HOUSTON (AP) — Charges have been dropped in Houston against a motorist who ran over and killed a 12-year-old girl while reaching for a cell phone. Jaquay Tennard had been charged with criminal negligent homicide. But a Harris County grand jury decided Monday that there wasn't probable cause to try him. Valerie Garza was walking on July 7 when she was struck by Tennard's car. Tennard told Houston police he saw the girl on the side of the road, but his cell phone rang and as he reached for it, his vehicle accidentally struck the girl.

Sense of humor important to couple wedded 69 years

By JEFF WEST
Staff Writer

Maybe the secret to a long marriage is a division of responsibilities.

"He doesn't worry about anything so I do, somebody has to worry," said Ruth Nensiel about her 69-year marriage to husband Harvey.

The couple is celebrating their anniversary this week.

Of course, it could be that Harvey just likes things the way they are. He said he has had the same office in the Combs-Worley Building for 61 years. A CPA by trade he also managed the historic building from 1938-1994. Harvey still works in his office a few hours every day even though he turned 92 this year.

His 90-year-old bride has also kept busy. She was named Woman of the Year by Beta Sigma Phi here in 1957 partially for her work with several groups including the Girl Scouts. The two live in the house they built, acting as their own architects, in the early 60's.

They both still obviously still enjoy the house and each other's company. They also enjoy it when they hear from their nine grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren. They had two daughters but one passed away several years ago.

They were married by her brother who was a preacher in Topeka and shortly thereafter came to the Panhandle looking for work. They haven't always lived in Pampa though he moved here in December of 1938 and she followed the next month.

Their hearing isn't what it once was but both still have a good sense of humor and enjoy kidding each other, including about the spelling or rather misspelling of their last name. There were so many that Harvey decided to save them all. He has counted 125 versions so far.

"One letter got to me with my name spelled '9steel,'" he said.

European diary A tour of Germany

By Lois Strate
For The News

(Editor's note: This is the third in a series, "The Essence of Europe," about a Pampa group's summer trip).

With a little sleep under our belts, we awake to breakfast of hard rolls, jelly, juice and coffee. Actually, it tastes good and satisfies. Now, we are on the road in our trusty bus with our fearless bus driver, Eddy, take us to Munich.

The drive through Germany is beautiful. I never realized there could be so many shades of green. Saw lots of hops and corn growing — wonder why? Maybe that is why German beer is purported to be so good. More about the beer later! The population of Germany is about 81 million. Fifty-five percent of the people live alone. Most of them rent apartments for their entire lifetime. Home ownership is very rare. The apartment dwellers rent garden space so they can grow their own vegetables and fruits, however, most people have to ride the train or the bus to their garden as they are located a long way from their apartment.

Parking plan public hearing on tap Oct. 12

By KATE B. DICKSON
Associate Publisher

City Commissioners will hear more from citizens on the issue of parking restrictions during a public hearing at 6 p.m. on Oct. 12 in the commission chambers on the third floor of Pampa City Hall.

During yesterday's regular meeting commissioners discussed the proposal which will be written to prohibit the on-street parking of recreational vehicles, trailers, mobile homes, 18-wheelers and boats. The parking of such vehicles on private property will not be prohibited but none can extend onto sidewalks.

City Attorney Don Lane presented another draft of the proposal which includes revisions based upon "general discussions" that have been held. He'll have another draft ready on Oct. 12 and it may or may not be revised again following the public hearing.

He suggested eliminating the section on noise and fumes and replace it with a specific time period that truck tractors may be left running when parked in neighborhood driveways or yards. The consensus was that tractors will not be allowed to idle for more than 15 minutes.

Commissioner Faustina Curry said most complaints she receives about 18-wheelers are that tractors are left running for long periods.

Red School House vandals still sought

Roberts County officials were looking today for the person who damaged an historical building north of Pampa.

Roberts County Sheriff Bill Britton said today the vandalism of the little red school house north of Pampa is still under investigation. He said the person who vandalized the small frame historical structure on Texas Highway 70 will also face charges concerning damages to a piece of heavy road construction equipment.

The 28-foot-by-36-foot school house at the Wayside Community north of Pampa was damaged late Friday night or early Saturday morning, officials said.

The state-designated historical structure was damaged when someone driving a piece of road construction equipment rammed the building, knocking it off its foundation and tearing up walls on the north and east sides.

Range land tour focus on damaging grasses

WHEELER — A tour of Wheeler County range land is planned for Thursday.

The pasture and range tour is scheduled to begin at 9:15 a.m. Thursday, at the Joe VanZandt ranch about 53 miles west of Wheeler on Texas Highway 152.

According to VanZandt, the tour will include a discussion of the rapid encroachment of brush and certain trees on grassland areas. Several brush control methods will be demonstrated and explained, he said.

There will also be a tour of VanZandt's rotational grazing system and what it means to grass and cattle production along with a demonstration plot of Luna wheatgrass.

Other discussions will include water needs of brush, grass and cattle.

A hamburger lunch will be provided. After lunch, there will be tours of Hidetown, one of the first settlements in the area, and an inspection tour of VanZandt's Beet Machine cattle herd.

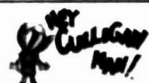

For more information call the Wheeler County extension office at 826-5243 or VanZandt at 843-2101.

Diary

We arrive in Munich late in the afternoon and check into the Hotel Imperial. I think I forgot to mention a couple of important things — so I'll fill you in here. First, air-conditioning is a luxury in Europe — this means that most times — you don't have air-conditioning in your hotel. The only hotel out of the eight that we stayed in that had air-conditioning was the hotel in Rome. Secondly, most hotels do not have elevators, even though most of them are 4-7 stories tall. Now, I don't know much about physics but it doesn't take too long to figure out that this heavy luggage has to get up to the room somehow, and I think I have figured out how — blood, sweat and tears. Now, to be fair, some hotels did have an elevator, if you could call it that. It was more like a one-person, modified dumb-waiter. Oh, it went up and down. And, it did have closing doors. That is where the resemblance ends between "their" elevators and "our" elevators. Now, try to imagine 36 people checking in all at once (Eddy and Stefanie had to sleep, too, you know). Everyone has at least two pieces of heavy baggage. We have 15 minutes to get everything upstairs, unpack, freshen-up and get back downstairs. Do you get the picture? Yes, our room was on the fifth floor. Oh, one other thing. Hotels in Europe do not count the first floor as a "floor." If you are in room #1, you are on the second floor. If you are in Room #45, you are on the fifth floor. Get it? Now, think about all of this and if you get a good headache, you will know how we felt upon arrival at our fifth floor rooms.

We board the bus and head to downtown Munich. Our main focus is upon Marienplatz or "Mary's Plaza" (to us it would be a town square). The New Town Hall is home to the famous Glockenspiel clock. The clock has two tiers.

