

MILLIONS RUSHING TO POLLS

HEAVY RAINS OVER TEXAS WILL REDUCE TOTAL VOTE

"BOLT" HOLDS MAIN INTEREST OF ELECTORATE

Controversy to Offset Bad Weather in Some Cases

MOODY STILL IS CONFIDENT

Anti-Smith Men May Use Advantage in 1930

By I. R. DILBECK, Associated Press Correspondent.

AUSTIN, Nov. 6.—(P)—Lowering clouds, mist and rain over the heavy voting area of Texas this morning threatened to diminish the expected turnout by a national election.

Opposite rains, muddying the rural roads, fell over wide areas of South and Central Texas yesterday and last night. Clouds, mist and fog variously held sway at Fort Worth, San Antonio, Dallas and Houston, the four largest vote centers of the state. It was raining this morning along the Gulf coast, including the cities of Beaumont, Port Arthur and Galveston.

Speculation as to the size of the "bolt" from the ruling Democratic ranks of the traditionally Democratic state, to the Republican national ticket as the result of the crusade against Governor Alfred E. Smith, Democratic presidential nominee, held the main interest in Texas, outside of the national outcome.

Some Evade Pledge

If the "bolt" is large enough, it may furnish the vehicle for state races in 1930 by some of the anti-Smith leaders. They claim that many "Hoover Democrats" stayed out of this year's primaries to evade Democratic pledges and will vote the Republican national ticket today.

Governor Moody, who expected to go today to Taylor, his home, to vote, said late yesterday that he still expected Texas to "roll up a big majority for the Democratic ticket." Two hundred thousand majority is claimed by the regular Democratic campaign organization, Herbert Hoover Republican presidential candidate, is given a 50,000 to 100,000 victory in predictions by "Hoover Democrat" campaign officials, and Republicans claim a "substantial majority."

In 1924, when John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate was the unanimous choice of Texas Democrats, he polled 478,425 votes against 128,240 for President Coolidge. The total vote then was 606,665. This includes the largest "Republican" bolt the state ever had—294,000 votes for George Butte, Republican candidate for Governor, against Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson's 422,558.

Whether the sentiment against Governor Smith is as strong as that against Mrs. Ferguson, opposed by the then powerful Ku Klux Klan, is problematical.

HOUSTON, Nov. 6.—(P)—A steady drizzle began falling here early last night and continued today. Despite the rain in the early voting in Houston was unusually heavy, but the balloting in the outlying districts was showing the effect of the slick roads.

This county, in which Governor Smith was chosen to carry democracy's banner, and which also is the home of Alvin Moody, president of the Anti-Smith Democrats, was considered debatable territory in the presidential race.

SHERMAN, Nov. 6.—(P)—A slow rain was falling in Grayson county today, at the hour when polls opened but on account of the unusual interest manifested in the presidential campaign, inclement weather probably will not lessen materially the size of the vote.

WEST TEXAS: Tonight and Wednesday partly cloudy; warmer tonight in the Panhandle and Southern portion.

Election Bulletins

HOUSTON, Nov. 6.—(P)—Incomplete returns from 32 of 133 precincts in Harris county, nearly all in Houston, gave Hoover 1813 votes and Smith 1549.

KANSAS CITY, Kas., Nov. 6.—(P)—Incomplete returns from 29 precincts in Kansas City, Kas., today gave Hoover 534, Smith 216.

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 6.—(P)—First returns from Louisiana came from the ninth ward of Point Coupee Parish, which gave Smith 158, and Hoover 5.

GREENWOOD, S. C., Nov. 6.—(P)—Election managers of the Greenwood box of Greenwood county reported at 11 a. m. that 523 votes had been cast as follows:

515 for Smith, 6 anti-Smith, 2 for Hoover.

Besides the Democratic and Republican tickets there is an Anti-Smith ticket in this state which also has electors in the contest.

VICKSBURG, Miss., Nov. 6.—(P)—The precinct at Brunswick in Warren county, the first to report in Mississippi today, gave Smith 21 and Hoover 2.

UNION, S. C., Nov. 6.—(P)—Shortly before noon today the Union box of Union county reported 238 votes cast with 234 for Smith and 4 for Hoover.

T. G. Hudson of this city yesterday finished moving three hundred and sixty-five head of steer calves from Silverton to the Hudson-Purvisance ranch north of Panhandle. He purchased the cattle from Roy McMurtry for $22,000.

SANDERSVILLE, Ga., Nov. 6.—(P)—The Sandersville box reported at 11:30 a. m., today that 216 votes had been cast of which 201 were for Smith and 15 for Hoover.

HOUSTON, Nov. 6.—(P)—Incomplete returns from 52 of 133 precincts in Harris county all except three in Houston gave Hoover 2750 Smith 2121.

HENDERSON N. C., Nov. 6.—(P)—Nubush township, Vance county, at noon officially reported the following vote: Smith 32; Hoover 1.

EL PASO, Nov. 6.—(P)—Incomplete returns from 21 precincts in El Paso today gave for president, Hoover 820, Smith 357.

Argument, Then Murder

SPENCER, W. Va., Nov. 6.—(P)—Shot at a polling place near Left-hand Hill, Clyde Moore, 25, was seriously wounded today. E. H. Huffman was arrested and committed to the Roan county jail.

Few details of the shooting were received. The men were reported to have been engaged in a political argument.

German Eager, Too

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—(P)—German interest in the American election is attested by the fact that the government broadcasting service will announce the results of the balloting every half hour, beginning at 1 a. m. tomorrow (7 p. m., today eastern standard time).

THE PRESIDENT VOTES

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Nov. 6.—(P)—President and Mrs. Coolidge arrived here at 8 a. m., today to cast their votes in the presidential election.

Britain Knows Nominees

LONDON, Nov. 6.—(P)—Great Britain is watching with keen, although detached interest, the big battle of the ballots across the ocean today. Herbert Hoover has been long known to Englishmen through his wartime activities and Governor Smith has been so continuously and fully described in dispatches that the people talk about the Republican and Democratic candidates with almost the same intimacy with which they discuss Premier Baldwin and former Premier Lloyd George.

The progress of the campaign has been featured in the newspapers almost daily. This morning's newspaper gave front page prominence to the contest.

New Ashford First Again

NEW ASHFORD, Mass., Nov. 6.—(P)—To this town nestled in the heart of the Berkshires today went the distinction of being the first place in the country to complete its vote for president.

It gave Hoover 28, Smith 3. And the vote was flashed to the nation at 6:33 a. m.

It was the fourth time that New Ashford had been first to complete its vote for president. Through arrangements by the Berkshire Eagle, two amateur radio operators cooperated to flash the news to that newspaper at Pittsfield and to the Associated Press.

Every one of the town's 31 eligible voters had arrived at the school house, used as polling place, by 5:57 a. m., and instead of a booth they sat at the children's desks to write their ballots.

The count was completed by 6:26 when Premise of Pittsfield operating station 1BGD reached Walter Groves of that city at station 1AXW.

Four years ago the town gave President Coolidge 20 votes to four for Davis, his Democratic opponent.

Today's vote was by far the earliest ever tabulated here. In 1924 the count was not completed until 7:01 a. m.

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 6.—(P)—The Memorial auditorium here received an unusually thorough airing today, as the result of a stink bomb attack on an anti-Smith political meeting last night.

The attack occurred while the Rev. J. Frank Norris, noted Baptist minister, was speaking. Dr. Norris completed his address and Dr. H. D. Knickerbocker of Little Rock, Ark., succeeded in getting through his address but the fumes were too strong by the time the last speaker, the Rev. Paul Packard, formerly pastor of the local Christian church, arose to speak. His address was transferred to radio station KOKO which broadcast his speech.

Local Democratic leaders issued statements deploring the attack.

CHILDRESS, Nov. 6.—(P)—Overcast skies threatened to cut down a prospective heavy vote in Northwest Texas today. All interest was centered on the election of the president, no local issues being involved.

PORT ARTHUR, Nov. 6.—(P)—A slow rain greeted voters as the polls opened here today but despite the inclement weather a record breaking vote was expected. The majority of the ballots will be cast this afternoon when refinery workers go off duty.

GALVESTON, Nov. 6.—(P)—Rain here today threatened to cut down the vote in Galveston county.

Both E. R. Cheesbrough, chairman of the county Democratic committee and R. W. Humphreys, Republican leader, claimed victory for their respective parties in the presidential race.

CORSICANA, Nov. 6.—(P)—Threatening skies and a light shower before 7 o'clock this morning gave promise of unsettled weather here for election day.

Interest in issues of the election have been at a fever pitch in Navarro county and a large vote is expected.

Rangers On Duty

AUSTIN, Nov. 6.—(P)—Texas Rangers were on duty in Hidalgo county today to quell any disorders which may arise during voting following hard-fought campaigns for county offices there. Several telegrams were received by Governor Moody from leaders of the two contending factions asking that the Rangers be present, the governor said.

One company under command of Captain Sterling, stationed at Falfurrias, and two or three men from the Austin headquarters company, will make up the force, it was said.

A full ticket of independent candidates for county offices is opposing the regular Democratic nominees. It was claimed by the Independents that the regular Republicans were backing the administration ticket.

BEAUMONT, Nov. 6.—(P)—Although election day opened here in a slow drizzle of rain, lines formed early at city voting boxes, indicating that a heavy vote will be polled.

Strikers Wanted Their Children With Them in Prison

Among the 20 striking employees of the Kansas City, Mo., who were sent to jail when they refused to pay picketing fines of $100 are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Glos, shown at the top with their children. The couple wanted to take their children along to jail, but federal authorities intervened and the children are being cared for by friends. Below are Mr. and Mrs. James Bennett, who were married a few days before their sentences started and are spending their honeymoon in jail.

Bids on More Road Paving Are Asked by County

Sealed proposals will be received by Judge T. M. Wolfe until 10 a. m., December 6 for the grading and draining of five miles of road and the paving of approximately three miles with concrete southeast from the city on the LeFors road and the paving of approximately two miles with concrete on the Berger road west from Pampa.

Detailed plans and specifications may be obtained at the office of A. H. Doucette, county surveyor, anytime.

Grading and drainage work on the Berger road is under way and is being rushed to completion. A contract was recently let for the paving of three miles of road on the south oilfield road and three miles on the Miami road. Plain concrete will be used on the Miami road and Vibrolithic concrete on the Oilfield road.

Jack Clement, former local ditching contractor and volunteer fireman, is in the city for a few days visiting friends. This is his first trip here since he was injured while returning from a run.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Taylor and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar T. R. White and son of Wichita, Kan., are spending the day in Amarillo.

Mrs. W. S. Webb of Fort Worth was the guest of Mrs. C. S. Boston yesterday.

