PRAIRIE STATE AGENCY URGED BY COMMITTEE

LONGTIME REHABILITATION PROGRAM IS ADVOCATED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt urged Congress today to formulate a "long-run" policy for readjusting the agricultural economy of prairie states combating drought and dust storm.

In transmitting a report from his Great Plains Drought committee "for the information" of Congress, the President suggested a federal-state private alliance in a "new economy" based on conservation and effective utilization of water resources.

The committee report stressed the need for a permanent change in farming methods in the drought-devastated prairie region. It proposed creation of a new federal agency to direct the program in cooperation with states and private organizations.

"If economic deterioration of the great plains regions . . . is to be stopped, it will be only because the nation takes the situation in hand promptly, emphatically and completely," said the commission in a 194-page report to the President.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (AP)—The President's great plains committee asked Congress today to set up a special federal agency to direct a vast, longtime rehabilitation program for the prairie states, scene of drought devastation and dust storms.

It called for a permanent change in agricultural methods of the region, with conservation of land and water the principal objectives.

"If economic deterioration of the great plains regions . . . is to be stopped, it will be only because the nation takes the situation in hand promptly, emphatically and completely," said the commission in a 194-page report to the President. He transmitted it to Congress.

The area involved covers much of the land between the Mississippi river and the Rocky mountains from Canada to Mexico. Morris Cook, who recently resigned as rural electrification administrator, is chairman of the committee.

Would Restore Economy. The committee said the problem of the area was "arresting the decline of an agricultural economy

ORLEANS HOLDS HEAD, SURVEYS FIVE DEAD

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 10 (AP)—New Orleans counted five dead, felt its bruises, held its head and surveyed littered streets today in Lenten penitence, its gay Mardi Gras a memory.

As the chimes of old St. Louis Cathedral tolled midnight in the 200-year-old French quarter, the carnival was over.

But the courts of Rex, Mardi Gras ruler, and Comus, one of the most exclusive carnival organizations, danced until dawn in municipal auditorium.

Four persons died in automobile accidents and a negro woman was wounded fatally by an accidental discharge of a pistol in a barroom.

A masker was injured critically in toppling from a third-story gallery in the heart of the French quarter. Five persons were stabbed, including a policeman, and the policeman inflicted a revolver wound on the negro who slashed him.

I Heard . . .

Frank Hunt, Joe Vincent and V. L. Boyles getting limbered up for the forthcoming tall story fishing contest—Garnet Reeves talking in terms of bottom hole pressure, underreaming and other oilfield terms after attending the API meeting last night—George Bulla predicting a baseball comeback—Ernie Voss raving about the weather which has been keeping him off the golf course.

15,000 Face Quiz In Slaying of Beauty

Face down the body lay, arms under chest as though death had overtaken the girl in a last desperate effort to raise herself from the ground. A sprinkling of sleet was tell-tale evidence that the body had lain there several hours. Stab wounds and bruises, the disheveled hair and clothing told of the grim struggle she had waged with some assailant. And in her hand was clutched a tuft of brown fur that launched the search for a man with a fur-trimmed coat.

Victim of the brutal attack, Mary Ellen Babcock, left, 18-year-old high school graduate, had gone with a girl to attend a wake the evening before the body was found in a vacant Buffalo, N. Y., field. To trace killer, police were ready to question 15,000 men in the two precincts near her home.

Advocates of repeal charged waging had undermined the morals of Texas and was crippling business in all areas where tracks operated. Opponents of repeal said it would not stop betting and if a little investigation behind the room doors of hotels was conducted "you might find some things than race track waging."

Rep. J. E. Winfree of Houston, who said he was a "good a Baptist as any one here," argued that horse race betting had invited investments which now totaled millions of dollars, and urged tracks be given four more years before they were put out of business.

API MEETING ATTENDED BY 300 PERSONS

The Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute opened its 1937 program of activities last night with C. O. Parsons, vice-president of the Halliburton Oil Well Cementing company of Duncan, Okla., discussing methods of plugging off water. He also showed three reels of moving pictures taken in Texas fields.

More than 300 persons attended the meeting, the largest gathering in more than a year. The program opened with the "Good Deed Daddies," three boys from the LeFors Boy Scout troop presenting strange music on a clarinet, wash board and guitar. Billy Thompson made a clarinet do tricks and also played the bazooka. Elmer Husband picked a mean guitar and Robert Bracken scratched music from a wash board and accessories.

C. E. Sturdevant presided and reminded those present that the chapter was five years old last night. He announced the annual meeting of the Mid-Continent chapter of the API to be held in Tulsa, Okla., on Feb. 25 and 26. It was voted to ask that the 1938 meeting be held in Amarillo. Max Mahaffey and Jay Traylor were named on a committee to "start the ball rolling."

Mr. Parsons, who started in the oil business as a roughneck and worked his way to a production superintendent, was the guest speaker.

Millionaire Is Middle-Aged and Goes to College

NORMAN, Okla., Feb. 10 (AP)—The youngsters no longer stare at Dr. J. N. Harber, middle-aged millionaire, in the classrooms of the University of Oklahoma, but they give him "plenty of competition."

"Oh, yes, I like it here," the physician who received his degree more than 20 years ago, said today, "but it's pretty hard for me to get started again." Dr. Harper enrolled in a heavy course last week as an unclassified student after he resigned as mayor of Seminole, Okla., a post he had held for 10 years. He doesn't know how long he'll be here.

RACE BETTING ACT QUAKES IN LEGAL BOOTS

OPPONENTS FLY LAW IN LEGISLATIVE HEARING

AUSTIN, Feb. 10 (AP)—Horse race betting tottered on its legal pedestal today, denounced before the state legislature by clergymen, laymen and lawmakers as linking Texas with gambling and crime.

Foes of legalized race-track gambling claimed victory in the first round of a bitter controversy over repeal of the pari-mutuel wagering law of 1933. They pointed to the overwhelming vote by which the state affairs committee last night reported on a repeal bill, thereby heading the measure for quick floor consideration by the House of Representatives.

The committee's action was preceded by barrages of verbal artillery from opposing factions. Foes Talk For Hours.

For hours the repealists denounced the law as putting the state in league with gambling and crime, while friends of racing denied the charges and argued many benefits had resulted from its stimulation under the statute.

No one could forecast accurately the final result. Should repeal be favored by the House of Representatives, where it was believed to have the greatest strength, it still would have to run the gamut of the Senate.

Governor James V. Allred has called for knocking out the law, as injurious to the best interests of the state. He made similar recommendations two years ago but the matter died in a maze of parliamentary maneuvering.

Morals Undermined. Advocates of repeal charged waging had undermined the morals of Texas and was crippling business in all areas where tracks operated. Opponents of repeal said it would not stop betting and if a little investigation behind the room doors of hotels was conducted "you might find some things than race track waging."

Rep. J. E. Winfree of Houston, who said he was a "good a Baptist as any one here," argued that horse race betting had invited investments which now totaled millions of dollars, and urged tracks be given four more years before they were put out of business.

NOTED POET DECLARED MENTALLY INCOMPETENT

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP)—His memory impaired because of advanced age, Edwin Markham, author of the poem, "The Man With the Hoe," will have a committee of guardians to protect his interests in his remaining years.

His white hair gleaming and his patriarchal beard flowing down over a Windsor tie, the 84-year-old poet went into supreme court in Brooklyn yesterday to hear a jury declare him mentally incompetent.

Classing four volumes of his poems, he listened attentively as two physicians testified he was suffering from encephalitis, a disease which often causes lapses of memory. Others, including his sister-in-law, Miss Mary Murphy, told of his inability to manage his estate.

Last fall Markham suffered a stroke while returning from a trip to Mexico.

SUIT AGAINST SANTA FE TO BE APPEALED

The lawsuit of Edgar F. Smith against the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railroad, seeking damages for personal injuries, will be carried to the Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo.

Counsel for Smith indicated this when Judge W. R. Ewing, in district court here, overruled a plea of privilege filed by the plaintiff, pointing out that Smith was a non-resident of Texas.

The court also dismissed the case of H. W. Quarles against the Jones-Everett Machine Co., when attorneys for both sides announced that a settlement had been reached.

Lewis Meeting With Important Strategy Board

PAUPERS CUT OFF LISTS OF GRAY COUNTY

DETROIT, Feb. 10—John L. Lewis, director-general of strikes against General Motors automotive units, and the board of strategy of the United Automobile Workers of America met today in a possibly significant session that delayed the opening of the thirteenth assembly of Governor Frank Murphy's strike peace conference.

The board of strategy, once empowered to call a general strike of all union members employed by General Motors, has the authority to approve a proposal for settlement of the bitter dispute that has halted the corporation's passenger car production.

Consider New Proposals. Negotiators working in constant communication with Washington sought in today's conference to close the last gap separating positions of the union and General Motors representatives who have explored a number of settlement possibilities.

Before the conferees in today's meeting it was learned authoritatively, were proposals based on the recent agreement that ended the Libby-Owens-Ford glass strike at Toledo. This provided for recognition of the Glass Workers' Federation as bargaining spokesman for its members only.

The automobile workers' demand that the union be recognized as sole bargaining agency in at least 20 of General Motors' 69 automotive plants has been the stumbling block in peace negotiations.

Hopes for settlement of the far-flung strikes rose today after the governor announced that "not a great deal separates" the positions of the opposing leaders.

Situation Clarified. Just after midnight when the previous meeting ended after more than three hours of discussion, a source close to the Parley said it was proceeding "along more definite lines" and that the situation had been "clarified considerably."

Unofficial information was that the one gap still to be closed was the issue of the extent to which General Motors would recognize the United Automobile Workers of America as the collective bargaining agency of its workers.

President Roosevelt revealed yesterday afternoon that he had talked last week with the heads of the two

All Fathers And Sons At Lefors Asked To Banquet

The annual LeFors father and son banquet will be held in the High School gymnasium tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock. All fathers are being urged to attend and to bring their sons, or sons with them. If one does not have a son, he is invited to bring a boy anyway.

The fathers and sons will meet in the auditorium before they assemble in the gymnasium. At that time men who do not have boys with them will be given the opportunity of selecting a boy from the group of boys who do not have fathers to take them.

Although the LeFors Boy Scouts are sponsoring the banquet, it will not be necessary for a boy to be a Scout in order to attend. In fact, it is hoped that most of the boys who are not Scouts may attend. There will be no age limit on the boys.

The program will consist of several numbers by the Boy Scout band under the direction of Bandmaster W. J. Finley, a few numbers by the "Good Deed Daddies," a Court of Honor under the direction of the Adobe Walls council, and a fifteen minute talk by one of the best inspirational speakers and Scout authorities in the Panhandle.

