HOUSE STAND REVERSED IN FINAL BALLOT

TEX'S TOPICS

If you are in England and wish to read something about King Edward's romance with Mrs. Wally Simpson, you'll have to wait until the American papers come over on the boat, or get it out of a "hide-out" scandal sheet, so-called.

The British press has adopted a hands-off policy with regard to the story about Wally and the king—with the idea in mind that they do not wish to cause any smattering of embarrassment to the royal household.

The self-imposed censorship of the British press in connection with the friendship between King Edward and Mrs. Simpson, and the attractive American's divorce suit, is a striking example of the traditional protective attitude of the newspapers towards royalty and especially the throne.

The papers consistently refrain from publishing news that may cause annoyance, pain or inconvenience to the royal family. Sometimes there is a request from the palace to newspapermen to suppress something, and such requests always are granted. More often the editors act of their own accord.

For example, several years ago a snooty fellow got hold of the private diary of the then Prince of Wales and tried to sell it to a publisher. There naturally was a fortune in the book, but the publisher promptly notified the authorities, and the diary was returned intact to its owner.

But there is more than respect and reverence for royalty in this attitude. It is a truism in England that the throne is the symbol which holds the empire together; that if the throne goes, the empire dissolves. Because of this the papers suppress anything that may reflect adversely on the throne.

In England no longer subscribes exactly to the doctrine that the king can do no wrong, it comes close to it. In any event, the press would protect him against himself—that is, would safeguard the dignity of that all-important throne.

Thus far the public has chosen to regard the king's friendship with Mrs. Simpson as his private affair (though many Britons say it is getting uncomfortably close to being a matter of state), and England never intrudes on royal privacy. So far as Edward is concerned, his adoring subjects gave him plenty of leeway when he was Prince of Wales—"Prince Charming," they called him. Perhaps the question may be asked, not as to whether as king-emperor, he can do things he did as heir.

The fascinating Mrs. Simpson is not by a long way the first friend Edward has had, and in several instances the romance was of considerable duration.

The public merely smiled and said "boys will be boys." The newspapers were silent. When Edward was "off-duty" as prince, he was accorded all the privacy of an ordinary citizen.

If he appeared in a cafe to dance—and he often did—nobody paid the slightest attention to him or his lady. They got bumped by other dancers, the same as anybody else.

He used to like to go back of the scenes at musical shows, and he was then the Prince of Wales there. If he got in the way, the ladies of the chorus used to push him about like any ordinary mortal. Let the prince desert his role of plain Mr. David Windsor, however, and he would be surrounded immediately by a cheering crowd which would fight to get near him.

If the British press picks up the Simpson story, it will be because it feels compelled to do so in defense of the throne. But it will take a lot of pushing to force London's Street of Ink to abandon its age-old policy regarding royalty.

So much for Eddie and Wally. . . . And, now, turning up a local avenue—we still are unable to find something on the breakfast menus in Pampa restaurants. . . . We used to eat it back on our grandpaw's farm, but since coming in from the country we always had been afraid to mention it in polite circles.

All of this notwithstanding, we See COLUMN, Page 8

But She Must Be on Good Behavior For 6 Months

LONDON, Oct. 28 (AP)—Heralded as possibly the future queen of England, 42-year-old Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson today began a form of "matrimonial parole" under which she will be eligible to marry anyone—be he king or commoner.

Six grumbled words—"Oh, very nice, indeed"—testily voiced by bewigged Justice Sir John Anthony Hawke at Ipswich assizes, provisionally released Mrs. Simpson from her second unsuccessful marriage.

Today, behind drawn curtains, the smartly-groomed American who may become "Queen Wallis" secluded herself in her huge, white-fronted new mansion at 16 Cumberland Terrace.

For half a year, she must act with the greatest propriety to avoid the strictures of one of her sovereign friends, her own officials—the king's protector.

Technically, at least, she would have to be extremely careful that a chaperone is present even when she is with King Edward himself.

If the king's protector gives the nod, Mrs. Simpson will be unqualifiedly free on April 27, 1937—just 15 days before the scheduled coronation of bachelor King Edward.

England's public learned only the bare, unadorned facts about the Ipswich climax to the "affaire Simpson" today.

BRYAN COMBS GAMING TRIAL STARTS TODAY

SECOND ACQUITTAL IN DISTRICT COURT IS RETURNED

Sam Dunn, of Pampa, was acquitted in double-quick fashion of charges of keeping a gambling house at the Belvedere night club.

It took a jury only about an hour and 45 minutes altogether to sit supper and find Dunn not guilty. He had been indicted by the county grand jury several weeks ago.

He is the second defendant to be found not guilty in connection with a double indictment returned against him and L. G. Deuran. Deuran also was acquitted of gambling charges in connection with the Belvedere.

With the conclusion of the Dunn case, District Attorney Lewis Goodrich launched into another district court battle shortly before noon today to prove a charge of keeping a gambling house against Bryan Combs, of Pampa, charged in a grand jury indictment with keeping a gambling house at the Y Tavern.

The acquittal for Dunn was won after a two-day trial in which he was defended by Attorneys John Sturgeon, of Pampa, and Job Underwood, of Amarillo. Sturgeon and Underwood also represented Deuran.

The Dunn case was given to the jury shortly after 6 o'clock last evening. The jurors were first sent to supper and returned to deliberate shortly before 8 o'clock. The verdict of not guilty was returned at 11:15 p. m.

Members of the jury which found Dunn not guilty were Ralph Carruth, Glenn Pool, Clyde King, L. D. Pittman, Creed Bogan, E. Vandenberg, Clifford Allison, R. L. Edmondson, C. L. Austin, W. K. Wharton, Frank Ferguson and Frank Painter.

Combs' trial originally was set for Oct. 12 but was delayed when his attorney reported Combs ill in an Elk City hospital.

Jurors selected to sit in the Combs case were seated shortly before noon today. They are Jim Back, Ralph Carruth, Haskell Smith, H. J. Gill, Frank Ferguson, C. R. Stone, E. Vandenberg, Victor Beck, W. K. Wharton, L. D. Pittman, Creed Bogan, and J. L. McNabb.

Combs is being represented by Attorneys John Sturgeon and John Studer. Taking of testimony was expected to begin shortly after the resumption of the afternoon court session at 1:30 o'clock today.

