PRECINCT 4 TO WORK OUT ITS ROAD PLANS

Special Bond Issue Is Contemplated by the Voters

BRIDGES ARE MUCH NEEDED

Permanent Association Is Formed For South Of County

(Special to The News.)
McLEAN, April 18.—Following failure of the recent county-wide bond issue, citizens of Precinct No. 4, Gray county, have formed a permanent association to work for the interests of this part of the county, which includes McLean and Alameda.

D. N. Massey of McLean is president of the association, W. J. Ball of Alameda is vice-president, E. B. Hedrick of Alameda is secretary and F. H. Bourland of McLean is treasurer.

Road projects for Precinct 4 will be inaugurated soon, instead of further depending upon whole county efforts, it has been decided. Various communities will be consulted as to their needs and desires, and the whole group of suggestions will be placed in the hands of a committee to draw up bond issues or other propositions.

It is probable also that other precincts will be consulted concerning the roads which would connect the county from all directions and that projects of mutual interest will be discussed.

The south part of the county feels strongly the need for bridges over several treacherous fords, and it is desired that these shall be included in the next bond election.

Among the suggested bridge sites are the following: Over McClellan creek, eight miles north of McLean; across North Fork of the Red river, at McClellan creek ford north of Alameda, and over the North Fork near LeFors.

A committee of 10 citizens appointed by the president of the association will work out immediate plans.

ONCE AGAIN

(An Editorial)

After fitful starts and more uncertain attempts to return, the Pampa fire department "made" the blaze of this morning.

And like the old-time movie comedy departments, our own turned on the water that "wasn't." It was a small fire which the chemicals could handle, or the city might now be contemplating a heavy loss.

Why was there no water? "Blown fuses" is not even a good excuse, much less an explanation. Citizens recently were told that the water shortage was past history. Explanations are no longer acceptable—they should be made unnecessary. A new fire truck would be useless without water. Private subscription to pay the first installment on a big truck is under way, and a good response has been made. This fund should be closed with a short, vigorous effort and the city administration should without delay complete the amount and order the truck.

Other cities have found ways, with much less assets than Pampa's, to solve such problems. What is the matter with Pampa?

Three-Inch Rain Falls In Pampa Territory In 3 Hours Today—Wheat Prospects Fine

Torrential rains, sweeping into the Panhandle region early today, brought a deluge of moisture calculated to carry the wheat crop well along toward maturity and provide a fine "season" for row crops.

Following a beautiful Sunday, a rainstorm broke over Pampa at 6 a. m. today, and continued for nearly three hours at the rate of more than an inch per hour. Estimates averaged from 3 to 4 inches here, and practically as much west of here beyond Amarillo. Rain and wind, with some hail, are reported from the South Plains, and most of West and Central Texas received more or less rain over the night.

The extent of the rain did not include all of the Panhandle, the rainfall diminishing toward Clarendon and in the northeast portion of the Plains.

Oldtimers today said the storm in Pampa broke with as much fury and released as much rain as they have seen in years for the same length of time.

Water, running into basements and going through roofs, accounted for a small fire and other light damage here today, and the sewer system was broken in two places. Street paving will be held up a few days until the base, prepared to receive the concrete today, dries out.

Some attempts were being made this afternoon to drain large pools of water standing along the business section. Lack of crossings connecting sidewalks caused much annoyance today, and rubber boots were sold in large numbers. Buses were running before noon and the centers of the graded streets were fairly dry this afternoon.

Moody Reports Car Stolen—Borrowed By Wife's Sister

(By The Associated Press.)

AUSTIN, April 18.—Governor Dan Moody came to the police station at 4:15 a. m. today and reported his automobile had been stolen.

It was learned later, however, that the car had not been stolen but was merely missing. The machine was found in a local garage, where Miss Helen Paxton, Mrs. Moody's sister, had left it instead of returning it to the mansion garage. She had been using it during the week-end in the absence of Governor and Mrs. Moody.

Slaking Lime Sets Fire To Building

The fire department received a call from the Draper-Ross Produce company this morning where a quantity of lime in barrels under the building caught fire due to the heat of the lime slaking. No damage was done to the building except the floor was burned in places.

