Queen's Jester

Told that Queen Mary would attend the religious pageant in which she was to appear at Albert Hall, London, four-year-old Jean Oxford (above), daughter of an actor, wanted to know: "But how can they get such a big boat into the hall?" When told of the quip, Queen Mary was so amused she asked to meet Jean, kissed her, gave her a carnation.

BENNETT WILL REPLACE WPA CHIEF HERE

SCOTT RESIGNS WITH 19 OTHERS ON MONDAY

William D. Bennett of Fort Worth arrived in Pampa this morning to take over the duties of supervisor of the Pampa fair park project. He came to replace J. L. Scott who resigned yesterday with 19 other engineers and supervisors of the Amarillo WPA division in protest. It was reported, over the resignation of Guy C. Holder, superintendent of the division.

Also arriving in Pampa this morning was E. R. Armstrong, of Fort Worth, who will be area engineer. He left, after conferring with city officials, for other points in the area but said he would be back in Pampa soon to clear up the situation which had curtailed work on the local project. It is not known whether the men will remain in this district permanently or until other men can be selected.

Two other WPA superintendents in the Pampa area also resigned. They were Everett Schneider, superintendent of the highway project east of Pampa, and J. L. Walton, superintendent of the county road project south of Pampa. Successors had not been named up to noon today as far as could be learned here.

It was understood that the WPA men, all employees of the division of operations, were acting in sympathy with Holder, who resigned last Friday. They submitted resignations to State Director H. P. Drought in San Antonio, stating they would resign if A. A. Meredith were retained as district head in the Panhandle. The resignations were accepted.

L. O. Shropshire of Plainview, a state engineer, is in Amarillo acting as temporary head of the division. He called City Manager C. L. Stine today informing him that

Allred Protests State Tax Levies

AUSTIN, March 10. (AP)—Governor James V. Allred protested today proposed tax levies by Illinois and Iowa on Texas products and received a protest from Governor Phillip LaFollette of Wisconsin against a possible Texas impost on imported beer.

Gov. LaFollette warned the beer tax proposal, pending in the Texas house, would lead to retaliation in the state affected. Gov. Allred sent the protest to the House Liquor Traffic committee.

The Texas executive said a proposed Iowa inspection fee of oleomargarine and other hard substitutes and a pending measure in Illinois to levy against Texas natural gas "violated the spirit of constitutional provisions forbidding state tariffs."

TEXAS SHERIFF IS SHOT TO DEATH THRU WINDOW OF HOME

FDR Speech Recorded By W. R. Frazee

President Roosevelt "repeated" his speech of last night in the Gray county sheriff's office this forenoon.

However, it was through the courtesy of W. R. Frazee, district court reporter, who recorded the President's address on a dictaphone record, as the Rooseveltian voice came out of the radio loud-speaker in his home last night.

Mr. Frazee brought the dictaphone record and recording machine to the courthouse this morning and gave listeners who missed the radio broadcast an opportunity to hear the President's recorded voice.

Among the head-phone listeners this morning were Judge W. R. Ewing, Attorney John F. Sturgeon and Deputy Sheriff George Inman.

AIRPORT HERE LOSES RATING

BCD TO RENEW FIGHT FOR RECOGNITION BY DEPARTMENT

As the result of a visit on Tuesday afternoon, A. F. Ong, department of commerce representative in charge of emergency landing fields between Tucumcari, N. H., and Higgins announced that so-called municipal airport of Pampa will disappear from the U. S. Department of Commerce airway bulletin No. 2 as an established field.

The inspector considers the field unsafe for anyone not thoroughly familiar with it, not only because of the condition of the sewer ditch which intersects the landing area but because of irregularities in the northeast part of the field and the fact that no obstruction indicators or lights are provided along the south and west boundaries.

The Pampa field has been erroneously listed for years as a municipal airport, he said. Mr. Ong's investigation resulted in the discovery that no one seemed to be in charge with any responsibility of maintenance. This situation, he said, is a challenge to the aviation committee of the Board of City Development to perfect plans for acquiring permission from the Department of Commerce to use the emergency landing field as a municipal airport.

R. G. Allen, chairman of the BCD aviation committee, said last night that he would accept the challenge and that his committee would take immediate action to continue Pampa's recognition as an aviation center by the department of commerce.

AMBULANCE OVERTURNS ON BORGER HIGHWAY

Four ambulances screamed through West Pampa about 7:30 o'clock this morning three of them enroute to an accident northwest of the city and the other to a point where one of the ambulances turned over. Only one man was injured seriously in the two accidents. He was brought to Worley hospital in a car.

The injured man was J. M. Huddleston who suffered serious head injuries in an accident near the Skelly-Schafer gasoline plant. Three others were brought to the hospital for emergency treatment but left after having their wounds dressed. Details of the accident had not been learned here.

The Pampa Mortuary's Ford ambulance was damaged when it over at the west city limits. Brad Chandler, driver, was uninjured and continued to the scene of the wreck in one of the mortuary's large ambulances which was following. A G. C. Malone ambulance and a Duencel-Carmichael ambulance also were called when it was learned one of the Pampa Mortuary ambulances had been wrecked.

Senate Hearings on His Program Begin

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—Attorney General Cummings urged Congress today to give President Roosevelt authority to put on the Supreme Court men of "fresh outlook" who will not infringe on congressional powers.

Appearing before a thronged Senate judiciary committee hearing, the cabinet officer asked for adoption of the Chief Executive's court reorganization proposals in order to avoid "a tortured construction of the constitution."

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP)—President Roosevelt put on record today a blunt declaration that he would not appoint to the Supreme Court "spineless puppets" who would decide specific cases as he wished.

"No resident fit for his office would appoint, and no senate of honorable men fit for their office would confirm, that kind of appointees to the Supreme Court," he declared last night.

He asserted, however, in his second appeal for enactment of his judicial reorganization program that he would choose justices "who will act as justices and not as legislators."

"If that can be called 'packing the courts,'" he said, "then I say that I am with me the vast majority of the American people favor doing just that thing—now."

Mr. Roosevelt spoke in a nationwide broadcast on the eve of Senate hearings on his program. Attorney General Cummings became the first witness in what probably will be a long recording of the arguments aroused by the administration judiciary bill.

Republicans and dissenting Democrats turned over the task of challenging Cummings' testimony to a plainsman campaigner for Roosevelt last fall—Senator Connally (D. Tex.).

The crowded scene, in the largest assembly room of the Senate office building, contrasted with the quiet chamber from which the President told the country last night his program would save the Constitution "from hardening of the judicial arteries."

His bill had two purposes, he said: "First, to make the administration of all federal justice speedier and, therefore, less costly; secondly, to bring to the decision of social and economic problems younger men have to live and work."

After quoting criticisms of some Supreme Court majority opinions by dissenting justices, he said: "The court in addition to the proper use of its judicial functions has improperly set itself up as a third house of the Congress—a super-legislature."

"We have, therefore, reached the point as a nation where we must take action to save the Constitution from the court and the court from itself."

"We want a Supreme Court which will do justice under the Constitution—not over it. In our courts we want a government of laws and not of men."

In the last 50 years he said, the balance of power between the three branches of government "has been tipped out of balance by the courts."

"It is my purpose to restore that

NEW EYE FOR INNER EARTH IS DEMONSTRATED

GUN PERFORATING IS DISCUSSED BY MONTROSE

Distant depths of the earth can be logged with a new invention called a Stratagraph. It was demonstrated to oil men of the Panhandle last night when M. T. Montrose of the Lane-Wells company of Oklahoma City appeared as speaker at the regular monthly American Petroleum Institute meeting in city hall. Vice Chairman Walter Biery presided.

The gun perforating method of opening holes in casing and formation was also described by Mr. Montrose, who showed pictures of the unusual method of securing pay from behind casing and cement.

Music was furnished by the Woodrow Wilson band under direction of Eugene Seastrand, and the Woodrow Wilson glee club, directed by Miss Hope Wells. Mrs. Annie Daniels, school principal, was also present.

The need of securing pay from behind casing, especially in deep wells plugged back and in old wells, during the depressing year, was met by the gun perforator, Mr. Montrose revealed. It is a method of shooting holes through casings and cement by electrically controlled gun fire without the use of percussion.

The shell can be driven with such force that it will penetrate as many as four strings of casing, cement back of the casing, and deep into formations where it shatters them.

Based on sound physical laws, the stratagraph gives accurate knowledge of the location and comparative nature of the various formations lying back of casing, Mr. Montrose said. He demonstrated with a model showing how a needle varied its course on a chart as the mechanism passed through various formations although the instrument was within the casing.

Max Mahaffey gave a report on the Mid-Continent convention in Tulsa two weeks ago. He urged everyone to join the Panhandle chapter which will be host to the Mid-Continent convention in 1938.

Numbers by the band and glee club included: The Eyes of Texas; Coast Guards March; chorus numbers; Saskatchewan overture; German band; Negro spirituals; Ambassador March; Woodrow Wilson school song.

BILL WOULD BAR JAPS, CHINESE FROM TEXAS

AUSTIN, March 10. (AP)—A senate sub-committee today studied a proposal by Senator J. Franklin Spears of San Antonio limiting the rights of alien Chinese and Japanese to own property in the state.

Spears said the bill, given a public hearing yesterday before the State Affairs committee, applied only to aliens who could not become United States citizens and would not apply to Mexican aliens.

Provisions of the measure not clarified to the committee's satisfaction included prohibiting sale of property owned by alien Chinese and Japanese to other than bona fide citizens and possible mandatory sale of such property within two years.

A. L. Becker of San Antonio declared the bill was intended to "stop a heavy influx of aliens into Texas from west coast states which have enacted similar laws."

The House State Affairs committee has introduced two bills to add state regulation to federal supervision of airplane operations.

Two bills changing state laws to conform with federal banking regulations prohibiting interest payments on demand deposits were reported favorably by a house committee.

Another house committee recommended a bill imposing a jail sentence up to one year and a fine up to $1,000 on persons refusing to testify before a legislative committee.

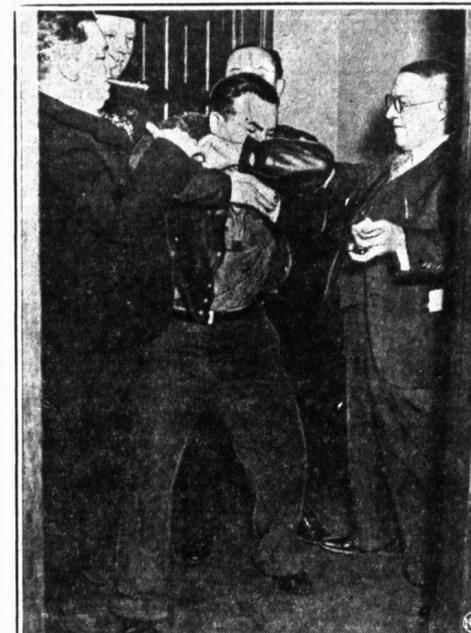

LABOR AMENDMENT IS DEFEATED IN NEW YORK

ALBANY, N. Y., March 10. (AP)—For the second time in two years, the assembly of President Roosevelt's home state has refused to ratify the federal child labor amendment.

Ignoring the pleas of Governor Herbert Lehman and President Roosevelt, a coalition of republicans and democrats blocked concurrence of the assembly in the favorable action taken five years ago by the Senate.

Twenty-eight states have approved the amendment. Thirty-six are necessary for ratification.

Wheat Prices Soar 2 Cents a Bushel

CHICAGO, March 10. (AP)—Wheat prices in the major world markets soared today to three cents a bushel to new high levels from the season today, with reports that European importing countries had made large purchases of southern hemisphere grain.

Chicago futures shot up as much as 2 3/8 cents a bushel at the opening. May wheat touched $1.38-3/4, its highest price since December, 1929.

Liverpool wheat prices gained around two cents a bushel. Wheat traders said world supplies were low after several seasons of short crops. United States stocks were estimated the smallest since 1919.

Organist Dies in California Prison

SAN QUENTIN, March 10. (AP)—Samuel Whittaker, 62, Los Angeles organist, convicted of slaying his wife in a faked holdup, died in the prison hospital here today.

