REDUCTION OF THE STATE

Rad valorem tax rate by three cents should not cause any great wave of enthusiasm throughout the state.

While it is gratifying to know that such a step is possible, the fact does not indicate that the state financial system is any sounder than before.

The tax reduction will not mean much to the small property owner, upon whom the present system imposes a burden out of proportion of his income.

Taxes are high in the sense that most people wish there were not any. Intangible services such as the state largely renders are not enough appreciated.

Gasoline taxes are at their peak. The needs of the state institutions were never greater.

Mexico is "News". Not even the warm enthusiasm over the exploits of a national idol, Emilio Carranza, nor the deep sorrow which attended his tragic passing in a storm which wrecked his airplane, could dull the vicious hatred that Tuesday achieved its ends in the assassination of General Alvaro Obregon.

It had been hearkening to read of the bonds of sympathy which had been growing between Mexico and this country—of the appreciation Mexico showed for our homage to her favorite hero—of the good will encompassing our ambassador, Dwight Morrow—of the disappearance of the hated word "Gringo" and its replacement by the clause "Viva Estados Unidos"—of the affectionate relations between the president-elect, Obregon, and the American attaches.

Now that sympathy is dissipated by seething rage and sorrow over the ruthless murder of one of the big men of Mexico—Mexico who can ill spare men of his calibre and understanding.

mingering peons, formerly his supporters, and marveled at the fervor of his enemies. His administration promised more than any other alternative in sight. In fact, what does the future hold now? Mexico will be "news" for many a day.

CAPITOL News

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—The question in this campaign is whether or not Smith can beat Hoover. The Republicans start with the advantage. The country is regarded as normally Republican. It's an abnormal campaign, but who will get the benefit of its abnormalities?

The only possible way to guess at the outcome is on the basis of electoral votes, of which there are 531. In 1924 Coolidge had 382 of those, Davis only 136 and La Follette 13. In 1920 Harding had 404 and Cox 127. Smith must virtually double the Davis electoral vote in order to win; he must take 130 away from the Republicans, as 266 elects.

Obviously then, Smith faces great odds. If he does win, it can hardly be by more than a bare majority. At the moment, any effort to show how he can win must be helped on by a great many assumptions.

It is also all-important that Smith carry his own state of New York with 45. It's not certain that he will, but if he can't this story might as well be ended right here. Anyway, New York and the south would give him 159. He ought to get the three-vote states of Arizona, Nevada and New Mexico along with Rhode Islands' five, making 173.

But let's look at Hoover. If we start with the south's 114 as a reasonable certainty for Smith, we must line up some regularly Republican states for Hoover and consider them pretty sure to be his. Let's give him California, Colorado, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Michigan, New Hampshire, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Utah, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia and Wyoming. One or two of these states might conceivably go for Smith, but probably won't. Their total electoral vote is 184.

Hoover also confidently expects to hold these: Illinois 29, Minnesota 12, Nebraska 8, North Dakota 5. Total 54. Grand total of Hoover's probable electoral votes, according to our figuring—238.

That would leave Hoover only 28 votes short of election.

We left Smith with 173, which was 93 short of election.

The states we haven't yet assigned to anyone are: East: Connecticut 7, Delaware 3, Maryland 8; Massachusetts 18, New Jersey 14. Border: Kentucky 13, Oklahoma 10, Tennessee 12. West: Missouri 18, Wisconsin 13, Montana 4.

That leaves us with 120 "doubtful" electoral votes on our hands. Democrats in the border states say they can hold them in the Democratic column. If we assume they know what they're talking about, we can give Smith 35 more electoral votes and bring him up to 208, leaving us 35 votes still undisturbed.

Hoover still has 238 and needs only 28. He might get them from Missouri and Wisconsin and let the east go hang. Nearly all Democratic calculations count Missouri inside the Smith stockade.

The Republican managers recently assembled in Washington had no difficulty in deciding that the really important battle ground of the campaign lay in the east. Eastern national committeemen claimed to be perturbed over the fact that this was wet territory and that their party's platform and candidate were dry while the other party's man was wet. The New York, Massachusetts and Connecticut committeemen who were the backbone of the "draft Coolidge" movement in the pre-convention campaign were all afraid of Smith for that reason. They felt Coolidge would have a much better chance to beat him in their states than Hoover.

