

Open Letters by Pa Pampa

Dear Kiwanians: FELLOWS: Well, I see you are off to a start on selling tickets for your annual games tournament at the Schneider on Friday Nov. 13. In view of the fact that all of the money that goes into the fund for undernourished children—I can't for the life of me see how anybody is going to be able to turn you down—even if they can't go to the party. The hotel should be so packed that night, that they'll be hanging out of the windows, I hope. PA PAMPA.

To North Texas Band-amen. MUSICIANS: Thank you for selecting my city as the best spot to hold your school band and orchestra contests next spring. I understand there will be about a thousand schoolboy and schoolgirl band and orchestra members here for the occasion. We are happy to have you, and we're going to do our level best to make your three-day visit here one that will be enjoyable. And when it's all over, we are certain you'll feel so kindly toward us that you'll want to come back again soon. PA PAMPA.

To Gov. Landon DEAR ALF: I've been thinking about you all week. You sure can take it. They've shot a lot of puns and alleged witticisms at you, but you seem to be a pretty good loser and are holding up well under the barrage. After all, the world admires a good loser, and you appear to be just that. I noticed a crack in Tex's Topics the other day about your duck hunting plans. Well, he may believe that the ducks have nothing to worry about, but I'm hoping you get your limit and have an enjoyable time. After what you have gone through, you deserve it. PA PAMPA.

To Panhandle Kids DEAR CHILDREN: Reckon you have seen the announcement in the papers that Saturday, Dec. 5, is Santa Day in Pampa. Santa Claus has slipped down the chimney in Panhandle that that's the day on which he'll pay his official pre-Christmas visit to Pampa to meet all little boys and girls who have made up their minds what they would like to have for Christmas. Santa will head a big street parade, the town will be decorated and the Christmas season will be on in full swing. Better tell your dads and mothers right now, that this day has been set aside in Pampa for you—and that you're depending on them to bring you to town and meet jolly old Saint Nick. PA PAMPA.

To Ex-Soldiers DEAR BUDDIES: Only three more days until your big Armistice Day celebration, and if you hear in advance it's going to be a big event and will be given full support by my citizens. Here's wishing you the greatest of success in your Pampa observance of the 18th annual celebration of the end of that great world conflict. PA PAMPA.

To Paragraphers DEAR THINKER-UPPERS: You fellows sure have been doing your darndest lately, but I want to take the time out here to pin a rose on one of you who's done a really good post-election crack about "As Maine goes, so goes Vermont." That's got it, so far as I am concerned. PA PAMPA.

To Uncle Sam. DEAR UNKLE: Just wanted to drop you a line to tell you that even your old Pa, in his dotage, has occasion now and then to learn something new. For instance, I never knew until today that if I'm in one of your postoffices around the nation, nobody can arrest me, but your U. S. marshal unless permission has been obtained from the postmaster. However I guess there's nothing to prevent a peace officer from dragging me out into the street and then arresting me, is there? PA PAMPA.

To County City Officials. DEAR SIRS: I think you cannot go wrong by following the recent recommendation of the county grand jury to look into the possibilities of getting a police broadcast system into operation in Gray county. With the same kind of hook-up in adjoining counties it will make a dead-clinch for law enforcement officers to catch up with and block off crooks in flight. PA PAMPA.

To Pampa Citizens. DEAR FOLK: At 9 o'clock next Thursday morning a corps of team workers will begin solicitation for memberships in the 1936 roll call of the Pampa chapter of the American Red Cross. The goal this year is $2,000 and 1,000 members. The story of what the Red Cross does for a community has been so firmly established in America that there is little need for me to expand on it. JUDGE WRITES UNIQUE VERDICT AS CITY JUROR

'Not Quite Guilty,' Is Opinion of Local Jurist

"We, the jury, find the defendant not quite guilty." That was the verdict of a jury, returned in city police court Friday afternoon when Byron E. Van Pelt was tried on a charge of illegally hauling garbage in violation of a city ordinance. City Judge W. M. Craven was in the chair. Walter Rogers represented the city with John Studer defending Mr. Van Pelt. The jury foreman, Judge W. R. Ewing, Bob Seeds, Mark Pickle, C. R. Cobb and J. S. Starkey. Judge Ewing, presiding judge of the 31st district court, was subpoenaed for jury duty. When the jurors were asked if they had any good reason for not serving on the jury, there was no negative response. Judge Craven informed Judge Ewing that he was exempt if he desired to claim exemption. Said Judge Ewing, "I am eligible for jury duty and I believe it is his duty of every eligible juror to serve in that capacity when called upon to do so."

