to work signing autographs. . . . No wonder the guy is tired. . . . He pitches an entire game every afternoon against the autograph hounds.

PORTLAND FIRST.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14 (AP)—Portland's hustling ball club was $2,500 richer today and its players will battle for the lion's share of an additional $7,500 as first-division clubs tangle in the Shaughnessy plan playoff starting tomorrow. The Beavers meet Seattle, which finished fourth in the race, in Portland tomorrow night, while Oakland and San Diego, tied for second and third, clash in Emeryville.

drove in four runs with three singles in nightcap.
Gene Schott, Reds, and Danny MacFayden, Bees: Schott pitched three-hit ball in doubleheader opener; MacFayden allowed six hits in second game.
Gus Suhr, Pirates, and Orville Jorgens, Phillies: Suhr batted in three runs in first game of double bill; Jorgens stopped Buc in nightcap.

Biggest Polo Crowd Here Sees Pampan's Beat McLean

Rough Riders Take 3-0 Game From Tigers

The largest crowd ever to witness a polo game in Pampa saw the Pampana Rough Riders take a 3 to 0 game from the McLean Mounted Tigers yesterday afternoon. Hard riding featured the battle of speed and skill from the opening whistle, which was handled by Lon L. Bansenet.

A return game will be played next Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The McLean field is located on the south edge of the city.
Showing some of the best combination work of the season, the Rough Riders put across the winning goal in the second chukker when Joe Bowers blasted a shot between the uprights. Not content with one goal, Bill Harwell put the Pampan's two up in the fourth chukker. Hub Burrow put the game on ice in the fifth chukker with a well placed shot.

Arthur Dwyer, veteran player and captain of the Mounted Tigers, led a team of young cowboys to Pampa. The youngsters rode like demons but were unable to connect cleanly with the ball. They opened fast with their hard riding keeping the Rough Riders on the defense.

In the second chukker, the Pampan's broke away. Their offense started clicking and it was not long until a score had been registered. Excepting in the third chukker, when the Tigers mounted ace horses, the Rough Riders had control of the situation.
Jack Cooper made up the fourth man on the Pampan team with H. Otter Studer as alternate.

JESSE OWENS TO TRY TO REGAIN AAU STATUS

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—Jesse Owens planned to return to Cleveland today for a "hearing" which he hoped would pave the way for the restoration of his unimpaired amateur status and permit him to run in the Caledonian games at the Yankee stadium next Thursday. Indications were, however, that the Buckeye Bullet would have to remain on the sidelines unless a lot of other star performers who are scheduled to compete are willing to risk suspension. The Northeastern Ohio Association of the Amateur Athletic Union, which includes Owens' home district, already has announced it has "reinstated" him, but according to Dan Ferris, National A. A. U. secretary-treasurer, it has no power to take such action.

James A. Lee, district secretary, announced the reinstatement in a telegram to Ferris after he had received word from New York that Owens had not signed a professional contract. Ferris replied, pointing out that according to A. A. U. rules Owens was barred for at least a year unless he could prove he never even had announced his intention of turning pro.

WIN TITLE

VAN ALSTYNE, Tex., Sept. 14 (AP)—The Van Alstyne Grays won the Lone Star pennant yesterday by defeating the Leonard Tigers, 4-0. He was the second runner-up in the series scheduled to go to the winner of three out of five clashes. The Tigers forfeited after Van Alstyne took two games.

HITLER HITS BUREAUCRACY IN BUSINESS

PRIVATE ENTERPRISE IS FAVORED BY DICTATOR

BY WADE WERNER. (Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press)

NURNBERG, Germany, Sept. 14.—Germany will guard jealously the principle of private enterprise in business. Chancellor Adolf Hitler asserted today.

The Nazi dictator denied that his plans for the future of the nation included marshalling all industrial establishments under governmental control and declared:

"I will never permit bureaucratization of German industry."

The reichschancellor's views on the business future of his country were outlined in an informal conversation at Nurnberg castle after a source close to the fuhrer had predicted a decree to make effective his four-year plan for economic independence might be made public this week.

"I am convinced there must be competition in business to bring the best to the top," Hitler declared. "I could take over all business but

SLAYERS OF HUSBAND TO GO ON TRIAL TODAY

CARTHAGE, Sept. 14. (P)—A comely young widow, Mrs. Reable Childs, and a former CCC enrollee, Terrence Bramlett, faced trial today on a joint murder charge in the slaying of the woman's husband, Marlie W. Childs.

