TEXAS TOPICS

We read something the other day in an exchange that carried us back to boyhood days when we spent the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays on granddad's farm in Ohio.

With holiday time rolling 'round again, thoughts just naturally turn to holidays of other years, and family ties that cannot be severed—even by Death.

The modern heating systems in homes are a great convenience, giving a quality of comfort not enjoyed when less efficient systems were used.

It was around the roaring fireplace that the family gathered. The family had to furnish its own entertainment, for there was no radio to furnish a synthetic form of diversion.

Stories told to us, while the flames leaped up the chimney, made a profound impression. Also there were the apples, which browned and spluttered on the hearth as they toasted to a delicious flavor no high-priced chef in ornate kitchen could match.

Of course, in a general way, the fireplace had to go. Yet, we never see a pile of firewood upon a porch, indicating that the home even with the modern heating plant has this luxury, without feeling a sense of envy.

Texas' delegation to Congress will be guests of honor at a dinner, to which also have been invited state officials and members of the forty-fifth legislature.

U. S. Senator Joe T. Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic floor leader, has telegraphed Roy Miller, director of the Democratic national campaign committee of Texas.

Two other national political figures were among early acceptances: Gov. Leslie T. Miller, of Wyoming, and Gov. Clyde L. Herring, U. S. Senator-elect from Iowa.

Texas Democrats also hoped that Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, could continue his Texas visit of this week until that date, and be present at the exposition jubilee.

To climax the day's festivities, sky-high parades of President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Vice President John N. Garner will be emulated in fire above the Cotton Bowl.

In New York some one has started what is to be known as "The Association for the Prevention of Elevator Hais in Elevators."

The association, it is reported, does not intend that its rule shall apply in hotel elevators. They are like homes, more or less, and the removal of the hat has been so long accepted as a matter of common respect that most men would not want the rule repealed.

Men are not required to take off their hats when they walk into an office building. There is really no reason why the hat should be removed when that same man gets into an elevator in that same building.

Most "starters" do not permit an elevator to leave the ground floor until it is packed like a can of sardines. If a man is able to get his arm to his head, he has that he is sort of a Houdini. To get that hat off his head and down to his side is not only a trick, it isn't good for the "lid." More than one good hat has come out of an elevator with wrinkles. The association has a place in American business life.

Officials at an eastern college wonder how to tell when a football fan is drunk. They might check up on those who shout, "Kill the umpire."

Film dance director says, "Go barefoot until you're 18 if you want."

TORONTO, Nov. 20 (Canadian Press)—In a decision upholding the validity of the famous "stork derby" clause of the Miller will, Mr. Justice W. E. Middleton today ruled that the $500,000 prize was intended for the "mothers of legitimate children only."

TORONTO, Nov. 20 (Canadian Press)—Justice W. E. Middleton today upheld the validity of the "stork derby" clause of Charles Vance Millar's will.

Some 17 mothers competed in the derby, which wound up in a welter of ties, conflicting claims and accusations.

The judgment was preliminary in nature. It ruled against the claims of the Toronto lawyer who contended the 10-year baby race was against public policy.

Later Mr. Justice Middleton will hear evidence on the claims of the leading mothers and direct the executors of the will as to distribution of the $500,000.

ARBITRATION IS SUCCESSFUL CLAIMS LECHE

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 20 (AP)—Governor Richard W. Leche announced today complete settlement by arbitration of the "violent Louisiana and Arkansas Railway strike."

Although details of the settlement were not revealed, representatives of the four brotherhoods which walked out on Sept. 19 said the approximately 300 strikers would "soon be back at work."

The strike originally was called for more pay and better working conditions.

The governor conferred with railroad officials and workers' spokesmen last week and continued the conference Wednesday, Thursday and into the early hours of this morning.

He said they had "reached an agreement settling all differences" and that concessions made by both sides were a "tribute to the patriotism and sound judgment of all parties concerned."

Six trainmen have died in wrecks and one was shot from ambush in the cab of his engine since the strike started. Numerous derailments have occurred, bridges have been burned and men and women sympathizers have halted and seized freight and passenger trains and beaten the crews.

The railway has 831 miles of track in Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas, operating between New Orleans, Shreveport, La., Hope, Ark., and Dallas, Tex.

GREENVILLE, Nov. 20 (AP)—Striking employes of the Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas railroad were notified today a settlement had been reached, through the aid of Gov. Richard Leche of Louisiana, in which each side made concessions on disputed points.

More than 100 men in the railroad's transportation department in Texas awaited orders to return to posts vacated in the walk-out last Sept. 19.

The strikers were aroused from bed by telephone calls from their representatives to be informed a conference between Gov. Leche, railroad executive and representatives of the strikers had finally resulted in a satisfactory agreement.

LEGION PLANS TOY MATINEE

A Christmas and membership program was outlined at the regular meeting of Kerley-Crossman Post No. 334 American Legion at the Legion hut last Wednesday night.

The Legion will cooperate with the La Nora theater in sponsoring a kiddie matinee about the middle of December. Admission to this matinee will be some kind of a serviceable toy. These toys will be distributed at Christmas to underprivileged children by the Legion and La Nora theatre.

It is the hope of the Legion that every needy family in Pampa will have a Good Fellow for a Santa Claus. Plans were made to establish a booth in the city hall to be used as a place where Good Fellows can apply for their family to which they want to play Santa Claus. This booth will be in charge of the Legion Auxiliary under Mrs. Katie Vincent, president. Information as to who will be helped will be gathered from the Red Cross, relief office and welfare organizations.

A membership drive in the American Legion is in progress. In all members should have a member by next regular meeting night, Dec. 2. The penalty for not having a new member is being "boudoir maid to a donkey." Services have been arranged for the hardest-headed donkey in this country. This donkey is reputed to have a "head harder than the corner stone in the court house," said Charlie Maisel, commander.

Entertainment was furnished by the history class of the high school under the direction of Ernest Cabe.

A sponsor for a special train has not been secured although a price of 85 cents for the round trip has been set by the Santa Fe railroad. The train could leave here at 1 o'clock and be back by 6 o'clock. It would require 250 reservations to make the train possible.

Pampans interested in the train are urged to call the local Santa Fe office, phone 612, and if enough interest is manifested, the special train will be run.

Special trains were operated to Amarillo on the three previous meetings of the two teams on Butler field.

Reservoir Breaks and Sweeps Down on Village

OSARUSAWA, Akita Prefecture, Japan, Nov. 20 (AP)—Three thousand rescue workers dug tonight in treacherous mud for the bodies of 1,000 missing residents of this town, engulfed by the rushing waters of a broken mine reservoir.

Some of the bodies were buried 20 feet deep in the poisonous ooze. Eighty bodies had been found at nightfall.

The railroad bureau said 320 houses had been swept away, and 200 inundated. The known dead was placed at 250, with 1,000 still missing.

The torrent raced down upon the village from one of the largest copper mines in the empire. Sleeping inhabitants were trapped in their beds. Their homes were caught up by the flood and dashed against the rocky banks of a mountain stream.

The majority of the residents met immediate death by drowning. Others were suffocated in mud carried by the water, a poisonous solution which was used at the mine for washing copper ores.

Hundreds of bodies were washed onto the banks of the mountain transformed in a muddy torrent. Many were women, who still clasped babies in their arms.

Rehabilitation work began immediately after the news of the disaster was flashed to nearby Atika City.

The bursting of the reservoir was believed caused by heavy rains which swelled its contents.

Rescue workers found only 18 survivors.

Those going are asked to call Mr. Shell at No. 6 by Saturday afternoon so he can notify the host church how many to prepare supper for. "This should be a great program. BLACK-DRAUGHT For Clean System Helps To Prevent Sickness

One of the advantages of Black-Draught is that, if it is taken at the first disagreeable feeling of constipation, one or two doses usually bring relief. Prompt relief, such as that, is well worth while. Constipation is too dangerous to be neglected.

"A clean system for health" plan has saved thousands of people much useless sickness. They keep a package of Black-Draught in the family medicine cabinet and take this purely vegetable laxative at the first sign of constipation. They say the relief it brings is mighty hard to beat.

Find out, by trying it, why so many people prefer Black-Draught when it comes to buying a laxative.

The Front Door Took This 'Rap'

Knock, knock! . . . Who's there? . . . Auto. . . Auto who? . . . Auto came in auto the cold. The only suggestion for improving this version of the word game might be made by J. A. Pitch, into whose Los Angeles home the auto crashed after jumping the curb. Pitch was wishing the auto had chosen some other place to play the game. The car came to a halt after knocking down the front door.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance.

Paul's pride in being a free-born Roman citizen was shaken considerably when he found that the justice he had assumed he could obtain by appealing unto Caesar was not forthcoming, or was at least long delayed.

The intrigues against him in Palestine, he realized, might bias the mind of a Roman governor anxious to conciliate the people, so Paul stood upon his rights as a citizen and appealed to Rome. The trip there was sufficiently exciting, for it was characterized by the shipwreck of which we have such a safe in Rome, was disappointed that his case did not come up quickly for trial. Though he had the privilege of living in his own house, he was guarded constantly and was literally an ambassador in chains.

The strange contrasts that play in Roman life and history are emphatic.

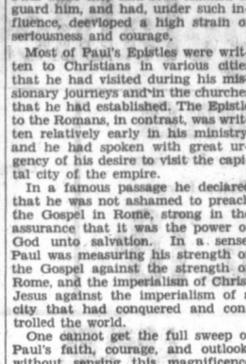

thrilling story. But Paul eventually sized in this story of Paul's imprisonment there. It seems remarkable that the iron hand of Rome, characterized often by so much violence, should, nevertheless, rest easily enough on Paul, to allow him even more liberty than is allowed most prisoners today.