PAMPA BULL IS NAMED SHOW'S GRAND CHAMP

DALLAS, Oct. 28 (AP)—C. W. Carlos Domino, undefeated two-year old bull owned by Combs and Worley of Pampa, wore the blue ribbon today at the all-Texas Hereford show at the Texas Centennial exposition in the class for bulls calves between May 1, 1933, and April 30, 1934.

The bull was the grand champion at the recent Kansas City American Royal Show.

SHOOTING AT HOBBS. HOBBS, N. M., Oct. 28 (AP)—Police Chief L. B. Bryan reported today D. A. Nix, an oil field worker, was in the hospital with a bullet wound in his stomach and his roommate, Herbert Riley, was held in jail in connection with an early morning shooting affair in a rooming house here. Nix, about 26, formerly of Andrews, Texas, was in bed when he was shot, the officer said. His condition was described as serious.

Accused Slayer Kills Himself In Jail At Lubbock

Slashes His Arm and Bleeds to Death In Cell

LUBBOCK, Oct. 28 (AP)—Rather than face possible charges in the brutal slaying of Juanita Kelly in Cochran county, L. O. Cooper died by his own hand in Lubbock county jail last night.

He had slashed open his left arm, just above the elbow, and had bled to death in his bunk in the hospital ward. He was the only prisoner in the jail.

Justice of the Peace J. T. Trigg said he would return a verdict that Cooper, 32-year old farmer living near Morton had committed suicide.

After leading officers to the hiding places of Miss Kelly's skirt and the knife with which the 21-year old farm girl was slain the night of Oct. 17, Cooper last night had asked permission to sleep.

"If you'll let me sleep," he told Sheriff Tom Abel, "I'll finish it up for you in the morning."

Cooper had told Miss Kelly he had been struck over the head with a heavy, studded wine bottle. He had said her body had been taken into a sudan patch on a farm. Her throat was slit and she was buried there.

Cooper had never admitted he slew the woman. He said, "two other men," who approached him and Miss Kelly as they sat drinking in this "bar" stall here. The knife they used, he had admitted to Sheriff Abel and Deputy Sheriff Bedford F. Carpenter, was his.

The former father of two young girls, accompanied Sheriff Abel and Deputy Sheriff Carpenter and Grady Bell and a newspaper reporter to Cochran county late last night.

LIBERTY IDEALS ARE PRAISED BY PRESIDENT

Makes Speech Today At Statue of Goddess

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—Standing near the base of Bartholdi's famous statue of liberty, President Roosevelt today praised the nation's settlers for their love of freedom and said "we shall continue to build an even better home for liberty."

On the 50th anniversary of the Beacon which France gave to America Mr. Roosevelt declared that each new generation "must carry forward American freedom and American peace by making their living facts in a living present."

Described as a "re-dedication" of the statue to the ideals of freedom, the ceremony attracted a number of men well known in public life. Andre de Laboulaye, French ambassador and grandson of Edouard de Laboulaye, French historian who proposed the statue originally, was a guest of honor.

WORLEY FLAYS 'HOUSE PROBE OF UNIVERSITY

SCHOOL IS GIVEN VOTE OF CONFIDENCE BY SOLONS

AUSTIN, Oct. 28 (AP)—The Texas House of Representatives today had given the University of Texas a vote of confidence and commended the faculty for its conduct during a legislative investigation of reported communistic and atheistic teachings in the school.

The investigation was terminated last night by a vote of 67 to 38 for a resolution by Reps. Alf Roark of Saratoga and Kenneth McCalla of Houston. The investigating committee was discharged.

Previously Rep. Carl Bergman of Kerrville filed, as a minority member of the committee, a report stating the meeting of communism and atheism were of necessity taught in the university, but as "knowledge only, with no attempt on the part of any instructor to influence the belief of any pupils in any such matters."

"I see no reason for criticism upon my part of the instructor who merely offers knowledge to an earnest seeker thereof," Bergman said.

Chairman Joe Caldwell of Asherton and Reps. Tom Cooper of Lindale, Fred Harris of Dallas and Manley Head of Granbury, other committee members, said they would file written reports later.

Sharp debate preceded adoption of the confidence vote. Rep. Eugene Worley of Shamrock charged the intent of the committee was to "en-

Such an important part of the American scene that it seems to root in the nation's beginnings. Financed by popular subscription in France, to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the American Revolution, the gigantic statue was executed by Bartholdi, shipped to New York in sections and erected on a special pedestal paid for by the American public.

'Bank Nites' Held Legal by Justices

AUSTIN, Oct. 28 (AP)—Chief Justice James W. McClouden of the third court of civil appeals ruled today "bank nites" at theaters did not constitute lotteries and therefore were legal.

The decision came on an appeal from a temporary injunction granted A. M. Morgan against the Griffith Amusement Company of Brady. The injunction was dissolved and the cause remanded.

Justice McClouden ruled that the "bank nite" in question lacked one of the three essentials of a lottery in that no consideration was paid for a chance to win the prize.

PENSION DELIBERATION ACCEPTED 100 TO 50

AUSTIN, Oct. 28 (AP)—Governor Allred announced today there would not be another special session of the Forty-Fourth Legislature.

The governor said the session which adjourned at midnight had accomplished all the most pressing needs and no excuse existed for any other meeting.

"The legislature has done a fine job and I am highly pleased," he said.

He planned to leave this afternoon, accompanied by Rep. Herman Jones of Decatur, for a speaking tour in New Mexico in behalf of the national democratic campaign, traveling by automobile. His first speech is scheduled for Tucuman, tomorrow night. In his absence, Lieut. Gov. Walter F. Woodul of Houston will be acting governor.

The governor said that while some matters possibly could be worked out at another special session nothing was so pressing it could not be cared for at the regular session beginning in January.

He also said that many more members of the legislature had urged him not to call another session than had advocated one.

The governor said further that he would not sign immediately a "heavy and unnecessary burden" on the legislature in final moments of the session, but would leave that duty to Lieut. Gov. Woodul.

He has been advised placing the law into effect in the middle of the month would create a "heavy and unnecessary burden" on both the comptroller's and insurance departments," he said. "Woodul will sign to make them effective Nov. 1."

DOG-RACE BETTING IS NOT VIOLATION OF LAW

AUSTIN, Oct. 28 (AP)—The Supreme Court held today that betting on dog-racing is not a violation of the state gaming laws.

