SPECIAL TOUR IS CALLED GREAT SUCCESS

150 SATISFIED TRIPPERS ARE BACK IN TEXAS

All-Texas Journey Carried a Message To Nation

FINANCES ARE WELL CARED FOR

Publicity Worth More Than Cost Of Train

(By The Associated Press.)
CORSCICANA, July 5.—The All-Texas Special's swing through the northeast, headed by Gov. Dan Moody, which was concluded Monday night, was a greater success than anticipated even by the most optimistic. Lowery Martin, chairman of the committee which directed the trip, said today.

Newspaper publicity alone could not have been purchased with the funds representing the cost of the trip, and the message of Texas reached millions of people in a forceful and effective manner. Through conservative management, the trip was financed successfully by the participants, Martin concluded.

Carrying a representative party of Texas citizens—leaders in the commercial, industrial and professional life of the Lone Star state, the All-Texas special left on the night of Sunday, June 19. The train consisted of 16 palatial Pullman sleepers, in which nearly every traveler had a compartment to himself. There was a baggage car, a diner and an observation car. Travelers were permitted to carry a full wardrobe.

S. Roy Christian, manager of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, preceded the special and made advance arrangements. He carried a mass of facts and publicity which was gladly used by the newspapers in preparing their stories.

Prisoners Shot Attempting Flight

(By The Associated Press.)
BALTIMORE, July 5.—Charles and Benjamin Stragins, prisoners, were shot today after they shot down a guard and attempted to flee the Maryland penitentiary. Alfred Walker, the guard, was shot above the heart.

Post Office Goes Second Class—Mobeetie Daily Route Starts

The Pampa post office became a second class institution July 2. Due to the remarkable growth of the city, the postal authorities raised the rating and prospects are that it may be raised to a first class rating in 1928. The first half-year's receipts are over $17,000 and increasing.

To be a second class post office the receipts for the year must be more than $5,000. In a second-class post office, all clerks are under classified service which is subject to the 30-year service retirement, an eight-hour day and a six-day week. This means that the post office wickets will not be open on Sunday.

The government will furnish all supplies and incidentals which were formerly supplied by the postmaster. All employees are under the civil

AUTO THEFTS ARE REPORTED

Rev. Tom Brabham Loses Sedan—Plates Interchanged

Car thieves became active over the week-end. No trace of the Buick sedan owned by C. H. Sharpe and stolen from in front of the new Schneider hotel Friday afternoon has been found. Thieves took the time to transfer the license from an old Ford roadster to a 1925 model Ford sedan owned by O. A. Davis, who lives on North Summerville street. The car was in his yard. They then drove off in his sedan and left the roadster and his old set of license. He does not know when the car was stolen as he and his family were away over the week-end.

A 1925 Chevrolet sedan owned by Rev. Tom Brabham and left on Kingsmill avenue near the Chevrolet garage, was stolen last night between 8 and 10 o'clock.

FLORIDA MAN BURNS
MIAMI BEACH, July 5.—Tafem Wofford, 55-year-old pioneer resident and owner of the Wofford hotel here, was burned to death today in a fire of undetermined origin which partly destroyed the hostelry.

ARREST MADE AT ROCKLEDGE LAST EVENING

Weatherby Family Is Wiped Out By Fiends

BODIES ARE DECOMPOSED

Former Employes Are Suspected—Burial At Hedley

(Special to The News.)

ALANREED, July 5.—Donley county officers today are working in this aroused community to obtain clues which will solve the murder mystery surrounding the killing of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weatherby and two children, whose bodies were found yesterday at their farm home, three and one-half miles south of here.

The arrest last night of a negro at Rockledge, near Jericho, may afford some information. This negro is not thought guilty of the crime, but may be implicated, officers believe. He is said to be in jail at Clarendon.

The badly decomposed bodies of the Weatherbys were found when neighbors went into the house yesterday after the family had not been seen for 11 days. Mrs. Weatherby's body, scantily clad, and the bodies of her six-year-old daughter and four-year-old son were found in one room, and the body of the husband and father was in another. The family had been slain with a crowbar and a hammer, which were found in the house. Weatherby had been shot.

The negroes who had been working for Mr. Weatherby are suspected. They have disappeared, and the Chevrolet car recently purchased by the family is missing. The negroes told neighbors several days ago that the Weatherbys had gone to Wellington with Mrs. Weatherby, who they said was very sick.

