4 MURDERS PUZZLING NEW YORK

NEGRO SHOTS FARMER NEAR JUSTIN TODAY

Officers Are Staging Manhunt Near Denton

ROBBERY NOW THOUGHT MOTIVE

J. C. Terrell Probably Slain With His Own Gun

(By The Associated Press.)

FORT WORTH, July 11.—J. C. Terrell, 41 years old, a prominent farmer who lived 23 miles north of here near Justin, was shot to death Sunday night at his home by a negro as he returned with his wife from church.

Denton and Fort Worth officers are engaged in a man hunt today, but no arrests have been made.

Terrell was probably killed by a bullet from his own gun, inasmuch as the farmer's pistol could not be found by officers.

Robbery was probably the motive, police said.

Big Issues Will Be Presented At C. of C. Meeting

All members of the local Chamber of Commerce are requested to be at the new Schneider hotel tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock for the regular monthly meeting and dinner. An orchestra will play during the dinner hour.

Mrs. I. N. White, affectionately known among her many friends as "Grandma White," quietly observed her 90th birthday Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. P. C. Ledrick.

It was in that state that her youngest daughter, Mrs. Ledrick, was born. Mrs. White came to Texas in 1888, and has resided here ever since.

Flapper Bandit To Plead Insanity; Continuance of Trial Asked Today

(By The Associated Press.)

SAN MARCOS, July 11.—A motion for a continuance of the trial of Mrs. Rebecca Rogers here this morning.

Court recessed until this afternoon to enable the woman's attorneys to prepare a motion. Mrs. Rogers is charged with the robbery of the bank at Buda.

Continuance is sought because of the absence of an important witness. It was indicated that Mrs. Rogers would plead temporary insanity as a defense.

Mrs. Rogers has been working as a stenographer at San Marcos, where her husband is confined in a hospital with tuberculosis.

ALGEIRS (AP)—Algerian embroideries and woven coats and dresses are attracting French style creators to this city. Several have arrived here since spring.

Verde Dickey and Oscar Dial spent Saturday and Sunday in Amarillo.

Amputation Is Necessary In Case Of Injured Boy

Lewis McCuiston is resting nicely today in the hospital after the amputation of his right leg late Saturday night.

This 11-year-old son of H. J. McCuiston, who lives on a farm five miles north of Miami, was run over by a tractor plow Saturday afternoon and rushed to the Pampa hospital after receiving first aid in Miami. The little fellow was riding on the tractor and fell off while turning a corner.

Doctors this morning said he withstood the shock remarkably well.

Bribe Charges Against Moore Dismissed Today

(By The Associated Press.)

AUSTIN, July 11.—Charges of accepting a $1,000 bribe to influence legislation against H. H. Moore, expelled member of the Legislature, were dismissed here today on motion of District Attorney J. D. Moore, who held that the defendant's plea of former jeopardy was good.

Opposing lawyers immediately launched a fight over whether F. A. Dale of Bonham, lawyer expelled and indicted with Moore, should go to trial in the absence of minor witnesses.

Mother of Seven Is Peace Officer

(By The Associated Press.)

WOODWARD, Okla.—A gray-haired mother of seven children is sheriff of Woodward county.

Mrs. John Bouquet, 58, was appointed to fill the term of her husband, a veteran Oklahoma peace officer who died suddenly.

"My husband worked indefatigably for law enforcement and I intend to endeavor to do the same," says Mrs. Bouquet.

"I believe in prosecution, but not persecution. I expect to look at affairs from an ethical standpoint."

RAIN REPORTS TO BE PRINTED IN DAILY NEWS

Bureau Re-Established In Pampa By Government

GAGE WILL BE ERECTED TODAY

Service Was Started In 1908, But Later Stopped

Rainfall in Pampa will no longer be a matter of guess work.

The Pampa Daily News has been appointed by L. H. Daingerfield of Houston, meteorologist for the government, to operate a weather reporting station here.

A rain gage will be erected today, following receipt of equipment from Houston. The Pampa station was opened in April of 1908, on request of B. E. Finley, and records were kept by the Pampa News for several years. The service was later discontinued. Part of the equipment is still here and will be put into use.

Pampa is in the rich wheat belt and the weather bureau and department of agriculture are anxious to obtain accurate data. Temperatures are being kept at Miami, but the nearest rainfall reporting station is at Amarillo. Kinds of sky, direction of wind, and hours of precipitation will be kept in connection with the rainfall data here. The accurate rain reports will be published daily, when there is precipitation, in the Daily News. Readings will be taken at 9 a. m. daily.

Probably half an inch of rain fell here last night during intermittent showers. Similar rains are reported from various parts of the Panhandle. The moisture will help row crops and make the ground softer for plowing. Heavier precipitation is much needed, however.

Method of Ranch Accounting Devised By University Men

AUSTIN, July 11.—A systematic method of ranch accounting is being worked out by members of the School of Business Administration faculty at the University of Texas. A preliminary report is expected to be completed by September 1 and will be tried out by a number of ranch owners for a year before the system is approved, according to Dr. A. B. Cox, professor of business administration and director of the Bureau of Business Research at the University.

An analysis of various ranchmen's methods of keeping accounts was begun by Dr. Cox in 1920 and 1921. His work is being completed by Adjunct Professor F. W. Woodbridge and Bernard Nichols, secretary of the Bureau of Business Research.

In gathering the data from which to work out their final result, Mr. Woodbridge and Mr. Nichols have visited ranches in all sections of Texas, covering a total of approximately 2,487 miles. They visited ranches in the vicinity of Dallas, Fort Worth, Mineral Wells, Palo Pinto, Brady, Breckenridge, Albany, Stamford, Benjamin, Guthrie, Matador, Lubbock, Big Spring, Midland, Odessa, Pecos, Balmorhea, Fort Davis, Marfa, Alpine, Fort Stockton, Big Lake, San Angelo, Ozona, Senora, Junction, Kerrville and Fredericksburg.

