

TEX'S TOPICS

And, now we approach Hallowe'en (tomorrow), the Eve of All Saints' Day, usually devoted to merry-making and divination . . . Approach it with tongue in cheek and a suspicion that the white deer from White Deer possibly will find its way over to the Pampa city hall corner some time during Saturday night.

Yet, it's hob-goblin time in the Panhandle . . . Tomorrow night is the night when one is likely to find a pumpkin-faced lugabeer peering through the front window, or a witch riding her broom 'neath the Pampa moon . . . It is an eerie night when black cats go abroad through the neighborhood to spread ill-luck and such.

Pretty girls get out their evening gowns and golden slippers to join male escorts, perhaps tux-ed or in top hat and tails; and then go far and near to make merry in the 1936 sophisticated manner . . . Others prefer to stick by the home fires and bob apples in dimly-lit rooms decorated with pumpkins and fodder if you have the pumpkins and fiddler.

Hallowe'en is a season of the year when police officers tear their hair trying to cope with mischievous boys who think it is jolly fun to take Uncle Joe Spivins' old brew and the beer to the drinking fountain on the third floor of the courthouse.

Ghosts walk on All Hallow's Eve . . . And they don't care where they walk, either . . . They would just as soon walk up and rub soap on the windshield of your parked car as they would to run a tick-tack across the window and scare the living daylight out of Aunt Emma.

There will be home parties galore in Pampa tomorrow night . . . Gallons and gallons of sweet cider—and, possibly some not so sweet—will be drunk by those festive-bounded . . . All in all, the merry-makers will be having a good time, they hope, and some will be tired of it all around 4 a. m. Sunday . . . And if you ask them what they're celebrating, wine out of ten will flunk on the answer.

And, right here—we figure, is a splendid place to run in a picture of a pumpkin.

Of course, no treatise on Hallowe'en is complete without a pumpkin . . . So there it is . . . The black cat several paragraphs ago merely was thrown in to lend additional atmosphere . . . It's the pumpkin that really counts, according to the best authorities on Hallowe'en.

Radio comedians are in need of gags. Dora, of KPND, would like to know if some old towels will do.

A magazine banner line, "She Never Went to School but She Wrote Scenarios." This will surprise all but movie critics.

Babies in a French hospital began crying just as a mass of air arrived from another region. Perhaps they thought a politician was coming to kiss them.

The height of embarrassment would be that of the hitch-hiker with a cavity who found himself on one of those Indiana dental office autos.

When scientists begin to make food out of wood, a profitable concession would be the hot log stands.

Loyalists Battle To Whip Fascists

(By The Associated Press) Government forces, reinforced with new war planes and modern tanks, battled today to drive the fascist line back from Madrid. Fresh men were rushed to the front ranks as the second day of one of the war's bloodiest battles opened with the Madrid army shelling Torrejon de Velasco preparatory to a renewed charge. The counter-offensive, which turned the specialists into aggressors after a steadily receding defense, started suddenly yesterday with the capture of three towns—Torrejon de la Calzada, Humanes and Grinon.

Huge Pep Rally Held at McLean

McLEAN, Oct. 30.—Forming a parade at the City drug, the McLean high school band, the Tiger football team, and the pep squad marched mid cheers to the high school building where a pep rally was held Wednesday evening. Stunts by the three organizations, demonstrations by the drum major and his instructor, Gordon Burch of Berger, pep talks by various fans all brought vim and fight into the eyes of the Tigers who plan to play their hardest in the game with Wheeler Friday night.

Capt. Laswell, Quarterback Watson, and Coach Bill Allen responded for the Tigers.

Refreshments of sandwiches and cocoa were served to every one present.

Looking joyously thrilled, and a bit tricky, too, beneath that youthful Viennese actress, is shown above after she arrived in these U. S. to begin her career as a film actress. She was imported from Austria by Adolph Zukor, studio executive, who beat several others in a race to sign her.

HALLOWE'EN IS PARTY THEME

Young Crowd Enjoys Party in Home of Purviances

Ushered through the cellar door and through weird chambers to the gaily decorated living room, young people of First Methodist church were entertained with a Hallowe'en party in the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. Purviance last evening.

Silhouettes of cats, witches, and jack-o'-lanterns were everywhere in the rooms, where orange colored flowers stressed the Hallowe'en colors. Hallowe'en refreshments were served after a series of games and contests.

Many Expected For Annual School Event

Even more visitors than were present last year for the Hallowe'en carnival at Woodrow Wilson school are expected this evening, when the annual entertainment will open at 6:30. Proceeds this year will benefit the school cafeteria which was installed last month under auspices of the Parent-Teacher association.

Each room will offer its attraction: a showing of motion picture comedies will be in progress in the auditorium, and the cafeteria will be open to sell pie and coffee. Those who wish to wear Hallowe'en costumes and masks to the carnival are invited to do so.

HALLOWEEN MUSIC HEARD.

CENTENNIAL TO REOPEN IN 1937

Entirely New Fair To Be Presented at Dallas

DALLAS, Oct. 30 (AP)—Fred Florence, president of the Texas Centennial Central exposition, said today the $25,000,000 world's fair would be reopened in 1937.

Demands by Dallas business men for a new exposition in 1937 caused the board of directors to announce a June 12 opening date for next year, Florence said.

The majority of exhibitors will remain commercial exhibits on the exposition grounds and remodel them before the new show opens, the board said.

Harry Christed, general manager of the exposition, said: "We are going to reopen in 1937 with a better and more expensive world's fair. It will be an entirely new show, better and smoother running by virtue of experience gained by operation of the 1936 exposition immediately after the close of the present exposition full plans will be announced for next year."

The Dallas exposition will be the only one operating next year, Florence said, and will be changed throughout except for the general layout of the grounds.

Dallas business men reported a boom in sales during the exposition months and predicted an encore for the show in 1937 would serve as a stimulus to Texas building. The present exposition will close Nov. 29.

The 1937 exposition will be five weeks shorter, closing on Oct. 31.

TEACH CHILDREN TO BE FAILURES IS THEORY

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 30 (AP)—A noted psychiatrist told American teachers today to train their pupils to become "failures."

"Our educational system is suffering from an overdose of success stories," Dr. Mandel Sherman, mental hygiene expert at the University of Chicago, asserted before the Utah education association.

"We must educate our young people to meet failure. We must acquaint them with the fact that only a few can be successful from a material standpoint—only a few can make money or reach fame. The vast majority of us must remain what we call 'failures'—and we should begin to realize that harsh truth at an early age."

5000 SEEK TICKETS FOR ROSE BOWL TILT

PASADENA, Calif., Oct. 30 (AP)—Signs of January 1 poured into the Rose Bowl office today.

Even though no one knows the names of the western and eastern teams that will play here next year's day, 5,000 persons already have sent in requests for tickets.

"And that makes my job no bed of roses," said William Dunkerley, manager of the Tournament of Roses association.

"I have to disappoint each of the 5,000. Would-be buyers are told they will have to wait until the teams are picked, because the western school always handles the ticket sales."

CENTENNIAL EXTENDED

FORT WORTH, Oct. 30 (AP)—Billy Rose will extend the scheduled Saturday closing of the Frontier Centennial until Nov. 14. In announcing the holdover, the show director revealed that new specialty acts will inject fresh personalities into the show.

Mania revue for the round-up jamboree and that new events had been plotted for the first four nights next week.

DIVORCE COMPLAINTS

CHICAGO (AP)—Marital unhappiness was traced to a bird cage and a free airplane ride by two women who secured divorces here.

Mrs. Grace R. Peterson, 32, complained that her husband, August, hit her over the head with a bird cage. She didn't reveal the bird's fate.

Mrs. Mary Lee Rapp, 23, said she and her husband, Vincent, 25, were married "just for the sake of publicity" when an airplane owner advertised a free ride to anyone who would wed while aloft.

