Uncle Henry said there would be days like this... First of all, there was no sun to start off with...

Without being pre-emptuous and with no intention of edging in on Ray D. O.'s column, we hope he won't get mad if we lace him out for inviting the public to send KPDN's Uncle Bud another plug...

A reader writes in to inquire what has happened to ex-Kaiser Wilhelm who once was mixed up in a big rumpus in Europe and finally was run out of the country...

It seems that a Dutch bus driver had the cable "malmed" off on him, but instead of philosophically accepting his loss, he sent the coin to Doorn with a letter addressed to the former German emperor...

By return mail came a personal letter from the same war lord, thanking him for the message and enclosing a Dutch rijkdaalder, a negotiable Dutch coin equivalent in value to the old German five-mark piece...

They are telling this story about a New Yorker, now in Pampa on a sales mission. He is stopping in a local hotel... The other night there came a knock on the door of his room and when he answered a man stood there and asked the Easterner: "Ezra, is a rough-neck?"

FOR BIDS FOR CONNECTICUT'S EIGHT VOTES

CITES IMPROVED SITUATION IN CAPITOL OF STATE
By D. HAROLD OLIVER
WITH ROOSEVELT MOTOR-CADE IN CONNECTICUT, Oct. 22 (AP)—Hailing "happier" times and pledging federal aid for flood control, President Roosevelt carried his reelection drive in New England down a hundred mile stretch of Connecticut valley today with thousands of citizens in half a dozen towns cheering him along the way.

After telling a great crowd in Bushnell park in Hartford that "prosperity" was back and was "here to stay," the President began his second all day motor trip toward Stamford.

There, he was to bid his special train which he left at the state capitol and start back to Washington.

A large squad of motorcycle police kept the long motorcade in an orderly line, contrasting with the wild, four lane highway race that kept the party on edge for several hours for the first part of a 160-mile drive yesterday in Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

The President's first stop after leaving Hartford was at Middletown where he spoke briefly from his car.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 22 (AP)—In a bid for the eight electoral votes of Connecticut, which went Republican in 1932, President Roosevelt declared here today that Connecticut was a "happier" state than it was four years ago and pledged the federal government to "do its share" toward flood control in New England.

Speaking extemporaneously before a cheering throng in Bushnell park, the chief executive said he was here in his two-fold capacity.

"I am here to talk with your officials about floods," he said. "I am here also, I am told, as a candidate for president."

"The reason why your government in Washington has to keep in close touch with you is because of the flood situation here."

Guy Wells, of Borger, indicted by a Gray county grand jury on a charge of theft, was brought back to Pampa last night from Kilgore, in East Texas, by Deputy Sheriff George Inman.

Wells was indicted along with Jack Borger, of Borger, in connection with the alleged theft of an oil well belt several weeks ago. The deputy sheriff arrived with the prisoner at 9 o'clock last night.

The case is expected to be called for trial assignment Monday in district court, sheriff's office attorneys stated.

ANOTHER FLIGHT DUE. ALABAMA, Calif., Oct. 22 (AP)—Pan America Airways planned to unfold another amazing "preview" flight today as the Philippine Clipper made ready to wing its way from Manila to Hong Kong, China, with a party of notables aboard.

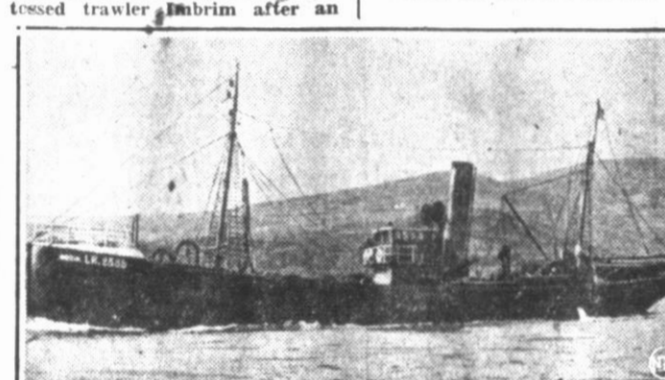

A preliminary round-trip flight of newspaper men between Alameda and Manila is about completed. Regular transpacific passenger service was started from here yesterday.

As a result we will be out of circulation, locally, on Saturday... However, our good friend, Pa Pampa, has promised to feed the canary and put the cat out while we are gone.

After Ocean Flyer's Rescue at Sea

The attempt of Kurt Bjorkvall to make a non-stop solo flight from New York to Sweden ended in his providential rescue 60 miles off the Irish coast where he was forced to land alongside the storm-tossed trawler Imbrin after an epic battle with an Atlantic snow storm and threat of engine failure supply. Bjorkvall (left above) is seen riding on a jaunting car after being landed at Valencia, Ireland, by the Imbrin (below).

JUDGE HOOVER UNABLE TO STIR UP JURY CASES

Been Here All Week And No Business Yet
Judge H. E. Hoover, of Canadian, who came to Pampa this week to sit on the district court bench in the absence of Judge W. R. Ewing, continued to walk through silent halls today.

This being civil jury week in the district court, Judge Hoover found that because of settlements, postponements and the inability of witnesses and attorneys to get on the scene, that there is little if any business for the court to transact.

Each day of the week cases have been set and even today there threatened to be some activity for the acting judge, but the case fell through.

The judge took the bull by the horns, however, and dismissed jurors for the term after they had reported daily only to find nothing to do.

The case of the Continental Supply Co. v. P. T. McNamara is scheduled to come up in Judge Hoover's court tomorrow morning, but the "dram of the Panhandle bar" isn't banking on it any too strongly.

Judge Ewing, who with Mrs. Ewing is visiting the Texas centennial this week, is expected to be back on the bench next Monday when the criminal jury cases will be called.

J. H. Hurley is critically ill at Worley hospital.

'MADS' Plot to Bring Yearning Wives 'To Bay'

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Oct. 22 (AP)—Samuel Willis Rushmore, organizer of the "Mads" Millionaires' Alimony Defense association—said today six New York millionaires had joined his movement to bring a alimony-seeking wives "to bay."

Rushmore, 65-year old veteran of five years' battling in the divorce courts, said it cost him $85,000 finally to win a divorce from the woman he called his "wildcat from the west"—Mrs. Hazel Howe Rushmore—who is 18 years his junior.

The "Mads" will be 25 to 30 prospective members—"All hapless victims who are driven to despair and who want to commit murder or suicide as the only escape"—he declared.

Women have an unfair advantage in the divorce courts and the "Mads" will be incorporated to right this wrong, said the wealthy inventor.

NEW CLAIMANT TO BABY DERBY FUND APPEARS

Mothers Make Plans To Dispose of $750,000
BY DALE HARRISON.
TORONTO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Three soleam executors sat very tight today on a $750,000 nest egg but some of Toronto's champion child-bearers already had it in the skillet nearly scrambled.

One mother spoke feelingly of her babies, and decided to spend the money on their betterment.

Another talked of the good earth on which she and the family could unleash their city-cramped yearning to farm.

A third thought a trip back to England, and decided to treat her husband, who was born there. A fourth suggested that it would be very sporting to divide up the egg and give all the others a taste.

Mrs. Lily Kenny, who insists the fortune is in her claim, is going to build a well mausoleum to the late Charles Vance Miller's memory, and she'll give it the personal touch by fashioning with her own hands, on stone, a likeness of the man who bequeathed the "baby race" fortune.

Mrs. She claims she is going to build a well mausoleum to the late Charles Vance Miller's memory, and she'll give it the personal touch by fashioning with her own hands, on stone, a likeness of the man who bequeathed the "baby race" fortune.

The group left here early last night for a morning in one of the new and modern Panhandle Trailway buses, furnished for the trip by Roy J. Quinn, local agent of the company.

The contest winners spent Monday at the Frontier centennial in Fort Worth and Tuesday at the exposition in Dallas, leaving the city on the return trip yesterday forenoon.

The trip for the contest winners was made possible through cooperation of Pampa and Borger merchants who sponsored the radio jingle competition on the air.

JESSE JONES DAY
DALLAS, Oct. 22 (AP)—William B. Yeager, executive secretary of the United States-Texas Centennial commission, said today Oct. 30 would be Jesse Jones day at the exposition here. He Vice President John N. Garner would introduce via radio from Uvalde, the Reconstruction Finance corporation head at a dinner that evening.

ALFRED PLEA IS HEADED BY LOWER HOUSE

RESTRICTIVE STATUTE LOOMS IN ACTION OF SOLONS
AUSTIN, Oct. 22 (AP)—The House of Representatives refused to go on record today against deliberalization of the old age pension law.

The House voted, 84 to 66, to give its conferees on an omnibus law bill no instructions except to have the compromise proposal on members' desks by Monday.

Opponents of a more restrictive pension statute urged that the House spokesman on the committee be instructed to stand firm against a deliberalization amendment adopted by the Senate.

The vote was on a resolution by Rep. Alfred Petch of Fredericksburg, offered as a substitute for one by Rep. Alf Roark of Saratoga which would have instructed the House conferees not to consider deliberalization.

It was regarded by many members as an important initial test of sentiment in the legislature toward deliberalization. Some forecast the law was definitely headed for drastic restrictions and another special session of the legislature probably would be averted.

In the conference committee, efforts will be made to reconcile differences between the Senate and the House on various taxes proposed to raise additional revenue for old age assistance.

Speaker Coke Stevenson named as House members of the committee H.H. Frazer of Franklin, Jesse James of Cameron, R. H. Good of Cooper, Harold M. Hankamer of El Paso and A. T. McKinney of Huntsville. The committee was expected to start work soon.

The vote on the Petch resolution came after prolonged and caustic debate in which charges that the legislature was being asked to break faith with the people alternated with declarations that the Texas pension statute would bankrupt the state.

Petch told the House the legislature was facing the most serious question with which it had been confronted in years.

"There is no way on earth to support old age assistance in Texas for all persons over 65 unless you impose a sales tax," he shouted. "I don't care what you have told the state."

Warden W. W. Waid said Carcaro, sentenced to die for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Smith in their Big Bend home, merely shrugged when questioned today.

The prisoner said Banks, a negro, convicted for killing Deputy Sheriff F. E. Redwine of Tahoka, sat head in hands, saying nothing.

Waid said neither of the two was nervous "yet," though Gov. James V. Alford said Saturday he would not extend executive clemency.

2 MEXICANS CONDEMNED TO DIE AT HUNTSVILLE

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 22 (AP)—Antonio Carrasco and Elmo Banks, condemned to die just after midnight tonight, sat in their death cells here today resigned and silent.

Warden W. W. Waid said Carcaro, sentenced to die for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Smith in their Big Bend home, merely shrugged when questioned today.

Won't Salute

Patriotic organizations of Atlanta, Ga., have turned their criticism on George C. Leoles, naturalized Greek immigrant, as a result of his instructions to his daughter, Dorothy (above), 12, to abstain from saluting the American flag at school. Father and daughter are members of the "Jehovah's Witness" sect, which pays homage only to Diety.

LANDON AVOIDS MAKING SPEECH TO EL PASOANS

Crowd Boos When He Fails to Show His Person
EL PASO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Governor Alf M. Landon, Republican presidential nominee, was ordered by Dr. Frank Schuster here today to remain in bed.

Dr. Schuster, who was called aboard the Sunflower special train here, told the governor the throat infection he is suffering might spread to the larynx and temporarily destroy his voice, unless he rests.

The doctor declined to permit the candidate to appear before a crowd that had anticipated a platform speech here.

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 22 (AP)—Governor Alf M. Landon's Sunflower Special arrived here at 10:15 a. m. (CST) today and was greeted by a cheering crowd. The special train was due to leave here at 10:30 a. m.

During the operating stop at El Paso in traditionally democratic Texas, County Chairman Walter H. Case conferred briefly with the nominee.

J. Reuben Clark, former ambassador to Mexico, praised settlement of the United States-Mexico boundary dispute and denounced "imperialism" both in individuals and nations.

Clark represented Landon as "the ideal man for president."

As cries of "We want Landon" arose, Clark said he brought "greetings and best wishes" and "the hope that you will excuse him from appearing because of his strenuous campaign ahead."

A few boos were heard as the crowd expressed its disappointment, but they remained about the rear platform, now and then calling for the nominee.

Gov. Landon carried eastward today through New Mexico and a corner of Texas his campaign contention that "regimentation of the individual and curb of his liberties underlie every one of the new deal's plans."

Owner and Watch Are Re-United Though NEWS

Tuesday a. m. came a man to the office of the Daily NEWS with much we written on his face, and sorrow in his heart. Said he to the Classified girl... I've lost my watch my wife gave me for a gift. Rather than I'd lost my teeth for words to that effect. Make me an ad to run three days... I want to find my watch.

Shortly afterward a Pampa citizen entered our portals and asked if the NEWS had a lost watch ad for our day's paper, if so, a watch had been found and was in the keeping of Jimmie Wheeler.

By telephone it was determined that the found watch was the lost watch, an owner's mine it was again re-united.

If there is one thing the News strives to do, it is to give each and every customer of the West Ad section a personal service.

I Saw...

A letter from Rep. Eugene Worley said that he sincerely hopes that "we will raise enough money (for the pensions) to avoid another special session."

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM
Flowers will bloom for people who love them, but will refuse to become splendid for persons whose love is conventional, perfunctory. It is that why some gardens which cost much and which are tended by professionals look pale and colorless compared with the inexpensive yard of the flower lovers?

professional is Mrs. Redman whose dahlias bloom superlatively for her. Of all the flowers, she loves dahlias the most, and they do more for her than for a person with just an ordinary love. But only love cannot grow dahlias. A memorable sight these last two years was Mrs. Redman planting her bulbs, and watering her garden on days when the dust storms were worst. She knew they would come through for her! Never have there been such dahlias in the Panhandle as these grown by Mrs. Redman.

Robbery Suspect Walks Into Sheriff's Office, Gives Up

A 23-year-old Wellington man, sought for several days as a suspect in connection with a robbery last week in Sayre, Okla., walked into the Gray county sheriff's office here late yesterday afternoon and surrendered.

He told local officers he knew he was being hunted and that had decided to give himself up in order to avoid further brushes with the law. He refused to waive extradition for his return to Sayre, and denied that he had any knowledge of the robbery. Sheriff's officers here stated today that Sayre authorities had notified them to hold the man and stated that they would obtain extradition papers and come for the prisoner within a few days. He, according to the officers, has been implicated in the Sayre robbery through a statement obtained from a second prisoner held there. The suspect in the local jail had been sought since the arrest of two men on the highway near Sayre last Wednesday, and the finding in their automobile of loot alleged to have been taken in the Sayre robbery. The other man is in jail at Wheeler. At the time the Oklahoma officers accosted the man on the road one member of the trio escaped by running through the fields. The prisoner told officers here yesterday that he is under $1,500 bond awaiting trial on a drunk driving charge at Wheeler. The suspect in the Gray county jail, as well as the other two men, will be questioned about several from the Panhandle within the past three weeks, it was stated. R. C. Rudrauff, Pampa grocer, late yesterday afternoon was unable to identify the man as one of two who robbed his store and struck him over the head with a pistol two weeks ago. Three men were believed to have staged the Rudrauff robbery, with one of the trio remaining behind the wheel of a car that waited in front of the store. The suspect also will be questioned about the highway robbery of Elmer Wade, Pampa Wholesale Co. truck driver, between Wheeler and Mopettle last week. P. H. A. Repair Loans, John E. Hill Lumber Co. Reaper and Three-H Groups Enjoy Meetings

The home of Mrs. Tom Duvall was beautiful with the blended colors of snapdragons, marigolds, verbena, fall roses, cosmos, and chrysanthemums from Pampa gardens, when she was hostess yesterday to the Three-H class of First Baptist church.

