Woodrow Wilson Has Eliminations for League

Contestants from Woodrow Wilson school for the interscholastic league meet were selected in eliminations this week.

First grade story telling—Josephine Caserton first, Victor Colburn second, Leona Mae Young third...

Boys' declamation—Billy Waters first, John Tom McCoy second, J. D. Williams third...

A new date for a trip to West Texas Teachers college, Canyon, by the Woodrow Wilson band and glee club has been set after previous plans were spoiled by bad weather.

Chapel for fourth, fifth and sixth grades will begin at 2 p. m. tomorrow. Parents and friends of the students are invited.

MIND your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usages by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

- 1. When a friend dies, to whom are flowers sent if one does not know any member of the bereaved family? 2. How may one show his sympathy at the death of a friend? 3. May a man refuse to serve as a pallbearer? 4. May one show his appreciation for kindness shown at the time of a death by printing an acknowledgment in the columns of a newspaper? 5. If you are merely an acquaintance of the deceased, should you take a seat toward the rear of the church at the funeral? 6. What would you do if— a person with whom you have been connected in a business way dies, and there is a general notice of the funeral in the newspaper? (a) Go to the church and to the burial? (b) Do not attend the funeral? (c) Go to the service at the church? Answers 1. They are addressed to the deceased. 2. By writing "With sympathy" on his card and leaving it at the house, or by writing a letter to the family, in addition to sending flowers. 3. Yes, but the appreciation also must be written. Neither are engraved nor printed cards of appreciation correct. 4. Yes. (There are no ushers at a funeral). 5. Best "What Would You Do" solution—(c).

Band Parents at Woodrow Wilson Hear a Program

About 100 persons heard the program featuring junior band members at Woodrow Wilson school last evening when the Band Parents club met in the auditorium.

A nominating committee, Mmes. Annie Daniels, O. L. Qualls, and L. E. Keek, was appointed to select a ticket of officers for next year.

TALK OF RISE IN CRUDE OIL PRICE GROWS

BY ALFRED WALL.

TULSA, March 24 (P)—The spirits of oil men brightened today over a pickup in the movement of motor fuel which had developed into an eighth of a cent a gallon advance in the midwestern tank car price.

Along with the more encouraging picture of the refining end, talk of a spring advance in the price of crude oil became louder. There were many who were against it.

The talk of another general advance in the crude price was persistent despite the new high mark in production registered for the week. It found its basis in the obvious fact that many a big refiner was hunting for oil busily.

In view of the latest inventories showing another increase in the nation's stock of crude oil, there was general approval of Texas' decision to cut the April allowable better than 50,000 barrels daily under the March figure.

There remained some concern over the labor situation, what with the CIO and the AFL engaged in a campaign of organization in the industry. Hints were heard that some companies might be increasing their refined stocks to assure some reserve in case of a shut-down.

In West Texas some wells considered big even for that state of heavy production were completed in Crane, Ector, Ward and Winkler counties. The permian basin added 39 new wells to the week's total completions computed by the Oil and Gas Journal at 524 for the nation, 44 less than the week before.

Tennessee Cotton Picker in Soviet Fields

That Soviet Russia is moving toward industrialization of agriculture, particularly cotton, and that the Soviet has plenty of cotton to industrialize, is shown by these two photographs. Below is the Rust Cotton picker, with John Rust, one of its two brother inventors of Memphis, Tenn., shown, arm extended, during an experimental tryout near Tashkent, Asiatic Russia. Rust, who has just returned to the United States after seven months spent in Russia adapting the invention to Russian needs, predicted mass production by the government there within a year. The upper photo shows tests being made with a Russian-made cotton picker, a suction type with tubes operated by hand. The photo also gives evidence of the productivity of Russian cotton fields.

SENATE VOTES TO REMIT ALL COUNTY TAXES

AUSTIN, March 24 (P)—The Texas legislature paused in its work today to hear an address by Postmaster General James A. Farley after an active night session in which the House engrossed 50 and passed 40 and the Senate approved finally 40 bills of minor nature.

The House bill remitting to all counties their portion of the ad valorem taxes they collect for the state; estimated at $8,500,000, received approval of the Senate state affairs committee without a dissenting vote.

After lengthy argument, the House deferred action on a compulsory motor vehicle inspection proposal.

A bill intended to prevent the spread of diseases among citrus fruit by banning California and Florida shipments in Texas should diseases be found in them, another taxing the fruit five cents a box for advertising purposes and a third providing for prorating of sales with permission of growers and shippers, were among those passed to final reading in the House.

Also engrossed was a proposal to prohibit commercial fishing in Lake Corpus Christi, the Nueces river from Callahan dam to the west boundary of Live Oak county and in all tributaries in Live Oak, San Patricio and Nueces counties.

Tuesday was set by a Senate committee for a hearing on a House resolution asking Congress to enable state and local units to tax oil in storage preparatory to interstate movement together with the proposal to increase the oil tax from 2 1/2 cents per barrel.

RAIN, SLEET AND SAND HIT TEXAS IN NIGHT

DALLAS, March 24 (P)—Gusty March winds whipped dust, rain, sleet and sand through Texas overnight.

Slight crop damage was reported last night, trailing a slashing rain-storm whose precipitation was nearly an inch in three hours.

Out of the northeast corner of the Panhandle dust swirled in the wake of heavy rains, cutting visibility at times to 200 yards. The dust reached its thickest as winds blew at 65 miles an hour in the Amarillo area. The winds kicked up heavy clouds of sand.

Slight crop damage was expected from the blowing sand and dust.

Sleet struck Austin last night along with a heavy rain.

In a windstorm near Electra Mrs. Roy Welch was cut by flying glass.

Rebels Dig in to Resist Loyalists

MADRID, March 24 (P)—Insurgent Spanish armies, in the role of the besieged, dug in to withstand government assault far northeast of the capital today while a sudden insurgent sea sortie left men, women and children dead and dying in a Catalan coastal town.

An insurgent warship was said by reports of Febus (Spanish news agency) to have bombarded Castellon de la Plana, 40 miles north of Valencia, early Tuesday. One shell fell near a kiosk in the central plaza, killing seven persons and wounding 30, many of them women and children, Febus said.

Air attacks predominated in the military actions on the northern Guadaluajara and Jarama river lines, with Gen. Francisco Franco's insurgents entrenching to withstand government siege near Almadrones, 58 miles northeast of the capital in Guadaluajara province.

The Spanish government has charged at least 30,000 Italian soldiers constituted Franco's Guadaluajara army.

Government bombers, accompanied by strong escorts of pursuit ships, lashed at the insurgent lines near Almadrones.

Government infantrymen, simultaneously, fought off insurgent attacks closer to Madrid.

GOVERNMENT PROCLAIMS FRUIT FLY QUARANTINE IN RIO GRANDE VALLEY

HARLINGEN, March 24 (P)—By truck and train Rio Grande valley citrus men hurriedly shipped out grapefruit today to beat a federal fruit fly quarantine set for midnight.

The federal order forbade shipment of citrus into 17 states and Puerto Rico in a firm move to isolate and stamp out the mores or Mexican fruit fly which presumably slipped across the border into the valley's extensive orange and grapefruit groves.

The U. S. Bureau of Entomology office here, which announced the quarantine, said orange shipments would not be halted until March 31.

Paul A. Hoidale, chief entomologist here, said specimen larvae and adult flies were found throughout the valley.

Two hundred and fifty carloads of fruit were moved yesterday. Citrus growers were striving today to move as much of the remaining 2,000 carloads as possible before midnight. The remainder represented about $1,000,000 of the valley's $12,000,000 crop.

Railroads rushed extra locomotives and cars to speed movement of the fruit. The quarantine will apply to truck, freight, express and passenger car shipments.

States affected were: Alabama, Arkansas, Arizona, California, Georgia, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi, Nevada, New Mexico, South Carolina, North Carolina, Texas, Tennessee, Washington, Oklahoma and Oregon.

Dust Storm Sweeps Sooner Panhandle

BOISE CITY, Okla., March 24 (P)—Dust spread over most of Oklahoma, southwestern Kansas and the southern plains section of Texas today, causing the closing of schools in this Panhandle city the second time this year.

Driven in by a north wind, the "duster" cut visibility to zero here yesterday and was described today as being "as bad as we've had this year."

The dust spread to virtually all sections of Oklahoma today despite yesterday's general rains which measured up to 1.7 inches at Wewoka.

At Cherokee visibility was reduced to a block at 8 a. m. today.

It cleared somewhat later, however, and visibility was extended to two blocks at 9:30 a. m.

CHILD LABOR ACT PROPOSED BY MONTANAN

SENATOR WHEELER TO PUSH LEGISLATION IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, March 24 (P)—Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.) declaring many Roosevelt objectives could be attained without change either in the Supreme Court or the constitution, proposed legislation today to subject child labor products to the laws of the state into which shipment has been made.

Amid signs of impatience at slow progress of hearings on the administration judiciary bill, Wheeler and other of its opponents contended the legislative program was being unduly delayed, "as if this bill must be enacted before Congress can accomplish real work."

"I'm not introducing my bill to hinder the child labor amendment," Wheeler explained, "but because I'm convinced it would be held constitutional."

"Much of the other labor and farm legislation, if carefully drafted, could be effective 'now' and be held constitutional by the court as it is."

Wheeler designed his child labor bill in line with the Hawes-Cooper and Ashurst-Sumners acts, which forbid transportation of prison-made goods into states which ban their sale. The Supreme Court unanimously upheld those laws.

In line with arguments made in the Senate hearings late yesterday by Rep. Lemke (R., N. D.), Wheeler contended that much of the difficulty encountered by recent legislation in the courts resulted from poor drafting, "employment of inadequate defense by government counsel."