It gave the opinion in connection with the rulings on several cases which had been consolidated to clarify the law over which dispute has raged for several years.

The court also ruled that dog racing organizations can not be enjoined and closed as a public nuisance, such as had been contended in a case from Dallas county. In the case of John R. Shook, criminal district attorney, against the All-State Racing Association, from Bexar county, the court said:

"We do not find any provision in the penal code defining games which can not be construed to include dog racing or betting on dog racing. It is not a game prohibited by law."

In the San Antonio case, Shook also had attempted to close the dog race track by injunction. The trial court granted an injunction, which was dissolved by the court of civil appeals. The Supreme Court upheld the civil appeals tribunal and the trial court was ordered to dismiss the case.

'Bank Nites' Held Legal by Justices

AUSTIN, Oct. 28 (AP)—Chief Justice James W. McClouden of the third court of civil appeals ruled today "bank nites" at theaters did not constitute lotteries and therefore were legal.

The decision came on an appeal from a temporary injunction granted A. M. Morgan against the Griffith Amusement Company of Brady. The injunction was dissolved and the cause remanded.

Justice McClouden ruled that the "bank nite" in question lacked one of the three essentials of a lottery in that no consideration was paid for a chance to win the prize.

The points was made that if a winner, was outside the theater at the time of the drawing, he could enter free of charge and collect his prize.

The ruling in effect, said a person paid admission to see a show and not as a consideration to become eligible for a prize.

The Red Cross soon is coming to us here in Pampa with another appeal for membership dues—to finance work locally during the year ahead. The Red Cross asks little from the community, yet contributes much to the general welfare of our people.

"The need this year will be heavier than usual, due to the fact that many more emergencies are anticipated.

"For this reason, I sincerely urge those who are asked, when the roll call opens, to participate in this program by paying the relatively small membership fee to respond in a spirit of good neighborliness."

All Culture Club Members Attend

Starting a course of programs on Spanish-America, all members of Twentieth Century Culture club were present at the home of Mrs. Joe Burrow yesterday afternoon. The subject was Panama, and roll call was answered with various facts about the country.

Mrs. P. E. Leach, introducing the study, sketched the history of the tiny country and then conducted an imaginary trip through the canal, tracing the route on a map which she displayed.

Effects of the canal on North and South America were discussed by Mrs. C. W. Briscoe. She classified these as physical, commercial, industrial, and cultural effects, and named another effect on North America—that of increasing the nation's greed in the bartering for rights to construct the canal.

Ideals of Bolivar, the South American who saw the canal as a link between North and South America, and President Theodore Roosevelt, who desired it only for its commercial benefits to the United States, were contrasted by Mrs. H. P. Lusby. She told of Roosevelt's aggressiveness in securing the lease of a strip of land five miles wide on each side of the canal, to be held by the United States a hundred years and then renewed at option. One provision of the lease gave this nation control over cities at the canal entrances, which were cleared up and made healthful through efforts of Americans.

The hostess served refreshments to Mmes. D. E. Robinson, Lee Waggoner, J. P. Wehrung, C. W. Stowell, C. H. Schulkey, Garnet Reeves, L. N. McCullough, L. E. McCole, Marvin Lewis, S. L. Lawrence, P. A. Clara Hill Class Meets at Irwin Home for Party

The home of Mrs. Ralph Irwin at Phillips camp was the scene of a Halloween party for Clara Hill class of First Methodist church yesterday. Mmes. L. B. Autrey, Joe Bennett, and L. C. Gomillion were on the hostess committee.

After games, in which Mrs. Frank Shotwell and Mrs. C. E. Warden received prizes as artists, a brief business session was conducted. Mrs. H. P. Snyder was appointed kitchen chairman and Mrs. Ralph Stine dining room chairman. Plans were made for sponsoring the junior department.

Gingerbread with whipped cream and coffee were served with Halloween plate appointments to Mmes. E. L. Emerson, Duke Shaw, Fred Radcliff, C. R. Price, Reese Green, Parker, H. M. Proper, A. B. O'Hinger, Clarence Coffin, T. F. Hitchcock, Snyder, Stine, Warden, and Shotwell.

Costume Prizes Given at Party

By MRS. JIM BACK McLEAN, Oct. 28.—Witches reigned, black cats howled and ghosts walked at the party given by the TB2 class of the McLean ward school in the gymnasium Monday evening. Members of the TB2 section were guests of honor. Many games and Halloween pranks were played and real gypsies were there to tell fortunes. The stage was set with Halloween decorations.

Room mothers served Coney Island, apples and suckers to nearly sixty happy children who came dressed in costume. Of the boys, Oran Back, J. M. Montgomery and J. B. Waldrop were judged the best in costume; while Frances Budietz, Margaret Carrol and Thelma Jean Dishamm won for the girls.

Class Has Party The junior class at the First Baptist Sunday school enjoyed a Halloween party in the church parlors Monday afternoon with Mrs. Jesse J. Cabb, and Mrs. Murray Boston in charge.

Games and refreshments carried out the Halloween party. Present were Billy Riddle, Bobbie John Corbin, Nora and Zora Petty, James Lindley, Billy Boston, and Mary Lee Abbott.

Up And Down The Air Waves

By RAY D. O.

It seems that Billie Hunter and his Hollywood Ramblers were conspicuous by their absence on the "Miles of Smiles" program yesterday at 12:30 on KPND. We learned that this orchestra will not be heard on the program in the future. How did you like them? What would you like to have on this program to replace this orchestra? All programs are planned to please the listening audience, and in order that they might plan a program that will please you, they should know what you want. This is a hint for a letter or card, so why not write it today?

Paula was back on the program, "Paula Plans," yesterday from the Berger studio at 1:30, after an absence of a few days due to illness. The announcer stated that she "had her tonsils lifted." Maybe she did, but she didn't get her voice lifted with the same operation. She still talks in a coarse whisper. Why not talk "out," Paula, we might wish to hear you.

Here is where and when to tune your favorite program this evening: The Columbia Broadcasting System offers—at 6:15, Popeye The Sailor; 6:30, The Goose Creek Parson; 6:45, Bonke Carter; 7, The Cavalcade of America; 7:30, Burns and Allen; 8:30, Come on Let's Sing; 9, Gang Busters; 9:30, Jack Shannon, Tenor; 10, Benny Goodman.

