COUGHLIN TO KEEP SILENT FROM NOW ON

HE FULFILLS PROMISE MADE AT MEETING IN CLEVELAND

DETROIT, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin announced Saturday his National Union for Social Justice, which he said was "thoroughly discredited" as the result of Tuesday's national election, will cease to be active and that he was "herby withdrawing from all radio activity in the best interests of all the people."

His national union, he said in a farewell broadcast, "is not dead; it merely sleeps. It will live as long as truth lives, because the sixteen principles (of the union) are immortal."

Recounting his views of the presidential election, the Royal Oak, (Mich.) priest announced the union will adopt a "policy of silence" toward the new deal administration.

His withdrawal from the promise made at the Cleveland convention of the national union last summer when, after the union endorsed the union party presidential candidacy of William Lemke, the priest said he would abandon the air if Lemke failed to poll nine million votes.

"Of the millions of members of the national union who pledged to support its endorsed candidate because they pledged to support our principles," Father Coughlin said, "I regret to announce that less than ten per cent of the national union members lived up to their promises."

As a result of the overwhelming reelection of President Roosevelt, he said in evaluating the national union, "a one-party form of government has been established in America. The republican party and its philosophy of rugged individualism has gone forever. A new party composed partly of democrats, of socialists, of communists, of progressives and of farmer-laborites has been established under the banner of the new deal."

Concerning his withdrawal from the radio political activity which has occupied much of his time in the past two years, Father Coughlin said:

"I do not wish to leave the impression that either my own Bishop (Michael J. Gallagher) or his superiors at Rome have had anything to do with the decision which I am making tonight. This afternoon I told my bishop what I am telling you now. His stout heart was saddened because of my decision. x x x"

ILLNESS KEEPS STONE OFF SUPREME BENCH

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—With important new deal cases scheduled for argument before the Supreme Court in the next fortnight, it developed today a protracted illness was keeping Associate Justice Harlan Stone off the bench with a possible effect upon the outcome of the cases in question.

Court attaches said unless his illness was unexpectedly prolonged, he could participate in the decisions. With the court closely divided on apparently fundamental issues affecting new deal legislation his absence might be decisive.

In several split decisions on new deal laws, Stone has generally lined up with the liberal element of the court—Associate Justices Brandeis and Cardozo, and occasionally Chief Justice Hughes and Justice Roberts—in support of the constitutionality of the statutes.

The new deal cases about to be argued involve:

The government's effort to postpone action by lower courts on cases challenging the constitutionality of the public utility holding company act; the validity of FWA loans for publicly owned hydroelectric plants; a 5 per cent tax on silver speculation profits made before the silver purchase act became effective; the embargo on arms shipments to Bolivia and Paraguay for the Chaco war; and the Ashurst-Sumners measure to require labelling of prison-made goods.

AMENDMENTS WILL BE IN EFFECT NOV. 18

AUSTIN, Nov. 9 (AP)—The attorney general's department today advised Acting Governor Walter Woodall that amendments voted upon Nov. 3 would become effective when the canvassing board meets Nov. 18 and declared election results official.

Scott Gaines, first assistant attorney general, ruled with respect to the amendment granting salary increases to certain state officials, that Governor Allred's increase would become effective on the third Tuesday in January and all others upon the official canvass.

Rubber footwear exports from the United States in 1935 amounted to only 983 pairs, or 1.4 per cent of aggregate world exports.

ROOSEVELT'S 'CROWN PRINCE' NOT YET IN SIGHT FOR 1940

WASHINGTON (AP)—Will President Roosevelt, like four of the most famous two-term presidents of the United States, "pick" his successor in the White House?

So far no one apparently has been singled out in such fashion as to suggest that Mr. Roosevelt was attempting to develop a New Deal "crown prince" and to build him up in public opinion for the 1940 democratic presidential nomination.

The two men hailed as the patron saints of the democratic party, Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson, openly designated their choice of "heir." Theodore Roosevelt virtually dictated republican election of William H. Taft. James Madison, "Dimd little husband" of the famed Dolley Madison, put on pressure for James Monroe as his successor.

Many members of Jefferson's republican-democratic party were opposed to Madison. Several republican congressmen joined in issuing a formal protest against his selection as the party's standard bearer, but the prestige of the Sage of Monticello easily prevailed. Jefferson also was said to have arranged that Monroe follow Madison in the White House, and it was understood between the latter two that the Madison administration would exert all of its influence to perpetuate "the Virginia dynasty."

Andrew Jackson, idol of the "plain people," has been rated by some historians as the most brazen dictator of the White House succession. Besides naming Martin Van Buren of New York as his heir apparent, "Old Hickory" was reported to have laid down a program of succession for 24 years—Jackson himself, 8 years; Van Buren, 8 years, and Thomas Benton, 8 years.

That report was never verified, however, and the Jackson "dynasty" lasted only 12 years. Van Buren's falling of reelection. There had been considerable opposition to Van Buren's first nomination and election, but Jackson's extraordinary popularity with the electorate put him over.

The next president to be reelected was Abraham Lincoln, assassinated

LEWIS OFFERS TO TALK PEACE WITH OLD FOES

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 9 (AP)—Threatened with internal rebellion, John L. Lewis' committee for industrial organization has offered to talk peace with the American Federation of Labor.

The committee notified William Green, Federation president, it had authorized Lewis to confer with him about terms for an agreement that would bring ten suspended unions back into the A. F. of L.

(These unions were suspended Sept. 5 for setting up the committee for industrial organization and attempting to organize all the workers in each mass production industry into the big union without A. F. of L. sanction.)

Pressure from David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies Garment Workers, and Max Zaritsky, president of the United Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers, was said in usually well informed quarters to have brought the peace gesture. Both are committee members.

Lewis said, however, the committee would demand reinstatement of the suspended unions and A. F. of L. endorsement of the steel, automobile and rubber organization drives, along industrial lines.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD — Hollywood's latest film cycle is insanity. Only the actor who is willing to embrace lunacy has a ghost of a show in it. The celluloid-padded cells are waiting.

"My Man Godfrey," among recent films, stepped up the pace of an insidious race (for the Crown of Nuts) begun some two years ago, perhaps, by "The Thin Man" and "It Happened One Night." The senseless, practically reasonless hilarity of this Carol Lombard-William Powell picture served to remind that the paying customers welcome—nay, love—ridiculous goings-on.

A triumph of the unexpected came when Myrna Loy made her first entrance, flat on her face, in "The Thin Man." Myrna loved it, and audiences roared, and now the actress who can take a fall or be on the receiving end of a custard pie in a role begins right away to think of tearing out the old swimming pool and building an indoor ocean.

"Tsk, Tsk! Five Years Ago" Five years ago the movie pretty who would let her carefully curled coiffure be disarranged by anything so vulgar as slapstick didn't live—at least out here she didn't. In "Love on the Run" Joan Crawford, one of the glamor girls, is caressed full on the face by a plate of jelly, neatly hurled by one of her admirers. She also appears in a most unglamorous "stratosphere suit" with Clark Gable.

"Labeled Lady," one of the year's nuttiest comedies, has William Powell in a trout-fishing sequence taking one fall another in the trout stream for hilarity's sake. As for glamor, Jean Harlow has a scene in a permanent-waving apparatus, her face mud-packed. The whole picture is moon-struck.

"The Gay Desperado" is another. Nino Martini sings, but more than that he slapsicks. His big love scene with Ida Lupino is a knock-down-and-drag-out fight. The whole production strikes the giddy note, a cross between satire, burlesque, romance, and high comedy.

All Hollywood has become Marxian—not after the social philosopher but like the Marx brothers. The new Lily Pons picture has Gene Raymond, Jack Oakie, Mischa Auer, and Frank Jenks in all manner of tomfoolery, with Lily herself a lively participant.

In short any farce comedy nowadays seems to be built to "top" in unexpected absurdity its immediate predecessors. How it will end no one dares to predict. The why of it? "Just another cycle," say some.

But others see it in Hollywood's successful effort to intrigue public fancy. The public, even heresabouts, had taken to "ribbing" pictures made out-and-dried formula. Fans have been so cruel, at some of the colony's least impressive junk, as to "talk back" to the actors, to take the trite words out of their mouths, and otherwise to demonstrate that they know all the answers.

And lunacy is safe. Its effectiveness lies in its startling unexpectedness. What fan can predict what will happen next in a Hollywood insane asylum?

SOLONS PROBE ACTIVITIES OF OIL COUNCIL

EXACT RELATION WITH STATE SOUGHT IN QUESTIONING

DALLAS, Nov. 9 (AP)—Witnesses told the Senate investigating committee Saturday there was no relation between Texas Petroleum Council and the attorney general's department or other state agencies.

Bruce Clardy, attorney, and John C. Pew, assistant to the Sun Oil's vice president, said all the council's activities had been in line with its announced purpose of aiding authorities in enforcement of East Texas proration laws, but other connection was non-existent.

Investigators sought specifically to determine why the council hired Tom C. Clark, former law partner of Attorney General William McCraw, at a salary of $12,000 per year; Rep. Sidney Latham of Longview, chairman of the House oil and gas committee, and Lloyd Davidson, state's attorney, with the criminal appeals court at Austin.

Neither witness named a suit in which Clark had appeared for the council. They said he had made numerous trips to East Texas for conferences with enforcement officials. His salary, they said, had been cut in half.

Committee members questioned employment of Latham and Davidson, both state employees. They asked if, through such employment, public interests of the two might conflict with private interests.

Witnesses defended the employment on the grounds the men were honorable. Pew said Martin Rowe, Sun Co. attorney, had aided the attorney general's department in drawing up bills in some suits which resulted in confiscation of East Texas oil and the Sun had been the real purchaser of some confiscated. He said the moves were made in an effort to aid conservation.

Clardy said about Jan. 1 the council decided it could not retain Fred Weeks of Tyler at $25,000 yearly and he suggested Latham for the place. Clardy said Clark's name had been proposed to the council by E. S. Heyster and Clark was hired without consulting McCraw.

"Wasn't it your purpose to hire a man close to McCraw," asked Senator Tom Holbrook. "No," answered the witness. Senate committee members were Joe Hill of Henderson, W. R. Poage of Waco, T. J. Holbrook, Tom Deberry of Bogota, and Wilbourne Collier of Eastland.

CORN HUSKING CONTEST TO BE HELD TUESDAY

NEWARK, O., Nov. 9 (AP)—The annual "world series of agriculture"—the national corn husking contest—will be held tomorrow on the 477-acre farm of Alva L. Oyer, 13 miles southwest of here.

Eighteen bangboard artists, two from each of the major corn producing states, were on their way here today for the thirteenth national contest, which was expected to bring out upwards of 100,000 spectators if the weather proved favorable.

Adam Byczynski of Bureau county, Illinois, who picked 41,175 bushels in 80 minutes to win the state championship, and Theodore Tuttle of La Salle county, the runner-up with 41,068 bushels, were favored to take the "bangboard derby," won last year by Elmer Carlson of Iowa with 41,52 bushels.

NIGHT LIFE SPORT

Sports in contemporary Broadway night clubs include fencing, basketball, table tennis, ice skating, roller skating and badminton. The players are good looking and shapely young ladies who, in other days, would have danced to entertain patrons.