The top tier is circular and consists of two mechanized copper figures that are made to simulate

AG files support suit

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Illinois Attorney General Jim Ryan has filed a lawsuit against a Houston-based company, claiming it charges money to help parents collect child support but actually provides little assistance.

The lawsuit, filed Tuesday, alleges that Child Support Assistance Network Inc. violated consumer fraud and collection agency laws. The lawsuit also says the company misrepresents itself by claiming it can put "deadbeats" in jail and that it doesn't disclose all the fees it charges.

Named as defendants are the company, president Denise Landers, vice president Larry Landers, secretary James Dannheim and regional representative Pat Sullivan of Sterling.

"I feel it's a wonderful company. It's helped a lot of my moms," said Sullivan, an employee since March 1998. "It's not true that the amount is not disclosed. Every person who calls me, I tell exactly what the collection procedure is."

Ryan spokesmen said the office had as many as 40 complaints about the company from northern Illinois. Most people who sign contracts are already receiving support but think the company will collect back payments.

Instead, the Sangamon County lawsuit alleges, CSAN gets people to redirect their support payments to the company, which keeps $300 for administrative costs and 30 percent of all support payments. Sullivan said she also charges a $35 application fee to pay for advertising.

Stefanie told us it is mandatory for all German school children to visit Dachau. When questioned about how the German people feel about what happened at this and other concentration camps under the orders of Hitler, she said that they are most embarrassed and shamed by the events.

a 1568 re-enactment of a jousting tournament. The knights on horseback are a Bavarian knight and an Austrian knight. They joust round and round until finally the Bavarian knight spears the Austrian knight and he falls off his horse. We are in the Bavarian region of Germany so that's why he always wins! The bottom tier is comprised of dancers in various costumes, called "Schafflestamy" and they twist and turn to the music of a 43 bell carillon — called the "coppers dance." The whole process of the clock chiming and the music lasts about 10 minutes. It only happens three times a day, at 11 a.m., noon and 5 p.m.

We have free time to shop, and the stores are fascinating. New, modern stores in buildings that are hundreds (or thousands) of years old. The modern and the ancient are mixed in a delightful blend. Everywhere there are lanes marked off for bicycles, along the streets and along the sidewalks. And, you better stay out of those lanes — we got yelled at a few times right before we almost got ran over!

There was a huge open market that featured the most beautiful and delicious fruits and vegetables and almost anything else you could imagine. By the time we had gathered back at the Marienplatz fountain, we were all excited about the stores we had seen and the purchases we had made.

We saw the Church of Our Lady — a beautiful structure. The legend about this church is that the devil didn't want it built so he made a bargain with the architect. The church could be built if it had no windows in it. The architect decided to outwit the devil and build the church so that if you stood in one particular place, due to the angles, you couldn't see any windows. So, the church was finished and the architect led the devil blindfolded to the "spot" and when the devil opened his eyes, he could see no windows and he was pleased. But when he took a step to leave, he saw the windows and let out a terrible yell and stomped his foot. The footprint impression can still be seen in the foyer of the church.

Next we go out to the Nymphenberg Castle — it was humongous. A very interesting tour, but fast and I don't think we soaked up all that we should have, which was our loss.

Leaving Munich for a side trip, we saw the Olympic Park where the 1972 Summer Olympics were held. You will recall that seven athletes from Israel were killed at that Olympic village. We are headed out to Dachau, a German concentration camp. Little did we know, this optional excursion would have a profound impact on each of us.

Dachau was the first German concentration camp, set up on March 22, 1933, on the grounds of a former ammunition factory. A total of more than 206,000 prisoners were registered at the camp between 1933 and 1945; however, that number was actually greatly exceeded because many prisoners were taken through the camp without being registered. There were 34 barracks, each having wooden bunks. When you first enter Dachau, you watch a 30-minute historical film about the camp.

I don't think you could possibly leave that film with dry eyes — it was a vivid and graphic film and very moving. Not only were many Jews, political opponents, clergy and "undesirable elements" cremated there, but there were also horrible experiments performed on the prisoners. There were high pressure experiments, exposure experiments, biochemical experiments and prisoners were infected with Malaria agents. Those of you who remember the World War II period would have been deeply affected by being at Dachau.

Stefanie told us it is mandatory for all German school children to visit Dachau. When questioned about how the German people feel about what happened at this and other concentration camps under the orders of Hitler, she said that they are most embarrassed and shamed by the events. The German people have vowed to never again blindly follow one person — to never again let these atrocities happen at their hands.

Back to the hotel for our evening meal of pork. We always had dessert, usually it was ice cream or sherbet or mousse. After dinner, we got our second wind and decided to go have some fun. So, it was off to the "beergartens." Across from the Planet Hollywood, we went to the "Hofbrau House" for an evening of pleasant adventure. Germans plant chestnut trees in all of their beergartens. What a loud, boisterous and fun place. Long tables filled with people from every nationality and every walk of life. Everyone is enjoying a huge pitcher of beer. So much laughing and dancing and singing and everyone treats each other like family. We had a great time, and we had a great taste of true German culture — an evening we will not soon forget!

Texas Grain Sorghum Board announces nominations for director position

LUBBOCK — One position from each Texas Grain Sorghum Board district is up for election. Nominations for director positions on the TGSB ended on Sept. 13. Producers nominated were: Jim Boston, West Texas District; Stephen Vorwerk, Central Texas District; Dale Artho, Panhandle District; Clarence Chopelas, Coastal District. No nominations were received from the Valley District.

Qualifications for producer eligibility include active involvement in grain sorghum production in Texas and residing in one of the five TGSB districts. Voters may cast their vote or write in candidates for producers only in their district. Ballots from producers must be postmarked by Oct. 13, 1999, in order to be counted. The TGSB encourages broad participation in the election. Ballots can be obtained from county agents, local grain elevators, or by calling 1-800-692-4169.

The TGSB is a voluntary statewide commodity board that serves grain sorghum producers. It is involved with funding research, educational projects and promotional activities that strive to affect the producer's bottom line. It has been operational for more than a decade and continues to address issues affecting producers. By state law, it cannot influence farm policy or government regulations. The TGSB's sister organization that deals with farm policy and government regulations is the Texas Grain Sorghum Association. Both organizations complement each other but perform two different functions.

Pipeline company giving away trips to to raise funds for United Way

A pipeline service company is giving away trips to professional football games to raise money for the United Way.

Williams Energy Services, part of the Williams companies, is selling chances for a trip to the Dallas Cowboys versus the Greenbay Packers football game in November and the Denver Broncos versus the Kansas City Chiefs football game in December. The two dollars for each ticket will go to the United Way agency of the donor's choice, according to Brenda Amador of Williams Skellytown office.

The trips include two tickets to the games, lodging for two for one night and gift certificates for two people. Drawing of the winning tickets will be Nov. 4, Amador said.

