BOY SCOUT DRIVE LAUNCHED

Scores of Visitors See Pampa Lions Club Get Charter

VISITORS ARE PRESENT FROM THREE CITIES

Local Club Of 25 Members Has Many Guests

ENTERTAINMENT IS COMMENDED

Rev. Brabham And Manager Barcus Speak

With many local guests and gates from Amarillo, Borger, Clarendon present, 25 members of the Pampa Lions club last night officially received their charter from the International Association of Lions clubs.

President H. Otto Studer read the document from R. B. MacElectra, district deputy governor at the end of a brilliant program of speaking and entertainment.

Among the 95 present were Ordway, Judge Perry S. Peasor, Charles H. Keffer of Amarillo, Chase, H. Mulkey, O. C. Watson, Jack Craig of Clarendon, and Bert Martin, M. R. Showalter, Grady Thompson of Borger, representatives of the clubs in the cities.

The Borger club will receive their charter tonight. Members of the club will attend.

Lion F. P. Reid welcomed the visitors and guests in well chosen words of greeting, and declared the club has a big place in building Pampa.

The entertainment, reported to be commended, included frequent solos by Lion Bob Perry, readings by Mrs. Carson Loftis, solos by Mrs. J. L. Martin, solos by Mrs. W. A. Bratton, singing character readings by M. Davis, and piano solos by M. Willis. Bob Rose led the singing on the occasion.

Deputy Governor Magee was introduced by Lion Charles H. Amarillo.

"We are glad to welcome an organization which has nearly 1,100 clubs and a membership more than 50,000 men, all the furtherance of community purposes," said Mr. Magee.

The district officer briefly reviewed the history of Lionism, beginning in 1917 in San Antonio, Texas, and its rapid expansion into various states and countries.

He emphasized that the club is not a social organization, but stands for principles of good citizenship and good government, for law enforcement, better schools, and higher standards of living. He congratulated the Pampa Lions on having a good president and a fine place to meet—prerequisites of success.

President Studer in accepting the charter pledged the club's continued appreciation of the opportunities in Lionism, and asserted the plan enables business and professional men to "unbend with friends" and work together for community advancement.

Attempt At Train Robbery Frustrated

(By The Associated Press.)
VERNON, July 8.—An attempt to rob the West Texas fast Ford Worth and Denver passenger train is believed to have been frustrated near here today by J. D. Ferguson, tower man.

Ferguson was knocked unconscious after refusing the order of three masked men to derail the train.

TAXIPLANES REDUCE RATES TO CAB PRICES

BROOKLANDS, Eng., July 8. (AP)—Taxiplanes cost the British passenger no more than hire of the humblest taxi-cab.

Two seated taxiplanes can now be hired at a shilling a mile from Lieutenant Colonel G. P. Henderson, who has opened an air-taxi service here. Experienced pilots are permitted to drive their machines themselves at the same charge.

In 1920 converted war-time airplanes were introduced as air taxis. The charge for a two-seater was then five shillings a mile.

OIL IS STRUCK AT SAUNDERS' OFFSET TODAY

Wilcox Phoebe Worley Has 1,500 Feet Of Liquid

SHOWINGS ARE ABOVE PRODUCER

Atlantic Will Shoot Coombs-Worley Test Tomorrow

Fifteen hundred feet of oil stands the hole of the Wilcox Oil and as company's No. 1 Mrs. Phoebe Worley in section 40, block 3, Gray county.

The well is drilling in at 2,959 feet. The first showing was at 930 feet, which is above the first showing of the Gulf No. 1 Saunders, which this well is a diagonal offset. Very little gas is reported.

The Atlantic Oil company's No. 1 Coombs-Worley, in section 39 block Gray county has a rainbow showing at 3,050 feet and the company tends to shoot the well tomorrow. This well is the opposite diagonal offset to the Gulf company's No. 1 Saunders and is drilling below where it was reached in the Gulf well.

