Pride Of Detroit Drives Through To Hongkong Today

CARLING SHIP LOST WITHOUT SINGLE TRACE

Carmania Unable To Locate Old Glory Plane

OCEAN TRIPS DISCOURAGED

Levine Determined To Make East-to-West Flight

(By The Associated Press.) HONGKONG, China, Sept. 9.—The round-the-world airplane, Pride of Detroit, made a successful flight from Hanoi, French Indo-China, to Hongkong, arriving here this afternoon.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (AP)—The liner Carmania has reported to the Cunard steamship office here that she had proceeded 260 miles over the estimated course of the plane, Old Glory, but failed to discover any trace of the lost monoplane or its crew of three.

LONDON, Sept. 9. (AP)—While relatives of aviators Terry, Tully, and James Medcalf today were keeping anxious watch, hoping against hope that the airplane Sir John Carling would be reported on its flight from London, Ontario to London, England.

There was a total absence of news here of the machine having been sighted at any point. The afternoon papers print the suggestions from Canada, France, and the United States that trans-Atlantic flights should be discouraged.

LONDON, England, Sept. 9 (AP)—Charles Levine, undismayed by recent Atlantic flight disasters, declared today that he still intends, despite expert advice, to make an east to west flight, the attempt to be made as soon as the weather is favorable.

"I think the flight can be made and my aim is to prove it," Levine said.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9. (AP)—Growing sentiment in government circles against trans-Atlantic stunt fliers probably will lead to the recall of Lieutenant Lawrence Curtin, naval aviator, who was to have accompanied Rene Fonck on his projected New York to Paris flight.

Suspects In Bank Robbery Arrested At Noelton Recently

Whit Nave was arrested at Noelton last week by Sheriff Claude McKinney of Collingsworth county and Sheriff Ed Smith of Hollis, Okla., on a charge of bank robbery. Nave is alleged to have been implicated in the robbery of the bank at Dodsonville some time ago.

In connection with the same robbery, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fee, Buster English, and Whitey Bailey, have also been arrested. Bailey will be remembered as being arrested in connection with the recent trouble in Borger and the Pampa bank robbery. Fee is also wanted on charges of robbery, car theft, jail-breaking, and hi-jacking. The two sheriffs were in Pampa yesterday hunting evidence here and at Noelton.

Rapid City Bids Coolidge Farewell

RAPID CITY, Sept. 9.—With a huge demonstration that brought out what seemed to be the whole town, Rapid City in the Black Hills said farewell to day to President and Mrs. Coolidge.

The presidential party is due back in Washington early next week.

Apropos of Tomorrow

(A Road Bond Conversation)

"Good morning, Mr. Merchant, I suppose you are on your way to vote for the road bonds."

"How are you, Mr. Landowner. Yes, I am on my way to vote, but I intend to vote against the bonds."

"Against the bonds?"

"Yes, taxes will be so high the benefits will not be worth what they cost."

"How much do you pay taxes on?"

"My county valuation is $30,000."

"Have you figured what this road bond issue will cost you?"

"Well, about $300 a year, I suppose."

"Let's see, the district valuations will be five millions or more, and the bonds, of course, will be issued so that as the interest decreases the principal will increase. On that basis the first year's payment on principal and interest would amount to $25,000. Now at that figure it would require 50c on the $100 to pay it. That means $150 from you. But the county valuations are so much higher this year that the rate could be cut at least 25c and still bring in $10,000 more than the county had last year. So that would make it cost you only 25c on the $100 or $75 for the year."

"You mean that on $30,000 valuation it would only cost me $75 more taxes if the bond issue carries?"

"That's what I mean and I don't see how you can afford to vote against it."

"Well, what are the advantages of the issue?"

"Other places are building good roads and much of the rural trade that is now coming here will go elsewhere if we do not pave. If we do pave some of the trade that is going elsewhere now on account of the roads will come to us."

"That sounds reasonable."

"But it is not all. The cost to the farmers of bringing in their farm products will be much less and they will be able to raise their standard of living. This means they will have more money in the bank and will be able to meet their bills more promptly. It also means that we will be building a city that will attract more and more people. Then your business will increase. Every man, woman and child should benefit by the bond issue."

"I think I see that now and I can understand why you have a good reason for voting for it. The increase in business will enable you to rent that vacant building."

"It surely will, and those lots I have for sale will move faster and bring a higher price. In addition, thousands of dollars will be paid to our farmers for work on the roads."

"By George, I am going to telephone my wife and tell her to come down and vote for the bonds."

Salvation Is Not By Works, But By Faith, Says Brabham

Preaching from the old familiar Scripture of the third chapter of John, the Rev. Brabham last night discussed the conversation of Jesus and Nicodemus.

"There is a mistaken idea," he said, "that the Methodist church teaches salvation by works, or that a man can work his way into Heaven. This is not so, for we believe the Word of God which teaches that salvation is by faith alone. All the good things you try to do before regeneration do not amount to a snap in the eyes of God. All our righteousnesses are as filthy rags."