The Dallas-Green Bay game is Nov. 14 in Dallas. The Denver-Kansas City game is Dec. 5 in Denver.

"Williams matches the donations dollar for dollar," Amador said. "Anything we raise, Williams matches it."

Amador said winners need not be present at the drawing to win. They will be notified by telephone.

For more information call Brenda Amador at 848-2602 in Skellytown or Helen Walden at 323-4052 in Canadian.

Johnson and Wales announces student leader scholarship

PROVIDENCE, R.I. — A tuition scholarship totaling $20,000 and an opportunity to learn one-on-one from one of America's foremost business executives — these are the grand prizes in the Third Annual Outstanding Student Leader Competition sponsored by Johnson and Wales University.

The competition is open to all high school seniors who will graduate at the end of the 1999-2000 school year. Deadline for nominations is Jan. 28, 2000. Entry forms may be obtained by calling 1-800-DIAL-JWU (1-800-342-5598).

Each entrant must submit a resume highlighting leadership roles or positions in one or more of the following areas: employment/entrepreneurship, community service, academics, the arts, clubs and athletics. Resumes must be accompanied by a 250-word essay on the topic, "What Leadership Means to Me," a current high school transcript and a completed entry form.

On Friday, March 10, the University will transport the top 10 finalists to the Johnson and Wales campus in Providence, R.I., to compete for the grand prize — a four-year tuition scholarship totaling $20,000 to The Hospitality College or the College of Business, and an opportunity to "shadow" an executive in one of America's top corporations during the freshman year.

Judging will take place throughout the day on Saturday, March 11. In addition to the real-life leadership experiences listed on their resumes, finalists will be judged on their responses to three unrehearsed role-playing exercises, which will test their decision-making skills, ethics, compassion and poise.

Johnson and Wales University founded the National Outstanding Student Leader contest in 1998 to promote and reward the leadership ability of its prospective students. All university undergraduates have the option of incorporating a concentration in leadership studies into their degree programs. The concentration is administered by the Center for Leadership Studies in the university's John Hazen White School of Arts and Sciences.

Johnson and Wales was founded in 1914. It is a private, non-profit, accredited institution offering undergraduate and graduate degree programs in business, food service, hospitality and technology. With an enrollment of more than 11,500 students, Johnson and Wales is based in Providence, R.I., and maintains campuses in Charleston, S.C., Norfolk, Va., North Miami, Fla., Vail, Colo., Worcester, Mass., and Gothenburg, Sweden.

DPS seeking Capitol police officer applicants

AUSTIN — The Texas Department of Public Safety is currently taking applications for openings on the Capitol Police force.

After completing the 14-week academy that begins Feb. 7, DPS Capitol Police Officers will be assigned to Austin state properties to provide security and police services.

"We are hopeful that our applicant pool will include large numbers of qualified minorities and women," said Lt. Curly Colquitt, who heads the DPS recruitment effort. "This is a great opportunity for the right individual — someone who wants to make a difference, who wants a career in law enforcement with a first-class organization."

The application deadline is Oct. 26 for Texas residents and Oct. 1 for out-of-state residents. Anyone interested should contact the nearest DPS office for more information and an application packet. Additional information and a state application are also available on the DPS website, www.txdps.state.tx.us.

Applicants must be U.S. citizens, be at least 21 years old by the time they graduate from the academy, be of good moral character, meet certain vision requirements and have a high school diploma or GED.

A final conviction (including probation) for any DWI, DUI, family violence or felony automatically will disqualify applicants, as will excessive traffic violations. The screening process will include verification of written and oral statements and overall scrutiny of the applicant. Physical, psychological and drug testing also are required. Trainees will earn $2,000 a month. Successful graduates will start at $29,000 a year and will earn $35,000 annually at the end of their one-year probation period.

Stars at Night Gala in offing

AMARILLO — The Don & Sybil Harrington Cancer Center will present the Stars At Night gala from 7 p.m.-12:30 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 2 at the Amarillo Country Club. The gala features a gourmet dinner buffet prepared by the chef of the Amarillo Country Club. Entertainment for the evening will include Johnny Reno and, during dinner, guests will enjoy the sounds of local entertainers, The Martinis and John Blackburn.

Guests will have the opportunity to bid on a gala art and celebrity auction, along with a live auction. Gala art and celebrity auction items include hundreds of gifts from celebrities, hand-painted specialty items from artists from throughout the Panhandle, specialty items from merchants, trips, parties and collectible one-of-a-kind gift items.

The special gala evening will also include the chance to buy Opportunity To Win tickets for a chance to win a trip for two to San Francisco. The trip will include airfare for two courtesy of American Airlines, deluxe accommodations for three nights and a private limousine tour of Napa Valley's famous vineyards courtesy of The Travel Store. Tickets are $5 each or 5 for $20, and a maximum of 2,500 will be sold.

Tickets for the gala evening are $50 each and are available for purchase from The Don & Sybil Harrington Cancer Center. For information, call Jennifer McElreath, director of Community Relations, at (806) 356-1913.

Texas round up ...

Jury to begin hearing prisoner abuse case

GALVESTON, Texas (AP) — A videotape of Texas jail guards attacking Missouri inmates during a 1996 shakedown was among the testimony prosecutors planned to put before a jury today on the opening day of a federal civil rights deprivation trial of three officers.

The tape, exposed in 1997 by The Facts newspaper of Brazoria County, shows prisoners being attacked by a police dog, electrically jolted and kicked.

David Cisneros, 39, and Wilton David Wallace, 52, both of Angleton, and Robert Percival, 37, of Lake Jackson, each face one count of depriving the civil rights of Missouri inmate Toby Hawthorne during the shakedown.

The men face maximum prison sentences of 10 years.

A fourth defendant, 50-year-old Lester Arnold of Vanderpool, entered into a plea arrangement Tuesday in which he agreed to cooperate with prosecutors in their case against the others.

In lawsuit, Branch Davidians weave fire theories beyond tear gas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief lawyer for Branch Davidian survivors and family members who are suing the government says he is wary of blaming the fiery end of the 1993 Waco siege on the military tear gas that the FBI belatedly admitted using.

Attorney Michael Caddell calls the potentially incendiary canisters a possible "red herring" and is examining other ways federal agents could have triggered the inferno in which Davidian leader David Koresh and some 80 followers died.

The alternate theories include that the fire started from contact between the compound's wooden walls and extremely hot exhaust — perhaps 1,200 degrees Fahrenheit — from military tanks used by the FBI in the final assault on April 19, 1993, Caddell said.

A former government arson expert hired by the plaintiffs concluded that the fire started in one location, likely where a tank rammed the building.

"There are a number of possible explanations and I don't want to get sucked in too much into the whole pyrotechnic issue," said Caddell, lead counsel in the wrongful-death lawsuit. "It may turn out to be a red herring."