Mrs. Frank Paul of Panhandle yesterday visited Mrs. H. D. Lewis.

PAMPA VOTE LARGE, AT 1 O'CLOCK BEING 872-- RUSH IS GAINING MOMENTUM

Reports From Over Nation Show Unprecedented Interest, With Women Swelling Totals—Good Weather Generally Prevails

With 872 votes cast at 1 o'clock today at the polls in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium and people crowding in, it appeared that Pampa would take advantage of a near ideal election day and cast near her full quota of ballots.

Confusion of voters on how to cast their ballots was noted, and many persons likely will lose their vote through mutilation. Vote counting was far behind the balloting, and the final count may not be known before midnight or afterward.

The mighty political currents of 1928 met at the polls today in a tremendous whirlpool of ballots.

Reports gathered by the Associated Press from every corner of the country told an unvarying story of a national turnout, quickly leaving previous records far behind. Almost everywhere, women were among the voters in unprecedented numbers.

In nearly the whole country, it was a fair-weather election.

BY BYRON PRICE

Glorified in the full power of their sovereignty, the nation's voters are speaking their collective mind today in an election which will establish a new administration at Washington, determine the policies of the next Congress, and bestow governorships in more than two-thirds of the states.

In every political subdivision of the country, all roads lead to the polling place. After a stirring season of debate, the ballot box has become a last melting pot of the warring emotions of a remarkable campaign.

With more than forty millions on the registration books, every sign pointed to the pyramiding of a record-breaking vote before the closing of the polls tonight. Women, in unnumbered thousands, were counted among those who for the first time were answering the call of the franchise. In many places, extraordinary facilities had to be provided to permit a complete recording of the vote in the single day set aside by law.

Two precincts separated by the width of the continent numbered

News' Contest Takes on Added Life With Announcement of Special Prize to Be Given for Effort This Week

The Pampa Daily News' big $5,000 automobile and prize voting contest took on an added spurt yesterday.

First, there was the first day's installment of the good weather which the Contest Manager promised, affording contestants a chance to get busy, and which is duplicated today for the benefit of other new entrants.

Second, there was the announcement of the special extra added prize of $25 for the contestants who scores the most points this week. Then too there was the added momentum of the beginning of the final two weeks of the 100,000 extra vote offer which closes Saturday, November 17, at 1 o'clock p. m. Also, there were several new entrants.

Another new entrant, started only this morning.

"I've been watching this contest for more than a week," she said, "and I've just about made up my mind to win the Buick. I know I can make the rest of those folks step, even if I am starting a bit late."

The Contest Manager assured her that she was not starting a bit late, as he expects others to be entering for the next week or so. A large number of towns in the territory, such as Skellytown, Roxana, Miami, Alabre, McLean and Kingsmill are not even represented, and a new contestant starting in new from any of these towns would have just as good a chance for votes in her own home town as she would if she had entered on the very first day for the reason that the voters are still there. No other contestants have invaded, with any particular success, any of the towns named.

Several callers at Contest headquarters in the News building today expressed approval with the special offer of $25 extra. One of these declared she was going to win it.

"I'm going to get me a whole new layout of shoes and hose with it," she said.

Another said she wanted it to pay off an election bet in case she lost. She didn't say who she bet on.

The $25 prize, as explained in yesterday's paper, will be given to the contestant who scores the greatest number of points between 8 a. m., yesterday and 7 p. m., next Saturday, November 16. Points are constituted by subscriptions, and should not be confused with the votes, which will be issued as usual. A year subscription counts one point, a two-year subscription two points, a three-year subscription three points, and two six-months subscriptions count one point.

The offer this week is of double importance to every contestant, for with the same subscriptions they can win the $25 in cash, and an automobile in the end. All subscriptions turned in now count on the $25 and also on the 100,000 extra vote offer. A special period will be closing each Saturday night, beginning with the closing of the $25 cash period this coming Saturday night. The following Saturday night is the biggest single event of the contest—the 100,000 extra vote offer-closes.

Contest contestants are wanted in both

This Voting Business

The soundest bit of political wisdom to come out of this political palaver came late but timely—the advice to vote. This is one issue on which all could agree.

Both major parties faced the uncertainty of millions of extra votes. Oldtime methods are being revamped to appeal to a bigger and more alert electorate. Former systems of wind-jamming and spell-binding were resorted to only in the most partizan and narrow-brained communities.

The reaction of the 40,000-000 or more voters in this election will help to set the political styles for the future. The parties rightly look to the electorate for their power. Authority rests in the people, and at the polls is their chief place of influence.

The appeal today is to vote. If the will of the masses prevails, there can be no complaint—only education for the future. Suffrage does not always get the best results, but universally it is less productive of menaces to human liberty.

Government and Oil

The activities of the country are so bound up in fuels, whether in peace or war, that the conservation of these natural resources has reached a point of vital significance.

The governors of fifteen states have advised the federal oil conservation board of their readiness to cooperate in measures to control oil production and cut waste. A survey being made of the world's oil resources should be enlightening. Overproduction of oil in this country has not only resulted in a demoralized market, but has caused much waste.

The methods of production in oil correspond to the tree cutting of pioneer days. Any way to get at the chief stores is good enough, and the underground riches which have been lost forever would stagger the imagination if known.

The principle of price fixing has small reputation in governmental circles, but conservation rightly is a proper governmental activity. And prices, through their inequalities, become eligible to regulation.

WASHINGTON—Senator J. Boomboom McWhorter's hot campaign for re-election has resolved itself into a battle of personalities on the eve of the balloting and it appears now that the nation may not lose the senator's services after all.

This development came close on the heels of the senator's failure to make religion his campaign's leading issue. Somebody told McWhorter that his opponent was an Episcopalian, which caused him to think that his campaign was as good as won just as soon as he could spread the word around.

An indication of the way the great McWhorter battle is being fought may be gathered from one of the last speeches of the campaign, made by our hero.

"My opponent," he said, "is a man with a funny name. But I'm not going to dwell on that. I don't care how funny his name is. Go ahead and laugh about it if you want to, but there are more important issues than that."

"The charge has been made that there was monkey business in the primaries. The foul slander has been circulated that one of my managers was caught despoiling the sanctity of the ballot. It is said that this man put his hand into a ballot box through an unauthorized hole in the side and had it caught in a steel trap which our enemies had set therein."

"In the first place, I don't know the man who was caught; in the second place there are all sorts of reasons why a man might want to put his hand in a ballot box without having his motives suspected, and in the third place it's all a dirty campaign lie."

"I have the most inexpressible contempt for anyone who would perpetrate such a low trick. Why, those scoundrels might have broken Ike's wrist! My opponent has seen fit to make an issue out of my drinking habits. Well, as one of our speakers remarked the other night, it isn't a habit—it's a gift. Does my opponent think he could manage to stay sober in Washington? What does he think he is, another Coolidge?"

"On the other hand, it is common knowledge that my distinguished opponent is accustomed to mistreating his dusty could work out its own salvation, but the watchful and advisory hand of government investigation will do no harm.

dog and that if it were not for his contributions to the humane society they would have been after him long ago. "Far be it from me to go into this worthy gentleman's domestic affairs, but you all know what the rumors are. He hasn't denied them yet."

"There are few nights that everybody doesn't know where McWhorter is. It is a crying shame that personalities have entered this campaign, because everyone knows how much I deplore personalities. But our ticket can run successfully on personalities just like everything else."

In other speeches Senator McWhorter has urged the voters not to forget that Lindbergh gave him a free plane ride in Washington last spring. He suggested that they vote for him just as if Lindbergh were the candidate.

TWINKLES

Well, as this is written, something awful is happening to one or the other of the "great" political parties. One of them will probably agree, toward midnight, that "your people is a great beast."

By the way, why not extend farm relief to the matter of cob pipes. Those things are ancient enough to make a good fad.

Mexico is improving. Her senate ended a session in blows the other day, but not a man was killed.

Our Ranger Tom Hickman thinks crime would decrease if every man carried a gun. It might hasten the demise of offenders. Editors ought to contribute their part in the mortalities by killing off a few of those who persist in telling everybody how to run their business.

It is significant that in Turkey, where turbans, fezzes, and surplus wives have been abolished, the men are now going to wear the trousers. Trousers, however, are not an infallible sign of ruling authority.

If the weather men are a bit nasty today, both sides are sure to claim Old Sol favored the other.

Hints for Farm

To obtain even utilization of the range by cattle and to prevent overgrazing in parts near the water watering places in level country should be not more than five miles apart.

Poultry mites do not like carbolineum. If these pests are in the poultry house, paint carbolineum on the roosts, nests and the places where the roosts come in contact with the dropping boards and rear of the house. One application usually is enough for a whole year.

Ewes to be bred at this time of year should be given plenty of abundant pastures, such as timothy, bluegrass or rape. Pumpkins steamed over the field are excellent as a feed.

Every acre of tilled land not in legumes during the winter should be in a small grain cover crop, except where fall plowing is advisable. For emergency cover crops and pasture there are no more useful plants than the small grains, which take up the available nitrate that otherwise would be lost, prevent washing and make excellent grazing in favorable weather.

Young heifers wintered at the U. S. Range Livestock Experiment Station, Miles City, Mont., on bluejoint hay for 24 days showed a gain of 65 pounds with a daily ration of 20 pounds of hay. Another lot required 23 pounds of alfalfa hay for the same period to make a gain of 51 pounds.

As a soil improver a winter legume generally is more valuable than a summer legume. It occupies the ground at a time when the money crop is not grown and is turned under at a time to permit the most favorable utilization of nitrogen by the money crop. Vetches, Australian winter peas, bur clover and crimson clover are good crops for this purpose in the south.

Carbon disulphide is a good insecticide for fumigating stored grains, cowpeas, beans and peas. Amounts up to 20 pounds of the liquid material per 1,000 cubic feet are necessary to kill grain insects in ordinary rooms where the walls and floors are not especially tight. Since the vapor of carbon disulphide is highly inflammable, care should be taken to keep fire in any form from the room that is being fumigated.

Menus for the Family

BY SISTER MARY

BREAKFAST—Baked pears, cereal cream, beef hash, crisp toast, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON—English monkey, curly endive with bacon dressing, Dutch apple cake, milk, tea.

DINNER—Boned and stuffed shoulder of lamb, currant jelly, creamed Jerusalem artichokes, grapefruit salad, old-fashioned doughnuts, cider, milk.

Small members of a family should not be allowed to eat the doughnuts for their dinner desert. However, adults will welcome this traditional fall goodie.

Old-Fashioned Doughnuts

Two cakes compressed yeast, 1 cup milk, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon nutmeg, 2 eggs, 3-4 cup granulated sugar, 5 tablespoons melted butter, 4 cups flour (about).