"Nicodemus," continued Rev. Brabham, "could not explain to Jesus where the wind came from, nor where it went; even so we are born of the Spirit without being able to give a practical explanation of it and without understanding all its mysteries."

Speaking to those who will not accept Christ without first being cognizant of all that it means, Rev. Brabham said: "Can you tell me why a black watermelon seed in the brown earth will produce a huge green watermelon with pink insides, sugar, water and some more seeds? Of course you cannot explain it, yet will that make you quit eating watermelon? If you did everything on that principle, you would go hungry for a long time."

The morning meeting are growing in attendance Rev. Brabham's messages to the Christians are proving helpful to the Christian folks of Pampa.

The theme of this evening's message is "Why I Am Not a Christian," in which Rev. Brabham will answer all objections offered by those who refuse to accept Jesus Christ.

At 7:30 o'clock this evening the quartet from the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago will give a musical program. You are invited to all these services.—Contributed.

Liquor Charges Filed After Raid At Holmes City

Ten gallons of red corn whisky, two gallons of alcohol and six full cases of beer were confiscated by members of the sheriff's department last night in a raid at Holmes City. The whisky was discovered in a car at the rear of a filling station there.

Charges were laid against the possessors, who are out under bond.

Picking First Team Of Harvesters Will Be Very Difficult

Coach Verde Dickey of the high school football squad and his stalwarts returned last night from a 10-day camp on the Canadian.

The members of the team seem in excellent condition and Coach Dickey is looking forward to a pennant this year.

The Harvesters will work out every afternoon at Ayres field at 3:15 o'clock, and will welcome on-lookers. The coach has his hands full picking his first team, and so far has made no definite selection either of his line or his backfield.

He reports the line to be heavy and the backfield light and fast, with some good kickers.

Borger Woman Is Held In Death Of Husband In January

CHILDRESS, Sept. 9.—Mrs. Ida Morgan of Borger is being held in jail here, on charges of murder in connection with the death of her husband, whose decomposed body was found pushed under a culvert on a ranch near here last January.

She is said to have made a statement to officers implicating a man now held in Wellington on charges of robbing the Dodsonville bank.

Those being held in Wellington are Whitey Bailey of Borger, Whit Nave, Buster and Downie English, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fee.

Will Organize to Work For Road Bonds At Meeting This Evening In C. of C. Rooms

Citizens interested in the promotion of the road bond election to be held tomorrow will meet at the Chamber of Commerce rooms tonight at 8 o'clock to organize.

It is believed that a heavy vote will be needed to make the two-thirds majority certain, and all eligible voters will be urged to go to the polls tomorrow.

The election will be held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, with D. W. Osborne in charge.

Trade Day Set For September 14; Real Values Offered

Pampa merchants are now selecting fine bargains to offer all who visit local stores on Trade Day, which has been set for Wednesday, September 14.

The Pampa Daily News in its issue of Monday will carry Trade Day publicity in which a big list of special bargains will be displayed in one group. These "specials" are to be offered one by each store and will enable shoppers to make big savings, and the day will be worth driving miles to observe.

The Trade Day specials will be advertised throughout the Pampa trade territory. Pampa Trade Day is an institution formed to make Pampa the trading center of this area, and special efforts will be made each month to make it worth while to the buyers. It is a good will day, on which goods are offered at prices which will mean savings of thousands of dollars.

An invitation to people of this entire territory to attend all Trade Days is extended.

Teachers Arrive To Plan School Work Of Monday

Supt. R. C. Campbell and many of his staff of teachers arrived today from Canyon, where they attended the consolidated teachers' institute.

Four additional teachers have been employed. They are:

Miss Kate Tyne, principal for Kingsmill, who has had three years of college training and three years of experience.

Charles C. Allen, who has had more than three years of work at Canyon Teachers college, will take the place of Rex McKay, resigned, as principal of the Lamar school.

Miss Lillian Donnell, A. B., who will teach in the intermediate grades. Her home is in Canyon.

Mrs. Roy Riley, A. B. Canyon Teachers college, who will teach penmanship and art.

B. E. Finley Rests Well After Operation For Appendicitis

B. E. Finley, who became very ill yesterday morning, was operated upon for appendicitis at Pampa hospital this morning. He stood the operation well, and was resting easily at press time today.

Mr. Finley did not rest well last night, and an operation was deemed imperative. He is an old resident, having come here in 1907. For the last several years he has been president of the First National bank.

U. S. EMBASSY PROTESTS NEW HIGHER DUTIES

Rates Increase Six-Fold; Surprise To Many

NEW SCHEDULE CONTEMPLATED

Negotiations Under Way to Make Privileges Equal

(By The Associated Press.) PARIS, Sept. 9.—What are said to be prohibitive duties upon a variety of American exports to France have been in force against shipments from the United States ports since September 1, it was learned today.

The new duties are from four to six times higher than under the general tariff now effective, than previously.