Anyway, getting back to our calculations and remembering that we're trying to prove how Smith might be elected—those eastern states which we haven't awarded yet may be regarded as wet. On the other hand they are normally Republican in presidential years. Hence we're up in the air as to how they're going to vote. If Smith carried them all he would still need eight electoral votes. He would be more likely to get them from Missouri than from Wisconsin, but he might never get them at all.

Hoover Is Given Conflicting Views About Agriculture

ABOARD HOOVER TRAIN, Cheyenne, Wyo., July 19.—(AP)—Friends who have conferred with Herbert Hoover during his westbound journey to California have gained the impression that the Republican presidential nominee does not intend to advance any specific plan of farm relief in his acceptance speech at Palo Alto next month.

These same friends declare, however, that Mr. Hoover is thoroughly alive to the fact that conditions of agriculture presents a problem which calls for solution, and that he will pledge himself to make a thoroughgoing survey of the whole situation, and to dedicate his best efforts to formulation of a practical plan of aid.

As he traveled across the continent during the past five days, Mr. Hoover has received somewhat conflicting views from leaders in the farm movement as to just what the situation in the corn belt really is at it bears upon his own political fortunes and those of his party.

Shamrock Woman Opens Music Store

Mrs. E. L. Tarpley, formerly of Shamrock, has opened a music store in the Earl Rice building on North Cuyler street. She has secured a Leonard re-producing baby grand piano that is causing much comment among those who have heard it. The piano when playing rolls of music has automatic tone variations and volume changes as played on an ordinary piano.

In connection with the music shop, C. H. McCormack has a line of Columbia and Victor phonographs and records and the agency for Kolster and Majestic radio sets.

Russia Plans to Press Search for Amundsen Party

MOSCOW, July 19.—(AP)—Russia intends to strengthen her forces searching for Roald Amundsen and his five missing companions and for the six men carried away in the balloon part of the Italia after this crash north of Spitzbergen.

Vice Commissary for War Kameneff asked concerning the plans for the rescue work said: "Our expedition is facing a most difficult problem. For the solution of it we must prop up our forces and means, particularly because in this we can no longer count on the cooperation of other governments and we shall evidently have to work alone."

Conoe Intrigues President Today

SUPERIOR, Wis., July 19.—(AP)—Faced with a period of unusual quiet in executive affairs, President Coolidge proposed today to suit his activities to the requirements of the day and prefer the open air to his office.

His canoe was ordered ready at an early hour with John Larock, Indian guide, at hand to pole the craft up the rapids into the wilder stretches of the Brule. His angling rods also had been prepared for a fishing excursion.

Curious to see her husband engaged in the pastime which keeps him away from the lodge many hours every day, Mrs. Coolidge had expressed a desire to follow him today. Her son John had offered to paddle for her and a canoe was arranged for them.

LOVE FOR TWO

RUTH DEWEY GROVES © 1928 By NEA Service Inc.

THIS HAS HAPPENED BERTIE LOU WARD, on the eve of her wedding to HONEY BREWER, feels troubled at receiving a dagger-like paper knife from LILA HARRIS, an ex-sweet-heart of Rod's. She resolves not to be jealous, but a second blow to her pride comes when she accidentally overhears one of her bridesmaids ask another if she thought the bride liked being second choice.

The pain in her heart vanishes when Rod whispers "My wife" with a world of adoration in his eyes. They smile an ideal honeymoon and Bertie Lou forgets about Lila until they return and find her playing dice in their apartment because she "knows what Rod likes."

They settle down in the little house out too much hospitality upon their financial budget. This worries Bertie Lou, as does the persistent annoyance of Lila. So she is happy when Rod accepts a position in New York which has been offered him by TOM FRASER.

