BURL SANDERS FATAALLY HURT NEAR EL RENO

WAS GROCERY STORE MANAGER HERE FOR SOME TIME

Burl M. Sanders, 27, until recently a resident of Pampa, died in an El Reno, Okla., hospital at 1 o'clock this morning of injuries suffered in a collision between an automobile and a truck west of Yukon, Okla., about 8 o'clock last night, according to Associated Press dispatches.

A companion, Alfred Smith, 26, of Amarillo, still was in a critical condition at a hospital with a brain concussion.

The driver of the truck, William Johns, Shreveport, La., said he was slowing down his vehicle at the scene of another accident when the collision occurred. Johns was not injured.

J. W. Sears, Houston, figured in the other accident. He suffered only minor injuries when his car collided with one driven by Orval Holtzroff, Oklahoma City.

Amos Sanders, father of the dead man, arrived in El Reno last night. Sanders' body was taken to a funeral home at Yukon, and will be taken to Amarillo tonight.

Last April Sanders returned to Pampa where he became connected with the Gray County Creamery, in charge of their Nehi Bottling Works. Two months ago he was transferred to Amarillo to manage the Snowwhite Dairy, a branch of the Gray County Creamery.

Sanders and Smith, according to Henry Gerhard, owner of the local creamery, said the two men were en route to Oklahoma City on business when the accident happened.

TOM ROSE FORD FREED OF BLAME IN ACCIDENT

Tom Rose Ford Corp., of Pampa, has been released of blame for the injury to Charles Showers Jr. during the Santa Day parade here last Dec. 5.

An agreement reached yesterday and in a decision handed down by Special Judge B. S. Via, the local Ford company was held to be not negligent and not liable for the injury to young Showers, who was shown under one of the company's trucks in the parade.

It was found that the Ford company has paid a total of $73 as a gratuitous proposition to the plaintiff to cover time lost by the boy's father and for doctor and hospital bills incurred.

It also was revealed that the car was in the parade merely as a civic enterprise on the part of the company and that its driver was acting in the line of civic duty. The truck was being driven only two miles an hour when the accident happened and someone pushed the boy under the truck in a rush of spectators. Young Showers has fully recovered from his injuries. It was pointed out in Judge Via's judgment.

Veteran Oil Scout
Dies in Arizona

Jack Davis, one of the early Panhandle oil scouts, died in a veterans hospital in Tucson, Ariz., yesterday, company officials here were notified. Davis was a well known figure in the Texas oil fields.

The veteran oil scout came to Pampa in 1926 as division scout for the Humble Oil & Refining company. He remained here until January of 1935 when he was transferred to Corpus Christi because of ill health. Two months ago he entered the Tucson hospital without notifying friends and his death came as a shock.

Davis served with the United States army during the World War and was gassed and wounded. He joined the 148th field artillery in June of 1916 and was honorably discharged in January of 1919.

A brother, Lewis G. Davis, survives. Friends here are trying to locate the brother but up to early afternoon they had failed to reach him. He was last heard from in Johannesburg, South Africa.

WEATHER FORECAST
WEST TEXAS: Cloudy, probably rain in southeast portion, colder. Cold wave in north portion with temperature 10 to 18 except zero to 10 in the Panhandle tonight; Thursday partly cloudy, colder, cold wave in south portion with temperature 20 to 24 by Thursday night. Livestock warning.

TEXAN IS CONVICTED IN CRIMINAL ATTACK

RAYMONDVILLE, Jan. 20 (AP)—John Spann was convicted today of criminally attacking an 8-year-old girl and was sentenced to 15 years in the penitentiary.

The 72-year-old recluse indicated no appeal would be made.

Spann was convicted on circumstantial evidence in a trial which required only six hours for presentation of testimony yesterday.

The little girl testified in court yesterday a man "resembling Spann" took her from her bed the night of last April 18, carried her to woods near by and committed the alleged attack.

Spann declared he never had seen the girl until placed before her by officers. He pleaded innocence.

Skipper of this column has a half interest in a "bachelor hall" arrangement, now that other members of the family are headed for a sojourn in the East, providing they overcome flood hazards between here and there.

Getting up before breakfast the first morning to tip-toe around for 45 minutes so as not to wake the other half of the bachelor hall, things went along splendidly until we started out through the darkened living room for the front door and collided with a neatly stacked pile of folding chairs.

If you ever heard two locomotives hit head-on, you will have a rough idea of the commotion caused by these extremely noisy folding chairs as they went about the business of unfolding in the early morning hours. . . . M'Lean Citizen Favors Duncan Lake Proposal

ELIMINATION OF OFFICES IN COUNTY URGED

RECOMMENDATIONS ARE MADE BY AUDITOR RAY C. WILSON

Elimination and consolidation of Gray county offices is urged by County Auditor Ray Wilson in his annual report, submitted today to district and commissioners' courts. "Gray county operations in 1936 show very clearly," Mr. Wilson states in his report, "the top-heavy organization that is fastened to county government by constitution, statute and custom and calls to mind again the crying need for elimination and consolidation of offices."

The county auditor also urges county commissioners to give full consideration to a suggested plan for establishing one county highway department to replace the four now in existence—one for each county precinct.

One Department Urged. "Roads continue as the principal expense of the county," Mr. Wilson stated, "and additional machinery and equipment, with the resultant increase in the number of full-time employees, is of course adding to the fixed charges."

"It is evident that the court will be required to give an increasing amount of time and attention to matters concerning the county as a whole and this will present a very difficult problem as long as members of the court are fully occupied with precinct affairs and the technicalities of road construction and maintenance."

The county debt, according to the auditor, is being reduced satisfactorily. Matrimonial cases are comparatively heavy and present schedules, by the close of 1936, reduce indebtedness to the lowest total in any annual report since 1928.

Relief Load Grows. The auditor's report also points out that there are indications that the county's relief load, which has grown steadily from year to year, will build up even more rapidly since federal and state agencies apparently are speeding up the transfer of expense to local units.

"The county's authority to furnish assistance to any persons other than true paupers is questionable," Mr. Wilson said. "During the past several years the county has undoubtedly gone beyond strict legal limits in this respect and the demands still are increasing. If an appreciable portion of the load heretofore carried by federal and state agencies is added to county disbursements, it is obvious that the general fund revenues must be greatly increased or operating expenses must be sharply trimmed."

Budgeting, in use in Gray county for the last five years, has not proven the cure-all that some of its proponents expected it would be, according to the county auditor. It has, however, he says, resulted in a closer study of financial affairs and

Attempt To Bomb Home Of Local Minister Investigated

Police and county officials today were pushing an investigation of an attempt to bomb the home of the Rev. Henry E. Comstock, pastor of the Assembly of God church, S. Cuyler-st and Brown-av.

It was learned today that between 7:30 and 8 o'clock last Friday night a stick of dynamite, with a two-foot fuse, was thrown in a paper sack against the door of the Rev. Mr. Comstock's home at 107 W. Brown-av.

Police were reticent about discussing the alleged bombing attempt, but District Attorney Lewis Goodrich and County Attorney Joe Gordon said today they had conferred with police officials and that the matter is to be turned over for thorough investigation by the county grand jury when it convenes.

"Tossing bombs onto front porches is a serious matter," Dist. Atty. Goodrich stated, "and I intend to

POOR LIVING 'UNDER PALL OF DISASTER'

TO PROMOTE 'GENERAL WELFARE' OF PEOPLE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt renewed his presidential oath today and pledged his second administration to blot out "cancers" of economic injustice.

"I assume the solemn obligation of leading the American people forward along the road which they have chosen to advance. . . . The test of our prosperity is not whether we add more to the abundance of those who have much; it is whether we provide enough for those who have too little."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—President Roosevelt turned down today a last-minute appeal that he take the oath of office for his second term inside the capital instead of on the rain-soaked outdoor platform. The committee on arrangements suggested the change. Aides informed him a large crowd was gathering in the drenched plaza to see the ceremony. They quoted the President as saying: "If those people can take it, I can too."

Mr. Roosevelt turned to speak after placing his hand on an old family Dutch Bible and repeating the presidential oath to black-robed Chief Justice Hughes. Only minutes before, Vice President Garner was sworn in by Senator Robinson, the democratic leader.

He warned that prosperity "tests the persistence of our progressive purpose" and demanded that the United States be "strong among the nations in its example of the will to peace."

"We are determined," the President said after reviewing progress since he first took the presidential oath "to make every American citizen the subject of his country's interest and concern."

Fronting the white-columned stand arranged for the simple but impressive inaugural ceremonies, spectators braved a driving rain to witness the historic event.

Sensors and Representatives met in their legislative halls to file in a body into the cold outdoor air. Justices of the Supreme Court robed in their old capitol chamber for Mr. Roosevelt's out-door induction for another White House term.

In his inaugural address, delivered beneath a storm-darkened sky to thousands gathered on the capitol plaza, he pictured uncounted poor families living "under the pall of disaster" and said:

"We are determined to make every American citizen the subject of his country's interest and concern."

Progress in recovery is obvious, the President said, but the "new order of things" brought about since 1933 means more than that.

Restating his philosophy in broad terms and leaving his specific program to the future, he spoke of using new materials of social justice "to erect on the old foundations a more enduring structure for the use of future generations."