This surprising development may simply be the natural result of the neverceasing search for novelty in entertainment, or it may have some social significance, as some people believe. The athletic girl is a familiar figure in American life.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

NEW YORK—This dispatch presents the writer's conception of a glimpse into the next four years under Franklin D. Roosevelt.

There are many factors of uncertainty, notably the fact that there may be a huge difference between what Roosevelt wants to do and what Congress will let him do.

There is every reason to believe that Roosevelt has in mind a continued attack on monopoly and the larger concentrations of industrial and financial control.

Roosevelt doesn't regard himself as in a fight against "Big Business," but only against a selfish minority of monopolists, speculators, and greedy, labor-exploiting profiteers.

He is intensely anxious that there be no class bitterness such as might lead to a strong American Fascist movement, and he may be expected to make efforts to avoid that.

The biggest single objective in his next administration is expected to be a federal corporations law under which corporations would be required to meet certain standards in their relation with investors, creditors, labor, and the public.

This and the corollary struggle against monopoly, and several intermediate skirmishes will lead—unless Roosevelt changes his present plans—to the most bitter battles in the next two congresses.

The administration will seek early action on the ever-normal granary and crop insurance plan for agriculture; on the Wagner housing bill, which would provide subsidized housing for lower income groups; the revised Guffey coal bill, and a program of government reorganization.

The administration probably will prove sympathetic to a demand from organized labor that the old age benefit program, belabored by Republicans in the pay envelope campaign, be revised to throw more of the financial burden on income taxation—which means on profits.

Another attempt will be made to pass food and drug legislation for the protection of consumers.

Roosevelt's promise to keep fighting for shorter hours, higher wages, abolition of monopoly, and unfair practices, plus a promise to protect consumers against "unnecessary price spreads," will find expression in various ways—with a federal law to regulate corporations the goal.

According to present plans, the administration will resume its gradual attack on holding companies, which it regards as "milking machines" as well as devices for controlling other people's money.

Present policy is to slowly increase the federal tax on intercorporate dividends, which now amounts to about 2 1/2 per cent, and give the holding companies time to dis-

BORGER STOCK JUMPS SEVERAL NOTCHES AS RAMIRES IS FOUND ELIGIBLE

COACH BRINGS BACK PROOF FROM MEXICO

BULLDOGS' STRENGTH INCREASES WITH STAR'S RETURN

A birth certificate in possession of Borger school authorities put joy in the hearts of the Bulldog coaches and fans in the minds of the Pampa Harvesters who will meet the Bulldogs at Huber stadium in Borger Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The birth certificate in question reveals that Lewis "Spanny" Ramirez, Borger's sensational backfield ace, is eligible for competition and will be in the lineup against the Harvesters on Wednesday. Borger school officials were made to believe Ramirez was over age and kept him out of the last three games.

Last week, however, Coach Carl Moulden flew to El Paso and from that point into Mexico where he secured a copy of the original birth certificate which gave Ramirez' birth as June 21, 1918, thus making the star eligible for competition.

Since Ramirez was voluntarily placed on the ineligible list by Borger school officials until his records could be checked, Borger has a right to put him back in the lineup without calling a district meeting. It would now require a formal protest to keep Ramirez out of the game and Pampa school authorities have no intention of protesting the eligibility of the fleet little ball carrier.

The return of Ramirez is expected to give the Bulldogs the scoring power that has been lacking. With the help of Allen and Conner, two midweights who have given all opposition trouble, Borger will have more weight, more power and more experience. Ramirez will be remembered as the boy who gave the big Harvesters of 1935 their major worry.

Cold weather has interfered somewhat with drills the past week, necessitating the use of the backboard. New scoring plays were the object of discussion for both elevens, which has caused fans to predict a wide open game for Armistice with plenty of air action.

A "wise guy" this morning remarked that Huber stadium was liable to resemble a battle field with footballs sailing through the air in place of shells. It will be interesting to watch the passing battle between Roy Showers of the Harvesters and the now eligible Ramirez.

The Harvesters will have the weight advantage in the line, especially at center and at the two tackle positions where Noblitt and the Jones boys hold out. With the return of Ramirez, the field weight advantage will be with Borger instead of being even at 141 pounds per man.

One thing is certain, there will be no "porkey" athletes on the field to slow up the speedsters.

While the Harvesters are battling the Bulldogs in Borger, the Amarillo Sandies will be meeting their stiffest conference competition in Lubbock. Plainview has scheduled a game in Olney for the afternoon.

Every Team In Southwest Conference Is Now Beaten

Texas Christian And Arkansas Are In Lead

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT

DALLAS, Nov. 9 (AP)—True to pre-season forecast, Texas Christian, Arkansas and Texas A. and M. had, in a rather roundabout way, reached the top rungs of the shaky southwest conference ladder today.

Not a one, however, owned an unsullied record and the odds were mounting against the winner of the full-season scramble coming out on top with better than a 667 average. Currently, Texas Christian and Arkansas are leading the chase, with Texas A. and M.'s revived Cadets only a few percentage points behind. This situation will be changed when Arkansas meets Southern Methodist in the only conference game next Saturday. It's a cinch the conference will have its fourth change in leadership in six weeks of play.

The Razorbacks, fresh from convincing victories over Rice and Texas A. and M., could step in front alone with a triumph over the Methodists, but a defeat or tie would drop them back in the mire.

Fumbles wrecked Rice's hopes in the Arkansas clash, the Porkers recovering and converting two miscues into touchdowns in their exciting 20-14 victory. Three touchdowns were packed into six minutes of the thriller. The Hogs scored on Keen's punt of 45 and 50 yards and a pass from Robbins to Benton, while Nece sped 80 yards and Schuehle and Vickers teamed up on a sensational kickoff return of 75 yards for the other Rice tally. Vickers caught Schuehle's lateral at Midfield and carried out.

The Methodists, until Saturday mightiest of all southwest conference teams, finally "broke" after 18 brilliant games of the past two seasons and allowed an inspired Aggie eleven to run over them, 22-6. The Aggies, featuring the nimble feet of Dick Vitek and Bobbie Nesrta and the left-handed passing of Jim Shockey, gave the Mustangs an old-fashioned licking.

Without Dick Toid, the sophomore triple-threat who was injured in the game, the Aggies sped towards San Francisco for an Armistice day clash with the San Francisco Dons. After that date they hurry on to Salt Lake City to meet the University of Utah, perennial Rocky Mountain conference kings, on Saturday.

Humbled four straight Saturdays, Coach Jack Chevigny's "mystery" University of Texas team has but two days to pull itself together after the 27-0 licking absorbed from Texas Christian before leaving for the Minnesota game at Minneapolis. A puzzling team that has never been able to get started, Texas is hoped to go the way of all teams (except Northwestern) that meet Minnesota.

Powerless before "Slingshot" Sam Egan's passes, the Longhorns were swept away at Fort Worth. Baugh's chunking placed the ball in position for halfback McClure to score all four times. Baugh was again saved from heavy duty when the game was tied, being jerked to assure his presence at the Centenary game at Fort Worth Saturday.

Rice and Baylor draw the "breathers" of the week, the Owls meeting Sam Houston Teachers at Houston and Baylor, easy winners over Oklahoma City University Saturday, tackling Ted Cox's Oklahoma Aggies.

Lloyd Russell, Bob Masters, E. Gernand and Sphopore Billy Patterson had a field day against the Oklahomaans, running up a 48-6 count. Russell and Gernand scored twice each while Masters romped 95 yards for one score and kicked six conversion points. Patterson heaved passes all over the premises.

SPORT SLANTS

by Pap

Tuffy Leeman's sensational debut in professional football is not exactly a surprise. Plenty of reports concerning his prowess have been drifting in for the past few years. When Tuffy was the outstanding griddler at George Washington university the G. W. publicity department put on a determined drive to have him named on everybody's all-America team.

They flooded the sports desks of the nation with a 3-sheet blizzard that left the sports writers dizzy. So great was the effort in Leeman's behalf that it caused considerable suspicion. The result was that Leeman failed to get the recognition due him.

There can be no doubt about Tuffy's ability to carry a football for long gains. Not after the way he has been ploughing through the bulky lines of the National football league. He's a real football player—make no mistake about that.

Steve Owens, coach of the New York Giants for whom Tuffy has been carrying so nobly, rates the former G. W. star as the best ball carrier he ever had on the Giants' roster.

Better Than Feathers?

With the National league's season at the halfway post, figures show that Tuffy has an excellent chance of equaling or bettering the league record of 1,004 yards gained in one season set by Beattie Feathers of the Chicago Bears in 1934. Up to mid-season Leeman had gained a total of 502 yards, exactly one-half of the record. Since Leeman had played in just slightly over four games his record is all the more impressive.

Tuffy's mark already betters the entire-season figure which enabled Doug Russell of the Chicago Cardinals to earn top ground-gaining honors last year—409 yards in 12 games.

The speeding up of the game in the National league has been responsible for the disappearance of the names of many pro veterans from the line-ups. Speed and more speed is the cry in the pro ranks. To that end National teams signed one of the youngest groups of rookies ever to be rounded up.

The result is that the move cut two years off the average of the professional football player. Last year the average pro griddler was 26, but with one freshman college entry only 20 and seven others only 21.

An earthworm can grow a new head or tail if the one he has is cut off.

Fortmann Is Prodigy.
To Danny Fortmann, guard of last year's Colgate eleven, goes the distinction of being one of the youngest players to see service with the pros. He is 20, weighs 210 pounds and is 6 feet tall. Fortmann was one of the outstanding linemen for the college all-stars in the two 1936 games against Detroit and the Giants and is playing a stellar game for the Chicago Bears at present. He was a Phi Beta Kappa in college.

The professional football player rarely is seen in action after passing his 30th birthday, but there are three "old men" in the National league today who still command starting posts. Bill Owen, Giant tackle, is the oldest at 33 and has seen 10 years of service in four cities. Walt Keisling, Green Bay guard, is 32 and in his eleventh season. Jules Carlson, in his seventh year at guard for the Bears, is 31.

These players, who have not given way to the theory that youth must be served, have one thing in common. They are all heavyweights, but have retained enough speed to satisfy the demands of their coaches for fast charging lines.

WESTERN PRO ELEVENS CLAIM GRID SUPREMACY

CHICAGO, Nov. 9. (AP)—The fans who maintain that Western division clubs of the national pro football league hold a clear-cut edge in strength over the Eastern section elevens had figures to back up their arguments today.

In Sunday's professional program all four Western division teams—Green Bay, Chicago's Bears, Detroit and Chicago's Cardinals—defeated Eastern section teams, and only one result was close. Pittsburgh leading the Eastern section, bowed to Detroit 28 to 3; New York, in second place, was trounced by the Bears 25 to 7; Boston lost to Green Bay 7 to 3 and the Chicago Cardinals celebrated by whipping Philadelphia 13 to 0 in the Cards' first victory of the season.

The Bears and Packers each have won seven games while losing only one, easily the best record in the circuit.

An earthworm can grow a new head or tail if the one he has is cut off.

PERRY SIGNS NET PRO CONTRACT IS RUMOR

NEW YORK, Nov. 9. (AP)—The word spread around tennis circles today that Fred Perry's signature is on a professional contract.

Although all concerned refused to comment, formal announcement of the British ace's decision to quit amateur ranks and play for pay was expected at any moment, probably before tonight.

