Texas Pacific Will Purchase a Small Railroad

SOUTH PLAINS PLANS GIVEN

Frank Kell's Pampa Project to Be Aired

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Permission to purchase control of the Pecos Valley and Southern railway of Texas for $192,000 was given the Texas Pacific railway today by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

WASHINGTON, July 18. (AP)—Preliminary arrangements for financing extensive construction which it will undertake in Texas were submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission today by the Colorado Southern, a subsidiary of the Fort Worth and Denver railroad on the South Plains of Texas.

The South Plains company proposes to sell 2,000 shares of capital stock to the Colorado Southern for $200,000. Thereafter, as South Plains construction costs arise, the Colorado and Southern will advance funds necessary to meet them.

Other issues of stocks or bonds will evidence payments.

Frank Kell's application for a permit to construct a line from Cheyenne, Okla., to Pampa is expected to come before the Interstate Commerce Commission this afternoon.

If there are counter proposals or opposition, the I. C. C. probably will set the date for a hearing, at which Pampa's claims and those of other towns along the proposed route would be presented.

Fliers Welcomed Back Home By Country Today

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, July 18.—Welcoming ceremonies paralleling those extended Charles Lindbergh greeted the return home today of the five trans-Atlantic fliers.

The men were Commander Richard Byrd, Bert Acosta, George Noyelle, Bert Balchen, crew of the monoplane, America, which was wrecked when it was forced to land on the sea near the coast of France, and Clarence Chamberlin, pilot of the Columbia. They arrived this morning aboard the Leviathan.

Great crowds cheered the fliers everywhere they went.

NEW YORK, July 18. (AP)—Heavy rain this afternoon drenched the thousands as they gathered to welcome the aviators at the city hall.

Sharpe's Car Is Recovered In Joplin

C. H. Sharpe's automobile, stolen here July 5 from in front of the New Schneider hotel, has been recovered in Joplin, Mo., according to a message from officers there. The car was left in a Joplin garage.

The car was also reported to have been seen in Roswell, N. M., El Paso, and Little Rock, Ark. The tire cover, giving the name of the sales firm, had not been removed. Mr. Sharpe will send for the car this week.

White Deer police last night recovered the Chevrolet roadster owned by Fred E. Maynard, local man, which was stolen Friday night. The car was stolen from Foster avenue. It was not damaged while out of the owner's hands.

Man Wins in Duel Under the Sea

After a battle under the sea Captain Ole Eliassen, armed with only a small knife, conquered this giant devilfish. The octopus, which measured 18 feet from the tip of one tentacle to another, attacked Eliassen as he was exploring the partly submerged hulk of a wreck at Balboa, Calif., near Los Angeles. The battle lasted 20 minutes.

Vote for Pampa's Needs in Election Tomorrow

(AN EDITORIAL)

Property owners of Pampa are called upon to decide tomorrow whether the city council shall be authorized to spend $70,000 for water extensions and $160,000 for sewer extensions, including a new disposal plant for North Pampa and a complete system and plant for South Pampa and refund $125,000 in outstanding warrants.

Questions like this go far toward determining whether a city goes forward with its neighbors or drops behind in the march of progress. Pampa must go forward. The outstanding warrants should be refunded or exchanged for $125,000 in long-time bonds, and for this the proposed bond issue provides.

Pampa should vote for the bonds. Here's why:

1. No Raised Taxes—The new city valuation, in excess of $4,000,000, more than provides enough income to retire the bonds without increasing the tax rate.

2. Fire Protection—Only the fortunate direction of the wind saved one of the fine old residences in Pampa Wednesday. Scores of homes are in danger, not to speak of the inconvenience of having to buy water by the barrel.

3. Sanitation—No home can be truly modern without running water and sewer connections. The dictates of convenience are no less emphatic than those of health. Fire and health hazards go hand in hand. Much of Pampa can never be connected with the present sewer system, the elevation of which is too high for connection in some parts of the city.

