Guilty pleas arranged in school shooting death of six-year-old

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Three men accused of possessing stolen guns, including the one a first-grade boy allegedly used to shoot a classmate, have agreed to plead guilty to federal firearms charges, authorities say.

In exchange for the pleas, federal prosecutors will dismiss other charges against Jamelle James, Robert Lee Morris III and Sir Marcus Winfrey, Assistant U.S. Attorney Robert Haviland said Thursday. Winfrey is the uncle of the 6-year-old boy accused in the fatal shooting of Kayla Roland at Buell Elementary School in February.

News of the plea agreements came a day after the boy's mother, Tamarla Owens, admitted to neglecting her son by placing him with Winfrey in an unfit home. She agreed Wednesday to court supervision to reclaim custody.

The federal pleas were expected to be entered when James, Morris and Winfrey appear before U.S. District Judge Paul Gadola in Flint over the next two weeks, the Detroit Free Press reported today.

A federal grand jury in March indicted all three on charges of possessing stolen firearms while unlawfully using marijuana. They could have received up to 10 years in prison and $250,000 in fines.

ELECTIONS

Seven candidates are seeking two positions in the McLean ISD Board of Trustees. Two incumbents, Neal Odum and John Holland, are seeking reelection to the school board along with five other candidates.

They are Dan Fish, Toni Bohlar, Shandee Tolleson, Gene Smart, and Terri Adams. Saturday's election will be from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at Lovett Memorial Library Branch in McLean.

Grandview-Hopkins
 Three positions are open on the Grandview-Hopkins ISD Board of Trustees.

Incumbents Charles Bowers, Joe Smith and Ted Hutto are seeking reelection to the three positions on the board.

Marshall Hopkins is the fourth candidate who is seeking a position on the board.

The election will be held Saturday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at Grandview-Hopkins School.

White Deer ISD

Two places will be filled in the White Deer ISD Board of Trustees race. Voters will also cast ballots on a proposition in the election.

In the Place 1 spot incumbent Earletta Moore is being challenged by four men. Seeking the position are Stephen Warminski, Terry Lewis, Dudley Pohnert and Terry Harrah.

In the Place 2 position incumbent Mike Chaney is being challenged by Kent Kelp.

White Deer voters will also vote on a proposition which authorizes the school board to purchase attendance credits directly from the state or another school district if it is more advantageous to White Deer ISD. The attendance credits have most recently been purchased from another school district.

Saturday's election for voters in White Deer will be held from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at Antler Gym in White Deer. Skellytown school voters will vote at the Skellytown Elementary School.

Panhandle ISD

Two positions are being sought on the Panhandle ISD by five candidates. Both incumbents are seeking reelection to office along with three other candidates.

The five candidates are incumbents Dr. Carol Hillhouse and Kevin Powers. Leslie Cleek, Mark Smith and Jony Thomas are also vying for the positions.

The Saturday election will be held from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the Coke Room on the Panhandle High School campus.

Groom ISD
 There will be no election in Groom Independent School District as the election was called off. State law allows for the cancellation of an election if there is no contested race.

Only two candidates, both incumbents, filed for the two positions open on the board. They are Barry Fields and Tony Britten.

The two men will automatically be certified as winners and will be sworn into office.

Sheriff says workers must go to polls or face discipline

DENTON, Texas (AP) — Sheriff's employees can either go to the polls on Saturday or face disciplinary action next week, said Denton County Sheriff Weldon Lucas.

Lucas, who sent employees letters endorsing one candidate, plans to enforce a 6-year-old code of conduct requiring all department workers to register and vote in elections, including Saturday's local races.

Violation of the policy "can be grounds for disciplinary action and can (affect) promotional and other personnel actions," according to a memorandum he authorized this week for department supervisors.

The policy includes workers that live outside the county.

"The next election is this Saturday, May 6. This is for School Board and City Council positions. Even if you don't live in a city, everyone lives in a school district," J.L. Mitchell, assistant chief deputy, wrote in a May 2 memo to supervisors that was obtained by the Denton Record-Chronicle. "This rule applies to all employees, regardless of whether you live in Denton County or not."

Lucas said he will start checking county voting records to see which employees — particularly those up for promotions — participate in elections.

"If they don't, they are getting in trouble for it," he said Thursday. "Before, we didn't enforce it completely. Now (the county) has gone to a new computer system so it's easier to verify."

The sheriff recently sent department employees letters endorsing a city council candidate in Denton, which is 35 miles north of Dallas. But Lucas said he paid for the mass mailing with his campaign funds and that employees are not required to vote for a particular candidate.

In the sheriff's letter, written on department letterhead, he said he hoped employees would join him in supporting candidate Raymond Redmond.

Frank Colosi, a Fort Worth lawyer on the state's legal committee for the American Civil Liberties Union, said the letter of endorsement could be seen as a form of intimidation.

"The employees know what they are supposed to do and who they are supposed to vote for," he said. "They've received this instruction that says go vote or else."

Colosi said the voting requirement could be considered "unconstitutionally overbearing."

"Generally when you have a constitutional right, you always have a parallel right not to exercise it," he said. "It certainly seems if you have the right to vote, you have the right to protest by not voting."

Lucas said it's important that employees participate in the selection of officials and initiatives that influence county funding. Lucas said he believes all of his about 400 employees have registered to vote.

He said he has heard no complaints from employees about the policy, but "there are a few up for promotion that are wishing they had voted."

Jane Dees, spokeswoman for the secretary of state's office, said that while the Texas election code does not address whether Lucas can require voter registration and voting as a condition of employment, the sheriff's policy still raises legal questions.

"We admire a corporate policy that encourages participation in the electoral process," Dees said.

"However, a mandatory policy requiring employees to vote or otherwise face disciplinary action may violate laws prohibiting coercion of a public servant."

The code states that employees shall agree to "qualify as a voter, and to vote my convictions as citizen on all public questions and political races, but to take no other part in any public politics or campaigns except as authorized by law and policy."

Weather focus

PAMPA — Partly sunny today with a high of 85-90 and south winds at 10-20 mph. Tonight, partly cloudy with a 30 percent chance of rain and a low of 60. Tomorrow, sunny and a high in the mid-90s.

STATEWIDE — Slowly spinning its way out of the state, an upper-level low pressure system has left soggy conditions and high humidity in its wake.

A few widely scattered showers and thunderstorms continued to move across eastern sections of North Texas early today. The humidity was prompting patchy fog to develop in the region as well as in much of South and Northwest Texas.

Visibilities were substantially reduced in southern regions of the state, the National Weather Service said.

Early-morning temperatures were in the 50s in the Panhandle, with 60s and 70s elsewhere across the state. It was 52 degrees at Marfa, 63 at Huntsville, 74 at San Angelo and 79 at Laughlin Air Force Base at Del Rio.

