Pampa's first business. It was built in the fall of 1902, and occupied by the J. F. Johnson Mercantile Company. In those days large herds of antelope grazed on the plains in sight of Pampa.

The first business house built in Pampa was constructed at the corner of Croyler Street and Foster Avenue in the fall of 1902. J. F. Johnson opened a mercantile business which was operated in connection with similar stores he owned in Miami and Canadian. Practically everything that was used by the people at that time was carried in stock at the store. Johnson went out of business a short time later, and the store house was vacant. Then came Pampa's first barber. O. W. Hara moved a barber chair into the building, and with the spacious room, Pampa citizens boasted of the biggest little barber shop in this part of the country. When Hara quit business Pampa had a freakish barber shop in the form of a community barber shop. The men would meet at the building on Sunday and shave each other, and then take turns in having the locks trimmed. M. K. Brown, one of the early settlers, here, relates that he used to go to Canadian to get a "hair-cut". The Johnson building was then purchased by J. N. Duncan who operated a hardware and furniture store for several years. W. P. Davis later bought the business and the store was operated under his name until 1926. C. F. Buckler, Tom Lane, T. D. Hobart and M. K. Brown, all of whom were among the first citizens here state that they recall some good times, even if there were no bright lights decorating the town.

PAMPA'S FIRST CONTRACTOR IS AT WORK HERE

After a period of twenty-four years, the man who contracted the first building in Pampa is back again and is contracting other buildings. John Bryan built the J. F. Johnson Building, the picture of which is in this issue of the News. The same John Bryan is now constructing a modern brick building on Kingsmill Avenue. He completed the Cobb Motor Co. building here recently.

Contractors received from 25 to 30 cents an hour for their work in 1902 when the first building was constructed. Brick masons received from 4 to 5 dollars a day. The carpenters working for Bryan now receive about 8 dollars a day and the brick masons 14 or 15 dollars. He estimates that the total labor bill on Pampa's first building was less than $1,000. Part of the material was shipped from St. Louis.

"I never imagined that Pampa would ever be like this," said Bryan as he recalled the days of 1902.

FATHER PLACES BABY ON STOVE

Negro Threatened By Mob Violence At Memphis

Memphis, Texas—Mob violence was narrowly averted here Saturday when E. D. McElroy, colored, was arrested and brought to the county jail when it was learned he had placed a year-old negro infant on a red hot stove severely burning its feet and body and that he had lighted matches and placed them to the child's face and body. When the mother of the child resented his actions she was severely cut about the shoulders and neck with a butcher knife by the enraged negro.

The incident occurred last week near Plaska, where the couple are employed on a farm but the complaint was not made until Saturday when Sheriff Christian and Deputy May arrested the man and brought the woman and child to Memphis for treatment. The wounds of the mother and her child were treated and a collection to purchase medicine and clothing for the injured parties.

McElroy is in jail charged with aggravated assault and maiming the body of a human. It is said he was removed from the Hall county jail to remove any possibility of mob violence. —The Memphis Democrat.

Buick Ahead Again in the Yellowstone!

Again in 1926, more Buicks toured through Yellowstone Park than any other car except the one of lowest price.

Buick has held this same honor every year since the Park was opened to automobile travel.

This year there were 4,736 Buicks in a total of 44,472 cars registered. 101 different makes were represented in the registrations. One in every ten was a Buick.

Here is convincing evidence of Buick reliability—striking proof of the faith which Buick owners repose in their car.

They know Buick will take them and bring them back comfortably, safely and splendidly—across the Continent—or around the World.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT
By F. A. WALKER

THE JOB AND THE MAN

HANKING in the offices of one of the best known business men in this country is this motto: "You cannot get out of a man what God Almighty did not put into him. You must suit the man to the job; not the job to the man."

Perhaps there is a simpler and more direct way of putting it than that. Perhaps you can do it better. If you can, there is a job waiting for you in the office of the man who first wrote it because he is a man always on the hunt for writers who can say things with a punch.

There are a good many young men who try to succeed in lines for which they are not at all fitted.

Ambitious parents often insist upon mapping out the life work of their children when they would do a much more kindly thing to let the boys and girls follow their own inclinations.