This fact came as a surprise to the American embassy on Wednesday, it having been understood from the French foreign office that the new tariffs were rather more favorable to American trade than the old schedules. The embassy, acting under instructions from the state department, is making an energetic representation to the foreign office.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9. (AP)—Washington officials are hopeful that disadvantages under which American exports to France are suffering, due to new French tariff schedules, which became effective Sept. 1, will prove temporary in character, in view of the fact that negotiations for a more favored commercial treaty between the two countries already have been instituted.

Such a treaty would give the United States the same privileges granted any other nation.

Hard Matches Up In Tennis Tourney

The sets in the open tournament of the Pampa Tennis club are nearing the finals and some good matches are being played each evening. Tonight Hinkle and Grove will meet and one of the players goes out of the tournament.

Stewart and Melton won their games on a forfeit from Solomon, who will leave the city tomorrow. Kingsbery and Stewart are to meet in what should be the fastest game of the tournament, as both are fast and play a hard game.

Those still left in the tournament, and have drawn "bys" for this round are Pond, Melton, and Vicars.

Important Tests Are Drilling Ahead

The Camel Oil company's No. 1 Raymond Harrah, in section 163, block 3, is drilling ahead at 800 feet. The well is a project only of local men composed of W. R. Campbell, B. E. Finley, and H. G. Twiford.

The Donley Gray Oil company's No. 1 J. W. Gordon in section 79, block 3, is fishing at about 2,900 feet.

The Pampa Oil and Refining company's No. 1 W. R. Campbell, in section 33, block 3, within the city limits, is drilling ahead at better than 2,900 feet.

Sheriff E. S. Graves returned yesterday from Odessa, Poyote, Wink, and other oil towns, in the West Texas oil field. He states that there is very little doing there and that the Pampa field is the best yet. The towns are not prospering as they should during a boom, and he believes Pampa is the big oil town of Texas.

Hogs Highest Since April; Cattle Steady

KANSAS CITY Stock Yards, Sept. 8.—Hog prices took another 15 to 25 cent jump Monday, going to a new high position of the past several months. In the past ten days the light and medium as well as the heavy hogs have advanced $1 to $1.50, and the light lights only 50 cents. Quotations now are the highest since early April. Stockers and feeders predominated in the cattle run and there were sold readily at strong prices. Fat classes were steady. Fed cattle were scarce. Trade in sheep and lambs opened slowly at sharply lower bids and finally settled on a quarter decline.

Receipts today were 17,000 cattle, 3,500 hogs and 12,000 sheep, compared with 26,000 cattle, 5,000 hogs and 14,000 sheep a week ago, and 24,150 cattle, 5,525 hogs and 12,260 sheep a year ago.

Total receipts of cattle were materially below normal for this season of the year, and the per cent of fat cattle was unusually small. Classes fat enough for killers sold readily at steady prices. They were mostly grass fat. Some short fed steers brought $12.50 to $13.70. Wintered Kansas steers sold at $10.50 to $12 and grass steers $7.25 to $10.75. Those below $8.25 were plain quality. Receipts for the rest of the week will not be heavy. Today's run was light owing to the fact that it was Labor Day holiday in most trade lines. Cows and heifers were fully steady. Receipts were moderate with indications that the offerings this fall will be much smaller than usual. Cows brought $4.25 to $8.50. Some fed heifers sold at $9.75 to $10.50 but nothing choice was offered. Veal calves were steady.

Though the per cent of stockers and feeders in relation to total receipts of cattle was large, the supply was light for this season of the year. Prices were quoted steady to strong with trade active.

Hog prices continued on their upward course, today's advance being 15 to 25 cents, mostly 25 cents. Demand was urgent from all sources and conditions are favorable for a further advance. In the past two weeks medium to strong weight hogs have advanced more than the lighter weights and the price spread has narrowed accordingly. Today 180 to 240 pound hogs sold at $11.25 to $11.50; 240 to 260 pounds $11 to $11.25; 260 to 325 pounds, $10.25 to 11. Packing sows $8.75 to $9.25 and stock hogs and pigs $9.50 to $10.65.

Lambs were 25 cents lower and sheep were quoted weak. Fat lambs predominated. Range lambs brought $12.75 to $13.25; native lambs $12 to $12.50. Yearlings are quoted at $9.50 to $10; wethers $7.50 to $8; ewes $5 to $6.50 and feeding lambs $12 to $13.

The fall trade in horses and mules is under way with demand showing large volume at steady prices.

MODELS ON DIET GROW TOO THIN TO SHOW STYLES

(By The Associated Press.)
PARIS—"That slender boyish figure," all but ruined one of the most important recent dressmaker's style shows.

It did weaken the constitution of half a dozen mannequins.

Reducing rarely had had such disciples as assembled every morning for months past at a certain dressmaker's command to get in shape for the big showing for buyers.

Strict diet lists were imposed upon the girls selected for beauty of face and figure. They were told what to eat and drink and what not and how, when and where. A masseuse rolled and pounded any bulges and the management preached reduction until the girls grew haggard. All but one of the group of American models brought over by the house disappeared from the ranks before the training season ended and when the big night came there weren't enough models to show the goods in the usual time.

