Soap Factory Is Proposed Here By Formula Makers

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce met in a called meeting yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Wilkerson of Dallas and Hohn and Cochrane of Panhandle presented a proposition to establish a soap factory in Pampa. The powder was demonstrated to the board and seemed satisfactory. A committee composed of W. L. Woodward, J. H. Lavender and B. E. Finley was chosen to go to Panhandle and make an investigation into the advisability of locating the soap factory here.

According to a statement made by Wilkerson, the cost to install a two-ton a day plant would be $3,000. A kettle for the purpose of cooking the soap powder would cost $1,000 of this and a mixer for mixing the powder and neutralizer would cost $750. A carton filler costing $1,500 would be advisable.

First Air Mail Sent 57 Years Ago

PITTSBURGH (AP) — What may have been the first successful delivery of mail by air was made 57 years ago in France.

Out of a mass of mail stamps of famed flights collected by Harry A. Truby of New Kensington, vice-president of the Aero-Philatelic Society of America, is one recording that on September 25, 1870, M. Jules Derouf flew from Paris in a balloon with messages to Greenwell, France. At that

Smoke Ordinance

(By The Associated Press.)

ABILENE, Aug. 17.—The capital city will be the first in Texas to have a smoke control ordinance if such a measure contemplated by the city council is passed.

City attorney J. Bouldin Rector said that no Texas city now has a smoke ordinance, although 30 in the United States have. Pittsburgh has a smoke inspector, who inspects methods of stoking fire boxes in industrial plants.

The matter of a smoke ordinance was taken under advisement recently when Mrs. E. B. Robinson and a group of West Austin residents protested against smoke from industrial plants in that section.

Prohibition Chief Recommends 2.75 Per Cent Beer

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—An amendment to the Volstead Act to permit the sale of 2.75 per cent beer was suggested today by James Waddell, retiring supervisor of the alcohol and brewery control of the prohibition department, as the only way to put the dry law enforcement on fundamentally sound basis.

CONFERENCE IN ABILENE WILL TALK WATER

Big Representation Is Expected From West Texas Area

POWER CONCERNS ARE ENCROACHING

Rights of Agriculture To Use Water-Sheds At Issue

ABILENE, Aug. 17.—Scores of West Texas business men, farmers, and other interested leaders in its commercial and industrial life, as well as representatives from many different sectors of Texas, and prominent state officials, will flock to Abilene Thursday to attend the All-Texas conference called jointly by the Texas Conservation association and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to discuss water rights of West Texas, according to indications received and according to press reports over the entire territory where great concern is being manifested.

A special train has already been ordered to bring the Brownwood delegation. Other cities will send delegations by motor caravans.

The water rights meeting will be held in the Fair Park auditorium, Abilene, August 18, beginning at 10:30 a. m. An organized program will initiate the formalities, after which an open forum discussion will be in order. Governor Dan Moody, Attorney General Pollard, members of the Board of Water Engineers, and Dr. T. U. Taylor, dean of Engineering at Texas university, as well as many other notables, will speak.

The big conference, the theme of which may be stated in the words, "Whose Water?", is attracting perhaps as widespread attention as any other monumental issue taken up by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce during its nine years of existence, being equalled only in the momentous fight waged by that organization for the establishment of Texas Tech in the West.

The West Texas Chamber laid down its principle that West Texas farmers have the right to use their own water and that agricultural interests of the West are paramount and prior to power development at the historic session of the Board of Water Engineers where intervention was made in favor of Brownwood and San Saba irrigation projects under consideration, opposed by power companies.

The question has passed beyond the bounds of a regional controversy and has taken on the aspect of a general issue in which the people must determine whether or not they will allow power companies to usurp agricultural rights. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is presenting the voice of a united West in its attitude, and has announced that it will take such action as is deemed justified and necessary when the Abilene conference closes.

WHOSE WATER? — The very old question of water rights has come forcibly to West Texas, and a conference has been called to meet in Abilene soon to discuss the problem. The governor and the attorney-general will be among the prominent officials present.

The Panhandle has not yet developed irrigation to an appreciable extent, but other parts of West Texas are vitally interested. Farmers living along streams have certain proprietary rights to the water that flows through their land, yet they are not the sole owners of this water, and must consider the privileges of other farmers further down the stream.