A tree that is bent is never so good as a tree that grows according to nature.

Thousands of excellent carpenters have been spoiled in the making of poor doctors and the world is worse off for the experiments.

Almost every child shows an inclination toward some special thing. It enjoys work of a particular kind when other efforts are fruitless.

The wise parent will seek to find out what that inclination is and offer every aid to the highest endeavor.

A child's mind is not essentially different from the mind of a grown-up. Both offer resistance to doing what is unpleasant and irksome.

More than that, individualities are just as distinct and different each from the other as one kind of matter differs from another.

They have different uses and different applications.

To attempt to drive a nail with a sponge would be just as fruitless, if not as destructive, as to try to wash a window with a hammer.

To try to make a boy who loves mechanics and wants to study machinery into a professor of Greek is to misapply his talents and diminish his efficiency.

Every child should be studied.

There is no greater and no more interesting process in the world than the development of the human mind.

The baby with his fist in his eye is the seed of the man that is to be.

Put it in the wrong soil, give it too much or too little mental food and water and the final product will be distorted and twisted.

Put it in the right surroundings, give it as far as is proper its way and it will grow into a strong and sturdy plant; a source of joy to itself and you. Don't plan too much for your children.

Let them have a little of their own way in following their inclinations as to what they shall be and do.

Remember that you cannot get out of a boy or a man what God Almighty did not put into him.

It is proposed to establish a chain of 7,000 drug stores in Japan, according to a report to the Department of Commerce from Assistant Commercial Attaché H. A. Butts at Tokyo. Two thousand of these stores will be located in the large centers and 5,000 in the rural communities.

In preparation for the opening of the chain system a school for salesmen has been established at Gotanda. More than 5,000 salesmen already have been graduated and are working throughout the country. According to present plans the architectural layout of the stores is to be uniform and each store will carry 2,000 kinds of articles in stock.

Texas Tech Signs For Five Debates In Week

Lubbock, Jan 11—The Debater's Club of the Texas Technological College has accepted and submitted a total of five contracts for debates with other colleges within the past week.

The first contract to be accepted was a two-year agreement with T. C. U. at Fort Worth. Under this contract the T. C. U. debaters will come to Lubbock to meet the Tech team in March of this year, and the meet will be returned next year. T. C. U. will submit the subject.

A contract has also been signed with McHenry College, Abilene. This contract will take the Tech team to McHenry to return a visit from that school last year. Two-year contracts have also been submitted to Clarendon College, W. T. S. T. C., at Canyon, and Howard Payne, at Brownwood. Tech defeated McHenry last year and had an even break with Clarendon in a dual meet. Thirty men have come out for debate this year, and the Tech teams are expected to be strong.

PROGRESSIVE LEADERS

The annual election of officers for the Pampa Chamber of Commerce will be held Thursday night at the American Legion Hall. Men will be chosen to direct the Chamber of Commerce—to direct the citizenship of Pampa. These men must be progressive.

No chain is stronger than its weakest link, and our Chamber of Commerce will be no stronger than the officers. One man cannot place the Pampa Chamber of Commerce in the lead; the officers alone cannot give the organization the distinction that it must have, and the organization cannot be strong unless the officers are strong. With progressive men leading the Chamber, the cooperation of the members can be obtained and maintained.

There are men who can be ideal officers for the organization, but they won't. There are men who would be ideal officers, but they can't. Let's select the men who can and will be ideal officers. The best officer of any organization will fail if his associates are not behind him. The man with average ability will make good in office if his associates are behind him. Let's back the Chamber of Commerce. It is our organization. We will progress as it progresses; it will progress as we make it.

PAY FOR EXERCISING

The National Safety Council of Chicago is offering weekly bonuses to its employees for taking one hour's exercise a day. The employees may choose a straightwalk for an hour, skating, or any other form of exercise that they like.

Although the scheme is not entirely new it represents the tendency in modern employers to watch the health of the persons in their employ. Such a plan is designated to work two ways. Exercise is undoubtedly beneficial to the ordinary man. Then, the healthy man is much more capable and efficient. W. H. Cameron, managing director at the National Safety Council headquarters, says of the idea, "I am confident that cash paid for this purpose will pay big dividends to our organization in increased efficiency on the part of the staff. Healthy workers are happy workers." There is no doubt but that he is right.—The Columbia Missourian.

