How Red Cross Money Is Spent in Flood Area

Nearly 300,000 homeless men, women and children tax facilities of the middle west for food, shelter and clothing. But the pleased looks of the women and children who munch sandwiches at Kennett, Mo., after rescue from the flood-swept St. Francis river region, testify to the generosity and kindheartedness of neighbors and relief organizations that bend every effort to ease their hardships. More than $2,000,000 will be needed for emergency aid to homeless.

Farmers Asked To Share Benefits With Refugees

LOTTERY FINE IS HELD VALID

AUSTIN, Jan. 27. (AP)—The court of criminal appeals today affirmed conviction of P. K. Newell charged in Dallas county with operating a lottery in the form of a marble machine.

Thomas and Noel to Appeal Today To Jones

Preliminary plans were under way in Pampa this afternoon to launch a movement throughout the entire drouth-benefit area of the West to enroll farmers in the humanitarian work of assisting rehabilitation in the flood-stricken areas of the Ohio and Mississippi River valleys.

SLOAN DENIES FOR CHARGES

SAYS HIS COMPANY IS NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR SITUATION

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (AP)—Alfred P. Sloan Jr., president of General Motors, today denied the company "is responsible for the breakdown of negotiations" with workers and reiterated the company's refusal to negotiate until the plants occupied by sit-down strikers are evacuated.

Having the knowledge and a personal contact with this one disaster, one knows and feels that the Red Cross at this very moment is doing a job in the flood areas that no other organization could do.

The money you contribute at Red Cross roll call time each year is money well-invested in a humanitarian work. You are getting a sample of it now. Your dollars are doing a mighty worthwhile work where rivers have gone out of their banks to make flood refugees in a once peaceful valley.

A film director says there will never be another "Birth of a Nation." There is nothing left to do but turn hopeful eyes toward Calander.

STUDENTS HELPING TO SECURE SIGNATURES

Pampa Boy Scouts today were not only doing their bit to relieve suffering in the national flood disaster by collecting bed clothing and wearing apparel from residents with four trucks, but were helping the local committee headed by Ely Fonville to secure signatures to send a telegram to the president on his birthday tomorrow. The proceeds will be used to combat infantile paralysis and to give victims medical treatment.

HELLO, OLD COAT!

DALLAS, Jan. 27. (AP)—Cincinnati flood refugees may recognize some of the garments apporportioned by the Red Cross. Manager H. Fuller Stevens of a hotel sent 300 or more articles of clothing left by guests over a period of years to the inundated Ohio city today.

I Heard . . .

That Dr. W. B. Wild went to the hospital last night without an overcoat and left with one and that Dr. A. B. Goldston wore an overcoat to the hospital but left minus one. "I forgot I didn't wear a coat and yours was the same color as mine," remarked Dr. Wild after he had been run to earth.

Scouts Collecting Clothing, Bedding

Boy Scouts of Pampa manned four trucks this afternoon and started on a house-to-house tour of the city to pick up clothing, bedding and any donations which may be made to the flood sufferers in the East.

A furore at the First National Bank this morning and thought a hold-up was in progress but the excitement turned out to be fellow-employees congratulating B. D. Robison on the birth of an 8-pound, 10-ounce son at Worley hospital. Mrs. Robison has not named the heir.

750,000 NOW HOMELESS IN FLOOD AREA

NEW HEIGHTS OF DISASTER THREATENED BY BIG RIVER

(By The Associated Press)
With the army of homeless swelled to 750,000, the toll of known dead by drowning reached 137—hundreds more were missing—and estimates of property damage soared far beyond the $300,000,000 mark, completely overshadowing the havoc of the 1927 Mississippi river disaster.

Hundreds Attend Mrs. Baer's Funeral Today

Friends this afternoon filled First Methodist church to pay last respects to Mrs. Frieda Baer, wife of the late Chris Baer, who died Monday morning in an Amarillo hospital. The church platform was banked with floral offerings.

HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS TO LEAVE HOMES

GREATEST EMERGENCY SINCE WAR STIRS NATION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—The army organized today for the gigantic task of evacuating thousands from the Mississippi river valley, if flood waters threaten life.

FDR Assails Sloan; Labor Laws Expected

EMPLOYEES RETURN TO PLANTS OF BIG COMPANY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—President Roosevelt brought the problem of enforcing labor standards by law into the deadlocked General Motors strike picture today.

Compulsory evacuation of hundreds thousands embracing all persons living within 50 miles of both sides of the Mississippi river from Cairo, Ill., to New Orleans—was ordered today by the U. S. Army high command as the mighty, flood-gorged waters of the Ohio river swept on to threatened new heights of disaster.

Thirty-five thousand motor trucks were immediately mobilized to carry out the greatest exodus in history.

LATE NEWS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—The Red Cross passed the $1,000,000 mark today in its drive to raise $10,000,000 for flood sufferers.

Secretary of War Harry Woodring, acting swiftly in America's greatest emergency since the world war, announced that headquarters for the mass evacuation would be established at Jackson, Miss.

The sudden, drastic step followed a report from army engineers emphasizing the imminence of a catastrophic, increased floods along the Mississippi once the swollen torrents of the Ohio spills its flood crest into the "Father of Waters."

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (AP)—Assistant District Attorney Sylvester Cosentino today announced that an autopsy on the body of Joseph Storzini, Metropolitan opera chorus singer, had shown he died of natural causes and that Lawrence Tibbett, famed opera and movie baritone, had been cleared of any part in his death.

The raging Ohio, it was pointed out, will dump a minimum of 3,000,000 cubic feet into the Mississippi when the flood crest hits Cairo, Ill., and no cities and towns, along the 1,000-mile stretch from Cairo to the Gulf of Mexico, fall under the mandatory program of flight from the path of invasion.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (AP)—Renactment on the stage of the scene from the opera "Caponacci" in which Lawrence Tibbett inflicted a wound on a fellow singer, who later died, was being considered today by Assistant District Attorney Sylvester Cosentino. Deeply upset by the unexpectedly tragic outcome of the autopsy, Tibbett awaited the exact cause of death. The findings would determine whether the scene would be re-enacted.

DETROIT, Jan. 27. (AP)—The return of 40,000 General Motors employees, called back to work on a part-time basis, started without incident today at ten Chevrolet plants in Michigan and Indiana.

Pampans Oversubscribe Original Quota 5 Times

The hearts of Pampans continued to open up today as the Red Cross fund for flood refugees in the East reached a total of $725 at noon.

I Saw . . .

Certain excitable fans yelp and jump last night when Bill Anderson, time-keeper fired his gun at the half and at the end of the basketball game. The same thing happens every game. How Bill loves to fire that gun! Last night, Referee Richards in disentangling a pile-up of eight boys on the floor of the game, asked "Admiral" Dewey who was on the bottom lying flat of his stomach clutching the ball, "did it hurt you?" "No," said the "Admiral," "I'd be dead if it had."

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM
If you have worried about the ultimate recovery of Dr. V. E. von Brunow, who has been a physician here 34 years, then soothe your anxiety. Dr. Brunow who has had troubles aplenty in the last six months has stood up under them like a Boulder Dam. Some might have cracked under the strain, but not he, and you can't tell that his long spell of disability caused by injuries suffered in a car wreck last summer has made serious inroads on his fine physique that has amazed Pampans for years. His chest still bulges like a barrel, and he has not broken enough to show up. "Why that accident just added ten years to my life," he said. And you believe every word of it. He's not walking yet, except with crutches, and he still has to nurse his leg, but he'll throw the crutches away soon. He smokes nearly a box of cigars a day which is too many, and there are patients he sees in his living room, and there his many friends visit him. That amusing raiper-like wit of his is still working smoothly: Yesterday he asked Dewey and Cox what they did. "Go to school; we're going to play basketball tonight," they said. "Getting it in your feet instead of your head," the doctor dryly commented.

FIRST AID COURSE TO BEGIN NEXT TUESDAY

Another Red Cross first aid course will be made possible for interested persons of Pampa and vicinity next Tuesday night. Fire Chief Ben White announced today, Tom Eckerd, Pampa's Red Cross instructor, will be in charge.

ELECTION OF FEDERATED CLUB OFFICERS IS NOW COMPLETED

TWENTIETH CENTURY ELECTS MRS. O'KEEFE HEAD, CHILD STUDY, MRS. W. C. HUTCHINSON

Two elections yesterday completed the roster of federated club officers for next season. Twentieth Century club chose Mrs. J. M. Fitzgerald as its next president, and Child Study club named Mrs. W. C. Hutchinson to succeed Mrs. N. F. Maddux. Mrs. Fitzgerald will follow Mrs. Clifford Braly at the end of her term in October. Other federated women's clubs of the city conducted their elections at first meetings this month.