The Vitok Oil company's No. 1 B. Garner, in the southwest corner of section 113, block 4, I. & G. N. Gray county, is being watched with much interest this week. The well was shot with 40 barrels from 2,968 feet and with 100 barrels from 3,020 to 3,068 feet. Following the last shot, the well yielded 168 barrels the first three days and then bridged. It is now yielding 50 barrels a day through the bridge.

The Gulf production company's No. 1 Clements, in the southwest corner section 27, block M-10-A, Coaley survey in Castro county, was abandoned at 4,600 feet in hard gum formation.

R. B. Osborne, Amarillo geologist and producer, sold a 589-acre lease in Carson county with a 51,000,000 cubic feet gas well on it, to the Gibson Oil company for a reported price of $50,000. The lease covered the northeast of section 55, the northeast of section 45, the northeast and northwest of section 44, the north half of the northeast of section 46, and the south half of the northeast of section 46, all in the I. & G. N. survey.

The well is in the southeast corner of section 65. The Gibson Oil company supplies White Deer with gas and will now supply Roxana and Skelly.

Other Carson county wells being watched with interest are: Osborne (See SAUNDERS—Page 8, Col. 4.)

Sheffield Resigns Post In Critical Mexican Crisis

(By The Associated Press.)
RAPID CITY, July 8.—James Sheffield today gave his resignation as ambassador to Mexico to President Coolidge. The resignation is to take effect at the will of the President, who has not indicated his position.

Sheffield, however, has indefinite plans for returning to his post, and upon leaving here expects to go to Europe for six weeks.

The retirement of the ambassador comes at an admittedly critical time in the relations between the United States and Mexico. Mexico has recently instituted in extreme form the application of its oil law and there is some concern over this development in the administration.

Community Gives Triplets Home

A little more than a year ago twins were born to Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson of Knoxville, Tenn. The next time the stork came he must have carried a little less gasoline, for he brought triplets. The people of Knoxville chipped together and bought the home shown her for the little family, land, materials and labor being donated. The triplets are Archie, Kermit and Teddy. Teddy is having a bite from his luscious fist. If you can tell us which of the other two is Kermit and which is Archie, let us know.

CLARENDON BOOSTERS HERE IN INTEREST OF COLLEGE

Forty-four Clarendon citizens, but to boost their Junior college, arrived in Pampa about 3 o'clock this afternoon and after being welcomed by Mayor Reid gave a short street program of band music and talks.

Sam Braswell, editor of the Clarendon News, made the main address for the visitors. The delegation was headed by President J. T. Patman of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce, and Secretary-Manager G. L. Boykin of that organization. The trippers today visited at Goodnight, Claude, Panhandle—where the women of the group gave a program at the Rotary club luncheon—White Deer, Pampa, and Groom. Two trips into other sections will be made next week.

Clarendon's Junior college will open September 5 in the old Clarendon college property, now owned by the school district. The girls' dormitory will be opened, and the fine library and laboratories will make the school unusual in its equipment. A tuition of $100 per year will include all fees. A school of business administration will be especially attractive.

According to Mr. Braswell, the school is open to serve the entire Panhandle, and the trips are intended to inform the people of the unusual opportunities in the Junior college.

Paving Work Is Going On Rapidly

The Stuckey construction company is wasting no time in commencing with the work on the second section of the paving program.

Plows and scrapers were started on Russell street from Atcheson avenue to Foster avenue yesterday, and will begin the curbing and gutter Monday. Earl Stuckey said this morning.

As soon as the preliminary work on Russell street is finished, the teams will start on Frost street, which has been one of the eye sores of Pampa for years.

UNDERGROUND RADIO

HOT SPRINGS, S. D., July 8.—A radio set functions perfectly a mile underground in a deep grotto of Wind Cave. Reception is as good, listeners say, as at the surface, and sometimes better.

ACCIDENT VICTIM ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

Ben Seibold, who was badly injured yesterday when his truck overturned, is believed out of danger.

He is badly cut and bruised. Seibold, truck driver for the Humble Production company, lost control of his vehicle when the brakes failed to hold.