EIGHTEEN ARRESTS ARE MADE OVER SUNDAY

Officers of the sheriff's department had a busy afternoon and night yesterday, making a total of 18 arrests on charges of drunkenness, transporting liquor, vagrancy and gambling.

Two raids netted the officers about 15 gallons of choc beer and a complete outfit for making and bottling the beverage.

PRESIDENTIAL ANNIVERSARIES

John Quincy Adams was the first man in American history to make the title of president a family tradition.

Adams was born July 11, 1767, in Quincy, Mass. He was brought up in an atmosphere of diplomats and statesmen. Even as a boy he was much in the confidence of his father John Adams, second president of the young republic.

When he was elected sixth president in 1825, he had been secretary to diplomatic representatives in Russia and France, had served in the United States Senate, and had been minister to Russia under his father's administration. He signed more commercial treaties than had been negotiated since the government was formed.

After his term as president, Adams set a precedent by accepting a nomination for congress. Elected to the house of representatives in 1830, he devoted his energies to denouncing Jackson's position on slavery. He kept this office until his death.

John Quincy Adams promulgated the doctrine which inspired the Emancipation Proclamation more than 20 years later. In one speech he said:

"Not only the president of the United States but the commander of the army has the power to order the universal emancipation of the slaves."

Adams died February 23, 1848, in his Washington home two days after having suffered a paralytic stroke while attending a session of the House.

WILCOX WELL TO BE SHOT

Atlantic Test Makes 30 Barrels After Blast

The Wilcox Oil and Gas company's No. 1 Mrs. Phoebe Worley, in section 40, block 3, which has been standing full of oil was bailed out yesterday and today Jimmie King, shooter for the Barton Torpedo company, is loading the well for a shot either tonight or tomorrow morning. The company is optimistic as to the result of the coming shot.

The Atlantic Oil company's No. 1 Coombs-Worley in section 39, block 3, flowed about 30 barrels some time after a shot of 560 quarts had been used Saturday afternoon. The flow then ceased and the company is cleaning out the hole and has not decided on what further developments will be necessary.

Wildcats scattered over the Panhandle continue to hold the chief interest in the great plains old territory to swell the production, the daily story.

With companies not attempting output continues slowly to decline. The past week showed an average of 120,570 barrels a day, a net loss of 480 barrels a day over the previous week for the Panhandle.

Only eight completions were recorded, with an initial production of 2,465 barrels.

Gray county's output for the past week was 67,529 barrels. That of Carson county was 76,529 barrels and the Hutchinson county output was 681,296 barrels. The Gray county decrease for the week was 2,375 barrels.

DISMEMBERING OF BODIES IS BRUTAL SIGN

Janitor Is Jailed On Suspicion—Denies Guilt

ROBBERY CITED BY OFFICERS

Three Women, Friends, And Man Found Dead

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, July 11.—Four murder mysteries, in each case with the bodies having been dismembered, held the attention of police here today.

Two victims have been identified as Miss Sarah Brownell, 60 years old, and Mrs. Alfred Bennett, 48 years old. Mrs. Bennett is the mother of four children.

Police are holding Ludwig Lee, 38 years old, on a charge of homicide. He is a janitor in the house where Miss Brownell lived. He protested his innocence.

Police are working on the theory that Miss Brownell was slain for the purpose of robbery, and that Mrs. Bennett was killed when she chanced to surprise the murderer at work.

Another victim was found in the cellar of a plumber's house on the East Side. Police believe the victim, a man, had been dead several months.

Police this afternoon found part of another woman's body, believed to be Evelyn Martino, friend of the other women.

Flying Student Crashes As His Plane Is Hit

SAN ANTONIO, July 11.—Second-Lieutenant William Howarth, student in the pursuit section of the advanced flying school at Kelly Field, was killed when his plane crashed at Duncan field this morning.

The flyer's home is in Harvey, Ill. The accident resulted from a collision with another plane, 2,000 feet above the earth.

Howarth's upper wing was grazed by the landing gear of the plane, which tore away a large piece of the wing and sent the ship into a spin.

Naval Parley Is Postponed Today

GENEVA, July 11.—Postponement of today's sitting of the naval reduction conference, at which the troublesome cruiser question was to be threshed out, was decided upon today at the suggestion of Hugh Gibson, head of the American delegation. The recommendation was made in consequence of the assassination at Dublin of Kevin O'Higgins, vice-president of the Irish Free state cabinet.

Stirring History of X-I-T Ranch Now Being Written

CHUCK WAGON CREW IN EARLY DAYS

Typical of ranch scenes on the Plains a few years ago is this illustration taken from an old photo on file in the Canyon Teachers College records

He Is Writing History

J. Evetts Haley of Canyon is compiling a history of the old X-I-T Ranch—one of the famous pioneer organizations of the Plains region

RECORDS ARE BEING SCANNED

Historical Society Man Spends Summer On Big Task

CANYON—At the request of officials of the Capitol Syndicate, more commonly known as the X. I. T. Ranch, J. Evetts Haley, field representative of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society, is writing a history of the ranch. The officials of the company have in their possession many documents relating to the history of the vast ranch and are eager to have these records preserved.

The X. I. T. Ranch was one of the largest in the world. It was composed of a vast body of land, 3,000,000 acres of which the Capitol Syndicate bought. That its brand should become well known is not strange since the ranch was 575 miles around, having as its northwest corner the state, and extending south 185 miles, the east line of the ranch being 175 miles long and the north line 30 miles.