"I'm against NRA," he said, "Nevertheless, I believe legislation like NRA could be phrased in a constitutional manner."

The Wheeler bill would define child labor as "employment of a minor under the age of 16 years." Exceptions would be granted for employment of children in farming. Transportation of child labor products into states which prohibit their sale would be barred. The articles would have to be labeled as produced by children, showing the hours they worked and how much schooling they had.

JAYCEES WILL MEET ON NEXT TUESDAY EVENING

Regular meeting of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce next week will be held on Tuesday night instead of the usual Monday night.

The time was changed to permit of a special program being arranged in honor of Carl Benefiel, member of the Jaycee board of directors, who will leave Pampa April 1 to make his home in Enid, Okla.

Visitors from several cities throughout the Panhandle are expected to attend the meeting Tuesday night, which will be known as "Carl Benefiel Night."

The program is scheduled to open with a banquet at 8 p. m. Arrangements are in charge of Clarence Kennedy, general program chairman.

Points Out 'Congress Duty'

"You cannot amend a state of mind," Robert H. Jackson, assistant United States Attorney General, cheerfully points out at the Senate's public hearing on the administration to re-organize the Supreme Court. Plumping for enlargement of the court, Jackson voted it was Congress' duty to see that the court does not become "an instrumentality for the defeat of constitutional government."

"Hundreds of letters and telegrams have been sent to me," the Governor said, "asking information as to where contributions might be made for the purpose of erecting

Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminants, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

PUBLIC INTEREST DEMANDS FAIR PLAY!

Texas now has good state laws for the regulation—in the public interest—of all transportation. These laws are helping to stabilize transportation, and all business and industry that has to use transportation. These laws are helping to reduce the terrible accident toll on your highways. They are helping to conserve your investment in your highways.

Regulation of transportation in the United States has been developed over a period of fifty years. Reasonable regulation is admitted to be both advisable and necessary in the public interest.

Strict regulation of one form of transportation and the lessening of regulation of any other form is unfair and un-American, and can only result in crippling that part of your transportation facilities which is handicapped—without any resulting benefit to the people of Texas.

Texas railroads obey the rules of the game,—those imposed by the agencies of government and those taken on voluntarily in the interest of public safety.

Texas railroads are spending this year, large sums of money for new and modern equipment—locomotives, freight and passenger cars, improved rail and roadbed facilities, and are expediting freight and passenger schedules to meet growing public demands. All of this is being done in the interest of improved service to the public and at the lowest rates in twenty years.

All the railroads of Texas are asking—have ever asked—is a FAIR DEAL in a fair field.

FIVE PERSONS DIE IN CRASH NEAR SANTONE

AUSTIN, March 24 (P)—Five persons were dead and two lay critically injured in a hospital today—the aftermath of an automobile-truck collision on the San Antonio highway south of here.

The tragedy occurred when a vehicle loaded with instruments and baggage of the Glenn Lee dance orchestra, en route from Shreveport, La., to San Antonio, and a sedan, owned by Ed Davenport of Dallas, crashed on a hilltop.

Davenport died shortly after he was taken to a hospital. The dead also included Sanford Hendry of Salt Lake City, Utah, and Edgar Ewell Williamson of Ogden, Utah, members of the orchestra, Donald Tate of Kingman county, Kas., passenger in the sedan, and Earl Roberts of Dallas, Davenport's chauffeur.

Miss Jewell Denton of San Antonio, who was riding in the sedan, and John H. Heiden of Freeport, Ill., another bandman, were in a serious condition. Both suffered severe fractures.

William Moon of San Antonio, an eye-witness, said the orchestra van passed him as he neared a hilltop. At the same instant the sedan drove over the crest and crashed sideways into the truck. The pavement was slick from rain.

SPENDS TWO DAYS COUNTING $400 IN MILLS.

STOCKTON, Calif. (P)—John Keep, Stockton lumberman, knows at least that he wasn't cheated.

After spending almost two days counting mill sales tax tokens a customer had given him in payment of a $400 bill, Keep discovered he had been overpaid 15 mills.

nation to be accepted for this purpose. The horrible catastrophe not only touched the families and immediate friends of the victims, but has reached out and shocked every home in America. Everyone has felt a sense of personal grief and has mourned with the bereaved parents."

CHARITY DOESN'T CURE POVERTY

There is a well-to-do gentleman in New York who fills his pockets with dimes every Saturday and sets out to indulge a quaint and peculiar hobby.

He goes to some likely street corner and stands there, waiting for the down-and-outs, the vagrants, and the ne'er-do-wells to shuffle past. As they pass he shells out his dimes, one to each man, dipping deep into his pocket until the supply is gone.

He doesn't care what his charges do with their dimes—whether they spend them for a flophouse bed, a cup of coffee, a sandwich, or a shot of Bowery "smoke". It's the giving that interests him; and, as he says, the dimes "at least make them happy."

That is probably true enough. When a man has nothing at all, it doesn't take much to lift his spirits a bit; a shiny dime in the palm of the hand brings a momentary glow, and, since happiness is none too plentiful in any walk of life, it is hard to begrudge this dime-giver his unusual hobby.

But without reflection in the least on the motives of this kind-hearted New Yorker, it ought to be remarked that the brother-can-you-spare-a-dime method of dealing with abject poverty isn't nearly good enough these days. For while you can make a destitute man happy by handing him a dime—or a basket of food, a work-relief order, or a voucher for a ton of coal—he still is as destitute as he was before you met him, once your bounty is exhausted.

Now a good deal of nonsense has been written and spoken about the evils of "the system" that plunges men into poverty. Much of it is the veriest soapbox claptrap. But when all the hokum has been cleared away, the fact does remain that we live in a world which somehow produces poverty as well as riches, misery as well as happiness, bleak despair as well as bright hope.

It is as clear as daylight that ordinary "relief"—whether in the form of private charity or government dole doesn't change matters much. It is vitally necessary, to be sure, but it is only a cushion to break a man's fall, not a ralling to keep him from falling in the first place.

If we are ever to make our charity really effective, we must find some way of applying it ahead of time. We must beat poverty to the punch. We must worry about the victim of poverty before he becomes a victim of poverty, and find some way to keep our social system from dumping a few million destitute people in our laps every so often.

That is a large order. We shan't find the answer overnight. But we can make a good start by at least realizing that this is what our problem really is. A good beginning is to recognize the fact that giving away dimes is no solution at all.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER WASHINGTON — Official Washington and the calmer heads among labor would like mighty well to see an end of the sit-down but nobody has advanced any remedy except to grant all the labor requests for more money for less work. And that idea, carried to its ultimate, frightens official Washington more.

The fact is that the sit-down idea, crazy as it seems, has worked in an amazingly high percentage of cases. What vexes some of the labor leaders is that it works just about as well for some outlying band of workers not affiliated with any organized labor movement, as it does for the union men who only a year or so ago were battling out their troubles on the picket lines.

Already there is evidence that even those deeply sympathetic with labor, including a large portion of the public, are becoming as bored and annoyed by sit-downers as they once were at flag-pole sitters.

Scarcely an official or unofficial voice in Washington defends the sit-down on the ground of legality and all wish the idea really would get funny enough to be laughed out of existence before it is shot out.

The idea of higher wages is not upsetting here as a general thing and not a few business men have felt labor was entitled to a bigger bite of the industrial pie. But Chairman Eccles of the federal reserve board bluntly protested that just about every wage increase was accompanied by a price increase that more than offset the better wages.

It doesn't take any fancy running around in the economic m.e.s to convince even the plainest people that that won't work, at least for long. And that is precisely what Eccles was talking about. He didn't say so in his statement but it was plain that he meant simply this:

It won't be a smart idea to start into another depression while the national pants pockets are full of I-Owe-Me bonds.

The point that Eccles did not solve was how to balance the budget without pain. He suggested taxes and congress shuddered almost to a man.

The chief unbalancing feature of the budget, relief, drew from Eccles only that he did not favor balancing it at the expense of those needing relief. And what's the picture there? Harry Hopkins, WPA administrator, said 1937 would find 6,500,000 to 7,500,000 unemployed. "Indeed," he said, "it is conceivable that industrial production might level off or go into a decline, in which case the unemployment problem would be correspondingly larger."

TEX'S TOPICS

Judge B. S. Via has returned to Pampa after another of his many jaunts about the country. . . . Now he is preparing to settle down very soon in the practice of law. . . . Incidentally the judge has received a letter from an old Spanish-American War comrade back in Uniontown, Pa. . . . It is the first contact in 38 years.

Several months ago we stood on a street corner for 15 minutes one afternoon and then recorded what passed before our eyes in this column the next day. . . . Yesterday, we had a request to do that again from another person we found who reads religiously (she says) what appears here. . . . We shall do that again between 1:30 and 1:45 p. m. tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon. . . . So, if you'd rather not see your name in this space on Friday—do not pass at Kingsmill and Cuyler during that 15-minute period. . . . You can't say we didn't warn you.

Cargo-passenger snip constructed under new U. S. safety regulations, and 99 percent unburnable, has been completed for inter-island trade between Puerto Rico and Virgin Islands. . . . less than one percent of materials used are wood. . . . German is building new waterway, comparable to proposed St. Lawrence project. . . . it is a canal connecting the Rhine, Danube. . . . big trouble is they don't know whether to get past Bavarian hills by locks or tunnels.

Moscow zoo, one of largest and most frequented in world, has solved problem of its excess animal and bird population. . . . by distributing young pets to children on lottery basis. . . . some parents squawked on taking wild pigs into homes. . . . Mild weather this winter has hit in another sector. . . . subways and elevated in New York have had less business. . . . because of lack of snow to disrupt surface traffic. . . . everybody drives to work.