4. All City Served—The proposed bond issue would extend the water and fire mains to all parts of the city, and provide adequate, separate sewer systems for North and South Pampa, which are divided by elevation contours. The needs of no part of the city have been overlooked.

5. Not Too Big—The proposals are to form the ground work for a city of 20,000 to 30,000, but the limits of the extensions are just far enough to meet present demands. Considering the remarkable growth of Pampa, the bond issue is comparatively small.

6. For the Future—Not only are the improvements much needed at this time, but they are so vital to substantial growth that they must be provided to encourage people to come here. They are the minimum requirements.

7. For Greater City—Competition exists between cities just as in other affairs; quality and service of civic improvements are as essential in municipal as in business life. Cities do not "happen"; they are built.

8. For Civic Pride—Success leads to greater success, and, similarly, a city one can be proud of leads people to become progressive citizens. Build a city beautiful and others will desire to share its advantages with you.

The bond election contains three propositions: 1. Water extension; 2. Sewer extension; 3. Debt refunding. All are vital needs to build a modern city and make possible the efficient functioning of the city government.

Vote for Pampa's needs tomorrow.

Pays City $10 For Privilege Of Building School

H. L. Case, local contractor, paid the city of Pampa $10 this morning for the privilege of building an additional wing to the high school building. The cost of the additions will be approximately $55,000. He also took out a permit for the remodeling of the red school, which needs new chimneys, a new roof, and windows, as well as interior decorating.

ELECTION WILL BE CONDUCTED AT CITY HALL

Sewer and Waterworks Extensions Up For Decision

VOTING TO BE 7 TO 6 O'CLOCK

Property Taxpayers To Pass On Council's Plans

Tomorrow's city election, called by the city council to meet acute demands for water and sewer extensions, will be held at the city hall.

The election contemplates the expenditure of $230,000 to be divided with $70,000 being spent for waterworks extension and $160,000 for sewer extensions and new disposal plants for North and South Pampa.

For some time the city has been operating on warrants, and $125,000 in bonds will be authorized by the election passage to change these warrants into long-time bonds.

The present sewer system is inadequate and overloaded, and the defective disposal plant is resulting in a dangerous, unsanitary condition at the outfall. The present plant would be moved more than a mile to the east, and with it the unsightly dump grounds adjacent to the residential section.

The election will open at 7 a. m. and close at 6 p. m. Only property taxpayers may vote.

225 Carloads Of Wheat Shipped, But Farmers Hold Third

About 225 cars of wheat, averaging 1,400 bushels to the car, have been shipped from Pampa this year, according to the estimates of grain dealers here.

Although harvesting has been completed, more than one-third of the grain is believed to be still in the hands of the farmers, and the elevators are practically full. Wheat prices have varied very little this season, the average price being $1.25 per bushels.

The Gray county crop will average 12 bushels to the acre elevator men estimate. This is about one-third of the 1926 crop.

According to J. N. Beasley, Amarillo wholesale grain dealer the 1927 wheat crop in the Panhandle is 75 per cent normal, and the territory will produce at least 8,000,000 bushels. A production of 8,000,000 bushels at prevailing prices will bring $10,000,000 of new money into the territory Mr. Beasley estimates. This amount will greatly stimulate business activities throughout the Panhandle.

U. S. CONSUL IS BADLY INJURED

Mexican Bandit Shot American Yesterday

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, July 18.—Evidence of an attempt to assassinate William Chapman, American consul at Puerto, Mexico, have been transmitted to American officials after an investigation by Chapman's colleague.

J. J. Sparks, British vice-consul at the embassy, made immediate representation to the Mexican foreign office asking apprehension and punishment of Chapman's assailants.

Chapman was shot by a masked bandit at his home yesterday, it was reported by the state department today. His condition today is serious but not dangerous.

WORLEY RELEASED ON HABEAS CORPUS PLEA

J. W. Worley, who was held in jail here last week after being arrested in Hutchinson county on a charge of car theft and held also as a possible participant in the Pampa bank robbery, has been released.