After a devotional and prayer period in charge of Mrs. G. C. Malone, Mrs. Duvall, teacher of the class, introduced the new officers. Mrs. C. H. Schulke will be president for the coming year, and vice-presidents are Mmes. John Brown, J. W. Munn, Rob Seeds, and Flora Mitchell.

Mrs. R. W. Tucker closed the business meeting with a prayer, then the members enjoyed lively games. Coffee and individual pecan pies a la mode were served.

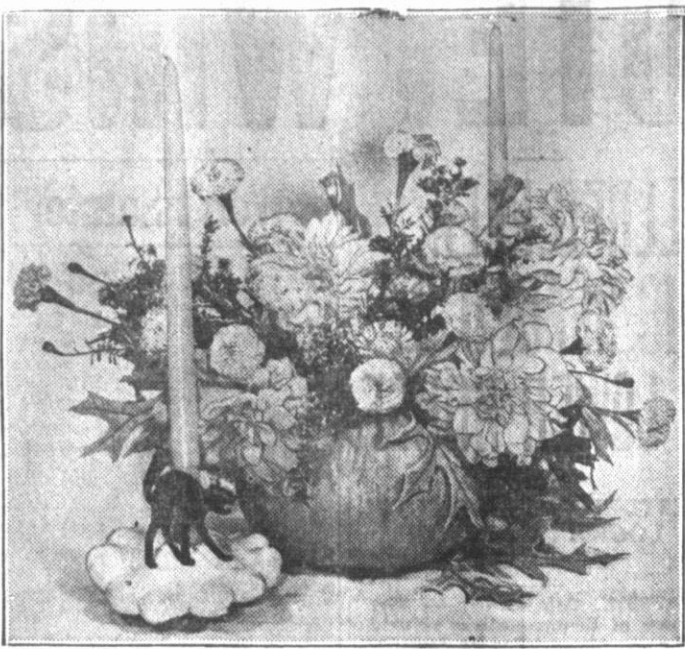

Guests were Mrs. D. H. Coffey and Mrs. Tucker. Members present, in addition to the officers, were Mmes. D. W. Slaton, T. B. Rogers, Frank McAfee, T. L. Anderson, Joe S. Neil, E. Stidham, A. A. Steele, Roy Holt, A. A. Day, L. A. Baxter, and A. B. Kitchings.

Small guests were Vivian Rogers, Bobbie Tucker, Pat Mitchell, Lucie Tomase, and Mariola Duvall.

CHURCH IS MEETING PLACE YESTERDAY

Mrs. R. A. Rose was elected president when Reapers class of First Baptist church chose officers for the year at a meeting yesterday. Mrs. Jack Horner was named secretary. Vice presidents are Mrs. Carl Adams, in charge of membership; Mrs. Roy Dyson, fellowship; Mrs. O. D. Martin, class ministries; Mrs.

Colorful Hallowe'en Centerpiece

Hallowe'en decorations often determine the success of the party. This autumn festival gives wide scope for originality in decoration. Materials which have been traditional for centuries are still in favor and would indeed be difficult to improve upon.

What could be more attractive than pumpkins, cornstalks, autumn leaves, and other symbols of the harvest season which have been used for Hallowe'en decorations since Americans began to observe it?

Decorations for the hallowe'en party are called for all over the house, as the games of the evening may take guests from the basement to the attic. But the refreshment table will always be the high spot, and the popular hostess will make her table decorations as original and attractive as she possibly can. Here autumn flowers will be in harmony

J. T. Morrow, stewardship and publicity. Group captains are Mmes. B. G. Stone, Frank Hill, and P. L. King.

Mrs. R. W. Tucker was in charge of the business session, and Mrs. Dyson of the following social period. This class invites women who are not attending Sunday school to visit and join its work.

Present yesterday were Mmes. A. L. Prigmore, H. E. Foster, Dee Oee, Ishmael Hill, E. L. Tarrant, W. H. Lewis, J. Roy Dickson, D. T. Lowe, Owen Johnson, Robert Vaught, and the new officers.

Pupils on Honor Roll at Hopkins School Presented

HOPKINS, Oct. 22 — Honor roll pupils at Hopkins school were presented by Principal Walter Parker at assembly yesterday. Those on the A honor roll were Nancy Jane Ripple, Wanda Beth Fowler, Loma Jean Simmons, and Eleanor Ann McManara.

On the B honor roll for the first report of this term were Fred Boatwright, Jackie Hays, Gene James, Darril Miller, J. D. Partridge, Paul Simpson, Deloris Holybee, June Clauder, Delva Shedy, Jerry Pace, Breck Combs, Winnie Sue Mallow, Jean Reno, Mary Louise Harwell, Mary Alice Mallow, Mary Stone, Mary Alice Elbert, Frances Clark, Doris Cotten, and Tommie Lou Harwell.

Nominees in the carnival queen contest were announced. They are Mary Ruth Garrison, seventh grade; Faye Kitchens, eighth grade; and Doris Cotten, sixth grade.

Second graders directed by Miss Lex Siddons gave an Indian play in costume, and a rhythm band number. Several parents attended the program.

Band Discussed Organization of a community band was discussed in a second called meeting Tuesday evening. Twelve persons have given assurance that they will join the band and purchase instruments. Eight more are needed to complete an initial group. James Elbert was in charge of the meeting Tuesday. Interested persons are asked to see him or Walter Parker.

Plans for a Hallowe'en carnival sponsored by the school are progressing. A negro minstrel is the latest program addition. Eight persons met Tuesday evening, and the cast will meet again this evening at community hall to make more definite plans.

WMS Announces Benefit Social

A Hallowe'en social will be sponsored by Harrah Methodist chapel tomorrow evening by women of McCullough-Harrah Missionary society, who are inviting the public and especially members of the two churches.

An impromptu program will be presented, and pie and coffee will be served. Women of the society, headed by Mrs. E. C. Casey, president, will be in charge, and the society will benefit from proceeds.

SHOWERS GIVEN IN McLEAN FOR TWO HONOREES

Mrs. West and Mrs. Cash Extended Courtesies

By MRS. JIM BACK McLEAN, Oct. 22 (AP)—Following the regular meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the Methodist church Tuesday afternoon, members of that body were hostesses to a miscellaneous shower honoring Mrs. Lawrence West and Mrs. Cash.

The basement was decorated to represent Hallowe'en, with jack-o'-lanterns, foder shocks, and vases of fall flowers. When Mrs. West arrived, she was met at the front door by two ghosts who escorted her, amid groans, to the chair of honor.

Mrs. Cryer read "In a Friendly Spirit of Way" Mrs. Munn, "When the Frost is on the Pumpkin" and Miss Margaret Hess sang "If I Knew You," with Mrs. Boyette at the piano. The program was under the direction of Mrs. Albah Christian who presented the gifts in a pleasing manner.

Gifts were hidden in the foder shock and Mrs. West was asked to pull the string at her feet which brought her first gift. Other strings brought more gifts and friends piled others at her feet.

Those present or sending gifts were Mesdames Rish Phillips, Sammie Cubine, T. W. Henry, S. W. Hays, J. B. Pettit, Chas. Wilson, George Colbank, Leon Rodine, E. J. Dyer, W. M. Smith, J. M. Carpenter, L. W. Wilson, W. Storey, Roger Powers, Kid McCoy, Earl Stubbfield, C. S. Rice, E. Rogers Jess Kemp.

Club Enjoys Lunch And Bridge Hour

A luncheon followed morning bridge games for the Queen of Clubs yesterday in the home of Mrs. Carl Smith. Flowers in varying shades of yellow made the room attractive for the games. Tallies and score pads bore Hallowe'en decorations.

Mrs. Carl Smith scored high at bridge, and Mrs. Howard Buckingham was second. High cut award went to Mrs. C. W. Briscoe, a club guest. Mrs. C. L. Ness was another special guest.

Club members present were Mmes. B. O. Lilly, I. B. Hughey, W. A. Bratton, H. C. Wilson, H. D. Keys, Joe Burrows, Raymond Harrah, L. N. McCullough, W. V. Jarratt, Max Macfarley, E. S. Lawrence, Crawford Atkinson, Buckingham, and Smith.

Sponsors Thank Public for Help With Carnival

Appreciation for cooperation of Pampa merchants, faculty and patrons of Junior High school, and the public was expressed today by officers of Junior High Parent-Teacher association and Band Mothers club, sponsors of the successful school carnival Tuesday.

Although a final check has not been made, Principal R. A. Selby announced today that about $300 profit was made on the entertainment. The sum will be used for welfare, school library, and band uniform funds of the sponsoring organizations.

Several hundred persons attended the carnival, patronizing the various booths and seeing the program at which Geraldine Green and Aubrey Green, Jr., were crowned carnival queen and king. The most popular attraction was Little Cass Manana, a new feature of this year's carnival which combined the main show and the lunch booth into a miniature night club.

Mrs. Wilson Tells Penwomen of Her Course in Writing

Mrs. C. C. Wilson went to Amarillo Tuesday to be guest speaker for the Panhandle Penwomen's club in a meeting there. Mrs. Wilson told of her stay at the University of Colorado for the annual writers' conference this summer.

She was accompanied by Mrs. W. A. Breining.

CHORUS SINGS SPIRITUALS AS COUNCIL MEETS

Colored Children on Program at the Church

Spirituals were sung by a chorus of about 40 children from the colored school here as part of the program for First Christian Women's council yesterday afternoon. The mission lesson was on the accomplishments of negroes in America.

Directed by Prof. S. A. Hayden, principal, the pupils sang "Don't Cry, Mary," "Hand Me Down," and "On the Battlefield." Mr. Hayden read two poems which he has written.

Biographies of prominent negroes were presented in short talks. Mrs. P. D. Ferguson told of the life of Roman Hayes, Mrs. R. E. Abbott of Dr. Virginia Alexander, and Mrs. A. D. Altkin, Jr., of Charlotte Hawkins Brown.

Mrs. C. E. Hutchins presented the devotional on the topic, "Lo, I am with you." A reading by Patsy Ann Ferguson completed the program. Mrs. Roy McMillen was leader, and group two was in charge.

The meeting was at the church. Mrs. Ora Wagner, council president, was in charge of the opening session.

Members present from group one: Mmes. J. F. Meers, John S. Mullen, S. E. Elkins, Lee Ledrick, Wagner. From group two: Mmes. O. A. Robinson, J. M. Garrett, and those in program. From group three: Mmes. J. G. Gantz, N. A. Purdy, W. G. Kinzer, H. C. Hill, C. H. Mundy, C. L. Thomas, DeLea Vicars, W. Wilson.

From Group four: Mmes Bruce Cobb, C. H. Kuepfer, J. W. Woodworth, C. H. Darling, B. C. Fahy, W. M. Brace, T. O. Whitten, Charles Webb, Jack Starkey, Burl Graham, C. F. Bastion, N. W. Gault, Mary C. Horner, H. C. Coffey, Emory Noblitt, Sherman Prichard, D. C. Houk, C. W. Moot, J. K. Longacre.

CHAMP CATTLE SOLD

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 22 (AP)—The grand champion carlot of cattle, 15 Herefords, sold for $15.50 per hundred pounds at the auction of blue ribbon heaves at the American Royal Livestock show today. Lew Williams, bidding for the Williams meat company, agreed to pay Mrs. C. W. Hevener of Franklin, Neb., more than $3,000 for the carload, averaging around 1,000 pounds.

MAJORS OPPOSE PIPE LINE CUTS

Eight Companies Will Oppose Reduction Proposal

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—A proposal to reduce transportation rates for crude oil one-third brought representatives of a group of major pipe line companies before the Interstate Commerce Commission today to file oral protests.

Eight corporations asked an opportunity to refute major recommendations in an ICC examiner's report centering around a conclusion rates should be reduced to 65 per cent of the December, 1933, level.

Requests for time for arguments ranging from ten minutes to 45 minutes were filed by J. V. Norman, Oklahoma pipe line company; C. M. Spence, Shell pipe line company; J. C. Donally, Indiana pipe line company; C. W. Morrison, Tidewater pipe line company; Clay Tallahan, Stanolind pipe line company; J. C. Jackson, Texas pipe line company; A. M. Gee, Illinois pipe line company; T. H. Burgess, Standard Oil company of Ohio. The latter company approved the report of Examiner J. Paul Kelley in many particulars.

The issue arose several years ago when a number of companies filed reduced rate schedules with the commission. They were suspended pending an investigation which was placed in Kelley's hands.

Of the 37 concerns named "respondents" in the case, 34 answered his detailed questionnaires, 19 filed exceptions to his report submitted several months ago, and one company replied to the exceptions, agreeing with Kelley in part.

VETERAN LEGALLY DEAD ALIVE IN CALIFORNIA

SUSANVILLE, Calif., Oct. 23 (AP)—A Susanville truck driver told newspapermen today he is Jesse Owen, 41-year old Chattanooga war veteran for whose death a man was tried five years ago.

Joe Braun, as he is known here, declined to shed further light on the eight-year old mystery of Gifford's disappearance.

Straitened circumstances which led him to apply for his soldiers bonus led to his discovery.

Gifford's identity was uncovered in Reno, Nev., recently by the veterans bureau after he applied for his bonus. He needed the money because his leg was broken when he was hit by a taxicab at Reno Rodeo on July 4.

He is still on crutches and his left leg is in a cast. He said he has lost his service papers and must depend on fingerprints and relatives to establish his identity in order to get his bonus money.

Gifford is staying at the home of Baker McQueen, city councilman of Susanville, for whom he drove a truck.

The disappearance of Gifford, and the finding of a body identified as his in the Tennessee river, in 1931, led to the trial of an Alabama man for the slaying. He was acquitted; Gifford, however, was declared legally dead.

PAMPAN ACQUITTED IN CATTLE THEFT TRIAL

BORGER, Oct. 22 (AP)—A jury in district court, now in session at Stinnett, this morning returned a verdict of not guilty in the trial of Raymond Morrison, charged with cattle theft. Selection of a jury to try Grundy Morrison on the same charge started at once. The Morrison brothers, arrested recently, are from Pampa.

An alibi was offered by Raymond Morrison, who claimed that he was in the Rio Grande valley on and about Jan. 1, 1934, when the offense was alleged to have been committed. Defense testimony closed at noon yesterday, and the case went to the jury after arguments in the afternoon.

Dayton Moses was a special prosecutor for the case; defense attorneys were E. J. Cussen and Dan E. Hoover. District Judge E. J. Pickens was on the bench. Major E. J. Simpson of Amarillo has joined the defense counsel for the trial of Grundy Morrison.

THIS TEXAS FOOTBALL STORY TAKES GUSTARD

KINGSVILLE, Tex., Oct. 22 (AP)—Tops in Texas football stories to date, is this one:

Phillips, left guard for Lamar Junior college, looked up his Texas A. and I. adversary, Brown Thompson, immediately after Lamar had absorbed a 25-0 licking.

"I want to shake your hand," said Phillips. "You're the cleanest guard I've played against this year."

Thompson, embarrassed, stopped him with: "Aw, I'll bet that's what you tell all the guards."