Mrs. R. Earle O'Keefe was chosen vice-president by Twentieth Century club, which met in her home. Mrs. Joe Gordon was elected secretary. Mrs. A. H. Doucette treasurer. Mrs. Braly parliamentary. Mrs. L. E. Hughes reporter with Mrs. James E. Lyons as associate. Mrs. Ray Hagan critic. Mrs. Allen Hodges federation counselor, and Mrs. J. B. Massa representative to the city club council.

Child Study club named Mrs. Sherman White vice-president. Mrs. T. C. Lively secretary. Mrs. H. C. Schofield treasurer. Mrs. W. A. Brening reporter. Mrs. G. C. Cree parliamentary. and Mrs. J. M. Smoot library chairman.

Modern Woman is Topic. Mrs. Frank McAfee was hostess to Child Study club at the city club rooms. Mrs. S. C. Evans was leader of a program on Modern Woman. Members named their ideals among modern women in answer to roll call. The leader's topic was Modern Woman in the Home. Mrs. W. J. Foster discussed Modern Woman in Business, and Mrs. Lively, Modern Woman in the church.

In the business session, the club voted a donation to a home for crippled children at Marlin. Those present were Meses. John Hessey, Hutchinson, Herman Jones, Maddux, H. McBee, Luther Pierson, Earle Scheig, Schofield, Smoot, Roy Tinsley, White, Brening, Cree, Harlan Yoder, and those on program.

Study Plains Pioneer. A story of these plains and a man who pioneered in their development was the interesting subject of Twentieth Century club's program yesterday. Mrs. Joe Gordon was leader. The book for review was "Charles Goodnight," by Evetts Haley. Mrs. Hodges sketched the life of Haley, who is known to many Pampans, and told of his efforts in compiling Goodnight's biography. Mrs. Ben Williams, with a specially made map, traced the course of Goodnight as a trail blazer in Texas and Colorado, a scout, Indian fighter, and cattleman.

Mrs. Gordon reviewed the life of the man whose story is a part of West Texas, who entered the cattle business at the age of 20, grazed 2,000 mile cattle trails at 30, established a ranch beyond the frontier at 40 and dominated millions of acres of range land at 45, was recognized as a scientific breeder of cattle at 60, was considered an international authority on range economics at 80 and responded to the "saddle-up" call for the great roundup at 92.

A salad course was served to Meses. Massa, Tom Rose, R. E. McKernan, Roser McConnell, Paul Kasishke, Hunsley, Hagan, Fitzgerald, R. B. Fisher, Doucette, W. R. Campbell, W. A. Bratton, and those on program.

Church and Its Members Is Topic At Revival Hour

"Nothing can disrupt a church but something inside the church," declared evangelist Marshall Masters last night at the First Christian church. "A volcano erupts from the inside, not from the outside. It doesn't take a whole group to hinder the work of the church," he continued. "One member can do more damage to the cause of Christ than the preacher can do good in his whole life."

The speaker scored church members who are confirmed gossipers. "A gossip is a beast of prey that doesn't wait for its victim to die before devouring it."

"When Joshua was entering the promised land, the sin of one individual brought destruction to the whole army. Achan, who disobeyed the command of God, caused everything to go wrong. Jesus had His Judas. George Washington had his Benedict Arnold and every church today has its Achan."

"The plans of God are going forward somehow, whether we do our part or not. We have the opportunity today to fill our place in the world, but if we don't do it, He is going to find some one who will. We are not as big as we think we are sometimes. God's kingdom cannot be held back by some little soul. He will accomplish His purposes in some way, whether we work with Him or against Him."

Tonight is Loyal Women's night. The class is trying to have every member present at the service. Special features will include a picture, "The Church by the Side of the Road" by Howard House and special music by the choir. Services begin at 7:30.

The Rev. H. S. Foster moved into a house in Delaware, D. C., and found something sticky dripping from the ceiling of one room. Investigated and found 100 pounds of honey bees had left there.

School Failures Are Discussed by Fisher at Lunch

Speaking at a luncheon of the executive board of the eighth district P-T-A at noon Saturday, Supt. R. B. Fisher discussed "Should Children Meet Any Failure in School?"

Supt. Fisher quoted from Dr. M. A. Steiner's article in the December issue of the Phi Beta Kappan, in which Dr. Steiner asked three questions: 1. Is free activity in school so desirable that no external restraint can ever be justified? 2. Is it wise to eliminate whole or partial failures from a child's school experience? 3. What effect does 100 percent promotion policy have on character and behavior patterns?

"The main question is how much free activity is there in school and how does it affect failure. We are free only when we obey nature's laws and the laws of society, whether in school or in any other of life's activities. Wants satisfied without struggle result in individuals exerting little or no effort."

"Arguments and personal problems are a challenge that stimulate us to put forth the effort to think about about social, economic, and political problems. Unusual scholastic success seldom comes to the boy or girl who enjoys too many social pleasures and luxuries," Dr. Steiner says.

"A pupil in school must know how and be able to evaluate both success and failure. Under a wise teacher's guidance each pupil learns to enjoy his success and endure his failures without harming his character, or others."

"The ideal of absolute freedom and no failures in school rests on the assumption that children come to school with only desirable tendencies and attitudes."

"The school is an agency established and supported by government for the purpose of placing the children of each successive generation in a controlled environment conducive to their maximum moral and intellectual growth. This implies a place not only free from undesirable influences, but also one that is motivated by purposeful activities."

WHEELER MAKES FACULTY CHANGE

Mayne Resigns and Miss Addison Returns

By Ferrol Ficke
WHEELER, Jan. 27 (AP)—Robert Mayne resigned from the high school faculty to take a position in the Texas City high school. He and Mrs. Mayne left Friday. Mrs. Mayne will enroll in Texas Wesleyan College at Fort Worth, and Mayne will take up his duties.

Miss Addison will fill the vacancy. She left here early last fall to take a place in the Pampa high school.

Miss Addison formerly was journalism instructor and Corral sponsor, and gained national recognition for her work with the school paper.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Wheeler Methodist church had a covered dish luncheon Monday at 11 a. m.
Mrs. J. M. Porter had charge of the program on Christian Social Relations.

Grid Banquet Given
The annual high school football banquet was held Thursday night. More than 100 were present. Supt. J. L. Gilmore, Robert Mayne, and Coach Bob Clark were in charge of the program. The ladies of the Methodist church served.

The pep squad raised funds to pay for the football boys and pep squad girls' tickets.
Tom Britt, master of ceremonies, announced the following program:
Invocation by Principal C. B. Whitl.

Miss Cooper and Mr. Williams of Canadian Marry

By Lela Callaway
CANADIAN, Jan. 27 (AP)—Miss Amelia Ruth Cooper became the bride of Clarence Williams Monday evening at 5 o'clock in the Methodist parsonage. Rev. A. C. Haynes, pastor of the First Methodist church here, read the ceremony in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cooper, parents of the bride, Hazel and Charles Jr. Cooper, Mrs. J. T. Williams, mother of the groom, and Miss Addie Brown.

The bride was dressed in a blue silk crepe street dress with grey accessories. She has made Canadian her home the past seven years, and is a graduate of the class of 1935.

Mr. Williams has lived here several years. He is a carpenter by trade.
They will reside in Canadian.
Monday evening a large group gathered in the C. E. Cooper home to charivari the newlyweds. Treats were served to about 50 persons who remained until a late hour for an evening of entertainment.

Mrs. Glen Hartman Injured in Wreck
By Mrs. J. A. Miller
SHAMROCK, Jan. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Glen Hartman of Pampa, on route to Port Worth to visit her mother, met with an accident 17 miles South of Shamrock on highway No. 4. A tire blew out on a sandy stretch of road and she lost control of her car. It turned completely over, injuring her slightly. Mrs. Hartman was able to drive her car back to Shamrock.

Shamrock's Red Cross quota in the present drive for flood relief was $50. This amount was oversubscribed and wired to Red Cross headquarters within two hours.

An afternoon of hard study was spent by members of B. M. Baker Parent-Teacher association who are taking the accredited study course this year, when they met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Roy Holt.

After the lesson, a dessert course was served to Meses. Lane, Coshov, V. L. Hobbs, E. H. Eads, and Roy Van Willkie.

WOMEN WHO HOLD THEIR MEN NEVER LET THEM KNOW

No matter how much your back aches and your nerves scream, your husband, because he is only a man, can never understand why you are so hard to live with one week in every month.

