APPLICATION FOR PAVING IN PAMPA OKAYED

DISTRICT OFFICE PUTS APPROVAL ON 13-BLOCK JOB

The Amarillo office of the Works Progress Administration has approved the city of Pampa's application for a WPA project for 13 blocks of paving in North Pampa.

Plans call for the paving of North West street, from the end of the present paving, to Cook avenue, a distance of four blocks; one block on North Gray street and one block on North Somerville street from the end of the present paving which stops at Cook avenue; Cook avenue from Hobart street to Georgia avenue; Georgia avenue to Mary Ellen street.

Residents on the streets named appeared before the Board of City Development and city commission last year asking for the paving program.

Federal Land Aid Programs Are Criticized

AMARILLO, Feb. 23 (AP)—The regional advisory committee on land use, which heard criticisms yesterday of federal aid programs, today awaited concrete sub-committee suggestions for better farming methods.

Reports from three sub-groups were destined to form the basis for a formal recommendation to the federal government on agricultural land improvement. On today's program also was a review of the recently published drought committee report, which President Roosevelt sent to Congress.

At yesterday's meeting Roger Stewart, Resettlement administration coordinator for Kansas, said: "The AAA has subsidized production of wheat on land where wheat should not be produced."

Morris Evans of Amarillo commented on the amount of money the federal government spent on wheat belt improvements in recent years and posed the question: "Has there been a worthwhile return on the money spent?"

Morris emphasized what he said was need for a permanent land use program. He said records revealed that over a 25-year period a farmer had to plant 100 acres in wheat each year in order to harvest 65 acres.

The argued that "every acre of badly eroded land and every acre that has a thin top soil should go back to grass whether there is good moisture and prices, or not."

OIL PRODUCTION HITS NEW PEAK IN AMERICA

TULSA, Feb. 23 (AP)—For the third week in succession and for the fifth time this year the output of the nation's oil wells have reached a new peak, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

Production for the week ending Feb. 20 was 3,290,531 barrels daily, an increase of 31,416 barrels daily over the week before.

Funeral Held For Living Man, Family Learns Later

NORMAN, Okla., Feb. 23 (AP)—The family of Sam H. Wilson, 70, discarded mourning today after attending funeral services for him only to discover him alive.

Wilson, a paralysis patient at the Central State hospital here, had not been told of the strange burial at which he was mistaken by his wife and son for Sam W. Wilson, another paralysis patient who died Friday.

The refusal of his daughter, Mrs. Pearl Royce of Davis, Okla., to accept identification of the body at that of her father led to discovery of the amazing coincidence.

Hospital officials explained the men bore a resemblance.

When Sam W. Wilson died last Friday, Dr. J. H. Reiger, who has charge of 800 patients, was told Sam Wilson died. He reached into the files and drew out Sam H. Wilson's folder.

Mrs. Royce, Wilson and the supposed widow were notified.

Mrs. Royce viewing the body declared she did not think it was her father.

The son and apparent widow assured her it was.

But yesterday she received a postcard signed by her father. It was postmarked Saturday, the day of the funeral. She hurried to Norman.

She was shown into the ward and as she walked across the floor, a smallish gray-haired man called out:

"Hello, Pearl. What in the world brings you here?"

ERWIN RITES WILL BE HELD ON WEDNESDAY

McLEAN, Feb. 23—Funeral services for Mrs. Lula Portwood Erwin, 70, wife of the Rev. W. A. Erwin, pastor of the Presbyterian church here, will be conducted at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the Presbyterian church with Dr. R. Thomsen, pastor of Central Presbyterian church of Amarillo, officiating.

Burial will be at 3 p. m. in Liano cemetery, Amarillo, under direction of C. C. Malone, Funeral home of Pampa.

The body will lie at rest at the family home until 10 a. m. when it will be taken to the church where the casket will remain open until time of service.

Mrs. Erwin died at the family home last night at 8:30 o'clock after an extended illness. She had been a resident of McLean for nearly 10 years, coming here from Dalhart with her husband. Previous to that time they had resided in Amarillo where Rev. Erwin was pastor of Central Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Erwin was born in Jackson, Miss., and educated at St. Mary's in New York City. She was an accomplished musician and acted as organist at the church. She was prominent in music circles in the Panhandle. She was married on Dec. 24, 1894.

Preceding her in death was a daughter, Mary Elizabeth, on Oct. 16, 1902, a son, Paul H., on July 30, 1922, and another son, Captain Bill Erwin who lost his life in 1927 when he flew over the Pacific ocean in search of a plane lost in the Dole flight to Hawaii.

Burial will be by the side of her son and daughter and her mother, Mrs. Mary Portwood in Liano cemetery.

Funeral services will be: J. A. Ashby, T. J. Coffey, Vester Smith, E. L. Sitter, Chas. E. Cooke, F. H. Bourland.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Richard C. Travis, United Automobile Workers organizer, charged today "The Flint Alliance and Flint police" started a riot during the recent General Motors strike "to cause trouble and blame it on the union."

He told the La Follette Civil Liberties committee that police "broke glass out of the doors of Flint plant No. 2" and fired in tear gas, when food was being brought to "sit-down" strikers.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 23 (AP)—Gov. M. Clifford Townsend today signed an order lifting military rule from the labor-torn city of Anderson, automobile accessory center, effective at 3 p. m. (central standard time).

ROME, Feb. 23 (AP)—The Italian conquerors of Ethiopia announced in a terse official communique today that firing squads had "liquidated" all Ethiopians found with arms in their homes—a grim sequel to an attempt to assassinate Viceroy Rodolfo Graziani in Addis Ababa. Although the communique did not say how many Ethiopians had been executed, it was announced that 2,000 suspects arrested, only 100 had been freed.

TRIANGLE IS 'MOTIVE' FOR SLAYING WIFE

LINDEN WANTED HERE FOR QUESTIONING IN BURGALARIES

Marion James Linden, 23, former Pampa, in jail at Denver accused of slaying his young bride of three months there last Saturday night, has offered the "eternal triangle" as a motive for his act.

In Pampa today it was learned also that local authorities had been searching for Linden for questioning in connection with several local robberies.

Constable Otis Hendrix stated that Denver authorities had been asked to apprehend Linden on an investigation charge. Officers in the Colorado city were requested to watch the home of Linden's mother-in-law where his wife was living and where the slaying took place.

Hendrix also stated that he had seen and talked with Linden on the street here several weeks ago and prior to the local burglaries. Parents of the accused youth live on the Warner Oil Co. Taylor lease six miles south of LeFors.

The slain girl-bride of the former Pampa was only 18 years old. Linden went to the home of her mother in Denver Saturday night and shot her to death.

Detective Captain James E. Childers at Denver said the youth gave his first hint at a motive for the shooting when he said he went to the girl's home the night of the shooting to plead with her to "give up another man."

Childers quoted Linden as saying a divorce at this time would have revealed his violation of a Nebraska parole and caused his return there to serve a three-year prison sentence.

"A man can stand just so much," Childers quoted Linden as saying. Linden declined to name the man he accused of winning his wife's attentions, but told Childers his mother "has all the facts about it" and she'll present them at my trial.

WALKS ON CRUTCHES DENISON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Just to prove men past 70 are still active, C. M. Eldridge, 92-year old Civil War veteran, walked half a mile on crutches to vote in the Denison Herald's poll on the Supreme Court issue. The aged warrior climbed a flight of stairs to the Herald office and told newspapermen the passing years had not dulled his keen interest in civic and national affairs.

CAR FIRE PUT OUT Firemen received a call to West Maple avenue this morning where a car was on fire. Water from the booster tank was used and damage was confined to upholstery. The call was the third of the month to date.

PAMPANS INJURED WHEN CAR IS HIT BY TRAIN Two Pampans, J. B. Gibson and Charlie Helbert, were injured yesterday afternoon when their car was struck by a Santa Fe passenger train at the Starkweather street crossing. Helbert, driver of the car, suffered a sprained back, cut over one eye, and bruises. Gibson was bruised badly on one hip and received other minor injuries.

The men were rushed to a local hospital by Curtis Hawkins and Dick Barton who gave their home address as White Deer. Both were resting well this morning, attending physicians reported.

Santa Fe officials investigating the accident said the car failed to clear the approaching train by less than two feet. The passenger, due here at 2:09 p. m., was pulled by two engines. They crashed into the rear of the vehicle, throwing it clear but almost demolishing it.

The car was being driven south on Starkweather street when the accident happened.

Flu Keeps Half of Gray Court in Bed One-half of the Commissioner membership of Gray county court is ill and confined to bed.

At the regular meeting yesterday afternoon only Commissioners Thomas Kirby and M. M. Newman were present in addition to Judge Sherman White.

Commissioners John Haggard and Arlie Carpenter both are ill with influenza and were unable to attend.

Only routine matters and approval of bills were considered at the short session, Judge White stated today.

Officials Seek Completion Of Park Projects

Stine Authorized to Write to WPA At Amarillo

City officials today were taking new steps to speed up completion of the WPA fairgrounds park project which practically has been at a standstill for several weeks.

City commissioners at their regular meeting in city hall last night authorized City Manager C. L. Stine to write to WPA district officials at Amarillo with a view to getting machinery in motion to resume work at the park.

Guy Holder, district project supervisor, advised officials that the WPA would live up to an original agreement to buy certain materials if the city would purchase certain other materials to enable work to be resumed on the racing stable.

The city's letter to the district office will state that the municipality will have the necessary materials on the ground when the WPA lives up to its agreement.

Original holdup of the project was attributed to the fact that federal funds no longer were available for purchase of materials and that the WPA could only provide money for labor costs.

Not one of the units of the park project has been completed. It was pointed out Photographs of the uncompleted buildings and other units have been taken by the city and will be used to press the argument for speed on completion.

Officials had hoped to have the park finished in time to hold a spring racing meet. Unless immediate action is taken, the racing meet will be postponed.

BROTHERHOODS ASK GENERAL WAGE HIKE

CHICAGO, Feb. 23 (AP)—Delegates of the 16 non-operating railway brotherhoods, representing 800,000 of the nation's railroad workers, voted today to ask for a wage increase of approximately 20 per cent.

Chairman George M. Harrison of the unions group pointed out that the "Big Five" operating brotherhoods had recently asked a similar increase and said the total increase sought by 1,100,000 railroad workers in the country would amount to about $360,000,000.

These are the largest negotiations ever undertaken by organized railroad workers," he commented.

The group voted to serve notice on the railroads, but set no date for formal presentation of the demands.

At noon today when the jurors were taken to lunch there was no indication as to their stand on the case. They also resumed deliberations at 1:30 p. m. today.

The state called eight witnesses and the defense two to present testimony to the jurors in the Combs trial.

Members of the Combs jury still in deliberation this afternoon are: J. W. Emory, J. W. Agu, Allen Cumberland, O. G. Stokley, Porter Smith, L. D. Rider, T. T. Griffin, C. L. Carson, Bob Rose, R. A. Knox, O. L. Tibbets, and Lawton Nicholson.

SPANISH INSURGENTS RAID BY LAND, AIR (By The Associated Press)

Spanish insurgents battered away by land and air today in a drive to separate Valencia, Spain's temporary capital, and Barcelona.

Planes dropped incendiary bombs on Valencia, while ground forces fought their way to Viver, only 20 miles from the Mediterranean and 34 miles northwest of the present seat of government.

Defenders of Madrid attacked to the northwest and west of the city while the insurgent Aragon campaign went forward. Fighting was violent in the Casa de Campo and University City sectors on the Madrid front, and government guns were reported sweeping other insurgent lines in the area.

Insurgent planes raided Valencia twice, dropping incendiary bombs each time. Little damage was reported, but new raids were expected.

Insurgents in Avila believed the Madrid radio station had been damaged by bombs. It suddenly ceased broadcasting today.

General Gonzalo Queipo de Liano, southern insurgent commander, broadcast a "personal conviction" Madrid would fall March 2.