Luis Russini, 20, fell asleep at San Paulo, Brazil, and awoke 18 days later. . . . then he upbraided his physicians because they had failed to arouse him from stupor in time to permit his participation in a carnival. . . . Boasting of 35 radio stations, more than any other city in the world, Shanghai is now attempting to ease congestion of ether and raise standard of broadcasts. . . . they have already ordered eight stations off the air.

A weighty problem has just been settled by Sir Rollo Campbell, London police court magistrate. . . . The Roundabout Club of York street was being prosecuted as "a common gambling house." . . . The judge's decision hinged on two questions: Is poker itself an illegal game? Does the presence of an illegal game in a club condemn the entire premises?

The judge said "no" to the first question. . . . "yes" to the second. . . . Poker was cleared, but not the club. . . . Unfortunately for its thriving business, it had housed the apparatus of two automatic gambling machines which were purely "games of chance." . . . That made it a gambling house, subject to fine and destruction of the apparatus.

Poker, like a lot of other things, said the judge, is not wrong "per se." . . . It all depends on where and how and why you play it. . . . The judge didn't go into details, but perhaps sharing the winnings with the wife tends to keep it on the side of respectability.

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY A chamber of commerce committee advocating passage of a county road bond took a program to enthusiastic meetings in McLean, LeFors, and Alanreed.

Extension of Gray county oilfield was started with new drilling operations. . . . Excitement roused by a false report of pay at the No. 1 Leopold, northwest of town, subsided but operators were still interested in its showing.

Prospects for a baseball team were bright as 25 players worked out under management of Red Gober.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY Jimmie Allred, young attorney-general, arrived for a visit with his brother, District Attorney Raymond Allred, and with friends here who greeted him with enthusiasm.

Dollar oil was announced for the mid-continent field in a price hike, and operators here were optimistic over prospects that Panhandle oil would reach that price.

More than four bushels of staple groceries in addition to cash were collected for the welfare board at a dance sponsored by Business and Professional Women's club.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—This fanciful farce of the Manhattan comic opera is relayed by a magazine writer who attended a party with Margaret Sullivan, Noel Coward, George M. Cohan, Burgess Meredith and a coterie of others. Finally they turned to swapping nut stories and actor Cohan collected the honors with this pleasant little invention:

"One day a consignment of lunatics arrived at the asylum and was turned over to the warden for questioning.

"And what is your name?" inquired the warden gently of the first newcomer.

"Napoleon Bonaparte," declared that worthy, surprised that everybody didn't know who he was.

"That's fine," continued the warden in kindly tone. "And who gave you the name of Napoleon?"

"Why, God did," he said. "God named me Napoleon."

"That isn't true," cried another of the goofy ones, springing forward. "I did no such thing."

Then there is the legend that leaves Marc Connolly in stitches every time he tells it—the legend of Gwladys, who began at a late date to correct a little matter of learning to read and write, which she had overlooked in her youth.

Collecting a set of mail-order books, she communed with herself for several nights and then sallied out to exhibit her new-found knowledge.

Marc, attending a soiree at her apartment one afternoon, said, "Gwladys (her name really is Kate), 'I've a splinter in my hand. Give me a pin.'"

"Really, I'm dreadfully sorry," she explained, gazing capdly into space, "but my personal maid-in-waiting isn't here today and I don't know where the pins are!"

Leo Relsman, propped against a bar between dance tunes at the Waldorf, overheard this conversation between a ham actor and a somewhat caustic friend. The ham, it seems, had finally obtained a bit, a most unimportant bit, in a third-rate show.

"Say," he enthused, "have you caught my show yet? I just live my part!"

The friend thought this over a moment. "Yeah," he said finally. "I saw the show last night. And you must lead a helluva life!"

Which leave just room enough to report this most singular and original order placed in an eatery near Grand Central Terminal:

"Let me have," said the cynical one, "two boiled eggs—soft as a gigolo's voice!"

There is a sea restaurant near South street which offers 27 varieties of fish. Yet the highest priced item on its menu is 40 cents.

HAYSTACK HOLDS BILL HELPFUL FOR 6 WEEKS.

COLUMBUS, Kas. (AP)—It was a long time between drinks for Israel Westwell's bull.

Six weeks ago Westwell, a farmer near here, missed the bull from his herd. After a long search he gave the animal up as lost.

The other day while Westwell's son was leading straw from a stack his dog began barking and the straw moved. A few seconds later the bull plowed his way out and tore out across a field to a pond.

The animal had been imprisoned when the stack caved in on him.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

Here's another contribution to this paragraph, relative to the oil industry and persons connected with it:

"We recognize and accede to the praises sung to 'Mighty men of brown.' The drillers, roughnecks, and tool dressers; those praises are in order. But, shouldn't we in all fairness, sing praises to the other half, the roostabots, pipe liners, and teamsters? And the truck drivers, they truck the mighty derricks, engines, cables, hoists, and ropes to the brawny men. And last, but not least, the rig-builders—we believe they make it possible for those brawny men to see the mighty man made trees, as one aptly termed them. Remember, there are lines to be tied in, pits to be dug, derricks to be erected, just to mention a few things that have to be done before the brawny men arrive on the scene. So we ask you, are not a few praises due the boys who get everything in order, so that the brawny boys (who sugar their coffee) may get to work?"

E. B. S. Skellytown.

Now that you mentioned that sugar-in-the-coffee matter, the boys who have in mind are the ones we meant all the time anyway. Sugar in coffee! Indeed! The sissies!

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

By HELEN BRODERICK

(Pinch-hitting for Robin Coons).

HOLLYWOOD—This Hollywood is a precious place. It did not take me almost two years to learn that anything can happen in the movies and mostly does. But until this winter my education regarding California rivers was incomplete.

When I bought my estate in San Fernando Valley (estate is a good Hollywood word even if by place comprises one-half acre, including curbs, sidewalks and assessments), the salesman told me it was river front property. I looked for the river but saw only the banks. It must be, I decided, a movie river and the prop man had forgotten to turn on the water. The salesman said no, it was a real river, for me to wait and see.

Waterless River

I waited all last winter but didn't see a drop of water in it. When my friends from the east came out to the place, they would say: "We like your house, Helen. But what is that ditch out front?"

"That," I would say with dignity, "is the Los Angeles river."

Well, this winter we had very unusual California weather. Even the movies staging a flood for Noah's ark scenes could give a more convincing performance than nature did.

My front yard river became a torrent. It rapidly passed the colossal stage and approached the super-epic. I expected any minute to see Edward Everett Horton, Fred Stone, Ruby Keeler and some of my other valley neighbors come cruising up in a yacht. After the first deluge, I poked around the river bank trying to see if I could identify some of the land from Clark Gable's new 80-acre place, or a few citrus trees from Ann Dvorak's orchard, a cow from Joel McCrea's farm or a couple of W. C. Fields' pet chickens.

How's Your Health?

Edited by DR. IAGO GALDSTON

PREVENTING ATHLETE'S FOOT Athlete's foot is misnamed, for anyone may be afflicted with it, "athlete or no." But it is true that those who frequent gymnasiums, swimming pools and the like, are more liable to contract the disease.

It should be properly called ringworm of the toes, for the condition is caused by a fungus agent of the ringworm variety. The condition is preventable and also curable.

The prevention of athlete's foot begins with keeping the feet covered when walking about at home, in gymnasium or locker room, and about the ramps of swimming pools. The spores of ringworms are likely to be distributed in these places and may invade the exposed skin of the feet.

Prevention is also furthered by a thorough daily washing of the feet and of the spaces between the toes with warm water and soap. Following this, the feet should be dried thoroughly, for the ringworm organism thrives in a moist and warm environment.

Those who frequent gymnasiums, swimming pools and other places where persons are likely to go about barefoot, will do well to protect themselves further against infection with ringworm by dusting the space between the toes with a sterilizing powder.

This powder is composed of two parts each of salol and chloral hydrate in combination with 98 parts of purified infusorial earth. It should be applied to the space between the toes daily and particularly after the feet have been exposed at the beach, swimming pool or any place where people are likely to walk about bare foot.

Many people suffer from athlete's foot, and because of the mildness of the symptoms, are unaware of it. It is desirable therefore to be acquainted with the picture presented by this condition in order to institute early treatment and to avoid infecting others.

The most common symptom is the presence of soft, macerated, dull skin between the toes, most commonly on the little toe and the one next to it. Sometimes, small blisters may be seen in this location, between other toes, and also along the inner border of the long arch of the foot.

The affected parts may itch and patients who succumb to the temptation to scratch is likely to spread the infection.

BE FAIR BOYS GRAND FORKS, N. D. (AP)—After his store had been burglarized five times in five months, Harry Gershman inserted this ad in a newspaper:

"Burglars attention—when robbing store this month please use front door. We are tired of replacing windows. Regards, Harry's Grocery."

build a fishing pier for the benefit of Victor Moore, my screen and radio partner. When it comes to fishing enthusiasm, Victor starts where Izaak Walton quit.

With a few weeks between pictures, I have been having a grand time visiting the Astaire-Rogers set and watching their dazzling dances. Funny thing about cameras, they're such a friendly, harmless-looking piece of equipment when you're standing behind them. But when they're staring at you, how cold and formidable they seem! I am still afraid of them.

I'll soon be trying to stare them down, however, in "Mrs. America"—again with Victor Moore. I hope we get a good California river worked into the script. In Hollywood parlance, they are terrific.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Pampa Daily News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. How is a Bank Night conducted in motion picture theaters? W. J. H.

A. A patron buys an admission ticket, signing his name to a numbered slip which is transferred to a record book. The patron retaining a duplicate slip. All of the numbers are scrambled in a receptacle and a blindfolded person is selected to draw one from the container. When the number is called, if the person holding the lucky number is not present, the price, plus additional money, is held over another week.

