FARM BOARD IS GIVEN APPROVAL

Private Initiative Is Principle He Adheres To

The Associated Press WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (P)—In what probably will be his valedictory to Congress, President Coolidge today emphasized once more his desire for an increase in America's naval strength, urged a farm relief program which would meet approval of the administration, made suggestions for legislation covering the most important subjects, and ended by declaring the nation was in an era of prosperity and peace such as never before had been experienced.

Peru Lavish With Her Gifts

President-Elect Gets More Than Ton of Art Goods

U. S. S. MARYLAND, Dec. 4. (P)—The battleship Maryland was gliding off the coast of northern Peru today while President-elect Hoover rested and studied. Three hundred yards to the starboard steamed the Almirante Grau, flagship of the Peruvian navy, which is escorting Mr. Hoover to Callap, Peru, where he will pay his second South American good-will visit tomorrow.

With the mountains of Peru visible, Mr. Hoover began to study and analyze a great mass of printed matter prepared for him by Ecuadorian officials. This data was given to the president-elect when he visited Guayaquil and will be used by him. He also is sorting gifts with which the Ecuadorian government had honored Mr. Hoover and his wife. About 30 bales, boxes, and packing cases were sent aboard the Maryland, as well as numerous smaller packages. The gifts weighed in all more than a ton. They included a variety of works of art, examples of wood-carving and weaving, and some beautiful antique jewelry.

When the Peruvian flagship came alongside, she greeted Mr. Hoover with a 21-gun salute. This escort of honor was provided because a mission of United States naval officers is active at the request of the government of Peru as advisory directors of naval affairs. The Maryland did not return the salute because the firing was considered a personal tribute to Mr. Hoover.

"Baby Star" Wed

Freda Nanette Guilford is a married woman now, so probably she has lost her title of "baby star" of the Metropolitan Opera Company. Announcement has been made of her secret marriage more than a week ago to M. Rosen, young Rumanian violinist who also won fame on the concert stage. Nanette started in musical comedies and made her debut with the Metropolitan in New York at the age of 18.

Farm Relief Likely to Be Left For Hoover

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (P)—Republican leaders in congress remain divided on the question of whether to attempt farm relief legislation at this session or leave the problem to an extra session promised by Herbert Hoover if it is necessary. There are signs that some of the Hoover members of the party prefer to leave the farm relief problem to his administration entirely, feeling that this was a vital part of his campaign and that he will be held completely responsible with its disposition. Also, there are rumors from some of the farm leaders outside of congress who supported the McNary-Haugen bills vetoed by President Coolidge that they would prefer to have the legislation go over to the newly elected president. Their concern is reported to center about appointments the president would make to the proposed federal farm board.

Another Car Is Stolen—One Found

A Buick coupe, owned by Jack Griggs, was stolen from in front of the K. C. Store on North Cuyler street, between 8 and 9 o'clock last night. Mr. Griggs had parked his car while he made some purchases and upon his return found it missing. Mr. Griggs lost a car practically the same time last year, which was never recovered. The new Buick sedan stolen from Robert Mackie late Saturday afternoon was found in an old garage here yesterday afternoon by officers of the sheriff's department. One arrest was made in connection with the theft.

LONDONER TO SPEAK

AUSTIN, Dec. 4. (P)—Dr. Otakar Vocadlo of the University of London will address the student body at the University of Texas on the subject of "Racial Problems of Central Europe," on December 3, according to Dr. Aaron Schaffer, chairman of the public lectures committee.

COLD WEATHER OVER PLAINS

Temperature Is Due to Go Well Below Freezing

King Winter, almost unheralded, swept out of the north last night, sending his icy breath over the plains and promising temperatures will below freezing and possibly the coldest of the season tonight.

Following a period of comparative mildness, the temperature drop of yesterday was keenly felt, although the wind came out of a westerly direction. The weather man has not yet indicated whether the snow now falling in Colorado, northern New Mexico and Kansas will extend to the Panhandle.

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 4. (P)—Arctic weather, the first of the season, which has gripped Montana with sub-zero temperatures, spread east and southward today bringing promise of stinging cold to Colorado and western plains states.

The lowest reported Montana reading was 26 degrees below zero at Lewistown. The frigid weather hit that state yesterday carrying the temperature to 24 below at Moore, 22 below at Chinook and 6 below at Billings.

Snow followed a 24-hour drop in temperature in Kansas, the snowfall extending as far as Kansas City, where snow began falling at midnight.

POLICE BREAK CLUB DOORS CHICAGO, Dec. 4. (P)—Sledge hammers of police broke down the steel doors of Lawrence Mangano's Minerva club last night, and 159 men were arrested on gambling charges.

FIFTEEN NAMES SELECTED FROM LIST OF THIRTY

City Commission Has Completed Its Action

B. C. D. STARTS NEXT JANUARY 1

Will Chose Its Own Officers and Terms

With the selection by the city commission last night of 15 local men to form the board of city development, Pampa's new form of civic promotion took another step toward its inauguration, which formally will take place January 1.