Scald milk and cool to lukewarm temperature. Add crumbled yeast cakes and stir until dissolved. Add 1-4 cups stiffed flour and beat mixture until smooth. Cover and place in a warm place until puffed up and bubbly. It will take about an hour for the sponge to rise. Mix and sift 2 cups flour with sugar, salt and nutmeg. Add eggs well beaten to sponge and then stir in dry ingredients and melted butter. Slowly add more flour until dough is stiff enough to knead. Knead the dough until smooth and elastic. Cover and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk. This will take not more than three hours. Turn onto a floured board and put the dough into a sheet about 3-4 inch thick. Cut with a small round biscuit cutter. Let stand on board closely covered until double in bulk. Drop into deep hot fat and fry until delicately brown. Drain from fat, dredge with sugar and let stand until cool before stowing in crock or tin box.

The fat should be hot enough to delicately brown an inch cube of bread from the soft part of the loaf in 60 seconds.

the best cook

Says Mrs. Leona Rusk Ihrig, "is not the one who does ALL her own baking. In these days when we have modern bakeries with men who have spent years of 8 to 12 hours per day baking, it is foolish to spend hours over the hot stove making some of the dainties that your bakery can furnish—often cheaper than you can bake.

Dozens of the nicer things which make meals more tasty and different can be secured at your local bakery. Dilley Brothers have been furnishing the housewife for years with everything from loaves of bread to the finest French pastries.

Don't make your Car a glutton for punishment

JUST because most motors are built to withstand terrific abuse is no good reason for carelessness with regard to lubrication. Lack of oil or the use of the wrong oil sends many a good engine to an early grave.

Reason enough why you should use Conoco Motor Oil—regularly. This tried and tested oil is of the same high quality whenever and wherever you buy it. Stands up under extreme engine heat. Saves gasoline. Reduces friction to a minimum. Does a thorough lubricating job and hence assures extra life for your car.

There's a grade for your motor. Ask your dealer for the chart.

High Flight
1928 By © NFA Service Inc. RUTH DEWEY GROVES AUTHOR OF "WHEN A GIRL LOVES" "LOVE FOR TWO" etc.

"I see," Dan said heavily. "You want to marry money . . ." Jerry flushed. "Yes," she said proudly, "I want to marry money."

"That's right," Dan agreed. "If I hadn't been a fool I wouldn't have imagined that you'd listen to me. But you know, Jerry, for a little while last Sunday, I thought . . . see here, you say you aren't in love. Do you think there's anything better than that?"

"Yes," she said. "I do. I want a future that's secure. Marrying a poor man is too big a risk. I've seen the romance of a lot of marriages wash away in the dishpan."

DAN, too, sat silent a moment before answering. Finally: "I see," he said heavily. "You want to marry money."

A swift rush of color mounted to Jerry's cheeks as she caught a hint of approbrium in his voice. "Yes," she said proudly. "I want to marry money."

Dan looked at her with abject misery eating at his heart. He understood, of course, that she wanted to marry Alester Carstairs. "Jerry, Jerry," he pleaded. "You don't know what you are talking about. Why, girl, if you did that you'd miss all that we are born for."

It was hopeless. The more he discussed it the more he realized that Jerry's disbelief in the lasting qualities of love and her fear of its temptations was genuine.

"Well, I hope when you start your campaign for a rich husband you will look up the records of the eligibles before you take the dive," he said lightly, or as lightly as he could. He was placing himself in an enviable position, knocking the other man. He hated that.

JERRY said nothing. He would have to continue, make it clearer. "No," Dan said. "But I thought I had a wild idea that you felt as I did."

"But you shouldn't," Jerry cried in protest. "I never encouraged you."

she would understand without the necessity of his calling Alester a blackguard in so many words. Jerry stared at him blankly. She sensed something of the meaning behind his words. But the idea that Dan should be speaking ill of anyone hardly seemed believable.

"Why should people always think that rich young men are bad?" she asked, trying to keep the conversation in an impersonal vein. She suspected that it would turn to Alester Carstairs if Dan spoke his mind freely.

"That's not what I'm trying to say," Dan replied quietly. "Jerry, if you must know, I have one rich young man in particular in my mind. I'd hate to see a girl who wanted marriage fall in love with him, unless she were of his own station in life."

Jerry's color now became as vivid as a peony.

"Don't you think you ought to call me Miss Ray?" she said, wanting to hurt him because he had hurt her.

"No, I don't," Dan answered, "unless you insist upon it. A man can't think formally of a girl he loves as I love you, Jerry."

"Then you'd better take me home," she told him quickly; "and . . . and I don't think we should see each other again."

Dan stared hard at the haughty profile she turned to him. How dared she look like that—the cold-blooded little fortune hunter! His own features took on a coldness to equal her own and he faced about to start the motor and move off with the first abandonment of care in driving that Jerry had ever seen him show.

"I know you despise me for knocking" he blurted out unexpectedly; "but you're such a blind idiot I've got to do it. Why can't you understand that an idle young whelp like . . . well, like Alester Carstairs, for instance, hasn't as much chance to escape common temptations as a fellow who is too busy to spend his time with pretty girls!"

JERRY smiled, a surface smile. "Well," she said, "I don't know whether you consider me so very pretty but at any rate you appeared to have a lot of time to hang around camp, and you're here. You don't seem to be any busier than Alester."

"That isn't fair," Dan objected. "I'm busy, all right, but I'd chuck my job with Carstairs if it weren't for you."

"What have I to do with it?" Jerry snapped.

He was going a little bit too far when he thought he had to order his life to allow him to be her chaperon.

"I'm trying to save your neck," he told her grimly. "You've been wanting to go up in the ship with him, haven't you?" he added so abruptly that Jerry answered before she could stop herself.

"He's promised to take me," she said.

"That's why I'm sticking until he learns to fly," Dan explained. "The reckless young pup would take you up right now if I'd let him, and he hasn't even got a license."

"And you haven't got a license either, to be saying things about him," Jerry cried in exasperation. "So that was why she hadn't been up in the silver plane! She had watched it winging its way overhead many times after it had been repaired and longed to fly in it."

Dan said the car to a stop at her door. Jerry almost expected the tires to burst. Dan's shoulder touched hers as he opened the door on his side of the car. The contact ran like fire through Jerry's nerve. An impulse, startling and primitive, seized upon her.

Trial of Obregon's Slayer Adjourns in Uproar as Threats Are Hurlled at Defense Counsel, Who Cannot Speak

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The trial held at the trial of Jose de Leon Toral and Mother Concepcion Aceveda de La Lata caused the government to have troops ready today. The jury was contemplating resigning. Toral is on trial for killing General Alvaro Obregon. The nun is accused of being an accomplice.

Threats of death were hurled at one of the defense attorneys when a group of men threw the courtroom into an uproar and shouted epithets, some of which were disparaging to mother Concepcion.

The members of the jury have received threatening letters. One jurymen requested that they be allowed to carry pistols to protect themselves. Each jurymen already has had two policemen assigned to accompany him and protect him all the time. The radio broadcast of the trial was stopped, the prosecutor asserting that it was being used by the defense for propaganda purposes.

Disorder was precipitated at the trial last night by a group of Deputies who were followers of General Obregon and who came to the courtroom from the Chamber of Deputies where a heated discussion of the trial had just been der was restored. Court was adjourned. The shout of "death to Porfirio Diaz" was attributed to the fact that Attorney Sodi was prominent during the regime of that president.

The Obregon bloc of deputies was understood to have held a caucus before the disturbance, at this caucus indignation was expressed at the treatment of the trial by some of the Mexico city newspapers. The deputies were also resentful of the fact that Toral had been allowed to broadcast his story from the courtroom.

Policeman Hurt Attempting to Halt Egging of Parade

WORCHESTER, Mass., Nov. 6.—An election eve disturbance in which a policeman was beaten senseless, women manhandled and 10,000 marchers in a Republican demonstration showered with eggs, oil, bricks and refuse furnished a spectacular conclusion to the political campaign in this city.

Although warning of impending trouble by reports during the day of an extraordinary demand for eggs, police proved helpless in the face of jeering thousands who assailed the marchers.

Harry Hyde, a patrolman, was knocked unconscious and lost several teeth when he attempted to intervene in a brawling group while Mrs. Lloyd Byrd was taken to the city hospital with a horn shoved down her throat.

Light Oils Show Further Decline in Nation's Total

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 6.—(AP)—A continued downward trend in the daily average estimated production of light oils during the week ending Nov. 3, in all fields of the United States, according to the current issue of the Oil and Gas Journal brought a decrease in light oil of 18,473 barrels and a total decrease in both light and heavy oils of 1,182 barrels.

Generally large increases in heavy oils kept the decrease at a lower figure than it might have been otherwise.

Oklahoma registered a drop in production of 12,845 barrels. A total of 10,790 barrels of this was accounted for in the Seminole area.

The West Texas drop was but nominal with 1,063 barrels.

The Mid-Continent areas, however, registered a decrease of 17,482 barrels in light oils with an additional small decrease in heavy oils.

The Gulf Coast heavy oils increased approximately 3,000 barrels while the Southwest Texas heavy oils decreased nominally.

California's light oil production was virtually constant while an increase of approximately 7,000 barrels was registered in heavy oils.

The grand total estimated daily average production for the entire country for the week was 2,504,196 as compared to 2,513,378 during the week ending Oct. 27.

Smith Hopes for Birthday Present For His Wife

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Governor Alfred E. Smith, hopes the voters will make his wife first lady of the land as a birthday gift.

Today is Mrs. Smith's birthday and the only other time during their marriage that election day fell on Nov. 6 was ten years ago when her husband was first elected governor of New York. Election of her husband to the presidency today, said Mrs. Smith, was the only thing she wanted. "And," she added, "I'm going to get it, too."

Satisfied with the campaign he had made, Governor Smith awaited the verdict of the nation confident that he and his running mate, Senator Joe T. Robinson, would "go together to victory."

The governor and his wife decided to vote at noon. They had to go to a stationery store in Forty-eighth street, near Marston avenue, polling place for the precinct in which the Hotel Biltmore, their city residence, is located.

In the evening the governor will pay an early visit to Tammany Hall and then will hear the returns at the national Democratic headquarters in the General Motors building on Broadway and later at the Biltmore.

Made with a real or simulated knot at the back the velvet hats, they fit smoothly over the forehead and usually are draped at one side.

A tasting test— and the surprise it gave Mrs. Atherton and the surprise it gave Mrs. Atherton

Beef Fritters

Bits of cold left-over beef, useless for anything else, make a delicious meal for four people.

