STINNETT MAN IS CRITICALLY WOUNDED BY PISTOL SHOT

ACCIDENT NOW CLAIMED—FIVE MEN ARRESTED

Johnny Overs Is Fighting For His Life in Berger

GUN USED WAS HIDDEN AWAY

Man Claims He Was Twirling Pistol on Thumb

Berger Bureau, Pampa Daily News
BERGER, Sept. 22.—Johnny Overs, proprietor of a Stinnett confectonery, was perhaps fatally injured late Friday when he received a pistol discharge in the stomach as an aftermath, officers say, to a poker game.
Overs was rushed to a local hospital, where an operation was performed. It was found that the bullet entered the lower abdomen near the center of the stomach and punctured the lower intestine in nine places before leaving the body on the left side. His condition is regarded as critical.
Five men were arrested by county officers for investigation in connection with the shooting. They are being held in jail. All claim that the affair was an accident, and Overs said the same thing in a statement before he went to the operating table.
Clarence Crump, one of those arrested, admitted to officers that he held the gun when it was discharged. He said he was twirling it on his thumb. The gun was found, unloaded and hidden in the shack by officers who instituted a search for it. The secrecy has not been explained, officers declare.

Three Local Oil Men Badly Burned Friday Night When Mel Davis Well Catches Fire—Derrick Is Saved

E. R. Hext, F. H. Anderson, and Guy Preston are in the Pampa hospital suffering from severe burns received late Friday night. The men were at work on the Mordayart Oil company's No. 1 Mel B. Davis in section 8, block 1, two miles southeast of LeFors when fire broke out.
E. B. Hext was the most seriously burned of the three men at work at the time.
The fire was extinguished before the derrick was burned. The damage was light.
The well was brought in Friday morning and swabbed about 2,000 barrels the first 24 hours.

LARGE VENIRES ARE CALLED IN SPECIAL TERM

Judge G. C. Harney to Preside Tomorrow in Hutchinson

TWO SLAYINGS ARE INVOLVED

Recent Berger Killings to Have Immediate Prosecution

Stinnett Bureau, Pampa Daily News
STINNETT, Sept. 22.—Three women, charged with murder, are scheduled to go to trial in Stinnett on consecutive days next week at the special term of district court. Special venires, totaling 325 men, have been summoned for the hearings. Judge G. C. Harney will act in all three cases, and J. A. Holmes will be the district attorney.
Clarice Barber, 21, faces trial in connection with the fatal shooting of Harry Lacey on the night of Sept. 2 at the Canadian club, a road house on the Canadian river. Three shots were fired, the last of which took effect and was adjudged the cause of the man's death at a local hospital two days later. She was taken to the Garretts county jail by officers following the shooting and was indicted by the grand jury which convened on Thursday following the death.
Her case was continued until Monday by Judge Harney because of a technical error in the selection of the special venire.
Marie Trent, 19, a sister of the Barber woman, is charged with the same crime and will appear for trial on Tuesday of next week. A special venire of 125 men has been called for each of these cases.
Mrs. Willie Blackman, charged with the murder of Frank Ragon, is scheduled to receive a hearing next Wednesday with a special venire of 75 men called to form a jury in the case. Mrs. Blackman is alleged to have struck Ragon, her sister's husband, with a selection of pipe. He was taken to a local hospital where he was unconscious for four days before his death.
Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Melton are the proud parents of a ten-pound daughter born Friday morning. Mr. Melton is an employe of the city water works department and a popular member of the volunteer fire department.

Higher Telephone Rates Will Go Into Effect Here October 6 as Result of Completion of Flash-System Exchange

Occasioned by the completion of the $100,000 flash-system exchange here, local telephone rates will be hiked October 6, it was announced by J. B. Patterson of Amarillo, district manager, Saturday.
Business telephones will cost $5 per month instead of $3.50, but there will be no distinction in rate between wall and desk telephones as heretofore. Residence phones will be $2 per month, instead of $1.75 for the two-party arrangements, and individual lines to residences will be $2.25 per month.
According to Mr. Patterson, this new rate scale is in keeping with the Interstate Commerce Commission ruling that an exchange may charge enough to earn a fair income. The scale it is estimated, will earn 7.4 per cent on the local investment. The rates are tentative, however, and future rates will be based upon the findings for the coming year.
The new exchange cost $108,092, it was stated. The Southwestern Bell Telephone company acquired its franchise here in 1912, when there were 20 telephones. On August 1, 1928 there were 932 telephones here, including 316 of business classification. All requests for telephones are being met. During the last fortnight $3,000 worth of extensions, chiefly in the Cook-Adams district, have been placed.
The lowest possible rate on residence telephones has been fixed, in order to encourage service in the homes. Mr. Patterson pointed out. This rate is lower by 25 cents than the city council approves by resolution when the exchange was proposed more than a year ago. The business rate coincides with the rate approved by resolution.
In answer to queries by local business men, Mr. Patterson made the assertion that the rates to go into effect October 6 are in line with those in other cities having the flash system.

BADLY WOUNDS ANOTHER MAN

Bloodhounds Used to Trail Joe Cobb to His Hiding Place

WOODVILLE, Sept. 22.—(P)—Joe Cobb, also known as Joe Jackson, was captured 10 miles from here tonight by a posse with bloodhounds which has been pursuing him since Deputy Sheriff L. N. Walker was shot and killed at Cobb's house last night.
The capture tonight was made after Jackson had been located in a pasture near Spurger and had taken refuge behind a barn. After a volley of shots from the posse he surrendered peacefully. No one was wounded.

PANHANDLE PRODUCTION DROPS OFF BY 1,055 BARRELS DAILY

School System Has Record Number Enrolled for Work

Panhandle daily production continued to fall the toboggan with Hutchinson county leading the way with a daily slump of 590 barrels. Moore county follows with a drop of 365 barrels.
Wheeler county, with a 95-barrel increase, was the only Panhandle county to show an increase in daily production.
Gray county slumped 60 barrels and Carson 143 barrels.
The total daily production for the Panhandle counties was 61,945 barrels. Last week the greatest slump, local all history was recorded when production dropped 2,240 barrels daily.
Production by counties:
Carson—6,510 barrels, a decrease of 145 barrels.
Gray—21,755 barrels, a decrease of 60 barrels.
Hutchinson—32,150 barrels, a decrease of 590 barrels.
Moore—600 barrels, a decrease of 365 barrels.
Potter—20 barrels.
Wheeler—910 barrels, an increase of 95 barrels.

Tri-State Fair Attendance Large

AMARILLO, Sept. 22.—(P)—Record breaking crowds poured through gates of the Tri-State Exposition today and tonight of officials believed the 30,000 mark might be reached before midnight. This would almost equal the total week's attendance last year. Wilbur C. Hawk, president of the Exposition, said.

New Pump Will Be Installed Today

A new pump was received yesterday afternoon from Los Angeles on the 3 o'clock train to replace the broken one on well No. 6 of the Pampa water works department.
Workmen immediately commenced installation of the new pump and according to the city manager it should be in working order this afternoon. He expects the water supply to be normal sometime tomorrow.
The city has passed through a crisis the last week and only taking of water from the Santa Fe wells saved the situation. The American LeFranc fire truck was placed at the railway wells and pumped about 200,000 gallons a day for city use while five city wells were supplying 350,000 gallons.

Gray's Exhibit Winning Favor at Tri-State Fair

Gray county's agricultural exhibit at the Tri-State fair in Amarillo yesterday was attracting much attention for its excellence of materials and cleverness of design. It is located near the center of the agricultural building.
Prominently displayed is the county slogan, "We Feed the World and Cook Its Dinner." This motto is worked out in a background of grains, as also is a derrick mounted upon a base bearing the names, "Pampa, LeFors, McLean, Amarillo."
The exhibit has fine cotton, onions, potatoes, green peppers, wheat, oats, canned fruits, turnips, hay, tomatoes and watermelon. These products were gathered from various parts of the county. The grains are not as good as desired, some having been green when gathered. Gray county's score card is entirely filled out.
General opinion appeared to favor Randall county for first place in the dozen or more competing exhibits, with Hemphill ranking nearly as high. A number of exhibits are not in competition, and include such items as cups and honors won at other fairs. Agricultural experts praised Gray county's exhibits, but said that better selections of seed for planting appeared to be the greatest need indicated.