Company won't give reasons for delays in opening veterans' cemetery

DALLAS (AP) — Ground was broken for the Dallas-Fort Worth National Cemetery almost two years ago, but no firm date has been set for its opening.

That leaves Cloyde Pinson frustrated and annoyed.

Pinson, chairman of the Texas National Cemetery Foundation, is impatiently waiting for the completion of North Texas' first cemetery for veterans, something he has pushed for since 1987.

"It's frustrating, but you just have to roll with the punches," he said.

But with more than 1 million veterans and family members in the area eligible for free burial in a national cemetery, Pinson said the closest sites — in Houston and San Antonio — just won't do.

'Discomfort and annoyance' cited in lawsuit over smoky fire

HOUSTON (AP) — Thick smoke from a July fire at a foam-rubber manufacturing company may have exposed about 640 central Houston residents to "unreasonable discomfort and annoyance," prompting them to file a lawsuit.

Lawyer Donald Cahilly, who represents the residents, said it is not clear if anyone was injured by the four-alarm fire July 16 at Houston Foam Plastics although the Houston Fire Department advised residents downwind to evacuate.

The fire destroyed a 60,000-square-foot warehouse.

All the plaintiffs have nuisance claims such as difficulty breathing and nausea, and a "large number" will probably also have personal injury claims from more serious health problems, Cahilly said in today's editions of the Houston Chronicle.

Some of the plaintiffs are still getting medical care, but Cahilly said he is unsure how many. The extent of the injuries has yet to be evaluated.

Bush draws support in rival's Arizona backyard

PHOENIX (AP) — Republican presidential candidate George W. Bush made it clear that he will compete hard in Arizona while picking up endorsement from the governor of his chief rival's home state.

"I believe we have a common vision," Arizona Gov. Jane Hull said Tuesday in announcing that she would back Bush, a two-term Texas governor. She cited Bush's support for low taxes, open international trade markets, small government with local control and a strong military as well as his character and experience as governor as reasons for her decision.

"It's the winning combination," Mrs. Hull said. "In baseball, they call it a grand slam."

Earlier in the day, Bush picked up another endorsement from a prominent Arizona Republican, former congressman John Rhodes.

Elsewhere:

ROBERTS-FARM AID: Sen. Pat Roberts on Tuesday criticized Agriculture Secretary Dan Glickman over Clinton administration plans to distribute $5.5 billion in emergency funds to farmers. Roberts' comments led to an acid response from Glickman, his friend and former colleague, over the push to overhaul Republican-authored farm policy. ... COOK-GRAND JURY: Kerry Max Cook, who spent 13 years on death row and once came within 11 days of execution for the 1977 slaying of a Tyler woman, has refused to testify before a Smith County grand jury that's looking into the case again. Cook pleaded no contest seven months ago to the murder of Linda Jo Edwards in exchange for release for time served. ... BABY KILLED: A South Texas woman has pleaded guilty to tampering with evidence and failing to report child abuse in the death of her granddaughter. An Thi Tran, 49, was sentenced Tuesday to 18 months probation for her role in the death of her daughter's newborn. ... POLICE SHOOTING: Attorneys for two fired Houston police officers on Tuesday said a botched drug raid that last year resulted in the death of a Hispanic man and federal civil rights charges against the officers was nonetheless legal. Former Sgt. Darrel H. Strouse, 35, and former patrolman James R. Willis, 29, pleaded innocent Tuesday in federal court to conspiring to violate the civil rights of Pedro Oregon Navarro.

PARKING

of time which result in diesel fumes being pulled into neighboring homes.

It has been agreed by the commission to give citizens time to comply with the new ordinance once it is passed and, so far, it appears a six-month grace period will be granted.

Also under consideration is how long to permit recreational vehicles to be parked on the street while actively being prepared for a trip. Visitors who travel in RVs to Pampa and want to park at the home they are visiting must park on the property and not the street, according to the proposal.

Once the law does become effective, Commissioner Bob Eskridge said city police will issue tickets for on-street parking violations. Citations for tractors left running too long will be handled on a "complaint" basis, he said.

SCHOOL

Officers said someone took a road packer from the nearby road construction site and rammed the north east corner of the historical building. They then moved around to the north side of the building and rammed it again, knocking it off its foundation.

Sheriff Britton said today that the drive shaft on the road packer was torn up in the incident, disabling the heavy machine.

Neighbors in the area were busy today raising funds for a reward for information leading to an arrest in the case.

The Wayside Community was established in 1876 about five miles north of present day Pampa. Frederic Foster donated the two acre site for the school in

According to the historical marker placed in front of the building in 1974, students attended classes there until 1933 when they were bused to Pampa. The Wayside and Pampa school systems were consolidated in 1950.

The school remains a meeting place for area residents, said Debbie Davis, who lives south of the building.

Oprah to help lecture students at management school

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — She's counseled people for years on her talk show, but lecturing students in a classroom setting was a bit more unsettling for Oprah Winfrey.

"I haven't been this nervous since I danced with Tina Turner," Ms. Winfrey said Tuesday after her teaching debut at Northwestern University's Kellogg Graduate School of Management.

Ms. Winfrey and longtime beau Stedman Graham are teaching "Dynamics of Leadership" at the top-ranked business school, where 110 students were lucky enough to snag a spot in the 10-week course.

BBQ Sunday

Don Denham, left, and John Newhouse prepare for the annual Shriners meal. It is scheduled from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., Oct. 3, at the Sportsman Club. Money raised from the dinner will go to pay for travel to hospitals for crippled children and their parents. Tickets for the Sunday dinner are $6 for adults and $3 for children from 6 to 12 years old. Children under 6 are free.

The cash all gone, millionaire philanthropist ends his column

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Percy Ross is tapped out.

The millionaire-turned-philanthropist who doled out cash to readers of his syndicated column for nearly 17 years has closed his wallet after handing out as much as $30 million.

"I've achieved my goal. I've given it all away," Ross tells readers in his last "Thanks A Million" column. "You've given me so much over the years. In many respects, I'm far richer today than when I started."

Ross' farewell column was distributed this month, ending a run that saw him raise money for organ transplants, help pay for recreational centers and hand out silver dollars along with his homespun wisdom.

"He who gives while he lives," he often liked to quote, "also knows where it goes."

Ross' columns featured letters from readers — he'd get 10,000 each week, said his editor, Nancy Webber — seeking help, offering suggestions or simply saying thank you.

"Thanks A Million" ran in about 800 newspapers, from major dailies like the St. Louis Post-Dispatch to tiny weeklies like the Swift County Monitor in western Minnesota.

The 82-year-old son of poor immigrants from Latvia and Russia, Ross launched the column in March 1983 after making a fortune producing plastic film and trash bags.