Q. How much salary will Eleanor Holm Jarrett, the swimming star, get for appearing at the Great Lakes Exposition at Cleveland W. H.

A. It is said that Mrs. Jarrett has signed a $30,000 contract for the engagement.

Q. What state is called the Land of Steady Habits? M. D.

A. Connecticut is sometimes so called.

Q. What is the meaning of axinomyancy? J. W.

A. This was the method of divination practiced by the ancient Greeks with the view of discovering the perpetrators of crimes. An ax poised on a snake was supposed to move so as to indicate the guilty person. Another method of axinomyancy was by watching the movements of an agate placed upon red-hot ax.

Q. How many farms are owned outright by the Federal land bank? G. H.

A. On August 31, 1936, the peak was reached—24,355. On February 1, 1937, the number was 22,505.

Q. Please give some information about Tyrone Power Jr. who played in Lloyd's of London? H. W. R.

A. Tyrone Power Jr., son of the famous Shakespearean actor, was born in May, 1914. He attended high school in Cincinnati where he played the lead in his class play, Officer 666. Subsequently his father took him to Canada where he was coached in Shakespearean roles. His first professional appearance was in 'The Merchant of Venice' after his father's death in 1931, young Power had great difficulty in obtaining work. He finally obtained a place as understudy to Burgess Meredith. He has played in Girls' Dormitory, Ladies in Love, and Love is News.

Americans Vote On Favorite Poems

This collection of the favorite poems of America was not made by authors or experts—but by the American people themselves.

A nation-wide vote was taken to determine which are the favorite poems of the largest number of people.

This booklet is the result and is available only through our Washington Information Bureau.

The old-time poems predominate, favorites from Longfellow, Tennyson, Bryant, and other leading songsters of all time. There are some of the newer poems, including Kilmer, Kipling, McCrae, and others of our time.

This, That and Everything

By JESS KELLEY

You who love to indulge in a mild form of mental gymnastics recall to mind the correct answers to the following questions:

Who is called the Father of History? Who is known as the Father of Medicine? Who is president of Harvard university? Where is Brown university? In what cities are the following universities located: Yale? Tulane? Missouri State U? Wisconsin State U? Washington?

What country supplies the world with most of its asbestos? From what island comes the world's principal supply of camphor? Who discovered X-rays? Who wrote Life Begins at Forty? In what general direction does the Congo river flow? What is the highest mountain in South America? What city is called the Crescent City?

Are wave lengths of red light longer or shorter than those of blue light? What is the speed of light through ordinary medium? Who is the author of Magnificent Obsession? To what country do the Galapagos Islands belong? What is the chemical formula for water? What theory did Newton advocate concerning the nature of light? What actress played the leading part in the picture called Sunny Side Up? Who is president of the American Federation of Labor? How many rounds did Joe Louis and Pastor fight? Who invented Jack Johnson? In what round was Johnson knocked out? Where is Cape York? How high is Pike's Peak? Who is mayor of New York?

If you have answered all these questions correctly you evidently have a versatility of interests as well as a pronounced degree of sagacity.

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS

By WILL H. MAYES

In this column answers will be given to the Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. As evidence of good faith inquirers must send their names and addresses, but only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. Where is the largest cavalry post in the United States? A. Ft. Bliss, near El Paso.

Q. What Texas town is the largest primary wool and mohair market in the United States, and for what else has it become noted? A. Kerrville, which is also a popular "hill country" summer resort, and is one of the leading beer and wild turkey sections of Texas.

Q. What is the size of Palo Duro Canyon? A. It is 120 miles long and in places 25 miles wide and from 400 to 700 feet deep. The canyon is in Palo Duro State Park, one of the most beautiful parks in this country, the canyon walls and mountain peaks of quaint and fantastic shapes, being in gold, cream, russet, vermillion, and other brilliant colorings.

Q. What Texas town was once noted for its "Sunday Houses" and just what were these places? A. Fredericksburg, one of the first German settlements. Before the days of automobiles, many Germans living in the country built and maintained cottages in the town to which they went to spend week-ends and attend church on Sundays, these week-end homes becoming known as "Sunday Houses."

Q. For what was Olmito, Cameron county, named? A. The word is Spanish, and means "little elms," and was given for the many small elms found there.

A CENTURY OF TEXAS CATTLE BRANDS

All Texans will be interested in the origin and significance of early cattle brands of famous ranches as reproduced and catalogued in this new book of 84 pages. Arranged by counties.

BASEBALL FANS TO DECIDE WHETHER PAMPA WILL HAVE TEAM IN 1937

MEETING WILL BE HELD AT 2 ON THURSDAY

TIME HAS COME TO ORGANIZE CLUB FOR SEASON

Baseball enthusiasts of Pampa and surrounding territory will decide whether or not Pampa will have a crack baseball team this season when they gather in the chamber of commerce rooms in the city hall tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The meeting is being called by James Collins, president of the Board of City Development.

President Collins decided to call the meeting after a conference with Harold Miller, business manager of the Pampa-Danciger Road Runners, who said he would be unable to field a strong team unless some plan of cooperation and assistance can be worked out.

According to Miller, the present players and the Danciger interests who have the lease on the park, would agree to change the name of the team and operate it as a town team or under any other plan that would insure fast baseball for Pampa.

Any baseball fan in this section interested in helping plan a good team for Pampa is invited to attend the meeting tomorrow. Several of the Road Runners have brought Pampa wide publicity in the past. Twice the team placed high in the famous Denver Post tournament, largest tourney of its kind in the country. The team has advertised its name from Pampa to the far west, sending players to professional ranks and in competing against nationally known traveling clubs.

The time has come when additional strength must be secured and only through cooperation can that be accomplished. Several well-known players are anxious to join the team, Miller said.

1937 Major League Payroll Called Fattest On Record

TILDEN WILL BATTLE FRED PERRY TONIGHT

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—While tennis fans and experts, some 16,000 of whom will pack Madison Square garden tonight to see him play Fred Perry, are debating just how Big Bill Tilden will combat the Englishman, Bill himself is vowing in secrecy whatever campaign he may have mapped out in advance.

The 44-year old veteran admits that, from a spectator's seat at Perry's matches as an amateur at Forest Hills and as a professional against Ellsworth Vines, he has drawn several conclusions concerning the Briton's game and what to do about it. But he isn't committing himself.

"I don't believe there's anything that can make an athlete look more silly than to announce in advance just what he's planning to do and then be unable to do it," the lean, slope-shouldered Tilden explained.

Perry, asked if he ever had seen Tilden in his prime, replied: "No, when Bill was in his prime, I was in my cradle."

SENATE TURNS DOWN MOVE TO FIRE BIBLE

AUSTIN, March 20 (AP)—Coach Dana X. Bible's contract with the University of Texas appeared safe today following action of a Senate committee which killed a resolution asking the regents to cancel the agreement.

The resolution, by Senator L. J. Sulak of La Grange received only the vote of one other committee member while 11 opposing votes eliminated possibility of a minority report to the floor.

Bible, holding a 10-year contract as director of athletics and head football coach at a reputed salary of $15,000 a year, is paid from athletic contest gate receipts.

Sulak said he had not given up the fight and would seek to locate university appropriations so that such a salary to a coach would be impossible.

He declared the next movement would be to ask an increase from $8,000 to $25,000 salary for the university president.

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—Topped off by Lou Gehrig's $36,000 contract, which makes the Yankees' Iron Man the highest salaried figure among baseball players or managers for the first time in his career, the 1937 major league payroll is the fattest on record.

On the basis of information gathered by the Associated Press, the aggregate in salaries to be paid this season exceeds $3,200,000. The New York Yankees will break their own all-time mark by paying something like $368,000.

The two highest paid managers, Marce Joe McCarthy of the Yankees and Mickey Cochrane, backstopping boss of the Detroit Tigers, are understood to be on the payroll for $35,000 each. Cochrane's salary includes an additional amount for holding the vice-presidency of the club.

Managers will be the highest paid men on 11 of the 16 clubs. Top figure in the national league is the pilot of the champion New York Giants, Bill Terry, whose five-year contract calling for $27,500 annually has two years to go. Dizzy Dean, understood to have signed for $25,000, is the highest paid pitcher, topping his two nearest rivals, Bob Grove of the Red Sox and Carl Hubbell of the Giants by $2,500 each.

A total of 36 players, 24 in the American and 12 in the National league, will draw down $15,000 or more for their season's chores.

The following list of higher salaried men is based on reliable information:

American league:
Yankees—Lou Gehrig, $36,000; Joe McCarthy, manager, $35,000; Bill Dickey, $18,000.
Tigers—Mickey Cochrane, manager, $35,000; Charlie Gehringer, $17,000.

SPENDS 3,500 HOURS CARVING NUDIST COLONY.

DEADWOOD, S. D. (AP)—R. E. Poe, Terrville watchman, created a miniature nudist colony with a knife, some basswood and 3,500 hours of labor. So well did he do the job that the colony was brought here for exhibition.

Seventy-one figures of men and women three inches high were carved. They are shown running, walking, swimming, dancing and playing ball in a natural setting of sand, tiny pine trees and hand-made log cabins.

LIONS AT CAMP

SAN ANTONIO, March 24 (AP)—Eleven lions were included in the guest list of a local tourist camp last night. The group of animals was being taken from Brownsville to Omaha, Neb., by Manuel King, 12-year old animal trainer, and his father W. A. (Snake) King.

SEVEN SEEDED SEXTETS LEFT IN CAGE MEET

WICHITA, Kas. March 24 (AP)—Storm signals were flying for the favored sextets today as they mustered forces for the quarter-finals in the women's national A. A. U. W. basketball tournament.

