WASHINGTON, July 7.—Retirement from the House of Representatives of Finis Garrett, who announced that he would run for the Senate, may bring the post of Democratic leader of the next Congress to one of the most picturesque characters in the House.

He is John Garner, fiery Texan and ranking minority member of the powerful ways and means committee. Garner is regarded generally as one of the best rough and tumble debaters on either side of the dividing political aisle. He has been in Congress 24 years, representing the fifteenth Texas district.

Before coming to Washington, he served in the Texas House of Representatives and also as county judge.

Now We Have Pirates of the Air

C. C. Julian, Los Angeles promoter who owns station KMTR, started out one night recently to broadcast the "inside facts" of the collapse of the Julian Petroleum Company, with which he formerly was connected. Immediately shrieks and howls rent the air. Julian's voice was drowned out whenever he tried to broadcast that night. Julian has asked the federal radio control body to investigate. Experts say another station interfered.

Clarendon Men Will Come Here To Boost College

According to a letter to Scott Barcus, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, a big party of Clarendon boosters will be here Friday in the interest of their junior college.

More than fifteen carloads of Clarendon citizens will make the trip, in addition to the Clarendon band. There will be a short band concert, a short talk or two, and members of the delegation will distribute literature pertaining to the college.

The boosters will arrive about 1:30 p. m.

Late Cutting Is Showing Wheat of Poor Quality

The amount of wheat shipped from local elevators up to this time is light compared with other seasons. This year's crop is very light, especially that of late growth, which is averaging 9 bushels to the acre in this territory. So far this season the elevators have shipped approximately 350,000 bushels of wheat.

Farmers report most of their wheat cut and that the late wheat is not of as high quality as the earlier crop. It is more blistered than ripened. The crop appears much lighter than was formerly estimated.

Sheffield Sees No Change Now In Mexican Policy

(By The Associated Press.)

ALL-TEXAS TRIP WORTH WHILE IN EVERY WAY

—B. E. Finley

Nation Knows State Better As Result Of Journey

"MOODY MADE FINE IMPRESSION"

Delegates Cultured and Well-Behaved, Says Pampa Man

The reputation and prestige of Texas in the states of the North and East are much more clarified and stabilized as a result of the All-Texas Good Will tour, in the opinion of B. E. Finley of Pampa, who made the trip.

"We were courteously and often royally received on the tour," said Mr. Finley to a representative of the Daily News last night, "and while we found the people not ignorant of the resources of Texas, our contacts with influential citizens did much to strengthen and make permanent the feeling and beliefs already held to a certain extent. And those who were expecting to see jingling spurs and ten-gallon hats were disappointed."

Well Prepared Speakers

Eight Texas speakers, at the call of Chairman Cato Sells, told of various phases of Texas life and business structure. Prominent among the speakers were Dr. S. P. Brooks of Baylor university, Dr. W. M. Splawn of Texas university, Clarence Ousley, Cullen Thomas, and, chief of all, Governor Dan Moody.

"Governor Moody made a fine impression everywhere, bore himself with a dignity and friendliness befitting his position, and spoke well and effectively at the conclusion of the Texas part of the programs," asserted Mr. Finley, who had a compartment of the car occupied by the young executive.

Politics Avoided

Chairman Sells skillfully avoided mention of politics, and while Moody was popularly received, not even his appearance with Al Smith inspired much discussion of the approaching presidential campaign. It was impressed upon the various cities that the trip was one of business and goodwill to form business contacts and arrive at mutual understandings.

Clarence Ousley told of Texas' agricultural position and how the state which does much to clothe and feed the nation wishes to be known as an integral part of the country's business. The opportunities for the individual home builder and the captain of industry were emphasized, and it was declared that Texans welcome both people and capital into every section.

Outing of the publicity and interest resulting from the trip, much business is expected to come into the state. Everywhere the Chambers of Commerce took the big delegation in hand and the commercial executives mingled with the Texas business and professional leaders. Many of those met on the trip are anxious to visit Texas and likely will do so soon.

Mr. Finley praised the personnel of the excursion, saying that the members were well behaved throughout the trip and by this fact alone aroused much favorable comment. They gave the impression of being cultured—of reading, working, and thinking in common with the peoples of the twenty states visited.

"It was really a wonderful trip from every standpoint, the Pampa tripper reiterated.

The injured man was driving between the Combs-Worley and the Binkley leases southeast of Pampa at the time of the accident. He was carried by oil men at work nearby and the Malone ambulance made a hurried trip to bring him to the hospital.