Building of School Addition To Depend On Bids Offered

Bids for the erection of a wing to be added to the high school will be received Tuesday morning at the White Deer Land company office on North Cuyler street.

Plans for the addition of 12 more rooms have been drawn and submitted to the board of education. The bids taken will be for the erection of these rooms.

If the prices submitted are thought to be too high, no additional rooms will be built, but other ward schools erected, according to a statement made by a member of the board.

The last school census taken gives an enrollment of more than 1,600 pupils and present quarters will not rightly accommodate 1,200 pupils.

Smiles Indicative Of Success Seen At Naval Parley Today

(By The Associated Press.)
GENEVA, July 8.—All delegates wore smiles as they emerged from the private session of the executive committee of the naval conference today and later there were expressions by both participants and observers that things were going very much better.

This produced a distinct impression that the tension of the past two days had lessened and the plenipotentiaries were attacking the problems with genuine determination to reach an agreement.

GENEVA, July 8. (AP)—That the crisis in the naval conference was far from healed was indicated in a statement by W. C. Bridgeman, British delegate.

B. E. FINLEY IS CHAIRMAN OF LOCAL BOARD

Campaign for Members Will Start Here Monday

ENTHUSIASM IS HIGH IN MEETING

Development of Fine Troops In Pampa Forecast

In a meeting charged with enthusiasm for their new work, chairmen of Boy Scout activities appointed last week decided today to draft B. E. Finley for their general chairman and open a membership drive in the community next Monday morning.

Mr. Finley consented to become chairman of the board of directors, and the plans for extending memberships in the Boy Scout Foundation to adults of the community were immediately made.

M. K. Brown and assistants are working out details of the drive this afternoon.

Tom Nelson, chief executive, and Edmonds Knittle, field executive, of the Panhandle Council will give much of their time next week to organizing the local program, and will go to Borger for similar work the week following. Borger has voluntarily set a goal of $2,500.

It is the intention to start several small troops here and to train boys for patrol leaders, around which the big organization of the future will be built.

James Todd, Jr., deputy chairman, was in charge of today's meeting at the New Schneider hotel until Mr. Finley was named chairman.

Those present declared there are many capable adult leaders in the city, and that the work here should soon be a vital factor in civic life. Pampa is the only city in the Panhandle without a Boy Scout program. Oil activity has delayed organization, but those interested are determined to delay the work no longer.

Sapiro Libel Suit Will Be Settled Out of Court?

(By The Associated Press.)
DETROIT, July 8.—Negotiations looking toward the publication of Henry Ford's statement that all articles in his Dearborn Independent hostile to the Jewish people have been ordered discontinued, have been going on for some time. William Gallagher chief counsel for Aaron Sapiro in the latest libel action suit against Ford, said today.

Gallagher added that he confidently expects the libel suit to be settled out of court.

"I have no animosity against Ford and have always believed he was misled," Gallagher declared.

2. Why is the present sewer system inadequate?
3. What new important judicial body now has jurisdiction over this county?
4. Who is the county clerk?
5. Who is principal of the grade schools?
6. What was the estimated value of all farm property in Gray county in 1925?

Texas Hog Population Menaced By Heavy Shipping, and Supply For Future May Be Worth Great Sums

(By The Associated Press.)
FORT WORTH, July 8. That the hurried sending of hogs to market, which for a period, notably during the recent drought, threatened to deplete the porcine population of Texas, may have been checked to the great advantage of the state is deduced by observers here from figures released by the Fort Worth Stockyards company.

Before the rains about the middle of June, the rush to market hogs assumed the proportions of a stampede, receipts at this principal market of the state breaking all records, but since the general precipitation receipts have taken a decided drop, which, it is pointed out, cannot be attributable altogether to market fluctuation.

Movement Began Early.

The heavy movement to market which began in January of this year and reached a peak in March when 47,988 hogs were received here as compared with 23,124 in March, 1926, continued during the first two weeks of June, 4,808 hogs arriving here during the week ending June 13, the day of the general rains. During the week ending June 20, immediately after the rains, only 1,468 hogs reached this market, and the following week, ending June 27, 2,726 hogs arrived, observers pointed out.

