Pampa Railroad Proposal Of Interest In Two States

OTHER LINES WOULD PROFIT FROM TRAFFIC

Business Should Be Large; Distribution Here

CONNECTIONS CALLED AMPLE

Early Construction Is Regarded As Virtual Certainty

Heavy traffic for the Pampa to Cheyenne, Okla., railroad which the Clinton and Oklahoma Western railroad Saturday was granted permission to build is being predicted.

The permit was granted by the Interstate Commerce Commission Saturday afternoon and news of the action was published by the Pampa Daily News many hours before any other newspaper carrying the account reached this city.

The new railroad, work on which may begin soon, would serve the Pampa oil field and agricultural territory, open up new areas for development, and by its short route to Oklahoma City, and other points beyond would draw from the traffic passing both junction points.

Besides the C. & O. W. railroad, owned largely by Frank Kell and associates of Wichita Falls, the Katy and Frisco systems are located so that they may profit from the new connections. Ultimate control of the line by one of these roads is regarded as probable.

The importance of the Pampa-Cheyenne railroad in relation to the heavy traffic through Amarillo has started a discussion in all parts of West Texas and Oklahoma. Such a penetration of the Eastern Panhandle territory had long been discussed but Kell's action in obtaining without protest a permit to build has aroused intense interest.

The road would put Pampa to the forefront as a distribution point and mean much to the future of the city. The plans are bringing publicity to Pampa and all points along the proposed route. Kell and associates are regarded as financially able to rush construction of the 95-mile line to early completion. Numerous advantageous connections would make the road an important one, and construction is regarded as virtually certain.

Officers Told Robbery Planned Here Last Night

Pampa was scheduled to have a bold robbery last night but officers were warned and were on duty all night.

The warning came late last night when Sheriff Crabtree and his chief deputy from Borger, motored to Pampa to give warning to the officers here that a robbery was planned for either Pampa or Panhandle.

The information was given the sheriff of Hutchinson county, and he and his deputy immediately motored to Pampa. They left for Panhandle after visiting Pampa.

According to Sheriff Crabtree, some men had made plans to rob either a clothing store or a jewelry store in Pampa, but if things didn't look good they would go to Panhandle. It is thought that the warning given by Sheriff Crabtree thwarted the robbery.

Employment Bureau Is Established At Abilene For West

ABILENE, Sept. 5.—In order to serve West Texas more efficiently a free employment bureau will be established in this city on September 7 by the United States Labor Department in cooperation with the Abilene Chamber of Commerce.

Special efforts will be made by this organization to supply the heavy demands for cotton pickers which are expected during the next thirty days. No charge will be made for any service rendered.

F. M. Gooding, one of the most capable men connected with the government labor department in the southwest, now attached to the Fort Worth branch of the organization, will be in charge of the work here. The office will be maintained at all incidental expenses of its operation borne by the local Chamber of Commerce.

West Texas farmers who will require help in gathering their cotton crops and all those needing help of any kind are urged to use the services of the bureau which will be maintained here for at least four weeks and possibly longer if there is sufficient demand for its continuation.

Establishment of this office for serving West Texas has been brought about by the efforts of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce to satisfactorily handle the labor situation in this part of the state. The State of Texas maintained in this city, in connection with the local commercial organization, a free employment office from June 1925 to March of this year. That office was discontinued on account of there being no funds available for its operation, other than the part supplied locally and the demand for such service has been so heavy the aid of C. W. Woodman, assistant director for the United States Department of Labor in Texas has been enlisted and the office created here.

Big Oil Blaze in Oxford, Kans.

DON'T MENTION IT

¶ Labor Day is one of our most significant holidays. It is peculiarly an American institution; in no other country in the world could it exist in quite the form it takes here.

¶ The fact that makes our Labor Day, and the labor to which it is dedicated, stand out as a portent and an omen, is the fact that American laboring men are not greatly concerned with the 'old-world shibboleths. Such phrases as "class consciousness" have little meaning here. American workmen, as a rule, are too prosperous to worry much about their "class"; they are too busy looking at the latest models of automobiles and considering the purchase of that new house in the suburbs to worry greatly about labor's dignity.