Moments before he made his address he had taken the presidential oath again from Chief Justice

Neither of them realized at the time that the package contained. Police Chief Art Hurst said today that it was not until later in the evening when the Rev. Mr. Comstock returned to his home that the matter was reported.

Investigation around the Comstock residence, which is just west of the Assembly of God church, revealed that the bomb thrower apparently had run around the house. A staked wire in the yard had been pulled up in the flight.

The bomb, Chief Hurst said, was made up of an old stick of dynamite. The fuse had not been ignited, in the police chief's opinion.

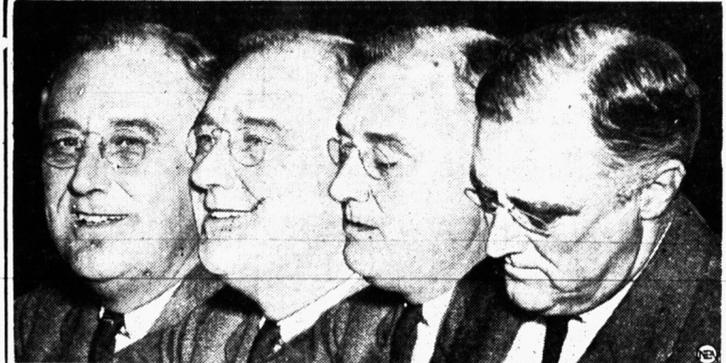

Authorities were incited to the belief that possibly the dynamite bomb was thrown merely to frighten members of the household. They also recognize the possibility of the bomb being exploded by the force of the throw.

Zero Weather Here Forecast

DALLAS, Jan. 20 (AP)—The United States weather bureau forecast another wintry blast for Texas tonight and Thursday, with temperatures between zero and 10 degrees in the Panhandle tonight.

L. J. L. Cline, meteorologist in charge, said temperatures in the northwestern portion of East Texas would sink to between 18 and 26 tonight and cold would spread rapidly southward.

The northern section of the state would probably be much colder Thursday night, he said.

Livestock warnings were issued. Government observers said rains would precede the chill in the southern and central portions of the state.

Cold wave due to hit at Pampa about sundown, the weatherman said. He forecast near zero weather of short duration, warming up fast, tomorrow No moisture in sight.

SEATTLE, Jan. 20 (AP)—Police today began a "shakeout" of all hobo jungles and shack towns in this area avowedly in the hope of finding someone whose finger prints would match those of the kidnaper and slayer of Charles Mattson. More than 75 city, state and federal officers joined in the movement. At the end of the first hour they held three men for questioning.

SEATTLE, Jan. 20 (AP)—The Mattson kidnap-slayer hunt appeared centered here today when more than 75 federal, state and city officers started an intensive "shakeout" of all shack-towns and hobo "jungles" in an area around Seattle. Under special orders from Chief William H. Sears, 12 uniformed policemen from the morning patrol joined the entire detective force under Capt. W. N. Miller in the initial stages of the hunt.

BANQUET GUEST LAUGH AND LISTEN TO CAPTAIN IRVING O'HAY

ANNUAL AAUW FOUNDERS' DAY BANQUET GIVEN

Guests Help Honor Birthday of the Chapter

An audience of almost 200 that has entertained for two hours heard Captain Irving O'Hay make a plea for world peace through religion, education, and tolerance at the A. A. U. W. Founders' day banquet last evening at Schneider hotel.

Cured by the World War of being a soldier of fortune, Capt. O'Hay described himself as a soldier of peace, but not a pacifist. To stated that the nation with adequate defense is less likely to be drawn into war, just as the best trained soldier is less likely to be killed in battle.

After fighting in seven wars from Mexico to Africa, Capt. O'Hay admits that the World War changed his ideas. It held no romance. Little fair play or military science, and he decided mostly by luck and nerve, he declared. He foresees no other world conflict for 18 or 20 years.

Not Always War.

Although he was wounded seriously in France, the speaker said he "had no trouble living through wars, but found difficulty making a living between wars." So he told of working as a baseball umpire, soap salesman, "chaperone for tourists," cattle—on an ocean voyage," actor, and speaker.

The latter vocation he termed an easy way for a richman to earn money. "There are hundreds of better soldiers than I, but they can't talk of their experiences; there are hundreds of better speakers, but they have no experiences to talk of," he said.

Through the talk, which did not start until 10 o'clock and lasted until midnight, Capt. O'Hay mentioned the famous and the obscure men who have been his friends and comrades—Col. Theodore Roosevelt, O. Henry, Richard Harding Davis, Jack London, Oregon of Mexico, and others.

His address was punctuated with profanity, which he explained was "not blasphemy nor cursing, but the Irish gentleman's manner of expressing himself." He held the full attention of the audience that night, always interested in his words.

Preaches Laughter.

"He that neither laughs nor sings is out of touch with the infinite. My one purpose is to make you laugh—with, at, or against me," he said in starting his talk; and at the close, "Whether or not you have found a thought in my talk, you have for a time at least not worried. Stop worrying and be yourself to be happy."

He expressed dislike for worry, social climbing, intolerance, the "we won the war" attitude of some Americans, and motor-driven hearses, as he professed utmost respect for the church, education and tried friends.

"Success is passing down the middle road of life without harming the passersby; it is not measured in possessions nor fame," he said. "As for heroes, I have never seen a hero, and I have never seen a coward. At least I have never seen a man act the coward; even a rat will fight when he is cornered!"

Tribute to the southwest as a place to live was paid by Capt. O'Hay, who now resides in Taos, N. M.

President Is Speaker.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Paul Kashike, toastmistress. She welcomed guests in the invocation by Mrs. J. A. Meek. In addition to Pampa guests, members of the Amarillo and Canyon A. A. U. W. branches were present.

Mrs. Allen Hodges, chapter president, spoke briefly of the meaning of the occasion, the national birthday as well as the ninth birthday of the Pampa chapter. She lighted nine candles in honor of the anniversary.

The dining room was decorated in a winter theme, with figures of snowmen around the center post and on the piano, cut out snowmen on the walls, miniature snow banks, and frozen ponds with tiny figures of skaters and skiers centering the tables.

Patsy and Keaton Rhoades danced the Skaters Waltz, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Keem. Music during dinner was by a saxophone trio, Miss Rose LaNelle Williams, Winston Savage, and Ernest Cane, with Eugene Finkbeiner as pianist.

Mrs. R. B. Fisher was chairman of banquet arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Meek, L. L. Sone, A. J. Johnson; Misses Arlean Pattison, Marjorie Simonet, and Violet Durrett.

WHEN WE STOP GREASY INDIGESTION WE FEEL JUST FINE

Our stomach can't digest grease. Neither can our bowels. Only our pancreatic juice, working with our bile juice, can digest grease.

When we get bad taste, headache and that nasty greasy feeling which comes from greasy indigestion, take 1 Carter's Little Liver Pills before each meal and 1 after.

Carter's Little Liver Pills bring a large flow of our pancreatic juice and bile juice into our bowels. The large flow of these juices digests the grease we have eaten. These are burned into life and into our work like a joyous skyrocket.

But if you want this stomach relief from greasy indigestion, get your drugstore for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and substantially refuse to buy anything else. 25c.

SEARCH FOR KIDNAPER HAS REACHED IMPASSE

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 20 (AP)—With their chief on an unexplained visit to Los Angeles, justice department agents seeking Charles Mattson's kidnap-killer worked quietly on here today, giving every sign the search has reached an impasse.

Only three small detachments of agents were known to be outside the city 10 days after the kidnaped boy's body was found.

One group questioned George Wilson, a prisoner at Portland, Ore. Wilson was said by a Portland officer to fit the kidnaped boy's description closely and to have asserted he was "glad" the Mattson boy had been killed.

Other agents were known to be in Bellingham, Wash., where Leigh Haskell Fowler, under a 20-year sentence for a mill robbery, was still held in the city jail after several days of questioning.

A third set of federal officers cooperated with Police at Everett in investigating rumors arising in the territory near where the child's body was discovered.

Harold Nathan, chief of the federal Mattson forces, remained in Los Angeles last night.

Souvenir Hunters Endanger Townsend Dollar Experiment

CHELAN, Wash., Jan. 20 (AP)—Souvenir hunters plagued the nation's first Townsend revolving dollar experiment here today while 62-year old C. C. Fleming, the spender, said he guessed "me and mother will just rest and window shop today."

They spent $106.20 of his $200 in a dizzy three-day shopping whirl.

Isom Lamb, Chelan county Townsend supervisor and donor of the $200 for the velocity dollar experiment, said souvenir hunters from outside the town were endangering the plan by snatching off the marked dollars.

Every merchant or citizen who uses one of the bills in a business deal voluntarily pays a 2 per cent transaction tax. Total tax receipts were reported today at $8.80.

TOURNEY WILL AID FUND FOR SCHOOL LUNCH

Plans Are Made by Civic Culture Club

To continue its fund for providing school lunches for a child here, the Civic Culture club will sponsor a bridge tournament on the evening of Feb. 8, members decided yesterday when they met with Mrs. Kenneth Blackledge.