Neighbors did not suspect foul play, and were astonished to think the family had been dead nearly two weeks.

The bodies are being taken to Hedley today for burial. The Weatherbys formerly lived at Hedley. They came here about a year ago.

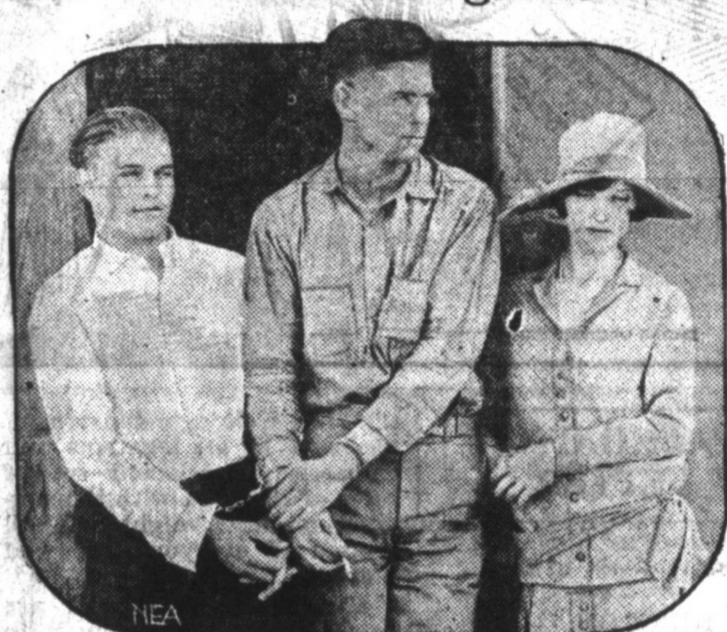

Hoover Says More Than Million Acres Ruined For Crops

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Of the 3,500,000 acres of farm land inundated by the Mississippi flood 1,300,000 acres probably cannot be used this year for crop production. Secretary Hoover estimated today upon his return from the flood area.

Friends Say Owsley Will Enter Race For U. S. Senate

HOUSTON, July 5.—Col. Alvin Owsley, former national commander of the American legion, declined here today to discuss his probable candidacy for the United States senate at the next election. Friends said however that Owsley was in the race.

Seven Murders Charged to Him

This picture of Matthew Kimes (left), most notorious of Oklahoma bandits, was taken in front of the jail in Flagstaff, Ariz., following Kimes' capture in the Grand Canyon. With the bandit are shown a couple who gave their names as Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Kady, in whose car Kimes was riding. They explained they had no knowledge that Kimes was being sought. Seven murders and a dozen bank robberies in Oklahoma are charged to Kimes, whose brother, George, is serving a life term in the Oklahoma penitentiary.

Kimes Involves Hutchinson County Official Not Heretofore Suspected

Information involving a well known Hutchinson county official who has not hitherto been under suspicion was divulged late Saturday at Okmulgee by Matthew Kimes to Sheriff Owenby of Borger and a representative of the Pampa Daily News.

Kimes talked freely and cleared up many of the mysteries which have surrounded his activities for the past six months. It is expected that officers, acting upon this new information, will gather up the frayed ends of justice and indict most of those who have contributed to an almost unprecedented reign of lawlessness.

But as to himself, Kimes was a good defense witness, denying the killing of Deputies Terry and Kenyon and Patrolman Buchanan, and declaring that he was 500 miles away at the time of the Pampa bank robbery. He said he knew who killed Kenyon and Terry, and would clear up this case.

Most of the Kimes gang has been jailed, although Jack Harding gave his captors the slip and is now at large.

Legion Drive Nets 147 New Members Here

The American legion drive for members for the local post No. 334 ended Saturday. The addition of 147 new members which now brings the enrollment to 211.

The post to get most members will win a prize of a trip to France for one of their number. Up until the latter part of last week the local post was in the lead, but the final result has not been received.

There will be a regular meeting tonight to welcome the new members and transact current business.

FUNERAL FOR EDITOR WILL BE IN DALLAS

HOUSTON, July 5.—The funeral services for Col. George Balfay, 63-year-old editor of the Post-Dispatch who died here Monday, will be held in Dallas. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

MIAMI MAN IS BURNED WHILE POURING GAS

C. R. Arnett Dies Here Sunday In Hospital

FIREWORKS ARE VERY DAMAGING

Traffic Crashes Cause Fatalities Over Nation

Charles Roy Arnett, 34 years old, died here Sunday afternoon at the Pampa hospital from burns received early Sunday morning at a farm near Miami.