Ray, Tuesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Dobbins. Many enjoyable games were played. The honorees were presented with many pretty handkerchiefs. At the close of the evening refreshments of pumpkin pie and coffee were served to about 30 guests.

Reapers Class Is Entertained With Hallowe'en Party

A Hallowe'en party at the home of Mrs. B. Barrett was given for the Gleaners class of First Baptist church Tuesday. In a short business session, Mrs. Abbott and Mrs. Mary Binford were elected vice-presidents, Mrs. Charles Boyd secretary, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Jamison group captains.

After the class song and a devotional led by Mrs. E. G. Barrett, teacher, the opening prayer was given by Mrs. Cannon. Amusing Hallowe'en games were played, and gingerbread and cocoa were served with Hallowe'en whistles as plate favors.

Present were Meses. Cash, Boyd, Canada, Barrett, Binford, Harris, Irwin, Green, Cannon, Boyington, Mary E. Hoppe, Charles Stephens, Joe R. Foster.

Church Leaders Go To Panhandle for Part of Program

John S. Mullen, minister, and Howard House, educational director, of First Christian church here were program guests of the Panhandle church last evening, when a reception welcomed new members.

Mr. Mullen gave a short address on How New Members Can Add to the Life of the Church. Mr. House sketched crayon pictures, played piano and vibraphone solos, and presented feats of magic.

The two Pampa men are to take part in a similar program this evening at a banquet in First Christian church of Amarillo.

Mrs. Stoker Has Returned From Trip

Pampans who heard Mrs. Lelah Stoker speak of European affairs during her visit here last year with a friend, Mrs. Ewing Leech, will be interested in her reports of a recent trip abroad. Mrs. Stoker spent several days in Pampa and spoke at an open meeting.

The Baltimore (Md.) News-Post in a recent issue carried an interview with Mrs. Stoker while she was a guest in that city, her former home. She had just returned from several weeks in Russia, France, and other European countries.

Mobilization in Russia, guarded as closely as possible from the eyes of visitors, was described by the American woman who is especially interested in that country and who has visited there both before and after the World War. She told of sympathy and support given by the soviet to the Spanish government in its civil war.

The lot of the average citizen in Russia is still an unhappy one, Mrs. Stoker said, food is still scarce for the workers, and the water in large cities she described as "pumped directly from rivers, unsavory, and almost undrinkable."

GARBAGE CASE TO BE TRIED IN CITY COURT

B. E. Van Pelt, of Pampa, will go to trial in city court tomorrow on a charge of hauling garbage without a permit.

Complaint against Van Pelt was brought by Dr. T. J. Worrell, city health officer. According to city ordinance garbage haulers must pay a city license of $10 a month, payable three months in advance.

At a recent meeting of the city commission there was considerable discussion about the city's garbage hauling situation and complaints were heard that some haulers were not complying with the city regulations.

Van Pelt's case is the first to grow out of the investigation that followed. City Manager C. L. Stine stated today.

The number of poisonous snakes in Pennsylvania is reduced each year because, state foresters say, of the increasing number of persons killing them while seeking recreation in the open.

It's Hallowe'en Time in Pampa

Hallowe'en comes to Pampa and the Panhandle tomorrow, and this young lady is all dressed up and ready to flash a pumpkin at your living room window in the eerie hours of Saturday night. The NEWS' inquiring reporter and candid cameraman thought she was pretty sweet, and we present this picture so that local Hallowe'en parties can be on the lookout for her, if she decides to drop around at some of the cognate All Saints' Eve social functions tomorrow night. Who is she? Ah-h-h, look again.

PAY-ENVELOPE ATTACKS WILL BE INVESTIGATED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—While the Republican national committee issued a statement assailing the social security act, a senate committee prepared today to investigate alleged pay-envelope attacks on the program.

Senator La Follette (Prog., Wis.), head of a special committee studying alleged violations of civil liberties and labor rights, announced an inquiry would start immediately into attempts to "infringe upon the civil and political rights of the working man through pay roll pressure."

"The recent well-organized and grossly misleading attack on the social security act," he said, "bears all the earmarks of a malicious drive designed solely through misstatement of fact to coerce labor and invade the sanctity of the ballot box."

ROTARIANS WILL BE ENTERTAINED TONIGHT

Rotary club members and their invited guests will be entertained this evening with a Hallowe'en taffy party and dance at the Country club house. Bridge and other amusement is planned for those who do not dance.

A young college acquaintance intends to have no part of the straw votes, as he doesn't wear a hat, anyway.

It would never do for a hot-tempered speaker to emulate the senator and debate with a record, because of the temptation to break the disc if it is winning.

Scheduled to close tomorrow night, the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial will remain open through Nov. 14. Billy Ross, director general, has announced.

"With pardonable pride we announce the extension of the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial another two weeks," Ross said. "Pon my word we will look it up Saturday, Nov. 14, but during the last two weeks we are going to 'Wahoo' it in a big way—Anything may happen during the two-weeks Fare-Well Frontier Frolic."

WHITE DEER FARMER FOUND HANGING FROM HIS WINDMILL TOWER

WHITE DEER, Oct. 30. (NS)—The body of Charles Hodges, 47, long-time resident of this section, was found hanging by a rope from a windmill tower at his home, five miles east of here, late Wednesday afternoon.

A verdict of suicide was returned by J. W. Wells, justice of peace. Mrs. Hodges said that her husband left the house shortly before 5 o'clock to do his usual chores. The body was found less than an hour later by a brother, Walter Hughes, of White Deer, when the latter drove up to the farmhouse. He had been dead only a few minutes.

Mr. Hodges had been in ill health for several years.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the First Methodist Church here with Rev. L. E. Walker officiating. Interment will be in the White Deer cemetery.

Pallbearers will be W. J. Stubblefield, Clarence Williams, W. J. Hagerty, J. C. Freeman, W. H. Brady and Roy Tribble, all of White Deer. Mr. Hodges, a resident of Carbon county for the past 25 years, is survived by his widow, Mrs. Marilyn Cobb Hodges; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Hodges, of White Deer; six brothers, T. D., M. E., Walter, V. C., and Byron of White Deer, and W. E. of Clarendon; and three sisters, Mrs. H. F. Wilson of Nocomo, Mrs. J. Q. Paine of Nocomo, and Mrs. M. P. Burgen of Groom.

ODDITIES IN THE ELECTION

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—What of expatriates still in good voting standing, of travelers far from home, of sailors out to sea when the nation next Tuesday elects either Roosevelt or Landon to the presidency?

They'll be voting, some 80,000 of them in all, by absentee ballot, and the wheels within wheels that make this part of election day go round have kept both major parties on their toes for weeks.

Democratic headquarters in Washington say the Roosevelt absentee vote will total 45,000 for the entire United States . . . they've been handling 1,300 applications a day for weeks, and expect 2,000 a day during the final week. . . . The Republicans say 55,000 absentee ballots will be cast for Landon.

Notaries do a landoffice business with absentee voters . . . ballots, applications, even envelopes must be sworn to . . . each Alabama absentee ballot must be notarized four times . . . fishermen may vote by absentee ballot in Massachusetts . . . and so may lighthouse keepers.

The Democratic bureau has arranged special trains to take voters from Washington to Pennsylvania, Kentucky, New York and New Jersey . . . a party of 40 for Oklahoma, where state law requires registration 15 days before election . . . a similar group left for Missouri.

Many government employes save up their vacations so they can go home to vote . . . one hundred school teachers in Puerto Rico vote by mail . . . arrangements were made to get the votes of 16 American students in Edinburgh University, Scotland.