It was necessary to drag all the barrels from under the building and the lime was lost, as hooks had to be used on the barrels. The fire department worked for nearly an hour.

Easter Is Observed Appropriately Here

The most beautiful Easter Sunday in several years was enjoyed with various observances yesterday, and several parties and special programs were given.

All of the churches took note of the day in some manner, and cantatas were presented by the Presbyterian and Christian church choirs.

The Rex theatre was nearly filled last night when the Presbyterian group sang an Easter cantata, "Life Everlasting," following a prelude, "Poet and Peasant" by Miss Nina Clift and Miss Mary Hobart. The audience was much pleased by the excellence of the music. In a special collection taken for the benefit of the piano fund, more than $86 was contributed, enabling the church to retire the last note on the instrument.

(Special to The News.)

BORGER, April 18.—Preliminary to the intensive clean-up and sanitation campaign which started here today, city health officers Saturday served notices on many residents to tear down unsanitary outdoor toilets and replace them at once with structures made according to state health regulations.

As soon as the ground dries from today's heavy rain, 32 squads of men, armed with rakes, shovels, and other tools will start out to open the campaign formulated by the city administration and the Chamber of Commerce.

Vernie Hicks of Kentucky is here visiting his brother, "Shorty" Hicks. Miss Myrtle Woods spent Sunday in Borger visiting friends.

WHEAT RATES

The Interstate Commerce Commission, clothed with unusual powers in matters affecting transportation and commerce, is, or should be, giving much thought to the future of the Panhandle-Plains region.

It soon will be called upon to decide whether a line shall give railway service to the country lying between Cheyenne, Okla., and Pampa, a distance of about 95 miles. Taken alone, this road would be of great importance to the territory it would serve, but also to be considered are other proposals which are likely to develop at the same time. Several routes are possible, and perhaps Pampa as a city can bring about propositions more beneficial to her. The I. C. C. will be the final judge.

The commission has just been asked to consider an increase of approximately 40 per cent in grain rates in the Southwest. A general investigation of grain rates will start at Dallas May 9, when the increases will be proposed in hearings. The territory included would be parts of Missouri, Kansas, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. The reason for the desired increases are technical, and relate to the comparative volumes and distances of hauls in comparison with other commodities. Moreover, the grain hauling is done under emergency conditions, and much is to the coast ports.

The significance to the farmer is one that will bear watching, and West Texas, through its West Texas Chamber of Commerce, already is at work compiling facts and testimony to argue against the proposed rate hike. It is in a circumstance like this that the value of the W. T. C. C. is most clearly demonstrated.

What the result of the hearing may be is difficult to predict, for there is no established policy and the stability of the railroad industry is not what it once was when there was little highway competition. In the last few months the I. C. C. has held that rates contested were not excessive. Some of these applied to the cattle industry, and determined efforts were made to obtain rate revisions.

It appears that the I. C. C., if not willing to raise the tariffs much is at least favorable to their present heights. It may require strenuous efforts to keep the commission from granting small increases, which, in the last analysis, the farmers are most likely to pay.

Making Up The Elephant's Mind for Him

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON.—It is reported on good authority that the French government is suspected of being slightly lukewarm on the American plan to erect elaborate monuments to mark the scene of each major action of American troops in the World War.

This is said to be one explanation of why General John J. Pershing is now in France, taking charge of the matter of obtaining the necessary ground for the monuments. Pershing's vigor and prestige may be depended upon to make the necessary arrangements without undue delay.

Then, again, the general will be in a position to make any difficult decisions which might cause an officer of lower rank to pause and ponder.

Pershing, of course, is chairman of the Battle Monument Commission. He is expected back about the first of June.

One of the most remarkable post-war developments has been the multiplication of Pershing aides, cooks, orderlies and chauffeurs. There are hundreds of them now for every one who actually served under the Old Man.

"It seems as if every chauffeur and cook who ever saw France and a few who didn't, are now claiming to have been Pershing's own," remarks one of the general's friends.

Colored men who commit murder or crimes calling for as serious a penalty seem to have developed a penchant for posing as former "private orderlies" to the general.