The ranch was divided up into a number of sections with a general headquarters at Channing, in Hartley county. Here the stupendous work of the ranch was directed. Vast herds of cattle roamed the open ranges with more than a hundred men looking after the business of the company.

In 1900 the great ranch was placed on the market. One million, five hundred thousand acres of it were sold by January, 1903. Among the large early sales of the land was that of Major Littlefield, who purchased 275,000 acres at $2.00 an acre. The money from the sales went to improve the rest of the ranch.

Much of the land is still the property of the Capitol Syndicate. Where in 1900 a generous census gave 778 people, today there are more than 36,000 with prospects of vast numbers to come.

There are dozens of rapidly growing towns, and a few small cities, to be found in this territory now. Dalhart, Channing, Vega, Friona, Bovina, Amherst, Littlefield, Olton, Muleshoe and Farwell, are only typical of the rapid development of the vast body of land. School houses, prosperous towns and thickly sprinkled farm houses are to be found today where only a few line camps.

Much has been done in the development of the territory since those early days. Now the magic word "Oil" is heard in every one of the ten counties included in the ranch area in those times. What changes and advances will come in the next few years affords ample room for the play of the imagination.

but the brush of today will be the big timber trees of the future.

Very severe fires kill some of the larger trees and burn through the bark of others, lowering the value of the butt log for lumber. The wounds afford a ready entrance for rot-producing diseases.

NICE IS FILM CENTER

NICE, France (AP)—Low production costs and year-around facilities for making pictures have induced a group of Berlin producers to plan a $3,000,000 franc studio on the outskirts of Nice. American, British and French companies are already located here.

Democrat Finds Self G. O. P. Candidate

MADISONVILLE, Ky., —While a score or more of Kentucky candidates are braving the hot rays of a summer sun in an effort to finish first in the state elections in August, Judge Ruby Laffon, of the Fourth Judicial District, has what politicians regard as a "sure thing".

As a democrat, he announced for re-election on his own party's ticket. Now the republicans have adopted him as their candidate, and as a result his name will head both party tickets.

AMERICAN NIMRODS FLOCK TO BRITAIN

LONDON (AP)—More English country estates have been let to American shooting enthusiasts this season than in any year since the great war.

The majority of the grouse moors of Scotland, the partridge shootings of Norfolk, and the coverts of the English midland counties have all been rented by American sportsmen. Fishing rights in British rivers are also much in demand.

Oilers Lose To Perryton As Breaks Let In Scores

ers went down to a 6 to 4 defeat in Perryton yesterday. The boys were "on" but lost on tough breaks in the game.

A high wind made the game somewhat ragged, but errors were few at that. The hits were evenly divided. McLendon started for the Oilers, and Edelen, who replaced him, was hit rather freely. Hust had two hits and was closely followed by Sherrod and Voss.

Cox, who was seen in action here with Spearman, caught for the Perryton boys and looked good. He was also hitting yesterday.

ENGLISH WOMEN WIN TWO PRIZE AWARDS

LONDON (AP)—For the first time in their history two coveted prizes, heretofore won by men, have been awarded to women.

The first is the Newdigate prize for English verse, won by Miss Gertrude E. Trevelyan of Lady Margaret Hall Oxford. The other is the Williams memorial prize for the best final examination in veterinary surgery won by Miss Ida Lidy Roberts, of Liverpool University.

Tuning Up

The most ambitious work thus far has been the restoration of the Marcellus Theatre which when finished—it is admitted it will take many years—will vie in impressiveness with the Coliseum. A large section of the old Ghetto, full of tangled, narrow streets, which has been one of the eye-sores of modern Rome, has been torn down during the past year in order to restore the magnificent playhouse built by Caesar and Augustus.

In a labyrinth, reeking with puddles, have been found several well-preserved Roman remains, such as a portico of the well of Octavus and a number of early mediaeval houses which will be left standing.

Thousands of tons of debris have been removed from the theatre permitting entrance to several carefully constructed as far as the stage. The task of digging out the theatre is particularly difficult because of the desire not to endanger the Savelli-Orsini palace which was constructed upon it in the early part of the Fifteenth Century and which is too rich in artistic treasures to be destroyed.

Work next year will be conducted on the Circus Maximus, the Forum of Oltorium and the ancient Curia, one of the finest buildings in the neighborhood of the Roman Forum.

BURNING FARM WOODS IS CALLED MISTAKE

It rarely ever pays, the United States forest service says, to burn over farm woodlands in the belief that it will encourage the growth of grass and make pasture better.

Fires burn the fallen leaves and accumulated litter of several years, thus destroying the material with which trees enrich their own soil. The soil thus becomes exposed, evaporation is greater and more of the rain and melted snow runs off the surface. The roots of the trees may also be burned or exposed. Vitality of the trees is weakened and their rate of growth decreased.

Fires commonly kill a great number of seedlings up to one inch in diameter. These are called "brush".

DIPPING AMONG ROMAN RUINS UNCOVERS ANCIENT SPLENDORS

(By The Associated Press.) ROME—The area of ancient Rome accessible to modern eyes has nearly doubled in 17 months, since Mussolini enunciated the program of restoring to the Eternal City the monumental grandeur it enjoyed in the time of the Emperor Augustus.

This is the announcement of officials of the Departments of antiquities and Fine Arts to which was entrusted the realization of the project.

Extensive excavations have been carried out in the forums of Augustus, Trajan and Nerva, the Theatre of Marcellus and the Mausoleum of Augustus. A large quantity of archaeological treasures, the existence of which in some cases was unsuspected were found.

The gradual emergence of splendid remains of "Roman Rome" from a coating of debris sometimes 50 feet deep collected during nearly 2,000 years of neglect, has been accompanied by the destruction of many streets and scores of houses constructed in more recent times, constituting the most squalid part of the city.