1 cup chopped cold beef
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1/4 teaspoon pepper

1 cup flour
1 egg beaten
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt

Beat egg, add milk, flour and baking powder sifted together. Beat smooth. Add remaining ingredients. Mix well. Drop by spoonfuls into Crisco heated to 350° F. or when bread crumbs brown in 60 seconds. Fry until brown and thoroughly cooked. Drain on brown paper. Serve with any left-over gravy or the following sauce:

3 tablespoons Crisco
2 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons minced onion
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Melt Crisco. Add onion; cook slowly until it begins to brown. Add the flour. Mix well, then add the pastry. Then the cube dissolved in the water. Stir over fire until thick; then add the Worcestershire and lemon juice.

Fried Drop Doughnuts

A quick, easy way—no tiresome rolling and cutting. They should be fried slowly but you can fry slowly in Crisco without the doughnuts soaking the fat or being at all greasy.

1/2 cup sugar
2 cups pastry flour
2 eggs separated
1/2 cup walnut meats
1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 cup sweet milk
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 cup whole raisins

Beat egg yolks light. Add sugar. Beat until foamy. Then add milk, then nuts and raisins. Last flour, baking powder, salt and nutmeg sifted together twice. Mix all together thoroughly. Last fold in stiffly-beaten egg whites. Drop from teaspoon into deep Crisco heated to 350° F. or when 2 bread crumbs brown in 60 seconds. Fry slowly until golden brown. Test with a toothpick. When cool, roll in powdered sugar.

Spinach Balls

1/2 cup water
1 tablespoon Crisco
1/2 teaspoon salt

5 eggs unbeaten
1 cup pastry flour
1/2 teaspoon salt

Put water and Crisco in saucepan; bring to boiling point. Remove from fire. Add flour and salt. Return to fire; beat until it forms a paste which leaves side of fire. Remove from fire. Add the egg one at a time, beating each bit thoroughly. Drop by teaspoonfuls in moderately hot Crisco 350-360° F. or when a small piece of bread brown in 60 seconds; fry until puffed and well browned. Test with a toothpick; drain on soft paper; cool. Make slices one side with sharp knife; put in teaspoon of sweetened whipped cream or jam. Dust with powdered sugar. Serve same day.

Fried Spinach Balls

A new and delicious way to make a little left-over spinach go a long way. Prepare them any time and fry in Crisco in two minutes when you are ready to use them or fry them when you make them and re-heat them in the oven a day or two later.

2 cups cooked spinach, chopped
2 tablespoons Crisco
2 tablespoons grated onion
1 egg
1/2 cup more crumbs

Combine ingredients and let stand 10 minutes to swell crumbs. Shape into balls. Put egg in bowl with 1/4 cup water. Beat together until mixed. Roll balls in crumbs; then in egg and then in crumbs again. Drop in hot deep Crisco 350° F. or when a bread crumb brown in 40 seconds, until brown. Drain on soft paper and serve.

MRS. R. E. ATHERTON had been cooking for years but until she saw our suggestion to test Crisco by actually tasting it right from the can, such a test for shortening had never occurred to her.

She was so surprised and delighted with Crisco's taste that she sat down and wrote us all about it.

"I had always considered that for success in cake making the finest grade of butter was an indispensable essential. But one day I found myself short of butter, when I was especially anxious that my cake should be the best of its kind. Rather doubtfully I looked at my Crisco, and then, thinking how clean and creamy it looked, somewhat hesitantly tasted it. Greatly to my surprise I found it distinctly more palatable than the scrap of butter whose meagerness I had been bemoaning. I used Crisco for the shortening in that cake, which proved to be as good as, if not the best, I ever made."

See if the test suggested below doesn't give you, too, the surprise of your whole cooking experience:

Put a little Crisco on the tip of a spoon. On the tip of another, a little of any other shortening. Taste first Crisco, then the other fat.

Had you imagined there could be such a difference in the taste of cooking fats? Is it any wonder that such a sweet, fresh shortening brings out to best advantage the delicate flavor of foods you prepare with it?

When you try one of the recipes given here, notice that Crisco does not smoke at proper frying temperature or fill your home with cooking odors.

You taste your milk . . .
You test your eggs . . .
NOW—taste your shortening

ROUND OAK GAS RANGE

"It would be a pleasure to cook if it would always come out like that does."

"She seems to know just exactly what is going to happen when she puts meat in that range."

"Isn't that meat broiled just delicious? And she cooked four kinds of meat and four vegetables in the same oven at the same time and it didn't burn anyone of them."

Mrs. Ihrig says: "We used to broil meat over hot coals and thought we had delicious meals, but with a Round Oak Range you get a more tasty food with all the richness of flavor, an evenness of heat, and thorough cooking."

Little Harvesters Hold White Deer to 13-0 Score

The Harvester third team journeyed to White Deer yesterday afternoon where they tangled with the first team of that town. The local youngsters held the big White Deer eleven to a 13 to 0 score, outplaying them in the last half but unable to cross the goal line. A return game will be played here Friday afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

Little Joe Kahl and his boys although outweighed at least fifteen pounds to the man held the White Deer eleven to two touchdowns and played them to a standstill at times. The midgets will be put through some strenuous practices this week Coach Mitchell says and with some extra men who will be out this week should beat the neighboring boys.

In the backfield Raysdale and Lewter were the big ground gainers while little Joe Kahl was passing and running ends like a veteran. Ledrick, Holmes and Thomas also shone in bucks and end runs while in the game. In the line Connie Lockhart was a stone wall and a pile driving machine on the offensive. He was ably assisted by Bus Benton.

Both White Deer touchdowns came in the first quarter before the Harvesters were organized. This is the first game the kids have played this season and they showed up like veterans after the first quarter.

"The youngsters played great football," Coach Mitchell said after the game. "I sure am proud of them and there is a world of material for future teams in the bunch."

The Harvesters were excused from practice last evening and accompanied the team to White Deer.

Long Postponed Bout Will Hold Much Interest

Walter Varner, local middleweight, will meet Speedy Sparks, Lawton middleweight, in a ten-round boxing exhibition at the Pla-Mor auditorium Thursday night. This is the bout that has been in the matching for several months but has never materialized until now.

The Roxana Oil company's sensational boxer is well known in this territory. He has been fighting a number of years and has met and defeated the best in his class. He has recent victories over Mickey Walker, Bucky Harris, Freddy Whittington and other good boys. Varner is an aggressive fighter who never lets up.

In the semi-final Speedy Snow, local boy, will meet Fighting Joe Lamb of Houston. These boys are lightweights and fast with a sleep punch in either hand. The other big bout on the card will bring together "Dog Face" Ed, local negro pugilist, and Calvin Jones of Fort Worth.

Good fast preliminaries by the local boys will open the card.

FRENCH CABINET QUITS IN FAVOR OF RADICALS

PARIS, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The Poincare cabinet, in office since July 23, 1926, resigned today after four radical socialist ministers offered their resignations. The radicals who resigned were Albert Sarraut, minister of interior; Edouard Herriot, minister of education; Henri Queille, minister of agriculture; and Leon Perrier, minister of colonies. The radicals announced their party's program made continued collaboration with the national union cabinet impossible.

Backs Stage Duel

For three periods the Iowa-Minnesota game at Iowa City, the other day, was just a football game. Neither had scored and a scoreless tie seemed inevitable.

Then Fred Hyde, Minnesota half-back (below), snatched a rolling punt from his own nine-yard line, and ran the length of the field for a touchdown. On the second play after the kickoff, Oran Pape, six-foot soph-

Carnegie Tech Hold Attention in Georgetown Game

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(AP)—There are half a dozen intercollegiate contests on the eastern college football schedule next Saturday but only two of them will take much of the center spotlight away from the Georgetown-Carnegie Tech battle of undefeated teams at Albany, N. Y.

Nearly 80,000 will see Army tangle with Notre Dame at New York and close to 70,000 are expected at the Navy-Michigan battle at Baltimore. Army's undefeated record will be at stake in the Yankee Stadium. Notre Dame, beaten by Wisconsin and Georgia Tech, has been coming along fast but there are few who believe Knute Rockne's eleven can upset the Cedets, who already have disposed of such outstanding teams as Southern Methodist, Yale, and Harvard.

Michigan and Navy have known defeat rather often this season but both have shown remarkable recuperative powers. After three successive setbacks, the midshipmen have defeated Duke, Pennsylvania and West Virginia Wesleyan in a row. Michigan accepted four reverses before staging one of the seasons' outstanding upsets with a 3-0 victory over Illinois last Saturday.

Granite Winning All Recent Bouts

Kid Granite, local lightweight boxer, has just completed a month of hard battles and he has the enviable record of winning every fight he took part in.

more substitute (above), smashed his way through the Minnesota team for a 62-yard run and a touchdown. All of this happened in one minute and twenty seconds. Minnesota missed its point after touchdown but the Hawkeyes made theirs and won, 7 to 6.

Nebraska Star

You might think, from the press reports, that Blue Howell is just about everything in the Nebraska backfield. Well, here's a young man whose name is Clair Sioane and he is one of the reasons why Nebraska seems headed for championship of its section and perhaps a claim at the national title.

The local boy in his five battles met and defeated three welterweights. He is one of the fastest boys in the Southwest who does not know the meaning of back-up. Aggressive and a hard hitter, Granite has some sensational wins in his few years in the ring.

His most recent victories have been over Cyclone Hall, in the local ring, whom he conceded at least ten pounds and won; Jack Doss whom he won a decision over in ten rounds at Clinton, Oklahoma; Tiger Strand, decision in ten rounds at Hutchinson, Kan.; Wop Citizen, knockout in two rounds at Cordell, Okla.; and Kid Doran, a technical knockout in ten rounds at Clinton, Oklahoma.

St. Paul Boxer Badly Hurt in Vicious Battle

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Billy Showers, youthful St. Paul middleweight boxer, was believed to be in a critical condition today, suffering from either concussion of the brain, a hemorrhage or a fracture at the base of the brain, as the result of a vicious ring battle with Shuffle Callahan of Chicago.

After absorbing a terrific punishment in the scheduled 10-round bout at White City last night, Showers collapsed and fell unconscious in the sixth round. After physicians had worked for 45 minutes attempting to revive him, a pulmotor squad from a nearby fire department was called but it also failed. He then was taken to a hospital.

Callahan had several stitches taken over his eye to close a bad wound suffered in the fight and then was taken into custody under no charge by the police, pending outcome of Showers' injuries.

SPLIT SEASON ELIMINATED
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Elimination of the split season and the re-election of John D. Martin of Memphis for period of five years, at an increased salary of $10,000 annually, were voted here last night at the annual business session of the Southern association. Southern association directors also settled a controversy as to the club entitled to third position in the league standing by retaining New Orleans in that place.