Guards recalled that at Whittaker's sensational trial the organist arose after a jury convicted him and declared: "I hope God may strike me dead before I get to my cell if I am guilty of this horrible crime."

Whittaker, who entered prison only last Saturday, had not yet been assigned to a cell.

55,000 WORKERS AT CHRYSLER PLANT ARE IDLE

WASHINGTON—Committee for Industrial Organization spurs drive to organize 2,250,000 workers in textile and oil industries; plans labor organization to rival American Federation of Labor.

PITTSBURGH—A. F. of L. officials confer with employe representatives group of Carnegie-Illinois steel corp. on possible cooperation in fight against C. I. O.

DETROIT—Chrysler Corp. again rejects United Automobile Workers Union demand to speak for 67,000 employes; deadlock keeps 55,000 Chrysler workers idle, 10,000 out in Hudson Motor Co. strike.

AKRON, O.—Union leaders order Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. plants picketed after saying negotiations for settlement of dispute break down; 10,000 workers idle.

CHICAGO—450 freight handlers and motormen paralyze movement of merchandise to downtown business houses by sit-down strike in 62-mile freight subway.

The Committee for Industrial Organization steered a course today toward unionization of 2,250,000 workers in the textile and oil industries, and creation of a union structure to rival the American Federation of Labor.

The committee's move for autonomy came at a time when many of its affiliated groups were participating in strikes affecting more than 100,000 workers. One of them, the United Automobile Workers of America, was engaged in a struggle at Detroit with the Chrysler Motor corporation. It kept 55,000 Chrysler automotive workers idle.

Conflict over the form of union organization—by craft or by industry—split the ranks of the A. F. of L. last year. Supporters of the latter form organized the C. I. O. under the aegis of John L. Lewis.

The C. I. O.'s decision to charter local and state central labor bodies led to the belief the A. F. of L. would oust 10 unions backing Lewis.

Textile labor leaders said the drive to enlist 1,250,000 textile workers under C. I. O. auspices will start in New England in about two weeks. Start of the campaign to sign up 1,000,000 oil industry workers awaited perfection of organization procedure.

Possibility of a rapprochement between the A. F. of L. and independent steel workers to fight the C. I. O. foray into the steel industry loomed as a result of a conference at Pittsburgh last night.

Chrysler Holds Out Chrysler corporation reiterated its refusal to recognize the United Automobile workers as sole bargaining agency for its 67,000 employes. The stalemate kept 55,000 Chrysler workers idle at Detroit, where sit-down strikers held the firm's nine plants.

SENATE FAILS TO CAST FINAL VOTE ON ISSUE

FRIENDS OF WAGERING WIN VICTORY IN SENATE

AUSTIN, March 10. (AP)—The Texas Senate voted today after a storm of debate to send back to a committee for public hearing a bill repealing the law which in 1933 legalized the certificate system of wagering on horse racing.

The vote to recommit was 15 to 14 with one pair.

A week ago the Senate passed the repeal measure to third reading, 20 to 8, and before that the House of Representatives had approved another repeal bill by an overwhelming majority.

Opponents of repeal charged they had not been given opportunity for a public hearing and demanded the bill be recommitted so arguments by livestock raisers, track operators and others could be presented.

As debate raged over the controversial issue, charges were made members were "cowed and browbeaten" by forces seeking to knock out horse race betting, while proponents asserted the public had conducted a hearing for four years and wanted "race-truck gambling killed."

Hearing Will End Soon. Senator G. H. Nelson of Tahoka, opponent of racing, said he would ask for a hearing "as soon as possible." He said he probably would seek a hearing on the repeal bill, approved by the House, 207 to 24.

Senator Albert Stone of Brenham, chairman of the Senate criminal jurisprudence committee, said the group was scheduled to hold its next meeting Tuesday.

Voting for sending the bill to committee were Houghton, Austin, Gordon, M. Burns of Huntsville, E. M. Davis of Brownwood, T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, Weaver Moore of Houston, Will D. Pace of Tyler, Frank H. Rawlings of Port Worth, Morris Roberts of Pecos, Allan Shivers of Fort Arthur, J. Franklin Spears of San Antonio, L. J. Sulak of Lagrange, Olan E. Van Zandt of Toga, R. A. Weimer of Seguin, H. L. Winfield of Fort Stockton and Stone.

Small Absent. Senators voting "no" were A. M. Aikin Jr. of Paris, E. Harold Beck of Texarkana, Wilbourn B. Collier of Eastland, Clay Cotten of Palestine, J. Manley Head of Stephenville, Joe Hill of Henderson, Claude Isbell of Rockwall, Vernon Lemens of Glen Rose, J. M. McFarland of City, William R. Newton of Cameron, Ben G. Oneal of Wichita Falls, and Stone.

SPANISH GOVERNMENT TROOPS FALLING BACK

Spanish government troops north-east of Madrid fell back today before an insurgent force which government commanders said consisted of "15,000 Italians and Spaniards."

The insurgent headquarters at Avila reported the advancing army had shattered government opposition along the Guadalupe-Zaragoza highway and reached point less than 50 miles from Madrid, moving up 15 miles.

Government accounts, admitting Madrid's soldiers had yielded somewhat, in heavy fighting against a mechanized insurgent army, did not give the distance of the insurgent force from Madrid.

The mystery of the Spanish munitions transport Mar Cantabrico still was not cleared up, as reports at Arcachon, France, said she had been conveyed to an insurgent port by the insurgent cruiser which shelled her in the bay of Biscay. Previous accounts had said the ship sank.

A French steamer, the Djebel Antar, reported she was bombed by an airplane in the Mediterranean but sustained only slight damage.

The French government's plan to float a great defense loan neared final parliamentary approval, while Premier Mussolini of Italy sailed for a military political inspection of Libya, Italian North African possession.

Club Goes For A Ride In Trailer

A ride in one of today's 'covered wagons', an auto trailer, climaxed the program of Twentieth Century Forum yesterday afternoon.

The club met at the home of Mrs. M. C. Overton with 19 of its 20 members present.

Mrs. W. S. Dixon was leader, and she and Mrs. Arthur Swanson discussed the popular rise of the trailer and the wide use of these homes on wheels. Mrs. George Friauf reviewed a current magazine article on The Largest Cotton Plantation in the World.

Afterward, a trailer sent to the meeting place from the Tom Rose Ford Co. was inspected by club members, who admired its compact convenience and enjoyed a short ride in it.

Strawberry shortcake and iced tea were served by the hostess.

20TH CENTURY NOTES BUSINESS OF FEDERATION

Indian Arts of the Southwest Topic Of Program

Business concerning the district convention of Seventh District Federated clubs was transacted in Twentieth Century club yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. Paul Kasishke was hostess at her home and Mrs. F. M. Culbertson was leader of the third program in a series on the Spanish-American Southwest.

Tentative plans for the convention are being made by Pampa women, and the club voted to cooperate in extending an invitation for the 1938 convention, if other local clubs approve. Plans were also made to assist in entertaining Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, district president, on an expected visit here this month.

Subscriptions to the Penny art fund, a federation project, and an announcement of federation contests completed that part of the business session.

Arts and Crafts of New Mexico Indians was the program subject. Mrs. Culbertson spoke of Indian architecture and its influence on present architecture in the southwest; Mrs. J. M. Fitzgerald discussed basketry, especially in the Apache tribe; Mrs. R. E. McKernan told of silver work done by the Indians and showed jewelry and trinkets of this metal; Mrs. W. R. Campbell, discussing pottery, displayed various types of vases and bowls. A display of Indian drawings, bead work, looms, and blankets had been arranged by Mrs. Culbertson for inspection.

Mrs. R. B. Fisher gave a brief and interesting report on a talk by Sanford Bates, federal prison administrator for many years, at the recent American Educational conference which she attended at New Orleans. She repeated his remark that adequate, year-round recreation programs are the best prevention of juvenile crime.

Attractive refreshments in St. Patrick motif were served, with Irish hats and shamrocks on the plates.

Modern Menus

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Feature Writer

Bianche McNeil, Virginian, married a Texas newspaper man, Edna McNeil is his sister. So the two women wrote a book about hot tamales.

They call it "First Foods of America." There's a tortilla on nearly every page, authentic inspirations to enchiladas, tamales (the genuine Mexican tamale is not so hot as ill-advised Americans think), little whimsical dishes, as the authors call them, known to the Mexicans as antojitos, and a wealth of other recipes which will confound the American school of whipped cream cookery. It's an exciting book, particularly for those who delight in novelty that rests with mirth on the tongue.

Bread may be the staff of life to the American. But to a descendant of the Aztecs the tortilla is life. Armed with a wealth of first hand material and family tradition, the authors explain the tortilla.

Tortillas (12 tortillas)

One 15-ounce can hominy, 1 tablespoon cornmeal, 2 tablespoons cold water.

Masa is the Mexican cornmeal paste which is not the same as our cornmeal. Canned hominy, drained and put through the chopper approximates the masa so well that genuine results can be produced with it.

Breakfast: Orange juice, oatmeal, nut bread toast, coffee, milk.

Luncheon: Chalupas de Pollo, fresh pineapple strips, powdered sugar, milk, tea.

Dinner: Tomato juice, salmon and noodle loaf, spinach timbales, Melba toast, chocolate bread pudding, hard sauce.

Drain hominy, put through food chopper twice. Add cornmeal and water and mix well. Roll dough with hands into small biscuits about 1 1/2 inches in diameter and 1-2 inch thick. Put a moist napkin on the bread board. Place masa biscuit on napkin and cover with another moist napkin. Place a second bread board on top of the upper napkin, and exert an even pressure on the board until the masa has a waferlike thinness. When the napkins are carefully removed the masa (biscuit) will have become perfectly round with smooth edges. Bake on an extremely hot, slightly greased griddle. After 2 or 3 minutes, turn with pancake turner. When slightly browned, remove and place in receptacle between cloths to keep warm.

Cub Troop for Young Boys Adopted as Project

Electing Mrs. L. H. Anderson president to succeed Mrs. Roy Holt, B. M. Baker Parent-Teacher association yesterday afternoon chose officers for next term. Mrs. V. L. Hobbs is to be vice president, Mrs. C. E. Simmons secretary, Mrs. Cecil Lunsford treasurer, Mmes. Holt and Roy Van Winkle delegates to the Parent-Teacher council.

Nineteen delegates were appointed for the district Parent-Teacher convention in Perryton next month.

Decision to sponsor a Cub troop in the school was reached after a talk by Jeff Beard on Scout Cubbing, a move to enlist boys too young to join Boy Scout troops.

Grandparents were honor guests for the afternoon, and 13 grandmothers and two grandfathers were among those registering. Mrs. Hobbs was the speaker, on Cooperation in Character Building Between Home and School.

A piano solo by Margaret Jones and numbers by the band and sixth grade pupils completed the program. Second grade room mothers were in charge of the social hour.

Postponement of a dad's night program scheduled for March 15 was announced. The attendance award went to Herman Jones' room.

Recent Marriage in Houston Announced By Bride's Parents

TWITTY, March 10.—Mrs. and Mrs. A. J. Worley announce the marriage of their daughter, Bonita, to J. O. Hudson of Houston on March 4. The ceremony was read at 11 a. m. by Judge Gray of Houston. Mrs. Odessa Hudson attended the couple.

They will make their home in Houston, where Mr. Hudson is employed at a refinery. He formerly lived in Shamrock.

The bride has lived in Twitty for seven years, having moved here from Shamrock. She was honorae at a lovely shower before her departure for Houston. Miss Nadine Morgan of Shamrock entertained, and 18 friends attended or sent gifts.

FIRST ISSUE OF PAMPA DAILY NEWS PUBLISHED 10 YEARS AGO

NEWS STORIES OF THAT DAY ARE RECALLED

ONLY ONE EMPLOYEE OF 1927 IS WITH PAPER NOW

By HARRY E. HOARE
Ten years ago today excitement reigned in a small stucco building in the 100 block on West Foster avenue. Although the front door didn't usually swing open until 8 o'clock, hustle and bustle could be seen at the unearthly hour of 7 a. m. Why? It was the day the first daily newspaper in Gray county was to be issued—The Pampa Daily NEWS.

