Annual Events Seen as Important to Future of Pampa

EASTLAND CITED AS AN EXAMPLE

County Agent Program Is Endorsed by Local Manager

BY GEORGE BRIGGS
Manager Pampa Chamber of Commerce
What will Pampa be five years hence? Ten? Twenty-five? This is a question that many of the citizens of Pampa are asking.

In other words, Pampa has made a wonderful growth, and the citizens can well be proud of our city for what has been done these three years. Oil is the cause of this rapid growth.

Worked Out Solution
The cities which finally recovered, only came back to activity after a period of extreme discouragement, and heavy losses to the citizens.

Oil Works Magic
The discovery of oil in Pampa territory practically multiplied the population by ten. The citizens went to work and planned a city.

Will Losses Come?
What shall the future be? Will these investments bring these returns, or will they be thrown away in a few years, and be wasted?

The business of Pampa, as a whole has been built for an active city somewhat larger than the present population.

Local Parachute Jumper to Perform Saturday, Sunday
"Daredevil" Willard, Pampa's parachute jumper, will make a parachute jump Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

THE WEATHER
WEST TEXAS: Tonight and Saturday partly cloudy, local thundershowers in the Panhandle.

Breaking the News to Curtis

The grounds of the Kansas state capitol at Topeka, almost within sight of the old Kaw Indian reservation where he lived as a boy, were chosen for the formal notification of Senator Charles Curtis, informing him of his nomination as the Republican vice-presidential candidate, on Aug. 18.

Wildcat Extensions in Gray Are Promising Production-Alanreed Test Is First Producer There

The Danciger Oil and Refining company's No. 2 Morse in the northwest corner of the southwest quarter of section 2, block 26, H. and G. N. survey, is good for 135 barrels initial flow from granite wash at 2,551 feet.

This location is in semi-proven territory about twelve miles southeast of LeFors. About 70,000,000 cubic feet of gas has been picked up in the Danciger Oil and Refining company's No. 1 LeFors township well, an offset to the LeFors Petroleum company's No. 2 Shaw, now making 2,300 barrels a day.

Pampa Meeting on Highways Delayed by Date Conflict

Owing to conflicting dates, the road meeting to have been held here August 23 to plan a Panhandle Highway association has been postponed until August 27.

Many Panhandle counties are working at cross purposes with the state and one another, and the meeting to be held in Pampa is to plan roads where they will do the most good to the counties and towns through which they pass.

Under the new arrangement, Pampa is divided into three parts for voting purposes. The portion of the city south of the Santa Fe railway tracks and extending a certain distance into the south part of the precinct will have a voting box.

At least two planes will be here both days, and will take up passengers for rides over the city and surrounding territory. The planes will land at the temporary field in the Channing addition.

W. Chappell of Wildorado made a business visit in Pampa yesterday.

GENERAL RAINS DRENCH UPPER PLAINS AREA

Lower Panhandle Also Is Visited Last Night By Showers

TOTAL HERE IS .16 OF AN INCH

Muddy Roads Near the City Delay Local Meeting

Rainfall here last night and up to noon today amounted to .61 of an inch. Additional showers this afternoon added to that total, and a weather prediction of local showers for tomorrow gave indication that the end of precipitation is not in sight.

Roads and streets were very slippery this morning, but well beaten ruts, very rough, had been made by noon. The rain was general over the Panhandle, although individual communities received varying amounts of moisture.

Local aspects of the rain included postponement of the Santa Fe's official start of steel laying from 10 o'clock today to the same hour tomorrow. Meeting of the commissioners' court was delayed several hours waiting for M. M. Newman of McLean, who had muddy roads to travel over.

CHILDRESS, Aug. 17.—(P)—Rain varying from one inch in Hall county to light showers in the eastern part of Childress county blanketed the Lower Panhandle last night, bringing relief from the extended hot weather.

Anna Followell Dies Thursday

Anna Followell, a 93-year-old, died at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Followell, residing two miles south of here, yesterday morning following an illness of three days. The body is at the Malone Funeral home pending funeral arrangements.

Mr. Followell has been connected with the McGarrity Motor company for some time, and is well known here. The family moved here from Indiana more than two years ago.

Morrow Is Honored Everywhere He Goes

PUEBLA, Mexico, Aug. 17.—(P)—Dwight W. Morrow, American ambassador, making what he desired to be merely a personal pleasure trip is being welcomed with as much pomp and ceremony as the president might receive.

Mr. Morrow was made an honorary citizen of Puebla and welcomed personally on the highway miles from Puebla when he entered the state yesterday by General Ponato Bravo Izquierdo and a large group of the highest state and city officials.

Rockford Flight Is Delayed-Rain Falls During Night

COCHRANE, Ont., Aug. 17.—(P)—Rain interfered with the plans of Bert Hassell and Parker Cramer to leave today on the second leg of their trans-Atlantic flight in the monoplane Greter Rockford.

Favored by following winds, the pilots flew 800 miles from the Illinois city here yesterday in seven hours. They worked late into the night testing their engine and filling fuel tanks with gasoline shipped here from Rockford, and then pronounced the plane ready for the next test.

From Mt. Evans their route will carry them to Reykjavik, Iceland, and from there to Stockholm on the final leg. They are the first to attempt the Atlantic flight by easy stages across the northern islands.

All Courthouse Bids Rejected As High--Pampa Man Lowest

Commissioners of Gray county this afternoon rejected all bids on the courthouse on the grounds that they exceeded the total unofficially agreed upon prior to the county seat election.

Christie Dolph of Amarillo was close to C. H. Sharp as low bidder. Others who submitted bids include, not in order of totals, C. L. Lambie, W. Frank Little, J. Windsor, Clem Anderson, W. G. Winder, and Albert Randall of Amarillo, Bally Burns of Norman, Okla. and Sharp Brothers of Pampa and Kansas City.

The bids were opened Thursday afternoon, but no action was taken until today.

Fair Association Can Save Money By Acting Now

The proposed Pampa Fair association is a continuation of the Pampa Fair association of former years but on a larger scale. It is the plans of the association to incorporate for $10,000, the balance to be paid immediately and the half at a later date.

Shares of stock being sold at $25 each are considered an excellent investment as the land alone would pay off the stock in the fair status were to be changed. To aid in the rejuvenating the Pampa fair, Lon Blansett and Bill Jackson have offered the association all the present equipment on the location at a reasonable price as also has the Pampa Baseball club its equipment, thus saving several thousands of dollars.

George W. Briggs made the following statement this morning: "Now is the time to put over the Pampa fair in another year the land will be so high that it could not be purchased and by that time the school board would have its own athletic field and that aid would not be available."