Digging into the forum of Augustus, which now is entirely free from encumbrances, produced the basement of the Martia Vendicatore Temple, parts of two triumphal arches, part of a 50-foot colossal statue, rooms splendidly decorated in marble, and a mediaeval castle, as well as innumerable fragments of mosaics and statues. Similar finds were made at Nerva and Trajan forums where excavations are continuing.

Difficulties have been overcome in probing into the Augustan mausoleum which lies under Rome's principal concert hall, thereby necessitating the restriction of archaeological activities to the summer seasons when there are no concerts.

The most ambitious work thus far has been the restoration of the Marcellus Theatre which when finished—it is admitted it will take many years—will vie in impressiveness with the Coliseum. A large section of the old Ghetto, full of tangled, narrow streets, which has been one of the eye-sores of modern Rome, has been torn down during the past year in order to restore the magnificent playhouse built by Caesar and Augustus.

PAMPA CANNOT BE MODERN WITHOUT SEWER

Passage of the bond issue of July 19 in Pampa is one of the big vital necessities of the present time. Water and sewer extensions, which must go together, are in no sense luxuries; they are necessities which residents of every up-to-date city expect.

Pampa can make no investment which will be worth more in the present, nor which will better lay the ground work for a greater population. Who can calculate the value—

Of disease prevention for an entire community?

Of running water in the kitchen?

Of a sink that empties dish water into a sanitary sewer?

Of a bathtub connected with the sewer?

Of a sanitary flushing toilet connected with a sanitary sewer?

Of sanitary conveniences in a store or office building?

Of safe disposal of industrial wastes and sewage.

You can't supply the word "modern" to a home or business unless sanitary sewer facilities are available. Water service and fire plugs are also indispensable if a city or community is to be termed progressive.

The bond issue'll be evenly divided between the various parts of the city, and the size of the proposed expenditure is as small as possible if the entire city is to be served. Vote for the bonds.

ADVERTISING A PART OF BUSINESS WORLD

A high official of J. C. Penney company, which will spend $2,250,000 in advertising this year, says some accurate things about advertising: "Slowly but surely the great American public is becoming, to quote from the advertising of a prominent New York store, 'more critical of what it buys.' And I further believe that we are approaching very near the time when the confidence building, service rendering type of merchant will discontinue such practices as are branded unethical. A newspaper is primarily a news medium, and if advertising does not present an instructive and constructive message, it has no place in a newspaper."

Advertising is business news, and every day some new proof of the power of publicity is evidenced. National advertising is growing enormously, and the retail merchants who are making a tie-up with nationally advertised brands are profiting much. Good will accrues from publicity plus quality.

Advertising experts, too, have learned that if they convince two-thirds of the buyers, these will carry the sentiment to the others and make the good will practically unanimous.

The importance of the newspaper in the business world is pointed out by the man quoted above:

"We entertain no fear for the future of newspaper advertising, believing that its principle is fundamentally sound and that this principle will be more and more safeguarded as time goes on. We can all be sure that the American newspaper is a vital and growing force in the retailing world."

There is no good substitute for a substantial volume of newspaper advertising. Circulars, hand-bills and miscellaneous printing clutter up the post office floor, the streets, and the automobiles, but newspaper space has a more logical and dignified appeal.

TWINKLES

England is a great country, but some of the hotels have installed drinking fountains for dogs.

Fortunately, the mass of publicity which is coming from the Dempsey-Sharkey camps is not landing on the front pages.

It wasn't nice of the Englishman to say "nonsense" at the naval parley, but the American probably thought something worse as he threatened to leave the meeting.

And it isn't particularly American to leave a meeting that way, but that's diplomacy.

Byrd says he will stay at the South Pole a year. And that after seeing Paris, too.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON. — It is cheaper to buy a political convention than a whole state.

This indubitable fact may not be foremost in the minds of those who would abolish the popular primary, but the defenders of popular government do not hesitate to assert that it is the principal inspiration of the anti-primary movement.

Former Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma, president of the National Popular Government League, who recently went after Vice President Dawes for his attack on the primary system, insists that the whole thing boils down to a matter of economical corruption and says he can prove it.

"We've seen them buy conventions, legislatures and primaries," Owen told your correspondent the other day. "It only cost about $100,000 to get a Senate seat for Lorimer, but it cost Smith and Vare 10 times as much."

Owen is among those who favor making it harder to buy high offices rather than easier. He believes, however, that Vice President Dawes is perfectly honest in his views and has only been misled by his friends.

"Reactionary elements are trying to take away power from the people," Owen said. "The best evidence of the way they work and what they are after was the expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars in a primary by the president of the manufacturers' association in Pennsylvania."

"In nearly a hundred cases of predatory monopoly whose evil practices were reported by the Federal Trade Commission to the Department of Justice, prosecutions were smothered. Are these predatory interests governing the country or not?"

"We are not likely to have a dictatorship in this country, as Dawes and others suggest. The good people still have control of the Congress and if the big fellows impose on the people too much the people will kick them out and make them behave—for a while."

It was recalled to Owen that the dictatorship bogey had been raised by a new organization which perceived an organized campaign of ridicule against Congress, designed to lessen its influence and pave the way for a "man on horseback."

Owen thought it true that some of the abuse poured upon Congress might be inspired. "I've read with great inter-

PRESS FORUM

THE DAILY PAPER

The value of a daily paper to a community is untold, although this value is often unrealized by the public in general. Full realization would come only if something happened to stop the publication of dailies.

The people of this country are the greatest readers of news in the world and are the best informed people in the world. But beyond the mere fact that a daily paper gives the public the accounts of interesting things from day to day, is the real service rendered to a community by its daily paper in informing them at the time when it counts, of things that are of vital interest to the community.