¶ We are too busy with the concrete realities of work and work's wages to get very excited about their abstract phases. We are, in truth, heaving out a new order; an order as unlike Europe's as the Europe of today is unlike the Europe of Louis the Eleventh; an order in which—may we not dare to hope?—the problems and clashing interests that seem at times to point Europe so dangerously close to revolution will be peacefully solved, to the satisfaction of all parties.

¶ That is the significance of our Labor Day.

Pampa Recognized As City of Promise, Scott Barcus Says

Scott Barcus, manager of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, returned today from Evanston, Ill., where he attended the National school for commercial executives.

He asserted that the school, composed largely of active executives who conferred on many problems common to their work, is very beneficial and is becoming an institution.

He also said that he found Pampa well known in many places, and heard many expressions of faith in the good future of this community.

Texas Youngsters Have 32-Piece Band

WICHITA FALLS — A juvenile band with a membership averaging eight years of age plays in Wichita Falls a repertory ranging from grand opera to the jazziest of jazz music.

The band was organized at the Austin school, a primary institution, by Miss Mattilyn Wilson, who directs it.

Members include pupils chiefly from the second, third and fourth grades. All instruments, from the harmonica to the bass horn—were provided by parents, as were the white and gold uniforms.

There are 32 members in the band. The youngest is six years old and the oldest is ten, and the leader, Ralph Mallaby, is nine.

Rent An Airplane; Drive It Yourself

WASHINGTON (AP)—Airplanes are being offered for rent like automobiles on the "drive-it-yourself" basis in at least one place in the United States.

A license for the plane recently was issued to the Powder River Flying Club of Caspar, Wyo., by the air section of the Commerce Department. Its plan also was given official approval, and officials are watching the experiment to see whether the idea will spread to other clubs and to commercial organizations.

The Powder River Club submitted a complete schedule of charges. Members may rent the plane for $15 an hour, and non members, in addition to that fee, must pay the expense of a pilot.

Colonel in China Commits Suicide

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—A bomb explosion that rocked the Brooklyn skyscraper district today cracked walls and shattered windows in the Brooklyn supreme court building and hall of records.

No one was injured. Police declined to place responsibility for the explosion, although their investigation started on the theory it might have been the work of Sacco and Vanzetti sympathizers.

Sports Are Major Interest As Labor Day Is Observed

Baseball this afternoon at the Grays' park is the first holiday attraction being sponsored by the American Legion. The home team will bump up against the Erick, Okla., nine in the second game. The visitors took yesterday's game, 5 to 4.

Several city league players will be in uniform this afternoon and Fuller, Hines and Narren from Borger will assist the Grays.

Tonight, commencing at 8 o'clock, the biggest boxing card of the season will be presented at the Pampa Athletic club on West Foster avenue. In the main bout of the evening Fred Whittington is scheduled to meet Pat Shelby in ten rounds that should be lively.

Rusty Cahill is scheduled for the semi-final and a special match between Frankie Farrell and Chief Gonzales is due to be a first class event.

The banks, barber shops, Western Union, and Southwestern Public Service company, have closed for the day and other merchants will probably close this afternoon to attend the ball game.

A loaded box car across the main line and the passing track near Shattuck, Okla., early this morning was the cause of the West bound Santa Fe passenger train's being six hours late in arriving in Pampa. It was 9:30 o'clock when the train reached here. Several Pampa residents were aboard the train.

Nickel Buys Shine On Mexican Border

VILLA ACUNA, Mexico (AP)—Prices along the Mexican border have kept pace with prices elsewhere except in the matter of a shoe shine. A first class polish still can be obtained in this little village across the Rio Grande from Del Rio, for five cents.

When tourists wonder at the pre-war prices for shiners, the Mexican shoe shiners shrug their shoulders and glance up the hill from the international bridge where 16 barrooms line the little pueblo.

"Supply and demand, senor," one says. "Few who come here are interested in shoe shiners."

TOURIST HELPS - "The tourist will have no difficulty in following a route through Texas when plans now under consideration by the state highway department are carried out."