TO CALL TRIALS
TEXARKANA, Oct. 22 (AP)—Judge R. H. Harvey said today he would call tomorrow at Linden trials of O. H. Lindsey, Buddy Sacler and Charlie Chapman for the attempted robbery of the First National bank at Atlanta Aug. 31. District Attorney E. L. Lincoln said he doubted the State would ask the death penalty for Lindsey or Sacler. He refused to comment on the case of Chapman.

Red Cross Anticipates Results In Drive on Home-Farm Hazards

Farm dump heaps create fire hazards, breed disease germs and are sources of cuts and puncture wounds which may result in serious infection. Right: Falls cause most home accidents, and often result from a "lazy man's" load while climbing or descending stairs.

DURING the year the Red Cross organized 2500 community groups to deal with local accident problems in a progressive effort to cut accidents in homes and on farms. The three-fold program of the Red Cross warns against careless habits, eliminates hazards by a check-list method of inspection conducted by the householder, and teaches first aid to thousands so that persons injured will have a better chance for recovery.

Home mishaps last year killed or crippled 171,500 persons and farm work accidents took 4,400 lives, as many as the combined fatalities recorded for construction and manufacturing.

NAZIS ACCUSE RUSSIA OF SHIPPING ARMS TO SPANISH GOVERNMENT

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Oct. 22.—Germany has accused Soviet Russia of shipping arms to the Spanish government disguised as food, an informed source said today.

This source disclosed the German note to the non-intervention committee, transmitted to London prior to tomorrow's meeting of the group, contained seven points.

These are in two general categories: 1. A sweeping denial of all charges that Germany has shipped arms to the Spanish insurgents.

2. Several specific dates on which the Germans allege, Russian arms have been transported to Spanish government ports in the guise of food shipments sent by the Russian communist party for the relief of destitute government supporters in Spain.

An Italian reply to Russian charges of neutrality breaches is expected a few hours before the committee meets—at 4 p. m. tomorrow.

PAMPA BAND MAKES HIT AT CENTENNIAL FETES

Pampa's high school band made a big hit in Fort Worth and Dallas when it, with more than 100 citizens, put Pampa on the map at the Centennial celebrations. The trippers returned last night, tired but exhilarated.

Fort Worth gave the Pampans a royal welcome. The Pampa band was featured twice on the air, once over a NBC hook-up. Led by a police escort, the Pampa visitors paraded downtown Fort Worth on Monday morning and later played at the Frontier Centennial.

At Dallas, the band gave a concert in the plaza and also paraded the grounds. Efforts to take part in an "early bird" program over the Dallas station Tuesday morning failed when officials of the hour declared that if Pampa was given a part on the program, all other delegations visiting the fair would have to be given the same courtesy.

CLEANING, PAINTING OF CITY TANKS BEGUN

Cleaning and painting of the interior of water supply tanks at the water works is now in progress by city water works employees. The 210,000 gallon tank on the grounds has been cleaned. Workmen removed 30 cubic yards of mud from the bottom of the tank. The sand settles before the water goes into the lines.

Street department employees are busy filling cracks in the pavement. They hoped to have the work completed before cold weather but the northern this week slipped up on them before they were half finished.

Park employees have plowed weeds under through the central park draw. The bank and bottom of the draw will be sowed with bermuda seed in an effort to kill the weeds and remove a mosquito breeding ground.

MARK LONG VERDICT TO BE APPEALED BY CITY

A jury's verdict in favor of Mark Long versus the City of Pampa in county court Wednesday will be appealed to the court of civil appeals in Amarillo. City Attorney John Sturgeon today was preparing the papers upon order of the city commission.

The jury returned a verdict of $125 in favor of Mr. Long who had sued the city of Pampa for $500 damages, allegedly done to his property by overflow water resulting from insufficient drainage facilities.

Appeal will be on 20 or 40 points of law and insufficient evidence, Mr. Sturgeon said.

Mission Book Is Reviewed for 26 Women at Church

Mrs. L. C. Neely reviewed a book, Congo Crosses, for the mission study program of the Presbyterian Women's Auxiliary yesterday afternoon. The meeting was in the church annex, with 26 members attending.

The opening devotional was in charge of Mrs. T. D. Hobart. After the study hour, refreshments were served by Misses H. Bedenbender and James Elliott, hostesses for the afternoon.

HOUSTON VETERAN IS NEW COMMANDER OF TEXAS CONFEDERATES

BRENNHAM, Oct. 22 (AP)—Gen. M. B. Harless of Houston, spry 92-year-old veteran, was elected commander of the Texas division, United Confederate Veterans, today to succeed James E. Payne of Dallas.

Attired in a handsome uniform of Confederate gray, he was a dominant figure at the state convention here of the United Daughters of the Confederacy and his organization.

The soldier led the grand march at a dance honoring veterans. His partner was Mrs. C. C. Cameron, state president of the Daughters of the Confederacy.

Conferences of state officers and reports of standing committees were on today's program.

Historical events will be observed at the high school auditorium tonight. Mrs. Ike Barton McFarland, state historian, will preside. In the presence of his widow, Mrs. Lizzie Dwyer Robertson of Brenham, a portrait of Gen. Felix H. Robertson, last survivor at his death in 1928 of the fighting generals of the Confederacy, will be unveiled by Mrs. H. W. Hughes, of Brenham.

This portrait later will be presented to the state museum at Austin.

The convention closes Friday with election of other officers and in election of next year's meeting place.

DRUGGIST TESTIFIES IN TRIAL OF HUSBAND

ABILENE, Oct. 22 (AP)—Diagrams and descriptions of the farm place near Trent where Mrs. Mary Duncan's charred body was found in burned ruins of the house on April 10, 1935, were given this morning by R. B. Johnson, Trent druggist and owner of the farm where Mrs. Duncan lived with her husband, Clarence Duncan, at the time of her death.

The state offered testimony of Johnson as the first witness in the trial of Duncan, charged with murder in his wife's death. Jurors for the trial was complete late Wednesday, in forty-second district court.

Johnson said the house was burned to the ground when he arrived at the scene, early in the morning. He saw the bulk of Mrs. Duncan's body, he said, in a southeast bedroom of the four-room house, which fronted north.

Describing the premises, he said the cowlot was 50 or 75 steps south-west of the house and joined a 36 by 12 foot barn on the northeast corner.

The witness said he arrived at the scene of the fire "before daylight," after being notified of it by the Trent telephone manager, who lived next door to him in Trent.

Duncan at the time of the fire was employed by a renter on the Johnson farm.

AL SMITH BOOED AND CHEERED AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Former Governor Al Smith of New York, who "took a walk" from the ranks of the Roosevelt supporters, was given a tumultuous reception in which boos vied with cheers as he arrived today for an address tonight in behalf of the Republican presidential nominee.

In a serious mood and wearing his familiar brown derby, the 1928 Democratic standard bearer walked from the train onto the La Salle street station. A crowd which overflowed onto the street and beyond sent up a shout of approval. Then came boos which at times nearly equalled the cheers in volume.

Fifty policemen kept the crowd in order as Smith was greeted by a reception committee of 20 "London Democrats." Windows of the towering buildings along La Salle street were filled with spectators, who unleashed a flood of torn up paper.

Smith's talk tonight, his only one of the campaign in the middle west, was scheduled for 8:30 to 9 p. m. (CST) in the Civic opera house. It was to be broadcast nationally on the National Broadcasting company and Mutual Broadcasting System networks.

Round the World in 18 Days

Girdling the globe in less than three weeks, H. E. Ekins, Scripps-Howard newspaper reporter made the last long "water jump" of his epic flight when he completed the flight from Manila, via Honolulu, on the Pan American Airways Hawaii Clipper. He's shown, leaving the clipper at Alameda, Calif., on San Francisco Bay, less than 18 days after his takeoff from New York. "And it has been a wonderful trip, too," he declared.

Up And Down The Air Waves

By RAY D. O.

The KPND program, Thoughts for You and Me, seems to have "hit" again and it may be heard at 2:30 p. m. as Bill Karn dreams and wishes—dreams of the beautiful gems from the pens of our great writers and wishes the people would listen while he dreams.

TO ESCAPE CRITICISM, SAY NOTHING, DO NOTHING, AND BE NOTHING.

You will have to watch for the spoofs on October 31. That is the time for the big spoofs and the little spoofs all get together for a grand time. We have just received a tip that KPND is planning a real spooky program for the occasion. Watch this column for definite announcement of the event, and also listen to KPND for details.

At the following hours tonight you will hear the following programs on Columbia, 6:30, "Dixie Serenade;" 6:45, "Boake Carter;" 7:00, "Kate Smith;" 8:00, Major Bowes Amateur Hour;" 9:30, March of Time;" 10:30, "The Cavalcade of America;" 11:30, "Vincent Lopez and his Orchestra."

We would like to hear a good, fast-moving, dramatic play on KPND each week. Would you? Let's tell them we want it and maybe they will put it on.

At least the "Miles of Smiles" jokes are good enough to evoke a hearty laugh from the east. Jokes must be pretty good when the teller will laugh at them. Tune in Miles of Smiles at 12:30 on KPND each day, you will hear good jokes and music.

Mark Twain once edited a paper in Missouri. One of his subscribers wrote to him that he had found a spider in his paper and wished to know whether it meant good luck or bad. "Old Subscriber," answered Mark, finding a spider in your paper is neither good nor bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising, so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

At 4:45 today on KPND you'll hear the Dream Girls, a real entertaining program. Take it from your columnist, television wouldn't hurt this program. Better visit the studio and see them while you hear them.

Don't miss the KPND broadcast of the Lubbock-Pampa football game tomorrow afternoon. Of course it will be better to really see the game, so attend and lend your presence and encouragement to the Harvesters, but if you can't see, hear it on KPND. That is the next best thing.

How about a big time with NBC tonight? At 8 o'clock The Show Boat; 9, Bing Crosby and Bob Burns; 6:30, Lam and Abner; 7, Rudy Vallee Variety Program; 10, Amos & Andy; 11, Harry Reser's Orchestra.

Tomorrow at 3:15 KPND will present Smilin' Sam Davis in a quarter hour of "hot" piano.

We often hear the subject of radio programs discussed, and the question of which is the most popular, live talent or transcriptions seems not to have been settled yet. Which had you rather hear on KPND? The station management would like to have about 100 persons write cards or letters to KPND and tell which you prefer to hear. Drop them a line.

Well, we are going to get to hear the Rhythmites again tomorrow on KPND. The time is 4:45 p. m. You'll enjoy this program.

TESTIMONY NEARS END IN McARTHUR'S TRIAL

FLOYDADA, Tex., Oct. 22 (AP)—Testimony neared an end today in the trial of Everett McArthur for the slaying of "Uncle" Ben Speegle at Matador last Nov. 22.

Speegle, 60, was found dying at his tourist camp. Physicians said he had been choked and beaten. Whether the 23-year old defendant usually had long fingernails became the subject of much testimony. The state brought out testimony that Speegle appeared to have been choked by an assailant with long nails. The defense countered with the testimony of Neal Chastain, Ralph Sherrill and C. W. Barrett who said McArthur did not have long nails during their close association with him.

Twenty-nine persons testified McArthur's reputation was good in his home town of Spur. Jephtha Craig, editor of the Spur-Matador football game prior to Speegle's death and the defendant pulled a measuring chain. He said McArthur was sober and conducted himself properly.

Russell Smith, McArthur's companion after the game, said the defendant had been drinking that night.

John R. Fullingim, Amarillo attorney, was attending to legal business in district court here today.

Where Divorce Will Be Granted

The divorce suit of Mrs. Ernest Simpson, friend of King Edward VIII, will be heard in Ipswich Court, Ipswich, England, where it is expected the case will come up Oct. 27. Above is a scene along Westgate Street, one of the principal thoroughfares of Ipswich, the town on which the curious eyes of the world will be fixed when marital affairs of "the most talked-of woman in the world" are held up to the legal spotlight. At right is a recent posed picture (transmitted by radio) of Justice Hawke, who will preside at the hearing. It is expected that Mrs. Simpson will attend the trial to testify briefly on her marriage. The suit, charging misconduct, is uncontested. Speculation over the possibility that, following the divorce, Mrs. Simpson may marry King Edward is said to have aroused the widest interest in England.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By NEA Service
Hot pineapple muffins understand the amenities of early morning breakfast. To make 12 of these specialties, sift flour, then measure 2 cups. To it, add 2 teaspoons combination baking powder or 2 1/2 teaspoons tartaric baking powder, 3-4 cup sugar and 1-4 teaspoon salt. Sift all together into mixing bowl. Beat together until fluffy 1 egg, 1 cup milk and 4 tablespoons melted butter. If you want to keep the high cost of butter worry out of your budget, use a good quality of oleomarine instead. Or better, use 1 tablespoon of butter for flavor, and 3 tablespoons of the substitute for fat and economy. Add the egg mixture to the flour mixture, beating only enough to dampen all the flour. Now fold in 1-2 cup canned crushed pineapple. Grease 12 muffin pans, fill three-quarters full with dough and bake in quite a hot oven for about 25 minutes.

These and the morning papers will make the man of the house forget that he must slave for his daily bread during the rest of the day.

Coffee Cake
Coffee cake never lets a man down either. Try this novelty. Sift cake flour, then measure 1 cup. Add 1 1-4 teaspoons baking powder, 1-4 teaspoon salt, and sift again. Cream 3 tablespoons butter or other shortening, then cream again with 2 tablespoons sugar added. Beat 1 egg and add to butter mixture. To this butter and sugar, begin to add, first one, then the other, 1-2 cup milk and the sifted flour mixture. Beat again each time you add to it. Use a 9 inch pie pan. Grease it well. Turn in the dough. Sprinkle evenly with 4 tablespoons sugar and 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, mixed together. Bake in moderate oven for about 20 minutes. Remove from oven, moisten top with 2 tablespoons melted butter and 2 tablespoons milk. Return to oven and bake another 15 minutes. Serve piping hot. The day is well begun.

WHEELER, Oct. 22 — Football boys and pep squad girls were guests Saturday evening at a party. Stage money was issued for the first part of the entertainment, to be spent at the various carnival booths. An amusing amateur program was presented next, then Mrs. Gordon Whitmer directed games. Refreshments were served to Wallace Pendleton, Velma Heston, Marcelline Todd, W. C. Zirkle, May Wynne, Beatrice Miller, Imogene Jamison, Irene Hunt, Troy Shipman, Bonnie Adams, Wave Wallace, Herbert Whitmer, Ruth Faye Garrison, J. N. Tucker.

News of School At Skellytown

SKELLYTOWN, Oct. 22 — Miss Sue Michie has been appointed sponsor of the 1937 Antler for Skellytown school, and plans to bring in to the edition the skill of her art classes, plus her own ideas. The Antler is the yearbook for the entire White Deer school district, which includes Skellytown school. Skellytown expects to have many pictures and reports of activity within its covers this year.

Improvement Made

The WPA project on the Skellytown school system has been completed. Now school grounds are being cleaned, gates put up, and fences and gates painted. The commissioner of White Deer precinct and assistants have placed stop signs at various school zone lines recently. Completion of installing $700 worth of new stage equipment Friday adds much to the appearance and usefulness of the auditorium.

Two Speakers Heard

The Rev. C. M. Riggs of the Assembly of God church, and the Rev. W. P. McChicklen of the Community church talked to the student body in chapel Wednesday. School assemblies are always open to the public.

Miss Rowena Hulise, teacher here, was called away last week-end by the death of an uncle and a nephew. The school and community extend their sympathy.