Perry, who has frequently denied that the move already has been made, could not be reached. Clinging to the report to a large extent was Bill Tilden's statement, made in Hong-Kong as he started back from his Philadelphia tour, that Perry already has turned his back on the Simon-Pure game, has signed a professional contract.

"Fred may not be tops as a pro, but he'll probably be richer by one hundred thousand U. S. dollars," said the lanky Philadelphiaite of the generally-regarded world's number one amateur.

Meantime, in New York, tennis writers turned their attention to a luncheon given by Francis McHunter one-time Davis cup player and close friend of Tilden. An "important" announcement was to be given at the affair, to which all the writers were invited. Many felt certain the announcement would have to do with Perry.

At the same time, it became known that Bill O'Brien, the promoter who handled most of Tilden's tours, which marked the rise of the pro game throughout the country, has taken over Madison Square Garden for January 9. The Garden would be the spot for Perry's opening appearance as a money player.

JOHN HENRY LEWIS TO BOX LONDON'S HARVEY

LONDON, Nov. 9. (AP)—London's fight fans are all excited. For the first time since Mickey Walker's midwintery heyday they're going to see a championship go tonight when John Henry Lewis battles the veteran Len Harvey in defense of his light-heavyweight crown.

Not since the Ramsey (N. J.) bulldog brought his famous scowl and punch across the Atlantic and kayode Tommy Milligan back in '27 has any ring warfare so worked up ring followers.

It has drawn their interest to such extent, that 14,000 probably will jam Wembley stadium to the rafters, reaching a new English indoor record high.

Lewis, the American negro who took the title from Bob Olin in St. Louis a year ago, and already has defended it against one British empire contender, Jack McAvooy, is the top-heavy favorite to hang onto the crown.

But even if he loses, Harvey will win. He promoted the fight himself, and it apparently will be a financial success.

Only Three Major Teams Have Perfect Grid Records

Three Clubs Removed Last Week From Roster

By HERBERT W. BARKER

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Championships in two conferences already definitely clinched by Northwestern and Nebraska, the dizzy football whirl moves on to new and decisive tests on widely separated gridiron battlefronts this week.

Last week's general engagement removed Tulane, Southern California and Washington State from the rapidly dwindling list of major unbeaten teams and shed new light on the situation revolving about the mythical national championship award.

Today only Northwestern, Marquette and Santa Clara could boast perfect records while Fordham, Georgetown, Utah State, Louisiana State and Alabama each still was unbeaten but had been tied once.

Fordham, which all but assured itself of an undefeated campaign by crushing Purdue last week and strengthened its chances of an invitation to the Rose Bowl at the same time, will be idle this week. Northwestern, sure of undisputed possession of the Big Ten crown for the first time in history, should hurdle Michigan comfortably but all the others are running into possible trouble.

Briefly here's how the week's program lines up:
East: Georgetown plays Manhattan. Major interest will center on Army's tussle with Notre Dame and the second of the "Big Three" classics, Yale vs. Princeton at Princeton.

The eastern program, in general, features purely intro-sectional games. Harvard plays Navy. Columbia meets Syracuse, Cornell and Dartmouth and Brown and Holy Cross are other games.

Midwest: Pitt tackles Nebraska and Minnesota plays Texas. Northwestern finishes its Big Ten conference schedule against Michigan and then will have only Notre Dame to hurdle for a perfect campaign. Ohio State plays Illinois; Chicago meets Indiana, and Iowa plays in other conference games.

Marquette plays Mississippi. Big Six contests will send Oklahoma Against Missouri and Kansas state against Iowa State. Southwest: Saturday's program, featured by the Texas Aggies' 22-6 rout of Southern Methodist, left the conference race wide open with only Baylor, Rice and Texas out of it. The Aggie triumph marked their third victory in five conference games, one of which was a tie. Texas Christian chalked up its third victory in four starts by beating Texas, 27-6, and Arkansas tripped Rice, 20-14, for a similar record.

Southern Methodist and Arkansas meet in the only conference game this week as T. C. U. plays Centenary, Baylor meets Oklahoma A. & M., and Rice eases off with Sam Houston Teachers. Texas A. & M. plays San Francisco on Armistice day.

TEXAS RANGERS FIND OLD JAIL TREE
HARLINGEN, TEXAS (AP)—A "jail tree," used by Texas rangers in turbulent border days, recently was discovered here and identified by a chain imbedded in the wood.

Rangers tethered prisoners to the "hitching post" with a chain until they could be removed to the county jail at Brownsville. The jail tree was surrounded by a corral.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—News: the pirates were the first club to call the Cardinals' hand and ask for a price on Dizzy Dean. P. S.: they got no reply... Fred Perry may turn pro before you read this. The word is out something is going to pop at the luncheon Francis T. Hunter, former Davis cupper and close pal of big Bill Tilden is pitching for the tennis writers. Perry will get $50,000 for joining the cash and carry boys. Is that hay?

Henry Armstrong, negro protégé of Al Jolson and winner of the featherweight championship (of California) from Mike Bellosio, is heading East. St. Louis is the first stop. Jack Kearns is walking around town and the gossips say he's flat. The scribe who wrote a column about Kearns and Dempsey making up may be interested to learn it was the third time they've shaken hands since the feud started.

ROSE BOWL: Looks like Jimmy Crowley of Fordham can step up and make his best Sunday bow. If his Rams can get by Georgia and New York U. they probably will get the nod. Louisiana and Alabama also are undefeated, but they have not played the schedule Fordham has. Our personal nomination is Nebraska (if it wins its remaining games) despite that loss to Minnesota. They have a real football club out there and if their beat Pitt this week, you needn't get excited about it.

LAUGH: Burleigh Grimes (at $10,000) will get less for managing the Dodgers than Casey Stengel (at $15,000) will collect for not managing the club... The Dodgers have not paid Casey for his '37 contract, and say they don't intend to start until April 15. Then they'll send him a check every two weeks, just like they do the other players.

In the meantime, Casey must sit and twiddle his thumbs unless the club gives him permission to get another job. You see, he's still under contract to Brooklyn, although they gave him the gate as manager.

TEXAS RANGERS SETTLE CHAMPIONSHIP
FAR WEST: Washington and Southern California, Oregon State and Stamford, California and Oregon. U. C. L. A. and Washington State, and Montana and Idaho meet in conference games this week. Santa Clara meets St. Mary's on Sunday.

SOUTHEASTERN: Louisiana will tackle Auburn. Alabama will be tested by Georgia Tech. Other conference pairings send Vanderbilt against Tennessee, Tulane against Georgia, Florida against Sewanee. Kentucky plays Clemson of the Southern conference.

SOUTHERN: Duke and North Carolina should settle the conference championship this week in their meeting at Chapel Hill. Maryland and Virginia Military, Furman and South Carolina, Washington and Lee and William and Mary, Virginia Tech and Virginia, make up the other conference engagements.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN: the leaders, Colorado University and Utah State, meet at Local. Denver meets Brigham Young, Greeley plays Colorado State, Western State tackles Colorado college in other conference tests.

TRADE.
 Industrial activity shows upward progress which means expansion of employment and payrolls. House furnishings continue in demand. Farmers in all sections of country receiving more for their products. Installation buying continues to expand as merchants show willingness to give longer credit. Real estate activity in larger volume. Christmas trade outlook best since 1929—department stores adding large numbers to sales forces. China, silverware and jewelry sales larger. Building construction work high while weather conditions hold favorably for that purpose. Coal mine production running 20 per cent over last year's figures and at better than 1935's rate. Hardware lines firm. Steel production strong with automobile manufacturers taking. Cotton mills operating at highest levels since 1919. Cattle prices to continue strong while hog prices ease. Bank clearings higher showing better business conditions. Shoe sales lower. Electric power consumption steady to easing. Retail trade gains large with increased advertising stimulating sales activity.

COMMODITIES.
 With national elections out of way trend of commodities is more definite. Current cotton crop will be entirely consumed and surplus will be reduced to practically normal proportions—for these reasons traders expect higher prices. In view of absence of any important pressure on prices wheat traders favor accumulation of contracts on all recessions. December egg options favored in speculative circles. Purchase of May corn contracts suggested by commodity brokers. Lighter production season ahead for butter—bullish factor. Cocoa traders in uncertainty of mind—all commitments being made rather cautiously. Coffee prices expected to strengthen. Sugar strength attributed to continuation of Roosevelt policies. Consistent increase in demand coupled with decrease in world rubber supplies suggests that current market levels will move higher. Statistical position of silk sound—traders see higher prices ahead. Should government withhold offerings hide market will move up. Lead continues in demand on utility and paint industry buying. Zinc and tin will do better. Pig iron prices will again spurt. Copper buying again active for foreign accounts—war ahead—within next 36

ROADHOUSE OPERATOR CHARGED IN SLAYING

BEAUMONT, Nov. 9. (AP)—Mike Natale, Beaumont roadhouse operator, was formally charged with murder this morning in the death of Raymond Lightfoot, 21, former Beaumont boxer.

According to police Lightfoot and his companion, J. H. Sprouse of Lake Charles, were annoying the waitresses at the inn and were ordered away by Natale. In a struggle which followed Natale was struck on the head with a heavy stick and a gash cut across his forehead which required three stitches to close.

Natale went into the building and came back with a pistol and another fight followed in which Natale fired four shots. One struck Lightfoot and the others went wild.

Drouth relief rates on feed for livestock recently established for Gray county, and due to expire Nov. 12, have been extended to Feb. 12, 1937.

This information was contained in a letter received today by County Judge C. E. Cary from C. V. Terrell, member of the Texas Railroad Commission.

The letter states that the action has been taken by the commission on account of the continuance of emergency conditions in the county.

Negro Is Held for Slaying of Banker

TEXARKANA, Nov. 9. (AP)—Butch Moorehead, 33-year-old negro, was held in an unannounced jail today for the slaying of Brice Williams, 51, Texarkana banker and landowner.

The negro was rushed to another town for safekeeping after Prosecuting Attorney Ned Stewart filed first degree murder charges against him. Williams was shot to death Sunday afternoon in the State National bank building. The negro was employed in the building.

Moorehead told officers the banker to whom he owed money, threatened him. He suffered a superficial wound which he said he received in a scuffle with Williams over a pistol. The prosecuting attorney said the negro had been seen before with the pistol.

Dr. Charles G. Pierpont told officers he saw Williams lying on the floor and the negro aiming at his head a second before the pistol was discharged a second time.

JUSTICES OF SUPREME COURT ARE MOST ISOLATED OFFICIALS

WASHINGTON—Justices of the supreme court undoubtedly are the most isolated individuals in Washington.

Whether they have cut themselves off too well from the public is much debated these days. Traditionally, they have kept themselves removed from the toil and moil of temporary drifts.

About the only time the average person catches a glimpse of the supreme court members is when they are sitting on the bench delivering opinions or listening to arguments.

The justices are driven into the garage in the basement of the massive marble structure that encloses the small courtroom, take a private elevator upstairs and enter the robing room far removed from the public eye.

Having donned their black robes, they march silently into the chamber. They eat their lunch in a private dining room and when the day's work is over leave the building as they entered.

Their participation in social activities is right also is limited. Much of their time after dark is devoted to their work.

