BIG PLANE HOPS OFF FOR HONOLULU

Huge Acreage for Oil and Gas Production Proved Around LeFors

NO. 2 SHOW IS BELIEVED NOW IN M'GEE PAY

On Same Horizon as Texas No. 1 Joe Bowers

SPRAYS WELL DURING NIGHT

That Test Has Flow in Section One, to the East

Another well of the calibre of the gushers of the McGee and Bowers pool further up the sandy North Fork is expected of the LeFors Petroleum company's No. 2 J. M. Shaw, in the north-west corner of the T. Leach survey.

This test blew in unexpectedly about 11 o'clock Wednesday and continued to spray several barrels an hour last night. The bit came up dry, and the control head was off when the well started flowing from 2,683 feet.

This production was accompanied by an estimated 20,000,000 feet of gas raising the total gas for the well to nearly 100,000,000. More than 40,000,000 was cased off behind the 6-inch casing, set at 2,690 feet, and about the same behind the 8-inch, set at 2,450 feet.

Expect Bowers Pay

Early reports on the Townsite well proved exaggerated, but it is believed that when drilled in the No. 2 well, it will pick up the same pay as that of the Texas company's No. 1 Bowers, 4 1/2 miles west, up the river. The Texas well came in about 140 days ago. It made 3,117 barrels of high grade crude Tuesday and has produced a total of 453,000 barrels. The depths are similar, elevation considered.

No. 2 Shaw is at an elevation of 2,611, making the well about 128 feet above sea level. It is in a grove of trees along the river valley, less than a quarter of a mile northwest of the old courthouse site. No. 1 Shaw, less than a quarter to the northeast, is a good commercial gasser.

The LeFors well is nearly midway between the Texas No. 1 Bowers on the west and Texas No. 1 Chapman, on the east, which has jumped to 3,400 barrels, in section 51, block 25.

One mile to the east, the Texas No. 2, Thut, in Section 1, H. & G. N. survey, came in Tuesday night for about 100 barrels daily from the first pay, and it will be deepened from 2,790 feet.

Indications of good pay in the LeFors vicinity, coupled with good wells to the east and the Texas M. Davis No. 1, section 8, block 1, three miles to the southeast, with 840 barrels proves up a huge oil and gas territory.

On the basis of present indications engineers of the Texas company estimate that their company alone has 7,000 acres of sure production. Pipelines are gradually being extended, and drilling activity in the LeFors district is expected to be brisk for many months. The Prairie Pipeline company is extending its line from the No. 4 Saunders to handle production from the Townsite well.

After the crowd is admitted to the grandstand seats at the arena, the dodec manager, judges, and other officials will be introduced.

Causes of War Are Outlined in Nelson's Speech

The historical causes back of the late war, the immediate causes, and the part the American soldiers played in bringing about world peace were high points in the Memorial Day address delivered by E. C. Nelson of Amarillo at the Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon. Nelson paid tribute to the American soldiers for their part in destroying the conquering ambitions of the German emperor and establishing instead the republics of Europe.

That the American army is a great army characterized by its determination to win was expressed by Rev. W. L. Evans, pastor of the Presbyterian church, in a brief talk preceding Nelson.

The speakers were introduced by Dr. R. A. Webb, commander of the local American Legion post. Webb spoke of the members of the American Legion organization as a group of serious-minded men who are anxious to work industriously to put over a constructive program in the community.

A vocal solo, "Christ in Flanders," was sung by Mrs. Robert Chafin, accompanied by Mrs. R. A. Webb at the piano. "America" and "The Star Spangled Banner" was sung by the audience.

Later, the group went to the local cemetery and decorated the graves of William Ried and Albert Crossman. Three volleys were fired at each of the graves and Taps was blown.

"Mighty Glad to Be Back", Asserts Alex Schneider, Sr.

"You may tell them all that we are mighty glad to get back to Pampa," said Alex Schneider, Sr., who, with Mrs. Schneider and grandson, A. Rainouard, arrived in Pampa early yesterday morning from a seven month visit to countries of Europe. A greater portion of the time was spent in Mr. and Mrs. Schneider's old home towns, Biel and Rheinfelden, Switzerland, respectively.

After sailing along the coast of Scotland, the three landed in Norway, then went to Sweden, Denmark and Germany. Through Germany, the trip was made via Hamburg, Cologne, Duesseldorf, thence to Biel, the old home of Mr. Schneider.

"The most unusual or interesting thing noticed in the European countries as a whole was the unique customs of the natives," stated A. Rainouard. "The clothes, food, houses, and the mode of living in general greatly differ from those in the United States," he added.

"That Germany has fully recuperated from the effects of the late war is the belief of the visitors. Manufacturing industries are running at full blast and are turning out an abundance of manufactured articles.

Mr. Rainouard visited Geneva, the home of the League of Nations, and saw buildings that house the international meetings. Geneva is a very picturesque town, and is noted for its cosmopolitan ideas.

The cleanest country in Europe is Norway, said Rainouard. Not only in personal hygiene, but in the matter of living together in the cities and farms as well, the citizens follow rigid rules of cleanliness.

Paris, was visited on the return trip. The visitors noted that in France it is not unusual to find intermarriage among whites and blacks. Living conditions in the European countries, except at hotels, is very cheap compared to the United States. At the hotels the guests, if they speak English are charged high prices.

The return trip across the Atlantic was made in the S. S. George Washington.

This was the third visit Mr. Schneider has paid to his native land since he came to this country in 1874.

American Is Killed at Mexico Mine

MEXICO CITY, May 31.—(P)—H. C. Smith, general foreman of the Santa Gertrudis mine near Pachuca, state of Hidalgo, was shot to death by an unidentified man yesterday. The man fled from the side of the road as Smith was driving from Pachuca toward the mine.

Dispatches from Pachuca said Smith came from Denver where he leaves a widow and son. His body was brought to Pachuca and may be sent to Denver.

Smith was in the habit of motoring daily along the road between the mine and Pachuca. The mining company offered a reward of a thousand dollars for any information that might lead to the capture of the murderer.

Lions Club May Be Organized Soon by McLean Citizens

Organization of a Lions club in McLean will be attempted soon, and the local organization, by invitation of M. D. Bentley here today, will send representatives to the first session. The organization meeting likely will be held next week.

Thus started the first activity under the presidency of I. E. Duncan, who took the chair as chief executive today, succeeding H. Otto Studer. In taking office, Mr. Duncan praised the outgoing administration and outlined tasks which he proposes to see accomplished during the coming year.

The second Thursday in June will be set aside in honor of the past administration. Committees were appointed to offer their cooperation and that of the Lions club in having grass planted on the school grounds and in beautifying the cemetery.

