Shamrock Is Selected as Host to 1929 District Chamber Meeting

SESSION HERE FEATURED BY ROAD TALKS

President Bourland Has Doubts About
Proposal

DIFFERS WITH JUDGE ELY

Resolution Adopted
With Opposition to Higher Oil Tax

After overwhelmingly selecting Shamrock for the 1929 meeting place and passing resolutions complimentary to W. T. C. C. and Pampa, its host city, the Panhandle North Plains district chamber of commerce adjourned yesterday afternoon hereafter was the only other contending city.

In a session given much to discussion of good roads, delegates attached much significance to the differences of opinion expressed by Highway Commissioner W. R. Ely and President Andy Bourland of W. T. C. C. Mr. Ely is committed to the Sterling plan which includes a statewide bond issue likely to be financed by higher gasoline tax, and in which road building would be taken out of the hands of counties entirely. Mr. Bourland said he is not "sold" on this idea, for several reasons.

Favoritism Feared
He opposes placing the burden for road building entirely upon the oil industry, especially since it is being proposed that counties which already have paved roads be reimbursed for their expense. He believes this would make West Texas, with its oil, pay for roads nearly worn out and needing replacement. He furthermore fears the favoritism, sectional and political, which might arise when counties no longer could influence routes and programs.

Mr. Bourland spoke merely as an individual, since the official action of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be determined by the directors, who are now balloting by mail on the Clarence Ousley plan, described as similar to the Sterling plan but more thorough-going in its provisions.

Resolutions Similar
Clearly in sympathy with the Bourland attitude on highway policy, the convention here adopted a resolution favoring a "practical and just plan of financing the highway department without placing any undue burden upon any commodity or upon any business."

At noon the body went on record as congratulating Col. R. Q. Lee of Cisco, former president of W. T. C. C. for having won his political campaign without resort to personalities.

The resolutions, framed by a committee, are as follows:

Two Boys Found Beaten to Death in Their Cabin

BECKENRIDGE, Sept. 11—(P)—Lucius Shook, 25, and his brother, Leon, 19, were found dead today near their cabin about 18 miles from here. The two boys had been shot to death, the older brother twice through the body. They apparently had been dead for several days.

Both bodies were badly bruised and swollen from a beating the elder Shook's head was bent to a pulp and his features hardly were recognizable. The bodies were taken to Eastland, where a sister lives.

Lucius Shook had been working on an oil lease of the Braden Oil company for several months. His young brother had been visiting him only a few days.

Officers had no clue to the slayer.

Young 'Jawn' Reports to First Job Before Clock

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 11—(P)—John Coolidge son of President Calvin Coolidge, today entered upon his career as a railroad man by reporting for duty ahead of schedule. It was 8:20 last minutes ahead of reporting time when he came to the "yellow building," the roomy structure which houses the heads of departments of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad system.

To the hundreds of clerks was added John Coolidge, and his identity for a time will be submerged, from the viewpoint of the railroad, into the clerical force. He will be one of the clerks in the office of J. A. Droegge general manager of the New Haven system, whose office is the heart of train operations in all southern New England.

He reported at once to the chief clerk in Mr. Droegge's office. His first duties will be of a routine nature.

The son of the president will live at the Yale graduates club.

His assignment places him in the heart of the operating system and only 25 miles from the home of Miss Florence Trumbull, daughter of the governor of Connecticut. As the young lady expressed it, they have an "understanding."

Crude Production in Nation Increases By 8,086 Barrels

TULSA, Sept. 11—(P)—Despite noticeable decreases in daily production in Gulf Coast, Southwest Texas, Texas Panhandle, and East Central Texas oil fields in both heat and light oils during the week ending September 8, relatively large increases in other fields all over the United States made up the deficit and brought total increase of 8,086 barrels over daily production in the week ending September 1, according to current report of the Oil and Gas Journal.

In Oklahoma fields during the week an increase of 2,548 barrels were reported. The total of 705,850 barrels, however is 5,850 more than will be allowed by the conservation program in effect Monday, September 1, according to the state reposition commission. Seminole field in Oklahoma fell short during the week by 4,635 barrels.

West Texas area increased 6,039 barrels. The total Mid-Continent area increased 8,888 barrels.

Total daily production for the United States during the week was estimated at 2,503,832 barrels.

The Repairman

The repairman plays an important role in everyone's life. We never give him much thought until we want him very much, and then it's ten to one we don't know where to find him.

In order that everyone will know where to find the particular repairman that they want the Daily News will carry an alphabetical list of the best repairmen twice a week. This new service will start in Monday's edition.

Steel for Schools Is Delayed Slightly

Work on Pampa's two ward schools is momentarily hindered through failure of steel to arrive.

The fabricating plant at Wichita Falls had a break-down in its punching department, but only a two-day postponement of shipment is expected.

"Rum King"

The title of "king of the Philadelphia rum king" has been conferred on Max "Boo-Boo" Hoff (above) by District Attorney Monaghan, who is directing the Philadelphia "clean-up." Hoff purchased machine guns and bullet proof vests from Edward S. Goldberg, munitions expert, the latter told the Philadelphia authorities.

NUMBERING OF HOUSES SIGNED

Kansas City Firm Has Contract With Commission

Pampa business houses and residences will be numbered during the next two months under a contract signed by the City last night with the Kansas City Directory company.

Using the hundred-to-block system, with a number for each 25 feet, employees of the company will measure every block and street in the city and log every part systematically. In the residential sections, second stories, such as in apartment houses, will have half-numbers. In the business district, upstairs offices and apartments will carry the name of the building rather than half-numbers.