Anxious to make a good impression, they go to an expensive hotel and find they can find an apartment. The cost of things amazes them, and Bertie Lou is embarrassed when MOLLY FRASER takes her to an exclusive gown shop and urges her to buy more clothes than she can afford. She is also worried at Rod's playing poker with Tom. One night after winning some high stakes, Rod footloosely invites the crowd to a night club. Bertie Lou opens a charge account against Rod's wishes in order to get a new evening dress before the party. For Molly has announced that Lila will arrive in time for the affair.

CHAPTER XIV

MOLLY suggested taking two cabs to the club. "There's no sense getting crushed." She was thinking of her new ermine coat.

"Let's," Lila agreed, and while they waited she found an opportunity for a whispered word to her besties.

When the first cab drew up to the curb Molly motioned Bertie Lou to get in. "You first," Bertie Lou said, stepping aside. Molly laughed and took her by the arm. To resist would have shown that Bertie Lou knew what Lila was engineering. She preferred to have them think she hadn't caught on.

Molly climbed in after her and while Rod was engaged in signaling a second cab Molly called to Tom to come and join her. Tom delayed until the other cab came to a stop and Lila turned toward it. Then he got in with Molly and Bertie Lou. He was perfectly innocent. It seemed a natural thing to do.

The distance to the club was short, but heavy traffic delayed them. When finally the two cabs arrived before the unpretentious entrance of the Arabesque Lila had enjoyed her "moment" with Rod. At least she gave the impression of having enjoyed it though Rod hadn't thought it anything. Lila was too intelligent to spoil her evening at its inception.

BERTIE LOU noted the self-satisfied smile on Lila's lips as she stepped from the taxicab. She glanced quickly at Rod. Guileless Rod. She knew at once that he had nothing to conceal. What a suspicious fool Lila must think her!

Rod left Lila to the ushering ability of Tom and devoted himself to seeing Bertie Lou politely into the club. Lila's eyes snapped as he turned away from her. She was further annoyed at the care with which he saw Bertie Lou seated before he took thought of her or Molly.

They had a good table. Tom was known in the place. Rod asked him to do the ordering. "You know the ropes," he said, excusing himself.

The Arabesque was one of the quieter clubs. Evening dress was required. The women's gowns, party, subject or not subject to sinking fund provisions, and containing such other terms and conditions as may be determined or prescribed by the Board of Directors; so limited in amount that bonds at any time outstanding, together with all the then outstanding prior debt of this Company and the par value of its then outstanding shares of capital stock shall not exceed the sum of Fifteen Million Dollars ($15,000,000) plus the amount expended after December 31, 1927 for the acquisition, construction, or extension of railroads and railroad property and for additions and betterments to such railroads and properties now or hereafter owned by the Company; such mortgage or deed of trust to contain also such terms and conditions as may be prescribed or authorized by the Stockholders at said meeting; and to authorize the immediate issuance under said mortgage of one bond for Nine Million Dollars ($9,000,000) or such sum not exceeding said amount as may be approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission, said bond to be dated July 1, 1928, and to mature July 1, 1953.

Molly. But that, Bertie Lou was sure before the music crashed into the third number, would be the end of her warfare with Lila for this evening at least. For Lila had been playing up to the stranger, Mr. Loree. She had her heart and soul in her work.

Mr. Loree was an oldish man, but he carried the stamp of success in his crisp speech and sure, brisk manner. Bertie Lou rather liked him. Too good for Lila, but, strangely, he seemed to return her interest.

Neither Tom nor Molly cared particularly for dancing. Mr. Loree did. Lila was now perfectly willing to let Bertie Lou have all the dances with Rod. So it turned out to be a much happier evening for Bertie Lou than she had anticipated. And the show was what Tom called a "wow."

Little girls with wise eyes and pert legs pointed out ahead of a principal and tossed balloons to the patrons. To the ends of the stems toy taxi makers were attached. The singer came on and pleaded with everyone to make music for her. Queer sounds suddenly filled the smoky air as the revellers endeavored to favor her.

Bertie Lou spoke to Tom about the entertainer's voice. "Oh, yes," he said, "she's good. Came to New York to study for grand opera."

Bertie Lou fell silent over the untold story. The song ended and the girl—she was just a girl—made way for the star. Bertie Lou was fascinated with the latter's costume, made of fig leaves and small red apples, but not with her voice, though she had a song that she could make a lot of.