Guests today included Lion C. B. Rittenberg of Amarillo; M. D. Bentley, D. N. Massie and M. M. Newman of McLean and Jack Mason and Ralph R. Smith of Pampa. W. A. Taylor and George Briggs were formally accepted as new members.

Seven Texas Cities Getting Air Mail

HOUSTON, May 31.—(P)—Regular air passenger service between Houston and six other Texas cities will be started Friday by the Texas Air Transport company.

If the demand justifies, the passenger service later will be carried on independently of the air mail in Ryan Cabin planes, Tom Hardin, operations manager, said.

The company already has two of these four passenger planes, which will be used for daily "convention hops" from Dallas and Ft. Worth to Houston during the Democratic national convention. A plane will leave each of the North Texas cities early in the morning, give the passengers a full day in the convention city and fly back at night.

"As soon as the Mexican government starts air mail service from Mexico City to the border, we will extend both our passenger and mail service to the Rio Grande."

VOTE IN SCHOOL ELECTION TODAY IS EXTREMELY LIGHT

As Usual, Less Than Fifty Ballots Cast at Noon—More Expected Toward Closing of Polls

With 40 votes cast by noon and 70 by 3 o'clock, the school bond election today is progressing in the desultory fashion typical of such events.

While the balloting was believed to be overwhelmingly in favor of the bonds for two ward schools and a gymnasium-auditorium, the small vote makes passage uncertain if opposition should develop unexpected strength.

Heavier voting toward poll closing time at 6 o'clock, however, is certain. A number of business houses will give their employes time out for voting. The Lions club will vote almost as a body, and personal encouragement on the streets will round up other voters.

Everyone who has not voted is urged to do so and show his interest in the schools.

Klan Counsel Testifies Heflin On Its Payroll

WASHINGTON, May 31.—(P)—Testimony that the Ku Klux Klan had paid Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, implacable foe of Governor Alfred E. Smith's presidential candidacy, for speeches in various states was given by William Zumbunn, general counsel for the organization, today before the Senate presidential campaign committee.

Zumbunn testified after Representative Snell of New York, had told the committee he knew nothing of Governor Smith's expenditures. He said he understood that Heflin got $250 for speaking in Ohio; $250 for speaking in New York State, and either $150 or $250 for speaking in Iowa.

The Alabamian was paid by the state Klan organizers, he said, and the national organization had not contributed to those meetings or to any political organizations or candidates.

Wild Horses and Long-Horned Steers Ready for Rodeo

Plenty of material for the approximately hundred entries at the American Legion rodeo to try out their skill in riding, roping, bull-dogging, is furnished by the management in the form of wild steers, cows, calves, goats, and broncs.

One hundred head of cattle, the most of which were shipped in from Old Mexico and of the long-horn, wild variety, are on the grounds ready for action. The wide spread of the horns and the slender, active body recalls the pioneer days when the long-horn steer was king of the range.

Twenty bucking broncs from the Roy Marse and John Guines bucking strain have been secured, and, according to the management, the boys will have a lively time taming them.

The circle arena has a circumference of 400 yards, plenty large for the events, and the seating capacity in the grandstand will accommodate 2,000 spectators. Parking space for about 80 cars, situated in view of the arena, has been provided.

Endurance Flight Fails—Another Is Started in Italy

ROME, May 31.—(P)—Major Ferrarin and Captain P. Delprete, Italian aviators, hopped off from the Montecello experimental field in an S-64 plane at 5:15 a. m. today to attempt to beat the world's record for duration and distance flying. The commissary of the Italian Aero club is controlling the flight, which is being made in a circuitous route over the land around the field.

SANTA ANA, Calif., May 31.—(P)—Another of the tri-motored monoplane Albatross' attempts to smash the world's flight endurance record has failed. After fifteen and a half hours in the air, the Albatross came to land last night when the central motor had failed and valve trouble in one of the remaining engines made further flying impossible.

CREW OF FOUR BEING CARRIED

Two Are Americans and Others Are Australians

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—(P)—The Associated Press received a message from the southern cross at 10:20 a. m., saying: "Altitude 2,000 feet. Everything O. K."

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—(P)—Shortly after leaving the Golden Gate the Southern Cross sent a message picked up by the Examiner saying the radio generator was not working properly.

Later the Radio Corporation of America received a message from the Southern Cross saying the radio generator trouble had been fixed. The operator said the message came through "clear as a bell."

OAKLAND, Calif., May 31.—(P)—The Southern Cross hopped off from the municipal airport here at 8:51 a. m. today on a 2,400-mile nonstop flight to Honolulu enroute to Australia.

The big ship bounced and careened down the run-way at the takeoff, picking up speed every second until 4,000 feet from the start Captain Kingsford-Smith gave it the stick and the Southern Cross rose about a foot from the ground.

The speed however, was not sufficient and the plane settled back to the runway. More gasoline was fed to the motors and attaining a speed of 75 miles an hour the ship soared into the air near the end of the mile and a quarter track.

Once in the air it rose steadily over the housetops. It reached an altitude

Robbers Obtain $150,000 in Country Club Celebration

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 31.—(P)—In one of the most spectacular robberies ever staged here, six men late last night held up about 200 guests at a speedway day dinner dance at the of the city limits and escaped with Broadmore Country club just northwest money, jewelry and other valuables, the total value of which club officials said was between $150,000 and $200,000.

Several of the city's most prominent business men were among the victims. The dinner dance was held in connection with the annual 500-mile race at the Indianapolis motor speedway yesterday and many out-of-town guests were present.

No clue as to the identity of the men was obtained, although good descriptions were given to the police.

As the dance was in full force, four men rushed in the main door and forced A. S. Lubell, club owner, to hold up his hands. Two men with sawed off shotguns went into the ballroom and with several companions guarded the entrances and forced all the dancers and other guests to line up against the wall. The guests were then ordered to toss their jewelry, watches, bill folds, and all their pocket money into a large canvas bag. Ernest Fisher, a guest, was struck on the head when he did not obey the bandits order quickly.

Several shots were fired into the ballroom over the heads of the guests when some became unruly and women became frightened.

After about 30 minutes in the clubhouse the bandits made their exit in an orderly manner and sped away towards Indianapolis.

CONGRESS ENDED its long session after what is declared to have been the most worthwhile period in a decade. Bills, ranging from the mammoth Mississippi flood control measure to that reducing postal rates, were drafted and rushed through before the gavel fell.

The pictures of closing moments, word portraits of the A. P. men are interesting. Dawes, scourge of the Senate in his earlier days as vice-president, raised his gavel. Senators demanded "speech speech". The terrible Mr. Dawes smiled, and the gavel fell. Over in the House, the popular Mr. Longworth bade the representatives farewell with the Hawaiian "Aloha."