One man telephoned the democratic bureau: "I'll vote this absentee ballot in a state 2,000 miles from here and yet I'll still do it orally, by mouth." . . . that stumped the workers until the speaker solved the riddle . . . he had left both arms in an accident and had to mark his ballot with a pen held between his teeth.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Pity poor Bernie Bierman . . . Under Western conference rules he can take only 33 Minnesota players to the Northwestern game . . . Which means the Gophers will be only three deep in every position . . . Talk about your scoring machines . . . South Dakota U. made three touchdowns and kicked a point in less than three minutes of playing time and on just four plays from scrimmage against Morningside college last week . . . Jimmy Bradcock may box an exhibition in Havana during Cuban national sports week late in December.

Coast reports say the Berkeley, Calif. high school gridder won their 108th consecutive game the other day . . . Looks as if the boys have hung up some sort of record . . . Many believe the Giants already have closed for Dixie Dean and are holding the announcement until after the football season to cash in on the publicity.

Down at Meridian, Miss. John C. Moss, father of Charlie Moss, the Athletics' catcher, manages an amateur team called the "Moss Specials" . . . It has graduated ten home town boys into the professional ranks.

JONES HONORED

DALLAS, Oct. 30 (AP)—Texas' tribute to Jesse Holman Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, began today with presentation of scrolls of honor to aviators who saved his life June 12. The Houstonian watched with visible emotion at the Texas Centennial exposition while Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodall gave the widows of copilot Eugene Schaefer and pilot Edwin Hefley mementoes of courage.

Blond Now

Mary Garden, who used to be a redhead, returned to New York a blond and, what's more, she told reporters that she's off marriage forever. The former famous opera star, shown above on her return aboard the Bremen, declared, "I never found but one man interesting enough to marry, and he died. That ended it for me." Miss Garden is now a cinema talent scout and musical adviser.

Enjoys Fair

The "burden" of being one of the world's wealthiest girls didn't weigh heavily on Mildred Yount, 16, shown here in a new picture, as she enjoyed all the thrills of the Texas Centennial exposition in Dallas. Miss Yount, of Beaumont, Tex., is heirless to a $39,000,000 oil fortune.

80 PER CENT OF 1100 NOTICES COLLECTED

Two of Uncle Sam's internal revenue collectors were winding up a week's office work today after collecting on about 90 per cent of 1,100 notices sent to property owners last week which called for payment of federal revenue assessments on property deeds recorded in the county clerk's office.

The check-up was made when it developed that many deeds had been recorded here without the proper revenue stamp as required by law.

The agents made it clear that the failure to have stamps on the deeds was no fault of the county clerk's office and that the transaction merely was one between the property owner and the federal government.

THE BOY HAS SENSE OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Five policemen, finding Darrell Gene Hobbs "lost" on a street, paid a penny each to learn his name, and another penny around to learn his age was four.

"BLACK-DRAUGHT IS PURELY VEGETABLE" —What Does That Mean? A great many things can cause constipation and there are many remedies to relieve it, but possibly none more popular than the "vegetable" laxatives.

Among these, Black-Draught is outstanding. In its manufacture, leaves of a certain plant are used, and the roots of certain others. These are dried so they will keep without preservatives . . . no other chemical change from the way they grew in "Mother Nature's medicine garden." By their being finely ground, the digestive system extracts the active medicine right where it is needed. Constipation is relieved.

10 MILES OF PAVING IN CARSON COMPLETED

WHITE DEER, Oct. 30.—Construction was completed today on thirteen miles of paving in Carson county. Six miles of this work was done at White Deer on the streets and the Skellytown highway, one mile at Skellytown, and three each at Groom and Panhandle. The surfacing consists of an oil and caliche base with asphalt and gravel topping. The work was a county project and was completed at the approximate cost of $18,000. The commissioners plan to resume construction next spring.

ALL OUT IN THE WASH
WACO, (AP)—Last week somebody stole a shirt from R. B. Nixon, whose wife works in a laundry. Several days later the shirt turned up at the laundry and Mrs. Nixon recognized it. The rest was a routine police job.

KING EDWARD 'VIEWS' SPAIN WITH ANXIETY

PARLIAMENT RECEIVES MONARCH'S FIRST ADDRESS

LONDON, Oct. 30 (AP)—King Edward told his Parliament today the British government has "spared no pain" to check the brutality of the Spanish war and to keep it within its Iberian boundaries.

In his first address to the Parliament as sovereign, the monarch declared: "I have viewed with concern and anxiety the events in Spain during the last three months." The speech was read by the Earl of Onslow, acting as lord chancellor in the illness of Viscount Halifax, on the occasion of prorogation of parliament. The king himself was not present. He will open the new parliament in state on next Tuesday.

"I am addressing you for the first time as sovereign," the king's speech said. "I desire before all to express once more my deep appreciation of the sympathy which has been extended to me and my dear mother in every part of my dominions."

"I have viewed with concern and anxiety the events in Spain during the last three months. The government has spared no pain to promote and encourage humanitarian efforts to mitigate the sufferings of the Spanish people. The Navy acted in accordance with its high traditions, relieving distress."

"It has been the consistent policy

'Grand Old Lady' of Stage Is Ill

Mrs. Thomas Whiffen, 91, "the grand old lady of the American stage," above, is reported near death at her home near Roanoke, Va. Mrs. Whiffen's stage career of 60 years and 400 roles encompasses almost a history of the American theater since the days when Broadway was "way out in the country" and Templeton, Cushman, Boucicault, Booth, Barrett, and Drew were the names that drew drama lovers to the theater of the government to attempt to localize the unhappy struggle. With this end they seconded the French initiative for a non-intervention agreement and energetically cooperated in its negotiation and application."

BOVINE BEAUTY CONTEST TO BE HELD AT TULSA

Cows May Be Clad in Period Costumes At Show

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 30 (AP)—Livestock fanciers, setting the stage for a bovine beauty contest, conversed glowingly today of the soft light that shines in a cow's brown eyes and the coquettish tilt of a fuzzy ear. The contest will be held at the oil capital horse and dairy show tomorrow night, for the title "most beautiful cow in Oklahoma." It might possibly result in a challenge to "Miss Bovine America," the title claimed for the winner of a similar contest at Sabetha, Kas., last spring. "Real beauty and charm can be seen in a cow," said Bob Matthews, farmer and farm editor. "A thoroughbred cow is as sweet and feminine as anything alive. Just wait and see."

"Shucks, a cow's just like a woman. Got vanity. Why, Cleopatra the Fifth, over at Sand Springs home farm, stands in front of a big mirror to admire herself. See, here's the picture to prove it."

Formal names of show cows, long and prosaic, will be discarded for such soubriquets as Madame Pompadour, Helen of Troy, Ramona and Susannah.

Soft music will be played as they mince around the ring. They will be rouged, powdered, and maybe dressed in period costumes.

Early favorites were Raha F. Morley's lovely Holstein who'll bring her baby in a go-cart, and several "flapper type" heifers entered by the 4-H club.

SADLER TO TRIAL
LINDEN, Oct. 30 (AP)—Louis (Bud) Sadler, third former Arkansas convict charged with robbery with firearms in the recent unsuccessful holdup of the First National Bank of Athens, was called to trial today. O. H. Lindsey was convicted in a companion case yesterday and given a 75-year prison term. The state asked the death penalty for Lindsey, who pleaded innocent.

FORGOTTEN SHIP
HOPEWELL, Va. (AP)—A ship that has sailed the waters of both arctic and antarctic now is humbly discharging soda ash and loading nitrates. The little steamer is the Vamar. Once known as the Fram, she was used by Dr. Fredtjot Nansen on his north polar trip and later, as the Enebor Bolling, carried supplies for the first Byrd trip to the antarctic.