Mrs. H. E. Crocker and Mrs. J. R. Stansell, two of the workers soliciting members for the new Parent-Teacher association here, reported that they secured 20 paid memberships in one day last week.

Birthday Party

Mrs. J. D. Merriman entertained Thursday complimenting Mrs. H. Flannigan on her birthday. The hour was spent quilting and chatting, and the honoree received a number of gifts.

Those present were Misses W. W. Adams, Wren, J. M. Porter, John Ficke, J. A. Lotz, J. P. Morton, Mattie Womack, Lee McCasland, John T. Wiley, the honoree and hostess.

Personal
Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Green and daughter, Anita Kay, of Turkey, were week-end guests of his sister, Mrs. John Hood.

COME ON PAMPA HARVESTERS Let's Go To Town! BEAT LUBBOCK!

The game at 3 o'clock tomorrow will open the conference play for both teams and the eyes of football fans of this district and the state will be on the Pampa Harvesters and the Lubbock Westerners. A real test of strength of District 1 teams will be shown in this key game.

As in other games between teams of this district all "dope" on past games, team strength, and other indications of the winner count for very little. It is anybody's game until the final whistle has blown. The "breaks" often win close games and the Friday game may be no exception.

CITIZENS AND BAND TO MEET AMARILLO TRAIN

The Pampa junior high school band and a large group of citizens, headed by a chamber of commerce committee named at a meeting this morning, will meet the Amarillo woodmill train at the Santa Fe station at 9:25 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Aparillo's special train will be en route to the north plains on a good-will trip, the first to that section in several years. A stop of one hour will be made in Pampa. A parade will form at the station and proceed up Cuyler street where a block will be roped off as a general meeting place.

Several Pampans will drive to White Deer where they will board the Amarillo special. The reception committee will consist of Guy McTaggart, chairman; Bert Curry, vice chairman; John Roby, Mayor W. A. Bratton, C. L. Stone, W. V. Jarratt, Farris Oden, Arthur Teed, Tommy Chesser, R. B. Fisher, Judge C. E. Cary, Judge W. R. Ewing, Jim Lyons, Allen Hodges, J. M. Collins, H. L. Polley, Dick Hughes, Lee Waggoner, J. S. Wynne, Crawford Atkinson, C. H. Walker, C. T. Hunkapiller, W. T. Fraser, Marvin Lewis, Fred Cullum.

STRAYED MILK COWS RETURN HOME TODAY

The "strays" have come back home. Reports that cattle rustlers had driven off 17 milk cows from the Bowers ranch, ten miles south of Pampa, last night, sent sheriff's officers on an investigation trip this forenoon.

Deputy Sheriff O. T. Lindsey returned shortly after noon to report that the cows had been found and returned to the fold.

the Wednesday night and caused considerable discord somewhere between A. Flat and G. Minor. Uncle Billy Betts announces he will not play Santa at the community Yule party this winter. Ever since Uncle Billy got his whiskers caught in the lawnmower this summer he has kept them cropped close to his chin, which took away completely his resemblance to old Saint Nick.

Lena Miffins, winner of the Hixville beauty crown in 1922, and her boy friend from Brown's Corners attended the performance at the Nickelodeon in Black Deer Saturday night, seeing Greta Garbo and one of her Hollywood leading men on the screen.

The wheat crop is mostly all in around these parts and getting ready for a stiff winter is the order of the day. Mrs. Eric Sorgensten had one of her fingers smashed the other day when a "norther" came up in a hurry and she quickly ran and pulled the parlor window down, forgetting to take one hand away.

What's become of the old-fashioned girl who used to get a big kick out of drinking sweet cider and bobbing apples on Halloween? Well, she now has a daughter who likes to climb on top of a night club table and pop a champagne cork into the orchestra leader's eye.

And that reminds us... Only eight more shopping days until all Hallows' Eve. Not having quite reached the age of one yet, the boy wonder of N. West street probably will confine his Halloween activities this year to breaking a bottle or two and tossing his building blocks thru a front window.

Who said anything about race suicide? Well, we just learned today that if the descendants of two rabbits all lived, in ten years there would be 70,000,000 of them in the family. And do you know that the population of the United States is increasing at the rate of 1,600,000 a year?

Here's something to keep in mind: Professor A. Sedgwick says that "every man, however humble his station or feeble his powers, exercises some influence on those who see about him for good or evil." Upon learning this we decided to move our desk to the other side of the office to get away from Pa Pampa.

touch with the states and cities," he said, "is the fact your river here crosses four states. The problem of floods involves more than one state. There are two approaches to that problem, first by the method of co-operation between states—the interstate compact method—and I'm glad to say the states of New England are working together planning for the control of floods. But that method is insufficient in itself.

You cannot ask the state of Vermont, for example, to pay the entire cost of controlling the waters that pass through Vermont. The benefits are to come to Massachusetts and Connecticut.

He said the federal government stood ready to do its share toward flood prevention in the future. "It's a happier Connecticut. I come back to him it was in 1922," he said. "I don't particularly like figures, but in this state employment in the city of Hartford alone is 45 per cent greater this year than it was in 1922.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—After whipping up a selective advance under the leadership of silver specialists, the stock market suffered a late break today and many early gains were converted into losses of fractions to 2 or more points.

Steels were in the forefront of the decline with other recent leaders not far behind. The close was generally lower. Transfers were around 2,000,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Spreading operations that involved buying 160,000 bushels of wheat and Liverpool gave notable firmness to the Chicago wheat market late today.

Need for moisture for winter wheat in Nebraska received considerable attention here. As a result, 200 wheat contracts representing the domestic winter crop showed some independent strength.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22 (AP)—Increased cotton demand continued to have a bearish influence on prices today and kept the market under the previous closing levels.

While most of the advices were confined to the rumor stage, they received some confirmation from the trade as it has been generally understood the yield has advanced in the last two weeks.

A cold wave threatened in the north-west, however, and talk of possible frosts in this area were considered an offsetting development insofar as a bumper crop was concerned.

At mid-day prices were ruling around 25 cents a bale under Wednesday's final levels and the volume of business was limited.

A report from Worth St. said that 4,000,000 yards of print cloths were sold there with prices firm, particularly on late shipments.

NAVY DEPARTMENT TO PROBE MARINE LAYOFF

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—The Navy department today said an investigation would be made of assertions by a marine workers union that shipyard holding government contracts were laying off workmen in an effort to destroy confidence in the Roosevelt administration.

A statement issued by the office of Admiral William H. Standley, chief of naval operations, said "an exhaustive investigation will be made by the Navy department and appropriate action will be taken in the premises."

Navy officers said the assertion was made in a letter sent to Secretaries Swanson and Perkins. The letter—written by the industrial workers of America—said hundreds of shipyard workers have been laid off in the past few weeks, even though shipyards were far behind in their construction schedule.

Firms the union said were laying off men were the Bethlehem Ship Corporation, Quincy, Mass.; United Shipyard Inc., Staten Island, N. Y.; Bath Iron Works, Bath, Me.; Newport News Ship Building and Dry Dock Company, Newport News, Va.; Federal Ship Building Company, Kearny, N. J.; and the New York ship building corporation, Camden, N. J.

The letter contended that deliberate attempt to create anti-administration feeling had been demonstrated "by the fact that the Sun Shipbuilding corporation in Chester, Pa., the only yard with any considerable amount of private contracts, is hiring all the mechanics it can get."

The union added that workmen were being given the impression that "private industry is putting them to work, while the government is turning them out on the street."

Pampans to Appear in Tech Broadcast

A broadcast from Texas Tech. through station WFAP at Dallas, tomorrow evening at 6:30 will feature numbers by the band, chorus, orchestra, and pep squad, of which several Pampa students are members.

Miss Mattie Lee Clay plays in the school orchestra. Miss Ann Sweetman is a member of the chorus; Billy Bratton is in the pep squad; Bob Surratt and Bob Mann play in the Tech band.

boys in the forks of the creek, you know that is true.

"You know industry can't bear all the load, and that the legislature simply cannot finance old age assistance at all as the statute stands on the books today.

"If you can't pay the bill, there is nothing left but to deliberalize. You don't need 30 days of another session to figure that out. Polks so arguing are merely setting up a straw man and laying down a smoke screen behind which to hide."

He lauded Governor Allred for "his courageous stand" in recommending deliberalization and "trying to do the right thing for the people of Texas." He also defended the governor against criticism that the legislature should have been called into session last winter.

As the debate began, Governor James V. Allred, who started the legislative yesterday by urging deliberalization in a message personally delivered, announced he would "not be inclined" to call another special session to make the pension law more restrictive if it could not be done at the current session.

"I see no occasion for calling another session for deliberalization if we can't obtain it at this time," he said. "I am confident, however, that we will get both a tax bill for pensions and deliberalization."

The governor's announcement went a step further than a previous statement that he positively would not call another session if a tax bill was not passed.

He observed also that in event of another session a "serious" question might arise as to whether members of this legislature or those to be elected in November should sit still in a special meeting. Many members of this legislature have been defeated.

Famed Liberal Praises FDR

In a setting of rare drama, Senator George W. Norris here faced the microphone after receiving one of the greatest tributes of his long political career from President Roosevelt. In a plea that brought tears to the eyes of the veteran senator, the president urged a great throng at the Nebraska capitol in Lincoln to re-elect Norris. "a man who has done more for the common, ordinary man than any other president in the last 12 years."

WOMAN WANTS 'DEAD' HUSBAND'S SUPPORT

SOUTH PITTSBURG, Tenn., Oct. 22 (AP)—Mrs. Jessie Owen Gifford intimated today that her husband, reported found in Susanville, Calif., after an eight-year absence, may remain "dead" to his family as they have believed him to be since 1921.

Mrs. Gifford came to her former home here to confer with an attorney after being informed of Gifford's reappearance yesterday. He was quoted as saying in California that he might not return to Tennessee.

"If my husband doesn't want to come back to me, I don't intend to go back to him," Mrs. Gifford said. "But I think he ought to help support my children."

Mrs. Gifford, now employed in a Nashville hosiery mill to support her two boys, has not seen her husband, a war veteran, since he disappeared in 1928.

Recently Mrs. Gifford said she still loved her husband but that, if he came back he would "have a lot of explaining to do."

on government "relief and waste," the republican presidential candidate paused at Phoenix, Ariz., to say "I take my stand on the American system of government against all comers."

Ahead as the Sunflower Special crossed broad expanses of Arizona, New Mexico and Texas, lay only railroad operating stops with a possibility the Kansas might, or might not, appear. A sore throat which yesterday bothered Landon was reported cured.

"At Phoenix the fundamental issue as I see it in this campaign," Landon asserted, "is whether we shall maintain our American system of government or whether we shall surrender it for another and very different system, boycrats."

"Today," Landon continued, "the choice between the American system they have always known and an opposite system. This will determine whether they and their children shall remain a free people, capable of self-government, or be dominated by an all-powerful central authority."

Addressing his remarks to the southwest's cattlemen, Landon said "we see in the present administration of the grazing act another example of federal bureaucracy run wild." He did not elaborate.

"If by one means or another rights to regulate can be set up, such regulation will not stop with telling farmers how many bushels of potatoes they can harvest."

"UNNAMED WOMAN' MAY BE NAMED IN IPSWICH

IPSWICH, England, Oct. 22 (AP)—Quickening interest in the Simpson divorce case centered today on the possibility Mrs. Ernest Simpson, American-born friend of King Edward, may be forced to identify the "unnamed woman" to gain her marital freedom.

PERSONALS

Mrs. M. L. Ferguson of Corpus Christi is a guest in the home of her mother, Mrs. B. E. Finley. Her sister and brother, Miss Flora Deen and Warren Finley, will be here from Norman, where they are students in the University of Oklahoma, to complete the family reunion this week-end.

Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Goldston and Dr. C. H. Schulky returned yesterday from a 17-day trip to Rochester, Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., where Dr. Goldston and Dr. Schulky took post graduate courses. They attended the Minnesota-Michigan football game last Saturday.

Mrs. I. H. Hudson is seriously ill at Wesley hospital.

AT WOOL SHOW

DALLAS, Oct. 22 (AP)—What happens to wool from shearing to cloth will be demonstrated by the United States government at the international sheep, goat, wool and mohair show at the Texas Centennial exposition Oct. 31 to Nov. 8. The department of agriculture will feature the wool show with an exhibit of panelled illustrations showing types of machinery used in manufacturing woolen goods.

BRIDGES BURN

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 22 (AP)—Two railroad bridges on the Louisiana and Arkansas railway company's branch line between Jonesville and Ferriday, in Concordia parish, were destroyed early today by fire of undetermined origin.

2,452 Jap Lovers Die in Volcanoes

TOKYO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Dependent Japanese lovers, 2,452 in the last four years—leaped to death in seething volcanic lava, an official survey showed today.

In 517 cases, the suicides were double—the lover and his beloved plunging into the bubbling mass hand in hand.

An alarming increase in youthful self-inflicted death was cited by the suicide statistics with 7,566 fatalities in Tokyo alone.

While there has been considerable change in the Japanese idea of love, many still consider "shinji"—lovers' suicide—to be the purest and highest form of affection.

Young and sentimental sweethearts often prefer a peaceful spiritual life in another world to the ugly actualities of this one.

Dog Found Dragging Human Leg on Road

TRINIDAD, Cto., Oct. 22 (AP)—A human leg which a dog was dragging along a roadway, sent Sheriff Ray Marty and his deputies on a search today for the body of a boy or girl believed between 12 and 15 years old.

Mrs. V. E. Burson, of South Garcia Plaza, near Trinidad, discovered the dog dragging the leg late yesterday and notified Marty.

The sheriff and Coroner Ed Troupal said the leg belonged to a child. Mrs. Walter Parker underwent a major operation at Pampa-Jarratt hospital this morning.

Round-World Racer Reaches California

Almost 8,000 miles ahead of his two rivals in a race around the world, H. R. Ekins, Scripps Howard newspaper reporter, reached Alameda, Calif., aboard the giant Hawaii Clipper of the Pan American Airways. The next to the last "leg" of his flight, from Manila, was made as the first paying passenger on the Trans-Pacific flight route. Ekins, in civilian clothes and wearing a hat, is seen going ashore when the Clipper docked.

RECORD TURKEY CROP INDICATES MODERATE PRICES FOR DELICACY

DALLAS, Oct. 22 (AP)—A prolific crop of turkeys, likely to be the largest on record, promised today to provide the nation's holiday tables with ample meat at a moderate price. The U. S. Department of Agriculture, in a survey of production, announced that a big crop of turkeys is being raised this year, after two or three years of decreased production. From an estimated total of about 19,000,000 birds in 1932 and 1933, production fell to about 15,000,000 in 1935, due mainly to the feed shortage. Production this year, the department said, will be somewhat larger than in 1932 and 1933, making it the largest crop on record.

Texas turkeys will be 35 per cent more numerous than a year ago. "With ample supplies of turkeys at moderate prices and with increased consumer buying power, the consumption of turkeys will no doubt be heavy this season," the department said.

The department warned that "owing to the big turkey crop this year, a rise in farm turkey prices cannot be expected."

W. A. Hill, father of Frank Hill, district court clerk, was reported improved today in St. Joseph's hospital at Fort Worth, where he has been confined for ten days following a heart attack.