There will be no long-winded speeches, it was said.

The Court of Honor will be a record breaker. It will be the largest Court of Honor ever held in the history of the Adobe Walls Council, in which only one troop participated. There will be four Eagle Scouts, seven Life Scouts, and 16 Star Scouts to receive their certificates at the Court of Honor, in addition to numerous other advancements and awards. There will be awarded 6-year veteran badges, and 114 merit badges will be handed out.

Four-Year Old Gives $7.50 To Flood Victims

He figured he had all the comforts of home he wanted for nothing—so, he told his mother he thought it would be a good idea to take the money out of his bank and send it to some little boy in the flood zone who needed it more than he.

So, Mrs. McGahey took David downtown yesterday. He had put the money in a match box. He walked up to the box office of the LaNora theater and turned it over to the cashier, saying that he wished to give the money to the Red Cross.

The money was turned over to the local Red Cross chapter by the theater management, and today it was on its way to the flood zone. Incidentally, four-year-old David was pretty happy about it all today.

PLANE SINKS--FAMED DIVER GOES TO SPOT

SHIP TO BE RAISED BY DERRICK FROM BOTTOM

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10 (AP)—Rescue crews labored today to recover the bodies of eleven persons killed in the mysterious crash of a big airliner into San Francisco bay.

Reports from the scene of the inexplicable tragedy near Mills Field, municipal airport south of here, said attempts were made to raise the plane, which overturned as it struck the water last night.

Passengers aboard the plane which plunged into San Francisco bay: Mark Fontana Sr., 57, San Francisco, wealthy food manufacturer and yachtsman. John A. Grennan Sr., Berkeley, Calif., real estate man. Miss Gertrude Grennan, 24, his daughter.

Rodgers Meyer, Ridgewood, N. J., representative of a New York underwear manufacturing concern. J. Franklin Gilmore, San Francisco, vice president of the Enterprise Oil Burner Company.

H. O. Frelander, Los Angeles, president of a casting company. Myron Lorge, Los Angeles, automobile salesman.

Remo Margaroni, San Bruno, Calif., operator of a roadside eating place. Pilot A. R. "Tommy" Thompson, Burbank, Calif., veteran flier. Capt. Joe De Cesaro, North Hollywood. Stewardess Ruth Kimmel, Alameda, Calif.

Shifting tides sucked the wreckage of an air transport, which plunged into San Francisco bay with eleven occupants, completely under the murky waters early today.

The protruding tail of the craft, sighted about five hours after it crashed around 9 o'clock last night, sank from sight as a marine derrick and a deep sea diver were preparing to go to the spot.

Observers expressed belief the outgoing tide, which reached low ebb at 5:15 a. m., pulled the 12-ton United Airlines transport under the water.

B. M. Doolin, San Francisco airport manager, said: "There is no possibility any one on board is alive."

About 10 feet of the tail was protruding when the wreckage was sighted about 2:30 a. m., lying one mile from the South San Francisco shore and about 14 miles from Mills Field, San Francisco municipal airport, where it was to have landed.

Water 15 Feet Deep. The nose of the plane rammed into the muddy bottom of the bay in

BBC APOLOGIZES FOR MRS. SIMPSON INCIDENT

LONDON, Feb. 10 (AP)—The British Broadcasting corporation, red about its corporate ears, maintained an embarrassed silence today on the linking of Mrs. Wallis Simpson's name with a musical tag line "and we all have sex appeal."

Explanation piled on explanation as to how the incident occurred during the broadcasting of a program entitled "Masculine Fame on Parade," but none came from the BBC.

At the end of the program, however, an announcer stepped to the microphone and declared: "We apologize to all of our listeners for the unfortunate lapse from taste which occurred earlier in the program."

It was while a male chorus sang "And We All Have Sex Appeal," that listeners were startled to hear a masculine voice exclaim:

"Mrs. Simpson!" Several newspapers attributed the slip to John Rorke, employed by the BBC as a radio artist since 1922.

"It's all a terrible mistake," Rorke was said to have moaned. It seemed the words just slipped out. There was not, he said, any explanation.

Five Club Programs Based On Literature Of Today

Texas Day Program Of Culture Club Presented

All based on current literature, programs of five federated study clubs here yesterday were widely varied in theme and treatment.

Texas day was observed in Twentieth Century Culture Club in a program associated with that group's course on modern Spanish-American.

Legends of Texas, largely taken from Frank Dobie's collections, were related. Mrs. Carl Boston told a number of the tales in witty and interesting fashion.

Mrs. Marvin Lewis conducted a Texas history drill in which each member answered a question. Unusual facts about Texas were given in response to roll call.

SPANISH-AMERICAN SOUTHWEST IS TOPIC

Spanish influence in the Southwest as seen by a Spanish-American woman was the subject for Twentieth Century club. The club met with Mrs. R. B. Fisher and Mrs. J. M. Fitzgerald as leader of a review of Nina Ottero's "Old Spain in Our Southwest."

Mrs. I. B. Hughey sketched the life of the author, descendant of an old Spanish family prominent in politics and society of New Mexico, and the first woman colonel on a New Mexico governor's staff.

Origin of Spanish names in New Mexico, Spanish customs still in effect in this region, and Spanish influence on frontier life were discussed by Mrs. Fitzgerald in her review. She concluded by reading a Spanish legend from the book.

FORUM LEARNS OF WATERFRONT AND NEWS

Far from the leisurely southwest, New York's waterfront was the subject of an interesting talk to Twentieth Century Forum, meeting with Mrs. A. D. Aitken, Mrs. R. F. Dirksen was program leader, and discussed the story from Fortune magazine.

Mrs. Max Mahaffey and Mrs. D. D. Cochran, assistants with the program, reviewed another story detailing the organization and activities of the Associated Press, international news-gathering agency.

In a short business meeting the club discussed proposals for a year-round recreation program sponsored by Pampa clubs.

FOUR NOVELS OF FOUR YEARS LISTED

Current American novels were discussed by Child Study club at the home of Mrs. John Hessey. Mrs. H. McBee, leader, prefaced the program with a brief parliamentary drill.

Mrs. Lee Harrah reviewed Pulitzer prize winning novels of the past four years: The Store, Stripling; Lamb in His Bosom; Miller; Now in November; Johnson, and Honey in the Horn. Davis.

PAMPA COUPLE MARRY MONDAY

Miss Maurine Pearce Is The Bride of Mr. Theisen

Mr. and Mrs. Roy O. Pearce announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Maurine, to Oscar Theisen, Monday afternoon in Arnett, Okla. The Methodist minister at Arnett read the ceremony, which was witnessed by Mrs. Bob Dorsey and Miss Louise Theisen, sisters of the groom.

The bride was graduated in 1935 from Pampa high school, where she was a member of the pep squad, the Glee club, and the girls' quartet. She has been employed at the telephone office here.

Mr. Theisen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Theisen of Lipscomb. He is a graduate of Lipscomb high school, and is with the Texas Elf Carbon company now. The couple is at home in Pampa.

New Members To Be Welcomed at Party In Christian Church

A program will be given tonight at 7:30 at the First Christian church which will include a welcome and reception service in honor of those who came into the church during the meeting which closed Sunday night. The program will consist mainly of musical numbers, both vocal and instrumental.

The minister, John S. Mullen, will give a short talk to the new members. Following this, light refreshments will be served. All the old members as well as all friends of the church or those interested in the church in any way, are cordially invited to attend.

V. F. W. AUXILIARY

Reports on the recent meeting at Amarillo, when the state president was the speaker, were heard in a business meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary last evening at the Legion hut.

Plans were also discussed for a bridge party next month.

Breining was read by Mrs. N. F. Maddux, listing other "best" novels. She explained the popularity of Anthony Adverse, Gone With the Wind, and Green Light, all public favorites.

Plans for representation at the Girl Scout training course today were made in the business session.

Refreshments were served to members and three guests, Mmes. Joe Hodge, W. C. House, and Henry.

TURKISH WRITER'S BOOK IS REVIEWED

El Progreso club, which was given a glimpse of modern Turkey at its last meeting, continued its travel programs with study of a book written by a Turkish poet-patriot, Mrs. J. M. McDonald presented the review of Turkish Ordeal, by Halibe Edib, with the assistance of Mrs. Charles Thut.

Mrs. W. M. Craven was hostess at city hall club room. Routine club business was transacted.

DO-SE-DO CLUB GIVES BIRTHDAY PARTY TUESDAY

Fred Cullum Is The Dinner-Dance Honoree

One of the usual good times of the Do-Se-Do club was combined with a birthday surprise for a member, Fred Cullum, in a dinner and dance at the Country club last evening.

Frank Foster acted as toastmaster at the dinner. He presented a handsome cake to Mr. Cullum, but it proved to be of cardboard, and the packages inside it contained toys and other gifts of humorous implication. Later in the evening, two real birthday cakes were given Mr. Cullum.

Square dancing to music by the Guthrie string orchestra entertained the crowd of 65 members and guests for the remainder of the evening. Out-of-town guests included F. J. McLendon, W. H. McLendon, Mrs. Kate Harp, Frank Isbell, and Isbell Vaughn, all of Rockwell, relatives and house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cullum.

Lent Begins With Special Services At Church Here

Lenten devotions will begin in Holy Souls Catholic church this evening, the Rev. Joseph Wonderly, pastor, announces. The Ash Wednesday services this evening will consist of the Way of the Cross, benediction, and distribution of ashes.

Evening services will continue each Wednesday through Lent. Every Friday evening the Rev. Eugene A. Mauch, O. S. A., of Price Memorial college in Amarillo, will deliver a sermon, and benediction will follow. All these services will start at 8 o'clock.

Children of the parish are urged to attend Saturday morning masses at 7:30, and the Way of the Cross which will follow especially for them. The regular children's instruction class on Sunday afternoons will be followed by the Way of the Cross at 4:45, and benediction at 5 o'clock.

On next Sunday Father Wonderly will go to Canadian to say mass, and Father Dvorak of White Deer will conduct the 8 o'clock mass here, as is customary on second Sundays.

Charter Members On P-TA Program

Founders Day Noted At Meeting of Two Units

Three members of the Mothers' club which evolved into the Pampa Parent-Teacher associations, were among honor guests of Woodrow Wilson association yesterday afternoon, when founders day was observed with grandparents as special guests.

Mmes. J. E. Ward, Z. H. Mundy and Mrs. E. A. Shackleton were the charter members, and each had a part on the program. Mrs. Mundy pronounced the invocation. Mrs. Ward lighted candles on the cake as she told of 40 years of progressive service since the National Parent-Teacher congress was founded, and also of the movement's start in Pampa; Mrs. Shackleton was a hostess for the afternoon.