"The last fair here cleared $800 which is being used to help enlarge the present venture. If at that time with only a small population Pampa could put over such a fair, we can put over a much bigger and better one now and make money for the stockholders."

"Pampa and surrounding territory needs to take more interest in agriculture and diversification, and what better method can be used than to hold a fair where the farmer can show his products."

Amarillo-Denver Bus Hits Truck Hurting 10 Persons

Sutton, Hayden, Okla., severe cuts and bruises; Mrs. O. T. Beckham, Roswell, N. M., contusions. All were brought here for treatment.

WEATHERFORD, Aug. 17.—(P)—An argument over management of his farm with W. E. Rail, tenant, resulted Thursday in the shooting of Richard Tillis, 60, Fort Worth, County Attorney Charles Sullivan states Friday after quiz zine Rail, who is held in the Parker county jail on a murder charge. Tillis was struck by a charge from a shotgun and fell on Rail's front porch.

The hearing was held here by Major Milo P. Fox of Galveston, district engineer. Port Arthur is seeking permission from the war department to build a bridge with 200 feet clearance.

Normal School Fund

One of the accomplishments of the Moody administration is to make possible the re-establishment of the per capita apportionment for the public schools on the $14 basis.

The State Board of Education has just set aside an apportionment of $15 for each school child. Comptroller S. H. Terrell says there is $23,500,000 available for the schools, or enough to make $16 per child had not the 40th legislature limited the sum to $15.

Th state department reveals that Texas has an enrollment of 1,401,374 school children, or 31,000 more than last year. The substantial growth Texas is enjoying is indicated in this large increase over graduation or withdrawals.

The apportionment, however, is still too small to place small schools on a sound basis. The Texas Outlook, an educational journal suggests that a $24 apportionment per capita would be about right.

1. Curricula that meets the social and economic demands of the times.

2. A tenure law that will improve the efficiency of the teachers.

3. Equal and uniform taxation.

4. A teachers' retirement system that is both fair to the teacher and helpful to the community.

5. Equal pay for equal work.

6. All-year schools in communities where there are 400 students or more.

These mainly are definitions, and the details are as apt to be worked out in one community as another. A community should study its schools. They are far from perfect.

West Texas Libeled?

While West Texas is fighting for recognition on its true merits, a Metro-Goldwyn-Meyor release starring Lillian Gish is being booked for showing over the entire country. With a setting laid in Sweetwater, it has possibilities for either helping or damaging this section.

Of the many good pictures being contracted for by Pampa's two theatres, this one should stand out, regardless of its merits. It has been booked by the Rex, but the time of showing is not yet known. The picture was completed several months ago and has been seen in a few key cities of the East. It is "The Wind," taken from Dorothy Scarborough's book of the same title.

The local theatres are getting many of the best releases ahead of many larger cities, a fact worthy of mention regardless of one's opinion of movies in general. And it is to be hoped that the winter vaudeville here will take similar rank with the larger cities of the Southwest. Entertainment is such a necessity that it should be the best obtainable.

TWINKLES

Twink wishes to record that Ewing Leech attended the Lions meeting in White Deer Tuesday night—in fact, he rode with us. Somehow the fact didn't get into print, and as we value his friendship, we hasten to make amends. Also he is tax assessor and we always did like to do good turns for holders of that office.

Those who have put much money in Pampa property are, in some cases, rather reticent about giving to causes to boost the city. It sounds like poor logic; we are confident of the future of this city, but that confidence is based more on the progressiveness of the citizens than upon the material resources.

The "Greater Rockford" seems as staunch as the socks for which it must be named.

Success is erratic, and if often taught by those who do not possess it.

Few things are profound when analyzed, but merit is not confined to the sublime. A symphony is soon over, but its attuning melodies ripple on through the mind and soul.

What many people succeed in doing must not be too hard. And many achieve greatness, as people measure the quality.

The echo of responses to human kindness is often more worthy than the first reaction.

CAPITOL News

By RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—When the Seventy-first Congress convenes, it appears probable that Robert M. LaFollette will still be the youngest man in the Senate.

Reports from Wisconsin indicate that the regular Republicans, or "stalwarts," have little hopes of defeating him for re-nomination in the primary on September 4.

LaFollette is only 33 years old and his political enemies have undertaken to use the fact against him. It's a man's job, they say, and now that the state has paid him the compliment of allowing him to serve out his late father's term, it ought to remember that Yguro Bob is just a boy and hasn't really cut any figure on Congress.

But Young Bob's friends are predicting that he will win three to one. His opponent for the nomination is George W. Mead, millionaire mayor of Wisconsin Rapids and president of a water power company and a paper company. LaFollette appears to be so assured of his own re-nomination that he is devoting most of his time toward the nomination of Congressman Joseph D. Beck, one of the old LaFollette progressives for governor.

The LaFollette ticket is engaged in the bitterest sort of a struggle with the electric power interests, which are reported to be spending a wad of money for their candidates. Sam Insull's companies own about 80 per cent of the public utilities and water power in Wisconsin. The fight between the power interests and their allies and the progressives has come to center on the gubernatorial fight. The former believe that it is more important for them to win this than to defeat Young Bob.

Beck is opposed by Governor Fred R. Zimmerman and by Walter J. Kohler, the millionaire manufacturer of bathroom fixtures, of Kohler, Wis., who is supported by National committeeman George Vits.

The LaFollette believe the division of the opposition is an advantage to Beck. They expect Zimmerman, who was elected on a LaFollette progressive platform but was inimical to the group now led by LaFollette and Beck, to run third.

Zimmerman has been endorsed by the anti-saloon league. Beck is for Volstead Act modification permitting light wines and beer and Kohler is taking a middle ground on prohibition. Backed by the power interests, and leading power interests, and the leading manufacturers and bankers, Kohler is demanding a business government and a recovery from the disgrace into which he says Zimmerman has plunged the state.

Beck is stumping the state on the power issue. The progressive purpose a change of laws and a constitutional amendment which will permit municipalities to construct and operate their own public utilities without interference. As it is, individual cities are unable to launch public utility programs of their own and so offer competition to privately owned plants.

CHURCH PREPARES FOR REVIVAL

"Necessity is the mother of invention." Nothing is done by accident that is worth while. A job is half done where proper preparation is made for it. We are glad to know that so many have been busy in preparing for this revival which is to begin Sunday. We want all to know that they are not only welcome, but they are invited to attend these meetings. They are for you and we hope you may be in a position to make the best of the opportunity.