Paul's failure to get justice was traceable to conditions similar to those which fetter justice today. There were hidden and intense influences, so strong in Palestine, might easily have followed him to Rome.

For two years, however, Paul lived in his own house, receiving all who came to see him. The man who had traveled near and far preaching the Gospel, now turned this different opportunity to new account, preaching as others came to him.

There is a tradition that there was a body of Roman soldiers known as

Transport That Will Defy Atlantic

In test flights being conducted at Montreal a Burnelli transport plane, like that sketched, is being prepared by Clyde Pangborn for a flight across the Atlantic for delivery to its purchaser. The roomy cabin suggests the design as one suitable for the proposed transatlantic passenger and freight service.

ONLY WISCONSIN HAD JOBLESS INSURANCE LAW BEFORE 1935

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Aside from instituting Federal pensions, the Social Security Act was designed primarily as a lever for the enactment of unemployment insurance by 47 states.

Wisconsin alone had such legislation before 1935. Year after year it had been argued successfully in some states that unemployment taxes would be an unfair handicap on home industry because other states had none.

So Congress imposed a uniform tax on businesses that employ 8 or more persons as many as 20 days a year, each of those days being in a different calendar week. The rates: 1 per cent of wages paid this year, due on January 31; 2 per cent of 1937 wages, 3 per cent of wages in 1938 and thereafter.

But—and here is where the leverage comes in—the employers in states operating unemployment insurance laws approved by the Security Board can deduct taxes paid under those laws from the Federal tax, up to 90 per cent of the amount of the federal assessment.

LITTLE THEATER GROUP ORGANIZED AT BORGER

BORGER, Nov. 20.—A temporary organization which is expected to become a Little Theater was formed this week when 45 drama enthusiasts met at the American Legion hall.

Jerry Rydell was named temporary chairman. Plans were launched to present a charity play on Dec. 21.

Persons once declared insane are forever denied the privilege of voting in North Carolina.

Transport That Will Defy Atlantic

In other words, if a department store owner has a $100,000 payroll and his tax for the state fund is 0.9 per cent (as it is in 11 states for 1936), he must pay $900 to the state and $100 to Washington. If the state has no approved law, the entire $1,000 comes to the treasury.

Many individuals have been inquiring about the relationship between old age pensions under the Security Act and unemployment in-

Insurance. There is none. The taxes are separate and distinct.

Using Mr. Ben and his son-in-law, Britus Bolt, to illustrate whether they will be directly benefited by the unemployment insurance provision depends on whether their state has an insurance system. If it has, each must apply to the state employment office for assistance.

Other basic requirements:
No unemployment compensation can be paid until two years after the state taxes first fall due. This was to allow time for the state to build up its fund and time to set up administrative machinery in the state on an efficient basis.

The state fund must be held in the national treasury.
All money withdrawn from the "unemployment trust fund" must be used solely for compensation to those out of work.
(Administrative expenses are met by the Federal government.)
Compensation must not be denied those eligible for benefits for refusing to accept work if the position offered is vacant because of a labor dispute, if the wages or hours of the job are less favorable than those prevailing in the locality, or if the man is required to promise to join a company union or to resign from or refrain from joining "a bona fide labor organization."
Finally, the state legislature must be left free to amend or repeal its law.

To qualify for the weekly benefits, Mr. Ben and other unemployed must be able to show a work record over a period of time that differs in the various states.
Once the benefits begin, they go on for a period depending on how long a man was employed. Usually he gets a week of benefit for each four weeks of employment. The amount under practically all the present state laws is half what his wages were, with a $15 a week maximum.

ANHANDLE, PERRYTON TO HAVE STRONGEST TEAM IN WEARS TOMORROW

CONNIE SPARKS IS SPARKPLUG OF PANTHERS

LINEUPS OF BOTH CLUBS ARE EXPERIENCED PLAYERS

When two football teams are scheduled to meet in a championship battle and neither will agree to play on the other's gridiron, a neutral ground is chosen. That happened this week when Perryton and Pampa Class B teams play for the District 2B title, so Harvesters field at Pampa was chosen with Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock the hour set, and 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students the price.

Each team will present its strongest team in many years. Size and speed will be combined in each of the lineups. The opposing coaches attended the same college and roomed together for several years. Now each would rather "win than eat."

Coach Pat Herald of the Panthers has a powerful team built around 180-pound Connie Sparks, his quarterback and already a two-letter man. His brother, Nolan Sparks, 170, is another threat, especially as a pass receiver and blocker. Grayard provides the speed from the backfield. The other tackle slot, Howe and Anderson are small but veteran guards. Paul and Watt are medium size ends. Eagle handles the center assignment.

Up in Perryton Fullback Jones and Quarterback McWilliams are the dangerous ball throwers. Schroeder's educated toe being a big offensive threat. Lilly is a mid-guard blocking back of rare ability.

Perryton's power is in the line where Johnson, a 195-pound tackle, and his position mate on the other side of the line, Ferguson, 235, lead the fight. Kuhn, big center, is the line backer de luxe. Home and Garrison, guards, are not big but they have had considerable experience. Kent and Pittman hold down the end jobs.

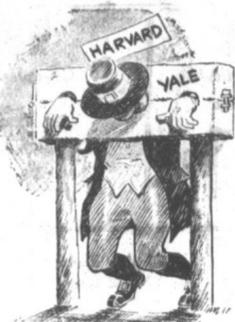

Pampa will extend the visiting teams and fans a big welcome. Pampa merchants will display their "welcome" flags. Yesterday afternoon the mayors of the two cities spoke over station KPDM.

Pampa Jaycees will lead the parade of activity by selling and taking tickets, policing the grounds and welcoming the visitors. They will be assisted by local merchants and citizens.

Following the game the visiting players, their coaches and school officials will be tendered a banquet in the high school cafeteria. Special guests will be the Wheeler Mustangs, District 3B champions, their coaches and school officials. The dinner will be at 6 o'clock and will be open to Pampans at 55 cents a plate.

Members of the American Legion will assist in ushering and taking up tickets at the game, and all Legionnaires are requested to be at the park, wearing Legion caps, at 1:30 o'clock.

PUNTS AND PASSES

WEST POINT, N. Y.—Army's Cadets probably wouldn't want Navy men to hear about this because it would be too good an opportunity to remark that they're even scared of a Navy uniform, but the army scrubs donned Navy's blue and gold to make yesterday's practice more realistic and opened with an attack that held the varsity almost even as the regulars had trouble diagnosing the formations.

Barker Picks Christians, Baylor And Aggies To Win

Claims Fordham Will Be Victor Over Georgia

BY HERBERT BARKER.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP)—From a fake punt formation, this harassed gridiron guesster tries a little deception to outfit a small but tough slate of football fixtures:

Notre Dame-Northwestern: The game of the week from a competitive standpoint but an unstrategic spot for prognosticators. Northwestern, after checking Minnesota, has been far from impressive in whipping Wisconsin and Michigan to remain undefeated and untied but the Wildcats may have been fooling. Notre Dame, finding Andy Pupils the answer to the vexing quarterback question, looked like the business in walloping Army. Remembering the game's at South Bend, Notre Dame to win.

Yale-Harvard: Strict adherence to psychological reasoning would make Harvard's selection mandatory but this corner feels the Yales are too smart, too tricky and too lucky to lose to the Crimson.

Fordham-Georgia: On the theory "Sleepy Jim" Crowley will see the Rams wide-awake, Fordham, Princeton-Dartmouth: Princeton, Duquesne-Marquette: Marquette rates a thin edge.

Temple-Iowa: Temple.

Ohio State-Michigan: Ohio State.

Wisconsin-Minnesota: Minnesota.

Purdue-Indiana: Purdue.

Chicago-Illinois: Illinois.

Rice-Texas Christian: The Christians look to have too much punch for Rice but there's no unconditional guarantee to that selection.

Baylor-Southern Methodist: Nor in this one: Baylor.

Centenary-Texas A. & M.: Stringing along with the Aggies despite their recent travels.

Manhattan-Villanova: Villanova.

Syracuse-Colgate: Colgate.

Nebraska-Kansas State: Nebraska.

Oklahoma A. & M.-Oklahoma: Oklahoma.

Tulane-Sewanee: No worries for Tulane.

Georgia Tech-Florida: Tech.

Mississippi State-Mississippi: The nod goes to State.

South Carolina-North Carolina: North Carolina.

Auburn-Loyola: Auburn.

Oregon-Oregon State: Oregon State.

Colorado State-Colorado College: Colorado State.

Colorado Mines-Greeley: Greeley.

SAM FRANCIS NEBRASKA'S CANDIDATE FOR ALL-AMERICA FULLBACK...

Babe Ruth beat Lou Gehrig into the movies... he's already started work on a short... Marquette banks on a soph named Coldgaed to make 'em forget Buzz Buidiv next year.

Like a lot of other guys, Charlie Bachman, Michigan State coach, is a bit absent minded when the heat is on... on a recent trip he walked into a dining car, sat down and was handed a menu... with his mind on next day's game he drew a diagram of a play he had been planning and without comment handed the menu back to the waiter. The puzzled white coat called a steward to help decode an order consisting mostly of x's and ciphers.

Bobby Wilson, former Southern Methodist star, is going to quit the Brooklyn Dodgers because they cut his pay to $75 a game.

ANNIE OAKLEY SHOOTING FOR BILL MEHLHORN IN PGA MEET

BY DILLON GRAHAM

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 20 (AP)—Annie Oakley is shooting for Wild Bill Mehlhorn in the professional golfers' championship today.