One girl whose voice was going to give her a career said she got so weak she couldn't sing and gave up her job as a mannequin.

Relief is in sight, however, because the fashion "prophets" see curves coming back.

The party is on its way back from Wrangell Island with seven walrus and seven polar bears. Mrs. Rochester B. Slaughter of Chicago, another woman member of the expedition, also shot a polar bear.

OUT OUR WAY

—By Williams

The Livestock Situation

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—Soil producing food stuff and other commodities required for the sustenance and comfort of humanity is the final basis from which everything must be reckoned.

Community prosperity is governed by recognition of the importance of building up and maintaining fertility of the soil.

We have examples of this in the so-called "deserted farms" in sections of the east where everything was taken and nothing returned to the soil for generations, until the productivity was entirely exhausted. Then, we have the middle west, where years ago the importance of fertilization was temporarily overlooked until it was so forcibly brought home to the land holder that proper recognition was given to the subject. In those middle western sections we now observe what is probably as well balanced, prosperous and diversified an agriculture as may be found anywhere in the world; with livestock occupying its place as one of the most important units.

It is self evident that year in and year out the raising and feeding of even a small number of meat food animals gives to the producer, regardless of what his main line of production is, a much needed diversification. Every dollar of taxes annually contributed by the farmers of the west could be paid by the keeping of a few head of livestock on the rance, and this product is one for which cash is available every day. What other product can you call to mind for which there is a cash market available every day in the year, and for which there is a perpetually sustained demand?

The value of fertilizer derived from keeping a few animals on the farm, when considered in dollars, overshadows the profits to be made from the handling of the animals themselves. People in the middle west who have proven the wisdom of this practice have found that in purchasing young heaves and finish feeding them, or handling hogs or sheep, that the fertilizer retained for the rehabilitating of the soil exceeded in value the original cost of the animals.

It has been proven conclusively that in diversification lies success and safety for the producer. In an "off" year, or when a slump has been experienced on the production or marketing of some particular commodity, the producer who has shown the wisdom of carrying a few head of livestock on his place isn't so seriously affected as the producer who relies entirely upon one crop for his revenue.

Livestock markets report increasing gains in receipts arriving from small producers, many times coming in the form of community shipments where several producers pool their holdings in order to make up a carload. It would seem reasonable to predict that it is only a question of time until the bulk of livestock production will be in the hands of small producers brought about largely through the continued cutting up of large areas.

Bridge Costs Job Of Old Mail Carrier

(By The Associated Press.)
STUMPY POINT, N. C.—The island of Stumpy Point is about to lose its veteran mail carrier. For many years Capt. Major Pugh, now 22, has used a small boat to cross ten leagues of open sea and deliver mail daily from the Carolina mainland. He will soon retire. A concrete highway is being built across the marshes and when it is finished the boat trip will be necessary no longer.

Stumpy Point has but 300 inhabitants. It has three boasts: It never has had a divorce suit, it has more pairs of twins than any community of similar size in the state, and it has an unwritten law against the use of cigarettes.

HINTS FOR
by THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

"In hog raising it is not so much the kind of pasture as it is the necessity of having a good pasture of some kind."—E. Z. Russell.

Although steel and rubber enter into the manufacture of automobiles largely, there is more wood used in this industry than ever was required in the old horse-vehicle business.

Cattle should not be fed within 24 hours before slaughter, but access to fresh water is desirable. Do not kill the animals while in an excited or overheated condition, as they will not bleed well. Beef animals not properly bled do not keep well.

Rubber hoof pads are not recommended for horses that work on the farm, as the soil works its way under the pad, causing lameness by extra pressure on the navicular joint. When rubber pads are used, the Bureau of Animal Industry advises that pine tar with a thin layer of oakum should be applied to the sole of the foot to keep it moist and avoid contraction.

The manner in which the average hen molts or sheds her feathers is a reasonably safe guide to follow in weeding out poor layers. The better producers continue to lay late in the fall and therefore do not molt until late. The late molters also molt rapidly as a rule, while the early molters, which are usually the poor layers, molt slowly. Hens that have not molted by August or September will show dirty, worn, or broken plumage, while those that have molted early show fresh, clean plumage or growing feathers at this time.

Lightning conductors should be attached direct to a building with metallic fasteners. Porcelain insulators are not required. A good electrical connection with the wet roof and walls of a building, says the Weather Bureau, helps to relieve the structure of its charge. When a conductor of sufficient weight per foot is used (the minimum is 3 ounces for copper conductors), there is no danger that the building will be fired, even when a direct stroke of lightning is passing through the conductors.

With the approach of the hunting season, the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture directs attention to the fact that under the migratory-bird treaty regulations, administered by that Bureau, the only shore birds that may be lawfully hunted are Wilson snipe, jacksnipe, and woodcock. The federal season has been closed for an indefinite period on black-bellied and golden plover and until August 16, 1929, on greater and lesser yellowlegs. There is no open season on reedbirds. A copy of the Federal game laws and also a bulletin containing a synopsis of Federal, State and Provincial laws relating to the protection of game will be furnished free on request addressed to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Royalty Summers At Seashore

Two royal Siamese youngsters are summering on the Massachusetts seashore—Ananda (left) and Kalyani, nephew and niece of the King of Siam.