W. E. Lowe, manager, was as jittery as a kid. Olin E. Hinkle, editor, was in a dither wondering if the staff of 10 could get out a paper in one day. Ben Reno was huddled about his advertisers getting their "copy" in on time. Harry E. Hoare the cub reporter wondered if he could cover a "beat" in a few hours. The only calm person was Cal Melton, the bookkeeper. His work wouldn't start until later. Howard White, the shop foreman, was on hand before daylight to get the metal hot and everything in readiness for the big undertaking.

All the worry was wasted and everything went off smoothly. True, the paper had to be printed on a flat bed press, one side of a double sheet at a time. But even that didn't keep the paper from getting on the street about 4 p. m.

A year later the paper was a thriving daily that had outgrown its place of publication. Something had to be done. It was. The press room was begun and a few months later a large duplex press was turning out papers at a startling rate.

Ten years ago the paper employed 10 persons, not including carriers. Today it takes 30 persons to publish the paper. Carriers deliver the paper to distant points in the Panhandle; to oil camps and throughout the city today.

What happened 10 years ago today? The streamer across the top of the first daily paper revealed that Pampa was host to a large delegation from the West Texas chamber of commerce. Visitors speaking at a banquet urged equalization of taxes and crop diversification.

To prove that Pampa was to be a permanent city and not a boom town, building permits issued during the first eight days of the month totaled $1,600 and every one of them was for brick residences or brick business houses.

On that day W. S. Barcus of Sweetwater was elected secretary of the Pampa chamber of commerce, succeeding M. A. Theban, who had resigned to enter business in Pampa.

Postmaster W. A. Crawford announced that he had asked the post-office department to give him more clerks to handle the ever increasing business. He also asked that Pampa be given a mail delivery service.

A delegation of Panhandle visitors Roxanna in Carson county to discuss ways and means of securing a short route to that town and probably on to Borger which was fast becoming a town.

The Pampa volunteer fire department, Alex Schneider chief, mentioned the city for a new fire truck. "Daredevil" Cathy, endurance driver, visited Pampa.

Mayor F. P. Reid announced that the city would issue $50,000 in warrants to retire current debts and make emergency extensions of water lines in the fast growing residential districts.

The late Tom Lane in an interview told of Pampa's history under three names. The now named Pampa Daily NEWS was established April 6, 1907 by L. Ladd, who now resides here. His only employee was the late Joe M. Smith who was editor, etc.

Mr. Ladd named the infant the CRONY but the name didn't last long because Mr. Smith bought the paper a few months after its establishment and named it the NEWS. Mr. Ladd moved to Miami where he edited the Miami Chief.

Pampa at that time consisted of two or three stores and a few hundred residents. Circulation was good considering the population. The paper was printed on an ancient George Washington press, hand operated, one side of one page at a time.

A type-setting machine was purchased in 1917 and was operated by Joe Smith, still a resident of Pampa. He was associated with his father in the paper's operation.

On March 1, 1926, the NEWS was purchased by the Nunn-Warren Publishing company. At that time Pampa was fast becoming the oil center of the Panhandle. With the issue of Nov. 16, 1926, the paper became a semi-weekly and four months later the Pampa Daily NEWS was born.

Pampa's first paper was published in a small space at the rear of the First National bank building. A few years later it was moved to the rear of the Pampa National bank building. Still later the paper was published in a stucco building where the Smith Building now stands. When the paper became a semi-weekly, the building, which was several feet back from the sidewalk, was extended. In that location the paper was until 1928 when another step forward was made and the present home of The News was built.

RECTOR DIES
LAREDO, March 10 (AP)—The Rev. Charles William Cook, 64, rector of the Christ Episcopal church here for 24 years, died suddenly at his home last night of a heart attack following a long illness.

Funeral services were arranged for tomorrow.

First Home of Pampa NEWS

The Pampa NEWS was first published in a room at the rear of the First National bank building, pictured at the top. Shown in the picture are the late Joe M. Smith and his son, Joe Smith, still a resident of Pampa. The picture was taken in 1908 soon after Mr. Smith had purchased the paper from its founder, L. L. Ladd. Below is a picture of the composing room, and the business office, as well, in larger quarters on West Foster avenue.

Ten years ago today Harry E. Hoare, pictured above, joined the staff of the Pampa Daily NEWS. Today he is the only member of the original staff which gave Pampa its first daily paper. He became a resident of Pampa in December, 1926.

ADVERTISERS IN FIRST NEWS ISSUE RECALLED

Ten years ago when the Pampa Daily NEWS was born, the first issue was of eight pages, six columns wide. Advertising in the paper amounted to 483 1-2 inches and 1200 papers were run on the flat bed press.

Advertising in the first paper were: J. E. Murfee & co.; C. G. Motor and Accessories corp.; Jones-Everett Machine co.; Oden Music shop; Army and Navy store; Ledbetter Drug co.; DeLuxe Cleaners; Kincaid Drivertess co.; H. & K. Drug co.; G. C. Malone Funeral home; P. & L. Service station; Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber co.; The People's Store; Mitchell's store; Rex theater; Dr. D. E. Strong, veterinary; and seven classified ads.

Today the following firms still operate in Pampa: Murfees, Inc.; Jones-Everett Machine co.; DeLuxe Cleaners; G. C. Malone Funeral; Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber co.; Mitchell's store; Rex theater; Dr. D. E. Strong, veterinary; and Rex theater.

JAP PROMISES TAKEN WITH A GRAIN OF SALT

NATIONS WONDERING WHETHER JAPAN IS SERIOUS

NEW YORK, Mar. 10 (AP)—Japan's announcement of an ostensible change in her far eastern policy, which would accord unhappy China equality and would respect foreign rights, has been accepted with reserve by most other countries, pending a study of the situation.

If Japan unexpectedly has made such a sensational about-face it will be of the utmost importance, not only to China, but to other powers, especially the United States and Great Britain with their great interests in that part of the world. However, observers are inclined to the belief that the Japanese statement doesn't necessarily mean such sweeping change in policy.

The announcement was contained in a speech before the Diet by Foreign Minister Naotake Sato. His remarks, which were taken by the Japanese press to mean a turning point in Sino-Japanese relations, included the declaration that "Japan has no terrible ambitions in China." He added that any fear that Japan intended to "go beyond the Great Wall and extend her influence to central or south China" was "imaginary."

The Chinese under Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, recently presented a strong and menacing front to the Japanese overlordship in northern China. The emperor's men were warned in about so many words to keep hands off.

This in itself might not worry Japan, were it not that relations between Nippon and Russia long have been strained and both countries have been arming defensively against each other. Japan would not care to find herself involved in trouble with Russia and China at the same time.

Further, Britain has been expressing concern over Japan's intentions regarding central and southern China—a matter of like interest to the United States—and this accounts for the foreign minister's assurance that his country was not out for expansion into these zones.

Negotiations May Begin at Houston

HOUSTON, March 10 (AP)—The expected arrival today of E. M. Smith, president of the strike-beset Emco Derrick and Equipment company, may lead to negotiations between management and sit-down strikers demanding wage raises and union recognition.

Dr. Edwin A. Elliott, regional labor relations board mediator, said he was awaiting word from Smith concerning proposed peace talks with the strikers. He said the union leaders had accepted his offer to aid in settling the dispute.

The third day of the sit-down strike continued without disturbance. Relatives passed food and other necessities to the strikers over the high fence.

Dr. Elliott said the strike was the first sit-down by an American Federation of Labor affiliate.

Our Tenth Birthday

The Pampa Daily News is ten years old today. It was on March 10, 1927, that the first issue of the daily paper came off the press. It was a six-column edition, printed on the press formerly used by the weekly Pampa News owned by Joe M. Smith, and Joe M. Smith, Jr., father and son.

Only four pages could be printed at a time on one side of the paper. The sheet then had to dry, be printed on the opposite side and folded in a machine separate from the press.

The first Daily News had no leased wire news, such as the full Associated Press wire brings to the city today. The only national news available was dispatched here by Western Union telegraph.

Skeptical Pampans forecast failure for what they deemed to be a fool-hardy venture. A weekly, they thought, was good enough for Pampa and to attempt to publish a daily was considered a precarious undertaking.

There were no paved streets in Pampa on the day that first daily paper appeared — no lighted "white way," there was no courthouse—LeFors was the county seat of Gray—no paved roads leading to town, no city charter, no fire station, an inadequate city hall, and two hotels.

In fact, Pampa had little but a determination to forge ahead. And that's what it needed. From this humble start, in the past decade Pampa has grown one of the most outstanding cities in Texas—a thriving, commercial center, alive with the spirit of progress.

The Daily News, too, has grown with Pampa. Olin E. Hinkle was editor of the paper on the day it first became a daily. He remained with the News until last June when he went to Lexington, Ky.

Under his able editorship the paper has grown through the years and what it is today is traceable to the hard work and the planning of Mr. Hinkle and his staff through those trying years.

The present management and editorial direction wishes to take none of the credit for building the Pampa Daily News through that difficult period. Had it not been for the perseverance of the men who fought through when others said it could not be done—the Daily News could not have experienced its remarkable growth.

As it marks this tenth anniversary, the Daily News also is happy to have with it one of the original staff members who began his Pampa newspaper career on the same day. He is Harry E. Hoare, sports and oil editor. Mr. Hoare is the only employee today who was with the newspaper when Vol. 1, No. 1 made its appearance.

And, so—on the occasion of this tenth birthday—the Daily News re-dedicates its columns to the service of Pampa and the Northeast Panhandle.

NOTARY APPLICATIONS MUST BE MAILED SOON

Persons seeking appointments as notaries public today were requested to send their names to County Clerk Charlie Thut or to their representative or senator at Austin. Mr. Thut stated today that deadline for the appointments will fall at the conclusion of the present session of the legislature.

OIL INDUSTRY WORRIED OVER TAXES, LABOR

TULSA, Okla., March 10 (AP)—A hesitant feeling inspired by the possibilities of labor difficulties and higher taxes shaded the optimism of the petroleum industry today.

Although executives were agreed that in the long view the prospect for a fine year's business had not changed, immediate problems had them a bit concerned.

The attention of labor and management alike was focused on the announced intention of John L. Lewis to organize a million petroleum employees in production and distribution under the Committee for Industrial Organization.

The fact was recalled however that less than two weeks ago Frank Phillips, president of the Phillips Petroleum company, forecast here the industry would have to cope with labor controversies during the year. He urged employees to consider the situation well before they allied themselves with any group.

A conference was in progress here today between a union negotiator and committee and officials of the Mid-Continent Petroleum corporation concerning the union's demand for recognition. The negotiations committee has been empowered by three locals of the International association of oil field, gas well and refinery workers to call a sit down strike of 1,300 union employees if they are not recognized by the company.

The recurrent problem of taxation was in the forefront of the picture with Texas awaiting state senate action on the measure passed last week by the house to increase the oil production tax from 2 3-4 per cent to six per cent value.

Okla.oma oil men breathed a bit easier when the house of representatives killed a bill to increase the production tax from five to 10 per cent. The price structure of both crude oil and refined products remained unchanged.

Crude oil production hit a new top of about 3,300,000 barrels daily with no indication of a letup in the production in view of the fact that heavy producing states had set March allowable wells in excess of the Bureau of Mines recommendation.

Wells completed in the nation totaled 515, six more than the week before and productivity was 78 per cent, a little better than average.

TALENTED CAST WILL PRESENT SENIOR PLAY
BY COLLEEN McMAHAN.
Every now and then, just often enough to keep us from losing faith and interests, the senior class of Pampa high school reminds the citizens of the Panhandle just what a class over-loaded with talent can do.

Tonight at 8 o'clock they will present "The Whole Town's Talking." The epidemic of laughs will probably be credited directly to Kenneth Carman, director. But the fact that the cast is willing to work and knows how to take orders can't be overlooked.

TO REVIEW SUIT
AUSTIN, March 10 (AP)—The Supreme court today granted applications for review of a suit brought by the City of Waco as a consequence of the laying of an allegedly inadequate water supply pipe line from Lake Waco to the city's filtration plant. The city obtained $237,159.78 judgment against the United States Pipe & Foundry Co. in district court.

Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminants, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

"HICK COPS"

A bleak future awaits Merle Vanderbush, who the Department of Justice terms "Public Rat No. 1." Captured after a lurid, bank-robbing career, he faces a long row of years behind bars.

That, in itself, is bad enough, but it may be something else he is contemplating more gloomily. Since a criminal's pride is notoriously sensitive, Vanderbush may be squirming in the humiliating knowledge that he, a bold, bad man, was caught, not by grim G-men or stalwart city bluecoats, but by what he would probably describe derisively as "hick cops"—four men, the entire force of Armonk, N. Y.

For their splendid work, the four policemen have been congratulated by the town Chief Hoover, the town council has voted them new overcoats and vacations with pay, and they may split a $1000 reward.

Yet this is far from being all they deserve, if they have taught desperadoes that the open road is no safe refuge from justice.

PROPER CHANNELS

A survey published a short time ago revealed that lynchings had declined remarkably during the past year.

Several months ago, night-riding members of the midwestern Black Legion were brought to book by the law.

In Pennsylvania, a state trooper has been found guilty of the "third degree" murder of a hotel man.

These facts are all totally unrelated and yet, taken together, perhaps they are indicative of one thing.

Perhaps they reveal that people, in general, are coming more and more to realize that infractions against law and order must be handled only through the proper channels of justice; that citizens cannot take the law into their own hands no matter how well such a course seems justified.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, March 10.—It might be easier to guess the outcome of the Senate fight over the President's Supreme Court bill if the issue did not so often rest with politicians.

Two major categories of uncertainty complicate any attempts at prophecy.

First, outsiders are unable to tell how many senators in the pro, con and "undecided" groups are taking their positions for the purposes of trading with the administration, and how many are swayed by their intellectual convictions.

Second, the extent to which the administration is willing or able to use patronage and political pressure, and the extent to which the latter will be effective are equally unpredictable factors.

Insiders are beginning to get some light on the first factor, but the full true story of the backstage movements never will be told.

Here is one pretty well authenticated story: Senator A, senior senator from a certain state, is listed against the plan. He has persuaded Senator B, junior senator from the same state, who originally declared in favor of the plan, to reverse his position and come out against it. Political enemies say A was able to bring varied pressure on B. At any rate, it appears that A is willing and able to deliver two votes to the President if he can have a certain $15,000 a year federal circuit court judgeship. Senator A isn't at all sure about his re-election two years hence and the judgeship, now held by an aged jurist who would like to retire on full pay, looks good to him.

At this point Senator A's political enemies come in. Themselves hungry for federal patronage in the old home state, they tell the President they can build enough fires under the senator not only to frighten him into voting for the plan, but to bring Senator B's vote back into camp along with it. The President must decide whether to offer Senator A the judgeship, or to depend on back home pressure. He also has the possible threat to lend administration aid to have A defeated in 1938.

Most insiders are betting that the President will not appoint Senator A, whom he doesn't like, to a judgeship, and that both Senator A and Senator B will vote for the plan in the final pinch.

The dangers of prophecy operate in both directions. Pressure also is being brought upon the group which has declared for the Supreme Court change proposal. Members of that group, as well as some senators who have refused to commit themselves, are beginning to make it clearly understood they expect genuine reward in return for their support. And some of those who aren't promised what they want are likely to be with the opposition, or conveniently absent when the final vote comes.

At least two senators are staying out of town because of "illness," which is commonly attributed here to a sad sensitivity to painful pressure in the current backstage battle.

One prominent senator, who has declared vehemently against the plan, has privately conceded a willingness to permit the President to appoint three new Supreme Court justices—but not six. He feels certain that if there were six appointments, one of the men he hates most in public life would be sure to get one of them.

TEX'S TOPICS

It's a happy birthday today around the offices of the Pampa Daily News. . . . Ten years ago today this newspaper was born as a daily. . . . Here we are in the middle of its operations, now—and on March 10, 1927 we never had been west of Chicago. . . . Never heard of Pampa, didn't even know it was on the map. . . . Well, for that matter not many others knew it either.

This all goes to show what great changes can take place in a decade. . . . Pampa is here to stay and this thriving center of one of the nation's greatest oil activities is known from coast to coast and top to bottom as a bright spot on the map of the United States. . . . There is as much difference, we are told, between the Pampa of ten years ago and the modern Pampa as there is between night and day. . . . Yes-sir, Pampa marches on.

Sports Editor Harry Hoare entered today with a feeling of pride, and rightfully so. . . . Mr. Hoare is the only Daily News employe with the organization today who stood back in the press room that eventful day ten years ago and watched the first edition of the daily paper drop from the press. . . . Just as March 10, 1927, was the first day as a daily for the News, so was that date the first day for Mr. Hoare as an employe of the newspaper.

Once again, we spin the news wheel for a touch of the unusual from over the face of the globe. . . . Round and 'round it goes: Mount Vernon was a several hours' horseback ride from Alexandria, Va., when Washington came there in 1750. . . . today on the George Washington memorial highway a motor car makes it in less than 15 minutes. . . . The Chinatown Community Chest, established after the best American fashion in San Francisco, repeatedly exceeds its quota. . . . and the second most important organization in colony is the Chinatown Chamber of Commerce.

Sixty-five thousand persons, most of them tourists, have made flight between Atlantic and Pacific at Panama in last seven years. . . . it takes 26 minutes. . . . Balboa did same trick years ago, fighting thru jungles 26 days. . . . Dr. Creighton Barker of Yale, after investigation, believes first president of the United States died of septic sore throat. . . . from which Franklin D. Roosevelt was saved. . . . that winter by new remedy. . . . says Washington's symptoms "all fit."

Even in winter many tourists brave harbor's winds at New York to visit Statue of Liberty on Bedloe's island. . . . In December, 1936, for example, statue had no less than 9,000 visitors. . . . Worry is "measured" by device at Columbia university. . . . it works by totaling pulse-beats under certain conditions. . . . readings show athletes "best fitted" to tackle life's problems, most likely to meet emergencies successfully.

In addition to glass-topped rubberneck busses, New York now has new tourist guides, "courier service," man who is guide, chauffeur, philosopher, friend. . . . he drives "private" car, can interpret everything from ale to fish. . . . Coal-burning, steel steamers on Nile, built for tropical travel, have broad shaded decks, electric fans, refrigeration plants, tubs and showers, screened observation rooms, deck tennis courts and other facilities.

French officials have calculated foreign fighting men in Spain number: for the Rebels, 50,000 Italians and at least 10,000 Germans; for the Loyalists, 35,000 in the International Brigade, many nationalities, but mostly French. . . . General Goering, Hitler aid, is known as Germany's swankiest military dresser. . . . he is popularly supposed to change uniforms several times a day. . . . favorite jest about him is that thief stole from his wardrobe 37 uniforms. . . . which were never missed.

Despite expenditure of millions for new buildings in Washington, gov't rent bill alone amounts to $2,000,000 annual. . . . for extra space needed for certain security work it has leased 100,000 square feet at Baltimore, 40 miles away. . . . Sex film, more thriller, crime story, and leg-show are taboo in Soviet. . . . instead gov't offers training in dancing, singing, guitar playing, billiards, chess, or skilled athletics. . . . what movies there are revolutionary.

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Vol. 1 No. 1 of the Pampa Daily News was issued, with W. E. Lowe as manager and Olin E. Hinkle as editor.

Building permits for the first week in March totaled $61,600.

W. S. Barcus was elected secretary of the Pampa chamber of commerce after the resignation of M. A. Turner.

Hail and rain damaged property here, breaking in at least 150 windows in the city, causing walls under construction at the Pampa Ice plant to collapse.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Many Pampans were in the audience when Al Jolson appeared on the stage in musical comedy at Amarillo.

In the News was a picture of H. D. Tucker, then resigning as pastor of First Methodist church at Cisco to enter the insurance business "to make enough money to pay off the debts contracted on a minister's salary." Mr. Tucker later was educational director of First Methodist church here.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Personal notes off a New Yorker's cuff:

The New York drama scene isn't as opulent as it seems. . . . not when you consider the present dearth of musical shows. . . . Ten years ago there were 22 star attractions of a musical variety on Broadway. . . . But this year there are only four.

Larry Hart, who smokes long, black, insidious looking cigars, and who has written the music to many operettas, thinks the blame should be divided equally between composers, authors, and producers. . . . "Well," he says, "the public would be a sap to keep paying money for the old formula, year after year, and the public isn't as sappy as it seems—not that sappy, anyway."

"You know what the old formula is, don't you? Well, it's boy meets girl, they fall in love and battle to an angry parting. In the second act they settle their difficulties and get married. To this transparent theme are hitched a few tunes, a number of original dances, and some sad attempts at humor. It just won't go down."

Glady's Swarthout has a new $50,000 policy on her voice. . . . If she turns up some evening with laryngitis, somebody will have to pay. . . . Nevertheless, the company which issued the policy thinks this former Missouri lass is an excellent risk. . . . She has been compelled to miss performances only twice in 10 years, it points out. . . . This is an interesting fact gleaned from the "Change of Opera" book, which the Met has on hand. . . . In it are listed all the mishaps which have taken opera singers from their roles at the zero hour.

For instance, last season Lily Pons suddenly became ill and a last-minute substitution had to be made for her in "Madame Butterfly. . . . Then there was the time a cold bobbed up to since Lucrezia Bori, and the "Aida" scenery was quickly replaced by the "La Rondine" sets. . . . All this information is carefully listed in the Met's "change book." And when a star applies for a major policy, this book is the first thing the company scrutinizes.

Among the contented gentlemen-anglers who attended the National Sportsmen's show—a thrilling exhibition of northland wildlife—was Dewitt Mackenzie, who has taken game fish in most of the important streams, lakes and oceans in the world. . . . "Why so happy?" one inquired of this correspondent who has spent 19 years abroad handling news for a major press service.

Wherefore and with becoming modesty he hauled out a letter from the Irish Free State. In 1933 Mackenzie took a pair of near-record Brown trout from Loch Melvin, in Ireland, and the fishing branch of the department of agriculture was anxious to include these catches in its new book of records, officially known as "The Angler's Guide." Angler Mackenzie admitted that he had lost little time in acquiescing. . . . One of the brownies was an eight pounder, with 4-1-2 ounces to spare. . . . The other was 7 pounds, 10 ounces. . . . Noble specimens, these.

OIL AGREEMENT AUSTIN, March 10. (P)—A resolution proposing an interstate agreement on oil and other natural resources taxes was reintroduced in the house today in such form that it was not subject to the point of order which blocked it yesterday. The house sent it to committee without debate.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

"You noticed that tall cotton-wood tree down there by itself in the turn of the creek? Well, that's a Groaning Tree," and Lee Strader paused as he gazed at the boys' awe-struck faces, rigid in rapt attention. He waited for their questions.

"What's a Groaning Tree?" one asked. "Well, every night at midnight you can hear it groan. It's been groaning for several years—every since a lady died here. . . . And that night it was dark and cloudy and misty and the boys and a man walked down the sandy bed of the creek and the man told a story of a ghost in a peach orchard, and of a beautiful woman who looked asleep after 50 years after she was dead and buried, and the winds rustled through bare branches of each other's heels in order to get closer, and then one dropped his knife in the sand and there was tense breathing afterwards as the story was told to its harrowing end.

Then the boys were straining for a sound while sitting under the Groaning Tree. . . . In the point of the story became clear: some people keep hearing after they are dead, but most are dead in all ways years before they die.

Talks to parents

SHORT-SIGHTED ECONOMY

By Brooke Peters Church

As soon as money is scarce the town fathers generally begin to look about for items on the budget which they can pare down.

Roads are essential. They bring trade to the town, and employ large numbers of men who need work. public buildings and parks improve the town's appearance and so give the place a good name and attract newcomers.

And so it goes for one item after the other, until the appropriations for teachers and public library are reached. These can be cut, and some of the playgrounds can be closed or deprived of a supervisor.

