Midwest stock farms are as busy these days as a campus beauty shop the afternoon before the Junior prom. They are grooming prize cattle, sheep and hogs for the American Royal Livestock and Horse show—the annual Ziegfeld follies of barnyard aristocrats, to be held at Kansas City.

For the ultimate benefit of the great American stomach, some 8,000 select animals—curried and combed to the nth degree—will strut under city lights there starting tomorrow and until Oct. 24 in the 38th renewal of the nation's largest and finest beauty show. Among them will be prize-winning stock from Gray and Roberts counties.

This year—with apparently a record number of entries—the show will be a Thanksgiving holiday for worried farmers who, despite feed shortages and drought, reaped a substantial animal harvest.

"Strange as it may seem in the face of the long drought, the extraordinary temperatures, the invasion of the grasshoppers and all the trials and tribulations of a most unusual summer," says J. C. Swift, president of the American Royal, "everything indicates a greater number of exhibits in all classes, better quality of offerings, keener competition and increased attendance."

The show, started almost 40 years ago to encourage selective animal breeding for the production of better meats for the American table, serves as a clearing house for breeders and feeders in the exchange of livestock development ideas.

The first American Royal was held in a tent with an audience of farmers. Last year, staged in a specially built auditorium, it drew 200,000 spectators—most of them city consumers anxious to see a prize pork chop or club steak on the hoof.

Prizes for the horse show, which in 1925 drew entries from 20 states, will total $25,000. In the various divisions of the livestock show approximately $35,000 will be awarded. The largest single exhibitor is the Kansas State Agricultural college with 123 head of livestock.

Meeting jointly with the group-ups will be some 4,000 to 5,000 future farmers, boy and girl members of 4-H and vocational agriculture clubs. A grand prize of $500 and three regional prizes of $100 will be awarded to outstanding farm youths exhibiting entries at the show.

A high spot in the eight-day farm festival will be an address by Gov. Alf M. Landon, Republican presidential nominee, during Kansas Day ceremonies on Monday. Governors and agricultural officials of other nearby states also will attend on special state days.

And, speaking of livestock, electrically charged fences being adopted so widely by California farmers that they have state and public utility officials worried. The latter have no objection to the half dozen commercially produced fences on the market, with their carefully positioned terminals, but they are afraid of the contraptions which many amateur electricians rig up.

Already several valuable animals have been electrocuted and farm leaders are holding their breath in fear a child may be the next victim. To combat the danger, they are carrying on an educational campaign and have formed a statewide committee to write safety regulations into law.

As explained by experts, the electric fence is a safe, effective ever-developed. Consisting of only one or two strands of wire and few posts, it uses a negligible amount of current, and it is usually much cheaper than ordinary fencing.

The idea is to impart a mild shock to an animal when it touches the wire. One such jolt is usually enough to keep it away thereafter. "I have seen hogs," one expert said, "lined up on one side of a single strand of wire with a trough of food on the other and they made no move to touch it—just looked at it and squealed."

Oldsters around Logan, Ohio, say their county contributed to American folklore the "wart cure" made famous by Mark Twain in "The Adventure of Tom Sawyer."

GROOM KILLED AS BUS ROLLS OVER HIS HEAD

Car Being Shoved by Another Near Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, Oct. 16 (AP)—A quiet, early morning celebration was to have marked the first month of marriage for young Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Shivers of Smithfield. But today the 17-year-old Mrs. Shivers was a widow, while the crushed body of her husband lay in a morgue. While the bride waited at a cafe for the "anniversary party" to begin, Shivers was round beneath the wheels of a Denton-bound bus, after a collision at Haltom City, just south of the intersection of highways 10 and 121 shortly after midnight.

Authorities are investigating the collision between the bus and Shivers' automobile, which was not under power but was being shoved by a car driven by Dorris Brown, 22, of Bedford.

Brown was knocked unconscious, but not seriously hurt. Also injured were George Dawn, 18, Miss Mary Ann Wilson, 15, and L. C. York, 17, of Fort Worth.

Shivers, who was 17 and the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shivers of near Smithfield, had been riding in the bus with the battery of his automobile.

At a filling station, Shivers solicited the aid of Brown in starting the car.

Special Deputy Sheriff C. A. Harkney, 36, who was driving some 200 feet behind the bus, witnessed the crash, said that Shivers was thrown out of his car and under the bus. The right rear wheel of the heavy vehicle passed over his head. The car turned around and the other three occupants were thrown out on the left side but fell off the pavement.

'I Don't Mean Just a Living,' He Says

By D. HAROLD OLIVER. CINCINNATI, Oct. 16 (AP)—Opening his Ohio campaign before rain-drenched thousands in the University of Cincinnati stadium, President Roosevelt said today he had seen "tremendous improvement" over the country and the administration was planning for the "future security" of the country.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM. Did you ever notice a bunch of boys, either in a gang or by ones and twos, heading out toward the end of East Kingsmill? If you've been out in that direction many times you've seen them. Do you know where they were going? Out to Mrs. Heiskell's, the favorite gathering-place for many boys. She has things in her house that boys like, such as funny papers, all that are published in Chicago and Denver each week, and it takes a boy a while to read the funnies and they pass them around. Then there are good things to eat at unexpected moments. Nearby there is plenty of space to play football and baseball and tennis, and she is usually on hand to cheer and encourage at all games in which Harvesters, Gordillas, Percees, Reapers, or any other team of boys are playing. She knows almost as much about athletic games as she knows about boys and it is no wonder that she is their favorite. She enjoys a hike or a camping trip as much as they do, and she takes them often. Here is a bouquet for Mrs. Heiskell because she is the boys' favorite!

Pampans Are Urged To Attend City's Days At 2 Centennials

BY PA PAMPA. Civic-minded Pampans today turned thoughts to the Texas Centennial, preparing to leave Sunday morning for participation in "Pampa Days" Monday and Tuesday in Fort Worth and Dallas.

to join the Pampa caravan that will be Centennial-bound at 8 a. m. Sunday. It isn't too late yet to make arrangements.

Pampa should have a big representation at the Centennial exposition on these two days—days which have been set aside by the Centennial management and dedicated to Pampa.

Special arrangements have been made to entertain the Pampa delegation at the Texas world fair. It offers a splendid opportunity to visit the exposition and see everything it has to offer at minimum cost and under special supervision that will allow a complete tour of both the Fort Worth and Dallas shows.

Pampans will leave in special buses and automobiles, headed by the high school band which is being taken along to let Texans know Pampa is on the grounds. The 40-piece Harvester musical unit also will play on a program to be broadcast from Radio Station WBAP.

Flower Show Open At Church Until 9

Public Invited to See Display of Blossoms

Until 9 o'clock this evening the Presbyterian church annex will be a scene of vivid beauty which the public is invited to see.

Highly colored late blossoms are displayed in three divisions: Most perfect single specimen, best three blossoms, and most artistic arrangement.

Garden club members are acting as hostesses, welcoming the visitors and asking that they register in the guest book.

Out-of-town judges are scoring the exhibits this afternoon, a task that was expected to be completed early in the afternoon.

The club hopes that even more visitors than last year's crowd of 400 will attend the show.

Annual Carnival Plans Start for Grandview P-TA

GRANDVIEW, Oct. 16.—Plans for the annual P-T-A. carnival will get under way on Monday night when a community meeting will be called for the purpose of working out a program.

A larger crowd is expected this year than ever before and it will be necessary to care for more people than heretofore.

Wheat sowing in the community is being rapidly drawn to a close, and it is thought that by the end of the week most everyone will have completed the drilling for this year.

Miss Evelyn Johnson, a former student of Grandview school and a graduate of Pampa high school, spent Wednesday visiting in the Pampa schools.

The entire community was saddened last Friday morning by the death of Mrs. Clifford Brown, nee Mattie Stokes.

Mr. and Mrs. David Lawrence and son, Milton, of Pampa, were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Looper Sunday.

The past week was a busy one in the school, it being the end of the first six-week period accompanied by the usual tests.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kirk and children, of Plainview, visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Babcock and family last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Brown and family, of Goodnight, were Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Babcock.

ROOMS AT JUNIOR HIGH EACH TO HAVE TASK FOR CARNIVAL

Sister Mary's Kitchen

By NEA Service What about an apple dessert for dinner tonight? Apples are abundant now, inexpensive, and it would be hard to name a fruit more generally popular.

Here's a way to prepare them that you may not have tried. Pare apples and mash to a pulp, but do not cook. There should be one cup of apple pulp. Combine with 1-2 cup orange juice, 1-4 teaspoon salt and 1-4 cup powdered sugar.

Beat the yolks of 2 eggs, then pour over them 1 cup scalded milk. Cool. Combine with the apple mixture. Add 1-2 cup finely-chopped pecans. Next, beat the whites of 2 eggs until stiff and dry. Stir in the fruit mixture. Pour into six 6-ounce china or glass custard cups and freeze. Decorate with tiny apple jelly cubes just before serving.

Time for Brown Betty And there is always Brown Betty in October. But she reveals a different nature to different cooks. Here's one of her more charming moods. Peel, core and slice about 2 quarts art apple. Butter a deep baking dish. Turn in the apples and dust with this spicy mixture: 3-4 cup brown sugar, 1-2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1-8 teaspoon nutmeg and S. C. Jensen.

Lunch Concludes Parties for Bride

More Entertainment Waits Honoree in Coast City

Ending a series of courtesies for Miss Alice Gordon, bride-elect, a luncheon was given at the Eagle Buffet yesterday by Misses. Clotilde McAllister, Ann Clayton, Jewell Binford, Myrtle Faye Gilbert, and Josephine Lane.

