PAMPA HAS COLDEST READING IN STATE

Pampans were recovering today from their first frigid wave of winter after the mercury in the Daily NEWS official government thermometer had dropped to 16½ degrees at 7 o'clock this morning, making Pampa the coldest spot in Texas. Amarillo trails a close second with a low of 17.

MILLSFIELD, N. H., Nov. 3 (AP)—This tiny northeast New Hampshire community, voting as a town for the first time shortly after midnight, snatched the title of "first in the nation" today from New Ashford, Mass.

Gas pressure in Pampa, after being low this forenoon, was returned to normal shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon when workmen of the Central States Power and Light Corp. completed repairs on a line which blew out five and a half miles south of the city at 3:30 a. m. today.

Trice Olympic figure skating champion, blond and lovely Sonja Henie is cutting a nifty figure in her film debut. If you doubt it, see that wide smile on Don Ameche, her partner in this scene.

TOPEKA, Kas. Nov. 3, (AP)—Incomplete, unofficial returns from scattered precincts in Kansas today gave President Roosevelt an early lead over Gov. Alf M. Landon in the Republican nominee's home state.

Returns from 55 precincts in eight cities, including 33 in Kansas City, Kas., gave Roosevelt 1,300 votes to 1,069 for Landon.

The 33 Kansas City precincts gave Roosevelt a heavy advantage of 652 votes to 107 for Landon.

(By The Associated Press) The first rivulets of a mighty rush of ballots—holding promise of a new all-time voting record—today gave Franklin D. Roosevelt a mounting lead in the south and put Alf M. Landon ahead by a tiny margin in New England.

These fragmentary returns, little more than 2,000 in all out of a total forecast by some statisticians as likely to reach 45,000,000, of course told little not discounted in advance. But they were scanned minutely nevertheless.

Shortly after noon, the early birds among the reporting precincts had recorded a total of 1,809 for Roosevelt to 221 for Landon. Scattered voting places in North Carolina, Florida, Alabama and Texas piled up ballots for the Democratic nominee. The first two precincts from the Midwest showed little, while Landon led by only two score votes in the first New England hamlets to report.

From the metropolitan centers of New York, Chicago and elsewhere came reports that heavy voting promised to shatter all records. The presidential and vice presidential nominees of both major parties all had voted well before noon and even the weatherman held out an encouraging hand.

POPPY DAY IN PAMPA TO BE NEXT SATURDAY

Saturday will be Poppy Day in Pampa. Saler and flowers will be in charge of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, with Mrs. H. P. Luby committee chairman. V. F. W. members will assist.

The Stars Predict and So Does the NEWS

Some fortune tellers at a recent meeting of Astrologists' association in New York told reporters that the stars predict President Roosevelt's reelection unless Governor Landon gets enough votes to beat him. By that token we predict that you'll get good results or you won't, but you surely will unless you don't—meaning, of course, from the NEWS' classified want-ads. Anyway, this one won't campaign—MODERN 3-room apartment. Close in. Bills paid. 112 S. Wynne.

Embroidery Club Dinner. At the home of Mrs. Ben T. Jackson, members of the Centennial Embroidery club and their husbands were entertained Thursday evening, with Mrs. J. E. Lynch and Mrs. W. H. Floyd acting as hostesses.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

By NEA Service. The more soldiers in a land, the more Irish stews cooked up in the evening. The boys like their lamb shoulder and vegetables assembled in this comforting manner. Not from an army canteen, however, but from a world-famous hotel dining room comes this recipe, enough for four persons:

Irish Stew for Four. Three pounds lamb from shoulder and breast, cut into squares; 3 medium potatoes, minced; 4 large onions, minced; 1-2 bunch celery, minced; 12 small potatoes; a bouquet composed of a bay leaf, thyme and a parsley stem, and 2 tablespoons of fresh green parsley, chopped very fine.

Music Lovers Club. The Music Lovers club met in the studio of Mrs. Willie Boyett on Thursday. Roll call was answered by naming musicians of note. The life of Beethoven was the subject for discussion and his compositions were played during the afternoon. In the contest, Emma Dewey Allen, Glenda Landers, and the sponsors, Misses Eunice Stratton and Margaret Glass.

Tomorrow's Menu BREAKFAST

Up And Down The Air Waves

By RAY D. O. Now, that you have heard a few of the new transcribed programs, how do you like them? Good entertainment, don't you think? ★★

We notice that the program "Thoughts for you and me" has gone more popular than its more poetry than music. If our mentioning the fact that it was "incidental poetry" had anything to do with getting more poetry on the program—then we are glad. ★★

How many of you heard the KPND D-X program this morning at 2 a. m.? ★★ On Columbia tonight, you'll hear: At 5:45, "Review of the Mounties"—6:00, "Election Returns"—6:15, "Ted Husing"—6:30, "Election Returns"—6:45, "Boake Carter"—7:00, "Hammerstein's Music Hall"—7:30, "Ken Murray"—8:00, "CBS Caravan"—9:30, "Election Returns".

We still think that the Rhythmites do a very nice program. Yesterday's program was even better than previous ones. ★★ As an added service to the listener, KPND will announce approaching blizzards and cold waves, just as far in advance of the arrival as is possible to know. Yesterday the cold wave announcement was well in advance of the arrival of freezing weather. ★★

It has finally happened folk, the Uncle Bud Barn Dance is to be. A great many letters were received from persons who wanted to have the dance, so the date has been set for Nov. 21, and is to be held in Borger, at the American Legion Hall. Shine up your fiddle and tune up your shoes for a big time. We will give you details as they are worked out. ★★

Here is NBC offerings for tonight: At 5:45, "Lowell Thomas"—6:30, "Amos and Andy"—6:15, "Election Returns"—6:30, "Lum and Abner"—7:00, "Leo Reisman's Orchestra"—7:30, "Edgar A. Guest"—8:00, "Ben Bernie"—8:30, "Fred Astaire"—9:00, "Election Returns"—9:30, "Portraits in Harmony"—10:00, "Amos and Andy"—10:30, "Election Returns"—11:00, "Election Returns"—11:30. "Election Returns".

We believe that Paula, who appears daily on the "Paula Plane" program from the Borger Studio, has improved her "Microphone Technique." (That's a good term), wonderfully, but still plenty of room for more. So come on, Paula, talk to us just like you wanted us to hear you. ★★

We are informed that the Pampa Ministerial Alliance will have a thirty minute program on KPND each Sunday afternoon—that's fine, and we hope sufficient time and effort will be put forth to give the listener a program that will be helpful, educational and entertaining. This can be an outstanding program—there is plenty of talent for an interesting program.

The Casa Loma Cow Boys are not on the Waker Uppers program any more, and we are informed that the music on this program will be transcribed, at least, until KPND receives a sufficient number of letters to let them know whether you had rather hear live talent or transcriptions on the program. They will let the listeners decide, so get your letters or cards in, soon. Regardless of which you prefer, say so by letter or card, won't you? ★★

The "Shopping With Sue" program, heard at 9 o'clock daily on KPND, has escaped the column, thus far, and so that she will not think she is being neglected, or ignored, we might suggest that she put a bit more life into her program. Be so enthusiastic that the listener will actually want to buy the things about which she is talking. Now how's that, Sue? ★★

Back to the subject of the Uncle Bud Barn Dance to be held in Borger on Nov. 21. It is to be the real thing, the Walkie Novelty Boys will furnish the music. That will assure you of the very best music available. Suppose you "circle" Nov. 21 on your calendar NOW. ★★

The Cullum and Son program has been changed, both as to type and time. It is now to be heard from 7 to 8 o'clock each morning. Tune in and hear this delightful variety program. We believe you'll enjoy every minute of it.

Miss Martha Morris of Morebette has been visiting in the home of her brother, R. D. Morris, and Mrs. Morris.

Borger Is Expected To Give Pampan's Stiff Opposition

Harvesters Lay Off Day; 3 Still Injured

The Harvesters relaxed yesterday after a hard game in Clovis last Friday night and before going to training for their second conference game of the season with the Borger Bulldogs on Armistice Day. The game will be played in Borger.

Three Harvesters, Sherman Morgan, Woody Woodridge and Doyle Enloe, were not to report for practice in uniform this afternoon when Harvesters resumed practice. Morgan and Enloe received knee injuries in Clovis and Woodridge is still suffering from a bad ankle sprain. Enloe also has a bruised hand and arm and it was the injured member that Clovis' kickers were grabbing last Friday night.