The taxpayers, most of whom are parents or grandparents of the children, do nothing. Many of them do not even know of what is happening, or else let themselves be convinced that the authorities are doing the right thing.

When times are hard, the children should be most considered. The schools and libraries can and must do extra work in these critical periods. The public schools are crowded with children who normally would be at private schools or starting to work, and the libraries find their reading rooms full of young people who are seeking in books some release from the pressure of life.

How's Your Health?

GONORRHEA FACTS

Gonorrhoea is caused by a germ called the gonococcus. Most commonly the disease is contracted through sexual intercourse, but it can be gotten in other ways.

While primarily a disease of the sexual system, gonorrhoea may also involve the eyes. If not treated promptly and adequately when it does, it may cause blindness.

The complications of gonorrhoea are numerous and serious. Gonorrhoea in women frequently causes chronic inflammation of the Fallopian tubes. This condition often necessitates surgical treatment and is a common cause of sterility. Gonorrhoea in the male may also cause sterility.

Other complications of gonorrhoea are arthritis, heart disease and constriction of the urinary tract, called stricture. There is a common, widespread belief that gonorrhoea in men is but a mild disease not more dangerous than "a catarrhal cold." This is an erroneous and disastrous belief.

Infected individuals who have delayed taking treatment or whose treatment was inadequate, may carry about the germs of gonorrhoea in their system for years and may unwittingly infect numerous other individuals.

The disappearance of the acute symptoms of the infection and of the visible discharge may mislead the sufferer into believing that the disease is cured. To establish a cure, a number of successive tests must be made by a competent physician. Only when such tests fail to show the presence of gonococci can the individual be said to have been cured.

Gonorrhoea, if properly treated at the beginning, may be cured without impairment of health. Proper treatment can be given only by a competent physician. Patent medicines, self-treatment, or any other form of therapy other than that prescribed by a competent physician, are not only a waste of money but also endanger the well-being of the sufferer.

The gonorrhoea patient must also be instructed on the rules of personal hygiene to be observed to safeguard himself and those with whom he comes in contact.

General prophylaxis, when properly applied, will protect the exposed individual against gonorrhoea as well as syphilis. The details of venereal prophylaxis can best be learned from one's own family physician.

Gray county butchers and slaughter-house operators are being checked by an operative of the sheriff's office to determine if all provisions of state law are being complied with.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Pampa Daily News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. Of what does modern police education consist? T. L. A. Modern Criminal Investigation, a new book on the subject says: "Modern police science may be said to have three phases. The first phase embraces the identification of living and dead persons. The second embraces the field work carried out by specially trained detectives at the scene of the crime. The third embraces methods used in the police laboratory to examine and analyze clues and traces discovered in the course of the investigation."

Q. When did concerts spirituals originate? B. D. A. They originated in France in 1725. These recitals were given on the twenty-four religious holidays during the year. They were discontinued in 1791, at the time of the French Revolution. In 1835 they were resumed, but programs made up entirely of sacred music and presented only during Holy Week.

Q. Who votes elect a Congressman at Large? A. G. A. He is elected by the voters of the entire State.

Q. Please tell me what is done with the beautiful costumes worn by movie actresses after the picture is finished? B. M. B. A. The gorgeous costumes worn by many of the motion picture stars are the property of the motion picture studios and do not belong to the actresses. When a production is completed the costumes are returned to the studio and the wardrobe mistress and her assistants make over and change the costumes so that they may be used in other productions. In some instances a motion picture star is presented with a particular costume, but that is at the discretion of the executives of the company.

Q. If an artist makes a copy of one of his own pictures, is it called a copy or an original? H. D. A. It is called a reproduction or a replica. In French, it is called a doublette.

Q. What nation consumes the most fish? W. R. A. Japan with an average annual consumption of 55 pounds per capita.

Q. On a scale showing the distance of the earth to the sun as one inch, how far away would the nearest star be? M. W. A. It would be four and one-half miles away.

Q. How many words are there in the Bible? W. M. A. There are 773,692 words.

Follow the News In Ethiopia

Important history is revolving around Africa. Will the situation in Ethiopia ultimately involve European powers?

You cannot read the daily news from this storm center with complete understanding unless you have a good map to refer to.

To aid our readers in keeping abreast of these momentous events the Pampa Daily News offers a new map which shows in minute detail the cities, towns, villages, mountains, railroads, strategic lakes, and water routes of Africa.

This map is printed in five colors from new plates especially prepared for this timely reference service. Size 21x28 inches, on fine durable paper.

The reverse side carries complete economic and political data on every geographic division of the African continent. An ideal reference work for newspaper readers and students.

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS BY WILL H. MAYES

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history, and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. As evidence of good faith inquiries must give their names and addresses, but their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. Where was "Torrey's Trading House"? A. "Torrey's Trading House" where Texas Indians, mostly Towashites, took dressed skins to exchange for cloth and other things in the 1840's, was about seven miles east of Waco and three miles northeast of the Brazos River, on "Trading House Teahuacana."

Q. Where did La Salle establish Fort St. Louis? A. There is no conclusive proof of the location, except that it was either on Lavaca Bay or on Lavaca River some miles up. La Salle explored Matagorda Bay in 1685 while

This, That and Everything

By JESS KELLEY

Most of us begin our study of great questions with a prejudiced attitude. It is easy to form the habit of looking at issues only from the angle that makes our preconceived notions appear most reasonable. Such biased approach is not real study or reflection on the matter, but is simply an attempt to justify our own position. It is true, nevertheless, that we go kidding ourselves along imagining that we really are studying the issues involved when all we are doing is trying to win an argument.

I venture to say that most people are what they are politically because of family tradition. I do not have any radical complaint to file against this ancestral preference in forming political opinion; yet it should not be forgotten that the best citizen is one who has convictions along the line of a political platform. The best church member is one who finds the doctrines of his church the conclusion of unprejudiced study. You are not a good American citizen simply because you were born on American soil, but if you are a good citizen of this great country, it is because the basic principles of our grand republic have sounded the chords of your political convictions. Any way you take it, you find that a biased attitude of mind is serious handicap to accurate conclusions.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD — In a couple of weeks the romantic spotlight will flash on young Tyrone Power's face and probably find it very red.

That is when Sonja Henie is due to return from the east, and when Tyrone will have some explaining to do—in person, and face to face. . . . Already, over long distance telephone when Sonja called, Tyrone has blarneyed on the publicity department the rumors linking him with Loretta Young. . . . But he has not escorted Loretta. . . . well, at least once since Sonja called.

Marries On Impulse Mary Astor said her decision to marry Manuel del Campo in a Yuma elopement (instead of waiting) was just "impulsive. . . . Her return to Hollywood bore her out. . . . Stepping from the chartered airplane to deny she was married, she said she had never had a date with either Loretta Young or Loretta. . . . well, at least once since Sonja called.

A movie actress occasionally may find herself without coffee coin, but when she is traveling across lipstick and may be sure she didn't intend to travel far. . . . What happened was that she went down to the airport to see del Campo off. . . . and obeyed that impulse.

No Smoking Those two dressing rooms that couldn't be closer together on the set of "This Is My Affair" belong to the co-stars, Taylor and Stanwyck. . . . Ann Harding's former dressing rooms on the RKO lot now are occupied by the studio legal department. . . . The "No Smoking" signs on sound stages still mean it. . . . Those bunts you see lying around are just reminders. . . .

Alice Faye and Simone Simon, who hadn't met each other until the other evening, have become chums. . . . It started at the Trocadero, when Simone was sitting at a table near the dance floor and putting as usual, and Alice danced by and threw her a flip comment. . . . Simone thought it over, then went to Alice's table and struck up a gambet. . . . And Alice's remark? Just this: "You'd better pull in that lip or it'll fall off. . . ."

seeking the mouth of the Mississippi, suffered ship wreck and set up at least a temporary camp there.

Q. What is the thickness of the adobe walls of the old church of San Antonio at Ysleta, Texas? A. When built the walls were 10 feet thick, but erosion has reduced them to six feet.

Q. Was Indianola ever the county seat of Calhoun county? A. It was, from the organization of the county in 1846 until after the storm of Sept. 16, 1875 that destroyed the town. The courthouse that stood some 50 or 60 feet from the shore was most gallantly crumpled away. Port Lavaca is now the county seat.

Q. How many truck accidents have occurred in Texas in the last five years and with what results? A. Figures compiled from newspaper clippings by the Railway and Express Employees Association show that: from 1932 to 1936 inclusive there were 8,416 accidents in which trucks on highways were involved, in which 2,196 were killed and 11,963 were injured. Property loss is not reported.

Q. By what name was the bluebonnet known to early Texans? A. It was called "buffalo clover."

1937 Harvesters And Exes Play Thursday Afternoon

What have the Harvesters prospects of 1937 "got"? That question will be partly answered at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at Harvesters field when the Harvesters of 1937 will face the ex-Harvesters still in school.

How will the green prospects look against the deadly passing of Roy Showers, the swivel-hipped running of Doyle Enloe, the deadly tackling of Ivan Noblitt, the charging of Roy Lee Jones and Sherman Morgan, and the play of other veterans? Only two or three of their starting teammates from last year will face them in the scrimmage.

ON TOUR

Coaches put their prospects thru a long, hard practice session yesterday afternoon and another was scheduled for today. The "runaway" boys of Monday afternoon were put back on the second squad and they were scheduled to remain there today.

No Harvesters starting lineup was released by Coach Mitchell following yesterday's workout.

"Some of the new boys who were given a chance Monday and yesterday showed up exceptionally well and they will be given an opportunity to show their stuff against opposition tomorrow afternoon," Coach Mitchell remarked following yesterday's stiff workout.

"My kingdom for a passer and a consistent punter," muttered Coach Mitchell as he watched his charges at work. He has about a dozen of each but the big question is "which will be able to deliver, if any."

Although the exes have not been assigned starting positions, the lineup will probably include Showers, Enloe, Clements and Ayer in the backfield; Noblitt at center; Morgan and Dedman, guards; L. Jones and Johnson, tackles; R. Jones and Maxey, ends. Several other boys will be available and may get in the starting lineup.

The public is invited to watch the boys in their scrimmage.

Training Camp News

(By The Associated Press)

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., Mar. 10.—Manager Pie Traynor told the Pittsburgh Pirates today to forego golf and devote all their time to training.

LAKELAND, Fla.—Veteran on-lookers at the Detroit Tigers' training camp are beginning to suspect that Hank Greenberg, despite his idleness last season, never lost the range. Greenberg has been rattling the fences in batting practice, and may get his first chance to show his punch in actual play in the first inter-squad game late this week.

PASADENA—The White Sox infield which is getting the regular call is Zeke Bonura, first, Jack Hayes, second, Luke Appling, short, and Steve Mesner third, but the belief is growing that Manager Jimmy Dykes will continue, in his 20th season, to do lots of work at the hot corner.

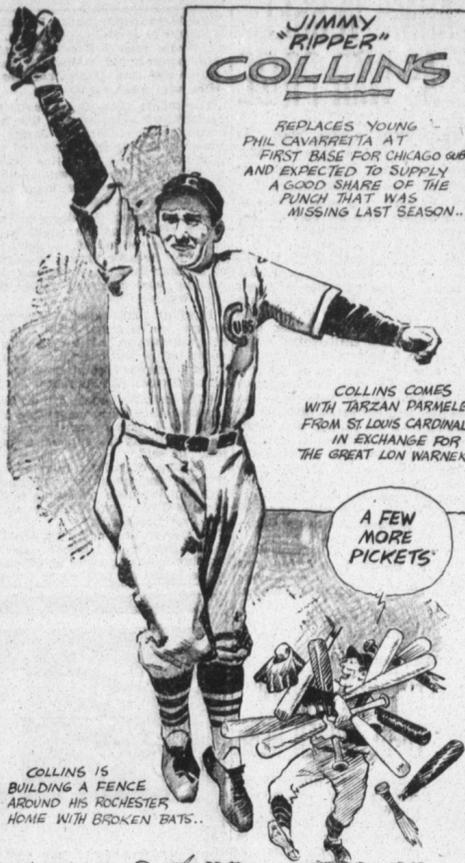

LOS ANGELES—The Chicago Cubs are due to take a boat here for their camp at Catalina Island and an immediate limbering-up workout this afternoon.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Lefty Vernon Gomez, who figures he has to have a good season to maintain his standing as a pitcher, has the Yankee batters complaining and manager Joe McCarthy grinning. Gomez cut loose for the first time in batting practice yesterday with a blazing fast ball and sharp-breaking curve. Not one batter could get a solid hit.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla.—Dolf Camill, slugging first baseman of the Philadelphia National leaguers, wired President Nugent from his Sacramento, Cal., home that he would not accept salary terms offered by the club.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—Paul Dean is scheduled to do his first pitching in a game since last August, against the New York Giants at Havana, Cuba, Saturday or Sunday.