"I fully expected that my health would go long before my wealth," he told readers. "In my wildest dreams I never expected to have survived nearly 17 years in print."

Ross came up with the column idea after giving away more than 1,000 bicycles at a holiday party for children at the Minneapolis Convention Center in the late 1970s.

"On the few occasions when we didn't run his column, we heard about it," said Mary Panzer, an advertising manager for The Brainerd Daily Dispatch in central Minnesota.

"People just found it interesting that this man would give his money away and draw attention to the problems we all face," said Panzer, whose newspaper ran Ross' column for the last time Tuesday.

One recent letter was from a 26-year-old woman whose bulimia-induced purging had left her teeth gray. She asked Ross for $1,400 to pay for dental work.

"You're willing to make changes because your past lifestyle wasn't healthy. And, you're willing to meet me halfway," he wrote. "Why on God's green earth wouldn't I be willing to help you?"

He sent the woman a check for $700.

But Ross also had no qualms about rejecting other requests, even with a tone of disdain. One woman in prison asked him for money so she could buy her son a computer. Ross said no.

Another wrote to criticize Ross for sending him $300 for a new computer. The man had meant to ask for $3,000 — he made a typo — and thought Ross would figure that out since computers cost so much.

"Many people have purchased a computer — albeit used — for $300. I know because I have received lovely thank you notes from these very people," Ross responded. "So put that in your ungrateful pipe and smoke it!"

Longtime fans of Ross may find comfort in a farewell promise. "If by chance I can make another pile of money, I'll be back giving it away," he wrote. "Until then... Thanks A Million!"

Texas student disciplined for leading prayer

JUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A Northwest High School senior has been disciplined for leading a 30-second prayer before the school's varsity football game Friday.

The 17-year-old female walked into Texan Stadium's press box and said a prayer over the public-address system before Northwest's game against Mineral Wells, school officials told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

It's one of several incidents across Texas in defiance of a recent 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruling that student-initiated prayers on public address systems at sporting events violate the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution.

"My immediate reaction was to walk up to the press box and find out what had happened,"

Northwest High School Principal Jim Chadwell said Tuesday. "It's really unfortunate. We weren't intending to violate a federal law."

Officials declined to discuss the student's punishment.

The Texas Justice Foundation and other groups are challenging the February court ruling, which was based on a 1995 case in which two Houston-area parents contended that pregame prayers violate constitutional guarantees of separation of church and state.

Most school districts, which traditionally had student- or pastor-led prayers prior to sporting events, have banned prayers and moments of silence, saying that they are afraid of legal ramifications.

Handshake Instead of Hug Is Way to Greet Retarded Adults

DEAR ABBY: I am the parent of an adult man who has Down syndrome. He has many opportunities to be part of the community in addition to his job — parties, weddings, going to stores, restaurants, movies, church.

The problem? When we are greeting people or leaving an event, complete strangers will shake hands with everyone else but hug my adult son. They do not hug anyone else. However, they think it is just fine to hug him because he is "different."

Please, well-meaning folks, we parents and teachers and social workers work very hard so that our retarded adults can be accepted, productive members of the community. More important, though, is our real concern for their safety. We teach them to shake hands and greet others like "normal" people do. To be hugged by strangers is neither safe nor acceptable social behavior in our society. This behavior further sets our adult children apart as "they" and "people like that" when acceptance and inclusion is what is needed. It also confuses what we have been trying to teach.

Give them a job rather than a hug! Is it safe for your children to hug strangers? Do you hug strangers? It isn't safe for my son either! So please, smile, shake his hand and make him feel welcome. That will do more for him than a hug that diminishes his chances for safe independence in the world.

Abigail Van Buren

SYNDICATED COLUMNIST

Abby, I believe I speak for many parents of retarded adults, as we have discussed this problem often. Thank you for getting this message out for all of us.

CONCERNED MOTHER

DEAR CONCERNED: You have made your point, and I hope the well-meaning but patronizing huggers will get the message: It isn't acceptable to hug people you don't know. Inappropriate hugging sets a bad example. If the retarded adult imitates that behavior and initiates the hug, it could be misunderstood as sexually motivated.

DEAR ABBY: My ex-wife's brother has cancer and lives in another state. He has asked that I be a pallbearer at his funeral. My live-in girlfriend says there is no way that I should agree to do it. She thinks this is a plot that my ex-wife has hatched to be close to me. Although I divorced my "ex," I still like her family and they like me.

My girlfriend says that since I am divorced, I should have nothing to do with any of my former in-laws or friends that we both share. I feel that it should be OK for me to talk with my ex-in-laws every now and then, and to see mutual friends as long as my ex-wife isn't the main topic of conversation. I think my girlfriend should trust me enough to let me talk without making accusations.

By the way, Abby, I have never cheated on my ex-wife or my girlfriend, but my girlfriend's ex-husband did cheat on her. She also played around a little on her ex-husband before they separated. What do you think?

ANYONE, ANYWHERE, U.S.A.

DEAR ANYONE, ANYWHERE: I think you should be a pallbearer for your former brother-in-law, if it is in your heart to do so. I also think you should consider moving your live-in girlfriend out — unless, of course, you want a lifetime with this insecure and controlling woman.

Abby shares her favorite recipes in two booklets: "Abby's Favorite Recipes" and "Abby's More Favorite Recipes." To order, send a business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.95 per booklet ($4.50 each in Canada) to: Dear Abby Cookbooks I and II, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, IL 61054-0447. (Postage is included in price.)

BY JACQUELINE BIGAR

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

***** Disperse your energy in many different directions. Don't lose your temper — take a walk or pace the floor! You have the gift of sarcasm, which could cause damage if misused. Proceed logically. Walk others through your thought processes. Tonight: Talk to your mate or a friend about the day's events.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

***** Expenses go overboard, making you wonder where you can cut costs. Don't get slap-happy or respond to a partner's pressure. Solutions can be found by dissecting the problem. Brainstorm with those in the know. Tonight: Still playing minister of finance?