Filibusters at the last moment enlivened and delayed what had been a strenuous session. The Boulder Dam project drew fire and was left for the short session. This Congress had a group of bills which went over the head of the president to breathe life into bills which Coolidge had killed. The two houses worked unusually well together. Party lines did not appear as sharply drawn as expected.

The president disregarded politics and diplomacy in vetoing the farm relief bill and as sailing its provisions. Farmers are accustomed to sympathy, and they cannot find much of it in the veto message. Naturally, a large bloc of them show considerable wrath. There is talk of storming the Republican convention. But harvest time is a busy one. And furthermore, farmers are plenty do not expect aid and have a hunch the McNary-Haugen bill would not do what was claimed for it.

Republican misfortune is Democratic opportunity, but, while farm relief is an issue, corruption in office is, or should be a greater one. Democrats have the best issues of several decades, if they can bury religious bigotry and unite on acceptable planks. How much is Democracy back in power worth? How much faith has the South in its Democracy as a whole, not merely for one presidential term, but for several prospective ones?

"Nasty Newspapers"

Yellow journals, excepting the tabloids and a few big city sheets, were never fewer in American journalism. Probably this is because there were never so few "yellow" readers.

There are enough bad newspapers to bring disgrace to the profession, just as every vocation has its off-color members. But it can be said, as Dean Danahy of Marquette university remarked this week, that "every community has the kind of newspaper it deserves." It is not necessary for the public to buy and read decent newspapers to make indecent ones impossible. Said the dean in answering critics: "Cease this unintelligent, destructive criticism. Become constructive. Realize that there are newspapers and newspapers; good newspapers and bad newspapers. Support the good; ignore the bad. The rest you can leave to the publishers."

An example of the clean, constructive newspapers this country has is that of The Sentinel, published at Bemidji, Minn. The Sentinel was awarded the cup for being the best weekly newspaper in the United States. Entries were graded upon news coverage, editorials, and promotion of community interest.

The Mexican Mind

The courteous, yet strong-willed Mexican of high caste is not especially impressed with the rough and ready, successful type of American business man. In fact, intimates Enrique Santibanez, consul general of Mexico, it is doubtful whether a complete understanding between the races would result in that "mutual respect and esteem" so essential to cordial relations.

"Nations are like individuals," says Sr. Santibanez. "If they should come to know each other thoroughly the result might just as easily be their isolation from each other as their perfect union. For nations, like individuals, may possess qualities which repel them from each other; or their very defects may bring them closer together."

In an article in Bunker's Monthly, this writer expresses doubt that Mexicans and Americans will even understand each other perfectly. This attitude is little less than astounding, considering the growing commerce between the nations, the intermingling of populations, and the future that aviation and other conveniences make possible. It does not seem possible.

Perhaps Sr. Santibanez has a motive in being somewhat pessimistic. He feels that the United States has not had the respect for Mexico that he desires. He further states:

"American capital in Mexico, proud of its power, has frequently had to look desparagingly on the surroundings in which it has been required to operate. Mexican labor in the United States frequently has not been protected under the laws from the snares which surround it, and there has too frequently been a great loss of life among Mexican laborers, who, being shifting strangers, have not always found charitable institutions to take them in when they became ill because of the toils they have undergone."

Oysters and Sopranos

Undersea radio experiments off Hatteras and Beaufort, N. C., had to be discontinued "because singing oysters made so much noise that the delicate radio mechanism was affected." We suggest some of these oysters be signed up in place of the sopranos. Probably the oysters threw a wrench into the radio works with a few ditties about those old crustacean mothers of theirs . . . Or, probably the urge to song was provoked by thoughts of going back, back, back to where the slimy seaweed grows. . . . But it's barely possible some oyster has written a hit and called it "Bye, Bye, Bivalve" and the oysters are all caroling it in their beds. . . . Anyway, it seems to be a job for some censor or other. It sounds like a shell game to us.

"Watch my smoke" at last has achieved literalness as a slogan. A new device throws signs on smoke left above a city by an airplane.

Women's strides forward have at last had a set-back, but it remained for Brazil to do it—annulling woman suffrage.

Ending troubles with gas or a six shooter is getting very popular, but it might be edifying to have a report on the experiment.

Consistency evidently is that which a rapid pro exhibits when he collects income taxes on bootleg sales which he declares do not exist to any great extent.

Paris women are buying gowns to match their automobiles, and the husbands are dreading the day when they will buy the cars to match the gowns.

Daughter of Outlaw's Killer Entertains Club Federation

SAN ANTONIO, May 31.—(AP)—A daughter of the man who killed "Billy the kid," notorious outlaw, is one of the many artists who are entertaining the General Federation of Women's clubs here this week. Miss Elizabeth Garrett, blind daughter of the late Pat Garrett once sheriff of Lincoln county, New Mexico, and who killed the outlaw, will sing and play several of her own compositions during the convention. She has been blind since birth and has attained a high place in musical circles in spite of poverty and her visual handicap. Her father was Irish and her mother Mexican. Miss Garrett has spent a great deal of time on studying Mexican music.

Students Wreck Belgrade Hotel in Big Demonstration

BELGRADE, May 31.—(AP)—Belgrade passed thru a night of terror, and today there were many signs of destruction. Sanguinary encounters between police and students opposed to ratification of the Nettuno convention permitting Italy to get a grip on the Dalmatian coast, lasted from eight o'clock in the evening until daylight today.

Swords, revolvers, rifles, clubs, bricks and all sort of missiles were freely used. Thirty-two students and nine gendarmes were wounded, some of them seriously. Seventeen students were arrested, but liberated when police feared their comrades would attempt to rescue them by violence.

Forty-three workmen, who joined the students, were imprisoned. Many mounted police were dragged from their horses by the students and almost trampled to death under hoofs of the stamping animals.

Only the tolerance and patience shown by the police and government authorities prevented the conflict from developing into open internecine warfare. When the students' ammunition which consisted mostly of bricks, clubs and bludgeons, with revolvers in the hands of some, became exhausted, enraged youths forcibly entered the imperial czar restaurant, where diplomats are accustomed to meet, and, mounting chairs, marble slabs, chandeliers and even the grand piano on the heads of the police.

Fearing that the further use of firearms would cause wholesale bloodshed the police summoned the fire department, which with the aid of ladders ejected the students from the hotel and subdued them by drenching them with water. Every window in the hotel was smashed; the furniture was demolished and the building wrecked.