"They are so friendly" is a common expression heard from those who have visited our meetings. We rejoice that this is a friendly spirit. The greatest effort will be made to preach only those things authorized by the Lord. People are tired of guesses. They only bewilder and entangle the soul. The word of God is the final word. Why not get it without spending time with the other and losing much of that which is of worth?

We ask you to come and be with us from the first to the last. Only ten sermons to be preached, at 8 o'clock each evening, Sunday morning sermons will begin promptly at 7 o'clock. The Church of Christ is located five blocks east of the high school building.

LOVE FOR TWO RUTH DEWEY GROVES © 1928 By NEA Service Inc

THIS HAS HAPPENED CERTIE LOU and ROD DRIVER were happily married, until LILA PERKINS drove to separate them. For months she works to arouse Rod's interest in her while she plants seeds of doubt in his mind about Bertie Lou. When Bertie Lou discovers that they are each other's secret she is heartbroken and flies with young MARCO PALMER to California. Rod will not commit himself to Lila, although he and Bertie Lou have drifted far apart. After a few waiting game, Lila tells him she loves him and wants him to go away with her. He repeats his declaration to her husband and she taunts him by saying that his wife is out with Marco. Rod drives to the Palmer estate where he sees Marco and Bertie Lou in laughing attire and dejectedly without learning that they were merely coming to see from the swimming pool. Rod leaves Bertie Lou with no explanation, explains his position and drifts from one thing to another trying to avoid all business. Bertie Lou tries to find him with her sisters. Bertie Lou secures a position, expecting Rod to get a divorce. The surprise and dreadfulness of her lot induce her to seek forgetfulness in Marco's gay crowd. She has a beautiful and, while contemplating, decides to buy a "dream home" with the money Rod had sent her when he left. Marco sees her so sorry him, but she tells him she still loves him. When the house is finished, she advertises it for sale. She is surprised when Rod answers the bid, and consents to sell white he looks over the house. Rod says he cannot afford it, and he is offered the job of caretaker until she home is sold.

they would turn over the house to an untraveled stranger. Rod let it pass. If they wanted to investigate him, let them. It was an absurd thing, anyhow, his taking such a job. He didn't really know why he did it, except that the opportunity for some physical effort appealed to him. It would be a relief to have a chance to work with his hands, outdoors. But five dollars a week would scarcely maintain him. He had a little money. He'd have to use some of that, and he mustn't wait until it was gone before seeking a position in his own field. "Here's the address, and the name of the landlady," he said and wrote them down on a piece of paper torn from a notebook. "When will you let me know?" "Tomorrow night? What's your telephone number? If everything is all right I'll give you a ring." Rod gave her the number and she jotted it down. "Tell the owner that I'd like to put in a garden," Rod said when he was leaving. "I'm not working just at present and I'd like to be busy around the place."

When Bertie Lou repeated his request to Bertie Lou the latter smiled. But the smile was erased when Bertie Lou informed her of Rod's conditional acceptance. "He's afraid maybe he won't like the simple life," Bertie added, using her own words. Into Bertie Lou's mind flashed an interpretation that killed a little of her pity for Rod. So he still longed for Lila, did he? That was what it meant. The simple life hadn't much attraction for him. Perhaps if he were not down on his luck he would be back with Lila and her friends, in the night clubs. Bertie Lou thought she could guess pretty well what had happened. Rod had discovered that Bertie Lou and Lila were in love with each other. Rod had lost his position and Lila had cast him aside when he began to slip down the ladder it had cost him so much to climb. The cost had been chiefly her own, Bertie Lou reflected. But could Rod be such a poor fish that he regretted losing Lila? Couldn't he see, since Lila had not been turned out by Cyrus, along with him, that she preferred her rich husband to a poor lover? She must somehow have put all the blame on Rod, and managed to convince Cyrus of her own innocence. Bertie Lou despised Rod at the moment she told herself these things. She despised him, but still she "pitted" him. And the next day she telephoned to his landlady, as a matter of form, and made a few inquiries about him. All that she could learn was that he was a satisfactory tenant.

WHATSOEVER it was that she hoped for from Rod's presence in her house failed to materialize, however. She couldn't bring herself to go to him. Weeks went by, and she was facing the necessity of having Bertie Lou tell him he would have to go when Bertie Lou returned from a visit to the cottage with the report that the caretaker had entertained a lady friend. "I asked him if he had hired a woman to come in and clean house for him," she told Bertie Lou, "just to make sure I didn't get him wrong. He said no, he'd done the housekeeping himself. Then I sort of pumped him to see if he would open up and admit that someone had been there. He told me he hadn't any family in the East, but that's about all I could get out of him. Say, Bertie Lou, is this guy straight?" Bertie Lou looked at her, speechless with the misery that welled into her throat. Of course Rod didn't know that it was their house, their little house of dreams. He was at liberty to have callers if he wished. . . . only, from something Bertie Lou said and the way she looked when she said it, Bertie Lou had a sickening impression. "What makes you so sure that a woman was there?" she countered to Bertie Lou's question about Rod. "Well, I guess Mr. Brown doesn't wear gold hairpins," Bertie answered shortly. Brown was the name Rod had taken at the time of his last change of address. Despite his belief that Lila would not seek him out in a humble abode, she had done so. Rod had gone to Tom Fraser to ask his permission to give his name as reference when at last he found it almost impossible to obtain a position without one. Tom had asked for his address, and Molly had given it to Lila when the latter said she had a personal matter to take up with him. Molly had a healthy suspicion of the nature of Lila's "personal matter," but she was too desirous of pleasing the wife of an influential man like Cyrus Loree to refuse the address, although she did wish she hadn't mentioned that it was in Tom's possession.

CHAPTER XLIV "WELL, that is the condition?" Bertie asked Rod in reply to his statement that he would accept the job at the cottage on one condition. "Simply that I shall be at liberty to quit whenever I choose," he explained. "And I'll agree that the owner may discharge me without notice." Bertie hesitated. "I haven't the slightest idea whether or not I can endure living here alone," Rod went on, but he did not add that his doubt was inspired by the fact that the cottage reminded him so much of Bertie Lou. Bertie had decided that Bertie Lou would want her to meet his terms. "I'm sure that will be all right with the owner," she said. "He wants you to leave your address and the name of someone we can ask about you." She smiled in friendly fashion, but Rod did not return the smile. "I've no references," he said shortly, "but I've lived for several weeks at my present address. You may inquire about me there if you wish."