"Because feed stocks were getting low, and, as a result of the drought, prospects for grain and new feed were decidedly poor, hog raisers were becoming chary of the situation, and desirous of ridding themselves of hogs," was the explanation of the movement advanced by Col. C. C. French, agricultural agent for the Fort Worth Stockyards company and the Belt Line railway, and an authority on hogs.

Future Endangered.

In many cases, farmers were disposing of brood sows for which they had paid $40 to $50 and sometimes more, as mere butchers, thereby seriously crippling their chances for profitable hog raising in the future, it was said.

"Prices are fair, grain prices are high, and the hogs are fat; therefore let us sell," was the reasoning of the average farmer, observers here declare.

But the opinion that the marketing has been checked is not unanimous among authorities here, for others, while admitting that hog receipts are considerably less since the rains, believe that the marketing movement will continue on account of high grain prices which make it unprofitable for most farmers to retain hogs. The future will depend on the grain prices, these persons contend.

Scarcity Predicted.

All are agreed, however, that unless the dumping has been checked there probably will be an era of hog scarcity and high prices, and raisers who have contributed to the one unloading their supplies on a full market will be unable to take advantage of the other. Packers, sensing the situation and familiar with the extreme fluctuations of the market, are said to be filling their cellars with meat, purchased at low prices, for the higher-price era possibly in the offing.

The packers do not welcome the stampede, even with its low prices, however, well informed persons declare, for much of their careful work of the past year in building up the hog supplies of the state to insure a steady, normal market may be undone. Much of the profits which Texas farmers have reaped the past year must fairly be attributed to packers' efforts to increase the hog population.

Need Steady Supply.

On January 1 of this year there were about twice as many hogs in Texas as there were in the same date, 1926, figures being 2,300,000 as against 1,200,000. The big increase came from the offspring of about 80,000 bred gilts which the packers helped to distribute last year, it is said here.

What the farmer should do where possible, experts here say, is to keep a common sense supply of hogs, especially the brood sows, possibly turning them out to rustle while the grain prices are steep and maintain a normal, year-to-year marketing movement which would result in profit to seller and buyer alike in the long run.

TEACH BLIND TO WORK, PLEADS EDUCATOR

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Complete obliteration of infant ophthalmia can be accomplished with care, declare Kate M. Foley, Home Teacher for the Blind in California.

She herself has been blind since birth, as a result of ophthalmia. By teaching and lecturing at hospitals and before women's and parents associations she is trying to awaken the public to "the inherent capabilities of the blind, and to unify all teaching for the sightless so they may be given self-supporting employment."

Miss Foley believes that co-education for the sightless and the seeing should begin at the age of six. "The blind child must be taught self-help, and made to feel that with a little more effort, he may do just what his seeing brother does.

"The greatest burden of the blind is idleness. Unless early teaching is given with the thought of future activity, the sightless will become a greater burden to the community."

Parleys Fail To Remove Problems In Naval Meeting

(By The Associated Press.)

GENEVA, July 8.—Private meetings today between Hugh Gibson, American delegate, and Viscount Ishii of Japan, and later between Gibson and A. C. Bridgeman, British delegate, failed to improve the existing critical situation confronting the naval conference.

The Anglo-American parley, according to a reliable report, was rather lively.

SAYS U. S. WOMEN RUIN HEALTH WITH SMOKING

VIENNA (AP)—American women are ruining their health to keep thin, believes Dr. J. Pal, professor at the University of Vienna clinic. Excessive smoking and too much tea and coffee, he says, will handicap future generations.

Dr. Pal has returned from studying medical conditions in the United States. He balances his criticism with unstinted praise of American medical achievements and features of American life.

Laboratory and hospital equipment in the United States, he declares, "have brought wonderful results, but their achievements would be impossible if they had not the necessary brains."

Dr. Pal believes it a mistake to rank Vienna ahead of American institutions in research work. "Americans undoubtedly are far ahead of the Viennese in biological research," he says.