Jail Sentence, Fine Assessed In Assault Case

Fifteen days in jail and a $100 fine was meted out in county court late yesterday to Hawk Mayfield, of Pampa, when he pleaded guilty of aggravated assault.

Mayfield was arrested by sheriff's officers Sunday night following an altercation in which Gordon Ingle was cut across the head with a pocket knife.

Chick Goodson, arrested at the same time and charged with using abusive language, pleaded not guilty yesterday and was scheduled to have a hearing in Justice of the Peace E. F. Young's court at 2 p. m. today.

WHITE TO BE OWN ATTORNEY IN CASE HERE

QUESTIONS JURORS IN PREPARATION FOR TRIAL

Gambling trials held the spotlight in district court today as one jury continued deliberations over the fate of Bryan Combs of the Y Tavern, and a second jury was being selected this afternoon to try J. D. White of the Southern club on a new grand jury indictment returned last week after his first trial which ended with a deadlock.

Another unusual turn of affairs came this forenoon as preparations got under way for White's second trial within a week. The defendant notified the court that he would serve as his own attorney in the forthcoming case which was scheduled to reach the testimony stage by mid-afternoon today.

Attorneys John F. Sturgeon and Newton F. Willis, who represented White in the first trial last week, were absent from the courtroom when the case was called for trial today.

When jury selection began, Mr. White sat at the counsel table alone and questioned prospective jurors as to whether or not they felt they could give him a fair and impartial trial.

"Sometimes the mere fact that a man is accused of gambling plants a prejudice in the mind," he said to one juror. "I just want to be sure that you do not feel that way about it and that you feel that you can give me a fair trial."

Selection of the White jury was held up when the jury panel became exhausted at 10:30 a. m. and sheriff's deputies were sent out to get additional takersmen. Jury selection was resumed at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon with a fresh list of prospective jurors on hand in the courtroom.

The Bryan Combs jury took the case at 10 o'clock last night after all-day testimony and a night session of court.

At noon today when the jurors were taken to lunch there was no indication as to their stand on the case. They also resumed deliberations at 1:30 p. m. today.

The state called eight witnesses and the defense two to present testimony to the jurors in the Combs trial.

Butchers, cattlemen cited slaughter law

Cattlemen and butchers today were warned to live up to the law's requirements in connection with moving and slaughtering stock.

Sheriff Earl Talley today had assigned Deputy Sheriff O. T. Lindsey to supply cattlemen and butchers with copies of the law which requires that they make monthly reports of their activities to the Gray county commissioners' court.

Butchers must file a monthly report on the number of cattle bought and slaughtered during the previous 30-day period. Deputy Lindsey stated that they must post a bond.

No cattle can be moved from one place to another without a permit or a bill of sale to show purchase. The sheriff's department stated the law will be enforced to the letter. The action is being taken to put down attempts at cattle rustling which have been prevalent on a small scale throughout the county in recent months, Lindsey stated.

Puppet Shows Will Be Given Here Tomorrow

Children Who Wish Will Be Excused From School

All children who wish to leave school and attend the Rufus Rose marionette show at the city auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock will be excused for that purpose, according to an announcement made by Supt. R. B. Fisher when he learned the Rose Marionettes would perform here.

The feature attraction at the matinee performance will be Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs and the Marionette carnival. Tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, Treasure Island will be presented in 11 scenes at the city auditorium. All Boy Scouts of Pampa are sponsoring the performance.

Admission to the show will be 10 cents for children and 25 cents for adults and five cents higher for both groups at night.

Characters in the marionette carnival include Fred Astaire, Ginger Rogers, Sonja Henie, Oscar the trained seal.

Arrangements have been made for hundreds of school children to leave the ward schools and attend the matinee performance. The pupils will be accompanied by adults.

The Rose Marionettes are rated among the best in the world. They were seen by millions at the Century of Progress, Chicago. They will come to Pampa only because they are showing at Amarillo today, and could afford to make the side

TEXAS SOLONS VOTE 10 TO 19 AGAINST BILL

SENATE AGAIN TURNS DOWN ACT ENDORS-ED BY FDR

AUSTIN, Feb. 23 (AP)—The Texas Senate rejected today a resolution to ratify the child labor amendment to the federal constitution.

The vote of 10 to 19 with one pair defeated the proposal for this session of the legislature. The House of Representatives had not acted.

Twenty-seven states have ratified, New Mexico being the most recent. President Roosevelt, weeks ago requested governors of states to submit ratification and endorsed it himself. In Texas Governor James V. Allred urged it, while the state Democratic platform also favored ratification.

The House of Representatives several times voted for ratification, and the Senate as many times turned it down. Committees of both Houses approved it.

AUSTIN, Feb. 23 (AP)—Governor Allred sent another message to the Legislature today, urging speedy passage of an enabling act for the constitutional amendment creating a new pardon and parole board.

The Senate's clemency machinery has been idle since February 1 due to the absence of such an act. The governor said this condition resulted in many persons who should have extensions of furloughs being forced to return to prison.

House sponsors hoped to obtain passage by Thursday but the two branches were at odds on important provisions and conference committee deliberations likely will be necessary.

The explosive old age pension issue broke again on the House floor with introduction of a second resolution requesting state pension authorities to invoke the aid of county commissioners' courts to put needy persons on the rolls.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, founder of the $200-a-month old age pension movement, came to trial in federal court today on charges of contempt of the House of Representatives.

Two former regional directors—Dr. Clinton B. Winder of New York and John B. Kiefer of Chicago—pleaded guilty to similar charges. They were given suspended sentences, and were placed on probation.

Townsend, however, pleaded innocent the next day.

Margo Rose is an outstanding artist in the field of sculpture, and most of the beautifully modelled figures used in their production have come from her hands. She won her laurels in modelling marionettes more than 10 years ago, and has improved her mastery of the art through constant study and application in the work. She is a graduate of the famous British Academy in Rome.

Mr. Rose has been responsible for many innovations in marionette production. The high standards and finish of his work as a craftsman and showman have been a constant inspiration to the profession. His generosity in divulging his technical knowledge to professional as well as amateurs is but an indication of his sincerity to the art of the line

GUEST DAY PROGRAMS ARE GIVEN BY TWO CLUBS YESTERDAY

EL PROGRESSO PRESENTS TALK BY CAL FARLEY

Evening Party Has Husbands Among The Guests

A view of modern Europe and a Texan's observations on international relations were discussed at a Washington's birthday program at which El Progresso club members entertained their husbands and other guests in club room last evening. Cal Farley of Amarillo was the speaker.

He told of his trip to Europe last summer when he was accompanied by Mrs. Farley, their 9-year-old daughter and two friends. Recollections of his former visits to each place when he was with the American army in France and with the army of occupation in Germany during and after the World War, were given by the speaker.

Most of the evening he recounted observations that made him believe another European war is imminent. He told of his daughters' play with German children when neither could understand the other's language, but he also spoke of the stringency of Hitler on Germany and its implications.

Assembly singing of The Star-Spangled Banner; violin solos by C. O. Croson with accompaniment by Hugh McSkimming, and a sextet, Royal Minuet, by Mmes. Bob McCoy, W. A. Bratton, Dave Dodson, Harry Hoar, Walter Wanner, and H. O. Roberts, preceded the talk.

A salad course was served from a table set with red, white, and blue, centered with colonial figurines and evergreens.

In the receiving line were Mrs. W. R. Ewing, club president, Mr. Farley and a friend, Capt. E. L. Hager, and the hostesses, Mmes. J. M. Dodson, Lee Ledrick, John Andrews, and C. T. Hunkapillar.

Special club guests were Messrs. and Mmes. C. G. Spencer, W. S. Kiser, Harry Lyman, Harvey Todd, Doucette, W. C. House, Mmes. Florence Wilson, E. O. Sneed, D. A. Powell, Clyde Fathner, B. E. Farley, A. Cole, Ezra Dwyer, J. M. McDonald, Glen Pool, W. C. Jones, Clifford Braly, Suler Faulkner, and those on program.

Trip to Panama Is Described on Program of WMS

Describing her recent trip to the Panama Canal Zone, Mrs. C. Boozieke was the speaker to First Methodist Missionary society at a general business meeting and program at the church yesterday. The tale of life in the Central American homes, and in homes of families who have gone there from the United States.

Most of the afternoon was devoted to business. Executive officers and circle chairmen made their reports. Announcement was made by Mrs. John Hersey, chairman of the Board of Missions, of a zone meeting in LeFors March 25 which a large group from Pampa is expected to attend.

Mrs. Horace McBeck presented the devotional talk, "God's Own Anointed."

After the program, refreshments were served by a hostess committee.

Committees to Plan County P-TA Called To Meet on Friday

Hospitality for the County Parent-Teacher council will be planned at a committee meeting Friday at 3 at Woodrow Wilson school, where the next session will be held, named on March 6 Mrs. Frank Shotwell, Wilson P-TA president, has named the following committees:

Program, Mrs. Bob McCoy and Miss Hope Wells; invitation, Mmes. L. D. Blanton and Bob Curry; Hospitality, Mmes. W. B. Murphy, A. L. Burge, W. A. Breining, Raeburn Thompson; menu, Mmes. T. B. Rogers, L. E. Keck, L. L. Ford, and Miss Louise Melase.

The committee meeting, first called for tomorrow, was postponed because of a school program. Also postponed is a meeting of the Woodrow Wilson P-TA study club, which is rescheduled for Wednesday of next week.

Question About CARDUI

HOW IT HELPS WOMEN "Who takes Cardui?" Women who are run-down, weakened, nervous, from not getting sufficient strength from the food they eat. Thousands and thousands have found that Cardui increased their appetite, improved their digestion, thereby promoting better nourishment and the consequent strengthening of the whole system.

And women who have suffered from functional pains of menstruation have found that, by taking Cardui just before and during the period, this purely vegetable sedative and antispasmodic seemed to save them much discomfort. This action of Cardui is highly esteemed because the relief credited to it comes in an entirely beneficial way. Cardui is purely vegetable; nothing in it to be afraid of.

Mrs. Ewing Recalls Early Days In Mobeetie Section

In 1882 there was no school house and no public school in Mobeetie. An occasional private school of about three months duration was taught in the court house. Mr. and Mrs. Boles, parents of Mrs. Frank Willis, Sr., were teaching a private school when the Fitches moved here. The rock school house was built a few years later and Mobeetie had its first long term school. Mr. Rakestraw was the teacher, and little Lulu Fitch attended her first school that year.

John Arrington, who was a relative of Capt. Arrington, married an Abilene girl. She found very little to do in the small town, so she accepted the school.

Was Good Teacher "Mrs. Arrington was one of the best teachers ever had," Mrs. Ewing said. "She is now principal of a school in El Paso. She has been there for 35 years and was publicly honored not long ago for her outstanding work there. Lucy Beach was another exceptionally fine teacher. She came from New York City to visit and remained to teach a private school. She was so cultured and refined that she taught the boys and girls many fine things which they would never have learned in an ordinary school."

Mrs. Ewing missed "This one was a hail storm. The sky turned black and everyone became alarmed. A terrible roaring proceeded the hail. Little animals and birds began coming in. There were rabbits, snakes, skunks, coyotes, and birds hurrying past our house. The hail stones were enormous. All houses suffered, but there were no casualties."

Farewell Tea Is Courtesy to Mrs. Carlson Friday

SKELLYTOWN, Feb. 23—Honoring Mrs. J. E. Carlson, who is soon to move to Pampa, a lovely and a lovely affair was given by Mrs. Henry Lamb, with Mrs. Max House as co-hostess, Friday.

Receiving the guests were Messdames Lamb, Carlson, House, J. A. Arwood and George Stanley. The guests registered in a book artistically decorated by Miss Sue Michie.

Mrs. Glenn Smith of Borger presided at the tea service. Soft candle light, ferns and gay cut flowers furnished an attractive setting for the occasion. A pink, orchid, and white decorative theme was observed with a beautiful bouquet of fern and sweet peas centering the lace covered table.

Guests attended from Borger, Pampa, Bowers City and Skellytown.

