Pampa Not "Booming" But Is Steadily Growing

Pampa is continuing her period of steady growth and is gradually raising herself from the village class to a small city of the Plains country.

Contrary to lurid stories published by dailies over various sections of the Southwest, Pampa is not having the stupendous boom accredited to her. Thinking citizens with good common "horse sense" state that we are not having nor do we need a "boom," as the word is usually used. Such stories as these papers are publishing bring in a flood of speculators and "boomers" who are usually nothing more to a city or town than a liability.

Boom stories do not bring the good solid citizen that comprises the backbone of any town or city, and thinking people of Pampa are urged to discourage the practice of publishing such misleading statements that are detrimental to the best interests of Pampa's continued growth. In other words, "let's keep our shirt on."

In order that the people of this section may get a fair idea of what is being done, The News gives herewith a brief statement of the building here within the last two weeks:

J. W. Graham is building a seven room modern home; E. F. Luttrell has just completed one five room modern frame house and has a similar one now under construction; L. L. Garton is starting a new home. D. M. Cloud is building a modern five room home. Willie Setts a five room modern home; J. F. Hukill is building a modern duplex, and will complete it within the near future. W. Mullinax, five room modern home; O. C. Rice, five room modern; Mrs. Agnes Barrett, modern five room stucco; Bert Isbell, five room home. Mrs. Nettie White has just completed her modern stucco apartment house in the east part of Pampa. Haynes and Ludeman have started construction on their ice plant which will be of tile and stucco, 32x60. W. H. Doyme has a modern six room home under construction. L. N. McCullough is building a modern four room frame house, and H. W. Johns is building a very nice six room modern home.

The W. R. Pickering Lumber Company is completing a new yard here, and the Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Company have their new yard under construction, as well as the Republic Oil Well Supply house which is starting and several new filling stations.

BIG GRAY COUNTY RANCH SOLD TO ARCHER CITY MAN

One of the largest real estate transactions in this section was recently consummated when W. H. Taylor of Archer County purchased the Medley ranch, which comprises some 29,000 acres.

The ranch was owned by George W. Medley of Fort Worth, and is one of the best known ranches in the Panhandle. It is located near Lefors.

Mr. Taylor now owns 63,000 acres of Panhandle ranch lands. He has ranches in Hartley and Moore counties.

This transaction is indicative of the interest that is being taken in Gray county real estate. Small tracts of farm and city property are also playing their part in the numerous trades that are being made in Pampa and surrounding territory, with quick sales and good profits being reported frequently.

HOME MERCHANT IS ENTHUSIASTIC OVER CITY'S GROWTH

W. P. Davis returned recently from Oklahoma City where he purchased a carload of furniture. Mr. Davis states that he is doing his best to keep up with the growth of Pampa, the fastest growing city in the Panhandle.

Mr. Davis has been here a number of years and has seen the town steadily advance and is enthusiastic for its continued growth.

SAM H. CARTER DIES IN AUSTIN

Sam H. Carter, 50 years old, secretary of the State Board of Control, died suddenly late Saturday night at his residence in Austin. He had not been in good health for some months and had recently taken a rest, but was at his office Saturday, feeling much better. He is survived by his wife and a daughter, Miss Virginia Carter, University of Texas student. Burial occurred here.

Elected first secretary of the State Board of Control, he has been that body's only secretary, having served more than six years. Bell County was his old home before moving to Austin.

AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Our free will offering to Home Missions last Sunday amounted to nearly $100. The morning preaching service closed with the membership extending the right hand of fellowship to a new member and leaving their offering for our mission work. In addition to this offering our W. M. U. is supporting a native missionary on the foreign field. Then 25 per cent of our budget goes to the general denominational work. It makes a pastor happy for his people to be interested in sending the Gospel to the ends of the earth.

Our Sunday school superintendent emphasized on the chart that we lack only three points of having an A-1 Sunday school. These points can be attained with the right effort on the part of the officers and teachers. Our enrollment must be increased, and we must also have a greater percentage of Bible. The first Sunday in April is to be observed as a special evangelistic day in the school. Let's be one of the 100 standard schools in Texas.

Sunday school meets at 10, preaching at 11, training service at 7, and the W. M. U. at 2 on Wednesday. Our evening preaching service and Wednesday evening prayer service are being dismissed for the revival meeting.

F. A. TIPPEN, Pastor.

Miss Mary Purviance of Panhandle, visited at the home of her uncle, Dr. W. Purviance, last week.