Wood Lots Important As In Farm Economy

The importance of the farm wood lot in the economy of farming has been largely overlooked, although it has some distinct advantages, according to E. N. Munns, chief of forest experiment stations, United States Department of Agriculture. One of the chief advantages of the farm wood lot is the part they might and occasionally do play in diversified farming.

The price of standing timber has always been more stable than that of any other land crop. In most regions timber values scarcely were affected by the recent agricultural depression. In fact, cotton farmers in the South faced by falling cotton prices following the war were fortunate if they had wood lots to turn to. In many of the instances they were able to recover from the hard times by means of their farm woods where they found a valuable by product readily saleable for cash.

In many places in the South today the wood lot is an important source of revenue. A few years ago it was reported that 100 sawmills of the portable type were operating in one county in Georgia, all working upon farm wood lots. It is quite probable, says Mr. Munns, that the present overproduction of cotton will stimulate the cutting of timber this winter.

There is another advantage in the farm wood lot says Mr. Munns, and that is the possibility of winter employment afforded the farm owner at a time when other farm work is relatively slack. Furthermore, it enables him to grow on his own land and without any cash outlay a considerable part of his timber and fuel requirements. Too often, however, the farm woods have been mistreated in order to procure some rather indifferent pasture, the farmer often overlooking the resources it contains and not being particularly interested in its productivity or potential value.

Radio Fan Tells How To Catch Owls

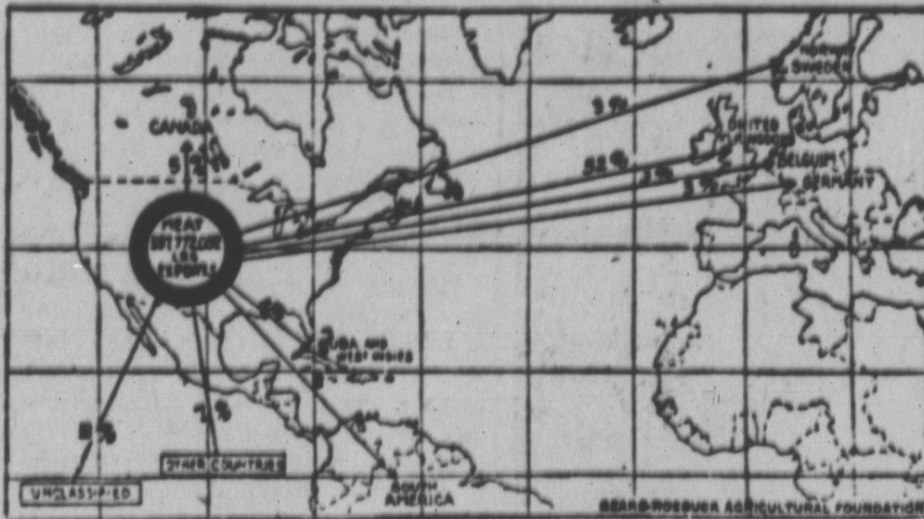

"We raise a considerable number of poultry and perhaps my experience with owls may be of some help to other poultry raisers."

With this explanation, a radio fan who listened to the radio poultry-course talks prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture, outlined his method for catching chicken-stealing owls.

"We found dead chickens almost every morning for a week. One night when coming home late I saw an owl fly from the garage. Suspecting that this was the cause of the dead chicken problem, I made a small platform about 2 feet square, nailing this on the garage roof and put a dead chicken in the center of the platform. I then placed six gopher traps around the chicken. From these traps I have taken four owls measuring about 4 feet across the tips of their wings."