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

***** Your personality is appealing, yet because you are so verbal, you can also draw another's onslaught. Accept his critique graciously, although you needn't take it to heart. Allow your wit and ingenuity to dominate at work, cruise through the day's tasks. Tonight: Whatever makes you happy.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

***** Assume a low profile. Make an appointment for an overdue checkup.

You could feel a bit out of sorts. Eventually, you snap out of frustration, especially at work or with those in your day-to-day life. Call in to work and take a personal day if possible. Tonight: Mellow out at home.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

***** Though a child or loved one makes demands and wants everything now, you succeed in getting your priorities straightened out. Attend meetings and network. Others are impressed by your point of view, and why not? You offer a different one. Tonight: Where the action is.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

***** Responsibilities call from all different areas of your life. Still, don't forget on which side your bread is buttered. Recognize a family member's frustration, but don't feel obligated to handle this matter until after work. Finances gain from your research and guidance. Tonight: Work as late as you need to.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

***** Your feedback helps another understand what is going on. Use care with travel and communication. You could easily become distracted. You generally diplomatic style falls to the wayside. Carefully think about a decision. Tonight: Socialize at a party or concert.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

***** Take time for others. Don't brush off co-workers, friends or loved ones. Your attention can make or break situations that develop. Be careful about how much you are willing to dole out financially. Your intuition helps with a key person in your life. Tonight: Take some private time.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

***** Though not a sign known for having a temper, you could make waves now. You are fed up with others. You have been patient, but now you lose it. Regroup and have a talk with others about your personal and professional goals. Tonight: Go along with another's plans.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

***** Despite your best intentions, irritation emerges. You understand more than you think you do about another's agenda. Here is where the frustration comes in. Concentrate on one item at a time. A boss has a lot of ideas. Flow with changes and know what you want. Tonight: Put that extra punch into a project.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

***** Your ingenuity saves the day when planning runs amok. Do what you must to gain facts and make strong decisions. Juggle demands, calls and meetings. You accomplish a lot when there is confusion. Recognize that you often flourish in this atmosphere. Tonight: Put on your dancing shoes.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

***** Build on established ground with a touchy partner. You don't often see eye to eye with others about money management. Recognize your objectives: building better finances and creating more of what you want. Bosses push your limits. Tonight: Get a friend's advice.

FOOTBALL

PORTALES, N.M. — Floyd White, a senior linebacker at Eastern New Mexico University and Pampa High product, was named the Lone Star Conference South Division Defensive Player of the Week.

White was honored after his six-tackle, six assist performance in the Greyhounds' 20-14 victory at Oklahoma Northeastern State to keep seventh-ranked ENMU undefeated. He currently is third on the team in tackles with 19 solo stops and 17 assists.

BASKETBALL

PAMPA — Coaches are needed for the upcoming Pampa Optimist girls basketball league.

Persons interested in coaching are urged to attend a meeting at the Optimist Club on Oct. 4, starting at 7:30 p.m. The league is for girls in the third through sixth grades. Call Monte Covalt at 669-3615 for more information.

PAMPA — The Amarillo Basketball Officials Association is looking for high school referees for the 1999-2000 season.

Interested persons can contact Frank McCullough at 665-7367.

BASEBALL

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The NCAA has adopted new standards to limit the speed of a baseball hit with a metal bat.

The association's executive committee Tuesday affirmed a recommendation made last month by a research panel to limit the exit speed of balls hit by metal bats to 97 mph in NCAA games for at least three years, starting in January.

"The moratorium will give the baseball community time to adjust to the new standards and for the panel to do further research," said Charles Wethington, University of Kentucky president and NCAA executive committee chairman.

"Of course, we reserve the right to make adjustments in the standards for bats and balls at any time, if necessary."

The panel recommended a batted-ball exit speed be adopted for non-wood bats equivalent to the highest average speed using major league-quality wood bats, which is less than 97 mph. The executive committee received the report in August, but delayed implementing the panel's recommendations pending further tests.

Many college teams last season went to smaller aluminum bats, one of the recommendations by the panel, to increase safety and to reverse a trend of higher scoring than with wood bats, which broke easily.

Early metal bats were heavy, and only the strongest players could generate much speed in their swing. But in recent years, manufacturers have refined their products to make them lighter and capable of producing power from a larger area of the bat. A well-hit ball off an aluminum bat can reach speeds of more than 100 mph.

A record 62 home runs were hit in last year's College World Series, which ended with Southern Cal's 21-14 victory over Arizona State. In this year's 14-game College World Series, with the smaller bats in use, there were only 35 homers, and the 164 total runs were the fewest since 1994. In the title game, Miami beat Florida State 6-5, with each team hitting just one home run.

In a related matter, Easton Sports, Inc., announced it has settled its lawsuit against the NCAA connected to the organization's August 1998 ruling restricting the use of aluminum bats.

Harvesters are 9-point favorites against Randall

PAMPA — Pampa heads into Kimbrough Memorial Stadium on Friday night as 9-point favorites against Randall, according to the latest Harris Report.

Both teams have 2-2 records, but it's been a downhill descent for the Raiders, who had opened the season with victories over Lubbock High (20-15) and Palo Duro (45-20). Randall, however, has taken it on the chin against Tascosa (41-11) and Hereford (44-10) the last two weeks. Injuries have hampered the Raiders, especially on the defensive side. Randall has been without starting linemen Adam Cossabone and Sal Barrera.

The Harvesters enjoyed a happy homecoming last Friday night, winning a wild skirmish against San Angelo Lakeview, 35-23. There were eight lead changes until the fourth quarter when Pampa was able to put the game on ice with a couple of touchdown runs by Thomas Long.

Pampa displayed a balanced attack throughout the game as the Harvesters collected 402 yards in total offense. Long rushed for 90 yards and scored twice, Terrance Lemons rushed for 83 yards and chalked up a touchdown. Ramon Martinez came in at one of the backfield slots in the second half and rushed for 57 yards on 9 carries.

Quarterback Kaleb Snelgroes scored twice on the ground while Russell Robben, Justin Barnes and Long figured prominently in his passing plans. Robben and Barnes each caught three passes for 53 and 48 yards, respectively, to help keep Pampa drives going. Long snared two passes for 32 yards.

Center Jeff Warren, guard Andy Schroeder and tackle Cody Shepard delivered key blocks to give Pampa an effective rush-pass offense.

On the other side of the ball, Jason Burklow was Mr. Defense for the Harvesters as the junior middle linebacker collected 13 tackles, six of them unassisted. He also recovered a fumble, partially blocked a punt and had a quarterback sack. Tyson Curtis and Ryan Nash also had fumble recoveries for the Harvesters.

Randall also had some strong individual performances against unbeaten Hereford. Wide receiver Justin Bryant caught six passes for 113 yards and linebacker Aaron Henson recorded nine tackles.

Pampa, which beat Randall 16-6 a year ago, has four straight wins over the Raiders.

Top-ranked Wheeler takes on White Deer

WHEELER — Head coach Jim Verden doesn't see the game as a mismatch when his unbeaten Wheeler Mustangs (4-0) take on winless White Deer (0-4) Friday night in the Bucks' stadium.

"The last four or five years we've had good games," Verden said. "White Deer is struggling a little bit, but they always seem to get up for us and play hard. It should be a good ballgame."

Wheeler escaped with a 26-20 overtime win a year ago.

White Deer is a Class 2A school, but Wheeler is Class 1A's No. 1 ranked team.

The Mustangs have both the talent and experience to reach the state finals for the third year in a row.