This bit of information from Austin calls attention again to the need for better highway marking. Many signs are changed or obliterated by vandals of the highway, and others are so poorly placed that the motorist cannot be sure of the intended meaning.

The highway commission began work in April to clear the highways of all advertising signs and the placing of signs giving reliable road information. Many of the advertisements have been removed, but the appearance of better road markers has not been noticeable in this section.

The state highway commission has several plans for marking under consideration, but definite action toward a state-wide, standardized system is yet to be taken. A meeting of the American Automobile association will begin in Austin September 7 to urge immediate attention to this important matter.

Under present conditions, not even a good road map is a sure guide, owing to the scarcity of proper signs at important intersections in many places. Clubs are doing a service in erecting "welcome" signs, but this is not enough. Some cities are doing motorists an injustice through misleading signs intended to direct traffic for the city's benefit.

All highway signs should be placed under the direction of the highway commission, which should maintain supervision over the markings and keep them correct.

BUSINESS - Reviews of business conditions as of July and early August are predominantly inclined to stress the "quiet" period, but mention much evidence of more lively fall trade.

Trade and industry have been recessive this summer, but crops on the whole were above normal. Manufacturing, moreover, was more active during the summer than usual, wool prices were firmer, and the bank debits showed gains. Mail order business showed a decline over last summer, said to be due partly to more aggressive sales tactics on the part of local merchants.

"The unfavorable trends in trade and industry seemed to center largely on what might be called the constructive lines, says The Nation's Business. 'Soft coal production was curtailed by the strike, which now has lasted over four months; anthracite output was the smallest for any month for a decade, except when a strike tied up production; pig iron and steel production were sharply below a year ago; car loadings and railway earnings decreased sharply from 1926; automobile production was heavily off, with a good deal of unemployment at the leading center; lumber was a shade better than June but well below a year ago; and permit values of new building showed heavy decreases from the like months of 1926 and 1925.'"

The national map of business conditions shows the Panhandle and most of the state in "Fair" territory, with the extreme Rio Grande valley in the "good" and a small area north of Dallas in the "quiet zone."

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON.— Massive public buildings, the treasury, the army and navy building, legations and embassies, Red Cross headquarters and state art galleries almost bury a little house in New York avenue which is the Mecca of thousands of brides and grooms on a wedding trip in Washington.

A breath of the arbutus of New England or the moors of Nantucket hovers about the little green and white shingle house, its paned and-trellised doorway, and its welcoming knocker.

The house is the national girl scouts' headquarters. It was donated to the girl scouts by the National Federation of Women's clubs, who built it for demonstration week in their famous Better Homes movement.

The little house is modeled after the boyhood home of John Howard Payne, author of "Home, Sweet Home."

President Harding called it "the most livable home in America."

Brides and grooms at the rate of 50 couples a day have made a beaten track up the walk, and gratefully pay their hostess, Mrs. Gertrude L. Bowman, a quarter for the privilege of walking through this dream home of their own.

The quarter goes into the girl scouts' own family ginger jar!

The little house should be built for about $7,000 in any part of the country, the hostess says.

It has a fully equipped basement, a living room, a dining room, reception hall, breakfast nook and kitchen on the first floor, three bedrooms, a nursery and a bath on the second floor.

Furnishings are entirely in the early American design. Spriggy, chintzy wall paper covers almost every room, and Newspapers are not human beings, but nevertheless like the average person they do, once in a long while, like to hear someone say a kind word about them.—their hides are toughened to the other kind because they receive so many of them. It is the nature of the business. Yet, as far as the Reporter is concerned, it welcomes just criticism, for it feels it has a public duty to perform and if an outside criticism offers a suggestion for improvement that can be made it is glad to strive for the improvement.

So, this paper was appreciative of the remarks made in an address to business men the other day by Dr. L. C. Curran of New York, who is to lecture here tonight, when he said restfulness is the home's keynote.

The Resurrection is Coming

BILLY EVANS Says

Heinie Wagner Talks
"More ball games are lost around second base, between the short stop and the second sacker than in any other spot on a ball club."