It was about a garden. And there was a call in it somewhere to the nether regions for the last word brought a hissing horde of little red demons about her. Demons in forked tails and nothing much besides.

They began tearing at her costume, plucking away the apples and ripping off the leaves. Bertie Lou's eyes widened. Would they completely disrobe her? She glanced apprehensively at Rod. His face reflected her own alarm.

TILDEN IS DISMISSED FROM DAVIS CUP TOURNAMENT PLAY

NOT AMATEUR UNDER RULINGS Writes Current Articles For Newspapers, Charge

PARIS, France, July 19.—(AP)—The French Tennis Federation today cabled the United States Lawn Tennis association asking that it rescind action taken in removing captain William T. Tilden from participation with the United States team in the inter-zone Davis Cup competition.

A threatened strike of the American players under which they would have refused to play in the inter-zone matches with Italy was abandoned this afternoon when Lott and Hennessey and Hunter unreservedly accepted their assignments for the inter-zone finals and play will go ahead tomorrow as scheduled.

PARIS, July 19.—(AP)—Charged with violating the amateur rules of the United States Lawn Tennis association, "Big Bill" Tilden, lanky Philadelphia veteran of the courts, was dropped from the American Davis Cup team today.

This sensational and totally unexpected action was taken because he had violated the amateur rules in writing about the Wimbledon tennis tournament while playing in it.

Tilden's removal caused a complete change of the American team. Francis T. Hunter and John Hennessey will represent the United States in the singles and George Lott and Hennessey in the doubles.

Previously it had been planned to play Tilden, and Lott in the singles and Lott and Hennessey in the doubles in the inter-zone against Italy opening tomorrow.

Announcement of Tilden's dismissal was made by Joseph Wear, of Philadelphia, chairman of the American Davis Cup committee, and was concurred in by Samuel H. Colloom, president of the United States Lawn Tennis association. Wear immediately announced his own resignation, effective as soon as the American team returns home. Colloom said he would bid his time but would have something to say about the matter when Davis Cup competition is over.

With Tilden's passing from the team he captained went virtually America's last chance of regaining this year at least the historic tennis trophy which passed into the hands of France's "three mucksters"—Henri Cochet, Rene de Coste and Jean Borotra—at Germantown last year. In fact, critics saw a possibility that without Tilden's inspired play, the United States might not even survive the inter-zone fights with Italy.

Deposing of the American veteran came just as the draw in the inter-zone finals was about to be made.

Amid impressive silence, Wear read the following statement:

"The amateur rules committee of the Davis Cup committee of the United States Lawn Tennis association having preferred charges against William T. Tilden, I, for having violated the amateur rules by writing current newspaper articles for pay or consideration concerning the Wimbledon tournament in which he was a competitor, and whereas it would be improper to retain as a member of the American Davis Cup team any player against whom such charges are pending, the United States Lawn Tennis association has decided to withdraw Tilden from Davis Cup competition."

The statement was signed by Colloom.

Tilden, raising his right hand above his head, said:

"I also have a statement to make."

But before he started reading from his notes he cried passionately:

"I refute all charges. We will win the Davis Cup yet. I hereby apply for a job of training American Davis Cup members for the gruelling matches ahead."

Then evidently laboring under deep emotion he read a statement which follows in part:

"I deny the charge of intent to violate either the letter or the spirit of the amateur rule of the United States Lawn Tennis association and state unreservedly that any articles which I wrote during the Wimbledon tournament were to the best of my knowledge straight comment articles and in no way an attempt to contemporaneously report a tournament in which I was a competitor."

Tennis sensation followed tennis sensation when Lott announced he would not play in the doubles, either because of sympathy over Tilden's disbarment or disappointment because he was not chosen for the singles.

Both Colloom and Wear took the young player aside and argued that he must see the thing through. Lott reserved decision until this evening, but it was confidently expected that after the excitement of a hectic day had died down he will take over his assigned place on the team.