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass. (AP)—Oriental royalty, in the persons of the nephew and niece of the King of Siam, are summering on the sands of West Chop, Martha's Vineyard. But since Ananda is only two years old, and Kalyani, his sister, but a year or two older, their principal activities have been wading in the shallows and gathering shells.

Ananda carries his two years with about the same dignity as anyone else his age and Kalyani shows an almost American interest in the technique of handling American "A B C" blocks, toy boats, pail and shovel.

The black-haired, brown skinned youngsters are the children of Mahidol Songkha, half-brother of the King of Siam and a son of the late king. He is studying medicine at the Harvard Medical School in Boston. The children are vacationing with their mother, a thoroughly modern young matron.

Woman's Status Varies In All Lands

(By The Associated Press.) LONDON—What a woman is, depends upon the country in which she lives, believes Canon W. R. Dawson, headmaster of Brighton College. "In France, a woman is a plaything," said the canon in an address here. "In Germany, a woman is a drudge. "In America she's a goddess. "In England, she's a partner—nearly always a ruling partner."

Old Mine Story in Presidio County May Come True

(By The Associated Press.) MARFA, Sept. 9.—One of the romances of mining is apparently about to be translated into reality in this vicinity. It all came about through a hint from a prospector fifteen years ago and the long memory of a mining man in this year.

The prospector is not identified. The mining man is J. T. Mace of Presidio, who is doing development work on a silver mine between Marfa and Presidio on the main highway, 7 miles north of Shafter, where the largest silver producing mine in the United States is located.

Ore picked up on the surface runs 34 ounces to the ton, according to Mr. Mace, and is expected to prove extremely valuable.

The mine was located by Mr. Mace, who had been in the mining business in New Mexico and Arizona for a number of years.

One day, so the story goes, a mining prospector entered Mr. Mace's camp about 15 years ago and spent the night. During the evening he told Mr. Mace about ore he had found on the surface of the ground near a large rock on the road in Presidio county, Texas. He described the point by four mountain peaks. Mr. Mace, however, who had listened to many prospectors stories, thought no more about it until a few weeks ago when he with other Presidio citizens went to paint signs advertising Presidio business establishments. While other members of the party were at that work, Mr. Mace picked up several pieces of rock which he said he found rich in silver and with a trace of gold. Then he remembered the story of the mining prospector. He saw the peaks as the prospector had described them and the route of the old road, although it had been changed somewhat in recent years. He gathered the specimens and sent them to El Paso to be assayed.

They proved to contain considerable silver. The proposition was financed and plans made to establish a camp and sink a shaft. A number of other prospective mines also have recently been located in Presidio county.

You can't look at a tire and tell how far it will run

YOU CAN'T SEE a tire carcass because it is covered by the tread. Yet the way this carcass is built tells how far the tire will run.

Dunlop has had 39 years to learn all the hidden points where tires wear. Dunlop carcasses are built from the best long fibre cotton, spun in Dunlop's own mills into the famous Dunlop cable-twist cord.

These cords are elastic, so they give and take as your tire runs; strong, so they resist constant load and pounding. They build the best possible foundation for the Dunlop tread—the toughest rubber development known.

Thus Dunlop's extra years of experience build added value into every vital tire-part. That is why, not one Dunlop—but every Dunlop—gives you more service than you can reasonably expect.

VOTE RIGHT — Communities are made or retarded on the basis of such decisions as the road bond election of tomorrow.

Records show that a number of local voters have been against almost every kind of issue. The same may be true Saturday. If so, it will take a very heavy vote to obtain the necessary two-thirds majority.

Resident property taxpayers may vote. New residents, if they have been in the state a year and in the county six months may vote without having paid their poll tax if they have come into the state since January 1, 1926.

The state highway commission is functioning well. McLean's roads and Carson county's roads will be paved without delay.

Here are some reasons why: 1. The amount of the issue, $400,000, is as small as possible to build dependable roads on the main highways in the Pampa special road district.

2. The roads are placed so as best to serve the entire district. For example, TRAFFIC WILL BE ROUTED UP SOUTH CUYLER STREET and through the heart of the city, giving the maximum trade and publicity benefits.

3. State and federal engineers approve the plans, and the state will maintain most of the paving after it is built. State and federal aid is now available on most of the proposed paving.

4. Without the paving Pampa will be isolated in a fertile trade territory, and business will be driven away to towns which are paving in their territory.

5. It is too late to vote county-wide bonds, but Pampa, with her rich district oil and business valuations, can now GET WHAT SHE PAYS FOR.

6. It takes time to build roads—vote favorably now in order to complete the project within the next year.

Oh, That's All Right—He's Used To It

7. When oil comes back strong, the best prepared town is going to profit first and most. Invite industries and people to a Greater Pampa by assuring the community of having all-weather roads.