The 34-year-old semi-invalid and moderately wealthy husband was slain in his home at Center April 23, last.

Bramlett, 21, was arrested at Jefferson, his home, and taken to the Beaumont jail where officers said he made a statement admitting he and Mrs. Childs were lovers.

Mrs. Childs also was said by Ranger Captain Dan Hines to have made a statement regarding the shooting. The 26-year-old woman was quoted as saying her married life had not been happy.

The case was brought to Panola county on a change of venue from Shelby county. Bramlett was held in jail here while Mrs. Childs was confined in the Rusk county jail at Henderson.

SAN SEBASTIAN SEIZED BY FASCIST WARRIORS

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, Sept. 14.—Fascist warriors completed their occupation of San Sebastian today by setting up a civil administration headed by the governor of Pamplona, principal capital of Navarre.

Strong lines of Fascist troops held the city from possible counter-attack by the defeated Socialists who before the insurgent advance yesterday with arms, ammunition and other war equipment.

Military and civil authorities began speedy rehabilitation of public services which had been paralyzed for days during the Fascist siege of the Basque resort.

Water and electric service were established shortly after the invaders, accompanied by Moorish gendarmes, marched into the coastal city early yesterday. Supplies of food were rushed to the city which officials estimated approximately 10,000 civilians and foreigners have fled.

Col. Jose Beotegui, commander of the Fascist forces, claimed possession of the city formally at 6 p. m. yesterday as he rode into the community at the head of a procession of soldiers. Later he reviewed the insurgent troops and officiated at ceremonies in which the red and gold monarchist banner was hoisted over the city.

Q. What is the estimated citrus crop for this year? B. R. Thrall.
A. Rio Grande Valley growers estimate the crop at 25,000 carloads.

Q. What year was the city of Jefferson established? G. G. Longview.
A. In 1836.

Q. Where is Panna Maria and why has a marker been placed there? R. T. Dallas.
A. In Karnes county, and the marker commemorates the settlement there in 1854, of the first Polish colony, to come to the United States.

Q. When and where was the first educational association organized in Texas and who sponsored it? G. G. Bastrop.
A. January 9, 1846, the call being signed by Rev. C. S. Ives, Rev. Chauncey Richardson and Judge R. E. B. Baylor. The meeting was termed the "Convention of the Friends of Education."

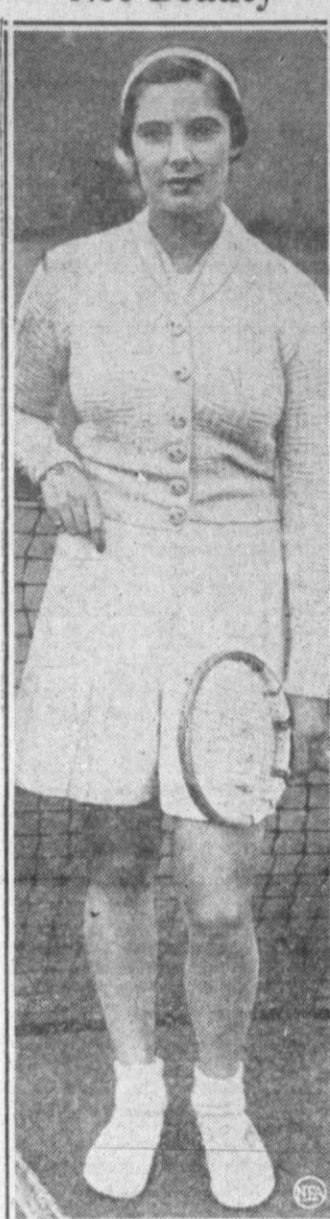

Q. Please tell me the derivation of "Weches," a small town in Houston county and also applied to a geological formation running through Robertson county. H. H. L. Franklin.
A. Tradition says application was made for a postoffice to be called Weches, but that an office having already been given that name, post-office authorities substituted "W" for "H" and made it "Weches." It is an old Spanish word meaning "watch," and it is more likely that Spanish sentiment was responsible for the name and that the geological formation was named for the town.

WAR AGAINST COMMUNISM IS URGED BY PIUS

MILITANT DEFENSE IS FAVORED BY POPE AT VATICAN

(Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press)
By ANDRUE BERDING
CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy, Sept. 14.—Pope Pius XI, in strong, passionate tones, gave his blessing before the world today to a militant defense against the "mad" forces of communism.