Too often the honeymoon express is wrecked by the nagging tongue of a three-quarter wife. The wise woman never lets her husband know by outward sign that she is a victim of periodic pain.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ords of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

I THOUGHT READING IN BED ALWAYS GAVE YOU A HEADACHE

NOT WITH THIS NEW LAMP - MY EYES NEVER GET TIRED

Another Type of I. E. S. Better Sight Lamp at our showroom

1. Wide opening at the top of the shade throws light to ceiling and eliminates shadows.
2. Glass reflector softens light, prevents glare.
3. Wide shade gives ample light over your work.
4. Shade lining is white to reflect more light.
5. Lamp is high enough to light a large working area.

IT'S OKAY TO READ IN BED . . . IF THE LIGHT'S RIGHT!

TO many people, reading in bed is one of the grandest pleasures ever invented . . . but it's a frequent source of eyestrain unless the light is right. One of the new "pin-it-up" type of lamps is ideal for this. Properly pinned to the wall, (about 4 1/2 feet from the floor between twin beds or just above the head of single beds), this lamp not only gives ample light but permits reading in a comfortable, relaxed position.

Come in and let us show you the latest styles of "pin-it-up" lamps in their different models. Prices are surprisingly low.

Portsmouth's Business Stilled and Desolate

Almost desolate quiet reigned over this ordinarily busy street of Portsmouth, O., as flood waters topped the city's 60-foot wall and seeped at the threat of flood found themselves imprisoned in the upper stories of the buildings, deprived of heat and endangered by rising influenza. A graphic idea of the height of the water may be gained by comparing its level with the height of the marquee over the entrance of the Hotel Hurth, in right center.

Liquid Flames Sear $2,000,000 In Path

Pillars of black smoke lighted by flashes of rolling flames sent a signal of destruction in Cincinnati as the photographer sighted his camera through frozen tree branches for this picture as the house was destroyed by fire. Exploding tanks of gasoline sent a wave after wave of liquid flames along the waterfront of the huge Mill creek industrial district causing damage estimated at $2,000,000 and threatening other storage tanks. Half a dozen major plants were destroyed, including also the Standard Oil shops. More than 200 residents of the district were saved from the choking, acrid smoke and the flames. The fire added to the horrors already experienced by the worst flood in Cincinnati's history. One-fourth of the city was under water with 50,000 persons driven from their homes.

Scene of National Flood Catastrophe

Food Goes Up

Groceries coming up! Sufferers at Portsmouth, O., found food scarce. When it did arrive by boat it generally had to be lifted to second-story refuge spots by rope, as shown here.

Homeless, Grimy, Fed on Dry Bread, but Flood Refugees Are Safe

Five grimy little "orphans of the storm" crowd up to a table in Lincoln School, Cincinnati, for the first food they have tasted in many hours. Child-like bewilderment, and a frightened effort to understand what is happening is mirrored in the faces of these five little refugees from the flood fury of the Ohio river. Red Cross workers strove to assemble more and better food to supplement the slices of bread and glasses of water that were alone available when this picture was made.

Mother to All

On the job to allay the suffering of flood refugees at Wheeling, W. Va., Nurse Hilda Gherusim here is shown tending to two tiny tots of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Kitchen of East Wheeling.

Only One of a Thousand Rescues

Variations of this scene were being enacted minute by minute in the Louisville, Ky., area, as rescuers in boats and high-wheeled trucks followed radio directions to relieve those marooned by flood waters. Here watersoaked rescuers carry T. B. Koegen, railroad conductor, from the central station in Louisville.

Needs Nine Lives

No wet paws for this cat if he can help it! The tabby perched on the window sill of an abandoned home in Portsmouth, O., and watched the Ohio rise until it nearly lapped his feet.

CINCINNATI'S WORST FLOOD—FROM THE AIR

Rising majestically over a scene of watery desolation and devastation, the towers that form Cincinnati's skyline provide the background to this remarkable photo taken from a plane which circled the flood-stricken city as the Ohio river dealt it its sorriest blow in history. Flooded to their second floors, the hundreds of squat, snow-covered factory and office buildings resemble so many little islands in the sea of water that overflowed from the Ohio. Taken from above Covington, Ky., across the river, the picture affords a clear view of the inroads the flood made into the lower streets of hilly Cincinnati. The Central Bridge, at lower right, still dry above the swollen river, dips quickly into water-logged Broadway.

HARVESTERS TO PLAY DETERMINED AND TOUGH SANDIES FRIDAY NIGHT

PAMPA CAGERS BEAT McLEAN TEAMS 105-41

BORGER HAS DIFFICULT TIME GETTING BY AMARILLO

The first and second string Harvester basketball teams scored a total of 105 points to 41 for their opponents, the McLean Tigers, in two games at the local gym last night.

The second string played first and set the pace for the starters. With every member of the subs' quintet getting his full share of the points, the seconds swamped the McLean subs 52 to 16. Not to be outdone, the Harvester regulars went on a scoring spree that contrasted strangely with their conduct at Borger Monday night when the Bulldogs upset them, and smothered the Tigers under an avalanche of field goals 53 to 25.

Every member of the team and all the subs got into the second game. Albert (Deacon) Ayer and James (Admiral) Dewey were the scoring hot shots. They flung the ball through the net from every angle and from all positions. They couldn't miss. McLean's teams last night were the weakest the Harvesters have played here.

The Pampans looked good. It is true. It was expected they would hit a high note last night after playing bass fiddle all Monday night at Borger. The dope said the Harvesters should have whipped the Bulldogs by as many as 15 points. There was little to criticize at the game Tuesday evening. The scoring march of Ayer and Dewey and Reynolds and Cox and Heiskell was a delight to watch, a sight for sore eyes which have not seen enough scoring on the local court this year.

Even Coach Mitchell who has been looking glum for several days brightened up and smiled.

However, the Harvesters can't afford to even think about that victory, much less talk about it, longer than today. They have two tough games coming up this week.

They will invade the Sandies' lair at Amarillo Friday night, and will be beset by the Terrible Turkey Turks of Al Duncan Saturday night here. Now, the Sandies have been beaten by everything in the country except a few Junior high schools in Amarillo and the only reason the latter have not whipped them is because they have not played them, but last night Borger's Bulldogs who poured it on the Harvesters' sore backs Monday night almost took it on the chin from the heretofore helpless Sandies. The final score was 28 to 17, and the Amarilloans were even with the Sandies until the latter part of the game.

That just goes to show what a battle lies ahead of the Harvesters Friday. They'll get beat sure if they don't hustle their best every minute. The Sandies had rather beat the Harvesters than eat candy, and vice versa of course. If the Harvesters go to Amarillo like they went to Borger, rather over-confident and believing that they can coast through to victory they might as well forget. That's going to be a battle and the Pampa boys might as well get that fact down in their noggin.

Then Turkey's Terrible Turks will live up to their name Saturday night. They'll try to do everything to the Pampa novices except decapitate them. The Harvesters should be in on both the Turkey and Amarillo games. It's high time for them to quit having a slump every other game, a part-time team. They should be in on the Turkey game, particularly, and if they are, fans can see how the boys stack up with a team that comes from the hottest district in the state, the home of the Carey Cardinals.

LAJOIE GIVES BREAKS CREDIT FOR HIS NICHE

LAKE WORTH, Fla., Jan. 27 (AP)—Napoleon Lajoie, late addition to baseball's hall of fame, says the "breakers" had a big part in gaining a niche for him.

"It's a wonderful game, but you have to have the luck and the breaks to make the most of it," said the 61-year-old former star, who compiled a life-time batting average of .338 and a fielding mark of .968.

"I took chances," he explained. "I tried to figure the pitcher, watch his throw and then steal a base.

"Because I got away with it successfully everything was fine. But if I hadn't, they would have called me a bum instead."

Without hesitancy, "Nap" named the players he considers the greatest of the past and the present.

"For the past, you may say Ty Cobb. As for today's outstanding players, I select Lou Gehrig, the scintillating first baseman of the New York Yankees."

HOPPE IN MATCH
SAN ANGELO, Jan. 27 (AP)—This Hoppe of New York had a 98-point margin to overcome today as he squared off for the second block of his 2,500 point match with young Jake Schaefer of Chicago for the world's 28.2 ballline billiards championship.

Schaefer, son of the old wizard, Jake, won the opening block of the duel last night, 250 to 152.