In passing on to other poultry raisers this method of catching harmful owls, contributed by a member of the department's radio school, in connection with correspondence concerning it, the United States

U. S. Exports 537,772,092 Pounds of Meat, Worth $109,872,185

Exports of meat from the United States in the twelve months ending June 30, 1926, amounted to 537,772,092 pounds, valued at $109,872,185, according to the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation in a survey of the 1926 meat situation. Great Britain was the biggest customer, taking 32 per cent of all the meat exports in the last fiscal year and more than six times as much as Cuba and the West Indies, the next largest buyers. Canada ranked third but took only 5 per cent, and Germany was fourth, taking slightly less than 3 per cent. Belgium and the Scandinavian countries are other nations to which the United States delivers yearly substantial quantities of meat. Germany, on the other hand, was a lard customer, taking about 13 pounds of lard for each pound of our meats she purchased. Beef and veal exports make up only about 4 per cent of the total amount of United States meat exports.

Department of Agriculture considers the item one of the most unusual indirect results of radio activities thus far received. Traps set out as above described or by the ordinary pole method of one trap to a pole should be removed as soon as the offenders have been caught, so that innocent birds of other species will not be destroyed.

Better Treatment For Animals Shipped Now

A decided decrease in violation of the 28-hour law, which prohibits the confinement of animals in cars longer than 28 hours without feed, water, and rest, is announced by the Bureau of animal industry of the United States Department of Agriculture. There were but 277 cases of alleged violations during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1926, compared with 4922 cases during the preceding year and nearly 700 cases in 1924.

The decrease shows increasing compliance with the transportation and quarantine regulations and an evident desire of transportation companies and their employees to improve the condition under which domestic animal are handled in interstate commerce.

World's Record Golf Expected This Winter

The world may look forward toward January ninth as the day on which the greatest thirty-six holes of golf ever played will be turned in. The golfer will be played by the winner of the Los Angeles $10,000 open championship and will be to the credit of George Von Elm or of the man who beats him.

Von Elm is only in his middle twenties. And although he has never had the distinction of being a boy wonder he is within a few months of the age of Bobby Jones of Atlanta who has always had that title.

In winning the national amateur championship at Baltusrol Von Elm was one under even fours for thirty-five holes. He has a record of 63, that is nine under even fours, for eighteen holes at the Rancho Club in Los Angeles. And the Rancho Club course may be selected for the finals of the L. A. Open championship.

If it is the champion, who is still a youngster and whose game is getting better, will be playing in his first big tournament since winning the championship. He will be playing at home before his thousands of friends who have presented him with a magnificent sedan and who have otherwise crowned him king.

He will be pressed by one of the greatest fields of golfers ever put together. He will be driving with the narrow stance, and the full pivot—this is the altered style that helped him to the championship. He will be playing in perfect golfing weather for the records reveal January days in Los Angeles to be bright and sunny, with comparatively little wind and neither too hot nor too cold.

With the driving he did to win the amateur championship at Baltusrol his sixty-three at Rancho would have been more than likely a sixty-one.

The man who beats Von Elm the day of the finals is likely to have in his record the greatest round ever turned in. Hundreds will be in the play. The prize is the richest in golf and it is played at a time when most of the golf courses of the United States are closed. This will permit scores of professionals to be in the Southland who have to remain at their home clubs at other seasons.

"Inside" Information

Keep Zinc From Food

Liquid foods including buttermilk, milk, cider and other fruit juices should not be allowed to stand even for a short time in a galvanized iron vessel, nor should such a utensil be employed in making preserves, jellies, etc. The zinc used in galvanizing will dissolve and give the food an unpleasant taste and may cause sudden and intense illness.

Choosiness

The outstanding reason for malnutrition among American children is bad food habits. Of course, there are some parents who do not provide the fight food for their children because of lack of knowledge of food values or failure to understand the importance of the information at hand. In any case bad food habits, whether based on the child's "choosiness" or the parent's lack of information, can be corrected only through education in what are proper foods for children and how they can be trained to eat wholesome foods.

Waffle Waffles

An electric waffle iron should never be greased. If your waffles stick perhaps you have not put in enough melted butter or other shortening in the batter. One or two extra table-spoons of melted shortening in the batter will often prevent sticking. Also when the waffle is brown and crisp and ready to take out of the iron, thrust a fork firmly into it and lift the waffle straight up. If you work around the edges with a knife attempting to loosen it in that way, the waffle will break and be almost impossible to get out whole.