Bolsters Bruins

COLLINS IS BUILDING A FENCE AROUND HIS ROCHESTER HOME WITH BROKEN BATS.

Sunday, Dean reported his lame arm in "good condition."

SAN ANTONIO—Promising rookies, including Gerald Lipscomb, Atlanta, and John Barclay, Childress, Tex., are adding to Rajah Hornsby's joys. Lipscomb is setting a pace in practice workouts that may win the keystone sack away from Tommy Carey. Barclay's work at bat and outfield has caught the Hornsby eyes.

NEW ORLEANS—The Cleveland Indians counted two training camp injuries today. Roy Hughes, third baseman, and first baseman Hal Trosky were the casualties. Hughes with his nose broken by a ball from Manager Steve O'Neill's bat, and Trosky from a bad ankle from a foul off his own bat.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Elbie Fletcher and Vince DiMaggio, the Boston Bees' promising infield rookies, will be tested today when Manager Bill McKechnie puts on his first practice game.

$90,000 IN JEWELS STOLEN FROM WOMAN

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10. (AP)—Inspectors on the police hotel detail saw an "amazing coincidence" today in the continued disappearance of jewels from wealthy women; losses that during the last two weeks have amounted to almost $90,000.

The most spectacular loss occurred Monday when attractive Mrs. Adolph B. Spreckels, Jr., young bride of the youthful scion of a California sugar family, reported that two rings worth $42,500 disappeared, either during a hotel luncheon, or during an afternoon shopping trip.

Mrs. Dan Renear, wife of the former head of the Nevada state police, whose home is in Reno, Nev., was the second largest loser.

SPY GOT PLANS. NEW YORK, March 10. (AP)—The New York Times today in a special dispatch from London said the capture of the Spanish motorship Mar Cantabrico resulted from the placing in the hands of a New York agent of General Francisco Franco detailed plans for the ship's voyage the evening of January 6, the day the Mar Cantabrico sailed from New York.

Majority Rule In Softball Association Is Voted Here

The majority will rule on all questions arising in the Pampa Softball Association. It was unanimously voted last night at a meeting of the officers and team managers in the chamber of commerce rooms. E. W. Voss presided.

It was also voted to set up a schedule whereby teams in the association would play each other between April 1 and May 15 when officers and managers will meet and decide which teams are strong enough to compete in Class A softball. Managers drew for positions last night and a schedule to cover the one round of play will be drawn up soon. Play will be each Tuesday and Friday evenings.

Eleven teams were represented at last night's meetings and all declared themselves ready to throw their hats in the ring. Any other team desiring to compete for a place in the league will be given until March 20 to place entry with the association's temporary president, Mr. Voss.

Teams already in the league include: Danciger, Phillips, Champlin, Humble, Stanolind, Skelly, King, Sun, Cities Service, Cortexo and a team without a name to be entered by two Pampa firms. Several other teams were reported organizing but they were not represented at the meeting and therefore are not considered entries.

Team managers agreed that they didn't want their teams entered in a league where they didn't have a chance to win their share of games. They agreed on the idea of having a Class A and Class B league as the solution.

FIRST HOME RUN KING WILL NOT BRAG ABOUT HIS HITTING

TRAPPE, Md., March 10. (AP)—Frank Baker, the original home run king, is one old-timer who won't brag about what he would have done with today's rabbit ball.

"There are some great hitters in baseball now," he explains. "I hardly know how I would have compared with them. Maybe I could keep up with them but I don't know."

Baker owns a thousand acres of rolling farm land around here, and it keeps him busy. He finds time, however, for fishing and hunting, particularly for ducks.

He may return to baseball soon in connection with the newly formed Eastern Shore league. He helped organize an entrant from Easton, Md. His last baseball job was managing Easton in 1925.

Back in 1913, long before baseball saw Babe Ruth, Baker turned in the feat of hitting a dozen home runs.

The Athletics' third baseman was the American league home run leader for four seasons in a row, banging out nine in 1911, ten in 1912, a dozen in 1913 and tying with Detroit's Sam Crawford with eight in 1914.

AMELIA HIRES MANY. LOS ANGELES, March 10. (AP)—Amelia Earhart's $80,000 flying laboratory, with Captain Harry Manning at the controls, left at 3:55 a. m. (PST) today on a radio-test trip to San Francisco and return. Capt. Manning, Miss Earhart's navigator on her projected 27,000-mile equatorial flight around the world, was accompanied by Paul Mantaz, technical adviser, her husband, George Palmer Putnam, and a radio operator.

POLICE WAGE WAR ON DELINQUENT JUVENILES

SAN ANTONIO, March 10. (AP)—More than $300 worth of loot, believed stolen here during the last few months, was recovered and eight boys all under 14 years of age, were arrested as police waged war on delinquent juveniles here.

The recovered property included four bicycles, medicine, cigars, cigs, several wrist watches, pocket-books, a camera, fountain pens, shirts and a telephone.

Two other boys, 17 and 18, previously had been arrested for questioning.

Lash Expected to Steal Track Show

CHICAGO, March 10. (AP)—It looks as though Indiana's great distance star, Don Lash, is going to steal the show this week-end at the Big Ten indoor track meet at the University of Chicago fieldhouse.

Two two-mile races, for the first time in history of the conference meet, promises to feature the proceedings, and Lash's performances in the long grind this year indicate that the present conference record of 9:18.4 is going by the boards.

The Indiana ace did the two-mile in 8:58 at Boston this year, cracking Favro Nurmi's 12-year-old mark. Facing a fast field next Saturday night, Lash is expected to get the competition necessary to a record smashing performance. His chief threats are expected to be Nere Alix of Michigan and Bill Staehel of Michigan.

SPORT-SLANTS

By ALAN GOULD

Max Baer hasn't changed a bit! That strutting arrogance, those wild predictions (he'll always slaughter his opponent), that incessant chatter—they all make up the most interesting heavyweight to come down the pike in years.

Many claim to hate the sight of him. Maybe they do, but one thing is certain: Max has lost little of his drawing power.

There is something fascinating about the man at close range. He is an interesting, though hardly a convincing, talker. He is amusing—that's it.

Listen to Max tell how he has reformed. How he has not entered a night club in months. How he finally saw the light. How he concluded the only thing that mattered was his boxing. How he won't rest until he has regained public confidence.

It all leaves you cold. In the past you heard those exact words—from the same Max Baer.

Philosopher Baer "When you get older life takes on a different meaning," says Max while piling in the victuals at Jack Dempsey's. "I've done a lot of things I'd like to forget. But I've come down to earth to stay. I want to win my old title back. I never felt..."

"... Better in my life," the gang around the table sings in unison.

"That's right," Max replies with a broad grin. "I weigh 217 pounds right now—and I'm in shape."

Piano-Mover, Too Max goes on to tell how he carried the piano out of Anell Hoffman's burning house.

"How I would like to have had Louie or Braddock in the ring that night!" Max mourns. "I would have torn 'em apart."

"These hands are better than ever, too. I've been sawing down trees, cutting them up with a big cross-cut saw. I've squeezed rubber balls until my knuckles went numb. Don't worry about my hands."

One gurry at the huge maulers, their palms covered with callouses, is enough to convince you that, to all outward appearances, they are mighty formidable.

Baer's flare-up before the New York boxing commission was typical. Max talks a lot about the changes that have come over him, but, when the pressure is on, he's the same Max Baer. I'll take him as he is.

FRANCO CLAIMS HE'S SMASHED OPPOSITION

AVILA, Spain, March 10. (AP)—Gen. Francisco Franco's big push from the northeast was reported today to have smashed government opposition along the Guadalajara-Zaragoza highway and to have advanced to a point 49 miles from Madrid.

An official communique announced a "brilliant" advance of about 12 miles to Valdearenas, a town just west of the highway, and within 17 miles of government-held Guadalajara. "This provincial capital is 32 miles northeast of Madrid.

The communique said government losses were heavy.

Meanwhile, other insurgent troops nearer Madrid were said to have attacked in the Jarama river sector southeast of the capital—along the lower jaw of "hot cracker" siege lines about the city.

The Guadalajara offensive, however, was growing rapidly into one of the war's major drives.

TROTSKY PROPOSES HE BE TRIED FOR TREASON

MEXICO CITY, March 10. (AP)—Leon Trotsky, once called the "Napoleon of Bolshevism," asserted today his self proposed "trial on accusations that he conspired to wreck the Soviet Union is the only way of preventing new "judicial assassinations" by the Stalinist regime.

The 60-year-old one-time Bolshevik leader is amassing evidence he hopes will contradict testimony at a recent Moscow treason trial picturing him as the arch-plotter of a vast scheme to sabotage the U. S. R.

Again he urged an international inquiry to decide whether that trial and a previous one—from which 29 old-line Lenin revolutionists have walked to their death—were not, as Trotsky charged, put-up jobs.

Schmeling Offers Braddock $250,000 For Germany Bout

NEW YORK, March 10. (AP)—Acting on behalf of the Deutsch-Halle A. C. of Berlin, Max Schmeling today offered Jimmy Braddock $250,000, free of all German tax, to defend his heavyweight title against Schmeling in Germany this summer.

Schmeling said his offer was designed to meet Braddock's apparent objections to going through with his contract to fight the Teuton for the title under Madison Square Garden's auspices here June 3. Braddock's manager, Joe Gould, has signified he has no intention of going through with this contract and has signed for Braddock to meet Joe Louis in Chicago June 22.

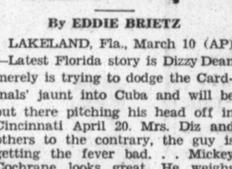

To compensate Madison Square Garden and Mike Jacobs' 20th Century Sporting Club, who were to have been co-promoters of the Braddock-Schmeling match, Schmeling said he had offered to pay $50,000 for their right to the bout.

He indicated at the same time, however, that neither the Garden, Mike Jacobs or Gould had shown any particular interest in the Berlin plan.

SABOTAGE CHARGED

MOSCOW, March 10. (AP)—Enemies of the Soviet were accused today of sabotaging Russia's weather reports. Under the headline "enemy in meteorological station," the newspaper Izvestia reported from Archangel the plane had crashed and another "been forest down" because a radio station at Leshukom sent out false weather reports.

TRAFFIC GOAT-GETTERS

THE ROAD HOG. He's traffic Goat-Getter No. 1, is the familiar road-hog, but if you ever accuse him of it he will elevate his eyebrows disdainfully and say: "Who—Me?" He prides himself on tending to his own business, overlooking the basic law of traffic that you must give some attention to the other fellow's business too. So he sails along, blithely ignorant of the fact that he is straddling the line and jeopardizing human life. It's wise to let him have all the room he wants, for it is extremely difficult to get the idea into his thick dome that highways are built for other folks to ride on, too.

NEW AIRMAIL SERVICE MAY BE INSTALLED

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—The post office department appeared likely today to authorize a new airmail and passenger service between Houston, Texas, and Corpus Christi, Texas, within a week.

Karl Crowley, department solicitor, predicted Postmaster General Farley would approve, perhaps by the end of this week, his recommendation that Braniff Airways, Inc., be permitted to establish the 190-mile extension to its Chicago-Houston route.

He made the statement yesterday at the conclusion of hearings on Braniff's application and a similar request by Eastern Air Lines. He said that, legally, both concerns could be given the air mail privileges over the Houston-Corpus Christi route, but expressed the opinion that the fact Braniff had been operating its system at a loss seemed to outweigh Eastern's contention that it could operate through service between Corpus Christi and New York City if its application were approved.