"Well, of course, it's a funny way to go business," Bertie declared, "but if you've just come to town—" That was an explanation for his lack of references that she brought out in order to make Rod believe she assumed it to be the real one. It wouldn't do to let him suspect that she had hired a woman to come in and clean house for him, she told Bertie Lou, "just to make sure I didn't get him wrong. He said no, he'd done the housekeeping himself. Then I sort of pumped him to see if he would open up and admit that someone had been there. He told me he hadn't any family in the East, but

THIS time Lila had found Rod at home. She looked around his poorly furnished room with an open sneer upon her skillfully colored lips. "This isn't necessary," she said, ignoring the lack of a welcome and the fact that Rod stood and did not offer her a chair. "Cyrus will take you back," she added after waiting in vain for Rod to answer her remark. "Don't waste your time," he told her then. Lila moved nearer to him. "Are you going down to the gutter before you decide to take life as you find it?" she asked tensely. "Perhaps, but not with you," Rod said levelly. Lila drew back a little and the next instant Rod had a feeling that she would need but little prompting to tear him to pieces if she could. It was just after this visit from Lila that he was served with the papers in Bertie Lou's divorce action, and lost the position Tom's reference had helped him to get. His newborn ambition had died then and he did not seek anyone's help in getting work. He took what he could get. And changed his name to Brown. And it was of Brown that Bertie Lou reported, with not the faintest glimmering of suspicion that he was Bertie Lou's husband. She did guess that he was more to her friend than merely "a young man I used to know," however, and Bertie wasn't going to see him put anything over on Bertie Lou. So she told what she knew. He had a woman visitor in Bertie Lou's house. (To Be Continued)

Normal School Fund

One of the accomplishments of the Moody administration is to make possible the re-establishment of the per capita apportionment for the public schools on the $14 basis.

The State Board of Education has just set aside an apportionment of $15 for each school child. Comptroller S. H. Terrell says there is $23,500,000 available for the schools, or enough to make $16 per child had not the 40th legislature limited the sum to $15.

The state department reveals that Texas has an enrollment of 1,401,374 school children, or 31,000 more than last year. The substantial growth Texas is enjoying is indicated in this large increase over graduation or withdrawals.

The apportionment, however, is still too small to place small schools on a sound basis. The Texas Outlook, an educational journal suggests that a $24 apportionment per capita would be about right.

The Outlook is sponsoring these other school improvements:

- 1. Curricula that meets the social and economic demands of the times.
2. A tenure law that will improve the efficiency of the teachers.
3. Equal and uniform taxation.
4. A teachers' retirement system that is both fair to the teacher and helpful to the community.
5. Equal pay for equal work.

6. All-year schools in communities where there are 400 students or more.
These mainly are definitions, and the details are as apt to be worked out in one community as another. A community should study its schools. They are far from perfect.

West Texas Libeled?

While West Texas is fighting for recognition on its true merits, a Metro-Goldwyn-Mey release starring Lillian Gish is being booked for showing over the entire country. With a setting laid in Sweetwater, it has possibilities for either helping or damaging this section.

Of the many good pictures being contracted for by Pampa's two theatres, this one should stand out, regardless of its merits. It has been booked by the Rex, but the time of showing is not yet known. The picture was completed several months ago and has been seen in a few key cities of the East. It is "The Wind," taken from Dorothy Scarborough's book of the same title.

The local theatres are getting many of the best releases ahead of many larger cities, a fact worthy of mention regardless of one's opinion of movies in general. And it is to be hoped that the winter vaudeville here will take similar rank with the larger cities of the Southwest. Entertainment is such a necessity that it should be the best obtainable.

TWINKLES

Twink wishes to record that Ewing Leech attended the Lions meeting in White Deer Tuesday night—in fact, he rode with us. Somehow the fact didn't get into print, and as we value his friendship, we hasten to make amends. Also he is tax assessor and we always did like to do good turns for holders of that office.

Those who have put much money in Pampa property are, in some cases, rather reticent about giving to causes to boost the city. It sounds like poor logic; we are confident of the future of this city, but that confidence is based more on the progressiveness of the citizens than upon the material resources.

The "Greater Rockford" seems as staunch as the socks for which it must be named.

Success is erratic, and if often taught by those who do not possess it.

Few things are profound when analyzed, but merit is not confined to the sublime. A symphony is soon over, but its attuning melodies ripple on through the mind and soul.

What many people succeed in doing must not be too hard. And many achieve greatness, as people measure the quality.

The echo of responses to human kindness is often more worthy than the first reaction.

CAPITOL News

By RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—When the Seventy-first Congress convenes, it appears probable that Robert M. LaFollette will still be the youngest man in the Senate.

Reports from Wisconsin indicate that the regular Republicans, or "stalwarts," have little hopes of defeating him for renomination in the primary on September 4.

LaFollette is only 33 years old and his political enemies have undertaken to use the fact against him. It's a man's job, they say, and now that the state has paid him the compliment of allowing him to serve out his late father's term, it ought to remember that Ygno Bob is just a boy and hasn't really out any figure on Congress.

But Young Bob's friends are predicting that he will win three to one.

His opponent for the nomination is George W. Mead, millionaire mayor of Wisconsin Rapids and president of a water power company and a paper company. LaFollette appears to be so assured of his own renomination that he is devoting most of his time toward the nomination of Congressman Joseph D. Beck, one of the old LaFollette progressives for governor.

The LaFollette ticket is engaged in the bitterest sort of a struggle with the electric power interests, which are reported to be spending a wad of money for their candidates. Sam Insull's companies own about 80 per cent of the public utilities and water power in Wisconsin. The fight between the power interests and their allies and the progressives has come to center on the gubernatorial fight. The former believe that it is more important for them to win this than to defeat Young Bob.

Beck is opposed by Governor Fred R. Zimmerman and by Walter J. Kohler, the millionaire manufacturer of bathroom fixtures, of Kohler, Wis., who is supported by National committeeman George Vils.

The LaFolletteites believe the division of the opposition is an advantage to Beck. They expect Zimmerman, who was elected on a LaFollette progressive platform but was inimical to the group now led by LaFollette and Beck, to run third.

Zimmerman has been endorsed by the anti-saloon league. Beck is for Volstead Act modification permitting light wines and beer and Kohler is taking a middle ground on prohibition. Backed by the power interests, and leading power interests, and the leading manufacturers and bankers, Kohler is demanding a business government and a recovery from the disgrace into which he says Zimmerman has plunged the state.

Beck is stumping the state on the power issue. The progressive purpose a change of laws and a constitutional amendment which will permit municipalities to construct and operate their own public utilities without interference. As it is, individual cities are unable to launch public utility programs of their own and so offer competition to privately owned plants.