Winds were mostly southerly to southeasterly at 5 to 15 mph. The weather service forecast called for a continued chance of thunderstorms in North and South Texas through the weekend. Rain was also expected in the South Plains and Big Bend.

Daytime highs should be in the 80s and upper 90s to mid-100s in the Rio Grande Valley and Big Bend.

Lows overnight were expected to range from the 50s in the Panhandle to 60s and mid-70s in the Concho Valley and Edwards Plateau.

A warming trend was expected next week in North Texas.

Convicted killer executed for 1983 rape-slaying of UT student

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Twice-paroled bank robber and burglar Tommy Ray Jackson, after insisting he was not responsible for the rape-slaying of a University of Texas student 16 years ago, was put to death for the crime.

With the father and brother of his victim standing a few feet away and watching through a window, Jackson, 43, said he could show no remorse for something he did not do.

"If I did, I'd be faking," he said Thursday night before being injected with the lethal dose of drugs. "And there's nothing fake about me."

Jackson said he did not abduct from the University of Texas campus, rape and fatally shoot 24-year-old Rosalind Robison the night of the Nov. 17, 1983, although he was arrested driving her car and was carrying her automated bank teller card.

Eleven minutes later, after whistling and sputtering as the lethal drugs took effect, he was pronounced dead.

Jackson, who had an associate degree in behavioral psychology, was paroled in 1980 after serving three years of a 10-year federal prison sentence for robbing a bank in Thorndale, northeast of Austin. In 1982, he was back in prison, this time in the state system, with a four-year sentence for burglary. He was paroled after serving only one year and was absent from an Austin halfway house with another parolee the night of the Robison attack.

The victim's father, Roger Robison, an oncologist from Terre Haute, Ind., said 16 years was a long time to wait for the punishment.

State regulators to review report on deadly A&M collapse

DALLAS (AP) — Texas A&M University's bonfire collapse report will be reviewed by a state panel which will decide whether any Texas laws or engineering standards were violated.

The report by a five-member commission appointed by the university blamed flawed construction techniques and a lack of adequate supervision of students assembling the 2 million-pound log stack for the Nov. 18 collapse that killed 12 Aggies and injured 27 others.

Members of the Texas Board of Professional Engineers will now review the report. A subcommittee of the nine-member panel are to make recommendations to the full board before its June 14 regular meeting.

"This whole bonfire issue will be thoroughly discussed," Victoria Hsu, the board's executive director, told The Dallas Morning News in today's editions. "This is the first step in recommending to the board what actions should be taken."

Hsu, a licensed professional engineer, said jurisdiction over the bonfire project was still being determined. Professional engineers have historically had no formal role in the annual construction of a six-tier tower of logs before the Texas-Texas A&M football game.

However, the university has a strong engineering presence in its academic departments. The Dwight Look College of Engineering has 10 departments ranging from aerospace to petroleum engineering.

Lane Stephenson, an A&M spokesman, said the university "will cooperate with the board and provide any desired information."

Killer says table incited slaying

DALLAS (AP) — A University Park man who pleaded guilty to strangling his wife with a lamp cord before almost decapitating her with a pair of scissors said she provoked the attack by kicking a table he inherited from his mother.

Pollution, asthma deaths linked in study

BOSTON (AP) — Air pollution from two coal-burning power plants can be linked to more than 43,000 asthma attacks and an estimated 159 premature deaths each year, according to a Harvard School of Public Health report.

The study, which looked at emissions from the Brayton Point plant in Somerset and Salem Harbor Station plant in Salem, found as many as 32 million people in New England, New York and New Jersey could be exposed to the pollution. Both plants are owned by PG&E Generating Co.

"There is no autopsy in the world that could say this particle or this gas you died from," said John Spengler, a professor of environmental health at Harvard and one of the study's authors. "But we can calculate how many people are exposed to what amount of air pollution. From that you can calculate how many deaths."

The study was commissioned by the Clean Air Task Force, a nonprofit environmental organization focusing on air quality.

PG&E officials said they are reviewing the study, but "take issue" with some of its findings concerning possible illness and death. The company bought the plants 18 months ago from New England Electric System.

"We are committed to doing the right thing and have pledged substantial reductions of emissions at both facilities," PG&E spokeswoman Lisa Franklin said Thursday.

Researchers calculated the amount of air pollution coming from the two plants and used mathematical models to determine where and in what quantity it landed.

"Turning the table over was like watching her push my mother down the stairs," Patrick Timothy Richardson testified during a sentencing hearing Thursday.

"I grabbed her. I don't remember what obviously happened," he said.

Cross-examination of Richardson, 40, was expected to start today.

Richardson said he had never attacked his 35-year-old wife, Mary Williams Richardson, in anger before the Sept. 19, 1999, slaying, which happened in front of their three children.

A jury must decide whether Richardson should be punished for first-degree murder, which could mean a life prison term, or get a lesser penalty for second-degree murder. He entered a guilty plea just as his trial was beginning. The week before, he was caught trying to flee the country.

The defense claims the killing was a crime of passion caused by a marriage on the rocks.

Richardson said he "exploded" after his wife told him to get out of their home in an upscale Dallas suburb.

Bush continues push for Hispanic voters, but poll shows tough challenge

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Resuming his push for California Hispanics, George W. Bush was marking today's Mexican holiday of Cinco de Mayo amid fresh evidence that the crucial voter bloc is leaning heavily toward Democrats.

Bush planned to appear at a U.S.-Mexico Foundation breakfast, followed by a meeting with Hispanic leaders in San Diego County, which shares a border with Mexico.

On Thursday, the de facto GOP presidential nominee departed from his schedule to campaign in heavily Hispanic Santa Ana, which has become an emblem of rising Hispanic political power.

The Texas governor walked the streets of a bustling Hispanic neighborhood, chatted with residents in Spanish, wolfed down tacos and called himself "Jorge."

Earlier in the day, Bush, who is Methodist, attended Roman Catholic Mass in Orange County. Most Hispanics are Catholic, but Bush said politics played no role in his appearance there.

Bush has made direct appeals to Hispanics a staple of his campaign swings to California, where 16 percent of the electorate is Hispanic, compared to 10 percent a decade ago.

A poll released this week suggested his challenge remains formidable.

The number of Hispanic voters has increased by 1 million in the past decade, and that trend has overwhelmingly benefited Democrats, according to the Field Poll.

In Yale-Harvard rivalry, presidential politics is the big game

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — It's been 88 years since a Yale and a Harvard man squared off for the ultimate Ivy League bragging right — president of the United States.

Both lost. That embarrassing outcome is unlikely this year as the schools dust off their pennants for the contest between Yale grad George W. Bush and Harvard alum Al Gore.

The rivalry between the prestigious universities has always been intense. Sometimes silly, too. Witness this Harvard newspaper headline about a football game in 1968: "Harvard Beats Yale 29-29."