It is considered, however, that the farmer has a right to the water which is derived, directly or indirectly, from his watershed. And here is where the trouble arises, for mammoth power plants would like to dam the streams and convert the flow into electric energy. This interferes with the farmer. West Texans are holding that agricultural rights are prior to power rights. Indications are that the fight will be one of the biggest in which the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has had a part.

STARS — The next eclipse, it is predicted, is pretty apt to be that of the movie stars who come under the announced intention of producers to slash salaries. The country at large will see in the proposal a very desirable move. The exorbitant salaries given highly advertised movie stars, has been, compared with the earnings of the more talented actors on the legitimate stage, little less than ridiculous. The demands of the motion picture in the way of real art make necessary the expenditure of much money in the production phase not related to salaries. While the public is too much inclined to cling to a few favorites, this should not discourage the development of newer and more gifted actors. The school, rather than the production lot, is now looked upon as the place for aspiring movie stars. This is at last a good sign and will result in better pictures.

It may well be supposed that the big salaries have been partly responsible for the tragedies and scandals which have injured the industry. Even though the ultimate consumer is little affected, a revision downward of the stars' salaries seems a wise move.

GOOD REASONS

Why women leave home and hubby is the theme of a welfare chief, who gives good reasons, he says—and cites that the male is as often as not the cause of the separation. The reasons: 1. Inclination of new-lyweds to live beyond their means; 2. Incompatibility, often inability to enjoy the same things together; 3. Unreasonableness, unwillingness to give and take as deserved; 4. Intemperance, or love of the man for bootleg liquor out of proportions to the happiness of his home; 5. Infidelity, usually attributed to the wife; 6. Interference by parents; 7. Too many children; 9. Lack of diplomacy, unwillingness to reason out things to a logical conclusion; 10. No sense of humor as applicable to the circumstances arising in the course of married life. This appears to be a fairly adequate set of reasons, but rather poor excuses. The modern temperament, due to imagined mis-mating, is a strong factor. Think it over.

BABIES

Those who see evil in the revues of the bathing beach type may see more logic in the annual baby parade held in Point Pleasant, N. J. The children ranged in age from seven months to 10 years. The governor of the state and several senators were present. Better babies has come to be a slogan, and attention to the physical well-being of the children is wisely placed. Perhaps, also, the parade helped to call attention to the wealth represented in the baby crop as a community asset. A healthy child is a thing of beauty, but a thing of beauty may be paraded in such a manner that the critics sharpen their wits to find new expressions of disgust. Few will object, however, to a revue participated in by winsome children.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON. — Excepting Dawes, Hoover and Hughes, a study of the strength of the announced or unannounced candidates for the Republican presidential nomination reveals reasons why they might. For purposes of such an analysis, it is to be assumed that President Coolidge will not be an important factor at the next Republican national convention.

With Coolidge out, there is an excellent prospect of a gorgeous cat-and-dog fight between the aspirants, with a wealth of favorite sons, dark horses and deals. The party is too well controlled to permit of any such spectacle as the Democrats stumbled into at New York in 1924, but there may be a real deadlock which will have to be settled as in 1920 "by a little group of men in a smoky, stuffy, locked room."

Lowden is the farmers' "protest" candidate. If he has an understanding with Dawes, as was long ago suggested, he may be able to do a splendid job in rounding up the delegations from agricultural states for delivery at the convention. The main point, however, is that to date Lowden has shown no strength in the east or anywhere else except in predominantly agricultural states.

Longworth comes from Ohio, the "mother of presidents" in recent decades, and he has a strong personal following among members of the House. Many of the congressmen have been boosting his stock for a long time and they will continue to do so with renewed vigor. But despite his conservatism, it is doubtful whether the powers that be in the party regard him as solid enough for the big job.

Probably his worst handicap is his reputation as a thoroughgoing wet. There is no indication yet that the Republican party is likely to name a candidate unsatisfactory to the organized dries.