Tournament committees were named by Mrs. W. B. Murphy, presiding in the absence of Mrs. Joe Berry, who is ill. She appointed Mmes. Roy Kilgore, E. A. Shackleton, Albert Brannon, and Katie Vincent to have charge of refreshments; Mmes. H. H. Isbell, Claude Lard, and Ralph Thomas of tables; Mmes. Blackledge, G. P. Bradbury, and L. C. McMahon of tickets; Mmes. Bert Mack and Fred Ratcliff of prizes.

Mrs. Mack will be leader of the program yesterday. She presented an interesting review of the book, Man the Unknown, by Dr. E. Carrell. Five members volunteered to attend the Girl Scout training course this month: Mmes. Thomas, Lard, Blackledge, Murphy and Vincent. The club council report was given by Mrs. Lard, who mentioned that the state federated club president has asked each member to plant a rose this month honoring the memory of Robert E. Lee.

Mrs. C. H. Compton and Mrs. Carlie were guests, who with the club members presented a shower of dainty gifts to Mrs. Ratcliff.

New Song Written By Woodrow Wilson Leader for School

A new school song has been adopted by Woodrow Wilson school. Words and music were written by Eugene Seastrand, band director there, and learned by the pupils. The words follow:

Woodrow Wilson, we love you
For all the joy you have brought us
Dear old rooms where we live and learn—
Dear old classmates with hearts so firm—
And dear old teachers, we'll be true
To every lesson you've taught us.
Now that we've met you,
We'll not forget you,

J. P. CHARLIE HUGHES KISSES BRIDE AGAIN

Justice of the Peace Charles I. Hughes has kissed the bride again, he admitted today.

It happened during his second marriage ceremony since taking office Jan. 1. This time Justice Hughes united Joseph B. Williams and Miss Barbara Sorenson, both of Pampa.

"Already I feel like I am an old hand at this cupid business," Mr. Hughes said today.

HOW OFTEN CAN YOU KISS AND MAKE UP?

NEW husbands can understand why a wife socked turn from a pleasant companion into a shrew for one whole week in every month.

You can say "I'm sorry" and kiss and make up easier before marriage than after. If you're wise and if you want to hold your husband, you won't be a three-quarter wife.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three or four of life: 1. Turning from staidness to wild mood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and go "Smiling Through."

PAMPA TO PLAY LUBBOCK IN FIRST LOOP GAME HERE TOMORROW NIGHT

BUCKS BEATEN BY LOCALS IN 18-14 AFFAIR

HARVESTERS PILE UP 16 TO 7 LEAD AT HALF

Showing great improvement and an impressive determination to hustle, the Harvesters avenged a recent loss while they plastered an 18 to 14 defeat on the Bucks in White Deer 67m last night.

If the Pampa cagers had played the second half as they did the first half, the result would have been a rout in favor of the Harvesters. The score at the half was 16 to 7. The Harvesters scored only one field goal in the last half. The Pampans led after the first four minutes.

The Pampa cagers played a man-to-man defense and it appeared to be an improvement over the zone defense that gave them the jitters and caused them to fumble awkwardly in recent games. Albert Ayer played as the pivot man in the "well," and displayed the best form shown by a Harvester basketball player in years in the pivot position. He missed practically every try he made at the basket, but his form was so good it is extremely likely that he will begin hitting the net before long.

Norman Cox looked better than he has this season in the first half, and now that he has proved that he can take the ball when it is thrown into scoring position by the guards, get more than his share of the rebounds and tie-balls, and guard man-to-man, the problem is no longer of ability but of determination.

The Harvesters missed many a set-up in the first half. Reynolds was off in shooting. Heiskell suffering from a bad cold and flu took plaster to his chest to enter the game. He also played heads-up ball and looked well while he was on the floor. Kilgore substituted for him twice, and McKay replaced Cox twice. The subs did not do any better than the first string last night. Reynolds played a great game at his guard position and his defensive tactics reminded one of Bill Dunaway, stellar Harvester guard of a few years ago. Dewey had trouble making his crisp shots and missed many, but on the whole his playing indicated that it had taken a turn for the better. And the same could be said for the rest of the team.

The White Deer hot shot was Austin, forward, who chalked up three field goals and two free shots to lead the scoring for both teams. Richardson, six-foot-four center, was the only other Buck who connected. He made six points, two by the free-throw route.

Referee Naylor of Panhandle called a satisfactory game. Many out of bounds decisions and numerous held-balls slowed up the game.

The Harvesters will play the Lubbock Westerner tonight here tomorrow night in the first Class A conference game. The Panhandle Class A league is composed of Plainview, Pampa, Borger, Lubbock and Amarillo, and the result will have no effect on the district interscholastic league championship which will be decided Feb. 19. Pampa has won both the Panhandle league championship and the district tournament the last three years.

JUNIOR HIGH LOSES TO WHITE DEER CLUB

A last half rally gave the White Deer Junior high team an 18 to 15 victory over the Pampa Junior high team in a preliminary game at White Deer last night.

Word, with 6 points, led the Pampa scorers with Dunaway, a guard, following with five points. Dacus was White Deer's chief threat with 7 points.

The Reapers showed improving form and great promise of coming through. Coach Tom Herod has some willing boys who want to play.

Reapers in action were: Word 6, Heiskell 2, Ware 2, Dunaway 5, Keyser, Coons and Johnson.

White Deer players: Dacus 7, Phillips 3, Williams 3, Deaver 4, Bernard, Thornburg and Pipes.

Dana Bible Hears Coaching Bid Of University Of Texas

AUSTIN, Jan. 20 (AP)—A conference between Dana X. Bible, Nebraska University grid mentor, and University of Texas officials, set for 2 o'clock this afternoon, bore the prospect of a solution to the Longhorn coaching puzzle.

The veteran Cornhusker coach, arriving yesterday, remarked multily that Nebraska could use some of Texas' rain, but refused to comment on his possible switch in coaching affiliations.

Crux of the situation, many believed, was the objection of Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the University of Texas, to over-emphasis of football through payment of a salary exceeding the top for faculty members. Although he declined fresh comment, Dr. Benedict previously had expressed that view.

Bible was reported to have told members of the university athletic council and board of regents that he considered the good will of the faculty and school officials as essential to his success and he had no wish to plunge into a discordant situation.

The former Texas A. & M. college head coach was said to have asked for $15,000 to $25,000 a year and a contract of from five to ten years.

The board of regents, to which recommendations of the athletic council are made, has gone on record as favoring a high salary for a coach to succeed Jack Chisney, who quit after three years.

Since the close of the disastrous Texas U. football season, the athletic council of which Dr. J. C. Dolley is chairman, has been working desperately to find a suitable man.

Should the conference fail to produce an agreement with Bible, Dolley said the council would continue its search, instead of allowing an alternate choice, recommended to the regents along with Bible, to stand. The alternate's identity was not revealed.

Dolley said there was nothing in a report Bible would receive a substantial bonus annually from alumni in addition to his salary. He states Bible "refused to hear" of such a thing.

Another rumor that alumni might give Bible a bonus of $5,000 to pay off an investment in a home at Lincoln, Nebraska, was thought by some to have more basis in fact, but that, too, was unconfirmed.

Bible was met by Dr. Dolley and a group of alumni of Texas A. M., where he coached from 1917 to 1928, inclusive, and was taken to the home of the former.

Vin Burke, Beaumont Enterprise: "If the purpose of building a college is to accumulate the biggest men in the country as instructors, rather than the accumulation of physical properties, then $15,000 does not seem a personality as Dana Bible is not an extravagance."

Bill Van Fleet, Galveston news: "All good ex-Longhorns will be pulling for the University of Texas regents to hire Dana Bible. . . Bible is the one name—he is the one man—who can quiet the troubled waters at Texas."

Paul Moore, Corsicana Sun: "Bible's election would herald a new day and a new deal in the athletic situation at the great State University."

Frexy Anderson, Abilene Reporter-News: "The powers at Austin are scheduled to sit down and talk turkey with Dana Xenophon Bible. . . Dana X. Bible and turkey are a famous battery so far as Texas is concerned, because Texas used to have both every Thanksgiving day, except on the years when Texas had only Turkey and Bible and his Texas Aggies had Texas."

U. S. YOUTH MOST FAVORED FROM SPORTS STANDPOINT

BY DILLON GRAHAM.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—The American youngster, from a sports standpoint, is the most fortunate in the world.

No other nation furnishes its youths, as well as adults, with such opportunities for participation in games and athletics.

The system of paid coaches and supervisors for sports has developed much farther here than abroad.

Sporting equipment costs less than in virtually any other country. Land for athletic fields is plentiful in America, scarce and expensive in many other nations.

The United States government, through the Works Progress Administration and other agencies, has spent millions of dollars in recent years providing sports fields and playgrounds.

Other countries are adopting the American attitude toward sports, however. Some, including Germany, Italy and Russia, have sports bureaus and are spending government funds on athletic fields, equipment and tutors. Long having frowned on sport, the Chinese government also now wishes to make its youth sports-conscious.

In Germany and Russia, particularly, sports are a part of a vast physical culture program.

In Italy a federal department supervises sports and teaches strong young men to coach.