HITLER AND MUSSOLINI WOULD ACT QUICKLY IF RUSSIA AIDS SPANISH

LONDON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Swift German and Italian counter-activity, in the event Soviet Russia makes good her threat to bolt the Spanish neutrality pact, was forecast by informed quarters today. With bitter fascist-leftist wrangling over the non-intervention crisis rapidly nearing a climax, collapse of the "hands off Spain" accord appeared imminent.

Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, already advised by French officials that Russia had definitely determined to quit the pact, awaited momentarily formal notification of Russia's intentions.

The Soviet denunciation, informed sources said, would not be delayed beyond the next meeting of the non-intervention committee which Lord Plymouth, the chairman, called for tomorrow. Immediately upon Russia's withdrawal, it was said, Germany and Italy would plunge into counter-measures to offset any aid dispatched by Moscow to siege-ridden Madrid.

AL SMITH FAILS TO RECOGNIZE HAMILTON

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Alfred E. Smith, who recently announced his support of Gov. Alf M. Landon, Republican candidate for president, today met the generalissimo of the GCP forces—and failed to recognize him.

John D. M. Hamilton, republican national chairman, and Smith came to Chicago on the same train. Hamilton spotted Smith in the dining car, strode to his table with outstretched hand and said, "Hello, Governor."

Smith said "hello" and shook hands but apparently did not recognize Hamilton, whom he had met early in the campaign at a private conference in New York. "Remember me?" the republican leader asked, "I'm John Hamilton." The two talked for a few minutes and later conferred in the Smith compartment.

M'ARTHUR'S COMPANION TESTIFIES AT TRIAL

FLOYDADA, Oct. 22 (AP)—Testimony was closed today in the murder trial of Everett McArthur, accused of slaying "Uncle" Ben Speegle in a tourist camp disturbance at Matador last Nov. 22.

Melvin Ensey, companion of McArthur at high school football game the afternoon before Speegle allegedly was beaten to death, was called as a witness, giving his version of a Roaring Springs cafe conversation.

Waterfront Hearing Will Start Monday

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Rear Admiral Harry G. Hamlet, federal maritime commission representative, made plans today to start hearings Monday in the Pacific coast waterfront labor dispute after indicating attempts to effect a one-year truce had failed.

Shipowners at first agreed to the "ear's" truce, Hamlet said in a statement last night, but the unions asked certain changes in the old working agreements. The shipowners then requested that the matter "go along" to an investigation of the entire situation as originally promised by the maritime commission. Union requests were not made public.

Union leaders continued taking ballots among their membership on the question of authorizing their negotiating committee to call a coast-wide strike of all maritime unions if agreements on vital points are not reached by Wednesday.

INJURIES PREVENT NOBLITT, MAXEY, ROY L. JONES FROM PRACTICING

LUBBOCK TEAM POINTING FOR GRID VICTORY

NOBLITT MAY NOT BE ABLE TO PLAY TOMORROW

Probable starting lineups for the Lubbock-Pampa football game at Harvester field tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock will be:

Pampa	Pos.	Lubbock
Cox, 156	le	Letsinger, 134
L. Jones, 193	lt	Ritchie, 210
Morgan, 145	lg	Shor, 197
Noblitt, 173	cg	Nabors, 215
Mathews, 153	rc	Piercy, 155
R. Jones, 165	rt	Simmons, 185
Maxey, 148	re	Gants, 143
Woodridge, 185	qb	Storrs, 179
Crahan, 137	lb	Ingle, 147
Enloe, 137	rb	Rutledge, 145
Showers, 155	fb	Webster, 175

Officials for the game will be: Referee, Barry Holton (Notre Dame); headlinesman, Davis Hill (WTSU); umpire, Bill Honey (TCU); field judge, J. H. Duncan (Trinity).

The weather was not responsible for all the gloom at Harvester field yesterday afternoon when the Harvesters went through their last big workout before the game with the Lubbock Harvesters here at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

When the squad took the field Ivan Noblitt, center, Roy Lee Jones, tackle, and Glen Maxey, end, were missing. Coaches Odis Mitchell and J. C. Prejan announced that all were on the injured list. Noblitt has a torn tendon in the back of his right knee. Maxey and Jones were both receiving treatment for knee injuries.

Jones and Maxey will be in the starting lineup against the Harvesters but it is doubtful if Noblitt will be able to play. If his injury responds to treatment, he will be expected to start tomorrow. When helped from a car at the high school this morning, Noblitt grinned and said he would be at center if he had to put his leg in a cast. Arthur Harding will be available to replace Noblitt should he be unable to go the full distance.

A ray of sunshine spread over the field, however, when Woody Woodridge and Roy Showers took their accustomed places in the backfield. Woodridge limped a little and his speed was cut down but he will be in the starting lineup against the Harvesters. Showers looked like his old self. The lime burns on his hip and elbow have healed sufficiently to let him run and pass with ease. "Injuries or no injuries, we'll give the Harvesters a battle," Harvester coaches declared yesterday afternoon following a workout in which Harding was a center, Topsy Reynolds at right end and John Henry Nelson at left tackle.

Lubbock will also be at full strength but with crimping in the lineup. Webster, big halfback, came out of the Capitol Hill tussle with a sprained ankle. Babe Ritchie, 210-pound tackle, also was a victim of a knee injury. Harold Ingle was assisted from the field with a bad knee but reported for practice this week.

Lubbock will run a special train to Pampa for the game. The train will arrive over the Santa Fe at 1 o'clock. The Pampa high school band, pep squad, students and a host of citizens will meet the train and welcome the visitors.

BOB DAVIS, KENTUCKY, STILL LEADS SCORING

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP)—The list of national football scoring leaders was almost completely reshuffled in the week-end's gridiron surprises, but Bob Davis, Kentucky, still leads.

Section or Group	Player	pos.	g	t	pt	fg	tp
Southeastern	Bob Davis, Kentucky	HB	11	0	0	66
Far West	Dick Weisgerber, Willamette	FB	4	6	10	1	49
Big Ten	Cecil Labell, Purdue	FB	3	6	8	0	44
Missouri Valley	Pug Manders, Drake	FB	4	7	0	0	42
Southern	Bob Underwood, Drake	HB	4	7	0	0	42
Rocky Mountain	Chet Smith, Citadel	FB	3	7	0	0	42
East	Nevall Call, Utah	HB	4	7	0	0	42
Southwest	Fred King, Hobart	FB	4	5	6	0	36
Pacific Coast	Ralph Rawlings, Arkansas	HB	4	5	0	0	30
Bix Six	Bo Williams, U. C. L. A.	FB	4	2	7	2	25
	Tommy Neal, Iowa State	FB	4	3	0	0	18
	Tommy Neal, Iowa State	E	4	3	0	0	18
	Barney Hays, Kansas State	E	4	3	0	0	18
	Lloyd Cardwell, Nebraska	HB	3	3	0	0	18

with Bill Karn at the microphone. Lubbock will come to Pampa with the hope of pointing to an easy win but according to Lubbock fans, the Harvesters remember last year when they were the underdogs and rose up to smite a band of huge Harvesters. The Lubbock Avalanche says:

In preparation for their district championship campaign opener and for West Texas' high school gridiron highlights of the week, the Lubbock Harvesters ran, passed, blocked and tackled through another strenuous workout yesterday. They go to Pampa Friday to meet the green and gold Harvesters in a game that is due to eliminate one of the so-called "big three" of the district and pave the way for a championship bout between the winner and Amarillo's Golden Sandies.

Westers "Favored" On the basis of comparative scores, etc., the Westers are "favored" over their dread green and gold opponents of Pampa. But this doesn't go in the Westerner work-out. The coaches and the players are smart enough to know that dope doesn't count when District 1 teams get together.

Pampa was favored last year over a hapless and almost helpless Lubbock team but Lubbock's 6 to 0 victory was more decisive than the game. The game was played here before the homefolks, and that helped a lot. This year it is to be played before the Harvesters' homefolks, and there's a difference.

To Have Full Strength It appears now that Coach Weldon Chapman will be able to toss his full strength, which is tied up in eleven good men and hardy against Pampa. If and when one of the eleven goes, there is none of equal power to take his place. Reserve power is a missing quantity in the Westerner camp.

Walter "Daniel" Webster, rookie 175-pound halfback who is learning fast in his first season at high school football, still limped in yesterday's drill with a heavily bandaged ankle, but unless all signs go wrong, he'll be in the starting lineup on Friday afternoon. Babe Ritchie, crowded almost out of the picture by the heavy Oklahoma griders last week, seems up to his usual self, and is counted as a starter. Harold Ingle, speed wagon of the Lubbock backfield, who was ushered out of last week's game under annoying circumstances, appears to be none the worse off for his derails in the losing game. He is Lubbock's big hope for scores against Pampa.

PHYSICIAN DIES WILLIS POINT, Tex., Oct. 22 (AP)—Dr. J. H. Hendrix, 66, practicing physician in Van Zandt county for thirty years, who died in Dallas last night, will be buried today at Edgewood. Survivors include the widow and two sons, Ward Hendrix and Seth Hendrix, both of Dallas.

YALE WON 48 IN ROW BACK IN 'EIGHTIES

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—Winning streaks are much tougher to compile in present day major college football than they were back in the days of the turtle neck jerseys and chrysanthemum haircuts.

That's why there is much lustre attached to the current streak of the Minnesota Gophers, who have won 20 in a row and have gone through 27 consecutive games without defeat in big league competition.

Bernie Bierman's boys still have a few steps to go, however, before they touch either the ancient or modern records for non-losing performances of the Marathon type. It's a fact that the Gophers have equaled the "Notre Dame record." The "fighting Irish" of 1919-21 registered 20 consecutive triumphs. That mark was equaled in 1929-31, including the last two unbeaten teams coached by Knute K. Rockne.

The all-time all-America winning streak, so far as this writer's diligent research reveals, was set by the sturdy men of Yale away back in the "elegant eighties." The Elis of 1885-89 ran up a stretch of 48 straight victories.

The University of Washington's Huskies rolled up 44 consecutive wins from 1908 to '14, but it was not compiled exclusively in college competition.

The University of Michigan's famous "point a minute" aggregations at the turn of the century, achieved a stretch of 56 games without defeat, from 1901 to 1905.

VOTE!!!

The greatest possession of a free people is the ballot—the right to vote. It is a defender of our liberties and a weapon against injustice.

Yet that invaluable heritage is not prized by millions of otherwise good citizens. Proof of this statement can be found in undeniable statistics. In most elections, less than half of the persons who are entitled to vote do so. It is exceptional when an election brings to the voting booths more than fifty per cent of enfranchised citizens.

One result is that public officials are elected by minorities—the vote of the majority is silent. Another, and worse result, is a flagging of interest by the people in a thing which vitally affects us all—our government.

This year, there are great issues before us. No matter where we may stand, it is our duty as well as our privilege to mark an X opposite names of our choice on the ballot. Only by doing that, can we have popular government.

In Germany the right to vote has been virtually abrogated—at the last election citizens had a choice of endorsing Hitler or leaving the ballot blank, there being no opponent. That is true of Italy, of Russia, of Greece, of a dozen other powers. And here in America, where we still have that right which preserves our freedom, half of us don't trouble to exercise it.

So—vote on November 3. Vote for Roosevelt, Landon, Lemke, Thomas—whichever you believe is the best man for President. Do the same for other offices. It is your inalienable right to vote for whomever you please. And only by voting on the men and issues of the time, can that right be preserved.

HOW MUCH TODAY?

How much will you spend for taxes today? Perhaps you will answer "Nothing, there are no taxes due"—but you're wrong.

Taxes are due every day—and you pay them every day. For example, if you buy a pair of $5 shoes, you pay about a dollar in taxes—taxes temporarily paid for you by manufacturer, distributor and retailer, and then collected by adding to the price of the product.

If you buy 35 cents worth of meat, you pay at least six cents in taxes. If you use two gallons of gasoline, you pay ten or twelve cents in taxes. So it goes with everything you buy or do—from your morning coffee to the movie show you attend this evening.

Nothing escapes taxation. And most taxes are indirect—that is, they are part of commodity and service costs. Direct taxes—such as taxes on income, property, etc.—constitute the smaller part of the total tax burden.

So—how much will you spend for taxes today?

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

ST. LOUIS.—In Missouri's capital, Jefferson City, is a big building which newspapermen, lobbyists, and some legislators call "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

The fact that this building is the state capitol will give you some idea how important is Tom Pendergast's Kansas City political machine in Missouri politics and in any state-wide election.

The Pendergast machine and fraudulent elections are the chief issues in the campaign. The machine, with its ability to deliver a huge vote, is one of the chief props for the commonly held theory that Missouri is in the bag for Roosevelt.

At the same time, revelation of huge registration frauds in St. Louis and Kansas City may prove to be F. D. R.'s outstanding campaign liability.

Democrats are predicting that Roosevelt will carry the state by from 100,000 to 250,000. More neutral observers are inclined to shade the former figure considerably.

The Republican attitude can best be described as hopeful. In 1932, the Roosevelt plurality over Hoover was 460,000.

Paradoxically, both St. Louis, whose voting lists have just been scrubbed clean after exposure of the worst election fraud in Missouri in history, and Kansas City, where critics say the registration lists are padded with 60,000 "ghosts," have had record-breaking registrations this year. Although the Pendergast machine is given almost full credit in Kansas City, argument rages as to the proper interpretation of this phenomenon in St. Louis.

"The employers are against Roosevelt, the employees are for him, and the farmers are split," says one old-time Democratic leader in St. Louis.

"The workingman and the farmer, along with the businessman, have come to realize that only Landon's election can save them from a disastrous future," says a Republican.

At any rate, the Democrats, controlling the governorship, the two senatorial seats, the whole congressional delegation, the municipal setups in St. Louis, Kansas City, and other cities, along with most other offices, have a much superior organization for campaign and electoral purposes.

Business is good and throughout the state are many who have been sweetened by federal spending.

Jesse W. Barrett, Republican candidate for governor, seems to have a much better chance of defeating Maj. Lloyd Stark, Democratic and Pendergast candidate, than Landon has to beat Roosevelt.

Stark extols the New Deal. Barrett says nothing about national issues and makes his slogan, in effect, "Clean up Kansas City." State-wide resentment against machine domination may elect him.

St. Louis expects to have the most honest election any large American city ever had. A bitter primary fight between Democratic factions led by Mayor Bernard Dickerman and ex-Congressman William L. Igoe developed a scandal in the Mound City which revealed a "ghost vote" of something like 45,000.

The St. Louis Star-Times and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch began to investigate before the primaries and continued to apply terrific heat. A grand jury has indicted 24 persons for election frauds and probably will have 200 persons—mostly Democrats—under indictment before long. Election judges and clerks are scared stiff.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

Brooklyn's stinging, critical barbs of the moment, reminiscent of Dorothy Parker in one of her bitterest moods, are being directed against that new English melodrama which opened recently to the stony indifference of most rattle observers.

The play deals with a psychopathic murderer who finally betrays his own guilt by sending a veil to shreds in a sudden fit of violence. But the critics weren't very enthusiastic about it.

"It isn't convincing," one hardened reviewer declared. "When the murderer tears that veil he isn't trembled enough."

"That is true," agreed the manager mournfully, "but he will be better tomorrow night. We are going to hand him the box office statement, and when he sees how lousy business is, he will go into a real frenzy."

Then there is the case of the epigrammatic sports writer who annoys his confederates by demanding praise of his stories. When he sees you the first thing he does is grab you by the lapel and crowd you into a corner.

"Did you read my column this morning?" he exclaims. "It was marvelous!"