Under the plan adopted, property owners will pay 40 cents for a glass number, with silver leaf figures and a metal frame. From two to three months will be required to log the city, order the numbers, and place them.

Difficulties have arisen with respect to re-naming streets, and this matter is held under advisement. It may be possible or expedient to retain most of the present names, it was learned at the city hall today.

MAINE G. O. P. HAS SWEEPING STATE VICTORY

Candidate for Given
Largest Margin
Ever Polled

CARRIES EVERY COUNTY THERE

Total Vote Is Smaller,
Contrary to All
Predictions

PORTLAND Me., Sept. 11—(P)—William T. Gardner, G. O. P. candidate for governor was victorious in Maine's state election yesterday more than two to one. The Republican majority for governor which Senator Frederick Hale said in a campaign speech must go over 40,000 for the rest of the country will say we have lost our grip" was upward of 78,000.

This was the largest majority given a candidate for governor in Maine, the nearest approach being the Republican margin of 65,346 in 1920. In the presidential election of 1924, Calvin Coolidge carried the state by a plurality of 85,094 over the combined vote of Davis and LaFollette.

With 44 precincts missing out of the 633 in the state the vote was:

For Governor:
William T. Gardner (R) 145,242
Edward C. Brown, Jr. (D) 69,594

For Senator:
Frederick Hale (R) 141,238
Herbert E. Holmes (D) 62,497

Except for one precinct in Portland where split ballots delayed the counting, all the missing precincts were very small towns. Gardner carried every county in the state. He carried all the cities except Biddeford and Lewiston, both of which are normally Democratic by wide margins.

Congressman Carl L. Beedy in the first district, Wallace H. White, Jr. in the second and John E. Nelson in the third, all Republicans, were re-elected by substantial majority and Donald W. Snow, Republican, won an easy victory in the fourth district. The closest contest was in the second district where the Democrats had made their hardest campaign, their nominee for governor and senator both being residents of that section.

Governor elect Gardner is a graduate of Harvard, where he took an active part in football and rowing. He is a world war veteran and a former speaker of the Maine House of Representatives. His home is in Gardiner and he is a law partner of Congressman Nelson.

Senator Hale was re-elected for his third term. The three Republican congressmen re-elected all have served several terms.

Contrary to predictions of a heavy vote freely made during the campaign, the total vote was about 45,000 less than that cast for governor in 1924, the last presidential election year, when Brewster, Republican, defeated Patten, Democrat, by a majority of 36,655. In the last state election two years ago, the total vote was 181,524 and the Republican majority for governor was 20,028.

Portland, with one precinct missing showed a total Republican vote within 300 of that cast four years ago while the Democratic vote fell off by 3800. Bangor's Democratic margin of 262 votes in 1924 was turned into a Republican majority of 2388.

ANTI-DEMOCRATS BOLT

The split occurred when Richard T. Fleming of Houston, retiring secretary of the state executive committee, read a report in which he requested that the anti-Smith delegates from Dallas, Tarrant, Harris, Bexar, Palo Pinto and Stephens counties be left out of the convention roster.

Former Governor Oscar Colquhoun of Dallas sprang to his feet, shouting: "Let all good Democrats retire."

Immediately there was wild confusion. Throughout the auditorium anti-Smithites arose and held banners aloft. Some of them read:

"All Women Are For Hoover."
"Eight Cocktails a Day With Al, a Full Dinner Pail With Hoover."

The bolting delegates then started for the exits amid turmoil. As they filed out they shouted back "Goodbye Tammany."

MORE PAVING MAY BE DONE

Estimates Asked on 27
Blocks Requested
by Petition

Pampa's third paving project took more definite form last night when the city commission accepted petitions for the equivalent of about 27 more blocks and ordered A. E. Donette, city engineer, to prepare specifications.

This does not mean that the paving is ordered, but that the petitions have been approved and that the commission has set to work to devise a plan to finance the city's portion of the cost.

The petitions include:

East Tynz street from Cuyler east three blocks, just below railroad tracks North Gray street—5 blocks, from the north line of Francis to Finch.

Kingsmill avenue—5 blocks, Ballard to Warren.

East Francis street—10 blocks, Ballard to point in Channing addition almost to city limits.

West Foster avenue—over 4 blocks, end of paving to Hobart street.

Alley between Cuyler and Ballard, from Foster to Kingsmill avenues.

E. W. Marland May Soon Retire As Company Head

NEW YORK, Sept. 11—(P)—Recent extensive reorganization of the personnel of Marland Oil company has been followed by unconfirmed reports in the financial district that E. W. Marland, head of the company he built up, shortly will retire. In such event, it is expected the representation of J. P. Morgan & company, in Marland oil will be increased. Franklin R. Kenney and F. V. Taylor, vice-presidents of the company, were mentioned as likely successors.

Far Western Votes Watched Keenly by Two Parties Today

(By The Associated Press)
The electorate of three far western and southwestern states was charged with selection of national and state candidates in primary elections today, while choice of Republican candidates of a fourth state was left to a state nominating convention.

Colorado, Washington, and Arizona, held state-wide primaries, while delegates of the New Mexico Republican state convention gathered at Albuquerque to name candidates.

Baptist Money Used for Training Movie Actresses

ATLANTA, Sept. 11—(P)—Clinton S. Carnes, missing treasurer of the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention was indicted by the Fulton county grand jury today on a charge of embezzling $89,000 of the Mission Board funds.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 11—(P)—Evidence that Clinton S. Carnes, missing treasurer of the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board, sponsored the moving picture careers of two girls while a $1,000,000 shortage accumulated in his accounts was ready for submission today to a grand jury investigating Carnes' properties, announced yesterday that not only had Carnes kept an account of his patronage, but that there was found in his private papers a contract between him and the young woman. This agreement, Scott said, provided that Carnes was to receive a part of the earnings of Miss Sonia Nordlie and Miss Lois Griffin. The contract was made through Mrs. Louise Pope, formerly of Atlanta.