Guerillas Beat White Deer After Close Borger Battle

SANDIES WILL GO TO TEXAS WITH CHERRY

FANS ADVISE S. BAUGH TO BE ASSISTANT COACH

DALLAS, Jan. 27 (AP)—All that dust around the University of Texas next September will be Amarillo's Golden Sandstorm arriving to enroll as freshmen. At least eight of the graduating members of the state schoolboy titlists will follow Coach Blair Cherry to Austin.

Sports Editor Dick Freeman of the Houston Chronicle, charter member of the "I-heard-a-rumor-about-Bible's contract club" pens: "Bible's contract reads, so I am told, that he is to serve in the dual capacity of head coach and athletic director for five years at $15,000 and then as athletic director only for five more years at a salary of $7,500."

Published rumors that Raymond (Bear) Wolf, formerly of T. C. U. and now of North Carolina, would come back to the conference as Texas' line coach, were spiced with the expected hiring of Cherry.

Fans finally made up Sammy Baugh's mind. The Fort Worth Star-Telegram poll on Baugh's future ended with the majority advising the Slinger to remain at Texas Christian as assistant coach.

Right now he is in Pigeonix, Ariz. The Slinger is a high school coaching plum. Agents say his chances there are bright.

Johnny Morrow, husky Texas Aggie athlete, is a cinch to again earn three athletic letters in his junior year. He'll play in the Aggie infield after basketball season is concluded. Last year, as a soph, he pounded the ball for a 418 average in southwest conference play.

The Vines-Perry tennis troupe will play two dates in Texas, Feb. 10 at Houston's city auditorium and Feb. 12 at Dallas Livestock Exposition arena on the Centennial grounds.

West Texas State Teacher's College basketball team is perhaps the tallest in the southwest, ranging from six feet to six feet, eight and one-half inches. They say the average is about six feet, three inches.

Golden Gloves Winners Named

AMARILLO, Jan. 27 (AP)—West Texas State Teachers college students won five of the eight district Golden Gloves tournament completed here last night.

The winners: George Caviness, W. T. S. T. C., light heavyweight; B. F. Moore, Shamrock, flyweight; B. Mann, Amarillo, bantamweight; Buster Hayes, W. T. S. T. C., featherweight; Rex Daniels, Goodnight, welterweight; Leo Jackson, W. T. S. T. C., heavyweight; Alton Brasuel, W. T. S. T. C., middleweight; Donald Howard, W. T. S. T. C., lightweight.

GREAT MILLER IS ALSO AN EXPERT CORNETIST

EMPORIA, Kas., Jan. 27 (AP)—There may be some doubt as to whether he gets the wind to blow the cornet from running, or gets the wind to run from blowing the cornet, but it works out all right anyway, even if Archie Sam Lovelock does get confused now and then and makes the runs on his cornet and blows a race.

The 24-year-old Emporia Teachers college athlete turned the 1936 "mile of the century" into an upset affair by defeating Jack Lovelock and Glenn Cunningham in the Princeton invitation.

The bushy-haired, flashing-eyed Italian lad is an accomplished musician. He can coax honeyed notes from a cornet in a manner which adds much to the harmony of the school and his home town bands.

In fact, music is the big thing in his life, and among the sharps and flats he hopes to make his mark. He will receive his degree in music this spring and plans to teach.

His music, track training, hobby, duties at the college athletic department storeroom where he is working his way through school, and frequent speaking engagements before service clubs, classes and dinner meetings leave Sam Romani little time on his hands, and that is at the disposal of Lena Plumley, Emporia Teachers co-ed. Wedding bells are rumored for next summer.

INDEPENDENT CAGERS DEFEAT WHITE DEER

Pampa's independent basketball team, with nearly a full lineup, won a 37 to 28 victory from the White Deer-Cargay Independents Monday night in White Deer. Even Manager Grove Seitz got into the game against his home town.

Orville Heiskell and Elmer Irying led the scoring parade with 11 points each. Others who saw action were Seitz, Kelley, Strickland, Seon, Morrison and Jack Bailey.

The White Deer ace was Williams, with McCollum ably helping. Sam Scalling was one of the outstanding guards on the floor. Free and Hall rounded out the White Deer lineup.

Last night the local boys went through a stiff workout. They are pointing to a game with the Phillips 66 Oilers, Panhandle champions.

Mrs. Mars Enter Several Nags in Derby

NEW YORK, Jan. 27 (AP)—Bob McGarvey has so many promising three-year-olds in Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' Milky Way stable that he is like the old woman in the shoe. He'll probably enter several in the Kentucky Derby. Just now, however, he can't tell whether it will be Reaping Reward, Case Ace, Dogaway, Murph, Jawbreaker or all of them. Not in recent years has one stable been blessed with so many top-notch three-year-olds.

"We think Reaping Reward is our best," writes the veteran trainer. "But of course we'll know more about that a little later on this spring."

"Case Ace, we like him, too, and the same goes for Dogaway, Reaping Reward compiled by far the finest record of the group last year. Purchased for $5,000 as a yearling, the son of Seie came into his own late in 1936 to be rated the best two-year-old of the year."

Sports Roundup

BY SCOTTY RESTON.
(Punch-Hitting for Eddie Brietz.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 27 (AP)—Babe Ruth and Joe McCarthy are still nursing their old feud. Joe gave a dinner to the New York Baseball Writers night before last. All good American leaguers were there. But the Babe was not invited. "Guess McCarthy's still sore," chuckled Ruth today. "Joe's back on the fight started over the Babe's feeling that he should manage the Yankees instead of McCarthy. Incidentally, the notion that Ruth's bitter about not getting a big league manager's job is strictly the bunk. Colonel Ruppert's refusal to let him go to the National league when the Reds wanted him rankled a little but he knows now his chances of getting a major league spot are slim.

Our dope is that Fred Thomsen, Arkansas coach, and Harold Browne, former Lincoln high school coach, are the two leading candidates to succeed D. X. Bible at Nebraska. And the low-down on Bible's leaving Nebraska for Texas was neither more nor material. Bible married a Texas girl. He likes the climate down that way, and that's that. Al Schacht, the comedian and once a major league pitcher, sold himself from the Jersey City club to Clark Griffith of Washington by sending letters to Griffith about a "great young pitcher called Schacht" and signing them "a fan."

A prosperity note: Gil Doble, Boston college's football coach, has just bought a house in suburban Boston. The coaching business is over-run with security. First Bible gets a 10-year contract and then Doble buys a house. Though few knew it, Gil not long ago was unbelievably wealthy.

Story by Lou Gehrig: At Joe McCarthy's dinner to the New York scribes, Gehrig told about the time McCarthy called his Chicago Cubs into a room for a talk about the bad effects of liquor. "First he was very calm and brief. . . . When the players arrived, angry about being dragged out early in the morning, Joe displayed two glasses, one half filled with gin, the other with water. . . . He then displayed a long, live angleworm. . . . First he dropped the worm in the glass of water. It wriggled. . . . Then Joe dropped it in the gin. The worm curled up and died. "Do you know the moral of that?" piped McCarthy. "Sure," yelled Jack Wilson in the back of the room. "It proves that if you drink gin, you won't have worms."

Tip: Zeke Bonura may be yelling for $12,000 but he'll sign for less and like it. . . . And it won't be long. . . . Football coaches right now are hallooing over "D. X." Bible's stroke in getting $15,000 a year and a 10-year contract to coach football at Texas.

Ordinarily a 10-year contract shouldn't come up for discussion again for 10 years, but this one will be unearthened and waved before the coaches at every charge of over-emphasis. . . . And since the Texas president gets $8,000 the argument will be hard to beat.

14-CLUB RULE TO AID VETS, SAYS SARAZEN

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 27 (AP)—Gene Sarazen, golfing squire of Brookfield Center, Conn., believes the new U. S. G. A. 14-club rule is going to help goldom's old timers.

"As far as I could learn in New York," said Gene, "most of the pros have started cutting down on the clubs, practicing with the 14 they will use next year." He already has reduced his accustomed bag of 22 to the 14 limit that goes into effect in 1938.

"The old timers will have a distinct advantage in the 1938 national open. The younger fellows have been accustomed to letting the club do the swinging.

"Now, with the 'half club' discarded—they'll have to learn to make two shots with the same weapon."

M'LEAN CAGERS ARE BEATEN BY ALANREED

ALANREED, Jan. 27.—Monday night the Alanreed basketball teams tied with McLean teams in one faculty and two conference games. The Alanreed girls lost to McLean, 24-22. The Alanreed boys won, 25-18. High-point men being James Hill having a total of eight points each. The Outsiders team of McLean lost to Alanreed faculty, 28-26. During the first half Ashley Little of the Alanreed faculty team sprained his ankle and was unable to finish the game.