8. Another railroad is probable, but connection with the other paving covering the Panhandle oil field is just as vital if Pampa is to become in the fullest sense the oil capital.

9. Traffic will go out of its way to get on the paving—put the New Pampa in the real city class by giving her this advantage.

10. Good roads should be classed with good schools, for they are worth more than they cost. The road tax would not be more than $1 per $100 valuation now, and the paving would so encourage development during the 30-year period of the bonds that this rate could be lowered. The serial bonds could be retired in regular periods.

The eyes of the Panhandle and the oil world are upon Pampa. Well may they be, for rival towns would like nothing better than for the bonds to fail. But do not talk of failure; TALK BONDS, VOTE RIGHT, AND TAKE YOUR FRIENDS TO THE POLLS at the Chamber of Commerce rooms tomorrow.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON.—The impression has been growing more and more definite among the political cognoscenti that President Coolidge didn't make his "do not choose" announcement because he was tired of his job and didn't want a third term.

The president's failure to elaborate on his brief statement is as good an indication of his feelings as any. Those who hastened to state most solemnly that the president was too high-minded to make such an announcement and still have an eye on a third term were almost unanimously men and newspapers who were most anxious to have Coolidge out of the picture.

The president didn't morally bind himself to anything whatever except to a refusal to announce his candidacy or to promote his candidacy from behind the scenes.

It has been said that Mr. Coolidge was tired of his job, but never convincingly. The impression here is that he is very happy in it. The theory is more and more often advanced that Mr. Coolidge, having listened to the assurances of his "yes men" for months, strongly suspected that the people would urge his retention in office.

But the people seem to have been inarticulate or indifferent. Most of the party politicians and certainly all who automatically became presidential possibilities turned somersaults of glee.

There were a few, including some of those same politicians, who hastened to suggest that the party must or might "draft" Mr. Coolidge—as if material in the party were so poor that the third term tradition should be broken.

But as the "draft" clamor, if it can be called a clamor, began to subside, it became more and more apparent that the shouters were those who sought a smoke screen until some vehicle which might be converted into a band wagon. The likelihood that Mr. Coolidge will be drafted becomes daily smaller.

When one talks Republican politics now he talks Hoover, Dawes and Lowden, and hardly ever of Coolidge. That much is certain, though Mr. Coolidge's sentiments as he made his announcement are still open to question.

If it be true that the president still hopes for renomination the fact definitely explains just why he need not be expected to support another man's candidacy. Incidentally he can't openly support his own aspirations, either, for any overt act would leave him, politically speaking, sunk without a trace.

Reports that Coolidge would endorse Secretary Hoover continued to go unconfirmed. The president split with Hoover when he supported Secretary Kellogg during a cabinet row and his present feelings toward Hoover are not clear. Your correspondent does not predict that the growing impression that Mr. Coolidge won't support anyone will prove correct.

It seems quite likely Mr. Coolidge will support, if anyone, the man whom Secretary Mellon supports. And it is equally likely that the man whom Secretary Mellon decides to support will be the next Republican candidate.

PRESS FORUM

Newspapers throughout the United States are turning more and more to independent delivery by auto trucks and bus lines. The cause is excessive cost of carriage by mail. The post office is losing business at a rate which inevitably must produce less revenue than would be obtained under a fair rate for second-class matter.

The American Newspaper Publishers' association has presented its case to Congress in the form of a strong brief which shows that second-class matter, under the present schedule, is compelled to carry a large part of the burden of free services rendered to the public by the post office department. Those free services are not opposed. Most of them are founded on good public policy. It is a benefit to the country to maintain rural free delivery of mail, although that service costs many times what it produces in revenue. But it is not just to require that any other class of mail help pay for that free service.

Congress donates free mail service and mail services which for policy sake are rendered at rates which produce less than the cost of operation. Congress should provide for the expense of these services. In other words, these services should be subsidized from the general revenues of the government.

The unrestricted movement of newspapers, constituting the dissemination of information, is also important to the country. There is no reason why the newspaper subscriber who gets his paper by mail should be compelled to pay more than the cost of transporting that paper.—Star-Telegram.

Although Tex Rickard is said to be very wealthy, it should be remembered that he made his fortune a scrap at a time.—The Louisville Times.

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP)—Ambassador Houghton will present to the Lord Provost of Edinburgh on September 7 an American memorial to Scotland's part in the world war. The city plans to acknowledge the honor by conferring the freedom of the city upon the Ambassador.

The monument, which is the gift of Scots and Scottish friends in the United States, was designed by Dr. Tait Mackenzie, noted for war memorials at Cambridge, England, Ottawa, Canada, and in the United States.

It represents the seated figure of a killed youth with his rifle across his knees, starting up to answer the call. He is placed upon a pedestal behind which runs a twenty-five foot frieze, showing a recruiting party headed by a Pipe Band and followed by men flocking to the colors.