On offense, tight end Kyle Masters, tackles Don Hudgins and Ben Dollar, guard Matt Sullivan, flanker Craig Bass, quarterback Brooks Brown and running back Casey Childress are all seniors. Center Bret Goad, tackle Kelby Ledbetter, split end Donny Phipps and running back Caleb Finsterwald are juniors.

All eleven starters on offense also start on the other side of the ball with the exception of sophomore Gavin McQueen, who rotates with Childress at one of the linebacker spots.

Pampa routs Borger

TENNIS

PAMPA — The Pampa Harvester tennis team closed out the first half of district with a 16-3 victory over Borger Tuesday at the PHS courts. It was the 20th straight district win for the Harvesters, who are 5-0 this fall.

"We were thrilled to defeat Borger and finish the first half of district in first place," said Pampa coach Carolyn Quarles. "We've played well, but now we need to kick the intensity level up at practice and in match play, keeping our eye on our first goal of being district champs."

The team was led by victories from Players of the Week: junior Michael Cornelison, senior Ryan Mills and sophomore Stacie Carter. Cornelison defeated Milner at No. 1 singles, 8-6, in a third set tie-breaker. Mills won 6-2 in the third set to defeat Luke Dill at No. 2 singles. Carter — who has worked hard on improving her technique, Quarles said — posted a strong victory at No. 5 singles 6-1, 6-1.

The Harvesters play Saturday in Pampa at 11 a.m. against Hereford. The junior varsity plays at 4 p.m. Thursday in Pampa.

Pampa-Borger individual results will be published in Thursday's edition of The Pampa News.

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Jimmy Connors, who defeated John McEnroe in a tight finals last year, returns to Irving to defend his title at a Seniors Tour event this weekend.

The 12-man, $150,000 tournament will take place Wednesday through Sunday at the Four Seasons Resort in Las Colinas.

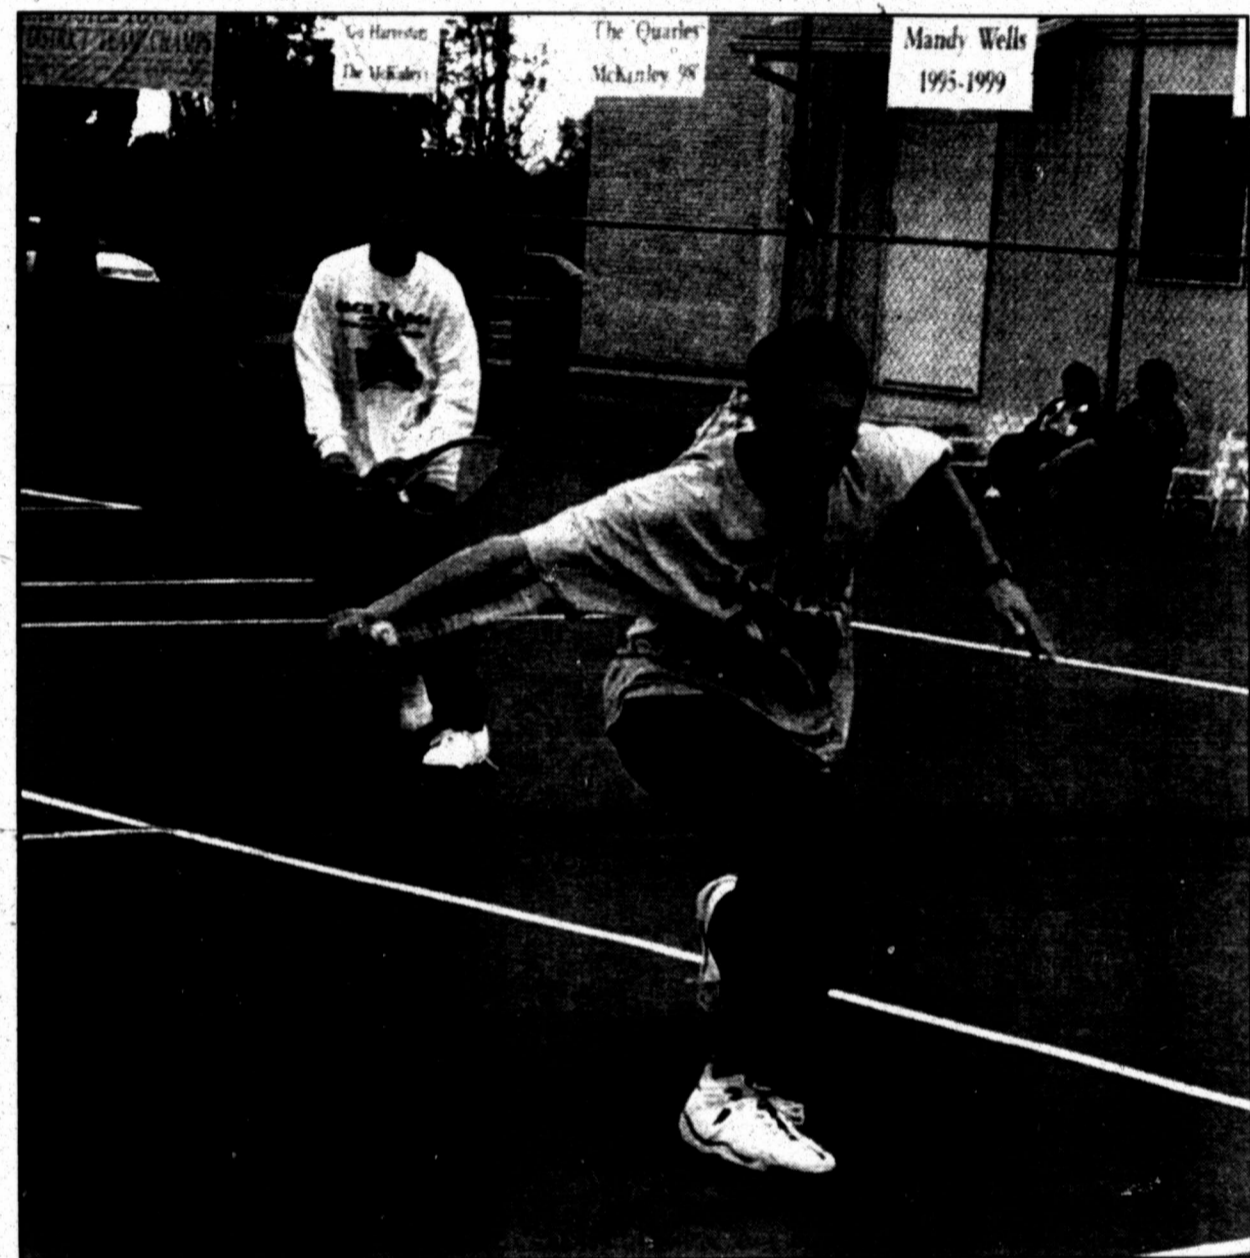

Connors, who dominated the senior tour in its first four years, has only two titles through 12 events in 1999. In Irving last year, he beat McEnroe 6-7 (2), 6-2, 11-9.