MRS. IHRIG

"I certainly must congratulate the ladies of Pampa on their interest in cooking and cooking school. This is the first cooking school ever held in Pampa and I was surely surprised yesterday to see so many come for the first day. It is always difficult the first day to carry on as interesting a demonstration as it is the other days of the school. I have more time to make plans and the programs for today and those remaining will be more interesting than ever. Something different will be given each day and the boys of the News say that they are arranging some very nice prizes given by the merchants who are co-operating in putting on the school."

Local Jeweler Killed as Plane Goes Into Spin

C. L. Still, local jeweler, and J. S. Phillips, commercial pilot operating between here and Electra, were burned to death when the gasoline tank on their plane exploded after a nose dive at the Electra landing field late yesterday afternoon. The two men were taking up a re-built Waco plane owned by Mr. Still, and when at a height of about 200 feet the plane went into a nose dive.

According to a report received here this morning by Joe Berry, an intimate friend of Mr. Still's, the undertaker found a bird in Mr. Still's clothing after the accident. It is believed that Mr. Still, who was at the controls, was struck in the face by the bird and was either stunned or blinded.

The plane had just been returned from Dallas where it had been re-built following a tornado in which it was following a tornado in which it was ploded after the plane hit the ground. Both men were pinned under the debris. An acetylene torch was used to cut portions of the plane that held Phillips' body.

Mr. Still moved to Pampa about six months ago after purchasing the Russell Jewellery store. He was interested in aviation and had been flying for the last six years. His pilot, Mr. Phillips, was a veteran aviator, having served in France with the American air force. He instructed Mr. Still in flying.

Both the men were in accidents on the local landing field. Mr. Phillips and two local men received slight injuries when their plane crashed into a telegraph pole in the Channing addition some months ago. Two months ago, Mr. Still smashed his Eaglerock plane in a forced landing. He was uninjured.

Several loaves of bread and a cake were given by the Dilley Bakeries and Mrs. Ihrig gave several delicacies which she baked.

Hoover Now Is Mere Private in Ranks of Voters

PALO ALTO, Cal., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover today became a mere private in the greatest army of Americans that ever went to the polls to vote in a national election. The Republican presidential candidate had traveled 3,000 miles across the continent to cast his ballot.

His voting place was on the campus of Stanford university where he had worked as a youth to gain an education. With his own were to be cast the ballots of four other members of his family, those of Mrs. Hoover and his two sons, Allan and Herbert, Jr., and Mrs. Herbert Hoover, Jr.

In the group was one of the million of first voters whom the nominee, in the course of the campaign, has welcomed into an active participation in the political affairs of the nation. This was Allan Hoover, who attained his majority only last August.

After voting, the Hoovers planned to spend the remainder of the day quietly at their home at San Juan Hill, and there receive the returns by radio and over special wires of press associations.

Guitar Soothing to Guards as Convicts Try to Escape

FREEPORT, Nov. 6.—(AP)—A gesture for freedom begun by 31 convicts while "Ramona," played on a guitar by another prisoner, lulled the guards had failed in failure for at least 12 of the fugitives today.

The last report late last night from a great posse, flanked by three packs of bloodhounds, which since Sunday night has been searching Southeast Texas for the prisoners, said all but 19 had been recaptured.

The men crawled one at a time thru a small window, from which a bar had been stripped, at Clemens state prison farm, near here. Their fellow inmates did not join in the exodus but played and others sang while the captors grunted through the tiny aperture and fled, their white uniforms standing out in the darkness.

districts. There are quite a number now active, but there is room for many more. The more there are in the race the easier it will be to win, because voting will be split up more.

An entry blank, good for 2,000 votes appears elsewhere in today's paper.

When the first count is made tomorrow, several of the later starters apparently, will be in advantageous positions, proving that it isn't when you start to work in this contest that counts, but what you do when you do start to work!

In connection with the taking of subscriptions, contestants are asked to be careful in filling in their subscription stubs. Be sure to get the correct name and address, and write plainly on the stub. Otherwise it is difficult to make prompt and correct delivery of the paper. Contestants should turn in their subscriptions every day or so in order that their new subscribers may receive the paper promptly.

But don't forget—if you are not a contestant, there is plenty of time to become one, and all that is necessary is the "Nomination Blank." Put your name on it and the deed is done!

among their voters the two men who have most to gain or lose by the national decision. Mr. Hoover found his polling place housed in a women's club building on the campus of Stanford university, near his residence in California. Gov. Smith discovered his in a stationer's shop on East Forty-eighth street in his native city of New York.

Having spoken their last pre-election word to the electorate in speeches last night over the radio, the two great figures of the campaign were today just two more voters, exercising the American right of suffrage on a parity with the millions of their fellow-citizens.

COOKING--

She stressed the importance of choosing a salad to harmonize with other parts of the menu.

One of the more substantial dishes for which she gave the recipe was Gebhardt's salad, a vegetable combination which contains sufficient proteins and fats to make it an excellent main dish for luncheon. Stag salad, containing both meat and vegetables, provide popular with the audience. Argyle salad showed the possibilities of creating a beautiful dish from fresh vegetables and meats.

A tempting recipe and one much in demand by those who saw yesterday's demonstration on "Emergency Meals," is the following for escalloped oysters Creole.

Cook one box of vermicelli in salted boiling water. While the vermicelli is cooking, put three tablespoons of Crisco in a pan and saute one tablespoon of chopped green peppers; add three tablespoons of flour and one cup of milk, cooking until smooth, add one-half cup of grated cheese and two pimientos, one teaspoon salt and one-half teaspoon of Gebhardt's chili powder; add one pint of oysters and cook until they curl. Drain the vermicelli and line a flat baking dish. Put the oyster cream sauce over it and sprinkle buttered bread crumbs over top. Heat until crumbs brown.

CHURCH BASEMENT JAMMED BY WOMEN AT COOKING SCHOOL

An even larger crowd than that which attended the opening of The Pampa Daily News cooking school yesterday filled the basement auditorium of the Methodist church to overflow this afternoon.

Bids on More Road Paving Are Asked by County

Sealed proposals will be received by Judge T. M. Wolfe until 10 a. m. December 6 for the grading and draining of five miles of road and the paving of approximately three miles with concrete southeast from the city on the LeFors road.

Detailed plans and specifications may be obtained at the office of A. H. Doucette, county surveyor, anytime.

Guitar Soothing to Guards as Convicts Try to Escape

FREEPORT, Nov. 6.—(P)—A gesture for freedom begun by 31 convicts while "Ramona" played on a guitar by another prisoner, lulled the guards had ended in failure for at least 12 of the fugitives today.

The last report, late last night from a great posse, flanked by three packs of bloodhounds, which since Sunday night has been searching Southeast Texas for the prisoners, said all but 19 had been recaptured.

The men crawled one at a time thru a small window, from which a bar had been stripped, at Clemens state prison farm, near here. Their fellow inmates did not join in the exodus but played and others sang while the conspirators granted through the tiny aperture and fled, their white uniforms standing out in the darkness.

BIGGEST CITY IS MORE THAN OFFSETTING HOOVER'S LEAD IN UPSTATE SECTION OF THE STATE

Early Returns Are Too Meager Upon Which to Attempt Prediction—Poll Is Surprising in Extent

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(AP)—With more than one quarter of the vote of the state counted at 7:30 o'clock, Governor Smith was leading Hoover by nearly 160,000 votes.

By The Associated Press showed a two to one margin for Hoover. Pushed along by an unprecedented wave of ballots, first returns from the section have been tabulated earlier than usual and before 7 p. m., eastern time, nearly half the states were represented in figures from scattered precincts.

The results were fragmentary and entirely too meager to indicate any definite conclusion. Massachusetts was the first state to announce their vote which half an hour after the polls opened, led all other states in the percentage of its votes counted, slightly more than half a hundred of its 1,905 precincts giving Alfred E. Smith a lead of a few thousand over Herbert Hoover.

Most of the reported states were in the East, but other consolidated results came from the South, Virginia, Georgia, North and South Carolina, Texas and others announcing tabulations in districts where light votes enabled election officials to make their count before closing time.

At this tabulation reports had been received from 117 of the 161 counties in the state and the returns in three of these counties were complete, although the figures largely represented the figures largely represented the rural districts vote and most of the big cities were still to be heard from.

News' Contest Takes on Added Life With Announcement of Special Prize to Be Given for Effort This Week

The Pampa Daily News' big $5,000 automobile and prize voting contest took on an added spurt yesterday.

There were several reasons. First, there was the first day's installment of the good weather which the Contest Manager promised, affording contestants a chance to get busy, and which is duplicated today for the benefit of other new entrants.

Second, there was the announcement of the special extra added prize of $25 for the contestants who scores the most points this week.

Third, there was the added momentum of the beginning of the final two weeks of the 100,000 extra vote offer which closes Saturday, November 17, at 6 o'clock p. m.

Another new entrant started only this morning. "I've been watching this contest for more than a week," she said "and I've just about made up my mind to win the Buick. I know I can make the rest of those folks step, even if I am starting a bit late."

The Contest Manager assured her that she was not starting a bit late, as he expects others to be entering for the next week or so.

More contestants are wanted in both towns named.

FENBERG BACK HOME

Sam Fenberg returned yesterday from Amarillo, where he has been in the hospital following a serious operation. Sam is able to be out today but is rather "shaky" about the knees. He says he is glad to get back to Pampa and just won't stay in the house.

Hints for Farm

To obtain even utilization of the range by cattle and to prevent overgrazing in parts near the water watering places in level country should be not more than five miles apart.
Poultry mites do not like carbolineum. If these pests are in the poultry house paint carbolineum on the roosts and the places where the roosts come in contact with the dropping boards and rear of the house. One application usually is enough for a whole year.
Ewes to be bred at this time of year should be given plenty of abundant pastures, such as timothy, bluegrass or rape. Pumpkins strewn over the field are excellent as a feed.
Every acre of tiled land not in legumes during the winter should be in a small grain cover crop, except where fall plowing is advisable. For emergency cover crops and pasture there are no more useful plants than the small grains, which take up the available nitrate that otherwise would be lost, prevent washing and make excellent grazing in favorable weather.
Young heifers wintered at the U. S. Range Livestock Experiment Station, Miles City, Mont., on bluejoint hay for 24 days showed a gain of 65 pounds with a daily ration of 20 pounds of hay. Another lot required 23 pounds of alfalfa hay for the same period to make a gain of 51 pounds.
As a soil improver a winter legume generally is more valuable than a summer legume. It occupies the ground at a time when the money crop is not grown and is turned under at a time to permit the most favorable utilization of nitrogen by the money crop. Vetches, Australian winter peas, bur clover and crimson clover are good crops for this purpose in the south.
Carbon disulphide is a good insecticide for fumigating stored grains, cowpeas, beans and peas. Amounts up to 20 pounds of the liquid material per 1,000 cubic feet are necessary to kill grain insects in ordinary rooms where the walls and floors are not especially tight. Since the vapor of carbon disulphide is highly inflammable, care should be taken to keep fire in any form from the room that is being fumigated.