The Soviet sports program is one of the most ambitious in the world. The government spends vast monies on subsidy of sports. Young men are trained in coaching colleges and sent back to other schools to instruct the youngsters.

Gilding in planes and parachute jumping are two "sports" developed perhaps farther than in other countries; 800,000 persons jumped from parachutes a year ago. One-third of those participating in this sport are girls.

PIRATES BEAT GUERRILLAS IN 26-11 VICTORY

The LeFors Pirates got revenge on a Pampa high school basketball team last night with a 26 to 11 victory over the Guerrillas, taken to LeFors by Roy Lee Jones and Mickey Ledrick in the absence of Coach Bob Curry.

LeFors lost to the Harvester "B" team in the Miami tournament last Saturday. Last night two Pirate quintets clicked at times for the victory with Johnson of the "A" team and Ellington of the "B" team tying for scoring honors with five points each. O. Harrell led the Guerrilla attack with five points.

The LeFors Faculty team got even for a three-point loss in Groom last week when they beat the Groom Independents 39 to 24 in a night-cap game. Coach Francis Smith looped 18 points for LeFors. Keeler was high for Groom with 10 points.

On Friday night, beginning at 7 o'clock, three games will be played in the LeFors gymnasium with White Deer teams providing the opposition. The opening game will be between the junior quintets and will be followed by a meeting of the Pirates and Bucks. The faculty fives will close the night of entertainment. Admission will be 10 and 25 cents.

Guerrillas in action were Esslinger, Williams, Foster, R. McDaniel, O. Harrell, P. Farrell, Smith and Eckert. LeFors lineup included Phillips, Johnson, Bigham, Pierce, Hall, Simmons, Ellington, Fie, Carruth and Simmons.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP)—A good Major League holdout would be worth what he wants in publicity right now. . . Earle Brucker of the A's, Buck Newsom, Senators, Rudy York, Tigers, and Rip Radcliff, White Sox, are about the only dissatisfied players in the whole field right now and they've been pretty tame about the whole thing. Of course, there's the great and terrible Dean, but somehow we seem to have heard it all before. . . Headline of the week: Yanks Plant Seeds on Newark Farm. Port Arthur and Beaumont down Texas may have got into such a squabble about their high school football teams that the Port Arthur board of education has asked its citizens not to patronize merchants in nearby Beaumont.

GARNER TAKES LAST OATH OF OFFICE TODAY

WILL RETIRE AFTER 33 YEARS IN NATIONAL CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Vice President Garner, light-lipped Texan as ranchman who has been in public service 33 years, has told friends his oath of office today would be his last.

He begins his second vice presidential term at 67 in sturdy health, still eager to put in his habitual ten hours of work a day.

"Gactus Jack" after 33 years in Washington has remained as amiable and unpretentious as the Uvalde cowboys whose work he once shared.

He likes nothing better than to stop his shiny official car to offer a ride to one of his many friends on the capitol police force.

Visitors to his office occasionally are offered a cup of coffee from the old black pot Mrs. Garner keeps simmering near his desk.

Washington social life holds no attraction for the ruddy-faced Texan, who insists on being in bed by 9 p. m. After 9 p. m. in his modest hotel apartment cannot be reached even by the telephone.

This winter he broke a century of precedent by arranging with Mr. Roosevelt to skip the formal dinners which the president and vice-president attend to each other.

Yet his intimates know Garner as an unsurpassed story-teller. He will sit for hours in his old horse-hair stuffed chair, cigar cocked toward his bushy eyebrows, and spin yarns about cattle rustlers, oil field roustabouts, and illustrious statesmen.

8 IMMORTALS OF BASEBALL ARE SELECTED

CY YOUNG CHOSEN AS GREATEST PITCHER OF ALL TIME

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP)—An outfield, pitching department and middle of the infield for baseball's tall-time hall of fame was complete today.

From the honor roll of immortals, baseball writers of America has selected eight players whose names recall the most stirring performances America's national pastime ever has seen.

As they line up mythically under plaques at the birthplace of the games in Cooperstown, N. Y., today, they are:

Second base—Napoleon Lajoie. Shortstop—Honus Wagner.

Outfielders—Tris Speaker, Ty Cobb and Babe Ruth.

Pitchers—Christy Mathewson, Cy Young and Walter Johnson.

Lajoie, Speaker and Young join the others with the latest poll of the Baseball Writers' association, announced yesterday. The other five are the "original immortals," named in the first annual poll a year ago.

Lajoie, the speedy second baseman who compiled a 338 life-time batting average for 15 years in the big time, topped the poll with 168 votes of a possible 201. Speaker, often nominated as baseball's greatest centerfielder, polled 165 and Young, iron man right-hander of the '90's, had 153.

Lajoie's major league career carried him from the Philadelphia Phillies to the Athletics, to Cleveland and back to the Athletics before it ended in 1917. Brilliant both on defense and offense, the daring Frenchman compiled a life-time fielding of 986 to go with his unusually high batting mark.

Star of three world championship teams in Boston and Cleveland, Speaker's diamond span stretched from 1909 to 1926, including seven seasons with the Red Sox and 11 great years with the Indians.

Young stands alone as the number one iron man pitcher of all time. He was up there more years, pitched more games and won more victories than any other hurler in

Basketball Over The Panhandle

WHEELER, Jan. 20 (AP)—An upset in Wheeler high school basketball circles occurred last week at the Briscoe tournament when the Wheeler A team was eliminated in the semi-finals, and the Wheeler B team went into the finals and won second place.

The big boys will not see service in the game with the Whittenburg team Wednesday night unless they hustle between now and then," stated Coach Bob Clark. "If they do not show a decided improvement in practice, I will start the B team."

According to present plans the following boys will make the trip: Tillman, Markham, Stephenson, Young, Norman, Doug Groves, Puckett.

The girls will play the Whittenburg girls Wednesday night also. The following girls will see service: Wharton, Lewis, Durham, Maxwell, Wiley, Johnston and Johnson.

POLICEMAN IS FOUND CUFFED TO MAIL BOX

EX-CONVICT HUNTED AS SLAYER IN RURAL MICHIGAN

MONROE, Mich., Jan. 20 (AP)—The bullet-pierced body of Michigan State Policeman Richards P. Hammond was found handcuffed to a mail box on a lonely country road today, five hours after he was abducted by a former convict he had taken into custody.

A posse of more than 200 officers from Indiana, Ohio and Michigan combed wooded areas for Alcide (Frenchy) Benoit, alias Joe La Rue, who was paroled from the Michigan state reformatory at Ionia a year ago.

Airplanes piloted by Detroit police and Indiana state police joined the search and Michigan state police issued radio appeals for farmers to arm themselves and search their out buildings for the fugitive.

Hammond, a husky, six-foot trooper, with a fellow officer, Sam Sineni, halted two men while short-cutting the highway at Monroe shortly after midnight.

Just when a first baseman, third baseman and catcher will be rated sufficiently high for selection to complete an "immortal" team in the permanent hall of fame, remains in doubt. In the just-concluded poll, in which a minimum of 75 per cent of the voting was necessary for nomination, the three missing positions received little support.

LEFORS TEAM HAS 8 GAMES ON SCHEDULE

FOUR OF GAMES TO BE CONFERENCE TILTS IN COUNTY

LEFORS, Jan. 20 — Eight more games remain on the schedule of the LeFors Pirate basketball team. Four of the games will be conference battles against Alnreed and McLean. Home and home games will be played to decide the team that will compete in the district tournament in Pampa Feb. 19 and 20.

The Pirates have flashed "off and on" form this season. They have looked like champions against strong competition but have been knocked off by weaker opponents. Coach Francis Smith is working his charges at full speed and conference foes are scheduled to meet stiff competition.

The Pirate schedule:

- Jan. 22—White Deer at LeFors.
- Jan. 26—At Phillips of Whittenburg.
- Jan. 29—McLean at LeFors.
- Feb. 2—At Alnreed.
- Feb. 5—Whitler at LeFors.
- Feb. 9—At McLean.
- Feb. 12—Alnreed at LeFors.
- Feb. 16—At Wheeler.
- x—Conference games.

WHEELER GRID TEAM WILL BE HONORED AT BANQUET ON THURSDAY

WHEELER, Jan. 20.—Members of the championship Wheeler football team will be honored with a banquet tomorrow night, sponsored by the pep squad. At that time Supt. H. C. Perkins of Shamrock will present the Mustangs with the trophy, emblematic of the district 2 championship.

T. M. Britt will be toastmaster. Captain W. J. Ford and Roy Norman will speak for the team. Coaches Bob Clark and Stina Cain will be later speakers on the program. Supt. Gilmore of Wheeler will give an address on the value of athletics to a public school system. Dr. H. E. Nicholson will talk on advantage of physical ability.

BENNY LYNCH HAS JUST ABOUT WON FLY TITLE

LONDON, Jan. 19 (AP)—The busy fists of Scotland's little slugger, Benny Lynch, have just about settled the world's flyweight championship muddle.

Thirteen thousand fans saw Lynch decisively outpoint San Francisco's transplanted Filipino, Small Montana, over the 15-round route yesterday to win the title that has been claimed by half a dozen fighters since Pancho Villa died ten years ago.