Arnett had been plowing all night with a tractor and was drawing gasoline from a barrel when a pall of the gas exploded. The man's clothing was ignited and his body and limbs were badly burned. He was rushed here, still conscious, but the burns proved fatal.

The body will be taken by the Malone ambulance to Clarendon today, and will be sent to Arnett's parents at Corsicana for burial. Mrs. Arnett will accompany it. There are no children.

Arnett was working for L. C. Holland. How the gasoline came to explode is not known, unless fumes were ignited by a lantern resting 15 feet away. The barrel of gasoline did not explode.

(By The Associated Press.)
Accidents incident to national independence day festivities took at least 30 lives and left scores injured, many seriously.

A third of the deaths were caused by fireworks and guns, and a dozen persons died from traffic and railroad crossing crashes. Airplanes are charged with three fatalities. Five persons were drowned.

Much Liquor Is Found In Raids

A bold, alleged bootlegger who, officers say, had his business across a street from a deputy, was apprehended yesterday in a raid. Deputies said his clientele is known to have been several prominent local men.

Ten gallons of beer was obtained in another raid, and two men and a woman aid fines for possession.

A residence in the west part of town netted 100 bottles of choice beer, in addition to five kegs and other containers.

John T. Willis has disposed of his interests in the local branch of the American Gasoline service to his brother-in-law, H. D. Lewis, formerly of the firm of Willis, Telford and Lewis.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND RANDOM IDEAS

Oklahoma has taken a forward step in revising her laws affecting motoring, and other states may be expected to follow this example.

For example, the traffic cops who have been trying to enforce the 35-mile-an-hour highway speed limit law will now permit a speed of 45 miles per hour. This may seem on first thought to be a mistake, but 45 miles is no longer excessive on good highways and with good cars.

The new speed is somewhat fast for small, used cars, yet the drivers' own caution should safeguard their safety. From the standpoint of being a menace to others, the 45-mile driver is reasonably out of the range of danger. Good roads, balloon tires, low balanced cars, and general skill make driving much more safe than it was a few years ago. Good brakes, fast pickups but quick stops, and stop-signs in congested places will eliminate danger.

Dan Moody, through fortunate circumstances, is a name which attracts nationwide attention in the newspapers — this fact was well recognized by those managing the Good Will tour. Publicity, which is so powerful that even bad types may almost be beneficial (remember Kimes), hereafter will be systematically sought for Texas. The power of publicity to build up fine conceptions — often incorrect, is well known. An acquaintance who recently traveled widely on the Continent told the writer of an amusing article read while in Madrid. A Paris edition of an American newspaper printed and prominently displayed an article telling how "Amarillo gas" will be piped to Paris, France.

The general public, it often appears, is as willing to accept exaggerations as quickly as real facts.

Little souls harbor grudges. And the religious instinct, coupled with narrowness, makes one of the most dangerous of all combinations. Press reports tell of how a disgruntled Catholic was ousted but spent 27 years "getting even" by robbing churches of that faith.

Looks as if Johnny Had Something in His Boot

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON. — Back in George Washington's time, a negro coachman one day drove the pole of his team into a pedestrian with fatal results. When an attempt was made to arrest him, it was found that he was a servant of a British ambassador and hence entitled to diplomatic immunity. Ever since the matter of diplomatic immunity has been a problem to the Washington cops.

Theoretically, a diplomat here can get away with murder. Fortunately, few of them try to do so and, practically, they can't, for the State Department is likely to squawk to their home governments unless they misbehave within certain limits.

Many a cop has cussed roundly when confronted in an aggravating case by the fact that the member of a foreign mission can't be arrested.

Perhaps the majority of the ambassadors, ministers, secretaries and attaches are both gentlemanly and cultured, not anxious to abuse their privilege and ever mindful of the fact that when one is in Washington one must eat Washington pie. But some of them have difficulty in fitting into our laws and customs outside their legations and some of them, according to police officials, seem to act on as they darn please.

Traffic offenses, however, provide the principal complaints of the cops. This may give away a secret of state, but one is given to understand newspapers on display. See the appeal to the base instincts. This is an age of great feature writing but real literary magazines are suffering. Half of the latter survive through their "radical" tendencies.

that Mr. Kellogg's department has sent to all legations and embassies a selected set of rules of the road with the suggestion that it might help all around if everyone followed them.