For example: Sweetwater's water situation has been serious for many weeks. It will require the most earnest thought and co-operation of all the people to solve it. Not long since it was suddenly realized over night that the water supply was much lower than had been expected, and it became essential that the public begin at once to cut down the use of water. Without the Sweetwater Reporter to give immediate notice of that fact to the public much time would have been lost and many hundreds of thousands of gallons of water wasted.

Only this week the announcement was made that water could be used freely again for watering trees and lawns. Within 24 hours a serious breakdown occurred at the pumps and it was the daily paper that informed the people of the exact situation and gave the warning that free use of water must be stopped again for the time being. This is but one instance. The daily paper is always at hand at the moment when it counts to inform the public of such vital things. Its duty is to serve, and the Sweetwater Reporter's one aim is to give the best service it can in building up this community. No paper, however, can give the service expected without the cooperation of its patrons. It is the history of newspapers in general that they give more and do more towards building up their communities for less financial return than any other institution, and the Reporter is no exception. It is also an axiom that no city is better than its paper, for the paper reflects closely the public spirit, the energy and ideas of its community. Outside business interests, in particular, examine newspapers closely as a criterion of the town's progressiveness and business conditions. The Reporter is here to serve and serve to the utmost. Its desire is to grow and improve so that it may do even more towards aiding the growth of Sweetwater and Nolan county just as rapidly as its support will permit it to do so. Meanwhile it is on the job day after day, giving to its readers today's local and world news, telling of public improvements, boosting, furnishing housewives and others with advertising news that enables them to purchase economically, and it is always open for constructive criticism that will help it to improve. The daily newspaper is an indispensable institution. — Sweetwater Reporter.

TAXI PILOTS IN MARYLAND CITY AID COUPLES WANTING TO WED

REV. W. R. MOON

WANT TO BE MARRIED? WANT TO BE MARRIED?

Couples desiring to marry in Elkton, Md., are certain to find the way to the minister. Directly across the railroad tracks is the office of the Rev. Moon, located in the parlor of the town hotel. Switch at upper right shows a corner of the hotel, suitably marked. The Rev. Moon describes the taxi men, who guide prospective brides and grooms elsewhere, as the "Jitney Trust."

ELKTON, Md. (AP)—"Do you want to get married folks? Want to get married?"

This is still a greeting for couples descending from trains at this Maryland city. Notwithstanding that the authority of one of its "marrying parsons" has fallen under official scrutiny, while another of the ministers declares it to be the greeting of a marriage trust.

"The unofficial 'greeters' are taxicab drivers who are glad to guide young couples past the obstacles that face young couples seeking to get married. And since most of the couples arriving here do wish to be married, the taxi men seem to prosper.

On his card, Rev. W. R. Moon describes the taxicab men as the "Jitney Trust," urging prospective newly weds to step right across the tracks to his office.

"Allow no jitney driver to stop you," the card sets forth. Rev. Mr. Moon also meets trains in his own automobile.

At his down-town office, or at his modest home, Rev. Mr. Moon has performed ceremonies that started many hundreds of couples on their wedded life.

The taxi men have played their share as master minds in arranging the wedding of many a timid couple. They whisk the couple to the marriage license clerk's office. They help decide for the pair which minister will perform the ceremony—and when united the drivers have it in their power to direct much of the stream of couples to one or another of the ministers. They hover about during the ceremonies, and afterward drive the newlyweds out of town, or deliver them at a hotel or railroad station to await the next train.

Business continues brisk, despite the legal cloud that loomed when the authority of one of the three "marrying pastors" was questioned. Of these three pastors without regular charges, a second has consented to leave town, in accord with the wishes of his church.

Paris Acrobat Weds Into Tutor's Family

(By The Associated Press.) PARIS—Jean Lopez, an acrobat in the Paris circuses, practiced for years under the watchful eyes of Paul Fratellini, eldest of the three Fratellini, France's favorite clowns. During his apprenticeship he regarded Fratellini as his foster father and from afar admired his pretty daughter, Regina, also a circus performer.

Now Regina is Madame Lopez. Circus performers attended the recent marriage to celebrate Lopez' entrance as son-in-law into the famous Fratellini family.

FAMOUS TABLE IDLE AFTER CENTURY'S USE

CANTERBURY, Eng. (AP)—One of the most famous tables in England is in disuse awaiting repairs after centuries of service. It is the poor pilgrims' table in St. Thomas Hospital.

The table, which stands in the refectory of the hospital, is of oak, and will seat 20 persons. Until recently it was used every day, as it has been for nearly 400 years, by the poor pilgrims who came to Canterbury to visit the shrine of Thomas a Becket, and who had the right to a free bed and board and a few pence a day.

WARREN F. COEN JR. BELOW, BERKELEY BELL

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Berkeley Bell, of Austin, Texas, 18-year-old tennis star who was ranked sixteenth best player in the country last year, and Warren F. Coen, Jr., of Kansas City, national boy singles champion, have started a strenuous round of tournament play.

Bell is scheduled to display his chop stroke in 14 tournaments within the next two months, and Coen to work his drive in 10. Both will strive for further honors at the National Clay Court championships in Detroit, July 18.

Bell has entered most of the doubles events with Jimmy Quick, of Dallas, Texas, with whom he captured the national junior doubles title on the clay courts last season.

Coen is entered in the Missouri Valley championships at Omaha, July 11, and the Illinois State tournament in Chicago, July 25. He expects to play with Big Bill Tilden in the doubles at the Chicago meet. He was entered in the Central States tournament at St. Louis, July 4.