The local law firm of Cary and Wortman instituted habeas corpus proceedings before Judge Newton P. Willis in Stinnett Thursday. Worley was released Friday.

Judge Wortman represented the defendant before the district court.

Lively Games Are Halted by Officers Vagrancy Is Charged

A raid by deputies on a South Pampa rooming house Saturday resulted in fifteen charges of vagrancy. Eleven of the fines had been paid at noon today. Officers said a lively crap game was in progress.

Liquor was also being consumed. It was reported, but the beverage was quickly destroyed at the approach of the officers. One deputy absorbed a quantity of the liquor in his clothing as it descended from an upstairs window.

Yesterday afternoon officers visited the negro section and took eleven negroes in a crap game. They were charged with vagrancy, and most of them paid fines.

SKELLY WELL FIRE IS NEARLY FATAL TO TWO

Spark Ignites Gas At Rig In Schafer Ranch

TWO VICTIMS BADLY HURT

Pampa Hospital Has Big Job Caring For Cases

Five men, terribly burned, were brought to Pampa hospital late yesterday following an explosion at the Skelly Oil company's No. 4 Schafer ranch, section 86, block 4, Carson county, yesterday afternoon.

Two of them, T. C. Chambliss and J. E. Thrasher, are fighting for their lives, and may recover. The others, J. O. Williams, J. E. Stewart and Carl Weaver, are seriously but not dangerously burned.

The men were preparing to take off the control head of the well, which is making much gas. The engine started running wild and Thrasher left the floor of the rig, running into the engine room. He was followed by Chambliss. Falling to regulate the engine quickly, Thrasher jerked the ignition. It is probable that the spark caused by the circuit break ignited gas that had accumulated in the engine room, belt hall and under the floor. An explosion took place in the engine room and quickly the flames swept throughout the rig, enveloping the men in flames. Some fell and had to be dragged out; and one ran a considerable distance with his clothing aflame.

So terrific were the burns received by Thrasher and Chambliss that they could be handled with difficulty, the flesh being seared and broken and hands nearly burned off. But despite the awfulness of the burns, the men have chances for recovery.

The well was not released enough to get on fire, and after the woodwork around the steel derrick was destroyed the escaping gas was extinguished last night.

Attendants, physicians and nurses at Pampa hospital worked almost feverishly caring for the heavy demand.

WHEN I WAS TWENTY-ONE

BY JOSEPH KAYE

At 21: Aaron Sapiro, Messiah of the Famous, Was a Theological Student. AT TWENTY-ONE I was a student at the Hebrew Union college in Cincinnati. I stayed eight years at the theological school, but I left before my course was finished because I believed strongly that any church must be an instrument of special science, to further human welfare, rather than an instrument for the preaching of a fixed and changeless creed.

Do You Know That: ...? ...? ...? "CROCODILE Tears" is an allusion to the old superstition that the crocodile sheds tears and moans and sighs like a person in distress. And it is a fact that the crocodiles do emit loud and plaintive noises quite like the mournful howling of dogs.

ANNUAL "DUDE" CROP TASTES SYNTHETIC WEST IN WYOMING

When the "tenderfoot" seeks the open spaces of the West he frequently becomes a guest of one of the many "dude" ranches, the picture above being typical of the layout. One of the "dudes" is shown at the left feeding bears while members of another touring party at the right are lining up for "chuck."

JACKSON HOLE, Wyo., (AP) — The "dude" ranching season is open in Wyoming and Easterners by the hundreds are drinking in the west in synthetic doses.

Wyoming has a lead on other western states in the "dude" ranch business. Eighty ranches are listed in the state guide and each takes from eight to 200 guests.

Here at these synthetic flarebacks of another day, tenderfeet from all sections and walks of life, and of all ages, live the life cherished by each small boy—that of a cowboy.