Mrs. J. L. Lester paid tribute to the national founders as she completed the candle lighting. She birthday cake centered a table decorated in blue and white. A log cabin scene was arranged on the piano to carry out the theme.

Old favorite songs were sung by the group and Miss Hope Wells sang as a solo, "When I Grow Too Old to Dream." Third grade students danced a minuet. Mary George gave a reading, with Mrs. George Abbott acting as a grandmother. Each grandmother present was given a corsage.

In the business meeting Mmes. Charlie Mabel, W. B. Murphy, and Annie Daniels were selected as nominating committee to present a list of officers next month.

Plans were made to entertain the County Parent-Teacher council on March 6, and the following committees for that occasion were named: Hospitality, Mmes. Murphy and A. L. Burge; program, Mrs. Bob McCoy and Miss Wells; invitation, Mmes. T. H. Blanton and Bob Curry; menu, Mmes. T. B. Rogers, L. E. Keck, C. C. Ford, and Miss Louise Melaise.

The attendance record was a tie between Mrs. George Souden's and Eugene Seastrand's room. They will share use of the radio awarded by the association monthly to the winning room.

STUDY COURSE GRADES TOLD IN BAKER UNIT. Grades made in the state study course by the four members who completed it this year were announced in a meeting of B. M. Baker Parent-Teacher association yesterday.

terday, Mrs. V. L. Hobbs, vice-president, received the highest grade and a mark of excellent on her paper.

A large number attended the meeting. The nominating committee was appointed and asked to make its report next month. Members are Mrs. L. H. Anderson, Mrs. C. E. Simmons, and J. A. Meek.

Plans were completed for the annual Dad's night program March 12. The regular meeting in March will be dedicated to fathers and grandparents.

Provisions of the child labor amendment which the association is supporting, and the plan for a 12-year school course were explained by Supt. R. B. Fisher in a short talk.

A founders day pageant was presented by Herman Jones' room, and Mrs. Anderson spoke of the meaning of founders day. Accordion solos by Ernestine Holmes, songs by the choral club under direction of Miss Evelyn Shanklin, and group singing completed the program.

Third grade room members were in charge of the social hour, serving refreshments.

ITALIANS ACCUSED. VALENCIA, Feb. 10 (AP)—The Spanish Socialist government today flatly accused Italian warships of aiding in the insurgent capture of Malaga by preventing the government fleet from steaming to help the beleaguered port. The government declared Italian warships of the type of the cruisers Muzio Attendolo and Armando Diaz maneuvered in such a way as to prevent the Socialist ships "from reaching their objective."

OIL INDUSTRY DEPLORES ANY NEW TAX ACT

LOCATIONS ARE HELD DOWN BECAUSE OF TAX FEARS

BY ALFRED WALL.
TULSA, Okla., Feb. 10 (AP)—Leaders in the oil industry tempered assertions today that business was good with the hope taxes would go no higher.

No one here would be quoted directly on the subject but there was a general feeling of uneasiness lest the increasing prosperity of the petroleum business might make it the target for new taxes in oil producing states.

Agitation in the Oklahoma legislature to increase the gross production tax from five to 10 per cent was one disquieting factor that got considerable attention from oil men here. In some quarters the higher tax threat was held as possibly responsible for the small number of oil well starts in the state last week, a total of 29, the smallest number in more than a year.

"What is this nice new 12-cent a barrel price increase going to profit us," asked one producer, "if we have to pay out more and more of our receipts for taxes?"

In Texas a production tax bill was pending. Another new high in the national production of crude oil, 3,220,750 barrels daily as computed by the American Petroleum Institute, was not unexpected, state allowances being what they are, and those who follow the producing end closely were gratified to note the industry was continuing to draw on crude inventories despite the heavy production.

King Zulu Leads Mardi Gras Fun

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 9 (AP)—Yelling, dancing, singing crowds filled all downtown streets Tuesday, cheering Mardi Gras parades and maskers.

Festivities were opened with the hilarious parade of King Zulu, mythical ruler of the Negro carnival.

Rex, Lord of Misrule and King of all Carnival, followed. There were scores of smaller processions.

Rex, this year A. B. Patterson, president of the New Orleans Public Service, greeted his queen, Miss Jessie Wing Janvier, at the staid Boston club as thousands roared approval. Miss Janvier is the debutante daughter of Judge and Mrs. George Janvier. Selection as queen is the city's greatest social honor.

King Zulu almost stole the show. He landed at the oyster pile on the industrial canal and got into trouble right away. Nobody could find his floats.

A dusky courtier pulled a boat whistle for 20 minutes.

Somebody finally rounded up the floats and the king moved over to greet the women members of the court. Mock Zulu police attended him.

The Negroes threw coconuts to the crowd as favors.

SOIL CONSERVATION TO BE MEETING SUBJECT

A program dealing with the various phases of soil conservation will be presented in Miami high school auditorium Wednesday night, February 10. The program will be in charge of B. W. McGinnis, associate regional conservator and D. A. Dobkins of the Amarillo office. The program is being sponsored by the high school vocational agriculture department and the Miami Lions club. A number of members of the Amarillo Lions club are expected to attend the meeting.

The program will concern the various practices used in soil and moisture conservation work in this area. A large number of slides showing work that has been done will be presented. Work of a similar nature to various phases of the new government program such as terracing, contouring, tree planting, dam building, and pasture improvement will be shown and discussed.

TROUBLES NEVER COME SINGLY
FEMEROY—Dr. C. A. Poindecker received a call to attend a maternity case at the Meigs county infirmary emergency hospital. The patient was Mrs. Russel McDaniels, a flood refugee.

Heavy rains had mired the roads. Water stalled the physician's car. He slogged an foot. The mud pulled his shoes off, and he arrived at the hospital barefooted.

Then he delivered twins, a boy and a girl.

King Farouk, whose recall to Egypt is expected, has returned his studies in England, will return to Great Britain next summer to renew personal friendships and tour industrial centers.

Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminators, cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Now For Quins Rocking Chair Race

What? That cameraman again! Wide-eyed, her tiny mouth expressing feigned amazement, Marie appears to be saying just that. Well, anyhow she's ready for action. Arms buried to the elbows in nurse's mittens, her legs crossed theatrically, Marie strikes a stunning pose. Meanwhile, her three sisters register different interest. Cecile, for instance, standing behind the chairs, takes this as just another picture. Yvonne looks up from her nursery rhymes but seems a bit impatient. Only Emilie shows more than casual interest. But after all it's an old game for the quins, this photo business. "Really, we've had our pictures taken hundreds of times."

Yvonne Puts Teeth in Playing

Tying a ribbon may be simple enough for you, but Yvonne finds it a real job in which to sink one's teeth. At least that's the impression of this striking picture as Yvonne, her eyes squinting, maneuvers her tiny fingers to adjust the ribbon on dolly's bonnet. Dolly, incidentally, is the perfect picture of impassivity.

Associated Press Case Before Court

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (AP)—Government attorneys came before the Supreme Court today to reply to arguments of John W. Davis that the national labor relations act violated the constitutional guarantee of a free press.

"I assert that this act, as applied to the Associated Press," he said, "is a direct, palpable, undisguised attack on the freedom of the press. "Those who publish and print the news must have the right to choose the people by whom the news is to be written before it is printed, for you cannot divorce in this field the author from his production."

"You cannot have a Dickens novel without Dickens. . . What is written is the news, and the man who writes it is utterly inseparable from it."

EX-CONVICT IS QUESTIONED IN MATTSON CASE

BROTHERS TO TRY TO IDENTIFY MAN IN CUSTODY

SEATTLE, Feb. 10 (AP)—An ex-convict, questioned by state and city police and federal agents for 10 hours in connection with the kidnaping of 10-year old Charles Mattson, will be confronted today by William and Muriel Mattson, 16 and 14 years, the victim's brother and sister.

A high police official, who declined to be quoted, said Miss Virginia Chatfield, 16, Seattle, the third witness, also would seek to identify the ex-convict in a police lineup.

The official said the man, who gave him name as H. A. Post, 32, when booked after questioning, was a "dead ringer" for the Mattson kidnaper.

Post, the official said, definitely was in Tacoma from December 21 to 26 but claimed he was in three different places when the abduction occurred on December 27.

The prisoner, also known as James G. McDonald, denied any connection with the kidnaping during his 10-hour grilling, which was to be resumed later today.

He said he was 32 years old, weighed 155 pounds, was single, born in New Jersey and was a seaman. Post also said he was five feet 11 inches tall but he appeared about three inches shorter.

When officers brought him from the captain of detectives' office, Post was covered with a hood, but it was removed when he was booked on an open charge at the jailer's office. His face, which he shielded with his hat, was pale.

The prisoner, a former San Quentin convict, denied knowledge of or connection with the kidnaping and death of the boy, whose nude and battered body was found near Everett, Wash., January 11.

Chief William Cole of the Washington state patrol, who ordered the man's arrest, said McDonald answered the description of the kidnaper and that his movements before and after the kidnaping December 27 were suspicious.

"It may be just another false lead," Cole said, "but it looks hot to me."

TROTZKY VOICE IS NOT HEARD IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP)—Failure of efforts to bring Leon Trotsky's voice by telephone from Mexico City sent some 6,000 of his supporters home in disappointment early today, forced to be content with a reading of a fiery address the Russian exile airmailed in advance.

The former Soviet commissar of war sweepingly denounced the Kremlin in his prepared speech and dramatically offered to surrender to Soviet executioners if an impartial commission found him guilty of crimes imputed to him by Moscow courts.

He predicted inevitable doom for the "new aristocracy" of the Stalin regime, and reiterated his innocence of what he called "absurd" and "frightful" conspiracies attributed to him in the recent trial of 17 Russian, 13 of whom were executed.

Only confused sounds came from the amplifiers in the hippodrome at 10:10 p. m. when Trotsky was to begin speaking.

Telephone company officials here said they only knew that there were difficulties on the line south of the Mexican border.

OIL AND GAS ARE TAXED IN REVENUE BILL

SULPHUR AND CARBON BLACK TAXES RAISED

AUSTIN, Feb. 10 (AP)—A combination pension liberalization and natural resources tax bill came to the House of Representatives today on a favorable report from its state affairs committee.

Rep. J. E. Winfree of Houston, chairman of the sub-committee which drafted the proposal, estimated it would increase the number of the pensions rolls about 65 per cent and raise the average grant substantially.