Borah has even less of a chance than Lowden or Longworth. Although he is personally as popular as anyone in the field, the party regulars will not allow him to get anywhere if they can help it—and they almost surely can. Some sort of a Borah-for-president movement may be started by the senator's admirers, but it is even doubtful whether Borah would ever signify

PRESS FORUM

When you've worked your very hardest to read all your proofs with care, "Till you're sure there's not an error or a bonehead anywhere, And you really feel quite cheery and disposed to pat you bean As you say "She may be empty but I'll tell the world she's clean!" But when the sheet is printed and is out upon the mail, On its way to the subscribers, I have never seen it fail— In the center of the front page in a most conspicuous place, Some typographic error fairly kicks you in the face! For the typographic error is a slippery thing and sly; You can hunt till you are dizzy but it somehow will get by. "Till the forms are off the press it is strange how still it keeps— It shrinks down into the corner and it never stirs or peeps. That typographic error is too small for human eyes. "Till the ink is on the paper, when it grows to mountain size, And you see that blasted error far as you could throw a dog Looming up in all its splendor, like a lighthouse in a fog! That glaring blunder just out like an ulcerated tooth, Where it dodged the eagle vision of the napping comma sleuth. It is sure too late to mend it, but it fills your soul with rage, As you see it swelling lordly in the middle of the page The boss he stares with horror, then he grabs his hair and groans.

his approval of it. Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska has some enthusiastic support from the party's extreme progressive wing, but that wing is so ineffectual that he must be placed at the foot of the current "possibility" list. Norris has inherited the LaFollette following as much as anyone could inherit it, but he has not set up shop as a leader and probably would refuse a third-ticket nomination if it were tendered to him.

TWINKLES

Borah may be fishing all right, but we'll wager that every time he gets a nibble he imagines he is swinging a state in the presidential campaign. Coolidge may be summering in a hick town, but its founders were clever enough to call it Rapid City. There are now schools of eating, but don't let the cook find it out. De-king the lordliest monarch and most of them will claim they were merely adjuncts to the queen—which some of them are. Mighty Mussolini must have a hard time explaining why he cannot speak the word that will free Sacco and Vanzetti. The copy reader drops head upon his hands and moans; The remainder of the issue may be as clean as clean can be. But that typographic error is the only thing they see. It was down among the six-point till the copy was read, When it shifted into blackface of a two-inch banner head; Then when the sheet was print it jumped out and hollered "Boo!" You never saw me, did you? This is sure a horse on you!" Or another choice position is the middle of a name In a classy social write-up sent in by some hard-boiled dame; Right there in the cognomen of the blooming social rose, That typographic error thumbs a contumelious nose! —Selected.

NOTES ON FARMING
The Bureau of Plant Industry which has been conducting experiments to develop disease-resistant sugar cane in Louisiana, has issued a preliminary report showing that large increases in yields can be obtained by substituting hardier varieties for the sugar canes formerly grown there.

Those who get high production follow certain fundamentals in chicken feeding. One of the important is regularity. And the feed must be palatable. The cost per pound can often be reduced by using locally produced grains. Another factor of importance is the effect of the feed on the eggs or meat. Yellow corn will produce a darker-colored egg yolk than white corn. Alfalfa tends to produce yolks with dark-yellow color, whereas wheat and oats tend to produce light-colored yolks. Feed may also affect the flavor of the eggs.

Milk is one of the most complete and easily digested foods for chickens. Besides its food value, it is also a great appetizer. When chickens are fed milk they eat more other feed. Milk also serves as a regulator of the chicken's diges-

Six Yachts Vie for Lipton Cup On Lake Mile and Half Above Sea

(By The Associated Press.)

GRAND LAKE, Colo.—The seventeenth annual renewal of the Sir Thomas Lipton yachting regatta will be held here Aug. 15. Six yachts will compete for honors on Grand Lake, the highest yachting course in the world.

Grand Lake, with its six miles of shore line, is the largest body of water in Colorado. It is at the western entrance of the Rocky Mountain National park, 8,369 feet above sea-level. Long famous as a fishing and boating resort, it gained fame with its recognition in 1910 by Sir Thomas Lipton, millionaire English sportsman, as a spot for yachting competition.

The Grand Lake Yacht club was organized with Sir Thomas as one of its guiding geniuses. Sir Thomas provided a loving cup to be awarded annually. Each year an increased interest has greeted the regatta until now it has become recognized as an outstanding sporting event of the Rocky Mountain region.