Dixie Series to Begin Wednesday in Birmingham

MEMPHIS, Sept. 22.—(P)—The Dixie Series to decide the unofficial flag baseball championship of the South will open Wednesday in Birmingham, winner of the Southern Association pennant, and the first game in Houston, Texas league champions, will be played next Saturday.
Officials of the two leagues and of the contending clubs met here today and arranged a schedule.
Games are to be played in Birmingham Wednesday and Thursday. Friday the teams will travel and on Saturday they open a three-day engagement in Houston. Tuesday, Oct. 2, will be given to travel and the sixth game is to be played in Birmingham October 2.
Immediately preceding the fourth contest a coin will be tossed to decide where the seventh game, if necessary, is to be played. Should Birmingham win the toss, it will be played there Thursday, October 4. If Houston wins, the Texas city will have the game Friday, October 5.

DEMOCRATS ORGANIZE

DALLAS, Sept. 22.—(P)—Representatives of nearly all counties on the South Plains met in Lubbock today and organized for a precinct-by-precinct campaign for the Democratic ticket. Democratic state campaign headquarters here announced it was informed by telephone today by district Judge Clark Sullivan.

CANCELS SPEAKING DATE

AUSTIN, Sept. 22.—(P)—Dr. John Roach Straton of New York, stump-speecher against Governor Smith, has cancelled his scheduled speaking engagement here Wednesday night, it was learned today.

Bond Signatures Must Be Valid, Justice Declares

Bond was set at $750 by Justice of the Peace C. E. Cary in the case of Leon Strong, charged with the possession of whiskey, beer and wine in justice court yesterday morning.
Charges were laid as a result of a raid in which the officers said they confiscated five one-gallon jugs, of wine, four half-gallon jugs of wine, three gallons of whiskey, and the bottles of beer with capping outfit. The raid was made late Thursday night. Strong waived an examination trial.
In setting bond, Justice of the Peace Cary stated that from now on bond must be made by persons financially able to stand the bond, or the treasurer must be in cash.
"I am determined to do away with letting every 'Tom, Dick and Harry' sign bond papers, only to find them no good. When a man signs a bond he is going to have to convince me that he is able and capable of signing that bond," the Justice stated.

SMITH CLUB TO BE ORGANIZED

Committee Calls Meeting to Convene Monday Evening

A meeting to organize a Pampa Smith-Robinson Democratic club has been called for tomorrow night at 8:30 in the Chamber of Commerce rooms by a committee of local men headed by John Henry, Judge G. S. Wortman, G. N. Haley and E. C. Murray.
The meeting will be opened to all legal Smith men, who will support the Democratic nominee from the Presidential to the county level.
The committee in charge of the meeting will make a motion that a debate challenge be issued to Mr. John Straton of New York, who will speak at the Methodist church next Sunday morning, to a debate on the Smith-Robinson question. The men say they are not in favor of the church's taking part in politics, but wish all members of churches, regardless of creed, to join the Pampa club and support Al Smith.

Cabot Employee Is Hurt in Explosion

Ed Martin, an employe of the Cabot company's carbon black plant at Skellytown, was brought to the McKean hospital late Friday night, suffering from painful burns about the face.
Martin was burned when he leaned over an acetylene motor with a carbide lamp on his cap. He was injured more by flames than from the explosion.
A late report from the hospital last night stated that he was doing nicely.

Daily News Will Conduct Straw Vote on Next President to Show Readers Sentiment in This Area

Straw votes may or may not show which way the political wind is blowing, but they are very interesting and the Daily News is going to take one this week.
Beginning today and continuing through next Thursday, a ballot will be printed on this page. Readers of The News are invited to indicate their choice for president. Use the form below.

Presidential "Straw Vote" Ballot

For President—

ALFRED E. SMITH (Democrat)

HERBERT C. HOOVER (Republican)

Scratch out the name of the candidate you do NOT prefer. Mail or bring your vote to The Straw Vote Editor, Pampa Daily News, Box 448, Pampa, Texas. In the interest of accuracy, do not vote more than once. The ballots need not be signed, and only picked election judges will see them. Final results of the poll will be announced in Daily News September 30.

Telephone Line Is Built by Electric Light Corporation

Southwestern Public Service company in town Saturday completed installation of a telephone line connecting Amarillo, Panhandle, White Deer, and Pampa along the company's poles. The hook-up has not been completed at Panhandle because of the lack of material but the other places are in communication with one another at the present time.
Although strung along poles carrying a 44,000-volt high line, service is perfect. In case of an accident along the line, a man can leave each point where the company has headquarters and upon finding the break, the lineman, equipped with a portable phone, can tap the line at any point and telephone headquarters. In the past, the lineman had to hunt a telephone in a farm house to telephone confirmation of repairs.
An instance of delays encountered was cited by W. H. Curry local manager, and which are remedied by the new telephone line. If a break was found in the high line between Amarillo and Panhandle, the lineman would have to drive to either town for repairs as there is not a telephone between the two points. This was the prime reason for the telephone line.

ABILENE BOY KILLED

WINFIELD, Kas., Sept. 22.—(P)—Ray Caspary, 26, Abilene, Tex., was killed today when he touched a high tension wire while moving a power line between here and Dexter, Kas.

THE WEATHER VANE

WEST TEXAS—Sunday partly cloudy, probably showers in south portion, warmer in southwest portion; Monday partly cloudy to unsettled.

HURT IN ACCIDENT

Troy Johnson of LeFors was taken to the Pampa hospital late Friday night suffering from cuts and bruises received when his car turned over on the LeFors road. He is doing nicely and in no serious condition hospital attendants report.

Reign of Terror

Extortion, an old ruse, has been brought into use in several states and in Honolulu this week. Kidnaping strikes terror to the hearts of fathers and mothers as no danger to themselves would do.

Threats against a man's family come nearer influencing his actions than any manner of bribery. Extortion and blackmail are the instruments of the anarchist. They are so foreign to the American way of doing things that bank robbery is not likely to arouse such indignation.

American juries may be expected to give the full penalty of the law to such offenders as are caught. Terrorism should never find a place in American criminality.

Sky High Rents

Rents follow the supply and demand principle only roughly, for the reason that unless the supply is much greater than the active demand, there are not enough vacancies to make lower rentals competitive.

Many families would like to move to cheaper houses, yet unless there is a sizeable surplus, the discomfort of moving rather often to economize prevents active efforts to reduce rentals. When living conditions are too great, opinion against house rents continues strong. Finally, this results in lowering of the offending rates, if for no other reason than that people move away and create vacancies. Many cities have suffered severely because of their reputations for high rents.

Pampa has cheap gas, merchandise in line with other cities of this area, or lower, but there is no denying that a supply of cheaper houses of the better type would be one of the greatest present-day factors in our development. It is regrettable that the high rental enters so seriously in the lives of salaried people here.

Newcomers are often rightly advised to take the best thing offered at the moment, with the possibility of bettering themselves later. Those who do this usually work out a solution.

Still, we need more and cheaper houses.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON—A minimum of 35,000,000 votes will be cast in this year's presidential election, according to Simon Michelet, president of the National Get-Out-the-Vote Club and an outstanding analyst of ballot statistics.

"I won't be a bit surprised," Michelet says, "if it's forty million." Roughly estimated, about 59,000,000 men and women will be entitled to vote on November 6. Thus, according to Michelet's estimate, up to two-thirds of the eligible vote may be cast.

This would be an immense proportional increase over 1924, when the 29,000,000 votes cast for Coolidge, Davis and LaFollette were only about 52 per cent of the total eligible vote. The percentage for 1920 is estimated to have been about 49.

Mr. Coolidge, it may be observed, was returned to the White House by but 69 per cent of the electorate, less than one-third.

Michelet explains that he has been in communication with state, county, city and other officials in every state. "From every source," he says, "comes the word that we are going to have the heaviest vote, in proportion to the number who can vote if they want to, since 1896.

"The biggest increase is going to come from the women. Officials in many districts write that they know of precincts in which every man and woman will be at the polls this year. Hundreds of messages are coming to me from men and women who want to know how they can vote. Women's organizations over the country are intensely interested.

"Women take an interest in presidential elections which they don't take in local elections. And heretofore nearly all our national campaign issues have been economic issues.

"Women aren't so much interested in economic issues and are still in the process of becoming informed about them. "But they understand what the issues are in this campaign and they're not going to depend on their men folks to explain them and tell them how to vote. In previous elections they have generally voted as their men voted, but in November there will be a great amount of division in families. Many a house will be divided against itself.

"It's a sure thing, first, that many more women are going to vote now who never voted before and, second, that they will begin to vote with complete independence."