He asserted Braniff not only would suffer losses in Texas if the contract went to Eastern, but would be forced to reduce its service along its route from Chicago to the Gulf of Mexico.

Informed that no appropriations were available to pay for the new route, Braniff proposed to reduce its daily service between Fort Worth and Amarillo to five or six days a week to create a "credit" for this Gulf operation. Eastern proposed to reduce its per-mile air mail rate east of Houston to absorb increased costs for the same schedule.

Testimony disclosed that Braniff had been operating an intermittent airmail service from Houston to Corpus Christi since the summer of 1935, carrying mail on a "credit" or contingent fee, basis.

Flashes of LIFE

(By The Associated Press) McKEESPORT, Pa.—Joseph T. Sullivan fell asleep on a street car, rode past his stop, protested the three additional car tokens assessed. Magistrate Walter Morgan upheld the extra charge. Said he: "A car operator's job is to run his car, not keep his passengers awake."

NO BLUFFING. FRONTON, Ohio.—A woman jailed overnight for intoxication told Judge O. H. Henninger she would rather be spanked than return to a cell. "It's your choice—spanking or jail," said the magistrate.

She chose the spanking. Police Clerk Charles Cooper obtained a board and the prisoner bent over to receive the sentence. Cooper lifted the board, hestitated. "You're free to go," said the judge to the prisoner, "why don't you take up poker?"

BARRELS OF FUN. TOPEKA, Kas.—The Garden of Eden would have been no place for the Kansas legislature—its members eat apples by the barrel.

Everytime a married legislator wears a red tie he is fined a barrel of apples. If the supply is low and no red ties are visible, some bachelor member is fined for not wearing a red tie—the solons must have their apples. So far, the lawmakers have munches 35 bushels of apples, 700 oranges, and 350 bananas this session.

WOULDN'T THAT JAR YA? HIATT'S CAMP, Ariz.—Jerry, the mongrel dog owned by Archie King, barked up a rabbit in the middle of the night. The rabbit, somewhat undersized, apparently thought to escape Jerry by crawling into a milk bottle. But the dog came trotting home with the bottle in its teeth and the rabbit in the bottle.

A LITTLE RUFFLED. OMAHA, Neb.—George Abdouch's auto collided with another machine, rolled over four times and lit up-right. Unscathed, Abdouch, 23, opened the door, stepped out and brushed himself off.

REHEARSAL. KANSAS CITY—The motorist was ordered to the curb for driving past a safety zone. "I was wrong," readily admitted the Rev. Russell B. Briney, "was too busy talking to my wife about safety and you are right, officer. In fact, we approve heartily of your safety campaign. An officer is going to talk about it at my church." Surprise spread over Patrolman Barney Mahoney's face. "I'm that officer," he said. "Off they went to church together."

WARM STORAGE. MONTGOMERY, Ala.—N. F. Stoddard found a hen's nest containing six eggs when he repaired the roof of his home. He did not eat them. He surmised they probably laid there when his grandfather re-roofed the building in 1853.

Uncle Sam's 20-cent Whistler Etching

Federal laws being what they are, anyone can buy a genuine Whistler etching for only 20 cents—the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey map pictured above, showing Anacapa Island in the Santa Barbara Channel. Not only that but it is historic in that it was the cause of James McNeil Whistler's dismissal from the service, since, contrary to instructions, he decorated the drawing of the natural bridge (lower center) with two flocks of gulls, the little black dots fluttering above the point. To the chagrin of his unappreciative bosses, he became a world-famous artist.

HER NAME IN LIGHTS

CHAPTER XIII.
Hurry up, Jennifer. Your breakfast is ready."

"Loads of time," Jennifer, with her hat and coat on, stood in the doorway to the small kitchen. "Neat trick of yours, Miss Brett, setting the clock ahead." She pulled a chair up to the table of the cabinet which served as their morning breakfast table.

"Well, you don't want to lose your job, do you?" Daphne poured cocoa into two cups and snapped off the switch on the toaster.

"I don't care much if I do."
"Oh, Jennifer, please don't. Thirty-five a week is the best you've done and we're getting along so nicely. There isn't much future in being a model," Jennifer went on hopefully.

"There might be. Some day you might get to be a photographer's model and, who knows, maybe the movies will be next?"
"Daphne! Wouldn't that be wonderful?"

Daphne buttered the toast. "Yes, it would, but I wouldn't entertain the idea. Tell me about last night. Your girl friends usually have a lot of news." Daphne was playing for time. She didn't want Jennifer to ask her what Larry had said.

Jennifer looked at her sister under lowered lids and said casually, "I suppose you heard that Jerry and Peg were married at Armonk on Wednesday?"

"No!" They eloped? I think that was a shabby thing to do."
Jennifer put her cup down very carefully. "Why was it? They are both of age and they knew what they wanted. It wasn't anyone else's business if they wanted to."

"It was shabby, Jennifer. Peg is only 18 and girls that age don't know their own minds. Besides Peg's parents should have been shown more consideration. They wanted Peg to have a good education and see a few more people before she settled down. I don't think that was very considerate of her. I imagine her people will be up in arms."

Jennifer touched a napkin to her pretty mouth. "Well, they'll have to like it now. And you're quite wrong about girls 18 not knowing their own minds. I think Peg is well off."

"Miss Brett, you're just the type but you're so restless!" Ann Cockrell squinted her eyes, rubbed her hands on her smock and picked up her charcoal pencil. "Nevertheless, you're a lamb, Daphne, to help me out on your one afternoon off. Just hold it a minute until I fix up the shoulder line and I'll let you off."

Daphne sat motionless on the dais in silence that was unbroken for another 10 minutes. "There, now, I think that will do. Come and tell me what you think of it."

Daphne relaxed and stretched her cramped muscles. Then she stepped off the dais and walked over to the drawing-board.

"I do not," Jennifer continued. "I think it is cute to find someone you like, someone who has the same idea of fun you have and take your chance. Also, I think just getting into a car and going off somewhere to be married and coming back and telling everyone is fun. It's adventurous."

"Jennifer Brett! It's twenty of nine! You'll have to catch a cab. Here's your purse, Darling. I'm going shopping this afternoon and I won't be home much before five. What time are you coming?"

"I never make plans for Saturday afternoon," Jennifer called back over her shoulder, "but don't worry about me."

"What can I do about her?" Daphne said wearily.

WHAT TO DO FOR ECZEMA ITCHING AND BURNING

Wash the affected parts with Resinol Soap and warm water to soften scales and crusts. Resinol Soap is suggested because it contains no excess of free alkali, and is especially suited to tender skin. Dry by patting with a soft cloth—do not rub.

Doctors recommend an oily ointment because it penetrates the outer layers of the skin more effectively. Resinol Ointment meets this requirement, and does even more. For over 40 years it has been—and still is—successfully used to relieve quickly the itching and burning of eczema. It contains soothing ingredients that aid healing.

Use Resinol Ointment today and enjoy comfort tomorrow. Get a jar, also a cake of Resinol Soap, at any drug store. For free sample, write to Resinol, Dept. 1, Baltimore, Md.

JOHNSON AND BORAH FIGHT SIDE BY SIDE

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON.
WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—Two old Senate warriors—Borah of Idaho and Johnson of California—sometimes have been at swords' points are fighting side by side once more.

Issues in this session have drawn them closer together than at any time. They have been united in opposition to the Roosevelt court bill, the Pittman "cash and carry" neutrality bill, and the recent overtures for American help in financing a huge French defense loan.

Frequently they sit together in the chamber to discuss strategy. Many oldtimers in the Senate can remember when such cooperation would have created a sensation. The careers of the two men, both prominent in the liberal wing of the Republican party, have been strangely interwoven for 25 years. Both were in the Theodore Roosevelt branch of the party in 1912. When "T. R." broke away to run as the "Bull Moose" candidate, Johnson went along as vice presidential nominee. Borah, however, ran for re-election to the Senate without getting involved in the party split-up.

After the World war, they led a successful battle against American entrance in the League of Nations. When President Coolidge in 1924 decided to go after the Republican nomination, Senator Johnson was his only rival. Johnson toured many states to win support, but Borah did not back him.

It was this incident which their colleagues say started ill feeling that existed for several years. Borah and Johnson had little to do with each other until President Roosevelt tried in his first term to get Senate approval for American adherence to the World Court.

Starting almost alone, they aroused such opposition to the World Court that the treaty was rejected by a wide vote. This joint effort ended the long-standing feud. The men became close friends again.

Bowling Congress To Open Tonight

NEW YORK, March 10 (AP)—At 8:30 tonight a signal will sound and Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia will roll a 16-pound bowling ball down one of 28 glistening new alleys in the 212th Coast Artillery armory to open the biggest American bowling congress tournament in history.

After the first few days of limited competition, the tournament will run day and night until May 4 while the record entry roll of around 22,000 bowlers is marked off.

The field includes famous and unknown bowlers from 31 states—another record—and three Canadian provinces. All the big name pin bowlers will be there, but there's always the chance some unheralded bowler will suddenly get "hot" and walk off with a big share of the prize money totalling $145,000.

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

By LOUIS SCHNEIDER

DOUBT.

Corporate and banking executives regard United States Gypsum management as one of the most capable in the country. Chairman Avery made a statement at the company's annual meeting which brought to light a situation that causes no small worry. He said that January and February sales averaged 74 per cent over a year ago; that the improved sales of these months should seasonally have occurred during March and April and that building contractors evidently decided to lay in their spring requirements early because of price and labor fears.

In general, leading executives regard Mr. Avery's statement as covering the recent improvement in other industries. That is why there is doubt in their minds as to how long the present prosperity wave will carry.

PROBLEM.

Informed British circles doubt whether President Roosevelt's "hot money" threats will ever become effective. It is believed that any tax legislation passed will fail its purpose.

Experienced Londonites estimate that more than half of Europe's business done in American markets is for American investors themselves. Reason for Americans trading through Amsterdam, Paris, London or Copenhagen is to avoid payment and supervision of the Securities Exchange Commission.

The Britishers believe that if President Roosevelt could devise some way to get after American speculative professionals the "hot money" problem would be clarified.

BORDEN.

For 1936 Borden reported a net of $1.80 a share against $1.10 for 1935. That made pleasant reading for the company's stockholders. What else is there in "inside" facts about last year? Your correspondent has data which the Borden officials have refused to disclose in the past. Here they are:

The company has a payroll of 29,500. For 1936 its stockholder list was 42,480 with an average of 104 shares, against 40,801 holders with an average of 108 shares for 1935. For 1936 Borden paid $1.18 a share in taxes against 97 cents a share for the year before.

There's more. Fluid milk sales accounted for only 11 per cent of the 1936 earnings. Income from other products accounts for the remaining 89 per cent. For 1936 Borden sold 781,000,000 quarts of fluid milk. Of the milk dollar 46 cents goes to the farmer, 30 cents to the employee and 24 cents for taxes and other costs, leaving the company only one-cent of one per cent per quart profit.

BREAK-UP.

Here's the way the railway freight dollar is spent. Salaries and wages, 45 cents; materials and supplies, 16.2 cents; damage, insurance, pensions, depreciation and retirement, 8 cents; taxes, 6.9 cents; fuels, 5.9 cents; equipment and joint facilities, 3.5 cents; reserves, 14.5 cents. It's out of the reserve portion that dividends trickle to stockholders.

STEELES.

What's behind the wild upward move in the steel shares? Those in a position to know estimate that first six months' per share earnings will be the best since 1929. The following are estimates for the first three months. All you have to do is double them and you get the first half net.

The first quarter United States Steel is expected to show $2.50; Bethlehem Steel, $2; Inland Steel, $3; National Steel, $2; Youngstown Sheet and Tube, $2.50; Republic Steel, 70 cents; Otis Steel, about 90 cents a share.

The speculative buying of the steel shares is based on the expectation that the industry will maintain its current operating pace for the balance of the year. If that happens—and steel trade insiders doubt it—all you have to do is multiply by four the figures given.

SHOCKED.