Miss Gordon is leaving this weekend for Port Arthur, where she will be married to Charles C. Buchanan of Houston in the Presbyterian church November 17. She will visit her sister, Mrs. Rodney Robinson, until the wedding date.

A number of parties and showers have already been planned for her by friends in the coast city, including the Port Arthur branch of Beta Sigma Phi, sorority of which she is a member in the Pampa chapter.

The luncheon table yesterday was arranged with white and silver. The centerpiece was of white pom-pom chrysanthemums and miniature brides and grooms standing under silver bells. Corsages of the white flowers tied with silver ribbon marked the plates. Miss Gordon was presented with a gift by the hostesses.

Guests in addition to the honoree were Mrs. Fred Gordon of Miami, Misses. Minnie Olive Montgomery, Lois Hinton and Jewel Shaw.

YANNIGANS WILL PLAY BLACK HAWKS TONIGHT

BORGER, Oct. 16.—Amarillo high school will send a football team to Borger tonight. It won't be the Sandies but it will be a team of future Sandies now known as the Yannigans. They will meet the Phillips Black Hawks under the lights at Huber stadium at 8 o'clock. Phillips will take the field without their stellar backfield ace, "Crash" Estes, who will be out for the rest of the season with a fractured arm. Other members of the Black Hawk squad will be in fair shape when they meet the future Sandies. Probable starting lineups will be: Phillips: Calder and Sangster, ends; Wootton and Wright, tackles; Nolan and Hinkle, guards; Reddies, center; Fowler, Foster, Edmunds and Hensley, backs. Yannigans: Humphrey and Johnston, ends; Black and Easton, tackles; Parks and Williamson, guards; Pamplin, center; Boyd, Lemons, T. Gart and Warner, backs.

leave early Sunday morning for the Centennial. General plans for Pampa day at Fort Worth and Dallas: Purpose of the trip. The Centennials have urged all Texas towns and cities to set one day in their calendar as a splendid opportunity to secure some worthwhile publicity in this connection, even with a comparatively small delegation. The principal purpose will be for the individuals going to enjoy the exhibits and shows at the two Centennials and there will be no effort made to keep the delegation together. The Pampa high school band will necessarily have to stay together all of the time and they have several engagements around which the rest of the Pampa delegation can rally and thereby get together and make such plans as they see fit.

THE BAND SCHEDULE

Sunday Leave Pampa early Sunday morning, Oct. 18—arrive Fort Worth late afternoon. Register at the Hotel. Hotel. Go out to Frontier Centennial soon after having supper. The band will parade over the grounds and will play in the Pioneer Palace. Monday Broadcast on White Swan Food Parade program 8:45 a. m., Station WBAP, Fort Worth, Monday morning. West Texas Chamber of Commerce broadcast at 9:15 a. m., station WBAP, Fort Worth, dedicated to Pampa and Anson. 10:00 a. m. Picture made of band and delegation by Star Telegram photographer. Street parade band and delegation following. 12:30 Noon—Broadcast Light Crust Doughboys program at Burrus Mill & Elevator studio—over WBAP. Leave Fort Worth after lunch, about 2:30 p. m. AT DALLAS Arrive Dallas about 3:30 to 4:00, register Milan hotel, operated by Hilton hotel and adjacent to Hilton hotel. Go immediately to Centennial grounds and see the show. No playing or broadcast Monday. Tuesday 7 a. m.—Visit Early Bird program, Station WFAA in Baker Hotel, Dallas. Maybe get to play a piece. About 9:30 a. m. picture to be made by Dallas News photographer. Go to Centennial grounds. Play around grounds, perhaps play on some programs. Between 3 and 4 p. m., play concert at Grand Plaza on Centennial Grounds.

DELEGATION HEADQUARTERS

Headquarters for the main delegation will be at the Texas hotel in Fort Worth and the Baker hotel in Dallas. Subsequent announcements may be had by calling at information desk at these hotels.

trust fund, charged Fr. Coughlin, Royal Oak, Mich., radio priest, and six other trustees with "mismanagement, unlawful conduct, bad faith, negligence and breach of trust in the performance of their duties." The bill alleged also that "the defendants have permitted themselves to be emasculated of their powers by Fr. Coughlin and have permitted him to usurp an absolute and despotic control over the organization." Named defendants with Fr. Coughlin are: B. F. Stephenson, Marie W. Rhodes, Eugenia Burke, Dorothy Rhodes, E. Perrin Schwartz, Mrs. Robert E. O'Brien and the National Union for Social Justice, of Royal Oak, a Michigan corporation. O'Donnell said in his bill that he is bringing suit by his individual right as a member of the organization but that "the matters involved are of interest to all members of the suit." The bill asks for a discovery, accounting, restitution, removal of trustees, appointment of new trustees and appointment of a receiver pending disposition of the suit.

ANNIVERSARY SALE IS BEING HELD AT GRET'S

The Gretney Drug Store is celebrating its first year of business in Pampa this week-end with a special sale of drug and sundry items. W. F. Gretney, who has managed a drug store in Pampa for the past seven years, is owner of the store. Employees are Clyde Oswald, Patricia Leuter, Helen Jo Dougherty, Elmer Watkins and Jessie Marie Gilbert. Mrs. C. M. Carlock is visiting in Amarillo today.

Vessel space for about 2,000,000 bushels of wheat to be shipped from Vancouver was talked of as having been taken. There was also gossip that American mills were buying wheat in Winnipeg. West closed firm, 1/2% above yesterday's finish, Dec. 1.16 1/2, May 1.15 1/4, corn unchanged, Dec. 1 lower, Dec. 95 1/2, May 89 1/2, oats 1/2, and provisions varying from 2 cents setback to an equal gain. NEW ORLEANS COTTON, NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 16, (AP)—The trading trend was reversed shortly after the opening and prices worked up to net advances ranging from 2 to 8 points, Oct. sold at 11.95, March at 11.96 and May at 12 cents even. A heavy volume of business in dry goods, favorable advices from foreign markets and a return of speculative activity to the buying side were mainly behind the advance. One report from Worth Street said that the market for coarse yarn cloths had spurred during the week with sales estimated at 12,000,000 to 20,000,000 yards on Thursday alone. Later weather reports showed rains in the eastern half of the belt, with the west dry. Temperatures were normal. Forecasts were for generally fair weather over the belt except for some moisture produced for the Atlantic coast area. ROYAL KISS CHEERED, BUCHAREST, Rumania, Oct. 16 (AP)—A royal kiss was big news throughout Rumania today. Queen Mother Marie bestowed the kiss upon her son, King Carol. The occasion was the monarch's 43rd birthday. Rumania immediately saw in the queen mother's gesture of affection an indication of reconciliation in the long-divided royal house. Mrs. Harold T. White was able to leave Pampa-Jarratt hospital this morning.

JUNIOR HIGH STUDENTS GIVE CAMPAIGN TALKS FOR TWO CANDIDATES

Franklin D. Roosevelt and Gov. Alf M. Landon, presidential aspirants, clashed at the noonday meeting of Pampa Kiwanis today through their respective defenders, Dan Buzard and James Brown, Pampa high school pupils. Buzard and Brown, introduced by R. A. Selby, principal of Junior High School, gave members of the luncheon club the low-down and high-up on the two presidential candidates, from the viewpoints of party campaigners. Principal Selby, in charge of today's program, also discussed the six proposed constitutional amendments on which Texas voters will cast their ballots in November. Tom Aldridge, chairman of the club's goodwill committee, called attention to and invited Pampans to attend a box supper party to be given at Grandview school on Oct. 27, and to a Halloween party at Hopkins school on Saturday, Oct. 31. Mr. Aldridge also urged support to Pampa school carnivals to be held in the Junior High school, Oct. 20; at Horace Mann school, Oct. 27, and at Woodrow Wilson school, on Oct. 30. President William Jarratt announced plans for a Kiwanis-sponsored bridge tournament to be held in the dining room and lobby of Hotel Schneider during Halow'en week.

also to occupations and business, that, he added, is why the administration is "trying to make a rounded picture" and work out something that will "affect every kind of business." He said he thought the audience understood why the government had helped with work projects, such as expansion of the university stadium. Three years ago, he said: "The unemployment situation was so serious that "something had to be done," and the question arose of finding the best kind of work to provide for the needy. The question was put up to cities and local communities and they recommended the projects to the projects to the government, he said. "And you know," he said as a roar went up from the crowd, "that this aided very much in the national recovery we've had in the past three years." He said he believed it could truthfully be said that there was no one who labors who was not better off than three and a half years ago.

from plant stalks, into a wide variety of useful manufactured products and also into animal feed and for litter and plant mulches. A. B. Conner, director of the Texas agricultural experiment station, College Station, Texas, advised the establishment of a research institute in the Southern belt for laboratory research and experimental work looking toward efficient utilization of the cotton plant. He pointed out a variety of new uses to which he said cotton might be put, ranging from bagging for staple goods to molding, materials, insulation, roofing, wall paper and better grades of fabrics and clothing. Such laboratory or laboratories, he said, "understanding the needs of both agriculture and industry, would serve both enterprises to the mutual profit of both." J. S. Abbott, secretary of the Institute of Margarine Manufacturers, Washington, D. C., outlined the manufacture and uses of margarine and advocated the removal of tariffs which have been raised against it. Bagasse came into today's sessions for wide discussion. Walter Godchaux, of New Orleans, described it as an agricultural waste which in Louisiana is being turned into board formation and other products through chemical manufacture. He said that sugar cane bagasse could be turned into animal feed by the addition of palatable nutrients.