The speaker was Heinie Wagner, in his day a great shortstop, now acting as assistant to Manager Bill Carrigan of the Boston Red Sox. We were discussing the difficulty of getting together a winning team.

"We have lost so many games this season, it is hard to keep track of the reasons, but I do know this much that more of them have been lost around second base than in any other way."

"Failure to make double plays, when two-ply killings would get the pitcher out of trouble, slowness in covering the bag, lack of precision between the shortstop and second baseman, are just a few of the many ways enough runs may be tossed away to make the difference between victory and defeat."

"We have tried a half dozen different combinations, but as yet we are still in the experimental stage."

There is no denying Wagner's logic. There have been a few great ball clubs without stars at short and second. Most of the important plays revolve a round that spot in the infield.

How Dope Cracks
Strange how the dope of April is often scattered to the winds, completely turned over, by the results of September.

A perusal of the averages of the major leagues reveals these facts: Heinie Manush, batting champion of the American league of last year, is struggling to keep from dropping below the .300 mark.

Charley Gehringer, rated substitute for Marty McManus at second base for Detroit, has won the job at that position, leading the regulars in batting with a mark of better than .300.

Johnny Neun, who for several years has subbed for Lou Blue at first for Detroit, given a chance to show his worth, ranks next to Lou Gehrig among the first sackers in batting, has played brilliantly in the field and won for himself a place in the hall of fame by making a triple play unassisted.

Harry Heilmann, after a bad start, struck his stride during the months of July and August, to take the batting lead from Lou Gehrig, who has held it most of the year.

Detroit, as to players and teams, has figured in most of the reversals of forms. The Tigers hold the longest winning streak of the year, 13 consecutive victories after a slow start.

Moore Praised Highly
The New York Yankees have a mighty appropriate name for Pitcher Wilcy Moore, who has done some mighty fancy hurling for the champions.

The other day, as Manager waved to Moore, warming up in the bullpen to hurry to the rescue of one of the faltering veterans, Charlie O'Leary remarked to me.

"Well, here comes the 'Big Needle and Thread Man' again." I waited for a further explanation, but getting none, asked:

"Who?"

"Why the 'Big Needle and Thread Man.' He sews up all the ball games for the Yanks."

Moore has already been in over 40 ball games for the Yanks. He is credited with 16 wins and O'Leary tells me he has held the lead for other pitchers in just about as many games, literally sewing up the games.

"We can already thank Moore for at least 25 of our victories," says O'Leary.

What a help from a pitcher whom none of the scouts regarded as good enough even for a major league trial. He's the game's oldest youngster, making his big league debut at 30.

Erick, Okla., Is Winner Here In An Early Rally

Erick pushed across four runs in the first inning of yesterday's battle with the Pampa Grays at the home park and held the lead, defeating the home team 5 to 4. Some good and bad baseball was played, but the teams put up a good exhibition after being inactive so long.

Stubbs, the first Erick man up, walked. Seeds hit safely, as did S. Douglas and Hartman, three runs crossing the plate. Then Hartman scored on an out on Cornelison.

The Grays put across three in the first inning when Cherry, Gober and Galtner hit in succession, Cahill's out, and Hunter's and Munns' singles to score three tallies.

There was no more scoring until the fifth when Erick got one. Anthony was safe on Gober's error. Marcum singled and Stubbs went out. Seeds hit a line drive over second to score Anthony but L. Douglas fanned and S. Douglas went out to Fuller, unassisted. That ended the Erick scoring.

The Grays threatened in the sixth, but could only get one man across. Cahill singled. Hunter was safe on an error, but was caught off first. Munns walked and Hust singled, scoring Cahill and sending Munns to third. The rally ended by Fuller and Hines popping to Hartman on third.

In the seventh the home team had three on with one out but couldn't put over the tying run.

Galtner was the big man at bat with three hits, the last a sure homer but for his sore knee, which caused him to get caught at third. Hunter was the only other man on the home club to get more than one hit. Cherry on second and Munns at short showed up well, and Lefty Fuller had his drop working nicely. Hunter made a nice catch in center after a hard run.