The B. C. D. members for 1929: M. K. Brown, J. M. Dodson, Tvey Duncan, Olin E. Hinkle, Roy McMullen, T. F. Smalling, F. D. Keim, Clyde Fathese, Scott Barcus, T. D. Hobart, Chas. C. Cook, E. F. Thomas, W. B. Saultsbury, Paul Shepherd and Tom Roe.

This board was selected by the commission, according to the provisions of the city charter, from a list of 30 names submitted by the present directors of the Chamber of Commerce. In the event of the death or resignation of any board member, the city commission will make an appointment from a list of two persons nominated by the board.

Recently the city commission passed the necessary enabling ordinance, and set aside a levy of 15 cents on the $100 valuation to help support the new board, its paid secretary, and its activities. It is estimated that the 15-cent levy will yield about $8,000, or somewhat less than the sum used during

Can He Win?

One of the most formidable contestants in the Daily News famous automobile vote race is Henry Reynolds, handsome and debonaire son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Reynolds, of Pampa.

A senior at High school, and a member of the Greenjackets Club, Henry is one of the most popular representatives of the younger generation in Pampa. Always full of determination and energy, Henry enjoys the reputation traditional in the Reynolds family of never having lost in any sort of competition. In other words, he gets what he goes after, and he makes no secret of the fact that in this contest he is out for the Buick.

"I'm going to make a try for that $100 in cash for this week too," he told the Contest Manager. Friends declare he is going to be right in the king row when the race ends a fortnight hence, so the others had best keep an eye on him.

BIGGEST OFFER CAUSING WORK

Rumors About Standing in Contest Are Unfounded

Keenly alert to the tremendous advantages that can be gained during the next few days, contestants in the Daily News big $5,000 automobile prize voting contest are working with frenzied enthusiasm, determined to accomplish everything possible on the last club and cash offer which ends at 9 o'clock Saturday night, December 8.

During this all important fourth period, a bonus of 70,000 extra votes is allowed for each and every $20 club of subscriptions turned in, and the two contestants, one in District No. 1 and one in District No. 2 who turn in the largest sums of money will each pocket $100 in cash extra.

Everyone realizes that this is positively the last chance they will have to win extra cash money in the contest, besides winning club votes, and the way they are going after subscriptions is a caution. Several who declared last week that they had already accomplished everything possible have gone to work with renewed vigor and are finding that there are nearly as many chances of getting subscriptions as before. As a matter of fact, the surface only has been scratched as far as getting subscriptions is concerned. Everyone who does not take the Daily News is a prospective subscriber, and if everyone in Pampa, with a population of 8,000 had subscribed, several contestants declared, then we would have a circulation of 8,000 right here in Pampa alone and 8,000 subscriptions at a year each would mean a total collection $48,000 which would buy several Buicks to give away.

And the show does not even take into consideration the potential subscri-

LOCAL NEEDS BEING IGNORED IN COMMISSION

Amarillo Awarded Next Meeting—Date to Be Announced

UNITED FRONT IS NECESSARY

Committee Named to Carry Plans to Counties

A strong feeling that in the designation of highways the interests of the counties should be considered as well as that of through traffic, was expressed at a meeting of the executive and legislative committees of the Panhandle Highway association in session here yesterday.

Judge A. A. Callaghan of Panhandle, president of the organization, presided. Amarillo was chosen as the next meeting place of the association. A definite date was not set, but the meeting will be held in the near future. Judge Callaghan, George W. Briggs of Pampa, and yet unnamed Amarillo men were appointed to set the date of the meeting and arrange the program.

The committee went into session following a dinner at the Schneider hotel, where the representatives were guests of George W. Briggs, manager of the Chamber of Commerce. Committees, appointed by the president, were confirmed by the executive committee.

One of the features of the Amarillo program will be a discussion of the proposed state-wide bond issue. Its purpose will be to bring about a united front of the entire Panhandle with regard to the highway situation in this section, and to carry out the slogan of the association, "Get the Panhandle out of the Mud."

A committee composed of G. O. Granville of Borger, Bob Taylor of Spearman, and George Briggs of Pampa was appointed to visit several Panhandle counties to stir up enthusiasm in the organization and so get a large attendance at the Amarillo meeting. The committee will begin work next week.

Committee confirmed: Legislative committee: L. A. McAdams of Canadian, chairman; J. S. O'Keefe of Panhandle, H. H. Haines of Amarillo, E. F. Ritchie of Miami, J. R. Porter of Clarendon, W. P. Jones of Childress, A. C. Hoffman of Memphis, J. D. Hamlin of Farwell, C. H. Walker of Dalhart, and F. P. Reid of Pampa.

Publicity committee—George W. Briggs of Pampa, chairman; J. L. Sagwell of Claude, J. F. Stiles, Hedley, T. H. Walker of Dalhart, and Henry Ansley of Amarillo.

The membership committee will be the board of directors, made up of one representative from each of the 26 Panhandle counties.