Wary of this self-idolatry, one of his colleagues snapped him up with a blunt criticism: "So," the pained one demanded, "you think I'm lousy!"

"Not at all," murmured his detractor softly, "but you could be if you'd hustle!"

It is Willard Keefe, pausing between scenes on a new play, who peeps over by shoulder and contributes this episode to the day's trivia.

A hungry actor, pocketing his first pay envelope after a lengthy period of idleness, raced in a restaurant and ordered a double helping of a tasty Italian dish. "But no garlic," he warned as the waiter hurried towards the kitchen.

Later, when the dish was set before him, the actor sniffed it suspiciously. "Didn't I tell you no garlic?" he blazed. "But there is no garlic in the order."

"Don't tell me there isn't garlic here," cried the actor. Hearing the disturbance, the proprietor hurried to the actor's side. "Listen," snarled the angry actor, "I told that waiter not to put garlic in this, and it reeks with it."

Bending over the offending dish, the proprietor sniffed carefully. "Ah," he exclaims triumphantly, "there is no garlic in this. It is on the waiter!"

HOW'S your HEALTH

Know Your Colds

A stuffed nose, infected eyes, sneezing and the secretion of copious amounts of mucus, do not themselves establish the existence of a cold. These symptoms merely indicate that the upper respiratory system has been irritated and is reacting to the irritation in its physiologically defined manner.

Measles, hay fever, grippe and even emotional disturbances can give rise to this combination of symptoms, so generally interpreted by the public as signs of a cold. Hence it is valuable to be able to distinguish at least in a preliminary way the signs and symptoms of the common cold from those of some other, perhaps more serious condition.

This is advised not to encourage self-diagnosis, but rather to warn against the danger of considering the symptoms as pointing to "nothing more than a cold," when indeed they are due to a serious influenza, or to a pneumonia.

The common cold seldom if ever has a fulminating onset. The sufferer doesn't come down "at a sudden." There may be some headache and a general feeling of malaise. But there are no sharp pains in the chest, and seldom any sudden exhaustion. These latter symptoms are more suggestive of pneumonia and influenza, respectively.

Fever is not usually present at the onset of a common cold. On the contrary, the temperature is more likely to be slightly subnormal. The patient frequently complains of feeling chilly or cold, and his skin feels dry and cold.

At first the nose is dry and feels irritated, but within a few hours there appears a thin and watery discharge. Sneezing is usually common at this stage. Subsequently the nose becomes stuffy and the discharge changes from a watery to a thick consistency. The inflammatory condition may extend to involve the tonsils, the throat and the chest (bronch).

The clinical picture then changes; there may be cough, fever and pain in the throat and chest.

using what seems to them the easiest way of controlling a child. In the end, however, they are bound to be the losers by these deceptions. The child finds out that none of these prophetic stories is true. He sees either child handle toads and get no warts, the black dog never materializes, policemen turn out to be pleasant fellows with a very human viewpoint, and in spite of all the untruths adults have told, their tongues are still in place.

Whoever told these obvious lies must be ignorant or untrustworthy. From this time on the child's faith in the adults and his respect for them are shaken. The children can no longer be controlled by fear and know no other authority.

Fear even of real dangers should be as far as possible kept from a child. Under no conditions should lying threats be used as a means of control or discipline.

The Wrong Murderer

By HUGH CLEVELY

Chapter Three

Terrence's next action, after changing his quarters, was to buy himself a car. He had returned from China with a sum of nearly fifteen hundred pounds, and he spent three hundred of this on a second-hand but tremendously fast sports car, which he bought with a guarantee that it would do eighty-five.

Transferring his possessions and buying the car took him until nearly three in the afternoon. At half past three he called at the house in Chelsea, where Elsa Little lived with her uncle. He had only met Elsa twice in his life, and was aware that she hid had no encouragement to call. That did not worry him. He had never suffered from shyness.

Vincent Little, Elsa's uncle, greeted him politely, but with an air of surprise, as if he were rather at a loss to account for the reason for his call. He spent a great deal of his time in being frigidly polite to young men with ambitions to see Elsa.

Elsa also seemed surprised, but not displeased, to see him. In spite of her recent sensational rise to stardom in the film world, she had remained unspoiled and natural; that was part of her charm.

Mahony could easily understand how she had risen so quickly. Though small and child-like-looking, there was an air of great health and vitality about her; she radiated personality. Her hair was very fair and silky, and fell in glossy waves on either side of her forehead, framing the delicious oval of her face.

Her eyes were a vivid blue, the bluest Mahony had ever seen; her nose was slightly turned up, giving her a rather impudent expression; her small mouth was delightful. She had a lovely friendly smile that crinkled the corners of her eyes a little and caused the hearts of impressionable young men to melt within them.

"How nice of you to call," she said. "You'll stay to tea, won't you?" Vincent Little frowned, and cleared his throat slightly. He did not want Mahony to stay to tea. He disapproved of the manner in which Elsa became friendly with young men without making the least enquiry into their wealth or social position. While he was proud of Elsa's rise to stardom, he deplored the fact that her association with the film world brought her into contact with a great number of people who had never played polo or hunted in their lives.

Still, as Mahony was staying to tea, he supposed he ought to talk to her. "Let me see," he began rather patronizingly. "You're a friend of young Ross, aren't you? A shocking affair that—shocking. Obviously he was driving very recklessly."

This remark merely confirmed the opinion which Mahony had formed instantly—that Little was a pompous old fool. He turned to Elsa. "I suppose you're going to the Cinema Ball tonight?" he remarked.

"Yes," she answered. "Though I don't want to a bit, after that horrible accident. Billy Ross was to have been in our party, you know. I tried to get out of going, but Mr. Lawson said it would be silly, and the company I work for would hear of my not going."

"Lawson was right," put in Little importantly. "Young Ross was no relation of yours, and the public have paid a guinea each for tickets to the dance, expecting to see you and the other stars there, and you have no right to disappoint them. I don't wonder that the company insisted on your going."

"Are you going with Lawson?" asked Mahony. "At that Little raised his eyebrows slightly. But Elsa answered without hesitation. "A man named Fordham is calling for me, and we're joining Mr. Lawson's party at the Albert Hall. Are you going?"

"No," answered Mahony untruthfully. "Who and what exactly is Lawson?" he asked. "Where does he come from?"

"Lawson's a friend of ours—a very good friend," he said reprovingly. "He's an absolute first-class chap."

"Really?" said Mahony. He turned to Elsa. "You like him, do you?" he asked. "At that question old Little's eyebrows went up about half an inch. Evidently he thought the question highly impertinent. That did not disturb Mahony. He wanted information, and he did not care a hoot if old Little's eyebrows went right up through the ceiling."

Elsa hesitated, laughed, and shrugged her shoulders slightly. "Well, yes, I think he's all right. He's rather an extraordinary man, you know, terribly clever. There doesn't seem to be anything that he can't do. He speaks about four languages, and he's good at sports, and he's a marvelous musician."

"She hesitated again. "I don't think I altogether rave about him," she said judicially. "But he's been very nice to us."

"Nonsense, Elsa; you shouldn't say things like that, you know you like him," put in her uncle in a rather annoyed tone. "Everyone likes Lawson. He's most popular."

"The door of the room opened. "Did I hear my name mentioned?" asked a voice from the doorway. A tall man of about forty stood on the threshold. He was strikingly good-looking. His hair was dark, with a central parting; his eyes were dark, with a slight upward slant to them; his features were clear-cut and keen; his lips, slightly parted in a smile, revealed a glimpse of singularly white and perfect teeth.

His clothes were beautifully cut, and he wore them with an air of distinction. For a moment he stood quite still in the doorway, almost in the manner of an actor who pauses for a moment, after his first entrance on the stage, in order to give the applause time to subside.

"I found the front door unlocked, so I walked in," he said. "Of course. That's all right, my dear chap; we're very glad to see you. Let's see, you've met—"

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

BY ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD.—Nancy Dover is offering the fans Judith Barrett, the same girl with a new name and a new style. Jean Muir is trying out a new personality. Tala Birell is considering a departure in screen character for herself.

But Hollywood's "personality mill" is always at work. While talent scouts seek new faces for the screen, the faces they found last year and the year before seek new guises for themselves.

The transformation of Miss Muir is striking. Blonde and demure in earlier films, with that earthy quality of simplicity, Jean has gone "natural" as to hair and modern—or call it smart, vivacious, sexy—as to personality.

But turn back Hollywood's picture albums a few years, even a few months, and equally vivid changes will be revealed. The Claudette Colbert you see today is not the Claudette of "It Happened One Night" or the Colbert of "The Sign of the Cross." She is the latest, up-to-the-minute edition of the same young woman first seen on the screen in the silent film "Love o' Mike."

Experiments in make-up and hair-dress are a constant interest of most screen women, and that is why their faces "change" from year to year. Sometimes it is a natural evolution in keeping with fashion, more often it is a personal departure undertaken with the same zest and curiosity as is shown for a new wardrobe.

HAIR OFTEN CHANGED

Most often it is the coiffure that yields to experimentation. Nancy Dover had a complicated hair-dress, but Judith Barrett brushes her bob away from the face, lets it curl at the ends, and in consequence emerges as a "different" person.

Carole Lombard changes her coiffure at the slightest provocation. Jean Harlow's change to natural brown from platinum blonde opened new fields for her.

REMEMBER THAT SWEET LITTLE GIRL

of the silent "Student Prince"? That was the same Norma Shearer who "grew up" to smartness, sophistication, and that screen commodity called glamor. Bette Davis used to be the sweet little sister type, but she groomed herself for bigger things and she's a different girl today. The change is more than the slight darkening of her hair. It's an expression of the personality that proved itself equal in "Of Human Bondage," to a complete change of acting type.

AND SO IT GOES

And Joan Crawford—there is a change. Joan is talking of going blonde now, but that is a mere after-thought to the real transformation from the plump, harum-scarum Lucille LaSueur of her early movie days to the slender, dignified, smart young woman of today.

And they'll keep on changing, as long as there are make-up men, hair-dressers, bleaches, dye-pots—and those well known little dabs of powder and little pats of paint.

NOTRE DAME TO SHOOT WORKS AGAINST PITT

CHICAGO, Oct. 22. (AP)—There'll be an unvelving ceremony in the big Pittsburgh university football stadium Saturday afternoon—Coach Elmer Layden is going to pull the curtain on his Notre Dame mystery team.

The Irish have won three games without showing a thing, but in Saturday's Panther battle they open the second and "suicidal" portion of their schedule. After Pitt come Ohio State, Navy, Army, Northwestern and Southern California and the Pitt battle will be the big tip-off on where Layden's eleven is going this season.

"The word went out from South Bend today to 'shoot the works' against Coach Jock Sutherland's aggregation. More than 70,000 fans are expected at one of the game's greatest rivalries.

"We have a team that is gaining experience slowly," Layden said. "I do not believe Pitt will tell the entire story but it will provide the hardest test to date."

Amarillo-Port Arthur Tilt Headlines League Schedule

Other Teams to Risk Perfect Records This Week

By HAROLD V. EATLIFF
DALLAS, Oct. 22 (AP)—Gridiron powers from opposite ends of the state meet in the feature Texas-Amateur league game this week. Amarillo's Golden Sandstorm journeying to Port Arthur for a clash between unbeaten teams.

The Sandies, heavily favored to reach the finals for their third straight season, and Port Arthur, uncrowned on to date, clash Friday in a game that will test the mettle of the defending state champions from the Panhandle.

There are other important games on the most attractive schedule thus far of the campaign. North Dallas and Dallas Tech, unbeaten and untied teams, clash Saturday in a district eight game and North Side, sensation of the Fort Worth district, plays Koshusko, defending Mississippi champions and unbeaten this season, at Fort Worth Thursday night.

Paris risks its unswayed record against Gainesville, unbeaten Austin of El Paso plays at Mesa, Arizona, and the Palestine spotless record will get a severe test against Lufkin. Corpus Christi, also in the undefeated, untied class, plays San Jacinto, Houston, and Kerrville engages Class B Refugio.

Six teams are undefeated but have been tied. Port Arthur has a scoreless deadlock with Byrd high (Shreveport) against an otherwise clean record. Olney also in this class, plays Wichita Falls, Breckenridge meets Eastland, Longview tangles with Texarkana, Temple engages Cleburne and San Benito plays Weslaco. Hillsboro and Edinburg, other undefeated, untied teams, rest this week.

The schedule by districts:
1—Friday: Lubbock at Pampa (district), Quanah at Plainview.
2—Friday: Wichita Falls at Olney (district), Vernon at Graham (district), Matador at Electra.
3—Friday: Abilene at Sweetwater (district), Brownwood at San Angelo (district), Eastland at Breckenridge (district), Ranger at Big Spring (district).
4—Friday: El Paso high at Fabens (district), Carlsbad (New Mexico) at Ysleta, Austin (El Paso) at Mesa (Arizona), Saturday—Cathedral (El Paso) vs. Bowie (El Paso).
5—Friday: Gainesville at Paris (district), Sherman at Denison (district), Willis Point at Bonham.
6—Friday: Denton at McKinney (district), Sulphur Springs at Greenville (district), Kerens at Highland Park (Dallas).

ARLINGTON DOWNS RACES TO OPEN 27-DAY PROGRAM TODAY

BY FELIX R. MCKNIGHT.
ARLINGTON DOWNS, Oct. 22 (AP)—Chill winds arrived today with the start of the Texas Jockey club's 27 days of fall racing for $200,000 in stake purses.

A topnotched throng of 15,000 was predicted for the inaugural handicap, $2,000 added for a field of eleven rather obscure two-year-olds over the six furlong distance.

Scratches reduced the original list of 25 nominations to the eleven starters, with Mr. Blaze, A. G. Tarn's successful campaigner on New England tracks, slightly the class with a top impact of 119 pounds.

Two stable entries, the Three D's stock farm combination of Heffly and Gie Daisy, and J. D. Norris' Camisado and Danger Point, were other threats given heavy poundage.

Clear, brisk weather prevailed with the new mile and a sixteenth track, recently completed for the fall meet, rated as fast.

Jockey club officials announced the new totalisator, one of the costliest on American tracks, would not be ready for operation before next Wednesday. The entire plant has been remodeled and redecorated.

Sam C. Nuckols, veteran Churchill Downs steward, will officiate as steward in charge of racing with William H. Shelley, also of the Kentucky track, associate steward. Chas. J. McLennan will again serve as racing secretary.

Quartered in the stables were Top Row, Gallant Son of Peanuts, winner of the Waggoner Memorial Handicap last year, and Stand Pat, the E. P. Seagram star that outran Discovery in Arlington Park's Stars and Stripes Handicap of 1935.

The eight feature stake races are: The Inaugural Handicap, $2,000 added, six furlongs, two-year-olds, Oct. 24—West Texas Handicap, $2,500 added, six furlongs, three-year-olds and up, Oct. 31—Dallas Centennial Handicap (district), Marshall at Kilgus (district).

6 TOP TEAMS TO PASS OUT ON SATURDAY

MINNESOTA, PURDUE WILL CLASH IN MID-WEST
NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—For the second straight weekend, the nation's list of undefeated major college eleven figures to take a terrific beating with this Saturday's gridiron program.

Barring the possibility of ties, at least six of the top eleven from coast to coast will pass out of the picture in half a dozen meetings bringing together unbeaten outfits on both sides, topped by the mid-west collision of Minnesota's Gophers and Purdue's Boilermakers and the Fordham-St. Mary's inter-sectional clash in New York.