Miss Lella Rorex and Mr. R. Q. Green visited Miss Rorex' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rorex at Panhandle last Sunday.

Mrs. Lela L. Brown and Mrs. C. T. Hunkapiller transacted business in Amarillo Wednesday.

Orin Cannon and his brother of Pampa, Okla., sustained injuries when their car overturned four miles west of Pampa Wednesday. Orin received only minor injuries, but his brother suffered concussion and his condition is critical.

MISS COOK AND MRS. BROWN FORM REAL ESTATE FIRM HERE

The News has the pleasure of announcing the formation of a new firm for this rapidly growing city. The new firm will be known as Miss Cook & Mrs. Brown, Realtors, and as the name indicates, will be engaged in the real estate business.

The members of this new firm are Mrs. Lela L. Brown, formerly of Beaverton, Oregon, where she was engaged in the retail lumber business, and Miss Ruby Cook, Mrs. Brown had the distinction of being one of the only two women engaged in the retail lumber business.

Miss Ruby Cook, sister of Attorney C. C. Cook, is well known throughout this county, having lived in McLean for a number of years. She was president of the Panhandle Penwomen and knows many people in this section.

The News welcomes this new enterprise.

"PHANTOM OF THE OPERA" COMING TO CRESCENT THEATRE

H. A. Gilliland announces "The Phantom of the Opera," Lon Chaney's greatest picture, for Monday and Tuesday, March 29 and 30, at the Crescent Theatre.

This is a musical comedy troupe de luxe that is playing a full week in Panhandle to packed houses.

HAGGARD TAKES OVER IMPLEMENT BUSINESS

John Haggard announces to the public that he has taken over the implement house of Nels Walberg and will now manage that business.

Mr. Walberg did not state what he plans to do. He has been in Pampa for a number of years, and his many friends regret to see him leave this field. He has large farming interests which he will probably give his personal attention.

Mr. Haggard has resided in this county for a number of years, and The News and his many friends welcome him in his new enterprise.

Important Announcement Concerning Subscriptions

As was announced some weeks ago, The Pampa News will adjust its subscription rates so that the circulation department will be on a more substantial and equitable basis. It is the desire of the News management to publish a paper that is worth every cent asked.

All subscriptions received through the month of March will be credited at the rate of $1.50 a year regardless of the address to which the paper is being sent. That means it will be necessary to take prompt action if you desire to renew or subscribe at the reduced rates now in effect.

On April 1—not one day before or one day afterward—the rates will be $2.00 a year in the state of Texas. Texas rates will be $1.25 for six months and 65 cents for three months. Your subscription must be received by The Pampa News by March 31, and if mailed, it must bear that date to be given credit at the old rates.

Fair warning is given in this issue because we do not desire to have a single complaint over someone who may desire a year's subscription at the old rate on April 1 and 2. Readers will have simple time to mail their

EXTRA SHIPLOAD OF PIPE FOR PANHANDLE ON WAY TO HOUSTON

Due to the growing demand of the Panhandle oil field for material, the Southern Steamship Company, with sailings between Philadelphia and Houston, will operate an extra vessel from Philadelphia this week carrying fifty carloads of pipe destined for use in the Panhandle area. H. T. Lindsey, general agent of the company with offices at Dallas and Houston, said Thursday.

The ship carrying the pipe, S. S. The Flag, will be an additional sailing to the S. S. City of Dallas, which will leave Philadelphia Friday, also bound for Houston. The cargo of pipe, representing about half the capacity of the hold of the ship in which it will be carried, will be unloaded at Houston for shipment by rail to the oil field section.

The Southern Steamship Company has already arranged for six extra sailings in addition to its regular schedule of two boats a week due to the heavy demand for materials for the oil field, Mr. Lindsey said.

OIL FIELD NOTES

The Texas well on the W. J. Brown land west of Pampa is down about 1900 feet at the last report. A small cave-in caused some little delay, but drilling has been resumed.

A location has been made on the H. B. Lovett land, it is reported.

Marland has bought a quarter section in section 135 and one in 155 in block 3; sections 38 and 40 in block 26; and a quarter section in section 14, block A-6, Gray county.

The Empire No. 1 Heitloth, three miles west of Pampa was shot Wednesday, and it is reported that the flow was increased. It is understood that the well was making about thirty barrels before it was shot.