New Mexico Woman Dies at Kingsmill

Mrs. J. W. Killgo, 47, of Dunlap, N. M., died yesterday afternoon at the home of a son, D. P. Killgo, at the Magnolia Pipe Line camp at Kingsmill. She had been in ill health for 20 years. Eleven days ago Mrs. Killgo came to Kingsmill to visit her son. She became seriously ill and died at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Survivors are her husband, two daughters, Edith and Mildred, at home, two sons, D. P. at Kingsmill and Colan of Dunlap, her mother, Mrs. S. C. Plemmons, Hot Springs, Ark., and five brothers, Ralph Plemmons, Coriand Plemmons and Hubert Plemmons, all of Hot Springs, Alonzo Plemmons, Cordell, Okla., and Frazier Plemmons, Magazine, Ark. Funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the chapel at Pampa Mortuary with the Rev. Will C. House, pastor of First Methodist church, in charge. Burial will follow in Fairview cemetery.

one-fourth instead of one-half per cent of gross receipts. Senator Gordon Burns of Huntsville successfully sponsored a levy of one and one-half per cent on the gross receipts of outdoor advertising, including billboards, and radio stations of more than 1,000 watts power. Lieut.-Gov. Walter Woodul appointed Allan Shivers of Port Arthur, W. R. Poage of Waco, G. H. Nelson of Lubbock and Burns and Rawlings to a conference committee to adjust differences with the House on an unemployment compensation bill. The Senate received the nomination of Pat Dougherty of Austin, former assistant attorney general, to the chairmanship of the liquor control board, in succession to D. B. Benson of Bowie, resigned. Black Tax Argued The House began floor consideration of a proposal to levy a 4 per cent tax on carbon black. Cecil Lotief of Cross Plains said the tax was fair and would bring in about $1,000,000 a year. Eugene Worley of Shamrock contended the industry could not stand the burden. The bill was pending when the House adjourned until Monday. One hundred and twelve of the representatives present registered a vote in favor of a resolution indorsing the candidacies of President Roosevelt and Vice-President Garner. The House membership is 150. There was not a single "no."

LONG-TIME RESIDENT OF WHITE DEER DIES

Death claimed another longtime resident of the Panhandle early this afternoon when pneumonia caused the death of Joseph W. Seitz, 65, at his home in White Deer. He was the father of Grover Seitz, well known Pampian. Surviving Mr. Seitz are his wife, four daughters, Mrs. J. Y. Wright and Mrs. Pearl Ferguson, both of Mobeetie, Miss Edith Seitz, and White Deer. The body lies at rest at the Charles Duenkel Funeral home pending funeral arrangements.

"The laboring population of the Soviet Union is fulfilling its duty to the struggling population of Spain," the message said at one point. (By The Associated Press) Peasants of Spain, Impressed by the Madrid high command, threw up barbed wire entanglements within 20 miles of the capital today to stop a surge of fascist soldiers. Between Brunetti and Villaviecosa de Odan the peasant squadrons worked feverishly to string the barbed-wire, socialist militiamen poured into the trenches and the newspaper voice of the leftist front government warned: "The situation is delicate!" AUTOCRACIES TO BLAME FOR MENACE OF WAR

Recent news from Europe may be both confusing and ominous, but it does seem to prove once more that it is the autocracy and not the democracy which is a menace to world peace.

The reason is simple. An autocracy can get very hard-boiled in an international crisis without stopping to find out how the man on the street corner feels about it. A democracy cannot.

The democracy looks for a peaceable way to settle things; the autocracy lays its chips on the line and invites anyone who thinks it is bluffing to call the bet.

The Spanish rebellion offers an instructive example. The two principle democracies of Europe, England and France, have worked desperately from the start to keep the trouble from spreading. Obviously, they do not want to go to war—for the excellent reason that their statesmen know perfectly well the ordinary Englishman and the ordinary Frenchman wouldn't stand for it.

So the English and the French devised a non-interference pact and went around Europe coaxing everyone to sign it.

Now look at the record of the dictatorships. The Italians gave a contemptuous lip service to the agreement and sent a flock of military airplanes to the Spanish rebels. The Germans sent a naval squadron to Spanish waters, acted very tough with it, and circulated the impression that they were ready to move up horse, foot, and guns if anyone didn't like it.

Then the Russian dictatorship followed suit, denouncing the Germans and the Italians in a way that has led Europe much closer to the edge of war than most people like to think about.

All of which creates one more tense situation which the statesmen from London and Paris are trying frantically to ease.

The thing to bear in mind is that all the warlike moves have come from the dictatorships, and all the peaceful moves from the democracies.

The dictators are perfectly willing to skate right up to the edge of the precipice—up to a point where the smallest "incident" could send them and the rest of Europe over the brink.

The democracies are doing their level best to stay as far away from the precipice as the law allows.

Now the ordinary German, the ordinary Italian, and the ordinary Russian may not feel any more like going out and getting shot on some foreign battlefield than do the ordinary Englishman and the ordinary Frenchman, who don't feel like it at all.

But the point is that what the German, the Italian, and the Russian feels like is of no importance. They have to do as they are told and like it.

It is only in the democracies that the citizen's abhorrence of war is something that need to be taken into account.

Nearly 20 years ago we were advised that we must make the world safe for democracy. The advice is still sound. A dictatorship is a standing menace to world peace.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

CHICAGO.—In the face of a growing belief among politicians and students of politics that Roosevelt has an edge in the presidential contest, Gov. Alf Landon and the Republicans have set out to prove that an election can be won in the last month of a campaign.

Landon himself, according to those who have been with him daily since his nomination, is more confident of victory than at any previous time. At one period, they say, he felt there wasn't much hope.

Enough of the political map has jelled to enable the Republican high command to boil the situation down to one nutshell formula. Here it is:

Landon must carry New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, and New Jersey if he is to be elected. If he loses a single state among the first five—the "Big Five"—he is sunk. He might win them all and still lose the election, but no such thing has ever happened.

If you care to take out your pencil and play the game which everyone, down to the youngest office boy, at major party headquarters is now playing, you can have herewith the latest confidential figuring among the Republican big shots, whose Chicago offices are spread through three large downtown buildings.

New England, they are sure, will throw the 41 electoral votes of her six states to Landon.

Add that to a possible 47 from New York, 36 from Pennsylvania, 29 from Illinois, 26 from Ohio, 19 from Michigan, 16 from New Jersey, and 14 from Indiana. The total is 228. A majority in the electoral college, requisite for victory, is 266.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE ESTIMATES THE YEARLY DAMAGE DONE BY INSECTS AT ABOUT TWO BILLION DOLLARS!

THE Department of Agriculture estimates the damage done by only 34 of the country's greatest insect pests at about $900,000,000 yearly, with the boll weevil alone accounting for $164,000,000. There are 700,000 known kinds of insects in the world, and about 50,000 of these live in North America.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

BY GEORGE TUCKER.

You cover the night clubs like this in New York:

It is 11:30 p. m. and in half an hour a crack floor show is going to be undraped in one of the important Broadway cabarets. The boys have been touting this one for weeks, so you grab a cab and wheel on over to an effort to salvage a table before the inevitable mob sets in.

It's an uninspiring place from the outside—except for that strangely familiar figure who hands you down from the taxi. He is turned out in the livery of a St. James Palace footman and for a moment he invokes some intangible wisp of memory that tugs at the past and wants to know, "Where have I seen you before?" Well, you can't be bothered about that now.

But inside it's another world. The saxophones are sobbing and the young men are sighing as they sway with their partners to the nostalgic strains of "If we never meet again, I'll have a rose to remem-ber." There's a girl in black velvet, a beauty with a dab of coral at the throat, who spies Jack Dempsey. "Hi, kid!" she calls.

Sauntering through the mob, you pause to chat with John Halliday, who is going to star in a play called "Tovarich" . . . "How was Piccadilly?" you inquire, for he has just returned from Blyth. "Well, it was damn hot! It's like to be back on this Island of Manacles." Which reminds you that Halliday hasn't been on Broadway in two years, not since he and Jane Cowl starred in "Rain From Heaven."

It's a sea of faces—some of them familiar, but most of them "names" that haunt the headlines.

There's Tallulah Bankhead, the girl with chrysanthemum hair who hails from Alabama. And Harry Ferguson, the Bowery boy who flourished merrily for a season as "Prince" Mike Romanoff. Lou Holtz, the nonchalant comic, edges by. And Beatrice Lillie—but you know the crowd.

As for the show—that seems unimportant in this melange of personalities. It's novel and it's gay, but it follows the usual Rialto pattern. Broadway wouldn't like it if it didn't. The tunes are crisp and just naughty enough to be diverting. The girls undress right down to the legal limit, but the audience is saved at the last moment by a well-heeled electrician who douses all the lights just as things begin to get really exciting. The lights are immediately flashed back on, but it's too late. The girls have disappeared.

"Let me tell you a story that is unbelievable," a familiar voice breathes in your ear. It's the press agent, and you silently agree with him that it shouldn't be believed—until he offers evidence that permits you to ascertain the veracity of his extravagant claims.

"Remember the cutie third from the end—the brunette? There's a great story behind her. She was born a paralytic. Never took a step until she was 13. Now at 17 she's dancing in a night club. Good stuff, huh? Her name is Sally and she was born in Delancey street. Only local dame in the show."