The receiver said he was told the girls were with Mrs. Pope in Hollywood, attending a school for motion picture actresses. In response to appeals from Mrs. Pope for funds, Scott said, he had wired her that Carnes had disappeared and that no more money would be forthcoming.

Scott's inspection showed that Carnes had investigated nearly $12,000 in the talent of the two girls over a period of 22 months, Miss Nordlie having received $3,721.62, Miss Griffin $8,138.61 and Mrs. Pope $3,944.

While the Home Mission Board was preparing to show a grand jury that Carnes kept purportedly confidential church officials and auditors, the United States Fidelity and Bonding company of Baltimore launched a nation wide search for him backed by reward.

Santa Fe Says Viaduct at Hobart to Cost $63,000

A viaduct at Hobart street in West Pampa would cost $63,000 according to Santa Fe engineers who made plans based on official surveys.

Of this amount, the Santa Fe is willing to assume one-third of the cost of the structure without drainage and paving, said Superintendent F. J. MacKie yesterday in discussing the matter with local city, county, and Chamber of Commerce officials. The county has indicated its willingness to pay one-third of the cost providing the state highway follows that route.

The project is under advisement, and action is improbable until the highway situation is cleared up. State Highway Engineer Gibb Gilchrist is expected here soon on a promise by Highway Commissioner W. R. Ely Monday that the routing problem would be taken up by his department.

Terrell for Smith— Says Prohibition Is No Political Issue

DALLAS, Sept. 11—(P)—George B. Terrell, commissioner of agriculture, in a statement today announced he would support Alfred E. Smith for president as well as all other Democratic nominees, and thanked Texas voters for having nominated him five successive times as head of the agricultural department.

"There seems to be some opposition to the Democratic nomination for president in this state, because of his views on prohibition, religion or some other cause not fully explained," Mr. Terrell continued. "Neither the Democratic nor Republican party has ever declared for prohibition or any particular religion, and I do not think they ever will. These are questions upon which we can differ without impairing our party standing."

Plans to vote as much as $350,000,000 in road bonds, much of which would be to repay counties for roads nearly worn out...

Mr. Bourland is for good roads—just as much as is the highway commission, but he challenges the plan advocated to become the highway policy in this state for the next 30 years.

Should the older counties be given refunds for the amounts they have spent—and a partial refund might be logical—they would be paid for roads in many cases almost worn out and needing replacement.

A plan for supporting the state highway commission without damage to West Texas and its oil industry can be worked out, but that plan is not the Ousley contention upon which the W. T. C. C. directors are now balloting.

This highway question threatens to develop into one of the warmest in which the West Texas organization has ever taken part.

Of Canyons. Vacationing, the writer saw a number of canyons. Palo Duro canyon, for its startling chasm just over the edge from the plains and for its richness of coloring is the nearest wonder of nature.

But the most interesting canyon seen was of the variety made by tall row crops on each side of country roads. From five to nine feet tall, stalks of kaffir corn, maize, feterita, and cane form a canyon-like picture highly interesting to anyone interested in agricultural West Texas.

Asked about his crop, the owner of much fine feed said the yield was wonderful but the market very poor. He planned to use little of the feed himself. If he had had livestock to eat the crop he would have had a market, but his total number of animals on the farm probably would not have passed fifteen excluding poultry.

Diversification is not worth much without utilization.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON—The Senate has agreed that there is "something wrong" with our Foreign Service and it appears probable that a complete revision of the State Department's promotion system will be effected at the next session of Congress.

The consular branch of the service, which complained bitterly that it was getting a raw deal from the controlling diplomatic clique in the department, apparently is going to be vindicated.

The House will have before it a bill introduced by Representative Edith Nourse Rogers and already passed by the Senate which will provide for drastic changes.

The bill provides: 1—Any officer who entered the Foreign Service subsequent to July 1, 1924, would serve five years as a consular officer before he could be promoted to the top grade.

2—The present personnel board, which handles promotions, would be replaced by a special bureau under an additional assistant secretary of state who should not have been a Foreign Service officer for two years prior to his appointment. He would be chairman of a special board of selection, of five members, not more than one of whom could be a Foreign Service officer.

3—The present nine grades of Foreign Service officers would be consolidated into four classes. The salaries would be: Class I $8000 to $9000, Class II $7000 to $8000, Class III $5000 to $7000, Class IV $4000 to $5000 and unclassified officers $2500 to $4000.

4—Annual automatic salary increases of $100 would be granted within the classified salary limits. No consul or diplomat would be promoted until he had served four years in the class to which he was admitted. Officers who fail to be recommended for promotion from a class below Class I after eight years service therein would be retired from the service.

The passage of this bill, of course, would represent a great victory for the dissatisfied consuls, who have claimed that young men in the diplomatic branch with pull and "social background" have been promoted consistently over the backs of older and abler men by a clique dominating the personnel board.

The provision demanding lengthy consular service as a prerequisite to reaching Class I would end, they say, the artificial social distinction between consular officers and diplomatic officers now maintained by the latter. Foreign Service officers would be rated on the jobs they did as consuls rather than on their social accomplishments.