Tilden's Age Need Not Prevent Further Reign As Tennis King

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK—There doesn't seem to be any reason for discounting "Big Bill" Tilden's tennis come-back this year simply because the six-times champion is 34 and is supposed to be a bit "aged" for another rise to the heights.

As a matter of fact, if Tilden profits by the precedent of the late William A. Larned, he may re-occupy the American tennis throne for five years more. Larned was just 34 when he made his big comeback in 1907, regaining the title he had held in 1901-02 and holding it for five additional seasons.

Johnson was one of the youngest players to reach the top, being not yet 21 when he captured the championship in 1915.

Rene Lacoste, present holder of the title, was 22 when he displaced Tilden at the top last year. The Frenchman is the second foreigner to win America's premier tennis crown. Hugh Doherty of England was the other. He won in 1903.

Below is given the ages at which the 17 holders of the championship were first victorious.

BILLY EVANS Says

McGraw Admits Mistake
When it comes to trading, John McGraw is the "David Harum" of baseball. In adversity, he believes in showing the home folks new faces. His theory is that new players make for increased interest and very often supply the desired spark to a burnt-out club.

McGraw, like great men in all branches of sports or business, makes mistakes. The commendable thing about his is that he has the courage of his convictions. Neither is he unwilling to admit his errors, for any number of times he has traded some player, only to take him back later. McGraw constantly seeks winning results. If it is apparent to him that a certain player on whom he once turned thumbs down has made the grade and will help his club, he immediately sets about to get said player if possible.

I have known of managers who wouldn't try to get a player back, whom they once traded, simply because it made it appear as if bad judgement had been made in the first decision as to the player's fitness for the majors.

Not so with John McGraw. He is willing to admit to the world that he originally erred, provided he can get some player who will strengthen his club.

Recently two trades by McGraw worked to the advantage of the Giants in a rather round-about way. Feeling that Larry Benton would help his pitching staff, McGraw made a trade with the Boston Braves for him. As part payment, Boston insisted on Pitcher Kent Greenfield, whom McGraw a year ago regarded as a great prospect.

Strangely enough, there was a double reaction to this deal, which in each case worked to the decided advantage of McGraw and his Giants. Benton, as McGraw figured he would, has pitched winning ball for New York, more than making up for the loss of Greenfield, who had been having his trouble winning for the Giants.

Greenfield, on the other hand, after joining Boston, started a winning streak, numbering among his efforts five victories over Pittsburgh, leading the league when the deal was made.

Greenfield pitched the Pirates off of first place, if my memory serves me correctly, and the club hasn't been able to regain the lofty perch since.

Case of Mistler
Now for another break that came McGraw's way at a most critical spot in the race. The hero in this instance is Heinie Mueller, obtained by Mc-Graw last season in a deal with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Recently, New York defeated the Chicago Cubs in an all-important double-header, which later events may prove was the turning point in the National league race.

In the first game of the double-header, with the Giants three runs behind, Mueller was sent in to start an inning as pinch hitter for the pitcher. He responded with a home run. It revived the spirits of the Giants. Before the inning was over New York made seven runs. Mueller, in his second time at bat in the inning, drove in the last two tallies with a single.

New York won that game, 8-7, so it is easy to picture what those two pinch hits meant. The second game was won by a final inning rally of four runs, with the Cubs leading 1-0 at the time. Mueller drove in two of the four runs in his only time at bat.

John McGraw was entitled to a smile of smug satisfaction at the work of Mueller as pinch hitter in making possible two victories over the league-leading Cubs.

Art Theatre Revived In San Francisco

(By The Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO — Emerging from fire and other adversity the Little Theatre movement in San Francisco faces unflinchingly a season of 20 plays.

The somewhat rickety 300-seat dome of the art play on the West Coast, converted from a church into a theatre, went up in flames but the spirit of art for art's sake without obedience to the box office came through without scorching.

Former Senator Phelan and Charles and Kathleen Norris are among the sponsors of a program that will include at least one old-fashioned play, a Shakespearean and a Shaw drama and a revival of Prunella by Laurence Hausman.

The only concession to the spirit of commercialism involved in the re-establishment of the Little Theatre was due to a physical necessity. The number of seats has been increased

Bobbie Chick To Meet Waters On Mat Tonight

Bobbie Chick, welterweight wrestler of Texas, Kansas, and Nebraska, weighing 152 pounds, will battle to a decision, best two falls out of three with Teddy Waters, of San Antonio, weighing 150 pounds, at the Pampa Athletic club tonight. These two met in Borgar last week and Waters declared he was fouled and that he can beat Chick.

Chick is a steady, hard wrestling man, while Waters as slippery and quick as an eel.

Leo Chase, Roxana wrestler, says, "Waters will give Chick the hardest battle of his career. I think Chick will win, but it will take the best he has to do so. Waters is the best boy I have ever wrestled."

Monday night at the Pampa Athletic club a 12-round feature boxing bout between Kid Granite, 135 of Oklahoma City, and Dick Bowers, 135, of Breckenridge, will be staged with good preliminaries.