Lynch, British champion and recognized in England as world's titleholder, scaled 111 pounds, six ounces. Montana, recognized as titleholder by the National Boxing Association of the United States since his victory over Midget Wolgast of Philadelphia, weighed 107 pounds, 10 ounces.

Lynch had the better of the going in all but the last two heats, when Montana, known outside the ring as Benjamin Gans, shifted to a heavy hitting body attack. Even then, he was unable to make the rugged Scot give ground.

TO SAVE GOVERNMENT MUST ABOLISH FUNCTIONS

If the idea back of reorganization of the federal government's machinery is to save a lot of money, President Roosevelt's plan is a lemon. If the idea is to enable Uncle Sam to do his job with less lost motion, the plan may be a pretty good one.

So before we start to praise or to criticize the plan, we ought to get straight in our own minds the things we expect such reorganization to accomplish.

And before we get through, we are apt to find out that what is chiefly at stake is the old, old argument about the amount of work which the federal government ought to do.

The money to be saved by reorganizing government bureaus and departments will be little more than cheese-paring unless some of them, and their functions, can be abolished in toto.

If you believe that the government ought to cut down on its activities and let go of a lot of the levers, you have some real savings in sight; if you believe that the government must play a steadily increasing part in the life of the country, you're going to be able to save very little.

Now it is worth remembering that a good deal of the criticism of the expenses of federal administration in the past has come from people who were really interested in clearing the way for rugged individualism, rather than in economy.

That worked out like this. Suppose an industrialist found such a body as the Federal Trade Commission cramping his style. Would he open up with an attack on the commission? By no means. He would simply start a campaign of protest against government extravagance, against bureaucracy, against spending the tax payer's money, against overlapping commissions, and against government red tape.

That sort of thing reached its climax about the time of the 1929 stock market crash, or a little later. It was the popular thing then to rail against government spending and the unwieldy bureaucracy.

Back of it there was simply this desire to lop off some of the government's functions—to abolish those bureaus and commissions which were fighting to protect the public interest from the rigors of unrestrained greed.

There are, of course, a great many people who sincerely feel that the government could do all the things it needs to do without spending quite so much money on the job. But the thing they need to bear in mind is that what makes government costly is chiefly the things government does and not the way it does them.

Military preparedness, relief in all its guises, the cost of past wars—those are the things that really cost money. Until we are ready to cut down on them, the savings can make will be comparatively unimportant.

THE PAMPA LIBRARY PROBLEM

Pampans should see to it that the public library in the basement of the city hall should keep step with the progress the city is making. This week at a library board meeting it was revealed that the library must obtain funds in the near future to buy books or the library cannot continue to advance as it has in the past.

The three cents on the $100 valuation tax is not sufficient to support it adequately. The Pampa public library, though located in the basement of the city hall, some 50 feet from the city jail, has become one of the most important institutions in the city. The lighting system may be poor, and the books may be repaired several times, but it is the only place in town where children, adults, the youth, can enjoy the favorite recreation of the majority of people—reading.

Pampa, singularly devoid of recreational facilities for children, should keep the library moving in step with the population, with business, with building. The same conditions that existed when the library was founded do not exist today.

Go into the library at any time during the day. It is always crowded, and most of the people sitting at the tables and in the chairs are young people. Up to now, Pampa has not neglected her library. It has catered to the needs of the high school students, the ward school pupils, adults, members of all professions. It should continue to do so. The library has become a socializing as well as an educational institution. Let Pampans see to it that the youth of the city continues to want to go to the library.

WITHOUT A COUNTRY

Leon Trotsky, famous Communist leader and exiled rival of Stalin, driven from Norway as he has been from any other countries, finds at least a temporary haven in Mexico. In Tampico he expresses his deep appreciation for Mexican hospitality, as well he may.

ise for such a prolific propagandist as Trotsky to keep. With him radical agitation is as natural as breathing. He believes implicitly in his cause, is prolific in ideas and fearless in action.

Mexico, too, is an interesting background for this Red without a country. President Cardenas is rated as a Socialist, and his administration is engaged in many activities that would be called Socialistic in our country. They will interest Trotsky, and sooner or later he will probably be accused of being involved in them, whether truly or not.

HOMES THAT REMAIN GOOD

As home-building revives and new types of homes attract attention, some possessors of fine homes have been worried about their property. Too many people building, selling and buying homes seem to have no well-founded standards of taste, and are likely to take mere novelty or transient styles or trivial details as if they were all-important.

It is reassuring to hear from Herbert U. Nelson, secretary of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, that mere modernity, current style, flashiness or novel accessories are not likely to drive out the older homes that are really good.

Every city and town has such homes worth preserving, and examples may be found in almost any residence section. They should not be torn down but kept up. Many of them will doubtless be valued more highly a generation hence than they are now. Good architecture never grows old.

POSTPONED WAR

The almost daily crises which arise in Europe, threatening another World War, are fully as serious as they seem. Yet somehow, so far, each has been passed without the dreaded result.

There may be several reasons for this. The most belligerent nations are not so ready for aggression as they know they must be to win. So they bluff and bluster without actually taking the final step.

Another reason is suggested by a young Rhoades scholar who, after completing his Oxford course, studied in other European countries and traveled widely before returning to the United States. Conditions are just as bad and as dangerous in Europe today as they were in 1914, but with this difference: "The people know the danger now and are resisting it."

It looks as if the lessons of 1914-18 had not been entirely forgotten.

Washington Letter

WASHINGTON. — The farewell stag dinner for Rex Tugwell in Washington will stand out, perhaps always, as the occasion when nearly all the most conspicuous liberals in the Roosevelt administration got together with a common purpose. The purpose was to pay tribute to Tugwell as a man who had shaped and symbolized the New Deal, a hero among progressives.

No such homage has been paid any other retiring government official in many years. Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace was toastmaster.

Just to give you the complexion of the party, the crowd of several hundred included Harry Hopkins, Harold Ickes, Bob LaFollette, Joe O'Mahoney, Monsignor John A. Ryan, Maury Maverick, Jerome Frank, Robert Lincoln O'Brien, Hugo Black, Arthur Capper, Fred Howe, Gerald Nye, Morris Cooke, Homer Bone, Fred Delano, Ferdinand Silcox, John Dickinson, Lee Pressman, Sidney Hillman, Will Alexander, Marriner Eccles, Bob Allen, Ray Tucker, Ed Foley, Vic Christgau, Howard Tolley, Ernest Lindley, Jay Franklin, Byron Scott, Leon Henderson, Ernest Lundeen, Louis Bean, Mordecai Ezekiel, Tom Amlie, Don Montgomery, Ernest Gruening, A. J. Altmeyer, George Creel, and so on. (If you don't place 'em, try the Congressional Directory.)

Wallace, who is thought to be a bit relieved at losing Tugwell as his undersecretary, has great wit and charm. With eloquent sincerity he praised Tugwell as a friend of the underprivileged, a trail-blazer in government.

Senator O'Mahoney recalled the time he had his picture taken with Tugwell and how a conservative friend had written him that he'd missed a great opportunity to appear as a hero in the photograph by having his thumb in Tugwell's eye. Hopkins struck a serious note, insisting that millions of the "underprivileged" considered Tugwell their leader and that "economic royalists" had all too well understood Tugwell and his desire to distribute the good things of life.

Senator LaFollette, deadly serious, insisted Tugwell's resignation was a tragedy, applied to him a remark of LaFollette's famous father that he was the kind of a man with whom one wouldn't mind going tiger hunting in the dark, and finished, "Come on back, Rex, we need you!"

Referring by implication to the long feud in the capital between the Frankfurter anti-bigness, "trust-busting" school of brain-trusters and the Tugwells with their theories of bigness under government control, Tugwell fervently urged that "we make up our minds what we're trying to do. . . . We can't win with divided counsels such as we've had in the last four years. If these confusions persist, we'll have a difficult next four years."

At the end, in farewell, Tugwell spoke of John Dewey—how Dewey had said his one lifelong ability was to tell that which was alive from that which was dead, and how Dewey had hoped it could be said of him that "he had caused that which was alive to grow and had killed that which was dead."

KINDRED FEELING

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

BY GEORGE TUCKER. NEW YORK. — Almost everybody knows Dave Farley, the newsstand man, who has been handing out magazines and periodicals from the same L-shaped booth, in the Times building, for 26 years.

Dave is one of the land-marks of New York, just like Billy the Oysterman, or Oscar of the Waldorf, and he is as well acquainted with the reading preferences of the proletariat and celebrity worlds as Billy and Oscar are with foods.

You've seen him, bald as a fresh peeled Bermuda onion, rich in Irish wit as a Wicklow squire at a county fair, proud of his business, his friends, and his Tiger. He and Postmaster Jim aren't blood kin but they cut their teeth on the same Tammany soupbone. They speak the same language.

As for the slicks, the pulps, the magazines of fancy or lesser variety, they're Dave's business, just as fighting is Schmeling's, singing Lawrence Tibbett's, Babbit-baiting Sinclair Lewis'. He knows them, he loves them, and he can identify any of hundreds, in the dark by their heft and feel.

There are, he'll have you know, 50,000 different periodicals published (the figure is correct), and apparently Dave has most of them. But looking at people as they come up to the stand is no way to foretell their magazine preferences.