The game with the Borger Bulldogs is not being taken lightly by the Harvesters. First, the game will be played in Borger on the hard floor of Huber stadium. Second, the Bulldogs will be bouncing back after losing their stellar fullback, Eames, through ineptitude. Third, the Bulldogs will present more weight than at first reported. Fourth, Borger always plays heads-up football against the Harvesters.

Offense will be the theme of all practice sessions although defense to stop Borger's speedy backs and deadly spot passes will come up for attention.

Touchdowns are needed to win football games and the Harvesters have only registered in one game this season. All the rest have been shutouts.

DALLAS, Nov. 3 (AP)—Razzle-dazzle department: Baylor and Texas Christian shattered the Southwest conference passing mark with 72 heaves... it bettered, by one, the total in the Texas Christian-Arkansas game... the conference, as a whole, had a big afternoon of 151 aerials, Arkansas compiling the nearest average with 14 out of 24 attempted... Texas Christian completed 12 out of 25.

Baylor's 47 topped the attempts. Padded cell department: Texas Christian whips Arkansas, loses to Texas A. and M. and then Arkansas smother the Aggies... Rice loses to Louisiana State, Texas ties L. S. U. and Rice trounces Texas... Baylor ties A. and M. victory over Texas Christian and then the Christians plaster Baylor, 28-0, etc.

Sammy Baugh department: In six of the seven games the Christians have played, Baugh has fired six touchdown passes... the Christians have scored ten... he has gained some 650 yards in air... he did not play in the Mississippi State game.

Add Baugh department: Jinx Tucker, Waco sports commentator, says: "They should handicap Baugh like they do horses... against Baylor, for instance, he should be forced to carry 30 pounds on his back on the offense, shedding the weight only on the defense... beating Baylor with those Christian receivers snagging Baugh's passes was like shooting quail in a cage."

Odds and ends department: Texas Christian duplicated last year's Baylor score, 28-0, in exactly the same manner... They scored 56 points but did not cross the Baylor goal line on a single running play... San Benito high school's Greyhounds reached the one-foot line in a game with Edinburg and failed to score on five attempts!

Two Harlingen high players collided with each other on the kickoff of the McAllen game and had to be carried from the field—not to return... football season is only half over but Southwest conference basketball squads have already started light drilling. Rice will be a good pre-season bet in the conference cage chase—but there's always Arkansas.

Spank McFarland, the juvenile star, was on the sidelines when Rice trounced George Washington... He was tossing mean passes to Bo-Bill Kitts, Coach Jimmy Kitts' youngster and Owl mascot... Three Amarillo Golden Sander teams managed for 450 yards from scrimmage in that 66-0 rout of Plainview... All Texans will be eligible to enter Golden Gloves boxing tourney, starting in late winter.

Southwest fox hunters will gather at Crockett Nov. 9 for the forty-fourth renewal of the Texas Fox and Wolf Hunters annual field trials... Some 3,000 hunters are expected to visit Camp Jim McLean during the five days the hounds are competing.

PAMPA VETERANS WILL ATTEND 36TH REUNION

Several Pampa veterans plan to attend the combined reunion of the 36th and 90th divisions in Fort Worth. The 36th division meeting will be Saturday and Sunday with the 90th division boys starting their get together on Friday and going through until Sunday.

The postponement from the original dates of October 10 and 11 was necessitated by the many conflicting activities at that time. Registration headquarters for both divisions will be the Texas hotel. The local troop school for officers, one of the most active in the state, is under supervision of the 90th division which has headquarters in Amarillo.

The combination of a perfect play under dramatic circumstances to produce a cherished victory comes rarely in the life of a football coach.

But Leonard (Stub) Allison, head coach at the University of California, had that experience a couple of seasons ago, and says it will remain the brightest spot in his store of gridiron memories.

The play, a 42-yard dash for a touchdown by Arleigh Williams, sparked Golden Bear halfback produced a 7-2 victory for California, the first in five years over the Trojans of Southern California, one of the Bears' bitterest rivals.

To add to the drama of the occasion the victory in a way was a message of courage from the players to "Navy Bill" Ingram, then California coach, who had been called away suddenly by the death of his mother.

"I was picked to take charge of the team in Bill's absence," says Allison, who was then Ingram's first assistant. "I tried to impress upon the boys that our off-tackle play might be stopped at the line of scrimmage or might go for 10 yards but that if it was perfectly executed and everyone did his part it would go for a touchdown."

Everything Done Right

"The perfect play came after Williams had tried a number of end runs.

"On this play Arleigh took the ball in the 'tailback' position, running to the right. One back and the end blocked the U. S. C. tackle in; another back and guard blocked the end out; the other back went through to block the secondary.

"Our linemen on the side away from the play held their blocks just long enough before releasing them to go down the field. Because we had been using end runs right along, the Southern California secondary swung over rapidly to meet such a play.

"But this time Williams cut back sharply and literally passed them running in the opposite behind the screen of linemen who had released their blocks.

"It was 42 yards to a touchdown, and hardly a tackler was within 10 yards of Williams after he crossed the line of scrimmage."

Robbery on the Gridiron

Theft of the ball right from the hands of the passer and the subsequent dash for a touchdown gave Lawrence (Spud) Lewis, youthful coach of the San Francisco Dons, his big thrill.

"The play was so unexpected and startling I almost fell off the bench," recalls Lewis, one of whose boys performed the stunt. His description is mild in the light of what actually occurred.

It happened in 1933 when his San Francisco eleven was battling Stanford, Lewis' alma mater, where he played quarterback and half-back.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Nov. 3 (AP)—Here's southern hospitality for you: When Eddie Reed, Loyola (New Orleans) coach, went to Tuscaloosa to scout Alabama, it was insisted he must stop at the home of Coach Frank Thomas... Andy Kerr of Colgate and Lynn Waldorf, head man at Northwestern, always have fine November teams... Kerr's Red Raiders have dropped only one November decision since the little magician went to Hamilton and Northwestern has been set back just twice in that month since Waldorf took charge...

They must have got their dates mixed Saturday, for both teams got hot a day ahead of schedule... Jack Dempsey, who can't keep busy running a restaurant, building a boxing stable, making political speeches and heading a hospital drive, has entered a team in the American Bowling Congress.

Must have been pretty tough on Referee Johnny Getchel, a Minneapolis boy, to have to go back home and face the music after calling that slugging penalty against the Gophers Saturday... Scouts from 23 major colleges are angling for Leslie Dodson, fullback on the Columbus (Miss.) high school team, who gained 9,167 yards in 44 games... 2,000 seats have been sold for the Sugar Bowl game in New Orleans January 1 and nobody knows what teams will be contesting.

Before the season began the Minnesota coaches figured the Nebraska game would be a lot tougher than the one with Northwestern.

Autry Believes He Has Tripped Ripley

L. B. Autry, operator of the Autry Printing company here, believes he has caught "Believe it or Not" Ripley in an error. He has written the artist that he was wrong in a "believe it or not" a few weeks ago and also enclosed a correction.

Recently Ripley declared that the shortest known sentence containing all of the letters of the alphabet was "The quick brown fox jumped over the lazy dogs". That sentence contains 37 letters. Autry sent the following sentence to Ripley, "Pack my box with five dozen liquor jugs." That sentence contains only 39 letters.

WILDCATS, GOPHERS, RAMS NAMED BEST TEAMS IN U. S.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3 (AP)—There'll be a respite Saturday for the football teams that have been selected by sports writers and editors as the week's best. Except in one contest they don't come to grips with one another, but that doesn't necessarily mean they face "set-ups."

The weekly Associated Press poll puts Northwestern's Wildcats, upset victors over Minnesota, at the head of the pigskin parade for the week. They got there only after a voting battle almost as keen as the one they played against the previous pace setters at Evanston. The final count, on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis, with 43 experts voting, gave Northwestern 412 points and Minnesota 371.

A total of 31 contributors ranked the Wildcats first while ten remained steadfast in selecting Minnesota despite the defeat. Fordham, moving up to third with 227 points, was picked for No. 1 by two voters.

The Wildcats take on Wisconsin this week and may have a hard time. Minnesota faces the same situation against Iowa while Fordham is rated only a slight favorite over Purdue.

Marquette, which advanced from tenth to fourth place, meets an old but apparently inferior rival in Creighton. The only game which brings together two teams ranked in the first 20 sends Tulane, tenth with 93 votes, against Alabama, fourth with 16. Santa Clara, ninth

NEW PLAYERS EXPECT RAISE NEXT SEASON

NEW YORK, Nov. 3 (AP)—Having made good in their first real try in the big time, 10 new major leaguers, headed by Joe Di Maggio of the Yankees, Bob Feller of the Indians and Jimmy Ripple of the Giants, lead this winter's line at the baseball payoff window.