Seeds and S. Douglas played stellar ball for the visiting club while Hartman and the veteran catcher were the heavy hitters.

The same two clubs battle this afternoon at the home park. The game to be called at 3:15 o'clock.

Line-up:
Pampa Grays—Hines, 3b; Cherry, 2b; Gober, 1b; Galtner, c; Cahill, rf; Hunter, cf; Munns, ss; Hust, rf; Fuller, p.
Erick, Okla.—Stubbs, 2b; Seeds, ss; L. Douglas, lf; S. Douglas, c; Hartman, 3b; Cornelison, rf; Doffay, cf; Anthony, 1b; Marcum, p.

BREAKFAST—Chilled cantaloupe, crisp broiled bacon, scrambled eggs, crisp toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Corn fritters, syrup, stuffed peach salad, brown bread, milk, tea.

DINNER—Fish chowder, scalloped tomatoes and beans, cucumber and endive salad, jellied pears with whipped cream, macaroons, milk, coffee.

The peach salad is made quite hearty by the cream or cottage cheese and chopped nuts used to fill the cavities left when the stones are removed. The fritters are delicious and always popular. The following rule is simple and can be used with any vegetable or fruit in place of corn.

Corn Fritters
One cup corn pulp, 2 eggs, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 cup flour, 2 tablespoons milk.

Cut tops from kernels of four or six ears of corn. Scrape out pulp with the blunt edge of a knife. Beat yolks of eggs until thick and lemon colored. Gradually beat in milk, beating until mixture thickens. Mix and sift flour, salt, sugar, pepper and baking powder. Sift over corn and mix thoroughly. Add to beaten egg yolks and stir until smooth. Fold in whites of eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Drop from tip of spoon into deep fat hot enough to brown an inch cube of bread in 60 seconds. Turn several times while cooking and cook until a golden brown on all sides.

Forty and Eight Is Commended By Howard P. Savage

(By The Associated Press.)

PARIS, Sept. 5.—The Forty and Eight, honor society and "playground" of the American Legion, has given vital and unstinted aid to "every major endeavor of the Legion," Howard P. Savage, national Legion commander, says in a report made public today, prepared for submission to the annual convention of the former service men's organization in Paris, September 19 to 24.

"The Forty and Eight has cooperated and furnished leadership," he said, "to the extent that there has been a noticeable trend toward making the big serious problems of the Legion the first concern, and relegating the fun-making to second consideration."

"The main program to the national child welfare committee of the Legion would have fallen down completely except for the financial help accorded in the $2,000 a month fund furnished by the Forty and Eight. This fund made possible the carrying out of the child welfare policy of home aid, and the financial assistance to mothers which enabled the latter to keep their children in their own homes."

Good Dairy Cattle Are Very Scarce In United States

MEMPHIS, Sept. 5.—A distinct shortage of good dairy cattle exists throughout the United States. No where is there an excuse, according to authorities, and the deficiency is growing each year as the trend grows to produce in America sufficient products for domestic consumption.

The Department of Agriculture has taken cognizance of the emergency and is lending all its resources to make dairy cows return greater yield and become more profitable to the dairy farmer.

One of the department's outstanding achievements for the year in its campaign of education will be the exhibit at the National Dairy Exposition at Memphis, Tenn., on October 15-22. The story of dairy economics will be placed before more than 300,000 people in simple and effective language.

The economy of proper selection of animals for the dairy, breeding, feeding, testing, and clean milk will be brought home with an animated object lesson more forceful than shelves of text books.

Twenty-five special trains will bring to Memphis thousands of farmers. Special rates have been effective by the railroads from all parts of the United States and Canada. Dairy cattle of the five preeminent breeds—Holstein, Guernseys, Ayrshires, Jerseys and Brown Swiss from all parts of the United States have been entered and the Queens of butterfat in all species are to attend.

Dairy herds from California will compete with groups from Massachusetts and the rapidly growing dairy industry of the central South is expected to receive a new impetus from the show which is the ultimate word in dairy cattle exhibitions for the world.