For instance, a gray, rather Broadwayish, too perfectly dressed man saunters up. Here must be a producer, you think. A bad guess, that. He says, "I'll have a copy of Drug Topics," and puts 15 cents on the counter.

The next customer is a dark, fortyish man, well set-up, probably in the money. He might be a Wall Street broker, only he isn't. Not by the magazine he buys he isn't. He wants a copy of the American Funeral Director, 35 cents.

Two girls pause before Dave. School teachers? "I'll have the Rural New Yorker," says one. The other is made happy with a copy of Picture & Gift.

Now I am wholly confused. A chic woman of 30, who must surely be a purchaser for one of those swank Fifth Avenue shops, tattles briefly, says, "Is the Leghorn World in?" You'd never think she fancied chickens. It goes this way for hours, with endless patrons demanding, and obtaining, Ice Cream Field, Fire Protection, Glass Digest, The Rabbit Journal, others as vaguely startling.

As for the Westerns, the Adventures, the Railroads, the Weird, the Amazing rip-snorters—only a human adding-machine like Dave could keep up with that tumultuous over-the-counter flow.

"Look said Dave, 'here's an old customer. Guess what he wants.' A tall Chinese ambles through the subway gate and I make a final attempt on clairvoyance. "Surely," I conclude, "he must be after a paper from home, one of those curious Chinese newspapers which only the Chinese can read."

"The Chinese shakes Dave's hand. In clipped Oxford accents he inquires, "Mr. Farley, let me have the latest Corset & Underwear Review?"

HOW'S your HEALTH? Edited by DR. IAQO GILDSTON. PAIN IN THE CHEST. Anyone suffering a pain in the chest is quite likely to become anxious about it. Chest pains bring to mind heart disease, tuberculosis and pleurisy. That other conditions of a less serious nature are also quite likely to cause chest pain is not generally appreciated.

It is quite proper when one suffers a pain in the chest, and particularly if it is persistent, to have oneself examined, in order to rule out the presence of some major illness. However, chest pains are common and only a very small percentage are due to heart or lung disease. When the chest and its large blood vessels are involved, chest pains are usually brought on by exertion or excitement. Pains arising from disease of the lungs or the lung coverings are usually made worse by breathing or coughing. Tuberculosis of the lung but rarely produces chest pains. When it does, it is likely that the lung coverings or pleura are involved.

King without a country

by Robert Bruce

Chapter VII. The winter sun was warm and the breeze that drifted in from the bay was mild. The long quay at the waterfront of the little seaport of San Lorenzo was almost deserted. Paul perched on a metal bollard, raised at the edge of the quay to receive the mooring lines of the fishermen's boats, and filled his pipe.

Winter was about over—although one would never know that it was winter in this place, where the worst rigors of the season did no more than cause one to light a little fire in the grate of an evening. But the winter of Paul's discontent was far from over, and its chill was made the more welcome by the fact that he could not find any obvious, black-and-white reason for it.

He lived pleasantly, in the most comfortable of homes, the most beautiful scenery and the pleasantest of climates, with the woman whom he loved, the husband expected to love a being mortal. He had not a care in the world; no responsibilities weighed on him, no duties regimented his life. He was as free as the birds of the air. A year ago, his present state had looked like the very summit of human happiness.

But he was discontented—discontented with a life that was too easy, a freedom that was too free. The savor had gone out of things, and he found, when first he came to this spot from the throne of Northumbria he had risen each morning with a sense of adventure, a zestful asking what new joy the day was going to bring him. Now, he found, he arose moodily, half the time, illogically resentful of the day's scheduled diversions, wishing that they had not promised to dine on so-and-so's yacht or that they had not promised what's-her-name to dine to Monte Carlo for the week-end.

He puffed at his pipe and looked along the peaceful waterfront. A small sailboat lay moored 50 yards down the quay; a trim craft with white hull and mahogany trim, its bright-work gleaming in the sunlight, its sails neatly stowed in a shipshape harbor furl. Someone's pleasure boat, clearly, not a fishing craft. He would stroll along presently and have a look at her; in fact, come to think of it, he would stroll along right now.

As he walked nearer, he saw someone on the boat; a lean, sandy chap in paint-stained duck trousers and a ragged jersey, tanned a deep brown by the sun and the salt winds. He smoked a cornocob pipe and he had friendly, blue eyes. The sign he was hanging said, "For sale," and as he caught Paul's eye he grinned and asked, unexpectedly, "Want to buy a boat?"

Paul took his pipe out of his mouth and gaped at him. Buy a boat? Well, why hadn't he done that months ago? He had been an ardent yachtsman, back in Northumbria, proud of his ability to get as much out of a small craft like this as any man in the Royal Yacht Club. A boat, now—a trim, seaworthy little thing like this one—why, that would give some point to his existence here. It would restore to his daily life that lost savor.

He put the pipe back in his mouth and sent back an answering grin. "Say, you know, I really might," he said. "Swell," said the man. "Come aboard and have a look."

Paul climbed the low iron rail at the edge of the concrete quay and lowered himself to the boat's deck. The man took his hand in a sneaky grip. "My name is Coffin," he said. "Jonas Coffin. The boat's named La Sylphide. I didn't name her."

"My name is Ferrone," said Paul. "I take it you don't approve of La Sylphide as a name?" "That's a name like that mean, anyhow? Down east where I come from they give boats names that mean something. You name your boat for your girl, say, like Ann McKay, or your name her something gay like Whisker, or something fancy like Nightingale. But La Sylphide!"

"Well," said Paul, who was beginning to like this strange sailor, "if she was your boat why didn't you name her?" "I do not. What's a name like that mean, anyhow? Down east where I come from they give boats names that mean something. You name your boat for your girl, say, like Ann McKay, or your name her something gay like Whisker, or something fancy like Nightingale. But La Sylphide!"

"The only one of this type is the Army Observation Balloon, Type C-3, which is undergoing service tests at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. About 200 pounds of synthetic rubber compound was used in this construction."

Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Cold. Millions have found in Calotabs the most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. Take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed. How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminators, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds. Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

By LOUIS SCHNEIDER

SIDELINES

Speculative interests have liquidated their long-term share holdings. Reason? They don't like the foreign outlook. They don't care for the picture facing the industrial industries. Congress is in session. They can't see President Roosevelt offering a friendly hand to those he nicknamed "economic royalists."

Your correspondent is informed that professional traders are of the opinion that the best place to be these days is on the sidelines. They are confining their activities only to quick trades either on the short or long side depending upon the run of news.

UNKNOWN

Steel traders are confident that the industry will not be hurt by labor difficulties of its own until the close of February. Here's the story: While it is admitted that the CIO has been gaining in membership it isn't strong enough as yet to try to pull a strike. In fact the CIO will not know its membership aggregate until after February 1.

Thus far most steel employees joined the union because they were given a "free ride." How? Membership dues aren't to be paid until February 1. It will be after that date—when dues are collected—that the CIO will know its strength. For that reason the trade's insiders don't expect any trouble until the close of next month.

The wage battle is on between labor and railroads. It is reliably reported that the rail brotherhood will demand a six-hour day with no cut in wages. Rail managements say that this demand can't be granted. The argument is that the cost would be close to $500,000,000 a year. And with freight rates lower most carriers would again fall over to the red side of the ledger. But union officials insist that the six-hour work day demand must be granted in order to reduce the lists of unemployed. The fight accounts for the sluggish action of rail securities.

RIISING

Despite the fact that prices are now at the highest levels over the past ten years, trade insiders expect a further upward price advance. Over the past two weeks prices have been lifted twice. The industry is currently operating at full capacity. Unusually heavy demand accounts for the price structure.

CONVERT

Fairbanks Morse insiders say that 1936 earnings were $4.50 a share—best in ten years. Shipments during 1936 ran forty per cent higher than those of 1935. Company entered 1937 with the best backlog of orders in six years. The improvement accounts for the conversion of the preferred shares into the common. Up to the end of February the conversion rate is three common for one preferred. After that the privilege drops to two and one-half common for one preferred.

BENEFIT

Speculative interest in the power plant equipment manufacturing equities is attributed to anticipated large utility expenditures during 1937. The full amount is expected to pass the half billion dollar mark. These companies which manufacture utility station equipment and will benefit are Foster Wheeler, Worthington Pump, Westinghouse Electric, General Electric, Allis Chalmers, Superheater and Babcock & Wilcox.

LOADINGS

Due to increased steel operations rail loadings are to continue high. Traffic experts say that ore and concentrate loadings for the first three months of this year will run over 35 per cent ahead of last year. Carriers in line to benefit are New York Central, Pennsylvania, Lehigh Valley, Chesapeake & Ohio, Baltimore & Ohio, Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, Wheeling & Lake Erie, Bessemer & Lake Erie, Union Pacific, Nickel Plate, Lackawanna and Erie Railroad.

PRIVATE

London interests report to your correspondent that J. P. Morgan and his associates have assumed a substantial interest in a new gold field in South Africa. The new field is referred to as the Western Rand. The properties will be privately financed which means no public offering—for a while.