Declaring that forces menaced in Spain and elsewhere, "the very foundations of all order, all culture and all civilization," the Holy Father, nevertheless, pardoned the Spanish killers of bishops and priests and called upon the constituted authorities of all nations to "oppose these great evils with every remedy and barrier that is possible."

Sadly, he foresaw utter chaos if "those who have a duty in the matter do not hasten to repair the breach—if, indeed, it is not already too late."

A few hundred of the Spanish refugees to whom the pontiff tendered his heartfelt greetings and admiration were in the throne room of the papal villa when the pope entered.

His first few words were falling but his voice gradually grew stronger. At a few of the more important moments it broke with emotion, but the words themselves did not stumble.

The devout heard the plea for a militant defense which the Pope acknowledged would be "both difficult and dangerous," for it is not too easy for the very arduous and difficulty of defense to go to an excess which is not wholly warranted.

However, he said, the crisis in Spain was a "school in which the most serious lesson is being taught to Europe and to the whole world—a world view at which, steeped, ensnared and threatened by subversive propaganda, and more especially to a Europe battered and shaken to its very foundations."

"The tragic happenings in Spain," he said, "are the result of the world and the world's head, and proclaim one thing: what extent the very foundations of all order, all culture and all civilization are being menaced."

The pontiff expressed his deep felt horror at the "fratricidal war" in Spain. He declared "it has been well said that the blood of a single man, shed by the hand of his brother, is more than enough for all time and for the whole earth; what is to be said when we are face to face with the stories of brothers killing brothers, which are daily being told?"

A curious feature of the speech, which was delivered in Italian and translated in English, German, French and Spanish, was the fact that the Holy Father not once used the word "communism," although Vatican sources said the major portion of it was directed against it.

He spoke of "forces of subversion"—and the like. "Once it was believed the Pontiff had in mind his own gradually weakening physical forces when he said: "We, ourselves, are now so near our day of final reckoning."

The Holy Father, nevertheless, invoked "a special love born of mercy and compassion" for the Spanish persecutors of bishops and priests and called upon constituted authorities of all nations to "oppose these great evils with every remedy and barrier that is possible."

He asked his listeners to "love these others," in spite of their "deeds and methods of persecution, so odious and so cruel," and to "love them with a special love born of mercy and compassion, to love them and, since we can do nothing else, to pray for them."

Signs of the Times
NEW YORK, Sept. 14, (AP)—Patrolman Francis X. McFarland has a hunch some of the boys in his neighborhood don't like to go to school. Four anxious mothers called him up between midnight and 2 a. m., today to ask help in locating their missing sons before the first bell of the year rang this morning. One of the women had two boys missing, the others reported one each.

'DUCKY' POND HAS 'IF' FOR THEME LYRIC

SEASON WILL OPEN ON OCT. 3 AGAINST CORNELL

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 14 (AP)—Raymond W. (Ducky) Pond selected "If" as his theme song today as his squad of 64 candidates for the Yale football team prepared to leave for their training camp at Gales Ferry, then proceeded to hum a plaintive tune about the prospects of his 1936 squad.

"If," said Pond, "three of the boys I could use to great advantage in a tussle with their re-exams next week—well, that would change the song quite a bit. If we could develop a quarterback, if some of those sophomores who looked so good in spring practice come through the way I think they will and don't make too many mistakes this fall.

"If—Oh, I see, you understand." Pond, starting his third season as Yale's head coach, is frank to admit he is extremely concerned over the "make-up" exams which Frank Gallagher, center, Bill Platt, freshman pivotman last season, and Merri Scott, brilliant tackle and member of the "Iron Men" of 1934, take next week.

Nine lettermen are available. The schedule: Oct. 3—Cornell; 10—Pennsylvania; 17—Navy at Baltimore; 24—Rutgers; 31—Dartmouth; Nov. 7—Brown; 14—Princeton at Princeton; 21—Harvard.

Among the big tasks facing Pond is that of finding capable replacements for Jerry Roscoe, field general and passer extraordinary; Kim Whitehead, brilliant blocking back; and Bob Train, whom pond considers the best end he has ever seen at Yale. The Elis lost five other lettermen.

But Ducky pointed out, "our replacements should be better this season than in some time."

All Eyes On Maine Today

F. Harold Dubord

Senator Wallace H. White, Jr.