On receiving an honorary degree from Yale, President Kennedy (a Harvard graduate) remarked he had the best of both worlds: a Harvard education and a Yale diploma.

Bush planned to appear at a U.S.-Mexico Foundation breakfast, followed by a meeting with Hispanic leaders in San Diego County, which shares a border with Mexico.

On Thursday, the de facto GOP presidential nominee departed from his schedule to campaign in heavily Hispanic Santa Ana, which has become an emblem of rising Hispanic political power.

The Texas governor walked the streets of a bustling Hispanic neighborhood, chatted with residents in Spanish, wolfed down tacos and called himself "Jorge."

Earlier in the day, Bush, who is Methodist, attended Roman Catholic Mass in Orange County. Most Hispanics are Catholic, but Bush said politics played no role in his appearance there.

Bush has made direct appeals to Hispanics a staple of his campaign swings to California, where 16 percent of the electorate is Hispanic, compared to 10 percent a decade ago.

A poll released this week suggested his challenge remains formidable.

The number of Hispanic voters has increased by 1 million in the past decade, and that trend has overwhelmingly benefited Democrats, according to the poll.

Many Hispanics remain alienated from the GOP, which led fights during the 1990s against illegal immigration, affirmative action and bilingual education.

According to the survey, nearly half of all Hispanics currently on the voter rolls have registered since 1994, when California voters passed Proposition 187 outlawing most state services to illegal immigrants. Then-Republican Gov. Pete Wilson led the campaign for the ballot measure, which later was scuttled by federal courts.

That measure inspired many Hispanics to register and vote, the pollsters said, and today Democrats vastly outnumber Republicans among registered Hispanics in California. Sixty percent of Hispanics in recent Field Institute surveys said they are Democrats, 22 percent said they are Republicans and 18 percent said they are not affiliated with either party.

Minister's musing ...

"And the whole population came rushing out to see Jesus and begged him to go away and leave them alone." (Matthew 8:24, "Living New Testament")

This has to be one of the strangest requests in all history! That anyone would beg Jesus to go away and leave them alone baffles the imagination.

Across the beautiful Sea of Galilee, Jesus and his disciples sailed. On landing, they found a man living among the tombs. He screamed, cut himself and remained isolated from friends and family. Those who cared about him used ropes and chains trying to restrain him for his own good.

"Demon possessed," was their conclusion, when with supernatural strength, he snapped the fetters and continued running naked and self-destructive in their graveyard.

The Jesus came! He broke the hellish powers that had kept the man tormented. The wild fire that burned in his eyes went out. A look of peace softened the man's face. Matthew records that he was soon "clothed and in his right mind — sitting at the feet of Jesus." What a glorious transformation!

At the command of Christ, the legion of demons inhabiting the victim's body had to leave. They entered a large herd of some 2,000 swine feeding nearby. In terror, the pigs stampeded. Tumbling over a steep cliff into the sea, they drowned.

When the news reached town, the citizens poured out to learn what had happened. They saw their neighbor wonderfully set free

By Rev. Albert Maggard

First Pentecostal Holiness Church

by God's power. Then they discovered that a herd of pigs had been lost.

A dread came over them. One would expect a welcome from them for the Savior, but the townspeople begged him to go away and leave them alone.

Let me suggest some reasons for their action. There were three things they didn't want to face:

1) The power of change. Jesus Christ, in contact with people, always produces change. No one who meets Jesus ever remains the same. One way or another, we'll change. Although change is needed, many don't welcome it. Some fear it.

When they say his power to change a demonized individual, they knew he was not "playing church." Here was one with divine power to make people different.

Some folk really don't want to be different. They seek societal approval and understanding of their meanness and maladjustments. They just don't intend to change. Fearing change, they decide they could never handle it. Jesus becomes unwelcome because he brings change. He doesn't polish sin — he destroys it.

2) They didn't want to face the fact that they cared more for pigs than people.

A man's soul and his life had been saved — but the populace only saw 2,000 pigs lost.

"What is a man profited if he gain the whole but lose his own soul?" Jesus once asked. Men are always more precious than money and material things. We tend to love things and use people. Our Lord reverses that. Let us never lose sight of the value God places on human beings. The soul of one person is worth more than the whole world.

3) They didn't want to face the fact that faith may cost them something.

These town-folk dollar valued their pigs. Porkers and possessions had monetary worth. A man whose life was bound by powers of hell was more difficult to value. The saving of a life seemed less important than making of a dollar. There are still those who want the Lord — until learning that faith can cost them something.

We can only imagine how wonderful life could have been for that community — if they'd welcomed God's Son instead of rebuffing Him. The poet wrote: "Of all sad words on tongue or pen, none sad as these, what might have been."

May we be careful lest the fear of change — caring more for possessions than for people — or dread of a costly faith — make the Man of Galilee unwelcome in our lives.

Catholic newspaper reaches out to Hispanics

BOSTON (AP) — Borrowing an idea from the Roman Catholic archdioceses of Los Angeles, Chicago and Washington, D.C., the Boston archdiocese has launched a Spanish-language newspaper.

Catholic officials hope the monthly La Vida Catolica will help stem conversions to Protestantism and help the church connect with the estimated 300,000 to 500,000 Hispanics in the Boston area.

"Many immigrants have been uprooted from their countries and their cultures and the church is a place that can help them to be rooted in their society," said assistant editor Antonio Enrique.

The archdiocese is printing 20,000 copies of the La Vida Catolica to be distributed in 36 parishes with Spanish-language Masses.

The archdiocese's English weekly, the Pilot, is the nation's oldest Catholic newspaper.

Discovering a new connection ...

God is in London's National Gallery.

When we visited earlier this year, I found Him in an exhibit called "Seeing Salvation," which follows the artistic presentations of Christ throughout history. The exhibit begins with the earliest Christian art which represents Christ through letters and signs and traces the theological development of Christ imagery as depicted in paintings, sculpture and furnishings. Some pieces, such as a trio of Roman grave slabs, date from the fourth century.

From the 20th century are "Resurrection at Cookham" by Stanley Spencer and Salvador Dali's "Christ of Saint John of the Cross." In between are art works which grapple with man's understanding of Christ's dual nature, His physical likeness, His passion and finally, His historical endurance.

It is a more than powerful display of man's fascination with Christ.

The crowd moving through the gallery

From the Back Pew...

By Cheryl Berzanskis space was quiet. Hushed, really, as they looked at the walls, display cases and statues. Some edged as close as security ropes allowed to better inspect a piece. It is said England is a secular country, but you couldn't have proved it by the crowd in the gallery. They were enthralled with what they saw.

It was that day, among that community of people, that I realized that I see God best in art. Not necessarily visual art, but in created beauty whether it is a painting, statue, music, literature or architecture. There is something in the offering to God of one's human work that is worshipful and sacred. I discovered a new connection to God through the work of others.