Tuesday, October 18, will be Jersey Day, Wednesday, Ayrshire and Brown Swiss Day, Thursday, Guernsey Day and Friday, Holstein Day with liberal educational programs of judging and demonstration on all days.

Oil Field Evolves Its Own Language

SEMINOLE, Okla.—Like the "devil" in the printing office, who doesn't wear horns, the "roughneck" in the oil fields is not a pugnacious individual with a touchy disposition. The title, like many others that have become everyday language in this derrick dotted country, refers to anyone who performs rough, unskilled, labor.

There are no teamsters in the oil fields. They are "skinners." Under the skinner is the "swamper," who corresponds to a truck or mule driver's helper. As a sort of a straw boss there is the "pusher," whose job is to see that things are done.

A "swivel neck" is a driller on a rotary drill. There are two kinds of "hounds," the "lease hound," who travels around obtaining leases on likely looking land, and the "rock hound," who is a geologist. "Line workers" include the surveyor, right of way man, pipe layer, ditch digger and the painter.

The 63-year-old Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim, with Capt. Leslie Hamilton (above) and Col. F. F. Minchin (right), is lost on her way from Upavon, Wiltshire, England, to Ottawa, Canada, in the plane St. Raphael. The princess, who is a licensed pilot herself and has flown for a number of years, was given good luck wishes at the takeoff by the Catholic archbishop of Cardiff, who blessed the plane.

Thousands Visit Texas Capitol In Summer Months

(By The Associated Press.)

AUSTIN, Sept. 5. — Forty-five thousand people have passed through the corridors of the Texas Capitol and have gazed on its towering granite walls this summer, attendants estimate.

The average during the remaining seasons of the year will be less but the capital at the close of the year likely will have seen close to 150,000 tourists and visitors, it is believed.

Thousands of the visitors this summer lived out of the state and many a new set of initials are engraved in the top of the dome, despite the capital police vigilance.

Governor Dan Moody's office, as the chief attraction within the building, has caught its quota of the sight seers. For instance, recently more than 100 persons were counted in the executive office during the day, only around 10 per cent of whom got to see the governor, due to the press of business.

Minnesota Islands Are "Homesteaded"

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Having a little island in the family is not at all difficult in Minnesota, "land of ten thousand lakes." There are so many islands there that the state cannot keep track of them.

One lake alone—Lake Vermillion—has 365 islands, many of which have not formally been "discovered" or registration purposes as state property.

They may be acquired by the script method, much the same as proving a homestead.

The only string attached to the islands in lake Vermillion, which is in the iron mining region, is that mining companies hold the mineral rights, and are privileged to force the sale of any island when they choose to mine ore.

Many of the Lake Vermillion islands have been bought for $100.

Oldtime Justice In Texas Included Hanging of Woman On Forgery Charge Although Jury In Case Asked Mercy

HOUSTON, Sept. 5. (P)—Browsers among the records of the district court here have just unearthed the minutes of the first court held in Houston in which a man convicted of murder was sentenced on Wednesday to be hanged; a woman was convicted of forgery and also was sentenced to "be hanged by the neck until she is dead and may the Lord have mercy on her soul," and a man was ordered to restore $295 to a complainant and in addition to be lashed 39 times on "his bare back and be branded on the right hand with the letter 'T,'" which apparently was to denote that he was a thief.

The first session of court was held on March 20, 1837, in the regime when Texas was a republic. Congress had not yet passed criminal laws or set up a penal code, but under provisions by which the court was created, the English common law was adhered to in the interim. Benjamin C. Franklin was district judge, John W. Moore was sheriff and John Holman was clerk. The jail was a one-room log building with its only entrance through a trap door in the roof and the court house was a two-room log cabin. The jail, a grand jury report some time later said, was an inhuman contrivance, provided no privacy for women inmates and might become a source of pestilence because of its lack of sanitary appliances.