The bill would boost the tax on oil from 2 1/2 to 4 per cent of value, on carbon black from one-twelfth of a cent to a cent a pound, on natural gas from three per cent of value to one cent per thousand feet, and on sulphur from $1.03 to $2 a ton. The additional annual revenue was calculated by Winfree at "between $12,000,000 and $15,000,000."

Under terms of the proposal, the minimum pension grant would be $18 a month, $9 from the state and $9 from the federal government. The present average is less than $16. A person might have property with taxable value up to $3,000, cash up to $300, net income up to $30 a month and gifts from children up to $200 a year and still be eligible for the $18 minimum.

Other proposals to increase the oil tax were under discussion in public hearings before the House revenue and taxation committee. Some representatives sought to raise it to eight or 10 per cent. The committee hoped to reach a vote tomorrow. C. J. Tucker of Wichita Falls, head of a company operating 500 stripper wells averaging less than two barrels each per day, told the group a large increase in the oil tax would drive his company out of business and prevent recovery of considerable oil reserves in his section. Protests were received from numerous other independent operators.

The House liquor traffic committee voted an 11 to 5 favorable report on a bill by Rep. Troy Kern of Cooper to prohibit liquor advertising. Advocates said such advertisements were "degrading to the morals of our youth."

DISSATISFIED HEIRS TO KING RANCH SUE

HOUSTON, Feb. 10 (AP)—Two dissatisfied heirs to the King ranch brought their fight for a court-appointed receiver for the property to federal court today.

The heirs, Edwin K. and Alice B. Atwood of Chicago, petitioned that the management be shifted from the trustees to a receiver. Their petition charged Robert J. Kleberg Jr. and other trustees with mismanagement and contended the Atwoods did not receive the property willed them by Mrs. Richard King, who died in 1925.

Judge T. M. Kennerly yesterday dismissed on the grounds he lacked jurisdiction a supplementary bill naming all heirs as defendants. The plaintiffs are grandchildren of the late Richard King, steamboat pilot and Civil war blockade runner on the Rio Grande. He founded the ranch in 1852. He died in 1885, after which Mrs. King and her son-in-law, the late Robert J. Kleberg Sr., managed the property. Other trustees named as defendants were Congressman Richard Kleberg and Richard King, grandsons of Captain King; Caesar Kleberg, John D. Finnegan, and Sam Ragland.

Other proposals to increase the oil tax were under discussion in public hearings before the House revenue and taxation committee. Some representatives sought to raise it to eight or 10 per cent. The commit-

ASKS JUNIOR COLLEGE
AUSTIN, Feb. 10 (AP)—Senator G. H. Nelson of Lubbock has introduced a bill authorizing establishment of a state-supported junior college at Big Spring. The bill would amend civil statutes so that two independent school districts having a scholastic population of not less than 7,000 and a minimum of 400 students in high school could levy taxes for the building and maintenance of a union junior college.

Last winter's extreme cold weather, coupled with three successive dry seasons, caused considerable damage to fruit in southeastern Nebraska.

Don't Sleep When Gas Presses Heart

If you want to really GET RID OF GAS and terrible bloating, don't expect to do it by just doctoring your stomach with harsh, irritating alkalies and "gas tablets." Most GAS is lodged in the stomach and upper intestine and is due to old poisonous matter in the constipated bowels that are loaded with ill-causing bacteria.

If your constitution is of long standing, enormous quantities of dangerous bacteria accumulate. Then your digestion is upset. GAS often presses heart and lungs, making life miserable. You can't eat or sleep. Your head aches. Your back aches. Your complexion is sallow and pimply. Your breath is foul. You are a sick, groggy, wretched, unhappy person. YOUR SYSTEM IS POISONED.

Thousands of sufferers have found Adierka the quick, scientific way to rid their systems of harmful bacteria. Adierka rids you of gas and cleanses your system of BACTERIA, worms and lower bowels. Give your bowels a REAL cleansing with Adierka. Get rid of GAS. Adierka does not grip—it is not habit forming. Fatherese Drug Store and Richards Drug Co., Inc. Adv.

DO YOU HAVE A CHILD IN SCHOOL?

Your child in school is just beginning to use his eyes for close, concentrated seeing. If you fail to provide him with good light for studying at home, he may do his eyes permanent harm.

If your child seems backward—or doesn't get ahead as rapidly as you think he should—the fault may not lie with him or his teacher. Poor light in classroom or home study room has accounted for many a "backward" scholar.

Proper Light Protects Eyes

One school child in every five already has impaired vision. At college age, two in five are either wearing glasses or should be. Eyestrain takes a heavy toll in human energy and well-being. Science now tells us that much of this appalling waste comes from improper and insufficient light.

Give Your Child This SIGHT-SAVING LAMP

Here is good news for parents: This entirely new scientifically designed lamp is called the L.E.S. Better Sight Lamp. Revolutionary in principle, this new lamp gives six to ten times as much useful light as an ordinary lamp. There is no glare—because the bulb is hidden in an opal glass bowl. The shade has a special inside finish to reflect the maximum light. Its open top adds the indirect light so necessary in preventing eyestrain. Get your child one. Sold at all better lamp stores in table and floor models.

NOW IS THE TIME

Someone has said that a college graduate should go to school again after he has been a graduate for 10 years, that by the end of a decade, he has forgotten his "books" to a large degree.

Not only should such a man go back to school after 10 years in the workaday world; he should keep on trying to learn more and more, year after year, through a conscious effort. The wisest thing any man or woman can do is to keep on being a student all of his or her life whether he or she ever studied at college or not.

Many of the world's wisest men never had an opportunity of setting foot upon a college campus in their youth. But they had the urge to learn, and learned.

Nowadays, facilities are so near at hand in most communities, we have little difficulty in becoming students, if we wish to become students, whether we are 8 or 80.

DANGEROUS WIDTH

Arnold H. Vey, state traffic engineer for New Jersey, has been studying accidents on New Jersey highways and has learned some surprising things. The principal one of these was the fact that narrow roads seem to be safer than wide ones.

Two-lane highways, he said, have fewer accidents than three-lane highways, and three-lane highways have fewer accidents than four-lane highways.

On a two-lane road, the motorist doesn't try to pass the car ahead until he is sure that the road is clear. On a three-lane road, he is less careful. Give him four lanes, apparently, and he is apt to go weaving all over the place, regardless of traffic conditions.

Engineers can do their level best to give us safe highways. But until they find a way of giving us safer drivers, the traffic problem will still be acute.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—Mr. Robert H. Jackson suddenly has become a source of acute pain and considerable alarm among the so-called leaders of the legal profession, whose conceptions of the Constitution and the supreme court pattern after those of the American Liberty League.

Jackson is the lawyer who recently was made head of the anti-trust division of the Department of Justice—a fact which doesn't assuage any fears. And the news is getting around that he also is an important but unobtrusive member of the inner circle of presidential advisers.

Worst and immediately to the point, Jackson has just warned his legal brethren that if they keep on cluttering up the path of national progress, they may lose their all-important monopoly on the supreme court through appointment of laymen to the court by "some radical administration."

That was part of a speech at the annual dinner of the New York Bar Association, in which he took the hide of the American Bar Association and its dominating legal philosophy with perhaps more force and finesse than had ever before been applied to the job.

The attack was a symbolic phase of a widespread revolt against the "reactionary" A. B. A. The revolt heads up in the National Lawyers Guild, of which Jackson and many other New Deal lawyers are members.

Delegates representing more than 1,000 "liberal" lawyers, including senators, governors, and judges, will meet in Washington this month to organize formally, attack the "bourbonism" of the A. B. A., and espouse the Brandeis conception of lawyers as public servants rather than mere hired mercenaries.

Frank P. Walsh is national president of the N. L. G., and Harry T. Hunt, special legal adviser to the Secretary of the Interior, is national vice president and head of the Washington chapter.

Much more will be heard of Jackson. He was an outstanding trial lawyer in Buffalo, N. Y., and a leader in upstate Democratic politics who is being promoted in certain influential places to succeed Herbert Lehman as governor of New York.

As general counsel for the Bureau of Internal Revenue, he devised the intercorporate dividend tax, and tried the big tax case against Andrew W. Mellon. He was made a special assistant to the SEC to try the Electric Bond and Share case involving the holding company act, and was head of the D. J.'s taxation section under Attorney General Cummings before being assigned to anti-trust cases.

He has joined up with the celebrated legal brain trust team of Ben Cohen and Thomas G. Corcoran which has drafted a large share of New Deal legislation.

"We lawyers have produced a paralyzing complexity of government that frustrates democratic control," Jackson declared. "The most subtle subverter of free government is a baffling complexity."

"It seemed last fall that the American Bar Association identified itself pretty thoroughly with Maine and Vermont. . . . Is our profession a public servant or a public nuisance?"

"No other people have submitted so generally to lawyer leadership. We have held all the judicial and many of the legislative and executive offices."

The new marriage trend will make it hard for police to determine whether the disappearance of a baby is a kidnapping or an elopement.

TEX'S TOPICS

This being Boy Scout Week it just occurred to us that something should be said here about the young fellows who are going to take over our city government next Saturday. . . . Those kids are a versatile lot.

They can live in the open and rough it to a fare-you-well—and they do. . . . The Boy Scouts of Pampa go out into the wilds of nature at least once a month, far from the advantages of civilization and the comforts of home. They may spend a couple of days and nights that way, living under the sky and doing for themselves just as the old pioneers used to do.

That brings a point to mind. These youngsters can do a mighty good job of living like that. But, how many men are there today who could equal the performance? Most modern men are sissies when it comes to really roughing it. . . . They must have all the modern conveniences of the 1937 home at their finger-tips or they'll squawk about it.

I'll wager a three-day-old cookie against a bent banana that there isn't within the city limits of Pampa a man who has the old-fashioned stuff under his vest to go out and live like the pioneers of these here plains had to live when they first came into the Panhandle to carve out their first abodes and means of livelihood.

Can you imagine any man in Pampa who would have the gumption to start out into the wide open spaces for even a four or five-day trip via horse-team and covered wagon and subsist entirely on his own without borrowing, begging, stealing or buying his services, food and lodging?

Our answer is the same as yours. . . . The good old days are gone. . . . These may be the wide open spaces and all that, but men are no longer men. . . . At least, they are no longer the man that your grandpa was. . . . He could take it.

Show me the man today who doesn't raise a whoop of a howl if he should happen to get up in the morning and there is no hot water for his shave. . . . Now, in the old days when grandpop was hiking across the plains in his covered wagon, he didn't bother to shave in the first place, and, in the second place, if he wished to wash his face he had to lie flat on his tummy and wash in the cold, sparkling water of a passing creek. . . . Hot water faucets. . . . He never heard of such things. . . . And he killed himself a buffalo or something for the week's meat supply.