LUNCHEON—English monkey, curly omelet with bacon dressing, Dutch apple cake, milk, tea.

Old-Fashioned Doughnuts
Two cakes compressed yeast, 1 cup milk, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon nutmeg, 2 eggs, 3-4 cup granulated sugar, 5 tablespoons melted butter, 4 cups flour (about).
Scald milk and cool to lukewarm temperature. Add crumbled yeast cakes and stir until dissolved. Add 1 1/4 cups sifted flour and beat mixture until smooth. Cover and place in a warm place until puffed up and bubbly. It will take about an hour for the sponge to rise. Mix and sift 2 cups flour with sugar, salt and nutmeg. Add eggs well beaten to sponge and then stir in dry ingredients and melted butter. Slowly add more flour until dough is stiff enough to knead. Knead the dough until smooth and elastic. Cover and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk. This will take not more than three hours. Turn onto a floured board and put the dough into a sheet about 3-4 inch thick. Cut with a small round biscuit cutter. Let stand on board closely covered until double in bulk. Drop into deep hot fat and fry until delicately brown. Drain from fat, dredge with sugar and let stand until cool before storing in crock or tin box.

The fat should be hot enough to delicately brown an inch cube of bread from the soft part of the loaf in 60 seconds.
The Southwestern Public Service company is stringing a line to the negro addition in order to meet the request of negro residents wanting electricity. One or more street lights will be placed in the section.

the best cook

Says Mrs. Leona Rusk Ihrig, "is not the one who does ALL her own baking. In these days when we have modern bakeries with men who have spent years of 8 to 12 hours per day baking, it is foolish to spend hours over the hot stove making some of the dainties that your bakery can furnish—often cheaper than you can bake. Dozens of the nicer things which make meals more tasty and different can be secured at your local bakery. Dilley Brothers have been furnishing the housewife for years with everything from loaves of bread to the finest French pastries.

Don't make your Car a glutton for punishment

JUST because most motors are built to withstand terrific abuse is no good reason for carelessness with regard to lubrication. Lack of oil or the use of the wrong oil sends many a good engine to an early grave.
Reason enough why you should use Conoco Motor Oil—regularly. This tried and tested oil is of the same high quality whenever and wherever you buy it. Stands up under extreme engine heat. Saves gasoline. Reduces friction to a minimum. Does a thorough lubricating job and hence assures extra life for your car.

High Flight by RUTH DEWEY GROVES AUTHOR OF "WHEN A GIRL LOVES" "LOVE FOR TWO" etc

THIS HAS HAPPENED JERRY RAY thinks love is a delusion and decides to marry for money. Her vacation plans are spoiled by the loss of her savings and nothing remains but to marry a man with her roomer MYRTLE. Fate soon introduces her to ALESTER CARSTAIRS, who she meets in a strange way. Her heart responds to DAN HARVEY, his pilot. Alester is struck by her beauty and showers attentions upon her. A letter from her mother reveals the poverty and illness strengthens Jerry's determination to marry wealthy.

Unable to buy a new gown for the big party Alester has invited her to Jerry's to the temptation to take one from the store, where she works—tending it all night next morning. At the party JERRY'S FRIEND LEBERTUD who is infatuated with Alester invites her into drinking. Her dancing partner throws her in the pool. She appears to be hysterical and wants to take her home but Alester will not allow him to. Jerry is in a panic when she realizes what has happened to her dress. She confides to the man who discharges her. Discouraged, she seeks another job and is surprised when Dan calls on her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XVIII

"I've lost my job," Jerry found herself saying. It surprised her. She hadn't meant to say any thing like that. It was no answer at all to an important proposal. Yes, it was, too. She meant that she was unstrung, in no frame of mind to settle a matter as momentous as her marriage.

The green light was on. Dan was seeking his answer in her half-averted eyes, hanging on her next words. Her first utterance had filled him with misgivings.

"Wait until we get out of this," he said quickly. "I'm sorry I was so abrupt, but I couldn't help it." They drove on in silence until they had reached a place on Riverside Drive where Dan could park the car. A magnificent view of the Hudson river was before them but neither gave it a thought.

Dan insisted that Jerry look at him. Holding her eyes with his own he asked her if she loved anyone else. That question Jerry could answer without hesitating.

"Please don't talk to me about love," she evaded. "It's only a pitfall."

DAN might have laughed at her response if he himself hadn't become such a hopeless victim of the tender passion. As it was he interpreted her answer to mean that she had never experienced love... mating love. If that were so, then she couldn't be in love with Alester unless...

"Why do you say that?" he asked sharply. "Have you ever come to grief through loving someone?" Mentally he swore an oath that he'd choke the life out of Alester Carstairs if he'd made Jerry suffer.

"I've never been in love," Jerry said and now she dropped her eyes. Dan reached out and seized her hands.

"I want to marry you, Jerry," he said. "I've never before felt like this about a girl. But when I gathered you up out of the debris of that wreck and held you while your breath came back and your eyelids fluttered open after I had begun to believe we had killed you I got the first hunch that I'd met the only girl I'd ever want to spend the rest of my life with."

Jerry pulled her hands away. "You wouldn't want a girl who didn't love you more than anything else in the world, would you?" "No," Dan said. "But I think it... I had a wild idea that you felt as I did."

"But you shouldn't," Jerry cried in protest. "I never encouraged you."

"I see," Dan said heavily. "You want to marry money..." Jerry flushed. "Yes," she said proudly. "I want to marry money."

"That's right," Dan agreed. "If I hadn't been a fool I wouldn't have imagined that you'd listen to me. But you know, Jerry, for a little while last Sunday, I thought... see here, you say you aren't in love. Do you think there's anything better than that?"

"Yes," she said. "I do. I want a future that's secure. Marrying a poor man is too big a risk. I've seen the romance of a lot of marriages wash away in the dishpan."

DAN, too, sat silent a moment before answering. Finally: "I see," he said heavily. "You want to marry money."

A swift rush of color mounted to Jerry's cheeks as she caught a hint of approbrium in his voice.

"Yes," she said proudly. "I want to marry money."

Dan looked at her with abject misery eating at his heart. He understood, of course, that she wanted to marry Alester Carstairs.

"Jerry, Jerry," he pleaded. "You don't know what you are talking about. Why, girl, if you did that you'd miss all that we are born for."

It was hopeless. The more he discussed it the more he realized that Jerry's disbelief in the lasting qualities of love and her fear of its temptations was genuine.

"Well, I hope when you start your campaign for a rich husband you will look up the records of the eligibles before you take the dive," he said lightly, or as lightly as he could. He was placing himself in an envious position, knocking the other man. He hated that.

JERRY said nothing. He would have to continue, make it clearer.

"Some of our richest young men don't have the things they're most famous for listed in the guides to society," he said awkwardly, hoping she would understand without the necessity of his calling Alester a blackguard in so many words.

Jerry stared at him blankly. She sensed something of the meaning behind his words. But the idea that Dan should be speaking ill of anyone hardly seemed believable.

"Why should people always think that rich young men are bad?" she asked, trying to keep the conversation in an impersonal vein. She suspected that it would turn to Alester Carstairs if Dan spoke his mind freely.

"That's not what I'm trying to say," Dan returned quietly. "Jerry, if you must know, I have one rich young man in particular in my mind. I'd hate to see a girl who wanted marriage fall in love with him, unless she were of his own station in life."

Jerry's color now became as vivid as a peony.

"Don't you think you ought to call me Miss Ray?" she said, wanting to hurt him because he had hurt her.

"No, I don't," Dan answered, "unless you insist upon it. A man can't think formally of a girl he loves as I love you, Jerry."

"Then you'd better take me home," she told him quickly; "and... and I don't think we should see each other again."

Dan stared hard at the haughty profile she turned to him. How dared she look like that—the cold, blooded little fortune hunter! His own features took on a coldness to equal her own and he faced about to start the motor and move off with the first abandonment of care in driving that Jerry had ever seen him show.

"I know you despise me for knocking," he flared out unexpectedly; "but you're such a blind idiot I've got to do it. Why can't you understand that an idle young whelp like... well, like Alester Carstairs, for instance, hasn't as much chance to escape common temptations as a fellow who is too busy to spend his time with pretty girls?"

JERRY smiled, a surface smile. "Well," she said, "I don't know whether you consider me so very pretty but at any rate you appeared to have a lot of time to hang around camp, and you're here. You don't seem to be any busier than Alester."

"That isn't fair," Dan objected. "I'm busy, all right, but I'd chuck my job with Carstairs if it weren't for you."

"What have I to do with it?" Jerry snapped.

He was going a little bit too far when he thought he had to order his life to allow him to be her chaperon.

"I'm trying to save your neck," he told her grimly. "You've been wanting to go up in the ship with him, haven't you?" he added so abruptly that Jerry answered before she could stop herself.

"He's promised to take me," she said.

"That's why I'm sticking until he learns to fly," Dan explained. "The reckless young pup would take you up right now if I'd let him, and he hasn't even got a license."

"And you haven't got a license either, to be saying things about him," Jerry cried in exasperation. So that was why she hadn't been up in the silver plane! She had watched it winging its way overhead many times after it had been repaired and longed to fly in it.

Dan said the car to a stop at her door. Jerry almost expected the tires to burst. Dan's shoulders touched hers as he opened the door on his side of the car. The contact ran like fire through Jerry's nerve.

An impulse, startling and primitive, seized upon her. (To Be Continued)

at of Obregon's Slayer Adjourns in Uproar as Threats Are Hurlled at Defense Counsel, Who Cannot Speak

KICO CITY, Nov. 6.—Threats held at the trial of Jose de Leon and Mother Concepcion Aceveda Lata caused the government to troops ready today. The jury was adjourning. Tonal is on for killing General Alvaro Obregon. The nun is accused of being an applier.

Deaths of death were hurled at one of defense attorneys when a group threw the courtroom into an uproar and shouted epithets, some of which were disparaging to mother Conon.

Members of the jury have read threatening letters. One jurymen stated that they are allowed to carry pistols to protect themselves. Each man already has had two policemen assigned to accompany him and protect him all the time. The radio-broadcast of the trial was stopped, the prosecutor asserting that it was being used for the defense for propaganda purposes.

Order was precipitated at the trial night by a group of deputies who followed General Obregon and came to the courtroom from the number of deputies where a heated session of the trial had just been held.

The courtroom was thrown into an uproar when a group of men shouted: "Death to Sod! Death to Porfirio Diaz!"

Pleas for quiet were made. The crowd disregarded these and threatened to attack the jury.