Annie is a putter that resembles a croquet mallet. Bill got it a few days ago and has been "hot" ever since.

"I call it Annie Oakley because it's a sure shot," explained Mehlhorn, known among golfers as Wild Bill, because of his explosions after poor shots.

"Annie Oakley may have been a great rifle shot in her day," concedes Bill, "but she didn't have anything on my Annie."

"Why, I can't keep the ball out of the cup. I can't even lay 'em stiff, they all run in," he grinned.

Mehlhorn, who beat Ed Dudley, 6 and 4, faced young Jimmy Hines today in the 36-hole quarter-finals of the professionals' match play championship over Pinehurst's rugged No. 2 layout.

Willie Goggin, the San Bruno, Calif., ace, probably was still seeing ghosts today—the Joplin ghost, Horton Smith.

Five down to the Californian as late as the 22nd hole, the slender, blond-haired Smith shot the last thirteen holes in three under par to overcome the deficit and wipe out Goggin, 2 and 1 for the championship's best rally.

Smith bumped into Denny Shute today as Harold (Jug) McSpaden met the siege gun, Jimmy Thomson, and Tony Manero, the national open champion, battled Craig Wood.

Pennsylvania is the only school to hold an edge over Michigan in a long-time football series. Penn has won 8, lost 5, and tied 2 of the Wolverine-Quaker battles.

White Deer Wins First in Dairy Judging Contest

WHITE DEER, Nov. 20 — White Deer won first place in the dairy judging contest held at Miami Saturday. Ten teams were entered and provided some of the stiffest competition the team will have this year.

Stanley Gaston was high man of the entire contest, with a score of 237 out of a possible 300 points. The other members of the team were R. D. Seitz and James Stalls.

17 WOLVES KILLED IN ANNUAL HUNTERS' MEET

COTULLA, Nov. 20 (AP)—The South Texas Wolf Hunters association ended its 15th annual field trials at the Storey ranch, eight miles east of here, yesterday afternoon with a record of 17 wolves run down, eight during the third and final cast of hounds early Thursday morning.

A number of other wolves were killed by various packs, but under the rules, they were not counted in the check up.

After the awarding of ribbons and cups to the winning hounds the association then elected officers for the coming year.

J. A. T. Rowan of San Antonio was elected president, while Harold Robertson of Dilley was named vice president and J. E. Teddie of Freer, secretary and treasurer. Rev. R. G. Baucum of South San Antonio, in capacity of secretary, was general manager of the unit just closed.

6,000,000 VISITOR AT FETE DUE TODAY

DALLAS, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Texas Centennial exposition had to postpone until today a reception for its six millionth visitor.

Yesterday's attendance of 19,999 was short of expectations, increasing the total to 5,995,844.

Honored today were members of the United Daughters of the Confederacy and Texas Traffic clubs and school children from the Cleburne district and the LaFayette section of Louisiana.

J. B. (Ears) Whitworth, Louisiana State guard coach and chief scout, says the best guard he has seen this year is Marvin Baldwin of L. S. U.

IDEAL HUSBY NEEDN'T TELL FUNNY STORIES

PORT ARTHUR (AP)—Spinners, married women and widows, replying to a questionnaire, agreed the ideal husband doesn't have to have sex appeal, good looks, fine clothes—or the ability to tell funny stories.

Spinners, however, demanded he be healthy, matrons ruled he must be intelligent and understanding, widows required intelligence and mutual interests.

Texas Christian Would Be Eliminated If Rice Wins

Southern Methodist To Be Fighting Jinx at Waco

DALLAS, Nov. 20 (AP)—Survival or virtual elimination in the South-west conference grid race were the paths Texas Christian faced today on the eve of an important scrap with Rice Institute at Houston tomorrow.

Now only a few percentage points behind University of Arkansas, the Christians could step into a firm place deadlock with a triumph or could tumble almost out of sight by hooking a tie or defeat.

That was the most important picture of an otherwise light weekend in which two teams, Arkansas and University of Texas, don't even take the field. Southern Methodist meets Baylor at Waco and Texas A. and M. goes in for more inter-sectional warfare against Centenary at Shreveport.

Never much off their home ground, the Christians weren't looking for a cinch as they rolled into Houston for a last workout before the Rice game.

Coach Jimmy Kitz, with a breather on the schedule last weekend, has had his Owl backing down passes from Sammy Bugh in their sleep for the last two weeks. Pass defense has been stressed each afternoon and it is likely the Owls will spring their own aerial bombardment.

Southern Methodist will be fighting a jinx also when it invades Waco to attempt a victory for the first time over a Baylor team on its home grounds. The Methodists have never come home from Waco with anything but bruises and regrets.

Prospects weren't bright for this game with quarterback Sprague on the shelf with general body bruises suffered in the Arkansas game and the morale of the team slightly dampened after successive wallpings by Texas A. and M. and Arkansas.

Baylor planned to unleash another passing flurry, with Sophomore Billy Patterson on the throwing end and Senior Lloyd Russell on the catching side. Russell bagged a pair of aerial touchdowns in the last four minutes to bring in the Bruins in a 13-0 winner over Oklahoma A. and M. last Saturday.

Intact after a terrific cross-country grind except for Fullback Les Cummings, the Texas Aggies take their celebrated offensive to Shreveport to show the hometown folks what Coach Homer Norton has done for himself since leaving Centenary.

The Aggie's easy victory over Southern Methodist, San Francisco and University of Utah in their last three games, were favored to whip Norton's old charges rather handily.

FROM CHUMPS TO CHAMPS' IS TITLE OF WILDCATS' STORY

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN GOULD

The fortunes of Alabama's Crimson Tide were at a low ebb when Tennessee tied Coach Frank Thomas' boys, but they reached the flood stage in the game with Tulane. Alabama was great after noon, outclassing a fine Tulane team 34-7.

The lopsided score may have been a surprise to many but Chet Wynne, coach of the Kentucky eleven, expected to see Alabama score decisively. Alabama had knocked off his team, 14-0.

Potentially, the present Alabama team is every bit as strong as the 1934 Rose Bowl champions, says Wynne. "They certainly took us over. In fact, they took everything but our pants. And then a week later along came Manhattan college to take these."

"Right now I would say that the two strongest teams in the South are Alabama and Louisiana State," he continues. "Either one of 'em would do as the South's candidate for the Rose Bowl. But I'd give the edge to Alabama if I had to decide."

No great hope was held out for Alabama when the season got under way. The Tide had lost too many experienced men. When Coach Thomas assembled the candidates for the first time there was not an experienced end in the lot. Harold Drew, end coach, had a real job on his hands.

The Ends Grow Up

The raw, inexperienced wingmen, "Tut" Warren, Paul Estes, "Shoey" Smeaker, Jim Tipton, Lonnie Jackson and "Dixie" Davis were a peppy bunch and eager to learn. But that was all. Physically, only Paul Estes, standing 6 feet 5 inches tall and weighing 190 pounds, was outstanding. The rest of the group are in the first two grades, the major problem dwindled to a minor one. The green ends learned fast and, at this stage of the season, must be rated as strong points in the Tide's machine.

Both Alabama tackles, Bill Young and "Biff" Lyon, were triple-threat backs in high school. Young, right tackle, is the biggest man on the Alabama squad. He weighs 218 pounds.

Lyon is a 208-pounder. He is proud of the fact that he had a 74-yard punt to his credit as a prep player. He got his biggest thrill, however, when he completed three successful passes in a row for a gain of 80 feet and a touchdown. His other claim to fame as a prep school football star was a 50-yard dash for a touchdown.

Bangup Backfield

Coach Thomas had an outstanding pair of guards in White and Bill Peto, but lost the latter on the eve of the Tulane game when the big fellow had to undergo an operation for appendicitis. Leroy Monsky, who replaced Peters, did better than fair against Tulane. He intercepted one of Bucky Bryan's passes and scampered 28 yards to the end zone in the final period. Moyer, a veteran of Rose Bowl competition, has handled his center assignment in such a manner as to give Coach Thomas no worry.

In the backfield the Tide has some rare talent. The two Joes, Riley and Kilgrom, are as good as you will find in college. The nice thing about this pair is that they work so well together. Kilgrom is an exceptional passer while Riley is just about tops as a punter. Both can carry the ball.

Coach Thomas takes care of the fullback post. Other capable backs on the roster are "Blackie" Caldwell, Vic Bradford, Henry Cochran, "Tut" Warren, Young Boozer and Charlie Holm.

Bill Peters' case calls to mind that in 1934, when the Tide was making the trip to the Rose Bowl, two tackles, Jim Whately and Bill Young, were stricken with appendicitis. Young was operated on immediately on arrival in Del Rio, Tex., but Whately managed to get by with ice-packs.

You can well imagine that the Alabama coaches were worried folks when the team arrived in Pasadena minus one tackle and not knowing whether or not the other would be able to play. Whately did get in and played a whale of a game despite his "tummy ache."

Northwestern ruined a potential undefeated season for Notre Dame a year ago, 14 to 7. Notre Dame, enjoying nothing more than the thought of knocking off Northwestern to avenge that upset, is ready, mentally and physically.

BY WILLIAM WEEKES.

CHICAGO (AP)—The captain barely won his freshman numerals, the blocking star fumbled away a big game, a crack defensive end spent half a season as a mediocre half-back, and a brilliant tackle was getting nowhere so fast a year ago that he wanted to quit football.

They are some of the youngsters Lynn Waldorf, college football's master slayer of 1936, molded into a Big Ten conference champion, a team that broke Minnesota's stranglehold on national championship honors.

Big fatherly Waldorf—"Pappy" to his players and assistants—forgave the fumble, worked long with the captain, shifted the ordinary back to end, kept the prospective star tackle from leaving school and came up with quite a football team.