REPORTS ARE THAT:

European investment trusts continue long of American shares—they buy to hold, not speculate. . . . Manhattan Shirt's 1936 fiscal year report will show large inventory profits. . . . Distillers-Seagram to go on a dividend paying basis. . . . As a business man's risk, Bullard has speculative potentialities. . . . Superior Steel's 1936 net estimated at close to $4 a share—netted $2 a share for fourth quarter. . . . For 1936 United Aircraft will show fifty cents a share. . . . Smart buying reported in Silver King coalition—mines said to have long life. . . . Investment trust adding to holdings of Hudson Bay mining. . . . Chicago

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT FACE PIMPLES

These disgusting little spots often result from a slight, temporary disturbance, or merely from incorrect cleansing, or sometimes they are more persistent due to deeper internal causes.

While properly treating the underlying cause, you can relieve the itchy, burning soreness and help your skin by using an ointment that will keep the medication in contact with the pimply spots. Apply it every night and leave it on all night. It does a world of good.

For more than 40 years people have used Resinol Ointment to fill this need. It soothes the irritation and aids healing. It also treats the oil pores where many surface pimples start. Washing first with Resinol Soap quickens the pleasing results.

Buy a jar of Resinol Ointment and cake of Resinol Soap from any druggist. For free sample write Resinol, Dept. 10, Baltimore, Md.

Pneumatic Tool's 1936 net estimated at $2.75 a share for common—best since 1929. . . . Resumption of utility company copper buying will increase revenues of Anaconda Wire & Cable. . . . Weston Oil & Snowdrift held for yield—and speculative possibilities. . . . 1936 cigaret production was at new peak levels—150,500,000. . . . Lima Locomotive being added to portfolio holdings. . . . Both Aluminum being switched into Electric Auto-Lite. . . . Union Bag & Paper's new Savannah mills to increase revenues of company. . . . Devoe & Reynolds has a wealthy long-pull following. . . . American Can being switched into Chrysler—for greater speculative potentialities. . . . And, that United Fruit will advertise bananas widely as a nourishing breakfast food.

McMurry Leads

ABILENE, Jan. 20 (AP)—The McMurry college Indians took the lead with the first basket last night and never lost it in defeating the Southwestern University Pirates 46 to 33 to sweep a two-game series.

McCasland, towering center, paced the Indian attack with 19 points.

AUSTIN BEATS TRINITY

SHERMAN, Jan. 20 (AP)—The Austin college cagers opened their Texas conference season with a 41 to 24 triumph over Trinity University last night. Austin led throughout. Steen, Austin forward, won scoring honors with 14 points.

HOME GIVEN $2,000

HOUSTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—The Odd Fellows Home at Corsicana was given $2,000 in the will of Robert Griffin, retired Houston businessman who died Jan. 5. The rest of his estate, in excess of $75,000, went to friends and relatives.

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS

BY WILL H. MAYES.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other people. As evidence of good faith inquirers must give their names and addresses, but only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. Who were the first of Austin's 300 colonists to settle on the Brazos river? H. E. B.

A. When Abner, Joseph and Robert Kuykendall, brothers from Arkansas, reached the west bank of the Brazos at the crossing of the old La Bahia road late in November, 1821, they found that Andrew Robinson's family had preceded them a few days and located near the present site of Washington. Abner Kuykendall located about 10 miles west of there on Jan. 1, 1822, on "New Year's creek" and about the same time Josiah Bell settled about five miles below the La Bahia road, several other families having reached the settlement in December.

Q. Who were the first Austin colonists to locate on the Colorado river? H. E. B.

A. Robert and Joseph Kuykendall, and Daniel Gilleland, left Brazos about Christmas, 1821, and settled on the Colorado River near the present town of Columbus, the first settlers there. Austin stated that on March 3, 1822, there were 50 men on the Brazos and 100 on the Colorado building cabins and planting corn for the coming of their families in the fall, though he knew of but eight families already arrived.

Q. What is the value of commercial dairy products in Texas? What county leads in production? T. E. A.

The annual market production is approximately $60,000,000, Hopkins county leading with a valuation in excess of $1,000,000 a year.

Q. What became of the Kiowa chief, Santanta, for whom the town of Santa Anna was named? G. S. A.

He was sent to the Texas penitentiary for depredations and the killing of several teamsters near Fort Belknap in 1871 and paroled after a few years. He was soon convicted again and sent to the Huntsville prison, where he suicided in 1878 by jumping from the second story of the barracks.

CRAYON PROJECTS IN TEXAS HISTORY

It is easy to teach children history with penciled outline pictures of historical subjects and colored crayons. History taught in this way is never forgotten and a taste is created for more information.

"Centennial Projects, Texas Under Six Flags," contains 36 pages of outlines on many phases of Texas history and events, with cover showing the Texas Capitol under six flags, each in its correct color. Mailed postpaid for 25 cents. Send order to Will H. Mayes, 2910 Salado Street, Austin, Texas.

In this baby," he said. "But she sure is a sweetheart. How about it; you want her?"

"Yes. How much do you want for her?"

Jonas Coffin looked at him with down-east caution. "Well," he said, "with what she stood me, and what I put in her, and--how would three thousand dollars be? I don't know what that comes to in their money over here. Quite a lot, I expect?"

"Three thousand dollars would be just right," said Paul--thereby giving Jonas Coffin, who had expected half an hour of haggling, the surprise of his life. "Can I take possession at once--today?"

"You sure can," said the American, tearing himself away from the diverting speculation about what might have happened if he had asked for five thousand. "We'll have to go up to the city hall, or whatever they call it here, and sign the transfer papers and so on. All my stuff's in a suitcase and I'll take it along as we go. Meanwhile, how about another drink?"

"They had another glass of wine. Coffin stretched his long legs, put his hands back of his head, and sniffed smoke toward the masthead. "Will you, for Pete's sake, give her a new name?" he asked.

"If you wish it. What would you suggest?"

"Oh--" the American blew out more smoke--"call her the Irene, will you?"

"Irene? Gladly. Irene. Is that--if I may ask--the name of your sweetheart, back in America?"

"Irene? No. No, that's the name of a schooner the old man owned when I was a kid. Used to trade between Portland and Savannah. Coasting steamers finally put her out of business. I'd kind of like to think a boat named Irene was still running somewhere. I used to think a lot of that schooner."

The American sighed. "A man could still make money with windjammers," he said dreamily. "Barkentines, now, with little auxiliary oil engines..."

He sat up abruptly.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

ALTHOUGH THE MOUNTAIN LAUREL IS A SHRUB, A SINGLE SPECIMEN WITH A TRUNK 32 INCHES IN DIAMETER WAS FOUND IN THE GREAT SMOKY NATIONAL PARK.

BACTERIA ARE FOUND IN THREE DIFFERENT SHAPES... RODS, CORKSCREWS, AND BALLS!

ON TOP OF MT. WASHINGTON, IN NEW HAMPSHIRE, A 231 MILE AN HOUR WIND WAS RECORDED APRIL 12, 1934.

THE name "bacterium," meaning staff, or stick, was given to this class of organisms when only the rod-shaped type was known. The three classifications are known as: Bacilli, or rod-shaped, Spirilli, or spiral-shaped, and Micrococci, the spherical, or near spherical forms.

NEXT: What wood is so heavy it can't be used for sinkers?

"Well," he said, "let's get up to the city hall and sign those papers."

Two hours later Paul returned to the quay alone. He stood by the rail looking down jubilantly at La Sylphide--soon, he thought, grinning, to be the Irene, in memory of a vanished American schooner. He saw himself willing long hours and days away out in the bay with his trim little schooner, and the prospect was a bright one. With a kicking tiller in his hand and the salt spray on his face, life would have zest once more.

And then a sobering thought came to him.

He had given up a throne for his freedom--and now, less than a year later, he had to buy a sailing boat in order to keep that hard-bought freedom from boring him to distraction!

SCHOOL MEALS WILL BE PAID OUT OF FUND

PLAN OF FEEDING 128 CHILDREN TO BE STUDIED

Agreement to pay for school cafeteria meals for needy children until Feb. 1 was reached by the advisory council of the Pampa Supplementary Relief fund at its regular meeting in City Hall yesterday evening. The fund also agreed to pay meal costs for the indigent pupils, incurred at the cafeteria since Jan. 1 when it was learned the bills had not been paid.

Meanwhile efforts will be made to work out some plan for feeding the 128 children now listed on the rolls for school lunches under relief funds.

Approximately $600 a month is needed to pay for the cafeteria lunches for the children of relief clients, it was stated. Average cost per meal is 20 cents.

There was some discussion of setting up a special WPA cafeteria project in Pampa for the feeding of needy pupils but the plan was abandoned when it was reported no building was available for the project.

Bills for the week were approved and the council adjourned until 5 p. m. next Tuesday. Yesterday's session was attended by school representatives seeking some means to finance the cafeteria meals for the needy school pupils.

Members of the advisory council present were Chairman C. E. Lancaster, Jess Wynne, Siler Faulkner, John Roby, Aaron Meeks, Tex De Weese, Dan Gribbon, and Earl O'Keefe. Garnet Reeves, fund treasurer, and Mrs. Willie Bain, county welfare agent, also were among those at the session.