CHURCH PREPARES FOR REVIVAL

"Necessity is the mother of invention." Nothing is done by accident that is worth while. A job is half done where proper preparation is made for it. We are glad to know that so many have been busy in preparing for this revival which is to begin Sunday. We want all to know that they are not only welcome, but they are invited to attend these meetings. They are for you and we hope you may be in a position to make the best of the opportunity.

"They are so friendly" is a common expression heard from those who have visited our meetings. We rejoice that this is a friendly spirit. The greatest effort will be made to preach only those things authorized by the Lord. People are tired of guesses. They only bewilder and entangle the soul. The word of God is the final word. Why not get it without spending time with the other and losing much of that which is of worth?

We ask you to come and be with us from the first to the last. Only ten sermons to be preached, at 8 o'clock each evening, Sunday morning sermons will begin promptly at 7 o'clock.

LOVE FOR TWO
RUTH DEWEY GROVES © 1928 By NEA Service Inc.

THIS HAS HAPPENED
BERTIE LOU and ROD BYER are happily married, until LILA BURKE tries to separate them. For months she works to arouse Rod's interest in her while she plots her scheme to get him out of Bertie Lou's hands.

They would turn over the house to an uninvited stranger. Rod let it pass. If they wanted to investigate him, let them. It was an absurd thing, anyhow, his taking such a job. He didn't really know why he did it, except that the opportunity for some physical effort appealed to him.

That's about all I could get out of him. Say, Bertie Lou, is this guy straight? Bertie Lou looked at her, speechless with the misery that welled into her throat. Of course Rod didn't know that it was their house, their little house of dreams. He was at liberty to dress callers if he wished. . . . only from something Bessie said and the way she looked when she said it, Bertie Lou had a sickening impression.

When Bessie repeated his request to Bertie Lou the latter smiled. But the smile was strained when Bessie informed her of Rod's conditional acceptance. "He's afraid maybe he won't like the simple life," Bessie added, using her own words. Into Bertie Lou's mind flashed an interpretation that killed a little of her pity for Rod.

CHAPTER XLIV
"WELL, that is the condition?" Bessie asked Rod in reply to his statement that he would accept the job at the cottage on one condition. "Simply that I shall be at liberty to quit whenever I choose," he explained. "And I'll agree that the owner may discharge me without notice."

She despised him, but still she "pitted" him. And the next day she telephoned to his landlady, as a matter of form, and made a few inquiries about him. All that she could learn was that he was a satisfactory tenant.

WHAT evening Bessie called him and announced to him that his references were O. K. He could have the job if he wanted it, and when would he go out? Rod replied that he would be at the cottage the next morning.

That was just after this visit from Lila that he was served with the papers in Bertie Lou's divorce action, and lost the position Tom's reference had helped him to get. His newborn ambition had died then and he did not seek anyone's help in getting work. He took what he could get. And changed his name to Brown.

Another Italian Flier, Del Prete, Dies of Injuries

ROME, Aug. 17.—(AP)—News was received in Rome of the death of Major Carlo P. Del Prete, injured in Brazil after a non-stop flight from Rome to South America. Major Del Prete had his right leg amputated in Rio Janeiro yesterday, and according to word received here this operation was followed by a high temperature and fast pulse.

There was general mourning that such a magnificent flight should have ended in tragedy so soon after General Umberto Noble's fatal polar trip.

Woman Believed Taken for Ride By Chicago Gang

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Vengeance guns of the gangs, ever drawn against betrayers, appeared today to have been turned for the first time in years against a woman.

Police could not be sure that the woman whose body was found in a ditch near Crown Point, Ind., yesterday, was involved in Chicago gangster intrigue for identification was lacking early today. Their theory was the woman was Adeline Zaccardo, "girl friend" of Angelo Francisco, whose body was found early this week in the abandoned automobile which five men had used in the robbery of the West McHenry State bank.

If it were Miss Zaccardo, the killing could be explained on the theory that she "knew too much," according to officers.

Daniels Urges Use of Federal Employs to Aid Pro Work

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Enlistment of every federal employe as an aid to prohibition enforcement officers in detecting violators is advocated by Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy under President Wilson.

"If a president wants to enforce the law every man he appoints to office ought to be told: 'You must enforce the laws of this country and not wink at violations,'" he said in charging prohibition enforcement had never had a fair trial under the Republican administration.

"Of course I would not stop a naval battle to take up the chase of a rum runner," he continued, "or put the Navy as a whole into prohibition enforcement. But if a naval aviator sees the law disobeyed let him report it. Every customs officer on the border ought to be on the lookout for liquor importation. Every federal employe should be told: 'You must do your job first but incidentally if you find anything wrong going on you must report it.'"

New Mexico Boy Reaches Superior

SUPERIOR, Wis., Aug. 17.—(AP)—Boyd Jones, 14-year-old high school boy of Gallup, N. M., who has been spending the last two months in the saddle riding from his home town to the Summer White House to meet President Coolidge reached the end of his 1,600-mile journey today.

Astride of Molly, his 5-year-old Indian bay mare, and dressed in the brightest cowboy outfit ever seen in the head of the Lakes region, topped by a ten-gallon hat, Boyd Jones was to ride up to the executive offices to invite President Coolidge to the Gallup Inter-tribal Indian ceremonial at the end of this month.

Priest, Clothing Afire, Gives Rites As Boat Burns

NORTH BAY, Ont., Aug. 17.—(AP)—How a parish priest, blinded by fire, his clothes ablaze, stood on his burning launch in Lake Lavigne and, crucifix in hand, granted absolution to five others of his faith before they plunged into the water has been told by the sole survivors of the tragedy.

The Priest, Father J. B. Dubuc, although a powerful swimmer, was drowned attempting to save the lives of others of his party.

The dramatic story of the tragedy was related by Albert Lafreniere, who with his wife and two children, Father Dubuc and Miss Leonie Sylvestre set out Wednesday night for a cruise around the lake, after a picnic at which they had been the priest's guests.

They had proceeded a mile up the lake when a backfire from the engine ignited gasoline. The gasoline tank exploded.

Calming his guests as the flames crackled around them, Father Dubuc calmly recited the ritual of his church, and then said: "There is nothing else to do; We must jump into the water."

AUSTIN MAN AND BOY LOSE LIVES IN FIRE

AUSTIN, Aug. 17.—(AP)—No explanation was apparent today for a residence fire in which Jesse C. Maners, 55-year-old wagon checker, and Forest Edward Hooker, his three-year-old grandson, were burned to death shortly after midnight.

There were no electric lights in the house.

Maners lost his life trying to recover the body of the child.

Hoover Stops at Santa Barbara on His Way Eastward

ABOARD HOOVER TRAIN, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover tarried for a while today in the southern part of his home state before heading eastward for the supreme battle of a career that has carried him from a poor country boy's estate to a Republican presidential nomination.