Animals On Game Preserves Increase Under Protection

Big-game animals on reservations administered by the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture have, with the exception of antelope, increased notably during the past 10 years. Although antelope have been seriously depleted by predatory animals, now that better control has been initiated they are again increasing. The increase in mountain sheep from the 12 introduced on the national Bison Range, Montana, in 1922 to about 50 in 1926, shows what can be expected when these splendid game animals are accorded proper protection. Buffalo, elk and other animals have increased to such an extent on this preserve that during the year it was found advisable to dispose of 66 buffalo as meat, and 7 were shipped alive to public parks, while 288 elk were sold to a grazing and breeding association in Massachusetts to relieve the overcrowded condition. The capture and removal of these elk was the greatest operation on record in this country of handling big game on a whole-sale scale. The total number of big-game animals now on reservations administered by the Biological Survey is about 1,550.

SPANISH HOUSE TO BE STARTED

Idea To Create More Interest Among Students

Austin, Texas, Jan. 10—An unusual opportunity will be provided advanced women students of Spanish attending the University of Texas during the coming summer session to learn that language with the establishment of a Spanish House, according to Dr. E. R. Sims of the department of romance languages. "La Casa Espanola" will be under the supervision of Miss Edith Kelly, University instructor of Spanish, who has been in charge of a similar house at the University of Iowa for the past two summers.

It is hoped that by fostering a foreign atmosphere where Spanish will be the language used in conversation, greater interest will not only be awakened in the language, but in the civilization, music and literature of the nation where it is spoken. The house is also to afford a social center for all persons in the University interested in Spanish. Meals for the sixteen persons residing at La Casa Espanola have been arranged for at the University Cafeteria where a private dining room will be provided. In order to afford a greater opportunity for conversation in Spanish, members of the house will be seated in small groups.

Other features of La Casa Espanola include early Sunday morning readings from the Psalm in Spanish. Daily conference hours will be arranged. Social programs, to be given in Spanish, will also be planned for each week in order that the students residing at the house will have every opportunity for actually getting into the spirit of the language and its people. Dr. Sims stated.

HOME TOWN FRIENDS

It don't ever make much dif'ence
Where you go, you'll always find
That yer home-town friends 're

Very much, for years and years—

There'll be someone glad t' help you
When you turn again towards

There'll be friends you had for-

Jus' t' be a friends t' ygu.

Three Millionth Car From Chevrolet Plant

Marking the latest spectacular achievement in its history as a large builder of three speed transmission cars, the Chevrolet Motor Company announces the production of its 3,000,000th car. The epoch-making model, which happened to be a coach, was driven off the production line at the Flint plant by W. S. Knudsen, president of the Chevrolet Motor Company. The first passenger was C. F. Barth, vice-president in charge of production.

Finished in St. James gray Duco and fashionably striped in Pistache green, the milestone car flashed off the production with scarcely more formality than attended the debut number 3,000,001, which followed nine seconds later.

Mrs. C. E. Russell and little daughter of Amarillo spent the week-end in Pampa.

Mrs. L. E. Press and children returned home Sunday from Hornell, New York, where they have been visiting.

Current Topics Review

Short Items from the Daily Press and Congress

A PR-TEST

An emphatic protest against the occupation by American naval forces of Puerta Cabezas, the Liberal stronghold on the east Nicaraguan coast, has been lodged with Secretary Kellogg by Dr. T. S. Vaca, agent of the Liberal government. Dr. Vaca termed American intervention unwarranted and charged that Dr. Juan B. Sacasa, "president of the Liberal government" is held in "practical imprisonment."

WOMEN BARRED

The Italian Fascisti have excluded women from the ranks of teachers of literature and philosophy in secondary and college preparatory schools. The step was taken, the ministry of public education explains, to check invasion of the school by women, which, it is felt is hurtful to the rising generation of young men.

RAILROAD CONSOLIDATION

Senator Fess, of Ohio, has introduced a bill to authorize the consolidation of railroads. The measure "authorizes and encourages" unification in order that adequate and efficient transportation may be maintained, and necessary weak and short lines preserved.

LIBERALS VS. CONSERVATIVES

The Conservative forces in Nicaragua have suffered defeat several times at the hand of the Liberals who are supporting Dr. Sacasa as President. It is claimed that Mexico is furnishing the Liberals with men and arms but this has been repeatedly denied by Mexican officials.