The proposed new Personnel Office, with its board of selection, is designed to wipe out favoritism, sotte work and other alleged evils of the present system. Each man would have access to his own personnel record and would be allowed to answer any adverse report therein. There would be no longer a group of controlling promotions which could promote its own members in preference to others.

People Do Not Enjoy Homes As Held Desirable

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 11.—(AP)—“The fact that the people of this country, or at least a majority of them, don't really enjoy all the comforts of home, is the real reason why the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association has found it advisable to put on a nation-wide newspaper advertising campaign, urging people to get the most out of their homes,” says E. P. Lewin, of Cincinnati, president of the association.

“The question of why so many people don't get all the enjoyment and comfort out of their homes that they should is not so easy to answer as it may seem,” Mr. Lewin said. “Of course it is easy to say that people don't build new homes, or don't modernize the ones they already have, because they haven't the money. It is equally easy to look at all the fine new homes that have been built in all our cities in the last few years and deny that there is any such question.

“But neither of those replies reaches to the root of the matter. There undoubtedly is a certain percentage of the population that actually cannot afford to buy or build a home or having one, cannot afford the comparatively small cost of modernizing it or they will have all the comforts they ought to have and would like to have. At the other end are many families which have beautiful homes and are enjoying them to the fullest.

“But between these two strata of society are hundreds of thousands of families, with comfortable incomes, that are living in rented houses, in apartments, or in homes of their own that by all modern standards of convenience, of beauty, of health, do not have all the comforts. The reason why they don't is just because they don't want all these comforts as badly as they want to think they want, something else.

“None of these hundreds of thousands would think of wearing a last year's hat. Most of them think it a hardship and a considerable economy if they drive a last year's car. But they are content to go on living year after year in a house that is not as comfortable, not as convenient, not as well built to safeguard health, as modern building practices make possible. The housewife keeps on running up and down a dozen times a day, a steep, badly lighted, high-step stairway. A patched roof which leaks in stormy weather and admits dust in summer and coal dust in winter is left on, despite the fire risk and attendant high insurance rates, when a modern, fire-resistant roof can be put on at little cost. The porch roof sags. The floor creaks. The closets are too small. The kitchen is inconvenient, with few or none of the modern helps, like built-in cupboards, or broom, mop and sweeper hider-holes, that any carpenter can put in in a few hours. The attic is unfurnished, and the dust of the streets and grime of the chimneys settle on all its contents, when a little remodeling would make comfortable sleeping quarters, or a children's play room, or a billiard room. Many houses lack sun-parlors or outdoor sleeping porches—both almost necessities in a real home.

'Save the Union' Meeting Is Barred by Pittsburgh Police

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 10.—(AP)—The national “Save the Union” convention, called by opponents of the administration of John L. Lewis as president of the United Mine Workers of America, cannot be held here, Superintendent of Police Peter B. Walsh announced today.

“I am not going to permit them to come to this city and menace our people by rioting,” the police here said.

A clash occurred yesterday when the “Save the Unionists” prepared to open their meeting. Six persons were injured, one probably fatally, and 121 were arrested.

Dilly Brothers of Borger Buy Bakery

Arrangements were completed yesterday whereby Dilly Brothers of Borger and Herrington, Kas., became owners of Wright's bakery. The consideration was approximately $20,000.

Newt and Don Dilly have been operating bakeries for many years, opening their first big one in Herrington, Kas. They have been active in civic enterprises in all the cities in which they operate. Don is now president of the Borger Chamber of Commerce. They came to Borger early in 1927 and built the Dilly Building there.

Plans have been made to market Big Dandy and Pan Dandy bread, both nationally known products, and fancy pastries. The local plant will be enlarged and two new trucks will be added to the delivery service. One has already arrived and another will be here next week.

The local bakery will be under the supervision of Newt Dilly with Walter J. Rogers as local manager. Mr. Rogers has been with the company at Herrington for several years.

pel of thrift, preached by newspapers, magazines, economists all over the country, is “Own Your Own Home.” Any doctor will tell you, and for that matter everybody knows it, that living in crowded quarters, sleeping in stuffy, badly ventilated bedrooms, breathing dust and coal smoke, will shorten your life. These hundreds of thousands know it, but keep putting off, year after year, making the changes necessary for their own good.

“Why do they do it? It isn't the lack of money alone. Despite the current talk of business depression, this country in the last ten years has had the most tremendous prosperity any nation ever had. Statisticians say the American public buys $22,000,000,000 worth of luxuries every year. Saving deposits total more than $8,500,000,000.”

THIS HAS HAPPENED SYBIL THORNE, Boston society girl, entertained a strange proposal from RICHARD EUSTIS, a young man who was not at all “going to be an actor in his bones.” Sybil, who professes to scorn and despise marriage, finally says yes to marry him.

But Sybil is more or less engaged to CRAIG NEWELL, wealthy and desirable. It was to please her young father that she had consented to a secret marriage with Craig. After her father's death she begins to see it was all a mistake, since she cannot banish from her mind the image of young JOHN LAWRENCE, her first sweetheart. Lawrence went to France with the A. S. F. and never returned. But Sybil believes he will still be in love with her.

In order to think things over she has taken a trip to Havana with MABEL BLAKE, a social worker. They meet another young man and he begins immediately to make wild and violent love. He has asked Sybil for a little and she is wearing, promising that they use it for a wedding ring. And he tells her the captain will marry them—there in Havana harbor.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVI

“THE exhilaration of madness!” cried Richard. “The ecstasy of it!”

And then Sybil looked at Mabel standing there, consternation on her good, plain face. Sensible Mabel. Lord, where did sense get you!

“Darling!”