Dress at these ranches is informal but there always is a display of vari-colored shirts that probably would shock the esthetic sense of a self-respecting cowboy, broad brimmed hats, blue and red bandannas, leather breeches, boots and booties, riding habits and hiking clothes.

The chief amusements of the "cowboy" guests are stage-managed roundups, calf brandings, rodeos, hiking, camping trips, horseback riding, hunting, fishing, swimming, boating and mountain-climbing.

Each ranch has a string of horses for the benefit of its guests and at virtually all of them horses are assigned as soon as the guests have arrived.

Each ranch tries to outdo the other in advertising its charms. Especially attractive and alluring to the tenderest of the tenderfeet is the advertisement of one which says: "No rattle snakes. No hay fever."

FEATURES FROM OTHER LANDS

KING AND QUEEN OPEN NEW REGENT STREET

LONDON (AP)—The rebuilt Regent street, now considered one of the finest thoroughfares in Europe, has been formally opened by the King and the Queen driving through it on their way to University College. The drive was attended by no ceremony, except that the Mayors of Westminster and Marylebone accompanied the Royal couple.

Regent street is on Crown land. The buildings were pulled down for the most part just after the war, when the 99-year-old leases expired. The maximum height of the new buildings is 20 feet greater than those demolished. The rents have gone up amazingly. Before the war they were $130,000. Now they are $2,250,000.

HUGH WALPOLE'S HOME BECOMES TEACHERS COLLEGE

LONDON (AP)—Strawberry Hill, famous as the residence of Horace Walpole, has been turned into a Roman Catholic training college for teachers.

The opening ceremony was performed by Cardinal Bourne. The new educational centre, which has been named St. Mary's College, will provide accommodation for 200 students.

Strawberry Hill at Twickenham was bought by Walpole in 1747. The interior decorations and enlargements by him are churchlike in appearance. Some of the mantelpieces are replicas of tombs. One is of inlaid marble, worth $300 even in the 18th century. One ceiling is an extraordinarily fine copy of that in Henry VII's Chapel in Westminster Abbey.

SOCIETY MARVELS AT DEBUTANTES' ENERGY

LONDON (AP)—British society is marveling at the amazing energy of the younger members of the fashionable set, debutantes of the last two years.

DEBUTANTES' ENERGY

They dance from 11 o'clock at night until 4 or 5 the next morning, stopping only for supper. Some of them stay in bed till nearly midday, though many parents insist on their daughters getting up at 9 o'clock. Lack of sleep does not seem to affect their vitality. They are rarely ill.

DEBUTANTES' ENERGY

Nearly all of them keep diaries. When they rise for the day their first task is to record the conversations of the previous night. After luncheon they meet at the cinemas. This occupies them till it is time for afternoon tea. Tea is nowadays a very minor affair, since there is no dancing.

After tea comes a telephone period, when the young girls call one another up and make arrangements for dancing parties. They call for one another in autos and go to dinner, followed by a drive, or theatre, before going on to the dance.

CARRYING GOOD WILL MEANS GETTING IT TOO

This is the season of good will trips. Greatest of all was the All-Texas special, but scores of communities are taking smaller trips of their own.

Clarendon courageously is carrying the message of her junior college over the Plains. She has not given up her claim as an educational center, but still has something to offer to the people of the Panhandle.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce made a motorcade to the scenic spots of New Mexico—places near enough to be distinct assets to Texas people as well. And along with the trip members of the big commercial organization got eye-fulls of wonderful scenery, fine climate, and vacation possibilities.

Trippers get as much as they distribute, just as do other kind of travelers. Vacation trips are assets in any community. Those who return come back with new visions, but usually have greater appreciation for their home towns.

PAMPA'S OPPORTUNITY TO COME TOMORROW

How many voters are there in Pampa?

Tomorrow's city election should be a test of strength. It should show how many people are enough interested in the welfare of Pampa to take a part in making decisions for the good of the city.