They don't Like It A little questioning here and there develops that some of the justices are a bit crochety. There are little whimsies about dress, about office arrangements, lighting fixtures and seats that keep attendants some where between a smile and a frown.

What scarcely an exception, they seem to dislike their $11,000,000 new building. As far as these nine justices are concerned, much of the investment is sheer waste. It is King's orchestra; 9:30, Prof. Quis and his Brain Busters.

Armistice Day will bring you an interesting American Legion parade and program. Wednesday night there will be two charity dances that should receive your support. The proceeds will go to the clothing fund for underprivileged children.

Have you written to KPND, advising them of the type program you like best? If not, you evidently like what you hear now.

Interesting snapshots of persons you hear: Henry Busse is the husband of Lorraine Brox of the Brox Sisters of stage fame. Irene Wicker, the "Singing Lady," as a girl was christened Irene Seaton. She acquired the Wicker by marrying Walter Wicker, of radio fame, and the extra "W" in Irene was added on the advice of a numerologist.

We haven't heard Mrs. Roy Redder for some time on KPND. We hope she is not off the air permanently. If she is, a 14-of listeners will be disappointed.

CBS tonight: At 6, Poetic Melodies; 6:15, Popeye the Sailor; 6:30, Fox Crok Parson; 7:30, Pick and Goo; 8, Radio Theater; 9, Wayne

The Canadian Baby Derby is one event that hasn't reached the air, that is via radio, and we can't quite figure why it hasn't, since it seems to be going political, even to the "recruits."

Uncle Bud's Barn Dance at Berger on Nov. 21, quite likely will be the biggest event of its kind ever attempted in the Panhandle, and we know you will not want to miss anything so important as that.

The Waikiki Novelty Boys, that delightful group of entertainers who will furnish the music at the barn dance, have just completed an extended tour and report a lot of interest in the dance wherever they go.

The "Rhythmites" are to be heard again this afternoon, and we will be delighted to listen. If, per chance, any of you haven't heard these girls, tune in KPND and hear a well rendered quarter hour of songs you'll like. This trio is composed of Inez Hawkins, Jean Gillespie, and Mary Helen Gillespie, with Gene Finkbeiner at the piano.

Frank D. Baldwin.

The Literary Digest poll of 1936 now goes down in history alongside other of life's little mysteries. With its former record for accuracy, it is a bit difficult to understand how the magazine missed the mark in the recent presidential election by so wide a margin.

It is something the Digest Editor has not explained. Evidently the magazine did not get a very good cross-section of the vote. . . . Perhaps it was because they only sent out ten million ballots this year, against 20 million ballots in previous campaigns.

From 'way out here in the Panhandle, it appears that if the Digest expects to keep faith with the public, it will necessarily have to do some explaining on how come the poll to be so incorrect.

Ontario children, arrested for playing pranks, were locked in cells with four tramps, the children's parents protested. Maybe the tramps felt it was harsh on them, too.

A "restaurant racket" is being probed in New York. It's about time the anti-noise commission got around to those saxophones.

After reading that huge book, "Gene With the Wind," is handy for placing on papers to keep them from going with the wind.

The case of King Edward and Mrs. Simpson calls attention to the utter folly of trying to keep people from finding out about things by censoring the press.

Although this case has been given scores of columns in American papers, the British papers printed not one line about it. Are the British, then, in the dark about it? By no means. Their interest is at fever heat.

The good old word-of-mouth pipeline has informed practically everyone in the kingdom that the king and the young matron are deeply interested in each other and that the young matron has divorced her husband.

Indeed, the British know a great deal about the case that just isn't so. Rumors have flourished and swollen to fantastic extremes.

It is a safe bet that the famous Simpson case would actually be less of a sensation in Britain today if the British papers, from the beginning, had opened their columns to it as freely as the American papers have done.

"Stocks are slow in leaving England this year." Perhaps they're frightened by rumors of sweatshop conditions in Italy and Canada.

"Artificial Yarn Decried in Reich." This is no news to long-time students of Nazi propaganda.

"America builds New Tang Oil Industry." Dora believes that liberal use of the product would have made certain broadcast political speeches bearable.

The original "Old Mill Stream" is being improved. A recent visit to a tavern suggests a little face-lifting for Sweet Adeline.

Blushingly, we present this paragraph excerpt taken from a personal letter from Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college at Lubbock:

"Your very keen insight into the workings of Texas Technological College and especially your very fine analysis of the program we have definitely set up as our program here at Tech are matters of great satisfaction to all of us. You hit the nail on the head. We do want to turn out young people who not only know—but, who know HOW."

The Texas Tech pressy's reference is to comment we made in this space a couple of weeks ago, after a visit to the college. Well, that's the way things stacked up to use as we went through Tech, and if they hadn't appeared that way we wouldn't have said so.

Here is startling information: One hundred thousand germs may be poured into the air in an average sneeze, estimates the American Institute of Sanitation. A heavy sneeze by a person suffering from a deep cold or other ill may carry many more germs.

The spread of colds and other respiratory ills is now generally recognized as often resulting from coughs and sneezes. The nose and throat of every person contain large numbers of bacteria. Influenza germs are often harbored by well people. When a person has a cold or gripe, influenza and other bacteria present increase in number. As many as 50,000,000 bacteria in the mouth of well persons is not uncommon. In disease the germ population of the mouth may run into the hundreds of millions.

A couple of Borger football fans in Pampa, this morning remarking that the only places that would be open in Borger tomorrow afternoon when the Harvesters and Bulldogs meet would be the front door of the hospital and the gates at Huber Stadium. NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—More than 200,000 employees in General Motors corp. plants and offices joined today the swelling ranks of workers in American industry in line for year end bonuses and wage increases. Dipping into profit gains resulting from industrial recovery, General Motors fell into step with three other giants of American business—U. S. Steel, Standard Oil of New Jersey and Chrysler—in giving workers and shareholders a largest slice of this year's profits. The largest of the nation's motor

DIGEST'S POLL TO BE PROBED, SAYS SENATOR

MISTAKE CANNOT BE FORGIVEN, AVERS MCKELLAR

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 10 (AP)—Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.) said today he would demand an official investigation of the national election poll conducted by the Literary Digest.

"I believe an investigation of the matter should be made by the Senate, and it is my intention to offer such a resolution upon the convening of congress," McKellar's statement said. "And I wish here and now to advise the Literary Digest to keep all of its books, papers, ballots, and every other fact connected with the poll intact so that the committee conducting the investigation shall be able to get full, accurate and true information concerning the entire poll."

TREMENDOUS STRUGGLE IS RAGING IN MADRID

MADRID, Nov. 10 (AP)—A tremendous struggle raged this afternoon in the Casca-del Campo sector of outlying Madrid.

Insurgents, bent on beating their way across the Manzanares river and into the capital from the west, met stubborn and continuing resistance. Madrid was crowded with reinforcements. Shells began dropping in the workers' Cuatro Caminos sector of the city shortly after noon.

Artillery behind the fascist lines along the Manzanares river showed Madrid in repeated bombardments. Squadrons of low flying insurgent planes blasted at government ministries and fortifications.

Mayor Incensed As President's Wife Is Ridiculed

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10 (AP)—Whether a skit that Mayor S. Davis Wilson labeled "a damnable outrage" for "ridiculing the wife of the president of the United States" would remain in the musical production "New Faces" remained a matter of doubt today.

The mayor ordered it to be eliminated or the show discontinued; the manager of the theater agreed, but Leonard Sullivan, the author, said: "I'll employ all the legal talent I need to keep that skit in."

Philadelphia audiences waited for the second local performance of the Broadway production tonight for the outcome of the incident that saw the mayor jump from his third row to the middle of the first act last night and stalk up the aisle to deliver his ultimatum to the management.

The sequence that aroused the mayor's ire was entitled "scouting a rumor" and depicted Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Herbert Hoover (in the play Gerry Probst and Patricia Mallinson) addressing a meeting of Girl Scouts.

The characteristics of the skit's and former president's wives were exaggerated and the scene was replete with president's and former president's. It was shortly after the stage Mrs. Roosevelt began talking that Mayor Wilson left his seat.

DONATIONS FOR RED CROSS ARE RECEIVED HERE

Campaign Will Begin On Thursday Morning

Favorable outlook that Pampa's Red Cross Chapter will meet success in its 1936 roll call drive loomed today as pre-campaign donations began to come in at Red Cross headquarters.

Allen Hodge, general chairman of the drive, reported that several checks already had been received from local firms although the campaign was not officially under way until 9 o'clock Thursday morning.

A meeting of team captains was held this forenoon in city hall where final instruction for workers were given by those in charge of the roll call drive.

The goal this year is $2,000 and 1,000 members.

A change in plans does away with the house-to-house canvass this year. Instead radio appeals will be made to residents throughout the city, urging them to join the Red Cross and take out a $1 membership.

Radio listeners will be asked to call the BCD offices in City Hall where a corps of women will be on hand to go to any part of the city to take memberships.

Officials expressed the desire today that team workers have their territories covered by noon Thursday. All Red Cross solicitors from the Kiwanis, Rotary, BCD, Junior Chamber of Commerce and Lions civic clubs, American Legion, Foreign War veterans and supply houses will meet again at 9 a. m. Thursday in City Hall to get materials—membership cards and buttons, before they start out on the actual solicitation.

Employees in downtown business houses will be solicited for dollar memberships. It was explained today that all firm contributions will remain entirely in the treasury of the local chapter.

2 NEAR DEATH AFTER CRASH NEAR PAMPA

JOHN R. WHITE, HYATT CRITICALLY HURT AT ELECTRA

ELECTRA, Nov. 10 (AP)—Clifford Hyatt, 31, of Pampa and John R. White, of Laketon, were seriously injured early today when the automobile in which they were riding failed to round a curve on a highway near the city limits.

Chief of Police Walter Suttie investigated the accident which resulted in a broken back for Hyatt and a fractured clavicle and head injury for White.

Physicians said Hyatt's condition was critical. Two other occupants of the machine, whose names were not learned, escaped injury.

Two persons are near death in Worthy hospital and three others received serious injuries in an automobile accident a mile north of the Talley addition last night about 6:30 o'clock. The cars, locked together from the terrific impact, were hurled nearly 50 feet where the wheels spinning in the air.

Most seriously injured were J. Martin, employee of the Northern Gasoline company, and Mrs. L. T. Davis. Martin received a skull fracture which may prove fatal, attending physicians said today. Mrs. Davis suffered concussion of the brain, a broken arm and severe cuts and bruises.

H. M. Medley, driver of one of the cars and also an employee of the Northern Gasoline company, received a broken collar bone, fractured clavicle, two fractured ribs, lacerations and bruises. His condition today was serious but not critical, it was believed.

W. H. Sledge, a contractor and also a passenger of the Medley car, was treated for severe cuts and bruises and a broken clavicle.

The other occupant of the car, E. J. Cook, who is an employee of Mr. Sledge, had broken ribs, cuts and bruises.

Mr. Davis, who was driving with Mrs. Davis in their car and who also worked for Sledge, received only minor cuts and bruises and was able to leave the hospital after receiving medical attention.

Three of the injured persons were taken to the hospital in two G. C. Malone ambulances. The others were taken from the scene of the accident in cars.