Wouldn't Walk The Babe, Who "Walks" Anyway

BY WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The rise of the Chicago White Sox to a place among the elite has developed complications of a social nature for Prof. Russell (Lena) Blackburne. "How to behave when Babe Ruth is at bat" henceforth will be a much more vital question to the ambitious young men of Prof. Blackburne than the conduct expected, say, in helping a lady into a patrol wagon, or other conveyance.

Some doubt regarding the dues of Mr. Ruth could be noticed among the White Sox in the ninth inning at the Yankee stadium Wednesday. The Babe swished a bat at Ted Lyons with perfect ease. Two Yankees were out. Combs and Koenig were on base, and the White Sox led by 8 to 6. Lena was firm in this refusal to pass the winning run to first base, with the result that the Babe combed his thirty-sixth home run into the right field bleachers to nose out the Chicagoans by 9 to 8.

Blackburne's judgment was sound baseball, even though the consequences made it look bad. Ruth's run would win, regardless of how it got home, and with the Babe on base, Lyons would have had nobody to face but Gehrig—and perhaps Meusel. The big slugger now rides twenty-three games, twenty-three days and six home runs ahead of his record pace of last season when he hit sixty.

The Cleveland Indians broke out of their slump—if losing to the Yankees when they are interested may be considered as a slump—by shading the Red Sox in ten innings at Boston, 6 to 5. The Athletics took another from the Tigers in Philadelphia, 5 to 1. The other American league teams were idle.

The Pirates would be champions of the world if the other fifteen teams were the Phillies and the Braves. The Buccaneers made it nine straight against Boston, 16 to 3, as a few terri ble Bostonians, 16 to 3, as a few terrified witnesses stood by powerless to halt the brutality. Burleigh Grimes won his fifteenth victory, Vic Aldridge, just for a comparison, is not even in the National league records.

The Reds raised their stock by taking two decisions from the Robins, 11 to 10 and 2 to 1, while other first division teams remained idle.

A fine pitching point was raised in the second clash, with the defeat going eventually to Rube Ehrhardt as Ray Kulp won. The veteran Bill Doak held the Reds scoreless until the seventh when he fell a victim to the heat. Rube rushed to the rescue and finished the round without a run, only to be removed when he permitted Kelly to single as the eighth began.

Dazzy Vance next was called upon. He caused Dreesen to force Zilamann, who ran Kelly, but the Reds went on to score two runs which enabled them to live through a one-run Brooklyn rally in the ninth. The defeat which he was responsible for one runner, regardless of that runner's identity, and that single man scored, giving the Reds a lead which the Robins never tied.

Indicative of their batting is the standing of Taylor Douthitt, who has been leading the circuit in total hits and indicative of their speed is the rating of Frankie Frisch, who has been setting the pace for the base stealers.

Manager Bill McKechnie, who had his ups and downs at Pittsburgh, is fully credited around the senior circuit with having engineered the Cardinals' remarkable showing. Even such things as crippled players haven't cramped his style. He shoots in replacements and ties water when they outplay the absent regulars.

Witness the performances of Maranville at shortstop and Harper in the outfield. The venerable Rabbit, pronounced through four years ago, subbed for Tommy Thoenow and Harper filled in for Walter Rottger, out with a broken leg. Their playing has been well above the average.

This is typical of the way McKechnie has been converting bad breaks into good ones. He ran out of relief pitching material and stumbled upon Clarence Mitchell, who couldn't even make good with the Phillies. The first thing the aged spit-baller did was to stop the Giants. Then he repeated the trick two weeks later.

Both victories were extremely timely especially the second one, when the Giants, in second place and threatening to advance, needed taming.

The Cardinals' manager is credited with having done wonders with Jimmy Wilson, just an ordinary catcher with the Phillies, but now rated as second to none in the big leagues. He has caught more games this year than any other National League catcher.

Several scintillating individual performances have marked the Cardinals' elevation to set the pace in a dazzling mid-summer pennant scramble. There is old Alex—the great Grover Cleveland Alexander—who at the age of 41 years won three games in eight days with an arm that has seen 25 years of hard hurling.