Neither in 1920 or 1924, Michelet points out, did the campaign contain the issues of 1928. Nor did either of the last two campaigns present a similar uncertainty of outcome.

WASHINGTON—Senator J. Boomboom McWhorter's reelection to the Senate is in some doubt, according to confidential advices from the senator's home state.

If there's anything that Senator McWhorter dislikes in an election, it's opposition. And now there's another gent after his job. This is not the same gent who gave him such a close race in 1922. It will be recalled the farmers in the senator's state were all very sore on him in that year and there was every indication that they were going to retire McWhorter to his kraut-packing business.

The senator's enemies say luck saved him, but the senator insists it was his own stroke of genius. The night before election he put the McWhorter precinct workers to killing spiders, whereupon it rained so hard that all farmers trying to get to the polls were bogged in the mud. Some say it would have rained anyway, but the senator points out that everybody knows it will rain if you kill a spider.

TWINKLES

It's getting so windy of late that perhaps we should remind you clients again that these breezes are invariably the edge of something worse and windier.

Being doubtful is good publicity, providing your community is doubtful enough to draw in the big guns of the political front.

"Whispering campaigns" may be under way, but the only ones we near need no amplifiers.

This is a great old age—you can strike a governor and suffer no derogatory result, as in Louisiana recently. A century or two ago that would have lost one his health in some countries.

Maybe, when Tunney was down 14 seconds at Chicago, he was thinking of the infinitely longer count he was about to take from a Miss Lauder.

According to the ads, you can select most anything worthwhile blindfolded. Some men may have attempted matrimony that way. But there is no accounting for tastes, as Adam probably said, and it would be a monotonous world if everything were so-so.

BARBS

A new instrument in the Bureau of Standards is so delicate that it can detect the buzzing of a fly on Mount Everest. Just the thing for the Democrats to use against the Whispering Campaigners.

Those who think the cleverness of its little ink now and then probably didn't read Bishop Cannon's recent remark that the success of prohibition has been proved by staggering figures.

A German broke the official record for piano playing by keeping at it for 82 hours. The unofficial record, of course, is held by the girl next door.

Exposition Closes By Giving Prizes to Lucky Persons

The Merchants' Exposition, held at the Pla-Mor auditorium September 18, 19, and 20 and sponsored by the women of the First Christian church, was brought to a successful close with a program Thursday night. The largest crowd to attend the Exposition was present for the awarding of the prizes, which was the main feature of the evening.

Miss Mary Jo Harmon was named queen of the Exposition and given a dress donated by Gordon Siora company, a hat from Adams Dry Goods company, and hose from Mitchell's store. Miss Frances Campbell was winner of the diamond ring. The capitol prize, a Ford touring car, was awarded to Hugh Isbell.

Mrs. Herman Wachtendorf was winner of the floor lamp from Stephenson's furniture store. The bicycle, which was the first prize for children, went to Paul Crossman. Mrs. Beacom won the dishes given by Kraft's Mint. J. Graves received the basket of groceries from the C. and C. System store. Three strands of pearls were given by the Quality Jewellers, one on each day of the exposition. Mrs. Lawson was winner of the strand given last night. H. W. Hickman received the pearls given away Tuesday and Miss Josephine Lewis won the string given Wednesday.

Credits on a radio purchase were won by Mrs. Ivan Kullman, Mrs. C. S. Epton, and Mr. Dennison. Credit on cleaning at the O'Gue was won by Mrs. W. B. Kitcher.

The program of the evening included numbers by Willie Weldon, new artist, cowboy dances by Billie Mack, and piano solo by Miss Mercedes Turley. Miss Mable Graham and Lewis Hardin danced the Highland fling and Mr. Hardin gave a clever impersonation of Harry Lauder.

McLean Council Moves to Obtain Landing Field

Sept. 22.—The need for a strip for McLean was at the regular monthly meeting of the council. A committee composed of E. J. Landers, H. S. White, W. S. White, and M. D. Bentley was appointed to ascertain what co-operation could be secured from the railroad with regard to using the vacant land south of the track near the depot as a field. The need for such a landing field to accommodate mail on mail interested in the McLean field was brought to the attention of the council.

Fifteen new members were added to the high school band with the opening of school. They will receive preliminary drill with the junior band, but will soon join the thirty original members who are back on the band this year.

The band has made remarkable progress under the direction of Prof. Robert G. Davidson. It was organized a little over a year ago and as a result of the continued efforts of Supt. George Tummins. The band is now tax supported and is a municipal band as well as the official school band.

gathered in and around McLean. Cotton, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, peanuts, watermelons, pumpkins, turnips, carrots, and various other products are included in the exhibit.

J. R. Back and Donald Beall, with other members of the Chamber of Commerce, have spent almost the entire week in gathering the specimens. They say that prospects for bumper crops throughout the community could hardly be better.

With fifteen men regularly reporting for practice, indications are that McLean will have a winning football team this year. The schedule for the Tiger team has not been completed, but the following games have been arranged to follow up the opening game with Claude Friday afternoon.

Help Your Motor Use All Its Legs

Many motors are running around today on three power legs instead of four. You get the power of all four legs when you use KOOLMOTOR gasoline.

KOOLMOTOR, the new clear-burning, green tinted gasoline, has been especially refined for both new style and old style engines. It combines in one fuel the ability to deliver all the energy an engine is capable of using, and at the same time minimizes "knocking."

Test a tankful today for yourself. It will enable your car also to use all four legs.

Young Hubbell Saves Giants' Pennant Hopes by Downing Cards

Second Victory in Three Days Won By 8-5 Score

POLO GROUNDS, New York, Sept. 22.—(AP)—For the second time in three days, Young Lochinvar, in the pitching person of gangling Karl Hubbell, stepped in to save the pennant chances of the New York Giants today and make the National league pennant race tighter than the proverbial bass drum.

While 40,000 fans roared their acclaim, Hubbell, near Oklahoma youth who came to the Giants only a few weeks ago from the Texas league, throttled the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals in the midst of a fiercely fought battle this afternoon and beat them for the second straight time by the tune of 8 to 5.

Hubbell, Eberdel, and Wilson; Fitzsimmons, Hubbell and Hogan.

CUBS ELIMINATED
BROOKLYN, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The Robins practically eliminated the Cubs from the 1928 pennant race by shutting out the Bruins here today, 4 to 0. It was the second straight victory for Brooklyn over the third place Cubs. Doug McWeeny outpitched Charlie Root and Malone.

Braves Win Two
BOSTON, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Meeting Cincinnati for the last time this season, today, the Braves defeated the visitors in both games of a double header.

The Braves had an easy time in winning the first game 11 to 4, but Cincinnati apparently was on the way to victory in the second until Boston landed heavily on Jimmy Beckman in the eighth, scoring six runs and winning by a margin of 9 to 6.

Ash, Beckman and Picinich; Greenfield and Taylor.

Walberg Is Beaten
DETROIT, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers dimmed the pennant chances of the Athletics by defeating the Macks here this afternoon, 5 to 4, in the final game of the series. Rube Walberg was knocked out by a four-run blast in the opener, and the visitors never were able to catch up, although they routed Victor Sorrell in the eighth.

Senators Defeat Indians
CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 22.—(AP)—Washington closed the series with Cleveland here today by handing the Indians a six to nothing defeat. It gave them three straight over the Clevelanders.

Phillies Takes Pair
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Pittsburgh won the second game of a double-header from the Phillies today, 5 to 3, after taking the first, 9 to 7. Thompson, Philadelphia, and Eramo, Pittsburgh, each hit a home run in the second game.

Phillies Wins
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Pittsburgh won the second game of a double-header from the Phillies today, 5 to 3, after taking the first, 9 to 7. Thompson, Philadelphia, and Eramo, Pittsburgh, each hit a home run in the second game.

Sold to Giants

Pitching worries were many for Manager McGraw of the New York Giants this summer, and for that reason he's buying all the fast youngsters he can. Here's Harry Kelly, bought by the Giants from Memphis in the Southern Association, a few days ago. He had a trial in the majors before, but failed.

Yankee Hurlers Unable to Stop Chicago Sluggers

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The White Sox took the odd game of the series from the Yankees here today 5 to 2, but the champions lost no ground in the pennant race as the Athletics were defeated in Detroit, 5 to 4. Alphonse Thomas outpitched four Yankee hurlers.

Johnson, Helmach, Thomas, Pipgras and Bengough, Collins; Thomas and Berg.