Mrs. Earl Neff honored her daughter, Mary Elizabeth, with a birthday party Saturday evening at her home.

Appropriate games furnished entertainment for the evening. Syble Roe and Warren Givens received rewards in contests.

A three tiered birthday cake and hot chocolate were served to the honoree and Frances Lamb, Earnestine Jones, Syble Roe, Marjorie Ross, Lois Taylor, Maxine Thurlow, Allandee Worth, Dorothy De Moss, Allie Fox, Louise Price, Lois Beighle, Nell Roach, H. E. Crocker, Merle Johnson, Don Thurlow, Wayne Tomlin, Billy Gumphrey, Kenneth Warren, Donald Staats, Arville Roe, Warren Givens and Gene Hardan.

Mr. and Mrs. Silby York of Pampa have bought an interest in a grocery store here and have moved to Skellytown. Mrs. York is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Basley.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clements and Miss Martha Slagle of Priona, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Clements this week.

Mrs. E. J. Haslam returned this week from a visit spent with friends and relatives in Tulsa, Okla., and Missouri.

Mrs. J. B. Gallaher and little son plan to leave this week for an extended visit at Mineral Wells.

Les Kreis returned Wednesday from a Pampa hospital where he was treated for pneumonia. Mr. Kreis is reported doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Haynes and Miss Ezelle Mae Yarborough of Eastland visited Mr. C. M. Floyd Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Haynes is a brother of Mr. Floyd.

Betty Price and Bill Black attended the birthday party of Henri Ann Williams of Pampa Saturday.

C. M. Floyd has been transferred to Bushton, Kans.

Friendly Eight Club Organized

The Friendly Eight bridge club was organized recently at the home of Miss Atanka Atkinson, and plans weekly meetings. Mrs. H. B. Combs was chosen president. Mrs. C. I. McLenore secretary, Mrs. Lowell Penick reporter.

with relatives. They were looking over the country preparatory to locating there, but decided to come back to the Panhandle. The next year some relatives from Illinois came to visit and the little twelve year old girl returned with them to attend school for a year. Later she attended a Ft. Worth University for four years. Her sister and the Willis boys also attended the same university. It is now combined with several other schools and called Oklahoma City university.

Remember Sandstorm In recalling her childhood days in Mobeetie Mrs. Ewing recalled the sandstorm which she and her husband with sand, blew out of the west with such force that a few flimsily-constructed houses blew over, caught fire, and were burned. Every house was badly shaken. The people were excited at this new manifestation of nature and rushed to the rock school house for refuge.

After the sandstorm a man named Wood conceived the idea of building a cellar large enough to house the entire town in case of another such storm. He got it dug but could not find the timbers large enough for the frame work, so the plan was abandoned. The yawning cavity was long a familiar landmark in Mobeetie.

"I recall another storm we had," Mrs. Ewing missed. "This one was a hail storm. The sky turned black and everyone became alarmed. A terrible roaring proceeded the hail. Little animals and birds began coming in. There were rabbits, snakes, skunks, coyotes, and birds hurrying past our house. The hail stones were enormous. All houses suffered, but there were no casualties."

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT

After my third examination of Miss Fetti Rocksavage it occurred to me that the letter Hayashi alleged he had been writing might still be in the postbag as, in the course of routine, I had given instructions that no letters were to be sent ashore. This turned out to be the case, and I had the letter translated by the Yacht's second cook, who is a Japanese. He attests that the original could not have been written in less than eight minutes, leaving Hayashi only 12 minutes to change. His story, therefore, appears to be true.

The lounge steward, Cane, confirms the fact that the supply of ship's notepaper in the writing room ran out early in the afternoon before Hayashi came on board and that he could not refill the racks until the chief steward, who had the keys of the store room, got back from his trip ashore.

He further states that Hayashi handed him the letter for posting on arriving in the lounge at 8:15. It is obvious, therefore, that Hayashi could not have procured the paper earlier or written the letter at any other time than that appearing in his statement.

The cabin steward, Ringbottom, also confirms that Hayashi was still unchanged when he brought him the supply of ship's notepaper at 7:55. Attested translation herewith.

S. Y. GOLDEN GULL. At sea, 9-1-37.

My Dear Kashima, As you know, instructions were given by Shikoku to do the business either with Mr. Rocksavage or with Mr. Blane. Shikoku refused to offer you anything. Therefore any compensation will have to come out of my money. It depends on the fee which will be paid to me by Mr. Blane or Mr. Rocksavage.

I understand that Rocksavage will agree to a loan of ten million dollars, and I may share one million dollars for my share I told them that this was the lowest you would accept.

My expenses have been considerable and I am therefore suggesting that we divide this amount between us and on that understanding I am proceeding with the matter.

Have you thought of anything since this morning which might show us how you were occupying yourself between 7:05 and 8 on the night of Blane's death? B: No, I wish I could, but I can't think of anything.

K: What time did Blane come to your cabin? B: Blane? K: Yes, Blane. It's no good denying it. I've got the goods on you. Just a little thing that happened to be in your wastepaper basket. See, it's a book match with "Adlon-Claridge" on it. The New York hotel from which Blane wrote you a few days back. B: But Officer—I— K: I want the truth. What time did Blane come along to you? B: Oh dear, oh dear. This is terrible. Quite terrible.

K: What time did he come, I say? B: Only a few minutes after the ship sailed. I hadn't been in my cabin more than three minutes when he came in. K: How long did he stay? B: Only two minutes, no more, I assure you. K: Why did he come?

Snooper hears that Doyle Enloe spends his time during Mr. Cabe's history class longing to be in Mr. Osborne's. Why? Because Margaret Hope is in Mr. Osborne's class.

Did you know that Pauline Stewart sucks her thumb while concentrating?

Snooper's antique brown hat has wandered away from home. Anybody knowing of its whereabouts let Snooper in on it.

Seen: John Mitchell beating Ralph Hamilton's time with Lois Foster.

Jack Brown enjoying helping Miss Helen Martin lend the Glee Club during the assembly last Thursday.

Billie Eiche declares that his ambition is to be a taxi driver. He says that his taxi must be a Ford.

To the curious-minded students who wondered who the small children in the halls the other day were: They were children brought to school to use as models for home economics classes.

Mr. Anderson (while in the home room giving out awards): "The word is 'mounting'."

Bright little Jack Allison: "You mean like the Rocky Mountings?"

Lorene: Speaking about Baseball. I've even got me a baseball dog.

Emadean: What makes you call him a baseball dog?

Lorene: Cause he wears a muzzle, catches flies, chases fowls, and beats it for home when he sees the catcher coming.

A newspaper recently said that scientists have invented an earthquake detector that goes off like an alarm clock. Mr. Dennard's own opinion on the subject is: Most of us need alarm clocks that go off like earthquakes, by the look of all the tardies lately.

To you who don't know it: Panthe eyes is an old stunt, but back in the Elizabethan period of literature it was called shooting darts of love from their eyes.

An extra shorthand class was taught Monday evening at 4 o'clock because all the students skipped and attended the basketball game Thursday.

Mr. Meek, principal of Baker school, has bought an annual every year that Pampa high school has made a publication. Just how many high school teachers can make such a boast?

Our spectacular and dashing young hero of the hardwood, James Dewey, was heard remarking after crashing down the steps by Mrs. Wagner's room on his sit-spot that he was only exercising a few bruises acquired on the basketball court.

(Written as an imitation of Chaucer, by Betty Jo Townsend)

Whan that wynde with his lusty gaste Sweeps o'er the playnes and carries the duste, With violence into the face he huris, Removing the powdere, painte, and the curis, Almost he ruins ech lovely complexion. Thereby scouring, for this lande, al affection. Roaringe and Billowinge, he surges along, Shrieking and howlinge his fiendish song. He comes in cloudes and covers the some, And ye thinketh with blowinge 'twyll nevery be done. He ruins youre temple and frazzles youre nerves. Whyle he sweeps around corners, angles, and curves. Youre hous becomes dyrt, and ye want to skreen. And praye it's a nytemare or maybe a dream. Ravinge and rantinge and pullinge youre haire, Ye al moste move out in total dispayr. And so thro' the wee smallen howrs of the nyte. Than comes the dawn al bryte and clear. Banyshinge everye doubt and feare. Gone is the howlinge, dust-laden wynde, And a pleasanter lande wolde be hardent to finde. Gene is al our turnell and stryfe. Today seems borrowen from another life. Ye shake out ech drapen and curtayn. It won't come agayn--of that ye are certayn. As ye clena and polish, oy filleth youre hearte, To think that in life ye haven a parte. Work al done, ye powdere youre nose And run down the streete on tripping toes. "O, wasn't it awful?" ye asken youre frynd. "My, yes," she sayes, "but 'twon't happen agayn!" Ye go on talkinge of jous and woes And blythely planne youre newe springe clothes. 'Til sudden there comes a gaste and a spurte, And here agayn is that wynde and dyrt!

WAGNER TO BE HOSTESS.

Mrs. Ruth Midyette will be the speaker at the meeting of the Creative Writers' Club Thursday evening at 7:30 at the home of the sponsor, Mrs. Hol Wagner, 221 N. Gillespie street.

FAVORITES FOR ANNUAL TO BE ELECTED SOON

Voting to Begin in Home Rooms Tomorrow

First and second elections will be held tomorrow morning at the home room period. The contest this year will be conducted on a purely democratic basis, according to announcement made yesterday by the annual staff.

Full page pictures of the most beautiful girl, the most popular girl, the best all-around boy, and the most popular boy will appear in the annual. They will be selected within the next two weeks.

First and second elections will be by classes, sophomores voting only for sophomores, juniors voting only for juniors, and seniors voting only for seniors. In the final election there will be no class restrictions.

Tomorrow morning in home room each sophomore will be asked to name in writing the sophomore he considers best fitted for the four following: most beautiful girl, most popular girl, best all-around boy, and most popular boy. Juniors will do the same for juniors, seniors for seniors.

In the second election, next Monday morning, sophomores will name their choice from the three students ranking highest in each group in the first election. The same procedure will be followed by juniors and seniors.

Final elections will be held on the morning of March 4. At this time class restrictions will be forgotten and students will name their personal choices. There will be three names on the ballot for each position—a sophomore, a junior, and a senior.

The winning candidates from each of the four groups—by popular vote of the school—will be given a full-page picture in the favorites' section of the 1937 annual.

Goal of Annuals Sale Was Reached Monday Afternoon

The 319 mark was reached yesterday in the sale of annuals. The goal of the staff was 300.

An increase in the price of annuals has been announced to follow the close of the sales drive yesterday. During the next week the price of annuals will be $2.25 instead of $2. After March 1 the price will be $2.50.

Betty Jo Townsend is sales manager for the annual and Don Buzzard assistant. The student council has been helping to push the sale of annuals through the home rooms.

Those students who made only $1 deposit on their yearbooks have until April 1 to finish payment.

"The annual staff has heavy obligations to meet," says Mrs. Hol Wagner, faculty adviser, "and must guarantee the purchase of 300 books in order to carry out its plans with its present budget."

Bob Curry, business manager of the annual, announces that another program for the benefit of the yearbook will be given soon. An all-school carnival was held in the fall.

The staff is working on a new budget of $900. Two thirds is to be raised from the sale of books and the other third from special projects.

Fisher Attends Annual Meeting

R. B. Fisher, superintendent of the Pampa schools, together with Mrs. Fisher, Principal J. A. Meek, and Principal A. L. Jatruck, left Friday to attend the National Education Association, Department of Superintendence, an event to honor the centennial birthday of Horace Mann.

This is the sixty-seventh annual meeting of the association. The purpose of the meeting is to improve education. It will be attended by superintendents from all over the United States.

George D. Strayer, professor of educational administration of Columbia University and personal adviser of Mr. Fisher's will be present.