Lewis O. Barrows

Governor Louis H. Brann

Maine holds the nervous attention of leaders of both major parties today as voters go to the polls to decide whether this normally Republican state shall be wrested from the four-year grip of the New Deal Democrats. The Democratic bid of the popular Governor Louis J. Brann for a seat in the United States Senate is being contested by the Republicans' incumbent, Senator Wallace H. White Jr. Of almost equal state and national significance, too, is the gubernatorial contest between F. Harold Dubord, Democrat, and Lewis O. Barrows, Republican. And political wisecracks were wondering, if this Down East state will retain its reputation: "As Maine goes, so goes the nation."

DR. MONTGOMERY HAS LOVE FOR FARM FOLKS

One would imagine an educator and economist to be a sedate, elderly, quiet person with snow-white hair, but not so with Dr. H. Montgomery who spoke in Pampa this forenoon to more than 500 farmers, and who will address citizens at a luncheon in the basement of the Methodist church tomorrow noon.

Dr. Montgomery is a slender, bush-haired man who looks about 30 but who must be nearer 50. He has been an instructor in the University of Kansas for some time and to have been 15 years a professor in the University of Texas.

He has a free and easy manner which immediately captivates his audience. His method of inserting a joke to bring out a point is unusual. He would rather argue with lawyers than eat. He doesn't have a solution of the crisis which is still about us, but he is willing to listen to any that are advanced. He has no use for the Supreme court. He is a lover of Thomas Jefferson.

His one object in life, he says, is to see the farmer and the small merchant come into their own.

NO. 4 — (Continued From Page 1)

"and well worth anybody's time and money." Of course, young Arp admitted that he spent more time than money when in Dallas. He told Judge Todd that he got the idea of going to the Centennial while talking with a man near the Santa Fe railroad station here about 3 a. m. Sunday, Sept. 6. He arrived after he "dropped out of sight" as far as his local connections were concerned.

Hops A Freight

He hopped the 5 a. m. freight out of Pampa and went to Amarillo with the man, where they parted at 8 o'clock. He stayed in Amarillo until 4:30 p. m. Monday, when he boarded another freight for Dallas. At Childress, he said, he and two other train-riders had a tiff with the "law" and were ordered off the train. However, they went down the tracks a few hundred feet and then boarded the train, arriving in Dallas at 8 o'clock Monday night. He slept all night in the railroad yards there and Tuesday morning he went to a cafe and spent half his capital for breakfast.

Meets Good Samaritan

Then he took the highway to thumb his ride into the centennial grounds, and was picked up by a traveling salesman to whom he told his plight and lack of finances. The salesman, too, was going to the Centennial. He hopped the train and went into the grounds and found the Streets of Paris, several other shows and bought him a meal. Tuesday night he slept outside again, and on Wednesday he returned to the exposition grounds and found a room in the hotel. He had done exactly what Henry Ford did and International Harvester, and U. S. Steel? In other words, wouldn't you have set your price at 20c a pound producing 12,000,000 bales, 8,000,000 bales, 4,000,000 bales successively, holding the price at 20c a pound—exactly as the big industries did?

Attacks High Court

Dr. Montgomery was bitter in his attack on the supreme court and the lack of "intestinal fortitude" of congress which has the power to whittle down the power of the supreme court.

have learned how to avoid this disaster, the automobile industry, farm implements, steel, cement and many others. Prices are no longer determined by the law of supply and demand. They are determined by a Board of Directors.

"But when a board of directors determine the prices of an article, they can not also determine how much can be sold at that price. Consequently they are compelled to control their production to fit the price they have already set. In those industries, prices remained constant, declined only slightly, or actually went up during the depression. But production went down; more factories were closed each year; more men faced the bread lines."

Soil Is Capital

Controlled production is the only avenue by which the farmers of this country can assure themselves a sufficient income for the purchase of goods required by their families, the renowned economist asserted.

"The farmer's capital is the soil, and the soil must support the future generations. The farmer, therefore, must look after himself. I am often amused when I hear some big business man talk about the farmers coming whining to the government when they get in trouble. Surely the backbone of the American nation is the self-respecting, independent, self-reliant, God-fearing farmer, is having his independence—his unalienable liberties taken away from him by a socialistic government. Of course none of the big business men ever came to the government whining."

Mr. Ford didn't do that because he was a wicked man. The farmer didn't refuse to do it because he was a good man. Mr. Ford did it because he had the power to do it and the farmer did not do it because he did not have the power. Suppose one of you had owned all the cotton land in the South, would you have continued to plant forty million acres and see the price slide from 20c a pound to 5c? Or would you have done exactly what Henry Ford did and International Harvester, and U. S. Steel? In other words, wouldn't you have set your price at 20c a pound producing 12,000,000 bales, 8,000,000 bales, 4,000,000 bales successively, holding the price at 20c a pound—exactly as the big industries did?