Both Coen and Bell are in good form. Bell failed to capture a championship at the state tournament in Texas early in the season, but practice brought him back into condition. Coen practices every day at Rockhill Tennis Club here.

YOU

By EVELYN GAGE BROWNE

THERE'S nothing to fear—you're as good as the best. As strong as the mightiest, too; You can win in every battle or test— For there's no one JUST LIKE YOU!

There's only one YOU in the world today, So nobody else, you see. Can do your work in as fine a way, You're the only YOU there'll be!

So face the world and all life is yours To conquer and love and live, And you'll find the happiness that endures, In just the measure you give.

There's nothing too good for you to possess, Nor heights where you cannot go; Your power is more than belief or guess— It is something you have to KNOW!

There's nothing to fear—YOU CAN AND WILL For you're the invincible YOU! So set your feet on the highest hill— THERE'S NOTHING YOU CAN NOT DO!

WHEN I WAS TWENTY-ONE

BY JOSEPH KAYE

At 21—Tom Masson Was a Traveling Salesman.

AT ABOUT this time I was a traveling salesman, and I believe, one of the worst salesmen that ever happened.

I was always ambitious to edit a humorous paper and I particularly wanted to edit Life, but I did not take any aggressive action. I contributed very frequently to the paper when it was started by Mr. Mitchell and it happened that occasionally some of my items were misplaced, or something else would happen, and then they would send for me to come to the office to straighten things out.

One day, after such a visit, Mr. Mitchell asked me to edit the paper. I asked why he had thought to offer me the position when I had not asked for it and he replied that I had shown such a readiness to locate the little troubles regarding manuscripts, and such ability to get things right that he decided I had the type of mind to keep the office going smoothly.— Thomas L. Masson.

TODAY: Mr. Masson bears the enviable reputation of being America's premier jokesmith, having written literally thousands of jokes. He was the editor of Life for over a quarter of a century and has produced many books on humor. As a creator of the jokes you read in newspapers and magazines he has few peers in the world.

DUTCH ROYALTY GETS YEAR'S FIRST HERRING VLAARDINGEN, Holland (AP)—The first herring of the season, fresh from the sea, has just been sent to the royal table from this traditional home port of the Dutch fisheries industry.

In accordance with ancient custom, choice samples of the catch were sent to the queen and members of the royal family. The herrings were packed in orange-enameled tubs, and taken in an automobile decorated with little orange flags to the royal palace at The Hague by a deputation bearing a certificate from the skipper of the first herring smack to reach Vlaardingen from the North Sea fishing grounds.

SPORT TALK

Pampa should be able to build up a great team for the Amarillo tournament around Gober and Shaw, with mound duty. How about the boys en-Bob Clarke and George Bulla to do tending the lists for the meet? All the small towns are doing it; why not this city?

The Amarillo Texans played nice ball yesterday, but poor judgement and a costly error paved the way for defeat. Dick Morgan pitched better ball than Blaeholder, but the Texans could not score runs behind him. It has been the same all season.

The Amarillo tournament is attracting the attention of every town and city in this section. Claude, Texon, Borger, Texhoma, Lubbock, Plainview, and others have already entered. How about Pampa? Are we going to be left out in the dust even with Bob Clarke coming back to the ranks? Get out and tell the boys you are behind them. Where are all the baseball fans that Pampa used to boast of having?

Shreveport is still slipping and the Steers are pulling out of the second division for higher altitudes.

Magnolia Team Is Victor Over Amerada Nine

The local Magnolia team defeated a nine from Amarada yesterday on the home lot by a 13 to 9 score. It was good ball even though the score was heavy.

Sadler, on the mound for the local team, kept nine hits well scattered and received great support from Cahill and Horner. Meade and Jack Gober were the heavy hitters.

Phurman, left fielder for the Amarada nine was the fielding sensation of the day, saving the visitors on numerous occasions with nice running catches.

Each side had seven strike-outs to their credit, but the home team took advantage of the breaks. Amarada has a nice ball club for the size of the town.

Batteries: Magnolia—Sadler and Austin; Amarada—Fisher, Zimmerman and Coston.

Gober and Shaw Star With Borger Against the Metros

Ed Gober and "Hook" Shaw were the big noises yesterday in Borger when the Amarillo Metros were defeated 5 to 4 in the first game, which went ten innings. The second encounter also went ten innings, and had to be called on account of darkness with the score tied at 5-all.

Underwood started the game for Borger, but was pulled in the fifth, Fuller finishing the game. Going into the ninth inning, the Pacer crew was one behind but Gober came up and smacked one over the fence for four bases and tied the score. With two out in the tenth, "Hook" Shaw poled a long one over the fence and sewed up the game. Lefty Achenback, Texan cast-off, pitched a nice game for the Metros, but was hit freely.

Batteries: Borger—Underwood, Fuller and Shaw. Amarillo, Achenback and Horton.

Fuller again went into the box for the second game and lasted the ten innings. Jack Knight pitched nice ball for the Metros, but it was again too much Gober. The big man from Pampa drove in three runs and scored once.

Borger had the game won in the ninth when Fuller let an easy fly get away from him and the tying runs were scored. There was no heavy hitting in the last game, except a double by Gober.

Gober and Shaw are playing great ball for nearby towns.

Batteries: Borger—Fuller and Shaw. Amarillo—Knight and Horton.

Friday afternoon at the Borger Park the Pacers will meet the Amarillo Texans in the game that should have been played in Pampa, but since the boys here got no support it was necessary to transfer the game to Borger.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

CAPTAIN KIDD

WHETHER it is through a grown-up who attends a masque as Captain Kidd, a small boy exhibiting his prowess with a toy sword and calling himself "Captain Kidd" or one of those periodic revivals of the legend of Captain Kidd's buried treasure, we are never without some reminder of this character who has come down to us not only in legend and tradition and fiction, but in history.