The grand jury directed its attention to the situation surrounding free negroes who "exert a mischievous influence over our slaves." "Texas," the grand jury report added, "is a slave-holding country and will, the grand jurors trust, ever remain such. A family of free negroes, 'the report added,' commonly presents the impersonations of indolence, ignorance and dishonesty. Such a family, unless strictly and perpetually watched and kept at a distance, will render the slaves of the plantations near which they are situated, dissatisfied, disobedient, restless and corrupt. The grand jurors are aware that they have not alluded to several very important points which suggest themselves in this consideration of the subject. It is not deemed necessary to do so in this community."

The woman who was sentenced to be hanged for forgery was Pamelia Mann, according to the record. She was found guilty on May 24, 1839. The jury recommended leniency but Judge James W. Robertson, who tried that particular term of court, grimly sentenced her to be hanged the following June 27 between 12 and 2 o'clock and ordered the sheriff to carry out the sentence.

Names of Sam Houston, president of the republic; Ben R. Milam, a revolutionary period figure, and Stephen F. Austin, colonizer, dot the records. Mostly they were suits over lands and called into question title to thousands of acres. Some of the suits were aftermath of colonization contacts given by the Mexican government when Texas was a part of that country and were filed on the same contentions which earlier had led to the famous revolt in Nacogdoches county when the "Free State of Fredonia" was set up in defiance of the Republic of Texas.

Plans for School Opening Will Be Completed Tuesday

The school board plans to meet tomorrow to complete plans for the opening of school. Four teachers must be elected and a name chosen for the new school in South Pampa.

The schools in Pampa will commence the fall term Monday, September 12, and the board wishes it made known that pupils from other schools cannot be classified without they submit the transcripts of their grades. This matter has been neglected in former years, and all pupils are requested to make necessary preparations.

Plans for a formal opening of the new school are being made by members of the board and the faculty and teachers. Further plans will be completed at the meeting.

ARMY OFFICER'S AIR TYPEWRITER PRINTS IN SKY

SAN ANTONIO.—Sky writing in airplanes will give way to sky typewriting if an invention patented by Lieut. W. H. Brookley, operating of ficed at Brooks Field here, comes into general use.

The device is designed to print the letters in the sky instead of writing them in script as is now the practice and will work at night.

The device consists of tubes projecting from the bottom of the plane in such a pattern that any letter of the alphabet may be made by using the proper arrangements of the tubes and each of the tubes contain a series of small capsule parachute flares.

The tubes are hooked up to the observer's seat so that by manipulating a keyboard the tubes which outline the letter desired can be made to release a flare. In this way the flier can write his message in one straight trip through the air, releasing the letters at intervals of a second or so. Under the old method of skywriting the flier was compelled to use his plane as a pen, outlining each letter.

Air Speed Increased Six Times Since 1913 Racing Figures Show

(By The Associated Press.)

CALSHOT AIR STATION, England.—The advance in air speed since 1913, when the Schneider Cup race was held, seems incredible when it is recalled that the winning French airplane only reached a speed of 44.7 miles an hour.

England captured the trophy in 1914 with a speed of 55.3 miles an hour, while the next meet in 1919 at Bournemouth, England, resulted in no award. In 1920 Italy won with 102.5 miles, and it repeated the victory in 1921 with a speed of 117.4 miles.

Great Britain recaptured the trophy in 1922 with a speed of 146.5 miles, but lost it again in 1923 to the United States when Lieutenant D. Rittenhouse made 177.38 miles an hour at Cowes, England, in his Curtiss D12 biplane. In 1925, when the next race was held at Baltimore, Lieutenant J. H. Doolittle retained the trophy for the United States with a speed of 232.57 miles an hour in his Curtiss racer.

Italy won back the award in 1926 when Major Mario de Bernardi made 246.49 miles an hour in his Macchi-Piat at Hampton Roads, Virginia.

The Schneider Maritime Aviation Cup was presented in 1912 to the Aero Club of France by M. Jacques Schneider, a French sportsman and aviator, with a view to developing high speed seaplanes. It is a magnificent trophy of gold, silver and bronze, valued at about $5,000.

The country winning the cup is required to schedule and hold the race on the following year. The Schneider Cup course is a triangular course of 188.86 nautical miles.

Anderson Denies Flogging Charges

(By The Associated Press.)