GUARANTEED RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION
Common constipation is usually due to meals low in "bulk." Pills and drugs give only temporary relief. The sensible thing to do is to put "bulk" back into your meals.
Millions of people get this needed "bulk" in a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Its "bulk" is much like that in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system.
Some years ago, an investigation was made among thousands of ALL-BRAN users. 98 per cent found it satisfactory. Only 2 per cent had the type of constipation that would not respond to ALL-BRAN.
ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company.
Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily, either as cereal or in cooked dishes. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

901 N. Frost St.
"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 1.

The Golden Text is: "Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good" (Romans 12:9).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man; But God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that we are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it" (I Corinthians 10:13).
The lesson-sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Passions, selfishness, false appetites, hatred, fear, all sensuality, yield to spirituality, and the superabundance of being is on the side of God, good" (page 201).

TIN CAN TOURISTS BREAK RECORDS IN WEST.
DENVER (AP)—American "tin can" tourists, greatly glorified in shiny new cars, are traveling western trails again in record numbers. Official figures prove the tourist let-down years from 1930-34 are over, but westerners need no figures to convince them. Roads were comfortably crowded last summer with cars of easterners, northerners and southerners seeking play and frost bite among snow-capped peaks of the Rockies.

The National Park Service counted 9,929,432 noses, most of them sunburned, as they entered the 134 national parks and monuments of the nation. The previous peak was 7,675,000 in 1935.

HURT IN ACCIDENTS GALVESTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Four persons were injured, three seriously, in two different automobile accidents here today. T. O. Townsend, 60, his son, T. O. Townsend, Jr., both of Galveston, and A. P. Wilcox, Lamarque dairy man, was injured in an accident involving three automobiles and a milk truck just outside of the city limits. Mrs. Arthur Boehl, 28, was found unconscious in her overturned car this morning on the south road.

PUBLIC SCHOOL SHOULD TEACH FOLKS HOW TO LIVE AND HOW TO MAKE A LIVING, CLAIMS WOODS

CANYON, Oct. 29.—"The public school ought to do two things," stated Dr. L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instruction, in a talk to the faculty and student body of the West Texas State Teachers' college at a special assembly recently. "It ought to teach folks how to live and how to make a living."

Dr. Woods is making a tour of the state, particularly to all the teachers colleges in Texas, with the view of helping them in their teacher programs. His discussion dealt principally with the mechanism and curriculum of our public schools of today and tomorrow.

Pointing out the great need for improvement in our present system, Woods stated that from seventy-three to seventy-five thousand children in the state do not attend any kind of a public school, not even for one day, and that of the 270,000 children who enter the first grade each year, approximately 37,000 finish the fourth year of high school training.

He stressed particularly the need for more well-trained elementary grade teachers and the elimination of would-be high school teachers who are serving in the elementary field. "Seventy-eight per cent of the children who enroll in the public schools of Texas are in the elementary grades," said Woods, "and we must give them the best instruction that teacher-training institutions can make possible."

Mr. Woods also gave some interesting statistics on teacher preparation. He stated that 40 per cent of the teachers in Texas have degrees and that 38,000 teachers do not yet have as much as two years college training.

Dr. Woods was accompanied by W. A. Nelson, college examiner for the whole state of Texas, and Dr. Mathews of the North Texas State Teachers College, Denton. Dr. Woods will address the faculty of the college at a special meeting this afternoon.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (AP)—Although he urged its passage, Gov. Alfred did not immediately sign a bill, approved in both houses of the legislature, authorizing transfer of approximately $500,000 from the permanent to the available old age pension fund.

There was a reason, however. He wanted as much money as possible to accrue in the permanent fund before making the transfer, which was effective on his signature.

Under the original plan, one-fourth of the liquor and beer tax revenue went to the schools and three-fourth to pensions, and of the latter 15 per cent was set aside for investment.

The purpose of the permanent fund was to make the pension system self-supporting, but none would predict when that aim would be achieved.

Lieut.-Gov. Walter F. Woodul is a strong supporter of the proposed amendment to the constitution increasing salaries of the governor, attorney general, secretary-of-state, land commissioner, comptroller and treasurer. It will be voted on at the November election.

From time to time he distributes bits of "propaganda" in favor of the amendment, but remarked the other day as he passed the press table in the Senate where a group of correspondents were chatting: "You can get away with a lot until after Nov. 3, but thereafter I am going to make you keep quiet."

The contents of the bulletin board in the House of Representatives hall is an indication of what some members are thinking. The display includes a number of cartoons from newspapers and magazines, devoted mainly to the subject of taxation and large pockets of President Roosevelt and Vice-President Garner.

One cartoon shows a horse (bureaucracy) at a watering trough (the treasury) drinking greedily, while a flabbergasted taxpayer stands by. The caption says, "Once you lead a horse to water you can't make him stop drinking."

Another picture Congressman McParlane of Graham pointing to a man walking off with a bundle labeled "Millions in untaxed property" and Old Man Texas watching interestedly. It is captioned "Excuse my pointing."

Other cartoons show a grinning boy saying, "Sure I'm for the New Deal," and a bereaved man picking out of the road a crumpled child's body run over by an automobile.

Railroad Commission hearings aren't what they used to be, says Chairman Ernest D. Thompson. At the most recent one he almost begged for criticism and suggestions and could not get a rise out of the hundred-odd operators.

Moreover, the hearing was concluded in less than two hours, whereas in past years some lasted several days.

"The reason is obvious," says Thompson. "They haven't anything to complain of. Things are running smoothly and both oil producer and the consumer are getting a square deal."

COP ATTENDS COW IN BIRTH OF CALF OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP)—It has fallen in the Owensboro police line of duty to:

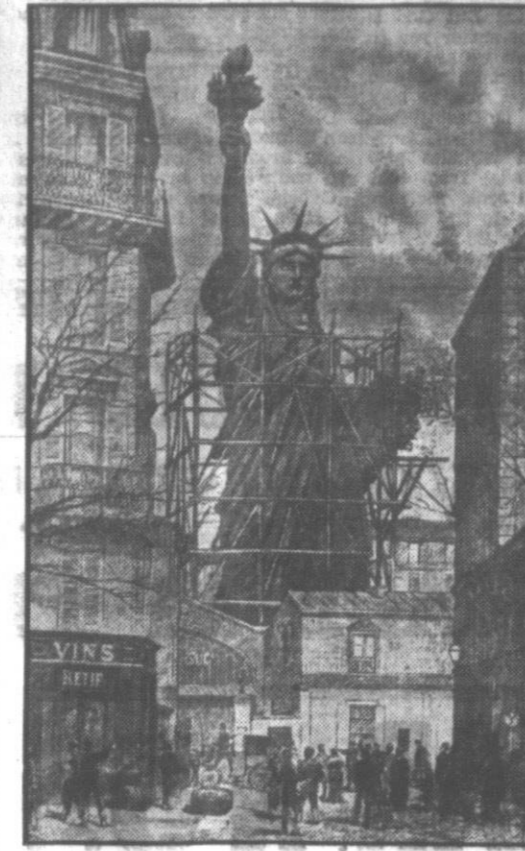

Serve as attendant "physician" to a cow giving birth to a calf. Inform an alarmed woman that the snoring in another room of her house was not a burglar but her inebriated son. Rush to investigate activities of a "peeping Tom" only to find a cow rubbing its nose against a window.

ALASKA TRAVEL GAINING. JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—A sharp gain in tourist travel to Alaska is shown in the report of James J. Connors, collector of customs. In the first eight months of 1936 visitors numbered 31,606.

The Comstock lode of Nevada has produced $600,000,000 in precious metals.

When Statue Of Liberty Was Being Sculptured In France

Before being shipped to America (as a gift from the French people) Liberty was set up in Paris and sightseers permitted to clamber up to the torch. The immense size of the Statue of Liberty becomes apparent through comparison of the man with the ornamental work for the torch and the huge toe sections. The Statue of Liberty came into existence piece-meal in the studio of sculptor Bartholdi in Paris, where an old sketch shows the work on hand and torch in progress. A rare closeup of Liberty's head is provided in this picture, made before the statue was completed. Set up in the French capital, it dwarfs the men standing on the pedestal.