In the first Big Ten game of the 1935 season, against Purdue, husky Fred Young, a sophomore fullback, fumbled under for the only score of the game and Purdue won, 7-0.

Waldorf never mentioned the fumble to Vanzo, but the 215-pound Italian youngster from Universal, Ind., brooded over his mistake. He was used little until the start of this season when "Pappy" told him he was the team's blocking quarterback and line-backer. Minnesota knows how well Vanzo rewarded Waldorf's patience.

Captain Flaps As Frosh

Capt. Steve Reid was about the last slayer of the guard candidates who reported to freshman-coach Maury Kent in 1933. At the end of the yearling season Reid didn't look much better. In fact, he admits that he just barely made his freshman numerals.

Dr. Waldorf and line-coach Bud (Always Worrying) Ingwersen, Reid started to blossom a year ago. Now he ranks among the best in the Big Ten—a smart, rugged, aggressive lineman and leader.

Then, there is John Kovatch, who shared with Vanzo the role of defensive hero against Minnesota. Kovatch came up from South Bend, Ind., as a halfback. During the first half of the 1935 season, his sophomore year, Kovatch could make 50 headway toward grabbing a regular job from Dan Hepp, Oiler Adelman, Wally Crouse and Bob Swisher. But Waldorf was impressed by his savage defensive work and turned him over to end-coach Waldo Fisher.

Now Kovatch is a prospect for all-Big Ten honors.

One of the greatest sides Benches

A delegation of hometown folks came to Evanston last fall to watch DeWitt Gibson of Perry, Ia., play tackle for Northwestern against Iowa. It was the last game of the season, but Gibson sat on the bench. The biggest man on the squad, he just couldn't get around fast enough.

He was so discouraged he wanted to leave school. Waldorf talked him into giving it another whirl and Gibson won one of the stalwarts of a great line.

Les Schreiber from Milwaukee was just an ordinary tackle in 1935, and was similarly rated as an end. Schreiber was shifted to guard and into a highly effective, if not flashy flanker.

These boys who made the ball club the hard way have helped Northwestern to a team Waldorf says has no stars. But he may be wrong about that—maybe they all are stars.

McLARNIN AND AMBERS WILL BATTLE TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP)—Jimmy McLarnin, "the wrecker of lightweight champions," from Vancouver, is going to find out tonight if he still has the name as well as the fame.

He meets Lou Ambers, the 135-pound king, in a ten rounder at Madison Square Garden in the second start of his comeback campaign.

From McLarnin's training quarters comes word he is in the best condition of his long career. If that's so, Ambers is in for one busy evening.

McLarnin has been established as the 7 to 5 favorite.

Braddock to Fight Louis in February

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP)—Behind all the negotiations for the Jim Braddock-Joe Louis fight in Atlantic City in February is the promoters' belief it offers a prime ticket for a million dollar gate in a Mike Jacobs next summer.

Mike Jacobs, who will co-promote the promised 12-round no decision fight with Herman Taylor of Philadelphia and possibly Madison Square Garden, voiced that conviction today as he worked out details.

Such a match would have Max Schmeling meeting the winner of the shore city clash. Jacobs explained, if Louis should knock out Braddock, he would be paired for a return go with the German heavyweight who belted him out in 12 rounds this year. If Braddock lacks the Detroit Brown Bomber, a fight between the champion and his already designated number one challenger would draw a larger crowd.

Jacobs explained this today before a conference with Taylor, whose $300,000 guarantee to Braddock started the whole thing, and Joe Gould, the champion's manager, to tell them how Madison Square Garden stands out on the bout.

BIRD HITS MAN'S HEAD—AND DIES

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP)—Willis Meadows felt something hit his head, looked down and picked up a dead bird, killed by the impact.

Meadows said the sparrow apparently was blinded by lights of a store in front of which he was walking. He plans to have the bird stuffed as evidence of the story.

EXPROPRIATION BILL IS PASSED BY MEXICANS

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 20 (AP)—President Lazaro Cardenas' personally sponsored bill for expropriation of private property "for the better distribution of wealth" was ready today for his signature.

A hasty session of the Senate enacted the measure yesterday after northern Senator Wilfrido C. Cruz of Oaxaca, the only speaker, assert it would help the government "take the weight of capitalism off the masses."

The legislation, giving the government sweeping powers of expropriation, passed by acclamation in the chamber of deputies earlier this month.

Only the approval of President Cardenas, therefore, was needed to make the bill law. He was in northern Mexico distributing expropriated farmlands to landless workers.

Northwestern Will Battle Notre Dame

CHICAGO, Nov. 20 (AP)—Northwestern's undefeated Wildcats will battle for the mythical national football championship in Notre Dame's red brick stadium tomorrow.

A capacity crowd of 56,000 will watch the struggle.

Champion of the western conference, winner of seven straight games, conquerer of mighty Minnesota, Northwestern seeks its first perfect record in 47 years of football history.

A victory over Notre Dame, the team that lost to Pitt and the Navy, had defeated Ohio State and the Army, would clinch the championship honors.

Northwestern ruined a potential undefeated season for Notre Dame a year ago, 14 to 7. Notre Dame, enjoying nothing more than the thought of knocking off Northwestern to avenge that upset, is ready, mentally and physically.

SNAP JUDGMENT

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Nightwatchman Albert Homyer, a patient man, argued with another about a dog and was told: "Wait here until I get back." Homyer waited.

The man returned with a six shooter and snapped it five times. On the sixth it fired, but the bullet missed. Flinging down the pistol, he said, "Wait here until I come back." Homyer did.

The antagonist came back with a rifle, shot once and missed again. "By that time," Homyer said, "I thought he might hurt me if he kept on, so I called the police."

GRECIAN 'EXODUS' TAX IS ABOLISHED

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—The tax, imposed last August, upon anyone leaving Greece, has been abolished.

Only diplomatic and consular officials and people whose permanent addresses were not in Greece had been excommunicated from the impost, which was part of severe measures taken to prevent a panic flight of money abroad following establishment of the Metaxas dictatorship.

BARNEY BLACKSHEAR COMMITS SUICIDE

TYLER, Nov. 20 (AP)—Barney Blackshear, 35, slashed arteries in both arms and bled to death rather than face trial a fourth time in the killing of Mrs. Viola Brimberry near Arp in 1932.

Jailers found the prisoner in his cell weak from loss of blood last night. His arms had been cut near the elbows with a razor blade. He died an hour later in a hospital. Dr. Charles D. Cupp said shock and loss of blood was responsible.

Three convicted of bludgeoning the aged Mrs. Brimberry to death and assessed the death penalty. Blackshear escaped the chair each time by a reversal.

His fourth trial, called earlier this week, was ordered transferred from Harrison to Cherokee county and he was being held here pending removal to Rusk. He was tried twice in Henderson county and once in Smith county.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 20 (AP)—President Lazaro Cardenas' personally sponsored bill for expropriation of private property "for the better distribution of wealth" was ready today for his signature.

BOMBAY (AP)—The government of British India is proud of having sacrificed $25,000,000 in revenue from exports of opium.

China has long been the best—or the worst—customer of this narcotic. Great Britain fought the "opium war" with China nearly 100 years ago to overcome a ban on its importation.

But the government says it has been trying to reduce opium exports for nearly 30 years. In 1935 exports to China were valued at only 20 lakhs of rupees (about $750,000), compared with the 800 lakhs exported in 1910.

Because of the government's stringent regulations, only a small amount is being exported this year for medicinal use.

LUXURY XMAS' PLANNED FOR THIS SEASON

MERCHANTS' SHELVES ARE LOADED WITH STOCKS

BY DAVID A. CLEAVENS.

DALLAS, Nov. 20 (AP)—Texas merchants today had loaded their shelves with record stocks in anticipation of the first "luxury Christmas" since 1928.

A better class of merchandise was being set out in showcases and windows as banks and credit agencies reported more cash and potential cash available for Christmas spending. Shopkeepers in towns throughout the state were planning to inaugurate the buying season with elaborate parades and displays of goods to stimulate a trade variously estimated to be 10 to 50 per cent better this year than for any year during the depression.

A Dallas department store executive said he expected heavier purchases of luxury goods because consumers have more cash and are in a good mental attitude for buying. At Lubbock, automobile dealers reported cars were being set aside already as Christmas gifts. Paris merchants were preparing to dispose of class goods that has gone begging in some recent years.

Every section of the state reported merchants in an optimistic mood. Some of the reports, in brief:

HOUSTON—Christmas saving deposits up $44,174.50 over last year, with two weeks in which to add to the total. "Biggest Christmas business in years" expected by chamber of commerce. Credit men expect best business since 1929.

DALLAS—Holiday stocks increased from 10 to 20 per cent, dollar volume of Christmas business expected to be 20 per cent higher. E. P. Simmons, vice president of big department store (Sanger Brothers) says expectation is for heavier sales of luxury goods rather than practical merchandise.

FORT WORTH—Retail Merchants Association survey reveals Christmas business expectation is best since 1929, with 15 per cent increase over last year.

SAN ANTONIO—All barometers of business, including increased building permits, bank clearing, tax receipts, utility connections, points to best holiday season since 1930.

HARLINGEN—Retail stores already displaying holiday goods. Plenty cash on hand from vegetable and near-record citrus crop. Heavy winter tourist season on. Automobile dealers report heavy orders for Christmas delivery.

CORPUS CHRISTI—Merchants planning co-operative opening of official Christmas buying season Dec. 1. Best season since 1928 seen.