Members of the two committees present yesterday were Judge A. A. Callaghan of Panhandle, president of the association; George W. Briggs of Pampa, secretary; S. B. Hale of Spearman; L. A. McAdams of Canadian; G. O. Granville of Borger, and G. H. Walker of Dalhart. Others present included F. E. McDowell of Dalhart; C. B. Brooks, J. E. Stiles and R. E. Mann of Hedley; Bob Taylor of Spearman; F. P. Reid and M. K. Brown of Pampa.

AMERICANS WELCOME

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 4. (P)—President Portes Gil has informed a group of Americans headed by Dr. A. D. Lloyd, geologist of Fort Worth, Texas, that the doors of Mexico under his administration will be wide open to American investment. He said that Mexico welcomed foreign capital when invested in accordance with Mexican laws and would give capitalists full guarantees.

Universal Draft

Commander Rufus Scott, Jr., of the Texas department of the American Legion urges renewal of membership in his organization upon the ground that the Legion is making a fight for the passage of a universal draft act.

The Legion has been working for seven years on this one piece of legislation. Realization of the desire appears reasonably sure in this session of Congress. President Coolidge's Armistice Day address endorsed the idea in unmistakable terms.

Of the proposed universal draft, National Commander Paul V. McNutt said: "The Legion is firmly convinced that no better defensive step, nor better guarantee for peace, could be devised than the universal draft law that is proposed."

It may be recalled that Congressman Marvin Jones of this district was one of the earliest proponents of this measure, and has been one of its most ardent supporters. The Proposed Highway Program A number of very able Texans are giving serious consideration to proposed highway legislation which will be designed to overcome some objections to the present policies of highway construction.

prived of their last vestige of control over highway construction or maintenance. That authority is already pretty well gone, but the fact that local aid must be provided gives the counties a negative control by permitting them to refuse to share in the cost of an unsatisfactory highway program.

A little analysis of this phase of the highway suggestions will doubtless reveal dangers that may well prove of such magnitude as to become a mockery in future years. It is to be doubted whether it is wise to turn over to any group of three men, however wise or experienced they may be, lump sums of fifty million dollars a year until a total of $350,000,000 has been expended.

This doubt is intensified when it is remembered that the men who will be entrusted with this vast sum of money would not be responsible directly to the people and no provision would be made for the taxpayers or political units of the State to have a hearing.

Highway building under this plan, no matter how splendidly conceived, no matter how lofty the motives of those who propose the change, will give into the hands of a very small group of men the final authority on all highway questions, subject only to whatever political influence may be brought to bear upon them.

We all magnify the enterprises with which we are familiar. This is not crookedness. It is only human. No small group of men can have intimate knowledge of the relative merits of all the many highway projects in a State as large as Texas. The adoption of any one of the major plans for a state bond issue will confer upon the Highway Department the right to ruthlessly disregard all local interests.

To confer upon a Commission, practically irresponsible, the unrestricted right to handle tax money in whatever way it seems best to the Commission is to invite a condition of centralized power that cannot result otherwise than in waste, or something worse. We know from recent experience how simple a matter it is for public funds to be dissipated in wasteful expenditures on highways. It would seem wise to be sure that funds already available are being handled wisely before making further extensions of power and money.—Vernon Record.

Locked Up For Life

In following the history of the life sentence plan for habitual offenders, it is of interest to note the latest case of this class.

Channie Tripp, 37, of Flint, Mich., has been sentenced to life imprisonment on conviction for the fourth time. The last offense was a violation of the prohibition law. A few months ago, Fred Palm of Lansing was given a similar sentence for a fourth offense, which happened to be possession of a pint of gin.

In Michigan, it is mandatory upon the court to give a life term for a fourth felony conviction.

While we are not in favor of a law as drastic as Michigan's, we do favor the indeterminate sentence with severity increasing for each offense. It seems unfair to "throw the key away" for a fourth minor offense and let a murderer escape with a shorter, definite sentence.

But the idea of accepting a fine for each repeated offense cheapens law enforcement and makes officers mere collectors of license fees for crime. The law in the average state takes too little note of the offender's intent and habits, while Michigan appears to go to the opposite extreme.

A. A. U. W. and College Study Club Completes Course in International Relationships at Program Yesterday

Closing a three-month intensive course in international relationships, the A. A. U. W. and College Study Club devoted yesterday afternoon to a study of Italy's foreign policy, with Mrs. J. T. Clark conducting a program of unusual interest. The program was the sixth in a series which incorporated studies in the disarmament question; the aims and the functions of the World Court; and the foreign policies of the European powers and of nations that are coming to the fore in world affairs.

Social Calendar

Final Program on Italy's Policies

As the opening number of the lesson on Italy, Mrs. Clark gave a talk on Italy's foreign policy, in which she described the new spirit of independence and national pride which Mussolini has roused in that once timid nation. She noted a trend toward imperialism in the new Italy, brought about, she said, by Mussolini's overreaching ambitions for his country, and explained that this tendency has caused other nations to fear Italy will start an aggressive war at any time.