The Alanreed Schedule.
Feb. 2—LePors at Alanreed.
Feb. 5—McLean at McLean.

HOWARD LYNCH TO BE CHOSEN SANDIE COACH

SPORTS WRITER SAYS SELECTION TO BE THIS WEEK

DALLAS, Jan. 27 (AP)—Prediction department: One other southwest conference coach besides Matty Bell will be tempted by a middle west offer within the next few days. Des Moines dispatches said Iowa officials would arrive in Dallas over the week-end to chat with Bell. . . . Howard Lynch, seven years' assistant to Blair Cherry at Amarillo high school, will be elevated to head coach before the week-end.

Cherry, moving along to Texas as D. X. Bible's assistant, will have almost his entire Golden Sandstorm championship eleven at Austin. Tackles Edwin Ricketts and Newman Miller, Guards Don Williams and Bill Kilman, Center Pat Toombs, and Quarterback Johnnie Gill will enroll as freshmen at the fall session. . . . Ball Carriers Bobby Cleson, Raymond (Wildhorse) Maves, and Joe Davis will tag along after completing another half term of high school work. . . . Ends Mike Sweeney and H. Ricketts are expected to follow their coach.

Bald, genial Bible is expected to address the Associated Press Sports Writers conference at Temple Feb. 2. . . . Cherry also has been invited to appear publicly with his head coach for the first time. . . . Branch Rickey, generalissimo of the St. Louis Cards, says his Redbirds will outdraw anything in baseball this summer and will win the pennant. . . . New York, Chicago and Pittsburgh will be the other first division dwellers, he said.

Lanky Euel Wesson, Temple high cager, pulled a real story-book finish for his club the other night. . . . Trailing Austin's Maroons 24-22 with 10 seconds to go, Wesson dropped a basket and then made good on a foul shot that won the game, 25-24.

Mason Mayne, new T. C. U. football captain, will be honored by the hometown folk at Tyler Feb. 4. Truman Spain, Southern Methodist's great tackle of last year, is playing basketball at Waco.

Cecil (Dynamite) Dunn, scheduled to be on the Beaumont roster in the spring, banged five home runs and a single in one game last season while in the Alexandria uniform of the Evangeline league. . . . He finished the year as leading batsman of the loop with a .378 mark. . . . Hardin-Simmons at Abilene is having a tough time filling its grid schedule but recently announced a home-and-home agreement with Oklahoma City university, starting in the fall. . . . Adolph Klefer, the brilliant young Olympic swimmer now enrolled at the University of Texas, will compete in Houston and Fort Worth meets next month.

68TH VICTORY.
WEATHERFORD, Jan. 27 (AP)—Tarlton's unbroken chain of basketball victories stood today at 68 after a 41 to 22 triumph over the Weatherford college Coyotes last night.

Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all natural eliminators, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical: only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

ANNOUNCING . . . A New 2-Service Policy for DRY CLEANING

Realizing that you have some clothes which you wish to have receive the very best of care, and others for which you wish to pay only a small amount for cleaning, we announce a New 2-Service Policy for dry-cleaning that we believe will please you.

This plan always will enable you to patronize your regular cleaner and get just the price service, and just the class of service you desire. Read carefully the description of each service below; then when you call your cleaner simply tell the route man the class of service you wish.

STANDARD SERVICE	ECONOMY SERVICE

IN TRUCK LEGISLATION

Any change in existing Texas truck laws which will increase the present 7,000-pound load limit will affect adversely all communities in the state, both rural and urban. This statement is proved best by identifying the causes and effects upon Texas communities.

These are:

1. Increasing truck loads mean correspondingly increasing the distance which the truck can profitably carry its load.
2. Increasing the distance of profitable truck haul means bringing the small town wholesale houses and industrial plants, such as wholesale grocers, bottling plants, feed mills, oil mills, grain elevators, cotton compresses and retail lumber yards, into direct competition with similar establishments in large cities.
3. Such competition will inevitably result in further drying up the small country towns by taking from them the payrolls, taxes and local purchases represented by their present establishments. Property values, both residential and commercial, will decline; volume of retail sales will grow smaller and former employees will migrate to the cities to reinforce the ranks of the unemployed and the bread lines.
4. Large cities, at first stimulated by increased trade territories, bought at the expense of the country towns, will be ultimately affected adversely because of the resulting unhealthy condition of the rural communities forming these trade territories.
5. Because of the consequent shrinkage of the state's tax revenues from country towns, taxes from the cities will have to be increased correspondingly.
6. The lower truck load limit of Texas now has the effect of acting as a barrier at Texas borders to the movement of the larger truck loads carrying merchandise from the metropolitan and producing centers of other states. Any increase in Texas truck load limits will break down that barrier and permit the free truck movement into the state of many commodities which unquestionably would be sold directly to the retailers, thus destroying, in a large measure, the business of wholesalers and jobbers now located in Texas cities.

Conditions which affect adversely the well-being of Texas communities also affect Texas railroads in identical manner and degree.

LYING DOWN ON THE JOB

Automobile and glass industry workers aren't the only ones who can stage a sit-down strike, knitting mill hands at Philadelphia have demonstrated. Lounging on cots set up in front of their machines, the group above tend to their "knitting" by holding the fort.

National Leaders Plan Gigantic Ball to Honor President and Raise Infantile Paralysis Fund

The nation's biggest social event, the celebration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's fifty-fifth birthday anniversary, is set for January 30, with more than 5,000 communities throughout the country planning parties to raise funds for the philanthropy closest to the Chief Executive's heart, and for infantile paralysis sufferers.

Colonel Henry L. Doherty, for the fourth year chairman of the national celebration, is being assisted by many of the country's foremost leaders in plans for the events. Among those on his committee are: Vincent Astor, Postmaster General James A. Farley, Ambassador Joseph E. Davies, Will H. Hays, Carl Byoir, general director, Colonel Edward M. House, Edsel B. Ford, Walter P. Chrysler, Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, Patrick Cardinal Hayes, Bishop

William T. Manning, Harvey S. Firestone, Keith Morgan, General John J. Pershing, Owen D. Young, Howard Chandler Christy, Charles G. Dawes and Admiral Cary T. Grayson. Society leaders, radio, motion picture and theatrical stars are joining forces to make the celebrations the greatest series of parties ever staged. Meantime in cities, towns and hamlets throughout the nation millions of Americans are making preparations for parties that will eclipse in size and colorful entertainment those of any previous year.

Cause Enough For a Grieving Mother's Tears

This is why the mother (pictured on this page) weeps. All around her are the shambles into which rebel air bombs had turned the familiar scenes about their home—a tragedy too awful for the daughter's young comprehension to grasp. Buried in the ruins were several of their relatives, just a few of the hundreds whose lives were snuffed out by the aerial marauders.

Touted for Czar of Liquor Trade

Baseball and the movies have their czars and the liquor industry will not be outdone. Above—and that glass contains water—is W. Forbes Morgan, treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, who, it is reported, will become supervisor of the liquor trade as head of the Distilled Spirits Institute, Inc.

Royal Look

Curiosity, with just a touch of royal hostility, come in a wide-eyed stare from the young Princess Elizabeth, born last March to Prince Paul and Princess Olga of Yugoslavia. This latest picture of the baby princess might hint that she will never go into anything with her eyes shut.

Bridge Over Golden Gate Nearing Completion

The 4200-foot span adding mechanical grandeur to San Francisco's famed entrance from the Pacific, the Golden Gate bridge, above, is approaching completion, with formal opening set for May 1. Huge suspension cables and the 746-foot towers are the supports for the bridge floor, over which autos will, for the first time, drive above the Golden Gate. With the already opened Bay bridge, San Francisco, long "isolated" on a peninsula, will have direct overland outlets north, east, and south.

Signs of Further Trouble Ahead

Threat of more trouble on the motor front was seen as workers' leaders carried the above sign in a parade of sit-downers in Detroit. Left to right are Dick Frankenstein, organizer for the United Automobile workers; Julius Hockman, president of the Garment Workers; Homer Martin, president of the U. A. W., and Walter Reuther, C. I. O. organizer.

As Allred Was Inaugurated Governor

Gov. Allred (right), as he received the lengthy Texas oath of office from Associate Justice John H. Sharp of the state supreme court, is pictured in accompanying photograph.

'Collectors' Peril Townsend Test

Souvenir hunters collecting the marked dollars for "framing" threatened success of the first Townsend old age pension test in Chelan, Wash., where C. C. Fleming has set himself the task of spending $200 monthly for six months. Municipal action is being considered, as each merchant in Chelan is pledged to pay a 2-cent "transaction tax" on each marked dollar bill he receives. The tax goes into a fund from which it is hoped that other pensions may come. First orgy of spending for back rent, food, and store clothes placed nearly $10 in the fund. The picture shows Fleming, 62, unemployed, at left and Mrs. Fleming, center, making a purchase from a Chelan merchant.