Seven of the eight second-round survivors are seeded, meaning at least three seeded teams will try and fall tonight. The eighth is the Nashville, Tenn., Carter sextet, which looms as an also-ran when it meets the Wichita Thurstons.

The Lambuth College team from Jackson, Tenn., has only an outside chance of beating the Little Rock Flyers, last year's runners-up, and still potent but the fans were tossing coins to pick the winners in the other two games.

In one, the Des Moines A. I. B. sextet, which runs off its plays like a well-drilled football team, meets the champion Tulsa Stenos. In the other the Galveston Anicos, pre-tournament favorites, will meet the Houston Watty Watkins. If any edge is to be conceded in these two games it would go to the Stenos and Galveston.

It's serious business, this big-time girls' basketball, and many a robust businessman groans in sympathy 'way up in the gallery when he sees some apparently fragile piece of femininity go down on the unyielding boards with a crash heard in the next block.

The girls handle the ball like a knitting needle, and pivot and gallop with the skill and speed of men, accompanying their activity by encouraging shouts that range from a peanut whistle shriek to a robust "hey."

Second round results:
Tulsa Stenos 26; Wamego, Kas. 7.
Des Moines 42; Jacksonville, Fla. 12.
Houston 29; Nashville Business College, 26.
Galveston 65; Goddard, Kas. 8.
Wichita 33; Kansas City Centers 12.
Nashville Carters 23; Oakland, Calif. 18.
Lambuth College 20; Kansas City Cardinals 16.
Little Rock 45; Oklahoma City Blue Birds 16.

BLUM WINS SMASHING VICTORY OVER FOES

PARIS, March 24 (AP)—France's premier, Leon Blum, rode out an all-night storm of parliamentary passion today to win a smashing mandate of confidence and an "exposition truce" between fighting rightists and leftists.

Cool-headed through the hours in which the uproarous chamber of deputies resounded with shouts of "treason" and "assassin," fist waving and desk banging, Blum set out to clean up the aftermath of the fatal Cluchy riots, present to the world a successful world's fair and hold in firm check the political machinations of Col. Francois de la Rocque's militant nationalists.

After a struggle, which at times verged on violence, his people's front government won a 392-215 vote of confidence.

The motion of support expressed confidence the mustached premier and his cabinet would "assure liberty for all and respect for the law so necessary to internal peace and the normal conduct of democratic institutions."

CHICAGO CUBS NEARLY SAME AS LAST YEAR

LON WARNEKE MISSING FROM LINEUP OF GRIMM CREW

BY ROBERT MYERS.
AVALON, Calif., March 24 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, despite one gaping hole in their pitching department, should wind up in the thick of the fight for the National league pennant.

Manager Charlie Grimm will guide precisely the same club into the schedule that wound up in a second place tie with St. Louis last year. Missing, however, will be lanky Lon Warneke, veteran righthander, who was sold to St. Louis in a deal that brought Leroy Parmelee and Ripper Collins, first baseman, to Chicago.

Manager Grimm believes Parmelee will perform better with the Cubs behind him. Yet rival baseball experts view the trading of Warneke as a serious blow to the Cubs.

Grimm, admitting that Warneke's loss may cost them 15 games, has great confidence in Larry French and Bill Lee.

The Cubs plan to carry nine pitchers, including Lee, French, Charlie Ross, Freddie Tex Carleton, Curt Davis, Clay Bryant, and Clyde Shoun.

With Collins at first, the Cubs return with the rest of their veteran infield—Billy Herman at second, Bill Jurgess at short and Stanley Hack at third.

The Cubs outfield may be a sensation or a sensational flop. Frank Demaree looks to be in good trim and Augie Galan, a disappointment last season, may return to power.

Joe Marty appears set to hold a regular in center, and George (Tuck) Staiback round out the reserve corps.

Gabby Hartnett and James Kenneth O'Dea will share the catching chores.

BY EDDIE BRITZ.

NEW ORLEANS, March 24 (AP)—Baseball is just around the W. K. corner, but down this way it must share newspaper space and pub and cigar store gossip with football.

Loyola is scrimmaging under a blazing sun. Young Red Lawson, who learned his moaning under no less an expert than Bernie Bierman, admits his big Tulane squad is coming along "pretty good."

And Fred Digby tells you in the New Orleans Item there is no cause for alarm at Louisiana State even if Coach Bernie Bierman must replace an entire varsity team.

Compliment Bob Feller appreciated most was that Carl Hubbell can hardly wait to get a look at him.

Jimmy Phelan, Washington U. coach, says the Big Ten may lift its ban on Rose Bowl games.

Fred Perry will say pro tennis is all right. He has banked $72,000 in a little more than two months.

Joe DiMaggio promises he'll not be a sucker for high inside balls this season. Connie Mack predicts a return of the less lively ball with a revival of base stealing, smarter hitting and more inside baseball.

That Florida sheriff will tell you almost two years of ring idleness hasn't slowed up Jimmy Braddock's footwork.

3 PER CENT OF VOTERS HOLD COLLEGE DEGREES.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The average American adult is just a grade school boy as far as formal education is concerned, statistics of the United States office of education indicate.

Emery M. Foster, chief of the division of statistics, says that less than 3 per cent of those past voting age have finished college and that 43.58 per cent merely have "some elementary school work." High graduates constitute only 6.85 per cent of the persons over 21 years of age.

TROTSKISTS SLAIN

MOSCOW, March 24 (AP)—Three alleged "Trotskyist counter-revolutionaries" were shot to death today for the deliberate burning of a school at Novosibirsk, Siberia, in which many children perished.

V. A. Kuramshin, chairman of the building trust, M. I. Khomchik, director of the savings bank, and K. Khartonnofn the contractor, were executed.

OXFORD DEFEATS CAMBRIDGE AFTER 13 STRAIGHT LOSSES

LONDON, March 24 (AP)—After 13 consecutive defeats, Oxford University today defeated Cambridge in their 89th annual boat race on the Thames.

A half million spectators saw Oxford snap Cambridge's long streak in one of the most sensational races of the long series that began in 1829. After a terrific dog fight during more than 3 1/2 miles of the course of four miles, 376 yards the Dark Blues pulled away in a spectacular stretch spurt to win by three lengths.

The time was 22 minutes, 39 seconds as against the course record of 18.03 set by Cambridge in 1934.

Coxswain of the beaten Cambridge crew was T. H. Hunter, former Harvard student.

BRITAIN ACTS TO KEEP SPANISH WAR NEUTRAL

LONDON, March 24—Great Britain summoned a full dress meeting of the Spanish neutrality committee, and called here ministers in to cabinet session today to meet, head on, a new and tribble threat to Europe's tranquility.

She acted to launch in full force a vast police plan to keep foreign arms and men from the Spanish civil war combatants to counteract the stormy effects of tense meeting of the neutrality sub-committee.

Lord Plymouth, chairman of the 27-nation group, himself summoned before the cabinet, convoked his full committee for 4 p. m. (11 a. m. EST) today.

He hoped to complete the selection of the committee's agents—necessary to make sure that no further men or war materials reach Spain from abroad. The question of withdrawal of volunteers already fighting in the civil war, which Italian Ambassador Dino Grandi refused even to discuss yesterday, was not on the agenda.

Lord Plymouth, in the non-intervention group, was a sudden move to offset any Italian threat to the non-intervention plan by considering asking the United States to join the neutrality circle.

Deputy sheriffs today were continuing an investigation of the burglary of the Texas Wholesale Co. warehouse at McLean Sunday night. Thieves broke into the warehouse and stole 17 cases of motor oil.

Byrd Makes Debut As a Pro Golfer

PINEHURST, N. C., March 24 (AP)—Sammy Byrd, the baseball outfielder who turned down a $7,000 major league contract to try his luck at golf, knew today some of the worries confronting professional golf tournament players who would be happy to make half that much a season.

Byrd, the former New York Yankee and Cincinnati Reds fly chaser, made his formal debut as a golf professional yesterday in the first round of the North and South Open here. He turned in a creditable 75, but was eight shots back of the leaders and ranked around 50th in a field of 120.

The field started the second 18-hole round in pursuit of Horton Smith, Chicago, and Denny Shute, West Newton, Mass., who set a new competitive course record with 67s yesterday.

ITALY ANGRY OVER SLAPS IN BRITISH PRESS

LONDON, March 24 (AP)—The British cabinet was called into session today, faced with a triple threat menace to continued friendly relations with Italy.

The delicate diplomatic situation was high spotted by a formal protest from the Italian government stating Premier Mussolini's uncompromising objection to slaps delivered by the British press at the "Italian defeat in Spain."

The British attitude, it was said, would be influenced sharply by the tone of the note which was sent to London for consideration by the cabinet today.

The protest, based on press comments on the insurgent Spanish army's defeat in Guadalajara province where the Spanish government charged 30,000 Italian troops were fighting, was handed in Rome to British Ambassador Sir Eric Drummond.

The second threat to cordial Anglo-Italian relations under the recently Mediterranean accord came from Italy's abrupt refusal before the non-intervention committee to consider the question of withdrawing volunteers from Spain.

The old question of Italy in Ethiopia rose to plague the cabinet as the third possibility to cause a rupture between Italy and Britain.

Official pressure was reported to have been brought to bear to postpone the scheduled heated debate in the House of Commons over the execution of Ethiopians in Addis Ababa following the attempt to assassinate Viceroy Rodolfo Graziani.

DISTILLER HAS EYE TO FUTURE, EAR TO GROUND

An eye to the future, an ear to the ground, has become the maxim of the United States distiller.

The future welfare of the distilling business is held in the hands of the industry itself, believe its leaders. And the belief is crystallizing into a self-imposed police action in cooperation with government regulations.