Deputy O. T. Lindsay and State Patrolman J. L. Pingenot investigated the accident. Mr. Davis, the only person able to give a coherent statement to officers, said he was driving south on the road leading to the paving on the Borger road and was almost at the intersection before he saw the other car approaching from the west. He was unable to stop in time to avoid the crash, he told officers.

Davis was driving a dark Essex sedan while the other car was a light colored Pontiac. Officers said that Davis apparently could not see the other car because of its color and the fact that the sun was setting.

Occupants of the other car were still unable to give officers a story of the wreck at a late hour today.

POST IS ONE OF STRONGEST IN PANHANDLE

NAMED FOR CROSSMAN AND KERLEY, WAR VICTIMS

Kerley-Crossman Post No. 334 of Pampa is one of the strongest American Legion posts in the Panhandle. The Post was named for George Kerley who died Oct. 10, 1918 at Camp Travis; and A. E. Crossman, who died January 10, 1918 at the same camp.

Kerley-Crossman Post is interested in all civic enterprises. It has lent its aid to the civic clubs in their programs; maintains a riot squad to assist police when needed; assists in the drives for funds for the Red Cross, Boy Scouts and underprivileged children; assists with American Education week program; had charge of the flag ceremony at the unveiling of the Frank Baldwin monument; donates the use of the Legion Hut as a voting place in all elections; assists in the observance of Armistice Day; is active in charity work and is especially interested in children's work.

Radio Program

This Post is at present conducting a series of radio programs. Fan mail and telephone calls indicate this program is fast becoming one of the favorites over station KPND. The Post assists the Forty and Eight society to immunize all children from diphtheria without charge. For football games Post members serve as ticket takers, ushers and police. With its organization, it has formed a squadron of the Sons of the American Legion.

For veterans the Post has worked constantly. It maintains a Blood Donors' club, free to all ex-service men and their families. It assisted veterans in applying for their bonds by making out proper application. It has secured grave markers for deceased veterans and maintains a Post grave registration officer to keep track of the graves.

The post is out of debt and has a cash balance in the bank. It does not sponsor carnivals or any other concerns that take money from the town. The Legion is interested in "buy at home" movements and will work with the merchants of Pampa along this line.

Commanders of the Post have been: John Hamilton, 1921-22; Dr. W. Purviance, 1922-25; Edgar Reason, 1925-26; Mrs. E. V. von Brunow, 1926-27; Artie C. Sallor, 1927; Lester F. Sills, 1927; Louis O. Cox, 1927-28; Dr. Roy A. Webb, 1928; H. M. Culbertson, 1928-29; Paul D. Hill,

We Owe It to War Dead To Work For Peace

(An Editorial)

It is only natural that Armistice Day should be a day for looking back. Those limitless rows of white crosses that mark the hillsides of Europe with tragic memories are beacons that we cannot ignore, and would not if we could. Armistice Day is a day set aside for remembering them.

There is not, of course, anything that we can do, now, for the men whom those crosses commemorate. They responded to a summons to the best that was in them, they endured all that men can endure, and at last they gave up their lives.

Nothing that we can say will help them; no tribute that we can pay will be adequate to express our debt to them. But looking back is not enough. Those men who died did not die for nothing. They died for something—died in the hope that the sacrifice they were making was significant, that it would somehow help the luckier folk who did not have to die to enter a better, cleaner world.

It is up to us to make that hope good. There can be no better Armistice Day observance than to dedicate ourselves to that task. And we cannot do it unless we look ahead instead of back.

It is commonplace to point out that the war to end war did not end war; that the war to make the world safe for democracy did nothing of the kind; that the world in general has been a worse place rather than a better because of the war.

But these things are not irrevocable decrees of fate. They will not remain true unless we let them. We who were spared by the war can overturn those tragic facts if we have a mind to.

We can insist, for instance, that the new war which threatens the world shall not be inflicted on us. We, the plain people who have to bear the load of war, can demand in unmistakable voices that statesmen make new efforts to enable the nations of the world to get along together in peace.

We can support men and programs which lead toward such a goal. We can denounce blind and reckless nationalism whenever it raises its head.

We can do our part toward making democracy work, here in the United States. We can help our country to prove to the rest of the world that democracy, after all, does work better and give more people happiness than any other form of government. For if democracy justifies itself by its fruits, it must in the long run prevail.

It is in ways such as these that we can best pay tribute to the dead of the World War. The sacrifice they made lays a heavy responsibility on us—a responsibility to see that the better world for which they died is brought closer to realization by the living.

On Armistice Day we can do no better than to recognize that responsibility and dedicate ourselves to the job of meeting it.

PURPOSE OF AMERICAN LEGION IS SERVICE, PREAMBLE STATES

Preamble to the Constitution of the American Legion: For God and Country, we associate ourselves together for the following purposes: To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perpetuate a one hundred per cent Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of our association in the great war; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation; to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and goodwill on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy; to consecrate and sanctify

CITY POST OF VFW FORMED 7 YEARS AGO

LILLIBRIDGE PUSHED ORGANIZATION OF BODY

Through efforts of J. B. Lillibridge of Amarillo post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Pampa Post No. 1657 in Pampa was organized and granted a charter on April 4, 1929. The post was instituted by John B. Golding post No. 1475 of Amarillo.

The first meeting was held in the Odd Fellows hall with 16 members present. They were: J. L. Noel, W. C. deCordova, Lewis O. Cox, J. A. Pearson, deceased, C. C. Alexander, deceased, Frank Lard, Frank J. Thomas, W. C. Pullen, J. R. Baker, J. Lester Cary, deceased, A. C. Sallor, H. C. Platter, J. W. Woodworth, O. K. Gaylor, Dr. Walter Purviance and G. P. Bradbury.

Of the charter members, three have died, three have moved from Pampa, and the others are still active members of the post. The post now has a membership of 110.

Lewis O. Cox was the first commander of the Pampa post.

our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness.

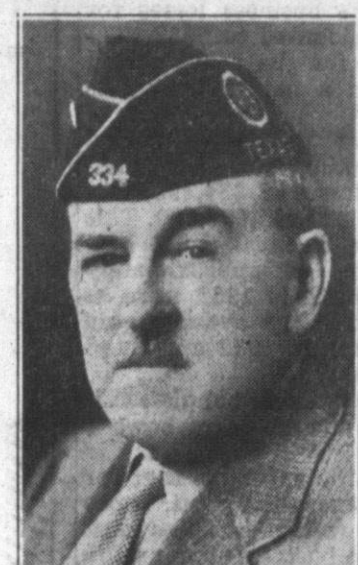

The purpose of the American Legion is service, Service to community, state and nation. Members of the Legion gave service while they were members of the armed forces of the United States in the World War. In the Spring of 1919 some 500 members of the A. E. F. assembled in Paris and after a three day meeting announced the formation of the American Legion. Since that time the Legion has made giant strides until today we find it composed of posts in every hamlet, village, town and city of our great commonwealth and its possessions. Nor is this all, for in large foreign cities such as Paris and London we find our veterans of the World War army organized in similar posts and engaged in forwarding the ideals and aspirations of our country.

There is no rank in the American Legion and no distinction between home service and foreign service. The Legion is an organization of veterans run by veterans. Everyone has a voice. The American Legion has an endowment fund of five million dollars contributed by members of the Legion and the Auxiliary. This fund was raised in a campaign conducted in 1925-26. Income from the fund which is held intact as to principal is devoted exclusively to the Legion's rehabilitation and child welfare work.

The American Legion endowment fund cooperation holds the fund in trust and turns over the income from it to the Legion to be used only for the two purposes named.

Looking to the future Kerley-Crossman Post expects to keep its place as a service organization to our community. The Post's work this year is with our schools, our underprivileged children, our needy veterans and any other civic activity for the good of Pampa.

Chef De Gare

A. D. Monteth is Chef De Gare of the Pampa Voiture of the Forty and Eight Society. He has been head of the organization since new officers for the year were installed last August.

Frank Thomas was the first adjutant and W. C. deCordova, the adjutant; W. C. deCordova, quartermaster.

1932—O. K. Gaylor, commander; Frank Thomas, adjutant; D. E. Cecil, quartermaster.

1933—J. W. Woodworth, commander, until leaving Pampa when D. E. Cecil was elected for the unexpired term. He resigned and Jno. I. Bradley served the unexpired term; O. K. Gaylor, adjutant; W. C. deCordova, quartermaster.

The post had a membership of 20 until 1934 when Commander Neath headed a drive which increased it to 35. In 1935, under Commander Waddell, the membership jumped to 70. Our present membership is 110 members.

Early meetings of the post were held in the homes of members, mostly with J. A. (Pop) Pearson. Later the city hall was used. In 1934 the American Legion extended the use of their hut for meetings.

In 1931, J. A. Pearson was appointed Chief of Staff for the Department of Texas. This year the state encampment was held in Amarillo and Pampa was almost awarded the state encampment for 1932, also accommodations were not available. The proposal that Pampa be made the convention city was made by an enthusiastic Pampa veteran while two other cities were in the heat of an argument and it took a lot of quick thinking and action on the part of some of the Pampa members to keep from getting the convention.

In October, 1935, an auxiliary was organized. Mrs. H. W. Waddell was elected president, Mrs.

W. E. DeCordova, Chef de Gare; Mark Long, Commissaire Intendant; C. M. Carlock, conductor; Paul D. Hill, Aumonier; B. W. Bettis, Garde de LaPorte; E. H. Forrister, Lampiste; W. L. Hoskew, Commis Voyaguer; G. C. Malone, Medicin; and J. W. Woodworth, D. A. Bartlett and C. J. Maisel, Chiments.

40 AND EIGHT ORGANIZED BY 15 LEGION MEN

LOCAL VOITURE FORMED AT AMARILLO IN 1927

Voiture 953 of the Forty and Eight society was formed more than nine years ago on March 30, 1927, at Amarillo when 15 members of the Kerley-Crossman post of the American Legion were initiated into the order. The Pampa 40 Hommes et 8 Cheveux originally was made up of the following Legionnaires: Artie C. Sallor, Chef De Gare; Frank J. Thomas, Chef De Train; C. Lee Mayo, Commissaire Intendant; Edwin S. Vicars, Correspondent; O. Floyd McConnell, Garde De LaPorte; Frank Lard, Lampiste, and Jess D. Lard, Commis Voyaguer. Others in the charter membership were Lester F. Sills, Walter E. Coffee, Thomas E. Darby, Leo M. Furnas, Jesse G. Wheeler, C. E. Cary, L. C. Shirley, and Ralph E. Zogg.

At the first meeting held in Pampa on April 4, 1927, P. J. Thomas resigned as chief de train and was elected correspondent to replace E. S. Vicars who could not serve due to other business. Thomas E. Darby then was elected to the post of chief de train.

Since this first meeting nearly ten years ago, the membership of the voiture has increased from 15 to 49.

Heads of the organization in the succeeding years have been Thomas E. Darby, H. Otto Studer, Frank J. Thomas, J. W. Murphy, Roy A. Webb, H. S. Green, J. W. Woodworth and A. D. Monteth.

The 40 and 8 society of the Legion in Pampa has been active in child welfare work and has lent assistance in this respect whenever called upon.