Walberg Is Beaten
DETROIT, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers dimmed the pennant chances of the Athletics by defeating the Macks here this afternoon, 5 to 4, in the final game of the series. Harvesters Ready to Meet Texhoma at Fair Monday

Coach Odus Mitchell and his Harvesters will invade Amarillo tomorrow morning to do battle with the Texoma eleven at the Amarillo fair grounds at 10:45 o'clock. Mitchell will take his strongest eleven to Amarillo to show the big town that Pampa has the greatest football team in the history of the school.

Lloyd Mason, last year's letter man and a star on the team, is out for practice again and will fill the gap in the right side of the line. The coach has also made a discovery in Troy Lewis, formerly of Wetona, Okla., a lineman of real ability. Ralph Watkins, last year a star on the famous Deadwood, S. D., eleven, and Red Bain, a local product who is looking good in the line, are new finds. Watkins is a backfield man.

The boys were put through light passing practice Friday afternoon, following their strenuous game with the Clarendon Bulldogs. They were somewhat battered but weathered the storm of hits and feet rather well for this early in the season.

The opening game of the scholastic season is scheduled for next Friday with Wheeler, but it is not yet known whether Wheeler will be ready to meet the Harvesters. Coach Mitchell expects word early this week. The game will be played here if scheduled.

Manush Hikes to Lead in American League Slugging

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—(AP)—From no place in particular has come Heinie Manush, St. Louis outfielder, to take the lead in American league batting just when "Goose" Goslin and Lou Gehrig figured they had the race to themselves.

The St. Louis slugger during the week ending Wednesday boosted his average eight points to .372.

While Manush was slugging the ball, Goslin was losing three percentage points to trail the Browns' outfielder by two points, according to figures released today and including games of Wednesday.

Leading hitters: Manush, St. Louis .374; Goslin, Washington, .372; Gehrig, New York, .368; Simmons, Philadelphia, .352; Lazzeri, New York, .333; E. Rice, Washington, .327; J. Sewell, Cleveland, .326; E. Miller, Philadelphia, .324; Combs, New York, .320; Bishop, Philadelphia, .319.

Alvin Crowder of St. Louis added another pitching victory to his string during the week and maintained his lead over "Lefty" Grove of Philadelphia with 18 victories and five defeats. Grove's record is 23 and 7 for an average of .767, seven points more than Waite Hoyt of the Yankees.

Because of the Athletic loss a couple of points in team batting the New York Yankees went into undisputed possession of first place with an average of .697 two points above the Connie Mack crew.

The Athletics made an attempt to catch Boston in the team fielding race but their 97.2 point average lacked one point of tying the Red Sox.

Buddy Myer, apparently has the stolen base honors in the sack, with 25.

Birmingham Wins Southern Title to Meet Houston

MEMPHIS, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The 1928 Southern Association pennant will fly over Rickwood park in Birmingham because the Barons today made the Chiskasaws a vanquished race.

Mercilessly, the Noblemen, swept through the tribe, winning today's game 5 to 0 for the third consecutive victory of the play-off. They entertained tonight for Birmingham where Wednesday they will meet Houston in the first game of the Dixie series.

Ralph Judd pitched the Barons to conquest and he did it brilliantly. Only six hits were made off him by five men in five different innings.

Baylor's Showing Is Good Against Teachers College

WACO, Sept. 22.—(AP)—After a "first team" had failed for two periods to push over a single score against the Stephen F. Austin State Teachers college team, Coach Morley Jennings of the Baylor Bears rushed in a "second" team, which under the leadership of Jake Wilson, former Waco high school star, pushed over two touchdowns to give the Bruins a start. They won the game 31 to 0, making three touchdowns in the third period and two in the last.

The Baylor team which started the game was dead on its feet and could gain little yardage against the Teachers. The entire game was marred by frequent fumbles as the ball was slick from a drizzling rain which fell throughout the contest.

Play in Steady Rain
FORT WORTH, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Playing on a field softened by rain which fell continuously throughout the game, Texas Christian university's Horned Frog eleven defeated East Texas Teachers college here today, 21 to 0.

As a result of the slippery footing, both teams resorted to a kicking game. Coach Bell used his entire squad in the fray for experimental purposes and from the contest emerged Austin Griffith, Dallas sophomore back, as a conference scoring threat. After Reid had blocked Criswell's punt and recovered on the Teacher's 10-yard line, Griffith smashed across for a touchdown and Atkins converted for the extra point.

Aggies Win Handily
COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college won its first football game of the season handily here today, defeating Trinity university of Waxahatchie 21 to 0. Coach Bible employed several teams in an effort to uncover as much reserve material as possible.

Hornsby Leads Waner by Single Point in Batting

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(AP)—With only ten more days of the season left, Rogers Hornsby and Paul Waner were still neck and neck for the batting championship of the National league last Wednesday night when the current averages were compiled. The Boston manager led by one point, "having risen to .383 by a spurt as the Pirate star fell to .382.

Other leading batsmen were: Klein Philadelphia, .355; Slater, Boston, .353; Lindstrom, New York, .353; Rietger, St. Louis, .341; Herman, Brooklyn, .340; Hafey, St. Louis, .340; Richbourg, Boston, .338; Traynor, Pittsburgh, .337; and Hogan, New York, .336.

Although Hornsby regained the top by a shade over Paul Waner, the Pittsburgh flash retained many other individual coronets. He led in total hits with 218; in scoring runs with 137; in doubles, with 51, and in triples with 19. Hack Wilson of Chicago still topped the home run hitters with 30.

Larry Benton of the Giants remained on top in the pitching table with 24 victories and 7 defeats for .774, followed by his teammate Fred Fitzsimmons, with 20 and 8 for .714.

Benton led the pitchers not only in percentage, but also in complete games, where he had a margin of 37 to 26 over Grimes of Pittsburgh. Benton and Grimes were tied in total victories, each with 24, but Grimes was bogged down to 649 and ninth place by 13 defeats.

The Pirates, well out of the pennant fight led in team batting once more, this time with .311.

The Cubs were on top in team fielding with .975, one point more than could be shown by St. Louis and Cincinnati, tied for second.

Ed Herlacher returned Friday after visiting in Wichita Falls, Electric and Maud, Okla.

Amarillo Sandies Overwhelm Norman

AMARILLO, Sept. 22.—(Special)—The Amarillo High school Sandies romped over Norman, Oklahoma's football team, 20 to 12, before a big crowd at the Tri-State fair Saturday.

Running heady interference, the local's outpointed the visitors throughout. The score at the end of the half was 13-6 in Amarillo's favor.

Many Prizes to Be Won Today in Golf Tourney

Preparations have been made to accommodate 50 Gray county golfers in an open handicap tournament over the Pampa golf course today. The first flight will begin this morning and continue today.

Prizes have been donated by local stores, the winner to receive a cup donated by Sam Fenberg, local sport enthusiast.

The only way to miss a prize is to be in the middle of the list. There are prizes for the winners and prizes for the losers.

The winner will be declared tomorrow night after the "day's" play. Each player must play "18 holes." It will not be necessary to play the distance at one time. No player will be allowed to keep his own score. Players may arrange their own foursomes for the play.

Handicaps range from 12 to 20, allowing even the poorest players a chance to win a prize. G. W. Thomas holds the lowest handicap, while at least a dozen have the maximum. Play is open to golfers from the entire county for the entrance fee of one dollar.

The prizes include a cup for the winner, gifts for the six runners-up, one for the player turning in the largest score and others to the next five highest score.

THE WORD HAS A NEW AND FINER MOTOR CAR

Art Goebel won the Dale Race from San Francisco to Hawaii, then he hung up a new record for a Coast to Coast continuous flight, with a twin ignition, high compression, valve-in-head motor. And then he bought a new Nash "400" to get the same kind of performance from his motor car.

It was a Twin-Ignition Motor that carried Lindbergh over the Atlantic, Goebel * over the Pacific, Byrd over the Pole!

In history-making flights Lindbergh, Byrd, Goebel and a host of others have established dramatically and conclusively the superiority and reliability of twin ignition, high compression, valve-in-head motor performance.

And all three principles are combined in the great new Nash Twin Ignition Motor which powers every Nash "400" Special and Advanced Six model.

The Nash Twin Ignition Motor, with two ignition coils instead of one, two spark plugs (airplane type) to each cylinder instead of one, 360 sparks a second instead of 180, at top speed, burns the highly compressed gases more thoroughly and economically.