For Captain Kidd, though a highly colored and romantic figure, is no fictitious character out of a fable or old play, as many people who are unfamiliar with his origin may imagine. The authentic ancestor of the modern masquerading Captain Kidd was William Kidd, a British navigator who lived from 1650 to 1701. He was a well-known trader out of the colony of New York and during the war between England and France became famous for his bravery and his skill as a seaman.

In 1695 Captain Kidd received commissions from the king to capture pirates, and when, after sailing forth in his famous galleon, the Adventure, he did not return with ships, it was rumored that he himself had turned pirate and was roving the seas with his stolen treasure. Learning of this, he sailed boldly into Boston harbor and delivered to the governor a great hoard of treasure which he had captured. Nevertheless he was arrested, and history tells us, unjustly tried and hanged in London on May 23, 1701.

After Captain Kidd's death it was rumored about that he and his crew had buried immense treasure along the coast of the United States. A part of the booty of the ship Quedah was actually found secreted off Gardiner's island, off Montauk Point, Long Island. (Copyright.)

Do You Know

...??... That: ...??...

"EUREKA," meaning "I have found it out," is an exclamation attributed to Archimedes, the Syracuse philosopher, upon discovering a method of determining the purity of the gold in King Hiero's crown.

The story is that Hiero delivered a certain weight of gold to a workman to be made into a votive crown, but suspecting that the workman had alloyed the gold with an inferior metal, asked Archimedes to test the crown. The philosopher went to bathe and in stepping into the bath, which was quite full, noticed that some of the water ran over. It immediately struck him that a body must remove its own bulk of water when immersed. When the idea flashed across his mind, the philosopher jumped out of the bath exclaiming, "Eureka, Eureka," and then ran home to try his experiment on the crown. He reasoned, silver is lighter than gold, therefore a pound-weight of silver will be more bulky than a pound-weight of gold, and being of greater bulk will remove more water.

Hence "Eureka" signifies an expression of triumph concerning a discovery. It is also the motto of the state of California.—Ann's B. Turquist. (© 1927, by Western Newspaper Union.)

EXERCISE KEEPS SINGER SLENDER; SHE FINDS DIETING UNNECESSARY

LOUISE HUNTER

ATLANTA (AP)—Obesity is no longer a necessary adjunct to an operatic career, asserts Louise Hunter, who sang with the Metropolitan Opera Company four years.

"There is no reason," says Miss Hunter, "why opera stars should weigh more than other women."

When she opens her fall season as a light opera star in New York, Miss Hunter expects to tip the scales at 110 pounds, her weight when she first made her bid for fame.

"Plenty of exercise will do it," she claims.

Miss Hunter takes a daily walk and setting up exercises when she feels the need for them. She follows no routine, either in diet or in her setting up exercises. These are similar to the standard calisthenics used in girls' gymnasiums.

"Most women make little effort to keep physically fit, she says. "By keeping in proper physical condition I eat anything I wish without a thought for consequences. Through choice, however, I avoid heavy foods. "Every woman should preserve her personal charm, whether she be opera star, stage actress or housewife.

"Grow fat and you'll be sure to lose some."

Miss Hunter has been star of the Atlanta Light Opera Company for several years but will take a vacation this summer at her home in Middletown, O.

"I hope I gain a pound," she confessed.

Revolt Fiasco Brings To Fore Sedition Laws of Philippines

(By The Associated Press.) MANILA—Never, it now appears, will Floro Intrencherado be emperor of the Philippines but the melodramatic uprising of the insane man's followers may have as an aftermath revision of the sedition laws of the Philippine government.

The present law of the islands, it has been discovered, does not enable either civil or military authorities to nip in the bud an incipient revolution. Men may congregate and plot and plan and not until they commit an overt act can arrests and sedition charges be made.

General C. E. Nathorst, commander of the constabulary says he will propose an amendment to the sedition law to permit prompt action in such a case as recently arose.

Intrencherado says the recent attacks in the municipalities on negroes were not his doings but the work of unscrupulous men who "stole his stuff". He said he has always preached against physical violence but was merely preparing for the day when the islands should have their independence. Then, he declared, he would assert his rights as an "emperor and deal justice to all."

Hearing the courts had found him insane, he said, he intended leaving for a hospital at once but delayed a day so his departure would not fall on Friday the Thirteenth.

When Governor General Wood's aides got to Intrencherado's palace they found an elderly man bedecked in splendor—wearing a uniform with braid and decorations. He saluted them with his sword.

His rapidly assembling cohorts were prevailed on to permit him to visit Governor Wood who persuaded Intrencherado to enter the hospital.

Garbed in a suit of pajamas, Intrencherado joked with newspaper men and photographers and admitted his 21 year old dream of entering Manila in triumph had come to

Walter Long Hard Boiled Sailor In "The Yankee Clipper"

If it's only your face you have to shave every morning you're lucky! At least this is the opinion of Walter Long who is featured in "The Yankee Clipper," a Rupert Julian production which will be on view at the Crescent theatre on Wednesday and Thursday. Long wore a make-up which required a bright and shining pate, absolutely devoid of all hair. Hence Walter's head was treated to the strokes of a "safety" each morning during the filming of the scenes in which he appears. Long plays the role of Portuguese Joe, a hard-boiled windjammer sailorman, in support of William Boyd and Elinor Fair, who play together again in this picture for the first time since the "Volga Boatman." "The Yankee Clipper" is an original story by Denison Clift woven around an historic race between two clipper ships, one American, from Foo Chow, China to Boston Harbor.

IDEAS ON TRAINING CHILDREN TAKEN TO PACIFIC CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Children of today must be trained to deal with future international problems, believes Miss Grace Abbott, chief of the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor.