Richard's voice was low now. He whispered against the softness of her neck.

And Mabel turned white as the painted ropes when Sybil slipped the ring from her finger and dropped it in his outstretched hand. A baby breeze tossed her hair, and blew her skirts. Her eyes were flashing, and her cheeks were pink as the steward's roses. She laughed recklessly.

“All right!” she cried. “I will!” Breathlessly she pulled Richard toward her. “You never thought I'd do it, did you? Never, never, never—in your heart you know you didn't. Well, I will! I will!”

Then Richard had her in his arms, and his voice was singing with joy.

“Sybil! Sybil!”

He lifted her off her feet, and kissed her on high. He swung her about. And hugged her wildly. Then, when he was breathless, he kissed her again.

“Restrain yourself, Mr. Eustis. Father Finn's looking at us.”

Primly, with mock solemnity, she pushed him away.

“Why not? Anybody'd look at you, darling. Oh, you wonder girl. You adorable, lovely thing! Father Finn—oh, Father Finn. Come meet the bride—Mrs. Jones!”

Then Richard had her in his arms, and his voice was singing with joy. . . . “Sybil! Sybil!”

From his pocket he produced a Panama, fine as linen.

“And a hat for the groom.”

Another steward came with a chest in his arms.

“Some embroideries I'd picked up for my Missus,” said the captain. “But brides must be served.”

The steward laid the chest at Sybil's feet.

“Oh, Captain Hanna, you're too good for me!” There were hysterical tears behind Sybil's laughter.

Mrs. Farkins came bustling up. “My dear, Mrs. Jones just told me. Here—it's all I have. Just a tiny gift. Oh, yes, you must, my dear. No—no—don't unwrap it.” She whispered in Sybil's ear. “It's a little bed jacket I had for my daughter. It may come in handy.”

The Corrales came, giggling. Blithe young things—happy and excited. They kissed Sybil, and kissed Richard too.

“Here, here!” he cried. “Line forms on the right. Everybody who wants to kiss the bridegroom, please fall in line!”

Then there were more kisses, and more laughter. Until Sybil saw Mabel, pale and frightened looking, clutching the rail.

Poor old Mabel—she looked positively green. Sybil threw her arm about her.

“Excuse us, everybody. The bride and the maid of honor must get dressed. And you too, Rich. Wear your white knickers, and your very best tie.”

He devoured her with blazing eyes, and implored like a suppliant. “Give me another kiss, Sib.”

“No—no more. Run along, Sib. No—can't come to the bride's boudoir today. Go on—get out! Mab and I have a lot to do.”

But he went with them to their stateroom, and held her to him, and kissed her madly.

“Sybil, your mother will have a fit.”

“I know it. Poor old dear! But think of all the trouble I'm saving her—money, too.”

“What will Tad say?”

“Tad?—Oh, he always said I was crazy.”

“And Valerie?”

“The devil with Valerie.”

“Oh, Sib—Sib, dear, I wish you wouldn't. You'll be sorry. I know you will.”

“I'll be sorry, whatever I do, Mab; and I've been miserable enough. God knows, to get a break somewhere. It's too late for post mortems now.”

MABEL was crying softly. Wiping her eyes ineffectually.

“If she could only see herself!” thought Sybil impatiently. “Come on, Merry Sunshine,” she called. “Into your glad rags. You're bounding up the party.”

She preened into the little glass on their washstand, and remembered Valerie, exquisite in satin, parading before the long mirror in her dressing table. Two girls from Madame de Coen's arranging her veil, and fixing the sweep on her train.

“Not much like Val's wedding,” she remarked. “That girl had a modiste and two maids to dress her up. Get on to your job, Mademoiselle Mabelle. Tie that knot in back, will you? Bows are such a darn nuisance.”

“My dear, you can see right through this skirt! Where's your pink slip? Here—hook me up in back. Now then, how do I look?”

(And in the next chapter Sybil gets married. . . . and is not long in regretting it.)

Civic Problems to Interest Club Women During Year—Study Groups Plan Programs and Start Meetings

Activities of the several study clubs for the year, which were initiated with the first fall meeting of the Study group of the University and College Women's club on Monday, September 3, will for the next several months occupy an important place in the social life of Pampa, vying with bridge parties, teas, receptions, and other strictly social functions for the attention of the women of the city.

Moreover, these same activities will play an important part in the civic development of Pampa, for all working programs include plans for service outside the clubs.

El Progreso, the Child Study club, and the Pampa branch of the American Association of University Women and College club are re-organizing for work this week, while the Coterie and Twentieth Century clubs hold their first meeting on the fourth Monday in the month. The Wayside club has the distinction of being the only year-round study club in the county. It has had interesting meetings through the summer months, meeting on the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

The oldest federated club in the county is El Progreso, which was organized in 1923. The club is primarily a study group, but it includes civic work in its program, co-operating with other organizations on community projects. A standing library committee, which represents El Progreso in the Pampa Library Association, directs the club's endeavors on this civic problem.

The first meeting of the club is being held this afternoon is Mrs. C. P. Buckler's home. A particularly interesting program on ancient, mediaeval, and modern drama is being given, and a one-act play, "The Grapes Hang High," is to be staged by members of the club as the principal entertainment feature of the afternoon. Mrs. Carson Loftus, talented reader, directs the play and is in charge of the entire program.

Other programs no less interesting will afford entertainment and instruction throughout the club year. The work of Eugene O'Neill will be studied in a series of lessons and one of his more famous plays, "Lazarus Laughs," will be taken up in detail. At some time in the year another one-act play, possibly one of O'Neill's, will be staged. The membership will also discuss the relation of the moving picture to social progress. In a second series of programs they will study international relations and political issues of the day. The lives of international and national political figures will be reviewed.