Reach Truce In Auto Strike

The leaders in the conference at Lansing, Mich., photographed in the small hours of the morning as they announced that a truce had been agreed upon in the auto strike. Left to right: William Knudsen of General Motors; Gov. Frank Murphy; James Dewey, federal conciliator; Frank Martin, president of the Auto Workers' union. The truce was called off Monday.

Maybe Mae May Be Best in U. S.

When Mae Medley, 20, above, was chosen New York's most attractive cigaret girl, the cigarmakers who selected her also hinted she was the loveliest in the entire country. Mae may be from Detroit, she works in a New York club.

Why Do You Cry, Mother?

In Tetuan, the workers' quarter of Madrid, a terror-dazed little girl stands helplessly beside her mantilla garbed mother, who sobs silently, dabs at tear-reddened eyes. Unable to fathom her mother's grief, the girls asks with childish sympathy: "Why do you cry, mother?" Emotions choke back the explanation that would be obvious to maturer eyes than her daughter's—an explanation pictured on this page.

Ravaged by previous disastrous floods, the section around Kennett, in the extreme southeastern part of Missouri, again was swept by a deluge, the scene above showing a great gap torn in the levee by the surging waters of St. Francis river. In the foreground is a railway line, barely above the torrents, and a great stretch of fertile farmland was submerged. Hundreds of lowland residents were driven from their homes and more than 2000 refugees were cared for in Kennett, a city of 2500 population, by relief agencies.

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

By LOUIS SCHNEIDER

TRADE

Wholesale markets report an increase in orders due to an early Easter this year but retail business conditions continue spotty. Weather conditions bringing livestock into shipping centers—causing a dip in prices. Carloadings will continue high on coal shipments. Textile mills active this week on future deliveries. Shoe industry operating near capacity levels. There's a better demand for paper products. Tools continue in demand as does machinery equipment. Oil consumption will hold high this week but averages for week will show decline due to labor difficulties in industrial centers. Building permits increasing in number—this week's actual work will run lower. Real estate market shows improvement—brokers predict sharp increase in property speculation this spring. "White sales" successful because of bargain-buying by consumers. Automobile sales lower—labor thru-out country sympathizing with General Motors sit-down strikers. Steel operations to continue high on other than steel industry bookings. Demand for pig iron to ease—plant operations due to orders booked prior to increase as of January 1st. Household accessory markets to continue active—prices to rule higher. Canning industry on Atlantic and Pacific coasts quite active. Winter wearing apparel demand large. Trade conditions adversely affected by weather and labor complications.

BONDS

Underwriting houses clearing shelves for a flood of railroad and utility refunding operations over next few weeks. Syracuse Light & Traction 5 1-2s of 1954 going into portfolio. Businessman's risk: Denver & Salt Lake Income 6s of 1960. New York Central 3 3-4s of 1944 held for yield. Speculative risk: International Hydro-Electric Conv Deb 6s of 1944. Lehigh Valley Coal to refund $2,400,000 in collateral notes and $5,447,000 Gold 6s due 1938. Southern Pacific 3 3-4s of 1946 bought as prime investment. Francisco Sugar Coll Trust 6s taken for income. Boston & Maine "AC" 5s of 1967 retained for yield. Speculative buying reported in Allegheny Corp. Stamp 5s of 1955. New Orleans Public Service 1st & Ref 5s of 1952 and 1955 held for yield. Bank of England bought dollars preparing to redeem United Kingdom bonds held in the United States. Warren Brothers Deb 6s of 1941 held as speculative risk. Dallas Union Terminal to refund its 5s with 3 3-4s. Electric Auto-Lite to offer convertible 4s due 1952—when SEC approves Lehigh Valley railroad issues being retained. There's speculative buying of the defaulted Mobile & Ohio 5 per cent secured notes of 1938. Same goes for defaulted St. Louis & San Francisco Railway and Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railway issues. Prospects of a favorable TVA-utility agreement benefits Mississippi Power 1st 5s of 1955. Federal issues long-term maturities.

COMMODITIES

Cotton traders urge purchase of distant contracts while the prevailing wide discounts are available. Cottonseed oil demand increasing. Cocoa in a potential squeeze position—consumers buying again. Coffee prices to hold. Statement by Secretary Wallace threatening revival of a sugar processing tax leaves market uncertain until the situation crystallizes. Copper prices have reached a temporary peak—selling of speculative accounts attributed to easing of prices in this commodity. A sideline position in rubber advised by informed sources—GM labor difficulties account for this attitude. Zinc, lead and tin prices to hold through the week. Hide purchases made at current price levels attractive if long-term contracts are involved. Butter options being accumulated by speculative interests. This year's corn reserves are lowest for this time of year in any year on record. Because of administration support egg prices will steady—speculators selling attributed to recent price decline. Traders accumulating May wheat options on all moderate recessions—look for sharp move during spring months. Wool prices to hold because of consuming demand. Silk looks higher with carryover growing narrower. Gold movements attributed to operations of stabilization funds of France, United States and Great Britain. Silver will respond to pro and con discussions in Congress.

REPORTS ARE THAT:

F. W. Woolworth going into the publishing business—will print a quarterly magazine. Woodworth News to be distributed free to customers. Because of greater speculative appeal Johns-Manville being switched into Masonite Corp. Bell Aircraft secretly working on airplane improvements solely for Uncle Sam. Amsterdian traders like long-pull prospects of Douglas Aircraft. Lehigh Valley Coal preferred gets speculative preference over common—preferred convertible into common. Texas Corp.'s bad market action attributed to pending common share offer—much larger than anticipated. Cleveland Tractor's new "Cletrac" growing in popularity. In-

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS

By WILL H. MAYES.

Increased dividend payments expected this year for Kansas City Southern $4 preferred stockholders. American Can strengthening its position in the paper container trade. Allegheny Steel's 1936 net was $2.35 a share—will show 75 cents for first three months of this year. Investment accounts continue to add Westinghouse Electric and General Electric to portfolio holdings. Wilson preferred taken because of attractive yield. Brunswick-Balke-Collender hasn't paid a dividend on common shares since 1929—this year's earnings may permit a small payment. Glidden will pay an extra dividend or increase current rate. Because of favorable 1936 financial reports—due soon—department store shares again in speculative favor. And that if Pacific Coast shipping strike isn't settled soon building activity this spring will be held up by lumber shortage.

BATHING SUITS

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Jan. 27 (AP)—Two bathing caps and a bathing suit were among articles received there in response to a plea for flood refugee clothing. After examining the contributions, relief workers finally decided the bathing suit could be used as underwear.

PRIOR OCCUPANCY

DANVILLE, Va. (AP)—J. T. Salmon will have to wait awhile before occupying his new house. An automobile moved in ahead of him. The car, driven by E. P. Willis of Cunningham, N. C., collided with a milk truck and veered into the structure, knocking it off its brick piers. Both car and house were wrecked.

RUSSIAN SAYS HE ORGANIZED TRAIN WRECKS

PLANNED TO INFECT TROOPS WITH GERMS

MOSCOW, Jan. 27 (AP)—Ivan Alexandrowich Kniazef, former Soviet Southern Railway chief on trial as a confessed Trotskyist plotter, testified today 63 persons had been killed in "thousands" of train wrecks which he organized and accused a Japanese "Mr. X" of planning to infect Russian troop trains with deadly germs.

Kniazef twice identified "Mr. X" as a Japanese agent, one Keroshima, who he said was a transport expert in Moscow and who formerly served in London.

The witness, on trial with the commentator, Karl Radek, and 15 other men for a conspiracy to overthrow the Soviet regime through sabotage and even war, spring surprise after surprise.

THE idea still persists today in many sections that cats will suffocate a sleeping child by sucking its breath. However, such a belief is not based on fact, but, perhaps, on the fact that cats do like to sit on the chest of a sleeping person, which, in case of babies, makes breathing difficult.

MISSOURIAN WHOSE MURALS STIR A TEMPEST, HEEDS ONLY VIEWS OF COMMONERS WHOM HE LIKES

BRITISH FINANCIER VANISHES AT SEA

AFTER BOARDING RIVAL'S SHIP

MURDER, stalking the cabins of a mystery yacht, bound for the Bahamas on a mystery cruise, presents Florida police with their strangest case.