Mussolini and the Powers was the subject of a discussion by Mrs. George E. Wolfe, who prefaced her talk with a brief, colorful character study of the Duce. She told of Mussolini's attempt to force Albania into a treaty whereby Italy could later gain complete control over the smaller nation. This, Mrs. Wolfe said, is one among many diplomatic tilts and intrigues in which Mussolini has been involved since he came into power.

Mrs. Lynn Boyd told of the anxiety other nations feel with Mussolini dominating Italian policies. Italy, she said, is regarded as the greatest menace to European peace today. She touched upon the severe criticism aroused among other nations by Fascism and the high-handed policies of the Duce.

Interest in the international relationship programs throughout the fall months, and attendance at the meetings has been exceptionally good. Mrs. George E. Wolfe is chairman of the International relations department of the A. A. U. W. and College club at large, and she headed the program committee of the Study group in arranging the series.

you pilot the ship yourself?" "I would if I had some sleep," he told her. JERRY considered the hardships they'd endured. She'd much rather had him fly her to Boston than Dan... she'd been dreaming for much lately of flying in the clouds with Dan in the silver airplane. Jerry knew that love, no matter how ephemeral it might be, had an overwhelming power. She was afraid of it—afraid to have her dream come true. But she knew a man couldn't be flying condition after driving a car for hundreds of miles and breaking that drive with a party such as the one they'd had at the Kraal. And she didn't want to tell Alister how she felt toward Dan. She said nothing more in New York for breakfast. Alister had gone to the telephone booth to talk with Dan. He returned in a few minutes to tell her that Dan had refused to take the plane out. "Jerry's face blanched. "Why?" she demanded. "He says the storm isn't over; it would be unsafe. "But I must go," Jerry cried. "It's raining only a little. "The weather report says there is to be a thunderstorm over the New England states," Alister said truthfully. He did not feel justified in concealing the real situation from her. "Oh, isn't there someone who's not afraid?" Jerry exclaimed in despair. "I'm not afraid," Alister said, "and it ought to be my risk, but Jerry, you know it's a very dangerous thing. "If I don't go I won't have anything to me being safe worth a darn," Jerry returned plaintively; "but I can't ask you. "You don't need to ask me," Alister interjected. "I only wanted to impress you with the danger you'll be facing. For my part I like flying in bad weather. It gives you something to do. JERRY forgot his abject fear of Trigger Nolan and looked at him with admiration. He certainly wasn't afraid to take chances! She couldn't have believed that he was braver than Dan. In that moment Jerry softened greatly toward Alister. . . . for gave him for everything she'd held against him. . . . he was coming through for her. . . . and Dan. . . . a new thought struck her. "Did you tell him that you wanted him to take me as his passenger?" she asked. Alister nodded. "Of course," he said. "I explained to him just how necessary it is for you to get to Boston before two o'clock." Jerry felt chilled. A warm little fire that had sprung up in her heart died down again at Alister's words. They left the restaurant and headed toward the Queensboro Bridge and Carmoor. When they arrived at the Carmoor estate Alister drove straight to the house. He had become convinced that she and Alister were determined to make the trip, so he decided to take the risk himself. "For my sake," Jerry told herself with an insight that opened the door of her heart for one little glimpse at a world which she would not enter. Jerry fearfully looked over the side of the airplane at the fast receding earth. Only a blur met her eyes, a rain-obscured vision of softly rolling hills and white-capped water. The sensation of leaving terra firma was not as Jerry had expected it to be due to the rain. Higher visibility would have sharpened her sense of standing still while the earth dropped away. No, not standing still; a queer feeling at the pit of her stomach assured her of motion, of height. She leaned back in her seat and closed her eyes. She was not afraid. The queer feeling left her. BEING with Dan always gave her a security—except when she thought of the consequences of falling in love with him. It was a lovely feeling—one she never knew in Alister's presence. "It's just as though he poured a sweet balm over my mind," Jerry had said to herself once in trying to define the effect of Dan's personality upon her. With Alister there was always a pricking consciousness of being at odds with him, of their trying to reach each other from entirely different mental planes. And yet it was not Dan's ideals and ideas that she wanted to accept. It was Alister's. Jerry tried to stop thinking romantic thoughts about the man who at this moment held her life in his hands. . . . she tried hard to keep her mind on the theater. Could she release a new dance with any success when she hadn't slept a wink last night, a night crammed with excitement and dangers? Her mind came back to her present surroundings with a jolt when a moment later the ship struck a bumpy area. Cold rain slapped her in the face and she hastily pulled down the goggles that she had thrust up on her helmet. Dan continued to gain altitude and they got above the rain clouds. Jerry looked down at what seemed like a billowing ocean beneath her. The plane was now shooting away on a course that Jerry assumed would lead them straight to Boston. Presently Dan looked back at her and smiled reassuringly. His was a real smile. . . . a wide mouth and two rows of perfect teeth. Jerry returned the smile. "Game," he said to himself. The next second the plane was accelerating its speed. Soon they were flying fast. . . . 125 miles an hour, the instrument board revealed to Dan. Jerry had no idea of the swift-ness with which they were soaring through space. But Dan knew. In that backward glance he had seen a terrifying sight. (To Be Continued)

Only Four High Schools to Survive Next Saturday

DALLAS, Dec. 4. (AP)—Claimants of the high school football championship will be reduced to four when the smoke of week-end battles clears away Saturday.