Well armed with impressive batting and pitching averages, the other newcomers expected to be raised when the 1937 contracts come out are Johnny Mize, who batted .329 for the Cardinals; Les Scarcella, Reds' first baseman, who finished with a mark of .213; Bill Atwood and Walter Millis, catchers for the Phils and Senators, respectively; Harry Gumbert, and Frank Gabler, Giants' pitchers; and Harry Kelley, who won 15 and 12 for the Athletics.

Di Maggio, with an average of .223 to present to a world championship management, is almost certain to get a substantial boost. Feller, center of baseball's interesting current controversy, likely will get what he wants without haggling; and Ripple, who batted .306 and practically replaced Hank Leiber in center field for the Giants, will probably get his reward

Southern Methodist, pacing the scrambled Southwest conference race by virtue of a victory in its only start, began heavy work today in preparation for the Texas Aggie struggle Saturday.

Coach Matty Bell let the Mustangs off with a light drill yesterday but carded more strenuous workouts for the remainder of the week. The Ponies emerged from the Texas contest without serious injuries.

The Texas Aggies tried to forget their drubbing at the hands of Arkansas by working on new plays. They scrimmaged against Southern Methodist plays as executed by the freshmen.

At Houston, Coach Jimmy Kitts allowed the Rice Owls a holiday yesterday but warned there would be no more rest before the Arkansas game at Fayetteville Saturday.

The Arkansas Razorbacks engaged in intensive practice against Owl formations. Saturday's game will climax home-coming day activities and the Parkers worked to prevent a defeat from spoiling it.

Baylor's Bears limbered up bruised muscles and began preparations for Oklahoma City's Goldbugs in the conference's only intersectional tilt of the week.

BOONE, N. C.—A new and almost unheard-of candidate for an invitation to the Rose Bowl game sprung up with the battle cry "Rhododendrons for roses." The team is Appalachian, undefeated and united and one of the highest scoring teams in the country.

The proponent of Appalachian as a Rose Bowl team is Dick Williamson, Charlotte sports columnist and former publicity director at the college. Pointing out that all the "big" southern colleges have been beaten, he picks a "little" one with his only fear that the rest of the schedule is too easy.

"If we only had a big intersectional game with Spearfish or Slippery Rock, I think my cause would not be in vain," he adds.

TRUST IN LEADERS SHOULD BE RESTORED

When the nation again returns to what passes for normal, after the excitement of the campaign, it might spend a little time repairing some of its shattered faiths and loyalties.

In some ways the most expensive thing about the last few years has been not the money that has gone down the sink, but the dimming amount of bitter and unceasing criticism of men and institutions in which Americans had always previously placed confidence.

The campaign only brought this to a head. Some of it grew out of the depression and some of it was a hangover from the campaign of 1932. But wherever it came from and however it was motivated, the net result cannot be anything but very bad for us.

For example: any great nation of today is bound to look for a good part of its leadership to the men who control its financial institutions. As modern society is organized, it cannot do anything else. And how stands our confidence in bankers, these days?

For years we have heard them denounced up, down, and crosswise as "money changers," as men who need watching, as people who blindly led us into a ditch and made us wait there, helpless, until the government hauled us out.

Perhaps, then, our intellectuals are in better case. Not at all. Have not we heard "brain trusters" excoriated as vain and erratic theoreticians, untrustworthy beyond belief and so impractical and childlike that it actually has been a mark against the administration that it took counsel with them? Where, oh where is our old respect for college professors?

How, then, about political leaders? Surely they do not share the unspeakable defeats of bankers and professors? Alas, they are still worse. We have been assured over and over again that the bureaucrat is the worst of all public enemies; that politics is unworthy of our faith and that no political promise, no campaign summons to a cause, deserves the slightest trust.

Well, may we fall back on our leaders of business and industry? A hundred voices declare that they are pitiless and crafty exponents of "economic royalism," prepared to grind our faces in the dirt if we give them a chance. For years the sky has fairly rung with denunciations of them.

You could go on in this vein for half an hour. There is hardly a group or an institution, of the sort to which we ordinarily look for leadership, that has not been under the most bitter attack for months and years.

If we believe half that we have been told, we can only assume that we are lost souls and that there is no hope for the republic.

With the campaign out of the way, we may be able to get back to a sane viewpoint on these matters. It is highly important that we do so.

If we don't, we simply are paving the way for some unscrupulous, self-seeking demagog to come in and put the fetters on our wrists.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON--Class warfare became more accentuated in the 1936 campaign than in any election year since the time of Andrew Jackson.

Although the issues at stake were merely what would be considered mildly progressive measures in other nations, they were sufficient to create a lineup wherein the great majority of those in the higher income groups supported Landon and the great majority of those in lower income groups--except in conservative rural areas--supported Roosevelt.

This, something new in American politics, probably has far-reaching implications. Mixed with the proper amount of stupidity, it might eventually lead to the clash between Fascism and Communism which most Americans dread.

Looking backward, it seems that the provision in the National Industrial Recovery act promising labor the right to organize without interference, and to bargain collectively, first led to the cleavage which finally found Roosevelt hated by the "upper classes," and the champion of labor and the poor.

Zealous reformers in the AAA who foolishly thought they could give both farmers and consumers a better break, while holding processors and distributors to a restricted profit spread, brought down the wrath of packers and other groups on the administration.

The SEC, although lenient in operation, hampered many Wall Street racketeers and discouraged various methods of piracy by bankers and speculators which had been exposed by congressional investigations.

Minor experiments in taxation for social purposes frightened wealthy men who envisaged a program of redistribution of wealth.

The New Deal program for cheap electricity antagonized power interests and Roosevelt's attempt to cure public utility holding company abuse by legislation not only created a terrific flareback among the magnates directly involved, but was made to appear the beginning of an attempt to break up all great concentrations of industrial wealth.

Finally, the American Liberty League was created to represent these various interests and had the double effect of solidifying them and stirring up resentment among the lower income groups against the effort to "gang up" against Roosevelt.

A. The phrase was invented in the summer of 1932 by James M. Kieran of the New York Times.

Q. Did John Randolph of Roanoke free his slaves? G. H.

A. Not during his lifetime. By his will, he emancipated 313 slaves, and provided for their support.

Q. What is istinglass made of? C. R.

A. Istinglass is a very pure form of gelatin obtained from the air bladders of sturgeon and other fish.

Q. At what age did Admiral Farragut enter the navy? J. H.

The Wrong Murderer

Chapter 13. THREAT FROM LAWSON. Lee-Ramsden rose from his chair. "Why not tell them the old story?"

"No, I won't say that to an old school friend and forget to let us know where you were going," he suggested. "Then they won't have to pretend to be busy investigating a lot of kidnapers who, they will be quite sure, don't exist. I don't suppose for a moment the police will believe the story of the old school friend, but at least it will relieve them of further responsibility, and it will look much better in the newspapers than that ridiculous kidnapping story."

"Perhaps you're right," she replied. "I'll tell the old school friend story if you think that will cause less fuss. Now I'm going to bed. Good night, Uncle Gerald."

She always called him uncle, though he was her uncle. But he had been her dead father's best friend.

"Good night, my dear," said Lee-Ramsden. "And next time you're thinking of going off for a day or two just let me know. I shan't ask where you're going. But I shan't start the police hunting for you."

Ruth did not answer; she went to bed. After she had gone Lee-Ramsden remained for a few minutes leaning back against the mantel-piece with his hands in the pockets of his silk dressing-gown. The butler entered to remove the things from the dining room table. Lee-Ramsden glanced at him.

"Well, Mullins, this is a surprise, isn't it?" he observed cheerfully. "That's it, sir," replied Mullins. He had an uneasy smile.

"Our friend Lawson seems rather to have made a mess of things somehow," went on Lee-Ramsden. "I wonder who that young man was who fetched my ward back. You didn't see him, by any chance, did you?"

"No, sir. He drove away before I had the door open," answered Mullins. "That's a pity. A great pity," said Lee-Ramsden, and his voice became more gentle and cheerful than ever.

But a little pulse was beating strongly in his forehead. "Because we shall have to find out who he is and deal with him before we can do anything more about Miss Ruth. And in two months' time she will be twenty-one. Which does not give us a great deal of time, does it, Mullins?"

"No, sir," said Mullins. "No, sir," said Mullins, though, I hope, I said Lee-Ramsden. Mullins picked up the tray and hurried from the room as though anxious to get out of it as quickly as possible. He was frightened.

For twenty-five years he had served that large, affable, cynical, pleasant-mannered man, Gerald Lee-Ramsden. He worshiped Lee-Ramsden; he would have done anything at his command; and at the same time, he feared him with a mortal terror.