MEXICAN CHILD LABOR

By the child labor provision of the Mexican Constitution 15,000,000 children between the ages of 4 and 14 have been liberated from inhumane hours of toil. The maximum day's work for children between 12 and 16 is now six hours, and child labor under the age of 12 has been entirely abolished.

FALL-SINCLAIR

Harry F. Sinclair and Albert B. Fall must stand trial for conspiracy in connection with the leasing of the Teapot Dome oil reserve, Jennings Bailey, Associate Justice in the District of Columbia Supreme Court, held, in refusing to quash indictments against them. The date for the trial has been set for February 2nd.

CHINA

President Coolidge made it known recently that the United States is about to announce a new revised Chinese Policy to be made applicable to conditions which have developed since the Washington Conference on Pacific and Far Eastern affairs in 1921-22.

The British Government has asked for a relaxation of foreign control in that country, advocated recognition of China's nationalistic spirit, called upon the powers to condone the levying of the surtaxes agreed upon at the Washington Conference and characterized the treaties of the foreign powers as hopelessly out of date and needing revision.

PROSPERITY FUND

A proposal sponsored by Senator Pepper of Pennsylvania, which would authorize creation of a $71,000,000 "prosperity reserve" for expenditure on public works in times of slack employment was presented recently to a Senate appropriation subcommittee.

The committee, however, took the position that the suggestion constituted a matter for new legislation rather than as an amendment to the $128,000,000 agricultural appropriation bill now under consideration.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Sayre and Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hicks of Amarillo spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Carter and family.

J. C. King of the Barton Torpedo Company visited in Tulsa, Oklahoma last week. He returned home Monday.

Jinksey Brashears spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Bennett and family in Amarillo.

Description Of Pampa As Told In A Pamphlet Published By The White Deer Land Company In 1910

We have but one object in view in handing you this brief folder and that is, that you may know a few facts about the town of Pampa, Gray County, Texas, and the surrounding country.

So much is said and written in the development of new countries that is misleading that we hesitate to print much that could be truthfully claimed for the town of Pampa and the community in which it is located.

Like all other places and countries we are not without drawbacks, but when compared with others, we think they are so few that they are hardly worthy of mention. If you will but come to our town and investigate for yourself, we will gladly welcome you and be more than pleased to give you any information at our command.

Pampa is a growing town of 500 inhabitants located on the Santa Fe Railroad, which is the through line for this system from Chicago to California. This means that this line of Railroad is to become second to none in the United States. The Railroad equipment at Pampa is complete, being supplied with water tanks, coaling facilities and all modern improvements necessary for handling large volumes of business.

An official of the Santa Fe Railroad recently made the statement that the receipts from the Railroad Office at Pampa this year were larger than from any town of similar size on the system in Texas.

Pampa commands an extensive trade covering an area of 1,000 square miles or more. The drainage problem is very simple as the ground on which the town is located slopes very gradually in almost every direction.

Several good wells supply the town with water and it is but a short time until a complete system of water works will be installed to supply the growing needs of the people.

A large reservoir has been constructed just north of town and this with a dam two miles east of town furnishes ample watering facilities for those who are not otherwise supplied in this vicinity.

Pampa has three hotels, a restaurant, three general mercantile stores large and well arranged, an excellent hardware and furniture store, a First National Bank, the Gray County State Bank, both supplied with good fireproof vaults, two good drug stores, neat and up-to-date, two good lumber yards with all kinds of building materials, a livery and feed stable, a neat and clean meat market, two blacksmith shops, photograph gallery and other enterprises to be found in a growing town. Four church organizations have regular services and active work is carried on in each.

The school facilities in Pampa are very good, a neat brick building having just been completed at a cost of $15,000 to supply the needs of the people in this line. Six teachers are employed and a regular course of study is pursued.

Several fraternal organizations hold regular monthly meetings in the town and very enthusiastic work is carried on in each of the organizations.

The financial condition of Gray County, Texas, is in good standing, the total amount on hand on July 1st, 1910 being $8,883.23. The rate of taxation is low and property rights secure.