Demetrio Sod, assigned as defense counsel by the court, climbed up on a chair. He attempted to speak.

"If you love and respect the memory," he said, "The crowd broke in with shouts of 'we won't hear you.' Sod was compelled to abandon his attempt to talk.

Attorney General Manuel Padilla mounted a table. He urged the people to allow the trial to continue peacefully. A motion was made that the court be adjourned. There was a shout of: "You are afraid. Don't let them run out."

The room became a bedlam. People stood on the chairs and shouted epithets. The judge rang his bell for order in vain. There was more shouting, more epithets.

Finally Prosecutor Correa Nieto climbed on a table and began to speak. Or-

Light Oils Show Further Decline in Nation's Total

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 6.—(AP)—A continued downward trend in the daily average estimated production of light oils during the week ending Nov. 3, in all fields of the United States, according to the current issue of the Oil and Gas Journal, brought a decrease in light-oil of 18,473 barrels and a total decrease in both light and heavy oils of 1,183 barrels.

Generally large increases in heavy oils kept the decrease at a lower figure than it might have been otherwise.

Oklahoma registered a drop in production of 12,345 barrels. A total of 10,799 barrels of this was accounted for in the Seminole area.

The West Texas drop was, but nominal, with 1,063 barrels.

The Mid-Continent areas, however, registered a decrease of 17,482 barrels in light oils with an additional small decrease in heavy oils.

The Gulf Coast heavy oils increased approximately 3,000 barrels while the Southwest Texas heavy oils decreased nominally.

California's light oil production was virtually constant while an increase of approximately 7,000 barrels was registered.

Smith Hopes for Birthday Present For His Wife

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Governor Alfred E. Smith, hopes the voters will make his wife first lady of the land as a birthday gift.

Today is Mrs. Smith's birthday and the only other time during their marriage last election day fell on Nov. 6 was ten years ago when her husband was first elected governor of New York. Election of her husband to the presidency today, said Mrs. Smith, was the only thing she wanted. "And," she added, "I'm going to get it, too."

Satisfied with the campaign he had made, Governor Smith awaited the verdict of the nation confident that he and his running mate, Senator Joe T. Robinson, would "go together to victory."

The governor and his wife decided to vote at noon. They had to go to a stationery store in Forty-eighth street, near Madison avenue, polling place for the precinct in which the Hotel Biltmore, their city residence, is located.

In the evening the governor will pay an early visit to Tammany Hall and later in heavy oils.

The grand total estimated daily average production for the entire country for the week was 2,504,198 as compared to 2,513,978 during the week ending Oct. 27.

Policeman Hurt Attempting to Halt Eggging of Parade

WORCHESTER, Mass., Nov. 6.—(AP)—An election eve disturbance in which a policeman was beaten senseless, women manhandled and 10,000 marchers in a Republican demonstration showered with eggs, oil, bricks and refuse furnished a spectacular conclusion to the political campaign in this city.

Although warned of impending trouble by reports during the day of an extraordinary demand for eggs, police proved helpless in the face of jeering thousands who assailed the marchers.

Harry Hyde, a patrolman, was knocked unconscious and lost several teeth when he attempted to intervene in a brawling group while Mrs. Lloyd Byrd was taken to the city hospital with a horn shoved down her throat.

then will hear the returns at the national Democratic headquarters in the General Motors building on Broadway and later at the Biltmore.

Handkerchief Scarfs Start Hat Fashion

PARIS (AP)—Spotting handkerchief scarfs, which became an established form of head covering last summer, may be traced in some of the velvet evening hats here. They are in permanent form and not meant to be tied and untied with each wearing.

Made with a real or simulated knot at the back the velvet hats, they fit smoothly over the forehead and usually are draped at one side.

ROUND OAK

GAS RANGE.

"It would be a pleasure to cook if it would always come out like that does."

"She seems to know just exactly what is going to happen when she puts meat in that range."

"Isn't that meat broiled just delicious? And she cooked four kinds of meat and four vegetables in the same oven at the same time and it didn't burn anyone of them."

Mrs. Ihrig says: "We used to broil meat over hot coals and thought we had delicious meals, but with a Round Oak Range you get a more tasty food with all the richness of flavor, an evenness of heat, and thorough cooking."

A tasting test— and the surprise it gave Mrs. Atherton

Beef Fritters

Bits of cold left-over beef, useless for anything else, make a delicious meal for four people.

1 cup chopped cold beef	1 cup flour
1 tablespoon chopped onion	1 egg, beaten
1 tablespoon chopped parsley	2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon pepper	1 cup milk
	1/2 teaspoon salt

Beat egg, add milk, flour and baking powder sifted together. Beat smooth. Add remaining ingredients. Mix well. Drop by spoonfuls into Crisco heated to 360° F. or when bread crumbs brown in 60 seconds. Fry until brown and thoroughly cooked. Drain on brown paper. Serve with any left-over gravy or the following sauce:

2 tablespoons Crisco	1 tablespoon parsley
2 tablespoons flour	1 bouillon cube
3 tablespoons minced onion	1/2 cup hot water
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce	1 tablespoon lemon juice

Melt Crisco. Add onion; cook slowly until it begins to brown. Add the flour. Mix well, then add the parsley. Then the cube dissolved in the water. Stir over fire until thick, then add the Worcestershire and lemon juice.

Fried Drop Doughnuts

A quick, easy way—no tiresome rolling and cutting. They should be fried slowly but you can fry slowly in Crisco without the doughnut coating the fat or being at all greasy.

1/2 cup sugar	1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
2 cups pastry flour	1/2 cup sweet milk
2 eggs separated	2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 cup walnut meats	1/2 cup whole raisins
1/2 teaspoon salt

Beat egg yolks light. Add sugar. Beat until foamy. Then add milk, then nuts and raisins. Last flour, baking powder, salt and nutmeg sifted together. Mix all together thoroughly. Last fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Drop from teaspoon into deep Crisco, heated to 360° F. or when a bread crumb browns in 60 seconds. Fry slowly until golden brown. Test with a toothpick. When cool, roll in powdered sugar.

Fried Spinach Balls

A new and delicious way to make a little left-over spinach go a long way. Prepare them any time and fry in Crisco in two minutes when you are ready to use them or fry them when you make them and re-heat them in the oven a day or two later.

2 cups cooked spinach, chopped	1 cup dry bread crumbs
2 tablespoons Crisco	2 tablespoons grated cheese
2 tablespoons grated onion	1 egg, beaten
1/2 cup milk	1/2 teaspoon salt

Combine ingredients and let stand 10 minutes to swell crumbs. Shape into balls. Put egg in bowl with 1/2 cup water. Beat together until mixed. Roll balls in crumbs, then in egg and then in crumbs again. Drop in hot deep Crisco 360° F. or when a bread crumb browns in 60 seconds, until brown. Drain on soft paper and serve.

Balloons

1 cup water	3 eggs unbeaten
1 tablespoon Crisco	1 cup pastry flour
	1/2 teaspoon salt

Put water and Crisco in saucepan, bring to boiling point. Remove from fire. Add flour and salt. Return to fire, beat until it forms a paste which leaves side of pan. Remove from fire. Add the eggs one at a time, beating each in thoroughly. Drop by teaspoonfuls in moderately hot Crisco 350-360° F. or when a small piece of bread browns in 60 seconds; fry until puffed and well browned. Test with a toothpick; drain on soft paper; cool. Make slit in one side with sharp knife; put in teaspoon of sweetened whipped cream or jam. Dust with powdered sugar. Serve same day.

MRS. R. E. ATHERTON had been cooking for years but until she saw our suggestion to test Crisco by actually tasting it right from the can, such a test for shortening had never occurred to her.

She was so surprised and delighted with Crisco's taste that she sat down and wrote us all about it.

"I had always considered that for success in cake making the finest grade of butter was an indispensable essential. But one day I found myself short of butter, when I was especially anxious that my cake should be the best of its kind. Rather doubtfully I looked at my Crisco, and then, thinking how clean and creamy it looked, somewhat apprehensively tasted it. Greatly to my surprise I found it distinctly more palatable than the scrap of butter whose meagerness I had been bemoaning. I used Crisco for the shortening in that cake, which proved to be as good as, if not the best, I ever made."

See if the test suggested below doesn't give you, too, the surprise of your whole cooking experience:

Put a little Crisco on the tip of a spoon. On the tip of another, a little of any other shortening. Taste first Crisco, then the other fat.

Had you imagined there could be such a difference in the taste of cooking fats? Is it any wonder that such a sweet, fresh shortening brings out to best advantage the delicate flavor of foods you prepare with it?

When you try one of the recipes given here, notice that Crisco does not smoke at proper frying temperature or fill your home with cooking odors.

You taste your milk...
You test your eggs...
NOW—taste your shortening

Crisco's sweet flavor will delight you!

BEING CONDUCTED THIS WEEK

Little Harvesters Hold White Deer to 13-0 Score

The Harvester third team journeyed to White Deer yesterday afternoon where they tangled with the first team of that town. The local youngsters held the big White Deer eleven to a 13 to 0 score, outplaying them in the last half but unable to cross the goal line. A return game will be played here Friday afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

Little Joe Kahl and his boys although outweighed at least fifteen pounds to the man held the White Deer eleven to two touchdowns and played them to a standstill at times. The midgets will be put through some strenuous practices this week Coach Mitchell says and with some extra men who will be out this week should beat the neighboring boys.

In the backfield Raysdale and Lewter were the big ground gainers while Little Joe Kahl was passing and running ends like a veteran. Ledrick, Holmes and Thomas also shone in backs and end runs while in the game. In the line Connie Lockhart was a stone wall and a pile driving machine on the offensive. He was ably assisted by Bus Benton.

Both White Deer touchdowns came in the first quarter before the Harvesters were organized. This is the first game the kids have played this season and they showed up like veterans after the first quarter.

"The youngsters played great football," Coach Mitchell said after the game. "I'm sure proud of them and there is a world of material for future teams in the bunch."

The Harvesters were excused from practice last evening and accompanied the team to White Deer.

Long Postponed Bout Will Hold Much Interest

Walter Varner, local middleweight, will meet Speedy Sparks, Lawton middleweight, in a ten-round boxing exhibition at the Pla-Mor auditorium Thursday night. This is the bout that has been in the matching for several months but has never materialized until now.

The Roxana Oil company's sensational boxer is well known in this territory. He has been fighting a number of years and has met and defeated the best in his class. He has recent victories over Mickey Walker, Bucky Harris, Freddy Whittington and other good boys. Varner is an aggressive fighter who never lets up.

In the semi-final Speedy Snow, local boy, will meet Fighting Joe Lamb of Houston. These boys are lightweights and fast with a sleep punch in either hand. The other big bout on the card will bring together "Dog Face" Ed, local negro pugilist, and Calvin Jones of Port Worth.