MARKET FABRICS

NEW YORK, Jan. 20. (AP)—Motors and steel led the stock market in a steady recovery Monday. Landed favorites up 1 to around 4 points with a number of others near par.

The return was attributed partly to a better outlook in the labor sector. In the frequent strikes the market was often behind, once as much as 5 minutes.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20. (AP)—In late dealings today, wheat prices rallied, and showed fractional advances, with new crop deliveries taking the lead.

Predictions of severe cold weather caused anxiety about domestic winter wheat. This was the case in particular regarding central areas where there has recently been much rain.

At close, wheat was 1/4 off to 1/2 up compared with yesterday's finish, May 1.30-1.30 1/2, July 1.15 1/2-1.14, corn 78 1/2-79 1/2, soybeans 1.05 1/2-1.05 1/4, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 1/2 cent.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON. NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 20. (AP)—The market held to a point lower in late trading during the first half of the session. Early losses had not been covered at the noon hour, although they were held to small proportions.

Scattered general liquidation and Bombay selling unsettled Liverpool and this business was quickly reflected in prices on domestic exchanges.

From Japan came a cable with bearish news from a consumption standpoint. It hinted there might be further deviation of the yen, which would give Japan additional advantage in the cloth export market.

affected the fees of sheriff, constables, justices of the peace, district clerk and county attorney.

"In 1936 such fees amounted to $3,878.40 and in 1936 the state contributed $773.15 to the salary fund in lieu of such fees. Profit from feeding jail prisoners has also been removed from the fees of the sheriff.

The total disbursements and receipts shown by the salary fund for 1936 does not represent a full year of operation, since some bills in December were paid in January and some December fee collections were not turned in until January of this year."

Valuation Growth Shown. The auditor's report throws an interesting light on valuations and tax rates over a period of years dating from 1902 when Gray county valuation was $893,898, with a county tax rate of 25 cents.

In 24 years the valuation figures showed gradual growth until they reached $3,785,404 in 1926. With the discovery of oil the valuation shot up eight millions to $11,394,877 in 1927, with a county tax rate of 95 cents.

Last year, 1936, the county valuation was $27,941,535 and the tax rate was $1.04.

The report shows the following balances in the various funds on Jan. 1, this year:

General, $16,221.66; jury, $8,961.43; road and bridge, $2,937.22; road and bridge No. 1, $6,517.18; road and bridge No. 2, $4,840.28; road and bridge No. 3, $2,404.49; road and bridge No. 4, $1,117.97; court house and jail, $9,737.53; bond, nothing; bond interest and sinking, $69,771.35; court house and jail interest and sinking, $19,624.82; road and bridge interest and sinking, $3,206.52; general interest and sinking, $4,297.36; special, $37,116.82; and salary fund, $620.48.

The report shows total receipts for the year, less transfers of $331,764.33, were $468,120.82; total disbursements were $436,783.30. In addition to cash credits shown in the report there is deposited with the state treasurer for the credit of the bond interest and sinking fund, $78,000 of Gray county obligations.

Total budget allowances in Gray county funds for the year are $245,948.97 and out of this amount there were total expenditures for 1936 of $239,058.68. This shows that the county funds ended their operating year with a balance of approximately $6,000 on hand.

FLOODS FORCE 550 FAMILIES TO EVACUATE

(By The Associated Press)

Rain-swollen streams battered levees with unabated fury in the midwest today, sweeping over lowlands and forcing hundreds of families from flood-engulfed homes.

Anxiety for the safety of thousands of other persons was heightened by forecasts of additional rains in portions of Ohio, Indiana, Missouri, Illinois and Arkansas.

Red Cross officials said at least 550 families evacuated homes in the vicinity of Kennett and Senath, Mo., where the raging St. Francis river poured through at least nine levee breaks. Weary emergency workers demobilized after a losing fight to restrain the stream.

"Thousands of farming acres were inundated along the Missouri-Arkansas line. Monette and Black Oak, Ark., and the rich farming area of northeastern Arkansas faced flood waters. Farmers and sharecroppers joined in the task of holding the St. Francis within its banks in lower Dunklin county, Mo.

The White river, climbing steadily in an inch an hour, tore through two levee breaks and flooded thousands of acres of farm land in the vicinity of Hazelton, in southern Indiana. Farmers had been expecting the break. WPA workmen and volunteers fell back before the swollen stream.

Many persons in Illinois danger zones fled to higher ground. Hundreds of lowland residents either left or prepared to leave for higher ground in western Tennessee. The Mississippi river approached flood stage at Memphis.

While some parts of the middle-west fought flood waters, others the far west suffered from snow storms and sub-zero weather. Two persons died in North Dakota's cold wave. At Bemidji, Minn., the thermometer registered 43 degrees below zero yesterday.

STOLEN CAR IS FOUND, AND ANOTHER REPORTED

Sheriff's officers today reported recovery of one stolen automobile and listed another car theft.

A car stolen from Bob Lynch, of McLean, last week was found abandoned in a ditch near Canadian yesterday.

A pickup, owned by W. A. Hall, Noelette grocer, was stolen from its parking place on W. Foster-st here about 11:30 last night, officers reported.

AMBER LIGHT GONE. Pampa motorists are getting used to the change in the streetlights on Cuyler-st and are liking it, interviews reveal.

Yesterday Police Chief Art Hurst ordered the amber light disconnected at each intersection. Now the lights flash from green to red and from red to green without a pause. The change will stop motorists running across intersections on and after the change, it is believed.

FLU EPIDEMIC REPORTED. SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 20. (AP)—An epidemic of influenza was reported at Fort Sam Houston today with 325 respiratory cases under treatment at the station hospital and more expected to be admitted daily.

The patient population of the hospital this morning was 815, and this number was expected to be boosted to more than 1,000 by the end of the month. They represent all kinds of cases, including those of respiratory diseases.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON. WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. (AP)—Texans braved cold and rain today to watch another Texan, Vice President John Garner, again take his oath of office. In the absence of Gov. James V. Allred, Col. and Mrs. George Strake of Houston became the state's official representatives and sat in the first car of Texas' three-automobile section of the parade between the Florida and Iowa contingents.

Hughes. With Justices of the Supreme Court among his hearers, he spoke once more of the constitution but said nothing about the courts.

This year, Mr. Roosevelt recalls, marks the 150th anniversary of that fundamental charter. The forefathers found it a way out of the chaos that followed the revolutionary war, he said, adding:

"They created a strong government with powers of united action sufficient then and now to solve problems utterly beyond individual or local solution. A century and a half ago they established the federal government in order to promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty to the American people.

"Today we invoke those same powers of government to achieve the same objectives."

Mr. Roosevelt said the greatest change in recent years was "the change in the moral climate of America."

"With this change in our moral climate and our re-discovered ability to improve our economic order," he observed, "we have set our feet upon the road of enduring progress."

"Shall we pause now and turn our back upon the road that lies ahead? Shall we call this the promised land?"

"Or shall we continue on our way?"

Saying the mental and moral horizons have been extended, he warned it would be more difficult to hold to progress than it was to get started.

"In these last four years," Mr. Roosevelt said, "we have made the exercise of all power more democratic; for we have begun to bring private autocratic powers in their proper subordination to the public's government."

"The legend that they were invincible—above and beyond the process of democracy—has been shattered. They have been challenged and beaten."

"Dulled conscience, irresponsibility and ruthless self-interest already reappear," he said. "Such symptoms of prosperity may become portents of disaster."

"Prosperity already tests the persistence of our progressive purpose."

The President reminded at the start that on that similar cold, forbidding day of March, 1933, when he first took the oath, "the republic, single-minded in anxiety, stood in spirit here."

"We dedicated ourselves to the fulfillment of a vision," he recalled, "to speed the time when there would be for all the people that security and peace essential to the pursuit of happiness."

"We of the republic pledged ourselves to drive from the temple of our ancient faith those who had profaned it; to end by action, tireless and unfair, the stagnation and despair of that day."

"We did those things first."

"Our government with ourselves did not stop there."

"Instinctively we recognized a deeper need—the need to find through

COUNTY SPENT $136,929 ON ROADS IN '36

A rough idea of where his money goes is given to John Taxpayer of Gray county in the annual report made public today by County Auditor Ray Wilson.

For instance, $136,929.74 was spent in 1936 on roads in Gray county. Some of the larger items in this road bill to the taxpayers include $13,113 for fuel and oil, $24,247 for engine and gradation, $22,242 for lumber and culverts, and $29,242 for labor.

The road fund's biggest sources of income for the year were $46,499 in taxes and $89,857 in registration fees.

From the general fund Gray county spent last year, among other things: $9,082 for special assessors, $10,280 for paupers and indigents, $2,476 for utility bills, $392 for boarding prisoners, and $1,203 for election expenses.

Jurors sitting on trials in district and county courts last year cost the taxpayers approximately $7,500.

From the officers' salary fund $70,531.11 was spent to pay the county attorney, assessor-collector, county clerk, county judge, sheriff, district clerk, treasurer, four justices of the peace and three constables. Biggest item in this list was $21,737 for operating the sheriff's department. Receipts from the sheriff's office amounted to only $1,647.

The county judge last year took in $218.71 and his department cost