After leaving Ruth Fraser, Mahony returned to Notting Hill Gate, where his rooms were situated, but the car was in a lock-up garage he had rented in a nearby street, and entered the house where he lodged.

He wakened fairly early in the morning, and during breakfast he studied the morning papers. Nothing was in them about the murder of Vincent Little.

After breakfast, he rang up the hospital to which Ross had been taken to enquire about him. Ross was still alive and still unconscious, he might remain unconscious for several days. The doctors did not know yet whether he would live or not.

Mahony decided that it would be best to leave the next move to his enemies. He wondered what form that move would take. Lawson could hardly tell the police that he, Mahony, had been in the Little's house when Mr. Little was murdered, and that he thought it extremely unlikely that Elsa could have recognized him.

Nevertheless his enemies, not knowing what he knew about them, would be pretty sure to make some move against him for their own protection. In the meantime it might not be a bad idea to have a bit of a look around. When he had finished his second cigarette, he consulted the telephone directory and looked up Lawson's home address. Then he set off, on foot, in the direction of Lawson's house.

As luck would have it, at the end of the street in which Lawson lived he met Lawson himself.

Both men stopped. For a moment they eyed one another warily, and his hackles bristling. Then Lawson smiled.

"Good morning, Mahony," he remarked. "And what are you doing in this part of the world?"

"Walking," answered Mahony. "Do you mind?"

"Not at all," said Lawson. "Walk as much as you like, my dear fellow, while you have the opportunity. You may not have the chance of walking very much longer."

He paused. "I'm just going to call on Miss Little," he went on blandly. "You've formed a habit of dropping in at her house, I believe. Why not come along too?"

There was a kind of insolent challenge in his tone; he seemed to be daring Mahony to come. Mahony was irritated.

He took up Lawson's challenge. "That's quite an idea. I will come along with you to see Miss Little," he said.

At the same time he wondered about the object of Lawson's invitation. Why should Lawson invite him to come along and see Elsa Little?

"What have you been doing to your lip?" he asked. "It looks as if you ran into something."

"Lawson ignored that. "Good, I'm sure Miss Little will be glad to see you after you so gallantly rescued her last night," he said in a mocking tone. "Unfortunately, though, she doesn't appear to know that it was you who rescued her. I should tell her if I were you."

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD -- The heavy had been in the hospital, which presumably made him a light heavy. But C. Henry Gordon, man of a thousand parts, was still in no position to terrorize us with the story of his operations.

By now every fan knows that all movie villains are angelic by disposition, that they love their homes, books, gardens, and children and wives if they have any. So it is scarcely necessary to remark that C. Henry Gordon, for all his slimness in "The Charge of the Light Brigade" as scheming Surat-Kahn, is personally gracious, expansive and most affable.

He took the words off my typewriter: "There is something about hospitals," he said.

"Why," he wanted to know, "must visitors, for instance, be so noisy? They would stalk past my door, making so much noise I was convinced their thoughtfulness was about the size of a nit on a gram."

"Our hospital was graced by a lady--probably of great importance in stage, screen, radio, polo, tennis and badminton circles... in other words, the soup to nuts of life... She had brought along her very own linen and silken sheets... Sardi's supplied her meals, and each nurse, I heard, had a stand-in."

An unromantic appendix had not given her sufficient warning so that a private operating theater could be built.

"And why not? There is no reason why life should be drab just because one is in a hospital. I shall take a leaf out of this lady's diary, if I can... and next time, perhaps, I shall have all the utensils so necessary to one's hospital comfort outlined in bright lights."

"Doctors must get some satisfaction operating on certain patients... There must be compensation in taking a nice keen blade and giving it that first precise poke into the patient's anatomy... Ah, could this be C. Henry's innate villainy rising to the surface of his deceptively pleasant personality? He shook his head, sadly.

ANOTHER QUESTION ABOUT CARDUI

Why do so many MOTHERS recommend Cardui to their daughters? Isn't it natural that any good mother should tell her daughters about Cardui if the mother herself felt that she had been benefited by this medicine?

It is impressive that so many women report having taken Cardui on the advice of their mothers. Cardui has been found to benefit women when weakened by malnutrition (poor nourishment); and it helps to relieve much discomfort at monthly periods.

Thousands of women testify Cardui helped them. Of course, if it does not help you, consult a physician.

The subject for high school themes is "Benefits of Educational Week," and the prize for the best one will be $1. The prize in junior high will be 50 cents and in the ward schools, publication of the article in the paper.

BOYS ASSIST IN CARNIVAL. Arvo Goddard, Don Taylor, Carl Camp and Mickey Ledrick assisted Horace Mann grade school with their carnival last week. They aided in selling refreshments and helped with side shows. Kenneth Brown helped with the program by playing the accordion in an instrumental trio. All are from Pampa high school.

ENTERTAINMENTS ARE PLANNED TO RAISE MONEY FOR FINANCING SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL YEAR BOOK

Harley Sadler Circus, Carnival Dates Are Set

Two entertainments will be held before the Christmas holidays to raise money to help finance the high school yearbook. One will be the Harley Sadler indoor circus and the other a school carnival.

The Harley Sadler circus will be here Nov. 27 and 28, with a performance each night and a matinee performance Saturday afternoon. It will be held in the gymnasium.

The circus has good acts and animals that have been borrowed from large circuses that are hibernating for the winter. The annual staff will receive 20 per cent of the proceeds to put in the annual fund.

The school carnival will be held Dec. 4, under the auspices of the high school Parent Teacher association.

Each organization in school that expects to have its picture in the annual will have a booth in the gymnasium.

Mrs. Hol Wagner, head of the English department, will again be faculty adviser for the annual, with Robert Curry as business manager. Mr. Curry had experience on a college annual and was faculty adviser for the Miami yearbook last year.

P-TA Year Books Are Assembled

Year books of the Pampa high school Parent-Teachers association are now ready for distribution. The books were assembled by Miss Virginia Mason, book custodian. They are pocket-size and are bound in colors of purple and gold.

The books are to include name and date of meetings, objectives of the P. T. A., national and state officers, committees and faculty, order of business, and programs for the year.

The association has in view five objectives which are set forth in the year books. The first of these is to provide for the welfare of youth in home, school, church, and community.

The members intend to raise the standards of home life and to secure adequate laws for care and protection of youth. If possible, they will bring about a closer relationship between the home and school, thus making it possible for the parents and teachers to cooperate intelligently in the guidance of youth.

Their aim is to develop to the best advantage united efforts between educators and the general public that will secure for all young people the highest advantage in physical, mental, moral and spiritual education.

Miss Milam Plans To Organize Club For Girls' Sports

Within one month Miss Kathleen Milam, physical educational instructor, hopes to organize a Girls' Sports association, which will be composed of the tennis and volley ball clubs.

Besides tennis and volley ball the girls will enjoy bicycling, hiking, and recreational sports, such as ping-pong and horse shoes.

Miss Milam hopes to affiliate the association with the state girls' association and wants to send a delegate to the state convention in the spring. The point system of tennis will be used for participation in sports.

The tennis Round-up, to be held in about two weeks, is the first activity planned by this group.

Miss Milam was a member of the Texas Athletic Conference for college women when she was in school. She attended the National Association three times ago.

Because "sports" is a broader term than "athletics," the title Girls' Sports association, instead of Girls' Athletic association, will be used in speaking of the organization.

Meek Offers Prizes For Student Essays On Education Week

Prizes are being offered by J. A. Meek, principal of Baker school, for essays on National Education Week. The subject for high school themes is "Benefits of Educational Week," and the prize for the best one will be $1. The prize in junior high will be 50 cents and in the ward schools, publication of the article in the paper.

The schools and the Parent-Teachers association will have a program on Education week. Mr. Meek was appointed head of Education week in the Pampa schools.

English instructors were asked by Mrs. Hol Wagner to meet tomorrow at 4 o'clock in room 205 to discuss a problem of the department. L. L. Sone, who requested the meeting to be called, will be present.

One subject to be discussed will be the standardized tests, given the students and sophomores recently.

BIGGER AND BETTER ANNUALS

A bigger and better annual—that's what the students of Pampa High School want most, but they don't want to pay for it. They are clamoring for an annual with such improvements as fabricoid covers (imitation leather) more pages, better photography and engraving. Yet they think $1.50 is plenty to pay for the finished product.

If the price is held down so low, money to defray the expenses of compiling and printing the annual must be raised some other way, but the students do not approve of the kind of popularity contests in which votes cost a penny apiece.