SANTA FE'S OPERATING INCOME SHOWS INCREASE OF 10 PER CENT

The Santa Fe's net railway operating income for September was $1,403,216, according to a statement released by President S. T. Bledsoe in Chicago yesterday. This is an increase of 10.1 per cent over the corresponding month of last year.

Gross for the system lines was $12,247,908, an increase over September, 1935, of $1,822,795, or 16 per cent. Operating expenses were $10,874,028, an increase of $1,353,695, or 14.5 per cent over the same month of 1935.

Of the increase in operating expenses $707,706 was on account of maintenance of way and structures and equipment, $298,508 on account of additional train miles necessitated by increased business, and the balance was made up of increases in miscellaneous items.

Railway tax accruals increased $331,511 or 39 per cent due to accruals under the Railroad Retirement and Social Security Acts, and for Federal Income Tax.

For the nine months of the fiscal year ending September 30, the Santa Fe's net railway operating income was $10,889,658, compared with $10,052,452 for the similar period in 1935, an increase of 8.3 per cent. Gross for the nine months' period was $112,242,012 and for the first nine months' period of 1935, $97,357,470, an increase of $14,884,542 or 15.3 per cent.

Operating expenses in this period in 1936 were $91,530,444, compared with $79,439,121 in 1935, an increase of $12,141,320 or 15.3 per cent.

Railway tax accruals for the nine months' period increased $2,434,693 or 31.7 per cent, due to accruals under the Railroad Retirement and Social Security Acts and for Federal Income Tax.

JONESES PLUS ELLIOTT. ATLANTA—B. B. Jones' automobile was stolen.

TOOTHsome GROWLS. MINNEAPOLIS—"Resisting an officer," was the charge that put "Dutch," a bulldog, in jail here.

The resisting consisted of growling and baring of teeth when police arrested his master, C. H. Hooser, on a reckless driving charge.

Hooser gained release for himself and his dog by paying a $25 fine.

Up And Down The Air Waves

By RAY D. O.

We have been under the impression that the program, "Thoughts For You and Me," was a poetic program with incidental organ music for a background, but it seems that we must change our mind. In reality it is an organ program with incidental poetry.

The picture, "The Big Broadcast of 1937," should create a great deal more interest in a number of radio programs. After a listener sees an article it just seems to cause that person to have more interest. A number of radio stars surely made new friends and new listeners for their programs.

KPDN is inaugurating a new program service Sunday at 2 o'clock with a big variety program.

Heard on one of the chain programs Tuesday evening: "The next PROGRAM on our NUMBER." It just seems that humans are not meant to be perfect. We think that when our local KPDN announcer makes a mistake that it is inexcusable, but it just can't be helped, sometimes.

Here are your NBC highlight programs for this evening: 6:30, Lum and Abner; 7, Irene Rich; 7:30, Death Valley Days; 8, Fred Waring; 8:30, Twin Stars; 9, First Nighter; 9:30, Red Grange; 10, Amos 'n' Andy.

We do not believe you will hear a more delightful musical program than is offered on KPDN when the Walkiki Novelty Boys are "strutting" their stuff, and they were really doing that yesterday.

Here is the Columbia Broadcasting Co. "bid" for your listening tonight: At 6:30, The Goose Creek Parson; 6:45, Bonke Carter; 7, Broadway Varieties; 7:30, Ray Heatherton and the Rhythm Singers; 8, Hollywood Hotel; 8:30, Ann Leaf at the Organ.

"Spooky" time is, well, it is just spooky time, that's all there is to it. Saturday being Halloween you ordinarily expect a lot of things to happen, and we believe it is no different in a radio station, so listen for the "spooks" coming right out of your loud speaker Saturday.

Tongue twisters might be just most anything, it seems. Anyway we heard an announcer twist "Musical Program" just about into as many knots as could be possible. That was on KPDN yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Reeder was heard in another delightful program yesterday afternoon. We are of the opinion that Mrs. Reeder is building a large and appreciative audience with her bi-weekly programs. Tune in next Tuesday and tell your friends to listen in.

WOMEN GET MOST MAIL, COLLEGE MAILMAN FINDS
GRINNELL, Ia. (AP)—Which write and receive the most mail, men or women?

Well, John Buckley, who runs the University of Iowa postoffice, observes that women students get about 40 per cent more mail than do the men.

"After the first five or six weeks of college I note that the home town boys begin saving stationery and parents apparently run out of advice," Buckley says. "Then the boys' mail tapers down to an occasional welcome check from home. The girls, on the other hand, send and receive a constant flow of letters."

GHOST GOES SOUTH
ALPINE (AP)—Negotiations for establishing a vast international park along the Mexican border revived a famous ghost story. The proposed park includes the Chisos Mountains, among the loftiest in Texas. The word "Chisos" means "ghosts."

The story goes that the chief of a mighty Indian tribe was captured by the marauding tribes from across the Rio Grande. He escaped after years of torture and fled to the Chisos but could not find his tribe, which had been massacred.

Bones found in a deserted Chisos canyon years later were reported to be those of the chief. From this grew the legend that the chief still strides the mountains, waiting because he cannot find his people.

Music lovers who rejoiced in the revival of classic taste that came with the depression may have cheered too soon. Look what we're getting now.

SWINGING AND SOCKING

The "swing music," a curious offshoot of jazz, is swinging farther in some ways than jazz ever did. It is even jazzing the sacred Italian direction for playing—"piano moderate, forte, con espressione," and so on.

SCHOOLS AND SKILLS

It begins to be said," writes John Love, a business commentator, "that the real campaign for making over the new world of machinery and power will be starting just after election. All the old issues will crowd in again, either way.

The remaining able-bodied unemployed will obviously be unskilled workmen, especially those lacking the new knowledge and skill required for new machines and processes.

What this country needs now, and is going to need far more, is a great spread of vocational schools, such as Texas Technological College, to teach young people's minds and hands for future jobs.

A COW'S KICK

A serious problem has arisen in California, growing out of a claim for compensation by a citizen who says he is suffering from wounds caused by a kicking cow. There is something about the nature and location of those wounds that raises a question.

Some private authorities would go farther and say that a cow with a mean enough disposition can kick from all directions at once.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

NEW YORK.—New York, with its 47 electoral votes, is the largest of all the states and when they talk election statistics in the Empire state they talk in big figures. The popular vote probably will exceed 5,000,000.

Democrats will take a 2 to 1 licking in communities where farmers predominate heavily, but will hold down Landon's upstate majority by showing strength wherever industrial labor is to be found.

At Democratic campaign headquarters, one finds profound but unadmitted concern over the Republican "pay envelope" propaganda which seeks to make the contributory old age pension plan and its employer-employee assessment an issue against the New Deal.

Republicans say the new voters turned out to repudiate the New Deal. Democrats say the big new registration means that labor, negroes, new voters, Jews, and old people interested in social security will support their party ticket as never before.

The fact that New York and cities throughout the state have registered big is generally taken as favorable to the Democrats. Rural registration can't yet be calculated.

Republicans lean heavily on Al Smith's influence in the city. The extent to which Al has swayed voters is just a big question mark.

Tammany, internally torn by a fight for control, professes to be going down the line for Roosevelt and most close observers believe it will. Some of those observers say Tammany won't figure importantly, anyway, and finds its constituency so adulatory of Roosevelt that it wouldn't dare fight him, even if its chief interest were not in local candidates, as it is.

Most experts guess that Landon's upstate majority will not exceed 500,000 and some suggest it will be far less. The safest bet is that Landon will come somewhere between winning the Empire state by 300,000 and losing it by 750,000.

IT'S IN THE BAG

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

NEW YORK.—Not since the days when I trooped (largely as a mental roustabout) for Ted Lewis, Polly Moran, and others of the spangled parade have I encountered so varied a character as Charles Lucas.