The press agent goes on and the scene somehow slips out of focus, like the blur of a diffused photograph. It will be this way until the last show goes on and then the mob will retrieve its tophats and scatter in the ineluctable daylight.

HOW'S your HEALTH

REDUCING THE APPENDICITIS TOLL

The appendix is a blind gut. It is shaped like a glove finger and is attached to the lower right end of the colon at the place where the small intestines open into it.

The "purpose" or function of the appendix is still a matter of conjecture. It is thought that the appendix is a stunted remnant of an organ that in time past served some useful end. Certainly the removal of the appendix causes no perceptible or deleterious change in the functioning of the digestive system.

The appendix is peculiarly subject to infection and inflammation. When the infection goes on to pus formation, and the condition is not spontaneously resolved (the pus is not absorbed), it threatens serious consequences. Unless the appendix is surgically removed, it may break or rupture and pour its infectious materials into the abdominal cavity. Then there may develop an inflammation of the lining membrane of the abdominal cavity, the peritonitis, giving life to the life-endangering complication, peritonitis.

Despite the marked improvement in surgical practice, vital statistics record a rise in the nation's death rate from appendicitis during the last decade. Whether this rise is to be accounted for by an increase in the prevalence of the disease, or by the fact that more cases of appendicitis are nowadays correctly diagnosed and reported, is hard to determine. Probably both factors contribute.

Three elements contribute to the reduction of appendicitis deaths. The first of these is, so to say, entirely in the hands of the public. It revolves about the use of cathartics and purgatives in cases of so-called "stomach ache." Cathartics should not be used in the presence of abdominal pain. No drug likely to stimulate intestinal activity should be given to the ailing person suffering from any derangement of the gastro-intestinal tract.

The second factor concerns delay in calling a physician, because it is

TRANS-PACIFIC FLIGHT

Chapter XXIII

The ship was battling its way through the storm, half way to Midway Island, when Kay made her presence known to Ted in the chart room.

She had seen Illah board the plane and, sensing danger to Ted, had wanted to be near him. She hurriedly bought the heavy black veil and boarded the plane as a passenger. Neither Illah nor Ted had recognized her.

Ted took her hands. "Kay!" he exclaimed, "What are you doing here?"

"I wanted to be near you," she said simply. "I wanted to explain—"

He ran a worried hand across his forehead. "As if I didn't have enough on my mind!" he said.

The navigation officer turned suddenly and barked some figures. The latter took a few steps to the cockpit and repeated the command to the first pilot. A gust of wind set the ship rocking from side to side. Then rain poured down.

Ted came back to Kay with beads of sweat on his forehead. "Sit in the corner there," he said, "and don't talk to me. We're riding the worst storm I've seen in 10,000 hours in the air."

As the storm progressed navigation became increasingly difficult. Shifting high and low pressure areas added drift to the problems of the navigation officer who sat close to Ted in the chart room. A beam wind of high velocity forced him to change the course.

But the steady, dull roar of the wind and rain endured outside. The radio sets were working properly. The direction finder, used for radio navigation, had a range of more than 1,000 miles. One of the men in the chart room was in communication with the ground stations.

At intervals the radio officer brought messages to Ted. Atmospheric conditions were increasingly bad at Midway. The radio station reported that the Mariner's signals were weak. One hour after the storm began the signals from Honolulu radio station ceased.

Ted sat huddled over the chart and ran a hand through his hair. He knew that, but for this fault of the radio, everything was going well. He had ordered and they were obeyed rapidly. The crew had complete confidence in him.

When the storm showed no signs of relenting, Ted left his post and went back into the compartments. Kay watched him. Some of the passengers were panicking and they were being calmed down by the crew.

And we can't do any blind flying in this storm."

He went to the sight-hatch to have a look at the storm. They were still flying in pitch black night. He strained his eyes out toward the radio antennae and inspected the loop in the sight-hatch.

Suddenly Ted realized that they were lost over the open sea. He didn't know how he sensed the fact, but he did. Something out of his long experience in the air told him as surely as could an instrument.

An hour passed and Ted knew he had aged in that hour. The radio officer still couldn't make the direction finder work. Ted gave the order to trip down from the 7,000 foot level to a few hundred feet over the surface of the water. With perspiration running off his forehead, he stood in the cockpit and watched the instrument board. One thousand feet. Five hundred feet. Three hundred feet. He ought to have been able to see the waves, but there was nothing but murky fog above and below.

Ceiling zero!

The giant flying boat swerved back up into the skies. He couldn't chance flying so close to the surface with visibility zero.

The radio officer came running with a penciled note. "The signals from Midway are getting weaker and weaker," he said. "They were stronger an hour ago. And we've lost Honolulu for good."

Ted looked anxiously at the navigation officer before he read the note. "What does that mean?"

The navigation officer shrugged his shoulders. "We're going away. Off the course. We may be lost."

Ted read the note.

"YOUR SIGNALS WEAKER NOW. ARE YOU OFF COURSE? WHAT'S TROUBLE WITH DIRECTION FINDER? STORMY OVER ISLAND. CEILING ZERO."

Ted crumpled the note and flung it to the floor. "We're lost and sea-ing," he said, and then glanced at Kay, who had been sitting quietly in the corner, saying nothing.

"Carry on," he said quietly to the navigation officer. Then he came to Kay, took her hands in his. "Don't be afraid," he told her. "Kay stood up. "I'm not afraid, Ted. I'm with you."

She turned when she thought she felt the door open at her back, but she went on talking. "Ted, tell me quickly. Has that woman Illah, ever been curious—exceptionally curious—about the details of the gyroplot?"

Ted caught her wrists, alarm in his eyes. "Yes, she has! She's tried to get me to show it to her on several occasions. I thought it was a woman's idle curiosity."

Kay's eyes opened wide. "Ted, I know! I followed her in Honolulu and I've suspected her all along. Last night I saw her with Jack Slade, that renegade aviator in Honolulu—"

"That rat!" Ted snapped. "For 20 years Kay has made a traffic of aviation secrets. He's worked for private firms, for foreign governments."

"Ted, she's after the secret of the gyroplot. She is his accomplice—"

The door opened slowly, and a white hand was thrust in. Illah appeared, the other hand behind her white robe. She bolted the door behind her, and slowly lifted an automatic from beneath the veil. She pointed the wicked little muzzle at Ted.

"You are very clever," she said to Kay. "But you are also amateurish. Keep your hands up," she directed Ted and the navigation officer, who had both stood up, hesitant.

"I heard all you said. Since the ship is lost, I must work fast. Illah went on. "If I die, I must know that my work has been well done. The gyroplot!" she said sharply. "Give me the plans quickly."

THROAT OPERATION IS FATAL TO MARLEN PEW

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP)—The newspaper world mourned today the death of Marlen Pew, 58, former editor of the trade journal, "Editor and Publisher," and vigorous crusader for a free press.

Few died in a hospital yesterday after a throat operation. Ill health forced him to resign last June the editorship he had held since 1924.

Through 42 years of work in newspapers, news services and magazines, he advocated a "critical, crusading, conscientious, intelligent, public service journalism." He held that three institutions, religion, speech, and the press, should be independent of all restraint — "free even to go wrong."

KPDN RADIO STATION CONTEST WINNERS TO ATTEND CENTENNIAL

The winners of the recent Centennial Jingle Contest, as conducted by Radio Station KPDN, will be awarded their free trips to the Centennial during Pampa Days, which have been designated as next Monday and Tuesday. The winners will meet in Pampa, Sunday morning at 7:30, when they will leave by bus for the Centennial. KPDN is paying the transportation, hotel bills, meals and the tour of the exposition grounds. The Centennial jingle contest was sponsored by a number of Pampa merchants, and a great deal of interest was manifested by the public during the contest.

In addition to the Pampa group, who will go to the Centennial, a similar group from Borger will join the local group and will also attend. Those attending from Borger are the winners of the Borger Studio Centennial popularity contest. Six popular young ladies of Borger won the free trip to the Centennial in the contest, sponsored by a group of Borger merchants, in which seven million votes were cast, and in which a large number of young ladies were participants.

KPDN selected this particular time for the Centennial trip so that the winners might be privileged to attend at the same time a large number of Pampa and Borger citizens will attend, and that is on Pampa Day, Monday at Fort Worth and Tuesday in Dallas.

Corsicana Man Is Detained at Laredo

LAREDO, Oct. 16 (AP)—Authorities held a 27-year old Corsicana man today after he attempted to enter Mexico with a 12-year old Corsicana girl who he said was his wife.

Mexican immigration officials, suspicious about the girl's age, called George J. Monohan, chairman of the board of special inquiry of the U. S. Immigration service, when the man presented a tourist card for himself and his wife, "aged 20."

Monohan said the girl finally admitted her age was 12 and she did not know why she was being taken to Mexico. She said, Monohan quoted, the man had mistreated her on several occasions during the past month.

American immigration officers turned the man over to the sheriff's office for further investigation.

SCOUT NEWS

Several Boy Scouts who had not attended regular meetings of Troop 80 for several months have started coming back. Last night, the troop had one new tenderfoot member, Haynes. The troop welcomed back Robert Fletcher who was unable to attend during the summer.

Bill Coons patrol won the attendance prize with 100 per cent of the members present. Games were played and in the meeting that followed the troop's participation in the October Court of Honor was discussed. Patrol meetings were attended as follows:

Thunder Bird—Doyle Aulds, Soren Jensen, Jimmie Sanders, Jun. Roland, Grove Lee Heskell, Richard Keuhl, Jimmy Bennett. This patrol had three absent.