PARIS—Best fall season since 1929 prompted retailers to prepare for largest Christmas sales since depression began. Merchants ordered 50 per cent more stock than sold in 1935.

LONGVIEW—Merchants plan to launch season with parade and other festivities. Largest stocks in history ordered by many stores. All time sales records set for October, November.

AMARILLO—Advertising budgets hiked as merchants anticipate best trade in years. Retailing slow at present because of unseasonable weather.

LUBBOCK—Best buying season in south plains history anticipated as cotton crop bringing in cash. People spending, paying debts, having some surplus for luxuries. Stores already showing Christmas goods.

GORSICANA—Merchants plan big holiday campaign climaxing Dec. 12 with parade. Addition of new items of luxury goods seen as indication of good season.

AUSTIN—Chamber of commerce estimate stocks increased 20 per cent over last year to largest since 1929.

Kellerville Cage Practice Begins

KELLERVILLE, Nov. 20—Boys reporting for basketball practice are Harley Cumber, T. J. Snyde, Junior Grossland, Clayton Mullin, John Saunders, R. L. Gilmore, Leonard Saye, Beovia Bullard, Charles Wright, Harwell Hall, Wilfred Newberry, and Paul Miller.

Prospects are good this year for a team, having taller and heavier material than last year. Practice will be conducted a few weeks before any games will be matched.

Basketball suits are needed very badly, and it is hoped that suits will be provided soon.

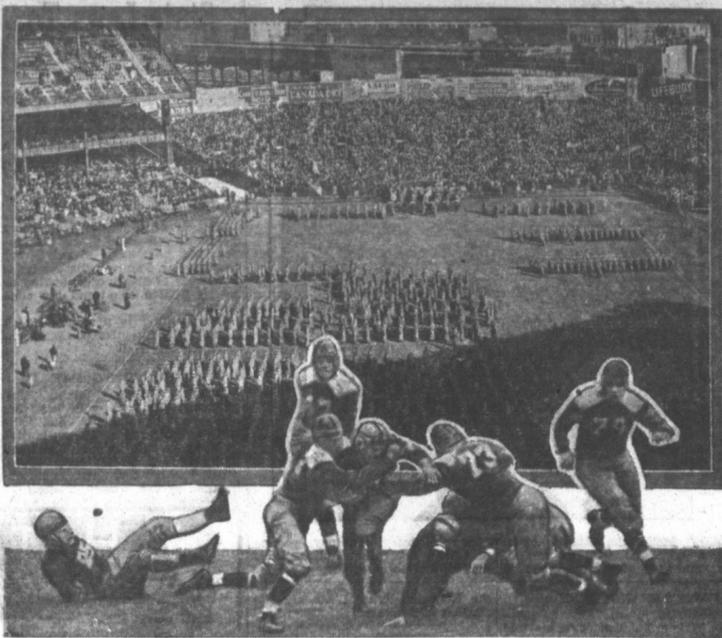

KUDO FOR GARNER

WACO, Nov. 20 (AP)—Vice President and Mrs. John Garner were en route here from their Uvalde home today to receive honorary degrees of law from Baylor University, oldest of Texas educational institutions, tomorrow. Mr. and Mrs. Garner, accompanied by Mrs. Harry Hornby and W. R. Painter, left Uvalde by automobile early today. Dignitaries from Texas and other states will attend the ceremony. Fritz L. Lanham of Fort Worth, United States representative and Pat M. Neff, president of Baylor University, will deliver principal speeches.

SHOT TO DEATH

FORT WORTH, Nov. 20 (AP)—G. G. Beckley, 71, former Fort Worth agent for the Frisco railroad here and well known in Texas railway circles, was found shot to death in the bathroom of his upstairs apartment here at 8:45 a. m. today. His body was lying on a pallet on the bathroom floor. A pistol was lying under the body. Beckley, who retired on July 1, had suffered a nervous breakdown several months ago and had been in ill health ever since, according to his physician.

At East's Biggest Grid Spectacle

The Army provided the colorful background but left it to Notre Dame to furnish the winning thrills for the East's biggest football crowd of 80,000 that watched their annual meeting at New York. Pictured are both of these aspects of the game: the West Point Cadet Corps parading on the field between halves, and the method by which Notre Dame silenced Army's big gun, Monk Meyer (center), by ganging up on him. The one occasion when Meyer wasn't throttled he got away for Army's only score of the 20-6 defeat.

Musicians for Barn Dance

Attendants at the big Barn Dance to be held in Borger, Saturday night are assured of a real musical treat. The orchestra to be heard and seen in their novelty interpretations of all the old and new tunes will be the Walkie Novelty Boys. This group of entertainers has been on the air for several years on some of the nation's largest stations, including the NBC networks and WGN, WHO and many others. They have been featured on the National Barn Dance, the Iowa Barn Dance and on Major Bowes program. For the past several weeks they have been making a tour throughout the Panhandle and Oklahoma. You will hear them playing the standard guitar, tenor guitar, steel guitar, string bass, zooka, and wash board. They also have good vocalists who perform at intervals. The barn dance, which will be held in the American Legion Hall, will be preceded by a big floor show and old time fiddlers' contest. A public address system will be used for the entire program.

DRIVE TO ERADICATE SCABIES CONTINUE IN AMARILLO AREA

There was employed in Amarillo district for the month of October, one state man, one B. A. I. man and two county men who spent their entire time in an effort to eradicate scabies infection, and a total of approximately $175, was expended by this department in its regular eradication program.

Forty-nine herds, and a total of 14,519 sheep or cattle were inspected or dipped. No herds were classed as exposed or infected.

All exposed or infected live stock were systematically treated. The Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas will continue the work in the Amarillo district in an effort to protect the livestock in that district from imported infection, and affording the necessary scabies certificates demanded by other states on livestock moving from Texas.

The above work was conducted under the supervision of Chas. B. Alford, supervisor of Scabies eradication work, Amarillo.

FASCISTS MAY DESTROY PORT OF BARCELONA

GOVERNMENT TROOPS REPULSE CHARGE OF REBELS

(By The Associated Press)

Spanish fascists, intent on cutting off war supplies to the Madrid government, will destroy the port of Barcelona if necessary, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden informed the House of Commons today.

Eden disclosed his government had received a communication Nov. 17 from the Burgos junta threatening such action to halt what it called "the scandalous traffic in arms, munitions, tanks, airplanes and even toxic gases."

The administration of Gen. Francisco Franco charged the "real nationality" of ships bringing the supplies to Barcelona was "Russian or Spanish."

The foreign secretary's declaration followed a British demand to the insurgent provisional government to declare its intentions regarding a threatened fascist blockade of Barcelona.

Informed sources in Paris indicated the French government would follow London's example.

Some quarters in London interpreted the British action as lending "tacit recognition" to the provisional administration at Burgos merely by acknowledging its existence.

France, although well-informed sources said the government is determined to adhere to strict neutrality, answered the reported threat with warships. Authoritative quarters said two vessels were ordered to stand off Barcelona.

In Madrid, socialist troops repulsed insurgent infantry and cavalry attacks at the start of the third week of the siege of the capital, the war ministry asserted.

Authoritative estimates of the death toll were not available as fascist air raiders dumped new loads of bombs into the heart of the battered city. The toll, however, was said to be "hundreds."

Prince Alonso of Bourbon-Orleans, a friend of his family announced in London, was killed in a forced landing near Madrid. His mother, the Infanta Beatrice, was prostrated by news her son, who had joined the fascist air force, was dead.

Alonso was the son of the Infante Alfonso, who was reported in the United States, a first cousin of former King Alfonso and a nephew of Queen Marie of Rumania.

By thousands, men, women and children poured out of the siegestormed capital's danger spots today under urgent orders to evacuate the areas of heavy fascist bombardment.

On foot and in donkey carts, loaded down with household goods and personal necessities, they streamed to "safer" zones in a driving downpour of rain.

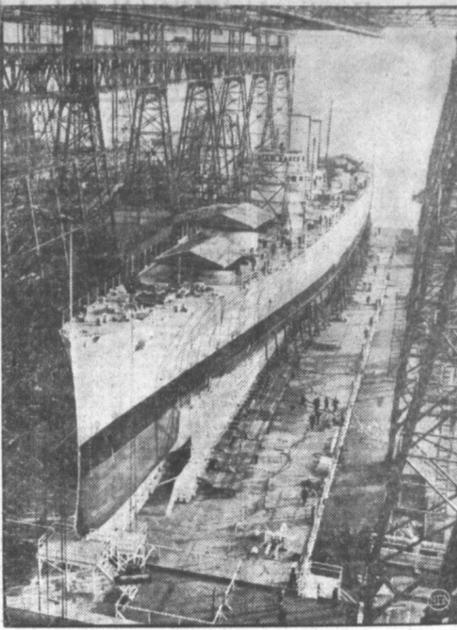

The drencing rains caused virtual cessation of front-line fighting over night.

Taking advantage of the lull, defense officers surveyed their battle lines and declared them intact. They said insurgents had not captured all parts of University City, and that government troops still held several university buildings.

In Rome, a warning to Soviet Russia that Italy will not tolerate "a new center of red revolution" in the Mediterranean was sounded by authoritative fascist quarters.

Any such attempt, it was emphasized, would result in the anti-communist "defenses" of Italy, Germany

From a traveling crane, high in the air at the Philadelphia navy yard, this new cruiser, the U. S. S. Philadelphia, gleams like a black and silver bullet, ready for the water. Mrs. George Earle, wife of Pennsylvania's governor, was chosen to christen the new addition to the war fleet.

BRAVERY BY THE GLASS

NEW YORK (AP)—Detective Edward Boyle discovered a fight began in a bar when one of three young men who had been drinking threw a glass through a mirror.