The Italian minister, Signor Bordero, again visited the foreign office today and cautioned the Yugoslav government that the rioting and demonstrations against Italy must be suppressed at all costs. He warned that Italy will demand full reparation in behalf of all Italians whose lives or properties have suffered.

Felix Phillips of Miami was a visitor here today.

Earl O'Keefe of Panhandle made a business trip to Pampa today.

Two Spanish Aviators Unheard From on Flight to India

LONDON, May 31.—(AP)—Two Spaniards who wanted to fly across the Atlantic to Havana but met with governmental objections, furnished a new mystery of the air today.

Since Captains Ignacio Iglesias and Francisco Jimenez hopped off from Seville, Spain, at noon Tuesday, ostensibly for Karachi, India, nothing has reached London to indicate the progress they were making on their attempt to shatter duration and distance flight records.

They have not been reported sighted over any of the countries of Southern Europe or Western Asia or which they would be likely to pass if flying eastward.

The possibility was being considered today that their real direction might have been westward and that India was mentioned merely to divert attention from the flight. When the planned nonstop flight in the plane Jesus del Gran Poder (Jesus of Mighty Power) the airmen intended to fly to Havana, but the government refused to approve the plan unless they used a hydro-airplane. They then announced that the flight would be to India.

The report came from a native who was near the camp of the rebel General Augustino Sandino. The Nicaraguan said that when he saw Marshall he was being shown every consideration although confined closely to the rebel camp.

American Held by Sandino Declared to Be in Good Health

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, May 31.—(AP)—It was stated at Belgrade headquarters of the American Marines today that George B. Marshall of New York who was captured by rebels at La Luz mine about the middle of April, was reported as late as May 2 to be in good health.

The report came from a native who was near the camp of the rebel General Augustino Sandino. The Nicaraguan said that when he saw Marshall he was being shown every consideration although confined closely to the rebel camp.

Slayer of Child Pleads Not Guilty on Insanity Idea

TOLEDO, Ohio, May 31.—(P)—Charles J. Hoppe, 26, confessed kidnaper and slayer of 7-year-old Dorothy Sielagowski, pleaded not guilty to charge of first degree murder when arraigned before Judge Homer Ramey in municipal court today.

TOLEDO, O., May 31.—(P)—An insanity defense for Charles J. Hoppe, 26, taxi driver, who confessed the abduction and slaying of 7-year old Dorothy Sielagowski, was forecast today as the county grand jury took over the case.

Hoppe's question came late yesterday after confession that began with his arrest Tuesday night. Police said he admitted that while under the influence of liquor he obtained at a wedding celebration, he drove to the Sielagowski home, forced an entrance, kidnaped Dorothy from her bed and strangled her to death after a criminal attack.

Hoppe was suspected because he had cast of his teeth fitted exactly with impressions in the flesh of the dead girl and yesterday police found buried in his backyard the blood-stained dartsuit which he wore at the time the crime was committed.

That Hoppe will endeavor to escape the threats of a death sentence or a life term by pleading insanity appeared likely today in view of the statement of Coroner Kretz that the man is mentally incompetent.

Houston Folk to Postpone Vacations to See Convention

HOUSTON, May 31.—(P)—Indications at Houston railroad ticket offices are that a large number of Texans are deferring their vacations this year in order that they might attend the Democratic National convention here.

Ticket agents say comment runs something like this: "I've never seen one of these national conventions at work, so I thought, since it's going to be right here under my nose this year, I'd stick around and see what happens."

Summer tourist rates have been in effect since May 15, but instead of the usual large number of applications, they are surprisingly few, agents say.

Juan Flores Again Is Granted Stay

AUSTIN, May 31.—(P)—Governor Moody today declined to retrieve Lawrence Devenport, sentenced to go to death in the chair early Friday, but granted Juan Flores, scheduled to die at the same time, a sixty-day stay.

Devenport was convicted in Harris county of killing Oscar Foster, who, testimony indicated, sought to protect a young woman companion, and Flores was sentenced for the slaying of Manuel Fernandez, 15, in the robbery of a small San Antonio store belonging to his mother.

Flores, already reprieved three times, was allowed additional time because a woman state witness again has repudiated her trial testimony. Once before, she did so, then later declared she originally had testified the truth.

LONDON EXECUTIONS HELD

LONDON, May 31.—(P)—William Henry Kennedy and Frederick Guy Brown were executed today for the murder of Policeman Guttridge at Stapleford Abbots in September.

Kennedy was executed at Wandsworth prison, while his wife sat pale-faced in a taxicab outside the prison gates. When the clock struck the fatal hour she broke down and sobbing bitterly drove away.

FLYER TO TAKE AIR IN PLANE THAT FLAPS WINGS

In this plane, which is supposed to flap its wings like a bird, George R. White of Stony Brook, Long Island, plans to fly.

Bomb Is Exploded at Oregon Staff Quarters in Night

MEXICO CITY, May 31.—(P)—Police with one unsolved bombing on their hands had another one to solve today.

A bomb was exploded at the presidential campaign headquarters of General Alvaro Obregon last night, a week after one had been set off in the lavatory of the Chamber of Deputies apparently with the intention of terrorizing the members of Congress, most of whom are of the Obregon's political following.

The bomb at headquarters was exploded in a vacant room and there were no casualties. The only damages were a hole in the wall and broken window panes.

Boy of 16 Is C. of C. Secretary

RAYMONDVILLE, May 31.—(P)—Secretary of a chamber of Commerce at sixteen is the unique position of Hubert Wright who was elected to that position by the board of directors of the Raymondville chamber.

He is the son of Judge B. S. Wright and was one of the graduates of the local high school this year. During his senior year he specialized in commercial work.

First Willacy County Woman Seeks Office

RAYMONDVILLE, May 31.—(P)—Mrs. Walter W. Grayson has announced for the office of district and county clerk of Willacy county, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries in July. She is the first woman ever to offer herself as a candidate for office in Willacy county.

Besides Mrs. Grayson, there are two other candidates seeking this office.

ST. AUGUSTINE Fla., May 18.—The strangest airplane the world ever saw will take the air soon—or try to take it—along the ocean beach here.

It is the invention of George R. White of Stony Brook, Long Island, and is a faithful copy of a bird. It gets its propelling and sustaining power by flapping its wings. It has no motor, but is operated by the pilot's foot-power. White believes it solves the age-old problem of copying a bird's flight.

He has been working on his plane for six years, making an exhaustive study of the flight of birds. His machine, which has a 29 1-2-foot wing spread, is a skeleton of light, strong chrome molybdenum covered with tough, non-inflammable celluloid, and weighs only 118 pounds.