Much might be added to the foregoing, but it seems unnecessary in a brief statement such as this. However, if those who are interested in the search for a new location or a new home, a healthful climate or a place where opportunity is open to the industrious and economical, will drop a line to the Commercial Club of our town more information will be given gladly.

As to the country tributary and surrounding Pampa, it is difficult to know where to begin as the territory is so large and yet so undeveloped, but in all directions from Pampa there stretches that broad, open, fertile prairie which has long since been denominated as a part of the Panhandle country of Texas. This scope of territory is, except the portion already under cultivation, covered with a thick native grass very valuable for grazing purposes. The soil is deep, ranging from two to seven feet, and is of a dark rich color and according to government analysis as well as actual test, a very fertile soil.

The first section of this land in the vicinity of Pampa was sold to an actual settler in December of 1904—Mr. O. A. Barrett, of Pampa, Texas, who would take pleasure in answering inquiries from those who might be interested.

A small portion of this section was broken and planted the following season with good results. Six thousand bushels of wheat were raised on a portion of this same section this year—1910—and sold at 92 cents per bushel, and could have been sold at $1.02 per bushel ten days later.

About 300,000 bushels of wheat, oats and speltz were threshed in the country tributary to Pampa during this season. Sworn affidavits of the threshers can be obtained if desired.

Since that date, many settlers have located on the lands surrounding and adjoining Pampa and any and all of them can gladly testify on behalf of the merits of the country. These farmers are successfully raising wheat, oats, kaffir corn, maize, millet, cane, pumpkins, watermelons, all kinds of garden vegetables as well as chickens, ducks, geese, hogs, cattle, horses, mules and all such products as are usually found on the farm.

These farmers are building comfortable homes and do not belong to the transient class so frequently found in new countries. So much can be said concerning the country and the progress it has made during the few short years during which it has been cultivated, that it is useless to try to more than mention just a few of the general facts and conditions. This we have attempted to do very briefly and with all sincerity. So much graft and greed exists in the United States today that the worthy often suffer with the guilty. Along this line we invite very careful and special attention and investigation. Pampa has never been boomed, the lands surrounding it have never been in the hands of the speculator and can not be for no more than one section can be purchased by one person except at remote distances where the land is more broken.

The statements of this folder are supported and backed by the Commercial Club of Pampa, and open investigation is very earnestly requested. Actual settlers can obtain land here at or near Pampa without fear of being robbed, held up or misled. Very little cash is required to purchase a small tract of land and very satisfactory terms may be had.

Prospectors are invited to examine the lands for themselves, investigate prices and compare them with other localities before making purchases or any obligations whatever. We are not flooded with the so-called real-estate men and land sharks, but honesty and square dealing have governed our movements since the first actual settler arrived in December, 1904, and we still preach the same doctrine.

Now, in conclusion, let us again invite you to come to Pampa to investigate for yourself and judge accordingly. The Commercial Club, as we have stated, stands ready to guarantee that you will receive hospitable treatment and that in case you become further interested to neither the grafter nor the boomer is here and for their absence Pampa has had a constant growth and is still enjoying the same healthy condition.

A STATEMENT

By the President of Dodge Brothers, Inc.

Within a few months, Dodge Brothers, Inc., will introduce a new line of motor cars, in no way conflicting with the market for Dodge Brothers present types, but occupying a considerably higher price field and produced in limited quantities.

Combining Dodge Brothers well known dependability with exceptional performance and striking beauty of appointment and design, these distinguished vehicles, we believe, will instantly set a new and higher standard in fine car practice.

Dodge Brothers will continue to produce their present line in maximum quantities to meet a demand which, during the year just ended, has called for an impressive total of 330,000 motor cars.

me, and they come in the barn and sit on my back, and I stand very straight and move hardy at all so they will not fall off.

"And best of all I am never given a checkrein to wear. Oh, that is the best of all. My head and my neck are free to move as I'd have them move.

"So many horses have to wear checkreins and it just seems too cruel for words. They say that it is all right—the people who make their horses wear these checkreins.

"They say that the horses don't mind them. But let down one of those checkreins and just see how the horse moves his neck as though it had been so uncomfortable before. They say that it looks so dreadful to see a horse with his head down. "Horses don't put their heads very far down, and, anyway, it seems to me that it is better for a horse to be allowed to be natural. It seems so dreadful to make a horse do something that nature didn't intend him to do.