Good fast preliminaries by the local boys will open the card.

FRENCH CABINET QUILTS IN FAVOR OF RADICALS

PARIS, Nov. 6.—(P)—The Poincare cabinet, in office since July 23, 1926, resigned today after four radical socialist ministers offered their resignations. The radicals who resigned were Albert Sarraut, minister of interior; Edouard Herriot, minister of education; Henri Queille, minister of Agriculture, and Leon Perrier, minister of colonies.

The radicals announced their party's program made continued collaboration with the national union cabinet impossible.

Backs Stage Duel

For three periods the Iowa-Minnesota game at Iowa City, the other day, was just a football game. Neither had scored and a scoreless tie seemed inevitable.

Then Fred Howde, Minnesota half-back (below), snatched a rolling punt from his own nine-yard line, and ran the length of the field for a touchdown. On the second play after the kickoff, Oran Pape, six-foot soph-

Carnegie Tech to Hold Attention in Georgetown Game

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(P)—There are half a dozen intercollegiate contests on the eastern college football schedule next Saturday but only two of them will take much of the center spotlight away from the Georgetown-Carnegie Tech battle of undefeated teams at Albany, N. Y.

Nearly 80,000 will see Army tangle with Notre Dame at New York and close to 70,000 are expected at the Navy-Michigan battle at Baltimore.

Army's undefeated record will be at stake in the Yankee Stadium. Notre Dame, beaten by Wisconsin and Georgia Tech, has been coming along fast but there are few who believe Knute Rockne's eleven can upset the Cadets, who already have disposed of such outstanding teams as Southern Methodist, Yale, and Harvard.

Michigan and Navy have known defeat rather often this season but both have shown remarkable recuperative powers. After three successive setbacks, the midshipmen have defeated Duke, Pennsylvania and West Virginia Wesleyan in a row. Michigan accepted four reverses before staging one of the seasons outstanding upsets with a 3-0 victory over Illinois last Saturday.

Granite Winning All Recent Bouts

Kid Granite, local lightweight boxer, has just completed a month of hard battles and he has the enviable record of winning every fight he took part in.

more substitute (above), smashed his way through the Minnesota team for a 62-yard run and a touchdown. All of this happened in one minute and twenty seconds. Minnesota missed its point after touchdown but the Hawkeyes made theirs and won, 7 to 6.

Nebraska Star

You might think, from the press reports, that Blue Howell is just about everything in the Nebraska backfield. Well, here's a young man whose name is Clair Sloane and he is one of the reasons why Nebraska seems headed for championship of its section and perhaps a claim at the national title.

the local boy in his five battles met and defeated three welterweights. He is one of the fastest boys in the Southwest who does not know the meaning of back-up. Aggressive and a hard hitter, Granite has some sensational wins in his few years in the ring.

His most recent victories have been over Cyclone Hall, in the local ring, whom he conceded at least ten pounds and won; Jack Doss whom he won a decision over in ten rounds at Clinton, Oklahoma; Tiger Strand, decision in ten rounds at Hutchinson, Kan.; Wop Citizen, knockout in two rounds at Cordell, Okla.; and Kid Doran, a technical knockout in ten rounds at Clinton, Oklahoma.

St. Paul Boxer Badly Hurt in Vicious Battle

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—(P)—Billy Showers, youthful St. Paul middleweight boxer, was believed to be in a critical condition today, suffering from either concussion of the brain, a hemorrhage of a fracture at the base of the brain, as the result of a vicious ring battle with Shuffle Callahan of Chicago.

After absorbing a terrific punishment in the scheduled 10-round bout at White City last night, Showers collapsed and fell unconscious in the sixth round. After physicians had worked for 45 minutes attempting to revive him, a pulmotor squad from a nearby fire department was called but it also failed. He then was taken to a hospital.

Callahan had several stitches taken over his eye to close but wound suffered in the fight and then was taken into custody under no charge by the police, pending outcome of Showers' injuries.

SPLIT SEASON ELIMINATED
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 6.—(P)—Elimination of the split season and the re-election of John D. Martin of Memphis for period of five years, at an increased salary of $10,000 annually, were voted here last night at the annual business session of the Southern association. Southern association directors also settled a controversy as to the club that place.

MRS. IHRIG

"I certainly must congratulate the ladies of Pampa on their interest in cooking and cooking school. This is the first cooking school ever held in Pampa and I was surely surprised yesterday to see so many come for the first day. It is always difficult the first day to carry on as interesting a demonstration as it is the other days of the school. I have more time to make plans and the programs for today and those remaining will be more interesting than ever. Something different will be given each day and the boys of the News say that they are arranging some very nice prizes given by the merchants who are co-operating in putting on the school."

main dish for luncheon. Stag salad, containing both meat and vegetables, provide popular with the audience. Arzyle salad showed the possibilities of creating a beautiful dish from fresh vegetables and meats.

A tempting recipe and one much in demand by those who saw yesterday's demonstration on "Emergency Meals," is the following for escalloped oysters Creole.

Cook one box of vermicelli in salted boiling water. While the vermicelli is cooking, put three tablespoons of Crisco in a pan and saute one tablespoon of chopped green peppers; add three tablespoons of flour and one cup of milk, cooking until smooth, add one-half cup of grated cheese and two pinches of salt, and one teaspoon of Gebhardt's chili powder; add one pint of oysters and cook until they curl. Drain the vermicelli and line a flat baking dish. Put the oyster cream sauce over it and sprinkle buttered bread crumbs over top. Heat until crumbs brown.

Mrs. Ihrig is a teacher rather than a lecturer, and she insists upon making each day's class a "kitchen party." The party atmosphere is sustained in the giving of free prizes every day.

Prizes were given yesterday to twelve ladies who attended the school. The Proctor and Gamble company gave a large can of Crisco, which Mrs. Ihrig uses in her cooking. Stark & McMullen, distributors for Gold Medal flour, gave two twelve-pound sacks of flour and the Calumet company sent several cans of Calumet which were given.

Several loaves of bread and a cake were given by the Dilley bakeries and Mrs. Ihrig gave several delicacies which she baked.

"BOLT" HOLDS MAIN INTEREST OF ELECTORATE

Controversy to Offset Bad Weather in Some Cases

MOODY STILL IS CONFIDENT

Anti-Smith Men May Use Advantage in 1930

By L. B. DILBECK, Associated Press Correspondent.

AUSTIN, Nov. 6 (AP)—Lowering clouds, mist and rain over the heavy voting area of Texas this morning threatened to diminish the expected this state by a national election. Copious rains, muddying the rural roads, fell over wide areas of South and Central Texas yesterday and last night. Clouds, mist and fog variously held sway at Fort Worth, San Antonio, Dallas and Houston, the four largest vote centers of the state. It was raining this morning along the gulf coast, including the cities of Beaumont, Port Arthur and Galveston.

Speculation as to the size of the "bolt" from the ruling Democratic ranks of the traditionally Democratic state, to the Republican national ticket as the result of the crusade against Governor Alfred E. Smith, Democratic presidential nominee, held the main interest in Texas, outside of the national outcome.

Some Evade Pledge

If the "bolt" is large enough, it may furnish the vehicle for state races in 1930 by some of the anti-Smith leaders. They claim that many "Hoover Democrats" stayed out of this year's primaries to evade Democratic pledges and will vote the Republican national ticket today.

Governor Moody, who expected to go today to Taylor, his home, to vote, said late yesterday that he still expected Texas to "roll up a big majority for the Democratic ticket." Two hundred thousand majority is claimed by the regular Democratic campaign organization. Herbert Hoover Republican presidential candidate, is given a 50,000 to 100,000 victory in predictions by "Hoover Democrat" campaign officials, and Republicans claim a "substantial majority."

In 1924, when John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate was the unanimous choice of Texas Democrats, he polled 478,425 votes against 128,240 for President Coolidge. The total vote then was 606,665. This includes the largest "Republican" bolt the state ever had—394,000 votes for George B. Butler, Republican candidate for Governor, against Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson's 422,558.

Whether the sentiment against Governor Smith is as strong as that against Mrs. Ferguson, opposed by the then powerful Ku Klux Klan, is problematical.

HOUSTON, Nov. 6 (AP)—A steady drizzle began falling here early last night and continued today. Despite the rain in the early voting in Houston was unusually heavy, but the balloting in the outlying districts was showing the effect of the slick roads.

This county, in which Governor Smith was chosen to carry democracy's banner, and which also is the home of Alvin Moody, president of the Anti-Smith Democrats, was considered debatable territory in the presidential race.

SHERMAN, Nov. 6 (AP)—A slow rain was falling in Grayson county today at the hour when polls opened but on account of the unusual interest manifested in the presidential campaign, inclement weather probably will not lessen materially the size of the vote.

Local Jeweler Killed as Plane Goes Into Spin

C. L. Still, local jeweler, and J. S. Phillips, commercial pilot operating between here and Electra, were burned to death when the gasoline tank on their plane exploded after a nose dive at the Electra landing field late yesterday afternoon. The two men were taking up a re-built Waco plane owned by Mr. Still, and when at a height of about 200 feet the plane went into a nose dive.

According to a report received here this morning by Joe Berry, an intimate friend of Mr. Still's, the undertaker found a bird in Mr. Still's clothing after the accident. It is believed that Mr. Still, who was at the controls, was either stunned or blinded.

The plane had just been returned from Dallas where it had been re-built following a tornado in which it was following a tornado in which it was ploded after the plane hit the ground. Both men were pinned under the debris. An acetylene torch was used to cut portions of the plane that held Phillips' body.

Mr. Still moved to Pampa about six months ago after purchasing the Russell Jewellery store. He was interested in aviation and had been flying for the last six years. His pilot, Mr. Phillips, was a veteran aviator, having served in France with the American air force. He instructed Mr. Still in flying.

Both the men were in accidents on the local landing field. Mr. Phillips and two local men received slight injuries when their plane crashed into a telegraph pole in the Channing addition some months ago. Two months ago, Mr. Still smashed his Eaglerock plane in a forced landing. He was uninjured.

districts. There are quite a number now active, but there is room for many more. The more there are in the race the easier it will be to win, because voting will be split up more.

An entry blank, good for 2,000 votes appears elsewhere in today's paper. When the first count is made tomorrow, several of the later starters apparently, will be in advantageous positions, proving that it isn't when you start to work in this contest that counts, but what you do when you do start to work!

In connection with the taking of subscriptions, contestants are asked to be careful in filling in their subscription stubs. Be sure to get the correct name and address, and write plainly on the stub. Otherwise it is difficult to make prompt and correct delivery of the paper. Contestants should turn in their subscriptions every day or so in order that their new subscribers may receive the paper promptly.