There should be a general vote, since the money to be voted is intended to be evenly distributed over the city. The plans have been drawn and City Engineer Doucette has shown in figures and statements how the water will serve every need and how two separate sewer systems will be built to serve North Pampa and South Pampa.

McLean had her opportunity Saturday and her bonds were voted by a majority of seven to one.

Pampa will have her opportunity tomorrow, and the vote should be as favorable. Be sure to vote tomorrow.

Mostow has a woman movie censor: She can chop out all the styles she can't afford.

Travel must produce city builders, to judge by the statements of returning vacationers, who are strong for the Tuesday bond election.

Taking In The Big Fight

PRESS FORUM

TOKENS

Coolidge in his 10-gallon hat and Dawes with his under-slung pipe—the Republican campaign managers are not unmindful, just now, of the well-known American weakness for the bizarre. The president is not the kind of man temperamentally to wear a cowboy hat in cowboy country because he "feels in tune." The president is truly at home only one place, and that is in the high protection East where his friends are.

The difference between Coolidge and Dawes is one of dramatics. Dawes is a consummate actor while Coolidge is not. Dawes at Raton, N. M., enroute to his cimarron fishing grounds, knew that the eager crowd were not waiting to see the vice-president of the United States, but the man who smokes the under-slung pipe and says "Helen Maria!" when he is annoyed. And he didn't disappoint them. We are solemnly informed that he used a whole box of matches in keeping the pipe lit during his brief sojourn in Raton.

We have the idea that it will take something more than a flood of photographers showing President Coolidge in chaps and the 10-gallon hat to put him over in the Midwest. In casting about for a token to catch the popular fancy—and the vote—Republican managers picked the wrong man. Dawes could have made it stick, but not Coolidge.—Abilene News.

HIGHWAY THRILLS

If you are a car driver and are looking for a thrill you won't have to go out of your way to find it. Just drive out of any Texas city and you will find them plentiful.

County commissioners have plenty to do and as a rule they keep up the roads in their various precincts as well as they can with the money they have available. City commissioners do likewise. County commissioners work the country roads almost to town and town commissioners work the streets almost to the country. But there is always a no-man's land between the streets and highways. If you doubt this drive out and see for yourself. Avenue H going north is pretty good until you cross the railroad and then it is a series of bumps and thrills until you get to a point where county commissioners begin their activities. Then you find an almost perfect highway. The same may be said of Avenue H going south. It is excellent for a few blocks and then it is chug-holes and boulders until you come to the county grading. College avenue is another fair sample as is 19th street leading west.

We are not trying to place the blame and Lubbock is not the only city with this condition. Try Plainview, Tulia, Canyon, Amarillo or almost any city—it is the same.

Why can't county and city commissioners get together?—Lubbock Avalanche.

JERUSALEM SHAKEN

The story of the damage wrought in historic Jerusalem by a visiting earthquake would have had some interest even if it had visited a village less known to history. Since it visited its upheaving wrath on the world's holy city, the story becomes one of surpassing interest. For creeds and world evangelization have made the very stones of the Judean capital known to every nation. When a calamity touches Jerusalem, it touches something that is almost personal to nearly half the people of the human race.

As the Bible student reads this story of disaster, he thinks of the earthquake that, according to holy writ, shook the Judean hills when the tragedy of Golgotha was being enacted. The Bible student further is reminded that liberals have sneered at the story of the earthquake of the crucifixion, have denied that the cru-fixion ever took place. But in the light of the recent story the Bible student may be disposed to inquire. "If an earthquake shook Jerusalem in 1927, why do you think it impossible that another earthquake should have shaken Jerusalem in A. D. 30?"—Daily Oklahoman.

"Every man has his hour," yes, if he looks for it hard enough.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON.—Internal dissension continues in the Department of State, and the consular insurgents hope to obtain a congressional investigation of the foreign service promotion system.

Members of the preponderant consular branch continue to charge favoritism and unfair discrimination on behalf of a small group of wealthy and socially elect members of the diplomatic corps.