Imagine any man today living a life like that. . . . You couldn't find one in a stateful who'd be willing to go through those pioneer privations and ordeals. . . . Truly, we men of today are sissies of the first water.

And, just to make it plenty tough and to show you that we really believe there are no real, honest-to-goodness, rough-and-ready men left today — here goes a challenge to all the men of Pampa.

If there is one among you who thinks he can rough it for five days without the aid of society—speak up, now, or forever keep your silence. We'd like to run your picture in the paper. . . . We'll fix you some tough rules. . . . It will make us a good story on how you are getting along—and the minute we catch you cheating, you'll have to pay a plenty severe penalty.

The more we think of this thing, the more we think we could have a lot of fun out of it. . . . However, all men being sissies in that respect, we may as well forget about it and turn this rambling brain off to another line of thought.

Col. Ernest O. Thompson of the Texas Railroad Commission really made an inspiring talk, insofar as the Texas Panhandle is concerned, when he appeared at the C. of C. luncheon here yesterday. . . . His statements just go to prove what we have said and thought all along—that here is one of the most promising spots on the face of this old globe of ours. . . . The Panhandle of Texas has what it takes.

There has been an argument going on about the pronunciation of that town, Cairo, in Illinois, where the flood waters raged. . . . Our favorite radio announcer calls it "ka-ro," with a long "a." . . . Webster says that the Cairo in the state of Georgia is pronounced that way, but gives "ki-ro," with a long "i," as the correct pronunciation for the Cairo in Illinois, and the one in Egypt.

At end of 17th century (1800) Manhattan's population was still less than 5,000, dwelt in "500 fair houses," the "meanest" worth $600, according to old records. . . . population could have been put century later into two New York city blocks.

Correspondents report Madrid streets are not cleaned any more, because there is not enough water, and people don't mind the dirt. . . . they get callous. . . . lying about may be bodies of men killed previous night. . . . and nearby children playing soldier.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — Notes on authors: Stark Young collects silver snuffboxes, 17th century variety, and presents them to his friends as wedding gifts. . . . All of Frederick Kummer's fiction is pencilled on very thin paper. . . . He never touches a typewriter. . . . Ernest Hemingway, Corey Ford and Zane Grey are three of a kind. . . . The spind most of their off-moments hunting and fishing. . . . Ellen Glasgow's brother (she wrote "Vein of Iron") is a Passaic, N. J., eye-specialist.

Hubert Hayes, before turning playwright, was a fireman in Asheville, N. C. . . . His grandmother was a niece of Daniel Boone. . . . When autograph seekers corner Charles MacArthur he signs himself "Mr. Helen Hayes." . . . Whitney Bolton came out of the North Carolina mountains to become the Beau Brummel of drama reviewers. . . . Ernest Haycox is without question the country's finest writer of western novels.

Fannie Hurst, Gertrude Stein and Pearl Buck are three authors who are continually being besieged by managers of lecture bureaus. . . . All most of all Jim Tully's writing is autobiographical. . . . Before incorporating any of it in her books, Thyrza Samter Winslow took an extensive course in slang. . . . Verne Porter has used modern non-de-plumes with any modern author. . . . Before becoming a literary agent he was editor of Cosmopolitan, Blue Book, and Red Book magazines.

People still mispronounce Paul de Kruif's name. . . . When his book, "Microbe Hunters," was made into the drama, "Yellow Jack," he was variously hailed as de Kruif, de Kriff, de Kreutt, etc. . . . Finally he tacked this little couplet on the bulletin board:

Paul de Kruif Rhymes with life. Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Norris are expert novelists. . . . "What I admire about Charles," says his wife, "is the way he can spell." . . . Harold Matson, brother of the short-story specialist, Norman Matson, is a literary agent. . . . His most famous client is Sinclair Lewis.

Guy Gilpatrick devotes himself almost exclusively to sea stories. . . . Verd's last writing was a poetic farewell to "Falstaff." . . . He was then 80 years old. . . . Max Brand is known as the Million-Words-A-Year pulp writer. . . . Only when writing for upper-bracket magazines does he use a non-de plume. . . . My favorite author continues to be Katharine Brush.

William Roe Benet and Stephen Vincent Benet are brothers. . . . Octavus Roy Cohen has decided not to abandon his negro dialect stories, although in recent months he has been working on mystery novels. . . . Magazine editors now consider Richard Sherman the literary find of the moment. . . . Ever since he wrote "To Mary With Love" he has been flying high. . . . Robert E. Sherwood is tall, sharp-featured, gentlemanly. His favorite breakfast dish is kidney stew.

LIFE ON THE FARM WAYLAND, N. Y. (AP)—In support of his assertion that life on the farm —his farm, anyway—is not dull, Harry Shavers attests to the following occurrences in the last nine months: The family cat captured and raised five baby rabbits; his four-year old cow gave birth to twin calves with a combined weight of 107 pounds; his potatoes won first prize at the state farm show; and one of his leghorns laid an egg measuring 6 3-4 by 8 1-2 inches.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

Ninety years ago today, 13 years before the War Between the States, John Austin Paris was born on a farm in Tennessee. At 14 he was small for his age, but his eyes always looked westward, and in his heart he could hear a glamorous wind blowing through plains grasses, and could see a space so vast that it took his breath away. The war beckoned but John was small for his age, and besides he had a malarial fever and was only 12 in '61. Then he grew a little and felt better and yearned to follow the drummer boy and the bugles to the Wilderness, but then his father fell and broke a bone, and John Paris had to nurse him to strength again, and then there appeared to be no reason for not following Marse Lee and Stonewall, so he ran away from home and went to war. Then when the once-beautiful, ruined South was as lost as the cause it had sought, John Paris came to Texas. First to the frontier town of Henrietta, and then 49 years ago to Laketon, and he lived in a dugout a year before he brought his family, and they hauled lumber and supplies from Panhandle 3-day trip. So here's a salute for Mr. Paris, loyal to his best, a true pioneer, a true lover of the west.

How's Your Health?

Edited by DR. IAGO GILDISTON for the New York Academy of Medicine

TEN POINTS IN PARENTHOOD

Dr. Louis I. Dublin estimates the cost of rearing a typical American child to the age of 18 to be $7,238. This does not include the important item of the money value of the mother's care. Were this item added, the sum would be considerably above $10,000. These figures have a bearing on what the Maternity Center association presents in its publication "Briefs" on the matter of safe motherhood. For it is a pertinent question to ask whether "it is common sense (and good business) to let a young mother die in childbirth at the very beginning of her productive and creative years because of ignorance and negligence."

Economic as well as humanitarian reasons urge the wisdom of educating young people for parenthood. These 10 simple facts should be included in the education of every young person:

- 1. A baby lives for nine months in its mother's body before it is born.
2. An expectant mother should seek the advice of a competent doctor as soon as she thinks a baby is coming.
3. Throughout pregnancy the doctor should be consulted regularly so that he may be on guard for the first suggestion of beginning abnormalities.
4. When in doubt, the doctor's advice should be secured. It is better than that of friends, relatives or neighbors.
5. The mother's daily routine should be based on common sense living—no burning the candle at both ends.
6. The responsibility of having a baby is as much the father's as the mother's. He should help his wife follow the doctor's instructions, boost her spirits when she is down and relieve her of worry and fatiguing physical work.
7. If a baby is to be born in a hospital, a good one should be selected. Approval by the American College of Surgeons or by the American Medical Association is the hallmark of a good institution.
8. If the baby is to be born at home, preparations should be made in advance under the direction of the doctor or nurse.
9. The mother should remain in bed at least 10 days after the baby's arrival and should do her first mothercraft under supervision.
10. A detailed plan should be made of the baby's care before it arrives so that things will run smoothly from the very beginning.

COURT RULING PROTESTED OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 10 (AP)—The British-American Oil Producing co. has appealed to the state supreme court from a district court ruling giving the Midway Oil company half interest in the rich Piersol and Russell place tracts in the Oklahoma City oil field. The tracts are estimated at $5,000,000. The Midway contended it owned half interest in the leases on the tracts because of an agreement with British American to drill test wells as a joint venture. The British American contended the agreement had ended before development of the two tracts.

BLOW TO CONVERSATION EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—F. M. Logan, whom friends call nonchalant, ended a telephone call with: "I'll have to hang up. It seems we're having a storm." Half an hour later, he called back to explain: "Awfully sorry about hanging up, but that storm I mentioned blew the roof off my house."

Talks to Parents

LET CROSS-STITCH WAIT

By Brooke Peets Church

Many families boast of a treasured possession—the sampler made by Great-Grandmother when she was only 10. Faded and yellow, it still lives, a silent witness to many, many hours of labor and eye-strain.

Of course cross-stitch in those days was doubly hard, for the threads of linen had to be counted to make the stitches even. Today, with a stamped pattern to guide the eye, the labor is greatly diminished.

Many parents consider cross-stitch the easiest form of sewing for a child to take up. It costs very little time and trouble to teach her to put the needle in and out of the holes and to count the stitches in the pattern. The child can see and correct her own mistakes without help.

Actually, however, cross-stitch is the hardest of all forms of sewing on the child's eyes. It should be put off until last in giving sewing lessons. A plain running stitch, hemming, back-stitch, even the overhand of patchwork, can do less harm than the exacting cross-stitch, with the eternal counting of holes and stitches, which confuse the eye while keeping it constantly at close attention.

It is a good thing for children to want to learn to sew, and if their wishes are granted they will always get comfort out of the ability to create with their hands. But let them learn on something large which gives them variety of motion and does not keep their noses close to the work.

With her mother's help and oversight, a child of six or seven can cut, baste and make herself a dress, and will take more joy and pride in the achievement than from a dozen samplers. It means more work for the mother, but is certainly better for the child.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

This, That and Everything

By JESS KELLEY

Sakhalin, an island in the north Pacific and separated from the Asian coast by the Tartary Gulf, belongs to Japan and Russia. The island is about 600 miles long, and its varying width is from 15 to more than 100 miles. The fiftieth parallel of north latitude passes almost through the center of the island. All of Sakhalin lying to the north of this line belongs to Russia, and that to the south is Japanese. While Sakhalin is not very productive from the standpoint of agriculture, it does contain an abundance of timber and valuable coal and mineral deposits.