Too, the slate is studded with at least nine other battles in which undefeated combinations tangle with teams which, although already beaten, may turn the trick.

Along with the Purdue-Minnesota, Fordham-St. Mary's clashes, the all-unbeaten contests bring together Tulane's mighty Green Wave and North Carolina's Tarheels in a southern showdown; Michigan State and Marquette in a feature meeting of two independent midwest winners; Villanova and Boston U. in the east, and the Utah-Utah State game in which may lie the Rocky Mountain conference championship.

Heading the list in which no unbeaten eleven faces a strong threat on its continued run from an already defeated outfit is the Notre Dame-Fit classic at Pittsburgh, where the all-victorious "Fighting Irish" may find the Panther on the warpath after his upset by little Duquesne a week ago.

Holy Cross meets Carnegie Tech; Georgetown plays N. Y. U.; Western Maryland, although beaten, looms as a hard one for St. Mary's of Texas to pass, while Baylor rates about the same against Texas A. & M. Southern California meets Stanford and Washington State takes on Oregon.

McLEAN TO PLAY IN WELLINGTON FRIDAY
McLEAN, Oct. 22 — McLean Tigers will journey to Wellington Friday night for a game with the Sky-rocketers on their own field. McLean goes into the game in a crippled condition. Watson, quarterback and mainstay in the Tiger defense, will not be able to play because of injured shoulder received in the game with Amarillo last Saturday. Hess, who is proving an all-round man, having played at center and guard, will call signals. Wingo, thought at first not to be able to play, will see action.

Wellington has a powerful team and a wealth of reserve power. Coach Allen has drilled his men all week on Wellington's formations and plays, also in tackling, for they show in the game Saturday.

Wellington has a most outstanding punter and a good aerial attack, so the Tigers have been brushing up on their pass defense. This will be the best and most crucial game of the conference. The losing team will be out of the race for conference honors.

Slingin' Sam Winding Up For Mississippi Struggle

Baylor and Farmers Are Laying For Each Other
By The Associated Press
The Texas Aggies and the Baylor Bears, long-time rivals who clash Saturday at Waco in the week's Southwest conference headliner, continued to familiarize themselves with each other's plays today.

Freshman gridsters served as cannon fodder for the fourth consecutive day as the two teams neared a fighting edge.

Coach Morley Jennings at Baylor was expected to use the same line-up that started against Texas last week.

At College Station, Coach Homer Norton drilled the Aggies on Bruin defenses as well as offense.

Backfield injuries worried Coach Fred Thomsen as he primed his Arkansas Razorbacks for Saturday's tilt with Louisiana State at Shreveport. La. Owens, goal kicker, joined the injury list, which already included Robbins, Feen and Bobbie Martin.

The University of Texas Longhorns scrimmaged long in preparation for the Rice game Saturday. All members of the squad except Bill Pitzer were reported in good condition.

Coach Jimmy Kitts at Rice drilled against Longhorn formations and worked on plays for use against the Steers.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

A cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. You can relieve them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery that aids nature to soothe and heal the infected membranes and to relieve the irritation and inflammation as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled.

Medical authorities have for many years recognized the wonderful effects of Bechwood Creosote for treating coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations. A chemist worked out a special process of blending Creosote with other ingredients so that now in Creomulsion you get a real dose of Bechwood Creosote which is palatable and can even be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children. Thousands of doctors now use Creomulsion in their own families and practice, and druggists rank Creomulsion top because it is this genuine, original product you can get a real dose of Creosote so emulsified that it goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles, especially those that start with a common cold and hang on and on. Get a bottle of Creomulsion right now from your druggist, use it all up as directed and if you fail to get satisfactory relief, he is authorized to refund every cent of your money. Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

HOW 'MASTOID' SUFFERER SAVED AT LEAST $500 IN 'OPERATION'

By JACK STINNETT
 NEW YORK—We have a friend who has been married twice, a common condition around town. This is a true story concerning Harry Wilbur, his son by his first wife, and I should not expect you to believe it, because if I hadn't sat in on its events I shouldn't have believed it either.

Harry was stopping in for cocktails one night. He drove up with his present wife, who is charming, she is, too. She got out, and Harry drove hastily away. She explained that Wilbur, who is a young man in his twenties, was a lost Wilbur is not the kind of boy to get lost but he was due for a mastoid operation shortly, and Harry feared the pain might have driven Wilbur to something drastic.

Anyway, Wilbur was found in a hotel room late that night. He had collapsed on the street, and a stranger had taken him to a hotel. His pain was so great he could not even telephone.

Next morning Harry took Wilbur to the best ear doctor he could find. Wilbur was suffering agony, and went without protest. The doctor looked sharply at Wilbur, made a few passes, and announced that he must operate next morning at the latest. The fee would be $500.

Being a canny soul, Harry thought another consultation was in order. So he got the name of another well known practitioner, bundled Wilbur into a taxi, and took him to the second man.

This gentleman made an examination, and announced that certainly an operation for mastoid was in order, but that an observation period of 10 days or more was indicated. The charge for observation would be $250; the operation (almost sure to be necessary) would be $500 more.

This gave Harry pause. He looked at his suffering son, however, and was on the point of giving in when he remembered his sister, who is an official of some importance in a certain very well known medical center. No harm could be done by asking her advice; accordingly Wilbur was bundled into still another taxi, and hauled a long way to the stack of buildings where the sister had an office.

"They're probably right," said she, meaning the doctors of course, "but I'd like for Dr. Blank to have a look before you go ahead."

They caught Dr. Blank just as he was about to address a couple of hundred students in the operating theater. He looked Wilbur over quickly, and said:

"It wouldn't embarrass you, young man, I can fix you up now."

Nothing could embarrass Wilbur, suffering as he was, accordingly he was led into the theater, where Dr. Blank picked up a pair of forceps, tilted Wilbur's head, and made a dive.

When he withdrew the tweezers an object about the size of a forefinger dangled therefrom.

"There, ladies and gentlemen," he said, "is the largest polyp ever taken from a human ear."

Wilbur, feeling suddenly better, began to fidget. Finally he asked Dr. Blank what was next.

"Nothing," said the doctor. "You can go back to work if you want to."

Wilbur started off.

"Oh yes," said Dr. Blank, "I forgot. It'll be fifty cents."

Harry paid.

AUSTIN, Oct. 20 (AP)—Box seats in stadium may please some folks, but Gov. Allred prefers to watch football games from points higher up where he can observe the field and players better.

At the Louisiana State-Texas game he and Gov. Leche of Louisiana had seats near the top of the stands. At the half they were taken down to the field for ceremonies and then marched up again to see the remainder of the contest.

Three members of the legislature are former Southwest Conference football players. They are Reps. Fred Harris of Dallas and Howard G. Hartzog of Port Lavaca, and Senator Weaver Moore of Houston.

Harris and Hartzog starred at Baylor University, not at the same time, however, while Moore played with the University of Texas Longhorns. Harris was picked as an all-conference end by many sports-writers and coaches.

Leon Moses, assistant attorney general, is a former Baylor track and football letterman.

One of the noisiest sports in the Capitol when the legislature is in session is the big hall just behind the hall of the House of Representatives.

There a hundred-odd young women, secretaries to members, bang out letters all day long, that is, of course, when they aren't visiting. There seems to be plenty of time for the latter.

Most of the long rows of typewriters and tables are rented by the House for the extra work of a session. The state owns a few used in offices between sessions.

Rep. Joe Caldwell of Asherton, chairman of the House committee which investigates alleged teaching of Communism in state-supported institutions, was subjected to good-natured chaffing by other representatives.

In Caldwell's hearing, Rep. Eugene Worley of Shamrock told press correspondents he had information of a "red plot" to sow the state house with bombs and touch them off on a "pre-arranged signal." He added that he understood the wires ran "straight from Russia."

"Yes," grinned Caldwell, "and the switch is right under your de'."

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL
 AUSTIN, Oct. 21 (AP)—The most popular legislative hearing of the year, from the standpoint of spectators, was by a committee of the House of Representatives into rumored teachings of communism in the University of Texas and other state colleges.

Hundreds of students and faculty members from the university, as well as members of the legislature and town folk, came early and stayed late. So vociferous was their applause for Dr. Robert H. Montgomery, university professor and witness, that members of the investigating section termed them a "cheering section."

Dr. Montgomery was thoroughly at home in the setting, have appeared many times as a witness at inquiries on utility regulation legislation. He knew some of the newspaper correspondents reporting the proceedings and before the hearing got under way appeared at the press table in the Senate chamber.

He turned to a press photographer, working with a camera, and remarked he would like to have a copy of the picture he was preparing to take.

"What picture?" asked the photographer.

"Of the bomb," said Montgomery.

Edward Clark, secretary of Gov. Allred, appeared at the hearing in uniform of the national guard. He is an officer of the organization.

Friends asked if he had been mobilized to fight the "Reds" but Clark only grinned.

Gov. Allred also was present, occupying a seat on the crowded rostrum with Senator Allan Shivers of Port Arthur and other friends.

Asked the morning after the first session what he thought of the hearing he said:

"Well, I see the Capitol hasn't been blown up yet."

Congressman Maury Maverick of San Antonio, known generally as a liberal in political thought, breezed into the Capitol wearing a blue shirt and red necktie.

He denied there was any connection between the color of the cravat and the hearing and said he had come to Austin "just to have a good time." Then he said the investigation "probably had something to do with the visit."

"I'll give you good answer if anyone asks you whether you are a communist," Maverick said. "Ask him in reply what he means by communism? That'll stop him."

Photographers had a field day. The managing editor of a San Antonio newspaper brought one and the local cameramen were on hand.

Said one representative to another: "Better look out, Bill, or they'll get your picture."

"Not I," was the reply. "I'm no communist, I've had a haircut."

When photographer caught Rep. B. L. Rogers of Fransworth and Dr. Montgomery with their heads close together, the latter slapped his knee, laughed and told Rogers he was "ruined."

Q. What Texas town was once known as "Dog Town?" B. H. A. Tilden, McMullen county, which once had a population of 1,200 or 1,500, being the trading point of the "Brush Country," in its wildest days.

Q. By whom was the town of Bandera established and when? P. I. F. A. John James, Charles de Montel and John H. Herndon acquired the land and platted the townsite in 1853, building a horse-power sawmill and opening a commissary store there the same year.

Q. How did Bandera county and county seat get their names? P. I. F. A. They were named for "Bandera Pass," a pass through the nearby Guadalupe mountains. "Bandera" is a Spanish word meaning "flag" or "signal." The accepted version is that following a victorious fight with Apache Indians, about 1752, in which the Indians were driven from the mountain top as a threat to the Indians against returning to that section.

Q. When did a Mormon colony settle near Austin and what became of it? L. K. A. In 1839, a Mormon colony from Nauvoo, Ill., located on the Colorado about six miles above Austin and built the first corn mill in the country. This was destroyed by flood and the colony moved to Hamilton creek, eight miles from Burnet, and built another mill and furniture factory. This was sold to Noah Smithwick and they moved to Pedernales, near Fredericksburg, about 1850. A mill and factory built there also washed away and they moved to the Medina near Bandera in 1854, intending to build another plant there. Their leader, Elder Wright, died soon after, and the colonists scattered, some remaining there and some going to Utah.

Q. When, where and for what purpose was Fort Tenoxtilan maintained? R. F. A. Tenoxtilan, on the Brazos near the present Burleson and Milam county lines, was a military post from about 1827 to 1832, maintained by the Mexican government "to protect the northern frontier of the colony from Indians, and to promote settlement of the interior country on the Brazos."

Q. Who is called "The Mother of Texas?" W. K. B. A. Mrs. James Long, wife of Dr. James Long, who headed the ill-fated Long expedition of 1821. When Long went on the expedition in the hope of recovering Texas from the Spaniards, he left her with her little daughter, Ann, and 25 men at Point Bolivar. The men deserted her one by one, leaving her, the child and a negro girl, to subsist alone during a winter of indescribable hardships and suffering. She finally despaired of Long's return and made her way, nearly starved, to Austin's colony in Fort Bend county, where she died in 1830 in her 83rd year.

Q. When was Bandera county organized, and who were its first officers? O. B. J. A. It was organized in 1856 with O. B. Miles, chief justice (county judge); William Curtis, sheriff; P. P. Pool, county clerk; Irvin F. Carter, tax assessor and collector. The first store, also used for a postoffice, was erected there in 1855 by August Klappenebach.

Q. Who taught the first school at Matagorda? J. J. A. Josiah Wilbarger, in 1828.

Q. Was James Bowie in the battle of Concepcion in October, 1837? H. G. A. He rendered distinguished service in that battle, in which he was second in command.

The men deserted her one by one, leaving her, the child and a negro girl, to subsist alone during a winter of indescribable hardships and suffering. She finally despaired of Long's return and made her way, nearly starved, to Austin's colony in Fort Bend county, where she died in 1830 in her 83rd year.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL
 AUSTIN, Oct. 21 (AP)—The most popular legislative hearing of the year, from the standpoint of spectators, was by a committee of the House of Representatives into rumored teachings of communism in the University of Texas and other state colleges.

Hundreds of students and faculty members from the university, as well as members of the legislature and town folk, came early and stayed late. So vociferous was their applause for Dr. Robert H. Montgomery, university professor and witness, that members of the investigating section termed them a "cheering section."

Dr. Montgomery was thoroughly at home in the setting, have appeared many times as a witness at inquiries on utility regulation legislation. He knew some of the newspaper correspondents reporting the proceedings and before the hearing got under way appeared at the press table in the Senate chamber.

He turned to a press photographer, working with a camera, and remarked he would like to have a copy of the picture he was preparing to take.

"What picture?" asked the photographer.

"Of the bomb," said Montgomery.

Edward Clark, secretary of Gov. Allred, appeared at the hearing in uniform of the national guard. He is an officer of the organization.

Friends asked if he had been mobilized to fight the "Reds" but Clark only grinned.

Gov. Allred also was present, occupying a seat on the crowded rostrum with Senator Allan Shivers of Port Arthur and other friends.

Asked the morning after the first session what he thought of the hearing he said:

"Well, I see the Capitol hasn't been blown up yet."

Congressman Maury Maverick of San Antonio, known generally as a liberal in political thought, breezed into the Capitol wearing a blue shirt and red necktie.

He denied there was any connection between the color of the cravat and the hearing and said he had come to Austin "just to have a good

INQUIRY BARES ACTIVITIES OF TEXAS TUTOR

MAIDED IN PREPARING FOR COMMUNISTIC MEETING

AUSTIN, Oct. 22 (AP)—Evidence that a University of Texas faculty member and a writer assisted in preparations for a communism meeting here was in the record today of the legislative investigation of communist teachings in state colleges.

Charles Raines, a tutor in the physics department, and Herbert Preece, a magazine writer, testified at a hearing last night, one of several in the last ten days, that they aided in distributing circulars for Brooks.

Raines and Preece were questioned by police when found long after midnight making the distribution, and the meeting was not held because city officials refused Brooks the use of public parks.

Both said they were not members of the communist party and had aided in arrangements for the meeting merely because of their fidelity to constitutional rights.

Raines testified he was a democrat and had more interest in that party than the communist, but had an academic interest in all parties because "any good citizen wishing to be an intelligent voter should keep his eyes and ears open."

He said he had anticipated an effort would be made to prevent Brooks from speaking and had aided in distributing the circulars as one who believes in the "right of free speech."