BIG TIMBER, Mont., July 8. (AP)—American women interested in big game need no longer leave the United States for the jungles of Africa or the mountains of Asia.

The forests and mountains of Montana have always been fastnesses for predatory beasts and birds. To encourage their extermination the Montana Sportsmen's association holds yearly contests, financed by the state game commission. Trophies are awarded to club teams that kill the largest number.

Irene Phillips and Alice Miller, both ardent sportswomen, lead rival teams of the Big Timber Rod and Gun club. This club has won first honors for the last three years. Both women have statewide records as rifle shots and as anglers rival Montana's best fishermen.

"THAT SETTLES IT"

Absolute knowledge have I none. But my aunt's washerwoman's son heard a policeman on his beat say to a laborer on the street that he had a letter just last week hand written in the finest Greek from a Chinese coolie in Timbuctoo. Who said that a son in Cuba knew of a colored gent in a Texas town. Who got it right from a circus clown.

That a man in Klondyke got the news from a gang of smooth American Jews.

Pub Owners In Wales Object To Golf Craze

(By The Associated Press.)

MAESTEG, Wales, July 8.—Miners in this soft coal district have been afflicted by the golf craze to such an extent that pub owners are complaining they spend all of their money on the game instead of spending it for beer.

There are already 14 courses in the area. Application has been made to the Miners' Welfare Fund for grants towards laying out more of new courses in the Gwynedd and Garw valleys.

ABERDEEN, Scotland, July 8.—Early morning bathers at Aberdeen found thousands of greedy white fish left on the shore by a receding tide. The news spread, and Scotch housewives laden with baskets of fish were soon wending their way homeward.

The whiting came into shallow water at high tide to feed on spruce and, heavy with eating, were unable to move swiftly enough to escape when the tide went out.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

BALTIMORE, July 8.—With traffic congestion growing here, old-timers have recalled the excuse offered by the first man arrested for a violation of traffic laws. He insisted to the magistrate that he could drive his horse and carriage on either side of the street and could turn around as he pleased. And he was only reprimanded and released.

NEW RACING RULE

LONDON, July 8.—"Declaring to win" with one horse by an owner having two or more entries in the same race, has been abolished in England.

The Stewards of the Jockey club decided that: "Every horse in a race shall be run on its merits, whether his owner runs another horse in the race or not."

ESTATES OF THRONELESS KINGS BECOMES GRAVEL PITS, OFFICES

(By The Associated Press.)
LONDON, July 8.—The "Kingdom of France" has been turned into a gravel pit.

The "Royal Palace" of Portugal has become offices for a local street cleaning department.

Such have been the recent fates of the two great Twickenham estates, one of which was owned by the late Duke of Orleans, banished pretender to the throne of France, and the other by King Manuel, the exiled ruler of Portugal.

A year ago bus conductors through this quiet suburb of London were able to point out the shaded lawns that comprised all that was left of the kingdoms of France and Portugal. Policemen in beat could indicate simply-clad passers-by who contained the blood of half the ruling houses of Europe in their veins.

Now they have gone and their memory is rapidly being erased. Following the death of the Duke of Orleans a year ago, Mansion House in Fullwell Park, where the bearded duke lived among his coats of arms with all the grandeur of a king, has been sold to a land development company. Part of the estate has been converted into cricket fields for members of a club of retired telegraph and cable officials. Part of it has been turned to still more humble ends. It is used as a gravel pit for local road repair work.

York House, nearby, in which Manuel of Portugal took refuge in 1910, when he was expelled from the throne of Portugal, also has gone under the auctioneer's hammer. Manuel has left London for the south of France, and his house has been bought by the corporation of Twickenham. It is being converted into municipal offices, where tax collectors, sewer inspectors, and police commissioners will soon hold sway in place of their royal predecessor.

The two exiled families were closely related. Between them they were able to trace their connection with almost every ruling house in Europe.

The Duke of Orleans claimed direct descent from the old Bourbon line, and he based his vain claim to the throne of France on that descent. In 1898 he married Princess Maria Dorothea, a descendant of the Hapsburg rulers of Austria.