Two hours after Bolitho Blane, British financier and world soap king, boarded the palatial yacht of his principal competitor, Carlton Rocksavage, he vanished from his cabin.

On Blane's table lay a note addressed to his secretary, Nicholas Stodart. It indicated suicide in face of approaching bankruptcy.

ARMY WILL EVACUATE RESIDENTS ON RIVER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (AP)—The army high command, anticipating a much more serious flood in the Mississippi than already has occurred in the Ohio, prepared today to evacuate all persons living near the mighty stream from Cairo, Ill., to New Orleans.

Preliminary arrangements already worked out call for the evacuation of all persons living within 50 miles of either side of the Mississippi over the more than 1,000-mile stretch.

Thirty-five thousand motor trucks already have been mobilized to be used in conjunction with railroad flat cars, to move the population along the lower Mississippi to higher ground.

Secretary Woodring, after arranging details with the army high command, said headquarters for the mass evacuation would be established at Jackson, Miss.

He had before him a report from army engineers saying the new levees erected along the lower Mississippi and hitherto untested by severe floods were capable of handling only 2,400,000 cubic feet of water per minute, while the Ohio, swollen to the greatest proportions in history, was expected to dump a minimum of 3,000,000 cubic feet into the Mississippi when the flood crest reaches there.

IT'S GAME CALLED SCOOT—GYM EXERCISE BECOMES A PLEASURE

WINFIELD, Kas. (AP)—Gym classes at Winfield high school have been "scooterized."

It all started when Ralph Titus, director of physical education and track coach, sought something to take the drudgery out of calisthenics. He developed the scooter and now, instead of exercising on parallel bars and other standard equipment in the gym, his boys roll around on the scooters.

He has turned gym classes into competitive teams, with the kids getting exercise that, according to Titus, is just as beneficial. The scooter is a simple thing, consisting of a square of wood about the size of a baseball home plate mounted on four casters or wheels. The wheels, equipped with rubber or fabric tires, permit spinning in any direction. The scooter-mounted gym student propels himself with hands and feet.

For Hockey, Too
The scooter is easily adopted to many games. Five boys form teams for basketball, passing and shooting at the goals. Eleven on a side, indulge in football, with the backs spinning into the line or fading back for passing. Hockey can be played on scooters, too. Relay and wheelbarrow races are run. Lying face downward on the scooters, boys race across the gym floor.

"Just as good for them as swimming and they don't get sunburned," says Titus.

Idea Spreads
Physical education experts elsewhere are interested. A set of scooters already has gone to a state teachers college at Albion, Mich. Other orders are coming in. Titus has been asked by several schools, including one university, to bring his boys and scooters for a demonstration. At two schools, demonstrations were put on between halves of basketball games. Titus is seeking to patent the device.

"The same thing caused the invention of the scooter that brought about the beginning of basketball," Titus says. "That was to turn exercises in a gym into action competition. All manner of games are possible on the scooter."
Titus, a former manual arts instructor, has so far manufactured the scooters himself.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD—The Hollywood screen shies away, generally speaking, from anything that savors of propaganda.

Its stories espouse the causes of mother love, young romance, virtue over villainy and other non-controversial ideals and themes with monotonous regularity, more or less entertainingly concealed by cleverness in plot, performance, direction. Only occasionally, does it venture, as in "Black Fury," into the labor wars, and its venture therein is pretty likely to be timorous. Any other subject on which opinions differ strongly is shunned or so treated as to remove its sting for all parties.

The movies are a commercial enterprise, with millions of people to please. Other considerations aside, however, propaganda is not popular because it is seldom entertaining.

Deals With 'Hooded Terror'
With which preamble, herewith a few remarks about "Black Legion." The film is propaganda—and it is entertainment.

It can scarcely be called "controversial," however, in the sense that it is going to start riots and public demonstrations. The admitted evil it attacks (and more specifically than last year's anti-mob film "Fury") does not come into the open.

"Black Legion" is a melodramatic treatment of last year's sensational "hooded terror" news headlines. It deals with average Americans who listen to radios and go to movies, drive cars when they can afford to, sometimes go to church, and work—in this case in a mechanical plant.

Humphrey Bogart is the central figure. He wants to be foreman so he can get a raise and provide luxuries for his wife (Erin O'Brien-Moore) and small son (Dickie Jones). When a foreign-born American gets the job instead, Bogart broods resentfully, and is easy prey to the lure of a secret order which promises through united strength to drive out such intruders and "enemies" of the American home.

His activities with the order bring horror and tragedy, culminating in the murder of his best friend (Dick Foran). At the trial, the secret order is exposed.

Director's Enthusiasm
The ending, which is "due process of law" unhampered by Hollywood sentimentality, and the pictures of average American life, are among the film's qualities which distinguish it from mere horrendous how-can-such-things-be? The top performances are Bogart's and Miss O'Brien-Moore's with Helen Flint's shady lady third.

Archie Mayo, who directed, says he offered to make the picture the nothing (instead of for some $4,000 per week) as his contribution to the "cause of Americanism."

"That's how strongly I feel about it," he declares vehemently. Jack Warner, who declined Mayo's offer, probably will not lose on his salary.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Jan. 27 (AP)—The Supreme Court, 100 years old, started a new period of service to Texas when Chief Justice C. M. Cretton and Associate Justice Richard Critz took oaths of office Jan. 2. The oaths were administered by their colleague, Associate Justice John Sharp.

The court was created by the Constitution of the Republic of Texas in 1836, although it was not formally organized until early in 1840. Its first case was reported to have been brought from Brazoria county to recover the value of a horse alleged to be worth $350.

Four descendants of Pinckney Henderson, first governor of Texas, recently visited his grave in the state cemetery.

The party included Baron Dietrich von Lentz of Austria; Arthur H. Giesler of Oklahoma City, former United States minister to Guatemala; Mrs. Nancy Frederick Cobb, and Miss Catherine Fairlee, both of Seaworld.

Von Lentz and Giesler married granddaughters of Gov. Henderson. Mrs. Cobb and Miss Fairlee are his grandnieces.

Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the commission, is desirous of maintaining the friendliest relations with Louisiana in regulating the bi-state Rosessa oil field.

When the field was brought in, there was considerable talk that the states never would agree on conservation rules. Because Texas had its proration program well under way while Louisiana was going through initial organization, complaints were heard that Texas operators were being discriminated against and those in Louisiana were about to run off with all the oil from the common pool.

Thompson said then that when Louisiana found its way it would not be lagging in adopting conservation measures. In recent weeks it has clamped down increasingly severe restrictions and no more complaints are being heard from Texas operators. The other day Texas put into effect an order matching that promulgated in Louisiana, and Thompson immediately telephoned Gov. Richard Leche what was done.

"We want you to know that Texas is going to cooperate fully with Louisiana," he told Leche.

Press correspondents met Ernest Boyett, sergeant-at-arms of the House of Representatives.

"Have you made up your mind whether to seek re-election?" asked a correspondent.

"Me?" said the startled Boyett. "Listen! I haven't stopped running since two years ago."

Boyett succeeded by veteran Joe White as sergeant-at-arms at the start of the last regular session. Legislative employees must be re-elected each two years.

AUSTIN, Jan. 27 (AP)—Senator Weaver Moore of Houston is one of the most popular members of the legislature with press correspondents at this time.

The reason is he is one of few members who does not have a bill to introduce. There is no scarcity of bills, however, nearly 200 being submitted the first three days of the session and the total probably will be around 1,600.

Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, dean of the Senate, once said there was enough work for any member in killing bills, and Rep. Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo remarked a new representative tried to introduce as many measures as possible while an old one took the opposite course.

Senator Houghton Brownlee of Austin said during his campaign that if elected he wanted no flowers on his desk as he didn't believe in using the Senate chamber into a nursery or hot house. The crack was directed at Senator John W. Hornsby.

Brownlee was successful against Hornsby, but on the opening day of the session he found an enormous bouquet of roses on his desk. The bouquet was so large it overflowed the sides of the desk and was easily the centerpiece, so to speak, of the hall.

Just who placed the flowers there was not learned immediately, although there was a suspicion that Bob Barker, secretary of the Senate for 20 years, knew something about it.

Congressman Bob Pogue of Waco sent Barker a telegram the first day, when employees of both houses were chosen.

"If you have been fortunate enough to be re-elected over your formidable opposition," the telegram said, "I wish you would express my best wishes to the Senate."

Barker was re-elected, as usual having no opposition. He is an institution about the capitol, something like the statue of liberty on top of the dome.

Another difference between new members and veterans is that the former, especially in the early days of the session, seem less willing to recess or adjourn.