White Mustang patrol—Junior Green, leader; Jack Crout, assistant; Eert Isbell, Terrell, Pat Patterson, Max Roland.

Buffalo patrol—R. G. Candler, leader; Robert Fletcher and Maurice Heard.

Norvell Hughes and Odell Friar were visitors.

2 FOR 1 SALE BEING HELD BY DRUG STORE

The City Drug Store is holding this week-end its regular "2 for 1" sale when the regular items are sold for the short period two for the price of one.

Most of the items of the store are to be sold under this plan.

SHEARER RECUPERATES
SANTA MONICA, Calif., Oct. 16 (AP)—Lively Norma Shearer of the screen, whose husband, Irving Thalberg, died last month, was recuperating today from a serious attack of bronchial pneumonia.

She has been in bed for 10 days, but the nature of her illness was not disclosed until last night.

Pampans Attend Association of Peace Officers

County Attorney Sherman White, Deputy Sheriffs O. T. Lindsey and Buford Reed, and Constable O. E. Stewart, of LaParo, returned last night from Memphis where they went yesterday to attend closing sessions of the North Texas and Southern Oklahoma Peace Officers' Association.

At the final session yesterday a resolution asking that special distinctive, illuminated signs for officers' cars be provided was drawn up by the resolutions committee. It would provide a uniform means of identification that would greatly increase the efficiency of officers and remove one of their greatest handicaps, the resolution stated. Other recommendations called for altering of the present liquor law to provide that the purchaser of illegal liquor would not be an accomplice to the vendor, and for legislation requiring universal fingerprinting.

More than 100 delegates—sheriffs, deputies, police chiefs and identification experts—from two states attended the two-day session here. H. A. Savage of Hollis is president of the association.

Fred Hobart of Canadian, with a score of 4, won the pistol shooting range by C. L. Sloan of Memphis. Order in which other contestants placed was Jess Leverett of Wichita Falls, Cap Wyatt of Wichita Falls, Bill Queen of Canadian, Harry King, Buster Hornaday and A. Grady, all of Wichita Falls, and H. M. Breedlove of Clarendon.

Mrs. Ed Smith of Lawton, Okla., won first in the ladies' division with Mrs. W. E. Wyatt of Wichita Falls, second, and Mrs. Jess Leverett of Wichita Falls, third.

Hollis, Okla., was selected as the next convention city.

ONLY ONE MANAGER TO LOSE JOB IN LEAGUES

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP)—The wolves who were howling for about half the managerial scalps in the big leagues during the closing weeks of the recent baseball season, apparently were barking up the wrong tree nearly every time they let off a blast.

LOU GEHRIG IS NAMED 'MOST VALUABLE' PLAYER TO YANKS

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16 (AP)—Lou Gehrig, the "Iron Man" first baseman of the world champion New York Yankees and leading home run hitter of the 1936 American league season, was named today by the Baseball Writers' Association of America the "most valuable player to his team."

The association announced its official junior loop 1936 poll gave the award to "Columbia Lou" with 73 votes. His nearest rival was Luke Appling, sensational shortstop of the Chicago White Sox, who received 65 votes.

Four members of the association's committee of eight, named to conduct the poll, picked Gehrig for top ranking while three chose Appling. Hank Greenberg of the Detroit Tigers, out with injuries this year, received last year's award.

Earl Averill, Cleveland Indians' clouting outfielder, was third with 48 votes. Charley Gehringer, the Detroit Tigers' dependable second baseman, finished in fourth position with 39 and was the only player besides Gehrig and Appling to receive a first place mention, which carried ten votes.

Following Gehrig were Bill Dickey, New York Yankees catcher, 29 votes; Joe Kuhel of the Washington Senators and Vernon Kennedy, White Sox mound star, bracketed at 27 votes, and Joe DiMaggio, star Yankee rookie outfielder, with 26. DiMaggio received two second choice votes for nine points each.

Other American leaguers receiving five or more votes were: Tommy Bridges, Detroit Tigers pitcher, 25; Hal Trosky, Cleveland, home run hitting first baseman, 19; Jimmy Fox, Boston Red Sox first baseman, 16; Gerald Walker, Detroit outfielder, 14; Beau Bell, St. Louis Browns, 10.

ISLANDS DISCOVERED

MOSCOW, Oct. 16 (AP)—Soviet explorers reported today they had discovered 19 new islands near the Nordenschild archipelago in the north polar region. They returned to Archangel on the Russian ice-breaker Sedoff for the winter.

Black-Draught High In Quality Without Being High In Price

Black-Draught is "easy to pay for" because it is so economically packaged and so reliable.

But as to quality, there's nothing "cheap" about it. For instance, its principal active ingredient is the leaves of a certain species of plant that are brought 10,000 miles from where they grow to the factory where the medicine is made. These leaves, from far, far away, help to give Black-Draught its well-known "laxative reliability." They could not be left out, or substituted, without real loss of good medicinal quality.

Five, insist on Black-Draught. About 25 doses in each 25-cent package. For a good, purely vegetable laxative.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
901 N. Frost St.

"Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Oct. 15. The golden text is: "Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us" (Hebrews 9:24).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the spirit unto unfeigned love of the brethren, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently" (1 Peter 1:22).

The lesson-sermon includes also Christian Science textbook: "The prayer that reforms the sinner and heals the sick in an absolute faith that all things are possible to God,—a spiritual understanding of Him, —an unselfish love" (page 1).

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS
BY WILL H. MAYES.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. As evidence of good faith inquiries must give their names and addresses, but only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. What was Noah Smithwick's trade or profession? D. G.
A. He followed many pursuits: was a blacksmith, locksmith, school teacher, ranger, builder of mills and gins, and an adventurous trader. In his late life he dictated to his daughter a story of his Texas experiences and observations, which give a vivid picture of early Texas life.

Q. Was Bowie ever in business in San Antonio? J. S.
A. He was in business there in 1828, and probably until 1831, when he started with 10 men for the Presidio San Saba in search of the reputed "Lost Gold Mine." They encountered a band of 164 Indians and killed 62 of them with a loss of only one man. It was in 1831 that he married Ursula Veramendi, a daughter of Vice Governor Veramendi, of San Antonio, the wife and two children dying of cholera in Saitillo in 1833.

Q. Who were the first group from out of Texas to join the revolution against Mexico? W. A. B.

A. The "New Orleans Grays" under command of Captain Robert C. Morris, who reached Texas, November 21, 1835.

Q. For whom was the town of Lockhart, Caldwell county, named? O. R.
A. For Bird Lockhart, a surveyor in Austin's colony, who owned the league of land upon which the town was started about 1840. The place was first called Lockhart Springs, but when Caldwell county was organized in 1846, it was made the county seat and Springs was dropped from the name.

Q. When did a colony of Poles settle at Bandera? B. K.
A. A number of the first Poles to come to Texas, who settled first at Panna Maria, moved to Bandera in February, 1855.

Frogs And Aggies To Meet In Standout Game Saturday

HUBBELL HURLS SHUTOUT BALL AS MEEKER WINS 2 TO 1 TILT

LUBBOCK WILL PLAY HERE ON NEXT FRIDAY

HARVESTERS MAY WIN AT GREENVILLE TONIGHT

The Pampa Harvesters will open the 1936 conference season next Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock against the Lubbock Westerners on the turf at Harvesters field. The game was originally scheduled for Saturday afternoon but at the request of Lubbock school officials, the game was set up a day.

Tonight at 8 o'clock in Greenville, the Harvesters will meet the big Greenville Lions. The Pampans are given an outside chance to put a mark in the win column. The Mitchelmen have been fighting average size and experience for several weeks and making good showings. Tonight will see them battling against size only.

Coach Milton Moffett of the Lions is reported to have changed his backfield for the game. He plans to send a bunch of lightweights into the game in an effort to combat the speed of the Harvester backs, should they be able to get past the big Greenville line, which averages about 185 pounds per man. Coach Milton has a battery of giants in his regular backfield, led by Roy Travis.

Coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejan are depending on Woodriddle and Showers being able to play when they left here. The little quarterback has been out of the game with a sprained ankle while Showers suffered red line burns in the Capital Hill game last week. Other members of the team were in good shape when they left here Thursday morning by bus.

Should Woodriddle be unable to play, J. W. Graham will call signals and Aver will go to halfback. With Showers out, Woody Clements would be stationed at halfback. John Henry Wilson was expected to be back at tackle after a siege of boils.

Only two more games remain to be played on the home field this season. The big battle will be next Friday when the Lubbock Westerners come to town primed to take their first game of the conference. It is Lubbock that is being talked as the only team to stop Amarillo.

The Westerners have a big line, especially at the middle three positions where the players average 192 pounds per man. The backfield early in the season was one of the best in the district but the loss of Ince, passer and punter, who has been declared ineligible, set the Westerners back on their heels for a time. The hole in the secondary is being filled, coaches believe, and the Westerners will be loaded for bear when they come to Pampa.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP)—There are 90 applicants for Casey Stengel's job at Brooklyn, which just goes to show you anything can happen. Judge Steve McKeever says a National League man will be picked to pilot the Daffy Dodgers, which means Burrell Grimes. Jimmy Johnston of the Garden is going around town calling Mike Jacobs a Shylock. All Mike wanted for a Bob Pasternak-Joe Louis go in the Garden was 40 per cent of the gate for Louis and a year's option on Pastor.