King Manuel belongs to the ten-centuries-old family of Braganca-Saxe-Coburg and Gotha. In 1913, following his exile, he extended his connections by marrying Princess Augusta Victoria of Hohenzollern, a relation of the then ruling family of Germany.

The two families were connected through the duke's sister, Queen Amelle, who was Manuel's mother and former queen of Portugal. After the assassination of her husband and her elder son in 1908 and the overthrow of Manuel in 1910, she fled with him to join the Duke of Orleans at Twickenham.

Seasonable Dishes

CAN BY HIGH PRESSURE

Canned string beans can be good or mediocre, depending on the way they are canned.

Either glass or tin containers may be used for packing, but the steam pressure canner is essential. They should be canned within two hours after they are picked.

Select carefully, string wash thoroughly and cut into pieces the size desired. In enough boiling water to cover, boil for five minutes in an uncovered vessel. Pack in containers at once while boiling hot. Cover with water in which they were boiled. Add one teaspoon of salt to each quart.

Process immediately at 10 pounds pressure, or 240 degrees Fahrenheit, quart jars, 40 minutes, pint jars, 35 minutes, and No. 2 and No. 3 tin cans, 30 minutes. Remove jars from the canner an invert glass jars, placing them out of drafts. Plunge tin cans in cold water to cool quickly.

A FAVORED HAM RECIPE

A combination of boiling and baking makes ham tender and shortens the time it remains in the oven.

Wash the ham thoroughly and trim off and mold or loose pieces. Soak it overnight if it is unusually dry. Otherwise put directly into cold water.

To an eight or nine pound ham add a teaspoon and a half of pickling spice, three slices each of carrot and onion, a stalk of celery, half a teaspoon of celery salt, a sprig of parsley and a quarter of a cup of strong vinegar.

Bring to a boil and cook slowly for five hours or more, or until tender when pierced with a long-tined fork.

The meat should be somewhat shrunk from the bone, but not overcooked or it will be difficult to carve. If cold boiled ham is intended it should be cooled in the cooking water.

To bake ham remove skin and score the fat over the entire surface. Cover with the following paste. One cup brown sugar, one cup fine, soft bread crumbs, one teaspoon mustard and enough vinegar to hold the paste together. Place whole cloves over entire surface and bake one hour, basting with one cup water mixed with one-fourth cup vinegar and two tablespoons brown sugar.

CLUBWOMEN STUDY

FOR SPECIAL CREDIT

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—The pursuit of knowledge has been reduced to a basis of tangible recognition and reward among Indiana clubwomen. Clubwomen now receive signed certificates for completing reading and study courses outlined by the Indiana Federation of Women's Clubs and followed in the extension division of Indiana university. They also win credit toward membership in Epsilon Sigma Omicron, an honorary sorority, within the federation. Credits which will count towards an Indiana university degree also are available.

Thirty-one different courses are offered.

Shares Honors

MISS KATHLEEN DORSEY

SHELBY, N. C., July 7. (AP)—Tom Kerr, a North Carolina lad who toiled at night in a cotton mill that he might attend school in the day, has the satisfaction of sharing with the mayor's daughter the highest honors awarded by the city high school.

He and Kathleen Dorsey, voted the prettiest girl in her class, were awarded the Charles Erskine and Max Washburn cups for leadership in scholarship, deportment and athletics. Kerr also received a $100 college scholarship award.

FARM HINTS

Domestic rabbits need to be fed twice daily. The quantity of grain required depends on their age and condition and also on the kind and quantity of hay and green feeds they receive. The doe requires more grain while suckling young than between breeding periods.

Trees grown close enough together in the farm woods so that their tops are in contact produce high grade saw-logs. The resulting shade discourages excessive limb growth along the trunks, which makes knotty lumber and encourages height growth at the tops.

Grain should be fed to high-producing cows under all pasture conditions. When pastures become short, soiling crops, silage or legume hay should be fed throughout the summer. Browse ranges usually are best adapted to use by cattle during spring and fall rather than for the full season from spring to fall.