The London gallery is not a church in the sense that Canterbury Cathedral or Westminster Abbey epitomize the term, but it was that day in the sense that God's people had gathered to learn about Him. I felt part of a larger community, strangers all, but connected to them through this fascination with seeing Jesus.

The Apostle Paul tells us we see through a glass darkly, but in the National Gallery that March day, I felt I glimpsed Christ "face to face."

(The exhibit may be viewed online at <http://www.nationalgallery.org.uk>.)

Harvesters to perform Tuesday

The Harvesters of Southwestern Assemblies of God University of Waxahachie will be ministering for the Assemblies of God Sectional Youth Rally beginning at 7 p.m. Tuesday, May 9 at First Assembly of God Church in McLean.

The Harvesters have gathered from across the U.S. to represent Southwestern Assemblies of God University throughout the Southwest Region.

These young collegians feel they are involved in a definite ministry of reaching people for the Lord Jesus Christ. They are chosen not only for their musical ability, but also because of their Christian character and vision for ministry. The Harvesters travel weekends and make two tours each year — one at winter break and one during the summer.

This concert, presented by the Harvesters, is free and open to the public. If you love good music, love to worship and love to people consumed with a vision become acquainted with young and a purpose, you are invited.

Spring tour of homes Sunday

The St. Andrew's Episcopal School Spring Tour of Homes will take place on Sunday, May 7. The homes may be viewed from noon until 6 p.m. Bus transportation will be available from the school at 2 p.m. Corporate benefactors of the event are Bank of America and the Barrick Foundation.

Proceeds from the fund-raiser benefit the St. Andrew's Parents Auxiliary, which works to further the St. Andrew's scholarship endowment and update or add to school equipment.

Home on the tour are those of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Harkins, 3012 S. Ong; Mr. and Mrs. Steve Wright, 3201 S. Travis; Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Steele, 7305 Stacy Circle; and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Piehl, 2 miles North of Bushland.

St. Andrew's Episcopal School is a training ground for academic and personal growth. It is the goal of St. Andrew's to encourage academic excellence, and to encourage each individual to realize his or her potential. St. Andrew's addresses the learning skills of very young to middle school students. The newly opened Margaret Teel Early Childhood Center is a state-of-the-art preschool serving primer through kindergarten children. Also, St. Andrew's provides early care supervision, as well as extended day programs.

Tickets to the home tour cost $15 and are available at the school; Collections in Wolflin Village; Paper Magic; or at the individual homes on the day of the tour. For details, contact the school at (806) 376-9501.

Council takes over legal aid for Elian's father

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Council of Churches has taken over the fund paying legal expenses for Elian Gonzalez's father from the United Methodist Church's Board of Church and Society.

A Methodist announcement said the change was made April 19 after the denomination's financial office decided such money-raising did not follow rules prescribed in the Methodist policy manual.

Both the Methodists and the church council pay lawyer Gregory Craig and his firm through voluntary contributions for that purpose, not general program funds. The Rev. Thom White Wolf Fassett, head of the Methodist board, said more than $50,000 has been raised.

Our heartfelt gratitude to each of you that were so supportive during the loss of our mother. The food, flowers, cards, thoughts, prayers & shared memories were greatly appreciated. God Bless each of you.

GOLF

FORT WORTH — Mickey Piersall and Dr. Butch Buck of the Pampa Country Club tied for 10th place at the Car Club Pro Official Classic on Tuesday at Mira Vista Country Club.

The duo, tied with four other teams, shooting a 65. Winning the tournament were Mac Spikes and Walter Forney of River Crest Country Club, shooting a 63. They won the overall championship in a playoff against two other teams.

BASEBALL

PAMPA — The annual Optimist Club barbecue will be held Saturday starting at 12 noon in the Optimist gym.

The barbecue is six dollars per plate. The public is invited to come out and watch the baseball and softball games, which will start early and last all day.

Over 700 youngsters have signed up to play in the Optimist Leagues this summer.

CLARENDON — Clarendon College is having an open baseball tryout camp on June 10, starting at 11 a.m. Registration will begin at 10 a.m. at the Clarendon City Park.

The camp is open to high school seniors only. No pre-registration is necessary. Players must bring their own equipment.

HORSE RACING

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — When you've won four Kentucky Derbys like D. Wayne Lukas has, you have every reason to beam with confidence.

And there's no one better at touting his own thoroughbreds than Lukas. After all, the Hall of Fame trainer has won three of the last five Derbys, and is back for his 20th consecutive Run for the Roses with three horses, giving him a record 38 starters.

"I'll be going over with a pretty good little arsenal," Lukas said Thursday. "We're not exactly 30-1. If you're a gloom and doom guy, you better get another profession."

Lukas singled out Blue Grass Stakes winner High Yield as his best chance to win Saturday's 1 1/4-mile Derby. High Yield, with four wins, four seconds and three thirds in 12 career starts, is among the most consistent 3-year-olds in the 19-horse field.

"High Yield is doing the best of all the horses," Lukas said of yet another one of his horses by Storm Cat. "He's had only one less than sterling performance (sixth in the Kentucky Jockey Club at Churchill Downs), but I wouldn't hold that against him."

High Yield, with Pat Day aboard, is part of a four-horse entry with Lukas' Commendable and the Todd-Pletcher-trained Trippi and Impeachment. The entry is 5-1, third in the morning line behind 9-5 favorite Fusaichi Pegasus and 4-1 choice The Deputy.

Exchange Rate, Lukas' other horse, is 30-1.

Lukas is convinced High Yield will win. Asked about Day being aboard, Lukas said: "He is absolutely the premier rider in Kentucky and he's held his own in every other arena. But this is his arena. He won the Derby with a Pennsylvania colt named Lil E. Tee and he's going to ride another one on Saturday."

And what about the fact none of his Storm Cat offsprings have won the Derby: "We'll put an end to that Saturday night."

Finally, there's the post position: Exchange Rate and High Yield will start from the auxiliary gate. High Yield leaves from the No. 17 spot, Exchange Rate from No. 16, and Commendable from No. 12.

Suntrol wins softball tilt

PAMPA — Suntrol downed Team Three 16-12, in 13-15 girls' softball action Tuesday night in a 10-run rule shortened contest at Optimist Park.

Strong pitching performances by Suntrol's Stephanie Clark and Chelsey Davis accounted for 11 strikeouts in five innings of work.

Clark pitched the first two innings, striking out six while allowing two baserunners, one on a base on balls, and the other a hit batsman. Davis pitched the final three innings, striking out five while surrendering just two base hits and no base on balls.

After Clark struck out the side in the top of the first, Suntrol plated ten runs in the bottom of the first on five hits, three errors and five base on balls to take a commanding 10-0 lead. Suntrol built on their lead and led 16-0 going into the fifth.

Team Three was unable to score until the top of the fifth when Chassey Oxley reached on an error and advanced to third on a double by Jera Skinner. Davis retired the next two batters she faced before Monica Eakin singled, driving in both Oxley and Skinner to put her team on the board.