The up-and-down movement of the wings has a maximum range of 17 feet at the tips, although White believes that a 12-foot beat, with about 80 strokes to the minute, will prove most effective. Each wing has "feathers" on its rear edge, which close on the down stroke and open on the up stroke.

White has made a number of flights in earlier models, being towed by an automobile to get sufficient speed to leave the ground, and attaining a maximum distance of 400 yards. He had several spills, once being knocked unconscious, but believes he has remedied the defects.

Since the plane is constructed somewhat on glider principles, White believes he can glide for long distance.

Scholarships Are Awarded Students at Teachers College

CANYON, May 31.—(Special)—Miss Bertha Lee Parker, of Tucumcari, N. M., will receive the regent's scholarship at the West Texas State Teachers college for next year. Miss Parker has just completed her third year of college work with mathematics as her major subject. She did her high school work in the Tucumcari, New Mexico, high school.

Miss Esther Reeve of Friona, has been awarded the C. W. Warwick piano scholarship at the West Texas State Teachers college for the coming year.

Other scholarships awarded yesterday at the commencement exercises were The Prairie award given by Olin E. Hinkle, managing editor of the Pampa Daily News, to Miss Anna Throckmorton of Borger, Miss Throckmorton is editor-elect of the Prairie, student newspaper.

Miss Marjory Walters, sophomore received the Harley Sadler public speaking scholarship. This scholarship is worth $100 and is awarded annually to the student doing the most outstanding work in the department of public speaking. Miss Walters was honor graduate of Tulia high school in 1926.

The faculty scholarship cannot be awarded until the grades for the spring quarter have been recorded, as it is based entirely upon scholarship. This will be announced as soon as possible.

West Texas Area Very Green, Asserts W. T. C. C. Manager

STAMFORD, May 31.—(Special)—During no other period has every nook and corner of West Texas been so well supplied with water at this season of the year than at the present time, according to B. M. Whiteker, exhibit-agricultural manager of the West Texas chamber of Commerce, who has just covered over 1,200 miles of the territory since the rains.

Whiteker's route led him up the Fort Worth & Denver line, and back to sections of the South Plains in the lower branches of the Santa Fe system.

Vast acreages of pasture lands that were parched and burnt are now all green and rapidly developing. Though both small grains and grasses were considerably retarded, both are staging a remarkable and quick comeback since the general rains, the official reports

Tanks, lakes and ponds all over the West are filled with water for the first time in months, and towns depending upon lakes for water supply are enjoying unrestricted use of the commodity to relief of what has been a serious situation in a number of places.

The general rains have come in ample time for all row crops, cotton, and feed stuffs, in the opinion of Mr. Whiteker. "There will be a larger feed acreage planted than ever before in West Texas" he states. "Because there are more dairy cows and more and larger flocks of poultry being cared for than in the history of the section. This diversification has come as a result of several years effort by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, local chambers of commerce, county agents and other agents cooperating in stressing a balanced farm program, and has been particularly stimulated by the newly formed Poultry and Dairy Bureau of the regional body."

Mr. Whiteker states that the present crop outlook over all West Texas is one of high prospects as the continued heavy rains have put plenty moisture in the ground and the cold winter has destroyed many pests. He further remarks that usual hot winds are not anticipated, the country is already covered by rapidly growing vegetation, and concludes that the general outlook favorable for a good all around crop.

Eva Caskey Will Afford Thrills in Big Legion Rodeo

Eva Caskey noted cowgirl bronc and trick rider will be one of the entrants here at the rodeo to be staged by the American Legion of Pampa, May 1, 2, and 3. It was announced at rodeo headquarters by Len Blanscet, manager, today.

The entry of Miss Caskey assures rodeo fans of some high class work in these events, as she is known as one of the cleverest trick riders and one of the most fearless cowgirl bronc riders that ever mounted the hurricane deck of a leaping, bounding, weaving, sunfishing bronc.

One has to but take a good look into the eyes of Miss Caskey if they are conversant with character reading to understand that she is one of those indomitable feminine characters of the west that writers of fiction often picture, and that is not all she fully lives up to the description in her riding, she performs many amazing and difficult feats in trick riding, performing them with an ease, grace and lightning like rapidity that is astounding, while she mounts the most unruly and vicious wild-eyed bronc with the nonchalance with which a cowboy would roll a cigar.

There is but one thing that Eva Caskey worries about in bronc riding, and that is whether or not the horse will keep his feet under him. All bronc riders show concern over this one point, as many times the outlay buckler in its eager efforts to unseat the rider will lose its balance and fall and there is always the possibility that the rider will be pinned underneath the falling animal, that is the manner in which nearly all good riders are injured if at all, and therefore good riders of her type are not much concerned as to the manner of a bronc's bucking, they are to feel that they assure they can master that situation.

Riding a bucking horse while it goes through its entire repertoire of bounding, sunfishing gyrations in an effort to hurl from its back its would be conqueror is a feat that never fails to bring a thrill to the spectator, the likelihood of injury, the possibility of the rider being thrown makes one feel the excitement of the moment, even though the rider may be a sun-bronzed cowboy whose looks bespeak a wiry toughness, but when the rider is a chic, charming girl such as one would expect to find in an ultra fashionable drawing or ball room then he just cannot keep from being excited, but it is thrills such as these that make a rodeo and the management promises that there will be plenty of thrills in the coming event.

Henry Camp Harris, active vice-president of National Security, Wichita Falls, was a visitor here yesterday.

Name It

- Women in Politics
- Rail Service
- Grain Elevators
- On Graduates

By DAVID M. WARREN

Rail service will be given to fourteen towns on the new Fort Worth and South Plains railroad within the next few weeks. Several of these places, such as Turkey, Quitaque, Silverton and Dimmitt, have never enjoyed rail connections. With the starting of freight shipments in other than carload lots it is apparent that these cities will enjoy a still more rapid growth.

An elevator has been completed at Stinnett, the present terminal of the Amarillo to Liberal branch of the Rock Island railroad. The wheat crop in north Hutchinson county is reported unusually good and belief has been expressed that one elevator will not be able to handle the business. Although it is doubtful whether the railroad will be able to move Silverton's wheat crop this year, one man has already erected an elevator with the expectation that he will be able to buy and ship wheat. Rail service to those many additional cities in the Panhandle Plain should mean the erection of from thirty to forty elevators.

civic or political life, it seems that the path to follow is through the Federated clubs. Most of the women who were appointed delegates or alternates to the Democratic convention at Houston have made their reputation as leaders in Federated club work. Among those so honored were Mrs. Leo Joseph, Miss Florence Sterling, Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, Mrs. Florence Floore, Mrs. Jessie Daniel James, Miss Margie Neal and Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum. Long service in federated club work helps to make women acquainted with the public and it is only a step for them to obtain political preferment. From the wrangle that Texas women had in regard to the bi-ennial General Federation convention plans at San Antonio, it is evident that women of Texas are getting a good background in club politics.