If you read this before 3:15, you'll know to tune in KPND at that time and hear Mrs. Roy W. Reed in her quarter hour of piano and song. We do not hesitate to ask you to listen in on this program.

The running automobile sound effect, heard frequently on KPND, must have been made from a racing car or at any rate, it doesn't sound like a car that we usually hear. Suppose you make a record of just a regular Panhandle car.

Another group of programs you'll like are scheduled on NBC this evening. At 6:15, Uncle Ezra's Radio Station; 6:30, Lum and Abner; 6:45, Ruth Lyon, Soprano; 7, One Man's Family; 7:30, Wayne King; 8, Town Hall; 8:30, Crime Series Drama; 9, Your Hit Parade.

Yesterday we looked at the schedule of KPND and noticed that the "Rhythmettes" were scheduled to appear at 4:45. Well, we turned in, but failed to hear this program, and we enjoy it, too. We do not know just why they were not on, but regardless of the cause we hope it doesn't become a habit.

The Waker Uppers program on KPND from 7:30 to 8:30 each morning has taken on new life or it has acquired a quieter attitude. Which do you think? We have reference to "Picicena" being removed from the cast and the fact that Uncle Bud is out of chewing tobacco, hence he can't spit.

In our opinion, the best character part that is heard on KPND is that of "Elmer Gooftus Hoskins." He creates a precarious situation for himself and then works right out of it, and while all this is going on, the listener is being entertained quite delightfully. Personally, we would like to see "Elmer" scheduled on his own program of his own, and then let him strut his stuff. We believe you would enjoy a program of this kind.

Occasionally you see a man driving a car so carefully that you conclude it must be paid for.

We notice an improvement has been made in the KPND schedules in the paper. The Berger schedule is now appearing in detail. Thanks, we listeners can now figure out just what is coming on our local station.

Here is a personal criticism of the KPND programs coming from your columnist. The percentage of dance music programs seems to be just a little too great. Of course those who delight in that type music will appreciate it as it is, while on the other hand, those who do not like that type music do not get much chance to hear other programs.

Lions Try New Piano So interested were all members of the Lions club in their new piano, that the entire program consisted in a sing-song. Visitors were Guy Hill of Shamrock, L. E. Ward, and Rev. Jim Sharp.

Members present were C. N. Hollway, Evan Sitter, C. B. Batson, W. E. Bogan, W. W. Boyd, Boyd Meador, Witt Springer, M. D. Bentley, C. A. Cryer, Thurman Adkins, Jesse Cobb, Vester Smith, T. A. Edwards and J. A. Meador.

Central Church Of Christ Has Growing Revival

An evangelistic meeting at Central Church of Christ is increasing in interest and attendance with every service, reports W. M. Thompson, minister. Last evening Evangelist C. E. McGaughey had for his subject, Obedience.

He quoted numerous Bible passages, starting with the Old Testament injunction that obedience is better than sacrifice, and continued to the climax of the sermon on the mount, with its teaching that the man of wisdom is he who hears and does the sayings of Jesus.

The speaker said that during the personal ministry of Jesus, his blessings were bestowed in various ways, but after his death the one plan of redemption is the world-wide commission. His sermon was ended by showing the blessings of obedience.

The Evangelist McGaughey's subject for this evening is "At the Beginning." The song service starts at 7:30 p. m., and everyone is invited.

Aid in Welfare Work Asked by Calvary Church

Assuming its obligation to care as far as possible for welfare needs of its members, Calvary Baptist church is asking the assistance of other Pampans to fill an especially large want. Clothing, staple foods, medicines, and other necessities will be collected, and cash donations will be used to meet other needs.

The Rev. E. M. Dunsforth, pastor, in making the announcement explained that "there are many needy families in the section of town served by our church, and we will make every effort to do our share in caring for them. Funds are limited, and we wish to give our friends a chance to help us."

"Clothing of all kinds is needed and will be gratefully appreciated. We will be glad to call for used clothing if we are notified through the office of First Baptist church. The church, as well as those who are helped, will be deeply grateful for all gifts."

DEMOCRACY MAY GUIDE US THROUGH WAR CRISIS

Probably the most futile task anyone could undertake right now would be to try to fix the blame for the spread of the war peril in Europe.

The effort is being made, of course. Any left-wing publicist can tell you that if the wicked German and Italian Fascists would only keep from interfering in the Spanish revolt the danger of war would immediately dwindle.

Similarly, any staunch right-winger can point out that the situation has been made infinitely more tense by red Russia's announced intention to help the left-wing Spaniards with money and munitions.

But to say, because of these things, that war (if it comes) will be the "fault" of Hitler, Mussolini, or Stalin is to miss the point entirely.

That, indeed, is the dismaying part of the whole sorry business—the fact that it is impossible to find a personal devil in the situation.

What Europe is up against is nothing less than a clash between two opposing, impersonal forces, two diametrically opposite schemes for the ordering of human society.

A clash of that kind can hardly be resolved by soft words or conciliatory gestures.

What is biting the statesmen in Rome, Berlin, and Moscow seems to be a realization that the continent of Europe will not, in the long run, be large enough to contain both Communist and Fascist nations. In the very nature of things they cannot exist side by side.

That is why none of these three capitals can sit quietly on the sidelines while conservatives and radicals fight it out to see who is to rule Spain. They dare not let the Spaniards decide for themselves. The question ties in too closely with their own future.

So we are likely to have more, rather than fewer, angry words and defiant gestures passing among the rival powers across the tormented body of Spain. If the world has just a little bad luck, these gestures will turn into war. For the conflict from which they arise is irremediable.

Does that mean, then, that Europe is doomed to a bloody, last-ditch war, sooner or later, in spite of all that men can do to prevent it?

It would, but for the saving fact that democracy still holds the balance of power. Great nations such as France and England, and smaller ones, such as the Scandinavian countries, have not admitted that the race must choose between two dictatorial forms of government.

They are still trying to work out their problems in the way of peace and freedom—and, at last accounts, were having pretty good luck at it.

Democracy is not a threat. It can be a good neighbor. It can live by conciliation rather than by the sword.

If Europe gets through its present crisis without war, it will be because the democracies willed it so—and, willing it, retained enough of a hold on the imaginations of men to make their will good.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

HARRISBURG, Pa.—Pennsylvania is the state where Republicans have concentrated their charges of politics in WPA and their choice appears to have been well made.