Furthering the policing policy, is an educational campaign directed to the drinker by one of the larger companies, the Century Distilling Company, Peoria, Ill.

The campaign urges that liquors may best be appreciated when used in moderate quantity. Keynote is that personality comes with moderation in all things, drinking included.

The new campaign, now almost ready for release to more than 270 newspapers, will blanket this appeal for moderation to the nation.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT FACE PIMPLES

These disfiguring little spots often result from a slight, temporary disturbance, or merely from incorrect cleansing, or sometimes they are more persistent due to deeper internal causes.

While properly treating the underlying cause, you can relieve the itchy, burning soreness and help your skin by using an ointment that will keep the medication in contact with the pimply spots. Apply it every night and leave it on all night. It does a world of good.

For more than 40 years people have used Resinol Ointment to fill this need. It soothes the irritation and aids healing. It also treats the oil pores where many surface pimples start. Washing first with Resinol Soap quickens the pleasing results.

Chapter XXV

"Well, I lied to him. I told him I wanted to have him help me make a decision about something and he came to see me. I told him you were completely through but I thought when you came back I could plead for him. He used to hang around me to hear me talk about you. Then . . . then I pretended he was my beau . . . get back at you for what you had done to Tuck. The night of the party I guess he knew that you didn't care about him anymore. He was wretched."

Daphne poured cold water on a towel. "Here, put that on your head and lie down for a few minutes. I'll give you an hour to rest and then we've got work to do."

"Aren't you . . . aren't you mad?" "Just as mad as anyone could be at a 6-year-old child. Now take off that dress. I'll call you in an hour and we're going to start rehearsing."

"Yes," Daphne said as she went into the other room. "I might need an understudy. I don't think the one we have really knows all the business I do. I can teach it to you. Just in case."

"No, Jennifer! If I've told you once, I've told you 50 times that you're to stop remembering you are Jennifer Brett. You're Louise Goldsby. The man is NOT wrong. You are taking the blame for it. You've got to have every tiny gesture exactly the way I have it."

Jennifer waited docilely. "If you do not shade the part precisely as I do, you'll be out. Now take it again. And lower your head; don't fling it up. Go on." Daphne was unutterably weary. She had been rehearsing all day.

"Go on home, kids," Hoadley had said, "and forget the show. We'll take it through from start to finish tomorrow at 10. Three days to opening and you need a respite."

Daphne had come home to rehearse Jennifer—a new Jennifer. She was a subdued, grateful Jennifer only to glad to try to remember all the things that Larry had said to her about Daphne and to relate them, bringing them out like jewels for Daphne to treasure.

"He was so sure that your job meant more to you than anything else. Why did you let him?"

Even then Daphne couldn't tell Jennifer why she had done it. The money was there and she was free. Free to marry Larry if he still wanted her.

If he still wanted her. Could she believe what Jennifer had told her? She dreamed a little while the script was in her hand.

"Have I got it?" Jennifer demanded as she made her exit.

"Oh . . . oh, I'm sorry, I wasn't looking. I was thinking."

"Daphne, look." Jennifer squatted on the floor tailor-fashion. "You must admit that I'm doing a good job of reforming."

"Excellent," Daphne granted. "Then, why won't you tell me what you've got up your sleeve? I'm perishing of curiosity. You're working me like mad, and yet you have an understudy. And you insist that you're going to open Tuesday in the show. Now, what does it all mean?"

"I can't tell you, Jennifer. I have promised that you're going to play the part. Please don't ask me to explain anything else. Trust me."

Jennifer was 19. She sighed. "Okay. Here are their crackers and milk, Daphne said. Jennifer, I want Larry to come to the opening."

"You don't seem to learn, do you, Daph? Wild horses couldn't keep him away. He'll be there somewhere in the audience. I don't know why you haven't more assurance about yourself. If I had what you've got . . ."

Daphne couldn't yet get used to the idea that Jennifer had been jealous of her, had thought she was more attractive in every way. Jennifer had been sincere, Daphne knew, and she was never to be able to reason why.

"You'll have the world in the cup of your hand, if you use your head."

'Stone Drunk'

"Then, why don't you put your arms back?" He didn't. He said, "I thought you were wonderful and Jennifer said . . ." He wet his lips.

"What did Jennifer say?" she asked softly. "I couldn't have been true." Daphne's eyes commanded him to go on.

"Daphne, she said you still loved me."

"I do, Larry."

Dark as it was in the wings, he could see the radiance in her face. "But now you have the theater. I can't ask you to give it up. You are going to be a star some day."

"I did it because I wanted to have you know that even this doesn't mean as much to me as starring in a domestic drama called 'Mr. and Mrs. Smith.' Please ask me to give it up, darling."

"Please!" She lunged to him. He disengaged her arms, fished in his pocket for a cigarette lighter, snapped it on and held it to his waist. Then he grabbed her by the wrist, took her practically off her feet.

"Get in there, young woman, and wipe that stuff off your face. I'll have no bride covered with grease paint. And make it snappy if you intend to marry me tonight."

"It's practically all over," she said, rubbing her face on his handkerchief.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, March 24 (AP)—Every time the constitutional requirement that bills be read on three separate days is suspended the estimated cost is about $5.

There fore Rep. Jeff D. Stinson of Dallas recommended to the House the other day that local and uncontested bills, up in large numbers, be passed to engrossment, or third reading, and allowed to lay over until the next time for regular consideration and final passage.

The Senate passed a resolution thinking it was another, but allowed the action to stand, the confusion drawing from Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston the comment that "everybody must be crazy."

Holbrook first asked adoption of his resolution memorializing Congress to stand firm against the proposed St. Lawrence waterways treaty. By mistake a resolution requesting Congress to extend certain low interest rates on Federal Land Bank loans was adopted.

The latter action was not changed and Holbrook's proposal was laid aside temporarily.

A Senator's job has some advantages over that of a House member, says Senator A. M. Alken, Jr. of Paris, but entails much more work. The chief reason is that a Senator represents a much larger area and has many more constituents.

"I receive 65 to 70 letters a day which require attention," Alken said. He is one of several members of the lower house who moved over to the upper as a result of last year's elections. Others are E. Harold Beck of Texarkana, Vernon Lemens of Rainbow, J. Manley Head of Stephenville, Morris Roberts of Pettus, and J. Franklin Spears of San Antonio.

The bitter controversy in the Senate over repeal of race track gambling had one beneficial effect, an observer remarked.

The Senate had ordered a repeal bill sent back to committee after going through all the motions of passing it without actually doing so.

"It is a great thing for the indigestion tablet industry," said the observer. "Last week Frank Rawlings had to take them; this week it is Senator Frank Nelson."

Rawlings and Nelson were leaders, respectively, for the anti-repealists and the proponents.

Five Senators who voted to engross the repeal bill, or pass to third reading, switched and voted to recommit the measure.

They were Gordon Burns of Huntsville, L. J. Sulak of La Grange, Allan Shivers of Port Arthur, Will D. Pace of Tyler, and Olan Van Zandt of Togo.

The appeal had been made that opponents of repeal had not been given opportunity to register protest.

tests at a public hearing before a Senate committee.

The vote on engrossment was 20 to 8 and on re-commitment 15 to 14, with one pair. Senators E. M. Davis of Brownwood and Franklin Spears of San Antonio, absent when the vote to engross was taken, voted for recommitment.

The bill was sent to the committee on criminal jurisprudence and thereby by the membership of the committee became of more than ordinary interest.

A favorable or unfavorable committee report would have important bearing on the course of repeal legislation. The bill expected to be acted on was another measure passed by the House.

Committee members voting for re-commitment, in addition to Rawlings, Davis, and Spears, were Albert Stone of Brenham, chairman; Weaver Moore of Houston, Clint Small of Amarillo (paired), Houghton Brownlee of Austin, and R. A. Weichert of Seguin.

Opposing were W. D. Cille of Eastland, Clay Cotten of Palestine, Grady Woodruff of Decatur, Joe Hill of Henderson, Claude Isbell of Rockwall, and Vernon Lemens of Glenrose.

Davis announced in the Senate it would favor for an early committee hearing and to report a repeal bill favorably.

If the Senate had passed the bill instead of sending it back to committee, there is a strong probability it would have found an impassable barrier in a point of order raised in the House.

The point was that the Senate procedure of attaching a repeal amendment to a purely regulatory measure was unconstitutional, and after the upper chamber vote Speaker Bob Calvert disclosed he would have sustained the point.

Calvert had a lot of work for nothing in that connection. He had prepared an elaborate ruling, covering many typewritten pages.

"I sure hate to see all that work go to waste," he laughed.

Said one man after the Senate seemed about to vote for repeal and then approved a committee hearing, which meant delay with all manner of possibilities:

"Senator Nelson and his side just lacked a goal-line punch."

EXPLOSION DUE TO GAS UNDER CONCRETE SLAB

Seniors to Graduate From New London School

AUSTIN, March 24 (AP)—Military authorities who investigated the New London disaster speeded their report today under pressure from Gov. James V. Allred while plans were laid to complete the school year for survivors of the worst children's tragedy in modern times.

At New London and vicinity, as federal governmental experts drilled into the earth to determine whether gas seepage had contributed to the devastating explosion last Thursday, preparations also were made to hold memorial services for the dead, latest total of which was placed by the Red Cross at 455.

After Governor Allred informed national guard officers who conducted a court of inquiry that he wanted not only a report on facts gathered, but also any recommendations they cared to make, Assistant Adjutant General Gaston Howard, who headed the investigation, asked preliminary statements from officials who assisted in the inquiry.

Capt. Edward Clark of Austin, a member of the court, said unofficially, in the meantime, he believed evidence definitely established that the explosion was due to accumulation of gas between the ground and the concrete slab of the first floor, which might have occurred within a comparatively short time from a broken pipe or loose connection.