Big football day tomorrow. Army will show Harvard one of the best one-man teams in the country. It wouldn't surprise this bureau to see Penn do a fight-about face and scare the wits out of Princeton. The Georgia Tech-Duke winner has a chance for a Rose Bowl bid if Notre Dame trips Pitt. Those of you who have been chiding this bureau for picking Duke just try to remember when any team beat Wallace two years in a row.

That first belt Harry Balsamo fired at Eric Seelig the other night was heard all over the Hippodrome. How that guy can hit! Ralph Kercheval, the greatest kicker in football, smiles when he reads the headline raves about the collegers doing 90 yards or better. How many of 'em ever kick a 50-yard field goal? The baseball season was a success for Joe Dimaggio, but not for some of his admirers, who bet he would wind up with a batting average of .350. Final figures show Joe finished with .323.

This week's best football long shot is Wisconsin to upset Notre Dame. Travis Jackson was the only player in the 1936 World Series who was in the 1923 fall classic—the last time the Yankees and Giants met for the title.

Farmers Will Try to Keep Perfect Record

DALLAS, Oct. 16 (AP)—Coach Leo (Dutch) Meyer's smooth aerial machine, piloted by the redoubtable "Shinin' Sam" Baugh, sets down on Texas A. & M.'s Kyle field tomorrow for the stand-out fight of a busy Southwest Conference week-end. The Aggies, groping their way out of a football wilderness that has held them fast for a decade, will not only be protecting an undefeated, "untied" record, but fighting for their first triumph over a Christian team in a dozen years. Eyes of all Southwest grid fans will be trained on the college straggle, but other games include:

University of Arkansas vs. George Washington, at Washington, D. O., Friday night.

Vanderbilt vs. Southern Methodist, at Dallas.

Baylor vs. Texas, at Austin.

Rice Institute vs. Georgia, at Athens, Ga.

Up and scrambling after their early season knockdown by Texas Tech, the Christians, with Baugh steering, passers never before, will be gunning for their ninth straight win over the Aggies. The Frogs, with Baugh, Bob Harrell, Vic Montgomery and Glenn (Donkey) Roberts in the 175 pound average backfield will be running and passing behind a 200-pound line that sparked against Tulsa last week.

Until now the Aggies have depended upon the kicking toes of Johnny Morrow, Giant end, and Bill Boyd, substitute back, for field goal victories, but Coach Homer Norton expects his "line" backfield of Dick Todd, the sophomore sprinter, Bob Neas, Waylon Manning and Les Cummings, to swing back into form. This quartet has been worked until nightfall throughout the week perfecting a defense for Baugh's disastrous passes.

Southern Methodist, back from the ash heap after a stunning showing against Fordham at New York last week, will face Ray Morrison's Vanderbilt Commodores and their aerial magic in a game, that for sentiment and sensations, probably rates tops the nation. Over Morrison, unknown until he coached a Methodist "aerial circus" to international fame over a 17 year period, comes back to battle his old school and Moty Bell, the warm friend he grabbed from the unemployed and installed as head coach upon his departure. Morrison's son, passing-leaveing Jack Morrison, will not have the chance to lose his bullet throws for the Methodists. His ankle was snapped in the Fordham game.

The University of Texas "mystery" team, still a hard bunch to figure despite fine showings against Louisiana State and Oklahoma, launches its conference against a disappointing Baylor team. The Longhorns blossomed into a dangerous offensive team in the latter part of the Oklahoma game, riding the air lines to triumph. Baylor rushed into a surprising 10-0.

Lead against Arkansas last week only to fold up before a shocking aerial raid that netted the Porkers victory in the last eight minutes. The veteran Baylor eleven came out unscathed, however, and will be ready for Texas. Rice's Owls, beset by injuries, invade Athens, Ga., for a tilt with a Georgia Bulldog still groggy after the 47-7 lacing taken from Louisiana State last week-end. Despite its injuries and illness, Rice rates a nod over Georgia on the basis of a much better showing against Louisiana State three weeks ago.

Arkansas takes its aerial cunning to Washington—the first time out of the Southwest for an Arkansas team. Jack Robbins and Sloan, the Razorback aerial specialists who have completed 45 out of 105 passes tossed thus far, will head a Razorback offensive expected to make their first eastern invasion a success.

POLITICAL PARSONS URGED TO BE SILENT

BALTIMORE, Oct. 16 (AP)—The Catholic Review, official organ of Archbishop Michael J. Curley of Baltimore, urged Father Charles E. Coughlin and Msgr. John A. Ryan editorially today to "retire into solitude and rest a while."

"The rest of us need a little rest from the two gentlemen," the editorial said, referring indirectly to Monsignor Ryan of the Catholic university, Washington, and the Detroit radio orator as "political parsons."

"If both the reverend gentlemen would retire for some time to the Carthusian Order, where perpetual silence is observed, they would do a great favor to the church and to the country at large," the editorial said.

UNEXPECTED EVIDENCE
MILWAUKEE—A set of false teeth betrayed Mark Baker, 29, as a hit and run driver. Charles Parker, 31, was killed when struck by a car on a highway. Noting a dent in a fender on Baker's car, police stopped him for questioning. On the the running board were Parker's missing false teeth. Baker was sentenced to 11 months in the workhouse.

A feature of a recent Notre Dame scrimmage was a lateral pass that gained 30 yards. It went from Ben (Bing) Binkowski to Chuck (Browner) Boroski, "Irish" backs.

PROFESSIONAL LINEMEN GET $100 A WEEK

BACKS DRAW $150 AS SALARIES BECOME ADJUSTED

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP)—The era of fabulous salaries in professional football is past; linemen are paid on an average of $100 a game and backs $150, John V. Mara, president of the New York Giants said today. "We found out," he explained, "that it didn't work to pay one star around $500 a game and the rest of his teammates about $100. The majority resented it and their resentment sometimes showed in their play."

"But it's a better profession for the majority of the players today. The money the stars were getting a year ago now being distributed more evenly over the squad, and they know now that they'll be paid the full amount of their season's contract even if they're hurt in the first game."

The scale of wages for linemen remains below that of the backs, despite the fact that forwards capable of playing big time pro ball are harder to find than good backs. Mara said that both Ken Strong and Harry Newman, who have since left the club, were paid over $10,000 by the Giants last year, but that the system of paying them so much more than the other members of the squad did not work out.

"Jay Berwanger wanted a guarantee of $10,000 a year for two years to play pro football," Mara related. "But though he would probably be the best drawing card in the game this season, no one was willing to guarantee that much."

Others Mara listed as top-priced players were Bronko Nagurski and Jack Manders of the Chicago Bears; Cliff Battles of the Boston Redskins; Dave Shulker, recruit fullback with the Philadelphia Eagles; Bobby Wilson of the Brooklyn Dodgers, and Ed Danowski, the Giants' triple-threat back.

John Smith, former star lineman at the University of Pennsylvania, is now athletic manager at Brigham Young university at Provo, Utah, where he was line coach last year.

PLAINVIEW TO PLAY BORGER UNDER LIGHTS

BULLDOGS HAVE THREE REGULARS BACK IN LINEUP

BORGER, Oct. 16.—With three regulars back in the lineup again, Coach Carl Mouldin and his Borger Bulldogs left yesterday for Plainview with high hopes of defeating the Plainview Bulldogs under the lights tonight. It will be the first conference game in the district.

"Spanny" Ramirez reported for practice Wednesday announcing that his dislocated thumb was all right again. Wayne Little, blocking back who leads the way for Ramires, also reported back after being out with a shoulder injury. Davies, center, was the third cripple back in uniform.

With five men reported ineligible Wednesday because of suspension, Plainview was put on the spot. Coaches started last Monday to rebuild the team, especially the backfield where two regulars were missing because of ineligibility. Biggest loss to Plainview was at the quarterback position where Mason was the sparkplug on both offense and defense.

The Borger eleven will be out-weighted tonight but that has been nothing new this season. Speed and tricks will be used in an effort to combat the weight handicap.

MARCH RESIGNS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP)—The American Professional Football league, looking about for a new president to succeed Dr. Harry A. March, cast an eye toward William (Big Bill) Edwards of Princeton gridiron fame today. Dr. March resigned late yesterday announcing he was leaving the organization he helped form last winter "because of a matter of policy." Edwards, who was president of a previous American league, back in 1926, was reported as the choice to succeed Dr. March if he could be induced to take over the reins.

Bill Cerney, Notre Dame "B" coach, calls the blocks made by the aspirants for the reserve team "stumbling blocks."

The Army-Washington and Lee grid game this fall was the first between the two institutions since 1916.

Methodists And Christians Picked To Win Hard Battle

Georgia Tech, Pitt Also Named as Winners

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP)—It's about time for a flock of upsets to floor the football guessers flat but this is no time to retreat: Northwestern-Ohio State; There has been a remarkable swing away from Ohio State since the Buckeyes were freed by Pitt's Panthers. This wavering ballot goes to Ohio State to win a high-scoring duel.

Harvard-Army: A vote for Army. Southern California-Washington State: The clever Trojan offense looks good enough to put this in the Southern California victory bag. Duke-Georgia Tech: Out of the hat, Georgia Tech.

Colgate-Tulane: Tulane, for better or worse. Temple-Carnegie Tech: Temple. Penn-Princeton: Princeton. George Washington-Arkansas: A flier on Arkansas but it looks close. Columbia-Virginia Military: The people's choice, Columbia.

York University-North Carolina: The visiting Tarheel. Cornell-Syracuse: Cornell. Dartmouth-Brown: The Indians on the warpath with Brown the victor.