Four New Papers On Exchange List

The Little Harvester has several new exchanges from the best schools in the country, among which are "The Woodrow Wilson News," Woodrow Wilson, Dallas; "The Quill Weekly," Enid High school, Enid, Okla.; "Microphone," Junior College for Women, Columbia, Mo. Mrs. Midyette, instructor in journalism, has presented the class with a subscription to the Kansas City Star-Times.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT According to Miss Kathleen Milam and B. G. Gordon the first girls' and boys' tennis game of this year will be at the invitation tennis tournament March 6 for boys and March 13 for girls. Teams that have an invitation are: LeFors, Panhandle, McLean, Canadian, Borger and White Deer.

THE HONOR SOCIETY

What should be the characteristics of a member of the National Honor Society? The constitution states there are to be four required of the candidate. They are scholarship, character, leadership and service. A society of this caliber if fashioned out of the school's best material. The members must be a type that the school can proudly exhibit. The members must be the type of student who is willing to work, who is cooperative, who is intelligent, and who had made a good scholastic standing. The members should be interested and loyal to his school, and should demonstrate this interest and loyalty by participating in all possible school activities. He should also display the qualities of good sportsmanship and good manners.

Pampa high school has had in the past and will have in the future honor students who qualify for this organization and as a result the school has had and will continue to have a national honor society that would make any school proud.

OUR BASKETBALL TEAM

The basketball teams of Pampa High have put Pampa on the map, especially this year's team. Last week hundreds of visitors were in Pampa to see our teams play the high type of game which is characteristic of all teams coached by our "Old Reliablies" Coaches Mitchell, Prejean, and Curry.

Harvester, you played the most breath taking games of the Panhandle tournament, you made basketball history Saturday afternoon. We have no healing balm or ointment to offer you after defeat even if you desired such. And we know you don't. Real men can take it on, the chin and come back for more.

It is only too true that everyone cannot win in the games of life, or life itself.

Abe Lincoln handed down a quotation which we might twist around this way in order to convey our meaning:

"Some people win all of the time
All people win some of the time
But all of the people can't win
All of the time."

Harvesters, P. H. S. is PROUD of you.

WATCHING PICTURES BEING MADE FOR ANNUAL COMEDY

Pictures! Who likes to have his picture taken? Even dignified school teachers lose their dignity when posing before a camera.

If you happened to have been in the auditorium yesterday afternoon when the faculty picture was being taken, you would have had the laugh of your life. It was almost as good as a comedy in the movies to watch our teachers fight for the coveted back row. They thought if they were on the back row they wouldn't show up so well.

You would think that a teacher who stood in front of a class of students all of the time wouldn't be so afraid to face the camera, wouldn't you? Not only was it fun to watch the teachers pose, but also the students. They too fought for the back row. The girls were asking each other, is my hair all right, how does this dress look. While the boys were busily combing their hair.

From the looks of some of the group pictures taken we should have a very good annual this year.

PERRYTON BECOMES DISTRICT CHAMPIONS BY DEFEATING TIRED HARVESTERS IN SLOW GAME

Miami Takes Third in Bitter Battles With Pampa

The district 2 basketball tournament was won by the Perryton Rangers. Perryton defeated the Pampa Harvesters by winning the right to play at Canyon.

Miami and Pampa played the fastest and the most thrilling game of the tournament. The lead switched hands many times during the game. The score was 18 to 18 when the final gun sounded. They played three minutes to decide the victor. The Harvesters finally won out, 22-18.

The first four teams who were eliminated were Hedley, Borger, LeFors, and Darrouzet.

Miami had the hardest schedule of the tournament, playing one-third of the 21 games.

There were 11 teams entered. Darrouzet, Groom, Kelton, Perryton, Hedley, LeFors, Allison, Pampa, Miami, Borger, and Spearman.

Perryton will represent this district at the regional tournament. Perryton played its first game against Allison, coming out victor. They then played Miami, losing out by a scant margin. Perryton won over the Harvesters in their third game. Pampa again beat Miami in an overtime period. Perryton again defeated the Harvesters to win the district tournament.

There will be four first string men back next year for the Harvesters. They are Cox, Heiskell, Dewey, and Reynolds. Ayers was chosen district center.

C. A. JOHNSON PRESENTS NEW HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM TO PUBLIC ON THURSDAY NIGHT

Dedicatory Address Formally Opens Building

"A new beautiful auditorium, a symbol of the growth of Pampa and its schools" was presented to the public Thursday evening with C. A. Johnson, assistant director of the Public Works Administration, giving the dedicatory address.

Three programs during the day formally instituted use of the building recently completed as a joint project of the Pampa school system and the PWA. Most of the 1200 seats were filled for the public exercises.

Two other dedicatory addresses were heard during the day. D. A. Shirley, registrar of West Texas Teachers College, Canyon, spoke briefly to high school students. At the Junior high school assembly in the afternoon, Wallace R. Clark, head of Canyon college music department, was the speaker.

Congratulations of Pampans and visitors were extended before Mr. Johnson's talk in the evening. Messages from Vice-President John N. Garner, Gov. James V. Allred, and Rep. Marvin Jones were read by Mickey Ledrick.

Supt. R. B. Fisher, presiding, introduced O. L. Boyington, contractor; W. T. Williamson, who has represented the PWA in supervising construction; Assistant State WPA Inspector W. M. Wilson; Messrs. Rittenberry and Carder, the architects; each of whom expressed satisfaction with the project.

C. T. Hunkapillar, school board president, accepted it in the name of school officials, faculty and students. Appreciation of the faculty was expressed with a basket of roses, presented to the board by Misses Thelma Callihan and Angela Strnad.

Each of the board members, J. M. Daugherty, C. P. Buckler, R. S. McConnell, and Tom E. Rose, and the business manager, Roy McMillen, responded to introductions. Mayor W. A. Bratton gave the citizen's approval of the building.

Demonstration of the elaborate stage furnishings and the various effects that are possible with the lighting equipment by Kenneth Carman, director of high school public speaking, preceded the program.

The Harvester band directed by Winston Savage furnished music for the occasion. M. C. Cuthbertson, pastor of Francis Avenue Church of Christ, gave the invocation, and the Rev. C. E. Lancaster of First Baptist church the benediction.

Our Faculty - -

Mr. E. N. Dennard, the assistant principal of Pampa high school, was born in 1906 in Panola county, Texas. Even as a baby, his red, curly hair was his outstanding feature as it is today. He started to a little school with only one teacher and remained there until he had completed the eighth grade. He then entered the ninth grade at Carthage high school and finished high school there.

He spent his boyhood days on a farm with his parents and his main pleasures were hunting and fishing. They are still his hobby today. He played football and basketball while in high school and was on the track team. He also played football in college.

Mr. Dennard finished Lon Morris Junior College in Jacksonville, Texas in 1927, receiving an A. A. degree. He worked his way through college waiting on tables in the dining hall, as cashier of the cafeteria, operating college bookstore, and working for tailor shops. He graduated from Trinity University in 1929, receiving a B. A. degree. Three summer vacations were spent working for oil companies and one summer working on the Chapman ranch in South Texas.

He resigned a job as operator in a gasoline refinery to begin teaching at Palmer, Texas, in 1929 where he served as high school principal and coach for four years before coming to Pampa. He has spent four years teaching before coming to Pampa. He has spent four years in Pampa high school. ## HOME ECONOMICS CLASS DISPLAYS SPRING FROCKS

Small Sisters Act as Models for Project

Tiny girls and older girls are very much like Kipling's Colonel's Lady and Judy O'Grady, they are sisters under the skin when it comes to liking pretty clothes. This was demonstrated Tuesday morning in home economics clothing class when several little girls came to model dresses made for them by their older sisters and friends. The models represented the latest creations of what the smart young girl will wear this spring. The costumes were made under the direction of the home economics clothing instructor, Miss Arlene Pattison.

The tiny girls showed that they liked pretty clothes as well as their older friends, as they kept looking at their frocks with admiration. Joy was written all over their little faces as they modeled these new clothes. The girls made these play garments as their first sewing project. The making of general occasion dresses will be the next project taken up. Models in the style show included the following little girls: Arlene Proctor, Margie Hall, Zula Margaret Brown, Donna Marlene McKay, Jo Alice Franks, Rose Mary Prigmore, Norma Jean McNamara, Sue Reeves, Cardine Covington, Grace Davies.

Following the display the tiny models were served orange juice and crackers. Afterwards they visited the school. The guests at the style show were Mr. Fisher, Mr. Stone, Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Dennard.

When asked what he likes to do for entertainment Mr. Dennard replied, "My chief interest is in boys and girls. They receive all of my attention. I am a single man and probably will be all my life."

RAILROADS ALSO SERVED.

Add the nation's railroads to the list of the people and institutions which worked mightily to relieve the sufferers in the winter's flooded areas.

J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, points out that the country's railroads recently accomplished the greatest mobilization of transportation for rescue and relief work ever known.

They carried some 200,000 refugees to places of safety. They sent to the flooded areas hundreds of special trains, loaded with all kinds of supplies from medicines to tents. They mobilized thousands of freight and passenger cars in the vicinity of threatened areas to be ready for trouble.

Mr. Pelley is unquestionably right in saying that the railroads deserve much of the credit for the fact that there was not far greater loss of life and more intense suffering in the flooded regions.

FLOOD FUNDS FROM CANADA

Thirty-seven years ago there occurred in Ottawa, Ont., one of the greatest fires in all Canada's history. The United States sent money to help the 15,000 persons who were driven from their homes.

The other day, while American citizens all over the United States were contributing general sums to Red Cross flood relief funds, the Ottawa Board of Trade also passed the hat locally for donations.

Board members themselves began the fund with $24 collected on the spot. The public is adding to this.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The bitterness of older men against the implied insults of a younger man, is a real factor in the Supreme Court struggle.

There are young men on both sides and old men on both sides, but the fight is one between old men and young men. If you average separately the ages of the outstanding protagonists and antagonists, you will find the disparity as great as that between the 75-year average age of the six justices over 70, and the age of Roosevelt, who is only 55.

Numerous reasons actuate senators and others who have declared for or against the proposal to appoint additional Supreme Court justices in cases where sitting judges over 70 don't retire.

Particularly were we taken up with what one young lady had to say. She had no wish to be a great movie star, nor a teacher, nor a nurse.

Aside from the five conservative justices over 70, whom Roosevelt wants off the bench, most conspicuous figures in the opposition battalions include Senators William E. Borah, 71; Hiram Johnson, 70; Carter Glass, 79; George W. Norris, 75; Frederick Van Nuys of Indiana, 62; Alva Adams of Colorado, 61; Ellison D. Smith of South Carolina, 72; William H. King of Utah, 72; Walter F. George of Georgia, 59, and Josiah Bailey of North Carolina, 63.

Outside the Senate one observes such opponents as Hutton Sumners, 61, chairman of the house judiciary committee, who might easily have been expected to wangle a judicial appointment.

The Morgan lawyer, John W. Davis, also had reasons to hope he would wind up as Supreme Court justice, or perhaps even chief justice, under any conservative administration. He is now 64.

Now as to the men who have thrown themselves conspicuously into this fight for Roosevelt. A reasonably complete list in the Senate would include Senators Bob La Follette of Wisconsin, 42; Hugo Black of Alabama, 50; Lew Schwelienbach of Washington, 42; Ed Johnson of Colorado, 53; Sherman Minton of Indiana, 46; Jimmy Byrnes of South Carolina, 57, and Bog Wagner of New York, 59.

The outstanding protagonist in the house is Congressman Matury Maverick of Texas, 41. And a list of those who helped Roosevelt work out the plan, or are now planning for it, probably would include Assistant Attorney General Robert Jackson, 45; Solicitor General Stanley F. Reed, 52; Charles West, White House liaison man with Capitol Hill, 42; Jimmy Roosevelt, 29; Donald Riechberg, 55; Ben Cohen, 39, and Thomas G. Corcoran, 37. There ages stand out in marked contrast against those of the six oldest justices.

There are certain exceptions, but the list is small. Answering complaints that Roosevelt slurred men over 70 as a class, his friends reply that establishment of the age principle was the only way he could rejuvenate the court and its philosophy without brazenly "packing" it. Just the same, there are many proud old hearts here that will continue to hold it against him.