With the view of rehabilitating the school for the sake of the children still living, Supt. W. C. Shaw, who lost a son in the disaster, came to Austin and conferred with officials of the state education department, who promised all assistance. He planned to return to New London today.

"We want to finish out the school year," Shaw said, "and graduate the 30 remaining members of the senior class, which originally numbered 70. They want to graduate from New London. That's where they went to school. They came to me and told me they would like to get their diplomas at the end of the session."

Shaw was assured by L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instruction, he would be furnished all the textbooks needed without delay. He said 15 teachers were killed in the terrible explosion but "those who are left will be enough to finish out the term."

He added an old building would be increased by two or three rooms and a new one would be constructed as soon as possible. Insurance totaling $100,000 was carried on the building destroyed.

Shaw disclosed the explosion was the second disaster he had experienced as a school superintendent.

his school house at Minden having burned down nine years ago. Several schools in the great East Texas oil field were closed temporarily to permit inspection of their heating systems and at Overton, near New London, all gas to the school building was ordered disconnected at the meter for the balance of the year.

Seniors to Graduate From New London School

AUSTIN, March 24 (AP)—Military authorities who investigated the New London disaster speeded their report today under pressure from Gov. James V. Allred while plans were laid to complete the school year for survivors of the worst children's tragedy in modern times.

At New London and vicinity, as federal governmental experts drilled into the earth to determine whether gas seepage had contributed to the devastating explosion last Thursday, preparations also were made to hold memorial services for the dead, latest total of which was placed by the Red Cross at 455.

After Governor Allred informed national guard officers who conducted a court of inquiry that he wanted not only a report on facts gathered, but also any recommendations they cared to make, Assistant Adjutant General Gaston Howard, who headed the investigation, asked preliminary statements from officials who assisted in the inquiry.

Shaw was assured by L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instruction, he would be furnished all the textbooks needed without delay. He said 15 teachers were killed in the terrible explosion but "those who are left will be enough to finish out the term."

his school house at Minden having burned down nine years ago. Several schools in the great East Texas oil field were closed temporarily to permit inspection of their heating systems and at Overton, near New London, all gas to the school building was ordered disconnected at the meter for the balance of the year.

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

By LOUIS SCHNEIDER

TRIBUTE Several months ago President Roosevelt scared the heart out of speculative interests with his "hot money" blast. But time heats wounds. These same speculative interests now say that the so-called hot money problem isn't nearly so hot as F. D. R. would have all believe. In fact these people say that even F. D. R. himself doesn't believe it.

For weeks Treasury, Federal Reserve and Securities Exchange Commission officials have been discussing the problem. But are they really interested in getting some of this so-called hot money security country by having a capital gains tax slapped on foreign stockholders? "Not by a long shot," informed interests say.

Insiders expect that no capital gains tax will be placed on foreign holders of American shares. When Congress considers tax measures, the current 10 per cent tax on interest and dividends paid to foreign bond and stock owners will be doubled.

Wall streeters say that President Roosevelt isn't anxious to give sign investors a hot money security market. They believe that all he wants to do is collect as much as he can in taxes without frightening them into selling, because that would hurt security prices. They also believe that by raising the tax on interest and dividends to 20 per cent the returns will assist his free spending.

FALSE

Despite the bad action of the utility shares, dopsters, tipsters and gossip mongers are urging speculative interests into buying on all dips. Source of the tip is that a report that the British economist, Major Angus, is preparing a treatise on the bullish side of the utility industry and that he is urging his friends into the shares. Your correspondent made a check on these stories. Major Angus stated that he was not preparing any booklet concerning the utility industry; and that all report or rumors of a favorable utility statement from him within the next few days are absolutely false.

SELLING

As of April 9 Bridgeport Brass stockholders of record will receive rights to subscribe to additional shares. The basis will be one new for each four held. The rights will expire twenty days later. As yet the subscription price hasn't been announced. The corporate officials hope to raise about $2,500,000. The proceeds will be used in constructing a new rolling mill and for other improvements.

Traditionally the market price of a stock declines when new shares are offered, because it reduces the chances for increased dividend payments. But there's another and more important reason why the Bridgeport Brass shares have been acting badly. Long pull holdings are being sold. Here's the story:

Late last year Bridgeport Brass officials moved to expand plant facilities. A director who owns more stock than any other official opposed the plan. It died—for a time. While this director was down in Florida the officials again started the move, and the plan succeeded.

He is not quite sure about it. An informed source confidentially disclosed that current selling of the shares is for those close to the "absent" director.

RAIL WAGES

Before the close of this month representatives of railroad labor and officials of the individual carriers will go into a wage increase conference. Exclusive of the Big Four, sixteen unions will ask a flat 20 cents an hour pay increase. If the unions are granted that amount it would add $360,000,000 to the annual payroll of the carriers.

Informed circles report that railroads will offer a five or eight per cent wage increase. Based on the $1,800,000,000 paid in wages during 1932 a five per cent increase would amount to $90,000,000. An eight per cent increase would add $144,000,000 to the wage cost.

The inside dope is that a settlement will be reached around the six per cent figure. This would add about $100,000,000 to the annual payrolls of the country's railroads. The increase isn't expected to go into effect until early fall.

DOWN

Private investors are finding it quite hard to get any advice from bond dealers. The general opinion of these interests is that high-rate issues are headed for a rating level. This is expected to take about twelve months. Interrupted by periods of recovery the general price trend is expected to be downward.

REPORTS ARE THAT: Coca Cola insiders say there's no truth to gossip of a merger with Canada Dry Ginger Ale. Paramount Pictures being switched in-

Better Be Safe

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of articles on safety written by high school journalism students in connection with the Kiwanis club's safety campaign.)

By JUANITA THOM

ALCOHOL AND AUTOMOBILES DO NOT MIX! That is something that should be painted in red letters in every town, city, and village in the United States. The following is just one incident out of thousands.

One night a group of boys and girls all crowded into one car and started to a dance. Several of the boys had hip flasks. All were full when they started out. By the time they had reached the dance two of the flasks had been emptied.

Along about midnight someone suggested they go to a night club some distance from town. The boy, to whom the car belonged, was quite incapable of driving. Another boy took the wheel. The flasks had been refilled so they started out once more. Some girl in the back seat spoke up and asked, "How fast will this old bus go?" The boy driving said, "I don't know but we'll soon find out." He immediately stepped on the accelerator. While they were making about 75 miles per hour another car drove out of a side road. The boy, who was driving the other car, didn't have sense enough to slow down for the car and a curve. The other car's lights blinded him and instead of turning he drove over the cliff.

When the wreckage was cleared away and the bodies recovered the parents could hardly identify their own children! All of them were injured so seriously they died or else were killed instantly.

Is this to be your fate? If you must drink, take someone along who has sense enough not to drink, so that they can drive. However, if everyone you know drinks too, then when you feel like you are incapable of driving, call a taxi. You will be delivered safely to your door. The next morning send some one after your car or else get it yourself. You will find you can live a lot longer if you will stay on the safe side and not even drink.

FIREMEN KNIT SOCKS. CHICAGO (AP)—Firemen of one Chicago engine house weave shawls and knit socks while waiting for fire alarms. The boys are quite proud of themselves. As Fireman Arthur Kill says, "we're no slouches as knitters and socks and shawls come in mighty handy as gifts."

FRANCE TAKES STEPS TO WOOD GEN. FRANCO. PARIS, March 24 (AP)—France was reported in diplomatic circles today to be taking her first timid steps to woo the friendship of Generalissimo Francisco Franco in the event the insurgents win the Spanish civil war.

The French government, which French diplomats said, was caught among the necessity to maintain neutrality, its natural inclination to favor the Spanish popular front, and the practical need for the friendship of any government in power in Spain.

The fall of Madrid, these diplomats asserted, would cause Franco to end her official relations with the Spanish Valencia government immediately.

"Appearances" would be safeguarded, they said, by leaving a consul in charge of the French embassy at Valencia, but the present charge d'affaires and the third secretary, now at the embassy, would embark for France immediately on a warship kept ready for that purpose.

The fall of Madrid, these diplomats declared, would be accepted by French officials as signifying a certain insurgent victory.

WILL HOGS EAT HAY? YES, AND SOFT COAL, TOO. COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Do hogs eat hay? Professor L. A. Weaver of the Missouri College of Agriculture says he would like to settle the question once and for all that they do.

The animal husbandry professor explains the hogs may eat snooty at times, however, and demand that nice leafy legume hay be chipped up for them before they eat it.

"Legume hay is an essential part of feeding hogs, especially if they are fastened up in a dry pen," Professor Weaver says.

"And while on the subject," he adds, "raisers should throw in hog rations a quantity of bone meal and salt. It supplies phosphorus and calcium."

"When hogs don't get these valuable substances they sometimes eat soft coal. There's no excuse for hogs to eat good bituminous coal."

COLLEGE BOYS 'FOOT-LOOSE' ON HOLIDAYS

GIRLS BRACE SELVES FOR FLOOD OF NEW STEPS. By GEORGE ROSS.

NEW YORK, March 24.—For the girls in Broadway's dime-a-dance temples of perspiration, Easter week is the rush season. Even the arrival of the United States Navy doesn't provoke such landslide business.

The reason? Easter finds New York overrun with collegiate youth, and that, any dance hall hostess will tell you, is nothing for a dancing girl to look forward to.

Each college, explaining one of the veteran lasses at Roseland, the city's largest you-pay-your-money-and-take-it-your-choice ballroom, specializes in a particular style of dancing, and woe unto the young lady who commits the unpardonable sin of tripping the light fantastic with a Harvard man under the assumption that he hails from Princeton.