Everybody likes to get something for nothing, and we do not blame them. A penny saved is a penny earned, but it is also true that you get only what you pay for. If the price of the annual is not raised a little, a pay-to-popularity contest or a carnival or some other money-raising scheme must be employed to make up the difference.

Pampa high school dropped the yearbook idea for four years because the cost of publishing the kind of annual the students demanded was prohibitive and the school went into debt. Both years since the yearbook idea was revived, it has been found necessary to go back to the old pay-to-popularity contest, although everybody hates it and knows that popularity should not be put on a commercial basis.

Both the 1934-1935 and the 1935-1936 annuals sold for $1.50. The cost was approximately $1.85 for the first edition and $2.01 per copy for last year's book. The remaining money was raised by the popularity contests and from the advertising sold for the 1934-1935 commencement edition of the Little Harvester. The Student Activity Fund also aided with several dollars. No advertisement was sold in either book.

Heretofore the student has paid nothing except the sale price of the book. In other schools the seniors usually have to pay at least a dollar to have their individual pictures put in, and groups and other classes must pay for their pictures and the engraving (which is the biggest expense of an annual).

Wouldn't it be fair for at least a part of the cost of the photography and engraving to be apportioned among those persons and groups pictures? Have we a right to expect so much for nothing?

In a school the size of Pampa, we should be able to support a larger and more improved yearbook. Since we do want one, let's have it!

WHY NOT STUDENT RULE?

Why shouldn't the students of Pampa high school have a part in the do's and don'ts outlined for them? Answer: Surely we want to have some voice in these problems and we will have if the school sponsors a Student Council.

Under this plan each home room and organization is represented on a per capita basis. This council aids in discipline problems, gives charters to the different clubs, and helps plan assembly programs. It has an important part in deciding on school parties, special days, etc.

The Student Council creates the air of fellowship among the members of the school. The honor of being elected as a member of the council is decidedly one of which to be proud.

In most schools the size of Pampa there is a Student Council. The president is usually a senior, who is qualified by his ability to take part in all school activities. Other members are selected by the same principle. Last but not least an extra curricula credit is issued to the members.

PET ECONOMIES RANGE FROM OLD BUTTONS TO ELECTRICITY

Would you possibly believe that anybody in P. H. S. has a habit of saving? Well, at any rate, a few people do. To be sure, very few of them are students; they are mostly all teachers. Would you believe it?

Miss Addison says that her pet economy is saving scrap paper to write heads for The Little Harvester.

Miss Strnad punches her pennies by turning off the lights and cutting down the light bill.

Miss Latimer hoards by using both sides of her paper. P. S.—She learned this at Library School.

Mr. Dennard states that he does not have any methods of economizing, but he does have a few idiosyncrasies such as not being able to teach with the door open behind him. He doesn't like standing in the middle of the room either.

Ella Pae Peltner saves pennies. Wonder how she manages.

Miss Branom says she saves her breath that she may need some day by not saying O. K.

Claudine Sivlis economizes by cutting off old buttons from old clothes and keeping them.

Mickey Ledrick braces in trying to save paper. Be sure to watch him, Mr. Monroe.

Alta Marie Terrell doesn't save a thing. She must be a spendthrift.

Mr. Cabe economizes his time by having students write out his absentee blanks.

These are just a few of the economical people around us. Why not try saving something yourself?

Archaeology Club Trip Is Postponed

Due to the lack of transportation, the archaeology club was forced to postpone their trip until next Sunday. They will go to Ledrick's ranch, which is about 20 miles from here. The members will take their lunches and remain all afternoon.

Ernest Cabe, sponsor, will accompany the club.

SENIOR RINGS ARE ORDERED. The senior class rings which were ordered last Friday will be obtainable in approximately six weeks. The girls' rings will cost $7.95 and the boys' $6.95. Students may pay the whole sum or make a $1 deposit and pay the balance when the rings arrive.

GORILLAS MEET PANTHER TEAM AT PANHANDLE

Coach Curry Reports Boys To Be in Good Shape

This afternoon at Panhandle the Pampa Gorillas will battle the second string of the Panhandle Panthers at 3 o'clock. Some of these boys who will meet the Gorillas were seen in action when the Harvester and the Panthers went through a scrimmage of an hour and a half at the beginning of the season.

Although the Panthers are expected to give the Gorillas a tough battle, Coach Bob Curry says that he has his boys in good condition.

The Gorillas have made several changes in their lineup, which is expected to make the team twice as strong on the offense.

There will be a new man in the backfield. Oliver Coshaw will be holding down the halfback position which Warren McDaniel left vacant when he received a broken leg in the game with Miami.

Harold Wisley will be shifted from center back to his old guard position, and Omar Harrel will be holding down the center job.

The starting lineup will be as follows: E—Cunningham, E—Crane, T—Brown, T—Sullivan, G—Wisley, G—Mitcher, C—Harrell, RH—Coshaw, LH—Eslinger, QB—Huber, and PB—Watkins.

Library Receives Many New Books

Again the library has received new reading material, including information on drama, social sciences, home economics, agriculture, and vocations. The books have been placed on the shelves and are ready to be checked out by students.

Besler's Barrets of Wimpole Street is the new drama volume. Other books on the list include history and social sciences: American Primes, Youth in the Depression; Money; The Farm Business; Friends or Enemies; Crime; Strikes; Business and Government; Jobs or the Dole; You and Machines.

Buell, New Government in Europe; Chase, S., Rich Land, Poor Land; Ely, Principles of Economics; Harkin, American Government Today.

Headline Books—War Tomorrow; Made in U. S. A.; Dictatorship; Clash in the Pacific; War Drums and Peace Plans; Roberts, Rule of Order; Rev. Wegg, The Texas Range.

Etiquette—MacGibbon, Manners in Business; Pierce, It's More Fun When You Know the Rules. HOME ECONOMICS—Dennis, Living Together in the Family; Denny, Fabrics and How to Know Them; and Kephart, Camp Cookery.

REFERENCE BOOKS—Cuyas, Appleton's New English-Spanish and Spanish-English Dictionary; Statesman's Year Book for 1936. AGRICULTURE—Howe, Farm Economics; Smith, Elements for Livestock Judging.

VOCATIONS—Fiene, Careers for the Proletarian; Choice in Your Life Work. These two books are accepted as the standard for boys and girls, and were bought for use by the seniors in their term themes.

Latin Clubs Are In Two Groups

Second-year Latin students belong to the Patrician tribe and the first-year students are the Plebian tribe since the end of the first six weeks when the Latin club was divided into two sections.

These groups are sub-divided into smaller groups according to the students' ability. In the Plebian tribe the Capitulines are students who make 90 or above. They are Mary Jane Kribbs, Madge Lawrence, Mildred Martin, John Edwin McConnell, Helen Prdy, and Leona Wray.

In the Patrician group, made up of students who make 80 to 90, are Mary Ellen Haley, Shirley Johnson and Bill Richey. The Aventines are students who make from 70 to 80: A. P. Combs, Byron Dodson, J. D. Howard, Dickie Kennedy, Ruby McPherson, and Pat Patterson.

Members of the Latin tribe are Hazel Bath, Carrie Ann Elkins, Mildred Kemp, Beryl Tignor, and Margaret Tignor.

The Sabines are Kathryn Barrett, Ruth Clay, Glen Day, Dorothy Jackson, and Charlotte Malone. The Etruscans are Jim Brown, Danie Ellison, Jean Hildreth, Chester Funkhuller and Betty Rains.

In both classes there were only two Barbarians, students who failed.

Sophomores Choose Jackie Bragg Vice-President of Class

Jackie Bragg was elected vice-president of the junior class at a meeting held Tuesday in room 309, with Burton "Topsy" Reynolds, president, officiating. A party was discussed, but no definite plans were made.

Jackie, who has been in pep squad two years, is now a leader. Burton is playing football this year. He is a substitute Harvester end.

THEATER PARTY POSTPONED. Until an especially interesting show comes to town, the junior class will not have the theater party which they have been planning. Winston Savage, sponsor, will arrange for special rates with C. F. Benefiel, manager of the theaters.

PAMPA TO BE HOST FOR BAND FESTIVAL OF NORTHWESTERN TEXAS TO BE HELD IN APRIL

BOYS PREPARE FOR STRUGGLE WITH BULLDOGS

GAME WILL BE PLAYED ON ARMISTICE AT BORGER

After their doubtful loss at Clovis last Friday, the Harvesters will spend this week in preparation for the conference game at Borger next Wednesday, Nov. 11.

The game will be played at Borger, whose Bulldogs have perhaps the strongest team in their history. However, one of their stars was declared ineligible last week and his loss was strongly felt. The Harvesters, steadily improving, hope to prove the better of the two squads.