One such was recently hanged in Missouri and there was considerable in the newspapers about him. It was said that Pershing had intervened in his old servant's behalf. The negro's claim to service with Pershing apparently actually did get him a two-week reprieve while the governor investigated.

But it is declared here that Pershing had never heard of the man. His office, when appealed to on the completely erroneous ground that Pershing had intervened to save the life of another criminal in Georgia, forwarded the man's military record, but the record was poor and showed a dishonorable discharge. The Georgia negro, another "private orderly," was sentenced to life imprisonment as was still another "private orderly" in Mississippi.

Sergt. Frank Lanckton, Pershing's present white orderly, went with him to war. He was injured and temporarily succeeded by a couple of other fellows before he returned, but the number of genuine "Pershing private orderlies" is very limited.

Capt. George E. Adamson, Pershing's present aide, was with him all through the war. There were three or four others, but two are dead.

PRESS FORUM FEES DOOMED

"It certainly violates the Fourteenth Amendment and deprives the defendant in a criminal case of due process of law to subject his liberty or property to the judgment of a court, the judge of which has a direct personal, substantial, pecuniary interest in reaching a conclusion against him in the case."

The speaker was the Hon. William Howard Taft, former president of the United States and now Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, our tribunal of last resort and the guardian of our legal and constitutional guaranties. In making the far-reaching declaration cited above, Mr. Taft was rendering a unanimous opinion in the case pending before the august tribunal over which he presides. It was a decision that will long be remembered because of the blow it deals the fee system of justice as practiced by many of the lower courts in a considerable number of the states of the union.

Although the case out of which this recent Supreme Court decision grew had nothing to do with motoring as such, it is, nevertheless, a fact that the implications involved in the decision and the precedent it establishes in restating in emphatic form one of the oldest maxims of Anglo-Saxon jurisprudence have a far-reaching significance to America's 20,000,000 car owners. For years this large class of citizens has fought against the fee system of fines and arrests on the highway—a system under which millions of dollars have been levied against thousands of motorists and out of which speed cops and justices of the peace have reaped a constant and lucrative profit through the division of the spoil.

It follows that any statute in any state, authorizing a judicial or quasi-judicial officer to preside over a case out of which any profit will accrue to him on account of fines and fees assessed against the accused is null and void.

The practice of giving such grant of power and this kind of remuneration to inferior judges, such as justices of the peace, mayors, and the like, still prevails in Ohio, Texas, Arkansas, Kentucky, Nebraska, North Carolina and Georgia. In other states the minor courts are paid for their services by the state or county, regardless of acquittal or conviction.

It would be asking too much to hope for a more thoroughgoing and unequivocal condemnation of the fee system of justice than is to be found in the concluding paragraphs of this unique decision. It's source places it beyond further question, and renders its application imperative on a'l and sundry. It is the death knell of the fee system in America.—American Motorist.

Thomas Jefferson

First chief executive to be inaugurated to Washington, Thomas Jefferson is remembered as much for his pre-presidential activities as for his popular eight-year administration from 1801 to 1809.

He was born April 13, 1743, in Virginia, the seat of the original rebellion, and to his honor the actual writing and signing of the Declaration of Independence, whose fiftieth birthday, July 4, 1826, marked his death at Monticello. He was a member of the Philadelphia which gave birth to the republic and also of the committee that chose the national seal and legend, "E pluribus unum."

Jefferson's first official act as third president of the United States emphasized his principles of free speech and democracy. He pardoned every prisoner under the sedition laws and abolished all official practice smacking of royalty. He made a bargain for the United States by purchasing Louisiana from France in 1801

Amarillo Texans Defeat Denver In Sunday's Contest

AMARILLO, April 18.—With manager Kelly leading in the attack, the Amarillo Texans slugged out a 5 to 4 victory here Sunday before the biggest crowd of the season. Reppy, touted Texan twirler, again failed to hit his stride, but when he was pulled Swartz ably held down the Denver nine, loser in the contest. The Denverites lost the game in the early innings, and after Hall went to the mound, only Kelly could solve his offerings.