Were the entire potato acreage of this country planted with first-class seed stock the total production would be increased from 10 to 25 per cent. Good seed potatoes may be defined as being nearly, if not completely free from the non-observable virus diseases, such as mosaic, leaf roll, spindle tuber, and streak, and from such observable diseases as rhizoctonia, common scab and late blight. They should also be reasonably uniform in size, shape and color, true to varietal name, and firm and sound, with the first sprouts just showing.

The legume hays, such as alfalfa, the clovers, soy beans, cowpeas and vetch, are the best hays for dairy cows. They are well liked and contain larger amounts of protein and calcium than the non legume hays. Their value is increased if they are cut and cured without getting wet.

More than 90 per cent of the progressive seedmen, United States seed-marketing specialists say, are keeping complete stock records to meet the American farmer's demand for better information on the origin of the seed he buys.

"Seed bearing a verified origin tag," specialists suggest, "doubtless would command a premium sufficient to cover possible additional expenses in the keeping of records and the cost of inspection or supervision."

DUCHESS OPERATES

NEEDLEWORK HOUSE

PARIS (AP)—Steady nerves are the greatest assets a person can have believes Grand Duchess Marie, a sister of the Grand Duke Dmitri. After the Russian revolution the Grand Duchess, one of the most popular figures at the court of the czar, emerged with nothing but her nerve and a knowledge of embroidery. She has studied the Swedish method of needlework for five years and she combined that knowledge with Russian design. Today she is owner-operator of one of the most exclusive embroidery houses of Paris.

HINTS FOR FARM and HOME

by THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

With few exceptions, the most satisfactory proportions for making jelly are three-fourths of a cup of sugar to one cup of fruit juice.

Peaches may be canned by the water bath method. A syrup made from one cup of sugar to each two or three cups of water is used, according to the sweetness of the fruit. Put in one cracked peach pit for each quart of syrup, and strain. Peel the peaches, cut in half, discard the pits and pack in jars. Fill containers with boiling syrup. Process quart and pint jars 25 minute if the fruit is fairly firm and hard; 20 minutes if it is ripe and tender. No. 2 and No. 3 tin cans are processed 15 minutes.

Heels that are too narrow, too high, or incorrectly pitched, frequently cause weakened ankles, a wobbly walk, strained muscles, serious sprains and other injuries incident to slipping twisting and falling. The weight of the body is thrown upon the toes, if the feet are jammed into the fore part of the shoe, causing corns, bruises, weakened and crushed arches, and bent toes.

When fitting a garment try the seams in different positions, especially those of the shoulder. Study the figure to find the position which are not so good. It is better to put attention on fitting the figure than on keeping the lines of the pattern.

Chops of any kind should be finished after everything else is cooked and dished for the meal. After they are done to a turn chops cannot be kept warm successfully.

Stuffed pepper, celery, fried eggplant, string beans, and a bit of pickle to furnish the necessary acid for rounding off a dinner, is recommended as a good plate combination.

To be kept safe, woolen clothes or furs, stored over the summer in cedar chests, should be scrupulously clean when put away. It is important to remove all spots and to brush, beat and sun thoroughly. The cedar chest can be relied upon to kill young larvae that hatch, but not half grown worms. The described treatment is necessary, since minute moth eggs, or small larvae, already may be in the clothing.

Always iron with the thread of goods and iron until the garment is dry; otherwise it will pucker. Shiny gloss on hems, tucks or seams can be removed by moistening a piece of cheese cloth with clear water, wringing it dry and wiping over the shiny surface with a light rapid stroke.

If sun-suits for children are made with a semi-transparent top through which the sun rays can penetrate, they will get ultra-violet light over a considerable portion of their bodies. White cotton voile, bobbinet, and cross-barred dimity are good materials for such clothing.

LUNCHEONS SHOULD BE WELL ATTENDED

The decision of the Chamber of Commerce to have monthly luncheon meetings should be an important one. Other cities have found open discussions of great value, and some have made the sessions oftener than once a month.