Anyone who supposes there isn't plenty of Democratic politics in the administration of WPA in Pennsylvania qualifies himself for the booby prize of 1936.

The prize should be shared with the other fellow who thinks there would be any less politics in WPA if Pennsylvania were in the hands of the Republicans.

The Keystone state always has been notorious for its political corruption and an astonishing proportion of its more conspicuous office holders and political leads have at one time or another been indicted, disbarred, convicted, or otherwise involved in public scandal.

As far as WPA is concerned, a brief glance plus consultation with certain non-partisans who preserve a cold and fishy eye—as well as with politicians of both parties—convince this writer that politics has flourished far more in WPA in Pennsylvania than Harry Hopkins would have you believe and that the atrocities arising therefrom have been far less numerous and flagrant than Republicans allege.

It further appears that the voters of Pennsylvania aren't registering any dangerously high blood pressure over the politicians prostitution of WPA and that the WPA workers themselves are impressed with the iniquity of it to only a very limited degree.

One hears some very violent objections to WPA, its program, and its operation on other grounds. But the state is hardened to political scandal and its politicians aren't acting more wickedly than anyone would expect.

Industrial corporations in Pennsylvania for decades have unequaled records for political as well as economic coercion, pressure, and exploitation of employees.

No one has had a chance to make a survey, but the impression—even among many New Dealers—is that, all added up, a great amount of political pressure is being exerted upon WPA workers. It varies with localities and in many sections there isn't any at all.

Ten per cent of WPA personnel is on an appointive basis. That covers the administrative staff. Thousands of foremen, supervisors, and timekeepers, consequently, are political appointees.

Usually they owe their jobs to Democratic county chairmen, who, under the present state administration, are nearly all public officials. They include many small-time politicians. Even by the mere law of averages some of these men would be misfits and there is no question that some of them are spoilsmen of the meanest and worst type.

Incidentally, you'll find a sprinkling of Republicans among them, none of whom would be openly active for Landon.

HARVESTERS, GORILLAS AND JUNIOR HIGH MIX IN BRUISING SCRIMMAGES

CLOVIS ELEVEN NEAR WEIGHT OF CITY TEAM

WOOLDRIDGE NOT BEING USED IN PRACTICE THIS WEEK

Scrimmages were in order at Harvester field yesterday afternoon when 90 boys in uniform carried around teams representing the Harvesters, Gorillas and Junior high took turns at scrimmaging each other in a wholesale exhibition.

First, the Harvesters scrimmaged the Gorillas. Then they took on the Junior high gang. After the Harvesters had been sent to the showers, Junior high and the Gorillas went into a scrimmage session. While the first string was at one end of the field, the second string outfits organized a scrimmage of their own at the other end.

Ivan Noblitt, Harvester center, was still on the sidelines. He reported in uniform, however, with the announcement that his hip was feeling pretty good. Woody Woodridge was not used in scrimmage, the coaches having decided to let him rest his ankle this week. Arthur Harding was at center with Graham calling signals. Ayer, at half, looked better than at any time this season. His kicking also was better than previously.

Apparently remembering that they will meet a team nearly their own size on Friday night in Clovis, the Harvester line charged harder and with more determination than usually seen in a scrimmage session. Ayer holding the burgie back, West-ers to seven points last Friday, the Mitchell-Prejan crew apparently realize that the going in District 1 isn't so terribly rough and that a good little team can just about hold a good big team.

Several new formations are likely to be thrown at the Wildcats as the Harvesters seek a scoring punch. With weight unavailable, some other means of making touchdowns is necessary.

Word comes from Clovis that Dulaney, veteran back, will play his last game of high school football against the Harvesters. The passer, punter and safety man will become over age on November 5 and in New Mexico a player becomes ineligible when he reaches his 20th birthday even though that date comes in the middle of the season.

The Clovis News-Journal gloomily says:

Clovis' revived hopes for a state football championship suffered another setback today as school officials announced that the Pampa game here Friday night would be the last in which O. E. Dulaney, veteran backfield man, would play for the Wildcats of Clovis High.

Dulaney, the Wildcats' punter, blocking halfback, spinner man and part-time quarterback, will observe—but not celebrate—his 20th birthday on Nov. 5, the day before the Wildcats play the Santa Fe Indians at Santa Fe, will automatically become ineligible.

To Rotate Halfbacks

Dulaney himself told the News-Journal that he had given his birthday as Dec. 5 to school officials, but they checked up on him.

Thus, as the Clovis crew prepares for the invasion of the Pampa Harvesters from West Texas Friday night Coach R. K. Staubus is faced with grooming someone to take Dulaney's place in the last five games on the schedule. It is regarded as likely that no one player will take over this position, but the Coach Staubus will rotate Johnny Stockton, Buddy Lloyd, Winston Speegle and Richard Hildwein in the two halfback berths.

Who will do the punting is another matter, and more of a problem to Staubus than anything else at the present time.

Junior High To Play Borger's Pups Thursday

Junior high's best football team will be seen in action at Harvester field tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock when they meet the Borger Bull Pups in a return game. Admission will be 10 cents.

Coach Tom Herod has a big team this year and one that has shown fight and ability. Following a scrimmage against the Harvesters yesterday afternoon, Head Coach Odus Mitchell stood back and was heard to mumble to himself, "that back will make a Harvester next year. That lineman will go up to the Harvesters next season." And so on as the scrimmage progressed.

At least four members of the Harvester squad this year jumped from the Junior high team to the Harvesters without stopping for a season with the Gorillas. Included in the list were Bill Stiles, Junior Williams, Don Smith and Melvin Turner.

Leavitt, Dunaway and the other Junior high backs have been showing exceptional ability while the linemen have been charging hard and tackling with deadly efficiency. Borger will be here determined to wipe out an 18 to 0 defeat handed them early in the season in Borger. Junior high had the advantage of training at that time. A stiff battle is expected tomorrow afternoon.

'BELTING BRAKEMAN' TO BOX BABE RISKO WEDNESDAY NIGHT

By HUGH S. FULLETON, Jr.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—Harry Balsamo, the "belting brakeman" who has become New York's latest fistic sensation faces a test here tonight which probably will show whether he is as good as the fans believe.