After hearing witnesses and lengthy arguments by the two attorneys, the jury started its deliberation with the unique verdict being returned. Jurors agreed that Van Pelt was guilty of hauling garbage, but were not convinced that he was hauling it in violation of a city ordinance. The jury started its deliberation had failed to read into the trial records the city ordinance which it claimed Van Pelt had violated. So Judge Ewing, who wrote the verdict, decided that the defendant was "not QUITE guilty."

TICKET COMMITTEE FOR TOURNEY ANNOUNCED

Members of the ticket committee for the Kiwanis Club games tournament for the benefit of underprivileged children was announced Saturday by Chris Martin, general chairman. Those on the committee are: Dan McGrew, E. W. Voss, Dr. R. M. Johnson, Alex Schneider, John Roby, Garnet Reeves, L. Nicholson, Jack Goldston, Allen Hodges, W. V. Jarratt, W. N. Dean, and Fred Thompson. These Kiwanians will conduct a ticket selling drive all next week for the tournament which is to be held in Schneider Hotel next Friday night, Nov. 13. Tickets are $1 a couple. All money derived from the benefit will be turned into the fund for Pampa's underprivileged children. Those who attend the party will have the choice of playing contract or auction bridge, dominoes, or bingo. Bill Jarratt, Pat Patterson and Gene Patthere attended the Miami Canadian football game in Miami Friday afternoon.

Pampan Fined for Shooting Firearms On Public Highway

There has been plenty of shooting in Pampa lately, and because some residents have come too close to being made a human target — they thought there ought to be a law against it. Well, there is. Robert Helms learned this yesterday when he was fined $18.15 in Justice E. F. Young's court following his plea of guilty to shooting firearms along a public highway. The law, prohibiting the act, reads like this: "Any person who shoots or discharges any gun, pistol or firearm in, on, or along a public road in this state shall be fined not more than $100." Helms, it was charged, was firing a 22-calibre rifle. Sheriff's officers stated yesterday that numerous similar complaints have been received in the past few weeks.

BRITISH SAY FASCISTS ARE ENTERING CITY

MADRID, Nov. 8 (Sunday) (AP)—Socialist militiamen, fighting off Fascist forces marching against the capital, massed tanks and guns today to withstand an insurgent counter-attack expected at dawn. Thousands of refugees milled about in their search for havens as a number of insurgent shells scored hits on their houses on the outskirts of the capital. The militiamen, girding themselves for the morning struggle, took heart from the successful resistance last night to Fascist onslaughts at Villaverde and El Campamento, north of Carabanchel Alto and south of Madrid. (This dispatch was sent from Madrid at 2:25 a. m. Sunday, Madrid time 10:25 p. m. Saturday C. S. T.)

By The Associated Press MADRID, 5:55 p. m., (12:55 p. m. EST), Nov. 7—Guarantees against pillage and crime during the crucial moments of defense of the capital were issued tonight by the defense council which took over jurisdiction after the socialist cabinet fled to Valencia. General Jose Miaja, heading the LEGANES, Spain, Nov. 7 (AP)—Spanish fascists tonight awaited the signal to fall upon Madrid as they commanded the approaches to four bridges across the Manzanares river only a few hundred yards from the capital's city limits. Insurgent leaders declared if the bridges remained intact in the morning, it was possible for their forces to enter Madrid tomorrow.

MADRID, Nov. 7—Spain's socialist cabinet fled today while fascist forces stormed close to the gates of the city. A command committee took command of Madrid's defenses replacing the civil government. Hope the capital's defenders would consent to surrender the city without further defense was expressed by diplomatic sources. An agreement under which prisoners and hostages would be exchanged together with an insurgent guarantee of no reprisals without a fair trial was being negotiated. The government later established headquarters in the Benicarlo palace at Valencia where the ministers met in secret session. The fleeing ministers gave full authority to Gen. Jose Miaja to take whatever steps he deems necessary to defend the capital from the insurgent attacks. The London foreign office was informed by G. D. O'Gillie-Forbes, British charge d'affaires in Madrid, that fascist troops were entering the city at 5 p. m. (noon, EST.)