Holy Cross - Manhattan: Holy Cross. Pitt-Duquesne: Pitt. Chicago-Purdue: Purdue. Iowa-Illinois: The coin says Iowa. Nebraska-Indiana: Nebraska. Minnesota-Michigan: Somebody's trimmed the Wolverine's claws too sharply. No. 20 in a row for Minnesota.

Notre Dame - Wisconsin: Notre Dame. Detroit-Auburn: Detroit. Georgia-Rice: Comparative scores (the little rascals) say Rice but only faintly. Louisiana State-Mississippi: L. S. U. after a struggle. Southern Methodist - Vanderbilt: Ray Morrison takes his new pupils to his old haunts, probably for a beating. Southern Methodist.

North Carolina State - Furman: North Carolina State. Kansas-Oklahoma: Oklahoma.

HILL BILLIES WIN

BROWNWOOD, Texas, Oct. 16 (AP)—The Hillbillies of Daniel Baker overcame a deficit in first downs and yardage last night to defeat the Texas Wesleyan college Rams, 7-0. A 67-yard run by Shodgrass, Daniel Baker back, with an intercepted pass gave the Billies their scoring chance on the Rams' 16-yard line. Howard tossed to Byrnes for the tally. The Rams led in first downs 11 to six and in yards from scrimmage 228 to 97.

Bernie Bierman has never lost a game to a grid team he himself has scouted, either at Tulane or Minnesota.

Retail Sales Still Surging

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP)—Virtually all lines of business this week widened the commanding lead over the position registered a year ago, Dun & Bradstreet said today in the weekly review of trade.

"Despite adverse weather in some sections," the review said "the rise in retail sales was lengthened, aided by the surge of buying at Columbus day promotional events."

"Wholesale activity resumed its music was started from the Pampa Studio."

According to a medical theory, dark patches under the eyes may be due to defective teeth. In domestic circles they may be due to a faulty alibi.

Have you forgotten the "Jingle Contest?" KPDN hasn't, but the jingle now changes from contest to contest, and KPDN will have to jingle a lot of coin in taking the ten winners to the Centennial, but they are ready to do the "jingling" act, and they hope each contest winner will have a most enjoyable time.

Up And Down The Air Waves

By RAY D. O.

We hope the column will get better as you go on down, so keep reading—you might hear some gossip, or something.

The Waker Uppers' breakfast menu seems to be coffee and tobacco. Bill drinks the coffee and Uncle Bud chews, or (chaws), the tobacco. We know why Bill drinks the coffee, but we haven't figured out just why Uncle Bud takes so much time out to spit. It must be to give him time to think of another "tall story."

What is this "Schedule Time" of the KPDN program "Shopping With Sue"? Every time we hear the announcer say his little speech, he says, "This program will come to you at this Scheduled Time." Is that each hour, day, week or month? If he knows, wonder why he won't tell.

Tonight the Columbia Broadcasting System offers, among others, the following programs: 6:15 "Popeye The Sailor"—6:30, "The Goose Creek Parson"—6:45, "Boake Carter"—8:00 "Hollywood Hotel."

If you didn't have your dial set on 1310, Wednesday at 2:00 o'clock, you really missed a highly entertaining program. It was the Walkiki Novelty Boys from Chicago, who were touring the country. They have appeared on WGN, Chi-

GRIDIRON HEROES

By BLOSSER

FRANK HINKEY'S name and deeds are as much a part of Yale as the cloistered halls and famous fence, for Frank probably was the greatest ever to perform for the Bulldog.

In four years of play, no ball carrier ever turned the 148-pound wingman's end, and a tougher, more agile gridiron never lived than the late Hinkey, who was one of the very few four-time All-Americans.

One of Hinkey's greatest games was the 1891 Harvard clash. The Crimson had a 200-pound back named Corbett, who was touted as being one who could turn Frank's end. The first time he carried the ball he dashed for Hinkey's wing. The mighty mite picked him up, tossed him over his back and Corbett fell hard, dropping the ball.

Lorey Bliss picked up the pigskin for Yale. As he did, big Pudge Heffelfinger grabbed him by the neck and tossed him over the goal line.

Former Spy Is Bride in London

Adventurous daughter of a Danish father and a Spanish mother, who insists that for several years she was a British spy, Bette Davis is the bride of Frederick Lewis, London stock broker. They were married in the British capital. She recently brought a $750,000 action against a Hollywood film company, charging plagiarism of a book in which she recounted her exploits.

BETTE DAVIS RULING TO BE GIVEN MONDAY

LONDON, Oct. 16 (AP)—Justice Branson in King's Bench division reserved judgment today on the attempt by Warner Brothers to keep Bette Davis from suing them on the contract "slave" behind "gilded bars," from acting in a British picture. An eager audience, hoping in vain to see the blonde Hollywood star "act" in a real court scene, heard some of England's best legal talent for two hours morning arguing legal intricacies. The judge said he hoped to hand down a decision Monday. Although the courtroom spectators were much more interested in Bette than anything else, she did not leave the courtroom until late.

MAINE TO LONDON HOP TO START OCTOBER 23

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP)—The flying freighters, Clyde Pangborn and Marion Grevenberg, will be lugging their scarlet (Burnell) bi-motored plane to Floyd Bennett field within a day or so for final tests before the most casual of all transatlantic airplane flights. Without any more fuss than you'd expect from the grocery man delivering a bag of provisions to Mrs. Jones across town, the ocean flying veteran and his co-pilot, Grevenberg, with the radio and navigating assistance of Reeder Nichols, plan to hop from Old Orchard, Maine, Oct. 23, for London. It's the first showing of the strictly business trans-atlantic hops, a job-of-work flight. The two pilots, trained in the same army school in 1917, pals ever since, have agreed merely to deliver to foreign backers one of the new type (Burnell) planes. British interests, already "tooled up" for manufacture, were go over the completed plane carefully, then probably return it to the aviators for a European pleasure tour, and possibly a return to America by the south Atlantic route.

TENNESSEE GOVERNOR IS CENTENNIAL GUEST

DALLAS, Oct. 16 (AP)—Tennessee, whose citizens played an important part in the early history of Texas, took the center stage at the Texas Centennial exposition today. Tennessee's chief executive, Gov. Hill McAlister, was named the day's guest of honor. He planned to remain for the Southern Methodist football game Saturday. It was also announced that the Texas Centennial exposition today. Yesterday's attendance was 23,893.

AMERICAN MISSIONARY IS BARRED FROM JAPAN

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 16 (AP)—Appointed by Joseph Spenner, Kennard, Philadelphia missionary, failed today to shake officials from their decision to bar him from Japan. Kennard, who spent 16 years as a missionary and lecturer in the Orient, was prevented from landing on his scheduled trip to Japan in the United States. Police charged he advocated Communist doctrines and anti-war principles injurious to the peace and order of Japan. Mrs. Kennard and her daughter, however, were given permission to land temporarily to pack up household belongings. Police asserted Kennard had become acquainted with Alexander Hassler Buckman, an American student from Cleveland, O., who was deported from Japan in 1933 because of alleged advocacy of Communism. Kennard denied he had ever heard of Buckman.

BAT BOY RELEASED

CHICAGO, Oct. 16 (AP)—The upheaval which pinner P. K. Wrigley launched in an effort to strengthen his Chicago Cubs for next season reached down in the line today to Gilly Hasbrook, the bat boy. Hasbrook, who held the bat retrieving job four years, was given his unconditional release today. Wrigley's successor until the winter meetings, a few days ago Wrigley started his rebuilding campaign by sending Lon Warneke, pitcher, to St. Louis for Leroy Parmelee and Rip Collins.

'Last Stand' Line Before Madrid

The last stand defensive line of the Spanish loyalists before Madrid is shown in the above map—the Masquelet line, built by General Masquelet, which includes broad belts of barbed wire, cement machine gun pill-boxes, and strong trench positions. It forms a half circle, stretching from mountain villages on the north to Illescas, 20 miles south of Madrid, on the Toledo highway.

LONDON TO TOUR WEST COAST IN VOTE DRIVE

TOPEKA, Kas., Oct. 16 (AP)—A west coast dash to Los Angeles Tuesday was announced by Governor Alf M. Landon today in a surprise shift of strategy before winding up his presidential campaign with a cross-continent swing.

From Los Angeles, the Republican nominee said he would speed eastward for speeches in Oklahoma City, Indianapolis, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and New York.

He returned to Topeka today after a 2,400-mile Lakes States tour thru Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio.

"Why are you going to California?" reporters asked.

"Because we're going to carry it," Landon replied, smiling as he rested from strenuous campaigning which included dozens of rear platform appearances and three major speeches.

The governor's announcement was unexpected.

An aide brought in a telegram, and Landon, reading it, smiled and said, "Here's your story—Los Angeles on the 20th."

The telegram, from National Chairman John Hamilton, said plans had been completed for the nominee's closing campaign drive.

Landon added that he probably would leave Topeka Sunday night and not return to the Kansas capital before completion of the campaign. He will vote at his home town, Independence, Kas.

OIL ALLOWABLE HIKE IN OKLAHOMA ASKED

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 16 (AP)—The hearing of a petition of F. H. Moore, independent oil operator, for a 50,000-barrel increase in Oklahoma's October oil allowable, originally set for today, has been moved forward by the corporation commission.

Moore presented his petition for the increase following the action of the Texas Railroad Commission in hiking the October allowable in Texas 73,000 barrels higher than the estimate made by the Federal Bureau of Mines.