In addition to their regular business and study sessions on the second and fourth Tuesday afternoons of each month, the members of El Progreso have two open meetings during the year, extending the privileges of their club to a wide circle of their friends and members of other organizations.

Officers for the year are: President, Mrs. W. M. Craven; vice-president, Mrs. W. Purviance; secretary, Mrs. C. Bryson; treasurer, Mrs. Siler Faulkner; parliamentarian, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, reporter, Mrs. Carson Loftus. The very able program committee is composed of Mrs. C. M. Bryson, chairman; Mrs. James Todd, Jr., Mrs. T. D. Hobart, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, and Mrs. R. R. House. The entertainment committee, which is the only other standing committee in El Progreso, is as follows: Mrs. J. E. Corson, chairman; Mrs. Carson Loftus, Mrs. J. M. McDonald, Mrs. H. L. Ledrick, and Mrs. A. Cole.

CHILD STUDY CLUB DOES GOOD WORK

The Child Study club enters upon its second year of life as one of the most important women's organizations in the city. It is a member of the General Federation of Women's clubs, and in common with other federated clubs, carries its full share of civic work. Among the civic endeavors in which its membership participated last year was the establishment of the public library. The members also gave assistance to teachers and pupils of the public schools in staging citizenship and Americanization programs. It will be remembered, too, that the Child Study club initiated a movement toward a county federation of women's clubs.

A liberal education is offered in the intensive five-year course of study which this club follows. Each year's work is based upon program planned and outlined by Dr. Berle, famous educator and child psychologist, and a text compiled by Dr. Berle is studied. The high aim of members of the club is to better fit themselves to offer their children the best in life—the best environment for physical development, the best education, the best moral and social training, and the highest ideals. To this end all work is planned.

The motto for this year's work, as given in the year book, is "Enlarging a child's powers of observation, desire for knowledge and feeling of sympathy." Ways and means of making nature study useful and attractive to children will be learned in a series of programs. Among the interesting topics listed for this phase of the work are the following: The Peculiar Sympathy of the Great Poets with Animal Life and the Fitness of Poetry to Convey this Sympathy to Children; The Practical Value of Humane Education in Teaching Lessons of Sympathy, Kindness, and Obedience; The Value of Nature Study and Uses of Geography; Nature's Provision for the Protection of Animals by Special Mental Gifts; Modern Methods of Training Animals and Their Lesson for Parent and Child; The Economic and Aesthetic Value of Teaching Children to Know and Love Birds and How to Accomplish It.

Then there will be a number of programs which take up the characteristics, habits, modes of life, and uses of special birds, insects, and animals. The seventh and eighth months of this year will be devoted to study of geographical and historical topics, when ancient and modern life in Africa, the Holy Land, and Ceylon will be considered. The closing program of the year will be: How the Home May Supplement the School Work in Work in Geography and Natural History.

Giants' Double Victory Raises Pennant Hopes

In the excitement over Connie Mack's bold bid for the American league pennant, the desperate battle being waged in John Heydler's circuit has been somewhat overlooked for the past week or so.

While the Athletics and the Yankees had an off-day yesterday before resuming their vital four-game series at Yankee stadium, the New York Giants inaugurated their four-day eight game series at Boston by taking both ends of a double-header with the Braves, and thereby pushed themselves back into the thick of the running.

This double victory for the McGraw, combined with defeats for St. Louis and Chicago, left the Giants only a single percentage point back of the Cubs and but three games removed from the league-leading Cardinals.

McGraw needed only two pitchers to win the first two games of the series. Fitzsimmons scattered the Braves' seven hits in the opener and won, 4 to 1. Joe Genewich let his old Boston comrades down with three hits in the nightcap and the Giants copped, hands down, 11 to 0.

Bowing to Cincinnati, 7 to 2, the Cardinals lost their third straight game but kept intact their two and a half game lead over the second place Cubs, who dropped one to Pittsburgh, 7 to 5.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia divided a double header. The Phils took the opener, 11 to 6, with the aid of Charlie Klein's home run and three singles. William Watson Clark pitched the Robins to victory in the closing engagement, 7 to 2.

With the two leaders idle, the American league program was featured by the White Sox triumph over Detroit 6 to 4, their ninth victory in their last ten games.

Washington ended its home season at it opened it—by losing to Boston. The only difference was in the score. They lost the opening game, 7 to 5, and yesterday's 5 to 2.

Light Game Is Planned Today In Harvester Practice

Coach Odus Mitchell had his Harvesters out for a light workout on Ayres field yesterday afternoon, when several new men were in uniform. He is well pleased with the showing of the recruits and is moulding a fast, hard-hitting team. His line is strong and his backfield light and fast, but not too light to hit the line.

This afternoon the players will be divided into opposing eleven and will have a light scrimmage preparatory to the opening game of the season here Saturday afternoon against Quannah.

Coach Mitchell is being ably assisted in his training schedule by A. M. Fox, a graduate of Oklahoma A. & M.

When the Harvesters stack up against the Quannah eleven it will be their first test of the season and the first chance local fans will have of seeing the strength of the team that is to bear the Pampa colors this year. The game will be played on Ayres field at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

ILLINOIS MAY REPEAT IN BIG TEN; INDIANA, MICHIGAN APPEAR STRONG

They're going to concentrate on stopping the Illini out in the Big Ten, for Coach Zuppke's crew, 1927 champions, are again given the edge in the pre-season dope. Four backfield ace calculated to help in the drive to stop the Illini, led by Captain "Butch" Nowack, tackle, are: Helmer, Northwestern; Pharmer, Minnesota; Welch, Purdue, and Bennett, Indiana.