A heads-up play by catcher Wendi Miller caught Eakin attempting to advance to second on the play for the third out as Miller fired the ball to shortstop Karissa Intemann, who tagged Eakin out to end the game.

Miller led Suntrol at the plate, going 3 for 3 with a double and two singles. Teryn Stowers doubled and singled and Casey Fisher, Shelley Smith, Autumn Schaub and Cara Pryor each singled.

In other action, Parker Boats & Motors dropped a 9-7 decision to Team Four as Team Four rallied from a 7-4 deficit. Stefani Goldsmith was the winning pitcher as she went the distance in the six-inning time shortened contest. Stacey Johnson also had a good outing for Parker Boats as she pitched 4 1/3rds innings, striking out six, allowing one base hit and issuing four base on balls.

Goldsmith struck out eight while scattering nine hits and issuing four base on balls. For Team Four, Luran Cortez doubled and Jennie Rogers added a single.

Casey Lee led Parker Boats with a triple and double, followed by Johnson with a triple and single. Teryn Garner and Tess Kingcade each doubled and Kelly Tripplehorn, Ashley Parker and Lindsay Smith each singled.

Rangers lose in 11 innings

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — First, Greg Vaughn changed the way the Tampa Bay Devil Rays looked, then he made them feel better about themselves.

The slugger homered with one out in the bottom of the 11th inning Thursday night, capping a 4-for-6, three-RBI performance and beating the Texas Rangers 8-7 to stop a four-game losing streak.

Vaughn made a fashion statement before the game, deciding to wear his uniform pants legs higher than usual to expose his socks, and most of his teammates followed the lead.

After striking out in his first two at-bats, he finished with four straight hits.

"We decided to have a little fun and change our look," Vaughn said. "So now, the headlines will probably say the socks did it. It worked tonight. We'll see what happens tomorrow."

The Devil Rays stopped the Rangers' eight-game winning streak at Tropicana Field despite blowing a three-run lead that was entrusted to closer Roberto Hernandez.

An All-Star last season when he had 43 saves in 47 opportunities, Hernandez gave up five consecutive singles to allow the Rangers to wipe out a 7-4 deficit.

Rafael Palmeiro, who didn't start because of a slight left hamstring strain, drove in two of the runs for the Rangers with a pinch-hit single. Royce Clayton hit a grounder up the middle to make it 7-7.

It was the fourth time in six tries that Hernandez has not been able to close out a game this season

Regional champs

Harvesters return to baseball basics

PAMPA — The Pampa Harvesters have gone back to the fundamentals while v. aiting for the winner of the El Paso Bowie-Pecos bi-district series in the Class 4A baseball playoffs.

"It's going to be two weeks before we play, so we're doing the things we usually do in February and early March. We're rolling a lot of ground balls to one another, doing soft toss and using the hitting cage," says Pampa head coach Dennis Doughty.

The Harvesters have a practice game scheduled for 5 p.m. today at Frank Phillips College in Borger against District 1-3A co-champion River Road.

"River Road will be a pretty good team for us. They tied us earlier in the season and I think they've only lost three games since then," Doughty said.

Pampa (19-6-1) earned a first-round bye after winning the District 3-4A title this season. It's the first time since the 1991 season the Harvesters haven't had to share the district crown with another team.

Pampa meets either EP Bowie or Pecos in the best two of three area round May 12-13.

The Harvesters have put together a versatile all-around team, getting the job done at the plate, on the mound and in the field. Being senior-oriented has given the Harvesters the edge in experience over almost every team on the schedule.

Six of the eight position spots are filled by seniors. Junior Travis Lancaster (designated hitter) and sophomore Randy Tice (outfielder) are the only underclassmen who have been regular starters.

"We've had pretty good defense and good pitching," Doughty said. "We've had good hitting from the top to the bottom of the lineup. In fact, 12 of our 13 players are hitting over .300."

Seniors Brent Coffee and Casey

Owens pace the pitching staff. Coffee, a lefthander, has been tough to beat since coming back from elbow problems a year ago. He was 6-2 a year ago before being sidelined going into the playoffs. Coffee has now won eight of nine starts.

Owens, a righthander, has logged a 6-2 mark. Owens, the starting right fielder, also carries a .387 batting average.

Doughty can also call on sophomore lefty Adam Jones, who carries a 4-2 record.

The other pitcher is cleanup hitter Greg Lindsey, who has been used mostly in relief. Lindsey, the starting third baseman and a senior, has some pop in his bat. He's hitting .380 with seven homers to his credit.

Leading the Harvesters at the plate is senior second baseman Kaleb Snelgrooves, who is batting .423 from his cleanup position. Senior first sacker Cody Shepard is hitting .394.

Seniors Jesse Francis (shortstop), Russell Robben (center field) and Justin Barnes (catcher) have delivered some big hits throughout the season.

Pampa is joined in the playoffs by Caprock and Hereford out of District 3-4A.

Caprock, the No. 2 seed, meets Canyon, and Hereford, the No. 3 seed, goes against Frenship in bi-district action today.

Shortstop Jesse Francis (left) and outfielder-pitcher Casey Owens give the Harvesters both talent and experience as seniors.

Injured Nolan a target for Stars

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Owen Nolan knows his tender left shoulder will be targeted by the Dallas Stars, and accepts such treatment as part of the game.

Nolan, the San Jose Sharks scoring leader, will be back on the ice tonight in Game 4 of the Western Conference semifinal series with the Stars.

The 28-year-old, right wing absorbed plenty of punishment in his return Tuesday night in Game 3, yet still scored the decisive goal as the Sharks pulled to 2-1 of the defending Stanley Cup champions in the best-of-seven series.

"If we knew someone had a bad shoulder, he'd be getting hit every shift," Nolan said. "That's not to injure him, just to let him know we're after him."

Nolan was forced to sit out the second game against Dallas after being ineffective in the opener, hobbled by the bruised left shoulder and a sore left foot. The Sharks were shut out in those two games in Texas.

Nolan, who scored a team-record 44 goals this season, had six of the Sharks' 20 goals in their first-round upset of top-seeded St. Louis after missing five of the last six regular-season games because of the shoulder injury.

His foot was injured in Game 7 of the series against the Blues when Nolan absorbed a shot from St. Louis defenseman Al MacInnis.

Nolan has been reticent to talk about his injuries, partly because of hockey's tradition of playing through pain. But he also knows an opponent will seize on that information.

"The first thing they do is go after it if you tell anybody about it, same as any sport," he said. "I got hit as much as I expected to get hit. It won't stop. It's a physical series that will probably go six or seven games."

Teammate Vincent Damphousse agreed with Nolan's policy of not focusing on his injuries.

"There are a lot of guys with bumps and bruises. You just play through them," Damphousse said.