They are doing missionary work among members of Congress and claim to have excited considerable interest, although high officials of the department will exert every effort to forestall any formal investigation on the ground that it is unnecessary and that if there is anything wrong with the promotion system, it is fast being remedied.

Public revelation of the bitter row within the service three or four months ago was followed by some developments for the better, according to the consuls, but they are far from satisfied.

Their complaint that members of the diplomatic branch were being promoted much oftener than the consuls, although all were supposed to be equal under the Rogers Act, has been met by a promotion list which affected some 30 consuls and no diplomats. A smaller list of promoted consuls is expected to follow, but the insurgents declare that 125 consuls must be promoted before they will be on a parity with the diplomats.

Furthermore, they contend that the little diplomatic clique which they say formerly drew the promotion plums has now been given its counterpart in the consular service.

For instance, it is cited that the Rogers Act provides for Improvement in Ada during the past 10 years is not to be measured entirely by the number of new buildings erected, although this in itself has been no small item, but also by what has been done with what was already here. WE GET AS WE GIVE

By EVELYN GAGE BROWNE

IF YOU would be happy, make somebody glad, And the joy you are giving away, The sunshine you bring to hearts that are sad, Will shine in your heart some day. If you would be rich, then give of your store, Freely and joyfully, too, And all that you give—with even more— Will surely come back to you. If you would climb to life's higher things, Then help some unsatisfied soul To reach the heights, and you'll find It brings Your heart to its chosen goal. If you would be loved, then love all men, As your Brothers upon the earth, And the love you give will come back again To the earth that gave it birth. We get as we give—in equal amount— Of love and everything true; So give and give without measure or count, And it ALL will come back to you!

WHEN I WAS TWENTY-ONE

BY JOSEPH KAYE

At 21 Arthur D. Little Got the Hardest Job of His Life.

AT 21 I got the hardest job I ever had. A company in Rhode Island had set up a mill to make paper by the sulphur process, a process which had been taken over and developed commercially by the Swedes and the Germans. This mill was the first to use this process commercially in the United States, and was in charge of a Swede inventor and a German engineer. The officers and board of directors knew nothing about paper making or chemistry. They ought to employ some one who knew a little about chemistry, and when I applied for the job the president offered me two dollars a day. He would not so far commit himself as to hire me by the week.

Almost coincidentally with my arrival the German engineer got into a row with the president and left the place flat. The board of directors held a solemn meeting and as I seemed to be their only resource, they called me in. I was only twenty-one and the youngest man in the plant.—Arthur D. Little.

TODAY—Arthur D. Little is one of the most celebrated chemical engineers in the country and is the head of the largest private laboratory in the world, located at Cambridge, Mass. He left the mill referred to above soon after he became the superintendent and, after a long struggle, established himself with a large clientele. He is an expert in industrial chemistry, and a pioneer in paper making by the wood pulp process. (© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

CALLING HIM THE "PASTOR"

"PASTOR" is a prosaic sounding word, and one in whose story we would look for the severe flavor of early religion rather than the element of poetry. Yet such is the perseverance of language. We rarely find what we expect. And in the origin of this term as it is used today as another name for the minister, we find no "thou shalt nots," theology but a poetic metaphor.

"Pastor" is derived from the Latin "pastor," which comes from "pastum," meaning to pasture or to feed. And who would not find poetry in the term which describes the minister as one who will feed us if we will but go to him? One may presume that it is hardly necessary to explain the metaphorical reference as spiritual feeding of his flock.

Do You Know That: ...??...

"WHITE FEATHER" or to "show the white feather" is an expression meaning to betray timidity or to back down or out; a sign of yielding. Some years ago a bloody fight was raging between the Indians and the settlers of the backwoods of our country. A Quaker who refused to flee saw one day a horde of Indians rushing down toward his house. Thinking to pacify them, he hurriedly set food before the savage horde, and when they had eaten the chief fastened a white feather over the door as a symbol of peace and friendship. Though many bands passed that house, none ever violated the covenant by injuring any of its inmates or property.—Anne S. Curjel.