Box score for the game between Amarillo and Denver, listing runs, hits, errors, and individual player statistics.

Ed Ravey's bat, good fielding by Westbrook, and several untimely errors gave the Amarillo Metros their second victory over the Grays Sunday, this time by a 6 to 5 score. Ravey, of the big bat, hit two two-baggers and two singles, while Whittenberg had a triple to his credit. Rowe was the heavy hitter for the Grays, connecting for three singles.

Errors Help Metros To Defeat Grays In Return Game Here

Ed Ravey's bat, good fielding by Westbrook, and several untimely errors gave the Amarillo Metros their second victory over the Grays Sunday, this time by a 6 to 5 score. Ravey, of the big bat, hit two two-baggers and two singles, while Whittenberg had a triple to his credit. Rowe was the heavy hitter for the Grays, connecting for three singles. Shaw at first, had a busy day, being credited with 15 put-outs. Nick-laus and Martin pitched nice games but their support was ragged in places, due a great deal to the condition of the diamond just being completed. There was good and bad baseball during the struggle. A good play would be spoiled by an error, especially in the case of Whittenberg, who made a sensational stop of Weeks' drive only to have Hayden drop the ball on the throw. It was an off day for both clubs, and the one making the most errors came out at the small end of the score. Both teams can play better ball, and the next game between these two clubs will be a better class of baseball, and will be played in the near future, as the Grays are out to take the measure of the Metros.

The Grays garnered their first run in the opening stanza, when Reynolds walked and was forced to second when Rowe also walked. Reynolds scored when Shaw was safe on an error. Wilson scored in the second on Martin's single, and Rowe made it three in the third. Reynolds got his second run in the fourth. It was up to Reynolds to make the last run when he scored on Rowe's third single.

Amarillo evened things in the second when Ravey hit his first double and scored on an error. In the third 4 hits netted two runs and gave the Metros the break. Their last two runs came in the sixth on hits by Hayden, Whittenberg and Ravey's second double.

The Grays will play a team not yet named, on the home diamond, next Sunday. The playing field will be in good condition by that time.

SPORT TALK

The brand of ball played yesterday was not exactly good but it was interesting from a spectator's point of view. The errors were evenly enough distributed to make the game tight.

Rowe and Ravey were the big noises when it came to wielding the willow, and Reynolds brought in the runs. The letter "R" seems to be lucky in this section, as yesterday's game was featured by Rowe, Reynolds and Ravey.

Word has been received by the management that "Oz" Eckhard will be in the line-up next game. That is another big bat for the Grays.

"Hook" Shaw was the busiest man on the ball diamond yesterday having 15 put-outs to his credit as well as covering a world of ground. He was well assisted by Scaling at third.

A couple of lapses of memory marred the third inning and the Metros got the jump and kept it.

It doesn't pay to jump an umpire, as Mr. Swansboro of the Texans found out yesterday, when he was fined $50 and suspended for a week, as the result of an argument with the league umpire on Friday.

"Rain, no tennis" for a few days; but this storm will help the courts a lot and give time for the equipment to arrive.

Athletic Peer To Visit U. S.

CAMBRIDGE, England — David, Lord Burghley, will take the Cambridge University High Hurdle team to America in May to participate in the Pennsylvania Relay Races.

Lord Burghley is the British record holder for the 440-yard hurdles and has represented his country in the Olympic games and elsewhere. He is President of the Cambridge University Athletic Club and has been a member of the Cambridge University athletic team for the past three years.

The visit of the team to the United States will be of short duration because of a recent ruling of the Olympic Games Association that no contestant in the Olympic Games may spend more than three weeks of each year outside the boundaries of his own country.

SEEN About New York

NEW YORK—At least one New York restaurateur likes to entertain an occasional "cranky" guest. He is the manager of the Waldorf dining room, and claims that "fussy" diners help to maintain a standard that has shown a tendency to deteriorate since prohibition.

Dinner checks, he says, are growing in number but dwindling in size under the dry regime. High prices may have something to do with the size, but he thinks it is the absence of wine to aid digestion.