FIZZLING CHANGES?
 The popular term for houses for sale by owners is FSBOs. Some prospective buyers are intrigued by the opportunity presented by FSBOs, hoping to realize savings equal to the amount the seller would have paid in commission to a broker. In reality, sellers who spend their own time and money on advertising, scheduling appointments, and showing their homes are usually reluctant to sell their efforts short. In fact, the emotional attachment to their homes often leads them to inflate the asking price beyond reasonable. Moreover, without the buffering of a third party, the direct negotiating process between buyer and seller often lacks the true spirit of compromise, which is why many FSBOs are ultimately handed over to agents.

Miller delivers in Pacers' win

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Playoff heroics are nothing new for Reggie Miller. This year, they came earlier than usual.

Most of Miller's dramatic playoff performances have helped the Indiana Pacers reach the conference finals four times in the past six years.

On Thursday night, the Pacers needed every one of Miller's team playoff record 41 points to get out of the first round with a 96-95 victory over the Milwaukee Bucks in Game 5 of a best-of-five series.

"Those were later on in the playoffs, in conference finals, conference semifinals," said Miller, who kept Indiana from being the third top-seeded team eliminated in the opening round by a No. 8 seed.

Eighteen points came in the fourth quarter, sending Indiana against Philadelphia in the conference semifinals. Game 1 in the best-of-seven series is scheduled for Conesco Fieldhouse on Saturday.

"For the sense of urgency and desperation that this team was facing, hopefully it'll be a wake-up call and we can advance to our ultimate goal — the finals," Miller said.

The victory also extended the coaching career of Larry Bird, who has said he will leave at the end of the season.

"I never thought about it," Bird said. "The game was too good. It was a great playoff game. I was just trying to win."

The playoffs continue tonight with two more first-round Game 5s. The Los Angeles Lakers, the top seed in the West, plays host to Sacramento and Seattle is at Utah. On Sunday, New York is at Miami in the opener of their second-round series.

The Indiana victory kept together a team that might break up because of free agency and retirement before next season. Miller, Jalen Rose, Mark Jackson, Rik Smits, Austin Croshere and Sam Perkins will all face career decisions during the offseason.

"I had to be aggressive. Our offense was kind of stagnant and it was do or die for us," said Miller, whose previous playoff high was 39 points against New York in 1994 and Atlanta the following year. The team's previous high in a playoff game was 40 by Chuck Person against Atlanta in 1987.

Travis Best hit the biggest shot of the game, a 3-pointer with 16 seconds left to produce the victory. He was 2-for-14 from the field to that point.

"The way I shot the ball, I don't know if they had too much confidence in me, but it (the ball) came my way. I looked, and I took the shot," Best said.

Milwaukee had a chance to win it after Rose missed two foul shots with 1.4 seconds left, but Ray Allen could only manage an off-balance 3-pointer from about 28 feet that hit the top of the backboard at the final buzzer.

Bird said before the game that he was feeling the kind of nervousness that he thrived on as a player.

"I saw a little more emotion than normal because it was such a big game," assistant coach Rick Carlisle said. "When he gets up and claps three times, that's a big deal. Normally he's pretty stoic out there."

Miller got into a shooting groove and scored 14 points in less than five minutes midway through the fourth quarter, a burst that ended with a corner jumper from a tough angle for an 89-87 lead with five minutes left.

The Bucks scored the next five points as Miller passed to open teammates. Best took several of those shots and missed them all, but he never lost his nerve.

"I heard people in the stands yelling to pass the ball, but they're not the ones out there," Best said. "To be out there with Reggie the way he was playing, you just don't know when it will cave in. Even though I was missing, I always felt the next one would go in."

The game was tight most of the night, with 19 lead changes and 13 ties. The Bucks, swept in the opening round last year, took the biggest lead at 38-28 in the second period. Milwaukee then missed 12 consecutive shots as Indiana closed to 47-46 at halftime.

Sam Cassell, who fouled out with 2:30 remaining, led Milwaukee with 22 points. Allen and Tim Thomas each added 18 for the Bucks, who were looking for the franchise's first playoff series victory in 11 years.

"Our team played their hardest," Cassell said. "We really gave it a great effort. ... We really have grown as a team during this playoff run. ... I'm very proud of this team and I can see us making it further next year."

Miller gave credit to Milwaukee for extending the series.

"George Karl had his team prepared. They executed well. They played hard the five games," Miller said. "They took everything that we have ever learned for this veteran club, being here for 12 years, to find some way to defend them."

Round Rock added as state tournament site

AUSTIN — Dell Diamond in Round Rock, home of the Double AA Round Rock Express, has been added as one of the sites for the 2000 University Interscholastic League State Baseball Tournament, UIL officials have announced.

The first-year facility will replace Austin ISD's Nelson Field as one of three first-day sites the UIL uses for the semifinals at the state tournament. The state tournament this year is scheduled for June 8-9. Dell Diamond, Disch-Falk Field on the University of Texas at Austin camps, and Burger Field, an Austin ISD facility, will be the three sites this June.

"We are very excited and pleased about how the move to the Dell Diamond in Round Rock," said UIL Athletic Director Dr. Charles Breithaupt. "We think the new site will add to an already outstanding state baseball tournament. At the same time, we are very thankful to Austin ISD for their help all these years and their continued support."

Giants finish off first four-game sweep of New York Mets since 1962 season

By BEN WALKER
AP Baseball Writer

The last time San Francisco played so well against the New York Mets, the Giants had Willie Mays, Willie McCovey and Juan Marichal on their side.

The Giants completed their first four-game sweep of the Mets since 1962, breaking away on Bill Mueller's bases-loaded triple in the eighth inning for a 7-2 win Thursday.

The big inning at Pacific Bell Park included a bench-clearing incident, but neither team seemed sure what prompted the whole thing.

It was 2-all in the eighth when Mets reliever Dennis Cook hit Marvin Benard with a pitch to load the bases with one out. Both players insist they did not say a word to each other, though they stared for several seconds.

"I consider myself a man," Benard said. "He threw a sinker inside, he hit me in the ribs. It hurt and I was kind of upset. I know he wasn't throwing at me, but I've got a right to stare at anybody. I just started laughing at him."

Said Cook: "I just thought it was silly on his part to get mad there. That's a guy who doesn't know how to play the game. Why would I want to hit him on a 0-1 count and load the bases and have to face Barry Bonds?"

There were no punches thrown. Cook was replaced and exchanged words with Benard as he walked off.

Armando Benitez relieved, and Mueller cleared the bases with his triple. After Bonds popped up, Jeff Kent homered.

In other NL games, Philadelphia routed Cincinnati 14-1, St. Louis blanked Cincinnati 5-0, Houston beat Chicago 6-2, and Arizona defeated Milwaukee 6-2.

San Francisco's only other four-game sweep came June 1-3, 1962, in the Mets' expansion season. Those games were held at the Polo Grounds, the Giants' old home when they played in New York.