In addition to Mr. Monteth, other present officers of the Pampa 40 and 8 are:

W. E. DeCordova, Chef de Gare; Mark Long, Commissaire Intendant; C. M. Carlock, conductor; Paul D. Hill, Aumonier; B. W. Bettis, Garde de LaPorte; E. H. Forrister, Lampiste; W. L. Hoskew, Commis Voyaguer; G. C. Malone, Medicin; and J. W. Woodworth, D. A. Bartlett and C. J. Maisel, Chiments.

ACCUMULATED SAVINGS

How rapidly is the United States adding to its national wealth? Robert Doane, in his book "The Measurement of American Wealth," reports that the business losses for the twenty years ending in 1932, amounted to $242,177,000,000; the total business profits for the same period were $193,684,000,000. This makes a net business loss of $54,493,000,000.

The net individual savings for the same period amounted to $75,448,000,000. Deducting from these individual net savings the net business losses of $54,493,000,000, makes a net gain in 20 years of $20,955,000,000. This is a gain in national wealth, of the business gains, business losses plus individual savings, of approximately $1,000,000,000 a year. If the net worth in 1932 were as Doane reports, $238,000,000,000, then the average gain in wealth for the twenty years ending in 1932 amounted to about one-half of 1 per cent a year.

When it is considered that the increase in population is also taken into consideration, this undoubtedly shows a decrease in per capita wealth.

One of the interesting points in the survey is that for the 20 years business showed more losses than gains. Those people who think there is so much profit in business must realize that there were more losses in business than profits and the losses have to be made up by individual savings.

It is no wonder there are ten million people out of work with the wealth per capita becoming gradually less and the people rightly expecting a higher standard of living. The conditions can only lead to confusion and chaos. We must have more capital per worker if we are to have wages high enough to make it worth while for people to work.

STADIUM REFRESHMENTS

Drinking at college football games has come in for a little special attention this fall. President Dodds of Princeton requested, in the name of the University, that all persons refrain from the use of alcoholic liquors while attending contests under its auspices. President Wilbur of Leland Stanford suggested that football fans slake their thirst with a popular soft drink.

This opens up various avenues of speculation, such as why fans must drink anything during a game, and even why they go to games. If they need fortification against the weather, they might drink iced lemonade in southern and hot coffee in northern stadiums. Thermos bottles might be made in hip pocket size and flask shape for convenience.

Or why shouldn't Americans take up the English cricket match custom of spreading out a tea service and having a real snack during intermissions?

Here is a problem facing the institutions of higher learning which they may be able to tackle without incriminating themselves as Communists or Fascists.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

NEW YORK.—It takes more than one, two, or three explanations to account for the amazing Roosevelt majority.

You have to take all the factors which the Democrats said were operating in their favor and which the Republicans said were not. Then you must add certain issues and vote-getting devices which most politicians thought were aiding Governor Landon, but which now seems to have been doing him more harm than good.

Where most of us made a mistake in underestimating Roosevelt strength was in the rural areas and small towns, where voters were supposed to be overwhelmingly against the New Deal.

Returns show that most such sections gave the president something like an even break, which meant that pluralities which were expected in the cities were not appreciably offset.

The returns also seem to have answered other questions such as: how solidly would WPA workers support Roosevelt? Could the labor vote be delivered? Could the Republicans regain before election day their old standby, the negro vote? Would the farmers bite the lavish New Deal hand? What did the huge new registrations portend? Could the many new Democratic political machines in big states and cities be depended on for big help, as against Republican machines out of power and sometimes demoralized.

All these questions have been answered in favor of Roosevelt and this writer also has been hearing on every hand that the two big Republican "scare" campaigns reacted disastrously against Landon and Knox.

One refers to the effort to paint the New Deal as Communistic—with its sideshow indirectly playing to race prejudice by pointing on the Jewish name of David Dubinsky of the International Ladies' Garment Workers—and the effort to convince workers that the Social Security act was a fraud which amounted to nothing but a wage cut.

Organized labor snorted and raged at hearing one of its most important leaders—who happened to be a Roosevelt elector in New York state—branded a Communist by Republican politicians.

They knew better. So did the Jewish voters, many of them already embittered by slurs from Father Coughlin and by the not unsuccessful effort to line up Irish voters in New York against Governor Lehman.

Jews in New York and elsewhere say those of their race voted nearly 100 per cent for Roosevelt.

Democratic leaders admit the payroll envelope attack might have been far more effective had it been held until a week or 10 days before election. It began early enough to give union labor time for a vigorous counter attack, to give Roosevelt and hundreds of other speakers a chance to hammer back at it again and again, and to give the Social Security Board at Washington time to throw its machinery into high gear in an intensive campaign of education.

It is hard to say whether the reaction against Landon was as harmful, as most politicians believe, but the vote shows Republicans far overestimated the effect of the two big "scare" issues.

A SAILOR'S KNOT

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

BY GEORGE TUCKER.

NEW YORK.—It's a pathetic, rather hopeless ambition that persuades a girl to strive for success on Broadway. The odds against it are a thousand to one, and even then it is apt to be a temporary thing. Worrying how best to keep star dust out of her hair, and convinced that her name will soon be in lights, she haunts the casting offices and remains cheerfully optimistic even when the signs say, "No Casting Today—Come Back Tomorrow." Unfortunately, tomorrow rarely comes.

It is of most precarious business, this show business, even after prominence is attained. Only a handful go on from there to added achievements. For the others it's a swift trek down the back track to oblivion. Ask Bernard Sobel, who used to be Ziegfeld's press agent. He helped write the Ziegfeld tradition and he can tell you how fleet a thing fame is on the rialto. Ask him where most of Ziegfeld's girls are today.

There was Helen Lee Worthing, lovely daughter of a Boston business man, and "Bubbles" Wilson, who later became Mary Nolan of the films, who brought a new type of beauty to Broadway and gained quick footholds on a street where comeliness was a drug on the market. Yet both were tragic failures. Miss Worthing became the wife of a negro physician who attempted to carve a career for her in Hollywood, and Miss Wilson became the girl in the Frank Tinney scandal. After that episode she dropped out of sight and then reappeared as a new film personality. But success in Hollywood was only temporary and she finally returned to the street where her greatest triumphs and defeats were scored. Her life hasn't been particularly happy in the last few years. I ran into her the other day in a cafeteria, warbling plaintive songs for coffee and cake money.

Helen Walsh's career also came to a tragic end, but not via scandal or the divorce courts. She was burned to death on Harry Richman's yacht when it exploded in Long Island Sound.

Joyce Hawley was another of those lovely, doll-like girls who aspired to the laughter and champagne of Broadway. She went into Earl Carroll's "Varieties" and emerged as the nude in the bathtub of wine at one of Carroll's parties. The attendant publicity earned a prison term for Carroll and a note for Miss Hawley that killed her chances on Broadway. She too dropped out of sight and became just a memory in the Broadway bubble.

Remembered As Failures. Through the records you go, and time after time you find similar instances. True, in rebuttal, there are the stars like Marian Davies, Gladys Glad, and Marilyn Miller, who reached the top and stayed there. But for every one of these there are scores who never got anywhere at all or if they did are remembered now only because they were—failures!

Generally some compromise can be made.

after the children have gone. But as a matter of expediency, the parents cannot afford to insist on their own exclusive possession of the home if they want the children to love it. If the owner of a boarding house insisted on his rights to the exclusion of the tenants, he would soon have to look for new boarders.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD. HOLLYWOOD.—A movie that can sustain a "big punch" for a reel or more has better than an average chance of hitting the public fancy, and "Come and Get It" and "The Charge of the Light Brigade" are among the new season's examples.

Climax of the film woven around Tennessee's poem is the tremendous and gallant cavalry advances of British lancers across the "valley of death," a protracted sequence which builds and builds to a finish of pounding, smashing confusion. It tops for spectacle practically anything the screen has had to offer to date.

In "Come and Get It," Edna Ferber's story of a lumber king of the late 19th century, there is no occasion for cavalry charges, but spectacle is served none the less in scenes showing the floating millions of feet of timber from the frozen northern Wisconsin camps to the hungry paper mills downstate.

Gigantic piles of fallen trees hurtle and slither down thawing hillsides to the wild river below, pyramids of timber are dynamited from still frozen banks to join the groaning, mad stampede, and giant logs go diving down the water chutes to dive into the stream, one after another like cattle bound for slaughter. It is all shown in rapid tempo, to a musical accompaniment that aids immeasurably in dramatizing what might be part of a travelogue but for its mode of presentation.

In "The Charge of the Light Brigade" the big punch—the charge and its dramatic music—comes at the end of the picture. In "Come and Get It" the similar punch, the timber-flooding sequence, comes close to the beginning. Perhaps the only comment necessary on the film itself is that after this beginning it does not lag, but carries on dramatically to another kind of climax in human emotions.

Edward Arnold plays Barney Glasgow, the lumberjack who married the boss's daughter to get money and power, all he really wanted, when he actually loved the dance-hall girl played by Frances Farmer. Later, Barney is all-powerful, but when he meets the girl's daughter (Miss Farmer again) he tries to recapture his romantic youth. But Barney has a son (Joel McCrea)—and the battle is fought out to its inevitable end.

The picture gives these three their best roles to date, spotlights Walter Brennan as Swan Bostrum, and offers an attractive newcomer in Andrea Leeds, local college girl who makes good in her fish picture. Mary Nash, Mady Christians, and Frank Shields, the tennis man, are others in convincing portraits.

Edna Ferber's story is changed somewhat and only partially utilized for the screen play. The picture carries credit for two directors: Howard Hawks, who disagreed with Producer Samuel Goldwyn during filming, and William Wyler, who finished the job. Really there were three, however: the third is Richard Rosson, who did the logging sequences.

The Wrong Murderer

By HUGH CLEVELY

Chapter 19. FALSE AT HEART. After coffee had been served, Lee-Ramsden took Mahony up to the study for a cigar, leaving Ruth in the drawing-room. There Lee-Ramsden's manner changed, became altogether serious.

"This is a nasty business, Mahony, a very nasty business," he said. "I may seem rather casual about it, but I hate my ward being mixed up in it. You were a friend of young Ross, weren't you?"

"Yes," admitted Mahony. "And Ross pretended to be a friend of Lawson, actually he hated him—hated and feared him. I don't go about with my eyes shut, and I've noticed the way Ross looked at Lawson when he thought nobody was watching him."

"It was absolute lies, of course; he had noticed nothing of the kind; but he spoke very convincingly. Mahony was conscious of a new respect for the old man."

"A charming fellow, Lawson," continued Lee-Ramsden. "So handsome and cultured. And also, if I'm any judge of men, one of the most unprincipled blackguards in creation. He seems to have been bobbing up a good deal in this matter last night and this morning, doesn't he?"

"He paused. 'Won't you tell me the whole story?' he asked. 'I'll help you if I can. My ward, one of the best reasons why I should help you. I might as well be useful; I'm not altogether without brains, and even influence.'"

Again it was superbly acted; the old man appeared quite sincere. Mahony was quite won over. He told Lee-Ramsden the whole story. At the end of the story Lee-Ramsden's face was very stern.

"Those fellows must be crushed," he said. "Utterly stamped out. Hanging's a damned sight too good for them. I'm with you, Mahony, to the last inch."