Intent upon pushing into the capital, fascist artillery continued heavy bombardment of the city's outlying section. Inside, defending militiamen were ordered to "fight without quarter, without truce." Developments in the 72 hours, the war ministry predicted, would tell the story of Madrid's successful defense of fall.

Immediately following the World War, the American Legion formed an Americanism commission. One of its first steps was to confer with the National Education Association...

A major purpose of American Education Week is to induce the average citizens to investigate one of the worlds largest businesses in which he is a stockholder with voting power.

Each year the cost of public schools in the United States shows an increase over the year before. In a majority of the states, counties and local communities the same thing is happening.

Table with 2 columns: Year (1880-1934) and Enrollment (110,277 to 5,669,156)

According to these figures the annual increase for the four year period from 1930-1934 has been 314,248 or 6.5 percent per year.

Can we compare the cost of education today with what it was five or ten years ago? What about the cost of transportation, music, home economics, art, vocational agriculture, shop work, physical education, health work...

We are all stockholders in the school business, a business in the United States that is worth five and one half billion dollars with an annual expenditure of two billion dollars.

We magnify the schools during one week each year because through them we develop the finer values of our civilization. American Education week is observed annually to inform the public as to the needs, aims, and achievements of the schools.

During this week each American stockholder in the great public corporation of organized learning is urged to see for himself how the business is being conducted and to find out how he may use his influence to improve the general commerce of ideas.

It may force new financing. Since tax receipts aren't so very large these days it might be better than a few years back the financial rating of quite a few municipalities may be impaired.

MIRROPHONIC SOUND TO BE IN USE HERE

WILL OPEN AT LANORA NEXT FRIDAY IN 'CHARGE' FILM

Carl Benefiel, manager of the La Nora theater, announced definitely today that installation of Western Electric's New Mirrophonic Sound would be completed and ready Friday night at 7:00 o'clock. Booked to give Pampans a real test in their judging the new sound is Warner Brothers' newest picture, "The Charge of the Light Brigade" which begins Friday night with the opening at 7:30 and continues thru Saturday.

Elaborate plans are being made to herald Mirrophonic's installation in Pampa and this territory "Miss Mirrophonic". Western Electric's hostess, will be at the door Friday night to greet Pampa's first nighters and to present a souvenir of the opening to each lady. Officials from both Western Electric, producers of Mirrophonic, and the Griffith Amusement company, will be present to participate in the opening.

The new sound equipment, perfected by the scientists of Bell Telephone Laboratories and Electrical Research Products, who are the perfecting and research laboratories for Western Electric, is claimed to be the most revolutionary forward step in sound production mechanism since the introduction of talking movies. Demonstrations, held in various large cities, indicated an untapped public interest in the life-like and dramatic sound reproduction of this new equipment, and an automatic increase in theater attendance after Mirrophonic's introduction.

"I would explain the technical reasons why Mirrophonic Sound equipment gives movie goers a new thrill," Manager Benefiel says, "but the important fact is the thrill itself. Every advance in motion pictures has proved a boon to the movie-going public. Even back in the days of the nickelodeon, and running on through serials, Westerns, full length features, epic era talking pictures, and finally color, it has been proved that the greater the development of the art, the more people came to the theaters."

"One point, however, cannot be too greatly stressed," he continued. "Up to the development of Mirrophonic Sound, the movies remained essentially a picture art. It lacked that vital reality, that living 'something' that grips the audience only when perfection of sound accompanies the perfection of the picture itself."

The Mirrophonic demonstrations have conclusively proved that living sound can now be reproduced. But it has accomplished more than this. It has banished, at one stroke, the age-old problem of 'good seats' and 'bad seats' in the theater. No matter where a person sits, a murmur, a sigh, or the most terrifying sounds, such as an earthquake, thunder, war scenes, the roar of waves—they will have a complete faithfulness to the original sound. Similarly, the sound of speaking and singing voices have an entirely living quality, heretofore not even remotely approached.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD—Nelson Eddy gets more birthday presents on July 29, he says, than he does on his real birthday, which is June 29.