The result is more power from less gasoline, and ordinary gasoline at that. No special, high priced fuels are required for the Twin Ignition Motor.

Once you drive the great new Nash "400" you are certain never to be contented with the performance of older types of motors.

NEW YORKER AT LARGE

BY G. D. SEYMOUR

NEW YORK—Minnie, sea-going cat, has not missed a voyage on the ocean liner Minnewaska since she joined its crew almost five years ago.

When the ship is in port here Minnie is absent for days at a time, but she invariably appears on deck half an hour or so before the gang plank is hauled in for an Atlantic crossing. She knows her way about London, too, but she dislikes foggy nights, and never spends a night ashore when the Minnewaska is at the Kong George Y docks in the Thames.

Capt. Frank Claret of the vessel regards Minnie as the best sailor cat in the world, because she knows the sailing habits of the ship so well. Her best friends are members of the crew, and seldom does she become chummy with passengers, although she did take a liking to William Gillette; the veteran actor, this summer and followed him about the ship for hours. Her kittens, as rapidly as they arrive, are handed out to passengers as souvenirs, and William Manning, pursuer, regrets only that they are not ten times as numerous.

Extra Stage Business

Not all the precautions that players and stage managers can take will prevent the marring of first-night performances by occasional unanticipated incidents. In a play which opened a few nights ago, one of the minor characters is a huge dog, chained to a baggage car. It was entirely in character for him to have a few fleas and to scratch them, but the actors were put out and the audience, too, greatly amused when the canine scratched himself so vigorously that the noise of his paws and the clanking of his chain made the performers' lines almost inaudible until he was led out.

Even more disturbing was the experience of the actor in another play who at the high point of his role, unsheathed a sword and dashed to the lawn outside to slaughter his adversary. As he pulled out the blade he threw the scabbard behind him with too much zeal. It bounded over the footlights and lit squarely on the cranium of an elderly gentleman in the first row.

The Linguistic Kid

Jackie Coogan, the boy actor, may or may not have been a Boy Scout in his varied career, but he believes in being prepared.

The youthful Thespian, who has been appearing before the footlights on Broadway, plans a tour of France and Germany and already has learned French so that he will have a means of saying what he wants to say when he makes his first appearance in Marseilles October 26. He has five months to learn the German language before he crosses the Rhine, but he is at work on it already. He intends to sail on the Majestic October 5.

Ninety town houses still hold their places on "millionaire's row," while in ten years the number of apartments facing Central park on the avenue have increased only from 13 to 47.

Eventually the upper avenue may be filled with apartments as Riverside drive and Park avenue are now.

but it will be at least a generation before the passing of the last of the mansions, if the present rate of disappearance is a criterion.

Such imposing homes as those of Thomas Fortune Ryan, Mrs. Andrew Carnegie and the Brokaws survive as show places, perpetuating the stamp of individuality which has been erased elsewhere.

Until lately Fifth avenue suddenly ceased, a little way above 100th street, to be the abode of millionaires, and became a site of cheap apartments. The traveler stepped suddenly from an atmosphere of wealth and seclusion into streets where fire escapes protruded over the sidewalks from dingy buildings lived with delicatessens and grocery stores, and butcher shops.

Now a barrier of public institutions is rising between "millionaire's row" and the ragged northern fringe of the thoroughfare.

Mount Sinai hospital, the Heckscher Foundation for Children, and First Avenue hospital, a new medical clinic, the home of the Daughters of Israel and Peace House already stand oppo-

How Hurricane Wrecked San Juan

This first picture from the stricken city of San Juan, Porto Rico, where a tropical hurricane claimed a toll of many lives and caused property loss running into millions, shows the wreckage left by the terrific storm. The wind blowing at nearly 150 miles an hour, ripped houses apart and tossed them about like egg shells while rain came down in torrents. The damage extended throughout the island, leaving many thousands homeless and in danger of starvation. The above photo was taken in the heart of San Juan immediately after the storm had subsided and speeded to this newspaper by NEA Service, via airplane and telephoto wires.

has been adopted by a firm of Fifth avenue furriers. Promptly at one o'clock each day the store is closed, to reopen at two. A sign on the door points out that the plan has been adopted in order that executives may eat at the same hour as the employees and thus be available to see patrons whenever the store is open, instead of being out at lunch when mid-day customers call.

Theatrical Trinity

Will Shakespeare himself would doubtless be surprised to learn that three centuries after his age he is still the most popular playwright on Broadway.

But so he is for last season eight of his works were presented in New York theaters, as against five by Willard Mack and four by Henrik Ibsen.

Shakespearean productions of last season ranged from "The Taming of the Shrew," which Basil Sydney and Mary Ellis played in modern dress through most of the season, to George Arliss' "Merchant of Venice" and Max Reinhardt's Shakespearean importations from Germany. Mack, as runner up among the prolific playwrights, saw four of his own plays produced and was collaborating author of a fifth.

An entirely new scheme of body lines and contours... the most costly paneling employed on any automobile in the world ... and the richest upholsteries and appointments distinguish Buick's new Masterpiece BODIES by FISHER

The Silver Anniversary Buick is kindling more interest—drawing more people to the display rooms—winning more praise—and creating a demand so sweeping and so insistent that Buick's vast factories have reached new levels of production in attempting to keep pace.

—all because it is not only the most brilliant performing automobile of the day, but also because it marks a new style—a thrilling new mode of car design—more beautiful, more luxurious and more graceful than any the world has known!

An entirely new scheme of body lines and contours—softly rounded steel panels, the most costly employed on any motor car—a continuous moulding with double bead running around the body and dividing the lower from the upper structure—all impart an atmosphere of unrivaled beauty.

If you want beauty—if you want individuality—if you want up-to-the-minute smartness—there's only one choice... the choice of America... the Silver Anniversary Buick with new Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher. It's the new style—the new mode—in motor cars!

Twentieth Century Club To Give Breakfast As First Event of Year, With Club Presidents Honor Guests

Another lovely social affair is planned as the opening event of a study club's activities. The Twentieth Century club has set Tuesday, September 25, as President's Day, and has named the presidents of other study clubs and Parent-Teacher associations of the city with Mrs. W. A. Bratton, president of Twentieth Century, as guests of honor at a breakfast to be given at 9:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. I. B. Hughey. Mrs. Bratton will deliver her message to the club at this, the first meeting of the year.

World Court, the League of Nations and the Pan-American Unions are topics of study on the second program. The question of world disarmament will be discussed in the third and last program of the group, which takes up The Home and World Peace. Mrs. J. T. Clark, Mrs. C. C. Dodd, and Mrs. Porter Malone.

ART AND POETRY ARE TOPICS OF PROGRAMS

A lesson in interior decoration will be conducted by Mrs. Raymond Harrah. A comparative study of elaborate rated elegies will be the basis of one of the most interesting programs of the year. Tennyson's "In Memoriam," Shelley's "Adonais" and Milton's "Lycidas," are the three poems to be studied. Mrs. Tom Rose was chosen as leader. A one-act play, "How the Story Grew," is to be staged by club members as the eighth program of the year. Famous Mothers is listed as another attractive program topic. Mrs. A. H. Doucette will lead the discussion.

MISCELLANEOUS STUDY COURSE IS PLANNED

An interesting and constructive year is before this study group. The committee has spent every effort in arranging programs for the semi-monthly meetings of the club an event exceptionally happy results. A great variety of subjects is included in the course of study. Literature, art, drama, child training, home and community improvement, biography, and international relations are bases of special programs. Mrs. R. W. Mitchell, chairman, Mrs. A. H. Doucette, and Mrs. H. G. Twiford comprise the committee which planned the course of study.

GROUP TO JOIN FEDERATED CLUBS

Affiliation with the State and National Federation of Women's clubs is one of the aims of the club. This will take place within the next few months, according to present plans. The club, not yet a year old, is one of the most prominent women's organizations in the city, by reason of its active leadership in civic movements during the past months and the distinguished type of work done within the club.