RED BIRDS WINGING WAY TO PENNANT; PITCHING, BATTING BEST IN LEAGUE

Here's a quartet of big guns of the St. Louis Cardinals, apparently destined to win their second National League pennant in three years. The mighty right arm of Big Jess Haines (center) and Old Alex (upper right) have helped elevate the Red Birds' pitching staff to a high state of perfection. The speed of Frankie Frisch (upper left) and the batting punch of Sunny Jim Bottomley (lower right) have been two other major factors in the Cardinals' 1928 success.

NEW YORK.—(AP)—The league leading Red Birds of St. Louis are fighting off the opposition with the effective ferocity of an eagle defending its lofty perch.

They winged their way to the top of the heap and they're going to do some clawing to stay there, and the battle thus far has been ecstacy only to the Cardinals' foes.

These fast flying Red Birds are making good because they've been getting more than their share of individual brilliancy and because of unexcelled team play. In team batting and team fielding they have consistently pressed for the lead, and their pitching as a unit sizes up as the best in the league.

Indicative of their batting is the standing of Taylor Douthitt, who has been leading the circuit in total hits and indicative of their speed is the rating of Frankie Frisch, who has been setting the pace for the base stealers.

Tunney Carries Fighting Tonnage And Will Rest

SPECULATOR, N. Y., July 19.—(AP)—Dangerously near fighting weight, Gene Tunney, who will risk his world's heavyweight title against Tom Heeney, the powerful New Zealand blacksmith, just a week hence was given a holiday today.

The champion was down to 190 pounds, almost the weight he will carry when he enters the ring against Heeney, and from now on his days of strenuous preparations are few. He will probably work hard tomorrow and again next Monday.

During the next 24 hours, Tunney will decide whether he will fly to New York with Commander Richard Byrd, on the day of the titular fight or travel by motor.

Tunney was given a vivid picture of air travel yesterday when a party of friends met with a mishap while returning to New York after making a flight here to watch him work out.

The plane, which had Bill Winston, a Curtiss field pilot at the controls, and Bernard J. Gimbel, New York merchant, Charles V. Bob, one of Commander Byrd's financial backers, James I. Bush, president of the Madison Square Garden club, and Samuel Fryer, of Greenwich, Conn., Tunney's close friend, as passengers, was wrecked on the links of the Hamilton country club when it crashed into a tree. Winston and Bob were slightly injured.

Houston Facing Stiff Test in Dallas Series

(By The Associated Press.)

Houston faced an important test Thursday in its battle for the Texas league pennant. With a record of having won their last six games the Buffs prepared to tackle the Dallas Steers, who have been playing fast enough ball of late to keep them within easy striking distance of first place.

The Steers have no mean record themselves, inasmuch as they 5 to 0 victory over Beaumont Wednesday gave them a clean sweep of the three-game series with the Exporters.

Pierce, a southpaw, hurled good ball, holding the Exporters to five singles, and the Steer batsmen hammered Holzhauser for 11 safeties which were bunched in two innings.

Houston defeated Shreveport, 5 to 4, by virtue of a ninth-inning rally that gave the Buffs all their runs. The defeat was the Sports' eleventh straight.

Wichita Falls and San Antonio batted for 11 innings before the former won, 6 to 5. The Bears started scoring in the second frame when they annexed three runs, but were passed quickly by the Spudders, who chalked up five tallies in the second and third innings.

San Antonio tied the count in the seventh. Benton, Spudder shortstop handled twelve chances without an error.

LEGISLATURE CONVENES
 TOPEKA, July 19.—(AP)—The Kansas legislature assembled today for a special session to consider submitting to the electorate a constitutional amendment intended to assure the state's future participation in federal funds for highway construction.

ROBBERS--

of the three bandits who attempted to holdup the Bank of Citronelle at Citronelle, Ala., 35 miles north of here today, was found shot in an abandoned automobile, according to a report received at the sheriff's office here, and another is reported to have been killed by a posse. Claud A. Hurt, cashier of the bank, who fought off the bandits, was shot in the abdomen.
 Driving up to the front door of the bank, two of the men alighted, the other advanced through the back door. When commanded to "stick 'em up" by the smallest of the trio the cashier aimed a blow at the robbers' jaw but missed. Then grappled and when the bandit managed to wriggle loose Mr. Hurt was shot twice in the stomach by the accomplice with .38 calibre bullets.
 Their attempt to rob the bank frustrated, the three men fled in an automobile amid a hail of bullets aimed at them from startled residents of the quiet town that had been awakened. Miss Audrey Rowell, the only other person in the bank at the time of the attempted hold up was unhurt.