His right hand is practically useless—the result of a bayonet wound in Cuba. Once he was wrecked in the North sea, and picked up by a British fishing schooner.

You begin to acquire a taste for these episodes after 30 years at sea—and also a restlessness that leads you up many strange streets. There was Borneo, Sumatra, and the South seas. It was inevitable that, in time, he should come to Broadway.

The Wrong Murderer

Chapter 10
MAN KNOCKED OUT
"I don't know where she is," he stammered. "How should I know?"

He thrust the pistol suddenly into his pocket, turned on Mulgrave quickly, grabbed him by the collar and waist-band and heaved him bodily out of the car. Then he jumped out after him, hauled him to his feet, and gave him a crashing punch in the mouth that knocked him down again.

"Come out with it, you rat," he said in a low, savage voice. "Where is she? I'll smash you to pieces if you don't tell me."

"Ow... ow!" yelled Mulgrave. He blubbered like a big baby. Mahony gave him a good kick in the pants.

"Talk!" he said. "I didn't ask you to sing."
"Ow!"... all right, I'll tell you," gulped Mulgrave. "She's in a house near Watford. There are three men guarding her."

"And doping her, I suppose," added Mahony grimly. "Well, you're going to take me to that house now. I'll kill you if you don't."

Mulgrave made a despairing gesture. But he realized that he had no choice.

"Get back into the car then," said Mahony. "And mind you don't bleed on the upholstery!"

Five minutes later they were speeding the Great North Road towards Watford.

About four miles from Watford they turned off the main road along a little country lane. Another seven or eight minutes driving brought them to the entrance to a rough drive leading through a thick copse to a small house that stood in an isolated position about four hundred yards from the lane.

"That's the place. She's in there," said Mulgrave sullenly. Mahony stopped the car just outside the drive entrance. The lights of the house could be seen gleaming through the trees.

"We get out again here," he said. "You first. And don't shout or say anything smart, or I'll plug you."

They got out of the car and stood in the roadway. Everything around them was quiet except an owl calling in the copse. Mulgrave stood sullen and uneasy. His face was hurting him; he suspected that he was going to lose a tooth.

"What have I got to do now?" he asked. "Nothing," said Mahony quietly. "I shan't want you any more."

With that he suddenly hit Mulgrave a tremendous wallop full on the point of the jaw. Mulgrave's heels came off the ground; he crashed down and out into the ditch.

He stepped back into the car, drove up the drive, and stopped immediately outside the front door of the house. It was evident that the occupants of the house had heard his approach. Hardly had the car stopped before the front door opened.

"Who are you, and what do you want here at this time of night?" demanded a voice harshly. Mahony got out of the car. In his overcoat pocket his right hand was clapped on his pistol-butt.

"Never mind who I am," he answered equally harshly. "I've been sent to fetch the girl, Ruth Fraser. Bring her out here to the car, and get a move on. I'm in a hurry."

"Oh!" said the man blankly. "You want the girl?" The light from the headlights showed him standing in the front doorway of the house—a short, fat man, with his head heavily bandaged. He had a sheepish, nervous air.

"As a matter of fact... the truth is... there's been an accident. I didn't like to report it, because... well... you see..."

He did not appear to know quite what he wanted to say. Mahony felt a sudden quick chill of fear. What had happened. Had they killed the girl by any chance?

"What the devil do you mean?" he demanded. "What's happened to the girl. She's not... dead?" "Oh, no. No, she's not dead. Far from it. But... the trouble is, we can't get at her. You see..."

At that moment, from an upstairs window, there came the sudden unmistakable crack of a pistol shot. "Whitt!"—a bullet flipped past Mahony's head and buried itself in the turf behind him. Mahony cursed loudly and moved swiftly. It was apparent to him that the game was up; his bluff was spotted. He had no wish to present a running target to anyone. Therefore his move was in the direction of the house, not away from it.

He simply hurled himself toward the front door, snatching his hand out of his pocket with his clubbed pistol in it. The man in the doorway was so surprised that he did not even attempt to move until Mahony's clubbed pistol came down on his head. Then he collapsed in the doorway.

Over his body Mahony jumped into the house, and his voice rose

CHARLESTON HOPES FOR BIG AIR BASE
CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—Charleston, the largest American seaport before the Revolution, has bright prospects of regaining some of its importance through the new air travel—trans-Atlantic sea voyages.

Pan-American Airways, Inc., sponsor of an oceanic service selected Charleston as a terminal for seasonal use in trial flights of its giant planes across the Atlantic next year.

As yet, airways executives say, no permanent landing place has been designated on either side of the ocean but city officials plan to convert one of the huge old brick mills on the municipal shores into a hangar.

Another abandoned rice mill, a mile farther down the Ashley river, has been remodeled into a depot for the United States lighthouse service.

The 226-year-old port, changing with the times, will build a ramp into the amply deep stream from West Point mill, a three-story building of Colonial times.

HOW'S your HEALTH

INFANTILE PARALYSIS VACCINATION
With the approach of cold weather wanes the likelihood of the development of infantile paralysis, for it is most common, at least in epidemic form, during hot seasons.

While formerly attention was centered on the use of immune serum (the liquid portion of the blood derived from individuals who had had the disease), efforts to conquer this dread disease have lately been concentrated on the development of an effective vaccine.

Infantile paralysis is caused by a filterable virus, an agent too small to be seen even under the most powerful microscopes. Against other viruses, notably smallpox and diphtheria, we have been able to develop vaccines which, when administered to susceptible individuals, cause them to become resistant to these diseases.

The production of such vaccines was achieved mainly by the attenuation or weakening of the given virus to such a degree that it was no longer capable of producing disease, though it remained sufficiently potent to induce the development of immunity resistance.

Such attenuation was variously achieved in different diseases by exposing their viruses to different chemical agents, by heating or drying them. "Passing the virus through some other animal in certain instances so changed its nature that it lost its disease-producing potency for human beings.

It was natural, then, for scientists to follow similar procedures in their attempt to attenuate the virus of infantile paralysis, and thus to produce an effective vaccine. During the past two years several vaccines have been brought forth. The problem seems within the range of solution.

Another line of attack has been developed which may prove of real value in the prevention of disease. This one aims at the creation of a barrier to the entrance of the virus. It is believed that the portal of entry of the virus of poliomyelitis is the lining membrane of the nose. By spraying a solution composed of one-half of one per cent each of picric acid and alum in a physiological salt solution on the membranes of the nose, in sufficient quantity to reach the back of the throat, it is believed that the virus can be prevented from entering the nerves of smell.

It is recommended that the spray be applied three or four times on alternate days and later weekly, as long as the epidemic lasts. The effectiveness of this prophylactic treatment is as yet undetermined.

unfavorable decision from his father or mother. He made a tour of the entire family asking grandma, aunt and even maid, until he found someone who gave him the desired leave. If, afterwards, his mother said, "Why, I told you not to." Tommy's reply was, "Grandma said I could."

Mrs. Jones did not wish to hurt her mother-in-law or in any way undermine her authority, and yet she realized that the existing state of affairs was injuring both children. Neither child was sure of what he could or could not do, and the indecision was bad for nerves and discipline.

The only way to handle children in a large household is to be sure that orders are consistent and final. The parents must be the judges and there can be no appeal from their decision. Whether or no grandma and aunt approve of what the parents say and do, they must never

DIVIDED AUTHORITY
By Brooke Peters Church
The Jones household consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Jones, their two children, Mr. Jones' mother, Mrs. Jones' sister and the maid. Taken by and large it seemed a happy family, and the children lived in a harmonious atmosphere.

In spite of their congenial environment they were not happy children, nor did they feel secure. Both were nervous and highstrung and hard to manage.