CHILD RUN DOWN AND INJURED AT M'LEAN

(Special to the Pampa News) M'LEAN, Sept. 14.—Claude Gene Doolen, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Doolen, was injured here yesterday morning when he stepped in front of an automobile driven by C. C. Borgan, of McLean. The accident happened in front of the Methodist church where the child started to run across the street. He was knocked down. His left collarbone was broken and he received face lacerations. He was taken to his home after receiving medical attention.

Miss Harriet Ann Robb left today for Lubbock, to enter Texas Tech for the fall term.

JOHN GARNER WILL BE N. Y. BANQUET GUEST

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—Vice President John N. Garner's part in the democratic campaign will be discussed tomorrow when Garner arrives from Texas for a conference with members of the national committee and other party leaders.

Chairman James A. Farley said today the vice president—who has been vacationing at his Texas home—would be the guest of the committee at a banquet tomorrow night. Farley and other party leaders desire the vice president to make a campaign tour across the country in the last few weeks before the election, but so far Garner has not arranged any addresses, at least not through the speakers' bureau at the democratic national committee.

Democratic leaders, however, believe the vice president will make several radio addresses, whether or not he makes a speaking tour.

Garner has not appeared in the campaign since the notification ceremonies at Philadelphia, when—standing beside the President—he praised the record of the Roosevelt administration.

SEVEN-ROOM HOUSE AT M'LEAN BURNS SUNDAY

(Special to the Pampa News) M'LEAN, Sept. 14.—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the seven-room frame dwelling of L. L. Smith, here, at 5 a. m. today. The family was absent at the time of the blaze. The building and its contents were a total loss.

SECOND WILL IN GREEN FORTUNE SUGGESTED

ELIZABETHTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 14 (AP)—A suggestion that a "second will" exists in which Col. Edward H. Green, fabulously wealthy financier, left most of his fortune to his widow instead of his sister, Mrs. Matthew Astor Wilkes, was made in court as representatives of the two women came to grips over control of the inheritance today.

Col. Green, son of the late Betty Green, "railroad queen" of Wall street, died at Lake Placid June 8, leaving an estimated estate of $80,000,000.

British war office of the purported "foreign power" plot. Sitting in the witness box, he wrote on a piece of paper, which was handed to the judge, jury, and attorney-general, the name of the person "in the embassy of the foreign power" who, he said, approached him.

If necessary, he declared, he could give a description of the way he entered the embassy, the inside of the embassy, and the room in which he discussed the so-called plot.

The prisoner denied the charges. After a dozen witnesses had taken the stand, most of them agreeing McMahon would have had time, had he so wanted, to fire his revolver at the king from the Constitution Hill sidelines, the trial judge instructed a verdict of acquittal on the two most grave charges against the defendant.

None of the witnesses said McMahon tried to aim the pistol.

War Office Notified. McMahon asserted he had kept in touch with the war office, reported negotiations connected with the "plot," and accepted money from the 'foreign power,' giving the numbers of the notes to authorities.

The conspiracy, he related, called for nine people to accompany him to the trooping of the colors, so he could escape.

With the failure of this attempt, King Edward was to have been shot down on his recent visit to France—a time during which McMahon was being held for the July pistol incident, he declared.

Cross examining Detective Inspector John Sands, of Scotland Yard, Defense Counsel Hutchinson declared that McMahon, prior to the affair of July 16, told officers such a plot was being hatched and the conspirators were planning to meet in a tea shop.

Sands agreed police officers had been sent to the tea shop to investigate.

A few along the great canyon of a street were ready to doubt that the crack pilot and the crooner would make good the latter's boast to have dinner here at 7 o'clock tonight at the end of a hop from Southport, England.

"I have already ordered a celebration dinner in New York tonight," Richman declared as mechanics warmed the plane, "Lady Peace," for the takeoff.

"It will be steak and potatoes. If the steak is burned there'll be a riot." Both Richman and Merrill were almost sleepless as they headed in to the pitch darkness above Southport before the eyes of a thousand English well-wishers, raced on over Galway, Ireland, and plunged with the first rays of the sun into the most dangerous part of the long trip—1,800 miles over the open sea to Newfoundland.

Adverse wind and weather conditions plague the westbound route. Only nine days ago, however, Mrs. Beryl Markham, English flier, successfully spanned the ocean and cracked up in a Nova Scotia bog and her feat encouraged Richman and Merrill.