Cornelius Sullivan, 53-year old bartender, received a laceration on the neck in the melee.

Detective Boyle questioned Sullivan about it.

"Heck, you know what these five-cent beers and 15-cent whiskeys are," Sullivan said. "In this neighborhood after you've had three of them if you don't fight you are a coward."

AMERICAN DIRIGIBLES MAY CROSS ATLANTIC

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—American dirigibles soon will be carrying passengers and freight across the Atlantic with the aid of government subsidies if plans now coming to a head here are finally approved.

Representatives of the Commerce Department, the Navy and private business will meet next Tuesday to formulate recommendations for such a subsidized service.

The meeting will make a report to the new maritime commission, which, in turn, will submit its findings to Congress.

J. Monroe Johnson, assistant to Secretary Roper in charge of the commerce department's transportation activities, said the conferees would study subsidy plans which would place American operators of a trans-atlantic service "on a parity" with operators in other countries.

ANTI-FASCIST PARADE ORDERED IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 20 (AP)—Police were massed in readiness today while 150,000 workers assembled for a demonstration against fascism on the 26th anniversary of the revolution against Porfirio Diaz' dictatorship.

Police took precautionary measures as the outlawed "gold shirt" organizations, regarded by some as fascist, gave signs of renewed activity.

A huge parade (at 10 a. m., C. S. T.) was arranged by the powerful confederation of workers of Mexico and its federal district affiliate, the regional federation of workers and peasants.

They ordered a 12-hour general strike, closing all stores, factories and business establishments and calling upon street cars and busses to halt during the parade. For 15 minutes the city's electric lights will be turned off.

On Nov. 20, 1910, followers of Francisco I. Madero rose in arms against Diaz' 30-year dictatorship. The rebellion, which had broken out two days before in Pueblo with the killing of Aquiles Serdan, a revolutionary leader, spread quickly through the whole country.

EXHAUST-HALITOSIS

... that smell means Wasted Miles and Money

DEAR DISTRESSED DAMSEL: Perhaps you wonder why the poor motorist is using such a "rich" mixture. Lady, the reason is that the tank contains ordinary low test gasoline. That's why the driver had so much trouble in starting, and why it is taking so long for his motor to warm-up. With all his yanking on the choke, the engine is still missing and sputtering. He isn't enjoying it a bit more than you are... and in addition, it is costing him real money because with the choke out he is using up gasoline 5 to 15 times faster than normal! Besides, he is thus diluting the oil in the crankcase, which is one of the chief causes of winter damage to motors. How can he correct the trouble? Easily. All he has to do is use Phillips 66 Poly Gas and use less choke. It is made by the WORLD'S LARGEST PRODUCER of natural high test gasoline. This explains its extra high test and the pleasant fact that it costs nothing extra. It starts cold motors with split-second speed. Warms them up fast. Delivers maximum power with minimum fuel. And obviously, it increases mileage per gallon by decreasing the need for wasteful choking. Every gallon of this sensational winter gasoline is 100% custom-tailored to your weather. Every gallon is enriched with extra energy units by the patented POLYMERIZATION process. Our Testing Laboratory, after studying thousands of samples of all available motor fuels, assures you that the effective volatility of Phillips 66 Poly Gas is unsurpassed even by gasolines selling at a higher price. How can you possibly lose by trying a tankful of Phillips 66 Poly Gas!

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Nov. 20. (AP)—The stock market today picked up a little strength in a few utilities and specialties while permitting many of the leaders to drift to lower levels.

Financial quarters attributed the apathy partly to fresh concerns over Europe's troubles and to expectations further governmental restrictions on stock exchange dealings may be imposed. Selling was more active just before the close. Turn-over approximated 1,900,000 shares.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20. (AP)—Dealings became more active during the morning, but prices closed to slip off and losses averaged 4 points.

Liquidation in December pushed the market down 4 points to 11 1/2 while at 11.50. May at 11.50 and Oct. at 11.10.

Weekly figures showed a drop in spinners taking as compared with a week ago, although the estimated total of 415,000 bales was well above last season's.

Domestic mills fixed prices and this afforded the market some support, but not enough to absorb all of the selling.

More Uniform Lending Systems Recommended

DALHART, Nov. 20 (AP)—The President's great plains drought committee moved to another section of the drought area today after hearing pleas for coordination of federal lending agencies.

Delegations which appeared at the two-day conference ending yesterday urged that the various federal farm loan organizations adopt more uniform lending policies.

Morris L. Cooke, and L. C. Gray of the committee held group conferences with representatives of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas and Colorado.

Texas Panhandle and Oklahoma ranchmen suggested a range rebuilding program under which the federal government would pay benefits not to exceed 50 cents on an acre for retiring grasslands.

Cooke promised to ask the department of agriculture to speed its release of scientific information on agriculture.

Cooke and Gray left for Bismark, N. D., to join Col. Richard C. Moore of the army engineers in another hearing.

Wool

BOSTON, Nov. 20. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow: "The wool market has been more or less excited during the past week and prices have tended steadily upward, so that best fine domestic wools have crossed the dollar mark, clean basis, quite easily. All other grades, both in worsted and woolen wools, are likewise sharply higher."

"All world markets, too, are measurably dearer for the week by about three cents, clean basis, for fine wools and greater attention to medium and low wools has forced them up fully to the parity of the finer wools."

"With a growing squeeze in wools in the domestic market, greater buying has resulted for this country in the foreign markets. Contracting of wool on the Texas alone, where as high as 35 cents has been paid for good 12 months wools."

"Advances of 30 to 40 cents a yard in goods, due to the advance in wages and wool, has shut off some business at the mills."

"Mohair is moderately active and very firm."

The Bulletin will publish the following quotations:

Scouring basis:

Texas: Fine 12 months selected 98-1.00; fine short twelve months 95-97; fine 8 months 97-88; fall 99-82.

Explanation Of Federal Old-Age Benefits

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is another in the series of questions and answers dealing with many phases of the government's Social Security legislation which goes into effect next Jan. 1. The questions and answers are designed to fully explain provisions of the act.

LUMP-SUM PAYMENTS. (Whenever the term "wages" is used, it refers to wages for services performed after 1936 and before the age of 65 in included employment.)

Q. 41. Will I receive any benefit if I reach 65 before my total wages for services after 1936 amount to $2,000 or before I had wages for employment in each of 5 different calendar years?

A. Yes, provided you have been employed in an included employment after Dec. 31, 1936. You will not qualify for monthly Federal old-age retirement benefits. However, you will receive a lump-sum payment based on your wages from included services after 1936.

Q. 42. Under what conditions would I receive a lump-sum payment at the age of 65?

A. If between Dec. 31, 1936, and your sixty-fifth birthday you have worked in included employment but have not met the requirements for monthly Federal old-age retirement benefits, either because the total amount of your wages is not as much as $2,000 or because you were not employed at some time in 5 different calendar years after Dec. 31, 1936, you will receive a lump-sum payment.

Q. 43. What is the amount of this lump-sum payment?

A. Three and one-half per cent of your total wages between Dec. 31, 1936, and the age of 65. However, as in the case of monthly Federal old-age retirement benefits, no wages in excess of $3,000 a year from any one employer are counted in the computation of the lump-sum payment.

Q. 44. If I reach the age of 65 in July, 1938, and until that time I work in an included employment, will I receive a lump-sum payment?

A. Yes. For example, if you are employed from Dec. 31, 1936, to July 1, 1938, in a factory and your wages for this period average $100 a month, making a total of $1,800, you will receive a lump-sum payment of $63.

Q. 45. If my total wages are $5,000 from an included employment after 1936 and before the age of 65, but such employment occurred in only four separate years, will I receive a lump-sum payment?

A. Yes. When you reach 65, you will receive 3 1/2 per cent of $5,000, $175. You could not qualify for a monthly benefit unless you had some employment during some additional year after 1936 and before reaching age 65.

Q. 46. If I am entitled to receive monthly Federal old-age retirement benefits, will I have an option of receiving a lump-sum payment instead?

A. No. A lump-sum payment is made only to the worker whose wages meet some, but not all, requirements for monthly Federal old-age retirement benefits.

Q. 47. If I continue in regular included employment after I am 65, will I receive a lump-sum payment?

A. Yes. The lump-sum payment to those who meet some, but not all, minimum requirements for benefits is not forfeited by continuing regular work in an included employment.

PAYMENTS UPON DEATH. (Whenever the term "wages" is used, it refers to wages for services performed after 1936 and before the age of 65 in included employment.)

Q. 48. What will happen if I die before reaching 65?

A. Your estate will receive a death benefit equal to 3 1/2 per cent of your total wages for services after Dec. 31, 1936, in an included employment. Here again, as in the case of monthly Federal old-age retirement benefits and lump-sum payments, wages in excess of $3,000 a year from any one employer are not counted in the computation of the amount of benefit.

Q. 49. If my wages are $1,000 a year from an included employment

WHY PUT UP WITH PIMPLES, WRINKLES AND A SALLOW SKIN?

So many women throw their charm and beauty away—look years older than they are—because they neglect common constipation. They forget that badly balanced meals, over a period of years, can change how they look and feel.

Often their menus lack the "bulk" needed for regular habits. Then constipation, the beauty-killer, sets in. Other effects may be headaches, listlessness, sleeplessness.

Get "bulk" back into your meals with a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It absorbs moisture within the body, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system.

Just eat two tablespoons daily, either as a cereal or in cooked dishes. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

for 20 years, after Dec. 31, 1936, and I die before reaching 65, what will my estate receive?

A. You would have a basis of benefits a total of $20,000 in wages before your death. Your estate would receive 3 1/2 per cent of that amount, which is $700.