The heads of mission are generally tactful enough to keep out of trouble, feeling that any gross breach on their part would react on the prestige of their respective countries. Hence it is more often the under officials or members of their families who collide with the police.

The latest instance of the intermittent warfare between diplomatic folk and cops involved Sarsfield Smiddy, the son of the Minister from the Irish Free State, who was undiplomatic in more ways than one. After Sarsfield had been stopped early one morning for speeding across a bridge at 34 miles an hour instead of the permitted speed of 22, he was asked for his driver's permit. He replied that he was a legation attache and had left it at home. The police then found, they say, that he had never taken out a permit. So the commissioners of the District of Columbia forwarded a complaint to the State Department about it.

Occasionally one of the big boys gets into a jam, however. The Swedish minister some time ago smashed into a newspaper man's car, damaging it considerably. It appeared that the fault was the minister's, but there was no way for the newspaper man to collect repair costs without suing in Sweden, which was out of the question. The newspaper man says that the minister subsequently offered to pay $100 if he would take the blame, and that the offer was indignantly refused. The State Department had an oar in before the matter blew over, but the newspaper man paid the bill from his own pocket, as the minister pleaded personal poverty.

Have you tried a want ad?

PRESS FORUM

Arthur Brisbane, Mayor Will Rogers and Colonel William Mitchell will be glad to know that recent American exploits in the air have given new life to army and navy, not to mention commercial, aviation, and that as a consequence the powers that be have been encouraged to ask congress for additional appropriations for that department.

Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, one of the outstanding ex-jurists of the country, comes right out in public and opines that Lindbergh, Chamberlin et al, have stimulated interest in the art of flying, particularly commercial flying.

Army authorities are likewise encouraged, while the undersecretary for aviation in Mr. Hoover's department of commerce chimes in with the sage observation that even congress will take note of recent achievements in the air.

You'll note the unanimity of these views, but even more you'll be impressed with the fact that instead of having one centralized aviation department of the government, we have a large number scattered through half a dozen departments.

That, it would seem, should be the first concern of congress — to set up a separate and distinct branch of the government to have charge of all aviation matters. As it is, the navy is often pulling against the army, the department of commerce is shooting at a different set of objects, while the air mail service is interested in still another angle.

Wouldn't it be the part of wisdom to concentrate our interests under one head? What would you think of our mail business if it were scattered through half a dozen different bureaus?

There are those who think the navy and the army should be in one bureau, but the wisdom of that is debatable.

TWINKLES

Watch your roost; chicken thieves have just about cleaned up around some nearby towns, and they may find our poultry just as good.

Pampa has a good American legion, and some straight, well uniformed Boy Scouts would look fine.

German and French cities are renaming their streets after American fliers. Maybe we will know the foreign spots by name in a few more years.

Tourist camps are city assets, and it appears that air ports should be considered by the wide awake cities.

It's strange how many papers copy little things like these and lead their readers to think they are original.

When we say a person is a thoroughbred, we mean mental and moral qualities largely. Good physical hybrids are among the world's greatest geniuses.

We'd hate to think our conception of the chicken were limited to the pieces and organs gotten through a bill of fare, or menu either.

Let a want ad work for you.

There ought not to be any debate over the question of concentrating our aviation interests. — Abilene News.

While the Spearman Wildcats were playing ball in Pampa Sunday, somebody ran away with the town, or at least part of it. The Spearman Hardware company lost $2,200 in cash and checks. Some one knew the combination, evidently.

Nice Record

Meet Eddie Brown, Braves' outfielder, who on June 28 had played in 475 consecutive major league games. Brown's record began while he was a member of the Brooklyn club. Brown's record, while not near Everett Scott's great record, is one worth talking about.

SPORT TALK

The score of the first Pampa-Spearman game sounds like football, but it was really baseball and not as bad as the score indicated. The second affair was a humdinger and anybody's game until the last man was out.

Ed Gober and "Hook" Shaw played three games with Berger and are reported to have been the shining lights of the game. The two boys are too modest to say what they really did.

Amarillo Metros lost the old Lubbock jinx yesterday and took both ends of a double header. It was "Os" Eckhardt and his bat that had a lot to do with winning the games. Eckhardt pitched a great game in the opener.