TEX'S TOPICS

Another day . . . They get away from you—round and 'round they go and what's likely to happen next, nobody has the faintest idea . . . Peculiar things, days . . . One may bring joy, another sorrow, and still another may dish out a combination of anything from life to death.

Probably it is the uncertainty of it all that holds such great fascination and makes you want to turn today's page and get over to see what is written on tomorrow's . . . Take the weather, for example . . . Sunday and Monday were beautiful days such as the story-book writers describe when they take you into a Texas locale . . . But, this being written late Monday, there is no telling what will be on tap by the time you get around to reading it Wednesday evening.

That low-hanging carbon black smoke pall you saw 'way off there in the northwest yesterday morning reminded many folk of something that happened here on a sunny Sunday in April of 1935 . . . Pope, the author, once wrote that it is with our judgments as with our watches—no two go just alike, yet each believes his own . . . That is why we have war, connivance, and personal and public strife of every description . . . All of us, more or less, are too prone to take up the "at-the-throat" cudgel when we are stilled by wrongs, imaginary or real.

Loneliness is a thing that can get you down . . . It goes hand in hand with the jitters, mentioned here from time to time . . . If you ever have been in a big house, all alone, with time on your hands and good intentions of using it to advantage by reading something worthwhile or turning out some beneficial bit of labor, and then suddenly have found you couldn't get down to any of the tasks you should get down to, then you will understand.

Probably you will leaf through a book or a magazine, toss it aside . . . Then you flip on the radio and what comes out of the loud-speaker will drive you almost to distraction . . . You are not in a mood for good music or entertainment . . . You intended to do some work that needs to be done, but you know in this frame of mind you cannot do justice to it, so you skip that, too.

Something is wrong . . . You know what it is, for you have been fighting it off for days in one way or another . . . You are lonesome . . . Maybe you miss smiling faces . . . Maybe there is missing, too, a tiny face that beamed at you at playtime in the early evening . . . Perhaps you may have a faithful dog . . . He is gone, too . . . Even the dog, if he were only there, could stave off some of the feeling that has overtaken you . . . There are a thousand and one situations that could be set up to illustrate the point . . . Most of you have had the experience, and know what loneliness can do to you.

Finally, you realize you must shake off the bluish imps that are dancing on your shoulders and chase them clear off the place . . . So you pull yourself together, and perhaps walk out into the moonlight . . . Bluish imps do not like moonbeams, and they scamper away . . . Immediately you feel better, but you keep on walking to make sure.

A little later you feel much better . . . You return to the house and find that you are able to get at some of the things you intended to do in the first place . . . Then you may read awhile to get drowsy, and finally you decide to go to bed . . . Still, you have gone through something . . . You have been lonesome . . . And you are definitely aware of what loneliness can do to you if you don't overthrow it.

We happened to be in a circle the other day where various persons were discussing ambitions . . . They had varied ideas on what an ambition should be . . . Particularly were we taken up with what one young lady had to say . . . She had no wish to be a great movie star, nor a teacher, nor a nurse . . . Hers was not a desire to become famous, to be in the public limelight . . . She said it was her ambition to meet a man she loved and who loved her and then to be for him a perfect wife . . . It is a splendid ambition, and we hope the young lady some day finds its realization.

A prominent clothier says, "Men's clothes will reflect the new philosophy of leisure." . . . We suppose, then, that we can expect a sidown suit . . . End of a sidown strike always is a break for the nightwatchman who can go about his work without tripping over the personnel.

Somebody has figured out that the average time taken by a telephone operator to answer your call is 4.8 seconds . . . When carrying out his beheading, Germany's professional executioner is required to wear somber formal dress . . . Probably a cutaway . . . Only a tactless citizen from now on, will greet a Supreme Court judge with a "Hi, old man."

Dr. Einstein has found a new type of gravity . . . This ends our puzzlement over a friend's remark, "Don't forget to drop up, some time." . . . Watch your outgoing mail, say postal authorities, because 20,000,000 letters annually find their way to the Dead Letter division of the U. S. postoffice.

Very Special Extraordinary Exhibition of Strength

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — When somebody named Joan Foides won $19,000 prize money and a lot of kudos with a novel called "The Street of the Fishing Cat," nobody over here knew whether Joan was a man or a woman.

She turned out to be a Hungarian woman, and up to two years ago it seems she was occasionally very hungry.

Miss Foides lived, it appears, in the Street of the Fishing Cat when she was studying in Paris at the Sorbonne, unaware that some years later a group of publishers would enter her with an international literary prize. Her novel is the story of a band of exiles from various countries, who lived in the Rue du Chat-qui-peche.

Miss Foides lived a while in London, and later was secretary of the Hungarian legation in Egypt. This didn't run it so steep. And in a band of exiles from various countries, who lived in the Rue du Chat-qui-peche.

The living was slim. A novel published by a Budapest firm, and the poverty continued uninterrupted. For two years she had frequent foodless days, some of these because she had a hound named Moka, and Moka had to be fed regardless. Then Miss Foides got a job as translator.

She worked 16 hours a day quite often, and before relief came she had translated 100 novels, chiefly from the English. But she and Moka had food; she insists that her publisher in this country make it clear that Moka is a purebred animal, by the way.

She finally married, and a week before she heard about the prize, her husband and she moved into a new flat on Gul Baba street, which is the steepest in Budapest. They had no money for a soft, fur rug, or for anything else but the barest necessities.

The first thing Miss Foides did after the money arrived was to go out and buy something comfortable for the house. She's eating exactly what she wants particularly petti fours. She's glad she need not hurry with her writing any more; she's starting a new book already, and plans to do it with luxurious slowness.

And she's especially amused by one of the 200 telegrams of congratulations she got. This read "We are proud of you. Hui, hui, huijar." In "The Mask of Kings" there is a line which, broadly, insists that a prince will not give up his throne for a woman he loves. . . . A point of speculation has been whether the line will remain in the script. . . . It will. . . . However, the word "Catholique" in "Jane Eyre" has been changed to "christian" because a Chicago critic objected. . . . And in "Lilom" the word "Lutheran" was changed to "protestant" because of voiced objection.

IMPROVING THE BREED COLUMBUS (P)—Better horses and better mules were the aim of Rep. Floyd C. Kerns' bill in the Ohio legislature. Among 18 diseases and transmissible unsoundness he would curb are: "moon blindness," "roaring and whistling," "heaves," "crampiness," "stringhalt," and "bog spavin."

People You Know

By ARCHER FULINGIM

Modern industry when benevolent often provides many of the things that promote the happiness of its workers, as at Phillips camp, or Hopkins, south of town, which as a quietness and symmetrical beauty that is as peaceful as a country churchyard. You stand on the hill and look at the camp below you, just across the creamy sands of McClelland creek. In the summer, the lawns are as green as the emerald roofs and the trees and flowers around the white houses are patterns of color, and in the winter when snow is on the ground the main street would make a good ski run it is so steep. And in the air all the time there are restless noises of pumping wells and drilling wells, and the chugging of the refineries. But the noises are never sudden and harsh, but rhythmic and subdued, and they are so regular that their sounds soon melt into a vast pastoral silence which wraps the brown hills, strewn with derricks, in an atmosphere devoid of noise and strife.

Talks to parents

NURSERY FARE

By Brooke Peters Church

Mothers and children both have a right to a little relief from the steady society of each other. There is just as much strain on the mother who has to listen all day long to childish prattle, as there is on the child who is striving to keep up to adult standards. The constant effort makes for nervous irritability.

It is hard for a man to realize this. He comes home from his day's work, tired and eager to relax. If he is a devoted father he enjoys hearing the children talk, and is frequently surprised and grieved at his wife's obvious lack of interest in what they have to say. When dinner is over, the dishes washed, and the children tucked in for the night, he wants to settle down for a quiet evening with a book or the radio, and cannot understand why his wife is restless and eager to go somewhere.

The adjustment between such opposed points of view is hard to make, but it is essential if there is to be peace in the home. Both parents must compromise.

Some of her vacation from nursery fare the mother must manage to get during the day. The children must be taught, even when they are very tiny, to leave their mother alone for a certain number of hours. They cannot always be underfoot demanding attention and asking questions. No teacher could endure 12 or 14 hours a day of the class room.

The father must do his share also. Tired or not, he must be prepared to see that every so often his wife has a change of scene and occupation, and in company with him. After all, child rearing is not the sole purpose of marriage, and should not be allowed to absorb the entire attention of either parent.

How's Your Health?

Edited by DR. IAGO GILDSTON for the New York Academy of Medicine

TRENCH MOUTH

Trench mouth is a mildly contagious infection which commonly involves the mucous membranes of the mouth. The onset of the disease is usually abrupt. It is frequently recognized and diagnosed on the basis of the local symptoms: pain on swallowing or talking, offensive mouth odor, increased flow of saliva, congestion of the gums, with a marked tendency toward bleeding. Where ulcers form, there may be visible pearly, gray patches resembling those seen in diphtheria.

The condition may involve the tonsils, the surrounding mucous membranes of the gums, tongue, palate and pharynx. In children, therefore, one must also rule out the possible existence of diphtheria. With the local conditions in the mouth are associated constitutional symptoms, such as headaches, general indisposition, fever, which may rise to 102.5 degrees and chilliness.

The disease is caused by a germ of the protozoan variety (belonging to the animal kingdom) called Vincent's spirillum. The condition is most frequently seen in the young, and in males more frequently than females.

The development of the disease is favored by injury to the mucous membranes of the mouth and throat, by neglecting care of the mouth, by excessive smoking. It is favored by the presence of other infectious diseases in the body and by a general lowering of body resistance. Transmission usually occurs by direct personal contact or by the use of infected articles.

Trench mouth may be a transient or chronic condition. There is a tendency for it to recur. The micro-organism causing trench mouth does not thrive in an atmosphere containing oxygen. So effective use is made of oxygen-liberating solutions in treating this disease.

Hydrogen peroxide (diluted one-third) may be used as a mouth wash or gargle every hour, or sodium perborate (two teaspoonful in a tumbler of warm water) may be used in the same way every half hour or so. Trench mouth, however, calls for more than treatment with a mouth wash. The sufferer should submit to a careful medical and dental examination. Contributing causes, such as disturbances in the teeth and gums, should be remedied. Dietetic deficiencies and defects in personal hygiene also require correction.

CODE OF ETHICS FOR ATTORNEYS ADOPTED

AUSTIN, Feb. 23 (P)—A bill providing the Supreme Court prescribe a code of ethics for the legal professions and determine disbarment procedure today awaited action by the House of Representatives.

The proposal, after a hearing last night, received approval of the House judiciary committee without a dissenting vote.

Unfavorably reported by the House municipal and private corporations committee was a proposal to prohibit utilities selling appliances. The vote was 11 to 8. Oil operators would be required to put salt water back into oil producing strata by a bill favorably recommended by the House oil and gas committee.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Pampa Daily News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. At what temperature does a cigar burn? A. A cigar? E. H. R. A. A cigar burns at from 300 to 1,000 degrees F., depending on various conditions. A cigaret burns at a lower temperature which has not been exactly determined.

Q. How many people visit Mount Vernon in a year? C. M. L. A. Between 500,000 and 600,000 visit Mount Vernon annually. The greatest number to visit the home of George Washington in a day was 8,000, on a Sunday in April, 1934.

Q. What is anosmia? E. G. H. A. Anosmia is lack of the sense of smell. This deficiency may be due to nasal obstruction or to disease of the nerves concerned in smelling.

Q. When was the word Pan-American first used? W. B. R. A. The term came into use thru newspaper discussion of the International Conference at Washington in 1889 and 1890.

Q. By what authority does the government control all water power on navigable rivers? C. J. A. The Federal Water Power Act of 1920 gave the United States government control of all water power on navigable rivers.

Q. In what states is a holograph will valid? D. E. C. A. Q. How long did it take to make the first United States census compared with the time required today? H. F. A. The first census, in 1790, required 18 months while the 1930 census was taken in 30 days.