"If nature intended him to have his head way up she would have made him that way and if she made different horses to hold their heads differently then that was the way she meant it to be and her work should stand.

"To make a horse go miles and miles with his head pulled 'way back—oh, it is so cruel.

"And it seems they like to do it for style—by 'they' I mean those people who do these cruel things.

"Yes, they'd rather have a horse uncomfortable and miserable; a good, loyal, faithful, steady horse—they'd rather have him uncomfortable and miserable than go without what they think is a little style.

"Oh, dear, how I would like to see them going along—these people who think it is so stylish to have heads held back—and have their heads held 'way up.

"Yes, I'd like to see the people who do these things have the same thing happen to them. Then they'd know how horses suffer and how uncomfortable and wretched they are.

"These people don't seem to understand. They seem to think it is all right, that the horses don't suffer, that the horses should keep their heads up.

"At least that is what they want to think and so they think it and many of them argue with my master when he begs them not to make their horses wear checkreins.

"Oh, dear, why are there such things as style? The horse with the checkrein suffers for style and yet cannot understand it. And I, a happy horse, a horse loved and well-treated, am making this appeal for those horses not so well treated.

"Do all you can to see that these horrible, tight checkreins aren't used! Have blankets to put over horses when the rain comes down and when it is cold. And try to see that others take care of their horses. Oh, do all you can, people, for horses have always been your friends. Be as faithful to them as they have been to you.

"This is the earnest request of a happy horse who wants other horses to be treated as he is. And try to see that others treat their horses as you know they should be treated. Horses cannot talk human talk—so won't you speak for them?"

SHE TELLS THE STORY OF MANY OTHERS

Dr. W. C. Rountree, Tarrant, Texas.

Dear Doctor:—About 8 years ago I was taken with a bad case of stomach trouble. I got better in Winter and worse in Spring and Summer. I suffered untold agonies, took many kinds of medicine and found no relief. After four years I broke out with something that looked like sun burn. At first it appeared on my hands, later on my face and neck. My mouth got sore, feet burned and swelled until I could hardly walk. My heart beat too fast and I had a hurting in my chest. Some one sent you my name and you sent me one of your little books and Questionnaire, but I did not order your treatment at first. I waited thinking I would get better, but instead I got worse. Finally I got so bad that I could not walk 20 steps without resting. I ordered your Patajaya treatment and on the 9th day of July 1920 I began taking it. I soon saw that it was helping me and by the time I had taken one treatment, the rash and many of the other symptoms had disappeared. I have taken four treatments and am entirely relieved of all symptoms of Psoriasis. I appreciate the honesty and kindness with which you have dealt with me, for I have found everything that you told me about the treatment to be just like you said. I want to ask all who have this disease to not get off ordering your treatment like I did for while they are waiting this terrible disease is making their life away.

Wholesale Blackbird Destruction Unlikely In Rice Area Of South

During the past year the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture has studied control measures against blackbirds; particularly in the rice-growing region of the Gulf coast. It was found that no material reduction in the numbers of blackbirds in the area is possible during the growing and harvesting seasons. Poisoning operations during the early part of the planting season did not give uniformly consistent results and were very expensive. It was found that if poisoning is done at all it should be limited to the narrow zone of severe damage. The use of poison bait at sprouting time had a certain deterrent effect on the birds. Nothing but the use of greasms can curtail losses during the ripening and harvest periods.

The area in which blackbird damage is severe enough to warrant the necessarily great expense of control is confined to a narrow zone of coastal plain along the southern border of the rice area. To reduce creatures as nomadic as blackbirds in such a limited area would require operations in the whole region, over much of which black birds are not destructive enough to require drastic control. In some situations they may even be beneficial to the farmer.

Report Shows T. B. Is Declining Now

Coincident with the decision of tuberculosis among cattle and hogs in an official report of a decreasing human death rate from the disease, says the United States Department of Agriculture. The low mortality of children under four years may be attributed in part to the aggressive campaign for testing tuberculous cattle and disposing of animals affected with the disease.