One of the entrants this year is the Marchioness, which last year, five systems and tends to keep them in good condition.

under the skillful handling of Dr. W. F. Spears and his son, Thomas Spears, won the trophy, hanging up a course record of 54 minutes 45 seconds. Others are the Marguerite, the Sunshine, Highmail, the Dorothy and the Prosit, the latter the property of Miss Gretchen Tritch of Denver, a leading yachting enthusiast of Rocky mountain region.

BASEBALL BROADCAST

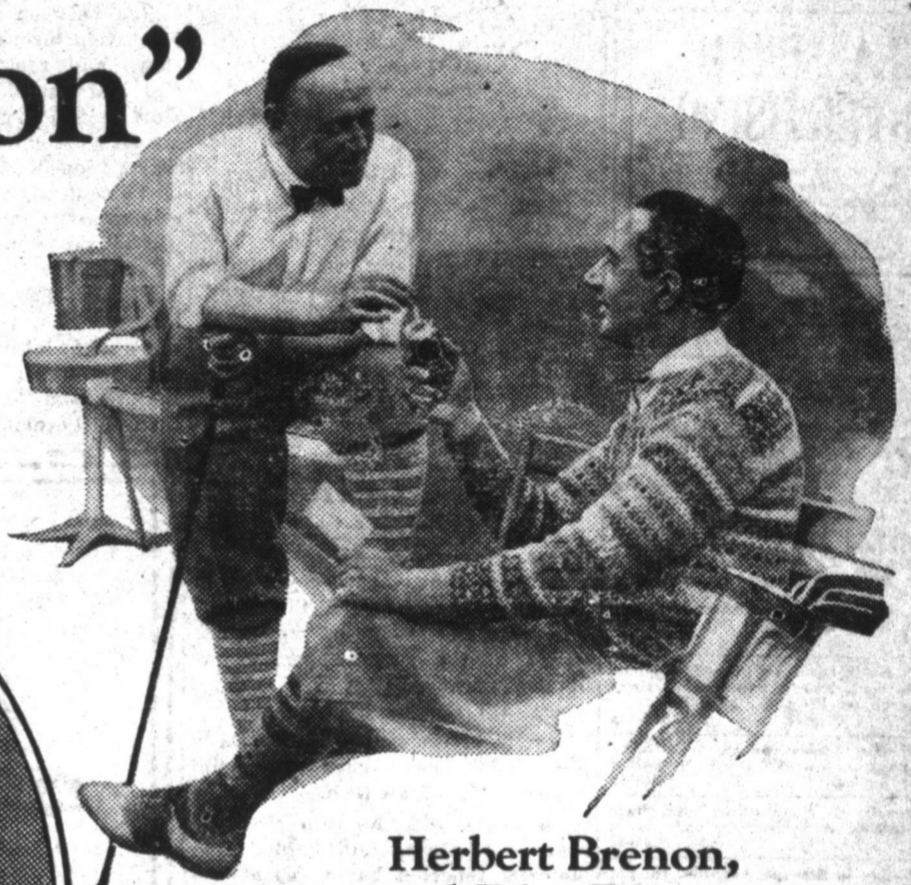

CHICAGO (AP)—William Wrigley, chief owner of the Chicago Cubs, who spent much time at his home in Avalon, Santa Cataline Island, Cal., was up against a problem in getting Station WMAQ's broadcast of the Cub's home games.

At last Wrigley installed two telegraph typewriters. An operator is types every word which goes out over the air from the Cubs' Park announcer of the station. This is received at Station KFWO, Avalon, and there is put on the air word for word.

Compressed air operated, a double barreled nailing machine has been invented to speed up production.

"I owe this idea to Herbert Brenon"

Alton Hamilton remarks to his friend Carl de Mel as he offers him a Lucky Strike at the Manor Country Club.

Herbert Brenon, noted Film Director, writes:

"During the pandemonium of motion picture production—as in my direction of 'Beau Geste'—I find Lucky Strikes are not only soothing to tired vocal chords, but they have the best flavor. The constant use of my voice in my work demands that I keep it in condition. Lucky Strikes are the only cigarettes which protect me from an irritated throat, and which I enjoy to the utmost."