Ablene is the scene of battle between the first two district champions, Amarillo and Abilene.

Two bi-district contests will be settled a day earlier when Sunset high of Dallas, winner in district 3, clashes with Cleburne, district 4 title holder at Dallas, and district five's champions, Greenville, settle scores with Marshall, winner in district 6 at Greenville.

Fort Arthur will uphold the honor of district 7 against Main Avenue of San Antonio on home grounds Saturday. Main Avenue holds the district 8 title.

A flurry of agitation as to eligibility of district winners came to naught yesterday when Marshall and Cleburne were given clear titles by eligibility committees. Ralph Murff, captain of the Marshall high team, was declared eligible, under the four-year rule, and a protest filed by Corsicana against Seaman-Squires, star of the Cleburne team, was dismissed.

In the meantime, two men appeared in Sherman yesterday and investigated records of two Amarillo players, Virgil Welch and Bob Walker, who are alleged to have played on the Sherman team. The investigators said they were from Lubbock.

Teaching 100 Co-Eds The Game

By O. B. KEELER

I said to Mrs. Stewart Hanley, of the Oakland Hills Country Club, Detroit:

"So you really do teach a hundred girls the fundamentals of golf at the University of Michigan?"

She said: "Yes."

I said: "And you are qualifying in the women's amateur championship here at Virginia Hot Springs—how about the rule on amateurism?"

She said: "Certainly. I teach them for love—not money."

And there is one of the prettiest chapters in American golf. I wish every golfer and every golf fan in the world could know about Mrs. Stewart Hanley—a fine golfer; a great competitor; and a sportswoman to the tips of her capable fingers; how she decided that one way to spread golf in America was among the co-eds at Ann Arbor; how she made a tentative visit there and corralled a few girls, and supplied them with clubs, and started them in the game; how the faculty heard about it, and in appreciation of the efforts actually put golf in the sports curriculum; and how she now teaches the girls by quads and plaques, Tuesdays or Thursdays as their other classes fall, lining them up and showing them by example the correct fundamentals of the greatest game.

It's a beautiful thing Mrs. Hanley is doing, at Ann Arbor. And yet—by her own confession—there is what she calls a personal selfishness in it. Not gaining the satisfaction for an instant, I quote her again: "Scan where in America is another great woman golfer, perhaps like Alexa Stirling. Where shall we find her? Why not, among the college girls? I have an ambition some day to find the great American golfer among the women. And I look them over carefully, at Ann Arbor, while I show them how to stand, and how to hold a club, and how to swing. Well, she is a member of the faculty at Ann Arbor. And she seeks no reward, save that of starting American girls in the greatest of games. Her husband is an alumnus of Ann Arbor, and Mrs. Hanley is a great force in American golf today; a member of the women's committee of the United States Golf Association;

the woman who had most to do with the selection of the next club at which the women's championship is to be played—if I do not tell tales out of school. Mrs. Stewart Hanley of Detroit. You will hear more of her in the future. Perhaps—perhaps she will find a championship golfer at Ann Arbor. But her reward is sure, just the same. The finest line ever written is this: "She hath done what she could."

Experts Agree on All-Eastern Grid Selections

By BRIAN BELL, Associated Press Sports Writer.
NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (AP)—Less difference of opinion than has been the case in other years was expressed in the consensus of two-score experts who assisted the Associated Press in the selection of the 1928 All-Eastern football team.

Men Burned to Death Before the Crash, Is Belief

DALLAS, Dec. 4. (AP)—Five men, one a millionaire, who died in the crash of a big monoplane Saturday near Spur, were burned to death before the craft hit the ground, the government will be told.

Victims were H. D. Ballard, wealthy San Antonio and Denver air transport head; Matthew Watson, pilot; James O'Banion, Denver; Willis Washburn, San Antonio, and a Filipino cook, named Quentin.

Draft Rules in Organized Baseball Appear Doomed

TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 4. (AP)—With proposed amendments to the draft regulations defeated before the National Association of Professional Leagues opens its annual convention tomorrow, indications today were that the fight on the floor of the convention would be waged about the so-called "Branham resolution" which deals with the draft.

The International League, the American Association and the Western League, bound now by only a limited draft, have expressed themselves as satisfied with conditions as they are in regard to the selection of players by the majors. As any action changing the plan by which the majors could draw on the minors for talent through the processes of the draft would have to be unanimous to make it effective, the amendments, formulated by the major-minor advisory council, are doomed.

W. B. Branham, president of three minor leagues, the South Atlantic association, Piedmont and Eastern Carolina, all in the South Atlantic states, plans to fight for adoption of an amendment providing for perpetual right to be drafted by players signing their first baseball contracts in leagues operating under the draft, regardless of their possible later affiliation with clubs in leagues recognizing only the limited draft.