By ORLO L. ROBERTSON (Associated Press Sports Writer)

CHICAGO—(AP)—Champions in football, as in other sports, don't always repeat, but Illinois appears to have a good chance of duplicating its 1927 performance in the Western Conference race. The Urbana warriors took the crown on a percentage basis.

With 15 letter men back, Coach Ed Zuppke's charges have until October 20 to prepare for their conference games. That is three weeks after the regular conference season opens. Just a break in its schedule but apparently a good break for the Illini.

So as September 15, the date of the conference practice season nears, the battle cry booming in the Big Ten camps is "Stop Illinois!"

Around the conference there appears to be several strong teams in the making to challenge the Orange and Blue.

The round robin plan of schedule making which gives the teams no choice of conference opponents is bringing together eleven which for one reason or another, have not met in years, thus intensifying interest. For instance, Minnesota and Purdue meet for the first time in 30 years.

Indiana, tiring of being the conference door-mat, will have a powerful aggregation. Entering upon his third year at Bloomington, Pat Page, former Chicago star, has a group of veterans around which to build an eleven. Only six of last year's 25 letter men are missing. Two complete backfields, led by "Chuck" Bennett, all-conference back, and "Pocch" Harrell, who topped the conference in average yards gained from scrimmage, makes the Hoosier offensive one of the most formidable in the Big Ten.

Jiminy Phelan at Purdue likewise has a wealth of veterans, but his supply of reserves is scant. In the backfield will be "Pest" Welch, who carried conformation into the Harvard stadium last year. In the line will be the rock-like Capt. Harvey S. Olsen at center.

With the probable exception of Iowa, veteran material at the other schools is scarce but there will be plenty of sophomores who know their way about on a gridiron. Burt Ingwersen and his hawk eyes are looking forward to a good year after two lean ones. Seventeen letter men and a dozen likely looking second-year candidates are in the squad of seventy-one.

If height and weight mean anything—and there are plenty of coaches who say they do—Michigan should profit although only eight letter men will be back in Yostland. The holes left by the graduation of Oosterbaan and Gilbert will be hard to plug even if there are among the '26 candidates 20 more

Former Champs Find Brae Burn Still Tough One

NEWTON, Mass., Sept. 11.—(AP)—Start of the second 18 holes in the qualifying round of the National Amateur golf championship today found some of the youngsters declaring that Brae Burn is not so tough as it looks. Not all the veterans would agree. With the exception of George von Elm all the former champions in the Hunt for majors on the title found the course had not been softened to any considerable extent.

Vin Elm with a 73 was one stroke over par for the first 18 holes, but the scores of the other eight who have occupied a seat on the amateur golf throne ranged from the 77 of Bobby Jones, the champion, to the 91 scored by S. Davidson Herron. Francis Quimet, Jess Sweetser, and Max Marston had 78, Jesse Gullford, Chick Evans, and William C. Fowles, Jr., scored 80.

Burly Gothamite Beats Hennessey, to Face Lacoste

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 11.—(AP)—About half the responsibility for keeping the national tennis singles championship from falling again into the hands of the French rested today on the burly shoulders of Dr. George King of New York, 35 years old.

It was transferred there from the shoulders of Johnny Hennessey yesterday when the doctor sprang a surprise and defeated the Indianapolis youth, who was a member of the United States Davis Cup team this year, and is the No. 5 ranking player in the country.

Having beaten Hennessey 7-5, 6-4, 1-4, King today was a favorite to reach the semi-final round where his opponent undoubtedly will be Henri Cochet of France, leading candidate for the title held but not defended by his countryman, Rene Lacoste. King was matched today against Percy L. Kingston, of Rockville Center, N. Y., and on 1-2-3 should meet and defeat Jacques Brugnon, least formidable of the French "musketeers" in the third round tomorrow.

In the first round reduction of the field from 64 to 32, the number of United States representatives was cut from 41 to 22, the French was seven to five, the English from four to one, the Australians from four to two, and the Japanese from two to one.

With Hennessey out, George M. Lott, Jr., of Chicago, his Davis Cup teammate, and No. 2 seeded American, with King, who is not seeded heads the United States hopes. Both Lott and Wilmer Allison, of Austin, Texas, the former intercollegiate champion, triumphed over French opponents, Lott beating Pierre Landry 6-3, 6-2, 3-6, 3-6, 6-1, and Allison defeating Paul De Rizoz, French junior champion 6-3, 3-6, 10-8. Cochet beat Tommy Wilber, of Bridgeport, Conn., 6-0, 6-2, 6-1. His second-round opponent was Junior Coen, of Kansas City.

Conference Precedes Al Smith's Leaving on Western Tour

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 11.—To familiarize himself with political conditions in the thirteen western states through which he will pass on his first speaking tour of the presidential campaign, Governor Smith has begun a series of informal conferences with members of his party from the section west of the Mississippi.

Anti-Democrats

They were answered with a roar, "Get Out Republicans." Former State Senator Thomas B. Love, of Dallas, one of the original leaders in the movement against the nomination of Governor Smith, was elected temporary chairman of the "bolting" forces a few moments after they met in separate caucuses.

After hearing temporary Chairman Blalock's address the "regular" convention delegates barely had time left to name committees on resolutions permanent organization and platform before adjourning for the noon recess.

1929 MEETING

mittée on which F. P. Reid of Pampa was chairman followed:

We feel very cheerful over the most satisfactory condition that obtains in this section of the state, and look forward with full confidence to the continued prosperity and development of this country.