Japan is usually regarded as an aggressive nation and is thought to be on the alert for available territory. Certainly the political philosophy of Japan is antagonistic enough toward that of Russia, with these existing conditions, it seems strange that this island could be owned half by Japan and half by Russia without becoming the subject of serious dispute. History gives us some record of friction in Russo-Japanese relations due to this island question many years ago, but nothing to be compared with what might reasonably be expected when we remember Korea, Manchuria and Formosa. Maybe the severe winters in Sakhalin, together with the antipathetic mosquitoes, quail and horse-flies that infest her shores, make that land unprofitable for Japanese exploitation. Anyway it is difficult to look at the Sakhalin situation without some little misgiving.

It was a night in 1914 when a tall, slender, dark-haired girl of 23 looked out of her hotel window and saw, blinking at her in huge electric letters the words "Clara Kimball Young in 'My Official Wife'."

That was only two years after the girl had taken a big chance, leaving a stage engagement at $125 a week to try pictures at $25.

Pictures then were made by players who were nameless to the public. They were photographed with huge box cameras, which on location were always protected by armed guards because of the "patent war" then raging. Enterprising "independents" might be expected to launch forays against the cameras, seeking by force to learn their secrets. The industry had quaint customs even then.

The "patent war" ended, as wars do, and the movies rose quickly to prestige, bringing further stardom to her in huge electric letters the words "Clara Kimball Young in 'My Official Wife'."

Other movie stars got their names in lights. Some of them demanded it because Clara had had it. And soon movie stars were front-page news.

Mrs. Young had her own producing company after five years she came out of pictures for all her fame and popularity, with little to show financially. She went into vaudeville, toured this country and abroad, and a few years ago returned to Hollywood to keep on acting, no longer a star but trouper. She has appeared in some 30 pictures, and she has been the subject of many tales concerning the "fallen star playing extra."

"As a matter of fact," she says today, "I haven't played extra at all. My checks show that. But I know I'm no longer a star, and it does not embitter me to work in spots where other, younger players are the stars. That is the natural course of things. One can't stay in the limelight forever. Every star of today got there by replacing some star of yesterday, and the stars of tomorrow will replace the stars of today. . . . I am happy to be still working."

Plump And 46 She looks it, too. She believes in growing old gracefully and cheerfully volunteers her age of 46. Her black hair is lined with gray, and she is pleasantly honest plump.

"And when I think of May Robson, doing what she does, I feel that I have a whole career before me again," she declares. "As for money, one doesn't need much. 'Possessions possess you,' says one who knows—I—I have health and peace of mind."

EMBATTLED HARVESTERS UPSET STRONG PANHANDLE CAGERS 24 TO 18

SECOND STRING ALSO DEFEATS PANTHER FIVE

REGULARS PLAY FIRST GAME WITHOUT SUBSTITUTES

On reason why basketball fans find the current Harvester team so interesting is because it is so full of surprises—like last night when the ailing and crippled Pampa youths figuratively crawled out of ambulances at the front door, hobbled onto the floor and literally swamped the highly-touted Panhandle Panthers 24 to 18 in the local gym.

Pampa basketball teams made a clean sweep of three games played against Panhandle quintets. The Guerrillas won 31 to 26 in a seasaw battle that began at 6:30 o'clock. Then the Pampa seconds overcame a 10-point lead piled up by Panhandle in the first half, and emerged from the fray with a 17 to 15 victory.

Harvesters injured If the seconds hadn't played a game, it is possible that Coach Ouch Mitchell would have started his second string against the Panhandle Panther regulars, but the subs were worn down to a nub and were out of breath after their struggle with the Panhandle seconds, and all the Pampa coach could do was to send in his crippled regulars.

Dewey had a badly-swollen knee. Ayer a sore arm, Cox sprained ankles, Reynolds a toe with no nail on it and the other nail coming off, Heiskell with a bad cold and Kilgore with a badly lacerated lip.

With the Harvesters in such condition, they were not given a chance to win against the Panthers who have lost only three games this season, two to Groom and one to Pampa. The Panthers have scuttled Berger, Tullis, Happy and other team. They took their worst beating of the season, though, last night.

No Substitutions Made It was the first game this year in which Coach Mitchell used no substitutes. Cox, Dewey, Ayer, Reynolds, Heiskell played the entire game, and they played it well.

Ayer and Cox alone had around 50 yards of tape on them. Ayer's arm was covered and swathed with bandages, and Cox couldn't feel his ankles for the tape. Ayer opened the scoring with a pivot shot which C. Sparks, the great Panhandle athlete, couldn't touch as it sailed over his head. Ayer got the ball a half-minute later, pivoted and made a beautiful one-handed shot. The ball swished the net a second time. These two field goals were the first two shots made by the Harvesters at the basket, but they missed setups in the game. Cox nabbed a rebound early in the first quarter and made the score 6 to 0 for Pampa. Then Heiskell looped a difficult basket, and Cox made two free shots.

Sparks Stopped The quarter ended with the score 10 to 3 for Pampa. The score in the half was 15 to 3 for Pampa. The Panthers were definitely in a slump; they must have thrown the ball away a score of times, and they missed more easy shots than Pampa. Come Sparks, guarded capably and calmly by Ayer and several others, was held scoreless in the first half, but he got loose for three field goals in the second half. He led the scoring for the Panthers with six points. Dewey scored two baskets in the last half, and Heiskell and Ayer looped one each.

The game was one of the roughest ever played here. Bill Anderson called five fouls on Pampa and six on the Panthers. Spectators held their breath as the players crashed against the floor, the stage and the sidelines. Reynolds and Dewey, particularly, appeared to be knocked out several times. At one time, the Harvesters called time out to bring back to his senses which had been knocked out of him. He demonstrated interesting variations in his sprawling and falling down which seemed to be in full flower last night.

Jack Cunningham pulled the fat out of the fire for the seconds. He scored one basket in the first half and five in the last half, accounting for 12 of the subs' points. The Panthers beat the Harvester first team 22 to 37 in an early-season game at Panhandle.

BACK HOLM AGAIN

Mrs. Eleanor Holm Jarrett, left, presents the District of Columbia A. A. U. trophy to June Booth, who won it in the pool of a Washington hotel. Mrs. Jarrett gave a waterstroke exhibition, her first public swimming appearance since she became the principal figure in last summer's Olympic Games controversy. This would seem to indicate that the breach between the beautiful star and the governing body of amateur athletics has mended.

GUERRILLAS WIN OVER PANTHER THIRD STRING

The Guerrillas and Reapers of Pampa will step against fast company tonight in the local gymnasium when the Guerrillas tackle the LeFors Pirates and the Reapers play the Pirate reserves. The first game will be at 7 o'clock.

Coach Francis Smith and his Pirates have been stepping high the last two weeks and are leading the county race for the right to play in the district tournament here next week.

The Guerrillas of Coach Bob Curry last night won a thriller from the Panhandle third string team and fell ready to match shots with the Pirates.

Coach Tom Herod's Reapers have been idle for the past week. The boys, however, have been working out regularly and will be ready for action tonight.

PHILLIPS TEAMS WILL PLAY AT WHITE DEER

Phillips will meet Phillips tonight on the hardwood floor of the White Deer gymnasium when the Phillips Oilers from the South Pampa field battle the Phillips 66 Engineers from Berger in a kind of a company championship affair. Game time will be 7:30 o'clock.

Phillips from Pampa is undefeated this season. The team lost only two games in the last year in a suicide schedule. Play this season has been limited because of the lack of a home gymnasium.

Word comes from Berger that the engineers will be at full strength tonight and will surprise the champions of Gray county.

LEVINSKY WHIPPED LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10 (AP)—Bob Nestell, Los Angeles' brightest heavyweight hope, stowed away King Levinsky of Chicago in the closing seconds of the 10th round at the Olympic auditorium last night. Nestell, scaling 191 to the Kingfish's 200, sank Levinsky for the fourth time of the evening with a right to the jaw. Levinsky pitched face down on the canvas. He never heard Referee Blake count 10. It was Nestell's tenth straight knockout since he turned professional 13 months ago.

TIE IN STANDINGS HUNTSVILLE, Feb. 10 (AP)—The Sam Houston Bearcats were defeated by the Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks today for the lead in the Lone Star conference basketball race. The Bearcats slipped into the tie last night with a 33 to 25 victory over the North Texas Teachers. Turner of North Texas was high scorer with nine points.

Substitutes—Pampa, Coshov, Panhandle, Smith. Free throws missed—Enloe 2, McKay, Cunningham 4, Dull, Kilgore, Maskey, sf. 1, 0, 2, 2. Referee—Bill Anderson.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Feb. 10 (AP)—The public health committee of the House of Representatives did not hold a scheduled meeting the other day. There was no quorum, it was reported, because so many members were ill.

Influenza was sweeping the capital, taking a heavy toll in time from legislators, state officials, and departmental employees, as well as the more permanent citizens of Austin. One or two state departments worked with skeleton staffs.

The health committee was in somewhat the same situation as a certain anti-noise commission which met in New York. The commission had to adjourn because of the uproar and confusion in streets nearby.

Officers say the entire Texas national guard of 8,617 officers and men could be mobilized and moving in trucks in from six to 12 hours. The time would be even less in case of war, they say. For war does not break without warning to military men and preparations can be made in a minute's notice.

According to Major Gaston S. Howard, assistant adjutant general, the recent emergency call to assist in patrolling flood areas of the Mississippi, if need arose, demonstrated the Texas guard was ready for action at a minute's notice.

Officers and men were notified quickly, everything was placed in order, and there was no hitch in the whole scheme of mobilization which long had been prepared and worked out to the last detail.

Bob Barker, secretary of the Texas Senate since "the mind of man runneth not to the contrary," read a message of Governor Allred to a languid Senate. The message was about 10,000 words, the chamber was warm, and the return Barker seemed to be a little out of breath as he neared the end. The secretary finished in firm tones, mopped his brow and paused, but at that point Senator E. M. Davis of Austin, former member of the commission, over to play basketball for the University of Iowa.

Iowa missed a tie for the '36 Big Ten basketball title by losing three games by a total of four points.

ACC WINS ABILENE, Feb. 10 (AP)—Abilene Christian College defeated the St. Edward's Tigers 43 to 18 last night in their series. The result gave the Wildcats a firm hold on third place in the Texas conference basketball race and shoved the Tigers deeper in the cellar.

Floyd J. DeHeer, 6-foot-7-inch center on the current squad, is the tallest man ever to play basketball for the University of Iowa.

In 1925 Southern Methodist went to college Station and held a 7-0 home record. "Listen, you Farmers," warned Bible between halves. "If you don't go back out there and beat those Methodists, don't come back in this doorway. Just climb over the fence and go on home. Final scores: Southern Methodist 10, Texas Aggies 0, and the "Fightin' Farmers" crawled over the back fence to a man and went on to their rooms.