Dempsey May Stage Comeback Though All Others Have Failed

NEW YORK, July 18. (AP)—They don't come back—those heavyweight kings once toppled from the throne.

But Jack Dempsey, trying to climb to pugilism's crest, has two factors in his favor which Fitzsimmons, Corbett and Jeffries lacked when, once knocked out, they tried to regain the heights.

For Dempsey is the youngest deposed heavyweight champion who ever tried to come back, and he is the only one who ever lost his title without being knocked out.

In his efforts to upset ring precedent Dempsey sets out at 32—almost an old age in the ring, and yet a younger age than that of other vanquished titleholders trying to regain lost laurels. And Dempsey has yet to feel, as a mature boxer, the sting of the knock-out punch, which rose to haunt other former champions plodding the come-back trail.

John L. Sullivan, first of the great heavyweights, did not try to come back when James J. Corbett beat him at New Orleans in 1892.

Corbett reigned until 1897, when Fitzsimmons knocked him out at Carson City, Nev. Jeffries climbed to the throne in 1899, knocking out Fitzsimmons in 11 rounds at Coney Island.

Corbett tried to come back in 1903, and was beaten twice by Jeffries—at Coney Island and at San Francisco, the second time by an almost pitiful margin. Fitzsimmons tried to regain the title and Jeffries doomed his aspirations in eight rounds at San Francisco.

Jeffries retired in 1905, and five years later entered the ring again, only to lose to Jack Johnson at Reno, Nev. Johnson lost his title to Willard in Cuba in 1915, tried some years later to regain eminence in the ring, and never got a good start.

Four years after Willard was dethroned by Dempsey in Toledo in 1919, the big Kansan hit the pugilistic path again and won a single fight from Floyd Johnson; but he met his final defeat at the hands of Luis Firpo in 1923.

Not until Dempsey lost to Tunney last September 23 in a rain-spattered Philadelphia ring and on a judges' decision had a title changed hands without the accompanying dirge of a knocked out boxers' groans.

Omaha Doctor Nominated As Ablest Woman

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—A grandmother prominent in her profession of medicine and with a distinguished war record is Nebraska's nomination in the competition from which will be chosen the outstanding professional women in the United States.

The contest will be a part of the convention of the National Business and Professional Women's clubs at Oakland, Cal., July 18 to 23.

Dr. Olga Stastny of Omaha, Nebraska's entry, was decorated by the French government for service with the American women's hospital unit at Louzancy in the war. The government then sent her to Czecho-Slovakia to do social hygiene and organization work. This task and the tragedy of her son's death in a burning army plane compelled her to come home to recuperate. She is now a practicing physician here.

She was called the "heroine of the hour" for her work among Christians banished from Asia Minor by the Turks in 1923.

BIRDS BOARD BATTLESHIPS

BOSTON, July 18. (AP)—It has remained for a pair of English sparrows to do what the sailors of England never could do. The sparrows have not only boarded the old frigate Constitution, but have taken possession of a cosy nook in the hull. Unmindful of the clangor of the ship-builders, they chose their nesting place after the old vessel went into drydock.

WIDOWED BY TWO AIR DISASTERS, HOPES TO BE AMBASSADOR AT 50

MRS. JOY BRIGHT HANCOCK

CAPE MAY, N. J. (AP)—The United States may have a woman ambassador at some foreign capital in a little more than two decades if the plans of Mrs. Joy Bright Hancock mature.

Widowed twice by air disasters, at the age of 25 Mrs. Hancock has turned to the study of the foreign service, preliminary to probationary work in the State Department.

Mrs. Hancock, then Joy Bright, daughter of State Senator William H. Bright of Cape May County, served as a yeoman, first class, in the navy during the war. Her first husband, Lieutenant C. G. Little, died ten months after their marriage, when disaster overtook the dirigible ZR-2 in England.