Lubbock had 232 graduates from high school this year; Amarillo had 136 graduates; several small cities of the Panhandle Plains had three to four times as many graduates, based on population, as Amarillo. Quitaque had 10 graduates, and it was remarkable that there were six boys and only four girls. One of the girl graduates was married, according to the Quitaque Post.

The Texas Federation of Labor is endeavoring to get the compulsory school age raised from fourteen to sixteen. Should they succeed in getting such a measure passed, it would probably keep most children in school through the first two years of high school and it would not be so difficult to persuade them to complete their remaining two years.

The Twentieth Century Club of Borger is sponsoring a public library in that city. In obtaining funds for the purpose the club issued a music festival edition in the Borger Daily Herald, Sunday, May 27. This twenty page edition, exclusive of the complimentary

Lindbergh Nearly Crashes as Beacons Are Not Found

LOS ANGELES, Calif., May 31.—(AP)—A dispatch from Long Beach to The Times says Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who gave his friends several uneasy hours last night when he was reported overdue on a flight from Grand Canyon, Arizona, was lost and crashing about helplessly for nearly two hours above the hills surrounding the Standard Oil company beacon near Merced, Calif.

The dispatch says the famous pilot, finally seeing the beacon, nearly crashed in attempting to land there. He did not land in Los Angeles, it was learned, because none of the airports here displayed the beacon he expected to find.

That he was able to land at Long Beach shortly afterward was due to the thoughtfulness of a member of the police there, who heard the roar of the motor and telephoned the custodian of the field. The custodian immediately switched on the beacon and a few minutes later Lindbergh landed.

Summer White House Selected in Wisconsin for '28

WASHINGTON, May 31.—(AP)—President Coolidge has selected a summer White House on the Brule river, 39 miles from Superior, Wisconsin.

Mr. Coolidge accepted the offer of Henry Clay Pierce, to occupy "Cedar Island Lodge," situated about 12 hours from Chicago.

In all likelihood the White House executive offices will be established in Superior while the Lodge will constitute merely the residence.

President Coolidge as yet has not decided the exact date of his departure but it was said today that he would leave Washington as soon as possible after June 11 when he is scheduled to deliver the budget speech here.

A meeting of the executive board of the Baptist W. M. U. has been called for Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the home of Mrs. T. H. Barnard.

When A Girl Loves

© 1928 by NEA Service. BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

THIS HAS HAPPENED VIRGINIA BREWSTER, upon the sudden death of her father after losing his fortune, goes to live with a girlhood friend, CLARISSA DEAN, and her father, in spite of the objections of her fiance, NATHANIEL DEAN, who mistrusts DEAN'S motives. Becoming unhappy in her new home, VIRGINIA is shown to NIEL, a studio late one night and is surprised when his model, CHIRI, answers. The cause of the lovers' quarrel which is later mended.

Hoping to get NIEL away, DEAN has a company he controls offer him a high-salaried position in San Francisco. NIEL begs VIRGINIA to marry him and go west, but she refuses to let him sacrifice his art study.

CLARISSA becomes furious when she discovers her fiance, RUSSELL WAINGOLD, making love to VIRGINIA and will not listen to an explanation. VIRGINIA resolves to leave but when she goes to say farewell to her host DEAN tries to get her to stay and asks her to marry him. When she refuses indignantly, he tells her that her father cheated him out of $100,000 in a bootlegging deal and that she had better reconsider her decision in order to save her father's honor. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XV
"I SHALL pay you with money!"

Virginia's voice rang with gallant resolution, and she flung the words at Frederick Dean as one would fling a bone to a mangy cur.

He started, bent a searching glance upon her, and then laughed—a cruel laugh, cruel in its merciless mockery.

"That's good," he sneered. "I'd like to know where you will get $100,000." His words broke off suddenly and the jeering smile left his lips. "Unless you expect to marry someone else for it," he shot at her with unveiled insult. "But that would hardly be playing the game," he hurried on before she could answer: "letting some other man pay the Brewster debt of honor would not be acceptable to me. I shall insist that you pay it yourself or agree to the alternative. Otherwise I shall still look upon your father as a liar and a cheat!"

Virginia did not show any signs of the consternation he expected her to feel at his ultimatum. Her eyes still gleamed with defiance, and when she spoke there was no hint of despair in her voice.

"You are jumping to conclusions too low for my consideration," she said icily. "I shall marry no one but the man I love."

"Be sure you don't marry him too soon," Dean warned sullenly. "It may not be so easy to find a fortune of $100,000 around an artist's studio. After all, you have to admit there's a good chance of failure. You might borrow it from among your father's old friends if you care to pass on the obligation in that manner, but you would still have to repay them or owe your protection to charity. And you cannot expect ever to see even the shadow of such a sum if you marry a penniless artist."

"I will get the money for you," Virginia declared, still in a state of unreasoning excitement. "But if I should fail I will keep to your infamous bargain!"

"Then you may as well set a wedding date," he replied bluntly. "A year from today then," she hurled back at him. "If I have not paid you the debt you claim I will marry you! But don't think you have made me believe that my father knowingly cheated you. Whatever happened couldn't have been his fault, but I acknowledge the debt rather than have you blackening his character."

"Spoken like the girl I thought you were," Dean applauded. "But I'm sure you're just a little bit afraid that I have told only the truth and you don't want to take a chance of denying a genuine obligation. Well, I assure you that if you don't live up to your agreement I shall find it easy enough to have Richard's name dropped from the conversation of men who still believe that he was a very fine fellow."

Virginia shrank slightly from the pitiless lash of his words but her spirit continued to flame at a high pitch of combat. Her voice, when she spoke, vibrated with disdain and contempt. "I suppose I can trust you to withhold your lies until the end of the year?" she asked.

"Pack the rest of my things, Colette," she ordered briskly. "All of them, and have everything ready when I send for them in the morning. Here," she picked up her black lizard handbag and extracted a five-dollar bill which she handed to the servant girl. The latter's dark eyes were alight with curiosity, but she said nothing beyond a respectful "thank you."

"Now run down and call me a cab, and let me know as soon as it gets here," Virginia ordered and turned away to get a hat and wrap from the closet.

In a very short while the girl was back to tell her that a cab was waiting. Virginia motioned to the traveling bag and Colette took it up and followed her down to the street.

As she passed swiftly along the hall Virginia glanced through the open door of the drawing room, and made another scene. But she did not see him. Russell and Clarissa had left the house in sudden anger while Virginia was in the library.