Matty Bell, coach of the 1936 Rose Bowl Southern Methodists, took his Texas Christian Horned Frogs to College Station in 1926. At the half the Christians filed behind the stadium with a 10-6 lead.

"I let up for a few seconds in my talk to the boys," said Bell, "and suddenly, from down at the other end of the stadium, we could hear any more. We just sat there and listened to 'DX'. It was a great talk! And you know those Aggies came back and tied us, 13-13!" Bell succeeded Bible the next year at A. and M.—the year he left for Nebraska.

Nebraska needed a football coach—a coach like Rockne, or Warner. Someone who could rocket the 'Huskies into the national picture. Rockne's Recommendation Knute Rockne met with some Nebraska officials and told them: "I know what you need; I know your problems; and I'm going to recommend a man you at Nebraska probably won't know anything about. The man is Dana X. Bible at Texas A. and M. I consider him the finest young coach in America."

TEXANS PUSH RIGHT TO FISH IN RED RIVER

2 GROUPS UNABLE TO AGREE ON FIRST DAY

DALLAS, Feb. 10 (AP)—A joint committee of Texas and Oklahoma legislators sought a solution today of the fishing problem on the Red River, which divides the two states. The Texas group urged an amicable agreement under which Texans would enjoy the same fishing rights as Oklahomans. A Supreme Court ruling had established the southern bank of the boundary.

Oklahoma members favored "giving you Texans what you want" but the two groups were unable to agree on technical means of bringing about the desired agreement.

Yesterday's meeting was recessed until today when efforts to agree on a permanent compact for an interstate compact to be submitted to both state legislatures and then to Congress failed.

A sub-committee composed of Sen. Olin Van Zandt and Rep. A. S. Broadfoot of Texas and Sen. John McDonald and Rep. William Cox of Oklahoma was named to confer with the two states' attorneys general regarding the legal aspects of the problem and report to a central committee.

Sen. Bower Broadfoot of Oklahoma suggested action by the Oklahoma legislature as a temporary measure until a compact could be ratified by Congress. Sen. J. Franklin Spears urged a compact which would be binding on future legislatures.

Rep. Broadfoot of Bonham, former district attorney in England, said "we have been expecting bloodshed for many years along the Red River." He said he had tried to prevent it by advising disgruntled Texas fishermen that Oklahoma game wardens were within their legal rights.

Senator McDonald criticized "fee grabbing" and offered to defend without charge any Texan arrested for fishing in the river.

JAGUARS BOOST LEAD TYLER, Feb. 10 (AP)—The Jacksonville Jaguars, defending state junior college cage champions advanced within half a game of Tyler junior college last night as they defeated the Apaches 40 to 37. Tyler led in the southern half of the district one. C. W. Utley paced the jaguars with 17 points.

ACC WINS ABILENE, Feb. 10 (AP)—Abilene Christian College defeated the St. Edward's Tigers 43 to 18 last night in their series. The result gave the Wildcats a firm hold on third place in the Texas conference basketball race and shoved the Tigers deeper in the cellar.

Floyd J. DeHeer, 6-foot-7-inch center on the current squad, is the tallest man ever to play basketball for the University of Iowa.

In 1925 Southern Methodist went to college Station and held a 7-0 home record. "Listen, you Farmers," warned Bible between halves. "If you don't go back out there and beat those Methodists, don't come back in this doorway. Just climb over the fence and go on home. Final scores: Southern Methodist 10, Texas Aggies 0, and the "Fightin' Farmers" crawled over the back fence to a man and went on to their rooms.

The painting of the signing of the Texas declaration of independence from Mexico, in an unfinished gunshop at Washington-on-the-Brazos, March 2, 1836, has been displayed in the rotunda of the capital.

About 50 of the men who placed their names to the historic document are depicted in the painting. George Childress is shown reading the declaration.

The painting was brought to Austin from the state building on the centennial grounds at Dallas, where it was first publicly exhibited.

Horse and dog racing devotees who picked winners at Florida tracks last season collected $33,830,818.90; track operators received $3,830,529.14 and the state $1,164,783.96 in taxes.

DX: Football Operative No. 1

By FELIX MCKNIGHT

AUSTIN, Feb. 10 (AP)—Bald, pipe-puffing Dana Xenophon Bible has come back home to plague the Southwest conference with his gridiron legerdemain again. Eight years out of the fold was eight years too many for the Texans who rate drawing "DX" as football's No. 1 figure.

On March 1 Bible, retiring master of Nebraska's Cornhuskers, opens spring training at the University of Texas—once his bitterest foe. Now he is under a 10-year contract at a reported $15,000 a year to lead Texas out of the football wilderness.

His salary over the long term probably equals anything in football. University regents came in for scattered criticism when they agreed to a sum that topped the President's salary by $7,000. They offered him a 5-year contract but he held out for 10—and got it. A "health clause" makes the contract binding on the university only so long as Bible retains his health. At 45, Bible is in the pink.

Add to that a bonus of $5,000 that alumni contributed to make up for an investment Bible had made in a home at Lincoln, Neb., and you get the general idea that the University of Texas wanted him.

Scholarly, professional, gentlemanly, Bible also has an all-time coaching record of 147 games won, 42 lost and 16 tied over a period of 24 years that makes Longhorn followers believe they have found their mulehead Moses.

He guided Texas A. and M. to five Southwest conference titles in 10 seasons and followed up with six flags in eight campaigns at Nebraska in the Big Six Circuit.

His Fresh Beat Varsity Back in 1912, Bible, a native Tennessean, was graduated from Carson-Newman college and started his coaching career at Mississippi State. He wandered over to Texas A. & M. in 1916 as freshman coach and there starts an amazing story.

His 16 frosh team whipped the varsity. Bible, a native Tennessean, was graduated from Carson-Newman college and started his coaching career at Mississippi State. He wandered over to Texas A. & M. in 1916 as freshman coach and there starts an amazing story.

Now Bible, the former president of the National Football Coaches association, member of the rules committee 13 years and a coach of the West game, is coming back "home"—back to a section that has rounded into one of the nation's hottest football spots since his departure.

Bible, whose excitement and profanity is limited to sitting calmly on the bench during tense moments, tapping his feet and murmuring, "for goodness' sake" has a job cut out for him.

University of Texas finished the last two years in the Southwest conference cellar.

AMBERS TO FIGHT NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP)—Lou Ambers, the lightweight ruler, gets another chance tonight to show that he can fight like a champion when his title is not at stake. He faces Davey Day, lanky Chicago lightweight and stablemate of welterweight champion Barney Ross, in a ten-round overweight scrap at the hippodrome.

SWEET CAGE SERIES ALPINE, Feb. 10 (AP)—The Sul Ross Teachers swept their two-game series with St. Mary's, winning last night's Alamo conference game 43 to 34.

DECORATES DOG DERBY

Kay Barbeau, pretty brunet of Medicine Lodge, Kan., has entered a $2500 30-mile dog-sledge derby, one of the features of an international winter sports carnival and ski meet at the Polo Grounds, New York, Feb. 20-21-22. The dog is Totem, Miss Kay's lead animal.

If you can get him, he is your man." Nebraska contacted Bible, arranged to meet him at Kansas City for a conference. They shot high to get him, for Texas A. and M. was willing to meet any price to retain the bald master of gridiron art. He went to Nebraska and it's in the books now he won six Big Six titles, crushed intersectional foes and sent man after man to all-America glory.

BRACKENRIDGE COACH OUSTED BY PRINCIPAL

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 10 (AP)—Manor Puckett, head coach at Brackenridge for the last three years and assistant for the seven previous years, had been removed today for "refusal to remain on duty as scheduled by the principal."

The San Antonio board of education accepted last night a proposal under which school officials asked Puckett's immediate dismissal "for the good of the school system."

Barlow Irwin, assistant football coach, was placed in charge of the basketball team.

BAUGH DELAYED. FORT WORTH, Feb. 9 (AP)—Slingin' Sam Baugh, Texas Christian's noted footballer, failed to arrive today on an airliner from Washington, D. C., where he has been conferring with Washington professional football team over possibilities of tossing his noted forward passes for money. Friends here believed Baugh, besieged by coaching and professional offers, had delayed his departure from the capital and would arrive tonight.

SIGNS CONTRACT CHICAGO, Feb. 10 (AP)—Clay Bryant, right handed pitcher, has returned his signed contract to the Chicago Cubs. This leaves Curt Davis and Tex Carleton the only members of last year's pitching staff who haven't come to terms for 1937.

Cincinnati, which seemed to have a monopoly on last place in the National league before Powell Crosley, Jr., bought the club, rose to sixth in 1935 and fifth in 1936.

LEFORS, Feb. 10 —The LeFors Pirates jumped into the lead in the county basketball race last night with a 32 to 20 victory over the McLean Tigers in an exciting game played here. The LeFors girls defeated the McLean lasses 27 to 14 and the LeFors Faculty team won its game from the McLean Independents, 29 to 18, to make a clean sweep of the night's play.

LeFors now has two wins against one loss. McLean is second with two wins and two losses. The Alaneed Longhorns rank third with a victory and two losses. LeFors and Alaneed will match shots Friday night in LeFors. A win for the Pirates will give them the county title which a loss would throw the race into a three-way tie. The game will be at 8 o'clock after the girls play.

The Simmons brothers again led the Pirate attack, Ted ringing up 11 points and Walt 10. Fite and Carruth registered four points each with the other three going to Big-ham.

Hiel was McLean's big scorer with 9 points. Dwight registered two field goals. Overton and Bogan added three each with Floys making the other pair.

Tonight the Pirates will meet the Pampa Guerrillas, and the Pirate second string will play the Pampa junior high Reapers in games at Pampa.

H. McGinnis led the LeFors girls in their 27 to 14 victory over McLean.

Frank Monroe, playing with the LeFors faculty, looped 14 points to lead Smith with nine in the victory over McLean. Rennyson with eight points was McLean's star shooter.

207 POINTS MADE BY WOOSTER COLLEGE ACE COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 10 (AP)—Nick Frascella of Trenton, N. J., sensational junior sharpshooter on the Wooster college basketball team, set out today for the all-time national collegiate scoring record.

Frascella piled up 266 points in 17 games last year to lead Ohio scorers by a wide margin, and in a dozen this season he has counted 207, a total of 473 for 29 contests since he started heaving field goals for Coach Mose Nole.

The record books list Robert H. Many of Lehigh university as the all time top-notch with 632 points for three years of play starting with the 1927-28 season. Many counted 225 points his first year, 202 the second and 205 the third. His grand average per game was 14.69.

Frascella averaged 17.41 last season over the 17-game route, and is rolling along at a 17.25 average during the present campaign.