Q. 50. Would anything be left to my estate if I died after having received monthly Federal old-age retirement benefits for 6 months?

A. The act provides that, if you have not received in monthly Federal old-age retirement benefits as much as 3 1/2 per cent of your total wages, the difference will be paid to your estate. If your total wages are $20,000, you will receive $29.17 a month in benefits after 65, provided you do not engage in "regular employment." In 6 months you would receive $175.02. As a 3 1/2 per cent of your total wages is $700, your estate would receive $700 less $175.02, or $524.98.

An area within a radius of seven miles of Terlingua, Texas, is the second largest producer of quicksilver in the nation. California is first.

OIL INCREASE ADVISED BY BUREAU OF MINES

AUSTIN, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Mines Thursday recommended that Texas produce 1,145,200 barrels of crude oil daily during December. This was an increase of 35,900 barrels above the recommendation for November.

The estimate of Texas' share in the national market demand was made at the monthly proration hearing of the Railroad commission. The daily allowable production Nov. 18 was 1,161,410 barrels, which had increased due to completions and adjustments, from the basic allowable of 1,109,300 effective Nov. 1.

Other highlights of the hearing was a warning by Commissioner C. V. Terrell that continued drilling ultimately would lead to placing all wells on a marginal basis and a denunciation by the Humble Oil company of giving special allowances to individual fields.

"I don't know what can be done about drilling," Terrell said, "but it will demand the best thought of the industry."

C. V. Cottingham, chief petroleum engineer for the commission, announced average bottomhole pressure in the East Texas field declined 4.65 pounds per square inch in the last 30 days, or 34 pounds for each 1,000,000 barrels of oil produced.

DROUTH PROGRAM IS SUBMITTED BY JONES

AMARILLO, Nov. 20 (AP)—An integrated farm program for the drouth area, with administration in the hands of the farmers themselves, was outlined today by Congressman Marvin Jones of Amarillo, chairman of the Agriculture committee in the 75th Congress.

Congressman Jones sent the outline to the Great Plains Drouth committee meeting in Dalhart. He was unable to attend because of illness.

His six point program was: First, building of earthen dams on the draws and small streams as well as construction of small lakes in drouth areas to further water conservation.

Second, approval of small irrigation projects in counties where sufficient water supply is shown to be available.

Third, simplifying of the farm program with a large share of responsibility of administration in the hands of county and community committees selected by farmers.

Fourth, adequate provision for low interest farm credit.

Fifth, a farm tenant bill to encourage owner-operated small farms in all sections.

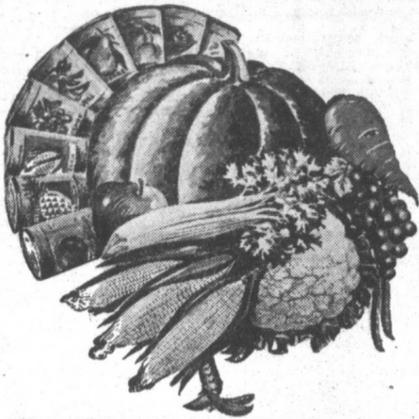

Sixth, an adequate range program as a part of the soil conservation service plan.

Fort Myers, Fla., plans to dedicate its federally-financed $100,000 yacht basin February 1.

PSYCHOLOGY

Back in 1930, 1931 and 1932 when it was the style to search out the causes and cures for depressions the subject of mass psychology was given earnest, if inept, study. A few conclusions were drawn.

One was that the psychology of fear which grew from the collapse of a condition of prosperity had a tendency to grow inward, crippling initiative and making doubly difficult the process of recovery.

It was predicted at that time that recovery from the depression would be gradual, that confidence would return slowly and that probably the turning point would be approached and passed with such painful slowness that no one would know about it until many months later.

With reservations, it may be said that confidence has replaced fear. There is much talk of a coming boom. Clearly, the factors of boom psychology, the antithesis of fear psychology, are present. The country is thinking once more in terms of expansion.

It is permissible to wonder what the circumstances of the next boom may be. Politicians promise it will be a good boom—that bad booms have been outlawed. Yet it is difficult, remembering the last great boom, to believe that quite so much was learned in the soul-searching days following its collapse as the searchers thought they would learn.

RELIEF FORECAST

Harry L. Hopkins has inched out on a limb to make the prediction that relief rolls this winter will be smaller than at any time in the depression. He further says the country will start the new year with 1,000,000 fewer families on relief than in January a year ago.

That means he thinks there will be approximately 3,756,000 families on relief in January, 1937. In January, 1935, there were 5,136,000 families on relief. Latest available totals for the current year are for August, when, 4,452,000 families received state and local relief and 2,451,000 (exclusive of the civilian conservation corps) received federal relief, a total of 3,833,000.

This is a good time to point out something about Mr. Hopkins and his work. He was appointed to administer relief. It is impossible to recall a single instance when he revealed to the public that he was interested in doing anything else but administering relief. He has stood up under criticism as well as any key member of Mr. Roosevelt's staff.

In 1933 the United States had no relief program; the one it has now may be far from perfect. But no one would care to deny that the country has learned a vast amount from its experiments, however costly the learning. Mr. Hopkins, who has stuck to his job, is entitled to a bow.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON.—A national 36-hour week law for industry is likely to be passed by the next Congress in its first session.

It cannot be said as yet that this is part of the Roosevelt program. But here are some reasons for expecting that it will be:

1.—The most influential leaders of organized labor, who probably will have the most effective lobby on Capitol Hill this winter, have decided for the 36-hour working week—with possible provision for exceptions as well as minimum wage standards—is about what's needed to absorb most of the nation's unemployed employables.

2.—Roosevelt's biggest job is still to solve the problem of the so-called "10,000,000 unemployed." He cannot depend on private industry to solve it, as he had hoped, and hour legislation seems his only recourse if he is to cut down the expensive WPA rolls. As reported in this column a year ago, Roosevelt then wanted a national 40-hour week law. He was dissuaded subsequently by U. S. Supreme Court decisions, bitter industrial opposition, and the political situation.

3.—Congress in all probability would quickly pass such law. The Black 30-hour week law easily slid through the Senate in 1933 and would have passed the House if Roosevelt and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce hadn't dashed in with NRA as a substitute. Passage of a 36-hour bill would be likely as a result of labor pressure even if Roosevelt were to keep hands off.

Hours in industry have been lengthened since NRA died. Thus production has been increased with no great absorption of the unemployed.

With industry on an upward swing, labor leaders say, a 36-hour law would increase employment perhaps 15 per cent.

Leaders of Labor's Non-Partisan League and the Committee for Industrial Organization, at least, will not go so far as to demand a 30-hour week. They admit privately that they don't know what such a drastic change would do to industry and that it might cause a harmful disturbance.

On the other hand, they point to certain industries, notably the garment trades, where the 36-hour week has been successfully tried.

Passage of a short work week law would mean a showdown with the supreme court, whose decisions have plainly shown that a complete change of heart or a change of membership would be necessary before such act would be held constitutional.

John L. Lewis and his group of labor leaders are not looking beyond the point where wage and hour legislation would be invalidated except as they expect to demand that Roosevelt move vigorously to meet the issue.

The Labor's Non-Partisan League attitude toward Roosevelt, in whose landslide it was a very large factor, is friendly and loyal. At the same time, this political organization, which expects to set up an important labor lobby in Washington for the first time, will stress the fact that it isn't "tied up" with the administration.

It is not committed to formation of a third party or to political advancement of Lewis and will concentrate in 1938—and perhaps 1940—on election of labor's friends in both parties and defeat of its enemies.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

NEW YORK—Freddie Rich, in a slack moment between dance numbers, recalls the time George M. Cohan attended a distressingly dull afternoon musical.

The reception was in the home of a dowager whose friends were of the not too lively variety, and the orchestra ground out a sad group of tunes that would have made a brass monkey cry "uncle."

This was too much for the actor and he fell into a merciful slumber. His coma ended, however, when a confederate nudged him just as the hostess, beaming benignly, waddled up.

"Would you believe it," gushed the dame, "these wonderful musicians have been playing together 11 years?"

"Impossible," exclaimed Cohan, "I couldn't have been asleep that long."

Rock Lives On
Then there is the prize fighter who doesn't think Roosevelt won a clean-cut victory at the polls—"It was just a lucky punch," he maintains.

Jed Harris, although a youngster, is an impressive, temperamental director. He is forceful and Svengalike when putting an actor through his paces.

He wonders whether George S. Kaufman was thinking of Katharine Cornell when he wrote "Stage Door," a drama about an actress who spurns Hollywood because she prefers the New York stage. Despite multiple offers, Miss Cornell has remained firm in her intentions to forego motion pictures.

Hank Harris, ex-Yale athlete and now a Wall Street broker, thinks Laurence Olivier a better Shakespearean actor than John Gielgud. He saw them on alternate evenings in

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

London and much prefers the actor-playwright to Mr. Gielgud. Harris' most vivid recollection of London was the night he was tossed out of a theater for laughing at John Barrymore. His most gratifying experience in Hollywood was the time, when attending an opening at Grauman's Chinese theater, he was mistaken for James Cagney.

A traveler who journeyed out to South Bend, Ind., for a recent Notre Dame game reports that the town still speaks of Rockne in the present tense. "Rock doesn't like this," or "Rock thinks sound fundamentals are much more important than trick plays," they say, although it has been six years since the old bald eagle died in an airplane crash.

It is time Irene Purcell, blonde comedienne, came back to the New York stage. This is the sentiment of those who bemoan a dearth of film acting along the ritz. Miss Purcell was the last actress starred by the late David Belasco. She hasn't been seen on Broadway since "Accent on Youth," two years ago.