Q. Please give some information about pineapple cheese. E. H. A. This cheese, which is said to have had its origin in Litchfield County, Connecticut, about 1845, is so named from the fruit whose shape it bears. It is a hard, rennet made from the whole milk of cows and rather highly colored. The curd is pressed into the desired shape and the cheese is then dipped for a few minutes in water at 120 degrees F. and then for 24 hours is put into a net which gives it the diamond-shaped corrugations. It requires several months to ripen, during which time the surface is rubbed with oil.

Q. What is a bellwether? T. C. A. It is a wether or sheep which leads the flock, with a bell on his neck. A wether is a ram, especially a castrated one.

Q. How many college students are receiving aid from the National Youth Administration? H. G. F. A. A total of 124,818 students in 1686 colleges and universities are now receiving aid from NYA projects.

Q. Is the hymn beginning "God of our fathers, whose Almighty hand leads forth in beauty, all the starry band" and entitled "National Hymn" in some hymnals, officially our national hymn? B. W. A. There is no national hymn approved by the government in any way, except the Star Spangled Banner. There are several hymns, including America, which have practically a national status, inasmuch as they are known and loved throughout the nation.

Q. Why is Denver called the Little Capital of the United States? G. A. B. A. It is sometimes given this nickname because there are more Federal buildings in Denver than in any city outside of Washington, D. C.

This, That and Everything

By JESS KELLEY

One of the most popular books released from the press in 1936 was "An American Doctor's Odyssey" by Dr. Victor Heiser. The author of this popular work can truly be called the "Missionary of Modern Medicine." He circled the globe 16 times visiting practically every place in the world of importance, and brought the art of preventive medicine and practical therapeutics of multiplied millions around the world.

Every fisherman, and especially those who love to indulge in big fish stories, will appreciate this book because of one very unusual fish story it contains. Dr. Heiser tells about an angler in the region of the Philippine Islands who hooked a small fish and before he could land it, the fish was swallowed by a mackerel. Then before this strange catch was brought out of the water, the mackerel was swallowed by a shark.

The angler succeeded in landing this peculiar, triangular combination of fish.

Evidently Dr. Heiser realized that this fish story would strain the credulity of his readers for he had General Wood, who was at the time Governor of the Philippines, to sign an official affidavit testifying to the truth of the story. This interesting fish story is indicative of the humor that has a prominent place throughout the book. Dr. Heiser had many fascinating experiences in his extensive travels, and he records them with captivating interest.

With that topic of discussion barred, there remains little to report on the matter except that Joan is quite as charming, in her way, as her sister in hers. If anything, she is more animated, and she has a peculiarly Hepburn quality like the Hepburn of "Morning Glory."

This may be traced either to the fact that Joan's first screen role was with Kate in "Quality Street," or to her youthful exuberance and enthusiasm.

Like her sister ("you could just call her my sister without saying who she was, couldn't you?") Joan was born in Japan, but most of her life has been spent in California. She loves Japan and art, and she thinks her art work has been definitely influenced by her Japanese background. Her big ambition is to have a studio some day on the top floor of a house—the whole top floor—where she can draw and paint to her heart's content.

Loves Costume Roles "My sister and I," she says, "were taught dramatics by mother, and we would give little plays. But I was always frightened of acting—mother was a strict teacher—and I would simply quake at the thought of an audience I never thought I wanted to be an actress. But I tried out for a part in 'Kind Lady' here and I played it, and then Mr. Henry Duffy used me in his stage presentation of 'Call It a Day.' After that I discovered I simply couldn't live without acting."

Producer Lasky saw her in "Call It a Day" and he signed her for film, casting not a hoot whose sister she was.

"While I'm still under 20, which won't be long," says Joan, "I hate to do unphilosophical parts. I want slinky gowns, lots of lipstick and colored fingernails. And I live costume fancies. I feel much more real in costumes—they are. But I feel so lovely you can forget about yourself and give a better performance." Mr. Lasky, please note!

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD — Joan Fontaine's hazel eyes flash under her blonde hair and she frowns menacing as if she means it, when she says: "Don't you dare! You can't, you know. It's in my contract that no one is to mention it—and I'd rather wash dishes for a career than have it thought I was trading on my sister's success."

What Joan's contract—with Jesse L. Lasky—forbids mentioning is that Joan is the sister of Olivia De Havilland who also (Joan give me to understand) is going to hate me forever if I tell. Olivia wants Joan to have what she wants, and Joan wants to cut out her own paper doll without sister's name to help, hence the "Fontaines." Having read about this in the papers the day Joan's contract was announced, I couldn't help wondering why all the excitement Joan seems to think it is vital, however.

Like her sister ("you could just call her my sister without saying who she was, couldn't you?") Joan was born in Japan, but most of her life has been spent in California. She loves Japan and art, and she thinks her art work has been definitely influenced by her Japanese background. Her big ambition is to have a studio some day on the top floor of a house—the whole top floor—where she can draw and paint to her heart's content.

Loves Costume Roles "My sister and I," she says, "were taught dramatics by mother, and we would give little plays. But I was always frightened of acting—mother was a strict teacher—and I would simply quake at the thought of an audience I never thought I wanted to be an actress. But I tried out for a part in 'Kind Lady' here and I played it, and then Mr. Henry Duffy used me in his stage presentation of 'Call It a Day.' After that I discovered I simply couldn't live without acting."

Producer Lasky saw her in "Call It a Day" and he signed her for film, casting not a hoot whose sister she was.

"While I'm still under 20, which won't be long," says Joan, "I hate to do unphilosophical parts. I want slinky gowns, lots of lipstick and colored fingernails. And I live costume fancies. I feel much more real in costumes—they are. But I feel so lovely you can forget about yourself and give a better performance." Mr. Lasky, please note!

HARVESTER SPRING FOOTBALL TRAINING TO BEGIN MONDAY AFTERNOON

SWEATERS TO BE PRESENTED TO GRID PLAYERS

NOVICES AND VETERANS TO REPORT FOR PRACTICE

Harvester football players, eligible to receive sweaters, will be honored at chapel tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the new auditorium. The program will be in charge of a group of students from White Deer.

Coach Odus Mitchell will present the sweaters, which arrived this morning, to boys who had the necessary minutes of competition and who passed their studies.

The "pigskin parade" will begin at Harvester field next Monday, weather permitting. Coach Mitchell announced today. Bill Anderson, guardian of the uniforms, will issue equipment to all eligible boys Monday afternoon. Coach Mitchell said he would welcome any boy who desires to try out for football—if he is big enough. The midgets will not be called to the colors until later.

Lettermen back for another year will take their place in the practice line along with the "greenies," Coach Mitchell said. In the past, only the newcomers practiced the first few weeks.

Line Coach J. C. Prejean and Guerrilla Coach Bob Curry will assist Coach Mitchell with football. All three will take time off, at intervals, to work with the track and field prospects which are now taking advantage of the nice days to limber up.

Fifteen boys are out for track and field squad and another 10 are expected to report during the week. Football practice will break into the routine for some of the boys.

Twelve lettermen will be eligible to report. Only three, however, were regulars on the 1936 team.

GAME PROTESTED

BROWNWOOD, Feb. 23 (AP)—Texas conference officials may have to settle a question of split seconds arising from a hectic basketball game in which Daniel Baker defeated McMurry college last night 33 to 31. The timekeeper ruled a field basket tossed by Anthony of the losers did not leave the player's hands before the game ended. The two points would have made it 33-all, McMurry said it would protest.

AGGIES WIN GAME

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 23 (AP)—The fast-moving Texas Aggies outscored a Houston all-star basketball team here last night, 42 to 22. The Aggies, using a fast-breaking offense, ran up a quick lead and added to it steadily.

TAYLOR TAKES HOUSE OFFICE OF BUCHANAN

FAMED TEXAN DIES IN WASHINGTON OF HEART ATTACK

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—The death of Rep. James P. Buchanan (D. Tex.) placed 78-year-old Rep. Edward T. Taylor (D. Colo.) today at the head of the important House appropriations committee.

The slender, gray-mustached Taylor, oldest man in the House, has been directing the committee during the heart illness which led to Buchanan's death in Naval hospital last night.

Friends recalled that Buchanan spoke of Taylor in the House two years ago.

"Should anything happen to me," he said, "I would become chairman of that great committee (appropriations). . . . If that should happen the fiscal affairs of the House would be in safe keeping."

Buchanan was a critic of the administration policy of seeking "jump sum" appropriations, instead of funds allocated for specific items, but guided budget proposals through the House.

A strong believer in governmental economy, it fell to him to work for the $4,800,000,000 work relief measure, largest single appropriation in history, and to see national defense costs reach a new peacetime high.

He has been handicapped by failing health for the last year. He was 73 years old and had served in the House since 1913, becoming appropriations chairman in March, 1933, when late Joseph W. Byrnes was elected to Democratic floor leader.

Buchanan first was elected to Congress in 1913, and had served longer than all but nine of his fellow House members. He was born on a South Carolina plantation in 1864, but moved with his family to Texas shortly afterward.

Commenting on Buchanan's death, Taylor said:

"He was a martyr to his work. He killed himself by taking on entirely too much work. He was a noble character, one of the best chairmen our committee ever had."

Speaker Bankhead said Buchanan was "a useful and courageous man," and Rep. Rayburn (D. Tex.) House majority leader, called him "a man of fine ability who rendered great service to his state and country."

Governor James V. Allred said Texas had lost "a big man" who would be hard to replace.

Anderson Not to Tinker with Famed Michigan System

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 23 (AP)—

Hearty (Hunk) Anderson, Notre's first contribution to the University of Michigan's football coaching staff, set speculation at rest today with the flat statement that "I'm not here to tinker with the Michigan system."

"That isn't my business," he continued. "I'm a line coach and the strategy is up to Head Coach Harry G. Kipke."

Of the Michigan system of "punt, pass and pray" while waiting for a "break," Anderson said: "I think it's all right and always has been. The record speaks for itself. Coach Yost (Athletic Director Fielding H. Yost) has had some of the best teams in the country."

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

IT IS A COMMON MISTAKE TO BELIEVE THAT POISONOUS SNAKES MAY BE RECOGNIZED BY THE FLATTENED 'DISTINCT HEAD.' HOWEVER, THE GREATER NUMBER OF POISONOUS SPECIES DO HAVE HEADS OF THIS TYPE.

SURPRISING results were obtained in experiments conducted by the University of Saskatchewan on grass root research. A clump of prairie grass was found to develop 320-miles-of-roots in a mass of soil only seven feet deep and four feet square, and two miles of roots were added by each day's growth.

DANA BIBLE ORDERS SPRING TRAINING FOR LONGHORNS

AUSTIN, Feb. 23 (AP)—Coach Dana K. Bible, new University of Texas athletic director and head football coach, started actual work today of rebuilding the Longhorn's fallen gridiron prestige with a call to spring training.

More than 70 athletes were expected to attend the opening session this afternoon. Spring workouts will continue through March 24.

Among lettermen ready to don uniforms were Hugh Wolfe, Henry L. J. Sulak of LaGrange threatening to break his $15,000-a-year 1936 contract with the university regents, said he asks "no more than a fair start."

"If, in the course of time, I fail," he said, "then I expect to be jumped on with both feet." He would comment no further than to say he had not had an opportunity to read the resolution which asks university regents to rescind the contract and revise salary schedules of coaches to conform with those of other faculty members.

The first week of spring training will be open to the public and intersquad games have been slated for three Saturday afternoons, starting March 6.

FAIRY HILL WINS $50,000 ADDED SANTA ANITA DERBY

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23 (AP)—It looks like a big week for the Foxcatcher Farm's stable of race horses. Fairy Hill, the 3-year-old pride and joy of William duPont Jr., Foxcatcher string, drove in to win the $50,000 Santa Anita derby.

Fairy Hill's victory, worth $48,425 to the Foxcatcher stable, paid $30,800 and $13,200. Military's place money was $10,000, and $14,800 and $10,400 to the betting fraternity. Ptolemy, paying $13 to show, won $5,000 third place money and Brown Jade $2,500 for fourth position.