A slugger who fairly lifts the hair of the customers' heads when he fires a punch, Balsamo tackles Babe Risko of Syracuse, former middleweight champion, in a ten-round bout at the hippodrome.

After seeing him hammer Eric Seelig around, the experts have decided that the punching power the former subway brakeman packs, rates him a shot at Freddie Steel's middleweight crown. Now it's up to him to prove it.

A knockout victory over Risko, who lost the title to Steele but remained on his feet throughout two meetings with the Seattle boy, would automatically put Balsamo in the position of leading challenger.

Risko, though not considered a great middleweight at any time, has shown himself to be a good punch absorber. The only rival who ever stopped him was Jack McAvoy and the Briton had to throw a lot of punches to do it. Risko kept bobbing up and down like an elevator until the bout was halted.

MEXICAN HIGH SCHOOL GRID TEAM ON TOUR

HOUSTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—A Mexican high school football team, financed by the southern republic in a desire to popularize the game in that country, was here today to meet John Reagan high school Friday night. Games will be played in Washington, D. C., New York and other places later.

"The trip will cost the government $45,000," said Robert P. Martin, young American coach at the Mexico City Polytechnic high school. "The government wants to popularize football. The Mexican school boys are wild about the game but the spectators are slow to learn."

With the coach and team of 34 came the Tipica police orchestra. The formation will go to Washington after the game.

Martin, graduate of the University of Detroit, was assigned the job of establishing an intensive physical program in the 10 public schools of Mexico City.

PANHANDLE PANTHERS WILL PLAY PERRYTON

PERRYTON, Oct. 28.—Fans of the North Panhandle will have an opportunity to witness a contest between the leading contenders for the district championship of district 2B.

The Panhandle Panthers of Palford will meet Otis Burk's Perryton Rangers on Ranger field, Friday afternoon.

According to scores up to date, the Panhandle team is favored to defeat the Rangers by a good margin.

Borger is the only team holding a defeat over the Perryton Rangers.

Since each team is the outstanding contender for the sectional championship in their respective sections, and will probably meet again in the play-off, the game takes on added color. An estimated crowd of 1,500 is expected to see the contest.

EAST RETURNS TO PRESTIGE OVER MIDWEST

GRIDIRON SUPREMACY IS ONCE MORE ON COAST

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—A return of the east's football forces to national gridiron prestige, at the expense of the midwest, south and southwest, was indicated today in the first compilation of the season's inter-sectional warfare.

While the midwest appears to have fallen off considerably from its usual high place, and the south boasts only a slight margin over the west, eastern teams have achieved a decisive edge over eleven from every area that they have engaged in their portion of the 64 inter-sectional battles on the gridiron front to date.

With the help of three inter-regional victories each by Pitt, Navy and West Virginia and two apiece by Temple, Fordham and Boston University, the Atlantic seaboard gridmen have posted 37 wins against 15 defeats and one tie in the rivalry with midwest, south, southwest and Pacific coast teams.

Of these 53 games—the eastern total in the inter-sectional title from coast to coast this year—27 have been of major calibre, and even in these important tests, the east is out in front with 17 wins.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific, the standings by section at the midseason mark line up as follows:

East 16, midwest 7.
East 16, south 7 (one tie).
East 1, Pacific coast 0.
Southwest 2, south 1 (2 ties).
Midwest 1, Pacific coast 1.
Rocky Mountain 1, southwest 0.

With the season half over, and the east still giving as good or better than it's taking, it apparently is going to require considerable catching up for any section to make up the existing difference.

Oklahoma City—By recall to Philadelphia (National), infielder Young; by sale to St. Paul (American Association), pitcher Glarner; by recall to Los Angeles (Pacific coast), pitcher Buxton.

San Antonio—By draft to Boston (National), outfielder Garm; by recall to St. Louis (American), pitcher Walkup, outfielder Mazzera.

Galveston—By sale to St. Louis (American), pitcher Jakucki; by draft to Kansas City (American ass'n.), pitcher Gibbs.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—After last year's game with Minnesota, Lynn Waldorf, Northwestern coach, said: "If I never see that Tuffy Thompson again it will be soon enough." ... Just for that Bernie Bierman intends to turn Tuffy loose at Evanston Saturday ... How about Babe Herman for manager at Brooklyn? ... The Reds are getting ready to sell the Babe up or down the river—they don't care which, just so they send him somewhere.

The people's choice out in Pittsburgh is Marshall Goldberg, Pitt halfback ... most burned up young man of the week was Slip Madigan when he found out Fordham had promised the Giants 25 per cent of the receipts for use of the Polo Grounds.

Best looking young heavyweight boxer right now is Gunnar Boardlund, the Finn ... New York writers who swallowed the St. Mary's ballyhoo hook, line and sinker, now claim Slip Madigan put over a fast one ... One paper says the Gaels were just as over-rated as they were over dressed.

CARROLL COLLEGE NOW CLAIMS CHAMP SCORER

WAUKESHA, Wis., Oct. 28 (AP)—Carroll college statisticians came out of a huddle today with the record of Arthur Buck, their junior triple-threat quarterback, showing his 73 points gave him the leadership among the nation's college football scorers for the season to date.

While Bob Davis of Kentucky, leader the previous week with 66 points, was on the sidelines with an injury last Saturday, Buck scored 15 points on two touchdowns and three placements as Carroll trimmed Lawrence college, 34 to 0. In five games this year, Buck scored ten touchdowns, ten points after touchdowns and a field goal.

Texas Aggies Perfect Pass Defense To Turn Back Hogs

Injuries, Worrying Coach Thomsen Of Arkansas

The undefeated Texas Aggies concentrated today on perfecting a pass defense to turn back the air-minded Arkansas Razorbacks in their conference engagement Saturday.

In yesterday's practice session Waleman Price, Aggie freshman, played alternate roles of Jack Robbins and Dwight Sloan, Arkansas passers, while the varsity squad worked to break up the passes.

Worries over injuries increased for Coach Fred Thomsen at Arkansas when K. O. Lunday, center, broke a finger during practice and joined four other main cogs of the Porker squad on the sidelines. Thomsen sent the other squadmen through a stiff workout.

In other conference games Saturday Baylor meets Texas Christian and Southern Methodist plays the University of Texas. Rice faces George Washington university.

The Baylor Bears studied Texas Christian plays with special attention given to a defense against Sam Baugh's passing. Sam Boyd, end, who was injured in the Aggie tilt last week, may not play against the Christians.