Wilcox No. 3 is reported flowing around six hundred barrels daily. The well has not been completely cleaned out since shooting.

Wilcox No. 4 is drilling with standard tools and the same company's No. 5 was spudded in early in the week.

AT THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The Pre-Easter evangelistic meeting is progressing in a very encouraging way. This is written after the service Tuesday evening. The attendance was larger than that of Monday evening, and the song service in charge of Horace McBee is proving an attractive feature of the meeting. The choir is responding in a splendid way, and many of the singers of the other churches are contributing their talent of song.

There were four questions in the question box Tuesday evening. "Who were Jesus best friends, and why?" "What is the sin against the Holy Spirit which shall never be forgiven?" "What verse is called the good confession?" "What did Paul mean in his first Corinthian epistle, first chapter, that Christ did not send him to baptize? Also explain baptism for the dead, fifteenth chapter?" All questions in the question box will be answered with chapter and verse from the scriptures.

The preaching this week is being devoted to questions asked Jesus that are still vital today. The answer that Christ made is still the answer today. Friday night the discourse will center about a question that Christ asked and left for everyone to ask out of their own daily experience. Do you know what that question is?

Plans are being made to make Sunday a special day throughout as the meeting turns to the second week which will lead up to Easter Sunday, closing Easter Sunday night if possible with a baptismal service.

JAMES TODD, Jr., Minister.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Dunagan, of Panhandle, visited Mrs. Dunagan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Sloan, Sunday. Mrs. Dunagan remained for a few days' visit with her sister, Mrs. Mel Davis, at Lefors.

Mrs. Louis Holmes has returned from an extended visit to Hayden, Arizona.

Mrs. George Winkler died Wednesday night of pneumonia. She was buried here Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Patherese and son, Clyde Patherese, of Canadian, were Amarillo visitors Wednesday.

DAY & ZIMMERMAN
TAKE MANAGEMENT OF LIGHT PLANT

(Amarillo News-Globe)
The Southwestern Public Service Company is now under the management of Day & Zimmerman, one of the very largest operators of public utilities in the United States.
The announcement was made Saturday upon the arrival of C. C. Christ, president of Philadelphia.
The ownership, said Mr. Christ, still remains with the Consolidated Power & Light Company, but Day & Zimmerman are managing other properties owned by other companies on a similar basis.
It is understood there will not be any important changes in the personnel of the Southwestern Public Service Company, which has been running along smoothly and efficiently under the management of C. E. Ma-

Kelg.
Mr. Christ stated Saturday that he was here to study the problem of taking care of Amarillo's needs. The Southwestern Public Service Company also owns the electric light plants at Pampa and Pampa, which are growing by leaps and bounds.
"It is agreeable to our company to dispose of the water system to the city on a basis that is fair and equitable," said Mr. Christ. "I am not familiar with all the different phases of the situation, but I do assure the people of Amarillo that we want to do what is right. It is our policy to cultivate the good will of the people of this community; to give them satisfactory service at rates as low as possible and to cooperate with the citizens in accelerating Amarillo's future growth."
Mr. Christ expects to spend much of his time here.
The Amarillo property was owned by the Deberry interests until last year when it was sold to a group of Chicago bankers who own the Consolidated Power & Light Company. The Southwestern Public Service Company then was formed. It owns three properties in Texas, four in New Mexico and three in Arizona, with the management directed from the Amarillo office.

J. N. Duncan states that the Methodist Church has completed filling in around the new building and there is still a large bank of dirt remaining that may be hauled away free of charge. Citizens of Pampa may secure same by seeing Mr. Duncan and hauling away.
Alvie Davis, of Corsicana, Texas, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Sloan. Mr. Davis says the Gray County oil field looks good to him and that he believes that its possibilities are greater than the Carson-Hatchinson County fields.

Junior Christian Endeavorers of the Christian Church will give a bazaar Saturday, March 27, at the Johnson Hardware & Implement store. 12c

KANSAS CITY
STOCK MARKET

CHAS. M. PIPKIN,
Market Correspondent

Kansas City Stock Yards.—Trade in fat steers developed an active turn Monday at strong to 25 cents higher prices. The upturn came as the result of continued moderate receipts. Indications are that the runs will remain light. Cows and heifers and stockers and feeders were fully steady. Hog prices were unchanged compared with last week's close but sharply lower on heavy hogs than the middle of last week. Heavy hogs continue to predominate and the light weight classes are scarce. The first spring lambs of the season sold at $16 a hundred pounds Monday. Fed lambs broke 25 cents and sheep were steady.