FFA BASKETBALL MEET TO BE HELD AT MIAMI

MIAMI, Feb. 23—John R. Gillham, principal and vocational agricultural teacher, is busy this week winding up details for the district FFA basketball tournament to be held here Saturday. Already a number of teams have signified their intentions of being on hand for the event and a number of good games will be a treat for fans as part of the teams boast first string players.

ORDINANCE NO. 179. AN ORDINANCE prohibiting the parking of vehicles in alley-ways within the City of Pampa, prescribing the penalty for violations and declaring an emergency.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF PAMPA: Sec. 1. Hereafter it shall be unlawful for any person to park or leave standing any vehicle, when the same is unattended and unoccupied by some person in control thereof, whether the same be a motor vehicle or otherwise, in, upon or across any alley-way within the City of Pampa.

Sec. 2. Any person violating this ordinance shall upon conviction be punished by fine of not less than one nor more than two hundred dollars; and, Sec. 3. By the term "park or leave standing" as used in this ordinance shall mean to stop and leave standing any such vehicle for any length of time.

Sec. 4. Emergency Clause. The fact that many persons now park motor and other vehicles in the alley-ways of the city of Pampa and that same constitutes a hazard endangering life and property in case of fire within said City, and that the health and lives of the citizenship of said city are by such practice endangered, as well as property therein, in event of fire, creates an emergency, and the rule requiring ordinances to be read and passed upon three different dates is hereby suspended, and this ordinance shall become effective and in full force and effect upon its passage and publication as required by law.

ARMS RACE IS DEPLORED BY PARIS ENVOY

BULLITT PLACES U. S. BESIDE EUROPEAN NATIONS

PARIS, Feb. 23 (AP)—Ambassador William C. Bullitt was considered in informed circles today to have placed the United States, with President Roosevelt's approval, beside France and Great Britain in demanding a halt to the world armament race.

Bullitt's speech last night at a Washington birthday banquet was interpreted as a virtual indication by President Roosevelt of a new international policy as a result of Germany's rejection of French and British overtures of economic peace.

Some quarters speculated on the possibility the statement of American policy might be followed by concrete American, British and French proposals for economic collaboration with Germany.

Such a proposal, bringing the United States into the European settlement, would be based on a strictly enforced agreement with the rich, these reports said, for collaboration in a general armament program and lowering of trade barriers to consolidate peace.

The ambassador predicated his remarks with the statement the United States may have to fight in the next war.

"We are entirely aware," the ambassador said, "that there is always some possibility some nation might be sufficiently reckless to drive us into war."

Then Bullitt launched into the sharp criticism of the world armament race which was considered a possible forerunner of renewed American participation in negotiations for an European accord.

"It is impossible to restore world prosperity when nations are engaged in raising their economic and financial positions by participating in an armament race," he said.

He declared the United States was prepared to participate in any future arms limitation.

BATTLES OF PROMOTERS MAY OVSERHADOW BOUTS

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (AP)—Latest developments in the war of promoters over the services of Jim Braddock for a June bout indicate the heavyweight champion will have to do a lot of scrapping to keep up with the men who make the matches.

Statements from Mike Jacobs, the "middle" man who has an interest in Max Schmeling—slated to fight Braddock here June 3 for Madison Square Garden—said in Joe Jacobs, matched with Braddock for Chicago June 22, were answered yesterday by his rival, Col. John Reed Kilpatrick, president of Madison Square Garden.

Both said they intended to "kill" their legal guns and do plenty of shooting.

Jacobs, confident there can be no hitch in the Chicago plans, made a tentative compromise offer which also would enable him to get his "cut" on a Schmeling bout.

"In a number of conditions beyond my control, the Braddock-Schmeling fight fails to materialize," said Jacobs. "I am confident I can persuade the winner of the Braddock-Louis match to meet Schmeling within 60 days."

His Kilpatrick, fighting for the principle that contracts must be binding as well as for the Garden's finances, replied:

"I see no chance of a compromise along that or any other line."

The Garden's contract with Braddock was supposed to be as tight as a battery of legal experts could make it. However, the champion's manager, Joe Gould, has announced he will ignore it and concentrate on

New York Golden Gloves Finals To Be Held March 8

Ray Medlock, 22-year-old Little Rock, Ark., sophomore at the University of Mississippi, left jabbed his way to a close upset decision over George Coyle, 19-year-old New York usher, in a 126-pound open class quarter-final bout last night in Madison Square Garden before 17,000 spectators.

Medlock stole the spotlight in the three-ring cauliflower circus by eliminating the only defending champion in the tournament. All told 56 open and sub-novice class fighters from 11 eastern cities reached the semifinals, in all weight divisions except the heavies. The heavies stopped at the quarter-finals and will catch up with the field March 1-2.

AMENDMENTS ARE URGED BY FDR ADVISERS

FARM, LABOR POLICIES MAY BE ADVANCED BY AMENDMENTS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Some associates of President Roosevelt expressed the belief today he was willing to advance his farm and labor policies by constitutional amendment—as a supplement to his court reorganization demands.

He insists, they said, that enlargement of the Supreme Court if justices over 70 do not retire is the only way to reach his objectives within a reasonably short time.

Some Senators discussed combining Mr. Roosevelt's judicial program with an amendment and pushing both through at the same time.

It was thought by some that this might win votes for his Supreme Court proposal from among those favoring constitutional change.

One such amendment considered by administration Senators would extend federal jurisdiction over interstate commerce to include production.

The only hope for a compromise on the President's program, some congressmen said, rested on the possibility that enactment of the voluntary Supreme Court retirement bill might bring some change in the present tribunal.

This measure, passed by the House and approved yesterday by the Senate Judiciary committee, probably will be debated in the Senate in a few days.

Senate hearings on the controversial measure will open two weeks from today, but even supporters conceded it would be two or three months before final action by the Senate.

Non-congressional supporters of the President speeded up their activities. George L. Berry called a national convention of labor's Non-Partisan League to endorse his proposals.

House action was even further away. Reorganization of the Supreme Court was mentioned in a conference yesterday between Mr. Roosevelt and leaders of farm organizations.

M. W. Thatcher of the Farmers National Grain Corporation said the President's proposal was effective as a temporary correction, but should be supplemented by a constitutional amendment permitting federal control of agriculture.

Radio debate continued last night, with Senator Burke (D. Neb.) asking the nation's youth to oppose the program and Senator Barkley (D. Ky.) calling for a progressive interpretation of the constitution.

SMU Can Win Title By Trimming Frogs

DALLAS, Feb. 23 (AP)—Southern Methodist's Mustangs tonight could stow away their first southwest conference basketball title.

In fact, the Mustangs could make a bit of athletic history by trimming a hapless Texas Christian team, imbedded in the basement. They could give the hilltop school its first conference athletic title, excepting football.

Already a cinch to tie for first place, the Mustangs need a triumph over T. C. U. for a clean-cut championship claim. If they fail against the Horned Frogs, they still have Rice at Houston and Texas A. & M. at College Station.

Season Texas Christian won only two games—both from S. M. U. This year they have won but one game in seven starts, but ill luck has dogged the Christians. They have dropped five of their six defeats by narrow margins of five points or less.

Game of Tennis Needs Repairing Declares Kinsey

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23 (AP)—

The game of tennis, in the opinion of Howard Kinsey, former internationalist, needs some repairing.

One-time Davis cupper, now an instructor of role, Kinsey said today he thought courts surfaces and balls should be universally uniform.

Kinsey pointed out asphalt is the popular surfacing agency in this region; concrete is used in the Los Angeles area; clay is used throughout the middle west and turf is the distinctive footing on Eastern courts forming the "major circuit" in New Jersey, Massachusetts and New York.

"An internationalist from this coast, such as Don Budge, faces unusual problems," said Kinsey. "He must adjust his game two or three times before he gets to Europe. On continental Europe he must switch again because the courts there are of a porous clay type. When he goes over to England he finds turf again, calling for readjustment of his style of play."

WOULD RECORD TRIALS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Rep. Hobbs (D-Ala.) proposed today employment of the movie art to guarantee what he called "Simon-pure" justice in the courts. Hobbs, a lawyer for 30 years, asked Congress to authorize sound picture recording of proceedings in federal district courts. It would be used in presenting appeals.

IT'S IN THE AIR

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

By LOUIS SCHNEIDER

OPTIMISTIC.
Barring difficulties in the steel industry insiders consider the outlook as exceedingly bright. Your correspondent's informants go so far as to predict a continued demand over the next two to three years. Present capacity is being taxed to the limit. There's no letup in sight.

These prognostications account for the recent demand for the steel equities. Long-pull buyers are of the opinion that steel earnings for 1937 will run around 1929 record figures. That is why they expect higher steel share prices.

RESTRICT.
The Federal Reserve Board is allowing stock exchanges to formulate their own laws to prevent "free riders" in marginal trading. As a result the governors of the New York Exchange announced a new ruling. It reads that member firms must see to it that all customers carry full margins at the time a stock is bought or sold on margin.

To members of Stock Exchange firms the new ruling is a laugh. They point out that the new ruling doesn't affect floor brokers or partners of member firms. And that is whom the Securities Exchange Commission is after because they account for one-fifth of the day's transactions.

"This isn't the end"—is the way it was told to your correspondent. The S.E.C. is preparing to announce restricted marginal activity on the part of floor brokers and member partners. They will run thus: 1. Commission house partners will be prevented doing any marginal trading; 2. Floor members must maintain full margin requirements at the time a transaction is made.

SQUEEZE.
New Haven preferred shares staged a spectacular rally this month. Wall Streeters have no satisfactory explanation for the movement. The road's 1936 operating deficit was as large as that of 1935. The company is being reorganized under section 77 of the Federal Bankruptcy Act. No plan is due to be presented to the court until June 1.

Professional interests say that the sudden price advance was due purely to a short squeeze. Otherwise there is nothing to account for the rally since insiders know of no plan having been prepared as yet.

WOOLS.
Recent demand for wool goods has been slow. Trade insiders aren't worried. They call it a seasonal affair. The fall showing starts as of March 1. Higher prices are to be expected.

Mills are currently booked well into April due to a backlog of tropical worsteds and other types of summer wear. Buyers are expected to place large fall and winter orders. Thus wool trade insiders expect mill activity all through the next six to eight months.

WAITING.
For the first time in two years bond dealers are faced with a state of apathy among large investors. It is regarded as most surprising because the amount of investment funds available is the largest since 1929 and 1930.

Investment bankers report that investors fear a decline in high grade bond prices. This in turn means yields will run higher. That being the case the investment element is holding off for a better return on invested capital.

Yet underwriting houses are not worried. These circles are of the opinion that the public always follows the leader. It is believed that as soon as some of the insurance companies come back into the market there will be a rush of small-investor buying. It sums up then, that a game of waiting is taking place between bond dealer and bond buyer.

MOTORS.
Automotive trade insiders insist that the 1937 production figure will pass the 5,000,000 unit mark. If that is so it will be the second highest production figure topped only by 1929. With General Motors about to rush production this estimate is expected to be reached.

Motor trade circles report that in order to catch up with lost production increased activity will be witnessed through the spring months. The March schedule has been set for a 500,000 unit output.

REPORTS ARE THAT:
1936 Old Gold cigaret sales show a 30 per cent increase over 1935 while entire industry reported only 13.8 per cent increase. . . Mohawk Carpet Mills' has a promising outlook. . . For fiscal year ended January 31 Armour will show about 50 cents a share. . . Continental Can and American Can being bought on scale-down orders for long-pull accounts—dividends expected to be maintained. . . North American Aviation's booked orders are three times greater than those of this time last year. . . Sunshine Mining revenues will hold as long as government continues a silver buyer at current price level. . . Republic Steel's first quarter net estimated at 85 cents a share—full year net estimated at $2.50. . . Directors of El Paso Natural Gas to lift dividend rate—so previously disclosed in "Financial Whirligig."