The door of that room, across the hall, remained closed and Virginia breathed a sigh of thankfulness that Frederick Dean did not appear to bid her adieu. She was glad to be spared the necessity of pretending for Colette's benefit.

"Where to?" the taxi driver asked perfunctorily, and for the first time Virginia realized that she had given no thought to where she was going.

"To the Ritz," she answered in response to the power of her subconscious mind. "To the Ritz" had been a habit of years and the words sprang to her lips automatically.

But common sense had a word to say before she arrived at that glamorous hostelry. Could she afford to go there now? In a moment she had the contents of her hand bag spread out in her lap. A jade vanity case, a few cards, two cowbeady handkerchiefs, a notebook and the usual odds and ends to be found in a fashionable woman's possession. But of money there was very little.

Virginia bit her lip with vexation. How could she have been so negligent as to let her available funds get so low? She would have to cash a check at the hotel. She put the things back in the bag, with the exception of a small checkbook which she opened and examined, trying to find her balance. It was a hopeless task; for more than half the stubs were blank. She had no idea how much money she had in the bank but she knew it might be none at all. A small matter like an overdrawn account had never bothered her in the past, but if loomed now like a dread disaster.

The taxi was speeding southward fast, having a good "break" in the traffic, and Virginia knew that she was soon to be deposited under the marquee of the Ritz if she did not do something to avert it. It was simply impossible to go there broke. She thrust out an ungloved hand to rap on the glass at the driver's back to attract his attention, when her own became centered upon her hand, and she drew it back to regard more closely a ring she was wearing.

Her father had given it to her and Virginia rebelled against the thought that had come to her in connection with it. But she must have funds, immediately. And there was nothing she owned that would not have the same sentimental value, except Nathaniel's ring. Virginia smiled over it. It was in exquisite taste, made by Niel himself, but it had little intrinsic worth. Her father's ring was a costly sapphire.

Still Virginia hesitated, and a little later the taxi was pulling up to the curb at the hotel she had chosen. Virginia made no motion to get out when the doorman held open the door for her.

"I want to go down Fifth Avenue," she said, and the jockey transmitted her directions to the driver.

As they crept down the avenue Virginia was thinking fast. Where did one go to raise money on jewels? Surely not to any Fifth Avenue jeweler! Perhaps if she had a newspaper. . . .

They were at a corner and she beckoned the driver to turn to the right to get out of the unending river of cars. He reached back and pulled down the glass partition between them. "Where to, lady?" he inquired.

"Why, I . . . I really don't know," Virginia replied helplessly. She saw that he was looking at her with a worried expression, and she was surprised at the sympathy in it, too, for she had thought that all taxi drivers were hard-hearted brigands. And here was one of the BK with a kindly visage and apparently at a loss as to what should be done with a bewildering passenger whom most drivers would have been glad to drop.

"You might be able to advise me," she said suddenly, on an overwhelming impulse.

Spudgers Start Battle for Texas League Supremacy

(By The Associated Press.)

The Wichita Falls Spudgers have started a drive to regain some of the ground they lost in battle for supremacy in the Texas League. Cheered by the plaudits of a bargain-day crowd Wednesday, they took two games from the Beaumont Exporters by scores of 4 to 3 and 9 to 0, and made their record in the series three victories and one defeat.

They won the first game by virtue of a great ninth inning rally that netted three runs after Beaumont apparently had put the contest on ice by scoring three times in the eighth and ninth. In the second tilt they continued the onslaught on opposing battery men, and aided by the great hurling of Cvergros clinched the game quickly.

The Houston Buffs clung to first place by defeating the Fort Worth Panthers, 9 to 8, in the first game and tying the second, 6 to 6. Both games were featured by the hard hitting of both Cats and Buffs with Ft Worth having a decided edge in this respect in the first Houston and advantage by a big margin in the second.

Heavy hitting also featured the doubleheader at Shreveport between the Sports and the Waco Cubs which was swept by the former, 13 to 5 and 11 to 1.

At Dallas, the Steers and the San Antonio Beers divided a double bill with the Steers copping the first game 6 to 5, and the Beers the short one 8 to 3. In the first encounter, Dallas outbit San Antonio fifteen to ten, while in the second San Antonio showed the way in slugging twelve to seven.

Rookie Tops Batters in American

EMILE BARNES

Just a rookie, and a red-headed, freckle-faced, bow-legged rookie is Emile Barnes, Washington outfielder, but he showed the way to American League batters during the month of May by keeping his batting mark up around .400. Barnes is another University of Alabama product and was a football star there for four years, captaining the team that tied Stanford in 1926 at Pasadena. He's proving one of the sensations of the year.

Second Interchange of Major League Diamonds Starts

(By The Associated Press)

Twelve major league teams were on edge Thursday for get-away skirmishes to clear the decks for the season's second siege of interseasonal warfare, scheduled to begin at some point along the baseball front as early as Friday. The Reds and the Cubs already were on their way east, while the giants and the Robins lay idle awaiting a brief resumption of their intra-city strife at the Polo Grounds tomorrow.

Six teams won twice yesterday. The Reds nicked the Cubs twice only by showing the greatest competitive spirit. There was a 6 to 0 victory over Charlie Root in the morning behind the fine pitching of the veteran Eppa Jephtha Rixey. In the afternoon Ford's single in the tenth provided the winning margin in a 2 to 1 victory and sent the Reds east with a lead of three full games.

The crippled Pirates sagged lower into the second division after the Cardinals scored victories, 10 to 1, and 4 to 3.

The Boston Braves walloped the Phillies 5 to 3, and 11 to 5. Hornsby had two homers.

The Giants rolled the Robins over by 9 to 1 in the morning. The score was tied at 2 to 2 in the afternoon when it rained.

Washington defeated the Yankees 6 to 0, Garland Braxton, a Yankee cast-off, held the Huggins to three hits, while the Senators made merry with Young Al Shealy. Bobby Reeves made a home run in the sixth after Rice had singled. In the afternoon the Yanks started to make amends by pounding Horace Lisenbee for seven runs in less than two innings, but rain ended the contest.

By defeating the Red Sox, 8 to 1 and 9 to 2, the Athletics gained one and one-half games on the Yankees, but remained seven games to the rear.

Detroit cleaned up two games on the faltering Indians. The afternoon engagement in twelve innings. The scores were 4 to 0 and 6 to 5.

The Browns won both ends of an afternoon double-header from the Chicago White Sox, 3 to 1, and 5 to 2. The veteran Red Faber pitched a good game in the opener, but lost to Ogden.