He held out his hand. Mahony took it. It was then, for the first time, Mahony noticed the curious shape of Lee-Ramsden's hands.

After Mahony had gone, Lee-Ramsden laughed. There was still an air of amusement about him when Mullins entered later in the afternoon with tea.

"What do you think of young Mahony, Mullins?" he asked. "A very ordinary young man, if I may say so, sir," replied Mullins. Lee-Ramsden shook his head.

"On the contrary, Mullins, a very extraordinary young man," said Lee-Ramsden. "He has both brains and guts. I like him. And that's a great pity, because I'm afraid he's going to die young. Do you know what he told me?"

"No, sir," said Mullins. "He told me," said Lee-Ramsden in a shocked tone, "that the foul gang who kidnaped Miss Ruth meant to make her a drug addict so that when they released her, she and incidentally her money, would still be entirely under their control. Isn't that dreadful?"

"Er... yes, sir," said Mullins. He hardly seemed to know how to answer. Lee-Ramsden laughed.

"Don't be a hypocrite, Mullins; the only dreadful part of the scheme from our point of view is that it did not succeed," he said gently. "What will be really dreadful will be if I lose control of Ruth's money when she's twenty-one. But I don't intend to, Mullins; I don't intend to."

After leaving Lee-Ramsden's house, Mahony took the underground to Notting Hill Gate station, and began to walk back to his lodgings. About ten yards from the station entrance a man hurrying along the pavement bumped into him somewhat roughly.

"Sorry," said the man. He paused for a moment, looking at Mahony curiously.

"Isn't your name Mahony?" he asked. "Terence Mahony?"

"Yes," answered Mahony. "What about it?" He did not feel in the mood to chat to strangers.

"My name's Milson," said the stranger. "Andrew Milson. Don't you remember me?"

"No," answered Mahony. To the best of his knowledge he had never seen the man before in his life.

"I met you a couple of years ago in the Shanghai Bar," said Milson confidently. "At that time I believe you were special correspondent in China for an American newspaper—the Chicago Leader."

"That information was correct. Two years previously Mahony had done newspaper work for an American paper. He had also quite frequently been in the Shanghai Bar.

"I saw another chap from China the other day, too," went on Milson. "Kosoff—you know him, didn't you? He's over here now on a visit. Very well dressed and prosperous. He introduced me to his partner, a man named Mulgrave."

Mulgrave was the man whom Mahony had held up at the pistol point to find out where Ruth was imprisoned. And Kosoff had made his living in China by exporting dope. Mahony began to be interested in Milson's conversation.

"When did you see Kosoff?" asked Mahony.

"About four days ago. He looked so prosperous that I tried to touch him for a fiver. I didn't expect to get it, of course. I was never so surprised in my life as when Kosoff actually gave it to me. He also told me that if I was down on my luck and not too particular, he knew a place where I could get a job."

Milson laughed. "Well, I'm down on my luck, and I've never been very particular—as a matter of fact, I had to leave China rather suddenly—but there are some jobs that I do draw the line at, and Kosoff's are among them. He had a chat with Mulgrave about me, and Mulgrave gave me a note of introduction."

"The job was dope peddling, I suppose?" suggested Mahony.

Milson nodded. "Kosoff was quite frank about it. He knows that I'm a public school man, that I've got a pretty tough record in China, and that the English police don't know me, and those are the qualifications he wanted. I took the note and thanked him because of the money, but there's nothing doing."

(Copyright, 1936, Hugh Clevely)

Mahony buys the note from Milson, tomorrow.

Students Write To PHS Teachers

Two letters have been received by members of the faculty from former students of Pampa high school. The first communication was from David Seyffert to Principal L. L. Sone.

David moved from Pampa to Van, Tex., last year, when he was a junior. David, who has been getting the Little Harvester from Frank Monroe, stated that he agreed with Miss Florence Pickett on his praise of P. H. S., which appeared in an earlier paper. He added that in P. H. S. you get almost everything there is to get out of school life.

He told of the fine school building in Van, where they are constructing a new gymnasium worth $120,000. It is supposed to be the second largest in the state. David is expecting to make the basketball team there this year.

The other letter was written to Ernest Cabe, instructor, by Ed Cassada, a junior, who withdrew from school this year a few weeks ago. It started. He moved to Jackson, Tenn.

Ed says there are 12 grades in Jackson school and that they do not have as much freedom in selecting their subjects as they do here. They have 45-minute periods and get out of school at 2:15.

The football team of Jackson high is called Golden Bears. Ed says Memphis, Tenn., is Jackson's Amarillo.

There are three colleges in Jackson.

Girls Are Named On Committees

Temporary nominating, program, and refreshment committees were appointed at a meeting held Friday during home room period for girls interested in a Home economics club.

Those on the nominating committee are Frances Nash, Mattie Brown and Yaleta Davis. The program committee is composed of Dorothy Jo Moore, Helen Shellabarger and Edna Jo Berry.

On the refreshment committee are Ella Mae Felner, Lois Foster and Gwendolyn Coutts. Miss Arlean Pattison, sponsor, said that all girls who wish to join should see her at an early date.

The club plans to complete its organization and become affiliated with the state association of Future Home Makers of Texas by Dec. 1. Qualifications for membership, regular time for meeting, and calendar of programs for the year will be worked out by the club soon.

"I Told You So" Says Democrats As Their Smiles Spread

Excitement rode high among the students before the recent national election. Many strode importantly about sporting Roosevelt buttons. A few wore London buttons proudly, even though they were in the minority. The small buttons were symbols of their loyalty to one of the men before the eyes of the country.

"Amusing conversations were overheard daily between Landonites and Rooseveltians. After the election, many of the Landon supporters continued to wear their buttons, in spite of the ridicule of their classmates, while the Democratic students appeared with smug smiles and an attitude of "I told you so."

New Songs Learned By Pep Squad Girls

Several new songs have been learned by the pep squad in preparation for the Borger and Amarillo games. Tomorrow, the girls will go to Borger on their first trip to be made this season.

Some of the new songs are: "March, March on Down the Field," "We Want a Touchdown," and "There is No Place Like Old Pampa High."

EDUCATION IS MAIN SUBJECT IN ASSEMBLY

Program On Service Of School To Community

As Nov. 9-15 is National Education week, the assembly today was devoted to the topic "The Service of the School to the Community," with E. N. Dennard in charge. The local American Legion presented numbers on Americanization.

"The Pedler" was presented in assembly last Wednesday by the dramatics and public speaking classes under the direction of Kenneth Carman. It was a story of a young lady with two lovers and the trick they played to see if she would marry for money.

However, the young lady had a trick of her own and it turned out for the best for all except the rejected suitor. The cast was: Ethel, Dorothy Jo Moore; Harold, Travis Gee; Frederick, Gene Finkbeiner; the Pedler, Bill Noland; the maid, Billie Ross.

Other numbers on the program were two tap-dances by Frankie Lou Kheen and June Marie Amick, and a song and dance by little Virginia McNaughton. The "Little Orchestra" played several numbers throughout the program.

Colleen McMahan announced the program.

Future Farmers Visit Centennial For Three Days

Eight of the school's F. F. A. boys went to Dallas Friday. They were accompanied by Kenneth Carman, A. E. Frazier and Principal and Mrs. L. L. Sone and their daughter. The boys who went were Fred Vandenberg, Charles McDonald, Paul Nelson, Bill James, Vernon Thomas, Claude Cobal, Charles Shelton, and Kyndall LaCrosse.

The boys arrived in Port Worth at 9:30 and stayed all night at the Y. M. C. A. They left for Dallas at 8:30 Saturday and arrived at the Centennial at 9:30. They spent the whole day going through the various exhibits in the Administration, Federal, and Communications buildings. They also saw the Midway and Cavalcade, which they thought was worth the trip by itself.

To visit the stock show was one of the main aims of the boys but it was already closed. Part of the expenses was paid by the school and the other part was paid by the boys.

Tired, happy, and "broke," the boys arrived home Sunday afternoon.

96 Grade Points Needed To Finish

Have you seniors met all the requirements to ward graduation? Probably the most important thing is the grade points, because seniors must have at least 96. Next year the minimum will be raised to 100.

These are the requirements: 16 solid credits, 1 extra curricular credit, four credits in English, a major in some subject other than English, two and a half credits in mathematics, and two credits in history. If language is selected, two credits are required. Should a student have two credits in language, only one credit in science is needed.

Are you going to "come up missing?"

Harvester Band Opens Dedication

Music for the dedication of the battlefield monument south of town was furnished by Pampa and McLean high school bands Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

Pampa band opened the program by playing "March Medley." While the Boy Scouts and American Legion delegations from Pampa, Groom, LeFors, and McLean, marched out in front of the monument, the Harvester band played "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Approximately 2,500 persons attended the services, with people from all over the Panhandle present.

Sociologists Write Themes On Friends

Ernest Cabe's sociology classes are preparing themes on boy-friends and girl-friends.

The girls of the classes are writing on "Qualities I Demand in a Boy-Friend." The boys are taking the topic "Qualities I Demand in a Girl-Friend." Mr. Cabe finds that most of the students have the same ideas on the subject.

Some of these papers will be printed in The Little Harvester at a later date.

Ten Girls To Have Red Cross Booths

Ten girls from Pampa high school will have booths on Thursday for the purpose of selling Red Cross memberships. Five of the girls will work in the morning, and the remaining five in the afternoon.

Through the efforts of the Board of City Development, the city is sponsoring this drive. The amount made will go to the Red Cross fund.

"I HATE WAR!"

With the noisy ringing and tolling of bells, shriek of sirens, blowing of whistles, a wretched and dejected nation suddenly became a hilarious jumble of human beings who knew no bounds to their joy as the word "The War is over" resounded from mouth to mouth, from town to town.

Each little village, hamlet, or city had their own way of celebrating the return of peace to a disturbed country. Small children were so impressed that they remember today the pomp and ceremony used in the hanging of the effigy of the Kaiser in the square.

Men and women sat in stupid wonder when the news first came. Then tears and laughter came as they realized that the great war was really over.

Many homes rejoiced although their son, father, or brother had not been spared over-there to come back to them.

As America celebrates the eighteenth year of peace, the people should join with President Roosevelt in saying, "I hate war!"

The gospel of non-intervention should be preached continuously so that the youth of the nation should refuse to fight a war on foreign soil. If the students of today were resolved to do everything in their power to stop the deprivations of this monster war they could cause its ultimate downfall.

The government should take steps to prevent a repetition of the poisonous propaganda that was spread over the United States in 1917. War can always be avoided, and under no circumstances should the United States become involved in any possible entanglement that would lead to war.

America did not want war, but America may be deceived as she was before by the munition makers and international financiers. So steps should be taken to control those "merchants of death" who promote wars by selling bullets.

Let Americans be patriotic by proclaiming peace and condemning war.

PETITIONS STARTED TODAY FOR MEMBERS OF ANNUAL STAFF, MUST BE COMPLETED FRIDAY

Students assist in P-T-A Program

Editors To Be Chosen To Represent Classes

Petitions for members of the annual staff were started today, according to Mrs. Hol Wagner, staff advisor. They must be signed by 50 people and must be turned in by Friday.

The sophomores will be represented by one editor; the juniors by an editor and one assistant sales manager; and the seniors by the editor in chief, and one sales manager. Officers will be elected Monday by the respective classes.