The Giants outscored the Mets 32-11 in this testy series.

On Monday, the benches cleared after J.T. Snow ran into Mets catcher Todd Pratt. On Wednesday, Benard seemed to veer out of his way and aim at Pratt while scoring standing up.

"Why's he taking issue? Yesterday he tried to run me over; he missed home plate by five feet," Pratt said.

Mike Piazza, out of the Mets lineup for five games because of a bruised right wrist and a hyperextended right elbow, hit his sixth homer. He also doubled, singled and stole a base.

"I swung the bat pretty well," Piazza said. "It's still a little sore, but when I don't swing too hard, it doesn't hurt. When I take a bad swing, it hurts."

Phillies 14, Reds 1
Doug Glanville went 5-for-5, including a pair of doubles during a six-run first inning as Philadelphia romped at Veterans Stadium.

The Phillies, who started the day with a league-low 90 runs, got doubles from Glanville, Rob Ducey, Bobby Abreu and Scott Rolen to start the game. The four in a row tied the NL record for consecutive doubles in an inning.

Abreu doubled in each of the first three innings. Ducey and Mike Lieberthal each homered as the Phillies finished with 21 hits.

Ken Griffey Jr. was hitless in his only at-bat and left after three innings with Cincinnati down 8-0. He went 0-for-9 in the series, dropping his average to .198.

Cardinals 5, Pirates 0

Jim Edmonds and Mark McGwire homered on consecutive pitches as St. Louis prevented Pittsburgh from finishing off a three-game sweep.

Ray Lankford hit his 100th career home run at Busch Stadium — he's the career leader at the park — in the fourth inning. Edmonds and McGwire each hit their 10th homers of the season in the sixth.

Garrett Stephenson gave up three hits in 7-2-3 innings. Astros 6, Cubs 2

Jeff Bagwell hit a three-run double on reliever Mark Guthrie's first pitch in the fifth inning as Houston won at Wrigley Field.

Ismael Valdes, acquired from Los Angeles in a December trade, lost in his Chicago debut. Out since March 20 because of tendinitis in his right shoulder, he left after the Astros loaded the bases with two outs in the fifth.

With Matt Karchner sent to the minors to make room for Valdes, and fellow right-hander Brian Williams not available, Cubs manager Don Baylor brought in the left-handed Guthrie to face Bagwell.

Bagwell, batting .500 against lefties, put Houston ahead 4-1 with a drive off the base of the left-field wall.

Sammy Sosa homered for the Cubs.

Diamondbacks 6, Brewers 2

Erubiel Durazo hit a three-run homer and Jay Bell added a solo shot to back Armando Reynoso as Arizona won in Milwaukee.

Reynoso (2-3) did not allow a hit until Luis Lopez led off the sixth inning with a single. In 5-1-3 innings, Reynoso allowed two hits and two runs. He struck out three and walked two.

Byung-Hyun Kim got the final out for his second save.

Everett Stull (1-3) was the loser.

Woods joins the field for Byron Nelson Classic

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Top-ranked Tiger Woods has committed a day early to compete in the GTE Byron Nelson Classic golf tournament.

Woods on Thursday joined the field — one day before the PGA Tour deadline — along with Jasper Parnevik, who ranks fifth on the season money list.

The 2000 tournament, now in its 33rd year, will be played May 11-14 at ITPC Four Seasons Resort Las Colinas in Irving.

Officials said earlier that the purse for this year's event has been raised by $500,000 to a total of $4 million.

With Woods and Parnevik now in the field, the Four Seasons Resort will feature 14 of the 15 top players from the PGA Tour money list when golfers gather May 11 for the first round.

"We've had a couple of great surprises," Patrick McEvoy, Nelson tournament chairman, told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram in today's editions. "I've been grinning from ear-to-ear all day. Tiger usually waits until Friday at 5 o'clock" before committing.

The winner of the 2000 GTE Byron Nelson Classic will earn $720,000.

Loren Roberts won last year's tournament when he parred the first playoff hole to defeat Steve Pate.

The $4 million purse matches the 2000 AT&T Pebble Beach National Pro-Am as the largest purse of the co-sponsored events on the PGA Tour, which excludes the four traditional major championships, The Players Championship, The Tour Championship and the World Golf Championships (WGC), according to organizers.

Bank Repossessed Cars to be Sold Directly to the Public

Local Borger Dealership Disposing of 101 Bank Repos and Other Used Vehicles for Only $59 Then Start Making Payments, with Qualified Credit*

BORGER, TEXAS - Bank Repossessed cars and trucks are among the most hunted-for bargains in the automotive industry. Unfortunately for John Q. Public, they're also the hardest to come by.

Banks often unload repossessed vehicles to car dealers at rock-bottom prices - allowing dealers to resell them for retail value. But bargain-seekers can take heart: This week Cole Ivey Auto Plaza in Borger is going to change that.

This coming Wednesday, May 3rd, thru Saturday, May 6th, Cole Ivey Auto Plaza will offer 101 bank repossessed, lease return and other used vehicles at bargain prices and pass the savings on to their customers.

"These vehicles have been acquired at incredible savings from banks (repos), auctions and other sources." Mike Melcher of Cole Ivey Auto Plaza said. "Our creditors have asked us to sacrifice this inventory immediately - regardless of loss or profit. And if that means selling these vehicles dirt cheap, then that's what we'll do."

Every bank repossessed and other pre-owned vehicle will be available for just a $59 down payment* then start making payments, with qualified credit. Payments start as low as $215 per month. "It's that simple," said Melcher. "To make these bargains even easier, we'll mark the payments right on the windshield. You won't find a state to assure Cole Ivey Auto Plaza customers prompt, quality service and the best finance terms possible Melcher said. "We'll have over $4 million in financing available for this event, chances are we can arrange financing for just about anyone who is employed, regardless of past credit history."

Trade-ins will be accepted, and customers are encouraged to bring their title or payment book to expedite delivery.

"The opportunity Borger area bargain-hunters have been waiting for happens this Wednesday through Saturday at Cole Ivey Auto Plaza.

With qualified credit, every bank repo and other used vehicle is just $59 then start making payments.* Customers won't see savings like this again all year," said Melcher.

After the $59 Super Sale ends at 5:00 p.m. on Saturday, May 6, Cole Ivey Auto Plaza will send many of these vehicles to auction. Any questions can be directed to (806)274-5266. Cole Ivey Auto Plaza is located at 230 N. Weatherly in Borger.

faster, easier way to get a great deal on a pre-owned vehicle."

Almost every type of vehicle and price range will be available, from luxury 4x4s to basic transportation. Many are still under warranty. "With our pre-owned inventory near an all-time high, chances are we have what you're looking for in stock and ready to drive home." Melcher added.

Muscular Dystrophy Association seeking summer camp volunteers

Lubbock — The Muscular Dystrophy Association is currently seeking applications from people who would like to volunteer to spend a week as counselors at the MDA summer camp June 4-9 in Huppy.