Prize Animals Bask in Admiration

CHICAGO, Dec. 4. (AP)—Champion farm animals, their laurels won in the first three days of the international livestock exposition, were basking beneath admiring glances of visiting thousands today, while hundreds of others waited to face the judges.

University of Kentucky, had the grand champion and reserve champion wether of the show. Iowa State college ran away with honors in the fat swine division. H. M. Lee of Highgate, Ontario, led all individual exhibitors in sheep prizes.

A. M. Mitchell of Hecla, S. D., had the championship carlot of feeder cattle and E. P. Hall of Mechanicsburg, Ill., had the best carload of fat cattle.

Edelyn Farms of Wilson, Ill., won the grand champion bull award in the breeding cattle division with a 2-year-old shorthorn.

Poor Little Fellow

Young John Hay Whitney, better known to his friends as "Jock" is a busy young man. He has to find time to play polo, direct the racing activities of the big Greentree Stables, meet the obligations of a social lion and spend some of the $20,000,000 that was left to him by his father, the late Payne Whitney. Young Whitney, who is shown above, found his time so occupied during the Saratoga race meeting last season that he had to buy an airplane to commute back and forth from New York.

RIO DE JANEIRO. (AP)—They swim every day in the year here in Rio, yet swimming records among Brazilian amateurs are only on a par with the Olympic records of 20 years ago.

Kings of Kings Draws Capacity Crowds Here

The portrayal of the life of Our Saviour in any way is a delicate matter, in order that the proper reverence may be maintained and at the same time that the lesson may be brought out according to the Scriptures.

H. A. Gilliland is being congratulated on the presentation of this inspiring picture at the Crescent. Mr. Gilliland stated that the Crescent theatre had received nearly 150 phone calls from interested parties who had read the Crescent announcement in the News.

Capacity houses have greeted the screening of the picture at every showing here.

To all Christians, the story of Jesus grows sweeter as the years roll by and it is inconceivable that there is any one, who would not be touched in some manner to think as to what manner of life he is leading after having seen De Mille's masterful presentation. The musical score was ably interpreted by the Crescent orchestra and added much to the enjoyment of the picture by those present.

Comment was heard to the effect that the characters were presented true to life and the actors showed a naturalness that is unusual in moving picture presentation, in that they were realistic and sympathetic in their work. This picture is worth the price regardless of the size of the price, and is one that will inspire and help all.

HARVARD AND MICHIGAN TO PLAY NEXT YEAR
ANN ARBOR, Mich., Dec. 4. (AP)—A game with Harvard, Michigan's first since 1915, and five Big Ten games will furnish the backbone of the University of Michigan's 1929 football schedule.

Best Golfers Meet on Smallest Links

AVALON, Santa Catalina Island, Calif., Dec. 4. (AP)—On a tiny gem of a golf links which holds an open treasure to the golfer's greatest treasure—a hole in one—a $2,500 tournament will be held December 21, 22 and 23.

The links offers the player six chances to hole out in one, for two-thirds of the greens may be reached from the tee by the accurate driver. Many of the cards turned in during the three-day event that has drawn a nationally known entry list are expected to be replete with "aces."

The tournament will mark perhaps the first time that a big money event ever has been attempted on such a small course. The most difficult hole is the seventh, a two shotter in par figures. It is 340 yards uphill to a terraced green which is severely trapped.

Besppectled Hurler Will Pitch Again

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 4. (AP)—Lee Meadows, one of the few bespectled moundmen in organized baseball, and now on the voluntary retired list, will return to the Pirate lineup next year.

Meadows asked to be placed on the retired list a season. He had neuritis Donie Bush, Pittsburgh manager, has come from Leesburg, Fla., where Meadows lives, with information that the pitcher is in good condition.

STUDENT DRINKING AT VIRGINIA U. DENIED
RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 4. (AP)—Students at the University of Virginia have been charged with excessive drinking but their president, Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, has come to their defense.

Following publication of a letter by the Rev. David Hepburn, superintendent of the Virginia Anti-Saloon league to Governor Byrd, of Virginia, in which he said reports indicated drinking at the school amounted to a scandal, Dr. Alderman replied that liquor consumption at Virginia was no greater than at other similar institutions, and it no sense was it entitled to be characterized a scandal.

GEORGIA FOOTBALL MEN ILL.
ATHENS, Ga., Dec. 4. (AP)—Seven varsity players and two coaches of the University of Georgia football team were ill today with influenza, four days before the team is to meet their ancient rival, Georgia Tech, at Atlanta. Doubt has been generally expressed that any of the men will be sufficiently recovered by Saturday to enter the game.

Uzcudun Defeats Tough Negro in Quest for Title

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 4. (AP)—Having pounded his way to a clear-cut victory over Bill Hartwell, Kansas City negro, Paulino Uzcudun, Spanish woodchopper, today was one step nearer the realization of his ambition to succeed Gene Tunney as heavyweight champion of the world.

Although Uzcudun gained a wide margin on points, the negro assimilated everything and came back for more. The Spaniard hammered his opponent with enough blows to stop several less hardy men, but the negro was always on his feet.