The reason was plain to anyone visiting at the Jones' house. When either child wanted permission to do anything, he never accepted an

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

STEELS. Steel trade insiders are divided on the general outlook. The dip in scrap prices coupled with an easing of production in the Pittsburgh area suggests to one school that the trend is down. This because the high rate of summer operations went into inventories in anticipation of a strike and because current consumption figures aren't high.

The other school is of the opinion that soon after the elections the upswing in ingot production will be resumed. Larger automobile demands are expected and increased orders for rails are a certainty. And so with the trader's opinion not of one mind new commitments in steel securities are being temporarily avoided.

SPECIAL. Over the past few years American Brake Shoe and Foundry has diversified its production in an extensive program. Whereas originally it solely sold rail brake shoes and parts it now manufactures and sells car wheels, truck fixtures, steel forgings and castings. Its subsidiary American Brakeblock manufactures brake materials for the automobile industry. This branch has shown steady betterment over the past six years.

Because of increased earnings as a result of the wider spread of sales, income is higher. That is why insiders anticipate favorable dividend news in the not distant future. In the final quarter of 1935 directors voted an extra of 25 cents a share. The anticipated special distribution may run above that figure.

EXPECTED. With due allowance for recent partial conversion of bonds into common shares U. S. Pipe & Foundry is expected to show $3.50 or better of 1936. The annual dividend requirements are $1.50 a share. With current prices for the common some $13 in favor of conversion privileges, banking interests expect the remaining outstanding 3 1/2 per cent debentures to be exchanged. Should the entire issue be converted the outstanding amount of common shares will be increased to 647,619 from 600,000 shares. Due to the tax on undistributed corporate profits a dividend extra is anticipated.

TO PAY. Informed rail circles say that Pere Marquette is to pay a dividend on its preferred share accumulations. As a result Chesapeake & Ohio is in a position to benefit most because C. & O. owns control of the road. How? By ownership of 313,000 shares of common which is 48.2 per cent of the outstanding amount. In addition C. & O. owns 2,100 prior preferred and 13,800 preferred. Total preferred and prior preference divi-

A SINGLE HAIR OF A SHEEP'S WOOL, WHEN SEEN UNDER A MICROSCOPE, IS NOTCHED LIKE A SAW! WOOL, KNEADED AND BEATEN, IS HELD TOGETHER BY THE INTERLOCKING OF THE NOTCHES, AND FELT IS THE RESULT.

THIS Heidgraben hailstone was not weighed, but according to the dimensions, it would have weighed around four pounds, had it been made of ordinary ice. However, hail is composed partly of snow, with considerable air space in it, and the weight is thus lessened. A one-and-a-half-pound hailstone fell in Nebraska on July 6, 1922.

Interlake Iron has the American rights on a new paving process. Quite a few industrial organizations are interested. The case iron method is now being given tests under varying weather and operating conditions. The product is good for uses such as street paving, for factories where acid hits the floor and for other heavy duty paving necessities.

Interlake iron is doing quite well in all departments. Increased steel operations and higher scrap prices reflect better demand for pig iron. Its coke and gas divisions are operating ahead of last year's figures. And—insiders say—the Dalton Ore Company is to pay a dividend. For 1936 a net of better than 25 cents a share will be shown. Last year there was a deficit of 22 cents.

EXTRA. Normally Congoleum Nairn purchases 85 per cent of its cork requirements in Spain. But insiders say that the company now has about two years of cork supplies on hand—and at reasonable prices. For that reason the Spanish rebellion is no headache to the management. It is said that the company's second half net will better that of the first six months. For all of 1936 a net profit of $1.85 a share is anticipated. Since directors of the company are liberal dividend payers stockholders may expect an extra this December. Thus far this year only $1.20 a share has been distributed.

REPORTS ARE THAT: Third quarter corporate nets ran about 70 per cent ahead of like period last year—full year nets estimated at 40 per cent over 1935. . . Socony-Vacuum is trading favorite of low priced oils. . . Statistical circles say that Hercules Motors has promising outlook—will show $1.90 for year. . . DOGS MORE JEALOUS THAN HUMANS, OWNER SAYS.

HOUSTON, (AP)—Well-bred dogs, says A. J. Astrich, who has three broods, are more jealous than humans.

"I wouldn't go far enough to say that any dog could sense that he had been left out of a show," Astrich said, "but one certainly would notice it if another dog was receiving an unusual amount of attention."

"If I pet my German Shepherd, the Boston and the Pomernian are very quick in letting me know they don't like it. A dog can sense anger or disapproval in a gesture of his master."

The government has estimated the annual cost of weeds to the American farmer at $3,000,000,000.

GRIDIRON HEROES

DIXIE has turned out some great gridiron heroes in modern football, but it is doubtful if any of them did as much toward putting southern football on the map as did Alvin "Bo" McMillin, present Indiana University coach.

It was in 1921 that Bo led a doughty, praying band of southerners from little Centre College, Danville, Ky., into staid Harvard's vast stadium. When the smoke of the battle had cleared, Centre had scored probably the greatest upset in the annals of the game, having prevailed, 6-0.

It was Bo's generosity that won. Figuring that Harvard would watch him because of his running against the Crimson the year before, McMillin fed the ball to his mates until the Harvard line began to weaken in the third quarter. Then, with Red Roberts crashing a hole in the Crimson line, Bo carried the oval himself, sliced through the opening and sprinted down the field with the winning counter.

'Liberty' Essay Adjudged Best

A trip to New York for President Roosevelt's dedication of the Statue of Liberty, a gold medal, and a visit to France as a guest of French World War veterans were awarded Edna Falk, about 17, of Pueblo, Colo., for her essay on "What the Statue of Liberty Means to the American People." Edna's essay was called the best of 135,000 in a contest sponsored by the Federal Park Service.

Reiterating he opposed "private monopoly" in industry, Landon said he intended to "see that the anti-trust laws are strengthened and enforced... that government bureaucracy never again starts choking business."

Today, moving toward St. Louis for a Saturday night address preceding his return to Kansas for Tuesday's election, the governor arranged brief talks at Charleston, W. Va., between 5:40 and 6:40 p. m., and at Huntington, W. Va., at 8:15 p. m.

LONDON TALKS TO 20,000 IN FAMED GARDEN

PRESIDENT WILL SPEAK THERE TOMORROW NIGHT

ABOARD GOVERNOR LANDON'S TRAIN EN ROUTE TO ST. LOUIS, Oct. 30 (AP)—Gov. Alf M. Landon sped homeward today, resting his bid for New York State's 47 electoral votes on "the basic principles of my political creed" and a "challenge" to President Roosevelt to "tell us where you stand" on NRA, executive powers and unemployment.

"There can be no confidence while this administration remains in power," the Kansas executive declared, reasserting his belief in "the American system of free enterprise."

The Republican nominee, speaking last night in New York Madison Square Garden, noted that President Roosevelt closes his campaign there tomorrow night. The Garden's 18,500 seats were filled and officials there estimated 2,000 more standing.

The crowd, standing and waving flags, heard the Kansas close his eastern campaign—climactic objective of a 20,000-mile speaking tour—with a frequently reiterated declaration that "no one can be sure" of the administration's future policies on agriculture, industry and relief and of what the President proposes "to restore confidence."

Reiterating he opposed "private monopoly" in industry, Landon said he intended to "see that the anti-trust laws are strengthened and enforced... that government bureaucracy never again starts choking business."

Today, moving toward St. Louis for a Saturday night address preceding his return to Kansas for Tuesday's election, the governor arranged brief talks at Charleston, W. Va., between 5:40 and 6:40 p. m., and at Huntington, W. Va., at 8:15 p. m.

ADMIRAL FROM TEXAS DEPICTS HIS EARLY LIFE

Wiley Came With His Parents When One Year Old

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Uncle Sam's new maritime commission chairman likes to refer to those days in Texas—"the wild west"—when as a boy he became self-reliant, hardy, strong, and "handy with my fists."