Monday's Receipts

Receipts Monday were 13,000 cattle, 8,000 hogs, and 11,000 sheep, compared with 13,000 cattle, 12,000 hogs and 10,000 sheep a week ago, and 16,825 year ago.

Beef Cattle

With total receipts of cattle about the same as a week ago the per cent of fat steers showed a moderate decrease and the loss was made up in butcher cattle and stockers and feeders. Killers were in the competition early for steers and bought freely at strong to 25 cents higher prices. Most sales were up 10 to 15 cents. No prime steers arrived. Some good steers sold at $9.75 to $10.15, and the bulk of the fed steers brought $8.50 to $9.50. Prime kinds would have brought $10.50 or better had they been available. Cows and heifers were in active demand at steady prices. They are still relatively higher than steers. Good to choice yearlings and mixed yearlings will find an increased outlet as the weather warms up. Veal calves were steady to slightly lower, best selling up to $10.50.

Stockers and Feeders

Though receipts of stockers and feeders were larger than a week ago demand was fully equal to the supply and prices ruled firm. Fleshy feeders in some cases were slightly higher. The advancing season keeps the demand strong.

Hogs

Steady prices compared with last week's close were quoted in the hog division. However the general market is lower than the middle of last week and heavy hogs show a material decline. Light weights are scarce and probably will continue so for some time. Light lights are selling at $13.25 to $13.50; the 165 to 210 pound classes at $12.75 to $13.25; 210 to 250 pounds $12.10 to $12.80; 250 to 325 pounds $11.25 to $12; packing sows $9.25 to $9.75, stags $9 to $9.50; pigs $13.25 to $14.25.

Sheep and Lambs

Fed lambs were quoted down 25 cents and sheep were steady. Most of the lambs sold at $12.25 to $13.15. Ewes sold up to $8.75; wethers $9 and yearlings $10.50. Some shorn lambs brought $10.25 to $10.75. A few head of spring lambs, the first of the season, sold at $16.

JONES INTRODUCES BILL FOR NEW DISTRICT COURT

Hon. Marvin Jones, representative of the Eighteenth District of Texas, has introduced a bill in Congress for the creation of the Lubbock Division of the Federal district court for the northern Texas district. The bill also has the hearty support of Senators Morris Sheppard and Earle B. Mayfield. The bill has been endorsed by Lynn County citizens, as people here can save a great deal of time and trouble in attending federal court if the division is created.

The new division, if created will include the following counties: Bailey, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Dickens, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Motley, Scurry, Terry and Yoakum. The court will be located at Lubbock.

The brief which has been compiled for use in making a fight for the creation of the new division shows the rapid growth of Lynn county and is shows that the number of farms of good advertising for that section.

Pampa's business activities and growth has aroused interest throughout several states in this section, as is shown by the number of new and renewal subscriptions that have come to the News office in the last two weeks. Another reason for this is subscribers are taking advantage of the old rate by renewing before the new subscription rate goes into effect.

PAMPA'S FUTURE

Pampa's future becomes more and more encouraging. We have already stressed the value of agriculture and oil to Pampa.

But it is encouraging to hear remarks like these from visitors: "Pampa is destined to be the largest city in the Panhandle north of Amarillo. The city is in the heart of such a rich territory that it cannot help growing." When business men, many of whom have seen oil communities come and go, make such statements, it is enough to make one believe in Pampa and determined to do his best for this city.

Proper encouragement should be given firms desiring to locate in this city. A man who represents one of the most substantial firms in the Southwest desires to open a store in Pampa, but he wants a site at a reasonable cost. The News believes that such firms would be an asset for any city.

When firms like that want to enter a city, it is time that the chamber of commerce and business leaders offer their co-operation. With this firm in Pampa, it is the News' belief that the trade territory of the city would actually be enlarged.

The line between getting a firm to locate here and not to locate here may be rather fine at times. A chance remark that may give the wrong impression to the visitor may be the deciding factor in Pampa, or any other city not obtaining an enterprise that would be an asset.

OIL CITIES LIBELED

The Panhandle oil field, of which Gray county has become a prominent factor, was severely libelled the other day by a Texas ranger, who was visiting in Amarillo. The ranger declared that there were 400 crooks of the North Central Texas oil field in the Panhandle.