In the West Texas Chamber of Commerce we recognize immense potential possibilities for the exploitation, and orderly development of West Texas. We congratulate the executive officers and staff upon the intelligent, constructive, and active accomplishments that have been made.

We realize, however, that to have a substantial growth of the organization, that it is going to take more man power, and more co-ordinate effort and we pledge this organization to that end.

Program Commended We commend the program for the year, as laid out at the annual convention, and elaborated upon at the meeting of the executive board held in Coleman. In order to record the sentiments of this district convention as to certain ideals, we submit the following resolutions for the consideration of the advisory board, as well as the executive committee and the executive officers.

I. The continued development of any country is, to a large extent, dependent upon the highway connections and the permanency thereof. We are grateful for the recognition given this section by the State Highway Commission, and hope to have such additional aid in this connection as will meet the demands of the rapidly growing country. We realize, however, that there must be limitation along these lines consistent with the financial ability of the highway commission, and the proper recognition of roads throughout the entire state. In order that all demands consistent with the orderly development and proper connections may be given, we record this convention as favoring a practical and just plan of financing the highway department of the state without placing any undue burden upon any commodity or upon any business. We further call upon the state Democratic convention about to assemble in Dallas, Texas, Tuesday, September 11, to insert in its platform a plank in line with these ideas.

Need Playgrounds II. We believe that the time will come in the Lone Star State, that in fact it is now at hand, when parks and play grounds will be in demand and should be provided.

In no place in the country can be found greater opportunities in this regard than in West Texas. We therefore urge the next legislature to give careful thought to this important matter, and pledge ourselves to the fullest possible cooperative efforts.

Full acknowledgement is made for the recognition given the West Texas State Teachers college located at Canyon, and it is a matter of real joy to know of the bright prospects for this institution. Yet the continued success of this and other West Texas institutions can only be in proportion to the needed appropriations given by the State legislature, and for which we enter our most earnest plea, and that these appropriations be in line with the needs of this and other institutions.

VI. We wish to thank the City of Pampa, its Chamber of Commerce, and its entertainment committee for the splendid welcome we have received and the splendid banquet we have enjoyed at this meeting.

Musical Entertainment The large audience attending the dinner at the Pla-Mor auditorium was entertained by the Clarendon band, Foley Austin and his orchestra, and a quartet from the Rotary club. A whistling selection was given by Mrs. Greenhill of Amarillo.

The first speaker on the afternoon program was C. W. Warwick of Canyon, Democratic nominee for state representative, whose subject was "Some needs of the Panhandle-North Plains Section. The speaker stated that he has been a resident of the Panhandle for the last eighteen years and he is still pleased that his train passed through the Panhandle and that he decided to make it his home. He gave a vivid picture of the Panhandle of Texas from the days of the buffalo, through the coming of the "nester," then the real estate men, and the Panhandle residents of today.

"The greatest need of the Panhandle today," the speaker said, "is to sell ourselves to the Panhandle, and vice versa. With our oil and our great farm lands we need co-operation."

Cities Help Towns He further stressed the advantage of the city to the small town, stating that one should not be jealous of his neighbor but should copy his growth and forge to the front.

E. H. Whitehead, publicity manager of the W. T. C. C. spoke briefly on Pampa's part in the W. T. C. C., not only in membership but in work for that organization. He spoke of the need of trees, parks, and beauty spots in the towns of the Panhandle, and urged that a program be started to beautify the towns and cities of West Texas.

Hoover Urges Work The last speaker on the program was H. E. Hoover of Canadian, whose subject was "Agricultural Development." He dwelt upon the fact that the successful farmer of today, or any time does not become successful except by the great sweat of his brow. He made his talk interesting by numerous witty remarks that had to bear with his subject. He vehemently scored the government farm relief bill, stating that if the farmer of today would work his land and begin diversification instead of sowing his grain and waiting for it to grow he would prosper and get out of debt.

"The farmer must adapt himself to his surroundings and not think he can farm in the Panhandle the way he can in the East. Co-operation and diversification are the great assets of the farmer and if that is studied he will be successful," the speaker concluded.

Short talks were made by representatives of the seventeen towns and cities represented, with Homer D. Wade, manager of W. T. C. C., in charge.

Entertainment features of the afternoon were numbers by the Rotary Ann quartet, composed of Mrs. J. M. Dodson, Mrs. J. Warren Sparks, Mrs. Lynn Boyd and Mrs. J. O'Dell, and negro spirituals by Mrs. Charles Smith of Amarillo.

How Do You Buy?

When you enter a store to buy anything, how do you ask for it? Do you call for the article by name, or do you generalize—a can of tomato soup; a bag of flour; an aluminum kettle; so many yards of linoleum; a meat grinder?

It is much better and far more satisfactory to specify the articles you want by name, for merchandise that is good enough to be sold by name is almost always better in quality, and usually no higher in price, than goods of uncertain lineage and less certain quality.

The advertising columns of this newspaper carry advertised names that are familiar to millions of people. Soap, flour, sugar, cereals, kitchen ware, rugs, linoleum, automobiles, etc. They represent those articles that stand for the best in their respective classes of merchandise—quality all through.

Advertising keeps these names before you constantly. Advertising is a constant reminder that the articles you want are the same articles that you see advertised day after day—that justify their being by the service they render. And advertising brings you news—of inventions, discoveries, improvements that keep you up to date.

Tell the sales-clerk what you want by its advertised name. You'll get it—and your money will purchase full value. It pays to read advertising and remember advertised names.