Last week, under the lights of the Clovis field, fans witnessed a game in which Pampa "had the tables turned" on them. They defeated the Wildcats in yards gained, first downs completed, and football technique in general. However, through luck and disputed officiating, the Clovis men made the only touchdown of the battle and thus won the old ball game, 7-0.

Pampans showed much improvement and skill, both in their aerial attack and on defensive playing. Ivan Noblitt and J. W. Graham, together with Glen Maxey and Roy Showers, were outstanding.

Literary Society Elects Officers

Dorothy Day was elected president of the new literary society which met at the home of Mrs. Hol Wagner last Wednesday evening. Alta Marie Terrell was chosen vice president and Edith Melton, secretary-treasurer.

A name, color, and pins will be selected at the next meeting, which will be held Nov. 16, at 7:30 p. m.

A program committee consisting of Betty Blythe, Byron Dodson, and Elaine Crout was appointed to outline the year's study.

The purpose of this organization is to study modern American authors, the first of whom will be Willa Cather. She will be studied at the next meeting. Parliamentary law will also be discussed.

Members who were present besides the aforementioned were: Mildred Binion, Retta Pearl Bowerman, Ella Faye Young, Hazel Martin, Retha Spencer, Mattie Brown, Bessie Belle Davis, and Mrs. Hol Wagner, the sponsor.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served and a Halloween motif was used in decorations.

Rice to Keep FFA Scrap Book

As secretary of the F. F. A. district, Earl Rice is planning to keep a scrap book of all stories published concerning district organization.

Members who were present besides the aforementioned were: Mildred Binion, Retta Pearl Bowerman, Ella Faye Young, Hazel Martin, Retha Spencer, Mattie Brown, Bessie Belle Davis, and Mrs. Hol Wagner, the sponsor.

SENIORS TO HAVE PARTY

At last the seniors will have their kid party, which is to be combined with a theater party Friday of this week.

Dressed in kid costumes, they will go to the gymnasium at 7:30 where a prize will be given for the costume judged the best. There they will play games and have refreshments. At about 9 o'clock they will go to the Rex to see Tom Tyler in "Santa Fe Bound."

All seniors are urged by Mickey Ledrick, president, to attend. He also asks as many as possible to pay their dues to Ruth Clay, secretary, before Friday.

RED CROSS SENDS BLANKS

"Home should be the safest place on earth," says the American National Red Cross. Papers giving a list of the common hazards about the home were passed out to each student of PHS during home room period Thursday morning. The blanks requested that students read and check the list and cut down the hazards in their homes.

FACULTY DISCUSSES ANNUAL. That students should back the annual more than they did last year was the topic discussed in faculty meeting last Wednesday. Mrs. Hol Wagner gave a financial statement on the cost of producing the annual for the last three years. A few minutes was spent on the subject of teachers' insurance.

Officers To Preside Will Be Local Directors

Pampa will act as host for the Northern Texas band festival to be held here on April 23, 24, and 25. This decision was reached at a meeting of band directors held in Amarillo Sunday.

About 1500 musicians and 35 bands are expected to participate in the contest, which will be one of the biggest events of the year. In addition to band music, ensembles and solos will also be featured.

Officers to preside over the festival were chosen from the Pampa directors. Winston Savage, high school band leader, is contest director. A. C. Cox, junior high school, was appointed chairman of the marching division; L. R. Farmer, Horace Mann, concert chairman; and W. Postman, Baker, massed band chairman.

The state is divided into four districts, with the one for this part of the country reaching from Wichita Falls west, including all of the Panhandle.

Rev. John Mullen Leads Devotional

Using the text "He that findeth life shall lose it," Rev. John Mullen, pastor of the First Christian church, led the devotional Wednesday morning. Following this, he presented a talk in which he stated that people will be un happier if they follow their own impulses.

He argued that one person had no more right to be happy than some one else and that, in the course of their struggle for happiness others were hurt, the struggle could not be justified.

The band played several numbers and a short pep rally was held, led by the pep squad.

An interesting feature of the assembly was a trio by the Rhythmettes, composed of Jean Gillespie, Inez Hawkins, and Mary Ellen Gilstrap, accompanied by their manager, Gene Finkbier. The numbers which they sang were "The Way You Look Tonight," "You Turned the Tables on Me," "Me and the Moon," and "When Did You Leave Heaven?"

Gene Finkbier also gave several tap dancing numbers, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. William Finkbier.

Staff Discusses Improving Paper

Improving and enlarging The Little Harvester was the main topic of discussion at the recent staff meeting. Among other things considered were exchanging news articles with nearby schools and the idea of printing a separate school publication.

The meeting was last Tuesday, called at 3 o'clock in Principal L. L. Sone's office. Those present were Betty Blythe, Idabelle Wagon, Chris Martin, Theda Stone, Bessie Belle Davis, Eva Jane Stark, Aolph Duckworth, Tommy Rogers, Miss Bernice Addison, journalism instructor, and Mr. Sone.

P. H. S. Expresses Gratitude to KPDN For Broadcast Time

Do you people of P. H. S. realize what you owe KPDN, not speaking in terms of money, but in the form of thanks?

In the past, KPDN has given Pampa high school one half hour each Thursday afternoon to advertise the football game for the week. At this time music and talks are furnished by students and teachers. The station was used to advertise and ramrod the band excursion trip to the Dallas and Fort Worth Centennial expositions and celebrations.

In the future KPDN plans to broadcast some assembly programs as soon as the new auditorium is complete and broadcasting conditions are better. This spring they plan to broadcast a concert program from each of the winning bands of the contest that will be held here.

Cafeteria Kitchen Gets Improvements

A new stove and some other equipment has been bought for the cafeteria. The kitchen walls have been painted, and the tables in the dining-room have been refinished.

Mrs. J. J. Patton, manager of the cafeteria, said that she plans to buy new draperies for the dining-room in the near future.

Volley Ball Girls To Start Practice

All girls interested in volley ball are asked by Miss Kathleen Milam, sponsor, to report to the gymnasium tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Practice will start on Thursday afternoon. Miss Milam says that a number of girls are expected to come out.

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

BY LOUS SCHNEIDER

GOOD.
 After a thorough investigation the Securities Exchange Commission has found that stock exchange members and firm partners account for more than 80 per cent of the trading volume. So that the public will know what these people are doing market-wise the SEC will issue a weekly report on their transactions. It will disclose what the so-called "big shots" think of security values. It's a service the public should have had before. "But better late than never" according to brokers who have the public's interest at heart.

WARNED.
 Conservative interests are warning against over-optimism in making security commitments. It is said that there is a possibility of a business recession being witnessed during the first quarter of 1937. It is pointed out that over the past few months the administration hasn't harassed business and that everything possible was done to deter labor troubles until after the elections. "But labor difficulties are in the offing and if present administration is retained industry will be treated harshly. That is why one must be cautious in making long-term commitments even though share prices appear attractive on possible dividend declarations before the close of the year."

LOST.
 American tobacco growers have lost their market in Germany. The barter transactions have been dropped by the German government. It hits the sale of leaf tobacco grown in Kentucky and Tennessee. Such huge organizations as Universal Leaf Tobacco, Tobacco Trading Corporation, O'Brien & Co., L. B. Jenkins Tobacco, Wilson Tobacco Co. and others are hit pretty hard. With inside knowledge that the government would announce the anti-barter law, German merchants and dealers bought huge amounts during the past few months. This doesn't do American firms any good. It is almost impossible for them to get their money out of Germany due to exchange restrictions. And so they are stuck—according to tobacco trade insiders—and stuck in a big way.

 It was also learned that Japan is after Germany's tobacco business. The Japanese are expected to sell in exchange for steel and other industrial products. But whether Japan gets the business or not America has lost its tobacco selling field in Germany.

LIKED.
 The ready-to-wear industry is heart and soul in favor of the Robinson-Patman anti-price discrimination act. This because the law has discouraged drives on the part of big buyers to get special concessions. The result is price stability in the industry which gives the small merchant a chance to compete at a profit. That wasn't so before since chain store clothing buyers always ran cut-rate sales. Their price concessions permitted profits even at low levels. The needle trade is one industry which will fight hard to keep the anti-price discrimination act in operation.

RECOVERY.
 Private industrial surveys show that for the month of October some 250,000 additional workers were given employment. That makes it the seventh successive monthly gain in employment of private industry. Factory payrolls are now at the highest levels since June, 1930.
 The largest gains in size of payrolls have been made in non-durable and durable industries. These divisions of production cover economic life in general. It helps increase weekly wage payments. Since March of 1933—the depression low—some 6,000,000 people have been re-employed in private enterprises.