Vowing that she would see the air, that robbed her, conquered by lighter-than-air craft, she took a position with the bureau of aeronautics. When she was transferred to Lakehurst she met and married Lieutenant Commander Hancock of the dirigible Shenandoah, who died in the crash of that air-ship exactly 16 months after their marriage.

Now aiming at advancement in the foreign service, Mrs. Hancock believes that her experience in the navy would add much to her ability to help American seamen when they need aid in foreign ports.

"I want this chance to help them," she said. "If they get into trouble I would look after them and put them back on the ships."

The aspiring diplomat recently completed a tour of the world, made to gather impressions and for purposes of study. She speaks several languages.

At present there are two women in the diplomatic service of the United States—Miss Lucille Atchison, at Berne, Switzerland, and Miss Pat- tie Field, with the American Legation at Amsterdam, Holland.

JEFFRIES OFFERS AID AS SPARRING PARTNER

SARATOGA LAKE, N. Y., July 18. (AP)—Jim Jeffries, who failed in an attempt to regain the world title, would like to help Jack Dempsey over the trail he failed to conquer.
With Tom Sharkey, another "great" of days past, Jim has offered to act as a sparring partner to prepare Jack for his fight with Jack Sharkey in the Yankee Stadium, July 21.
"Say the word," was the message that came from the two old timers, "and we'll be there to help you in any way we can."

Experiments Show Way To Combat Cattle Disease

(By The Associated Press.)
COLLEGE STATION, July 18.—Science is believed to be well on the road to extermination of cattle loin disease, one of the last and most tenacious scourges of the Texas coastal plains.
Dr. H. Schmidt, veterinarian of the Texas Agricultural experiment station here, announces positively that decayed carcasses of cattle for homes for the toxin which causes the disease.
"Researches have disclosed where the poisonous toxin is to be found and have demonstrated that it is this poison which causes loin disease. This gives science a definite starting point in the work of isolating the organism and in developing its cure," he said.
Dr. Schmidt's theory is that the death of an animal from the disease toxic poisoning begins in the body and the cattle, chewing on the bones, or other matter, contract the sickness.
His discovery is considered as important as the immunization process for cattle afflicted with fever tick.
The epidemic of loin disease among the cattle of Harris county in 1921 first attracted serious attention to the malady. Many cattlemen of large holdings suffered serious losses and some were forced out of business. Little was known of the disease, but its inroads were so serious that Legislative appropriation for a study of the malady eventually was made and the investigation was begun. The work got on a sound basis in 1924 with the establishment of the Loin Disease field laboratory, located near Bammel, Harris county.
In identifying the decayed carcass matter as the container of the toxin, putrid bones were collected from the prairie and these were removed from the loin disease area and fed to well animals. In this way two cases of loin disease were produced in the experimental work at College Station. Four other typical cases have been developed here from toxin recovered from a carcass.
The next step will be to determine the effect of the toxin on the equine family. If favorable results are obtained, the development of a protective serum will be undertaken. The horse is easier to handle in this work than the cow.
The deadly effect of the loin disease toxin on other animals has been demonstrated. One drop of the toxin is sufficient to kill 100 guinea pigs, Dr. Schmidt said, though 1,000 times that amount will not kill a rat or chicken, he added.

NEWEST STYLES SHOW OLD FASHIONED TREND

PARIS (AP)—A reaction towards the regime of the empire seems to have come over Paris—that is in the trend of styles in recreation and in clothes.
Paris society is reviving the cotillions of the past century.
These dances may be responsible for the revival of the bouffant skirts often elaborately decorated. Young women have shown preference for the quaint, full skirted dresses. For the most part, the gowns are made of taffeta, but chiffon velvet and some lace is also used.
One of the robes de style, launched by the house of Lanier, has bright red poppies appliqued on a tight bodice and a full scalloped skirt of white taffeta.
In harmony with the tendency towards "old-fashioned" costumes, the tulle cape with elaborate patterns worked in narrow Valenciennes lace has been designed. These capes hang