With the mighty Babe out of yesterday's double-header, Lou Gehrig stepped out with two home runs and now leads the Babe by two. Gehrig has 28 to his credit, which is stepping some.

Washington didn't do a thing but get stepped on yesterday. They took a 12 to 1 and a 21 to 1 defeat.

The Texans split a double-header yesterday. Bob Clarke started the game but lasted only three innings. The more I read the Amarillo paper the more I think Bob Clarke will be back with the Grays next week. Let's hope so.

The auto polo game in Amarillo sounded like the first Pampa Oiler-Spearman ball game according to the score, which was 18 to 12.

It was a hard day on double-headers yesterday, the majority of teams winning two apiece. New York especially was traveling, winning all four games, while the Indians, Boston, and Chicago had their day.

HORSE SHOES SCARCE

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Texas may be viewed as the land of cowboys, steers, and six-gun men by Easterners, but a department store in this city recently advertised for horse shoes, agreeing to pay $1 each for them until thirteen were produced.

Spearman Wildcatters Take Sunday's Game By Score of 28-24

The Spearman Wildcatters won the first game from Pampa Oilers here Sunday afternoon by a 28 to 24 score.

There were errors galore, walked batters, base hits that should have been out, but the game was interesting to watch as the Oilers fought until the last man was out.

"Red" McClendon was the star of the game with two doubles, and two homers. Both homers came in the eighth inning. He put his second homer over the left field fence. Lou Hunter, Grays' outfielder, was hitting the ball. He got a triple, two doubles and two singles. Hust also hit well. Red McKay, Oiler first sacker, supplied the fielding sensations of the game.

Meade and Cliff were the hitters on the Spearman club and Cox, catcher, was the snappiest receiver seen here in a long time. He is a hustler and has a good arm. Williams, who started on the mound, held the Oilers to 3 runs while the Wildcatters were garnering 19 off Vincent and McClendon. Williams went in for Spearman with a big lead but the Oilers got to his offerings and tied the game at 23-all in the eighth. But the locals lost in the last inning when a couple of errors let in five runs.