TEXAS BRIDGE ASKED
WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—Authority for another bridge from Texas across the Rio Grande to Mexico has been asked by Congressman John Garner of Uvalde. One of the first bills presented to Congress yesterday was Congressman Garner's request for permission to build a bridge across the boundary river at San Benito. ## MESSAGE are in the British empire, France, and Italy. Because we are constantly solicitous for those interests, I doubt if anyone would suppose that those countries feel we harbor toward them any militaristic or imperialistic designs.

"As for smaller countries, we certainly do not want any of them. We are more anxious than they are to have their sovereignty respected. Our influence is in behalf of their independence. Cuba stands as a witness to our adherence to this principle."

For Private Initiative

The President also reiterated his opposition to putting the government into the power or nitrate business in connection with legislation affecting the Colorado River or Muscle Shoals. Of the Colorado river, he said a summary of the report of a board appointed to study that project showed it preferred the Black Canyon site. He added that he felt warranted "in recommending a measure which will protect the rights of the States, discharge the necessary government functions, and leave the electrical field to private enterprise."

In connection with Muscle Shoals, President Coolidge suggested a division of the property into "its two component parts of power and nitrate plants" by which it would be possible to "dispose of the power, reserving the right to any concern that wished to make nitrates to use any power that might be needed for that purpose." He opposed building another dam at public expense, saying future operators should provide for that themselves.

"But if they were to be required to repay the cost of such dam, with the prevailing commercial rate of interest, this difficulty will be considerably lessened," he said.

Has Treasury Surplus

Reviewing the efforts of the administration to economize in public expenditures, the President declared that instead of a deficit of $94,000,000 which was expected last June for the current fiscal year, "the combination of economy and goodtimes now indicates a surplus of about $37,000,000." He said, however, that there would be no large enough surplus for further tax reduction.

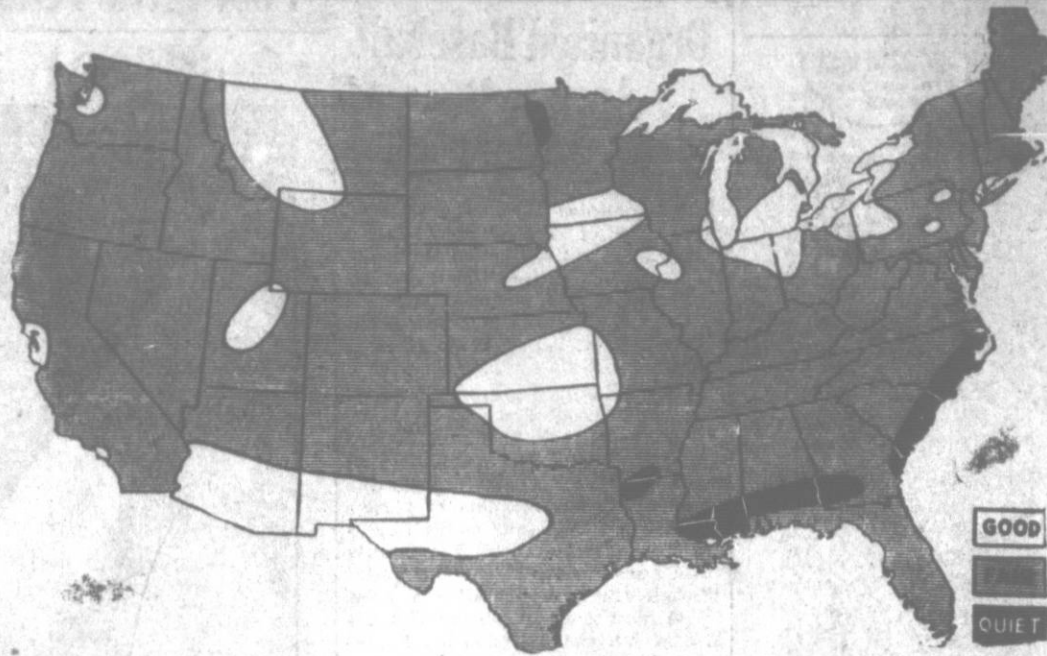

The question of prohibition was disposed of by Mr. Coolidge in brief form: "The country has duly adopted the eighteenth amendment," he said. "Those who object to it have the right to advocate its modification or repeal. Meanwhile it is binding upon the national and state governments and all our inhabitants."

As for enforcement, he said the federal government "is doing and will continue to do all it can in this general direction" and declared that the officials in Washington were entitled to the co-operation of the states.

The flood control, irrigation and domestic water purposes of the Boulder Canyon Dam project are phases into which the government could extend its functions, he said.

The relations between the United States and Nicaragua, Chili, Peru, Mexico, and China, were dealt with separately by the president who also, in his discussion of foreign affairs, praised the purport of the Kellogg treaty to outlaw war. There was no mention of American adherence to the World Court.

SPECIAL COMMISSION WILL ACT FOR KING OF ENGLAND

LONDON, Dec. 4. (AP)—Premier Baldwin announced in the House of Commons today that a commission has been appointed to transact business in behalf of King George.