It is not sufficient to know what dance vogues were current with the collegians last year. Last year's steps were long forgotten.

The girls' chief complaint seems

Penitente Rites Described By Phillips Camp Resident

(Editor's Note: T. R. Richmond now living at the Phillips Camp plant, has been associated with the Indians off and on all his life. He spent two years in Taos, New Mexico, where he became great friends with the Indians, and it was there that he became acquainted with the rites of people professing the Penitente religion. Mr. Richmond covered most of North Texas with a group of Indians for twelve weeks in 1934. He was in this territory during November of that time. He and his wife recently made a trip to Taos. This is only one of the many interesting true life stories Mr. Richmond from actual experiences could relate.)

By MRS. HELEN PARTRIDGE
Good Friday, the Friday before Easter commemorating the crucifixion was made a legal holiday by the Roman Emperor Constantine in the fourth century and is observed in a number of countries. While not a legal holiday in the United States, it is largely observed. Local ruling closes schools, city departments, and banks in some cities. The custom of serving hot cross buns dates back to early time.

While the religious customs vary to both Lent and Good Friday, probably none are so rigid as that observed by the Penitente Brothers, an order which has been in New Mexico for more than a century and whose creed is founded upon the whip and cross as instruments of penance.

Though the Penitentes have fraternities in towns of every county, their strongholds are in Taos, Mora and Rio Arriba counties. An Hermano Mayor, one who is elected by his fellowmen rules each independent fraternity.

Lent is the sole season of Penitente activity. The rest of the year they may do as they please, unless there be a death then they hold a velorio (service) and whip themselves during the night. Their religion is not taken up again until Lent.

Watchers Punished
Suppose we leave the quiet season of Lent and Good Friday that we are accustomed to in this part of the country, and go into New Mexico where the Penitentes are and witness their ceremonies. But remember, we're only supposing, for the Penitentes do not like to be watched, and severe is the punishment whenever anyone is caught watching them. He is dragged to the morada and there with a sharp-edged knife or flint, gashes are made on his back and he is thoroughly whipped with the cruel disciplina (lash).

The morades (fraternity houses) may be recognized by the lonely places in which they are built. They are low stone or adobe huts with huge crosses leaning against their side. The crosses being known as maderos.

It is midnight during Lent, and from the hills comes a hideous, unearthly whistle of the life as it echoes through, supposedly resembling the wail of a lost spirit, and carries an indescribable terror with it. This whistle is made of another (a hollow piece of wood) and the shrieks coming from it are wild and terrifying.

Whistle Heard First
The man carrying that whistle is leading a large procession. It is the ceremony of the Flagellation. Just behind him two men holding lanterns follow, and next comes a plodding figure whose head is wrapped in a black piece of cloth, his body naked to the waist and clothed below only with a pair of flapping linen drawers, which were once white, but are now red with blood. He is barefoot and every step he takes are blood trickles down from the cruel gashes made by the rocks and thorns. His arms swing almost mechanically. Every doleful ward stroke brings on his back the heavy disciplina which is made of a rough plant called amole, and as it hits his back again and again, the blood runs down and clots. Behind this man comes another dressed the same, but staggering under an enormous cross, whose rear end catches every rock and rough spot on the trail and torture the bearer ruthlessly. Other men follow behind whipping themselves.

The Penitente perform their penance in private until Holy Thursday when they all gather near the morado and allow people to see them. About a hundred yards from the morada is a cross to which any person can go and kneel and pray. Soon two men of the Penitentes who are Hermanos de Luz (men who do not have to inflict punishment on themselves as they have already passed through that ordeal) come out of the morada and go to where the person is kneeling to ask if they want to be accompanied by Hermanos de Luz or by the men who inflict their own punishment. Then he is escorted to the morado by whom he chooses.

Bears Own Cross
The ceremony of the Crucifixion is equally as rigid. To a big cross one of their number is tightly fastened then the cross put upright with the victim so securely tied that the stiff rope sinks deep into the flesh and stops circulation, the victims arms and legs becoming black. A big rock is placed at the foot of the cross and another Penitente with only a pair of drawers and a pile of cactus hanging on his back is put over the rock with his back to it so that the cactus spines sink deep into his flesh and keeps him above the ground. These two men stay in these positions for half an hour and then the Hermano Mayor and his attendants each with a thorn crown on his head, scoop the cross out and release the crucified. Then the Penitente who has been lying on the cactus is released. They all then march away. The Hermano Mayor making fresh gashes on the Penitentes' backs and another man dipping the ends of the disciplina in water to give them an additional sting, and soon disappear in the nearby hills.

Night comes, they all march to some house and hold tinieblas (dark services). They all crowd in, lock the door and shutters, put the lights out and began to clank chains, cans, and moan and shriek. These dark services are held for an hour and are to represent the arrival of the soul in purgatory.

Female Penitentes Now
Until just recently all Penitentes were men, but there are now female Penitentes. However the day of the Penitente is passing. Where thousands used to be only a mere handful remain.

Where they live, their habits are very primitive—possibly four hundred years behind times, but their morality is high. Though these ceremonies seem most cruel to us, in all sincerity, to them they are putting themselves right with their Maker by such self-inflicted torture that in no other way might they gain redemption for their sins.

Yeah, They Kill Crows For The Fun of It!

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 24 (AP)—Past thinkers, these members of the Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., sportsmen's club who kill crows for the fun of it.

Each year, said one faction of the club in a letter to L. D. Rickey, state game warden, there is a contest to see which of two groups of clubmen can bag the most crows. Dinners are on the losers.

The sportsmen's club had heard, it appeared, that Oklahoma slaughtered crows on a grand scale. Now if one of these factions could just "borrow" about a thousand heads or so from Oklahoma the crow contest would be in the bag.

"We'll pay two cents a head up to 1,000 head," said the leader of one faction to the game warden. A few days passed, and lo, there came a letter from the other faction saying:

"We'll pay two cents a head up to 1,000 head."

"We'll give 'em crows," said Rickey, "we'll give both sides crows."

HEN'S EGG PRODUCTION AFFECTED BY COLOR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The department of agriculture presents evidence that hens must have the right mental attitude to lay eggs.

A report from its Kansas experimental station declares that tests subjecting hens to various colors and intensities of light showed it was not the quantity of light which mattered but the color. This suggested, the report adds, "that the laying response to light has a psychological basis."

MISSION SWALLOWS RETURN ON SAINT JOSEPH'S DAY AS THEY HAVE FOR THE LAST 160 YEARS

SANTA ANNA, Calif.—The famed swallows of San Juan Capistrano mission, which for 160 years have arrived every spring on Saint Joseph's Day, flew in from the sea and popped into their nests under the old adobe eaves right on clock-work schedule.

Begin Annual Battle
Squadrons of the birds began appearing from over the Pacific Ocean soon after dawn, coming from a wintering place that is a mystery. They wheeled over the mission, dived down, and began their annual battle to oust the swifts occupying their nests.

By 10 a. m. nearly 3000 of the bold-breasted birds had arrived to take over their summer homes under the mission eaves. The birds still were winging in from the sea in straggling groups rather than in a huge flock as they sometimes do. Several thousand more were expected during the day.

Swifts Depart

As the tired swallows alighted on their nests, sparrows and swifts, which had usurped them throughout the winter, attempted to defend them. A few fights occurred between the birds but the swifts and sparrows, greatly outnumbered, soon withdrew. Francis Sheridan, assistant manager of the mission, said, "There was no time for sit-down strikes here this year as heavy rains laying response to light has a psychological basis."

He said the birds will start rebuilding the nests tomorrow for their summer occupancy.

The famous flock has flitted out from the eaves of Mission San Juan Capistrano October 23, San Juan's Day, and returned the following March 19 for as far back as memories reach in this early California village.

So regular has been the schedule that again this year a broadcasting crew had its equipment set up in the mission patio to tell the story of the swallows' return on a national network.

The program was started by a ringing of the mission bells hanging in the camporatio heralding a choir of children from the mission school who sung under direction of the Franciscan Sisters.

Later, Mrs. Reyes Yorba, native of San Juan Capistrano, and Jose Doran, also born near the mission many years ago, told part of the legend of the swallows. The high point of the program, however, was Ramon Yorba, born inside the mission walls on March 9, 1859 and christened on St. Joseph's day of the same year. He sang a hymn in Spanish and told a portion of the story of the swallows' flight and how this event has always been linked with mission history.

Father Arthur J. Hutchinson, mission priest, believes they have adopted this to sea to urge on the tired flock. Where the swallows winter is a mystery. Devout Spanish-California natives, who attach religious significance to the birds' arrival and departure on church feast days, believe the fly to the Holy Land.

No one here can remember when the swallows have not returned on St. Joseph's day. Dona Magdalena Murillo, 89, recalls them as a child. Her parents told her they always came.

Man Sits Down to Get Sherman Job

HOWE, March 24 (AP)—Dwight Yell wants a job and he has adopted sit-down tactics.

Each morning, lunch pail in hand, Yell journeys to Sherman and squats in front of the offices of the firm for which he seeks to work. He knows all the company's foremen and many of the workers. The sit-downer has conferred with the company's working hours. Yell has kept the vigil two weeks now, he said, and he expects a job soon.

But Yell admits he may be a jinx. On one occasion, he recalled, he sat down at an automobile manufacturing plant for five weeks. One day at noon he became ill and had to leave his post. Fifteen minutes later, he said ruefully, 250 men were hired.

NO BLUNDER, MAYBE

ARAPAHOE, Neb. (AP)—J. H. Scott, Arapahoe stockman, inadvertently spread powdered asbestos instead of fertilizer on his lawn. Informed of the blunder, he philosophized: "It's just as well, with another hot summer on the way."