The books will actually cost the staff $3 but will be sold to the students for $2. Remaining expenses will be made by Harley Saddle's Indoor Circus on Nov. 27 and 28 and a carnival on the night of Dec. 4. Each class and school organization will be represented by booths, according to size.

Annual sales will start next week. Students will be allowed to pay $1 down and the balance by the first of April.

25 Girls Report For Volley Ball

Volley ball practice started Thursday evening in the high school gymnasium with 25 girls reporting.

Eight of those who attended the practice played on last year's team. These students were: Jackie Bragg, Bessie Belle Davis, Sarah Pafford, Erma Kincheloe, Geraldine Hyatt, Bernice Adcock, Mary Houston, and Frances Nash.

"All-volley ball girls are expected to practice every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock," says Miss Kathleen Milam, sponsor.

Surprise Given by Swing Orchestra

A surprise was given the high school students Wednesday in assembly with the first appearance of the little orchestra this year. This is the fourth year for a jazz orchestra in high school.

The orchestra, which has many engagements for the year, plays for pleasure as well as for what the group can get out of it. A new member, Gene Finkbeiner, is pianist this year.

The rest of the orchestra includes: Junior McDrath, tenor saxophone; Rose La Nell Williams and Borden March, also saxophone; Jack Allison, drums, and Winston Savage, Bobby Banks, and Jimmy Hamilton, cornet.

Students Repeat Memory Work In Bookkeeping Class

Memory work is driving not only the students of P. H. S. "nerds," but also some of the teachers.

The other morning Winston Savage, band director, walked into his first hour bookkeeping class and heard a terrible racket. Upon investigating he found about a fourth of his class, all girls of one English class, giving their memory work at the same time and no one listening to the other.

Faculty Discusses Plans For Annual

At the faculty meeting held last Wednesday morning Robert Curry talked on the plans for the annual. He announced that at the carnival each teacher will be responsible for a booth directed by the organization which he sponsors.

Mrs. Frances Alexander brought up the proposition of giving jobs to students who use the student loan fund.

HOME EC CLUB HAS WEDDING IN GYMNASIUM

MISS AGGIE CULTURE WEDS HOMER ECONOMICS

Mr. and Mrs. Ag. Culture (Arvo Goddard and Betty Rains) wish to announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Aggie Culture (Betty Bell) to Mr. Homer Economics (Borden March). A quiet ceremony was held last night in the gymnasium with Rev. Paul Luttrell officiating the ring service.

Leading the procession was Maxine Wheatley and Alberteen Schukkey, flower girls that strewed the bridal path to the altar with lettuce. The two fidgety and giggling train-bearers were Theresa Campbell and Betty Blythe, Mary Lynn Schoolfield, the ring bearer, brought up the end of the procession.

The bride was dressed in a lovely blue georgette gown with a beautiful wedding veil that has been handed down for five generations to the Culture brides. Her hair was decorated with celery leaves, and she carried a bouquet of carrots.

This was the feature of the beginning of the Home Economics club Monday evening. The aims and purposes of this organization is to develop interest in homemaking as a vocation; to foster high ideals and an appreciation for home life; to learn more of the changes which have taken place in the home and the reasons for organized training; to respond actively to the community needs and enter into community activities; to encourage recreational and educational activities for students in home-making education; to stimulate interest in the wise use of leisure time; to encourage thoroughness in undertakings.

A short business session in which committees for the carnival, membership, social, study, and finance were appointed by Miss Arlean Pattison, home economics teacher.

Other entertainment for the evening was three accordion numbers by Helen and Mary Jo Shellabarger. Eugene Finkbeiner played the three most popular tunes of the week, The Doris Cupp, Laramie Courson, and Wanda Lee Dunlap. Louise Meador played the piano.

A large number of girls and several of their mothers were served refreshments. The date of the next meeting will be announced later.

Miss Paulson, amateur high school champion typist, gave an exhibition at Amarillo Senior high.

Miss Paulson's official record is 121 net strokes per minute.

HARVESTERS TO MEET BULLDOGS WITH EVEN BREAK IN WEIGHT FOR FIRST TIME THIS SEASON

Landon Supporters Wear Sheepish Faces

Many of the high school students have been wearing very sheepish faces ever since they heard the outcome of the presidential race. Hitherto these same people had been sporting the Landon sunflower and ribbing those who were "riding the donkey."

Some of them tried to laugh off the terrific beating taken by the G.O.P., but to no advantage. Nevertheless can they swagger down the hall with a sunflower on their lapel, "just to be different." It seems that this group of radicals must find something else to vary with the opinion of the common herd.

WILDCATS' DEN TO BE INVADED

Gorillas Will Meet Strongest Team Of Season

There will be a terrific battle when the Pampa Gorillas invade a den of Wildcats at Canadian Friday afternoon.

The game will be called at 3 o'clock. The Gorillas and the Wildcats enjoy playing against each other almost as much as the Harvester and the Sandies.

Canadian, which has a strong team, will be one of the most powerful that the Gorillas will meet this year.

Because the Harvesters are not playing Friday, the fans of Pampa should accompany the boys to Canadian and give them a little encouragement, says Coach Bob Curry.

The Gorillas lost a well fought battle to the second team of Panhandle there Wednesday afternoon, the final score being 26 to 12. The two touchdowns for the Gorillas were made by Cunningham and Kidwell. Cunningham completed a pass over the goal line and stepped over for the counter. John Kidwell, right half, made the second counter behind good blocking.

Oliver Coshow, working at half, was a little awkward at first but it looks as if he would be a shifty man before the season is over.

Squad Appears To Be In Good Shape For Game

Determined to win, the Pampa Harvesters will meet the Borger Bulldogs tomorrow afternoon at Huber stadium.

Although a few practices have been missed since the last game, the squad appears to be in good shape, without the loss of any player because of injuries. Bravely having stood defeat in most of the season's games, they are resolved not to lose again.

With the addition of Ramirez, formerly thought ineligible, the Bulldogs will be a powerful eleven. They, too, are out to win the game, and the battle will be one of the fiercest fought this season.

For the first time this year the Harvesters will face a squad with an even break in weight. The opposing lines will be nearly exactly the same, with a slight advantage for the Pampanos, while Borger's backfield is slightly heavier than ours. With the teams so evenly matched in weight and in scoring tactics, the game will be hard-fought from beginning to end. School will be dismissed and both the pep squad and the band will attend in full force. With these organizations cheering for them and with the support of many students who plan to attend, the Harvesters are expected to show their metal.

Mrs. C. C. Wilson Will Make Talk At Writer's Club

Mrs. C. C. Wilson, who attended "Writers' Summer Conference" in Boulder, Colo., will talk on her experience with authors at the Writers' Club Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The group will meet at Mrs. Hol Wagner's home at 221 North Gillespie.

At the meeting they will select a name and choose pins and emblems for the club. They also intend to make plans for taking part in the school carnival.

Members planning to attend are asked to sign at Mrs. Wagner's room before Thursday noon.

Students interested in joining this club are requested to see Mrs. Wagner or Tommie Rogers, president. Both boys and girls are eligible for joining.

Up And Down The Air Waves

We feel like calling for help today on the column. And since we thought of the idea, we believe it is a good one.

The Walkki Novelty Boys have been appearing on KPND recently at 12 noon. If you haven't heard their program, we are sure that was due to the fact that you didn't know they were on.

We want to remind you again that you should buy some Charly dance tickets for Armistice night. Proceeds go to the clothing fund of your underprivileged children.

The two Armistice Day Charly dances are scheduled at the high school gymnasium at 8 p. m. and at the Southern Club at 9 p. m.

There has been a play scheduled to be heard on KPND for some time. We attempted to find out this morning just when it might be heard, and was informed that "might" was the correct term.

Don't you think this program will be real entertainment? With Ken Murray, Eve Arden, Russ Morgan, Oswald (Oh! Yeah-h-h), and Phil Regan. You will really be entertained with this group, and you may hear them on CBS tonight at 7:30.

Another program with star cast proportions: Fred Astaire, Johnny Green, Charles Butterworth and Trudy Woods, tonight at 8:30 on NBC.

KPND still has the welcome sign hanging out, so visit them. One thing you are sure to see as you look into the studio and that is announcer Bill Karn twisting his hair. We would offer long odds on that.

CITY BUYS ELECTRIC ADDRESSING MACHINE

Two weeks work will be done in a few hours through purchase of an electric addressing machine by the city commission last night in regular session.

The machine will address 1,500 cards or envelopes an hour, it is claimed. Employees of the water works office now require nearly two weeks to address the more than 2,000 water cards mailed each month.

Resumption of bus service in Pampa is scheduled for Thursday morning when one bus will start operating, the commissioners were informed last night. F. S. Brown, operator of the Pampa Bus company which stopped service last month, said this morning that he was dealing with the Pampa resident for sale of the buses but that no papers had been signed this morning.

FATHER-IN-LAW OF BARRYMORE IS 'SOME CARD'

'Greatest Lover' Has Lots of Things On His Mind

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 10 (AP)—After a bridegroom but never so suddenly, John Barrymore was "trying to get used to being married again" today.

He took as his fourth wife the 21-year-old Elaine Barrie Jacobs, of New York, in a midnight ceremony at Yuma, Ariz., Monday morning. She is his "A-sel" again, and he's her "Challin", her mother, Mrs. Louise Jacobs, has become "Mamma" to him, but her father is just "Loo-ee."

Barrymore lited in his hotel room throughout the afternoon yesterday, recovering from the trip to Yuma. Jacobs was with him. Each had stripped down to his underwear.

"We had an awful trip," Jacobs grumbled. "Simply awful. Look, I'm not here yet. I'm still in Newark."

Barrymore looked haggard and worn. His long thick hair, shot through with gray, hung limply down around his temples. He patted his stomach reflectively.

"Where is Mrs. Barrymore?" he was asked. "She's—" the actor began. "Elaine?" Jacobs interrupted. "Oh, she's gone out to get a massage, or something. She feels awful. You feel awful, too, don't you, John?"

"Not so bad," said Barrymore. "Only I've got a lot of things on my mind. Let's see, I owe Elaine two dollars—"

Jacobs quivered with laughter. "He had to borrow two dollars from Elaine for the license," the father said. "Isn't that rich? He was so excited he forgot his wallet."

"And did Aaron ever get his ring back?" Barrymore asked, frowning. "That's another one," Elaine's father roared. "John didn't have a ring, so he borrowed one from Aaron Sapiro, our lawyer."

ABRAHAM LINCOLN CALLED HIS CABINET MEMBERS INTO SESSION ON SEPT. 22, 1862, FOR THE PURPOSE OF READING THE IMPORTANT PAPER NOW KNOWN AS THE EMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION. BUT FIRST HE READ THEM TWO CHAPTERS FROM THE HUMOROUS WRITINGS OF ARTEMUS WARD.

A CACTUS GROWS RUDIMENTARY LEAVES BEFORE IT GROWS SPINES.

A CAMEL SWEATS ONLY ON THE BACK OF ITS NECK.

IN the early history of life, cacti had no spines. The spines gradually took the place of leaves, due to the necessity for protection, and to the arid conditions under which the plant was to live. But, even now, the tender rudimentary leaves make a brief appearance before the spines push out.