Rear Admiral Henry A. Wiley intended to be a soldier but found, after passing the entrance examination for West Point, that he was too young for the army. Representative J. W. Throckmorton of Texas then appointed him to the Naval Academy.

"That was all right with me," Wiley remarked recently. "I just wanted out of McKinney."

In an autobiographical book he titled "An Admiral from Texas," the native Alabamian who rose to the Navy's No. 1 fleet post, recalled how his family moved to McKinney when his father found himself "on his uppers" after the Civil War.

"We arrived in McKinney when I was about one year old," Wiley wrote in his book. "Judging from my earliest memory of it, McKinney must have been at that time a quiet frontier town."

"In this atmosphere of the wild west and without the restraint of discipline, I became self-reliant, headstrong and handy with my fists. It was always ready to mix it with the toughest whites or blacks."

"I had the ambition, the single one, to become the village blacksmith—my ideal physical prowess combined with beauty."

Wiley recalled that he suddenly "turned from old ways" when he was about 12 years old. At the suggestion of his father, he said he proceeded to "a place called Denton" for the West Point examination, was first on the list and returned to McKinney "mush & up."

PRESIDENT TO SPEAK IN BROOKLYN TONIGHT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—After a short rest from rapid fire speech making in populous eastern centers, President Roosevelt turned today into the final stretch of a reelection campaign that has carried him through 30 states of the east, west and south.

He planned to leave late today for Brooklyn where he will deliver in the old academy of music to-night the first of three addresses winding up what his friends describe as the most strenuous battle of his 26 years in politics. He will spend the night at his 65th street home in New York.

Tomorrow night in Madison Square Garden he speaks his final major piece but he will make a brief election eve radio appeal for a vote of confidence at Hyde Park Monday.

The President reached the White House last night after experiencing in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware what he observed described as one of the most impressive receptions of his re-election drive.

Last night at Wilmington, Del., in a brief rear platform talk he quoted Abraham Lincoln and said the Great Emancipator believed in the type of liberty which "our administration has sought and continues to seek."

The age limit thwarted him and Throckmorton named him to Annapolis.

Admiral Wiley, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet, was 62 years old when he retired from active naval service in 1929. Today, at 69, he heads the government agency to govern the merchant marine.

WIFE THERE'S A CHANCE FOR A 'RE-FILL'

Presenting "Lunch Time at Dionneville"—one of the most striking pictures of the quintuplets you've seen in a long while. Tin cups in hand for their mid-morning snack outside their log-hewn nursery, the quins are a happy lot. Starting at the left there's Marie. Her posture looks like a hint for a re-fill, doesn't it? Next is Cecile, and does she exude an air of perfect gastronomic satisfaction? Then Emilie—ah, the cameraman has caught her attention. He has caught Annette's attention, too, but she isn't putting down her precious cup for anyone! She's drinking and taking a sly peek at the same time. And, last, Yvonne. A bit determined about something or other, those lips would seem to indicate. Maybe it's more luncheon. Her cup's empty.

Parkers Arrested in Kidnap Inquiry

International Sunday School Lesson

BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of Advance.

This lesson, planned in connection with the International Temperance Sunday, puts the matter of temperance upon the broad foundation of right living in true relationship with God and man in the self-discipline inseparable from high character.

First of all, there is the relation of man to law. Law is the foundation of order in a well-established society. It is designed to defend the rights and liberties of men against the encroachments of tyranny and against unjust interference from their fellow citizens.

It defines crimes and establishes penalties for the committing of crimes. Crime in an ideal society is anything that infringes on the rights and liberties of members of a community.

Paul had a keen sense of law and order. As a Roman citizen, he had, also, deep respect for Roman authority, insofar as it established law as a means of regulating society.

This letter to the Romans was written early in his Christian career. It may perhaps be said that he idealized some things that, in fact, were not quite so ideal as he supposed.

Later in his life, when he felt that he was being treated unjustly, in Palestine, and appealed to Caesar, he discovered that in going to Rome, the source of authority, he did not get the justice that he anticipated.

As a matter of fact, he lay for a long time imprisoned in Rome, without having his case brought to trial.

When one reads the later epistles of Paul, written during this period of his imprisonment, one finds that Paul is not quite so sure that the powers that be are ordained of God. On the contrary, he speaks of the rulers of the darkness of this world, and of spiritual wickedness in high places (Ephesians 6:12).

It is well to bear both these things in mind, for the true citizen has not only the spirit of obedience to law, but he has the duty to see that laws are themselves just, honestly enforced, and maintained. It is part of true citizenship to protest against unjust laws, and to fight in every possible way against corruption in law and government. We are thus driven quickly in this matter of temperance and right living to more than mere conformity to law. There is the higher law of conscience, which asks, concerning every action, not, "It is lawful?" but "Is it right?"

Hence love is revealed as the true standard of right, for Paul insists, as Jesus also insisted in His teaching, that it is only in love of one's fellows that one can fulfill the moral law. Adultery, murder, theft, envy, all are offenses of the law that one should love his neighbor as himself.

Paul makes a superb exposition of this. "Love worketh no evil to his neighbor. The man who is determined to base his life upon love cannot possibly go wrong if his vision and judgment are as wise as his determination. What a fine appeal Paul makes to these Christians at Rome to "walk becomingly."

That in our English translation is a significant and beautiful phrase and Paul sums the whole thing up in one very explicit final word. If we put on the Lord Jesus Christ, we shall be saved from evil ways, and will find wisdom and strength to walk becomingly.

ROBERT TAYLOR GOES BACK TO NATIVE TOWN

Enjoys Beatrice, Neb. More Than He Did New York

BEATRICE, Neb., Oct. 30 (AP)—The old home town "is just like it used to be," says Robert Taylor, who left here three years ago for Pomona college, Hollywood and fame.

The screen star, better known here as Spangler Arlington Brugh, the name which appeared on the diploma Beatrice High school gave him several years ago—came home for a vacation Wednesday, his first visit since he skyrocketed to stardom.

Beatrice was glad to see him. Thousands turned out with banners to welcome him. Taylor was thrilled.

"New York was nothing like this," he said. "I never spent a more enjoyable day in my life."

He tried to avoid public appearances, but the exuberance of old friends and school mates was too much for him. He made two appearances at a theater, addressed a high school group, entertained 20 old classmates, and attended a dance in his honor.

Two old school chums—Spiv Eyth and Ed Weskes—took Taylor for a ride around town, to see his old home, the new swimming pool, and other points of interest. On the tour he saw an old girl friend, now married.

"You look sweet enough to kiss," he told her.

An onlooker urged him to do it. "Well," the actor replied, "I don't believe I'd better do that, but is your sister still around?"

CONVICT THUMBS WRONG RIDE MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Joe Carey, negro, tired of life at city prison. So he took leave "thumping" a ride to help him along the route. Now Carey is working at the county prison farm.

MOVIE KIDS TO HAVE 'SIMPLE' SPOOK PARTIES

Hallowe'en Will Be Observed in Rich Manner

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. Oct. 30 (AP)—Hallowe'en is going to be just another Saturday night, more or less, to the high-salaried children of the movies. Just a few simple parties for them.

For them, there will be no roving of the streets, no stationing of crows in church-steeple, no dismemberment of neighborhood fences, and no flights from irate citizens. Juvenile movie stars can't do things like that, not when they are important parts of the high-g geared machinery of film production.

With the help of studio crews, Shirley Temple is having a surprise party for her mother and father. Mr. and Mrs. George Temple are going "out" to dinner. When they return to their home, they will find several dozen friends—adults, not children.

"I made everything myself," Shirley gloated. "Look, I cut pumpkins and cats out of colored paper." The movie colony discovered a budding romance in Jane Withers' plans for Hallowe'en. She will have a party at her home, composed of children in her neighborhood.