The premier stated the king in council this morning nominated Queen Mary, the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York, the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Lord Chancellor, and the Premier to be councillors of state for the summoning and holding of privy councils and the transactions of other business on behalf of his majesty.

In introducing his remarks, Mr. Baldwin said: "I am glad to be able to inform the House that the king was well enough this morning to enable a meeting of the privy council to be held."

LONDON, Dec. 4. (AP)—Queen Mary who did not take her usual daily outing yesterday, left the palace grounds in a motor car this afternoon for a constitutional.

LONDON, Dec. 4. (AP)—King George today continued in that precarious condition which for many days has held his subjects in a state of grave suspense.

The official medical bulletin this forenoon indicated his majesty passed a quieter night. Again, however, the king's doctors reiterated the disquieting phrase that anxiety concerning the king's heart must continue. The bulletin signed by Sir Stanley Hewitt and Lord Dawson of Penn, read:

"The king has passed a quieter night. Though anxiety concerning his heart must continue, the improvement noted last evening is so far satisfactorily maintained."

Everything would appear to center now in the question as to whether the king's heavily taxed heart would stand the strain imposed by a fortnight's grievous illness.

LONDON, Dec. 4. (AP)—The cruiser Enterprise with the Prince of Wales aboard is travelling so speedily that the admiralty expects she will reach Suez Friday night.

To make such progress it is said the cruiser probably has been travelling about 29 knots.

Amarillo Player Ruled Eligible For Competition

SHERMAN, Dec. 4. (AP)—Records here show that Bob Walker, Amarillo high school player, whose eligibility for interscholastic league competition is being challenged by Lubbock, was not a member of either the first or second team of Sherman high school in 1924, but played with the Bear-Kittens, a separate and distinct unit with no connection to the team belonging to the league.

These records were corroborated by J. R. Moody, coach of the Bear-Kittens during 1924.

The game in which Walker was alleged to have participated as a second-string player was with a team from the Presbyterian school at Denison, also a non-league unit, by the Bear-Kittens and not by the Bear-Cat second-stringers, it was said here.

Commissioners to Let Contracts for Paving Thursday

County commissioners will meet Thursday morning at 10 o'clock to let a contract to grade, build drainage structures and pave five miles of highway southeast from Pampa on the LeFors road and let a contract for the paving of a non-designated distance on the Borger road west of here. Several sets of plans and specifications have been sent out from the county surveyor's office and many bids are expected.

The bids will be received and considered as group and separate bids. Contracts have already been let to pave the south oil field road and the Miami road, a distance of three miles on each, and for the grade on the Borger road, now under construction.

The county grader is at work on the LeFors road, east of where the proposed paving will end. The road is being given an 80-foot right-of-way to conform with highway requirements.

Car Collision at Houston Fatal to Man—Two Injured

CONTEST

bers in the county outside Pampa. The old saying that "a quitter never wins and a winner never quits," is proving its truth right here in this campaign. Several who have had victory within their grasp have laid down—quit cold right when they could have gone ahead and come out with flying colors. You'll never win in this campaign by laying down—that much is certain.

If there is anybody out on the sidelines who wants to get in the campaign and who figures that a whirlwind finish would win for them, they had best send in their nomination today. No new entrants will be allowed to come in after Saturday at 9 p. m. In other words, no one is going to be allowed to enter during the last day or so, and by plunking down $100 or $200 for subscriptions buy out a prize that others have worked faithfully for. Nothing like that in this campaign. Only those who are in the race as of 9 p. m. Saturday, December 8, will be considered in the final count to determine the winners of the automobiles. No last minute entries.

Rumors being circulated by this and that contestant about their total votes or the totals of others should be nailed right on the spot. There are a couple of contestants who think that they by spreading tales about colossal success of others, can scare out some real workers. The reason is obvious. When ever somebody comes to you at this stage of the game with a story about how many votes "Mrs. So-and-So" has, you can take it for granted that that person has an axe to grind. In other words they are talking through their hats.

But, rumors or no rumors, there is $100 in cash waiting for two contestants who get the best results this week. And just a week from Saturday night comes the finish. Will you be prepared or are you going to fall for some of the weird tales being circulated?

Take another hitch in your belt and go after those two special cash prizes—somebody is going to win them, and it might as well be you as any body else.

the last two years by the Chamber of Commerce.

With the exception of being supported by taxation and having its board members appointed by the city commission, the B. C. D. will be practically independent of the city administration. The chief intent of the plan is to distribute more equitably the financial support of the organization. The Chamber of Commerce may be continued as a general membership body, a branch of the board of city development. The board members will meet, adopt by-laws to guide their procedure, and elect their officers. They will select five of their members to serve one year, five to serve two years, and five to serve three years. Thereafter, five new members will take office each year on the principle of overlapping terms.

In his report to the annual meeting of the board of managers, of his organization, he advocated passage of the Stalker bill which would make prohibition violation felonies.

Dr. Wilson said: "We now hear talk of removing the prohibition unit from the treasury department to the department of justice."