Dayton Rubber will report a profit for first quarter. . . Bunswick-Balke-Collander's new beverage cooler growing in popularity. . . At current price levels Crucible Steel simply discounts prospect. . . Wayne Pump's business activity running well ahead of 1936. . . Union Oil of California currently operating on a $2 per share annual clip. . . A St. Louis informant believes Twin Coach has speculative possibilities. . . Irving Air Chute's unfilled orders are 25 per cent below those of last year. . . And, that California's frost didn't reduce the citrus crop as much as had been estimated—bullish for Atchison, Southern Pacific and Union Pacific citrus loadings.

Clark Gable Named Best Dressed Man

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Feb. 23 (AP)—The man whom a group of New York style experts dubbed the best-dressed actor of the screen was dressed rather sloppily today in a scarred leather jacket, battered hat and well-worn boots.

Clark Gable was in the Kalbar National Forest hunting cougars, and his appointments were strictly utilitarian. He looked nothing like the fashion plate of a movie star.

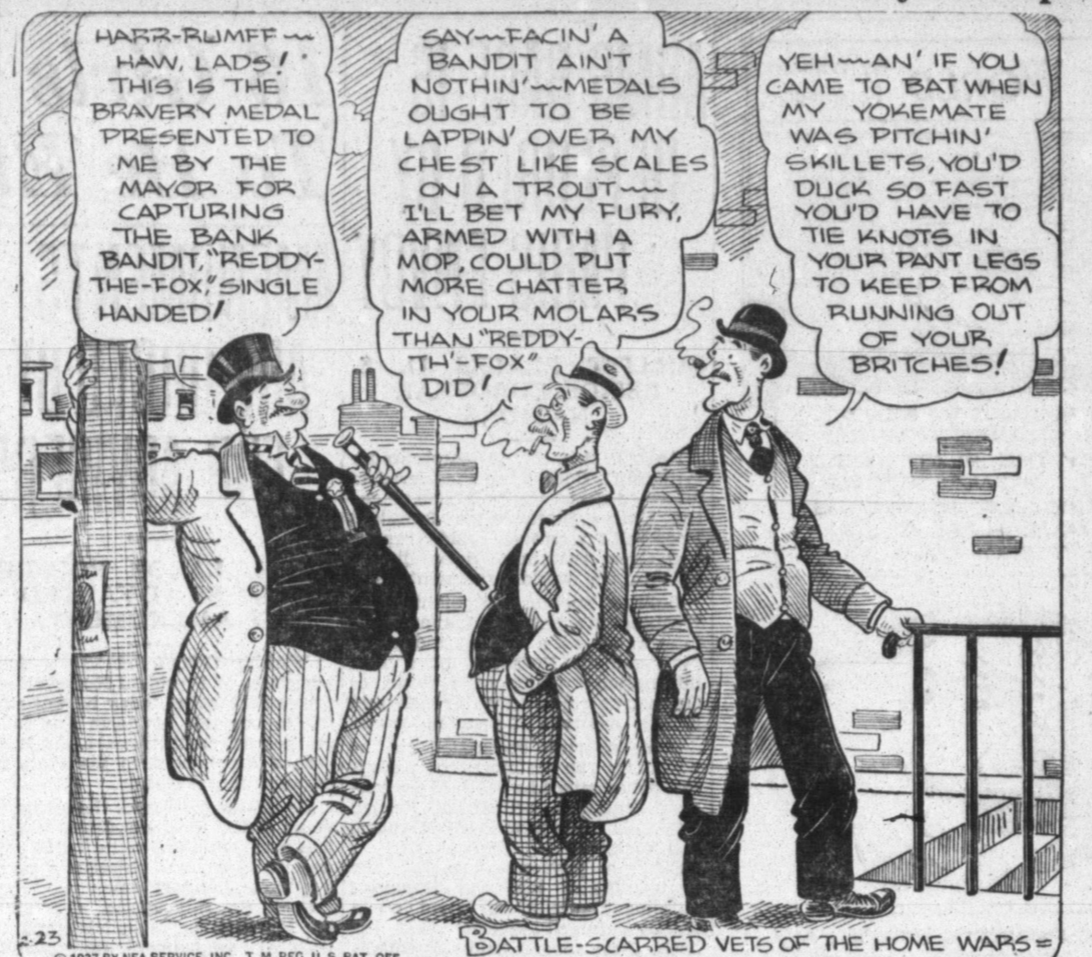

The husky film star left for his safari late last week, and he was clad comfortably in the above-mentioned attire when he drove his station-wagon out of the film city.

Selection of Gable as the screen's best-dressed actor occasioned a little surprise among some of his associates. He is not generally considered a sartorial virtuoso.

His is a specialized field. He is at his best in sports clothes and he usually wears them.

White tie and tails he seldom dons, off the screen he rarely has the sleek, polished and smooth appearance of a "clothes-horse."

JOURNALISM GROUP LOOKS FOR WESTERNERS IN DUST STORM

Thinking it would be good fun to interview Mr. Blackledge and one of their fellow "cub" reporters, Warren Martin, who was sent along with the pioneer covered-wagon out fit in daily news dispatches to the local newspaper, a group of journalism students together with Mrs. Midyette, the instructor, started out Wednesday night, in one of the season's worst dust storms, toward the wide open spaces to overtake the covered wagon and its two occupants.

Organization of S. P. Q. A. Latin Club Announced

Although Latin is a dead language, the Latin class of Miss Idelle Cox is alive and sparkling. One of the outstanding clubs on the campus is the S. P. Q. A. club (Senatus Poulusque, Rome), which is divided into two societies, the Plebians and Patricians. The first year class belongs to the Plebian class, and the second year class belongs to the Patrician class.

'IDEAL' PLANT WILL BE BUILT BY HENRY FORD

Industrial Community in Georgia Will Be Established

WAYS, Ga., Feb. 23 (AP)—In this South Georgia community on the banks of the Ogeechee river, Henry Ford will carry to fruition his dream of an ideal industrial community surrounded by farms able to sustain it.

As a part of his broad program for this little town 18 miles from Savannah, Georgia's chief seaport, the Detroit automobile manufacturer announced today an automobile parts factory will be erected.

The plant will employ the people of this community which formerly knew farming, fishing and lumbering as its chief source of income, and will be closely affiliated with Ford's newly completed manual arts school there.

"We will aim, as we do in our other plants, to have the proper proportion of people of all ages," he said.

"We won't have to import anybody either. Folks right here will have plenty of skill. Everybody will have a part in farming whether he owns a farm jointly or in his own name.

"Everything hinges around the school and the future of those educated here. We'll turn out skilled mechanics and their services will be sought eagerly by others."

Boys and girls will be taught agriculture and industry in the manual arts school as part of their academic training.

A community house containing 20 guest rooms, a large ballroom, lounge and dining room for use of the school children and their parents has been completed.

Roads are being graded, ditches opened, landscaping improved and buildings of many kinds erected.

ate action is taken this will be impossible.

The original fairgrounds project was set up for $104,000. To date the city has spent approximately $23,000 and the WPA $38,000 on the work. This includes $9,690 paid for the land and does not include engineer salaries nor rental of the city street maintainer.

Nine property owners on W. Francis street between Frost and Gray streets last night presented the city commission with a petition asking removal of the parkway in the middle of the street.

City Manager Stine was asked to send letters to various cities and towns which operate municipally-owned light plants and to request information on operation, costs, rates and other data.

The request follows a proposal at a meeting one week ago in which Mayor W. A. Bratton expressed the opinion that Pampa might possibly reduce taxes and rates by taking over light and gas utility plants.

spirit with which he has achieved his success.

Martin and Olga Stevens are past masters in the legitimate theater, and will be associated with Mr. Rose during the 1936-37 season. They were eminently successful in that field, but were gradually drawn to their chosen profession with marionettes. They left the legitimate theater and turned to marionettes because they believe this field offers greater opportunity for dramatic expression to the sincere artist. As actor-puppeteers they are without equal in the excellence of their work, and they have shown to what heights this art can rise. Through the mastery of their art they are supplying American audiences with a new thrill in the dramatic power of the marionette.

The cast of characters: Snow White, a beautiful princess; The Queen, beautiful too, but jealous, spiteful and wicked; A Slave, attendant to the Queen; The Huntsman, who protected Snow White in spite of the Queen's command; The Dwarfs, who gladly sheltered Snow White; the Prince, a handsome youth who loved Snow White.

Acts: I. Within the Queen's Palace; II. In the Deep Woods; III. Within the House of the Dwarfs.

DON'T PAMPER LITTLE DARLINGS, SAYS G-MAN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover put some of the blame today for one of law enforcement's major problems—the harboring of criminals—on parents who pamper their children.

Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said a recent investigation of "numerous public enemies" by federal agents showed none of them could have existed without the aid of other persons.

"No bank robber can pursue his nefarious trade," he said, "without friends, hideouts, finger men and doctors, or without a hundred and one other forms of minor criminality which feed upon the main artery of outlawry."

"The parent who allows any child to run wilfully through life obeying any selfish impulse, following the wild ravings of any agitator who orates from a soap box on the corner," he said, "is doing a manifestly unkind act to the child."

CHICAGO GRAIN CHICAGO, Feb. 23 (AP)—May wheat took a fresh drop of more than 2 cents a bushel today when the price fell to a level 8 cents below the season's peak established little more than week ago.

Other wheat futures on which delivery date is deferred enough to permit tendering of new 1937 domestic grain declined more than a cent.

Traders attributed much of the weakness in May contracts to failure of foreign demand to show the improvement expected as a result of recent price declines. Better winter wheat crop prospects also influenced selling.

Wheat closed 1 1/2-2 1/2 cents below Saturday's finish, May 1.30 1/2-3/4, July 1.14-1 1/4, and corn was 1/2 up to 1 1/2 off, May 1.05 1/2-3/4, July 1.01. Oats lost 1/4-2 1/4 (eye 1/2-2 1/2, and lard 3 to 5 points.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON The market was called for cotton as this was tendered in conjunction with first notice day. Notices were divided between 2,200 bales in the big ring and 800 bales in the "job" ring.

Some speculative interests reportedly placed a bullish interpretation on the announcement that 250,000 bales of loan cotton had been sold. These operators were thought to be buying in the new positions on the assumption that current demand for cotton might hold up well.

By mid-day the market was fluctuating narrowly approximately 50 cents a bale above the previous close.

One indication, usually considered reliable on the side of the coming crop was furnished by the National Fertilizer association reported that sales of tags in January were 23 per cent above January last year. The market paid little attention to this report.

A good demand for cotton cloth was reported from Manchester, England.

TROOP 22 IS FIRST IN BOY HONOR COURT

J. S. WYNNE NAMED TYPICAL PIONEER OF REGION

Troop 22 of Hoover led in advancements and merit badges prepared for last night's monthly Boy Scout Court of Honor. Twenty-seven merit badges which were ready for presentation were not awarded due to absence of boys.

Troop 14 was in charge of the program. A court of Scouts, parents and visitors was not taken. Chairman L. L. McColem presided at the court.

J. S. Wynne was named the typical, outstanding pioneer of this community, and was presented a statuette.

Advancements and merit badges were awarded as follows: Advanced to second class rank: Wayne Roby, troop 14; Roy Davenport, troop 23, Dewey Wilson, troop 23, Robert Harrison, troop 80.

Gary Cooper says: "It's plain common sense for me to prefer this light smoke". "A little over a year ago I changed to Luckies because I enjoy the flavor of their tobacco. Ever since, my throat has been in fine shape. As my voice and throat mean so much to me in my business, it's plain common sense for me to prefer this light smoke. So I'm strong for Luckies!" In Paramount's "THE PLAINSMAN" DIRECTED BY CECIL B. DE MILLE. An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke. Mr. Cooper verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat. A Light Smoke "It's Toasted"—Your Throat Protection AGAINST IRRITATION—AGAINST COUGH. THE FINEST TOBACCOS—"THE CREAM OF THE CROP".