TALENTED MEMBERS TO CONDUCT PROGRAMS

The club is to meet on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. At the first regular meeting, October 9, a program on Character Building in the Home, a study in child training, will be given under the leadership of Mrs. John Willis. Robert Browning's beautiful "Andrea Del Sarto" will be studied at the following meeting. Mrs. H. H. Hicks will have charge of this program. Mrs. J. T. Clark, who has studied architecture and art in the University of Michigan, will talk to the club on some phase of architecture at the third regular meeting. A resume of American art and a study of the American old masters of painting, etching, and sculpture, will occupy the club at another meeting. Mrs. R. W. Mitchell is leader for the art program.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS TO BE STUDIED 3 WEEKS

Mrs. H. G. Twiford will conduct a program on the Psalms. A debate will be an interesting feature of the year's work. Should We Go Back to the Crinoline Days? is the question to be argued by Mrs. J. T. Clark and Mrs. Porter Malone on the affirmative and Mrs. H. H. Hicks and Mrs. H. D. Lewis on the negative. Three meetings will be devoted to a study of international relations. What Our Neighbors Are Thinking of Us is the first of the programs listed. It takes up relations of the United States with England, Germany, and Mexico. The next program of the series takes up The Home and International Relations. The

SOCIAL CALENDAR

El Progresso club will meet with Mrs. R. E. House at the Joyce ranch, Tuesday afternoon. The meeting will open at 2:30 o'clock.

The Methodist Women's Missionary Society will meet at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the chapel of the church.

The Twentieth Century club will give a breakfast at the home of Mrs. I. B. Hughey at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, as the opening meeting of the club year.

Mrs. H. C. Heinlen Entertains Just We Club at Hotel Davis

Mrs. H. C. Heinlen entertained the Just We bridge club in her suite at the Hotel Davis Friday afternoon. At the close of an interesting game, high score favor was given to Mrs. Don Wakeman. Delicious refreshments were then served.

Mrs. Heinlen's guest list included the following names of club members and special guests: Mrs. Harry Elderling, Mrs. J. H. Lavender, Mrs. F. M. Williams, Mrs. J. H. Lutz, Mrs. C. E. McHenry, Mrs. S. L. Maynard, and Mrs. Wakeman.

Methodist W. M. S. to Have Program at Church Wednesday

The Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church has planned a program of more than the usual interest for the meeting to be held in the church chapel Wednesday afternoon. The meeting will be opened with the singing of the hymn, "Must Jesus Bear the Cross Alone." The topic of the devotional period is Even Unto Death. Mrs. W. Purviance is leader of the devotional. What is Involved in Life's Dedication? is another topic to be discussed on this program. Scriptural reference on this question is Mark 14: 10, 32-49. Mrs. Tom Brabham will make a report on Missionary news. The closing hymn for the afternoon is "Forward Through the Ages." Leaders for the program urge that all members bring their year books to the meeting. The program is to be opened at 3 o'clock.

Judge T. M. Wolfe is confined to his home by illness.

Response to Public Welfare Call for Clothing Is Good

Prompt and generous response to the Pampa Welfare Association's recent request for gifts of clothing for needy families has been made by citizens of the city, says Mrs. M. P. Downs, public welfare nurse. In addition to the gifts of individuals, large bundles were donated by Gordon's store and the Woman's Auxiliary of the Episcopal church.

Mrs. Downs says the need for children's clothing is greatest. Several children in the city were unable to enter school until the Association secured clothing for them. With the coming of cold weather the need will increase, it is thought. Mrs. Downs and other members of the Welfare Association urge that everyone in Pampa who has clothing he does not need bring it to Association headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce office, in order that it may be placed in the hands of those who do need it. Anyone not having a way to send the garments to the office may call Mrs. Downs at telephone number 605. She will call for bundles. All clothing should be clean.

Mrs. J. D. Burns of White Deer is seriously ill in the Pampa hospital.

Guiding Your Child

BY MRS. AGNES LYNE

The child lives in a house whose furnishings were designed without thought of him. The lamps and rugs, the fuses and hangings were arranged for the exclusive pleasure of those tall people who dominate his daily life.

The following instance is typical of what most children go through: Lucy at the age of 18 months had just learned to walk. While each day brought new and fascinating experiences into her life, it brought also new and devastating disappointments.

As long as Lucy's world had been limited by her play pen she had never entered into trouble. Now when she was clever enough to pull herself up from the floor by clutching the picture with grubby fingers, she was severely scolded. When in the course of the activities she broke a dish, littered the living room floor with scraps of the morning newspaper, marked with crayon the new deck of bridge cards, and spilled ink on carpet, she found that life could be painful and stormy indeed.

In all her troublesome and destructive activity Lucy meant no harm. She was just finding out about these many interesting things that until so recently had been inaccessible to her. Punishment made little difference in her behavior. Her impulse to touch and investigate was stronger than fear.

Lucy's problem is easy to solve. If possible she should be given a room of her own whose walls and floors can be washed. There should be rugs that can be sent to the laundry. There should be shelves to hold the toys. The few pieces of furniture should be easily moved aside to make room for play. Empty boxes, old spoons and the many things that find their way into the waste basket can first be used by the child to meet the urge to tear apart, to find out to make, and to do.

Nothing will make the child appreciate the pennies which jingle in his pocket quite so much as earning a few of them himself.

Henry, having been paid for weeding the flower bed, begins to understand that one works to get money and feels pride in his achievement. Children, even the little ones, should have opportunities to earn money. In every household there are little tasks for which a child may be paid.

The work for which a child receives wages ought to be carefully chosen. He must never be paid for being "good" or for doing his duty. He must accept without thought of pay such obligations as putting his toys

May Lead Vets

Paul V. McNutt, dean of the law school of Indiana University, is prominently mentioned as one of the leading candidates for election as national commander of the American Legion at the national convention in San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 8. McNutt, now national executive chairman of the Legion for Indiana, is the youngest man ever appointed dean of the Indiana University faculty—his age is 36. He served in the field artillery during the war and now holds a commission in the reserve corps as colonel, commanding the 326th field artillery.

away and hang up his clothes. He should never look for money reward when he goes bravely to the dentist's chair. Such unpleasant things must be faced as part of life's inevitable hardships.

The child must learn, too, that some services are rendered only for love. He may run little errands for mother because he loves her, not because he is permitted to use his job as a convenience to increase his income, whenever he pleases. He must learn that a promise to perform a certain task is binding, and that failure to keep such a promise carries with it the penalty of losing his job. In fixing the amount of the child's pay it is important that he should feel neither exploited nor overpaid. His wages should appear to him a reasonable return for the service he has rendered.

The child's wages offer a fine opportunity to teach the distinction between work done as a duty, work done for love, and work done for money

CHURCHES

THE METHODIST CHURCH

Again we have arranged three fine programs for Sunday. Sunday school starts promptly at 9:45 o'clock. Every teacher is urged to be present at 9:40 o'clock.

The pastor, Rev. Tom W. Brabham will speak at both the morning and evening hours.

Morning Theme: "The Buried Talent."

Evening Theme: "Lost, a Boy"

The morning theme will deal with the Church life. The evening theme directly with the conditions now existing in our town and community. Every father and mother in the city should hear the evening message.

Singing and music that will stir your soul. Joe Strother will play several selections on the pipe organ just before the evening service. We invite you to come early and enjoy the whole program.

The church with a hearty welcome.

Sunday-Monday
William Haines reaches a new high level of success in "Excess Baggage." With plenty of comedy and a good plot this picture has been proclaimed as one of Haines' best.

Tuesday
"Lingerie" starring Malcom Mc-

Gregor, is the kind of a picture that cannot be discussed too freely. A glance is sufficient.

Wednesday-Thursday-Friday
The sensational picture of the year—"Uncle Tom's Cabin" has no need for introduction as to the story. The picture was filmed along the Mississippi river where the original story was first inspired. The typical characters of the story are well presented in the picture.

Saturday
Ted Wells took a long stride when he undertook to make the picture "Made To Order," but he seems to have come out on top.

CRESCENT
Sunday-Monday-Tuesday
"Craig's Wife" was adapted to the screen by Clara Beranger from the stage play which won the Pulitzer prize as the finest dramatic production of the season.

Wednesday-Thursday
The Duncan Sisters in "Topsy and Eva" is a parody on "Uncle Tom's Cabin," with Gibson Gowland as Simon Legree and Noble Johnson as Uncle Tom. The setting and much of the plot of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" on which this picture is based are retained in the picturization which makes it a picture never to be forgotten.

Saturday
Rex Bell, the new western favorite, in the "Girl Shy Cowboy" is another typical picture of this new star.

CRESCENT TREATS NEWS
BOYS ON SATURDAY

Carrier boys of The Pampa Daily News were guests of the management of the Crescent theatre Saturday afternoon to see "Virgin Lips" featuring Olive Boardman, also a good comedy and the World News in pictures.