KERR GETS CONTRACT. BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., Feb. 10 (AP)—"Dickey" Kerr is returning to organized baseball after an absence of almost a decade. The one-time star southpaw for Chicago's White Sox announced today he had signed a one-year contract as manager-player of the Wausau, Wis., Lumberjacks in the class D Northern league. Kerr has been out of baseball since 1928 when he coached the Rice Institute O-ris of Houston.

No, he knows the auto strike will cause a shortage of good used cars "trade ins" because some makes of new cars are not "comin' thru" and, as his old bus is just a repair bill and highway menace, he is going to trade before scarcity raises prices.

AMNESTY BILL IS SIGNED BY MEXICAN CHIEF

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 10 (AP)—President Lazaro Cardenas wiped Mexican court dockets clear of "political" cases today with an amnesty bill applying to all persons accused or convicted of "rebellion, sedition, uprising or disturbance."

The law was not explicit regarding Catholic prelates exiled as a result of the government anti-church policies but some sources believed the apostolic delegate, Monsignor Leopoldo Ruiz, now living in San Antonio, Texas, could return if he chose, as well as bishops and other churchmen charged with rebellion.

Mexico's most famous exile, former President Plutarco Elias Calles, now in San Diego, Calif., but no formal charges, so far as can be learned, ever were filed against the once "strong man of Mexico."

Similarly no court action ever was taken against Nicholas Rodriguez, grizzled leader of the now-suppressed Fascist "gold shirts" who fled soon after Calles, or against Tomas Carrido Canabal, long-time "dictator" of the state of Tabasco, who fled to Costa Rica in 1935 when Cardenas overthrew his rule.

Among other exiles presumably within the bill's scope were Gen. Gonzalo Escobar, now in Canada, leader of the 1929 revolution against former President Emilio Portes Gil, Fabio Gonzalez, also in Texas, who fled after the slaying in 1920 of Emiliano Carranza, in whose government he was prominent.

FORT WORTH, Feb. 10 (AP)—Sam Baugh will confer with officials of the Hobbs, N. M., high school this afternoon.

The T. C. U. gridders returned late last night from Washington, D. C., where he talked over-terms of a professional grid contract with owners of the Redskins. He indicated he would be tied up all morning with classes but expected to talk with Supt. George White and Board Member Sam Horne of Hobbs over this afternoon.

It was understood Baugh would be offered a three-year contract at $3,000 a year to coach the Hobbs gridders starting next fall. That would give him three definite offers to consider. He has already been offered the freshman coaching post at T. C. U. and said the terms offered him by the Washington pro gridders were good.

Stone Buried With Military Honors

Barney G. Stone, 42, was buried with military honors this afternoon following services conducted in the chapel at G. C. Malone Funeral Home by the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor of First Baptist church.

An engineer with the Texas Co. pipe line department, Kingsmill, for nine years, Mr. Stone died in a Wichita Falls hospital yesterday morning. He had been ill only a short time.

Survivors are his wife, two daughters, Joyce and Dorothy, and a son, Bobby; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Stone of Bowie; two sisters, Mrs. M. D. Reilly of Port Worth and Mrs. M. J. Monett of Bridgeport; two brothers, V. L. Stone of Hobbs, N. M., and J. E. Stone of Bridgeport.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. at the Malone funeral home, A. D. Souther and O. C. Souther. Music was in charge of Lester Aldrich.

Residents Moving Back Into Cairo

CAIRO, Ill., Feb. 10 (AP)—Residents were moving back into Cairo today, confident the menace of flood has passed.

Mayor August Bode last night revoked the edict forbidding the return of women, children and aged persons, evacuated when flood waters of the Ohio threatened to inundate the city. Sheriff Lloyd Oiler recalled guards patrolling highways.

"They may return at their own risk," Mayor Bode said, "if they are self supporting." Relief camp refugees must await a proclamation to be issued soon.

The announcement was the signal for hundreds of men to leave in automobiles to return their families from nearby towns. Bus lines announced resumption of regular schedules today.

PROSPERITY FOR OIL AREA SEEN BY THOMPSON

Predicts Boom For Panhandle in Speech

Pampa has every right to rejoice and take advantage of the opportunity presented with the return of prosperity, especially in the oil industry.

Col. Thompson, who was presented by Ed Dunigan Jr., as the next governor of Texas, said that 1936 was the biggest year in the oil industry and that 1937 would be even better.

"In recent years the small producer has been given a chance. He can now borrow on his production and can sell his oil along with the big fellow," the speaker declared.

The state official touched on proration, "which is now coming in to its own after years of turmoil," the increase in allowable and price of oil and the active drilling campaign in the Panhandle field where 175 rigs are in operation against five in the flush Conroe field.

Traffic that comes under the regulation of the railroad commission—trucks and buses that haul for pay—were responsible for only 5 per cent of the accidents in Texas last year, Col. Thompson declared.

He named stricter regulations as one of the major problems ahead of Texas, and praised Governor Allred's state-wide safety campaign.

He announced that emergency freight rates on cottonseed cake and other feed material in 19 Panhandle counties had been extended until March 1, "and that the time will again be extended if conditions warrant."

In touching on the commission's work in regard to rate regulations of utilities in Texas cities, Col. Thompson reported that 42 cities had received lowered rates during the past month and that 300 cities had been benefited in the past two years.

Homer Pruitt, secretary of the Berger chamber of commerce, invited Pampans to the Berger Birth-day party on March 8.

The Panhandle Conservation program was briefly mentioned by Carl Hinton, manager of the Amarillo chamber.

Attendance at the Panhandle Centennial committee square dance in the high school gymnasium

Thursday night was urged by Dick Hughes, chairman. Jim Collins, president of the Pampa Board of City Development, announced that Harry Elmes of the Texas Highway commission, would be guest speaker at the next meeting, March 10.

Guests besides the speaker were: Homer Pruitt, Ray Armstrong, R. C. Mauldin and John R. Smith of Berger; Judge J. C. Jackson and John O'Keefe of Panhandle; Bedford Harrison, P. T. Boston, A. C. Hallmark and Carl Gilmore of Shamrock; C. A. Green, Boyd Meador and J. T. Coffee of McLean; T. E. Johnson and Carl Hinton of Amarillo; Judge Noel Meade, H. D. Lewis, W. G. not adapted to the climate conditions and of readjusting this economy in the light of experience and scientific information now available.

"The time has come to recognize frankly not only the great natural assets of the region but also its serious liabilities and to substitute intelligent adjustment to nature for futile attempts to conquer her," the report said.

Among methods proposed were: Acquisition of title of acres of lands by public agencies to prevent misuse and to start reclamation. Federal and state legislation to assure farming methods adapted to the area.

Increase in sizes of many farms termed too small to maintain families. Consolidation of local government units.

Immediate surveys to determine plowland that should be regressed, grassland that may be tilled, and grassland that should retain natural cover.

Extension of cooperative grazing association. The committee said the new federal agency would prevent overlapping and confusion that now exists with 50 federal agencies and many more state and local units dealing with the problem.

Can Be Made Stable. The new agency should not displace existing agencies or assume any administrative control over the normal operations of those bodies, the expert said.

"Its field should be that of a continuing study of the great plains problem and of endeavoring by consultation, education, persuasion and guidance to integrate the effort of all forces."

The plains can be transformed from a risky adventure and a recurrent liability into a stable basis of economic and social profit for their inhabitants and the whole country, the committee said.

This will take a long time, it added, and said 10 years would be needed for additional investigations and surveys.

Parsons after he had discussed "plugging" from early days when the balanced, displacement and then the improved displacement methods were used. He told about phenomenal results from the squeeze or pressure method in both high and low pressure areas. Even gas has been shut off, he declared.

After his talk, Mr. Parsons presented pictures of the huge gulf coast field, many of them taken from the air. An oilfield under water, another field in a marsh and spectacular oil well fires were shown in the pictures.

The next regular chapter meeting will be on the night of March 10 when another interesting program will be presented.

to the races and, persistently bet," Winfree shouted, "is a consummate chump."

"The people of Texas are demanding that this cancerous growth be removed," said Rej. J. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene, author of the repeal bill. "It is not the right principle of government to sustain itself by any form of gambling. A state as wealthy as Texas does not have to stoop to such devices."

Demoralized Business. Calling for repeal without delay, the Rev. J. G. Timmons of San Antonio, one of several ministers from Dallas, Houston and San Antonio, who appeared, declared the law had demoralized business and was an economic and moral sin.

The Rev. Jesse L. Yelvington, also of San Antonio, asserted the state was inconsistent in trying to curb "while enhancing its coffers from the proceeds of gambling and should 'get out of its partnership.'" either to a mechanical or a pilot failure. Coincidentally, Vidal announced 11 "immediate steps" would be taken to increase safety on airlines.

The safety program, drafted after a conference of government technicians and airline operators last week included: Adoption of radio direction finders; More exacting navigational training of airline pilots; Installation of air logs on all transports in the near future; Installation of anti-static loop antennae on airlines.

Discussing the San Francisco crash in which 11 persons were killed, Vidal said reports from bureau inspectors on the scene showed "the plane glided to the airport from south to north."

"Our inspectors," he continued, "report the pilot overshoot the field and, as is customary in such cases he turned right to circle and make a lower approach for a landing."

"While the plane was circling it fell into the bay." Vidal said he was "sure" weather conditions did not enter into the crash.

Airport attendants were mystified last night when the plane, coming into the airport from Los Angeles, obtained landing directions and then flew over the bay.

Watchers at the airport followed its flying lights until it suddenly dived into the bay with a crash audible miles away.

A five hour search followed before the wreckage was found. A section of the rudder and the tail end of the fuselage protruded above the surface. Both were stove in, indicating the transport hit the shallow water right side up with such an impact it was turned completely over.

Relatives Gather. The plane lay on its back, pointing towards shore as though it had been circling to return to the airport.

While the search went on thousands of curious friends and relatives of the eleven persons on board, including a number of wealthy and socially prominent persons, thronged to the airport.

Coroner William Crosby of San Mateo county said the bodies would be brought to Redwood City, south of the airport and on this side of the bay, for an inquest.

NEW MADRID CRISIS IS CLAIMED BY FASCISTS

Censored reports, limping over crippled communication lines from Madrid, described today a new crisis in the three months' Fascist siege of Spain's capital.

With telephone lines cut by a Fascist assault on the vital road from Madrid to Valencia, meager reports from Madrid by cable included:

1. Fourteen Fascist planes flew over Madrid this morning. Whether they attempted bombardment was not stated.

2. Fierce fighting raged southeast of Madrid.