On the same night Frankie Farrel and Chief Gonzales will battle 10 rounds for the last time unless one of the boys wins. Farrel stated to the News yesterday, "If I don't get the decision over Gonzales Monday night I will not meet him again as I want the fans to see a decision bout. I am sure I can win a decision though."

A. H. Doucette said this morning that the more pavement he drives over the better he likes Pampa's. He has been in several places that have recently paved streets and believes that Pampa has the best paving in the Panhandle.

Dole Air Race Winners Return

Another famous "We" has just returned to America—Art Goebel, Lieut. W. V. Davis, U. S. N. and the monoplane "Woolaroc," in which they won the $25,000 California-to-Hawaii race prize. Goebel (left) and Davis, back in San Francisco, are shown singing some of the airs they learned in Hawaii.

Offers New Theory Of Vanished Crew

(By The Associated Press.)

LONDON—The sailing brig "Marie Celeste" set out from New York November 7, 1872, bound for Genoa, with a cargo of 1,700 barrels of alcohol.

Several weeks later a Nova Scotia vessel saw the "Marie Celeste" under full sail off the coast of Portugal. The captain hailed her and got no reply. Boarding the vessel, he found her crew gone, a hatchway opened, a barrel of alcohol which apparently had been tampered with, a few spots of blood on the deck, and everything else in order. The log showed that the ship had sailed herself for ten days.

No trace of the crew was ever found, and for 55 years the mystery of the "Marie Celeste" has remained unfathomable.

Now, under the title "A Great Sea Mystery," J. G. Lockhart has offered in book form a solution of the quandary, based on his readings of official documents.

Lockhart believes that the "Marie Celeste" was abandoned by her crew and captain under a misapprehension that her cargo of alcohol was about to explode. He suggested that there was an alarm and the cargo was examined. Two slight explosions seemed to have caused a panic. The captain snatched up his chronometer, suggests Lockhart, the crew gathered what it could, and the whole ship's company tumbled into the ship's only boat.

Possibly, Lockhart advances, the small boat was capized in the hurried launching, and the whole crew was drowned. Or perhaps the seamen got clear. If so, Lockhart says, their one thought was to place as much water as possible between themselves and the perilous cargo of alcohol, on the point of exploding. The wind freshened and the brigantine sailed away from them.

In addition to supporting his own theory, Lockhart exposes other theories which have been advanced, some by men who claimed to have been "survivors" of the brig.

Menus for the Family

By Sister Mary

BREAKFAST—Coddled apples with rolled oats, fried eggplant, crisp toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Potato and cheese salad, toasted crackers, stuffed cucumber salad, graham bread and butter sandwiches, baked peaches, oatmeal cookies, sweet cider.

DINNER—Braised lamb with vegetables, "wilted" endive, apple dumplings with cream, milk, coffee.

The lamb is a cut from the fore-quarter. It is cooked with potatoes, carrots and peas, making a sort of one-dish dinner for the entire family. The dinner dessert is hearty and nourishing if served with plenty of cream and just the thing to follow a light meat course.

Stuffed Cucumber Salad

Two good sized cucumbers, 1 sweet red pepper, 1 sweet green pepper, 1/2 cup diced celery, 1/2 cup finely chopped apple, mayonnaise.

Pare cucumbers, cut off each end and cut in halves. Scoop out seeds making cups, making four. Let stand for half an hour in very cold water to which 1 teaspoon salt and 2 table-spoons vinegar or lemon juice have been added. In the meantime dip the peppers in boiling water for five minutes. Plunge into cold water and slip off the thin outer covering. Let stand in cold water until thoroughly chilled. Remove seeds and pith and chop fresh. Combine peppers, celery and apples with enough salad dressing

Cattle Pushed Out By Oil On Large Parker Ranch

The cow must give way to oil.

Activity about the Gray County Oil company's No. 1 Chapman on section 70, block 25, and around the Cress well has made it necessary for cattle grazing to be curtailed on the big Parker ranch.

A round-up will be completed probably Saturday on the ranch south of here, and the cattle, sold by J. E. Parker to Will Lewis, will be moved to the Rowe ranch.

The cattle are double standard polled Herefords developed by L. C. Parker, former owner. The grass on the Parker ranch probably will be used hereafter only during part of the summer. Much drilling is expected in this proven oil territory.

Life Less Colorful Today, Says Author

(By The Associated Press.)

SAN FRANCISCO—Life today with all its complexities and "sophistication" is less colorful than that of the period from 1840 to 1870 declares Constance Mayfield Rourke who is doing research work on the Pacific Coast.

The author of "Trumpets of Jubilee," encompassing in a single volume mid-century portraits of personages ranging from Henry Ward and the other Beechers to P. T. Barnum says America reached a high peak in the civil war period. It then climbed in men and deeds, she says, to a position not over shadowed by the present era despite the world war and other history making events.

The lasting achievements of that era she believes is illustrated by the fact that "Uncle Tom's Cabin" still has headers, old and young.