The boys enjoyed the show very much and assure Mr. Gilliland that he need not worry about missing his paper.

Mrs. J. H. Hume of Panhandle shopped in Pampa yesterday.

Mrs. Frank Bowers and son of McLean visited friends and shopped in Pampa yesterday.

Mrs. J. A. Jeffus of Mobeetie was among the cut-of-town shoppers in the city Saturday.

The brilliant success of the Standard Six has brought the number of Willys-Knight owners to more than 325,000. And new thousands are being constantly added—motorists find that the patented double-needle valve engine even surpasses its reputation for high compression, velvet smoothness, silent power and carefree, economical operation.

Naturally, it costs more to build this superior power plant—but the Standard Six has definitely broken down the price barrier. All of Willys-Knight's exclusive advantages are now made available to a great new market—at the lowest price in history!

Willys-Knight prices from $795 to $2395, in the Standard Six, Special Six and Great Six divisions. Prices in Pampa, Texas, and specifications subject to change without notice. Willys-Overland, Inc., Toledo, Ohio.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

SYBIL THORNE, runaway bride, has deserted her husband in Havana, and returned to her mother in Boston. Nobody knows of the marriage but Sybil's father, the girl with whom Sybil took the train to Cuba, and Sybil's fiancé, JACK MOORE. Sybil's father, then both to secrecy and in contemplating the possibility of a quiet divorce.

RICHARD BUSTIN, the man she married, was charming and a perfect lover, but on their honeymoon he discovered his true colors. After enduring two weeks of constant drinking, Sybil discovered something that makes her believe he has also been unfaithful to her. She leaves him and takes sympathy with Sybil's father.

CRAIG NEWELL, her old sweetheart, is the family when they were together. He is a man who does not use her.

Weeks pass and Sybil has no word from Richard. Although she hates and despises him, the memory of his burning kisses haunts her. She begins to think less of a man named JOHN LAWRENCE, to whom—at 18—she had dedicated all her heart and her life. Lawrence was a soldier who never returned from overseas. And she thinks more frequently of Craig Newell, who loved her so devotedly a few short months ago.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXVI

IT WAS difficult for Sybil in the months that stretched ahead. Mrs. Thorne devoted most of her time to quiet and systematic weeping. She sat in her dead husband's chair, his little hassock beneath her feet and the balsam pillow he had liked at her back, and there was something more pitiful about her than there ever had been before.

"I suppose it's a dreadful thing to say," confessed Sybil to Tad, "but, honestly, I think mother gets a positive kick out of being sad. There she is—simply crying herself sick—and enjoying every minute of it."

"Why, Tad, she doesn't want to be happy. She's made up her mind that she's going to be miserable—and that's all there is to it. Anything else she regards as positive heresy. The other night I tried to drag her out to the theater and, my dear, you'd think I'd absolutely insulted her!"

"Poor ma." Tad looked very compassionate. "I wish there was something we could do."

"Get her to go to a psycho-analyst," suggested Valerie. "I'll bet Mr. Crandon would do her a world of good."

"Psycho-analyst!" Tad hooted disdainfully. "Psyche-my-r-a-d-mother!"

"That's right," sulked Valerie. "Make fun of everything I say. What do you know about psycho-analysis, Tad Thorne? Mr. Crandon's done marvels for lots of people, and I know he could help Mother Thorne, but just because it happened to be my idea—"

"Now, Val, Tad was always conciliatory with his touchy little wife. Don't go flying off the handle. If you know anything about this here psycho stuff, go ahead and spring it. Any idea you can sell me to ease her out of that rocker, and persuade her to turn off the weeps—Sib and I are all for it. Aren't we, Sib?"

"Lucky, yes!" Sybil put her arm pleadingly about Valerie's shoulders. "Do try to interest her, Val. It might, as you say, do her a world of good."

A FEW days later Valerie drove her mother-in-law to Mr. Crandon's office on Commonwealth Avenue. He was a dark, rather old little man, with well-groomed manners and hard, bright eyes, who took her hand and held it softly, and promised to help her with all that troubled her.

He asked her of repressions and such, which he promised to release and divert. And had complexes to be sublimated.

He asked her the most absurd questions. Which, for instance, she had preferred, her father or her mother. And if she remembered her baptism. Then he sent Valerie from the room and asked her exceedingly personal questions about love and marriage. Mrs. Thorne blushed for the first time in 30 years and found herself enjoying the sensation.

Then he began to interrogate her about her dreams. They sounded quite harmless to Mrs. Thorne as she recounted them. But to Mr. Crandon they savored practically of indecency. He scribbled constantly as she talked, murmuring from time to time, "Bad. Very bad."

"My goodness!" she quavered miserably. "I can't see as there's anything bad about that."

She had, at the moment, been discussing a most trivial little dream. Michael, the gardener, was mixed up in it. There was something about radishes and roses. Mrs. Thorne wasn't quite clear about it herself. She wanted Michael to pick the roses, but he had insisted upon picking the radishes instead. And there they were on the dining room table, looking as silly as you please, with their long stems sticking up like red heads in the air, and their little red heads buried in a pewter bowl.

Michael and the radishes, it seemed, bore a terrible significance. Then there was that dream about Valerie falling downstairs—she'd had it three times already. Mr. Crandon said that Mrs. Thorne wanted Valerie to die, so that she might have Tad all to herself again.

Mrs. Thorne gave a horrified gasp, and turning quite pale, got up, as if to leave the room. But Mr. Crandon said that it was not at all wicked. Moreover, he insisted, it was quite natural and normal. So Mrs. Thorne sat down again, a bit reluctantly, while he explained how the Unconscious works like that. Finally he told Mrs. Thorne she had a sex complex.

"Most people have, you know," he informed her reassuringly.

"But, Mr. Crandon!" she expostulated. "At my age!"

"Age, my dear madam," he told her squarely, "has nothing at all to do with it. Your age, as a matter of fact, is a specially dangerous time for women."

He hitched his chair a little closer and laid one hand confidently on Mrs. Thorne's. As he talked Mrs. Thorne experienced a warm, deep glow.

"You must cast your burdens upon me," he instructed her firmly. "All your griefs and perplexities, and little day-by-day worries—everything. Nothing can be too great, as nothing is too small. When the transference of burden has been effected, then—and then only—can you hope for peace and happiness."

Then he talked about an Oedipus complex, which was psycho for the love she felt for Tad; and the expression of the father-image which, Mrs. Thorne took it, was something on which Mr. Crandon counted to insure perfect harmony between himself and his women patients.

She had heard of analysts who insisted that their patients fall in love with them, in order to effect transference with greater expediency. She was glad that Mr. Crandon was satisfied with being a father-image—it sounded quite harmless.

AFTER that she called upon him twice a week and spent an hour in the cozy privacy of his office. She told him all her dreams, which he interpreted in amazing and sometimes rather disconcerting fashion. Once he told her that she disliked Sybil, but she would have none of that and threatened quite angrily to discontinue her visits.

"With your Unconscious, of course," amended Mr. Crandon hastily. "The more your Unconscious is obsessed by a thing, the less your conscious self knows about it."

Then he explained how we are absolved from the emotions and wicked desires of our Unconscious. But it was well, he pointed out, to drag them into the open, that we might consider them dispassionately and cast them from us.

After that Mrs. Thorne began to feel that she could discuss her innermost thoughts with perfect frankness. She told him a great deal about Sybil, and wept as she told of the apparent guilt that lay between them.

She discussed Tad and Valerie, and talked about her own married life, and how deeply she had loved her husband. She recalled the first few years of her marriage, and the birth of her children, and recounted numerous details of their childhood.

Mr. Crandon listened seriously and encouraged all her confidences. It was such a relief—finding someone to talk to. Someone who was really interested.

For one thing, Mrs. Thorne was greatly troubled with insomnia. Tad had suggested a glass of warm milk and a few graham crackers, to be eaten at bed time. Dr. Eaton had prescribed a mild sleeping potion. While Sybil had presumed to say that if her mother exerted a little physical effort during the day she might be able to sleep better at night. Dr. Crandon was infinitely more satisfactory.

"You do not sleep," he told her, "because you are afraid of dreaming. Not consciously, you understand. It is your unconscious self that refuses to let you sleep. Dreams . . . Dreams . . . Dreams are dangerous things, my dear Mrs. Thorne."