With little more than time to say hail and farewell to each, Hoover had arranged to visit six California cities between early morning and late evening, with one prepared address on the steps of the city hall in Los Angeles in response to the welcome of Mayor George E. Cryer, and the people of the city.

Santa Barbara, one of the oldest and most beautiful of California cities claimed him first.

WOMAN AMONG MEN WHO ROBBED A SAFE

DALLAS, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Dallas officers today searched for a gang of safe robbers who broke into offices of the Electric Express company at Sherman last night and carried of a safe containing between $600 and $700.

Reports from Sherman indicated that the gang, composed of five men and a woman, were headed for Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Brown and three sons Alfred, Archie and Carl returned Wednesday from a vacation trip in Upshur county with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Brown and family and other relations. They report having had an enjoyable time, but the weather was exceedingly warm.

Pampa Grays to Meet All-Stars In Exhibition Game

Pampa's baseball fans are to have an opportunity to see the team representing the city at the Amarillo tournament commencing Sunday afternoon in action tomorrow night at the Magnolia field promptly at 3:30 o'clock. The Grays will meet an all-star team from the Industrial league, managed by Duffy Jones of the Roxana team.

In the absence of Ed Gober, who will be in Amarillo drawing for place in the tournament, Tom Clayton, veteran catcher of the Grays, will handle the tournament team. Five players from the Hollis, Okla. team will be here tomorrow afternoon and the other boys will arrive in the morning.

Admission of 25 cents will be charged to help defray the club's expenses at the tournament.

A large crowd is expected to be on hand to look over the material Gober has chosen to represent Pampa in the tournament.

Senator Curtis Is Feeling Fine for Campaign Work

TOPEKA, Kas., Aug. 17.—(AP)—His 68 years well seasoned by the sun and winds of the western plains, Senator Curtis of Kansas has given a ready assent to the call of his party for that heavy role of campaign "stumping" on which it usually relies in its vice-presidential candidate.

Tomorrow Senator Curtis will be notified of his nomination by the Republicans for vice-president. Sunday he will set forth on the campaign and his first trip carries the veteran half way across the continent. He will be "riding the rails" much of the time from then until election day in November on a trail that will lead first to the east, thence South, and finally back into his homeland in the Middle West and Northwest.

Mrs. Marvin Lewis went to Canadian today for a visit of several days with her mother, Mrs. R. D. Wiggins.

Mrs. A. R. Harotson of Denver arrived yesterday to visit her parents, Mr and Mrs. J. E. Ward.

25 Harvesters Will Leave Monday for Football Training

Twenty-five strong, the Pampa Harvesters are expecting some keen skin-teaming, will leave here Monday morning at 7 o'clock for Craterville Park Okla. for a ten-day training period.

Coach Odus Mitchell will take the boys to camp. He expects them to derive a great benefit from the trip.

The boys are enthusiastic about the trip and at a meeting last night at the high school expressed themselves as ready to go and train hard.

There will be five other high school teams at Craterville Park and the Harvesters are expecting some keen skirmishes before they return to Pampa.

Coach Mitchell made the boys a short talk last night, stressing the importance of teamwork, condition, and co-operation.

We are not going to be satisfied with less than a bi-district championship this year and overconfidence will never get you that far, so don't be overconfident no matter how good the team is going," the coach wound up.

Fort Worth Cats Finally Beat the Terrible Spuders

Perseverance turned the trick yesterday, the Fort Worth Cats stopping what had appeared to be the never ending winning complex of Wichita Falls and cutting that team's lead to eight games.

The Spuders hit Walkup 11 times while Fort Worth got but nine, but the Panthers were at hand when needed and Wichita Falls was prevented—3 to 1—from taking its 18th straight game.

Meanwhile, Shreveport continued a victory run. They beat Dallas 3-2 to record the 11th consecutive win.

Houston, tumbled from first place recently and now holding second by one game, lost 7 to 4 to San Antonio while seven Buffs were ejected from the park by an indignant umpire.

Sears hoisted one into outer darkness over the fence and Waco beat Beaumont 9 to 7.

Bolstered by five members of the Hollis, Okla., team, the Pampa Grays "stack up" the strongest contenders in the Amarillo tournament to open Sunday afternoon.

All five of the players, who will arrive here tomorrow afternoon, played in the tournament last year. Lone Wolf is also contributing a man and Mangum and Comar the other imported players.

The Phillies mistook before the Athletics in Cincinnati. Before this impression was corrected they had piled up twenty-two hits to win for an even break on the four game series.

Hoyt turned in a strong game against the White Sox to gather his fifteen victory.

Desperate after two defeats by the Tigers, the millions of McGillicuddy, otherwise known as the House of Mack, wreaked handsome revenge on George Moriarty's forces yesterday on the tune of 18 to 8.

Cleveland rallied to sweep the series against the Red Sox in a groggy 10-to-4 game, and the Senators fell before the Browns, 7 to 2, in a seven-inning brawl, halted by rain.

Wrecking Nines Give Trouble to League Leaders

Major league contenders are finding it difficult to pull away from one another, with the Braves and the Phillies plunging into their annual fall wrecking campaign ahead of schedule.

The Cardinals had a grand opportunity to do something handsome for themselves when the Giants lost again in Chicago yesterday, but the humble Braves were in there pummeling the Cards, this combination of events left the margin of the St. Louis team still three and one-half games as the clan McGraw moved into the Mound City for a three-day crucial series.

The simultaneous recovery of the Yankees and the Athletics from a two-day slump found both teams winning with room to spare.

With Lance Richbourg gone mad with his bat, the Braves found the Cardinals a comparatively simple proposition in a game which ended 9 to 4 in favor of Boston.

Nehf gave signs from the start that he was in no mood to brook defeat, and ended with his third Giant scalp of the season after Aldridge and Walker had failed.

The Phillies mistook before the Athletics in Cincinnati. Before this impression was corrected they had piled up twenty-two hits to win for an even break on the four game series.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: Paul Carries the Gospel Into Europe.

Scripture Lesson: Acts 16: 9-15.
9. And a vision appeared to Paul in the night: There was a man of Macedonia standing, beseeching him, and saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us.

10. And when he had seen the vision, straightway we sought to go forth into Macedonia, concluding that God had called us to preach the gospel unto them.

11. Setting sail therefore from Troas, we made a straight course to Samothrace, and the day following to Neapolis;

12. And from thence to Philippi, which is a city of Macedonia, the first in the district, a Roman colony; and we were in this city tarrying certain days.