Her interest in child welfare will take her as an unofficial delegate to the Institute of Pacific Relations meeting in Honolulu, July 15, for a two weeks' session. This is the first time women will have an active part in the discussion of major issues between races and nations, conducted annually by the Institute.

The conference is unofficial and is composed of leaders of thought in the 10 countries on the Pacific. Its purpose, according to its directors, is discussion of all questions that cause race friction. It hopes to create international understanding and reconcile alien points of view by its yearly discussions.

"American has only begun to realize its possibilities for using women," says Dr. Edward H. Hume, an American delegate, who for 20 years was president of Yale-in-China. "The contribution women can make to public life has only begun to be tapped."

"What other countries do for their children determines the kind of people with whom the American child will have to deal," says Miss Abbott. "In most of the Pacific coast countries," says Miss Abbott, "they attempt to safeguard the physical and mental health of children and to provide especially for the care of those suffering from mental or physical defects. However hardly more than a beginning has been made."

Other American women who will attend the conference include Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, chairman of the National committee in the Cause and Cure of War; Miss Mary Woolley, President of Mt. Holyoke College; Miss Ada Comstock, President of Radcliff College; Miss Mabel Cratty, general secretary of the National Board of the Y. W. C. A.; Mrs. Alfred McLaughlin of San Francisco, and Mrs. William G. Hibbard of Chicago. Both the latter are leading club women in their respective cities.

Miss Persia Campbell, research secretary in the New South Wales Labor Commission, is coming from Australia, Miss M. J. Hunter from the British Red Cross, and Sophia Chen from China.

Keeper of Archives Writes Southern Novel

She is head of the state's department of archives and history, which her husband founded in 1901. Upon his death in 1920, Mrs. Owen was appointed his successor. She has helped build up a collection valued at more than a million dollars.

Jerusalem Shaken By Big Earthquake; Buildings Cracked

NEW YORK, July 11.—Many persons were injured in a tremendous earthquake which shook Jerusalem today, says a telegram to the Jewish Telegraphic agency here.

The dispatch said walls of many houses cracked. No details as to casualties were given. The city is believed to have escaped lightly, with the exception of ancient buildings.

Sets New Record In Broad Jump Despite Take-Off On Wrong Foot

(By The Associated Press.)
ATLANTA—To "Roast" Hamm of Georgia Tech goes the honor of hanging up the best broad jump mark of the 1927 collegiate campaign. Hamm made 24 feet 11-3/4 inches in the Southern Intercollegiate, setting a new record in the classic. What is more, he did it with the wrong foot.

In the same unorthodox fashion, Hamm also won first place in the jump event at the Penn Relays and at the National Intercollegiate at Chicago, though his efforts were a bit short of his wonderful performance at Baton Rouge.

It was back in 1924 that Ed Hamm first sprang into the sport spotlight. Competing for the Loanok, Okla., high school, he cleared more than 24 feet on several occasions to win the broad jump in the national interscholastic jamboree on Stagg Field, Chicago. His poorest mark was 23 feet 8 inches. Such performances were undreamed of in prep competition.

Not long after Hamm was injured in an auto accident. The ankle he used to take off with didn't mend properly. He took first place in the Southern Intercollegiate Relay carnival the next spring while competing for Georgia Tech, but his winning jump of 22 feet, 7 1/2 inches, was a mark he would have scorned in his early high school days.

The ankle got no better. It looked as if the athletic world was about to lose one of its most promising prospects. Young Hamm was not dismayed, however. He decided to learn to take off from the other foot. Obviously, he met with little success at first. It was a tough task to become accustomed to the switch, but after many hours he "got the knack" of hitting the takeoff with the other foot.

It was with the wrong foot that the Georgia Tech boy won his event at the Penn Relays last April with a leap of 23 feet, 7 1/2 inches; led the field at the National Intercollegiate with a 24-foot, one inch jump and hung up the outstanding broad jump of the season by clearing 24 feet 11 3/4 inches in the Southern Conference carnival.

"PRACTICAL" FISHING PRESIDENT'S METHOD

BOSTON, (AP)—Worm-fishing gets results.

President Coolidge, if he uses worms to catch trout, has that assurance from Bliss Perry, Harvard professor and former magazine editor.

"The philosophy of worm-fishing," comments Perry in a new book, "Pools and Ripples," "is that of results, of having something tangible in your basket when the day's work is done. It is a plea for a compromise, for cutting the coat according to the cloth, for taking the world as it actually is. . . Here, as elsewhere in the world, the best things lie nearest, and there is no bait so killing, week in and week out, as your plain garden or golf-green anguliform."

Eider Duck, Near Extinction, Coming Back Under Protection

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, July 11.—The Eider Duck, which was clubbed to death and robbed of its down years ago to provide gentle grandmothers with their proudest quilts, is emerging from the shadow of extinction under the protecting wing of the Canadian government.

Howard H. Cleaves of the American Nature Association, reporting to Arthur Newton Pack, associate editor of Nature Magazine, from Wolfbay, Quebec, said he had seen more than 2,000 breeding birds in ten days of cruising along the Canadian Labrador coast, and predicted a large increase this year, "due to excellent protection by the government."

Pack promptly expressed thanks of the Nature Association to the Canadian government through Minister Massey.

"These ducks on the great breeding grounds of Labrador were near extinction," he recalled, "because of constant collection of eggs and killing of adult birds for their feathers and down. Before 1870, vessels were fitted out in New England for this purpose. While the young were in the nests, the old birds were molting their flight quills and unable to fly. Men surrounded, drove them together and killed them with clubs, leaving the helpless young to perish. All this for feathers alone, for the birds had no food value."