CORRECTION.

INDEPENDENCE WILSON RITES WATCHES ALF LONDON VOTE ATTENDED BY MANY FRIENDS

2,000 PERSONS MEET CANDIDATE AT STATION. HAD LIVED AT McLEAN FOR TWENTY-FOUR YEARS. McLEAN, Nov. 3--Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock friends and relatives gathered in the Methodist church to attend funeral services for W. W. Wilson, 43, who died instantly Friday afternoon in an accident while he was repairing a hay press.

McLEAN, Nov. 3--Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock friends and relatives gathered in the Methodist church to attend funeral services for W. W. Wilson, 43, who died instantly Friday afternoon in an accident while he was repairing a hay press.

Mr. Wilson moved to the McLean community from Ellis county in 1912. He married Miss Ellen Anderson in 1916 and to the union was born one son, Wilbur Lee Wilson.

Services were under direction of Rev. J. H. Sharp pastor of the Methodist church, Rev. W. A. Erwin, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and Rev. J. W. Storey, voices representing every church in McLean mingling in singing Mr. Wilson's favorite hymns.

He is survived by his widow, his son, his father, George P. Wilson of Amarillo, who at the age of 88 is an invalid and not able to come to the funeral or to know of the death; three brothers, Frank of Gruver, Taylor and Homer of LeFors; Miss Minnie of Dalhart; Miss Kate, and Mrs. Hughes Quattlebaum of Amarillo.

Full bearers were: B. F. Cary, W. E. Bogan, J. B. Pettit, Mrs. Chas. Carpenter, Mrs. Thomas Ashby, and Mrs. D. C. Carpenter. The body was interred in Hillcrest cemetery under the direction of C. S. Rice funeral home.

SCHOOL CHILDREN ARE ATTENDING CENTENNIAL. DALLAS, Nov. 3 (AP)--School children helped push Texas Centennial exposition attendance toward the 6,000,000 mark today.

Yesterday's attendance of 18,315 boosted the grand total to 5,508,486 with 28 days remaining. Today was set aside for pupils from district No. 6. Trains and buses were arranged to bring delegations from Fannin, Lamar, Delta, Hunt, Raines and Hopkins counties.

GOOD SAMARITAN. CHICAGO (AP)--William Watson, 33, did the law two good turns but ended up in a jail cell nevertheless. While being questioned on a street corner by two policemen who said they found an unloaded revolver in his possession, a hit and run motorist struck a woman pedestrian. The policeman, pursued by the motorist, later they were surprised to learn that Watson not only took the woman to a hospital but was waiting for them. He was arrested.

NO BUSINESS. FRANKLIN, Pa. (AP)--The Utica anti-horse thief association met for its annual get-together and found there was nothing to get together about. So the members elected Ellis Smith president and went home. They think maybe some one will steal a horse next year.

WASHINGTON BALLOTS SIZE OF CARD TABLE. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2 (AP)--Interested more in the massive size of ballots than campaign questions other than the presidential election, far western voters were greeted today by fair and cool weather which supported almost universal predictions of record votes.

Outstanding figures in the political picture were Senator William E. Borah, Idaho Republican, seeking election to his sixth term and Senator Charles L. McNary, Republican leader from Oregon, seeking to be returned for his fourth term.

Washington, Utah and Arizona will elect governors, while major posts to be filled in California and Nevada are for congressmen. The seven states, with a combined electoral vote of 46, have voted with the deciding majority in every presidential election since 1920. All have shown large registration increases and the four where party affiliation is specified have shown a proportionate increase in democratic registration, although Republicans still are dominant in Oregon.

Washington with its "card table ballots"--they are the same size as card table tops--has seen the most active campaign of the far west. The state's familiar campaign eccentricities have been subordinated to a fight centering around the Seattle Post-Intelligencer news from strike and the political position of Dave Beck, a labor leader. He holds no office, but has been accused of dominating the present Democratic administration.

'APPEASEMENT' OF EUROPE IS PLEA OF KING

Mrs. Simpson Doesn't Attend Colorful Ceremonies

LONDON, Nov. 3 (AP)—Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson did not attend the opening of parliament today. Shortly before King Edward left Buckingham Palace for his "rush to the members, a basket of flowers four feet high was delivered to the American divorcee at her Cumberland Terrace home.

LONDON, Nov. 3 (AP)—King Edward today pledged his nation to do all in its power "to further the appeasement of Europe."

Standing in front of the throne in the House of Lords, garbed in the heavy state robes of gold edged crimson velvet, the 42-year old bachelor monarch made this significant plea for peace to the bristling armed camps of troubled Europe.

The new sovereign, opening the first session of parliament in his reign, announced that after the coronation in London next May he would go to India to be crowned emperor.

He also called an imperial conference to meet in London next May. The state opening was robbed by part of its brilliance by a heavy rain which forced cancellation of the scheduled procession from Buckingham palace.

Thousands of his subjects, jamming the Mall and the Horse Guards' parade in Whitehall, stood in the driving rain to catch a fleeting glimpse of Edward as he passed in a closed motor car.

It was an uncrowned king who opened parliament. Not authorized to wear the imperial crown until after the coronation May 5, Edward followed the glittering jeweled emblem of the nation and empire in the procession from the robing room. The emblem, along with the sword of state and the cap of maintenance, was carried before him on cushions.

—by far the coldest reading this year. Flurries of sleet and chilling rain fell over the northern part of the state and temperatures sagged far below freezing on the northwest Texas plains. It was down to 17 above at Amarillo—a 44-degree overnight fall.

The frigid blast from the snow-bound Rockies was raging below San Antonio and was due to entirely engulf the state in a few more hours. It hit San Antonio just before dawn, the temperature abruptly dropping 22 degrees to a minimum of 49. Traces of rain dampened the San Antonio area.

At Wichita Falls the temperature tumbled 48 degrees to a low of 30 this morning, accompanied by light sleet. There was a high, northeast wind whipping through the city. Lubbock, with a low reading of 23, did not expect the cold to keep many voters from the polls.

The mercury was down to 37 at Dallas, 35 at San Angelo, 34 at Fort Worth, 33 at Corsicana, 32 at Sherman, 32 at Abilene, 43 at Longview and 44 at Texarkana. Rain and sleet fell at Fort Worth as the temperature sagged to a new low level for the season. Overcast conditions, with light rain, were reported all over North Texas and extending rapidly southward as the sudden "norther" carried swiftly by a 30-mile wind, tore into the Gulf coast.

It was sleeting in Denison, with the temperature close to freezing. Abilene's freezing temperature was the lowest reading this season and sleet was falling there intermittently.

Unseasonably warm weather, such as prevailed all over Texas before the "norther" swept in, still lingered at Corpus Christi this morning, with the temperature around 76, but was not expected to last more than a few hours. The norther was due there this afternoon, and the forecast indicated 45 degree weather for tonight, accompanied by rain.

The "norther" reaching Bonner late yesterday, drove the temperature down 36 degrees to a low of 20. It clung there today. The minimum at Vernon was 30.

Tyler had a heavy rain and a low of 43. Half an inch of rain was reported at Longview and Texarkana likewise had a downpour. At Austin temperature touched 49 this morning and a cold drizzle was adding to the election day discomfort. Houston also reported a light, chilling drizzle. The temperature there fell from 74 to 52 overnight.

dren and that they wished to work out plans for the best interests of the school pupils. Plans were made to decorate downtown streets and to set up a public address system over which Christmas carols will be heard. Colored lights will be strung along the main thoroughfares.

In the forenoon there will be free motion picture shows for children in the Rex, LaNora and State theatres through the courtesy of Carl Benefield, general manager of the Griffith Amusement Co., Pampa theatres.

Details of the Santa Day parade, scheduled for 11 a. m., have not been completed, but it will be one of the features of the day, and Santa Claus will supply the principal interest in the street pageant.

The general Santa Day committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce is headed by A. J. Johnson. Various sub-committees will assist in working out the plans for Pampa's biggest Christmas entertainment for visitors from surrounding towns and cities.

pounders," the white-haired physician stated. "We had no scales, and besides, I didn't have time to weigh them." The father, a share cropper, faintly when told the news. "I don't know what we're going to do," Bridges said when he recovered. "I have no money to take care of them, but I sure want 'em to live."

Mrs. Bridges is 35, her husband 44. They have five other children, but only one, a 4-year old girl, is living.

October Water Consumption Up

Pampans and the city used 24,415,000 gallons of water last month or more than in September when 23,811,000 gallons were pumped, according to the report of Andy Crocker, water superintendent, filed this morning with City Manager C. L. Stine.