Amarillo papers by giving wide publicity to the off-hand remarks of the ranger have done the whole section an injustice. The officer probably did not have any systematic way at estimating the number of crooks. He could have said 50 or 1,600 and probably been just as accurate in his estimates.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce says that there are 7,000,000 Americans looking for new homes. Hundreds of thousands of these people are continually prospecting, and trying to find their new homes—where they may find employment, health, excitement or whatever may be the urge which keeps them moving onward.

You go down the streets of any city and you will find many unemployed men. Just because a man is unemployed is no indication that he is a crook. Amarillo, Panhandle and Pampa, the three cities which are receiving the most play in the oil field, have numerous persons arriving daily in search of work.

Although there has been some theft in these cities, yet it is our belief that the oil workers have been pretty law-abiding. The amount of crime has not been large enough to warrant a Texas ranger libelling the oil cities of the Panhandle.

LONG-BELL OAK FLOORING

What the Neighbors Are Doing
We wouldn't for worlds tell who it was that was found in tears last week: After cleaning her floors for half a day, she had to sit down and weep. The cracks and the splinters in the worn old floors, no matter how hard she scrubbed, looked just as bad and nearly as sad. As the lady who rubbed and rubbed. Then her daughter came in and said, "Mother, dear, don't scrub them a minute more. I'll tell dad tonight, and he'll make it right. We'll soon have some fine oak floors." You'd think they are costly, but really they're not. And we needn't hear up very much. They'll lay the new floor, start at the front door, and then you'll sit up scrubbing so much. And think how they'll glisten—as smooth as wax. No trouble at all to clean. Say! won't we be swell—with floors trade-marked "Long-Bell"—Oak floors with that beautiful sheen.

THE GIRL AT THE RIBBON COUNTER
 By Clarence Coffin
 English IV, Pampa High School

Raymond Terrell had seated himself at his library table and unwrapped his purchase when steps sounded outside his door and were followed by a knock on the door. Raymond hastily rewrapped his purchase and went to the door. When he opened it, one of his friends stepped inside.

"Hello, Ray," he greeted. "How are you?"

"Fine, and how are you, Howard?" Raymond returned.

"Same here," Howard Stanton replied. "Where have you been all evening? I tried to phone you, but I couldn't get you. Oh, I see," he continued, as he picked up the small package which Raymond had just laid down, and proceeded to unwrap it.

"Ribbons!" he exclaimed, as the contents rolled out on the table. "Now what do you want with ribbons?" he asked, turning to Raymond.

"Why-er-ah-I-I bought them for my sister," Raymond stammered.

"I didn't know you had a sister," Howard returned, as he noticed Raymond's reddening face.

"Not my sister, but a little girl with whom I became acquainted," Raymond quickly regained his composure.

"Ah, come on and tell me her name. You can't put that over me," Howard entreated.

"I don't know her name, but she has the prettiest blue eyes and light brown hair," Raymond confessed. "And she works at the ribbon counter in the department store. I bought those ribbons so I would have an excuse to go in there."

"I'll have to see this blonde headed girl who has captured your heart. You, above all others. You, who have never looked at a girl twice in all your life."

"I'll introduce you to her one of these evenings," Raymond promised.

"Say, there is going to be a ball at the Ritz tomorrow night, and you are invited. You can bring someone with you if you want to," Howard announced, as he made ready to go.

"All right, I'll be there," Raymond promised, as he bade his friend good afternoon.

The next evening found Raymond headed for the ribbon counter in a certain department store. He would ask the girl to go with him to the ball. His heart thrilled at the thought and his steps quickened.

When he had been let in at the main entrance of the store, his eyes wandered over to the ribbon counter to see if she were still there. Yes, there she was. He immediately turned his footsteps in that direction.

When he emerged about fifteen minutes later, he carried a small package in his hand, but his face had a disappointed look.

"She refused to go with me," he mused to himself. "Now, I wonder why. Maybe it is because I am a stranger to her. He then remembered what she had said when he had insisted upon her going. 'I can't and remain true to my-myself,' she had said. I wonder what she meant by being true to herself. What did she start to say before she broke off? Maybe she started to say to 'her husband.' But he put that idea from his mind as improbable. She was surely not married, or she would not be working all day long at a ribbon counter.

The next evening, as he was headed for the department store, he encountered his friend, Howard. He thought it a good opportunity to introduce him to the girl, and easily persuaded him to go along.

As they entered the store, Howard was stopped by a business friend who was engaged in a business deal, but Raymond headed straight for the ribbon counter.