This is partly due to a fresh sense of duty and partly to the fact that they are not familiar with the routine of organization. Some, too, may not object to the opportunity to get attention.

Many members were agitated Thursday, two days after the session started, when a new representative objected to adjournment until Monday and demanded a roll call. The adjournment finally was approved.

Actually the House had gone about as far as it could for the time being.

Hughes Breaks All Speed Marks

Another record to his credit, Howard Hughes, left, movie producer, aviation ace, and sportsman, is shown here as he reached Newark airport and received the congratulations of Dick Palmer, one of the builders of his low-winged, single-motored "mystery" plane. Hughes sped from Los Angeles to Newark in 7 hours, 28 minutes, and 27 seconds, shattering his former record by nearly two hours. He narrowly averted disaster when his oxygen inlet failed while he was high over Arizona.

Midyette to Speak To Writers' Club

Literary efforts of the members were read and discussed when the Creative Writers club met last Thursday evening at the home of the sponsor, Mrs. Hol Wagner. Tommie Rogers, president, was in charge. Helen Miller, Tommie Rogers and Jack Johnson each read a poem of his own composition. Dorothy Jane Day brought a group of descriptions. Following the informal discussion of these contributions, refreshments of cocoa and cookies were served.

During the remainder of the year the club will meet every other Thursday evening. The speaker next meeting, Feb. 4, will be Ruth P. Midyette, instructor in English and Journalism.

FALSE ALARM
MILWAUKEE, (P)—Henry Kaul telephoned the sheriff for help when he saw the lights in his barn flash on and off.

A squad of car crew arrived and cautiously entered the barn to capture the "prowler." They found Kaul's horse rubbing against a light switch on a wall.

BEAN FUNERAL SERVICES HELD

McLEAN WILL RAISE RED CROSS QUOTA

McLEAN, Jan. 27.—(Special)—Funeral services were held Tuesday for George Bean, aged 84 years, 9 months and 27 days. Mr. Bean was stricken with paralysis Friday morning of last week and never regained consciousness. He passed away at 9:30 Monday morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. Geo Sitter, at whose home he has lived for a number of years. Mrs. Sitter is the only surviving member now of a family of ten.

He is survived by five children, Alvin Bean of Los Angeles, Calif.; Kenneth Bean, Mounds, Ill.; C. W. Bean of Kim, Colo. Mrs. A. J. Mescher, St. Louis, Mo.; Ruel Bean, Dupo, Ill. C. W. was the only one to be present at the funeral.

Mr. Bean was born Mar. 28, 1852 and came to Texas from St. Louis in 1928.

Funeral services were under the direction of Rev. J. H. Sharp, local Methodist pastor, who was assisted by Rev. W. A. Erwin, Presbyterian pastor.

Flower bearers were: Mrs. John Harris, Mrs. H. C. Weatherly, Mrs. C. E. Cooke, Mrs. J. S. Morse, Mrs. J. M. Noel, Mrs. W. W. Boyd

Red Cross Quota to Be Raised
"Without doubt," says Boyd Meador, local chairman of the American Red Cross, McLean will raise more than its quota of $45 for the flood sufferers of the Ohio River disaster.

will appreciate it if my friends will subscribe to their home paper and ask them to print the "Listen Folks" column each week.

I am going to write next week about the inauguration of Governor Allred and what he says in his message to the legislature. I will also tell the people what new laws and bills are being offered in the legislature and what they mean to the people. This legislature, to say the least, will be eventful, and I hope it will be helpful. Listen folks, let me tell you about it.

UNLIMITED PARKING.
HUNTINGTON, W. Va.—When city officials installed parking meters on Huntington streets to alleviate traffic congestion they didn't realize they were installing emergency docks.

Rescue workers in this flood stricken city are finding the meters ideal mooring posts for their skiffs. There's no limit on the mooring.

The characteristic silvery shell of fish is caused by reflection of light from a waste substance called "guanin."

While the legislature opened in harmony, there may be another story to tell right soon. One of my old friends asked me what is a deficit. I told him the best definition I could give was that it is debt you can't pay now. If the legislature will just remember that the state is now 16 million dollars in debt and can't pay, maybe they will be impressed with the necessity of learning something about governmental economy as their first lesson in statecraft. If we don't go to saving we will be like the old darky when asked when he would do if somebody gave him a million dollars. And he replied that he would pay it on his debts as "fast" as it would go. Any state or nation that gets to where it can't pay its debts must fall. History records no exception to the rule.

Just a word personal: My column each week is already being published in 22 papers, and the number is growing every day. I am of course gratified because I always appreciate an opportunity to tell my friends that I still love them and want to let them know what I am doing. I

HEATED CRITICISM.

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Bishop John Taylor of London told an audience here the only thing wrong with the United States is "its buildings are too hot."

While speaking—indoors of course—the bishop wore a heavy dress coat, woolen cassock and breeches, knee length gaiters and rubbers on his shoes.

GRAB BAG.
ARKANSAS CITY, Kas.—Earl Bell and Virgil Seal, having heard of people who catch fish simply by reaching under rocks or sunken logs and grabbing them, decided to try the technique on rabbits.

On hunting, whenever they found a likely looking rock crevice, they made a grab. They bagged seven live rabbits.

DR. MONTGOMERY WOULD BAR ALL BANANAS AND RAISE THEM HERE

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 27 (AP)—Aliming a satirical slap at the economic theorists who have offered depression remedies in the past few years, Dr. R. E. Montgomery, professor of economics at the University of Texas, told an audience here that by barring bananas from the country business would be materially aided.

"There were 119,000,000 bananas eaten in the United States last year," Dr. Montgomery said. "Now two of the industries that have been most depressed in the past few years have been plate glass and soft coal. If we keep foreign bananas out we will have to raise them here."

"Glass houses to raise them in and coal to heat the houses will take all the glass and coal we can produce."

Dr. Montgomery reported the facility with which one of his graduate students solved the problem of overproduction in the oil and shoe industries.

"Over in East Texas we have enough oil to make hundreds of millions of gallons of gasoline," he said. "At the same time our shoe factories are turning millions of pairs of shoes. Now the problem was how to use up both the shoe leather and the gasoline. I gave that to one of my boys and he had the answer almost immediately. All we have to do is make the accelerator buttons on our automobiles out of emery wheel. That'll wear out the shoes and use the gasoline at the same time."

Dr. Montgomery made his impromptu address before the meeting of the member associations of the American Cotton Cooperative association.

WHAT! NO CAKE?
WATERLOO, N. Y.—Sheriff Bert Yells doesn't want to pamper his Seneca county prisoners but he does want to butter their bread.

Citing rising food prices, he asked the board of supervisors to let him spend 22 cents instead of 15 cents a meal for each prisoner.

"I can't put butter on the jail menu unless I have more money," Yells said, explaining he already was giving the prisoners sugar for their beverages. "I don't think that's pampering them."

AFTER 20 YEARS
TROP, N. Y., Jan. 27 (AP)—A purse containing $12 went back today to a Riverside, Calif., woman who lost it on a shopping trip here 20 years ago.

Chief of Police John P. Conroy said Mrs. E. S. Freeman had established ownership by citing the number on an insurance policy in the purse.

The finder, apparently conscience-stricken after two decades, mailed the purse to Chief Conroy with an anonymous note. Among the contents were papers bearing the name of Mrs. Freeman but no address.

HELP WANTED
SPOKANE, Wash., (P)—Lost: A lot of fire hydrants.

An unprecedented snowfall left them buried. So Chief William Payne appealed to citizens to locate and uncover fireplugs before shoveling off their sidewalks. His men haven't time, he said, to go hydrant hunting when answering fire alarms.

How to choke like an expert

Get on to the real "knack" of using your choke correctly this weather, to help you start right off. Naturally your car must be in reasonable shape, and you must have a genuine Winter Blend of gasoline, to "get along" on every cold day, in the following sure, easy way:

- 1 Leave ignition OFF, unless startix-type.
- 2 Keep clutch pedal down. Open hand-throttle about one-third. Pull choke full out, if not automatic. And then—but not before—operate your starter.
- 3 AFTER two or three engine revolutions, switch on the ignition. You should get quick, steady, powerful firing that tells you the starter can rest.
- 3 Start pushing choke in GRADUALLY.

Even in severe cold it's useless to fumble around and start over again so many times that you're scared of a flooded engine and dying battery. Besides you don't want to thin your oil and waste your gasoline by over-choking. That picture over there is an exact pre-view of YOU, getting a hair-trigger start every time, from Special Winter Blend Conoco Bronze. Continental Oil Company