He was badly crushed and bruised, and the truck was much damaged.

Tragedy Is End To Romance Of Youth and Girl

(By The Associated Press.)

FORT WORTH, July 7.—Tragedy today wrote the final chapter in the romance that had its inception in high school three years ago as Homer Bond, 23 years old, and Frances Hooker, 19 years old, were taken to a hospital suffering from probably fatal bullet wounds in their heads.

According to Mrs. Guy Estill, a sister of Miss Hooker, at whose home the shooting took place, the tragedy occurred soon after Bond had called at her home and was informed Miss Hooker was asleep.

Upon hearing the shots, Mrs. Estill said she found Miss Hooker lying in the bed with a bullet wound in her temple and Bond was in the kitchen, also wounded in the head.

PROFESSOR CREDITED IN D'AUTREMONT'S CAPTURE

Scores of persons in almost every town for several years read about the big rewards offered for information about the three D'Autremont brothers, wanted in connection with the bombing of a mail train and the killing of four men in the mountains of Oregon.

The brothers left but four very small clues—a revolver, a knapsack containing over-shoes, a pair of greasy overalls and a magneto used to set off the dynamite. The identity of the bandits was unknown. But for once the keen eye of science was brought into play without jealousy on the part of ordinary officers.

The clues were taken to Prof. Edward Oscar Heinrich of the University of California. He bent low over his microscope and announced:

That one of the killers was brown haired, left-handed, about 25 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches tall, heavy set, neat in habits and a former lumber camp worker. He had learned these facts from the physical aspects of the clothing, which showed the habits of the wearer. And, deep in an overall pocket, was found a faded bit of paper which the microscope showed to be a postal money order receipt. He was able to detect the number, and through it one of the D'Autremonts was implicated. The description fit perfectly.

The Sherlock Holmes tale of the half-baked investigator and his magnifying devices thus has a true parallel, and the result is very gratifying. The D'Autremonts are behind the bars.

MASTER FARMER IS REAL BUSINESS MAN

North Carolina has two "master farmers." Each has been awarded certificates of meritorious service to the state by the North Carolina State college because of their work as farmers and citizens.

The importance of farm stability is such that a state institution has singled out the industry for special honors. The wits may be lead to make wise cracks about one of the "master farmers" way of solving the labor problem—the rearing of 10 sturdy sons and three helpful daughters. But he used varied methods in making the farm pay, producing on 350 acres 2,000 bushels of wheat, 1,500 bushels of oats, 200 bushels of barley for

OUT OUR WAY

—By Williams

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON.—You may have read in the newspapers that workmen engaged in repairing the temporary White House were selling nails from the torn-out sections to the souvenir hunters.

Well, President Coolidge heard it, too, and there hasn't been a nail sold since.

Prior to this profitable enterprise of the workmen, all good citizens of the United States and their wives and children were allowed to enter the White House grounds and, at some slight distance, to gaze respectfully upon the operation of putting a new roof on the White House and otherwise improving its safety and comfort.

But President Coolidge picked up the morning paper and read about the nail selling and his method of stopping this commerce was to bar all ordinary citizens from the grounds, although he himself was then still living at the temporary White House on Dupont Circle.

The sequence of cause and effect has just come to light. It appears that only a handful of nails was sold, but now the workmen are deprived of the opportunity to make a few quarters and first-time visitors to Washington are denied a closeup of the White House and its alteration.

The business of keeping American citizens off their government's property is nothing new. It's done every day in many instances. One of the most extreme examples was the conduct of Admiral John D. McDonald, commander of the Pearl Harbor naval base at Honolulu, in barring photographers, newspaper men and everyone else from a glimpse of the plane of Pilot Grace as it prepared for a flight to San Francisco.

McDonald is known as one of the most hard-boiled officers in the navy and his martial characteristics have not diminished with the approach of his retirement. All officers and men entering the gates are searched for liquor or dope and the violator of any rule may expect scant sympathy from the commandant.

TWINKLES

Well, see where Amarillo has broken another crime ring. Another reversion to bull ring tactics, it seems.

Two women are claiming the world's altitude record. And if that instrument they carried should say otherwise—but that would be "absurd," wouldn't it?

Some cities are installing rubber stop signs, and perhaps Pampa should get that kind—it would merely remind the motorists of the similar jar of hitting a pedestrian.

"Chickens must be kept at home" says an ordinance but the question is, with so many thieves about, how?