At last week's tour stop in Atlanta, Connors lost to Mats Wilander in a semifinal match.

Wilander, Andres Gomez, Guillermo Vilas, Johan Kriek, John Lloyd, Jimmy Arias and Mikael Pernfors are among the players competing for the $40,000 first prize this week.

Bjorn Borg, winner of 11 Grand Slam singles titles, was forced out of play because of a knee injury. He is being replaced by Gomez, who played in the Davis Cup for Ecuador last week.

This is the 13th stop on the 21-event, $3.6 million tour for players no longer active on the ATP Tour.

Cowboys down Raiders in Tiger League football opener

PAMPA — The Operating Company Cowboys opened the Tiger League football season with a 6-0 win over Carter Sand & Gravel Raiders last weekend.

The Cowboys came out strong in the first quarter, moving from their own 30-yard line to the Raiders 15. But the Raiders Jarret Kotara intercepted a Grant Stucki to Eric Kingcade pass to end the Cowboys drive.

The Cowboys held the Raiders and took possession on the Raiders 40-yard line. The Cowboys used a ground attack to score the game's only touchdown on a yard-run by quarterback Grant Stucki. Both teams played sound defense the rest of the way.

Jared Moler had an outstanding game for the Raiders with several solo tackles in the Cowboys backfield. He also had two interceptions and a fumble recovery.

For the Cowboys, Brady Smith had an outstanding game on both sides of the ball.

Smith had 90 yards rushing on 12 carries, had several solo tackles and returned two punts for 50 yards.

The Raiders and the Cowboys will play Dumas in Pampa next weekend.

Jerry Jones wants LA, Houston back in NFL

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Jerry Jones has a simple plan to get the NFL back into Houston and Los Angeles.

The Dallas Cowboys owner said Tuesday the league should give Houston an expansion team, then concentrate on finding a team to move to Los Angeles.

The idea is the opposite of the premise the NFL has been working under for months.

"The economics already are in place with a good partnership between the city, state and proposed ownership in Houston," Jones said. "So just from the can-do aspect of it financially, it's less of a hurdle to go to Houston than LA."

Moving an existing team to Los Angeles would seem to take down some of the hurdles LA is facing.

Finding an owner wouldn't be a problem, because that team already would have one. And there would be no need to pay a franchise fee that could reach $600 million or more. So the only remaining question would be finding a stadium.

Jones' also believes the two cities need to be taken care of as a package deal.

"In my mind, the NFL should not do anything until we've got a plan that says, 'OK, if we go to Houston, then this is how we go to LA,'" Jones said. "That way, we're still in control of our own destiny."

"Once we make the commitment of where the expansion team goes, we're going to leave open a great market like Houston or LA — a better market than some clubs are in. That doesn't necessarily mean they're going to pick up and move, but it's going to be an attractive situation."

Spokesmen for the two main ownership groups vying for the Los Angeles franchise did not immediately return messages left by The Associated Press. A message also was left for the proposed owners in Houston.

The NFL has made no secret of its desire to return to Los Angeles, the nation's second-largest TV market. Getting back to Houston has been a secondary concern.

The league set a Sept. 15 deadline for Los Angeles to come up with an acceptable stadium and financing plan, but that date passed with the NFL continuing to talk with all interested parties.

Groom blanks Cotton Center

GROOM — Groom tuned up for its meeting with unbeaten McLean with a 40-0 victory over Cotton Center last weekend.

Chris Ollinger scored three touchdowns to lead Groom's assault against Cotton Center. Evan Crowell caught a touchdown pass from Grant Weinheimer.

Wade Ritter and Dwayne Gray each had a touchdown for the Tigers, who improved to 3-1 for the season. It was Cotton Center's first loss in four outings.

Ollinger rushed for 78 yards. He also had nine tackles on defense as Groom forced five turnovers.

Groom led in total offense, 252-206. Each team had 8 first downs.

Groom held a 12-0 lead at half-time. The Tigers scored two touchdowns in the third quarter to put the game virtually out of reach.

Groom is on the road to McLean Friday night. Groom will be looking to avenge last year's 53-6 loss.

McLean has a 4-0 record.

NL leaders keep winning

By BEN WALKER
AP Baseball Writer

For the Cincinnati Reds, Atlanta Braves and Arizona Diamondbacks, the wins keep coming in bunches.

For the New York Mets, the losses are stacking up the same way.

The largest baseball crowd in Astrodome history — 54,037 — saw the Reds move one game ahead of Houston in the NL Central race with a 4-1 victory Tuesday night.

Pete Harnisch pitched Cincinnati to its sixth straight victory, improving to 4-0 this year against his former club, which has lost three in a row.

"It beats being one game behind," Harnisch said. "We have a lot of fun on this team. We don't think too much about anything beyond today."

While NL West champion Arizona tied a team record with its seventh straight win, 9-3 over Colorado, a bigger drama unfolded at Shea Stadium.

There, the Mets continued an amazing collapse by losing their seventh consecutive game, 9-3 to the NL East champion Braves. As a result, New York stayed 1 1/2 games behind Houston for the wild-card spot.

"I don't believe it's happened," Mets manager Bobby Valentine said.

And in the big numbers department, Sammy Sosa hit his 62nd home run to go one ahead of Mark McGwire in Chicago's 8-2 win over the Phillies.

Sosa played after learning his wife was hospitalized in Chicago following a strange reaction to prescription medication. Sosa said his wife assured him she was all right and told him to stay in Philadelphia.

"I'm a strong man," Sosa said. "I had to go out and do my job."

In other NL games, Los Angeles beat San Francisco 6-3 and Florida downed Montreal 5-3. There were two rainouts: San Diego at St. Louis and Pittsburgh at Milwaukee.

Reds 4, Astros 1

Sean Casey homered off 20-game winner Jose Lima as Cincinnati climbed back into first place for the first time since Aug. 19.

The Reds are 5-0 at the Astrodome this season and hold a 9-3 edge over Houston in the season series. The teams meet again tonight.

Harnisch (15-10) allowed four hits in eight innings. The Astros have lost three in a row.

Braves 9, Mets 3

Orel Hershiser was chased after getting only one out — his quickest exit in 459 career starts — and Atlanta made it another long night for the Mets.

The Braves became the first NL team to post three straight 100-win seasons since St. Louis in 1942-44. The last team in the majors to do it was Baltimore in 1969-71.

New York returned home from an 0-6 road trip and was greeted with cheers. But the fans started booing as the Braves took a 4-0 lead in the first inning.

The Mets held a four-game lead over Cincinnati for the wild-card spot on Sept. 19 with 12 games left. New York has just five games remaining.