He traces the cause to an error in the biographical blank which all players fill in on arrival at the studio. He wrote in the proper date but a stenographer, typing it off later, made him a month younger. (Probably because nobody paid much attention to Eddy in all those months before he made "Naughty Marietta," anyway.)

But errors like that are constantly making stars reply to letter-writing fans, "Sorry, but you're mistaken."

The errors become amusing when they result in gratuitous offers of horoscopes, numerological forecasts, and other services which many hundreds of people are ever eager to render the stars.

Eddy, for instance, gets numerous horoscope readings from "experts" who go to extremes to show what a lucky fellow Nelson was to have been born July 29. That, you see, put him under a lucky star and assured his success as a singer.

The would-be genealogists are thrown into frequent confusion by the mean little habit Hollywood has of changing its puppets' names. They seldom bother to trace the family tree of Lily Chausolin or Jane Peters, but for Claudette Colbert or Carole Lombard they offer complete histories of the Colbert or Lombard families, generation by generation. Joan Crawford had a chance recently to buy—for $250—a full story of the Crawford family, relating its name origin, its famous members, and tracing the line on down to Joan. The one-time Billie Cassin, naturally, couldn't be interested.

The Taylors over America who "just know" they are related to handsome Robert, and perhaps to his movie income, if only they could have a little help from Bob in figuring it out, have become numerous since his rise in the world. So Spangler Arlington Brugh takes pen in hand and writes, "Sorry, but you're mistaken."

Bruce Cabot had to chuckle over that nice coat-of-arms someone created for the House of Cabot, Bruce's real name being Jacques de Bujac. And Jeanette MacDonald got a nice handwriting analysis the other day which was especially interesting because the penmanship on which it was based was not Jeanette's but her secretary, who signed and aided a preceptor to Jeanette's dictated letter.

Fan mail reflects, too, to an amazing degree the writer's conception of the star based on his film roles. The "horror" actors, Karloff and Lugosi, get many letters obviously from people who seek advice on occult matters. Harpo Marx, according to many letter writers, is a deaf mute because he does not speak on the screen.

POLITICAL VIEWS ARE VOICED AT NEWSREEL

"As go Pampa preview patrons, so goes the nation," would be more fitting than the political axiom of Maine forecasting the nation's vote for President.

Maine's decisively unfavorable leadership in last Tuesday's election was directly contrary to the reaction awarded the presidential candidates as they appeared on the screen in a newsreel at the LaNora Halloween preview.

Governor Landon's appearance on the screen brought such an unanimous voice of disapproval from the audience that Manager Benefiel was under the impression his projectionist might have started screening a western. However, by the time he was able to see the screen, scenes of President Roosevelt threw the house into an uproar of approval.

500 HOUNDS ARE ENTERED IN ANNUAL FOX AND WOLF HUNT

CROCKETT, Nov. 7 (AP)—Five hundred hounds, backed by the hardy sportsmen of the Texas Fox and Wolf Hunters association, will make life miserable for fox in the piny woods hereabouts at daybreak Monday.

At that time, sportsmen from 25 states will gather for the 44th annual field trials of the association at Camp Jim McLean in the eastern part of Houston county. Fifty wily Georgia fox have been imported to augment the local stock, which hunters say is unusually numerous this year.

The hunt, officials said, is the largest in America. Will A. Gillespie of Overton, veteran hunter, is master of hounds and will make the first cast when day breaks tomorrow. At that time, hounds under two years—novices at running the clever fox—will be loosed in derby day competition. The three day running of all age field trials will start Tuesday and the grand champion hound will be named Thursday.

The judges will score the dogs on ability to find and run down fox, on their poise in the stirring chase through the wooded, rolling country, and on the speed with which they finish the hunt.

Two new trophies are offered this year. Friends of H. L. Wilson, veteran fox hunter who died last fall, offer a memorial challenge trophy for high score in hunting and trailing. Another new award is offered by the sportsmen of Houston county. The famous Cambino Real, the old King's Highway—the historic trail traversed by LaSalle and his doughty men—crosses the grounds where the hunt will be staged. Near the tent city which will house the 5,000 visitors who are expected for the event and the accompanying festivities, are the ruins of the old stage coach station of the days of the Texas Republic.

The bench shows, another competitive feature of the meeting, will be judged by Sam Wooldrige of Versailles, Kentucky.