A heavy rain during September cut down consumption considerably. Watering of the grass in Central Park last month tended to hike the flow from the wells.

Cleaning and painting of the interior of storage tanks is now in progress.

MINOR WPA PROJECTS TO BE SOUGHT HERE

Administration projects will be sought for Pampa in the near future, it was decided at a meeting of city commissioners last night. City Manager L. Stine was instructed to draw up plans and take them to district WPA headquarters in Amarillo.

The No. 1 project will be the laying of a water line from the city to Fairground park. The commissioners decided to lay the line along the highway instead of crossing private property. Plans to "squeeze" brick paving in the city will also be included in the list of projects. It is planned to wash the brick paving and then place a light coat of asphalt and sand to fill up the cracks between the bricks.

Because of the absence from the city of Commissioner Marvin Lewis, no action was taken on matters needing to be voted upon.

OSBORNE SALE TO BE AT RANCH NEAR HERE

The third annual public sale of Osborne's line-bred Prince Domino Herefords will be held at the J. P. Osborne ranch near Miami Tuesday, Nov. 17, according to announcement received today from Mr. Osborne.

"To the best of our belief and our knowledge of our own cattle this offering of 45 head, practically all of which were bred and raised on the ranch, constitutes the most valuable collection we ever have offered at auction," Mr. Osborne stated. The ranch is located 16 miles northwest of Pampa.

Among the animals offered for sale are Gwendoline 45th, Prince Domino B 20th, Domino Prince 47th, Prince Domino 84th, Junior Prince Domino B, brother to Jr. Prince Domino 4th and sharing in herd service with him, Prince Domino 55th, and two pairs of prize-winning calves and bull calves, entered in the Fort Worth and Amarillo livestock shows.

2 NEW SCARLET FEVER CASES ARE REPORTED

Two new cases of scarlet fever were reported among school children this week, one a pupil of Woodrow Wilson and the other of Junior high school. A child from B. M. Baker school has been ill for several days.

None of these pupils became ill in school, so it has not been necessary to quarantine any room. School officials and health workers repeat their warnings to parents to keep children out of school if they show any symptoms of scarlet fever or other disease. It is only by guarding in this manner from exposure that quarantine of many exposed children is prevented.

FASCISTS PLANT GUNS IN SHADOW OF MADRID

(By The Associated Press) Fascists planted their guns today almost in the shadow of Madrid. Insurgents under Gen. Jose Varela, sweeping toward the capital from the south, entered the village of Uenlabrada, seven miles away and less than three miles from a government military airport at Gafete, a Madrid suburb.

were ordered to "sit down" and draw the blockade tight around the entire United States.

A hearing here by the federal maritime commission from which union representatives bolted yesterday, was postponed indefinitely by Admiral Harry G. Hamlet.

Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward P. McGuire continued efforts to bring about resumption of settlement negotiations. The immediate critical issue was the employers' demand that "safety crews" remain on tied-up ships.

"We will have to take whatever steps are necessary," said Thomas G. Plant of the employers' committee, "to put men aboard for the safety of the vessels."

His statement was interpreted by observers as the first threat from employers to replace strikers with non-union crews.

The first official action against strikers came in Philadelphia where Mayor S. Davis Wilson declared the "sympathy" walkouts of seamen illegal and ordered the arrest of pickets. His police "strike squad" jailed seven men who refused to "move on."

Vessels in paralyzed Pacific coast ports increased to 150 or more and threatened at New York to meet the navy's defense committee at New York, claimed 133 ships were idle at Atlantic and Gulf ports.

David Grange, third vice president of the international seamen's union, threatened at a meeting of pickets "force with force" if Curran's rank-and-file followers attempted intimidation of sailors deciding to remain at work.

Regular union officers also sought to check the spread of rank-and-file sympathy actions at Philadelphia, where they were shouted down, and at Houston, Tex.

Maritime workers at Galveston, Tex., met at a meeting of pickets for a general waterfront strike at Gulf ports.

only about 250 votes had been cast by 1 o'clock. County Clerk Charlie Thut reported that other boxes throughout the city had registered from 80 to 100 votes at that hour.

Lighter Than Usual Siler Faulker, Democratic county executive chairman, said shortly before noon today that the mood of vote in his opinion was lighter than usual. In some local precincts, Mr. Thut stated, it was heavier than usual, while in others the voting was lighter.

20 STATES TO DECIDE FATE OF CANDIDATES

BOTH SIDES CLAIMING LANDSLIDE VOTE MAJORITIES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3 (AP)—Election day finds the two major parties locked in combat across a no-man's land of disputed states unequalled in total area and importance in recent political history.

Not in forty years, at least, have last minute hopes and fears encircled so large a proportion of the electoral vote. The crucial Cherokee Strip of fiercest election day effort stretches from the Atlantic to the Rockies, embraces a score of states including the most populous, and gathers within its vast expanse almost every type of local interest known to the American continent.

From New York to Colorado, even the estimates of both Democrats and Republicans are spoken in terms of smaller-than-ordinary state majorities. Their private and confidential information differs from what they say for publication only in degree of certainty.

The Democrats think that they see a chance that Mr. Roosevelt will carry enough of the disputed sector to assure him, with what he has elsewhere, of a landslide electoral college majority. The Republicans think they see a chance that Mr. Landon will carry virtually all of this sector, and be elected.

Thus does the basic mathematics favor Mr. Roosevelt, as it favors every democratic nominee who can start with the ostrich-size nestegg of the solid south. But it does not, in itself, exclude Mr. Landon. Looking south, the border and the far west, he still could collect a majority by sweeping New England and the New York-Colorado front.

Naturally, it would have to be a genuine sweep. If Mr. Landon loses, for instance, New York, his friends will retain little hope for him. If he loses both New York and Pennsylvania, they will send their condolences.

The answer to this situation will be written by that celebrated figure of the "silent voter" whose intentions have not been easy to fathom in a year when party lines were in collapse. The tremendous increase in the number who have qualified to vote, amounting to some 6,000,000 more than 15 per cent, has caused both sides a great deal of thoughtful calculation. The Democrats hope that in this treasure chest is locked an overwhelming flood of zealous approbation for the new deal. The Republicans hope the larger prospective total means a devastating "protest vote" is in the making.

Throughout most of the contest, the cockiness has been on the side of the democrats and the aggression on the side of the republicans. As much as a year ago, Mr. Roosevelt's supporters succeeded in instilling into their campaign workers a very definite psychology of victory. At the same time the feeling of defeatism became so strong in republican ranks that it was spoken of openly in speeches by party leaders who were seeking to restore some semblance of morale. There have been moments in the campaign when this rule did not hold, as will be noted hereafter, but unquestionably it set the motif at the very beginning.

Discouragement put its stamp plainly on the republican convention at Cleveland. Many brave words were spoken there by men who wondered whether this might not be the last gathering of a once-glorious party.

But within a week, they began to feel differently about it. The demonstration of harmony which led to unanimous nominations, and the repeated appeals to party pride broadcast from the rostrum of the convention hall, had some resounding echoes. By the time the democratic convention met at Philadelphia ten days later, the psychology of the republican leadership was turning optimistic.

ONLY ONE RUN MADE IN OCTOBER BY FIREMEN The Pampa fire department made only one run during the month of October, according to the report filed this morning by Chief Ben White.

A fire in a barn on North Faulkner street marred the perfect record. No insured loss was recorded at the fire and total damage was estimated at about $10.

November opened with an alarm on the second day. Damage was very slight, when a false fireplace ignited.

ELECTION FLASHES

TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 3 (AP)—Mixed trends were reflected today in incomplete and unofficial returns from scattered precincts in Kansas, home state of Gov. Alf M. Landon with President Roosevelt having an indicated advantage in the populous Kansas City, Kas., area. The vote from 115 precincts, 50 of them in Kansas City, Kas., gave Roosevelt 2,342; Landon 1,941. Wyandotte county, which includes Kansas City, Kas., in 1932 gave Roosevelt 52,096 votes and Hoover 25,424.

TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 3 (AP)—Unofficial, incomplete returns from 40 Topeka precincts today for President: Landon 1,897; Roosevelt 1,501.

TORNADO DAMAGES TOWN. CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., Nov. 3 (AP)—A tornado struck Cape Girardeau shortly before midnight last night and, in a minute of destructive fury, damaged 150 homes and store buildings, causing loss estimated at from $50,000 to $75,000. The southwestern residential section and the "Good Hope Street" business district suffered chiefly from the violence of the winds, which missed the main business area by only a few blocks.