13. And on the Sabbath day we went forth without the gate by the river side, where we supposed there was a place of prayer; and we sat down, and spake unto the women that were come together.

14. And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, one that worshipped God, heard us: Whose heart the Lord opened to give heed unto the things which were spoken by Paul.

15. And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained us.

Time: Paul's second missionary journey was begun in the spring of A. D. 50.

Place—From Antioch in a circuit of Syria and Cilicia; thence westward, visiting Derbe, Lystra, Iconium, Antioch of Pisidia, and other cities; thence northward to Troas and by sea to Neapolis, and then by land to Philippi.

Golden Text: Come over into Macedonia, and help us. Acts 16:9.

Introduction
"In his first journey Paul may be said to have been only trying his wings; for his course, adventurous though it was, only swept in a limited circle around his native province. In his second journey he performed a far more distant and perilous flight. Indeed, this journey was not only the greatest he achieved, but perhaps the most momentous recorded in the annals of the human race. In its issues it far outvalued the expedition of Alexander the Great when he carried the arms and civilization of Greece into the heart of Asia, or that of Caesar when he landed on the shores of Britian, or even the voyage of Columbus when he discovered the new world. Yet, when he set out on it, he had no idea of the magnitude it was to assume or even the direction which it was to take."

Paul and Barnabas Separate.
Vs. 37-40
On the second missionary journey Barnabas wished to take with them his nephew, John Mark, as they had on their first journey, and Paul emphatically refused. He could not forget that Mark had turned back in Pamphylia and returned to Jerusalem, leaving the older men to face dangers alone. His gentle uncle was glad to forgive him, and saw in him the promise of much usefulness; but Paul was of sterner stuff. He would not jeopardize the important enterprise with a faint-hearted assistant. There was a sharp dispute. The two great missionaries parted, never to work together again. Both were right, from different viewpoints.

The Reconciliation
The estrangement between Paul and Barnabas was not permanent; their souls were too large for that. Paul refers to Barnabas several times, in three letters. As to Mark, he proved himself with Barnabas and then became the helper of Peter, who probably dictated to him the second gospel. Paul came to recognize his worth, and in Philemon 24 called him a "fellow worker," while in 2 Tim. 4:11 he asked Timothy to bring Mark with him to Rome, adding, "for he is useful to me in ministering," the very work which he had abandoned in Pamphylia.

Timothy Joins Paul's Party
Paul and Silas came first to Derbe and then went on to Lystra, where on his first visit the people had tried to offer sacrifices to Paul and Barnabas as gods and where later Paul had been stoned. Here Paul's little party gained a notable addition in Timothy, a noble young man who from that time became to Paul as a dearly loved son (1 Tim. 1:18 Tom. 1:2) Timothy enjoyed a fine reputation both in Lystra and in the neighboring city of Iconium. He had probably learned of Christianity at Paul's former visit. His mother was a Jewess name Eunice, who, with his grandmother, Lois, was a woman of "unfeigned faith" (2 Tim. 1:5), who had brought up the boy in the knowledge of the Bible (2 Tim 3:14, 15). With the help of Timothy, Paul and Silas labored most successfully throughout the great interior province of Phrygia and Galatia, strengthening the churches in the Christian faith and every day adding to the numbers of Christians.

Paul's Vision, v. 9.
"And a vision appeared to Paul in the night." The Acts is full of visions: That to Ananias, Acts 9:10-16; that to Cornelius in Caesarea, Acts 10: 1-6; that to Peter on the housetop at Joppa, Acts 10: 9-16, this vision to Paul; another to Paul in Corinth and another to Paul on shipboard. It was even as Peter in his sermon at Pentecost had said it would be quoting from the prophet Joel (Acts 2:17): "Your young men shall see visions." In the quiet of the night men's minds are clear, and God often speaks most definitely to his children in the hours of darkness.

The Macedonian Call, v. 9
"There was a man of Macedonia standing." Macedonia was the portion of Greece lying north of Achaia. It was the home land of Alexander. During the world war it was the scene of very important events. It was the country nearest Troas across the Aegean Sea. It is thought that Luke himself, the writer of the third Gospel and of the Acts, Paul's physician, was from Macedonia, probably from Philippi, and that he had been urging Paul to visit his country, but Paul had been that case Luke was the "man of Macedonia." "Beseeching him, and saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us." Paul must have been a most helpful man when even his dreams were of helping people. That sense of the world's great missionary he was.

Luke Joins Paul's Company

"And when he had seen the vision, straight way we sought to go forth into Macedonia." This is the first of the "we" passages in the Acts, showing that Luke, the writer of the book, it at that point relating experiences in which he himself shared. He evidently joined Paul's party at Troas, being in the city either permanent or on a visit. "Concluding that God had called us to preach the gospel unto them." "Concluding" represents a Greek word implying careful thought. They did not jump at conclusions, but made up their minds in view of all the circumstances. "When called to go and help the Macedonians, they decided to preach the gospel to them. They knew that, whatever the need, nothing meets it like the good news of salvation which Christ brought to the world.

Paul Comes to Philippi.
v. 12

"And from thence to Philippi." Philippi was the chief city in that part of Macedonia, thorough Amphipolis was the capital. By the battle of Philippi, in which the Imperialists, Octavianus Caesar and Mark Antony defeated the Republicans under Cassius and Brutus, Augustus was made emperor of Rome. As a mark of gratitude, in A. D. 42 he made the city a Roman "colony." The "colonists" marched out from Rome like an army with banners, and, settling in Philippi, set up there a miniature Rome, maintaining their Roman citizenship, using the Roman coins and the Latin language and accepting chief magistrates sent out from the mother city. "A Certain Woman Named Lydia." v. 14

She may have been named Lydia by her parents, or she may have been so called because she came from the province of Lydia in Asia Minor. "Of the city of Thyatira." Thyatira was in Lydia, the central division of "Asia" the seacoast of Asia Minor. It was one of the "seven churches in Asia" to which John was commissioned to write (Rev. 2:18-29. "One that worshiped God, heard us." This description asserts that Lydia was a proselyte to Judaism. Having already reached out and taken the best religion available, she was ready and eager for still more light. "Whose heart the Lord opened to give heed unto the things which were spoken by Paul." The Lord who had called Paul to preach in Philippi opened the heart of his first convert to receive his preaching.

Missions the True Ideal

Christ's ideal for his church was that it should go forth into all the world and bring all the world to the foot of the cross. But here nearly two thousand years have passed, and how far are we from reaching all the world with the gospel. We have been merely playing at missions. Missions should be the one aim of the Christian church.