DALLAS, July 19.—(AP)—Two men believed to be members of the trio who held up and robbed the paymaster of the San Antonio Light of a $6,000 payroll several weeks ago and later engaged in a series of robberies in Dallas, were on their way here today from Shreveport, La., in custody of three Dallas officers.

The alleged bandits were arrested by Shreveport officers Tuesday after a pistol fight there between a woman and a policeman. The woman was in an automobile with the two men, but escaped. A third member of the trio eluded Shreveport officers by jumping from the automobile, which later was found several miles from the city. The machine was identified as one reported stolen here.
 The pistol fight occurred when a Shreveport officer approached the party as they stopped at an oil station. When he started questioning one of the men the woman jerked a pistol from the seat and opened fire. The driver of the car sped away as the officer returned the fire.
 Shortly after the car was found, two of the men were arrested in the woods.

WICHITA FALLS, July 19.—(AP)—Although more than a score of suspects had been questioned and released, the unmasked highwayman who yesterday fatally wounded Charlie McDaniel, pioneer northwest Texas cattleman, during an unsuccessful attempt to hold up the First State bank at Dundee, Texas, still was at large today.
 One of three automobiles commandeered by the slayer in escaping was found abandoned on a street here last night. Officers immediately rounded up every suspicious character in the city, but were forced to release them as they established alibis. They were without a clue today.
 McDaniel was shot by the bandit when he refused to open the door of the bank, which had been closed for the noon hour. He died at a hospital here last night. Funeral services were to be held today at Dundee.

Home Laundries at LeFors Burn

Word received here at press time from LeFors stated that two frame shacks, used as laundries, had been completely destroyed by fire this afternoon. The places were closed at the time fire broke out, and the cause is unknown.
 Neighbors and workmen nearby saved most of the contents of the building. Only fast work by a bucket brigade kept the fire from spreading to other houses.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Smith and daughter returned Wednesday afternoon from a few days business visit in McLean and Alanreed.

Mrs. Williams Hunter and son, Jack, Mrs. J. H. Dennis and daughter, Miss Donna, of Elk City, Okla., are guests in the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Mitchell.

She is Lucy Tiayah Eads, Chief White Plume was the great-great-grandfather of both Mrs. Eads and Senator Curtis.
 Woman suffrage played no part in her selection as the chief of the Kaws, for she was the only lineal heir upon the death of her grandfather Chief Washunga.
 Senator Curtis was asked by the Kaws to become their chief about 20 years ago, but he declined, for he had already attained the position of a chieftain among the people of his fathers.

Negotiations on Mine Agreement to Be Opened Soon

INDIANAPOLIS, July 19.—(AP)—District officers of the United Mine Workers of America today were free to negotiate with coal operators on any "mutually satisfactory" basis, provided all agreements be submitted to a district convention for referendum.
 Thus one of the basic principles of the union policy in the bituminous coal fields—the uniform wage scale for union miners—was discarded by a decision yesterday of the international policy committee in an attempt to cope with the depressed conditions in the country.

 With abandonment of the base wage, the famous Jacksonville agreement, which assured union miners $7.50 per day and $1.08 per ton from 1924 to 1927 was dropped as no longer an effective basis for wage negotiations. It was the expiration of the agreement April 1, 1927, which resulted in the present bituminous coal suspension.
 It was made plain, however, that pending negotiations of new agreements the Jacksonville scale would remain. The new union policy will affect about 150,000 miners in the central competitive field (Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois) and the outlying districts of Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, and Nevada. Many of the miners in these fields have been idle since the suspension fifteen months ago.

 Hope was expressed in miner circles that the district agreements would result in resumption of operations. Indiana operators said they were ready to meet the miners in wage conferences and indicated they would demand the 1927 scale of $5 per day.