Veteran observers say it's amazing how easily the United States Steel common shares responded to the high figures of last week. One would never believe that there were 6,700,000 shares outstanding. The market value of the shares actually spurted about $440,000,000 from its low price this year of $75 a share.

REPORTS ARE THAT:

The artificial silk industry outlook is best in its history. There's a brisk speculative demand for Celanese common—Industrial Rayon gets the buying of conservative investors. Chrysler's rally attributed to a short squeeze. Atlantic Coast Line aided by vacation travel revenues—same goes for Seaboard Air Line. Phelps Dodge now operating near capacity levels—may show $5 or better a share this year. American Locomotive's 1936 financial report was disappointing—last quarter betterment to continue. Wilson Company $6 preferred taken as business man's risk. Chicago interests look for a Marshall Field dividend payment late this year. Homestake Mining liquidation traced to those who bought last year because of inflationary fears.

At current price levels United Electric Coal discounts favorable prospects. Tire shares strong on trade knowledge that prices are to be increased. Despite bad statistical position of trade dope sheets urging followers into liquor shares because of earnings and dividends. Bower Roller Bearing will do well as long as automobile industry is active. First quarter New York Air Brake will show about $1.50 a share. London bought Cerro de Pasco because of silver price advance. And that Good-year Tire & Rubber will use artificial silk for its heavy duty truck tires in place of cotton fabrics. (Copyright, McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Corn belt farmers now prefer a lighter, more compact work horse with lots of "get up and go," says Wayne Dinsmore, secretary of the Horse and Mule Association of America.

10,000 YOUTHS JOIN IN DEFENSE OF MADRID

MADRID, March 10 (AP)—Between 10,000 and 12,000 newly mobilized youths tramped to their barracks at dawn today to join in defense of a capital threatened by a strong mechanized insurgent army from the northeast.

Withdrawal of government forces to more strategic positions along the Guadalupe-Zaragoza highway, above Guadalajara, was announced after reports the offensive had been halted about 60 miles northeast of Madrid.

(Advices to the insurgent headquarters at Avila said Gen. Francisco Franco's Guadalajara columns had swept forward 12 miles along the road to Madrid and were within 17 miles of the provincial capital, Guadalajara, or 49 miles from Madrid.)

Insurgent forces—characterized here as "Italian and Spanish" troops—apparently made a new effort to advance on Guadalajara or to veer toward Brihuega.

Between 14,000 and 16,000 Italians were reported by the government to be fighting for Franco in Guadalajara province.

Two hundred insurgents were reported killed or wounded on the Villa-Harta-Pozoblanco road.

CLOCKED SCYTHE

NEW BRITAIN, Conn.—John Conlon, 77 and John Conlin, 77, friends, served for years in St. Mary's church as collectors of contributions at Mass. Their funeral services will be held from St. Mary's on the same day. They died a few hours apart.

T. T. Brown, poultry specialist at North Carolina State college, says the 393 demonstration poultry flocks in his state earned their owners a profit of $12,984 in one month last year.

QUESTION-MARK BUTTERFLIES ARE SO-NAMED BECAUSE OF A CURIOUS SPOT ON THE UNDER SIDE OF THE WINGS RESEMBLING AN INTERROGATION SIGN. MOST of the moon's mountains are ring-shaped, surrounding the mysterious circular craters, and they may rise anywhere from 1000 to 20,000 feet above the neighboring trees. The craters are so similar in appearance to terrestrial volcanoes that it is assumed they have the same origin. However, this theory does not stand up under all tests.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, March 10 (AP)—The general welfare clause of the constitution, says Senator Will D. Pace of Tyler, has been stretched to the breaking point.

Recently a bill by Senator Weaver Moore of Houston was next on the calendar and as the senate was set for consideration Moore announced he could not find the bill.

"I'll take a rain check and see if I can locate it," Moore said, but a few minutes later told Pace, who was presiding as president pro tempore, he wanted to send up a "perfectly good" copy in lieu of the original. He suggested this procedure was all right under the general welfare clause.

"That clause has been stretched to the breaking point," said Pace. "The senator had better look a little farther."

Nights when the House of Representatives considers local and uncontested bills the members pay little attention to the proceedings, leaving direction of business to the chamber's officials while they "visit" with each other, read newspapers, and attend to correspondence.

A committee is supposed to examine such bills and determine whether they are truly local and uncontested. If they come within that classification the attitude of the House is that the authors ought to know what their districts want and usually passes them without question and after the most cursory explanation.

On a recent night, although there were more than 100 members present, a local bill was engrossed, an important step toward final passage, by a vote of three yeas and no nays.

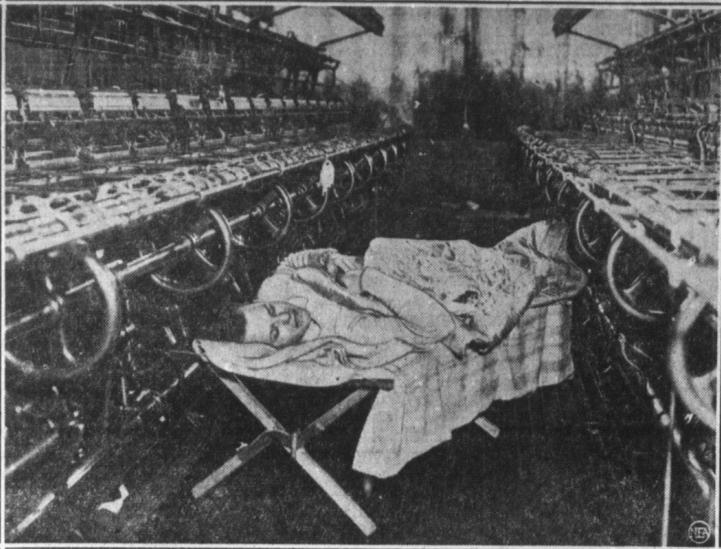

A members was heard to say one time that if he ever wanted to slip something by the legislature the "local and uncontested" nights would be the proper occasion.

Sometimes the members themselves are not quite sure as to the contents of the bills they offer. They often submit measures at the request of constituents, which they have given slight study.

One representative asked action on a bill which he said was "quite local and uncontested," whereupon another member popped up and asked whether it contained an appropri-

Hosiery May Run—But Not the Factory

Usually both stockings and hosiery factories run quite merrily—but with the stay-in strikes at Reading, Pa., hosiery mills, the field was left clear for the stockings to do all the running. There'll be no stockings made on these looms until the strikers seen asleep in the aisle moving again.

ation. The first representative finally confessed he didn't know. An examination disclosed there was provision for an appropriation and the bill was withdrawn temporarily for revision.

Appropriation matters are not considered "local" for they deal with money in the general fund. Also they usually have plenty of opposition.

AUSTIN, March 10 (AP)—Agents of the state liquor control board may not carry guns unless they are made deputies by sheriffs in counties where they operate.

This was brought out recently at a hearing before a House committee on whether the board should be abolished. Rep. Sam Hanna of Dallas wanted to discontinue the board and turn enforcement of the liquor law over to local authorities.

"And in counties where deputies commissions are especially needed," said Bert Ford, state liquor administrator, "we often cannot get them."

The committee killed the bill.

Ford, a big, solid-looking fellow, made a good witness, answering questions clearly and stopping without saying too much.

At one point, Hanna read a telegram from a wholesale drug company advocating abolishing the board.

"Yes," said Ford quietly; "we cancelled the permits of a bunch of their drugstore customers recently."

Governor James V. Allred did something out of the ordinary when he appeared before the committee as "Jimmie Allred," not as "The Governor," to oppose Hanna's bill.

He sharply denounced the proposal, asserting the liquor board had functioned efficiently and nothing would bring more joy to certain elements in the "liquor traffic" than to see it knocked over. He ridiculed the idea of allowing local officers only to enforce the law and giving the comptroller's department the duty of collecting taxes.

"If you did that," he said, "it would open the way to the greatest era of corruption in the history of Texas."

Rep. Fred Mauritz of Ganado, chairman of the state affairs committee which conducted the hearing, turned a laugh on another representative who had sought to have one at the expense of a speaker.

The speaker, a mild-mannered man, had expressed his sentiments about the bill in a few words and sat down, whereupon Rep. Ross Hardin of Prairie Hill jumped up and said:

"Was the gentleman speaking for or against the bill?"

It was an old legislative debate crack. Mauritz stepped into the breach. He rapped for order.

"Ross," he said, "you should have been listening."

Communist Revolt Against Breathing Spell Is Brewing

PARIS, March 10 (AP)—A communist revolt against the "breathing spell" in the popular front program of reform brewed today on the eve of governmental borrowing of a probable 13,000,000,000 francs (about $585,000,000) for national defense in 1937.

The "breathing spell" was intended to facilitate raising of the loan. Senate senators, after refusing to rush the loan bill through last night, gave the measure the right of way

Three Are Killed In Paducah Area

PADUCAH—March 10 (AP)—Two accidents claimed three lives in this area last night.

A grade-crossing collision here was fatal to three-year-old Charles Flemming and Mrs. Lee Mitchell and seriously injured two other occupants of a light truck which was knocked into a ditch by a Quanah, Acme & Pacific passenger train.

Mrs. Forest Flemming, mother of the child, suffered internal injuries and was believed more seriously hurt than Lee Mitchell, husband of the dead woman.

All were Paducah residents.

A. E. Tolbert, 40, was killed near Ralls when the car he was driving turned over after striking a soft road shoulder.

RICH SOIL WILL MAKE GRASS GROW GREENER

COLUMBUS, O., March 10 (AP)—With spring just around the corner, George M. McClure of the Ohio State University faculty told today how to make the grass grow greener.

McClure, an instructor in the department of agronomy, is regarded as a national authority on grasses and devotes much of his time to determining how to make golf courses, athletic fields, cemeteries and lawns symphonies in lush green.

"The secret of green grass depends first of all on good soil," he explained.

"The home owner who desires a carpet of green velvet about his dwelling would do better to put his money in rich top soil instead of depending upon fertilizer alone for a beautiful lawn. The same things hold true for golf courses, football fields and other athletic sites where games are played upon turf.

"About a year and a half is required to get a good sod. Seeding should be done in the fall and grass should be fertilized at least once a year."

in today's meeting, scheduled to start at 4 p. m. (11 a. m., EST) overwhelming approval that cracked party lines, 470 to 46, was voted in the chamber of deputies last night.

A protest by Maurice Thorez, a deputy and secretary-general of the French communist party, was the first open evidence of discontent in the extreme left segment of Blum's following.

In most political quarters it was believed the communists would not bolt the popular front but would re-sum expansion of social reforms.

10 UNIONS EXPELLED FROM AFL BY GREEN

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—The Committee for Industrial Organization's decision to charter local and state central labor bodies led American Federation of Labor officials today to consider expelling the ten "rebel" unions backing John L. Lewis.

When the federation president, William Green, learned that the Lewis-led C. I. O. had authorized the affiliation of national, international, state, regional, city central bodies and "local groups," he said:

"It was clearly evident from the beginning that this objective would finally be reached—the establishment of a rival organization to the A. F. of L."

The state federations and city central labor bodies are the base of the A. F. of L. organization.

Green conferred with other Federation leaders about calling his executive council into special session to discuss ousting the C. I. O. unions.

Lewis' United Mine Workers and nine other unions were suspended from the Federation last year for "insurrection" in organizing the C. I. O. to unionize mass production workers in large industries.

At that time some labor leaders sought to reconcile the rivals, Lewis and Green, but the breach has widened.

TIME FLIES
ST. LOUIS—Police Sergeant Reynold Ferguson answered a disturbance call. As he reached the scene, an irate wife threw an alarm clock at her husband. The husband ducked. Ferguson took it on the chin. The couple went to jail and the sergeant to the hospital.

Dr. Burton R. Morley, professor of economics at the University of Alabama, says the minimum number of workers to be protected by unemployment compensation in Alabama is 216,000.

Opium is now sold by the government in China but only to licensed smokers, who must cure themselves before 1940, when all trade in opium is scheduled to be suppressed.

English periodicals have formally protested the "dumping" of back-date American magazines in Great Britain as a "menace to the position of English magazines and periodicals."