At any rate, he claims that dry era diners are less critical than others and that cranky guests are welcomed as a check against carelessness in cooking.

The pendulum of a clock in a Sixth Avenue clock store window is a china doll on a swing.

The canny but uneducated shop girl who persists in calling two well known news characters "Count Salem" and "Countess Cathartic" is no longer typical, if she ever was.

Many department store salesgirls today are college graduates, and serve as advisers to customers. They are given preference in advancement and frequent outbursts of jealousy result. Advancement sometimes consists, however, in transfer to a department where sales are bigger, fewer, and consequently less tiring.

A floorwalker in one department is a recent dental graduate trying to earn money to open his own office.

Music lovers observed the earnest young man and pretty girl companion sitting side by side at every concert during the season, conversing when they were weren't absorbed by musical harmonies.

"An revoir," she said at the end of the season. "I'm reserving the same seat for next year."

She walked gaily off and the young man, gazing after her, was heard to murmur: "Next year! And I don't even know her name!"

Weather Too Good For Umbrella Makers

(By The Associated Press.)

MANCHESTER, Eng., April 18.—England's rainy season has been a disappointment to the umbrella trade. Because of the lack of downpours during the day appeal for wider use of umbrellas notwithstanding has been made by the National Union of Manufacturers in order to relieve the unemployment in this line of business.

On the whole there has been about the average amount of rainfall this season all over the country, but much of it has been at night, when most of the umbrella carriers were tucked in their beds.

There is a tendency increasing as well among the modern young people to leave their umbrellas standing in the corner at home—if they actually possess any, the manufacturers point out. Consequently the umbrellas are not subject to ordinary wear and tear.

Girls and women, as well as the young bloods among the men, have shown a preference for bright colored raincoats, and on this account millions of Britishers have refused to lug their gamps about as in the days of old.

Pinched Edges

The treatment of the crown and pinched edges are the points of interest in this felt hat. Quite high, the crown is loosely set over a band of grosgrain and has a modernistic enamel ornament in front.

WHIG CONTEMPORARY THOUGHT LINCOLN ORDINARY BUT HONEST

(By The Associated Press.)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 18.—To a Whig contemporary Abraham Lincoln was not a great man, but a commonplace individual whose outstanding trait was honesty.

Orville H. Browning, senator from Illinois during Lincoln's presidential administration and later a cabinet member, has left a diary covering the years from 1850 to 1861, soon to be published by the Illinois Historical society.

Browning and Lincoln were contemporary leaders in Illinois whig politics. Browning succeeded Douglas as senator and was secretary of interior under Andrew Johnson. He thought Lincoln less capable than Charles Seward, his secretary of state and scarcely abler than Andrew Jackson, his successor.

The Pepsysian chronicler, kept until his death in 1881, throws light on Lincoln. While holding Lincoln's friendship dear, Browning differed with him on slavery, and believed its "abstract injustice" too little reason for its abolition.

He favored Judge Edwin Bates of Missouri, independent whig, for the presidential nomination given to Lincoln in 1860, and made no secret of his views to Lincoln:

"Feb. 7, 1860; At night Lincoln came to my room and we had a free talk about the presidency. He thinks we may be right in supposing Mr. Bates to be the best man we can run."

After Lincoln's nomination Browning supported him reservedly:

"... I believed before the convention and believe now that he (Judge Bates) could have carried the entire Republican party and the old whig party besides, and I think others are beginning to suspect the same thing, and that we have made a mistake in the selection of candidates.

At Washington, Browning was in the president's confidence until their gradually diverging slavery views parted them. Then came the Emancipation Proclamation and Browning sought to dissuade Lincoln from making it final, but—

"The president was fatally bent upon his course, saying that if he should refuse to issue it there would be a rebellion in the north and that a dictator would be placed over his head within a week. There is no hope. The proclamation will come—God grant that it may not be productive of the mischief I fear."

Of Lincoln's assassination, Browning wrote: "He was disposed to be very lenient with the rebels... and to smooth the way for their return to allegiance and I thought him the best friend they had... This atrocity has blasted all our hopes... I have never feared what the rebels could do to us, but I do fear what we may do to ourselves."