Volunteers will act as companions to campers (ages 6-21) with neuromuscular diseases during the camp session. Counselors must be at least 16-years-old and able to lift a child. They will be called upon to push wheelchairs and assist with grooming, dressing and feeding, plus help campers participate in the fun activities that come with summer camp including swimming, horseback riding, arts and crafts and canoeing.

"Camp is the highlight of the summer for the campers and volunteers. It's one week of the year when youngsters with muscle-wasting disorders are able to fully participate in a wide range of group outdoor activities that are tailored for their limited mobility," says Norma Ball, MDA Regional director. "MDA summer camp has a relaxed atmosphere which allows campers to develop self-confidence and form lifelong friendships."

More than 4,000 campers are expected to attend MDA camps this year. With the help of one-on-one volunteers, campers will enjoy a wide range of sports, recreation and nature activities.

MDA is a national voluntary health agency dedicated to finding treatments and cures for neuromuscular diseases affecting more than a million Americans. The association receives no governmental grants, nor does it seek fees from the families it serves.

For information or to volunteer, call the local MDA offices in Lubbock at 793-5632, in Amarillo at 371-8002, or Midland at (915) 683-2405, or call MDA national headquarters at 1-800-572-1717. Information about MDA programs and research advances is also available on-line at www.mdausa.org.

TWC: Job growth offsets slight rise in unemployment

AUSTIN — Job growth in Texas reached an 18-month high in March, despite a slight rise in the seasonally adjusted unemployment rate, Texas Workforce Commission recently announced.

"Despite the slight increase in unemployment from 4.5 to 4.6 percent," TWC Chair Diane Rath said, "we've added 45,000 more Nonagricultural jobs statewide this month — the most since September 1998."

"The Service Industry gained the most jobs," said Commissioner for Labor T.P.

O'Mahoney, "with 13,300 added in March and more than 71,000 added in the past year."

"Construction saw its 10th consecutive month of growth, with 2,300 jobs added," said Ron Lehman, commissioner for employers. "That's a strong indicator of a healthy state economy."

The lowest unemployment rate among the Metropolitan Statistical Areas was 1.6 percent in Bryan-College Station. Austin-San Marcos followed at 2.1 percent and Lubbock at 3.0 percent. Dallas, Fort Worth-Arlington and Waco tied for fourth lowest at 3.1 percent.

The highest unemployment rate was 14.4 percent in the McAllen-Edinburg-Mission MSA. Brownsville-Harlingen-San Benito was second highest at 9.8 percent, followed by El Paso at 8.4 percent, Beaumont-Port Arthur at 8.2 percent and Laredo at 7.7 percent.

"Our economy remains strong," Rath said. "Despite the slight rise in unemployment, our rate of 4.6 percent is the same as last March — which was the lowest in two decades — and nonfarm job growth is substantially higher."

Stuttering Foundation offering free brochure

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Fourteen-year-old Vanessa Tendick may never have been crowned Miss Arizona Junior National Teenager in 1999 if it had not been for the fact that she stutters. When she was in sixth grade, Vanessa decided to confront her worsening speech by entering a pageant that required public speaking and confronting her handicap head-on.

She isn't alone; stuttering affects hundreds of thousands of teens. When you can't get the words out, it can turn something as simple as a phone conversation into a humiliating experience.

"When I realized that my fear of speaking was affecting me, I decided to try to do as many public speeches as I could because I decided I couldn't be scared of speaking my whole life," she said. "That's why I entered pageants."

While there is no cure, the Stuttering Foundation of America can help with books and videos designed especially for teens who stutter. Vanessa is the Foundation's teen spokesperson this year.

She offers these tips for other teens who stutter:

—Be open with your friends and classmates about stuttering and let them know when you're having a hard time. They'll be more understanding if you explain it to them.

—Let your teachers know before class about stuttering and talk about what they can do to help.

—Let your parents know you want them to help and how they can do it. Perhaps they can assist you in finding an expert in stuttering who can help you. While there is no cure for stuttering, professionals can help your speech become more fluent.

—Don't hide from your stuttering. You have to confront it to improve. Try to keep a positive attitude.

—Practice, practice, practice.

More helpful advice can be found in the 80-page book, "Do You Stutter: A Guide for Teens," and 30 minute videotape, "Do You Stutter: Straight Talk for Teens." For more information and a free brochure featuring 14 famous people who stutter, write the Stuttering Foundation, P.O. Box 11749, Memphis, TN 38111-0749, call toll-free 1-800-992-9392, or visit us at www.stutterSFA.org. Foundation books and tapes are also available at more than 4,000 public libraries.

TTF helps parents plan for children's future

AUSTIN — "Nothing is more important than education, and for as little as $15 a month, you can get your child started on the path to a college diploma," says Texas Comptroller Carole Keeton Rylander, reminding parents and grandparents enrollment in the Texas Tomorrow Fund, the state's prepaid college tuition program, is open through June 5.

"If you have a newborn child, and save as little as $15 a month in the Texas Tomorrow Fund, the state will pay tuition and required fees for your child's first year of higher education at a Texas community college. If you can set aside $104 a month, your newborn will be guaranteed a four-year education at any of Texas' public colleges and universities."

Although many investment options exist, TTF is the only fully guaranteed prepaid tuition program in the state. Participants lock in tomorrow's college tuition and required fees at today's prices and need not worry about marketplace volatility, inflation or the ever-increasing costs of college tuition. No matter how high education costs may rise, participants know their child's tuition and required fees at any public college or university in Texas will be paid in full when they begin college. TTF also allows participants to use their benefits at private and out-of-state institutions.

"As a former public school teacher, but most importantly as a mama and a grandmama, I am a staunch believer in education. Our children must be able to compete not just with those from New York and California, but from Europe and Asia as well," Rylander said. "In today's high tech, high skill job market, a high school diploma is only the first step. Most jobs require college or technical training. The time to start planning and saving for our children's and our grandchildren's future education is today."

Throughout the state, parents, grandparents, relatives, businesses and civic organizations have recognized the flexibility and affordability of TTF. With its variety of plans, TTF appeals to Texans who are interested in attending either a private, public or community college. Purchasers always have the option to make changes to their contracts such as passing the benefits to another qualified beneficiary, reducing or increasing benefits, terminating the contract and even applying the benefits to an out-of-state college. The program also provides various payment options such as a lump sum payment, annual installments or affordable monthly payments.

It is never too early to invest in a child's education. The Texas Legislature created TTF as a safe and affordable option for Texans who care about the future education of their children.

Since its inception in 1996, TTF has sold approximately 100,000 contracts. To take advantage of this year's prices, interested applicants must enroll prior to June 5. Additional information, as well as application for enrollment, may be obtained by visiting TTF's website www.texastomorrowfund.com or by calling 1-800-445-4723.