The Present Macedonian Cry

At the close of the World War the Macedonian vision was facing the other way. It was the East calling to the West, Europe pleading with America to come over and help them. Hunger and nakedness, moral defeat, spiritual impoverishment called for strong, brave friendly souls from America. It was as appealing as the vision of Troas, and the Church in America answered, and still answers, with our orphanages, schools, churches, and missionaries, both in Europe and in the Near East. But can we of rich and prosperous America say we have not been disobedient to the heavenly vision?

Hundred Million Feet of Gas Is Carried in Line

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., August 17.—(Special)—Considerable preliminary progress has been made on the construction of the Higgins, Texas, and Corwin, Kansas compressor stations of the Cities Service Gas company, plans for the erection of which were announced a few weeks ago.

Construction crews are being organized at Higgins and at present about 12 teams, 10 trucks and 100 men are engaged in breaking ground for the main compression building. This station will have a total capacity of 5,000 horsepower and the Cooper units—five 1,000 H. P. twin-tandem, double-acting gas engines—auxiliary equipment and all miscellaneous material have been ordered. The station will be located about 12 miles from Higgins, Texas, where all material will be unloaded and hauled to the site. The Corwin compressor station will be located about 2 miles from Corwin, Kansas, and will have a capacity of 5,000 horsepower identical in make and design as the equipment at Higgins.

Work will also start in the near future on the installation of additional equipment at the Mooreland, Oklahoma, and Pampa, Texas, compressor stations, each which will be enlarged by a 1,000 horsepower Cooper unit.

With the completion of the present enlargement program, the six compressor stations along the 26-inch Pampa to Ottawa natural gas line will have a total capacity of 27,000 horsepower and will be able to deliver between 90,000,000 and 100,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

Insurance Men Take Own Advice

HOUSTON, Aug. 17.—(Special)—While some restaurant owners do not eat all their meals at home, legend tells us that a shoemaker always wears footgear with run-down heels and holes in the soles.

But insurance men, at least those in Houston, are not that kind. They believe in their wares to such an extent that seven of them carry insurance policies totaling $940,600. W. T. Callaway index of insurance policies show.

The largest policy holder in the group is L. S. Adams with $205,600. Other Houston insurance men who are insured for $100,000 or more are A. C. (Tex) Bayless, $300,000, James H. Shively, $125,000; James Cravens, $110,000; and Kemp S. Dargan, Burke Baker, and Ed. D. Shepherd, $100,000 each.

The faith of these insurance men in their business probably has had an effect on Houstonians, for the heaviest insured man in Texas is J. M. West, Houston capitalist, who carries policies worth $1,453,500.

Dallas claims the next two heaviest insured men, Chester L. Jones carrying $1,250,000 and Clarence E. Linn $1,036,000. Jesse Jones, Houston capitalist who was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the presidency, is next with policies totaling $1,025,000. These are the only four men in the state who have $1,000,000 or more in insurance.

Attention, Parents!

Saturday, August 18, we will begin our regular annual Eye Examination and Vision Survey of School Children's Eyes.

Millions of young people quit school early because of some physical handicap; millions of others are retarded in their school work, finally graduating with indifferent grades, illly equipped for the battle of life.

These two types become recruits in the great army of misfits—square pegs in round holes—the cause of much of this world's misery. Retarded students retard the work of the entire class and indeed of the whole school, adding immensely to the work of the teacher, thus adding to the burden of the taxpayers. The physically defective child is a burden to the community.

The testing of children's eyes by nurse or teacher is of limited value.

A child might be able to read every letter on the test chart and yet be suffering from nervous exhaustion, due to eye strain. Such cases usually escape the notice of nurse or teacher, and yet they are the ones in greatest need of relief.

WE ARE THOROUGHLY PREPARED WITH SPECIAL EQUIPMENT FOR THE CARE OF SCHOOL CHILDREN'S EYES, and will appreciate it very much if you will bring the children in during the month of August, and thereby relieve the rush which is usual the first part of September.

Indicted Husband Says Wife Killed By Mule's Kick

BENJAMIN, Aug. 17.—(P)—Melvin Cooksie, farmer, was indicted for murder in the death of his wife, 19, by the Knox county grand jury here Thursday. The indictment was returned after three day's investigation of circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Cooksie, who was killed May 16. Cooksie, who had been at liberty under $7,000 bond since his wife's death, did not appear to answer the indictment but his attorney, B. J. Brooker, promised that his client would return to jail today. Cooksie declared his wife died after being kicked by a mule. After physicians had examined the body, however, officers were called and Cooksie placed under arrest.

From Spartanburg, S. C., Shvill and Tyron, N. C., and Macon and Quitman, Ga., came reports of flood conditions equalling or surpassing any in the history of the affected sections.

Prof. Condron Made Dean of Men at Teachers College

CANYON, August 17.—Stewart H. Condron, who is now instructor of History in the West Texas State Teachers college is the recently selected dean of men of the college for the fall term of '28. Mr. Condron will hold this position during the absence of Harris M. Cook, regular dean of men, who will be in Peabody College for further study.

Mr. Condron came to the College as history instructor in the fall of '27. In the one year which he has been connected with the college he has made a definite place for himself in the faculty and in the student body. He stands ready and willing to help on any and every occasion. During the summer term of school he has been sponsor of the Fraternity Council and has been instrumental in helping them to carry on their useful work of the summer.

Mr. Condron was Dean of Clarendon College for a number of years and was a general favorite with the students of that college. He received his B. A. degree from Southwestern University and his M. A. from Texas University. He has had some additional work in the University of Colorado.

ANOTHER GOLD RUSH!

WICHITA, Kas., August 17.—(P)—An automobile caravan of modern prospectors on a quest for gold was speeding westward from Wichita toward an obscure canyon in New Mexico, the Wichita Eagle said. The party was headed by F. O. Benoit of Wichita, who said he had found a secret entrance to a canyon rich in mineral resources in the Adams diggings, about 80 miles from Aragon, N. M., but had been warned by an aged recluse living there not to return.

I'M BRAGGING AGAIN!

I Can't Hold the News Inside of Me Any Longer!

It must come out. I know it seems well to be bashful and modest. But somehow, I don't know how to be that nice. I just must tell you about my wonderful new business if what I say sounds like bragging again."

Throughout the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific my new business is flourishing and expanding like no other business has ever done before. How can a fellow keep from "bragging again" when so much prosperity is flowing down the very road that he is traveling?

MAYBE YOU WOULD BE BASHFUL AND MODEST ABOUT IT, BUT MAYBE ALSO SOMETHING ELSE IF IT WERE YOU ALL THE WAY THROUGH AND NOT 'SOLE OWNER' HIMSELF.