The fellowship is important and the meetings afford an opportunity for the ordinary member of the organization to make known his attitudes to the board of directors. The group mind is important, since support for the body is city-wide in possibility and the powers of the directors are conferred ones.

Tuesday's meeting should be largely attended. Great issues should come before the mass membership, and once a month is not too often to discuss the city's needs.

FOURTH WAS LONG WAY FROM SANE

Immediately after July 4, dispatches carried the news that about 30 persons were killed incident to the holiday. That total was larger than expected by optimists, but not abnormal considering the size of the territory from which the reports came.

Subsequent dispatches, however, carried increasing totals and the number now stands at 240 or above. Hundreds were badly injured. In other words, the celebration assumed the proportions of a great disaster, although not as great as some of the oldtime totals, when the Fourth was like a small war.

But sanity is a long way off.

TWINKLES

It's gotten so the young gent never thinks of her as his "best" girl.

Coolidge could look worse in a 10-gallon hat, and only by running in one.

Indians are too superstitious to play dead in the movies. But we'll bet the white "extras" are not so troubled.

"Heyjack," the equivalent of the muffled "Hey, Jailer," is a new word for drunks. Most of them will be peevish at the idea; they'd rather admit being plain sots.

Pessimism is a crime, says a beauty expert. And besides, pessimists rarely wish to look beautiful.

INVESTIGATE FIRST

Before you invest, investigate, is safe and sane advice, but the per cent of people heeding it is so small that swindlers are able to ply their trade with ease in the average community.

This advice suggests being applicable only to investment on a large scale, in stock or bonds, but it is a safe policy to adhere to in making a purchase of a stranger, no matter how inconsequential it may be.

Recently a well dressed, very smooth looking middle aged man breezed into a nearby city, registered at a hotel, and armed with a sample kit and order book of a large clothing manufacturer, began selling suits and taking deposits.

He obtained some eight or 10 orders when his operations were called to the attention of a local organization interested in putting an end to swindling operations in the community. He made representations to one man that the company maintained local offices, but a check-up showed the room address he gave was a vacant room. He made numerous other misrepresentations and the majority of the orders were never sent in, advance deposits ranging from $5 to $30 in each sale.

The fraudulent salesman was arrested on a vagrancy charge and evidence was gathered to support a false pretense charge, but he managed to get out on bond, which he forfeited and made good his escape. The clothing company he represented was notified and refunded much of the money which he obtained from his victims.

But every case of this sort does not turn out so well. Often the crook escapes and the people who were so gullible as to pay money in advance to a stranger have to hold the bag.

If the person approached by a doorbell-ringing salesman, instead of unsuspectingly believing every claim and statement, will ask a few pointed questions, the frauds will be driven to honest work, because they can not stand up under honest examination.

Better still, is the policy of buying of home merchants where merchandise, if not as represented, will be made good, because a merchant's reputation depends upon his treatment of customers in this respect.—Panhandle Herald.

LAZINESS AS A CRIME FACTOR

Science has found a number of fancy names for the various mental detours that lead a young man into a life of crime, but it remained for Judge William McAdoo, chief magistrate of New York City to strip the language of the sentimental criminologist of all its fancy trimmings and to say, in an article in the Scientific American, what every honest hard working law abiding citizen has always thought, that crime is nearly always the result of sheer laziness.

Judge McAdoo admits that psychology and psychiatry have their place in society's dealings with the mental side of the criminal. But over and above the mental angle thinks this eminent jurist, lies the physical; the inherent dislike of labor on the part of the average young man who goes to the bad.

Here is something for crime students to think about. The old saying that the devil finds work for idle hands is founded on the hang-outs of criminals are nearly always the lowest loafing joints of one sort or another.

The "income" of the ordinary criminal is less than that of the lowest paid laborer. It is easily apparent, then, that the desire to live without work rather than the hope of large reward must actuate the average bandit and hijacker.

Let science search for the mental abnormalities that lead to crime; but let practical men entrusted with the enforcement of the law remember that the vagrant in a land where work is easily to be had is nearly always the potential criminal.—Enid News.