Herbert Brenon

You, too, will find that Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked, made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"It's toasted"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

Heavy Rains In Pampa Territory; .52 of Inch Here

Precipitation approaching the cloudburst stage visited the Plains late yesterday as one of the "worst clouds of the year" appeared out of the west.

The rainfall in Pampa was .52 of an inch, according to the Daily News' government gage. Amarillo reported .51 of an inch.

So heavy was the rain that the roads were almost impassable. One motorist reported having spent the entire night driving from Borger. He passed one low place barely in time to avoid a head-rise which tore out the road bed. On the Miami road the water was deep enough in places to cover the running boards of cars and stall the engines.

Heavy downpours were reported to the southwest. No material damage was reported.

Menus for the Family

By Sister Mary

BREAKFAST—California grapes, cereal, cream, broiled innan haddie, toasted corn bread, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Deviled lobster, French fried potatoes, cucumber rings, spinach and egg salad, watermelon, lemonade.

DINNER—Fruit cocktail, veal and pork, rice potatoes, stewed okra, carrot-pepper and cabbage salad, stuffed baked apples with whipped cream, crisp cookies, milk, coffee.

The luncheon menu with its deviled lobster offers a suggestion for a company luncheon. A more elaborate dessert can be served if preferred, but the simple one of chilled melon is in excellent taste.

Deviled Lobster

One two-pound lobster, 3 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon mustard, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/8 teaspoon pepper, 1 1/2 cups milk, buttered crumbs.

Plunge lobster into a large kettle of boiling water to which two tablespoons of salt have been added. Cover and bring quickly to the boiling point. Boil rapidly for five minutes and simmer twenty. The shell must be a bright red. Remove at once from boiling water and plunge into cold water. Silt down through the center between the claws. Remove black vein through the center. Crack claws and remove meat. Use tail fins and small claws for garnish.

Melt butter, stir in flour and when mixture bubbles slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Mix salt and mustard and slowly add lemon juice, stirring to make smooth. Add with pepper to sauce and bring to boiling point. Boil two minutes and add lobster meat. Scrape the shell of the lobster clean, removing lungs. Fill shell with lobster mixture. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake in a shallow pan in a moderately hot oven until crumbs are brown.

NAMES FOR WISCONSIN LAKES

MADISON, Wis.—The Land o' Lakes association is seeking new and better names for the state's lakes. Much mail goes astray because there are 20 Bass lakes, six Crooked lakes, eight Crystal lakes and 23 Long lakes, to say nothing of oft-repeated names like Round, Moon, Mud, Pike and Goose.

Investment Betting May Be Declared Legal In Texas

(By The Associated Press.)

AUSTIN—Horse racing on a plan profitable to those who pick the horses right and yet held by Supreme courts of eleven states as not really "betting," may return to Texas if a court test is favorable.

William P. Kayne, California turfman, advocate of the "certificate" or "subscription" plan, has a tentative contract to manage racing at the Texas State exposition here in October, and has laid propositions before fair and exposition managers in San Antonio. He will not operate the system, however, unless a test of its legality is made before hand.

The plan is that anyone paying admission to the races can also "contribute" $5 or $7 or whatever sum he likes to the purse for the race, in the name of whatever horse he likes. If his horse places in the money, the contributor gets his pro rata share of the total purse, minus operating expenses, returned to him. The net result is said to be about the same as is had from playing pari-mutuel betting machines.

Yet the subscription system is operated on the basis of an investment, and what would be termed "winning" in direct betting, would be, "returns of the investment," as Mr. Kyle explains it. He emphasizes his point that "there is no bet involved," that the racing enthusiast makes a donation only, and that if he gets anything back it corresponds to the interest of an investment.

States in which supreme court decisions have upheld the contribution, Arizona, Utah, West Virginia, and Missouri.

California, said to have the most severe laws in the nation against gaming, is expected to rule on the plan soon, Kayne said.

BRITISH COAL TRADE

LONDON (AP)—Col. Lane Fox, Secretary to the Mines Department, says that 368 collieries which resumed work after the recent wage dispute, had since been stopped. Early in July the total number of wage