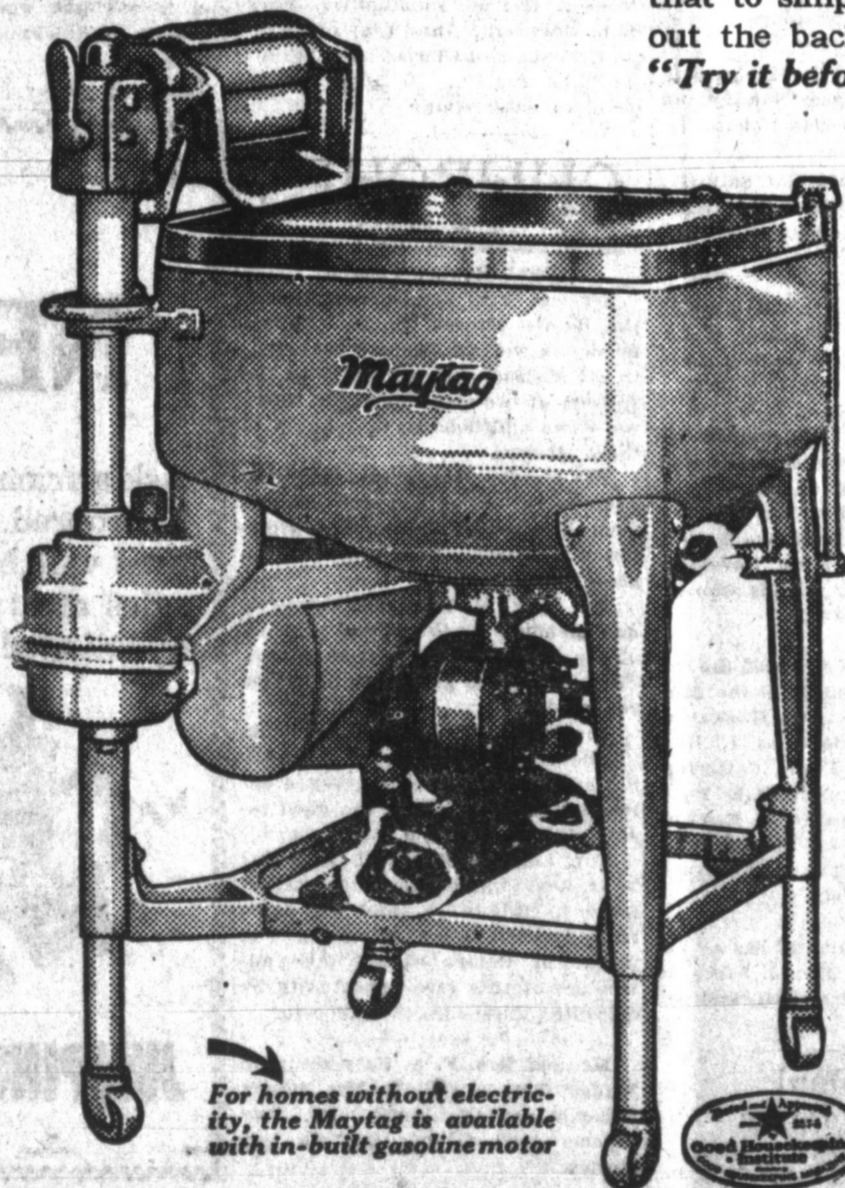

Batteries: Pampa Oilers—Vincent, McClendon and Sherrod. Spearman Wildcatters—Williams, McClendon, Nichols, and Cox. Umpires, McKeezie and Britton.

A. A. Slideman and son of Boulder, Colo., arrived Tuesday to visit W. W. Merten and family.

THE Maytag Gyrafoam is sold by washing not talking. Its speed, thoroughness and carefulness are so unusual that to simply describe them would sound boastful—without the backing of the well-known Maytag sales plan—"Try it before you buy it."

For homes without electricity, the Maytag is available with in-built gasoline motor

To wash with a Maytag and see big tubfuls of clothes washed in 3 to 7 minutes is a revelation. To see the grimy edges of collars, cuffs and wristbands come from the tub beautifully clean without hand-rubbing, gives you the true significance of the Maytag Gyrafoam action.

To wash with a Maytag convinces you of the real value of the life-lasting cast-aluminum tub that keeps water hot for an entire washing—that cleans itself in 30 seconds after the washing is done.

Errors Let Spearman Take Game From Oilers Here Monday

Edelen pitched winning ball for the Oilers yesterday at the home park but errors lost the Spearman game for him by a 4 to 2 score.

It was a good game, but costly fumbles by Hust and Hunter let in two runs. Neither side could hit in the pinches.

The pitching of Hoyt Edelen for the home club was the high light of the game. The Wildcats got only nine scattered hits off his delivery. Big Chief Herndon was the willow wielder of the day, with a triple and 3 singles and two sacrifices, but the other boys couldn't connect with Nicklaus' fast ball. Speck and McClendon provided the fielding sensations of the game.

Allred led the Spearman hitters, with two singles, but Meade, the star batter of Sunday's game, went hitless yesterday. Duncan at third was in the limelight in fielding, as was Allred at second. They saved sure hits by sensational plays.

The Oilers first score came in the eighth when Herndon and McClendon singled. They were advanced on a sacrifice by Watson. McKay singled, scoring Herndon, Specks and Hunter went out.

A rally started in the ninth when Young, catching for the local club, bounced one over the left field fence. Herndon, next man up, hit a triple but was left stranded.

Spearman garnered two in the second on a three-bagger by Cox, a single by McClelland, an out, and a sacrifice by Meade.

The fifth added another on Allred's three bagger and an error.

Spearman's final tally in the sixth was a home run on two errors. Cox got a single but went around on fumbles.

Batteries for yesterday's game: Pampa Oilers, Edelen and Young; Spearman Wildcats, Nicklaus and Cox. Umpire, McKenzie.

CHURCHES

First Baptist Church
Services were exceptional fine at the Baptist church Sunday. Special music, as well as splendid congregational singing, added greatly to the delivery of two great messages. There were two additions to the church in these services.

The Sunday school was above the average in attendance and enthusiasm. The school is gradually growing in numbers to keep pace with the growth of Pampa.

The B. Y. P. U. also is receiving new members by the return of many of the former members from school. This contributes greatly to programs rendered.

The training school in the book, "Building a Standard Sunday School", will be taught every evening this week following the good results from the school last week.

Rev. Leonard Sigle will teach this book. Rev. Sigle has had much experience in this work, and has built many successful Sunday schools. The people of Pampa should take advantage of this rare opportunity by attending these classes.—Reporter.