Maybe, there's something wrong with a social order which regards financial embarrassment as something to be dreaded worse than moral embarrassment. — The Fort Wayne News-Sentinel.

The brain was made to think with but the pocketbook is responsible for most of the decisions. — The Arkansas Democrat.

PRESS FORUM

TRUTH WILL RIGHT

Many weird stories have gone out from Texas concerning the Panhandle-Plains region, and the sad thing is these stories have been accepted as truths. This section is "supposed" to be kind of a howling wilderness minus trees, and we are better known by reason of our standstills than our agricultural and dairying interests.

However, we are thankful that people are beginning to learn the truth. Facts can not be overlooked, even if figures can be juggled, and facts reveal that the South Plains is one of the most ideal cotton and one of the most perfect wheat producing areas, and is second to none when it comes to maize, kaffir and kindred grains. It is also a fact that the climate here is ideal for the successful breeding of poultry, hogs and other farm animals.

But we are sleeping on our rights. Why send to Wisconsin for our cheese when we can and should be making them here. We can breed and raise dairy cows cheaper here than can the Wisconsin farmers. We can feed them for less money as we can raise our feed. Our climate makes it possible for us to build more cheaply constructed barns and sheds with equally as good results. In fact we have everything at our beck and call—everything except a little nerve that is required to open manufacturing plants.

We have plenty of cotton, but we let eastern capitalists manufacture it for us. Of course we know we must pay the freight both ways, give the manufacturers and the middleman a profit and allow mammoth payrolls to be distributed 2,000 miles away while our people sit in idleness and wait. We know all these things, but we don't have sufficient nerve to operate our own mills. Figuring from an economical standpoint the eastern factory could not hope to compete with a home institution. Just as well ask an Eskimo to go get into a banana-growing contest with a Californian. Climatic conditions are in favor of the Californian as they are with the Texan.

Let's figure a little more for Texas. For after all Texas is an empire sufficiently endowed with God's blessings to make it self-sustaining—capable of caring for its own.—Lubbock Avalanche.

One way not to lose your bearings is to remember the oil.—The Wall Street Journal.

Much of this third term talk seems to come from gentlemen who fear a third term would preclude them from a first term.—The Portland Oregonian.

MIKE McTIGUE'S NEW-FOUND WALLOP PITTED AGAINST DELANEY'S RIGHT

MIKE McTIGUE

JACK DELANEY

BY ALAN J. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, July 7. (AP)—It's an axiom of the ring to "lead with the left," but right punches probably will decide the next battle for the light heavyweight championship of the world between Jack Delaney and Michael Francis McTigue. Tex Rickard has matched them for a 15-round title bout at the Yankee Stadium, today.

The veteran McTigue's newfound right wallop, the blow that knocked out Paul Berlenbach and gave Jack Sharkey a busy evening, will be pitted against the "rapier-right" of Delaney. Both have swift left jabs. Both are fast, clever ringmen who probably will summon all their craft in the quest for an opening through which to shoot the "crusher."

Delaney stopped McTigue something over a year ago in four rounds at Madison Square Garden, but the scenes have been radically shifted since then. The venerable Mike forsook the downward chute for a sensational come-back. Delaney went on to win the world's light heavyweight title from Berlenbach but skidded into Jimmy Maloney at the Garden last February, took a severe beating, damaged his right arm and left hand and hasn't fought since.

Can Delaney come back now, show his former flashiness and punch? Or will McTigue complete the cycle of his return to form by again lifting the title he won from Battling Siki a few years ago and subsequently lost to Berlenbach?

Operations on Delaney's left hand and "tennis elbow" have kept the champion idle since his fight with Maloney.

Confidence no less than his newly developed wallop has figured in the comeback of Michael Francis. The veteran Irishman, once known chiefly for his crafty defensive skill, became a terror during the winter season as he bowled over a half dozen formidable opponents in a row and gave Sharkey a busy evening before the Boston Sailor broke a small blood vessel in Mike's mouth and won on a technical knockout.

"Don't let anybody tell you that old fellow can't sock," remarked Sharkey as he rubbed his chin after the fight.

"The title never brought me much," said Mike, "except a lot of abuse. I have made more money and fought better without it. Delaney's technical knockout over me wasn't a fair test. The referee was too hasty in stopping that fight and want to show I can beat Jack this time."

A dog in Winchester, England, when his master, a tramp, was jailed, waited outside until he came out a week later.