Preece stated he had distributed circulars with Raines "and when any minority party, including the Jeffersonian Democrats, needs aid I will help it, even if I go to jail for it."

The Jeffersonian Democrats of Texas are actively opposing the new deal and the re-election of President Roosevelt.

His answers to questions by Chairman Joe Caldwell of the committee brought laughter from the gallery, packed with university students, and Caldwell warned he would clear the hall if order was not maintained.

Hundreds of students were expelled at a previous session in an uproarious demonstration.

Raines testified further he knew Dwight Saunders of Fort Worth, university student who disappeared last week after having aided in picking an Austin cleaning establishment. He said he had talked to Saunders concerning prospective membership in the American Student union, in which Raines admitted membership, but he did not know Saunders whereabouts now.

Preece said he "had no idea where Saunders is," and that "Austin police should take time to investigate his whereabouts rather than investigate alleged communists."

Raines said the American student union was an organization of liberal students with no political purposes, its main objectives being maintenance of civil liberties as defined by the constitution.

Asked if he believed in public ownership of natural resources, he replied he thought more efficient uses of "some natural resources could be attained by public ownership, but he had never advocated it."

"Not at any time was I taught any 'ism' by a professor while I was a student at the University of Texas," Raines said.

ENGINEERS' TRAINING IS QUESTIONED BY FOR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—President Roosevelt today raised the question of whether the training given to engineering students is broad enough.

The White House announced he had written to heads of 100 schools and colleges throughout the country, asking the educators to determine whether courses at engineering schools are so "balanced" as to give students the necessary "vision and flexible technical capacity."

The "impact" of science on human life, produces social dislocations as well as advances in productive power, he held. He mentioned "unemployment, bankruptcies and relief." The engineer, he said, has a responsibility to help design "mechanisms to absorb the shocks of the impact of science."

The chief executive also sent to the educators a recent government report dealing with control of bendwater streams. Its conclusion was that no effective policy concerning navigation, flood control, power and land use could be established until streams could be controlled and used at their source.

MRS. WILLIAMS BURIED IN McLEAN CEMETERY

McLEAN, Oct. 22.—Mrs. Union Savannah Williams, one-time resident of the Heald community, was buried in the Hillcrest cemetery, McLean, Tuesday afternoon. Services were under the direction of Rev. W. A. Erwin, local pastor of the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Williams was 65 years, 10 months, and 6 days old. She died Monday at Wellington where she has been residing for the last few years. She is survived by five children, three of whom were at the services.

The deceased was brought back to be buried by the side of her husband and two sons. Her husband was buried here in 1908, the two sons in 1918, one on February 5, and the other on March 10.

Korean Seized

Adicts of Oriental crime thrillers found many familiar features in the disclosures following the arrest in White Plains, N. Y., of Chang Soo Lee, 36-year-old Korean houseboy for Mrs. Ida L. Churchill, wealthy 65-year-old widow. He is charged with attempting to murder, through poisoned toothpaste, the widow's prospective heirs, Mrs. George Reeves, a niece, and her husband, to protect a promised bequest in the will of his mistress. Police are also analyzing the ashes of Mrs. Churchill's husband, who died suddenly in St. Petersburg, Fla., last January. Authorities say his body was cremated at the suggestion of Chang Soo Lee.

COLORADO YOUTH LEADS OWENS IN TROPHY VOTE

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—With the preliminary voting already in its final month, a pair of Olympic champions and world record holders, Glenn Morris and Jesse Owens, are leading the way in the balloting for the 1936 James E. Sullivan trophy award.

More than half of the 600 national sports experts and leaders already have cast their vote for the athlete who by his performance, example and influence as an amateur and a man has done most during the year to advance the cause of sportsmanship.

Morris, the Fort Collins, Colo., all-around athlete, who dominated the Olympics in his decathlon specialty, is slightly ahead of Owens, Ohio State's three-crown winner at last summer's international games.

Others among the first five in voting so far are Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati, winner of the U. S. amateur golf championship, Alice Marble of San Francisco, National women's tennis crownholder, and Helen Jacobs of Berkeley, Calif., Wimbledon tennis winner who lost the American crown to Miss Harbe.

The 1935 Sullivan award winner was Lawson Little Jr., double champion of golf in England and the United States for 1934 and '35.

BOY GIVEN 199 YEARS IN PEN BY CHICAGOANS

JURY DECIDES YOUTH IS NOT INSANE IN VERDICT

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Terrified by a jury's decree of 199 years in prison for the murder of a crippled and aged widow, 15-year-old Roland Munroe, Jr., today pinned his hope of escaping that penalty upon the possibility of a new trial.

A jury qualified for the death penalty—which the state, however, did not demand—decided in three hours last night that Roland was not insane, as the defense contended, when he clubbed 65-year-old Mrs. Agnes Roffeis to death with her own cane and a tack hammer in a cheap robbery last August 29.

Roland, red-haired and effeminate, sat in smiling indifference with his attorney, Sam Hoffman, as they awaited the jury's finding. But when the sentence was read an expression of terror—the first emotion he had shown since the trial began—supplanted the smile.

"Is there any more chance?" he asked as guards led him to his cell at the county jail.

Hoffman assured him there was. The attorney had filed a new trial motion and Judge John Prystalski said he would hear arguments on Nov. 6.

In vain Hoffman had pleaded with the jury that Roland's womanish addiction to perfumes and his solicitude for the appearance of his long, bushy hair was indicative that he was insane when he made the wolfish attack upon Mrs. Roffeis, left her dead body with a wire twisted around the neck and stole away in blood-stained clothes with his loot, a box of trinkets valued at less than $10.

Prosecutor Samuel Freeman, citing a psychiatrist's report that Roland was a "moral imbecile" but legally sane, urged the "cruel character of the crime" as a reason the jury should "put a high fence around this boy" for the rest of his life.

Insurance companies constantly warn too much fat puts an added strain on the heart—overweight people are more liable to high blood pressure, indigestion, diabetes, kidney, liver and heart disorders.

So if you want to help yourself live to a ripe old age and enjoy robust health get rid of that dangerous burden of fat this easy safe way:

Cut down on fat meats, butter, cream and sugary sweets. Eat more fruit and vegetables. Take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water first thing every morning to aid proper elimination. Kruschen helps important body organs to work normally—it eliminates excess poisons and waste from both UPPER and LOWER bowel—insures blissful daily bowel action—no purging or harsh cathartics—helps keep you feeling fine and fit day in and out. Jar lasts for weeks and costs but few cents.

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

BY LOUS SCHNEIDER

SELLING. Recent stock market activity is attributed to the buying orders of foreign interests. Your correspondents discussed the matter with several brokers who have foreign wire connections and trading accounts. Here are the views: When France and Holland devalued currencies 30 per cent it reduced the foreign buying power of the currencies by that amount. To wit—a $100 American share would cost the Dutchman or Frenchman 30 per cent more or the equivalent of $130 in American money. The very few in France or Holland who fear war within the next few months are paying the extra price. But on the whole buying of American shares has practically stopped. In fact, some selling is evident and is expected to grow. By doing so those holding American shares profit from the devaluation move.

IMPROVED. Speculative quarters insist that American Water Works directors will vote an extra dividend before the close of the year. The next board meeting is scheduled for Nov. 10. The dividend hope is based on the fact that earnings per share have increased above the expectations of the management itself. Company's subsidiaries serve the highly industrialized areas which have benefited from the current business improvement wave.

FACTS. Signs of prosperity: Broadway box offices are demanding $6.00 again for single seats—but there are ways of getting them at cheaper prices by waiting until just before show time. . . . More than half of Glidden's sales volume is accounted for by its food division—company popular as paint and varnish manufacturer. . . . Some 20,000 people are busy bootlegging 4,000,000 tons of anthracite coal a year which accounts for cut-rate prices. . . . United States Gypsum manufactures more than 50 per cent of gypsum wall board and gypsum plaster and about 25 per cent of metal lath domestically consumed. . . . Johns-Manville makes about 1,500 products. . . . Otis Elevator accounts for about 70 per cent of domestic elevator installations. . . . Holland Furnace's products and services are available through about 400 selling branches located in 43 states. . . . Because of new tax on undistributed profits many corporations now showing earnings will not move to work out of present receivership positions—such corporations are exempt.

SHOES. Steady increases in consumer incomes account for the large demand for shoes. Trade insiders report that 1936 shoe production will be the largest since 1925. In fact, 1936 figures will reach record levels. An output of 390,000,000 pairs of shoes is expected. A trade informant stated that because of increased costs for labor,

King Plays Old American Game

Whip and Arrow, a game long played by American boys, won royal favor when England's King Edward VIII, right, tried it recently. To a short, pliable stick is attached a short length of string. The loose end of the string is knotted to hook into a notch in a light dart. Then the dart is pulled back and whipped toward the target, as shown in panel at left. Franz Pichler-Mandorf of Vienna is credited with inventing the game.

hides and leathers plus increased taxes the public will be asked to offset these charges. That means retail shoe prices will rule higher during 1937.

TO REFUND. Informed banking circles say that Northern Pacific Railroad will call the $84,975,500 outstanding first and refunding mortgage bonds and five due 2008. The call will be announced within the next few months. The issues are redeemable on any interest date after three months notice. The next interest date is March 1. At least that is the earliest date on which these bonds can be called. Prior to that date Northern Pacific will announce a $100,000,000 refunding issue. That amount will take care of the issues outstanding, interest payments due and the cost involved for new financing.

SELLING. A few weeks ago a government department reported that stocks of aging liquors in the United States would soon run above consumption possibilities. Now informed Washington circles report that a liquor price war is in the making. The imports are said to be nearly twice as heavy as last year. British liquors are swamping the country. As a result of this inside data holders of liquor company securities are quietly liquidating.

REPORTS ARE THAT: American organizations with foreign branches are not benefiting from devaluation of currencies—get less when converting into dollars. . . . FORGOTTEN LAW SUIT MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Even the attorneys had forgotten the details of a 13-year old litigation over a $15 claim when it was called for trial. . . . One of the lawyers recalled the case, appealed from a magistrate's court in 1924 and continued six times, "had something to do with an advertising contract." The papers in the suit had been lost. Circuit Judge Ben Capell declared the action a draw and ordered the litigants to divide the costs.

PUNTS AND PASSES

DURHAM, N. C. - Although his Duke Blue Devils are highly rated favorites in Saturday's game with Tennessee, Coach Wallace Wade has his fingers crossed against the "Knoxville jinx." In all his years at Alabama and Duke, a Wade-coached team has never beaten Tennessee in the Vols' own back yard at Knoxville.

DRIVING WHILE DRUNK CHARGED IN ACCIDENT

DETROIT-Any time is touch-down-time for Detroit's Titans. In two games so far this season, they've scored three touchdowns after the whistle has blown. The scoring play was under way on each occasion when regulation time ended, and under the rules, was allowed to proceed. One was on a long pass, and the other two were on interceptions of opposition overheads.

'PUBLIC ENEMIES' OF YESTERYEAR NOT IN NEWS

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (AP)—The Chicago Crims Commission's case reports on "public enemies" of yesterday disclosed today the erstwhile hoodlum headlines were down to paragraphs—or less—in accounts of the day's events.

Death, violent or natural; imprisonment, flight and apparent reform had placed the designation "former" before the names of one-time beer barons, vice overlords and racketeers, said Col. Henry Barrett Chamberlain, operating director of the commission.

Repeat of prohibition and exploits of the Dillinger school of kidnap outlaws robbed the dry era "big shots" of crime of the spotlight, he said.

Six and a half years ago, in April, 1930, the commission listed 28 "public enemies" and the colonel's records today showed:

Nine dead, three in penitentiaries, one a fugitive from justice, 15 at liberty with no charges against them.

Al Capone, of course, was the No. 1 man. He went to Alcatraz penitentiary as an income tax dodger and the government gave notice only this week it would sell his big villa at Miami Beach, Fla., to satisfy a $51,498 federal tax lien filed against his wife.

George (Bugs) Moran's gang from the North Side used to war furiously with the Capones over bootleg "rights" and both made tall headlines on St. Valentine's day, 1929, when seven of Moran's boys were lined up in a garage and chopped down with machine guns.

The police humiliated Bugs the other day by picking him up on general suspicion. It was no headlines and the case was dismissed. He said he was operating a coal mine now at Morris, Ill. Other sources said the government was investigating his income.

Terry Druggan, jailed and released after a police showup this week, said he was a "legitimate brewer." His one-time partner in the beer racket, Frankie Lake, was said to be in the ice business in Detroit.

Slain by gangsters, according to Col. Chamberlain's records, were: "Machine Gun" Jack McGurn,

GREAT THROG STANDS IN RAIN TO HEAR ROOSEVELT

An overflow crowd of several thousands, umbrellas raised, waited in a drenching downpour to hear President Roosevelt's address in Convention Hall at Rochester, N. Y., as he wound up his 5000-mile campaign tour. It was a busy day for the President, shown at the right, slicker-clad. Before arriving in Rochester he spoke at Niagara Falls and Buffalo. Later he addressed a crowd in Utica, spent two hours in Albany and then went on to his home in Hyde Park.

The famous Mustang band of Southern Methodist university is, perhaps, the most unique college band in the entire nation. Their claim to fame is built around the fact that they feature jazz music of their own arrangement rather than the staid marches of most college bands. When they play, the scream of the trumpets and the cry of the clarinets cause the fans in the stands to pat their feet and whistle the tune.

In 1933, the Mustang band was taken to San Francisco for the first Mustang-St. Mary's game. The band took the San Francisco fans by storm. Between halves the stands rose to a man and gave the Texas musicians the finest tribute possible. In 1934, the band was taken along to New York with the team and metropolitan fans still talk about the tunes played by these boys. During the game they were invited by the president of the Columbia Broadcasting System to play a program on the network. As a result of the New York trip that year, the Carroll college in Wisconsin. In the fall of 1923 he took the post at Texas Christian university where he remained for six seasons. He was largely responsible for starting Texas Christian up in the football world, and during his last three years he had a team that was a real contender for the conference championship.

In 1929, Bell was called to Texas A. and M. to replace Dana X. Bible, who had departed for Nebraska. He served as head coach of the Texas Aggies for five years, 1929-1933.

Bell went to Southern Methodist as an assistant coach under Ray Morrison in 1934. The Mustangs had a great season under Morrison and Bell that fall. Following Morrison's resignation from S. M. U. to accept the coaching job at his alma mater, Vanderbilt, Bell was the unanimous choice to succeed Morrison as head coach of the Mustangs. In his first year as head coach, he guided the Mustangs through a 12-game schedule undefeated, and saw his team invited to the Rose Bowl where S. M. U. bowed to Stanford, 7-0.

Morrison, the original ringmaster of the Mustangs' aerial circus, left Bell some mighty fine talent when he departed for Vanderbilt, and among the clever ball-passers was numbered his own son, Jack. Jack Morrison is doing a pretty good job of carrying on the work started by his famous dad and is rated one of the most clever ball-handlers on the Mustang squad.

The presence of Morrison's son in the Mustang lineup calls to mind that the sons of other outstanding coaches are making their marks on the grid-iron today. "Navy Bill" Ingram's son is one of the best ball carriers at Annapolis this fall. Andy Kerr has two of his off-spring on the Colgate squad. Next fall another Knute Rockne will be seeking gridiron fame at Notre Dame. Knute Jr. is star quarterback at the Mima Military academy and is headed for South Bend.