Lightweight Tilt Will Be Friday

NEW YORK, May 31.—(AP)—New York weather has no favorites among boxing promoters. Fugazy has suffered the same fate. As a result of a down-pour the light heavyweight championship bout between Tommy Loughran and Pete Latzo, originally scheduled last night, will take place tomorrow weather permitting.

Landis Condemns Under Cover Deals for Ball Players

CHICAGO, May 31.—(AP)—Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis has taken his big stick at "under cover" trades and sales of baseball players.

Condemning the sale of Catcher Ray Thompson by the Milwaukee club of the American association to the St. Louis Browns, who planned to release him on option to the Tulsa club of the Western league, Commissioner Landis ordered Thompson to report to Louisville of the American association and warned all organized club owners that future "cover up" trades or sales would be punished by a $500 fine and surrender of the involved player's contract to the protesting club.

Early in the present season, Milwaukee asked for waivers on Thompson. Louisville requested his services, but Milwaukee offered him for only one season. Commissioner Landis said in a long review of evidence, Louisville refused. Then the Browns bought him from Milwaukee for the regulation $3,000 waiver price after its Tulsa club complained it was in great need for a catcher. Commissioner Landis said the sale was given the aspect of a promotion to the majors when in reality it was only a move from the American association to the Western league, thus depriving Louisville of the waiver right.

Miss Ludie Cary, who has been teaching at Lubbock, will arrive here in a few days. She is visiting in Canyon.

Miss Iva Cary is here, having finished her school work at Slaton.

Professor Paid to Talk on Utilities, Committee Told

WASHINGTON, May 31.—(AP)—Evidence that Theodore J. Grayson, a professor at the University of Pennsylvania, had been paid for making speeches on public utilities and had held official positions with the New Jersey Committee for Public Utilities Information as well as the New Jersey Utilities association was given the federal trade commission today by Grayson himself.

Appearing as a witness in the commission's investigation of the financing of these utilities and their activities in disseminating information favorable to their viewpoint, Grayson said he had been paid $750 by utilities groups for speeches in New Orleans, Richmond, Va., and Geneva, N. Y.

The witness testified that the first proposition to institute utilities courses at the university was broached to him either by Philip H. Gadsden of the United Gas Improvement company of Philadelphia, or Major J. S. S. Richardson, former director of the Pennsylvania committee on public utility information.

He had earlier denied that there was anything surreptitious in having the courses started, saying a "false and had been contained in a letter from misleading" inference to that effect. Richardson to Elliott S. Belden, director of the United Power and Light corporation at Abilene, Kansas, which had been introduced in the inquiry previously.

Noting that public utilities courses had been opened at the University of Pennsylvania, and Temple University, Philadelphia, Richardson had said: "The plan was put over in the usual way. We laid the ground work circumpectly and with care so that the actual suggestion that such courses be started came from the faculties of the institutions themselves."

Grayson said he resented the implication, and presented a retraction from Richardson.

Robert E. Healy, chief examiner for the commission aswed whether Richardson or Gadsden were "in friendly hands" when approaching Grayson about the proposed courses.

"No, I resent that implication," replied the professor. He denied sole responsibility for having the courses started, naming three professors whom he said knew about the proposition.

Answering Healy, he said that he had first mentioned it to them.

George V. Lewis, Denver, executive manager of the Rocky Mountain Committee on Public Utilities information, the witness next on the stand said was a newspaper man, prior to accepting the position when it was created in 1922.

TWO CHILDREN SCALDED

SHREVEPORT, La., May 31.—(AP)—Two children were scalded to death near here today.

Charlotte Ann, five-month daughter of Coleman Watson of Dayline, La., was fatally scalded by water from the radiator of the family car when it overturned in a ditch near Calhour after a collision with another automobile. The child's parents were not seriously injured.

LOVE TO SAN ANTONIO

DALLAS, May 31.—(AP)—Edward "Slim" Love, veteran Dallas southpaw, has been turned over to the San Antonio Bears' option, it was announced today by officials of the Dallas club.

He will join the Bears Friday at Shreveport for several years. Love was one of the leading pitchers in the Texas League, but has not been able to finish a game this season.

Dallas officials also announce the acquisition of Johnny Mann, an infielder, from the Chicago White Sox and outfielder Escallier from the Mexico club of the Lone Star league. Both players will report Friday.

NATIONALISTS IN VICTORY

PEKING, May 31.—(AP)—Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, Northern dictator, today ordered troops on the Peking-Hankow railroad to fall back to the railroad junction at Liulih. Liulih is about 20 miles southwest of Peking and about 60 miles northeast of Posingfu from which city the Nationalists drove the northern troops.

Mukdenite (Northern) headquarters stated that the fighting against the Nationalists during the last ten days had not been very severe. They said the Northerners were not defeated but their casualties had been 2,500.

It was asserted that the present withdrawal was due to the defection of the eighth corps which refused to fight any longer and retired to the north. This was laid to false propaganda saying that Chang Tso-Lin and others of the Northern command and their families had left Peking for Manchuria.

The withdrawal of the eighth corps it was explained, necessitated the other troops falling back to straighten out the front.

Tri-Motored---

About 100 feet over the city and continued to rise as the pilot headed toward San Francisco bay and flew it over the water toward the Golden Gate.

The tri-motored Fokker monoplane carried a crew of two Australians and two Americans. They were Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith, commander; Captain C. T. P. Uim, co-pilot; James Warner, radio operator and Lieut. Harry Lyon, navigator, Warner and Lyon are Americans.

An early morning haze made for poor visibility but the ship pointed its nose to the west without difficulty. The flight is the first leg of a 7,788-mile flight to Australia.

It was announced before the hopoff that Warner and Lieut. Lyon, both former Navy operators, would go all the way to Sydney.

Lyon is a son of Rear Admiral Henry W. Lyon, who was commandant of the Mare Island Navy yard in 1906 and 1907, and now is the inactive list, residing at Paris Matine.

Lyon, Jr., was Lieut. Commander in command of the transport Westerner and first lieutenant on the cruiser at St. Louis during the world war.

SEVILLE, SPAIN, May 31.—(AP)—Believing that the Spanish fliers Ignacio Iglesias and Francisco Jimenez, who hoped to break the world's distance flight record, might have started across the Atlantic for Havana, was dispelled today by receipt of a radio message saying the Spanish plane was about 800 miles from Karachi, India, last night.

Negro Slayer Is Sought Along River

FORT WORTH, May 31.—(AP)—Hunt for Tenola Moore, 23-year-old negro slayer of George Turner, bicycle policeman, extended into Montague county corner of Cooke county, and the River bottoms Thursday. The search took this turn when postmen became convinced that the negro probably had fled through the lines spread around Decatur, Greenwood, and Sildel in Cooke county and has headed for Oklahoma.