Cahill Wins On Foul In Eighth Round of Match

"Rusty" Cahill, Pampa welter, won last night's bout at the Pampa Athletic club from Dick Bryan on a foul. Until the eighth round, it was the fastest bout ever seen in Pampa. Evenly matched, the two boys got in the ring and slugged their way through eight rounds, until the unintentional foul blow landed.

When two preliminary pugilists were called out of town, two fast newsboy bouts preceded a wrestling match. Paul Groves and Wayne Cummings plastered one another through two rounds and Lee Sterling and Glen Phillips also put up two good rounds.

As an added attraction, Oscar Dotson and John Lamont staged a wrestling match, one fall take all. The local man, Dotson, took the fall in 4 minutes and 50 seconds.

The feature bout saw Cahill and Bryan working for a knockout and nearly succeeding. Bryan took a count of nine in the fourth round from a left hook to the jaw, but came back strong. Cahill went down in the sixth but was up before a count.

It was the best and fastest bout the Pampa boy has ever staged. He was in condition, fast and sure, and had the boy from El Paso worried. Bryan is one of the best boxers that has ever stepped in the ring in Pampa.

The bout ended with Cahill in a corner and boxing his way out. He started an upper cut to the jaw at the same time Bryan hooked to the body. Cahill followed his cut up, and Bryan's blow landed low, Cahill going out for about five minutes. The foul was an accident, but Bryan agreed to allow the bout to Cahill.

Monday night, July 18, "Rusty" Cahill will box Young Whittington of Vernon, and Dick Bryan will meet Speedy Sparks of Oklahoma in what should be the fastest double bill ever presented in Pampa. Sparks is known all over the United States as a fast and clever boxer, but he will meet a worthy opponent in Dick Bryan, as will Whittington in "Rusty" Cahill.

SPORT TALK

Socking was popular in the boxing bouts at the Pampa Athletic club last night. Nearly everyone in the ring got in some real old-fashioned wallops. And that means the kids, too.

The second game in the new city league last night was fast and furious as far as the Ollers were concerned, but the Merton nine didn't think so.

The reliable Tyrus Cobb is up to his old tricks on the bases. He engineered a successful triple steal yesterday. He had two to his credit in the first game yesterday, and three safe hits.

Fred Schulte, star center fielder of the St. Louis Browns, fractured a wrist and broke a rib yesterday afternoon when he ran into the outfield wall chasing a fly.

That Golf tournament in Amarillo seems to be taking the eye of all the sports in the country. It is nearing the end, too.

ALL-TEXAS

of twelve cars was well marked, and delegates wore distinguishing Lone stars on their coat lapels.

From the beginning they were received by large crowds of very friendly people, and their receptions, in addition to banquets in every city, included trips to the Country club of Kansas City, the Cardinal-Chicago baseball game at St. Louis, the board of trade at Chicago, the great musical event in Cleveland to hear 4,000 voices sing, the fire boats and wheat elevators of Buffalo, the scenic wonders of Niagara Falls, the historic places at Boston, the stock and cotton exchanges at New York, the patriotic shrines at Philadelphia, a boat ride at Baltimore, the governmental splendors of Washington, the grave of the Unknown Soldier at Annapolis, the gigantic factories of Pittsburgh, and the beautiful scenes at Memphis, the last stop before reaching Texarkana, where Texas soil was re-entered and Dan Moody automatically became governor again.

Lindbergh Speaks

Mr. Finley spoke long and enthusiastically of the entertainment features and receptions everywhere provided. Col. Charles A. Lindbergh greeted the Texans at St. Louis, and the Cardinals won both baseball games, the first of which went thirteen innings. At New York the airplane American was seen a few hours before the ship took off for France. The cotton exchange halted operations for five minutes—a thing without precedent—while Governor Moody made a talk. The huge Curtis publishing plant was among the wonderful sights at Philadelphia. At Washington former Governor Pat Neff spoke, and at Annapolis Moody placed a wreath upon the grave of the Unknown Soldier. Governor

Moody was honored at a private meeting of the Texans at Cincinnati, when Tom Etheridge for the delegation presented to him a fine traveling bag and a suit case.

A daily bulletin kept the trippers informed of the events in store for each day, and details of the trip were efficiently handled.

Many Former Texans

A fact which was especially noticeable was that at every stop were former Texans who are now prominent in the big cities of other state.

Paraphrasing an old saying, Chairman Sells emphasized the point that "you can get a man out of Texas, but you can't get the Texas spirit out of a former Texan."

The Rev. J. T. Griswold, presiding elder of this district of the Methodist church, was here today in conference with the Rev. Tom W. Brabham, new local pastor.