Meanwhile, the Texas Christian Horned Frogs brushed up on their aerial attack, which centers about Baugh, who was unable to play against Mississippi State last week because of injuries.

The Texas Longhorns, out of the title chase with two defeats, polished up their running attack and sought to overcome faults which appeared in the Rice contest last Saturday.

Coach Matty Bell of Southern Methodist scouted the Texas-Rice game and drilled his Mustangs against Longhorn formations. The ponies were expected to be in the condition after no competition last week.

The injury list dwindled at Rice

PUNTS AND PASSES

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK—From no less authority than "Sleepy Jim" Crowley, comes the statement that the current Fordham line is mightier than the immortal "seven mules" of Notre Dame. And Crowley ought to know. He was in the "four horsemen" back field for whose touchdown tactics the mules paved the way.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.—The major baseball leagues who could do worse than glance over the Arkansas backfield for possible pitching material. The Razorbacks have heaved 176 forward passes this year, completing 71 for an aggregate 994-yard gain, good for 11 of their 14 touchdowns.

PALO ALTO, Calif.—Football men are raising eyebrows over the Stanford situation. They're wondering how a squad of 31 men, with only two weighing less than 170 pounds, can have failed to win a coast conference game so far this season.

COLUMBUS, O.—Note to Notre Dame's publicity department, from Ohio State's ditto: The same trick went work again. A year ago, Coach Elmer Layden of the Irish mourned that Notre Dame would be just a breather for State. The Buckeyes too: It in, but lost in that thrill-packed last quarter. The N. D. publicity department wrote the Ohio State department this week that Saturday's game would be just a breather for the Bucks. But the Ohioans don't believe it any more.

WHITE DEER'S BUCKS WILL PLAY ESTELLINE

WHITE DEER, Oct. 28.—The White Deer Bucks, coached by Gene McCollum, formerly of Estelline, will battle the Estelline Bear Cubs at Buck stadium Thursday night, starting at 8 o'clock.

The Bear Cubs, coached by Edret Curnutt, is one of the best class B football teams in the Panhandle. The Bear Cubs forward wall is much heavier than that of White Deer's and their backfield is the fastest in the Panhandle, according to reports.

There will be much rivalry between the coaches as Estelline is the home town of Coach McCollum and he is ready to show the folks back home what he's got up his sleeve.

"This is not a conference game, not a game that will win us the conference, but a game that will be played for the coach," stated several of White Deer's leading players.

Marble is just plain marble . . . but skillful hands can give it value that is hard to measure in terms of money. In The Discus Thrower there is such a wealth of art, skill and character that for 24 centuries art students have studied this simple marble statue and tried to copy it.

Barley is barley and hops are hops. With yeast and water they can be made into beer—all kinds of beer. But, when brewing skill at its finest takes these ingredients in hand, the finished product can be counted upon to win the acclaim of all students of the art of good living.

Budweiser EVERYWHERE

WITH automobiles as with everything else, there has to be a leader of the flock.

All right then, step this way and feast your grateful eyes now on the authentic motor car bellwether for 1937!

Look at the size of it, the keen clean line of it, the streaming sweep of it, its neat fleet beauty.

It so perfectly captures in its beautifully contoured metal the dash and spirit of its buoyant action that it looks fast even when it's standing still!

Sure it's a Buick — the most stunning, sizeable, satisfying Buick that ever gladdened your startled gaze — but its good looks are literally the least of it.

Behind that massive radiator grille and under that gorgeous bonnet is an even bigger, smoother, valve-in-head straight-eight Buick engine, fed by an all-position aerobac carburetor that does thrifty things with gasoline.

And control of this magnificent performer — from thrilling take-off all through the range of speeds and including safe-stop hydraulic braking—is soft and easy as a fork in pie.

You can't describe it, so why handicap language this way — come in, now, see for yourself.

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

BY LOUS SCHNEIDER

DEMAND. An informed Washington contact discloses that President Roosevelt has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to take a certain step in approving any reorganization of a railroad. That step is that sinking fund provisions be included in all revised bond issues.

Both the I. C. C. and the President believe that in that way the financial strength of carriers will be maintained and that huge refunding operations will not be necessary at times when money is hard to get except at high rates. In addition sinking funds help corporations—ralls, or otherwise—to make attempts to reduce funded debts. The I. C. C. will demand that the provision be included.

ADDITION. There's a reason for the recent buying of Standard of New Jersey. Thus far only $1 a share has been paid out in dividends. Insiders look for a net this year of better than $4 a share. For that reason a large extra distribution is anticipated. Some say it might be $2. The more conservative don't expect it to be that high. But they do believe it will be at least $1 a share—in addition to the regular quarterly payments of 25 cents.

RAIL LOANS. The Reconstruction Finance Corporation is to dispose of its railroad securities. These run to the tune of $75,715,500. They were purchased from the PWA. The latter organization still owns about $8,950,000 of such issues. The selling started with a Nickel Plate offering. The largest single amount held right now is $14,500,000 of Illinois Central equipment trusts.

At one time the rails owed the PWA and RFC as much as $200,529,500. Through payments rails retired $24,538,000. A total of $91,741,000 of the amount was sold by the RFC to the public. The proceeds of the loans were used by carriers to purchase new locomotives, equipment and for other improvements.

NEXT YEAR. The two committees representing the holders of notes, debentures and preferred shares of Standard Gas & Electric Company have agreed to cooperate. The new single committee will work out a reorganization plan "to the satisfaction of all."

But this doesn't mean it will all be accomplished within a few days or weeks. It will take a few months to get an acceptable plan prepared. That isn't expected—according to insiders—until early next year.

WORRIED. Official information is that a new nickel field has been discovered in Canada. It is located on Lake Athabasca some 500 miles north of Edmonton, Alberta. According to a government assay the nickel there is of "pure stuff" and is as good as that being taken from the Sudbury area.

The new field will be exploited and developed—with the encouragement and supervision of the Canadian government. It will take a good deal of money and time but it is a direct threat to International Nickel's monopoly. That is why portfolio accounts which take and hold for long pull are a bit worried.

DOUBT. Wall Streeters fixing lists of companies which may pay extra dividends because of the undistributed profits tax are not mentioning cigarette shares. There is a reason. For a few years back several of that group have failed to cover full dividend requirements. While most all are expected to cover these charges this year one or two may not be so fortunate.