This job requires a trifle of preliminary explanation: When Eric Madriguera first came over from Spain his English was about as good as my Spanish is now—that is, five words let him out.

Power's big ambition, aside from pictures, is to fly and own an airplane. He never had the time nor the money before to take up such a hobby. He likes Hollywood when he's working, but between pictures, when he has nothing much to do, he feels he is deteriorating.

Power made a movie test early this year and got his contract. Unlike many young newcomers, he was tailor-made. He's had experience with his father's companies and in little theaters before he got on in New York.

Is He Engaged?
He spends his spare time watching Sonja Heine skate. He thinks she's the nicest girl he ever met. If you ask him the status of his romance, he answers, "Well, we've not formally engaged, if that's what you mean." Sonja is noncommittal. She says, "Ty's nice." Anyway, he takes her to the shows and buys her flowers and dances with her—when he isn't entertaining the boss' wife.

Power's big ambition, aside from pictures, is to fly and own an airplane. He never had the time nor the money before to take up such a hobby. He likes Hollywood when he's working, but between pictures, when he has nothing much to do, he feels he is deteriorating.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Frederic J. Haskin

A reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Pampa Daily News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. If an American wins $150,000 in one of the Irish Sweepstakes, what part of it must be paid as a Federal tax? F. F.

A. The tax would be $64,368. The government income on all winning tickets held by Americans is usually about 25 per cent of the gross.

Q. Why does a short phonograph needle produce a louder sound than a long one? E. C. F.

A. The short needle possesses greater rigidity, and has fewer inherent vibrations. There is, therefore, less loss of sound intensity when conveyed into the armature.

Q. Is there any record to show whether more people in Washington, D. C., read newspapers or listen to the radio? V. L.

A. The total circulation of the five daily newspapers in the District of Columbia is nearly 500,000, and the last radio census places the number of radio sets in Washington at 125,000. The circulation of the newspapers is proved, but as yet there is no method of knowing the exact number of radio listeners.

Q. Do European storks follow the same route in migration from generation to generation? F. J.

A. It seems that instinct guides them along the same route that generations before them have flown. Eggs taken from nests in Prussia have been hatched in England. The storks sought and found the same air line used by their ancestors, forsaking their English foster parents that traveled a different route.

Q. Who is the Foreign Service officer with the longest record of service? H. P.

A. Homer M. Byington of Connecticut has the longest record. He entered the American foreign service on January 1, 1898, in the first administration of President McKinley, as clerk in the American consulate at Naples, Italy. He served at Naples under several promotions until 1908. He has since served in consular capacity at Rome; Bristol, England; Leeds, England; Hull, England; Palermo, Italy; and Naples. For several years prior to his last appointment, he served in the Division of Foreign Service personnel in Washington, and on February 4, 1935, he was assigned as consul general at Antwerp, Belgium. Mr. Byington was born in Washington, D. C., in 1879 and his son, Homer M. Byington, Jr., born in Naples, is now consul at Naples.

Q. Are all blind persons reported in the census? B. M.

A. The American Foundation for the Blind believes that the number of blind is much greater than is the census of 69,000. It estimates that there are 120,000 to 125,000 in the United States.

Q. How many prisoners are there in Sing Sing? E. M.

A. The prison population consists of 2,415 inmates at present.

Q. Who originated Eskey, the comic figure on the cover of Esquire, and how is he made? H. F.

A. Sam Bernstein invented Eskey and three artists now contribute to his development. Every month the clay figure is modeled, colored, and baked in New York. It is then shipped to Chicago and photographed for reproduction on the cover.

Q. What are rough wines? F. M.

A. Rough or astringent wines are usually red wines which are characterized by the presence of tannin substances derived mainly from the grape skins. Claret and Burgundy are typical of this group.

Q. When was the first automobile race in the United States? E. M.

A. In 1895 the Chicago Times-Herald sponsored the first great automobile race in this country.

Q. What is the highest price ever paid for a chair? E. W. F.

A. At the Reifensnyder sale in 1929 one of the celebrated Chippendale mahogany wing chairs made by Benjamin Randolph of Philadelphia (about 1760) brought $33,000. This is said to be the highest price ever paid for a chair.

Q. Why are Twice Told Tales so called? W. J.

A. This name was given by Hawthorne to the tales included under that title because some of them had been previously published in The Token and other periodicals.

Q. What are rough wines? F. M.

A. Rough or astringent wines are usually red wines which are characterized by the presence of tannin substances derived mainly from the grape skins. Claret and Burgundy are typical of this group.

The Wrong Murderer

By HUGH CLEVELY

Chapter 28
ABOUT A HAT
"In that case, he met Miss Fraser for the first time on the night of the murder, when he took her back to her guardian's house," Kennedy said crisply. "They arrived back at the house at about four in the morning. If he was the man in the room at midnight when your uncle was killed, and you say you're sure he was, he'd never met Miss Fraser then. He went and fetched her and took her home from wherever she was after the murder."

"You're not suggesting that Ruth knew anything about my uncle's murder?" cried Elsa, a horrified voice. "I wouldn't believe that for a moment."

"No, I'm hardly suggesting that," said the Inspector. "But if you're right, if he only met her once before that meeting in your house, I don't believe he obtained sufficient influence over her to make her perjure herself, but she's no fool. Would she go out of her way to defend an absolute stranger at the risk of her own reputation unless she had some definite reason for it?"

"No, she wouldn't," agreed Elsa. "I suppose he must be blackmailing her, then."

Inspector Kennedy smiled slightly. "Do you really think that, Miss Little?" he asked searchingly.

Elsa's conscience pricked her a trifle. "No," she admitted. "I don't really think it, though I should like to, I think Ruth really likes Mahony."

"That ended the conversation, and Elsa drove away. When she had gone the Inspector stood for a few moments considering before he returned into the house. His talk with Elsa had opened up an entirely new train of possibilities to him.

The Inspector was convinced that Mahony knew a good deal about the kidnaping of Elsa, and about her uncle's murder. But during that short period of reflection he had made up his mind not to arrest him just yet.

For another thing, he had a feeling that if he arrested Mahony now he might be doing just what some body meant him to do—something very cleverly and cautiously behind the scenes.

He was smiling when he re-entered Mahony's room; his manner was that of one man paying an ordinary call upon another.

"Sorry to keep you waiting," he said, "I haven't had much time very important to talk about. I came to see you because I believe you've lost a hat. Is this yours?"

From his capacious overcoat pocket he juggled a crumpled object—the hat which Mahony had left in the house in Jamaica road, and tossed it across to Mahony.

Mahony had been a bit worried about that hat. He glanced at it casually.

"Yes, it's mine," he answered in an unconcerned tone. "It blew off my head when I was on top of the bus, and was away before I could catch it. I didn't bother to go after it because it's only an old hat."

Now for some awkward questions about how that hat had got into the house in Jamaica road, he thought. But he did not get the chance to deny anything. The Inspector asked a point of never asking people questions they expected.

"Who is Mr. Brown?" he asked. "Is he a friend of yours?"

The question was quite unexpected; it gave Mahony a very nasty shock. For one moment he had been sure that the Inspector had discovered everything about Billy Ross.

"It's a very common name," he answered. "The telephone directory contains pages of it. I dare say I know somebody called Brown, but I haven't any particular friend of that name."

"Or enemy?" asked the Inspector. Characteristically, the Inspector did not pursue that line of enquiry. But he asked another unexpected question.

"Is Mulgrave a friend of yours?"

Mahony was the man whom Mahony had left bound and gagged in the ditch near Watford when he rescued Ruth.

"No," he answered. "I don't know anyone named Mulgrave."

"Now I'll tell you, said the Inspector in a disbelieving tone. He rose from his chair and stood looking down at Mahony. His manner was no longer casual, his voice was crisp and business-like.

"Listen, Mahony," he said, "I'm not sure whether it was actually you who killed Mr. Little, but I am sure you were in the house when it happened, and I'm sure you know all about the attempt to kidnap Miss Fraser. Now I'm going to give you a chance.

"If you'll make a statement telling me all you know about the murder, I'll do my best to get you off lightly. Think it over to bit. Imprisonment is better than hanging, or even being murdered by your former friends."

"What former friends?" asked Mahony.

"The kidnaping gang," replied the Inspector promptly.

"Oh! You think I was friendly with the kidnaping gang?"

"Yes, I also think you rescued Miss Fraser from them," went on the detective.

Mahony raised one eyebrow slightly. "Who said Miss Fraser had been kidnaped?" he asked.

"I say she was kidnaped," replied Inspector Kennedy. "You went straight on from the table that night, and fetched her back from where she'd been taken, and she's sheltering you out of gratitude. Well, what's your answer to that?"

"You make me laugh," said Mahony. "Laugh as much as you like while you can, but you take my tip and think things over carefully," said Kennedy.

With that he left, taking his companion with him.

Talks to parents

THE ENLARGING HORIZON

By Brooke Peters Church

There was a time when every household was more or less of a unit and to some extent self-contained. A woman could, or at any rate often did, live inside the four walls of home, or at most was neighborly with those who lived nearby.

Of course, there was always church work to be done, and in the city her duty might lead into public charities. But as a general thing, life for the woman, at least, tended to be narrow and self-contained.

But such times are past. No modern mother can afford any longer to neglect the world outside. The family has become an integral part of the community. The children spend half their waking hours away from the home. They are at school, scout meetings, the athletic field, the movie house, the community house.

They are rich on outside. The family has become an integral part of the community. The children spend half their waking hours away from the home. They are at school, scout meetings, the athletic field, the movie house, the community house.