When Col. E. O. Thompson, chairman of the Texas commission, indicated the Texas allowable might be set back at a hearing Oct. 19, Moore asked for postponement of hearing on his petition.

Tanks Rumble; War Re-echoes

The rumble of heavy tanks and armored cars, the gleam of helmets and gun barrels give German villagers a taste of war. This photograph was made as troops moved toward Hesse to take part in the most extensive military maneuvers in which the German army has engaged since the World War.

BUILDING VOLUME IN SOUTH HAS MORE THAN DOUBLED DURING YEAR

DALLAS, Oct. 16 (AP)—Building volume in the south has more than doubled in the last year and there are indications of even greater gains, Moise H. Goldstein said today at the opening session of the American Institute of Architects regional meeting.

The New Orleans director of the Gulf States division of the Institute said the revival of building activity is creating problems which demand increased public service from architects.

"The time has come when architects should be represented in councils where decisions affecting the social as well as the physical aspect of our cities are made," he declared. Where municipalities have planning boards, zoning boards or art commissions the voice of the architectural profession should be heard.

"The more enlightened will look to the architects for guidance if we will perform public service and are not so absorbed in daily tasks as to neglect occasions to direct the planned development of our communities and the surrounding regions.

Institute chapters in Texas, Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana were represented at the regional meeting.

When the architect is asked to express his opinion on the merits of design in buildings, monuments and embellishments in parks and boulevards, and entrances to real estate "developments," Goldstein thinks he should do so dispassionately but frankly.

"He should be the first to give praise where it is due," Goldstein said, "but when such things are very bad and an offense to public taste, the architect should not have to be asked what he thinks."

175,000 HEAR ROOSEVELT IN DETROIT TALK

MANUFACTURERS ARE URGED TO INCREASE PAY OF WORKERS

ABOARD ROOSEVELT TRAIN EN ROUTE TO CLEVELAND, Oct. 16 (AP)—President Roosevelt carried his campaign for re-election into the pivotal state of Ohio today after telling a huge outdoor crowd in Detroit that automobile and other manufacturers needed to do more to spread work and "increase the yearly earnings" of employees.

To another big gathering in suburban Hamtramck, the chief executive said he was "thinking of a future America when we all may have a little bit more of the better things of life more compensation for work, holidays, shorter hours, and Saturdays off and Sundays off as well."

Today, next to the last of his western tour, Mr. Roosevelt mapped a course across Ohio, embracing seven more speeches to add to the six yesterday in Michigan which brought the total for his swing to 40.

Cincinnati was his only morning stop. Cleveland was to be visited for an hour later in the day.

Facing what his campaign associates described as one of the greatest crowds of his 5,000-mile trip, a throng estimated by State Police Captain Donald S. Leonard at 175,000 persons, the President stood in the nation's automobile center last night and declared that industry and every other industry "still need great improvements in their relationship to their employees."

He expressed confidence that the people of Detroit and the rest of the country would ask on November 3 "that the present type of government continue rather than the type which in its heart still believes in the policy of 'laissez faire' and the kind of individualism which up to only three and a half years ago, frankly, put dollars above human rights."

Cheers greeted his statement that it was "action—immediate action—by the new federal government in Washington" that "saved the day" when private and state relief funds "gave out."

"It was the only thing left which could save the day," he said.

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

BY LOUS SCHNEIDER

BULLISH. Farm equipment industry insiders are highly optimistic. They say that despite the drought this year's earnings will be well above those of 1935. And the outlook is said to be the best in a long time. With small combines and tractors growing in popularity it is felt that the market surface has only been scratched. The back-log of potential business is enormous. Also—as a result of a tariff and quota changes the export demand should increase. But to these bullish factors, long-term security buyers have been adding to farm equipment company equities.

INVESTMENT. For the first eight months of this year St. Louis Southwestern netted income of $1,952,000. It's a bit less than 30 per cent better than last year's corresponding period. On the road will earn over $3,000,000 for fixed charges. That is why informed interests are accumulating the St. Louis Southwestern 1st Terminal and Unification 5 per cent bonds due 1952.

FAVORED. Forecasts are that coal and coke shipments during the final quarter of 1936 will run ten per cent ahead of last year. Norfolk & Western being predominately a bituminous coal carrier will benefit most. Currently the road's freight loadings are reported at 17 per cent above last year.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Humphrey Bogart, looking not exactly sinister but rather darkly brooding, peered somewhat reluctantly into the pictured story of his past.

A box of photographs, old and dog-eared, had been dragged to his studio by dint of repeated urging and verbal hocus-pocus on your reporter's part, and there it was—the career of a movie bad man, from cradle to the countless deaths and jail cells that await a film scoundrel.

"Don't sneer," warned Bogart, lighting a cigarette nonchalantly but forgetting to let it dangle from his lower lip in true gangster style. "Don't sneer. The same thing can happen to any mother's son."

There was this faded souvenir of a childhood untainted by crime, this appealing informal snapshot of a cherub in high-buttoned shoes, stocking cap and coat and dress, a cherub hiding an unwieldy golf club.

Humphrey, who need a shave and expected to need one for several days because he was involved in "The Black Legion," admitted he was the original of that child—35 years ago.

"I was two then," he said. But he saw nothing "cherubic" about it.

"See that golf club?" he asked significantly. "A two-year old can be a cherub by himself, but give him a golf club. It arouses his worst instincts—especially if he has it indoors. Try it some time on your own—or maybe you'd better not" he added on second thought, which was unnecessary because your reporter already knew how sensitive landlords are about walls and fixtures.

Another random grab in the dis-ordered array of pictures produced for Mr. Bogart at the age of eight. This was more like it. The wild-haired boy whose eyes stared defiantly into the camera, whose face was set in a hard, determined mold might possibly grow up into the killed "Duke Mantee" of "The Petrified Forest" who would shock down that nice Leslie Howard without compunction.

Hunts More Pictures "Or maybe," Bogart pleaded, "I was just squinting in the sun. That was taken at Canandaigua, New York, as I remember it, and Hollywood, regardless of what you hear, is not the only place the sun shines bright. Now I'll find one—"

And he produced, triumphantly, the likeness of a uniformed 18-year old stalwart of the navy, taken during the war after he left school to join up.

This was misleading. This 18-year old Bogart might have been "any mother's son," trim, polished, manly, straight and keen-eyed. But maybe (looking closer) you could imagine that face bewhiskered, a smarl on those lips, and a shively checked cap replacing that sailor's white hat.

"Sure," agreed Hump. "Go on, imagine it. After all, that's how we villains are made. Excuse me—I'd like to 'phone my wife. We've got some heavy scenes this afternoon and I may be late for dinner. . ."

SOUTHERN CHEMURGIC COUNCIL SEES NEW WEALTH FOR NATION

LAFAYETTE, La., Oct. 16 (AP)—The Southern Chemurgic Council envisioned millions of dollars of new wealth for the south today through discovery of industrial products which may be obtained from farm crops.

Carl B. Fritsche, managing director of the Farm Chemurgic Council, said, as an example, that fuel for automobiles may soon be taken from such products as sweet and Irish potatoes, Jerusalem artichokes, soft corn, cull grades of various grains, fruits and sugar cane by-products.

Extensive experimentation in production of alcohol from produce is now being conducted at a plant at Atchison, Kas., conducted by the Farm Chemurgic Council and Chemical Foundation.

He said the groups are convinced that the "blending of anhydrous ethyl alcohol for motor fuel use is destined to prove more efficient than present fuels, that its use will provide a safeguard against any dwindling of our national oil reserves, and well within the next five years, find profitable use in some 20,000,000 to 30,000,000 acres of farm land now devoted to the cultivation of surplus crops.

The forecast that 50,000,000 new acres could be utilized in the increased industrial use of farm products in 10 years "if man sets himself to the task." He divided the new acres as follows:

Power alcohol, 25,000,000; paper and paper stock, 8,000,000; vegetable fibres, 5,000,000; flaxseed and linseed, 3,500,000; cotton and road construction, 3,000,000; plastics, 5,000,000; tung oil, 1,000,000; tanning materials, 500,000; soybean oil, 500,000; starch, 500,000; miscellaneous new products, 2,000,000.

Fritsche praised the work of Dr. Charles Herty, director of the pulp and paper laboratory at Savannah, Ga., whose adaptation of southern pine to the manufacture of paper he classes as the beginning of an "industrial renaissance in the south."

About $40,000,000 of private capital now is in the process of being invested in the southern pine mills, all of which rely on the research and technique developed by Dr. Herty in his humble laboratory at Savannah," he said.

BOOKMAKERS TAX NEAR TOP OF LIST IN HOUSE

AUSTIN, Oct. 16 (AP)—A bill to legalize horse race bookmaking and tax bookmakers was near the top of the calendar today in the House of Representatives.

The proposal, by Pat Dwyer of San Antonio, would charge each bookie shop an annual fee of $5,000. The House voted to give it priority over all other bills except a proposed oil tax increase, which already had been passed to third reading.

Gov. Allred called the special legislative session for two purposes—to raise funds for old age pensions and set up an unemployment insurance system.

Two jobs insurance plans, originating respectively in the House and Senate, were ready for study by a conference committee with a view to adjusting differences.

An omnibus tax bill, variously changed from the original House proposal, was receiving floor consideration in the Senate.

A bill to transfer $480,000 from the permanent to the available pension fund, to meet the possible emergency of a checkless winter for the needy aged, was on its way to the governor.