The opinion is that cigarette companies may—on the whole—show profits above dividends but that extras will not be declared. This is because a strong cash position is necessary. It is doubted whether prices can be successfully increased at this time to offset higher raw material costs. Cigaret manufacturers themselves will have to absorb it all. That is why extra dividend declarations are doubtful.

BENEFIT. There's a new reason being given for the long-term buying of copper company securities. It is the rural electrification activities. The dope is that several million pounds will be required for the program. Coupled with the current demand from foreign countries domestic red metal mining and fabricating companies are expected to benefit.

REPORTS ARE THAT: Steel prices will sell at higher levels next year—if business holds...

The Earl of Warwick, as you've heard, is going to be a movie actor. Merit, and not because of the title which is one of England's most illustrious, thinks he has the makings. He is good-looking, has a pleasant personality and natural poise, and the studio thinks—and has thought for two years—that he can be made a screen star.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD—Charles Greville doubtless will be a disappointment to some of the film colony. His English accent is not so emphatic as it might be according to Hollywood standards, and he cares little for cricket. It's been an impression of mine, doubtless erroneous, that to be English you had to like cricket, and vice versa. It may have been that this is true, however, and the rule does not apply to the nobility. This of course would excuse the Earl of Warwick, and leave him free to prefer soccer, rugby, skiing, golf, swimming, tennis, flying and horsemanship. Quite athletic, his lordship, and—let's call him Greville, or Fulke Warwick (as his friends do) until the movies decide on a name for him.

Maneuvered Smart Contract
Friends of his say (Greville is either too modest or too reserved to talk much about himself) that he maneuvered his own contract, and wisely. One stipulation he made was that his title not be used in exploitation, another that he be given only minor supporting roles, at least until he finds out what he can do on the screen... His first film role will be his first experience at acting. He wants seriously to work at it. He will probably be groomed as a "romantic lead"—but on that score he would not hazard a guess. He had not yet seen his screen test.

His current enthusiasm is golf—he is out for 18 holes every morning—and his abiding hobby is gardening. For his Hollywood residence he picked out a garden on which, incidentally, is a modest house. He brought along a whole case of books.

There are 19,508 telephones, a record number, in Shreveport, La., today.

MAN WHO SAVED JONES' LIFE TO BE HONORED

DALLAS, Oct. 28 (AP)—The Ligue Internationale des Adiateur will present to the widow of Eugene Schacher and to Edwin Heley Friday special diplomas of bravery in recognition with the saving of the lives of four passengers when an airplane caught fire near Ferris several months ago.

The observance will be during the observance of Jesse Jones day at the Texas Centennial. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, was one of the four saved by the pilots' heroism. Others were former Gov. and Mrs. W. P. Hobby and Jones' secretary.

Schacher died of burns received when he stuck in his post in the cockpit, beating flames away from pilot Heley with a coat while the latter brought the ship to earth in a steep dive from 7,000 feet. Heley received critical burns, but recovered.

Officials of the Ligue Internationale said the awards were for the most outstanding bit of courage displayed in the air during the year.

Temple Bowen, vice president of the American section of the league, and John Jones, brother of the financier, were in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Schacher left her home at McBride, S. D., yesterday to be Jones' guest at the ceremonies.

Jones would not admit at the time he suffered injuries in the accident, but subsequent illnesses have been reported due to the rough landing.

The Wrong Murderer

By HUGH CLEVELY

Chapter Eight KENNEDY ARRIVES

Mahony went through the front doorway with a rush, and put all his force into a right-hand punch that fairly lifted the unsuspecting policeman off the doorstep and knocked him flat on the pavement.

While the policeman was still falling, he lashed out again with his left in a punch that sent Lawson staggering, and followed it up with another right that put Lawson out for the count beside the policeman.

He sprang quickly across the pavement, stepped into the car which he had taken from the kidnapers, and drove off. He had little fear of immediate pursuit, for he knew that neither the policeman nor Lawson would be in any condition to follow him for several seconds, and by that time he would be well out of sight.

After Mahony's sudden exit, Elsa stared for a moment at the doorway through which he had gone. Then she ran out after him. Her idea was not to pursue him, but to get help. She heard the smack, smack of his punches as he knocked out the policeman and Lawson, and reached the front door just in time to see his car disappear down the street.

Two inanimate figures were lying on the pavement; by the light of a nearby street lamp she recognized one of them as Lawson. The sight terrified her, halting her abruptly in the doorway; she thought the two men were dead.

Then she conquered her terror and went forward quickly, and bent over Lawson. He stirred, opened his eyes, and muttered a word which cannot be printed. Then he slowly raised himself on one elbow.

"What the—?" he began.

"Mr. Lawson! Mr. Lawson!" interrupted Elsa. She shook his shoulder slightly.

Lawson blinked. But his brain was clearing now, and he recollected all that had happened. He had a part to play, and he played it.

"Elsa—!" he exclaimed in a tone of utmost astonishment. "Who was that fellow? How long have you been here? When did you get home?"

But Elsa was in no state of mind to answer questions at that moment. She gripped his sleeve and tugged at it, trying to induce him to rise.

"My uncle—please come quickly—'he's been murdered," she gasped.

"What's that? Your uncle murdered?" exclaimed Lawson in a startled tone.

At this moment the policeman stirred and began to sit up. Lawson took charge of the situation. He handed the policeman to his feet. Together they followed Elsa back into the house.

Lawson was kind and efficient. He took Elsa to the kitchen and insisted on making coffee for her, while the policeman dealt with the murder.

Hurst Asks Parents To Control Kiddies On Hallowe'en Eve

Police Chief Art Hurst wants children, both small and grown-up, to have a good time on Hallowe'en but he wants them to have their fun without being destructive. There are many ways to enjoy the occasion without destroying property, soaping windows, etc., the chief believes. He urges parents to remind their children not to do things they wouldn't do at home. Some adults should also be reminded by their parents because it was older boys and girls that were most troublesome last year.

Several additional officers will be placed on duty Saturday night. They will be instructed to watch out for vandals and see that windows are not marked with soap and paint. Chief Hurst said this morning.

CHICAGO GRAIN (AP)—Despite about one cent advance of the Winnipeg market, Chicago wheat prices late today failed to maintain moderate gains.