"Good evening, Miss Evans," he greeted her. He had learned her name the day before.

"Good evening. Is there something for you?" Miss Evans greeted him with a smile.

"Yes, I want two yards of sky blue ribbon," he said, then continued while Miss Evans wrapped the ribbon. "I have a friend I want to introduce to you when he gets here. He is over there at the door talking to a business friend."

"Who is he?" Miss Evans asked politely.

"He is the one with his back turned toward us," Raymond answered.

"His name is Howard Stanton."

"Howard Stanton!" the girl exclaimed, as she handed him the ribbon.

"Why, that's my-my fiance."

"Your what?" Raymond was thunderstruck.

"We are to be married next month," Miss Evans continued.

Raymond started toward the door, his brain in a whirl. Fiance! To be married next month! That was why she refused to go with him to the ball. That was what she started to say when she broke off. She could not be true to her sweetheart and go to balls with somebody else. Raymond saw it all now.

As he passed out the door, he just had sense enough to pull at Howard's sleeve and say, "She isn't here. She has gone."

The BULL'S EYE

Editor and General Manager WILL ROGERS

You Can't Smoke History

A fellow from Carolina wants to know where I get the idea that "Bull" Durham and George Washington come from the same state. He says, "Why don't you write and give the people the real History of 'Bull' Durham in its native State, South Carolina, that people would appreciate that more than these Bull Legends of yours."

Now thanks, Sir, for your good-natured suggestion. If I knew History I wouldn't be able to write "Bull" Durham Ads. I would be a College Professor, get everything right, and get nothing for it. Everything you suggested me telling the public about when and where "Bull" Durham originated, has been told for 66 years by typical Advertising writers. That's the only thing the Company asked of me was "please don't tell again where it came from, or how." You see you didn't read their Ads, but you did read mine and remembered it, because it was wrong.

Writing Ads that will be remembered is a queer game. This is an Ad, not a History. I selected Ads over History on account of the pay. (American Tobacco Company's pay is as good as its tobacco.) Where "Bull" Durham comes from or where it goes to is left for the starving Historian.

Will Rogers

P.S. You notice I named in this article the WRONG Carolina. That's so North Carolina will get sore because I named South Carolina, and South Carolina will get sore because I didn't name North Carolina. A true Southerner never forgets.

POULTRY SHOW

Wellington Leader: Collingsworth County will hold a poultry show on April 7 and 8. Encouraged by County Agent C. C. Stinson and Home Demonstration Agent Miss Peggy Hill, a number of enterprising poultry men have made arrangements to have this show. It is a move in the right direction. It will awaken interest in a very profitable business that could be conducted by more farmers in this community. It will also furnish valuable instruction by the poultry specialists who will be present at the show.

Collingsworth County has the essentials necessary for the successful production of poultry. This business has been a profitable side line of many farms for several years past, and in times when the interest in the production of chickens, turkeys, etc., was not great. With a poultry association functioning and with the farmers of the community awakened to the possibilities of growing poultry, this business is destined to become an important part of the revenue of Collingsworth County.

The Leader is glad to see such interest taken in the poultry business in this year when there seems to be so much risk in the production of cotton. Not only does poultry bring sure money to the raisers, but it brings it steadily throughout the year, if the business is handled properly. The movement to awaken more interest in poultry in Collingsworth County is to be encouraged.

G. C. Malone spent Friday and Saturday in Wichita, Kan., selecting new furniture and rugs in the newest designs.

When You Trade Your Car—

Ford owners are continually being approached by automobile salesmen who wish to "accept" Fords as part payment on more expensive cars.

But, bear these facts in mind: The amount of the trade-in allowance you can get is not the most important thing for you to consider. The big thing is the difference you have to pay. And remember, that the higher priced car will not be so easy to dispose of when you come to trade it in.

It is logical that automobile dealers should be eager to trade with Ford owners. No other used car is so easy to sell as a used Ford—because everyone has confidence in Ford quality. And it is not expensive to recondition, since Ford replacement parts are lowest in price.

If you wish to trade your Ford for a new automobile, stick to the car that you know to be dependable, useful and economical. Go to your Ford dealer!

Most automobiles carry greater discounts to dealers than the Ford—another reason why other dealers may offer the Ford owner a larger trade-in allowance.

He will give you a fair and liberal allowance for your present Ford and will gladly arrange payment of the balance to suit your convenience.