Then, between them, they would line up all Mrs. Thorne's poor little dreams and stand them in a line, without any clothes on as it were. And Mr. Crandon would proceed to interpretation and analysis, until the merest and most insignificant would assume tremendous proportions and Mrs. Thorne would be very well pleased with her little dreams. Sometimes, of course, she found them embarrassing, but even that was rather exciting and not altogether unpleasant.

Mrs. Thorne began to feel rather like an adventurer. It was a gay and lovely feeling for a little drab old woman. Her eyes brightened and her cheeks grew faintly pink. She moved in a mysterious aura of dreams and imaginings.

"YOU'D think Ma'd get religion," remarked Tad one evening.

"That's what psycho does for people," Valerie told him.

Mrs. Thorne was sitting through the downstairs rooms with a basket of flowers, arranging them in bowls and standing off to admire the lovely effect of pink roses flanked by blue candles, and tall yellow lilies greenening proudly to the mirror at their back.

She moved with a curious, detached sort of grace, utterly oblivious to the crushed and broken creature who had wandered in desolately about the lonely house. There was a sort of subdued sublimity about her that caused her children to rejoice and wonder.

"You certainly had the right dope, Val," approved Tad. "Mother's a new woman since Crandon took her in hand. The old boy's there."

"All she needed was a new interest in life," declared Sybil, "and Mr. Crandon supplied the need."

"It's a pity," snapped Valerie, "if that was all there was to it, you couldn't have done the supplying yourself, Sybil! Just because it was my idea—"

"Why, Val, I think it was a wonderful idea!"

Sybil surveyed her recalcitrant sister-in-law humorously. "Good Lord," she said, "you've a chip on your shoulder! Do you pop off at Tad every time he opens his mouth? Or do I get the brunt of your ladyship's ire?"

Valerie was very pretty when she was angry. Her soft skin flushed and paled like an exquisite rose when soft tints blend in perfect harmony. And her blue eyes flashed dangerously beautiful. Now she rumbled her yellow curls in characteristically angry fashion. And her slim shoulders drew together ominously. Tad knew all the danger signs.

"There, there, Val," he counseled. "Easy, old girl."

"I hate you!" she shrieked at him. "Don't you talk to me like that. And you, Sybil Thorne! Finding fault with me all the time; you two. I won't stand for it. I tell you. I guess I don't have to. All I won't—so there. I won't!"

She lunged angrily from the room, slamming the door after her. Mrs. Thorne laid her basket of roses on the hall table and crossed the drawing room to her son.

"Valerie's so upset these days," she murmured. "I wonder—"

She stopped nervously and glanced tremulously at Sybil.

Baptist Body to Convene Here Next Tuesday

The Canadian Baptist Association will hold its annual meeting at the Pampa Baptist church Tuesday evening, Wednesday, and Thursday, convening at 7:45 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Representatives from thirteen churches in Hemphill, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, and Roberts counties are expected to meet with local delegates, and preparations have been completed for their entertainment while in the city.

The Rev. W. C. Harrison will deliver the annual sermon, which is the opening event of the two-day session. Addresses on special branches of church work will be given by officers of the Texas Baptist Convention.

Among the prominent workers of the Canadian association who will be present are Judge W. H. Sewell, moderator; Mrs. W. C. Harrison, Canadian, president of the Canadian Baptist W. M. U.; E. G. Pennington of Plainview, clerk; and E. Allison of Canadian, associational treasurer.

Following the sermon of Tuesday evening will be the election. Wednesday will be given to the reading of reports from the several churches on work done in the past year toward supporting missions, orphan's homes, old ministers relief program, State and Southern Baptist denominational work, and educational institutions.

Thursday will be devoted to women's work. W. M. U. and W. M. S. work will be discussed in programs, and reports will be read by representatives of the fourteen societies in the Association.

Women of state-wide prominence will speak. The Women's Missionary Society of the Pampa church will serve luncheon and dinner to the out-of-town visitors at the Odd Fellows hall, both Wednesday and Thursday.

ASSISTANT ATTORNEY TO PROSECUTE FLOGGER

AUSTIN, Sept. 22.—(P)—Bramm Pollock, assistant attorney general, will go to Canton Monday to aid in prosecution of Cain Anderson, alleged to have participated in two Harrison county killings more than a year ago.

The case was transferred to Van Land county on venue change after a trial had resulted in two hung juries. Anderson was alleged to have taken part in the flogging of an elderly couple and a young couple.

NEGRO ROBBERS SHOOT HOUSTON STOREKEEPER

HOUSTON, Sept. 23.—(P)—Shot as he rushed to the rescue of his wife, who was struggling with two negro hold-up men, Charles Provenzano, storekeeper, believed dying early Sunday.

His wife was uninjured. The negroes fled and have not been captured.

Mr. and Mrs. Bain Robinson returned Friday from a two-week vacation spent in Wichita Falls and Bowie.

Dr. Straton Declares Smith Stands for Lawless Tendency

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 22.—(P)—Charging that Governor Smith, Democratic presidential nominee, "deliberately and with calculated purpose dragged the religious issue into the presidential campaign," Dr. John Roach Straton, New York minister, tonight defended party "biters" for the Democratic fold. He also launched a bitter denunciation at Tammany and its activities in political affairs.

Dr. Straton, in his second address here in two days, spoke in the same auditorium in which Governor Smith Thursday night, had addressed an audience which jammed the coliseum to the bursting point.

Branding America as "the most lawless nation upon the face of the earth," the New York divine asked "what earnest and thoughtful man would deny the assertion that in the opinion of the Democratic party we have a supreme illustration, almost an incarnation of this spirit of lawlessness?"

NEW PARTY PLEDGE WOULD BAR BOLTERS

HOUSTON, Sept. 22.—(P)—Democratic party dissenters here face possible disfranchisement in the municipal primary December 1 if a party loyalty pledge adopted by the city Democratic executive committee Saturday is held legal.

The pledge which the committee intends placing on city primary ballots follows: "I am a white Democrat and have supported all nominees of the Democratic primaries and conventions in 1928."

NORTHCOTT IS NONCHALANT VANCOUVER, B. C. Sept. 22.—(P)—Sitting in the visitors' room at Okalla prison today with armed guards around him, Gordon Stuart Northcott, alleged killer of four boys on a chicken ranch at Riverside, Calif., told a newspaper reporter that the "charge" against me are "melodramatic" to the extreme.

GOEBEL WINS ANOTHER CINCINNATI, Sept. 22.—(P)—Art Goebel, accomplished his special again today. He won another art derby. Goebel, Los Angeles, won the Los Angeles-Cincinnati non-stop air race today. By finishing ahead of his field, Goebel won $3,000 cash prize, a $5,000 gold trophy, and $1,000 golden replica of the trophy.

SEE MUCH GRAFT PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.—(P)—The special grand jury investigating gang murders, bootlegging and police bribery in this city probably will go on until after the New Year, John Monaghan, district attorney, said today.

Sensational as have been some of the revelations heretofore, he said, he had reason to believe he had uncovered only a small part of the "scandalous conditions."

INDIAN BURIED WITHOUT PALE FACES ASSISTING

RED ROCK, Okla., Sept. 22.—(P)—As he wished it, no white man's presence profaned the Indian burial of Robert McGlaskin, Centennial subscriber of the Otoes.

A public feast and other tribal funeral ceremonies were held at the Otoe agency here today and white men were permitted to look on, but McGlaskin's body was not there. With savage wile, the Otoes secretly consigned the Patriarch's remains to the grave Tuesday night, without the knowledge of even the undertaker who prepared the body.

JAPANESE CONFESSES HE KILLED KIDNAPED BOY

HONOLULU, Sept. 22.—(P)—A nineteen-year-old Japanese boy, Yutaka Fukunaga, sought as the slayer of Gill Jamieson, banker's son, after the latter was kidnaped from his school, was arrested tonight and confessed, police said.

The 16-year-old boy was strangled Tuesday night, the same night on which Frederick W. Jamieson, vice president of the Hawaiian Trust company and father of Gill, paid $4,000 with the understanding his son would be returned to him.

FOOTBALL INJURIES FATAL JOPLIN, Mo., Sept. 22.—(P)—Lee Harmon, senior in the high school at Pierce City, Mo., died here today from a broken neck received in a football game at Monett yesterday.

SMITH RAPE HOOVER DENVER, Colo., Sept. 22.—(P)—Again aiming guns on Herbert Hoover as he focused water power in a campaign speech here tonight, Governor Smith declared benefit of the development of power sites "should accrue to the people themselves and that we should not permit them to fall into private hands for private development, which means private gain at the expense of all the users of the energy."
